START

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper

Quincy, MA

JULY
THRU
DECEMBER
2015

MICROFILMED 2016

FILMED BY:

New England
Micrographics, inc.
40 Hudson Street - Suite C
Marlboro, Ma. 01752
1-800-433-4065

PM-MRD
22x31
General Purpose Photographic Target
PM-MRD For larger Kodak MRD-2 camera copy boards.
PRECISION℠ RESOLUTION TARGETS
A & P INTERNATIONAL
A2
A2
A3
A4
A5
10 Inch
8 Inch
6 Inch
4 Inch
100 mm
150 mm
200 mm
ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ
abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz
1234567890
1.0
1.1
1.25
1.4
1.6
1.8
2.0
2.2
2.5
2.8
3.2
15X
250 mm.
28

Remembering The Korean War - 65 Years Later

- Page 15 -

Passanageset Park Opens To Public

- Page 2 -

Passanageset Park

2
CAR-RT LOTC-004
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 41 Wednesday, July 1, 2015 75¢

Wednesday July 1 2015

Happy Birthday
America!

THE NATION will celebrate the birth of this country on Saturday, July 4th – the 239th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. These fireworks were part of the city's Flag Day celebration June 13 at Pageant Field.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Koch: No City Funds For Olympic Volleyball - Page 3

Police Seize 350 Grams Of Heroin, Arrest 4 - Page 9

Fire Causes $400,000 Damage To 4-Family Home - Page 11

For more Quincy news, visit:

The Quincy Sun.com

City's New Park Open To Public

Students Help Create Passanagaset Park At Broad Meadows

By SCOTT JACKSON

After more than a decade of planning and restoration work, Quincy's newest park is now open to the public.

City officials formally opened the new park, Passanageset Park at Broad Meadows Marsh, on June 24. The park contains a total of 40 acres of land and water and 1.3 miles of walking trails, which include interpretive signs on the area's history and the Native Americans who lived there for hundreds of years. Opportunities exist for other passive recreation features in the future.

"There is a lot of potential for picnic shelters and other passive recreation uses," said Chris Cassani, the director of the city's Park Department. "It's also a good place for launching kayaks and other small boats."

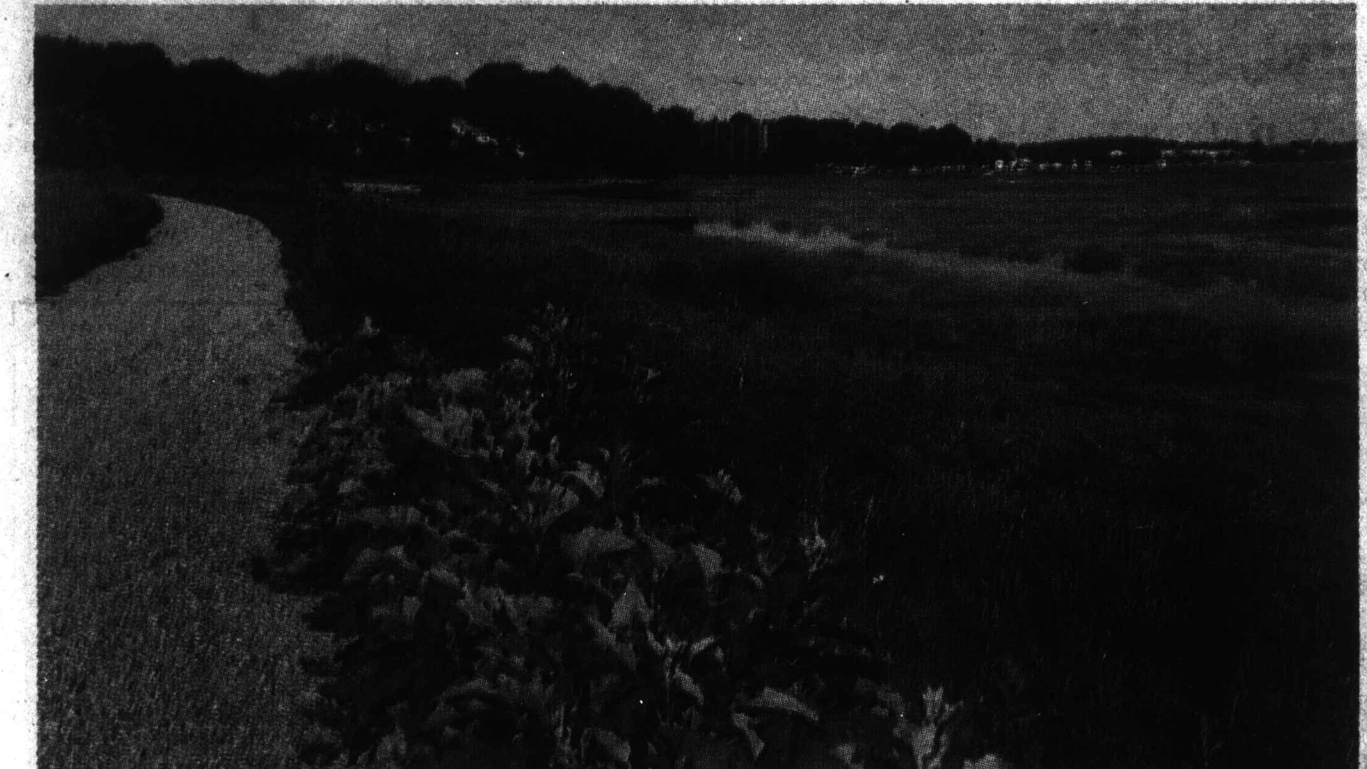
The park is accessible through two entrances: Quincy Youth Arena at 60 Murphy Memorial Drive and Broad Meadows Middle School at 50 Calvin Road. Cassani said residents going to the park should go through the arena during school hours and through the middle school on weekends and during the summer.

Quincy officials began planning the restoration of the Broad Meadows Salt Marsh in the early 2000s.

Passanageset Park
at Broad Meadows Marsh

THE HISTORY GIRLS of Broad Meadows Middle School and their teacher prepare one of the signs they designed for viewing at the June 24, 2015 opening of Quincy's newest park-Passanageset Park at Broad Meadows. The History Girls conducted a year's worth of after-school oral history interviews with members of the Massachusett Tribe. The girls also researched rare books and journals from the 1600s at libraries and museums. The History Girls then wrote the text for three historical, interpretive signs which will be installed inside Passanageset Park over the summer. One of the signs appears in this photo. From left: Ron Adams, Broad Meadows Middle School teacher; Michaela Blue O'Gara-Pratt, the founder of The History Girls 2013-2015; and the other History Girls Eve Anderson, Colleen Connor, Grace Higgins, Mackenzie Maguire and Abigail Kraunelis.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth



PASSANAGESET PARK – for years covered with phragmites – is now a scenic vista and walking trail featuring 31 acres of salt marsh, four acres of freshwater wetlands and 23 acres of upland grassland. More than 390,000 cubic yards of material was excavated and placed onsite to restore the site. The vegetation now is a mixture of non-invasive native plants and sea grasses.

The marsh had been a bustling estuary until 1938, when the Army Corps of Engineers began dumping dredged material on the site; more material was added during a second dredging project in 1956.

The Army Corps of Engineers began the restoration project in 2010. The federal government paid $5 million, the city $1 million and the Neponset Watershed Association $300,000.

Passanageset Park's 1.3 miles of trails were paid for with $250,000 from the city's Community Preservation Account.

The park features four interpretive signs highlighting the marsh restoration project and the Native Americans who once called the land home. Those signs will be installed this summer.

The interpretive sign project began in September

Cont'd On Page 16

R.I. Man Arrested On Weapons Charge

By SCOTT JACKSON

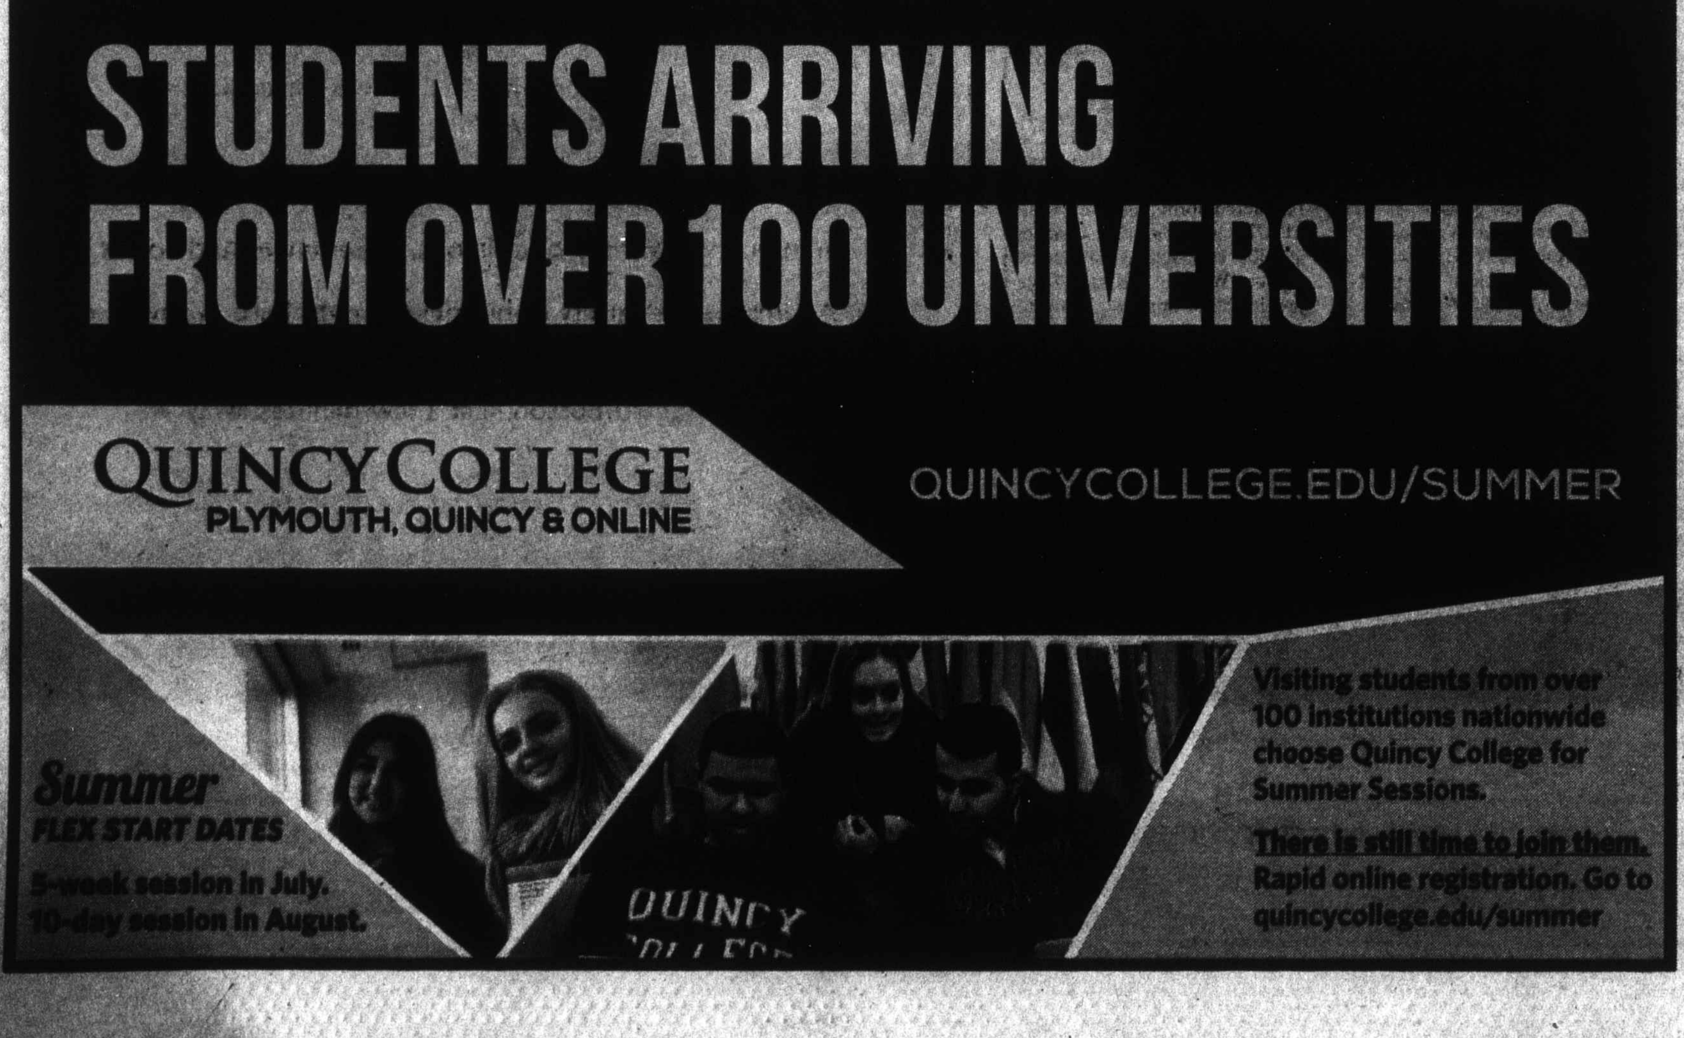
A Rhode Island resident was arrested late Sunday after he allegedly brandished a shotgun on Washington Street.

Paul Herne of Providence, R.I., was charged with unlawful possession of a weapon, unlawful possession of ammunition and disorderly conduct after he allegedly brandished the 12-gauge shotgun outside of Rags Tavern, 375 Washington St. The 22-year-old was set to be arraigned Monday in Quincy District.

Quincy Police Capt. John Dougan said the department received a call at 11:02 p.m. Sunday reporting a man had brandished a weapon outside the bar. An officer who responded to the scene spotted the suspect's vehicle on nearby Stewart Street.

At that point, Dougan said Herne told officers he had a legal shotgun in the trunk of his vehicle. Herne was then asked if he had a license for the weapon, Dougan stated, at which point Herne said he did not because he lives in Rhode Island.

Dougan said officers found a bandolier with 18 rounds of live ammunition in addition to the shotgun during a subsequent search of the vehicle.



STUDENTS ARRIVING FROM OVER 100 UNIVERSITIES

QUINCY COLLEGE
PLYMOUTH, QUINCY & ONLINE

QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU/SUMMER

Summer
FLEX START DATES
5-week session in July.
10-day session in August.

Visiting students from over 100 institutions nationwide choose Quincy College for Summer Sessions.

There is still time to join them. Rapid online registration. Go to quincycollege.edu/summer

Public Meeting On Beach Volleyball Proposal At Marina Bay Community Room July 9

Koch: No City Money For Olympic Venue

By SCOTT JACKSON

No city funds will go to costs associated with hosting beach volleyball at Squantum Point Park, including costs for infrastructure improvements, should Boston be awarded the 2024 summer games, according to Mayor Thomas Koch.

Boston 2024 – the committee of local business leaders hoping to bring the games to the Bay State – unveiled plans on June 17 to host beach volleyball events in a 20,000 seat temporary stadium at the state-operated park. The plan also includes a number of upgrades to the park, which combined with construction costs for the stadium would total between $23 million and $28.5 million; the organizers said those costs would be privately financed.

Koch, in a recent interview, called the plan a 'no-brainer,' provided it would spur long-awaited improvements to Commander Shea Boulevard and a new ferry terminal at Squantum Point Park, which could offset the loss of commuter ferry service at the Fore River Shipyard. The city, the mayor stated, would not put money towards those or other costs.

"Those things are going to happen anyway," Koch said. "If this is the catalyst to get these things done – and they take the pressure off the Marina Bay roadways and other streets in our city, we bus and ferry everybody in – then I think it's a no-brainer.

"I'm not putting any city money up and I won't propose to on that."

A community meeting on the plan, hosted by Boston 2024, is scheduled for Thursday, July 9, at 6:30 p.m. in the Marina Bay community room at 500 Victory Rd.; other meetings will also be held on the plan as the city gauges the community consensus on the plan.

If consensus is against hosting the beach volleyball events, Koch said he would oppose the plan, like he did several years ago when then-Boston Mayor Thomas Menino proposed building a wind turbine on Moon Island.

"What I'd like people to do is go in with an open mind, listen to the proposal. I have said from day one if there is overwhelming opposition to it then I won't go forward with it," Koch said.

"If it comes to be and Boston Olympics happen and this venue is an option for the city of Quincy and we can get everybody in there by shuttle – either by ferry or bus – so there is no traffic through the streets, we can get improvements to the park so that when this thing leaves we have a better facility for all to enjoy in this city, then I think it makes sense. And we'd also be part of the history of the Olympics 2024, which I think is kind of cool.

"But if the residents are adamantly opposed, I'll back off. I heard from the residents overwhelmingly on the wind turbine on Moon Island. We concurred with what they thought on that one and we pulled the plug on that. God rest his soul, Mayor Menino wasn't very happy about that but we did what we thought was right for the people of Squantum and Marina Bay on that project. We'll do the same here. But I just hope people have an open mind."

The mayor also said he believes the venue would be

Cont'd On Page 13

Ward 2 July 4th Field Day Saturday

Ward 2 will hold its annual 4th of July Field Day Event (weather permitting) on Saturday, July 4th at 10 a.m. at the Fore River Clubhouse, 16 Nevada Rd.

There will be relay races, a wheel parade, and ice cream. Children are invited to enter their decorated "wheel" (bicycle, doll carriage, wagon) into the parade.

Parade and race participants have a chance to win prizes, trophies and ribbons. All Ward 2 residents and their family and friends are invited to attend.

The event is sponsored by the Ward 2 Civic Association.

Ask the
GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

COILED AND READY

Snakes have an exotically seductive charm that has long inspired jewelry designers to draw upon their sleek form for inspiration. This season is no different, as elegant reptile-inspired rings and bracelets are found wrapped around the fingers, wrists, and arms of women with a daring fashion sense. Embellished with emeralds, rubies, and other colored gemstones, these coiled pieces are as evocative of glamorous early Hollywood as mysterious ancient Egypt. Not only is the snake symbolic of eternal love, but its colorfully textured skin and long, rope-like form present jewelry designers with a singularly unique form from which to mold a piece of jewelry. Serpentine jewelry remains among the most enduring styles of fine jewelry.

As one of the oldest and most widespread mythological symbols, it's no wonder snakes remain as popular in jewelry as they did back in ancient times. What makes the snake so fascinating is its dual expression of good and evil, fertility and rebirth, poison and medicine. For more information, please call 617-773-3636 or visit our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and are happy to handle custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers
Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry
www.rogersjewelry.com

TRASH NOTICE
THERE WILL BE NO DELAY IN THE TRASH PICK UP FOR THE JULY 4TH HOLIDAY.
THERE WILL BE REGULARLY SCHEDULED PICK-UPS
ON FRIDAY JULY 3RD AND MONDAY JULY 6TH
NO DELAY THE WEEK OF JULY 6TH. HAPPY 4TH OF JULY!
Sunrise Scavenger

John Quincy Adams Birthday Ceremony July 10

A PRESIDENTIAL WREATH will commemorate the 248th birthday anniversary of Sixth U.S. President John Quincy Adams at a wreath-laying ceremony Friday, July 10 at noon at United First Parish Church, 1306 Hancock St., Quincy Center. President Adams, along with his father, Second U.S. President John Adams and their wives, former First Ladies Louisa Catherine and Abigail Adams respectively, are entombed in the church crypt. John Quincy Adams, who also served as a U.S. Senator, Congressman and Secretary of State, was born July 11, 1767. Quincy Sun File Photo/Robert Bosworth

The annual Presidential wreath laying ceremony honoring the life and accomplishments of John Quincy Adams, Sixth President of the United States, will be held at United First Parish Church on Friday, July 10, at noon.

The church is located at 1306 Hancock St. in Quincy, directly across from Quincy City Hall and the Quincy Center T Station. The ceremony marks the 248th birthday anniversary of John Quincy Adams who was born on July 11, 1767. The public is invited to attend and admission if free.

The Commanding Officer from the Navy Operations Support Center Quincy will present the wreath on behalf of President Barack Obama. The Navy Honor Guard will place it on the tomb of John Quincy Adams located beneath the church sanctuary.

Guest speakers commemorating the life and accomplishments of John Quincy Adams will be the Mayor Thomas Koch, Edward Fitzgerald, PhD, executive director of the Quincy Historical Society, William Westland, church historian and Peter Boylston Adams, direct descendent of John Quincy Adams. Music will be performed by the Quincy Choral Society and the Navy Band Northeast.

Starting with President Lyndon Johnson, the President of the United States sends a wreath to the burial sites of all deceased presidents honoring their lives on the anniversary of their birthdays.

For more information, call 617-773-0062 or email visitorsprogram@ufpc.org.

What makes Quincy great?

★ Quincy's neighborhoods, Quincy people ★
★ Quincy history, Quincy culture, ocean breezes ★
★ Great kids and great teachers in great schools ★ ★ City employees who go above & beyond… ★ and always with a smile
★ Miles of gorgeous shoreline, a great place to walk ★
★ An impressive variety of opinions, experiences and voices ★
★ An impressive variety of businesses, right here in town, ★ committed to Quincy
★ All of Metro Boston, just a few minutes away ★

Historic Quincy . . . a proud past, a bright future.

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776 • www.colonialfed.com
Insured FDIC

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

DiBona Seeking At-Large Seat

While the main bout in this year's municipal election is the mayoral contest, a pretty good undercard is shaping up in the councillor at-large race.

DiBONA

On Monday, School Committeeman Noel DiBona pulled papers to run for councillor at-large. DiBona becomes the fourth elected official to seek one of three at-large seats this fall. One of those seats is open since current Councillor Doug Gutro is running for mayor.

The others running at-large are incumbents Joseph Finn and Michael McFarland and School Committeeman David McCarthy. There may also be a fifth candidate: political newcomer Nina Liang has also pulled papers for councillor at-large.

FINN

McFARLAND

McCARTHY

If all five candidates return their papers, they would appear on the Nov. 3 ballot. Seven candidates are needed to force a preliminary election Sept. 22. In that case, the top six vote getters would advance to November.

DiBona burst on the political scene two years ago topping the school committee ballot to win a four-year term. He finished ahead of two incumbent school committee members: Anne Mahoney and Barbara Isola who were also re-elected. A third incumbent – Emily Lebo – finished fourth and lost re-election.

DiBona's impressive victory was also historic. It marked the first time in 60 years that a political newcomer had finished ahead of three school committee incumbents in a municipal election in 60 years.

He says he's running for councillor at-large because he has a community vision for the city of Quincy.

"Not only because it's where I am raising a family, but because it's my hometown. I care about the interests, as well as the concerns of the citizens of the city," DiBona said. "Quincy needs to be a place that is safe for our children to thrive and where people can have success. I'm invested in educating our youth, supporting commercial real estate, combating the drug epidemic and making sure our streets are safe for residents."

DiBona, a small business owner, has been active in the community, notably with veterans and local youth sports.

"I am a junior vice commander for the Sons of American Legion Morrisette Post 294 because I am someone who thinks it's important to pay tribute to our veterans and I am also the head coach of the Quincy Point Panthers youth football team because we need to cultivate our future. As a small business owner I can apply my skills to a municipality.

"I want to bring my business background to the city council, while maintaining a balanced approach to bring forth prosperity for everyone."

DiBona's decision to run at-large will certainly spice up the city election even more. Every office on the ballot – mayor, councillor at-large, six ward seats and three school committee seats – appears to be a contested race this fall – if everyone who pulled papers actually files them by Aug. 4.

The mayor's race will garner the most attention since there will be a preliminary election Sept. 22. Challenging incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch are Councillor Doug Gutro, School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney and former Mayor William Phelan. Charles Dennehey Jr. of Willard Street has also taken papers out. A sixth potential candidate who had pulled papers – Richard Turpin – passed away last week.

The top two vote-getters in the mayoral preliminary will square off in the final election eight weeks later on Nov. 3.

But political observers will also be closely watching the at-large race that right now features four current holders plus a political newcomer vying for three seats.

McFarland, a former school committeeman, was elected councillor at-large in 2005. He is seeking his sixth term.

McCarthy, first elected to the school committee in 2003, is finishing up his third four-term term on the board and - like DiBona - is making his first bid for a council seat.

DiBona is running mid-way through his first school committee term.

Nomination papers are due in to the city's Election Department in five weeks - Aug. 4. By the looks of it now, should be a real interesting fall.

❑

HOW DO YOU feel about Quincy hosting Olympic beach volleyball if the 2024 Summer Games are awarded to Boston?

You'll have a chance to speak your mind at a community meeting Thursday, July 9 at 6:30 p.m. at the Marina Bay Community Room, 500 Victory Rd., Squantum.

The recent news that Squantum Point Park is the preferred site to host Olympic beach volleyball by the group striving to bring the 2024 Summer Games to Boston drew about a 50-50 response by Quincy Sun readers responding to a survey on the newspaper's Facebook page.

On one side of the net, proponents think the plan could serve up a winner here by offering a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for the city. Having Olympic beach volleyball in Squantum would bring thousands of spectators to Quincy and be a major economic boom to local business and tourism.

However, opponents on the other side of the net have spiked the idea citing potential major traffic and transportation problems clogging city streets, noise pollution and even environmental concerns such as disturbing wildlife in the area of Squantum Point Park.

Here's a sampling from that survey:

- "Yes, it will be fun and exciting. It is only two weeks and the gains it will bring are good. Bring it on."
- "NO NO NO! Not in Marina Bay, not in Boston, not in MA and not in NE."
- "If it's going to force people out of their homes and displace any Quincy residents, then NOPE. If it's going to make home values skyrocket where natives cannot buy homes in Quincy, only the yuppie movement, then NOPE. THE T IS GOING TO BE A NIGHTMARE."

Boston 2024 laid out some of the details at a press conference at the park June 17. The stadium itself would be constructed in 16 weeks and broken down in seven. There would also be a number of upgrades to Squantum Point Park including seawall/shoreline restoration, recreation and playing fields, playground areas and upgrades to the pier on site, which could be used to accommodate ferry service.

Those upgrades, according to Boston CEO Rich Davey, would be privately financed.

We think people should keep an open mind about the proposal until all the facts are in.

We also strongly believe that organizers should listen very carefully to how Quincy residents – especially those living at Marina Bay – feel about this Olympic venue proposal.

And above all, the final decision should be made after the people have spoken. The cart should not be placed before the horse.

Besides the July 9th community meeting, another way to gauge public sentiment would be to put a survey or poll on the City of Quincy website. "Do you support the city hosting an Olympic event during the 2024 Summer Games" or some other similar wording.

Folks could also gather signatures on a petition – for or against the proposal – and present them to Boston 2024 organizers after all the details are announced at the July 9th meeting.

There is quite a bit of public skepticism that Boston could pull off hosting the 2024 Olympic Games. Fresh in people's minds is the complete failure of the MBTA for an extended period of time during this past winter. Is the city really ready to handle an influx of thousands of Olympic spectators who will rely on public transportation to get to a myriad of venues scattered in an around the city?

And recent media reports suggest the ultimate decision makers – the International Olympic Committee – would rather have Boston drop out of the running and select another city like San Francisco to be the official U.S. bid. The official U.S. bid would be in the mix with Paris, Hamburg and Rome and a final decision made in 2017.

So, these community meetings may be one final attempt to garner public support for the Boston bid.

We would encourage any resident who has strong feelings – for or against Olympic beach volleyball in Quincy – to attend the community meeting July 9.

Let the local residents decide.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On July 16, 1863, the draft riots enter their fourth day in New York City in response to the Enrollment Act, which allowed wealthier citizens to pay $300 to avoid military duty. More than 1,000 people died in the violence, which was only contained by the arrival of Union troops from the battlefield at Gettysburg.
- On July 19, 1879, Doc Holliday kills a man for shooting up his saloon. Despite his reputation as a deadly gunslinger, Doc Holliday engaged in just eight shootouts and killed only two men. The second was at the O.K. Corral in 1881.
- On July 17, 1944, an ammunition ship explodes while being loaded in Port Chicago, California, killing 332 people. Poor procedures and lack of training led to the disaster. The blasts were felt as far away as Nevada.
- On July 15, 1971, President Richard Nixon stuns the nation by announcing that he will visit communist China. Since the Communists came to power in China in 1949, Nixon had been one of its most vociferous critics.
- On July 13, 1985, in London, Prince Charles and Princess Diana officially open Live Aid, a worldwide rock concert to raise money for the relief of famine-stricken Africans. The 16-hour concert was globally linked by satellite to more than a billion viewers in 110 countries.
- On July 14, 1995, the MP3 file compression format is born, allowing music files small enough to be stored in bulk.
- On July 18, 1999, New York Yankee David Cone pitches the 16th perfect game in major-league history with a no-hit, no-walk victory over the Montreal Expos. Cone needed only 88 pitches, 68 of them strikes, to set down 27 Expos in a row.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

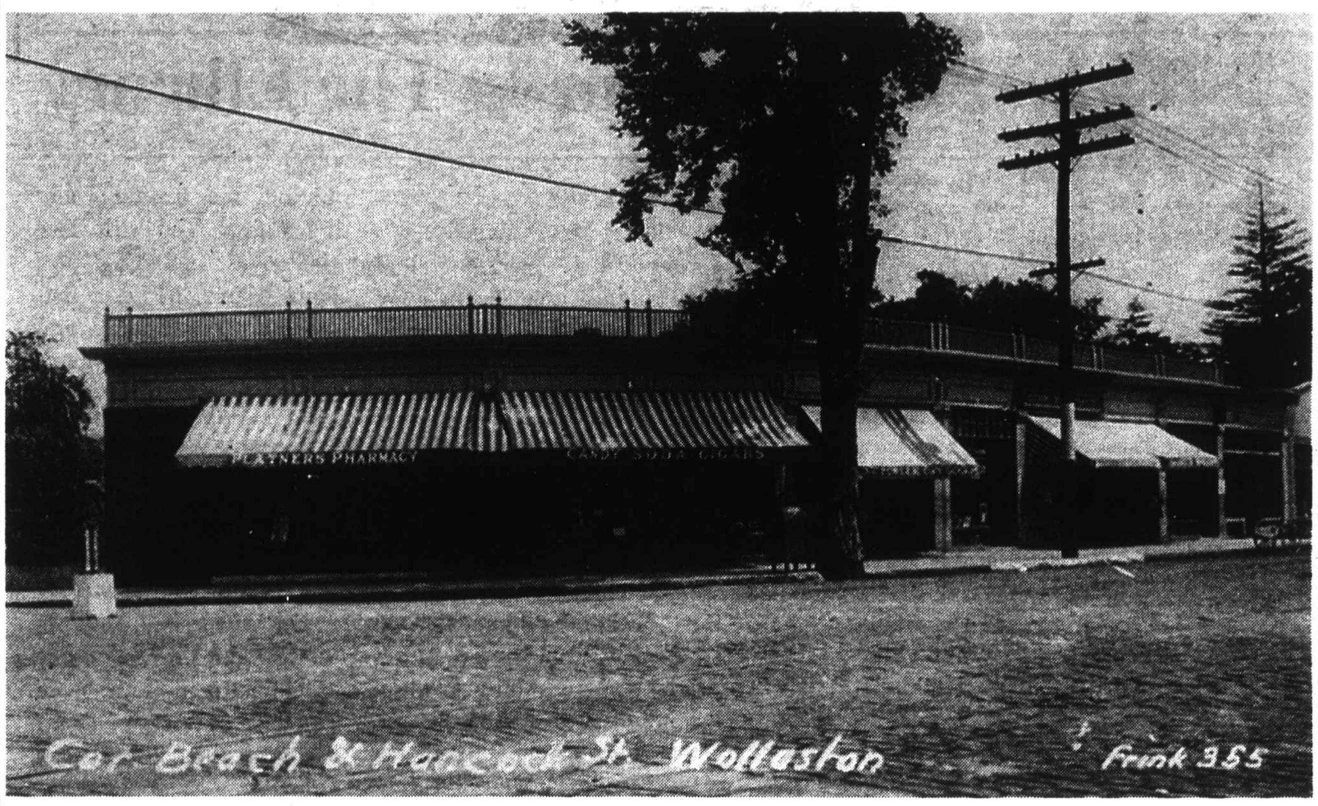
email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1925 postcard showing the then new commercial building on the corner of Beach and Hancock Streets in Wollaston Center. The storefront on the right with the awning was the Economy Grocery Store, one of a dozen by that name throughout Quincy. When Prohibition ended in the 1930's it became home to Well's Restaurant which remained in business here for over 70 years. Today it is home to the Hancock Tavern. On the corner Platner's Pharmacy later moved to Lakin Square and this was then known as the Old Corner Drug Store for many years. It is now home to Tony's House of Pizza. The roof-line baluster railing was a popular architectural feature at the time, but being made of wood they required constant maintenance or they succumbed to New England's weather as did this one. Today these railings are made of weatherproof materials. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

READERS FORUM

Take Action To Work Toward Peace, Justice For All

On Wednesday, June 17, 2015, Dylann Roof sat in a Bible study group for an hour before methodically opening fire and killing 9 members of the historically black Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church Charleston, South Carolina, stating, "You rape our women. You're taking over our country. And you have to go."

As a white woman and executive director of DOVE (DOmestic Violence Ended), Inc., whose work is dedicated to addressing and preventing sexual and domestic violence, I reject the notion that this heinous act of violence and hatred toward people of color was done to protect the honor of white women, and DOVE issues a call to action to our communities.

Six of the 9 killed by Roof were women; 3 were men. The myth of the black rapist – and an alleged epidemic of black-on-white rape – was originally developed to justify lynching of black men and has been maintained for centuries to defend racist violence. In fact, in 93% of sexual assaults, the rapist and victim are of the same race. In 3.3% of the cases, rape is perpetrated by black men against white women, and in 3.4% by white men against black women.

This act of racial hatred and terror was not an isolated incident, but in fact based in a pattern of oppression of people of color that is systemically maintained in our society. While some seek to characterize Roof as deranged, insane, a lone psychopath, he is one among many agents of said violence, be they civilians or police, who share views that people of color, and black men in particular, are inherently dangerous and must be controlled, criminalized, killed. Overcrowded prisons more than filled with men of color lie in testament to this belief.

As we hold the Emanuel AME congregation and the community of Charleston in our thoughts and prayers, I urge our communities to do more. I urge each of us to reflect more intentionally on the race-based violence that has taken place over the past year in the US, and the decades and centuries which precede it. I urge each of us to learn about the origins of the #BlackLivesMatter Movement.

We in the movement to end sexual and domestic violence believe that each and every one of us is affected by sexual and domestic violence, and each of us has a role to play in ending it.

The same is true here.

Racist violence matters as much as sexual and domestic violence. All violence is based on oppression and dehumanization. Racism intersects with and compounds sexual and domestic violence in the lives of womenof color and transgender individuals, and we cannot uproot one without uprooting the other – and all forms of violence. I urge each of us to be honestly and earnestly talking with each other – our family members, our neighbors, our fellow parishioners, our friends – about our own beliefs and biases, and perhaps even more importantly, the unearned privilege that too many of us have accumulated on the basis of race, however unintentionally.

And I urge each of us to not only reflect and learn and talk, but also to take intentional and concrete action to work toward peace and justice for all.

Sue Chandler
Executive Director,
DOVE, Inc.

Transportation An Issue For Olympic Beach Volleyball

One of the major issues for the proposed Olympic beach volleyball tournament in Squantum is transportation. The Association of Volleyball Professionals held a tournament there in 2007 with 4,000 spectators. The original proposal for the Olympic tournament would have been held on the Boston Commons with a stadium capacity of 16,000 spectators.

The ferries currently running now have a maximum of 400 riders. Which, if only ferries were used, would mean 40 trips back and forth. Could both the Squantum and Boston ends handle this amount of traffic?

The MBTA defines its regular Red Line car capacity as 167 passengers, with 57 seats and 110 standees. It defines crush capacity as 277 passengers, or 57 seats and 220 standees. The midpoint between these two loading examples is 222 passengers, with 57 seats and 165 standees.

Jammed trains slow down the Red Line, and capacity is cut as well. With today's uneven scheduling of trains, about 9,000 riders are carried in the peak hour in the peak direction on the Red Line. With even spacing of trains, about 13,000 riders could be carried -- a 50% increase.

At mid-day I see some seats empty, few standees. During the commuter rush, regular commuters are packed like sardines. Could the games begin and end during the day to avoid the commuter rush? Even during the weekend, the Red Line is busy. Why isn't the even spacing of Red Line traffic done now to avoid the sardine syndrome?

These are questions yet to be asked.

Peter Gleba
Hancock Street
Quincy

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1994
21 Years Ago

Weld Signs College, Golf Course Petitions

Gov. William Weld has signed into law two home rule petitions that will pave the way for a new system of government at Quincy College and construction of a golf course/recreational facility at the former landfill site in West Quincy.

Mayor James A. Sheets made the announcement after receiving verification from Weld's office. The two petitions were passed by the city council in March and by the state legislature on June 21.

Sheets said he was thrilled with the news. His home rule petition for Quincy College calls for the college to be governed by a new independent board of trustees.

The other home rule petition will allow the city to enter into a lease agreement of up to 50 years with Quarry Hills Associates for the construction of a golf course recreation complex.

PAY RAISES FOR CITY OFFICIALS APPROVED

The City Council has approved pay raises ranging from 2 to 14 percent for department heads and other top full-time city officials.

The salary increases are the first in five years for Mayor Sheets and city councillors and the first significant raises in five years for 50 department heads and other non-union employees.

The mayor's salary is going up 12 percent from $55.587 to $62,500 per year while city councillors' pay will rise 25 percent to $12,607. The raises for the mayor and city councillors become effective on Jan. 1, 1995.

QUINCY-ISMS

The 10th annual Chris Peter Blood Drive will be held July 19 from 2 to 8 p.m. at St. Thomas Aquinas Hall, Darrow St., Houghs Neck... Christine Carroll, daughter of William and Angela Carroll, was named to the Dean's List at Salve Regina University... Storyteller Len Cabral will appear in concert at the Thomas Crane Public Library, Washington St., July 12, at 7 p.m. His appearance will open the eighth annual Summer Storytellers Series, sponsored by the Quincy Arts Council and the Friends of the Library... Stephanie Craig of Quincy is a recent graduate of Framingham State College. She received a Bachelor of Science degree from the school... Robert M. Long of Quincy recently received his juris doctors degree from the New England School of Law... Kevin Foley of Mary St., Quincy, in a letter to the Quincy Sun Readers' Forum, posed the question, "Do we really need a Wal-Mart in Quincy?" Answering his own question, Mr. Foley a third generation resident of Quincy, said, "I don't think so."... Robert M. Maguire, 71 Sims Rd., Wollaston, took the opposite position, stating, "I think it's a great thing for the city of Quincy."... Josephine Shea, Deputy Supt. of Administration Finance of the Norfolk County Sheriff's Office, was the guest speaker at the Quincy Lodge of Elks annual Flag Day ceremonies... Colonial Savings Bank, 12 Beach St., Wollaston, was offering new car loans at 7% APR for three years... Public Works Commissioner David Colton presented the Employee of the Year Award to DPW draftsman Nancy Allen... Justin Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mahoney, graduated first in his class at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas... Edward Keohane, owner of Keohane Funeral Service of Quincy, was elected president of the National Selected Morticians, an international non-profit association of independent, privately owned funeral service firms... Stephen P. Dunleavy of Quincy, has been named executive vice-president for the Shawmut Center opening, the New Boston Garden Corp., has announced... J.B. Optical and Hearing Aids, 1361A Hancock St., was offering "Hearing Aids Complete, 30-day trial for $499"... Kenneth Whalen, Jr. was a recent honors graduate of Bunker Hill Community College, Boston... The Quincy and South Shore Board of Realtors has changed its name to the South Shore Association of Realtors, Inc. The name change was announced by Board President Arthur Foley... Normand Grenier, executive director of Quincy Neighborhood Housing Services, was appointed to a two-year term as a member of the Neighborhood Reinvestment Council Corporation... Cong. Gerry Studds announced the U.S. House of Representatives has approved a grant of $230,000 to benefit the United First Parish Church and the Adams National Historic Site. Half the money will go to operating expenses at the Adams Site. The other $115,000 will go to technical assistance in rehabilitating the church.

Arts & Entertainment

FOX25 ANCHOR and "Under the Stars" host Sorboni Banerjee presents Lori and Wayne Earl a donation in the amount of $25,000 from Ernie Boch Jr. to benefit "This Star Won't Go Out," a foundation that helps families with children living with cancer. The Earls established the foundation in memory of their daughter, Esther Earl, a 16-year-old North Quincy teen who lost her battle with cancer five years ago. Nearly 400 supporters attended the event co-hosted by Alba Restaurant in Quincy Center. About $60,000 was raised for the foundation.

GUESTS ATTENDING the "Under the Stars" event at Alba Restaurant included Dennis Seidenberg (center) of the Boston Bruins, Mayor Thomas Koch (right) and the mayor's son, Thomas Jr. Photos by Lisa Aimola

Xylena Desquitado On Pratt Institute Dean's List

Xylena Gabrielle Desquitado of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, NY.

Joseph Critelli On Clemson Dean's List

Joseph P. Critelli of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List at Clemson University for the spring semester.

Critelli's major is general engineering.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, July 2
6:00pm: NQ Baseball Hall of Fame
8:00pm: Quincy Senior Olympics Highlights

Friday, July 3
5:00pm: Quincy in Focus
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Saturday, July 4
12:00pm: Flag Day Parade & Ceremonies
8:00pm: Flag Day Parade & Ceremonies

Sunday, July 5
12:00pm: Mayor's Commission on Women
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams

Monday, July 6
8:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
7:00pm: LIVE: Eye on Quincy

Tuesday, July 7
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
8:00pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, July 8
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, July 2
6:00pm: Update DPW: Summer Season
8:30pm: At Your Library: July Happenings

Friday, July 3
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Extreme Heat Revisited

Saturday/Sunday, July 4/5
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
12:00pm: Studio Sessions Ep.1-4
2:00pm: Update DPW: Summer Season
2:30pm: A Conversation w/Michael McFarland
3:00pm: At the Library: Jeff Snow
7:00pm: Coastal Adaptation Forum: MAPC

Monday, July 6
5:00pm: Currently in Quincy replay
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus
7:00pm: At Your Library: July Happenings
8:00pm: NCPC: Safe Driving

Tuesday, July 7
7:00pm: A Conversation w/Michael McFarland

Wednesday, July 8
8:00pm: Celebrating Quincy's Cultural Diversity

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Summer Fun At The Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane
Public Library

Here is a list of summer activities and events offered by the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Crafts, movies, Jedi Knights and more

Would you like to show off your talent this summer? Stop by the Main library or check our website for information on how you can sign up to participate in our annual Children's Talent Show on August 26th.

This summer we have an extra opportunity for you to show us your acting skills. On August 18th the Activated Story Theatre will be performing at the Main Library and there are a limited number of spots for children ages 6-10 to act in the show. Check our website for details.

Art-to-go a 9-week series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy. Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch.

Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft. The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays. Craft for the week of July 6th Windsocks

Children's Movie @ North Quincy

Join us on Monday, July 6th at 2 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch Library for a showing of Disney's Mulan.

This retelling of the old Chinese folktale is about the story of a young Chinese maiden who learns that her weakened and lame father is to be called up into the army in order to fight the invading Huns. Knowing that he would never survive the rigors of war in his state, she decides to disguise herself and join in his place.

Unknown to her, her ancestors are aware of this and to prevent it, they order a tiny disgraced dragon, Mushu to join her in order to force her to abandon her plan. He agrees, but when he meets Mulan, he learns that she cannot be dissuaded and so decides to help her in the perilous times ahead.

This movie is rated G and runs for 90 minutes.

Jedi Knight Training @ North Quincy

On Tuesday, July 7th at 2:30 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch Library children ages 4-9 are invited to join Jungle Jim as he leads us through Jedi Knight Training Camp. You will face challenges including Jedi Force Magic, the Laser Balloon Barrage and Jedi Teamwork culminating in an epic lightsaber duel with the Jedi Master himself.

This program is intended for children ages 4-9 accompanied by an adult.

"Let's Play Together" Pajama Storytime

On Wednesday, July 8th at 6:30 p.m. in the Large Meeting Room at the main Library storyteller Diana Kane presents "Let's Play Together," pajama storytimes designed especially for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult.

Come see Ms. Diana for 45 minutes of interactive stories, partner dances, playing in a band and singing together. This six week program is designed for adults and children to enjoy stories and songs as a family. This is a great time for you and your children to sing, dance, listen and talk with each other.

Superhero Cookies @ Adams Shore

On Thursday, July 9th at 2 p.m. children ages 7 and older are invited to join Miss Lori at the Adams Shore Branch Library for a super sweet afternoon decorating cookies and other superhero treats.

Olde Kids Swing Band Performs Aug. 7

Back by popular demand the Olde Kids Swing Band will return to the Kennedy Center on Friday, Aug. 7th from 1 to 3 p.m.

The "Olde Kids" is a dance band in the style of the big bands of the 1930's and 40's. The big band recreates the glamour and romance of an era that lasted 10 years.

Retired and semi-retired musicians are part of a resurgence of interests in live, glamorous and romantic music. The band was formed in 1991 and consists of six saxes, four trombones, four trumpets, four on rhythm and a vocalist.

Tickets are required for this event and can be purchased at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy. Suggested donation is $6. Refreshments will be provided.

For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

NQHS Class Of 1965 Reunion

The North Quincy High School Class of 1965 will hold its 50th reunion Saturday, Nov. 7 at the Best Western Adams Inn, Quincy.

For more information and registration visit NQHSclassof65.com.

Summer Sizzler SPECIALS

Carolina Hash 'n Eggs
With braised, all-natural, antibiotic-free BBQ pork

Stuffed Portabella
With our savory lobster stuffing

Pulled Pork Sandwich
All-natural, antibiotic-free BBQ pork, cole slaw, sweet potato fries

Fish Tacos
Golden fried Flounder on soft corn tortillas

Steak & Lobster Portabella
With caramelized onions, bleu cheese, served with our lobster stuffed portabella mushroom

Hearth 'n Kettle Approved
RESTAURANTS • Est. 1973
151 Main St. (Rte 18) • Weymouth • (781)331-7007
www.HearthnKettle.com

AGNITTI
INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL

Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

Historic Curb Appeal Walking Tour July 11

JOSIAH QUINCY HOUSE (above) will be the starting point for Historic New England's walking tour titled "Historic Curb Appeal in Quincy: Style and Color for Your Old House" on Saturday, July 11 from 10 a.m. until noon. The Josiah Quincy House is located at 20 Muirhead St. in Wollaston.

Quincy Sun File Photos/Robert Noble

Historic New England will offer a walking tour titled Historic Curb Appeal in Quincy: Style and Color for Your Old House on Saturday, July 11 from 10 a.m. until Noon. The tour will depart from the Josiah Quincy House located at 20 Muirhead St. in Wollaston.

On this walking tour, participants will learn about the history and architecture of Quincy's Wollaston neighborhood and get tips on adding curb appeal to their old house through historic paint color combinations and enhanced architectural features.

The Wollaston neighborhood surrounding Historic New England's Quincy House was developed between 1895 and 1930 and includes many examples of Victorian and Colonial Revival-style homes. Historic preservation expert Sally Zimmerman shares information on how to help an old home look its very best by recapturing its historic character.

An optional tour of the Josiah Quincy House will be offered following the walk. The Quincy House has recently undergone a three-year focus that included the repainting of several rooms based on the scientific analysis of the original paint colors. In addition, curators reinstalled rooms based on Eliza Susan Quincy's journal and photographs taken in the 1880s.

Space is limited and registration is required. The cost is $5 for Historic New England members and Quincy residents and $10 for nonmembers. For information or to register call 617-994-5930 or visit www.HistoricNewEngland.org.

Historic New England is the oldest, largest, and most comprehensive regional heritage organization in the nation.

Historic New England owns and operates 36 historic homes and landscapes spanning five states. The organization shares the region's history through vast collections, publications, public programs, museum properties, archives, and family stories that document more than 400 years of life in New England.

For more information visit www.HistoricNewEngland.org.

Town Brook Pocket Parks Tour July 11

The Park Department's Environmental Treasures Program and the Planning Department invite the public to a free tour of the two new pocket parks created along Town Brook.

The tour will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 11. Participants should meet at the intersection of Hannon Parkway (Revere Road) and Mechanic Street. Parking is available at the Hancock lot for a fee.

City Principal Planner Rob Stevens will describe the history of the project and Landscape Architect Matt Ulrich of UBLA Landscaping and Wetlands Scientist Chris Lucas of Lucas Environmental will discuss the Parks' design and features, including a hanging wall and a rain garden.

This part of the tour is wheelchair accessible. Following the talk there will be a short stroll to one of the most scenic viewpoints of the brook.

Optional: participants are invited to bring a picnic (or pick up a sandwich or slice of pizza at a nearby store) to enjoy the new parks.

Because there is no shade in the park, bringing water, sunscreen and a hat or umbrella are recommended. No registration is required.

For more information and rain date rescheduling call 617-472-0799.

Four On Salve Regina University Dean's List

Four students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Salve Regina University in Newport, R.I.

They are:

Erin Chiocchio, who just completed their senior year, is majoring in business administration.

Taylor Parry, just completed their sophomore year, majoring in special and elementary education.

Michelle Murphy, just completed their sophomore year, majoring in marketing.

Taylor Shepherd, just completed their senior year, majoring in Political Science.

Nine On Merrimack College Dean's List

Nine Quincy students are on the Dean's List for the spring sememster at Merrimack College in North Andover.

They are:

Chaislyn Burgio, Anthony Fonte, Rosemary Morton, John O'Callaghan, Colleen Cox, Jennifer Griffith, Danielle Mullaney, Amanda Brodeur and Shannon Glynn.

Elaine Choy On Dean's List

Elaine Choy of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Florida Institute of Technology located in Melbourne, FL.

Choy is a forensic psychology major.

Marianne Liang On Dean's List

Marianna Liang of Quincy is on the Dean's List at the University of New Haven for the spring semester.

QUINT'S
House
of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

THE ICE CREAMSMITH
Homemade Ice Cream & Yogurt
Ice Cream Cakes, Pies and Pizzas
SPECIAL FLAVORS :
•Blueberry •Birthday Cake
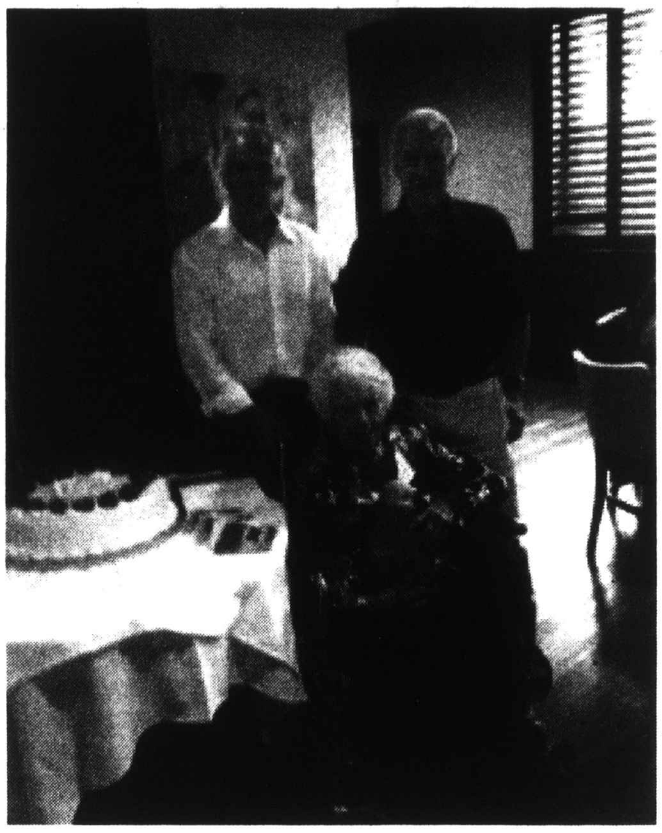
•Coconut Pineapple
2295 Dorchester Avenue
Dorchester Lower Mills MA 02124
617-296-8567 Open Daily Noon - 10 pm
www.theicecreamsmith.com

Social



ITALIA GIANNANDREA, a resident at Hancock Park in Quincy, recently celebrated her 100th birthday with family and friends at a party at Alba's. With her are two of her sons, Guy (left) and Panfilo.

Photo Courtesy Kathleen Whalen-Giannandrea

Six On Emmanuel Dean's List

Six Quincy students are on the Dean's List at Emmanuel College in Boston for the spring semester.

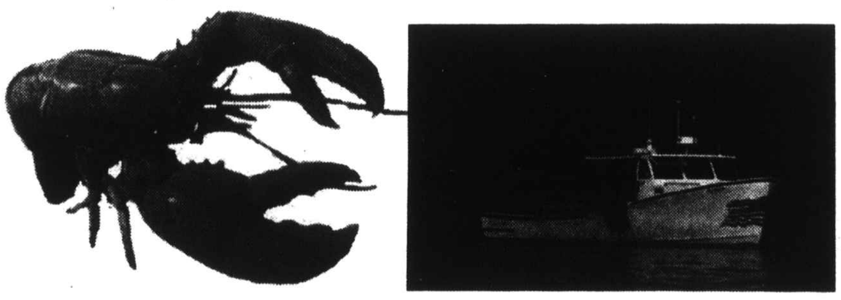
They are:

Abigail Akoury, Kiera Bruce, Kathryn Doherty, Marissa Fiumefreddo, Nicholas Frasso and Meghan Healy.

Krista Ferent On Stonehill Dean' List

Krista Ferent of Quincy, a criminology major at Stonehill College, is on the Dean's List for the spring semester.

Ferent, a member of the Class of 2017, graduated from Quincy High School in 2013. She is the daughter of Kevin and Marie Ferent.

LOBSTER
The fishing vessel November Gale will be at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center, 137 Bay View Avenue this summer every Friday and Saturday from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m., Start Friday June 5th and continuing through the months of June, July and August to provide you with the freshest and most inexpensive lobsters.


Lobster fresh off the boat from my pots to yours.
Always a sell-out, be sure to come early.
Now Accepting
VISA MasterCard AMERICAN EXPRESS DISCOVER
Contact Capt. Steven Holler at 617-590-4579
for pricing and information
Directions: Follow Sea Street into Houghs Neck, turn right after Louis Crossing Restaurant onto Bay View Avenue. Go straight for 200 yards, parking is on your left.
Also visit us online www.november-gale.com
Follow us on Facebook

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Fresh Shrimp Yogurt Dip

By MARIE

This time of year, there are so many graduations and other activities that call for things like dips and hors d'oeuvres. And you start to run out of ideas as what to serve.

Last week, I was looking through some of my recipes and found a delicious shrimp dip that I hadn't made in awhile.

It can be made ahead of time and is very simple to prepare.

SHRIMP DIP

1 cup plain yogurt
8 ounces cream cheese (softened)
4 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
5 large shrimp (cooked and cut in small pieces)
1/4 teaspoon fresh parsley

Mix all together until well blended. Chill and serve with any favorite cracker or chips. If you don't want to use fresh shrimp, a can of small shrimp can be used.

Stuffed Eggs, Greek Style

By SUZIE

These delicious eggs make a fantastic appetizer, either to bring to a party or for your family. I eat them along with a salad for lunch quite often and they are one of my favorite simple recipes of all time.

Eggs have finally been vindicated (especially the yolks) after being blamed for contributing to high cholesterol. Now we know better so we can all eat them without guilt and with great pleasure. Please buy organic eggs from healthy chickens.

The health benefits of tomatoes have been linked to their lycopene content, which is an antioxidant reported to have heart, blood pressure, prostate, osteoporosis, skin and other benefits. Greek researchers use the actual tomato product in their studies rather than just synthetic lycopene for the main reason being the synergistic effect of lycopene with other micronutrients (such as vitamin C, Rutin, and alpha-tocopherol) Tomato paste is very concentrated, and therefore a very good choice to use in recipes. Not to mention it tastes great!

Olive oil is a big part of the Mediterranean diet and a dietary staple for some of the world's healthiest populations. Extra virgin is best (do not buy "light" or ones mixed with other cheaper oils)

Red onions are known for their antioxidant properties and have been found to possess cancer fighting, anti-fungal, anti bacterial and anti inflammatory properties as well as containing chromium (which tackles insulin resistance). A lack of chromium in the diet increases the risk of impaired blood sugar control as well as it is important to note that a severe deficiency may make weight loss very difficult.

Oregano (whose name means "Mountain Joy") possesses potent anti oxidant activity, is a very effective antibacterial, and is bountiful in vitamin K, manganese iron and even calcium (when fresh especially)

So make these simple eggs and enjoy them. They wont last for long so you probably will not have any leftovers! But if you do just wrap them up and use within a couple of days.

- 6 large organic eggs hard boiled and cooled
- ½ cup of good quality organic tomato paste (I like bio-nature which comes in a jar and not a can)
- 1/3 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 very small red onion minced fine
- Fresh oregano leaves chopped for garnish
- Sea salt and black pepper

Peel and halve the eggs. Scoop out the yolks and mash with a fork

Mix together everything and spoon back into the hollowed out eggs. Sprinkle with oregano and serve.

Peas & Carrots Fritters

By MARIE

Last week I made a graham cracker crusted lemon pie – which if you've ever made one, and just use the egg yolks – there are egg whites that are supposed to be whipped for the meringue.

However, I was planning to serve the pie with freshly whipped cream, so what to do with the egg whites.

I decided to make a fritter, and used frozen peas and carrots which made them turn out surprisingly almost like a soufflé kind of fritter.

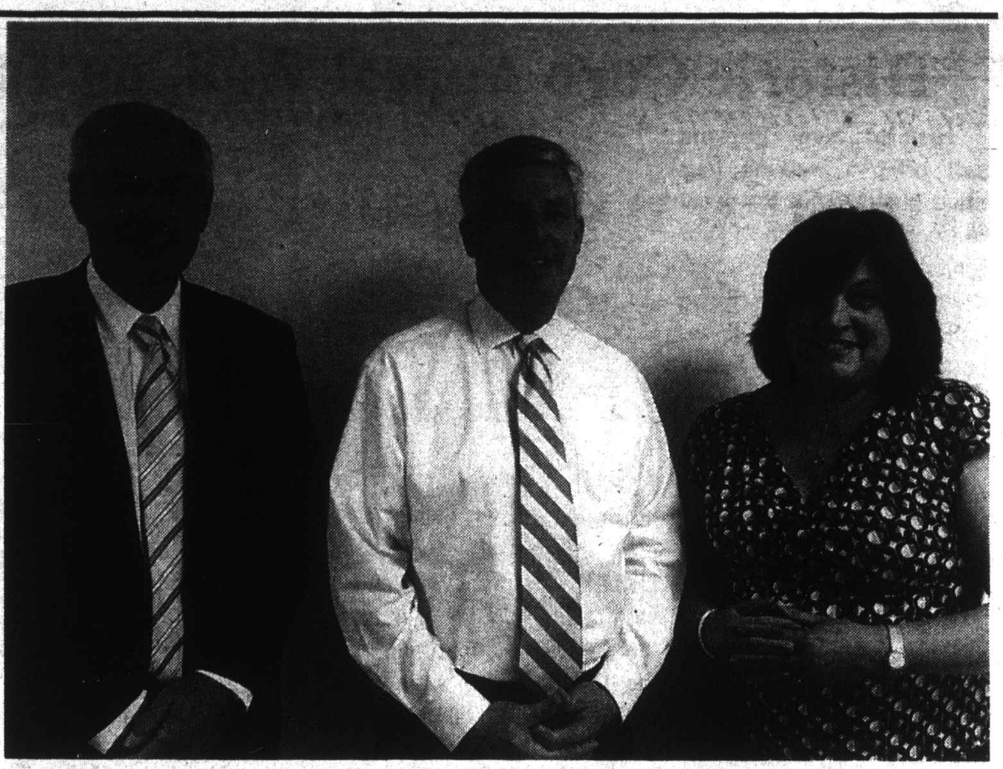
PEAS & CARROT FRITTER

2 egg whites
1 cup frozen peas & carrots
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon pancake mix
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons vegetable oil

Mix all of the ingredients together except the oil (no need to defrost the veggies) until well mixed.

In the hot oil, drop by spoonfuls and sauté turning them until they are golden brown. Drain on a paper towel, serve hot. Otherwise keep in a warming oven until they are served.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM
FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO
The Quincy Sun
Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968
1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169
NAME ______________________________
STREET ______________________________
CITY ____________________ STATE ________ ZIP ____________
CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN
☐ 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
☐ 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 ☐ CHECK ENCLOSED
☐ 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00



SEN. JOHN KEENAN recently met with staff and toured AdCare Outpatient Services in Quincy. With him are (left) David Hillis, AdCare chairman, and Karen MacDonaldLADC-II, AdCare Community Services Representative for Quincy and the Southeast.

Photo Courtesy AdCare Outpatient Services

Keenan Visits, Tours AdCare Outpatient Services

State Sen. John F. Keenan recently met with staff and toured AdCare Outpatient Services-Quincy located at 1419 Hancock St.

"It was great for our staff to have the chance to meet with Sen. John Keenan and have a conversation with him about the alcohol and drug treatment that we provide at our Quincy office," said Jennifer Kirk, LICSW, director of AdCare Quincy.

Sen. Keenan was especially interested in learning about the staff – their backgrounds and how they came to work in the field of addiction treatment.

"I was pleased and proud to say that AdCare outpatient counselors are masters-level clinicians, many of whom are in recovery or otherwise impacted by the disease of addiction, said Karen MacDonald, LADC-II, AdCare Community Services Representative for Quincy and the Southeast. "I think that the passion and dedication of our team was evident."

David W. Hillis, Chairman and CEO, said that "In September of 2015, AdCare Hospital celebrates 40 years of caring for individuals and families struggling with addiction."

Conceived in 1975 as a ten-bed alcoholism service in a general hospital, AdCare Hospital in Worcester provides the highest levels of care for persons affected by substance use disorders. AdCare is nationally accredited by The Joint Commission and offers nationally recognized treatment for individuals and families affected by substance use disorders.

14 Quincy Students Receive Academic Honors At Thayer Academy

Fourteen students from Quincy have received academic honors at Thayer Academy.

Beryl Chen, grade 10, earned High Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Samantha Colman-Lerner, grade 9, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Jeffrey Liu, grade 11, received the University of Rochester Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award, presented to a junior with high achievement and rigor in science classes and high PSAT or SAT math scores. Liu also earned High Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

John Lucas, grade 10, received the Nicholas & Rose Papani Music Prize and earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Molly Mullally, grade 9, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Dan Nguyen, grade 10, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Sean O'Connor, grade 12, received the John M. Rodocanachi Art Prize and the Patrick C. Walsh Memorial Scholarship for his qualities of camaraderie, positive attitude towards all, respect for others, and the ability to surmount difficulties with good spirit. Sean also earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Eoin O'Sullivan, grade 9, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Lauren Petrie, grade 10, received the Ada Helen Gilbert Claff Prize, given for her qualities of warmth, generosity, friendliness, and love of humankind. Lauren also earned Honors for Term 3.

Emma Steffan, grade 9, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Alexandra Storch, grade 12, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Maximilian Storch, grade 9, earned Honors for Semester 2.

Maria Theodore, grade 8, earned High Honors for Term 3 and received Thayer Academy Middle School's Award for Excellence in History.

Arianna Urekew, grade 9, earned Honors for Term 3 and Semester 2.

Council On Aging Trip To Wells, Maine

The Quincy Council on Aging is coordinating a day-trip to Wells, ME on Monday, July 20th.

Start the trip with a visit to When Pigs Fly Bakery. Then on to the Coastal House for chowder, bake-steamers, rolls, potatoes, corn on the cob, as well as 2 drink tickets for beer, wine or soda to go along with a choice of either (1) 2-one pound lobsters or (2) a half chicken baked. Watermelon will be served for dessert and coffee will be available.

After dinner there will be a performance by Don Who, well-known singer, comedian and impersonator, as he croons old favorites.

Cost of the day trip is $89 which includes transportation, double lobster bake with beer, wine and soda, wait staff gratuities and taxes and live show.

Escort and coach driver's gratuities are not included.

To register for the trip visit the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy. For more information, call (617) 376-1246.

Mayor Defends Revised Downtown Plan

Koch: City Should Learn From Street-Works Deal

By SCOTT JACKSON

Mayor Thomas Koch said the city needs to 'learn from the Street-Works deal' and avoid piling on too many costs for developers hoping to build in Quincy Center while also defending his proposed amendment to the urban renewal plan for the downtown in a recent interview.

The City Council is in the process of reviewing an amendment to the Urban Revitalization and Development Plan; the plan was originally approved in 2007 and amended in 2009 and 2010.

The amended plan has drawn criticism in recent weeks at both a public hearing on June 15 and a downtown committee meeting on June 22 over a lack of items Street-Works had agreed to in its now-terminated land disposition agreement with the city, including paying $10,000 per residential unit into a fund for affordable housing, paying a percentage of construction costs to a fund for the arts, agreements to hire union labor, and plans to create new open public spaces in Quincy Center.

Koch, in response to those criticisms, said his proposed amendment to the URDP is a framework and won't include everything that would be featured in the new Quincy Center. He also said the agreement with Street-Works was a healthy one for the city, but resulted in a lower yield for the master developer.

"The URDP is a framework. The URDP is not to have everything nailed down. We're updating the framework based on the new developers we have on hand. It's not something that's supposed to have everything down, because I know there were some concerns that were raised the other night," Koch said.

"We all should learn from the Street-Works deal. We had a very healthy deal for the city with Street-Works as master developer. We negotiated money for affordable housing, money for public art. They negotiated 100 percent union deal for the work. They were paying probably too much for the properties. When you start layering all that in, it results in a much lower yield."

"We've got to create an atmosphere we're it's easier to develop down here," the mayor later added. "That's why we haven't had development in 40 years."

On the issue of affordable housing, which Koch referred to as workforce housing, Koch said there is a need for it in the city. In Quincy Center, however, the priority remains upgrading aging infrastructure.

"I do think there is a need for workforce – I'd rather call it workforce – housing in the market place in our city as real estate continues to go up. But when I look at the downtown and I look at what we're carrying in the downtown for old infrastructure, my priority right now is to upgrade that infrastructure," the mayor said.

"If the developers are paying a 1 percent sewer fee on the high cost of construction, we need that for the

Cont'd On Page 30

4 Arrested On Drug Charges

A 34-year-old Quincy man and three others were arrested in connection with a heroin delivery ring.

Brian Stuart, 34, of 47 Euclid Ave., Quincy, was charged with conspiracy to violate drug laws. He pleaded not guilty at his arraignment June 26 in Quincy District Court and released on $5,000 cash bail. He is due back in court July 22.

Jordan Martinez, 25, 103 Evans St., Dorchester, was also arraigned June 26 and pleaded not guilty to charges of trafficking over 200 grams of heroin (12-year felony) and conspiracy to violate drug laws. He was held on $100,000 cash bail and his bail from an outstanding case in Malden District Court was revoked. Martinez is due back in Quincy District Court July 22.

Also arrested were: Alexa Highway, 21, of 97 Shore Ave., Plymouth, who was charged with trafficking over 200 grams of heroin (12-year felony) and conspiracy to violate drug laws; and Luis Guerrero, 22, of 102 Washington Ave., Chelsea, who was charged with trafficking heroin and conspiracy to violate drugs and faces an additional charge of an arrest warrant.

POLICE SEIZED 350 grams of heroin valued at $150,000, $25,000 in cash and three automobiles June 25 in connection with a heroin delivery system. Four individuals were arraigned on drug charges at Quincy District Court, including a 34-year-old Quincy man. Photo Courtesy Quincy Police

Police seized approximately 350 grams of heroin with a street value of $150,000 after searching homes in Brockton, Randolph and Quincy as well as two automobiles June 25.

Also seized was approximately $25,000 in cash, and three automobiles: a Mercedes Benz, Honda Accord and an Infinity.

The investigation into the heroin delivery system was initiated by the Quincy Police Drug Control Unit.

According to Quincy Police, a heroin delivery system was operating in Quincy, Braintree, Randolph and Brockton. On June 25, with the assistance from Braintree, Randolph, Weymouth, Brockton and Mass State Police Gang Unit of Brockton, Quincy Police Drug Unit executed five search warrants. Three of the warrants were for homes at 10 Fenton St. apt. 209, Brockton, 51 Bridle Path Circle apt. 514, Randolph and 47 Euclid Ave. Quincy, along with two motor vehicles.

"This was ongoing for the past few months in which customers would call certain telephone numbers and heroin would be delivered in bulk and for individual sales," said Quincy Police Lt. Detective Patrick Glynn. "The dismantling of this operation and seizure of a significant quantity of heroin, cash and vehicles demonstrates the professional collaborative efforts of the agencies involved," Glynn said.

WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET • LIQUOR OUTLET • WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET • LIQUOR OUTLET • WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET • LIQUOR OUTLET • WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET

OUTLET PRICES
CLUB PRICES • WAREHOUSE PRICES
NO MEMBERSHIP REQUIRED! NO FEES!
Our Prices Can't Be BEAT!!!

Supreme Liquors

4TH OF JULY SALE

WINE SPECIALS

Kendall Jackson Chardonnay	$10.99	Wild Horse Chardonnay	$10.99	Simi Chardonnay	$12.99	Menage A Trois	$8.99
Joseph Carr Merlot	$14.99	Tom Gore Cabernet	$12.99	Ravenswood	$8.99	Diseno Malbec	$8.99
Franciscan Chardonnay	$12.99	Apothic	$8.99	Mark West	$8.99	Yellow Tail	$4.99
Sebastiani Pinot Noir	$10.99	Clos Du Bois Chardonnay	$8.99	Black Box 3ltr	$19.99	Cavit Pinot Grigio 1.5ltr	$9.99
Columbia Crest Cabernet	$9.99	Sea Glass Pinot Noir	$7.99	Jean Luc Columbo Rose	$10.99	Woodbridge 1.5ltr	$9.69
337 Cabernet	$9.99	Joel Gott Pinot Gris	$11.99	Santa Margherita Pinot Grigio	$18.99	ALL FRENCH ROSE'S 10% OFF

SPIRITS SPECIALS

Bacardi Light Rum 1.75ltr	$19.99	Beefeater Gin 1.75ltr	$32.99	Dewars White Label 1.75ltr	$31.99	Knob Creek Bourbon 750ml	$26.99
Seagrams Vodka 1.75ltr	$12.99	Woodford Reserve 1.75ltr	$59.99	Old Thompson 1.75ltr	$11.99	Macallan 10yr 750ml	$39.99
Capt. Morgan Rum 1.75ltr	$31.99	Jameson Irish Whiskey 1.75ltr	$44.99	Baileys Irish Cream 1.75ltr	$29.99	Laphroaig 10yr	$49.99
Titos Vodka 1.75ltr	$29.99	Bulleit Bourbon 1.75ltr	$49.99	Kahlua 1.75ltr	$37.99	Roca Patron Silver 750ml	$39.99
Malibu Rum 1.75ltr	$26.99	Seagrams Crown Royal 1.75ltr	$44.99	Casa Noble Blanco Tequila 750ml	$29.99	Grey Goose 750ml	$29.99

BEER SPECIALS

Sam Adams 12pk	$13.49	Bass 12pk	$10.99	Miller Highlife 30 packs	$15.99	Mixx Tail 12pk	$14.99
Sierra Nevada 12pk	$13.99	Becks 12pk	$10.99	Pabst 30 packs	$15.99	Lime A Rita 12pk	$12.99
Blue Moon 12pk	$13.99	Blue Point 12pk	$12.99	Rolling Rock 18pk Btl	$9.99
Goose Island 12pk	$13.99	Stella Artois 12pk	$11.99	Bud & Bud Light 18pk Can	$12.99
Oskar Blues 12pk	$13.99	Hoegaarden 12pk	$11.99	Yuengling Suitcase	$16.99
Lagunitas 12pk	$13.99	Presidente 12pk	$9.99	Angry Orchard Cider 12pk	$12.99
Shock Top 12pk	$12.99	Bud & Bud Light 30 packs	$19.99	Down East Cider 9pk	$12.99
Long Trail 12pk	$13.99	Michelob Ultra 30 packs	$19.99	Twisted Tea 12pk	$12.99
Leinenkugal 12pk	$13.99	Bud Light Lime 30 packs	$19.99	Smirnoff Party Pack 12pk	$12.99

 All Beer Plus Deposit*

OPEN ALL DAY JULY 4TH

KEGS IN STOCK EVERY DAY AT EVERYDAY LOW PRICES!

615 Hancock Street • QUINCY • 617-773-1332

LARGEST SELECTION OF CRAFT BEER IN QUINCY

DUE TO OUTLET PRICING WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES.
NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR TYPOGRAPHICAL ERRORS.

Prices effective July 2nd - July 11th
 ALL WINES 750 ml unless otherwise noted All Beer Plus Deposit

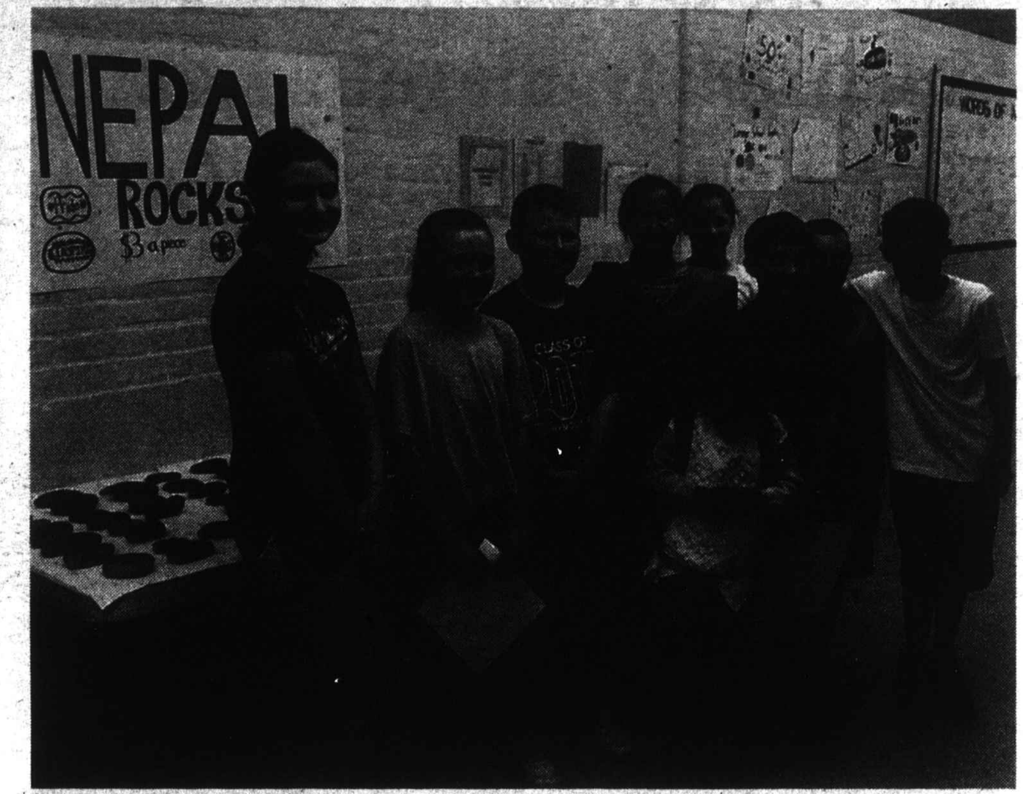
WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET • LIQUOR OUTLET • WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET • LIQUOR OUTLET • WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET • LIQUOR OUTLET • WINE OUTLET • BEER OUTLET

THREE MEMBERS OF the Morrisette American Legion Post 294 were recently presented Certificates of Continuous Membership. They are (from left) William Corcoran, U.S. Navy, past commander, Morrisette Legion Post, 60 years; Louis Malvesti, U.S. Navy, 70 years; and Anthony Russo, U.S. Army, 60 years. Also honored but unable to attend the ceremony were Edward Montani and Albert Capobianchi who each also have 60 years of continuous service to the Post. The honorees have been active in the Post and volunteer in many of its activities.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Noble

ROBERT LEWIS (left), Immediate Past Commander, Morrisette Legion Post, receives a Massachusetts Senate Citation from state Sen. John Keenan in recognition of his service as Post Commander. Citations were also presented by Mayor Thomas Koch and state Rep. Tackey Chan.

Nepal Peace Stones At Merrymount School



MERRYMOUNT SCHOOL fifth graders sprung into action after the earthquakes hit Nepal. The students made over $1,000 selling stones that they decorated. Each fifth grader decorated at least two Nepal Peace Stones. Some students decorated over five stones. They worked for more than two days on designing and decorating stones. Stones were sold to every grade in the school and at every school event. Students were surprised at the generosity of the community. The fifth graders presented special decorated Nepal Peace Stones to Hema Rana, a Merrymount parent who is from Nepal, and her daughter Varsha, a kindergarten student. Rana was honored by the students' compassion and enthusiasm to help the people of Nepal. She shared that her family, who is still in Nepal, is safe. The students plan to send the donations to an organization to help rebuild communities in Nepal. Photo Courtesy Lorie Hammerstrom

78 Students On Quincy Catholic Academy Third Term Honor Roll

Quincy Catholic Academy announces 78 students are on the honor roll for the third term.

They are:

GRADE 6

HIGH HONORS: Varshini Arumugam, Brandon Chen, Jackie Connor, Neysa Dadhi, Jaelyn Egan, Rachel Farrell, Annie Huynh, Mary Kelly, Eva Li, Meadhbh McDermott, Alicia Yu, and Christina Zhao.

HONORS: Meadow Armstrong, Matthew Dolbec, Brendan Healy, Ryan Healy, Brendan Hines, Liam Hines, Althea Laci, Jack Moriarty, Alex Tong, Ethan Truong, Carrie Wang, and Bethann Wong.

PRINCIPAL'S LIST: Elisha Fonseca, Scott Masciulli, Lisa Patel, and Gabriella Sanchez.

GRADE 7

HIGH HONORS: Madeleine Farrell, Fionuala McDermott, Sarah Rixham, and Vishva Venkatesan.

HONORS: Anna Chau, Jenna Cohen, Brigid Duggan, William Farrell, Caroline Jaehnig, Sammi Lai, Matthew McGourty, Olivia Raneri, Sydney Taylor, and David Tran.

PRINCIPAL'S LIST: Imuetiyan Eweka, Lauren George, Emma Jaehnig, Kayla Larkin-Goldman, Olivia Marini, and Katherine Scanlan.

GRADE 8

HIGH HONORS: Matthew Brandi, Kevin Chau, Trevor Connor, Katherine Dam, Nicole Farrell, Madison Gillan, Christian Ho, John Joyce, Matthew Joyce, Aja Pedroza, Brittany Raphino, Michael Song, and Lisa Tran.

HONORS: Eric Billard, Carrie Chan, Fiona Duggan, Serena Greaves, Chloe Ho, Aine Lavin, Olivia Notarangelo, Shiv Patel, Ella Piroli, Marrilyn Tseng, and Silvianna Zhao.

PRINCIPAL'S LIST: Brianna Broderick, Tina Dinh, Jaylannie Kinsella, Michaela Monahan, James Rizzitano, and Sean Scanlan.

Reach Your Hearing Potential

If your hearing aids are over four years old, you should know that new computer chips have allowed hearing aids to work faster and smarter in different environments. Nobody hears everything they want, but you could get the most out of your hearing with newer technology.

Let us help you reach your hearing potential and reconnect with your surroundings!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation, and ask about our current specials!

(617) 770-3395

Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart.
Where Eddie's Diner was!

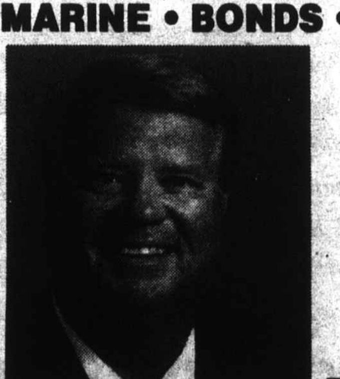
Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Financing available through Wells Fargo

21 locations

Eastern insurance

AUTO • HOME • BUSINESS
LIFE & EMPLOYÉE BENEFITS
WORKERS COMPENSATION • UMBRELLA
MARINE • BONDS • PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY



DONALD UVANITTE
Sr. Vice President,
CIC, ARM AAI, AU, AIS, CRIS, LIA

(617) 328-8300
(508) 270-5317

382 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169

DUvanitte@easterninsurance.com

21 locations

21 locations

21 locations

Fire Causes $400,000 Damage To 4-Family Home

Two Firefighters Injured Battling 2-Alarm Blaze

Two firefighters were treated for minor injuries sustained while fighting a two-alarm fire Saturday in Quincy Point.

The fire at 1 Bessie St. was reported around 4 p.m. Saturday. The fire, which began on a second floor porch and spread to the attic of the four-family home, was caused by the improper disposal of a lit cigarette, according to fire officials.

One firefighter was treated on scene. The second, a lieutenant, was treated and released that day from South Shore Hospital for a concussion, a cut on his face and dehydration.

No residents were injured. Everyone inside was out of the house by the time firefighters arrived. The Red Cross assisted five people with finding shelter, while other residents were able to stay with friends and family.

The fire was extinguished in about an hour.

It caused an estimated $400,000 in damage to 1 Bessie St. A house on neighboring Beacon Street sustained heat damage.

QUINCY FIREFIGHTERS battled a two-alarm fire Saturday at a four-family home located at 1 Bessie St., Quincy Point. Two firefigthers sustained minor injuries. The blaze was caused by improper disposal of a lit cigarette, fire officials said.

Photo Courtesy Scott Beers

PARAMEDICS TREAT one of two Quincy firefighters who sustained minor injuries battling a two-alarm fire at a four-family home on Bessie Street Saturday afternoon. One firefighter was treated at the scene. The second, a QFD lieutenant, was taken to South Shore Hospital for treatment and was later released. Photo Courtesy Mike Greene

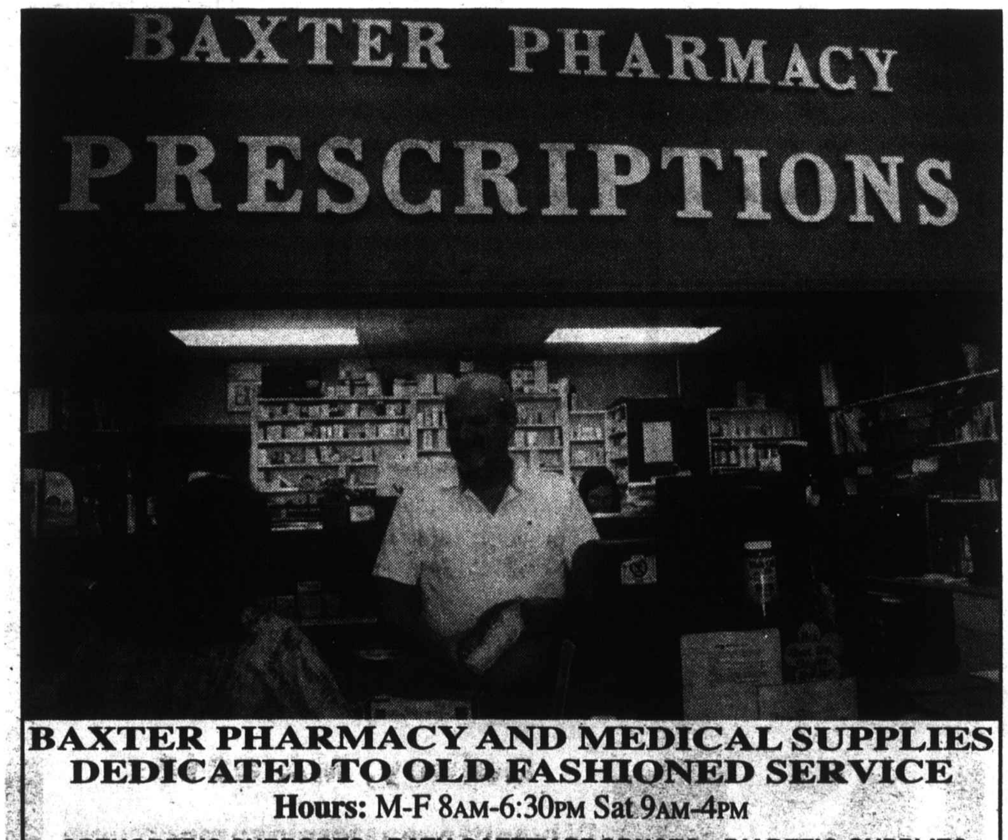
Chris, Trudy Peter Memorial Houghs Neck Blood Drive July 21

The Houghs Neck Community Council Annual Blood Drive in memory of Chris and Trudy Peter will be held on Tuesday, July 21st from 2 to 8 p.m. at St. Thomas Aquinas Hall, 1031 Sea St., Quincy.

Donors must show a form of identification such as a driver's license or a Passport. Appointments are highly recommended, but walk-ins are very welcome.

Call 1-800 redcross (1-800-733-2767) or visit hnccbulletin@yahoo.com to schedule an appointment.

For more information call Eileen Timcoe at 617-479-4107 or email etimcoe@yahoo.com.



BAXTER PHARMACY AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES
DEDICATED TO OLD FASHIONED SERVICE
Hours: M-F 8AM-6:30PM Sat 9AM-4PM
ORTHOPEDIC SUPPORTS • BATH SAFETY PRODUCTS • DIABETIC SUPPLIES
OSTOMY • WALKERS • CANES • CRUTCHES • COMMODES • CARDS • GIFT ITEMS
464 Washington Street, Quincy, MA
LOCAL DELIVERY AVAILABLE 617-773-7733 www.baxterpharmacy.com

You're Getting More.

At Brewster Ambulance, we believe the patient is at the heart of everything we do. That's why we carefully planned and designed our new service to suit the diverse needs of a growing Quincy.

In addition to 4 brand new ALS ambulances and 2 BLS ambulances (1 ALS and 1 BLS are each a 4x4 vehicle), we are bringing specialized education, one-of-a-kind technology and community outreach programs to Quincy, as well as:

+ 3 strategic locations in the city to decrease response time
+ 35 dedicated automated external defibrillators (AEDs) for the police and fire departments
+ Smart911™ safety profile program which provides a patient's medical and logistical information pre-arrival
+ Multilingual AEDs and language services for translation
+ Aerial imaging platform (drone) to aid first responders, survey storm damage or help search for missing children
+ Community support unit for additional assistance

And so much more—all delivered by a team of experienced professionals dedicated to providing patients the best experience possible. So rest assured, Quincy, we've got you covered.

Know the Facts.

BREWSTER
AMBULANCE SERVICE

Born and raised in Quincy, the Brewster family has had businesses in the city since 1978. We are especially proud to be providing more service and give-back to our beloved hometown.

Set up your Smart911™ profile at BrewsterAmbulance.com

Point With Point With
QPS
June 2015
$2,500
Two Thousand Five Hundred Technology
Ward Two Civic Assoc.

WARD 2 CIVIC Association recently awarded two neighborhood schools with a technology grant totaling $5,000. From left are: Civic Association Treasurer Ann Croke, Point Webster School Principal Christine Barrett, Civic Association President Lorelle Croall, Board Member Marilyn Croall and Clifford Marshall Principal Nicholas Ahearn. Missing from photo: Civic Association Vice President Brenda Rosario.

Photo Courtesy Ward 2 Civic Association

Ward 2 Civic Association Presents $5,000 In Technology Grants To Two Neighborhood Schools

The Ward 2 Civic Association recently awarded two neighborhood schools with a technology grant totaling $5,000.

The funds will be used to supply one classroom at each school with Smart Board technology, an innovative system that projects a computer's desktop image on an interactive whiteboard.

The whiteboard accepts touch input from a stylus/pen and the work is able to be saved onto a computer. This popular new classroom tool allows students to engage in active collaboration and is in the process of being rolled out to Quincy Public Schools, however not all classrooms are yet equipped.

The Board met with the schools for an assessment after Ward 2 Councillor Brad Croall notified them of a potential need. A check in the amount of $2,500 was delivered to each school earlier this month.

Christine Barrett, Principal Point Webster and Nick Ahearn, Principal Clifford Marshall, said they were thrilled with the donation.

"On behalf of Point Webster Middle School's students and staff, we are appreciative of the work Councillor Croall has done to recognize a need in our school and to be able to facilitate this donation through the Ward 2 Civic Association. We are thankful to the Civic Association for their generous donation and look forward to working with them in the future," Barrett said.

The Ward 2 Civic Association works with local schools and organizations to improve the community through service and financial support. To learn more about the Civic Association and how to be involved, email ward2civicassociation@gmail.com or visit their Facebook page.

Organizations Receive Health, Wellness Grants

The Blue Hills Community Health Network Alliance (CHNA 20) has awarded eight community grants to support local projects to improve health and wellness in South Shore communities.

The grants are made possible by donations from South Shore Hospital, Steward Health, and Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

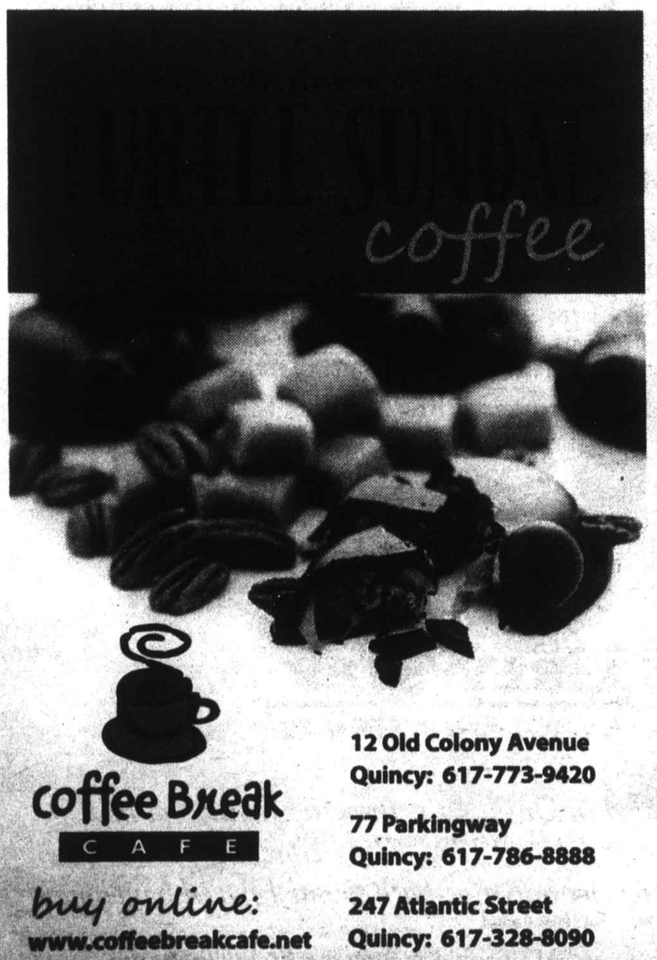
The focus of this year's Community Grant Program funds projects that lead to positive, enduring and replicable outcomes based on CHNA 20's core priority areas of Chronic Disease & Wellness and Access to Care & Services.

CHNA 20 received many grant applications representing a variety of programs and services. The grant review process was rigorous and conducted by a 14-member review committee chosen from community health agencies in the CHNA 20 catchment area.

The community grant recipients included several Quincy based organizations:

- Father Bill's & MainSpring - Father Bill's Place Community Center;
- Germantown Neighborhood Center/South Shore YMCA - The Germantown Neighborhood Family Learning Garden;
- Manet Community Health Center - Healthy Living for Diabetes Prevention and Management; and
- South Shore Mental Health - Youth Mental Health First Aid Trainings

For more information on the projects, visit www.chna20.org and click on the News and Announcements tab.



coffee
coffee Break
CAFE
buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net
12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420
77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888
247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Get Local!
QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-6:30
Hancock Parking Lot

Films, Concerts At Crane Library

'The Bostonian' Film Showing July 7

Join the director and select members of the cast and crew for a showing of the locally created thriller, The Bostonian at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy, at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 7.

A question and answer session with the director and select cast members will be held after the film.

The film plot is centered on Marshal, a handsome successful career man who drives a luxury sports car, lives in the best part of the city, eats at the finest restaurants, drinks the rarest whiskeys, collects the priciest art...and is a serial killer the media has dubbed the "Bostonian," stalking Beantown for over two years.

On his last outing Marshal made mistakes, one of which was leaving a witness to his crime. Det. Sean Burke, Marshal's best friend, mentions that police are closing in on the unknown killer, a piece of information that brings Marshal's fragile psyche crashing down and latent memories of his mother's verbal and sexual abuse flood his mind. Meanwhile a would be lover figures out what Marshal really is as he goes on a warpath to secure all loose ends.

Written and directed by Michael J. Demasi, the film stars Paul Held, Jami Tennille, and Greg Shea. The film is 108 minutes and is not rated but would be R if rated by the MPAA.

For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

Summer Concerts On The Lawn Start July 9

The Thomas Crane Public Library summer concert series on the library lawn begins Thursday, July 9 with the "Lenny Solomon Band.

Concerts will be held each Thursday evening during the summer starting at 7 p.m. on the lawn at 40 Washington St., Quincy Center.

Here is the schedule:

July 9: Lenny Solomon Band

Lenny Solomon will be joined by his band to present a fabulous evening of music. A seasoned singer, songwriter, and guitarist, Lenny Solomon's style has been compared to early Bob Dylan, Guy Clark, and Jerry Jeff Walker.

Solomon began his career in the late 1960s. A fixture at the now defunct Idler Coffeehouse in Harvard Square, Cambridge, he regularly performed there on Friday nights for over eight years.

The Idler was a training ground for songwriters such as Geoff Bartley, Paul Rishell, Spider John Koerner, and Ric Ocasek. During these years as a solo performer he shared bills with many touring performers including Chris Smither, Carolyn Hester, Bonnie Raitt, and Spider John. For many years music lay in the background of his life.

From the 1980s through the mid-1990s, Solomon continued to write songs, but rarely performed in public. He chose rather to raise his family and work in environmental research at Harvard University. In 1997 Solomon got back into performing and formed a folk/country band appropriately enough called Solomon. Performing his original material, Solomon has released one EP and four CDs. More information is available on his website: http://solomonband.com/band.html.

Other concerts scheduled on the library lawn:

- July 16 - 4EverFab
- July 23 - Sweet Wednesday
- July 30 - Howie Newman & Jackie Damsky
- Aug. 6 - Andy & Judy Daigle

More information about the entire series is available at http://thomascranelibrary.org/concerts

For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

Dina's Hair & Nail Unisex Salon
5 School St., Quincy
617.479.1797
Adult Cuts $9.00
Color $30.00
Hair Cut & Blowdry $25.00
Matrix Perm $40.00
Wax, Lip & Eyebrows $6.00
Includes wash, cut & style
WE ALSO DO EXTENSIONS
1st time clients only

Koch: No City Money For Olympic Venue

Cont'd From Page 3

beneficial to businesses at Marina Bay both during the games and during construction periods before and after the Olympics.

"This also will have, I think, an economic good spin for the boardwalk and the businesses at Marina Bay, who suffer from a short season," Koch said. "Just the anticipation of it coming. The stadium would be a temporary stadium, so they would spend several weeks ahead of time building and several weeks after dismantling and all that business in between. They would be eating there and using establishments at the marina. I think that's a good thing."

The United States Olympic Committee in January chose Boston as the American city to bid for the 2024 games, beating out Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C.

Koch said Boston 2024 did not do an adequate job unveiling its initial proposal to host the Olympics – including how new venues and infrastructure improvements will be paid for. The mayor also added that he has supported the plan from its inception because it could lead to improvements at the city's four MBTA stations.

"I don't think – it's easy in hindsight, I know – in retrospect that things were rolled out properly. I don't think the community had enough involvement to get a buy-in, if you will. I think there were a lot of questions that were unanswered – financial and who is paying for what – and I think those are all legitimate issues. I think much of that can be resolved," Koch said.

"I was right at the beginning in favor of it because I felt my four Red Line stations were going to get improvements they need. If this helps get the infrastructure done more quickly, let's do it. That helps the residents of my city."

Under Boston 2024's original plan, made public earlier this year, beach volleyball events would have taken place in a temporary stadium on Boston Common.

The new plan includes a 20,000-seat temporary stadium on the parking lot at Squantum Point Park, in the area of the park closest to Marina Bay. The stadium could be constructed in 16 weeks and broken down in seven, according to organizers. Several training courts and other facilities would be housed along a disused runway that cuts through the park.

If Boston were to host the 2024 games, beach volleyball events would take place over a 13-day period – July 20 to Aug. 1.

The promised improvements to the park include seawall/shoreline restoration and new recreation and playing fields, playground areas, walkways and picnic areas. Another potential upgrade is a visitor center for the Boston Harbor Islands National Recreation Area.

The change in beach volleyball venues was one several announced in recent weeks by Boston 2024. The organizing committee also announced that shooting events will take place in Billerica instead of on Long Island in Boston Harbor as had been originally planned.

The USOC's final application to host the games is due by Sept. 15. The IOC will select a host in September 2017. Rome, Paris, Hamburg, Istanbul, and Johannesburg are among a number of international cities that have expressed interest in hosting the 2024 games.

A statewide referendum on hosting the Olympics is planned for 2016. There is no plan to hold a separate referendum in Quincy.

Number Of Full-Time EMS Ambulances Doubles

City's EMS Service With Brewster Begins

As of midnight Wednesday, the city will have more than double the number of full-time Emergency Medical Service ambulances available to respond to residents.

Quincy's new EMS contract with Brewster Ambulance takes effect July 1, increasing the number of ambulances dedicated to the City from three to seven, which include five Advanced Life Support ambulances.

Brewster President Mark Brewster said that 25 of the EMTs and paramedics that covered Quincy with the previous provider will continue to man the new ambulances with Brewster.

An 8-person committee recommended Brewster be awarded the contract after Mayor Thomas Koch placed the EMS contract into the competitive marketplace for the first time since 1997. The five-year contract includes new ambulances, state-of-the-art equipment, and an innovative outreach program called Smart911.

"Our first and only concern is providing the best possible emergency response to our residents who need it, and this new contract does exactly that," Koch said in a statement Monday.

Even with a large contingent of the City's existing EMS team staying on board with Brewster, the ambulance provider has been doing training and practice runs throughout the City in anticipation for the 911 change-over. Training and equipment coordination with the Quincy Police and Quincy Fire Department has also begun, officials said.

The City does not pay for emergency ambulance service, rather costs are passed on to insurance companies and patients. The committee that reviewed proposals found that Brewster offered the most beneficial rate package for customers, who are either private-payer or pay a deductible to their insurance.

Brewster plans to implement its innovative "Smart 911" program for Quincy residents at no charge. The program allows residents to sign-up for the program and provide basic medical information that first responders will see when they are dispatched to an address.

The Committee also cited Brewster's plans for upgraded technology in ambulances, communications, training for City first responders, and translation services as among the other factors in recommending Brewster.

The 8-member committee met several times to deliberate the proposals, and comprised Fire Chief Joseph Barron, Police Chief Paul Keenan, Mary Jo Brogna, the associate chief nurse at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Health Commissioner Andrew Scheele, Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Jackson, Fire Captain Richard Bryan, Police Captain Anthony DiBona, and Police Sargeant Greg Goyette.

The city's previous EMS provider - Fallon Ambulance – sought an injunction to stop the new contract with Brewester from taking effect Wednesday. A judge dismissed the motion Friday in Norfolk Superior Court.

Student Transportation Applications Due July 17

Quincy Public Schools is accepting applications for elementary student transportation for the 2015-2016 school year.

A new application must be filed each year to renew student transportation. Deadline for submitting this year's transportation application and fee is Friday, July 17.

Students in Kindergarten through Grade 5 are eligible for transportation to and from the following schools:

C.A. Bernazzani, Clifford H. Marshall, Lincoln Hancock, Merrymount, Montclair, Point Webster (Grade 5 only), Squantum and Sterling (Grade 5 only).

Transportation fees are as follows for the distance between home and school:

- More than 2 miles: no fee required.
- Between 1-2 miles: $200 per student.
- 1 mile or less: $200 per student (on a space available basis).
- Family maximum of $400.

For bus stop locations, visit the Quincy Public Schools website www.quincypublicschools.com or contact the Transportation office at 617-984-8964.

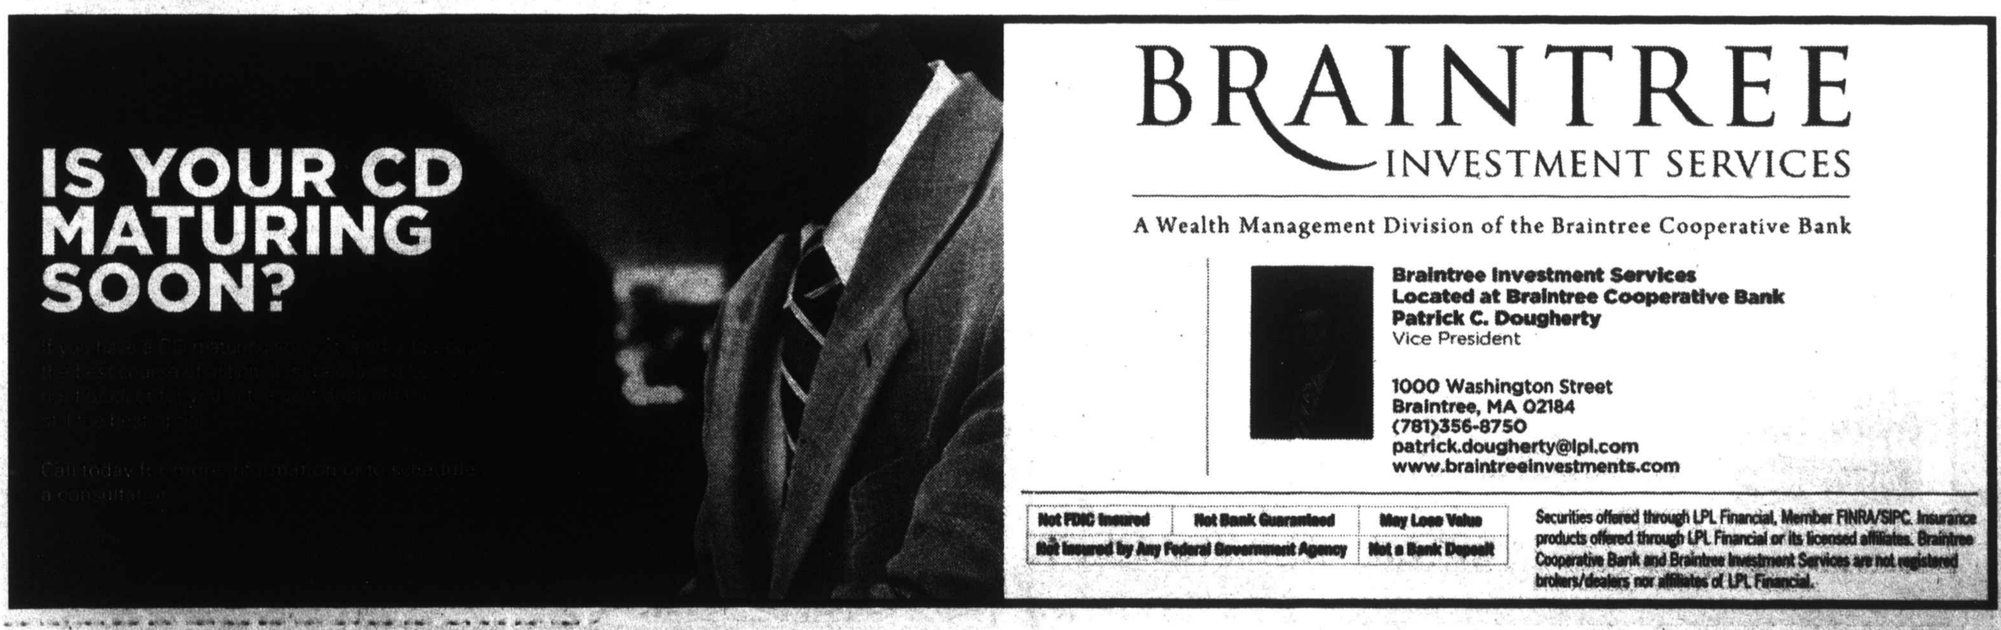
The student transportation application can be downloaded from the Quincy Public Schools website.

All families requesting transportation for the 2015-2016 school year must return the completed application with full payment by Friday, July 17.

TIME OUT PIZZA & GRILL
2 LARGE $15.99*
CHEESE PIZZAS
TOPPINGS EXTRA
*Must present Coupon at time of Order
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
$2.00 OFF*
ANY ORDER OF $18 OR MORE CASH ONLY
*Cannot Be Combined With Any Other Coupon or Offer
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
OPEN: 7 Days
525 Sea St., Quincy
617-479-2300

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

KING OPTICAL
Transitions®
Healthy sight in every light™
(781) 843-2133
20 School Street West • Braintree
(Off Washington Street) • WWW.KINGOPTICAL.NET



IS YOUR CD MATURING SOON?

BRAINTREE
INVESTMENT SERVICES
A Wealth Management Division of the Braintree Cooperative Bank

Braintree Investment Services
Located at Braintree Cooperative Bank
Patrick C. Dougherty
Vice President

1000 Washington Street
Braintree, MA 02184
(781)356-8750
patrick.dougherty@lpl.com
www.braintreeinvestments.com

Not FDIC Insured | Not Bank Guaranteed | May Lose Value
Not Insured by Any Federal Government Agency | Not a Bank Deposit

Securities offered through LPL Financial, Member FINRA/SIPC. Insurance products offered through LPL Financial or its licensed affiliates. Braintree Cooperative Bank and Braintree Investment Services are not registered brokers/dealers nor affiliates of LPL Financial.

RESIDENTS AND FAMILY members of Hancock Park Rehabilitation & Nursing Center and Allerton House Assisted Living at Hancock Park in Quincy recently enjoyed a wonderful, sun-filled day to celebrate dad during the community's Annual Father's Day Cookout. Here Allerton House at Hancock Park resident Bill Coakley enjoys an afternoon of good food and music with his daughters Barbara Fitzgerald (center) and Sandra Cummings (right) during the community's Annual Father's Day Cookout in Quincy.

RON PEPE (center) and his sister Val McNamara join in the festivities wishing their father, Nick Pepe (right) a Happy Father's Day during the assisted living community's Annual Father's Day Cookout.

Photos by Townson Photography

ALLERTON HOUSE at Hancock Park resident Peter Ingeneri and Mary Murphy, an assisted living resident care assistant, find a lovely spot in the shade during the assisted living and skilled nursing center's Annual Father's Day Cookout in Quincy.

DAWN FAIRBANKS, Hancock Park Rehabilitation & Nursing Center food services director, works the grill serving up traditional summer barbecue staples of hamburgers and hot dogs during the community's Annual Father's Day Cookout.

Health Officials Warn Residents: Be Wary Of Ticks

By DR. JACK CORNWELL

Massachusetts health officials are warning residents to be wary of ticks this summer.

Because ticks are attracted to wet environments, the damp winter we experienced in the Bay State created a breeding ground, making it even more important for folks to take precautions against the pesky creatures.

Deer ticks, one of the most common varieties in the Northeast and the kind that transmit Lyme disease, are active beginning in May and can remain active into November, so it's important to know what to do should you find a tick on yourself or a loved one.

The best way to prevent a tick-borne illness is to be diligent about checking yourself after going outside. Even if you wore shoes and long pants, it is still important to double check your entire body. It may also help to have a friend or family member check any hard-to-see areas, like your back and scalp, to make sure there's nothing that you missed.

If you do spot a tick on your skin, the best way to remove it is with a pair of tweezers. Carefully grasp it by its head and pull slowly and steadily so it doesn't leave behind pathogens. This is important because if you pull too aggressively, the head will likely remain stuck.

Once you have successfully removed the tick, thoroughly scrub your hands and the skin where the tick was located. Then check to see if the tick is flat or engorged. If it's flat, it usually means the tick hasn't had ample time to infect your blood.

If you are able to remove the whole tick it might be worth bringing with you to a doctor or urgent care clinic, because a doctor will be able to determine what kind of tick it is. If it is a deer tick, it can be tested for Lyme disease. Only whole ticks can be tested however, so if you are unable to remove the tick in one piece, its best to put the tick in a small jar containing isopropyl alcohol to kill it. After a few hours, the dead tick can be safely flushed down the toilet. Flushing a live tick down the toilet will not kill it.

If you do find a tick on you or a family member, don't panic. Ticks usually take two to three days to fully engorge themselves and infect their hosts. The earlier you catch the tick, the better off you'll be. That's because the window for taking prophylactic doxycycline, the antibiotic that decreases the likelihood that you develop Lyme disease, closes between 48 and 72 hours after contact.

There are other diseases, besides Lyme that ticks can carry, like anaplasmosis, babesiosis and Lyme's relatively new cousin, Borrelia Miyamotoi. Unfortunately, there is no treatment to prevent these diseases, so it is important to be familiar with the symptoms.

For anaplasmosis and lyme disease, symptoms tend to be similar to the flu and include fever, headache, chills and muscle aches. Patients with Babesiosis can be asymptomatic, but many experience a gradual onset of fatigue and fever.

If you or a family member is experiencing any of these symptoms during the spring and summer months, you should visit your doctor or an urgent care center immediately.

Dr. Jack Cornwell is the medical director at Care-Well Urgent Care.

Dr. E Elkadry Dentist & Associates
1372 Hancock Street, Suite 101, Quincy, MA
(617) 472-3919

ONE STOP FOR ALL YOUR DENTAL NEEDS

We are Highly Qualified, Caring Dentists & Dental Specialists

We Offer: Cerec One Day Restorations with 3D Digital Imaging
Crowns, veneers, ceramic inlays/onlays in one visit

PERIODONTICS - Including Implants, Sinus Elevation, Cosmetic Grafts, Crown Lengthening and Socket Preservation

ENDODONTICS - State of the Art Pain Free Root Canal Treatment

ORTHODONTICS - For Children and Adults Including Invisalign

COSMETIC DENTISTRY - Including One Hour Teeth Whitening, Veneers and Crowns

We Accept Most Dental Insurance

WINE Copeland LIQUOR
PACKAGE STORE
COPELAND
The Best in Spirits
Dennis Carson
SERVING NEIGHBORS SINCE 1958
273 Copeland St. Quincy, MA 02169
(617)471-5418
www.copelandpackage.com

Those Who Served, Died In Korea Remembered

South Korean Consul General Guest Speaker At Service Marking War's 65th Anniversary

THE 65TH ANNIVERSARY of the outbreak of the Korean War was commemorated at a ceremony at the Korean War Memorial June 25. The names of the 38 Quincy residents who were killed during the war were read during the service. Those names are engraved on the granite memorial located at the intersection of Hancock Street and Merrymount Parkway. Keynote speaker was Song Jun Ohm (left), Consul General Republic of South Korea. Pausing during the playing of "Taps" after placing a wreath at the memorial are Ohm, Mayor Thomas Koch and state Rep. Tackey Chan. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

By SCOTT JACKSON

South Korea will never forget the sacrifice made by so many Americans more than 60 years ago during the Korean War, a South Korean diplomat told dozens of veterans, residents and local officials who attended a ceremony held in memory of those killed in the war.

The ceremony to honor the 38 Quincy men killed during the war was held June 25; it was on that day in 1950 that North Korean forces began their invasion of South Korea. The ceremony took place at the memorial bearing the names of the Quincy residents killed in the war, dedicated in 2000, in front of Veterans' Memorial Stadium.

Song Jun Ohm, the South Korean general consul in Boston, was the special guest speaker at that morning's ceremony. He told the assembled crowd that his nation and its people are grateful for the American veterans who served during the war.

"Korean people and the Korean government are grateful to the American veterans of the Korean War. Koreans pay respect to American veterans for their bravery and their patriotism. Koreans will not forget the sacrifice of American soldiers during the Korean War," Ohm said.

"Thank you American veterans and their families. God bless you."

Ohm also gave several reasons why the South Korean people are grateful for the sacrifice made by Americans who fought in the war, including the country's rapid economic growth and stability on the Korean Peninsula since an armistice was signed between the two sides in July 1953.

"Due to the engagement of U.S. forces, Korea could stand strong and free from communism, tyranny and dictatorship. Thanks to the sacrifice of U.S. soldiers, Korea could achieve brilliant economic development with a free and competitive market system," Ohm said. "Korea could maintain peace and stability on the Korean Peninsula."

Earlier in his remarks, Ohm noted that North Korea was able to capture Seoul – the South Korean capital city – three days after the invasion began. By August

Cont'd On Page 17

SolarPerks™
Clean Energy

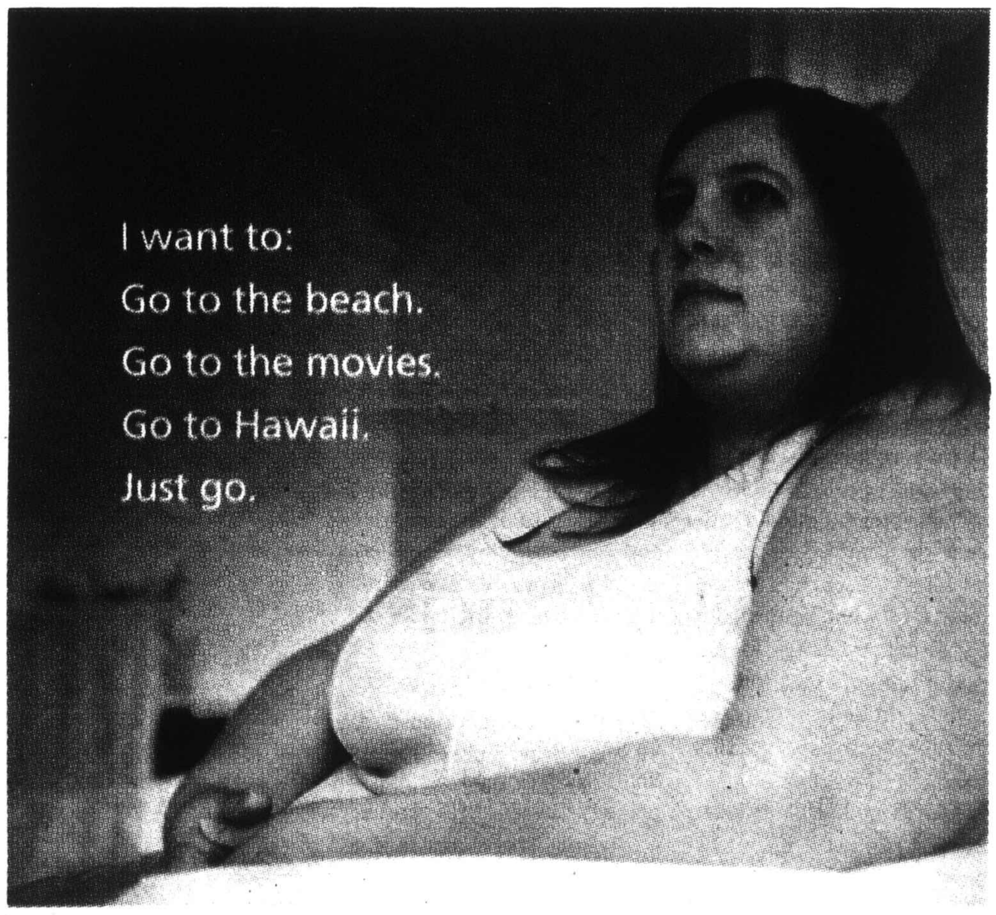
Hey Massachusetts!
It's About Time
Solar Savings out of Thin Air

Get your free Apple Watch

Reduce your electric bill with Roofless Solar. Save money and earn your perks today.

① Sign up for SolarPerks
② Refer two friends who sign up (PerkPals)
③ Receive your free Apple Watch

Call us today: 857-301-7407
Or sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com



I want to:
Go to the beach.
Go to the movies.
Go to Hawaii.
Just go.

Learn how you can get your life back.

Losing significant weight comes with obvious health benefits. But what truly inspires our patients? A renewed quality of life. At Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton, we understand.

As part of the Beth Israel Deaconess Bariatric Network, our expertise, leading surgeons and team approach to your care make all the difference. And our commitment to education and support helps you achieve lifelong success.

How do you get your life back? First, by getting information. Join us for a free information session where you can hear about your weight loss surgery options, meet our team and ask questions.

JOIN US
Date: Monday, July 6
Time: 12:30 – 2:00 p.m.
Place: Nangeroni Education Center at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital - Milton 199 Reedsdale Road, Milton
To register for this FREE session, call 617-313-1440.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital
Milton
A Member of
Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL TEACHING HOSPITAL
bidmilton.org/weightloss

WEIGHT LOSS SURGERY

Passanageset Park At Broad Meadows Opens To The Public

Cont'd From Page 2

2013, by six girls who were in seventh grade at Broad Meadows at the time. The girls – Michaela O'Gara-Pratt, Mackenzie Maguire, Abigail Kraunelis, Grace Higgins, Colleen Connor and Eve Anderson – are known as "The History Girls" for the effort they made researching for the interpretive signs.

The students were inspired to begin their research as a result of a research project from their teacher, Ron Adams.

Adams explained that 100 students went on a field trip to the New Bedford Oceanarium. After that he tasked his students with completing a research project on local sites students from other communities could visit in Quincy. The teacher, however, wanted his students to look at sites in their own neighborhood instead of more obvious choices like the Adams National Historical Park.

"That was the genesis of all of this," Adams said.

O'Gara-Pratt, Adams explained, went to the Quincy Historical Society to begin looking for historic places in her neighborhood. While she was there, Dr. Ed Fitzgerald, the society's executive director, gave her the book "Quincy Legacy," The first chapter of the book told the story of Chickataubut, a sachem of the Massachusett, and his headquarters in the vicinity of what is now 227 Sea Street, adjacent to the middle school's location.

"She thought it was an amazing discovery," Adams said.

Adams said O'Gara-Pratt wanted to educate the public on the site's history, particularly by having the city install signage. He asked anyone interested in embarking on the project to meet with him after the school that day; that's how The History Girls first got together.

Over 18 months, the group researched the site using documents available at the Quincy Historical Society and Thomas Crane Public Library among other locations. They also reached out local colleges and universities that had centers focused on Native American history to find descendants of the Massachusett.

The History Girls met biweekly with members of the Massachusetts, beginning with Gil Solomon, the lead sachem of the Massachusett Tribe at Ponkapoag. They also met with other members, including Nanaweeta Medicine, Feather on the Moon, and Strong Medicine, and took a trip to the Pequot museum in Connecticut.

"I was watching them apply the skills we teach them, and that did not surprise me," Adams said. "But they were getting both sides of the story – from the Native Americans and the Europeans – and that really impressed me."

The first of the four interpretive signs discusses the marsh and efforts made in recent years to restore it. The sign also recognizes the work of The History Girls to research the history of the land.

The second sign is about the ancestors of the Massachusett who lived. Archeological evidence unearthed in 1999 at Caddy Park dates back 3,500 years. The sign also notes that when English settlers first arrived in Quincy, Broad Meadows was known as Passanageset and served as a summer home for the Massachusett. Artwork from a mural by Joshua Winer – from an original mural he painted in 2003 at the Brooks Street Underpass in Brighton – is included on the sign.. Members of the Massachusett Tribe posed for the mural.

The third tribe is on the Massachusett. Before Europeans arrived, it notes, the Massachusett lived along the coast from Salem to Cape Cod and as far inland as Worcester. It also discusses the lives of the Massachusett people and notes Chickataubut's principal seat was at Passanageset and his mother was buried on site. Work from Winer's mural is also included on this sign.

The final sign is on the current tribe and includes quotes from members students interviewed. It notes plagues killed 90 percent of Native Americans living between Saco, Maine, and Narragansett Bay in Rhode Island from 1616 to 1619. It was during a second plague that Chickataubut moved to Moswetuset Hummock; no written records of the Massachusett there exist after 1633. The sign includes the current logo of the Massachusett Tribe, which Strong Medicine created this year.

Adams said he and The History Girls, who will begin ninth grade in the fall, hope the new park inspires other residents to learn more about the Massachusett and Passanageset.

"We are looking at this as the beginning of new interest in the site from members of the community," he said.

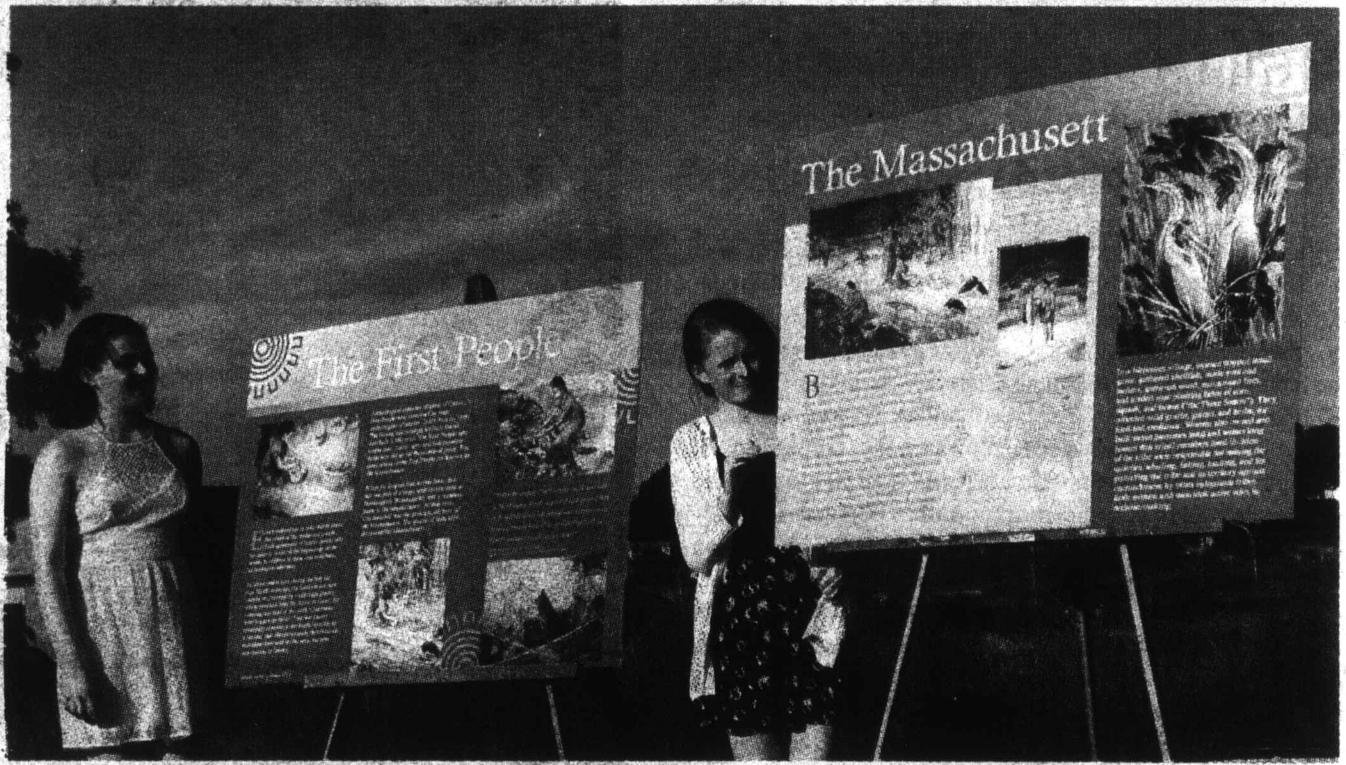
Wendy Gendron, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, praised the History Girls for their helping to create the new park area. She also noted the new park name has been added directly into the Geographic Names Information System (GNIS), which is the official geographic names database for the Federal Government. Therefore, the name is official immediately for use by any Federal department or agency.

"The Corps of Engineers was excited to participate in the grand opening of Passanageset Park," Gendron said. "Over 390,000 cubic yards of material was excavated and placed onsite to restore 31 acres of salt marsh, 4 acres of freshwater wetlands and 23 acres of upland grassland.

"The Corps is thrilled that the History Girls and Ron Adams from the Broad Meadows Middle School took interest in the Broad Meadows site. Their detailed research and coordination with multiple agencies, experts and Native people have taught us the importance of our history. Their dedication resulted in direct recognition of the First People and acknowledgement of Passanageset Park in the Federal Geographic Names Information System (GNIS).

"Commonly used maps," Gendron continued, "such as the United States Geological Survey Topographic Maps, Nautical charts published by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and Google Maps reference this database. Passanageset Park will eventually appear on these maps, depending on scale and intended use.

"The history of this area is now front and center and preserved for generations to come thanks to these dedicated young women," Gendron added.



BROAD MEADOWS Students known as "The History Girls" help unveil new interpretive signage at Passanagaset Park at Broad Meadows at the park's official opening June 24. The signs will be placed at various points in the park. Above are Eve Anderson (left) and Colleen Connor (right) and below Mackenzie Maguire (left) and Grace Higgins and Abigail Kraunelis (right).

We Are Still Here
Passanageset Park

LARRY FISHER of the Titicut Indian Nation (right) sings an honor song in appreciation of the Broad Meadows Middle School students who helped create Passanageset Park at Broad Meadows. Listening at left are History Girls Eve Anderson, Michaela Blue O'Gara-Pratt, the founder of The History Girls 2013-2015; and Mackenzie Maguire. The park recognizes the area's rich Native American history. Architectural evidence of some of Quincy's first people was unearthed by state archeologists in 1999 at nearby Caddy Park about a mile from the park site. Chickataubut, the principal Sachem of the Massachusett, had a seat at Passanageset Knoll, a piece of high ground in the Broad Meadows salt marsh near Merrymount, according to historian James Cameron.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Remembering Korean War On 65th Anniversary

Cont'd From Page 15

1950, 90 percent of the peninsula was under North Korean control and South Korea's government was on the brink of collapse.

"If the entire Korean Peninsula had been taken over by North Korean communists, the government of South Korea would have been on the verge of disappearance," Ohm said.

"Immediately after war broke out, the United States came to defend the people and the government of South Korea from North Korean communists. The engagement of U.S. armed forces, along with United Nations forces, in the Korean War to counter the North Korean People's Army was an absolutely appropriate decision for defending the freedom and democracy of the Republic of Korea."

Mayor Thomas Koch thanked the group of veterans, led by Butch Mahoney, who helped put up the memorial to those lost in the Korean War.

"Though it was dubbed as the 'Forgotten War,' here in Quincy the comrades of the 38 names on this wall did not forget," he said.

"A group of men got together – Butch Mahoney was very much the leader of that group – to put this wall in place here, appropriately right by the Veterans' Memorial Stadium. The stadium where many of these young men played in in high school football and other activities before they went off to war."

George Nicholson, Quincy's director of veterans' services, said the 38 Quincy men killed in the war can be proud that their sacrifice was not made in vain.

"These Quincy men who saw the devastation that was Korea can be rightly proud from where they sit on high to know that their sacrifice was not in vain because South Korea today is a model of success and an active partner in the world stage and in the democratic process," Nicholson said.

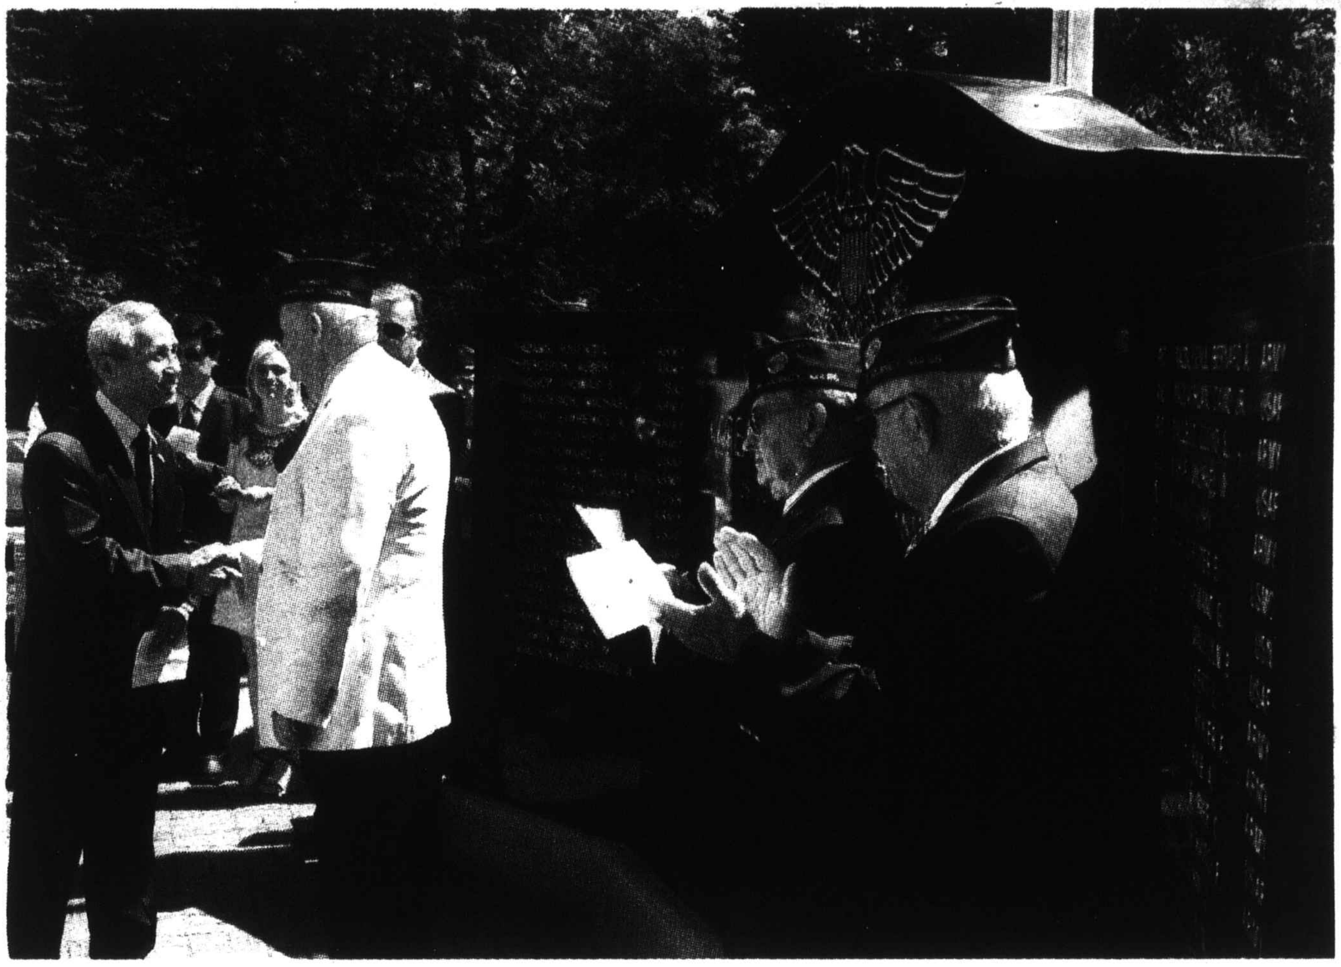
"If they could, Mr. Consul General, each one of these men on the wall would humbly thank you for your distinguished presence here today. As we honor them this morning, I too, on behalf of them and all the veterans of the city of Quincy thank you for joining us by your presence bearing witness to the truth that the fight for freedom and democracy now, then and always is a most righteous cause."

The ceremony included a wreath laying and a roll call of those Quincy residents killed in the war. Richard Keane, the commander of the Quincy Veterans Council, said the roll call is a painful reminder of the cost of war.

"As we gather here today in front of this beautiful monument and here a roll call of names, we are painfully reminded of the high cost of war in terms of lives lost. For many years, the Korean War was named the 'Forgotten War,' but for those who fought there Korea was unforgettable," Keane said.

Rep. Tackey Chan, who

Cont'd On Page 32



SONG JUN OHM, consul general Republic of South Korea (left) shakes hands with Lawrence Norton, past commander, Quincy Veterans Council, after giving keynote remarks at the memorial service commemorating the 65th anniversary of the Koren War June 25. The service held at the Quincy Korean War Memorial at Hancock Street and Merrymount Parkway was attended by more than 100 veterans, elected officials and guests including school children from Central Middle School. At right clapping are William Corcoran and John "Sonny" Joyce, both Korean War veterans. The memorial is inscribed with the names of the 38 Quincy men who were killed during the war – highest number of casualties from any city or town on the South Shore.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Now Enrolling For Fall!
50% Off Registration

VELOCITY DANCE COMPANY

Ballet Tap Jazz Modern Hip Hop
Contemporary Musical Theatre
Pre-School Through Adults
Open House Saturday July 11 & August 8 10am-3pm
Studio: 37 Billings Road North Quincy
617-733-5793 velocitydance@aol.com
www.velocitydancecompany.com

SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

PASS It On: Positive And Safe Schools

By BARBARA E. FENBY
Health Teacher
Point Webster
Middle School

POINT WEBSTER MIDDLE School grade 8 students spell out the acronym PASS that stands for Positive and Safe Schools.

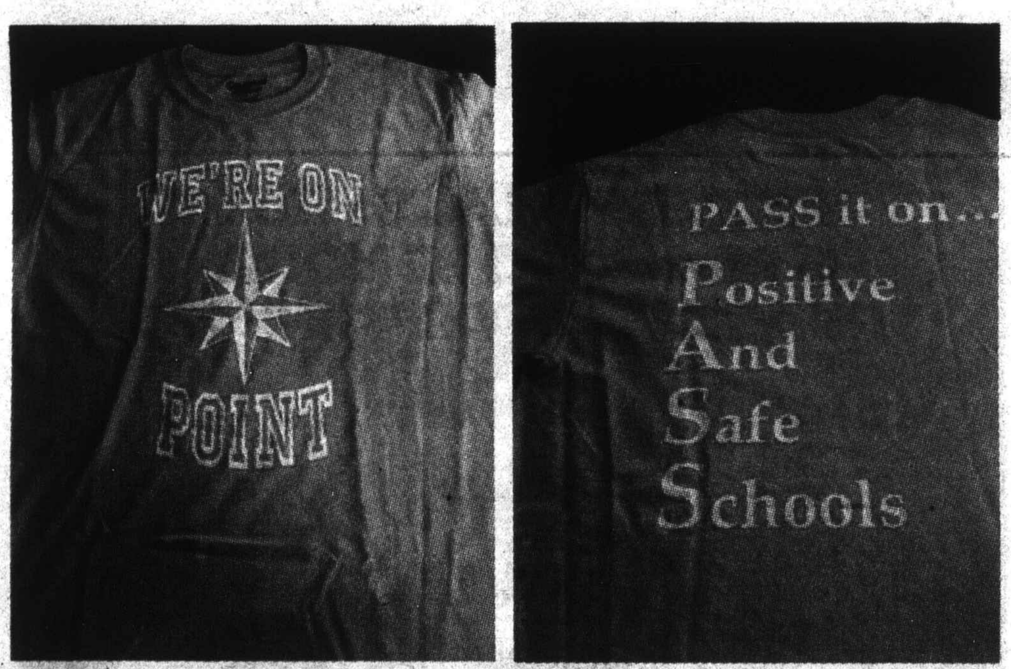
Photos Courtesy Barbara Fenby

"Do you know what my favorite part of your introduction poster is?" Tom Hermanoski, a facilitator from the (MIAA) Massachusetts Interscholastic, Athletic Association asked the Human Rights Squad while conducting leadership training recently at (PWMS) Point Webster Middle School.

"It's your school icon, the compass. I look at it and see a 'moral' compass." How perfect, I thought, that is the "root" of our (PASS) Positive and Safe Schools campaign; we can branch out from there.

PWMS worked in collaboration with the MIAA, Deana's Educational Theater, Northeastern University's "Project Teamwork," Rachel's Challenge, (ADL) Anti-Defamation League/ World of Difference's annual "Youth Congress" for the last three years. Plans were also underway to meet with Quincy Community Police Officers to promote and sustain a positive and safe school climate at PWMS. The Blue Hills Community Health Network Alliance (CHNA 20) provided the funding this year; Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital (BID) - Milton Hospital the two prior.

(DET) Deana's Educational Theater has been the catalyst for this proposal and performed a play for grades seven and eight in the fall entitled "Remote Control" regarding teenage dating violence. Two years ago DET performed "Doin' the Right Thing" for all grades addressing "bullying" and last year "The Lesson" for grades seven and eight concerning "cyber-bullying." Comprehensive health education was conducted during health classes for all grades throughout the last three academic school years on the subject matter.



TEE SHIRTS with the messages "We're On Point" and PASS it on . . . Positive And Safe Schools' were designed by 'Human Rights Squad' students at Point Webster Middle School.

Anti-bullying pre- and post surveys from the (MARC) Massachusetts Aggression Reduction Center, FISH! for schools and Rachel's Challenge were completed to help measure and define success regarding our proposal.

Select students from grades seven and eight were trained by interns from Northeastern University, the MIAA and the ADL to form a "Human Rights Squad." The "Human Rights Squad" recently led the school in a student–authored PASS pledge and grade eight depicted a human version of the acronym PASS in the recess area. This is a continuation of our "Peers Teaching Peers."

In addition, the eighth grade "Human Rights Squad" led by Karmina Llaga designed a t-shirt with our school colors, green and white. Usually the t-shirts are forest green; this time lime green was chosen as the background color because of its brightness.

The "moral compass" was made larger than usual in the middle and front of the t-shirt; (inspired by eighth grader Cindy Trac) with the following words surrounding the compass: "We're on Point!" (The slogan came to us by way of eighth graders Emily Al-Khatib and Gina Marcello). On the back it says, "PASS it on…Positive and Safe Schools." Each student and staff member donned their t-shirts before reciting the PASS pledge at noon on May 26.

The pledge authored by eighth grade "Human Rights Squad" members: Peggy Tam, Karmina Llaga, Kristen Topalli, and Jillian DeVincentis read as follows:

"I, POINT WEBSTER MIDDLE SCHOOL, pledge to always welcome everyone entering our school using the golden rule.

I believe that everyone deserves an education and has the right to a safe and positive environment where teachers can teach and students can learn.

I will follow my moral compass.

I will take pride in my school diversity and embrace healthy; individual differences.

I will treat everyone with respect, helping others when needed.

I will stand up for my peers and will not tolerate bullying.

I will do my part in keeping our school a positive and safe one.

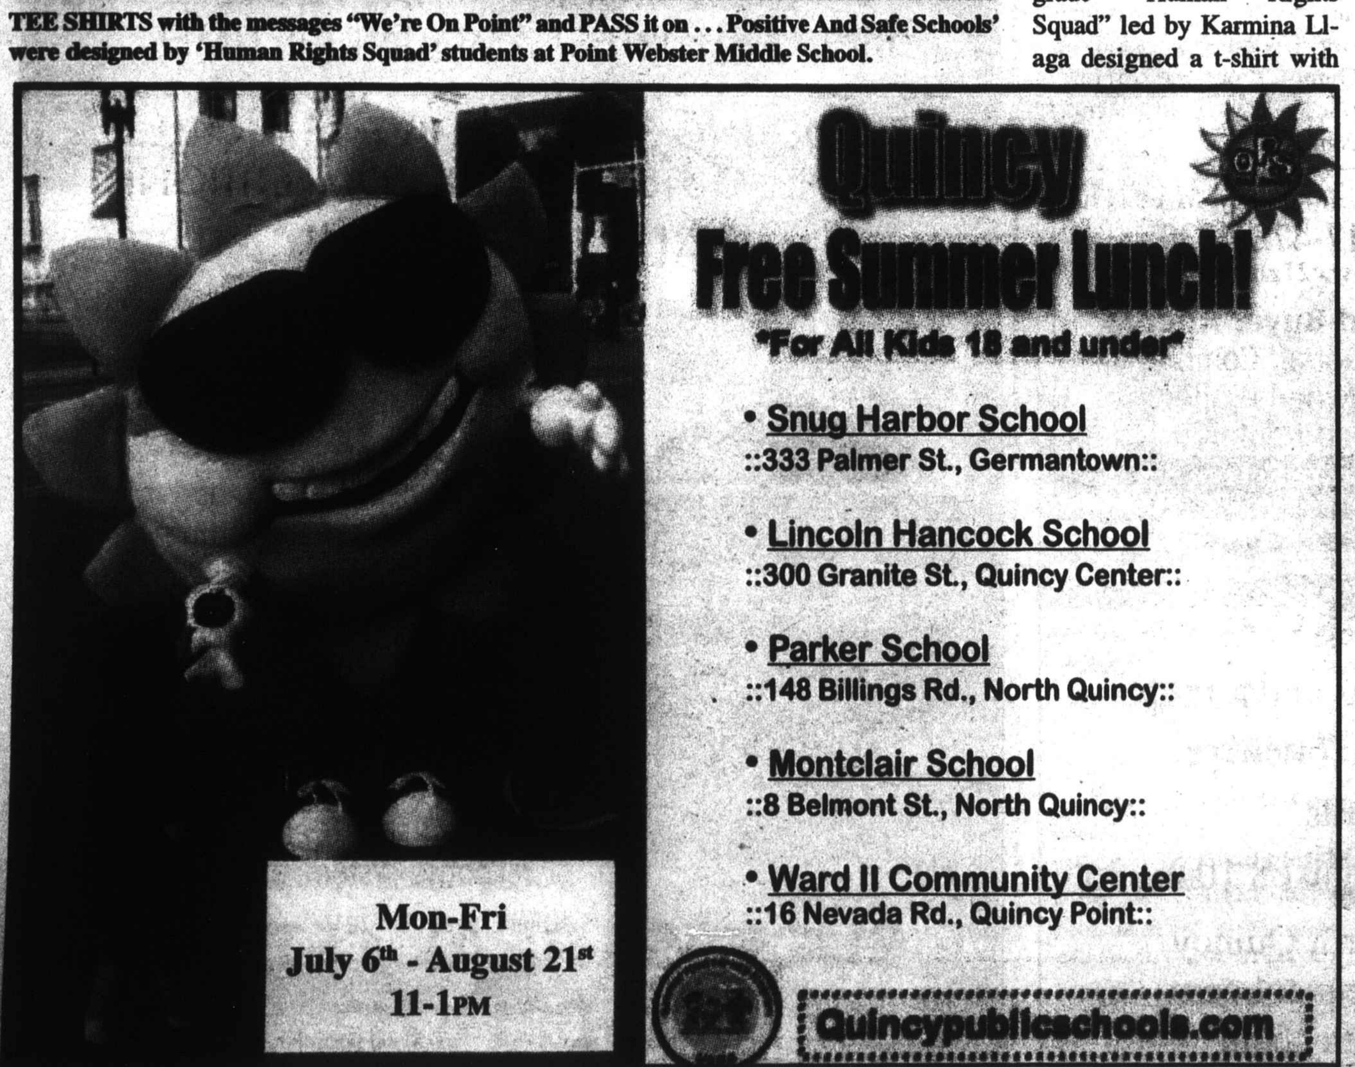
I will remember we're on Point and I'll help to PASS on…

Positive and Safe Schools!"

These students lead the pledge and welcomed "Dumbo" the elephant, AKA eighth grader Nick Murray, to help them. This was relevant to the school audience because they saw him in a "Peer Teaching Peers" presentation earlier this year, as a comic relief excluded from a "Mickey Mouse Clubhouse" scene. This time, the squad and audience embraced his big ears and individual differences making Dumbo feel as though he belonged; connecting with the school.

Dumbo was brought back because Jill Leach, MIAA facilitator posed a question to the "Human Rights Squad" during the second part of the leadership training on April 13, 2015, "Does anyone know why we are given one mouth and two ears? Perhaps we are given two ears because listening is the most important part of communication…speaking is secondary." (Dumbo, if the size of your ears is any indication of your listening skills, you are spot on)!

For the above reasons, I am proud to say PWMS students have listened well, have a strong moral compass, are engaged to make positive change and their pledge is on Point! It is my pleasure and honor to help them PASS it on…Positive and Safe Schools!



Quincy
Free Summer Lunch!
"For All Kids 18 and under"

- Snug Harbor School
::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincypublicschools.com

2 On Saint Michael's Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List at Saint Michael's College in Colchester, VT.

They are:

Jennifer N. McMahon, a May graduate psychology major and daughter of Stephen and Theresa McMahon of Quincy. McMahon is a graduate of Archbishop Williams High School.

Eliza G. McDonald, a junior Biology major and daughter of Nancy and Timothy McDonald of Quincy. McDonald is a graduate of Fontbonne Academy.

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions June 22 - June 26

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Deborah M. McCormick	Keith T. McCarthy	$242,500.00	230 Willard Street Unit 704
John T. & Cindi B. Farrell	Qing H. Tang	$345,000.00	11 Safford Street
Salvucci-Delongo Family Trust	Kensley M. Lin & Christy K. Pat	$350,000.00	3-5 Caledonia Avenue
Patrick J. & Mary B. O'Donoghue	Erin R. Connelly	$449,900.00	15 Cummings Avenue
Derek Lam & Jasmine P. Szeto	Shimshon Czertok & Susan Kartiko	$439,000.00	10 Seaport Drive Unit 2304
Lisa M. Nolan & Christopher J. Sullivan	Nairu Chen & Fengzhen Zeng	$588,000.00	33 Bass Street
Nepomuceno B.& Eduviges L. Amo	Ai Y. Liang	$265,000.00	11 Baxter Avenue
Anthony R. & Meghan R. Musante	Danielle Charrier	$273,000.00	203 Rhoda Street
Mark E. & Laurie J. Bourgeois	Sarah E. Paez	$446,500.00	251 Rock Island Road
Corinne M. & Naomi J. Ruff & Sarah J. Merrill	Mereme Mullahi	$286,000.00	26 Lawrence Street
Jeanne M. Letourneau	Albert Chu	$245,500.00	77 Adams Street Unit 612
Keith A. & Elisabeth A. Campo	Chien W. Yu & Jing Sun	$584,500.00	22 Squanto Road
Sammie Lu	Alex Yip & Anita Yip	$760,000.00	184-186 Fayette Street
Edward F. & Ann M. Percy	Cleveland Properties LLC	$550,000.00	25 Foster Street
Francis Avenue Realty Trust II	Ivan V. & Detelina I. Makrov	$390,000.00	27 Francis Avenue
Jeffrey A. & Julianne M. Saunders	Rishi & Reena Patel	$470,000.00	25 Hobomack Road
Peter Lee & Tanya Baryski	Ying T. & Sunny P. Loo & Can S.P. Au	$360,000.00	25 West Howard Street
Huang S Lin & Chang H. Zeng	Chang H. Zeng & Min C. Zhou	$110,800.00	4 Phillips Street
Nga T. Nguyen	Billy & Linda P. Brown	$275,000.00	414 Sea Street
Constance F. Hodgkins	Jonathan Nagel	$290,000.00	77 Adams Street Unit 109
Richard J. Pabich	Enver & Fatma Llagami	$210,000.00	140 Quincy Avenue Unit 24
Kelly Irrevocable Trust	Athenry Realty Trust	$300,000.00	71 Chickatabot Road
Tonka & Luka Pepdjonovic	Andrew L. & Meghan Martin	$483,000.00	65 Webster Street
153 Centre Street Realty Trustnumber 2	Daniel Armenio & Madori Herlihy	$375,000.00	153 Centre Street
Brendan L. & Tracey L. Donahue	Norman & Deborah Femling	$287,500.00	246 South Street
Kathleen A. Schoeffler	Christine & Kevin M. Egan	$405,000.00	61 Village Drive Unit 6-7
Fitzgerald Family Irrevocable Home Trust	Azeddine Haiti	$340,000.00	37 Cherry Street
Daniel J. & Kristin J. Stock	Feng P. Chen & Yufeng Wang	$398,000.00	314 Elmwood Avenue
Steven J. Goldman & Majula Nair	Beth Materna	$405,000.00	15 Standish Road
Steven Theroux & Sharon Skelly-Theroux	Chak Sing & Sui Ching Lau	$329,000.00	2001 Marine Drice Unit 314w
Nordau Ventures LLC	Michael Habermann & Diane C. Warne Anderson	$545,000.00	57 Huckins Avenue
Shutong Lu	Robert J. Tramonte	$365,000.00	100 Marina Drive Unit 422
Harry Hatzieletheriadis	Michael F. & Gail M. Walsh	$500,000.00	1001 Marina Drive Unit 806E
Kevin G. & Kara L. Mason	Mating Huang & Mei Feng Chen & Fen Shi Huang	$493,000.00	40 Albertina Street
Roman Catholic Archbishop Of Boston	Bellevue Road Associates LLC	$600,000.00	101-105 Bellevue Road
Serena L. Santoro & Chris J. & Eleanor B. Nelson	Colleen B. Healy	$297,000.00	115 Gridley Street

Ask Barbara Graceffa: Secretary Of The Interior

In magazines and on decorating shows, I'm noticing colored woodwork and would like to try it in my home. What should I consider before choosing a paint color to replace my white window trim? Anne Marie

I absolutely love this look, so thanks for your question.

As I have mentioned before, your eye quickly notices where colors stop and start. If you have a lot of doors and windows in a (small) room, you might paint the woodwork (and doors) the same color as the walls. In fact, if you have crown molding along the ceiling, paint it the wall color, too, to make the room appear a little taller.

If you want to make the window trim standout, choose a black, chocolate brown, or a bright color to complement existing fabrics and accessories. We are seeing a lot of black trim in magazines now; this color is appropriate for retro and modern schemes.

Another way to make a statement is to paint the trim and a "box" or frame of the trim color about 3-5" around the entire window. This look goes well with no window treatments in contemporary décor – almost like the artwork in the room.

In a traditional home, choose a trim color that is the same or lighter than your window treatments. Or, if your walls are painted, choose a lighter color on the same paper paint strip you get at the home improvement store. With wall paper, choose the least or second least dominant color in the pattern.

Finally, trim is typically the same paint or stain throughout the entire home, so think carefully about going against the norm. I would recommend you paint the window trim only and let the white baseboards, chair rails, and crown molding stay white from room to room. Otherwise, if you want to do this in any room that has a door that closes, go for it and break the continuity rule.

Do you have a decorating problem needing a professional solution? Send your questions to Secretary of the Interior at barbara@sec-interior.com.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

FLAVIN & FLAVIN REALTY
Complete Real Estate Service Since 1925
Free Opinion of Value
~
Committed to Property Ownership
~
Offering Seller & Buyer Representation
a century of connecting people with homes
Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St. Quincy Center
Visit: www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

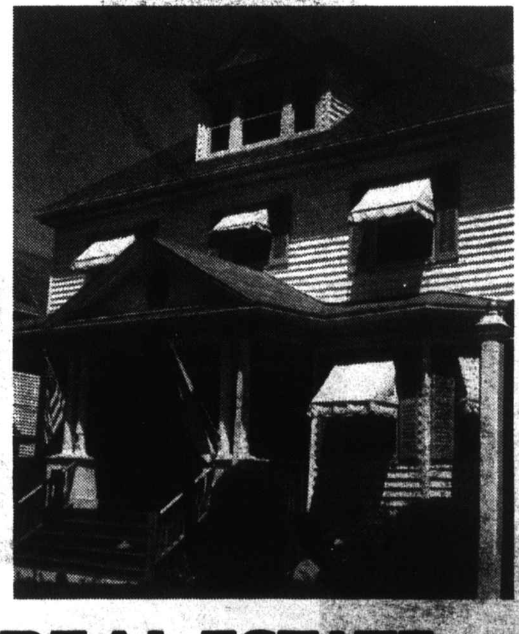
SUCCESS REAL ESTATE IS PROUD TO BE YOUR #1 REAL ESTATE OFFICE IN 2015

PROUDLY SELLING QUINCY ONE YARD AT A TIME.....
98% LIST PRICE TO SALE PRICE

OUR MOTTO IS:
HIGHEST POSSIBLE PRICE,
WITH THE MOST QUALIFIED BUYER,
IN THE SHORTEST AMOUNT OF TIME!

CONSIDERING SELLING? GIVE US A CALL.....
WE WILL OUTSHINE OUR COMPETITION!
CALL US TODAY!

SUCCESS! REAL ESTATE

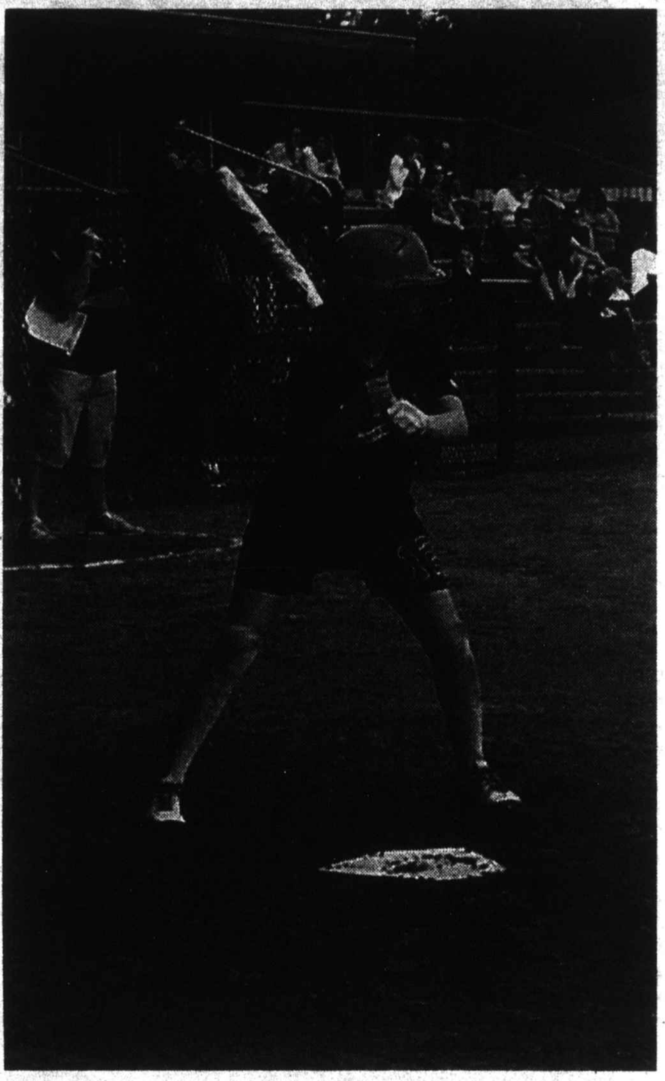


SUCCESS REAL ESTATE
617-901-6712

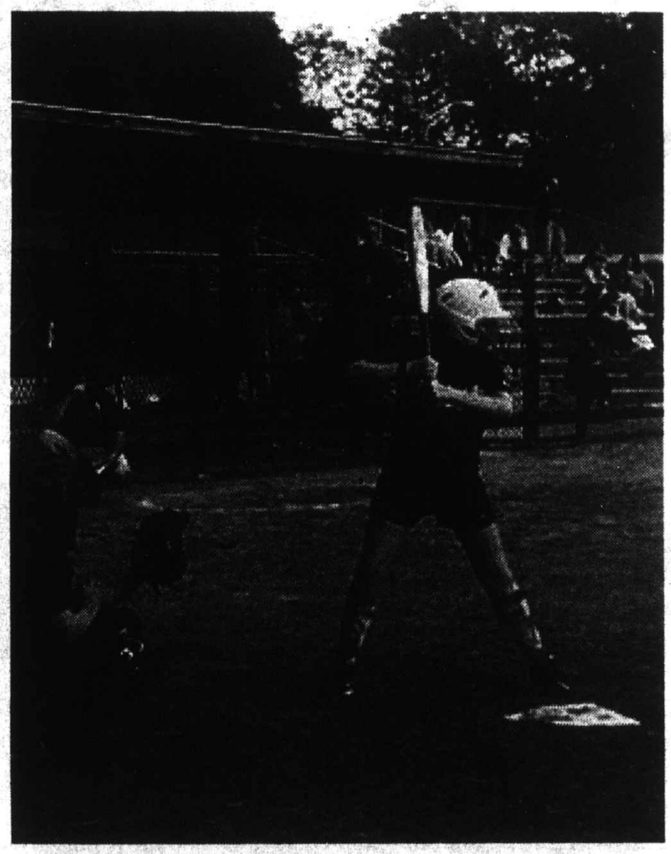
Center Stage Studios Youth Softball U12 Champions

CENTER STAGE STUDIOS recently won the Quincy Youth Softball U12 crown defeating Team State Senator Keenan, 12-5. The winning team with their trophies (front row from left): Reese Winter, Ashley Caldwell, Kate Fox and Bridget Gardiner. Second row (from left): Assistant Coach Jesse Winter, Haley O'Connor, Katherine Scanlan, Trinity Joyce, Abby Drinkwater, Rachel McKenna, Jordan Dellabarba and Ciara O'Connor. Back row Coach Steve Fox and Assistant Coach Diane O'Connor.

Photos Courtesy Valerie Solimini

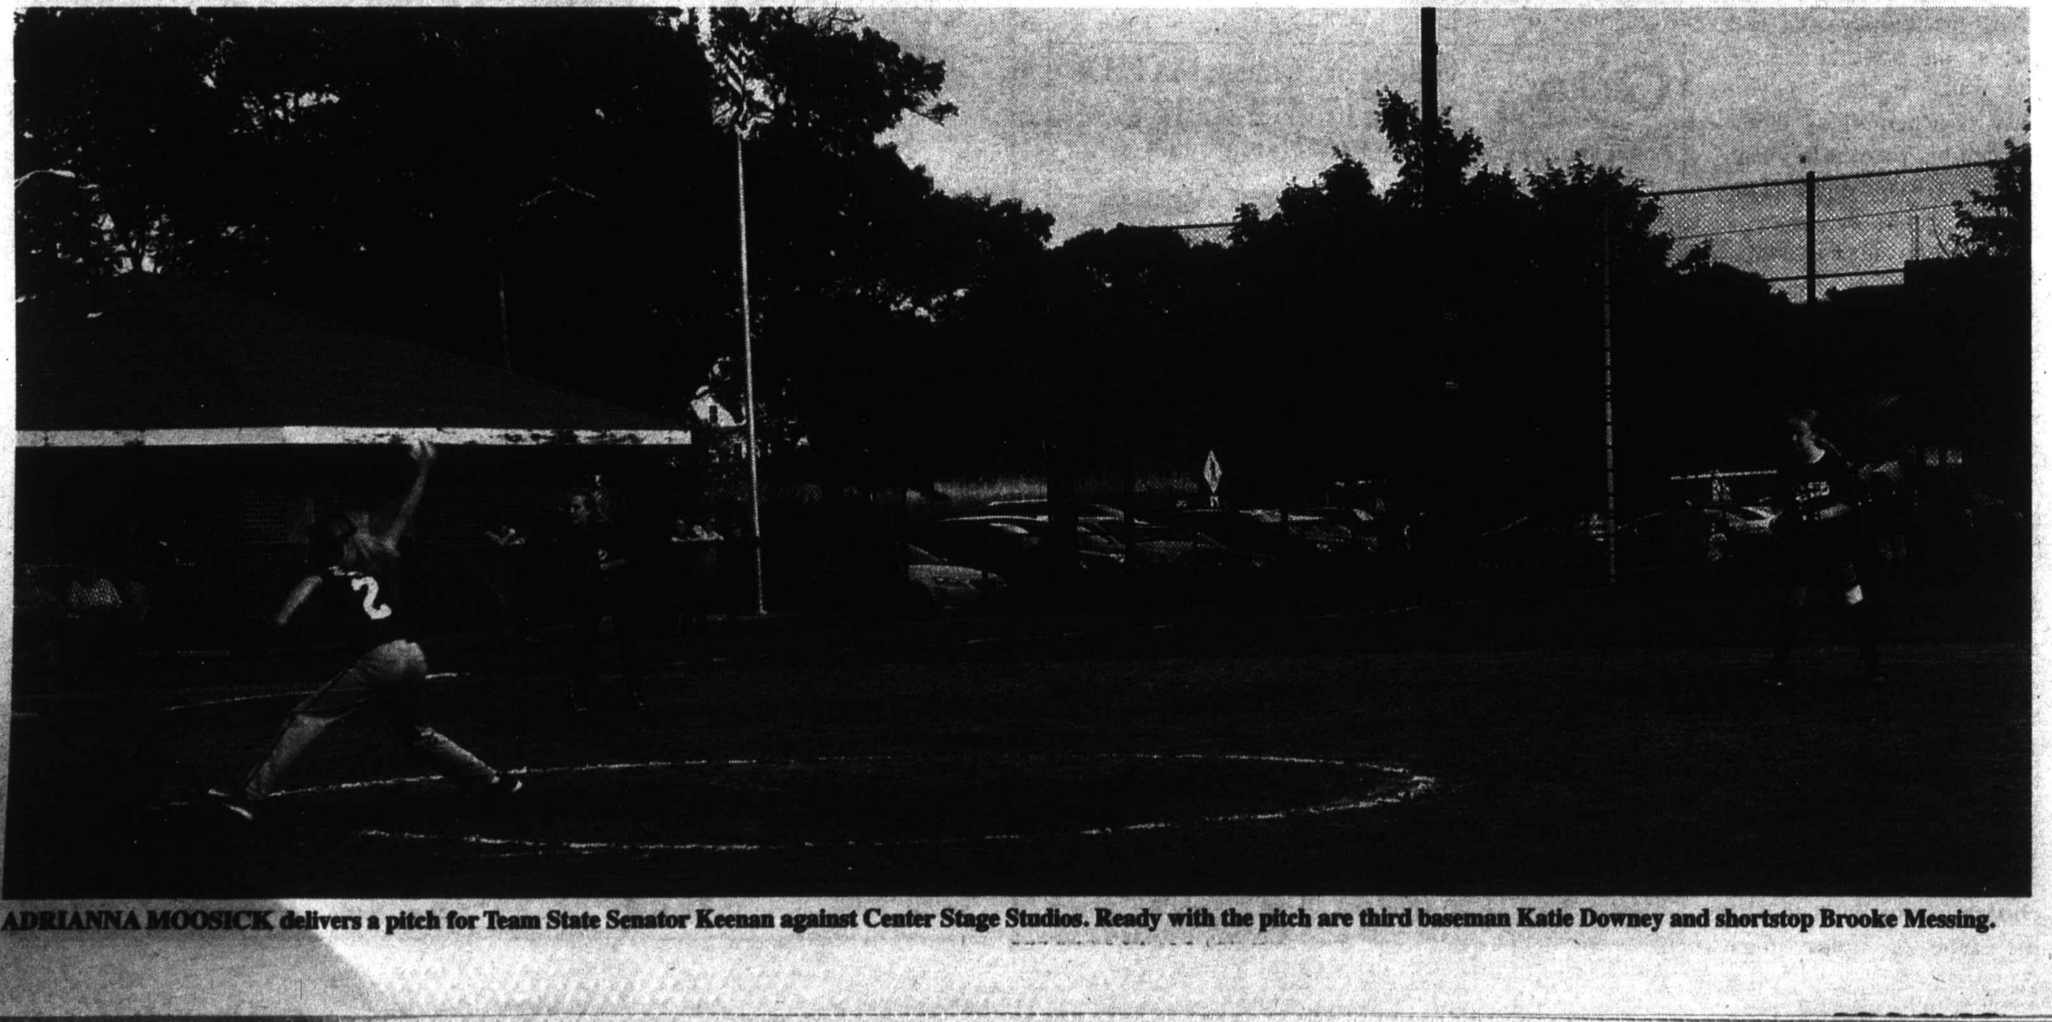


HALEY O'CONNOR (above) and Jordan Dellabarba dig in at the plate for Center Stage Studios in the Quincy Youth Softball U12 championship game held recently at Mitchell/McCoy Field.



INNING
Quincy Youth Softball

TEAM STATE SENATOR KEENAN were runners-up in the Quincy Youth Softball U12 division this year, bowing to Center Stage Studios in the championship game. Front row (from left): Julia Collins, Adriana Moosick, Leila Akhouzine and Brooke Messing. Second row: Julianna Beane, Orla O'Driscoll, Caroline Jaehnig, Katie Downey, Emma Glavin, Colleen Moran. Back row: Coach Tim Messing and Assistant Coaches Bob Glavin, Mark Moosick and Mike Moran.



ADRIANNA MOOSICK delivers a pitch for Team State Senator Keenan against Center Stage Studios. Ready with the pitch are third baseman Katie Downey and shortstop Brooke Messing.

Little Things Adding Up To Big Wins For Morrisette

By BILL GRIFFIN

LEGION BASEBALL

There are the big things that jump out of the scorebook, and there are the little things that are sometimes silently tucked away and forgotten which make for a good baseball team.

The power, the thunder, and the speed are easy to find. Catcher Andrew Jaehnig continues to march through Zone 6 legion baseball the way Sherman marched through Georgia. Tyler Beach plays a four-star shortstop and gets on base with rare consistency. Pat Keohane is a strong bat in the cleanup spot and a golden glove in center field.

However, it was the little things, the finer points of the game which stood out against Hyde Park Friday night. Morrisette perfectly executed a pickoff for a double play to escape a bases-loaded mess in the fifth, and Josh Helfrich gave a weary pitching staff two innings of relief in the middle of a killer stretch of games to lift Post 294 to a 7-3 win in the second game of a doubleheader at Adams Field.

The junior team edged Canton, 9-8 in the opener to go to 7-0 on the season. The senior team was 8-0-1 and simple math reveals that the two were a combined 15-0-1 at the end of last week.

"I thought we played great," said coach Steve Maze. "We hit and scored early. The defense was good for the entire game. Joe Cochrane gave us a good start and Helfrich was excellent in relief."

In other action last week, Beach, Keohane and Eddie Riley each had hits in an 8-1 win over Weymouth. Greg Paulo pitched five innings of shutout ball to get the win. Jaehnig had a pair of RBI.

Morrisette and Holbrook played to a 3-3 tie which was called because of darkness after nine innings. Beach and Shepherd each had two hits.

Let's begin the Hyde Park game in the fifth inning. After Morrisette had jumped to a 7-0 lead after two, Hyde Park closed to within 7-3 and had the bases loaded and nobody out. Helfrich entered in relief. Pay close attention. He picked the runner off second and Morrisette proceeded to execute your basic 1-6-5-6-2-5 double play which ended up with two outs and no runs scored.

Cont'd On Page 22

Morrisette Junior Legion Rolls To 7-0 Start

By BILL GRIFFIN

They are a young team. They have 11 first-year players, but early in their legion careers, they have become part of a fine baseball story.

Morrisette Junior Legion used its power and speed to build an eight-run lead and then showed impressive poise when the lead shrank and the score grew close. Griffin Lynch made a big-time scoop at first with the tying run at third, and Owen Lynch pitched an inning of shut-down relief to lead the junior team to a 9-8 win over Canton in a Zone 6 match Friday night at Adams Field.

It kept Morrisette rolling with a 7-0 record. Combined with the 8-0-1 start of the senior team, Morrisette teams were 15-0-1 at the end of last week. If you want to watch good baseball, come to Adams Field.

"We're very young, so it's been a great start for us," said coach Gerry Shepherd. "We've been able to win as we've learned how to play on this level. Tonight, I think we learned some things about playing with a big lead. We've pitched well and the top of our order has been great."

Young teams can have problems with close games when experience is tested. So far, this has not been true of Morrisette. Last week, Kyle Brennan and Pat Keohane each had three hits in a 9-7 win over Foxboro. Griffin Lynch pitched 6 1/3 inning of 11-strikeout, two-walk baseball, and Curtis Frazier had a pair of hits in a 3-2 decision over Hudson.

That is three tight wins in one week for a young club that, in some cases, has been playing against players two and three years older. At this level, that is quite a gap. This first-year group has been successful at every level. They were Babe Ruth Tournament champs as 14-year-olds, and they went to the regionals in New Jersey with the 15-year-old team last summer. Now it is time for legion.

"First of all, we're happy that so many have stayed with the program," said Shepherd. "From the first day of tryouts, this group has excelled. We play against

Cont'd On Page 22

Jim Rendle Presented Lifetime Achievement Award

Mass. Volleyball Coaches' Hall Of Fame Honor

Congratulations
Class of 2014
MGVCA
Hall of Fame Ind
ees

JIM RENDLE, retired Quincy athletic director, was recentl presented a Lifetime Achievement Award by the Massachusett Volleyball Coaches Hall of Fame. The award is the MGVCA' highest honor. With Rendle is his daugthter, Holly Rendle.

Photo Courtesy Holly Rendl

The Massachusetts Volleyball Coaches' Hall of Fame recently awarded retired Quincy athletic director, Jim Rendle, with a Lifetime Achievement Award – its highest honor.

In a career spanning the past three decades, Rendle has coached both girls and boys, in various settings including scholastic, club, and camps. Association president, Robin Lee, said, "There are few—if any—names in Massachusetts more closely associated with excellence in volleyball than Jim Rendle."

In his 21 years coaching the girls at North Quincy High School, Rendle's teams made 21 consecutive tournament appearances, and garnered a record six MIAA Division 1 State Championships. He was selected Boston Globe Division 1 Coach of the Year twice, in 1991 and 2002, and was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 2014.

Rendle also spent over a decade at the helm of the Quincy-based Mass Patriots Volleyball Club, coaching elite players from across New England. His teams attended the Junior Olympic nationals many times, and played other elite clubs in tournaments all over the nation, including in California, Texas, Minnesota, Florida, and many other states.

Volleyball developed into a family affair for Rendle. He coached—and won many of his state championships—with his children on his teams. Daughter Holly went on to play four years at Colgate, while daughter Heather Rendle Patch continued her career at rival Bucknell. Son Jim played at ENC, while daughter-in-law Linda Jellison Rendle was a star at Harvard.

When asked about the highlights of his career, however, Rendle does not mention his children, state championship trophies, or other honors. Instead, he will tell you of a number which is very special to him: 83. It is the number of North Quincy girls' volleyball players who went on to become successful student-athletes at colleges all over the country – 83 players in 21 years is an unprecedented nearly four players per year! And while the schools have ranged from top-ranked Long Beach State, to the Ivy Leagues, to ENC right in our back yard, the athletes all had one thing in common. They arrived at their respective institutions wit the skills, sense of team and most importantly, wor ethic, necessary to be successful athletes, students and people.

Although retired fro Quincy Public Schools, Rendle continues his love affai with the sport of volleyball He coaches the women' team at ENC and is an official for both girls' and boys high school seasons.

This summer you will fin him back at North Quinc High School overseeing hi long-running I Dig It camp where he is training the nex generation of volleyball athletes...including his ver own granddaughters.

Golf, Hoop Tournaments To Honor 3 Quincy Residents

A weekend full of fun and competition is planned later this month to celebrate the lives of three Quincy residents.

Dennis Thomson, John O'Connell and Charlie Vidoli were standout athletes in the class of 2002 at North Quincy High who tragically had their lives cut short in the past 11 years. Their friends and families have established a golf tournament and a basketball tournament in memory of these great friends.

On Friday, July 10, the "Charlie Okie Open" will take place at Presidents Golf Course. There are no openings in the tournament, but all are welcome to attend a fundraiser at the Water Club following the tournament from 4-9 p.m. There's a suggested $20 donation at the door for non-golfers and there will be food and raffle prizes available.

The 10th annual O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament tips off on Saturday, July 11 at the Fenno Street courts. A number of local college basketball players, as well as many current and former high school players from Quincy, will participate in the tournament, which features a 16-team men's bracket and a four-team women's bracket. Games begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 11 and Sunday, July 12 and will run throughout both days.

The Thomson, O'Connell and Vidoli families have set up memorial scholarships in their sons' names to benefit North Quincy graduates, and the tournaments serve to raise funds for these scholarships.

These events have been successful in the past thanks to the generous donations of local businesses and Quincy residents. Anyone interested in making a donation can write a check to the John "Okie" O'Connell Fund and send it to Dan Duggan, 61 Bedford St., Quincy 02169.

Quincy Hosting Babe Ruth State Tournament July 17-19

Quincy will host the south sectional of the Babe Ruth State Tournament for 14-year old teams at Adams Field July 17-19.

Quincy will have a team in the tournament.

On July 20, the south and north sectional champions will meet.

On July 21, the state championship games in the 13, 14, and 15 year-old age groups will all be played at Adams Field.

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

PROBLEM PILLS

Chiropractors treat back pain by realigning misplaced vertebral joints and releasing muscle tension. While pain killers such as acetaminophen remain a first-line treatment for lower back pain among medical doctors, they may not be as effective as users assume. In fact, recent examination of the results of 13 research trials found that the drug did nothing to improve sufferers' pain levels, recovery time, or quality of life. The study concluded that the pain medication was no more effective than a placebo. Separate research has found acetaminophen to be associated with an increasing incidence of mortality and increased risk of cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, and kidney disease. These findings make an even better case for drugless chiropractic treatment for lower back pain.

Among people seeking back pain relief alternatives, most choose chiropractic treatment. Find out how chiropractic care can enhance your well-being and help you enjoy life to the fullest. Call FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC at 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We can provide you with a care program designed for your age, condition, and lifestyle. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. If your problem is a chiropractic condition we offer you exceptional service.

P.S. While medications treat the symptom of lower back pain, chiropractic treatment focuses on the causes.

www.freedmanchiro.com

High School Boys Tennis Teams Wrap Up Season

NORTH QUINCY High School boys tennis team recently wrapped up its season. Front row from left: Le Chen, Wilson Tang, Bu Cao and Daniel Wong. Back row: Coach Matt Ramponi, Dan Chen, Brigham McGhee, Tin Tran, Yeyang Wang and Assistant Coach Greg Lannon.

Quincy Sun Photos/Larry Carchedi

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL boys tennis team recently concluded its season. Front row from left: Lenny Strauss and Wei He. Back row: Vincent Tran, Yu Yang Zheng, Jason Truong, Johnathon Maung, Genderson Lai, Coach Elliott Columb, Martin Aliberti and Zi Mo.

Morrisette Junior Legion Rolls To 7-0 Start

Cont'd From Page 21

teams that have players who are 16 and 17. They have a lot of talent, they learn quickly and they've shown poise. It gives us a bright future."

The game against Canton was decided in the sixth and seventh innings. Canton scored five in the sixth to close within 9-8 with two out and a runner at third. Brian Drakos bounced a grounder to third. The throw to first came in smoking and low. It skidded off the dirt a good foot in front of Griffin Lynch, but he made a clean scoop to preserve the lead.

Owen Lynch then threw a scoreless seventh to earn a save and put away the victory.

"That was a huge play from Griffin. He's a first-year player and if doesn't make it, the tying run scores," said Shepherd. "We wanted to save Owen for the beginning of this week, but we needed him. He's a two-year veteran and I know he is going to throw strikes."

The strength of the offense has been the top four hitters in the lineup: Keohane, Shawn Kelley, Brennan and Frazier. Against Canton, they combined for six hits, six runs scored, five RBI, a sacrifice fly, a walk and a stolen base. They can all run and they can all drive the ball.

"They've been the key to the offense for us. They probably have 90 percent of our RBI," said Shepherd. "They hit for average and power, and they know how to run the bases. The rest of the lineup has done its part. They chip in with important hits, and they let us turn over the order to the top four with runners on base."

Kelley had a double and a triple, two runs scored, an RBI and played an excellent center field against Canton. Keohane had a double, single, two RBI, a run scored and a stolen base. Brennan had two hits, a sacrifice fly and drove home two runs. Frazier had a walk and scored twice.

Ryan Cox and Matt Fox each had a single, an RBI and a run scored. Martin MacCormack and Frankie Whalburg each had an RBI, and Max Storch scored a run. Morrisette scored six in the first, two in the second, and one in the third for a 9-1 lead which held up against Canton's late rally.

"This game was pretty typical of the the way we've been playing. We've been averaging around nine runs per game. The top four have been very good, and we've had balance throughout the lineup," said Shepherd.

Cox, who closed out the Hudson win with two big outs in the seventh, hurled five quality innings to earn the win. He scattered five hits, gave just one earned run, walked none (coaches love to see that number) and struck out two. He had a good fastball, excellent control, pitched to contact and let his defense help him with solid plays through five innings.

"I think Ryan has pitched in four of our seven games. We've used him a lot in relief. Tonight we needed a good start from him and he gave it to us," said. Shepherd.

There were a number of good defensive plays. MacCormack was smooth and sure, showing range and soft hands on two hard chances at short. Owen Lynch made a nice grab of a sinking liner at third in the fifth. Frazier showed a strong, accurate arm throwing out a base stealer in the first.

"That was the first game Curtis caught and he played well," said Shepherd.

Quincy hosts Foxboro Tuesday July 7 at 5:15 p.m.

Little Things Adding Up To Big Wins For Morrisette

Cont'd From Page 21

It was a play that had the potential for all types of disaster, but Morrisette was flawless. Beach ran the baserunner to Troy Shepherd at third. Shepherd did just what he should and ran him back to second. He flipped to Beach. When the runner at third broke for home Beach fired a strike to Jaehnig for the out. Jaehnig then gunned down a runner leaning off third. Two outs. Rally over. If it sounds complicated, try doing it.

"Rick Beach (assistant coach) does a great job putting on pickoffs and that was an example," said Maze. "We work on pickoffs all the time in practice. We don't just hit and take infield. We work on the finer parts of the game and it pays off."

Now for Helfrich. He pitched in all three games last week. Against Holbrook, he threw three innings of shutout, one-hit, five-strikeout relief. Maze played three games in four nights last week. He plays five games in five nights this week. He needed innings. Helfrich came back the next night, gave Morrisette two innings and quieted Hyde Park's bats. It does not show in the box score, but when Morrisette needed him, Helfrich stepped up.

"We have a busy run of games," said Maze. "I like Josh in relief because he has a good fastball, and he's our most consistent strike-thrower. You can't have a relief pitcher walking people and Josh has good control."

Cochrane threw four excellent innings to earn the win. He gave five hits, two runs and struck out three. He was at his best in the fourth when he worked out of a bases-loaded, no-out jam on two ground balls and a strikeout.

"I can't say enough about Joe Cochrane. He's given us whatever we've needed starting and in relief," said Maze.

Jaehnig continues to play in another world. He had two doubles, a single, an RBI and scored twice out of the No. 3 spot in the lineup. He saved two runs by blocking pitches in the dirt with runners at third. He hustled, backed up first, grabbed a wild throw and prevented a runner from advancing to second. Catchers don't hustle like this any more. Jaehnig does.

Oh, almost forgot. For the second time in three games, he closed out a win by pitching a scoreless seventh.

"His presence changes our whole lineup," said Maze.

Beach (five hits in three games) had a double, a walk, two RBI and a run scored from the leadoff spot. Shepherd in the No. 2 hole was on base three times with two walks and a single. Keohane protected Jaehnig at cleanup with two singles and an RBI.

Robbie Munore and Bobby Salvucci each had a hit and a run scored. Aaron Clancy had an RBI, Riley scored a run, and Joe Brady chipped in with a single.

Morrisette has made all the routine plays from the first game of the season. However, in recent games its defense has been far better than routine. Against Hyde Park, Keohane ranged deep to get a fly ball in center in the first. Salvucci in left and Munroe in right each made sliding, shoestring catches. Beach ranged far to his left to handled a tough chance at short in the the first. Beach, Riley and Brady turn off a crisp 6-4-3 double play to end the game.

"If you make all the routine plays, your confidence grows. When you need to make a more difficult play, you have the confidence to make it," said Maze.

Morrisette hosts Braintree Wednesday at 7:30 in the second part of a back-to-back showdown with the favorites in the Zone 6 pennant chase.

Women's Lacrosse League

The Boston Ski & Sports Club is offering a women's lacrosse league beginning July 8th.

The league will hold all of the games at Veterans' Memorial Stadium on Wednesday nights. Full field, 12 versus 12 games will be held starting between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Players are guaranteed a total of six games with the opportunity to make playoffs. All levels are welcomed.

Sign up as an individual player, with a group of friends, or enter a full team. For more information on how to register, visit www.bssc.com or call Alexa at 617-789-4070 x242.

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Monday, June 22, 2015, at approximately 1:55 a.m., Officers Erin M. McFarland, Patrick Folan and Bryan Donovan were dispatched to a home in the Merrymount section of Quincy for a call of breaking and entering in progress. Dispatch relayed that the suspects were two males, one wearing a white tank top and they were fleeing the area running toward Sea Street and the other in the opposite direction toward Norton Road. Officer Donovan responded to the home while the other Officers searched the area.

The female victim told the Officer that she was asleep in her bedroom on the first floor when her dog started barking. She stated that she could hear undistinguished noise outside her window. She then went to her window and looked through the blinds without turning on any lights and was able to view the two suspects illuminated by motion sensor lights outside her home. She then provided an excellent description of the suspects.

Weymouth Police sent K-9 Officer Stephen Murphy and his K-9 partner Bandit to the scene and after a brief track, located a male across the street in the rear of the home.

Officers surrounded the home and yard as Officer Murphy slowly made his way into the yard, guided by his K-9 partner. They suddenly spotted a male matching the suspect's description on the ground next to the back porch of the house. This male was handcuffed and brought out to the street area where the victim had the opportunity to identify the suspect. She looked at him and spontaneously said, "That's him." Officer Donovan asked the victim how sure she was and she said she was, "100% sure." The suspect was placed under arrest and transported to the station for booking.

LT. DAN MINTON

Officer Kent Yee was working inside the station and took custody of the suspect. Officer Yee soon after relayed to units on scene that the suspect had been at the Cathay Pacific in North Quincy at approximately 12:45 a.m. and was with another male. Officer Yee was able to identify the vehicle the suspect left in as a black Toyota Corolla, and this was confirmed when the Officer found the keys to the car in the suspect's pocket.

Sergeant Tobin located the vehicle in front of a nearby home. The vehicle was registered to a female with a Brockton address and this was the same address the suspect used while being booked. The vehicle was towed to the Police station for BCI to process for additional evidence.

Officer McFarland walked around the victim's home and found damage to the screens, which appeared to be sliced open by a sharp edge. It also appeared as if the screen had been ripped open so someone could reach into the home. The window was open. A second screen looked like it had been ripped open from the corner. BCI will follow up by processing the vehicle and address for fingerprints. A security camera video from the Cathay will be reviewed in hopes of identifying the second suspect.

The suspect, a 32-year-old Brockton resident, was charged with "Burglary, Possession of Burglarious Tools and Defacement of Property." There was also three active warrants out of Framingham Distract Court on the suspect. Soon after, Sergeant Tobin notified communications that he had a car stopped at Southern Artery and Russell Park that came from the direction of the housebreak. The victim was brought to the vehicle stop but she immediately said that he was definitely not the suspect that she saw at her window and that she was 100% sure that this male was not involved. The driver was sent on his way after the Sergeant provided an explanation of his actions. Nice Work! And thanks to the Weymouth Police Department for the assist.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
June 19 – 25
ARRESTS: 20
TOTAL CALLS: 1,134
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 0

FRIDAY, JUNE 19

LARCENY, 5:54 p.m., Ruggles St. Caller reports bike was stolen from backyard sometime between 11:30 last night and 6:30 this morning.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:10 p.m., Quincy Ave. Woman hit car with her shopping cart in Kam Man parking lot, causing a scratch on the vehicle. Caller is stating she won't provide license information or exchange insurance.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:45 p.m., 73 Bicknell St. Mother came home to residence after being away for a week and found items stolen from her apartment.

LARCENY, 9:12 p.m., Martensen St. Residents across the hall had cellphone. Wanted $10 to get it back.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:40 p.m., Greenleaf St. Possible vandalism to window. No response at door. Does not appear resident is home.

SATURDAY, JUNE 20

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 3:18 p.m., Fayette St. Car. In a white t-shirt trying to push in AC to come in through window.

SUNDAY, JUNE 21

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 1:31 a.m., Wall St. Three windows broken. Only suspect info caller could give was youths from area.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:02 a.m., Billings Rd. To office. Tablets taken.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 10:18 a.m., Stewart St. Ran plate. Shows Boston ran plate. Car was found unoccupied in Mattapan schoolyard. Front heavy damage.

INDECENT EXPOSURE, 7:16 p.m., Cagney's, 214 Washington St. Caller reports a white homeless male, blond hair, tall, thin build wearing grey shorts, white t-shirt was in rear of building with his pants down urinating outside. Unknown where male went.

MONDAY, JUNE 22

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 1:55 a.m., Hobomack Rd. Two white males, both with white t-shirts, in their 20s. Weymouth dog coming for track. Positive ID on first party. One under arrest for burglary and burglarious tools. Second party is white male, t-shirt, short dark hair.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:54 a.m., American Fences, 508 Washington St.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:52 a.m., Winter St. Caller claims she was away and came home and all her sneakers are gone from her closet.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 6:20 p.m., Burgin Pkwy. People screaming and yelling. May have been fighting. Peace restored; one under arrest. Charged with assault by means of knife. 51A to be filed.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:28 p.m., 79 Coddington St. Caller's rear vehicle window broken. Y has camera pointed at area. They will call on Tuesday when it can be picked up.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:50 p.m., Brunswick St. Car up on the grass. Spoke to wife of owner, husband at. Caller given until 4 p.m. on June 24 to move car or it will be towed.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:47 p.m., 79 Coddington St. Rear passenger window smashed.

LARCENY, 9:22 p.m., Citizens Bank, 85 Quincy Ave. Caller left his ATM card in the machine. Someone took money out.

TUESDAY, JUNE 23

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:34 p.m., 2001 Marina Dr. Advised, no crime at this time.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:09 p.m., Sumner St. White male, sweatpants cut, red t-shirt, child. White pickup. Came into house while workers left for lunch and took tools and taking pics.

LARCENY, 4:00 p.m., 80 Clay St. Claims son is stealing his medications. Citation issued; complaint for larceny of a controlled substance.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:00 p.m., Main St. Apartment was broken into. Walls inside were spray-painted.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:44 p.m., Ricciuti Dr. Ball Field, 299 Ricciuti Dr. Concession stand at baseball fields broken into.

LARCENY, 10:54 p.m., Greystone St. Caller thinks she knows who took her money.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 7:40 a.m., Randlett St. Neighbor leaving for work about 45 minutes ago saw heavyset white male assault construction workers and then flee in a red sedan. She told construction workers to call the police but they did not. Simple assault. Party is unsure if they want to pursue the matter.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:38 a.m., Prime Gas, 571 Hancock St. Caller says his driver's side window was smashed within the last hour.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:40 a.m., Water St.

INDECENT EXPOSURE, 9:37 a.m., Falls Blvd. One in custody for open and gross.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:34 a.m., Warren Ave. Vehicle scratched all over. Also broke left front light.

LARCENY, 12:26 p.m., Presidential Estates, 1020 Southern Art. TV stolen from gym in clubhouse next to pool. Happened Monday night.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:24 p.m., Upton St. Drawers tossed. Unknown is anything is missing.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:16 p.m., Edwards St. Happened between noon and 5 p.m. Three black males around property, aged 18-22, one with short dreadlocks, appeared to be casing area.

LARCENY, 6:37 p.m., S. Central Ave. Wishes to report his personal checks and $400 stolen. Maybe happened in February. Checks cashed in March.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:52 p.m., Main St. Caller states a few nights ago someone cut his wife's clothesline in the backyard. He did not see anyone. Nothing else is damaged. Would like frequent checks.

THURSDAY, JUNE 25

LARCENY, 8:12 a.m., Dunkin' Donuts, 125 Hancock St. Employee theft. Six warrants. Felony straight warrant, Barnstable District Court.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: none.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Langley Circle, Parkingway, Brook Road, Nightingale Avenue, Village Drive.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Bicknell Street, Billings Road, 500 block of Washington Street, Winter Street, Sumner Street, Main Street, Ricciuti Drive, 300 block of Water Street, Edwards Street, Upton Street.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us — Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE DOGS

SEDONA: 5, female, gray & white.
ABBEY & ROMAN: 6 & 10; small.

AVAILABLE CATS

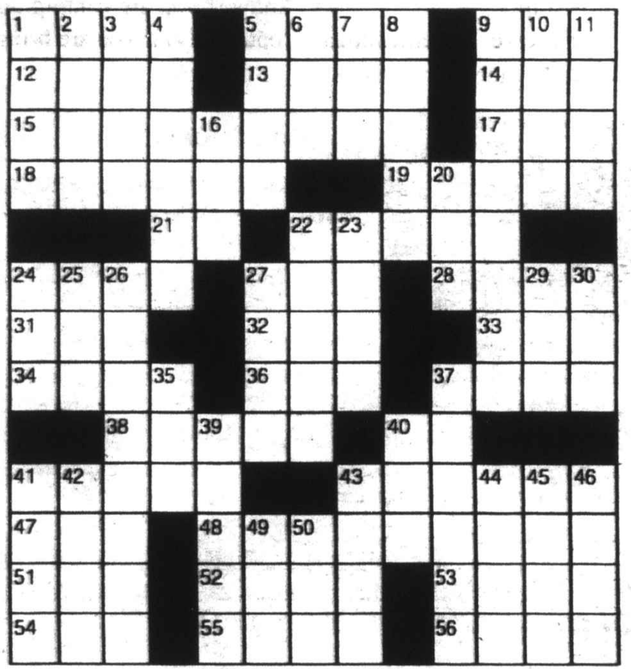
SARA: 7, female, tortie.
TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
SPARKLE: 7, female, calico.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
SHADOW: 15, female, black.
NIKKI: 4, female, tabby.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
MAWMAW: 9, female, tortie.
ABBEY BUTTERCUP: 15 & 13.
BABY: 4, male, black.
KITTY: , female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
DIVA: female, 7, experienced owner.
LUNA: 1, female, gray tabby.
SWEET PEA & YOMO: 1 & 6, females.

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Taj Mahal city
5 Brat's stocking stuffer
9 Hollywood trickery (Abbr.)
12 Upper palate
13 Formerly
14 Bygone
15 Caved in
17 See 41-Across
18 Sly
19 Big winds
21 Cellist Yo-Yo —
22 Michelangelo masterpiece
24 Wear a rut in the rug
27 Shack
28 TV's talking horse
31 Pair
32 Exist
33 Mess up
34 Partner
36 Doctrine
37 6/6/44
38 Tureen accessory
40 U.S. soldier
41 With 17-Across, "Do the Right Thing" director
43 Spanish pre-euro money
47 Scuttle
48 Cool and calm
51 Exploit
52 Met melody
53 Loosen
54 Actor Beatty
55 Tax
56 Lip

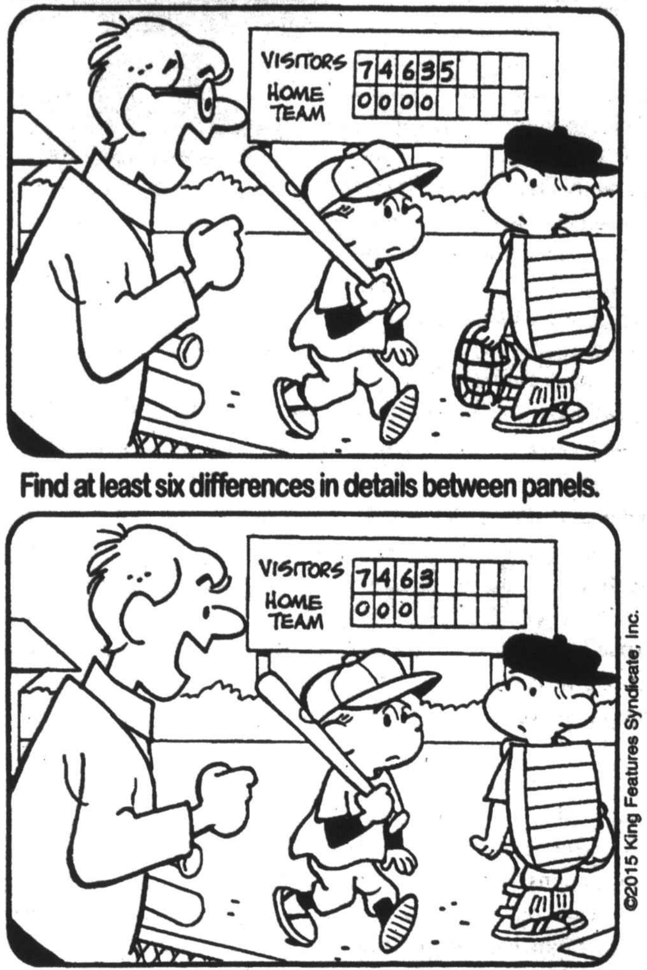
DOWN
1 Curved paths
2 Continue
3 Portrayal
4 Blazing
5 Mimic
6 Switch positions
7 Expert
8 Sill
9 Apprehended
10 Merriment
11 Mid-month date
16 Alias abbr.
20 $ dispenser
22 Prize money
23 Couple, in a gossip column
24 School org.
25 Piercing tool
26 Crashed
27 Greet
29 Historic period
30 Parched
35 Tibetan bovine
37 Olympic Frisbee?
39 Transfer
40 "Gosh!"
41 Stay away from
42 Sit for a shot
43 Stage presentation
44 Italian volcano
45 "Bill & — Excellent Adventure"
46 Fusses
49 Tramcar load
50 Tyler or Ullmann



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY
HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.

Differences: 1. Glasses are missing. 2. Arm is moved. 3. Bat is shorter. 4. Pants are shorter. 5. Scoreboard numbers are missing. 6. Mask is missing.

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. MYTHOLOGY: Who was the father of Hercules?
2. MUSIC: Who wrote the opera "Otello" in 1887?
3. ART: Who painted the anti-war work titled "Guernica"?
4. INVENTIONS: Who invented Tupperware?
5. TELEVISION: What was the name of Howdy Doody's twin brother?
6. U.S. PRESIDENTS: How old was Ronald Reagan when he was inaugurated?
7. GEOGRAPHY: Where are the Taurus Mountains?
8. HISTORY: Which famous family ruled Florence during the Renaissance?
9. LITERATURE: In which novel does the character of Long John Silver appear?
10. ANIMAL KINGDOM: Where did Manx cats originate?

Answers
1. Zeus
2. Verdi
3. Picasso
4. Earl Tupper
5. Double Doody
6. 69
7. Turkey
8. The Medici family
9. "Treasure Island"
10. Isle of Man

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A perplexing situation needs to be dealt with in order to avoid problems later on. Rely on both your own sense of what's right and the advice of someone you trust to help work it out.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Let your sharp Taurean business insight guide you when considering a "dream deal." Without all the facts, it could turn into a nightmare. Remember: Investigate before investing.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Sharing so much of your time and your gifts with others is what you do so well, and this week, don't be surprised if others want to share with you. Enjoy the experience. You've earned it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A difficult personal situation seems to defy efforts to resolve it. Perhaps you're too close to it. Take some time to reassess what went wrong, and then see where things can be set right.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Leonine pride could be piqued a bit when someone else appears to be standing in your light. Be patient and resist the urge to growl at the interloper. You'll soon be the "mane" attraction again.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A professional situation benefits from your clear assessment of the circumstances involved. On the personal side, that new relationship looks as if it will continue to grow.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) More good news about a loved one helps reassure others who could not share your more-optimistic view before. Continue to help everyone in need of your comforting presence.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Creating new friendships could turn out to be the unexpected but welcome result of reconnecting with old friends. The weekend is a good time for fun and games. Enjoy!

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The more you learn about what you plan to do, the more likely you are to consider making some changes in your plans. This is good; don't resist it. Instead, go with it.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A career change is still in your aspect, but a potential workplace change could be what you've been looking for. See what develops before making any drastic moves.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your energy levels are high this week, which should help you get all your workaday tasks done and still leave you with enough breath to handle some domestic challenges.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) An unexpected fluke could cause problems with your travel plans. If so, use the time to troll for other available options, and you might be pleasantly surprised at what turns up.

BORN THIS WEEK: You enjoy the company of lots of people, but you also can treasure the moments shared with just one special person.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● SLANG FOR HOME RUN

B S Q T N K I F W D A X V T U
Q O M J S H F A C A Y T W U P
R P G N M A L S L J H A F D P
B Z X N V L L L T R Q T O M E
K I H F O U R B A G G E R F R
D B Z P Z D Y W R B V R T E D
R Q O N N L G K I E G E G B E
H F D T O H S N O O M N M C C
A Z X W G V U W I S I O O R K
Q O N M K J I H A D B G H L E
F E D R E P P I R T D N U O R

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Blast
Bomb
Ding-dong
Dinger
Four-bagger
Goner
Gonzo
Homer
Long ball
Moonshot
Round-tripper
Slam
Tater
Upper-decker
Wallop

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

3	8	6	2	3	2	7	8	4	8	4	6	3
L	N	B	E	O	X	P	E	H	E	I	I	V
7	4	7	4	6	5	8	2	4	3	6	7	5
E	G	R	H	D	L	D	P	E	E	E	F	I
7	5	3	7	6	3	2	4	2	6	8	3	6
E	F	I	C	Y	S	R	R	E	O	S	F	U
4	3	6	3	6	5	8	6	4	8	6	3	5
V	O	R	R	T	E	A	I	A	R	M	E	I
2	7	4	7	4	6	3	5	3	8	3	2	8
S	T	L	L	U	E	V	S	E	E	R	S	F
4	2	4	8	7	5	2	8	2	5	7	2	8
E	I	S	U	I	A	V	L	E	P	F	L	F
7	2	8	5	2	8	5	8	5	2	5	8	8
E	O	I	A	V	L	R	L	T	E	Y	E	D

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

CryptoQuip

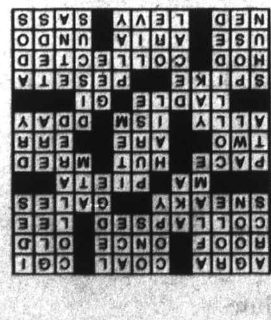
This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: L equals P

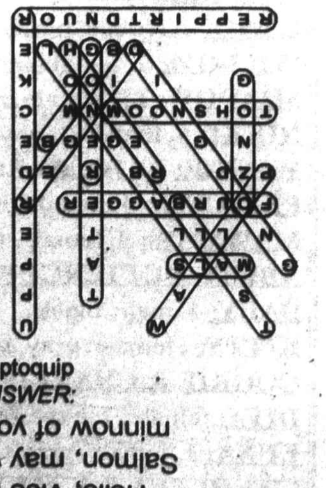
MLV EMNSJWM RHEGJE EKHS
"GJBBV, IHDJ ATHWDHAKB
EKBQVW, QKX LJ GKIJ K QHWWVL
VR XVNT MHQJ?"

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 25 mins.



Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

Two student fishes said "Hello, Vice Principal Salmon, may we have a minnow of your time?"

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning worship service at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon.

Janice Hughes and Ralph Jacobs will serve for the Diaconate. Steve Reed, music minister will play the organ and piano and direct the choir returning to sing special music.

Following the service a fellowship coffee hour hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs is held in the coffee room.

Everyone is welcome.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, July 5, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have a Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

The church office is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on Quincy Access Television at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Quincy Point Congregational

July 5 is Communion Sunday at 10 a.m. at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Peter Johnston will be preaching. Christina Mendez will be deacon of the day. Punch and light refreshments will follow worship in the Social Hall. Sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

The One Room Summer Sunday School has begun. Sign children in prior to worship in the children's classroom on the bottom floor adjacent to the elevator.

Class takes place every summer Sunday during 10 a.m. worship until Rally Day, Sept. 13th. The children will have fun learning from the 2015 Grow, Proclaim, Serve curriculum specifically formatted for one room environment.

RELIGION

Church of Scientology Distributes Drug Awareness Booklets

Members of the Church of Scientology, that has its New England headquarters temporarily located in Quincy Center, distributed drug awareness booklets Friday, June 26th, and throughout the week, around the city as part of the United Nations' International Day against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking.

On December 7, 1987, the General Assembly of the United Nations decided to observe June 26th annually as the International Day against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking as an expression of its determination to strengthen action and cooperation to achieve the goal of an international society free of drug abuse. Each year many civic organizations expand their drug awareness actions in celebration of this important event.

The church's drug awareness program, Foundation for a Drug Free World, is currently being used in schools and prisons throughout the nation and on an international basis. From its website, videos, booklets and educator kits can be ordered for free and the program can also be delivered online.

The distribution of drug awareness booklets has been occurring in several Quincy neighborhoods such as North Quincy, Quincy Center and Germantown, since the church moved its headquarters nearly a year ago. It still distributes thousands into Boston's inner city neighborhoods and does so on a regular basis.

"Drug awareness activities starting in the 1990's began telling children about drugs and that they shouldn't do them without giving them the full data as to why, which many feel caused an increase of illicit drug usage," said Church of Scientology spokesperson Kevin Hall. "Our program gives the scientific information about the harm from drugs in an easy-to-understand format while our videos have the data coming from former addicts so that it communicates well to middle school and high school aged youth."

According to Hall, the Church also has programs to remove drug residues and other toxins from the body as they feel that these substances can hinder mental and spiritual ability and advancement. He also says that Scientologists are active in anti-drug events around the world on this UN Day against Drugs and have been for several years.

OBITUARY

William J. Long

WILLIAM J. LONG

A funeral Mass for William J. Long, of Quincy, formerly of South Boston, was celebrated June 26 in Gate of Heaven Church, South Boston.

Mr. Long died June 22.

Late veteran U.S. Army, U.S. Air Force, Korea. Retired employee of the U.S. Postal Service.

Beloved husband of the late Betty Jane (Steen) Long. Devoted father of Susan Ray Richard and her husband Steven Richard of Methuen. Loving grandfather of Shana Marie Barnhill, her husband Robert Barnhill Jr., and Sara Ray Richard. Dear brother of Frederick D. Long Jr., his wife Susan, Edward X. Long, the late Theresa Long, the late Richard and Claire Long, the late Joseph and June Long, the late Robert, his wife Ann Long and the late David and Augustus Long. Also survived by many loving nieces, nephews, relatives and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by O'Brien Funeral Home, South Boston.

Interment at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Quincyclists' Farewell To Founder July 6

All Quincyclists are invited to come together Monday, July 6, between 6:30 and 9 p.m. to bid farewell to bicycling group founder, Pastor Nathan Pipho, as he takes leave to further his studies.

Members will gather at the home of Joe and Debbie Hern, 340 Beale St., for refreshments, light snacks and fellowship.

"We owe a tremendous debt to Nathan for his vision, energy and encouragement that got us started and has brought us to where we are today. So please come if you can to show him your appreciation," said Irene Lutts, president of Quincycles.

For planning purposes, email Joe at jhern@jhernlaw.com or call/text him at (617) 773-1919 to let him know if you are coming and (optionally) if you are bringing a snack.

Quincy Religion Directory
SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM,
10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm
on Saturdays, other times
by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped
parking, elevator to Upper/Lower
Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible &
Handicapped parking, side entrance
air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK
CONGREGATIONAL
CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday July 5
Morning Service of Worship is at 10 a.m.
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY
CONGREGATIONAL
CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
July 5
Sunday
Worship Service
at 10AM
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday
School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617) 479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT
CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St. • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099
Sunday Services
and Sunday School
10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening
Meetings – where testimonies of healing
are shared 7:30 p.m.
SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY
UNITED METHODIST
CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist

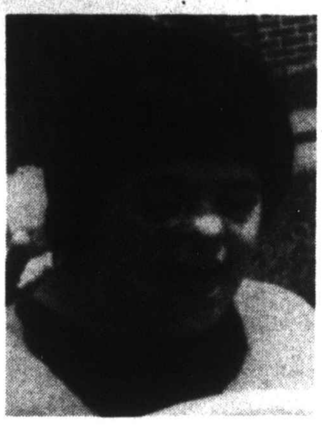
THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

PEACE

OBITUARIES

Maria P. Sandonato, 53



MARIA P. SANDONATO

A funeral Mass for Maria P. Sandonato, 53, of Quincy was celebrated Monday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Ms. Sandonato died peacefully June 23 at Tufts Medical Center surrounded by her loving family.

She was born and raised in Quincy. Ms. Sandonato was a participant in Special Olympics and was a resident of the community at Human Service Options, Inc. in Randolph.

Beloved daughter of Andrea and Iolanda C. (Gentile) Sandonato of Quincy. Devoted sister of Joanne S. Adams of Braintree and her late husband Steven F. Adams and Rita DaSilva and her husband Carlos of Hingham. Loving aunt of Nicole M. Hart and her husband Kim of Quincy, Cristina K. Adams of Weymouth, Andre DaSilva of Hingham and Edson DaSilva of Hingham. She was also survived by aunts, uncles and cousins.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Entombment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Brenda J. Parker, 83

A graveside service for Brenda Jean Parker, 83, a lifelong resident of Houghs Neck, was held Monday at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Ms. Parker died June 24 at the Pope Nursing Home in Weymouth.

Born in Boston, she was a daughter of the late Ralph and Georgianna (Sanderson) Parker. Ms. Parker was a 1949 graduate of Quincy High School, and a 1953 graduate of Boston University, where she received a bachelors degree in psychology.

She was a longtime member of Christ Church Quincy, and had worked for many years as a payroll clerk for Harvard University Press, retiring in 1995.

Ms. Parker was the sister of Carol Parker Bailey of NH. Aunt of Doug Bailey of MD and Gale Ann Bailey of NH.

The Rev. Clifford R. Brown, rector of Christ Church Quincy, officiated the service.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

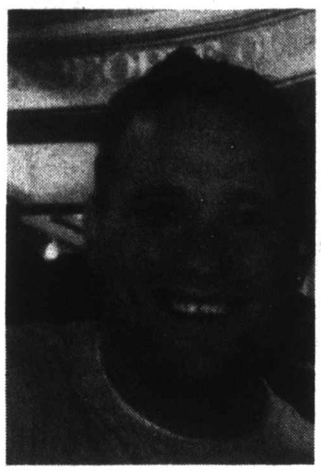
Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

[illegible]

Nathan Prenguber, 30



NATHAN PRENGUBER

A Mass of Christian Burial for Nathan Prenguber, 30, of Quincy and formerly Pittsfield, Mass., and Audubon, Pa., was celebrated June 27 in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Prenguber died suddenly June 22.

Cherished son of Maryellen Shea of Quincy and the late John Prenguber. Also survived by many aunts, uncles, cousins and friends as well as his beloved dog Logan.

He took much pride in being an MMA (mixed martial arts) fighter and physical trainer. Mr. Prenguber was a student at West Chester University. He lived life to the fullest, and excelled in all sports including snowboarding, soccer, paintball and baseball.

Funeral arrangements were made by Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Margaret P. Collins, 77

MARGARET P. COLLINS

A funeral Mass for Margaret P. "Peggy" (Santosuosso) Collins, 77, of Quincy was celebrated June 26 at St. Francis Xavier Church, South Weymouth.

Mrs. Collins died suddenly June 22 at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Born in Boston, she was raised in Dorchester and attended Boston schools. She worked as an administrative assistant for Marina Bay Management for 25 years. Mrs. Collins enjoyed spending holidays with the family and attending all of her grandchildren's sporting events.

Beloved wife of the late Michael J. Mother of Robert E. Collins and his wife Marie of Quincy, Cheryl A. DiTullio and her husband Mike of South Weymouth, Tim Collins and his wife Abbie of CA, Scott Collins of North Quincy and the late Michael J. Collins. Sister of Ernie Santosuosso of Braintree, Agnes Brown of Quincy, Theresa Macdermott of Holbrook, Alfred Santosuosso of Braintree and the late Benny Santosuosso. Grandmother of Michael and Brendan DiTullio, Chris, Allison and Ryan Collins.

Funeral arrangements were made by Alfred D. Thomas Funeral Home, Milton.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Irving Isaacson

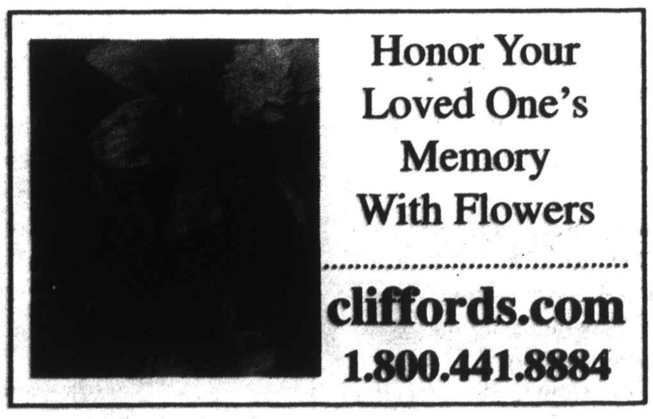
Services for Irving Isaacson of Quincy were held June 26 at Schlossberg-Solomon Memorial Chapel, Canton.

Mr. Isaacson died June 23.

Beloved husband of Esther (Lubarsky) Isaacson. Loving father of Cheryl Berman and husband Ned, Jeffrey Isaacson and wife Julienne and Wendy Isaacson. Cherished grandfather of Darren and Denise Berman, Jodi Berman, Gregory Jones-Isaacson and Aja Isaacson. Loving brother of the late David Isaacson and Selma Simons. Uncle of Ruth Kass and Irma and Norman Resnic.

Interment at Quincy Hebrew Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Memorial donations may be made to the Simon C. Fireman Community Seniors Association, Veterans Day Program, 640 N. Main St., Randolph, MA 02368.



Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

clifffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Dorothy G. Cilley, 95

DOROTHY G. CILLEY

A private interment for Dorothy G. Cilley, 95, of Kennebunk, Maine, and formerly Quincy was held at Pine Hill Cemetery in Dover, N.H.

Mrs. Cilley died peacefully June 19 at Gosnell Memorial Hospice House in Scarborough, Maine.

She was born in Quincy, graduated from Quincy High School and attended Catherine Gibbs Secretarial School in Boston. Mrs. Cilley worked at the Quincy Shipyard and Jason T. Chirueg Advertising Company where she met her future husband, Charles D. Cilley. They married just before he went off to Camp Polk in Louisiana on his way to Germany in World War II. They had four children.

Mrs. Cilley loved to cook for family and their friends. She raised her family in Weymouth and was active in the First Congregational Church as a member of the Ladies Benevolent Society and book club. She helped with rummage sales, church suppers and Christmas fairs, church world services and Father Bill's. She was a charter member of the Abigail Adams Society.

She loved to read and listen to the radio, in particular WBZ, Jerry Williams and Paul Benzaquin to name a few. She was a great conversationalist. Mrs. Cilley was at her best as a mother with a house full of kids and puppies in the kitchen. She also resided in Dover, N.H., Wells, Maine, and, most recently, with the many good people at the Kennebunk Atria. Her family is grateful for her friendship with Sara. Age was only a number to Mrs. Cilley. She was passionate about life and revered her many memories.

She was predeceased by her husband, Charles D. Cilley, daughter, Andrea R. Cilley, and son, Charles D. Cilley, Jr. She leaves son, David and wife Patricia of ME; son, Timothy and wife Lucila of ME; and five grandchildren.

Arrangements were made by Bibber Memorial Chapel, Kennebunk, Maine.

Memorial donations may be made to Gosnell Memorial Hospice House, c/o Hospice of Southern Maine, 180 U.S. Route One, Suite One, Scarborough, ME 04074.

James P. Dillon, 86

JAMES P. DILLON

A Mass of Christian Burial for James P. Dillon, 86 of Quincy, a retired professor of philosophy at Stonehill College, will be celebrated tomorrow (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. in St. Agatha Church, Milton.

Dr. Dillon died at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital Milton on June 27.

Born in Boston and raised in Dorchester, he was a graduate of Boston Latin School and Boston College where he received his undergraduate degree, law degree and PhD in philosophy. Dr. Dillon was a professor of Philosophy at Stonehill College for more than 40 years. He was an avid reader and sports fan.

Beloved husband of the late Margaret C. (Evans) Dillon. Loving father of Maryann Pitts and her husband Richard of Quincy, James P. Dillon Jr. and his wife Maureen of Sandwich, Theresa Dillon Woods and her husband Edward of North Easton and the late Thomas P. Dillon. Grandfather of Matthew Pitts and his wife Miranda, Brendan Pitts and his wife Brenna, Patrick Pitts, James Patrick Dillon III, Robert Dillon, Caroline Dillon, Brenna Woods and Maggie Woods. Great-grandfather of Miles and Annie Pitts. Brother of the late Matthew Dillon, Mary Mulvey and Kay Dyer. Survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Wednesday) in Dolan Funeral Home, East Milton Square.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Rock Haiti Foundation, c/o St. Agatha Parish, 432 Adams St., Milton, MA 02186.

Margaret M. Rector, 84

A funeral Mass for Margaret M. "Peggy" (Welch) Rector, 84 of Quincy, formerly of South Boston and Dorchester, was celebrated Monday in St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Rector died June 23.

She worked as a waitress for more than 50 years in several different restaurants including the Harvard Club. After she retired she became a lunch mother at Lincoln-Hancock School. She was an avid Red Sox fan and enjoyed playing bingo and bowling. Her main passion was spending time with her family and those she loved. She will be sadly missed.

MARGARET M. RECTOR

Predeceased by her husband of 52 years, Jack R. Rector. Beloved mother of Robert Rector and his wife Marie of Braintree, Gregory Rector of Quincy and Master Sgt. Sharon Rector, USAF retired of VA. Devoted grandmother of Nicole Rector of Germany and Courtney Rector of VA. Loving sister of Catherine Connolly and her husband Michael of Randolph and the late Bridget Brown, Barbara Regan, Mary, Joseph, Alexander and James Welch. Sister-in-law of Beverly Welch of Quincy. Caring friend to the entire Perfetti Family. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

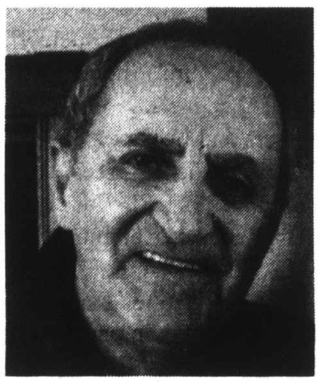
Memorial donations may be made to the Jimmy Fund c/o Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, PO Box 849168, Boston, MA 02284-9168.

William S. Cullen, 75

A funeral service for William S. Cullen, 75, of Quincy will be held today (Wednesday) at 11 a.m. in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Cullen died June 25 at Massachusetts General Hospital after a brief illness.

Beloved husband of 51 years of Leona (Engren). Caring son of the late Joseph E. Cullen and Elizabeth (West) Cullen. Loving father to William S. Cullen Jr. and his wife Lee of Quincy, Cheryl Breen and her husband Michael of Norfolk and Tracy Branstrom and her husband Derek of Sharon. He leaves his three loving grandchildren, Brett Cullen and Kylie and Declan Breen. Devoted brother of Terrance Cullen of FL, Betty McLean of Quincy, Alice Ash and Patricia DiLillo, both of Weymouth, and his late brothers Joseph, George, and Eugene. He also leaves many nieces, nephews and cousins.



WILLIAM S. CULLEN

A lifetime resident of Quincy and graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1958, Mr. Cullen worked as a timekeeper at General Dynamics Shipyard from 1964 to 1985. He also worked in construction at DCI and retired from the Hancock Park Nursing Home in 2002, where he worked on the maintenance staff.

Mr. Cullen loved spending time with family and friends. He enjoyed fishing, especially with his brother-in-law Eddie, and watching all Boston sports teams. Mr. and Mrs. Cullen loved to travel, including memorable trips to Alaska, Hawaii, and their most recent adventure, a cruise to Bermuda with family and friends.

He was loved by all and will be greatly missed.

Visiting hours were yesterday (Tuesday) 4-8 p.m. in the funeral home.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to American Heart Association, P.O. Box 417005, Boston, MA 02241-7005.

Martha Basile

A funeral Mass for Martha Basile of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Tuesday) in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Ms. Basile died June 25.

Beloved sister of Antonina Dingley of Quincy and the late Anthony Basile. Also lovingly survived by her nieces and nephews.

She was born in Boston and grew up and educated in the West End of Boston. She was a very social woman who loved getting together at gatherings with family and friends. Ms. Basile enjoyed traveling and paying special attention to her nieces and nephews. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known her.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at St. Michael's Cemetery, Boston.

Mary E. Bersani, 81

A funeral Mass for Mary E. (Sheehan) Bersani, 81, a lifelong resident of Quincy, was celebrated yesterday (Tuesday) at St. Mary's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Bersani died peacefully June 24 at the Pope Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Weymouth surrounded by her loving family.

She was born, raised, and educated in Quincy. Mrs. Bersani was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1952, and she worked for the New England Card and Index Company for many years.

She was a longtime, active parishioner of St. Mary's Church in West Quincy. Mrs. Bersani was also a member of the St. Mary's Church Senior Citizens Club and the 1000 Southern Artery Senior Citizens Center. She enjoyed her time as a resident of 1000 Southern Artery over the past ten years.

Mrs. Bersani enjoyed many activities, including bowling, playing cards, Scrabble, movies and spending time with her family and many friends.

MARY E. BERSANI

Beloved wife of the late Thomas C. Bersani. Devoted mother of Thomas C. Bersani of Quincy, Richard M. Bersani and his girlfriend Pamela Yannone of Brockton, and Brenda Bersani of Hingham. Loving grandmother of Ryan Bersani, Karlene Manley, Bethany Bersani, Kerrin Bersani, Jennifer Plausse, James Plausse, and Kaylin E. Ryan. Cherished great-grandmother of Tyler Plausse. Sister of Catherine L. Morin of Sandwich, Anne M. Donna of Brockton, and the late Ellen P. Sheehan. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Diabetes Association, 10 Speen St., 2nd Floor, Framingham, MA 01701.

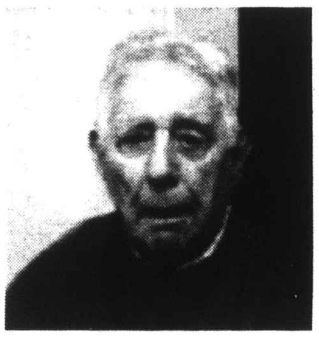
Patrick J. Conneeley, Jr.

A funeral Mass for Patrick J. Conneeley Jr. of Quincy, formerly of Furrymelia West, Barna, Co. Galway, Ireland, was celebrated June 25 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Conneeley died June 22.

He worked for Boston Gas for 43 years as a pipe fitter and a supervisor. He enjoyed landscaping, gardening, the ocean, and politics, especially Fox News. Mr. Conneeley would travel back to Ireland to visit as often as he could and loved listening to Irish music.

He was a quiet and reserved man who adored his family, especially being "Papa" and "Dado" to his grandchildren. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.



PATRICK J.
CONNEELEY, JR.

Beloved husband of Barbara (McDonagh) Conneeley of Quincy. Cherished father of Barbara MacLellan of Milton, Kathleen and William McGrath of Weymouth, Patrick III and Jennifer Conneeley of Randolph, and Theresa Conneeley of Quincy. Adoring Papa to Stephen, Christopher, Michael, Maura, Brendan, Kerry and Dado to Patrick IV and Maya. Loving uncle of many nieces and nephews. Predeceased by two brothers and two sisters from Ireland

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to South Shore VNA and Hospice, 30 Reservoir Park Dr., Rockland, MA 02370.

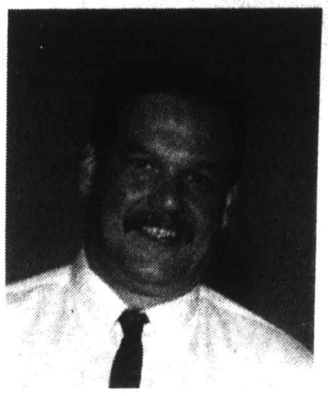
Richard M. Turpin

A funeral Mass for Richard M. "Richie" Turpin of Quincy and formerly South Boston was celebrated Monday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Turpin died June 24.

His life revolved around family and football. His wife and children gave him the most joy and he wouldn't miss a ball game or event that they were involved in. Football was near and dear to his heart, first as a player for South Boston High School, but more importantly as his sons' coach in Quincy. Mr. Turpin volunteered for many years with the Quincy Point Panthers and later as a booster for the Quincy High School Presidents football teams as well as the Quincy High School basketball program.

He loved to cook for his family, was larger than life, passionate, loving and a hard-worker. He worked in construction with Local #223 for many years.



RICHARD M. TURPIN

Beloved husband of Barbara (Riley) Turpin of Quincy. Loving father of Richie Turpin, Ryan Turpin, Stacey Mullen, all of Quincy; Mathew Mullen of Braintree; and the late Kristen Turpin. Grandfather of Parker and Kendra Mullen. Brother of Frances Catizone of S. Boston, James Turpin of Waltham, Oscar Turpin of Brockton, Donna Kennedy of Quincy, John Turpin of NH, Shirley Graybill of NH, and the late Ada Webber and Henry Turpin. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Jimmy Fund c/o Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, PO Box 849168, Boston, MA 02284-9168.

Mary T. Clasby

A Mass of Christian Burial for Mary T. (Squires) Clasby of Quincy will be celebrated today (Wednesday) at 10:30 a.m. in St. Agatha Church, Milton.

Mrs. Clasby died June 25.

She was the adoring wife of Paul F. Clasby, who predeceased her in 1999. Loving and dedicated mother of Paula Clasby and her husband Winston Kokaram and Bill Clasby. Also survived by four grandchildren: Christopher, William, Aryanna, and Anthony, and great-granddaughter Layla Marie. Special to Corey and Keith Ellis, her in-laws Anne and George MacLean and Ann Clasby, Lewie, the Kokaram family and many wonderful nieces, nephews, friends, and neighbors in East Milton. Predeceased by her brothers: Bill, Jack, Joe and Frank Squires.

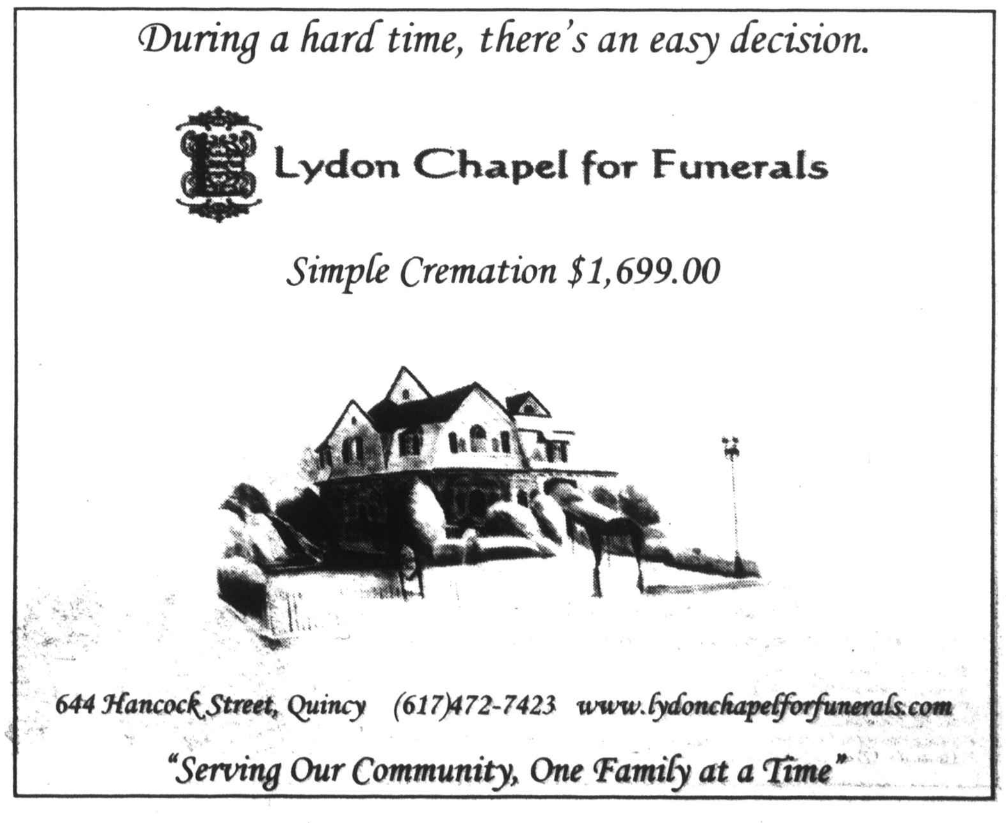
MARY T. CLASBY

The family would also like to express appreciation to the staff at the John Adams Health Care Center.

Visiting hours were yesterday (Tuesday) 4-8 p.m. at Dolan Funeral Home, East Milton.

Interment at Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Agatha Parish in Milton or Catholic TV, PO Box 9196, Watertown, MA 02471.



During a hard time, there's an easy decision.

Lydon Chapel for Funerals

Simple Cremation $1,699.00

644 Hancock Street, Quincy (617)472-7423 www.lydonchapelforfunerals.com

"Serving Our Community, One Family at a Time"

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-032

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 14, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Marjorie J. Stanton for a Variance to raze the existing garage and construct a new garage in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.2.3 (accessory uses) on the premises numbered 81 APPLETON STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

6/25/15, 7/1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-033

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 14, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of E.Y. Realty, LLC for a Variance to construct a 2.5 story building containing 2 condominiums on single family nonconforming lot in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.2.5 (lot size, area, width), Chapter 4.2.4 (FAR) and Chapter 5.1 (parking) on the premises numbered 224 FARRINGTON STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

6/25/15, 7/1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-034

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 14, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Lorraine Tse, Wing Tse for a Variance to subdivide the existing lot and erect a single family dwelling on the newly created lot in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 158 PHIPPS STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

6/25/15, 7/1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-035

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 14, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of John McDonough for a Variance to operate a Dog Day Care in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.0 (use regulations) on the premises numbered 226 WATER STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

6/25/15, 7/1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-036

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 14, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of 118 Old Colony Avenue LLC, Philip Boncaldo, Manager, for a Use Variance, Dimensional Variances and a Finding to construct a 4 story, 52-unit multifamily residential building in the Industrial B zoning district in violation of Title 17, Section 3.0 (use regulations), 3.4 (nonconforming uses and structures), 4.0 (dimensional regulations) and 5.1.4 (off-street parking setbacks).

The parcels of land are located at 118 Old Colony Avenue, 54 Warren Avenue and 60 Warren Avenue and are shown as Lots 46, 66 and 67 on Assessors' plan no. 5084.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

6/25/15, 7/1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 138 of the General Laws of Massachusetts that the Board has received an application from C & W Group Inc., d/b/a Top Pot Asian Cuisine Restaurant, Chung Shing Wong, Manager for a CV All Alcohol Restaurant License @ 67 Billings Road, consisting 2642 sq. ft. with seating for 81, with 2 entrances and 2 exits. A hearing will be held in City Hall Conference Room, 1305 Hancock St., Quincy. TUESDAY JULY 14, 2015 at 4:00 P.M.

Joseph P. Shea, Chairman

7/1/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 138 of the General Laws of Massachusetts that the Board has received an application from Pham Management Inc. d/b/a Hancock Liquors, 229 Quincy Avenue, Huy Pham, Manager for transfer of the Retail All Alcohol Package Store License held by Quincy Liquor Store, Inc. d/b/a Hancock Liquors and a Pledge of the License to Bank of Canton. A hearing will be held in City Hall Conference Room, 1305 Hancock St., Quincy. TUESDAY JULY 14, 2015 @ 4:00 P.M.

Joseph P. Shea, Chairman

7/1/15

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642
7/9

HAIR SALON

ALL SUMMER BUZZ CUTS $15
ALL CHILDRENS $10
CLIPPER HAIR DESIGN
MARINA BAY
(617)328-9719
7/23

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings
TF

CASH FOR HOUSES

CASH MONEY PAID FOR HOUSES
ANY CONDITION, ANY AREA, ANY ISSUE
PROBATE FORECLOSURE ETC...
QUICK CLOSINGS
NO REALTOR COMMISSIONS
(617)249-3961
8/6

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

PART TIME DRIVERS
Drive Cars_Monday's
10am-3pm
Earn $60.00
FAST-PACED ENVIRONMENT
FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE
Apply in person, call or email Mike Cooley at: quincyaa@quincyauction.com
617-773-5000
Quincy Auto Auction
196 Ricciuti Drive, Quincy EOE
7/30

WANTED WANTED

BAUER HOUSE

1 Bedroom Wait List Open as of July 1st, 2015

Bauer House was constructed under the 202 PRAC program of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development. The building was dedicated on September 22, 1996. A residence for independent seniors 62 years of age and older, this equal opportunity subsidized housing consists of 75 units that include 70 one-bedroom units and 4 handicap accessible one-bedroom units. An applicant household must be composed of at least one person who is 62 years of age or older. In addition, applicants must have proof of citizenship or legal alien status in the United States of America. Applicants must also verify complete and accurate social security numbers or provide proper documentation of lawful status. 2015 income limits for applicants $34,500 for an individual and $39,400 for two persons. Application can be obtained by phone or mail and it will be processed by first-come-first serve basis.

314 Water Street Quincy, MA 02169
tel. (617) 786-7601 fax. (617) 786-1807
7/1

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR ORDER TO RENDER
Docket No. NO98P2988AD
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Edna Rolka
Date of Death:
November 21, 1998

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Linda Robillard of East Bridgewater, MA requesting that the Court enter an Order that Kathleen A Curran of Weymouth, MA be ordered to render an Inventory, render an Account, compel distribution and for such other relief as requested in the Petition.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 07/08/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: June 2, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/1/15

NOW HIRING

LOVE Fashion?
Plato's Closet in Dedham is NOW HIRING
FULL-TIME KEYHOLDER POSITIONS!
FLEXIBLE AVAILABILITY IS A MUST
E-mail us your resume at platosclosetdedham@gmail.com
7/1

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED
Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.
USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.
New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items
LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com
TF

HELP WANTED

QUINCY CHECKER CAB OF QUINCY IS HIRING DRIVERS
APPLY IN PERSON AT 673 WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY
NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE
8/6

PERSONAL

HAPPY 96TH BIRTHDAY TO MY MOM
DORIS VIOLETTE BLAKE-MENZ
JULY 4TH
"WITH LOTS OF LOVE"
YOUR SON, DOUG
7/1

THANK YOU, ST. ANTHONY
D.F.
7/1

CONGRATULATIONS
AIDEN FOLEY
LOVE, ABBA
7/1

THANK YOU Blessed Mother. Pray 9 Hail Marys for 9 days. Ask for 3 wishes, 1 involving Business and 2 impossible. On 9th day publish this article and your wishes will be answered, even though you may not believe it. M.T. 7/1

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

"Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful vine, splendor of heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea, help me and show me, herein you are my Mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth! I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this necessity. There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mother, I place this cause in your hands (three times). Say this prayer 3 consecutive days, and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. Thanks to St. Anthony & St. Joseph. St. Jude M.T. 7/1

ST. JUDE NOVENA

May the Sacred heart of Jesus be adored, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred heart of Jesus pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us, St. Jude, helper of the hopeless pray for us. Say this prayer nine times a day for nine days and your prayers will be answered. This prayer must be published. M.O. 7/1

Prayer to St. Theresa

Oh Glorious St. Theresa

Whom almighty God has raised up to aid and counsel mankind. I invite your miraculous intercession. So powerful are you obtaining every need of body and soul, our Holy Mother Church proclaims you a "Prodigy of Miracles." Now fervently I beseech you to answer my petition (mention here) and carry out your promise of doing good upon earth of letting fall from heaven a shower of roses. Henceforth, Dear little flower, I will fulfill your plea to be made known everywhere and I will never cease to lead others to Jesus through you. Amen

(Say prayer everyday for 9 days. By 4th day, ask for a sign. If prayers are to be answered between 4th and 9th day, you will see a rose in a Magazine, TV picture or receive Roses. You can also get strong scent of roses in home even if no roses are present. Must promise publication. Thank you.) M.D. 7/1

HELP WANTED

PRESCHOOL ASSISTANT
Morning Position for School Year, starting in September
Letter of Interest & Resume to: info@wollastonhillmontessori.com
7/9

CLASSIFIEDS

SERVICES

Richard Schell
License #20964-A

781-308-0075
Full Service Electrician

Elite Electrical Solutions
"Building a brighter more powerful future" pro.electrician@hotmail.com www.facebook/eliteelectricsolutions.com

24 Hour Service

7/2

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE

- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates

CLEAN-UPS

617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES

11/26

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

QUINCY MARKET
Corner of Temple
& Washington St.

GOODIE'S STORE
1250 Hancock St.,
Presidents Place

NEW STORE ON THE BLOCK
1183 Hancock St.,
Quincy Ctr. T Station

HANCOCK TOBACCO
1500 Hancock St.

MIGNOSA'S FRUIT BASKET
138 Granite St.

RITE-AID
132 Granite St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
77 Parkingway

HANCOCK PARK LOBBY SHOP
164 Parkingway

FRANKLIN ST. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

SHOP N SAVE LIQUORS
20 Independence Ave.

DONUT + DONUTS
33 Scammell St.

PRESIDENTIAL LIQUORS
25 Scammell St.

TEDESCHI'S
85 Quincy Ave.

DAILY MART
291 Quincy Ave.

ROCHE BROTHERS
The Falls

WALGREENS
418 Quincy Ave.

ARTERY GROCERY
1000 Southern Artery

TEDESCHI'S
495 Washington St.

DAIRY FARM
330 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
230 Washington St.

STOP & SHOP
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

BAXTER'S PHARMACY
385 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

VILLAGE COMM. MARKET
100 Willard St.

COPELAND LIQUORS
273 Copeland St.

GRANITE MART
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

JOE'S PLACE
260 Centre St.

CORNER FOOD MARKET
1060 Hancock St.

200 FOOD MART
200 Sea St.

ADAMS SHORE SUPERMARKET
494 Sea St.

PALMER STREET MARKET
231 Palmer St.

BERNIE'S GENERAL STORE
1147 Sea St.

WEST ELM VARIETY
139 W. Elm Ave.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

BEALE ST. SMOKE SHOP
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
12 Old Colony Ave.

SUPREME LIQUORS
615 Hancock St.

HANNAFORD BROTHERS
475 Hancock St.

RITE-AID
475 Hancock St.

MULLANEY'S VARIETY
205 W. Squantum St.

STOP & SHOP
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

WALGREENS
324 Hancock St.

RED APPLE FOOD SHOP
48 Billings Rd.

SAM'S VARIETY
125 Billings Rd.

DAVE'S GENERAL STORE
66 Newbury Ave.

ATLANTIC MARKET & LIQUORS
247 Atlantic Ave.

CVS
321 Quincy Shore Dr.

CARMINE'S CAFÉ
69 Huckins Ave.

TEDESCHI'S
751 E. Squantum St.

LUCKY SHAMROCK
265 Beale St.

ANDRE'S STORE
20 Brook St.

IMAGE LANDSCAPING

We are committed to your property

We clean IT
Trim IT
Remove IT

QUALITY WORKMANSHIP

617-471-0044

FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED

7/2

FORMICA BRAND CENTER

Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured

Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com

8/13

D.D & Son's Masonry

Brick, Block, Stone, Concrete, Steps, Walls, Patio's, Fireplaces, Walkways

40 yrs. exp. • Lic & Insured

617-866-3307

7/16

POWER PLUMBING

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting

Repairs • New Installations

Dave 617-328-3007

Emergencies
617-792-4054

Master Lic # 13749 TF

FOR HIRE

Garages, Decks Taken Away, Rubbish Piles Removed, Moorings Moved

OR ME WITH DUMP & LIFTGATE

$60/HR.

(617)479-5410

"Your Trash is my Ca$h"

7/2

T & M Landscape Co.

- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates

617-733-4554

~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~

9/3

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

LOCAL PAINTER

CLIP & SAVE

Average Room - walls $150 Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out. Prompt, clean service.

Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479

7/9

100% FREE Removal

of Appliances & all types of metal

Commercial & Residential

Junk Removed

Garages · Basements · Attic

Call John anytime 617-653-6255

10/29

SAVE

Budget Fuel

Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service

617-328-4063

TF

O'BRIEN MASONRY

REPAIR WORK

Stairs · Walls · Foundations · Chimneys · Stucco

FREE ESTIMATES

Call John O'Brien
774-417-0852

7/1

J.F. ROOFING Co.

QUINCY, MA

- ·Shingles
- ·Rubber
- ·Slate
- ·Copper
- ·Vinyl Replacement Windows

(617)471-8216

12/31

THOMAS C. SWEENEY

Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience

Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References

7/2

HTA

Hancock T.V. & Appliance

Sales, Service, Parts & Installation

Since 1945

(617) 472-1710

115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA

hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD

PLUMBING, HEATING & AC

Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating

QUINCY

617-471-0914

Unprecedented Service Tailored to You

MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL

Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF

Leave Message 617-773-4761

CAVEMAN MASONRY

ALL TYPES MASONRY

BRICK, BLOCK, STONE

"I make my money the old fashioned way, I earn it"

NO JOB TOO SMALL

617-331- 3668

7/2

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX

☐ Services
☐ For Sale
☐ Autos
☐ Boats
☐ For Rent
☐ Wanted
☐ Help Wanted
☐ Work Wanted
☐ Pets
☐ Lost & Found
☐ Real Estate
☐ Antiques
☐ Flea Markets
☐ Yard Sales
☐ Instruction
☐ Day Care
☐ Personal
☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

☐ Enclosed is $ ____________ for the following ad to run ____________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________
____
____
____
____
____
____
____
____

Koch Defends Revised Downtown Plan

Cont'd From Page 9

infrastructure. I don't know when you start adding these other things – the public art, the affordable housing and these other layers they're talking about – if that should be the priority right now for this part of our city right now at this time.

"If we get this moving, get it out of the ground and get a few projects moving, maybe then we adjust."

Koch noted that he has encouraged affordable housing projects throughout the rest of the city, including one currently under construction for veterans on East Howard Street in Quincy Point. The builders of 2 Hancock St. in North Quincy included affordable housing units in their project and the developer of 0 Penn St. in South Quincy paid into the affordable housing trust fund, the mayor added as examples.

Koch also said he has encouraged the city's affordable housing trust committee to look at other projects where a developer may go into a neighborhood with 'problem housing' and tear down a handful of homes to make a new affordable housing development.

"Maybe we can go in and make a difference in the neighborhood by going in with a developer and maybe buying out some four or six families and going in and whether we knock them down and start over and create a whole different feel for that community," Koch said.

"Change a community. Change a neighborhood. Not just create an apartment for somebody."

The new amendment includes $145 million in infrastructure upgrades in Quincy Center, which would require council approval in phases over the next decade, and envisions 1,250 new residential units, 600,000 square feet of new office space, 125,000 square feet of retail space and 120 hotel rooms in the downtown on city-owned land and privately held parcels.

The plan includes three residential developments on the city-owned Hancock Lot – a 15-story, 122-apartment high rise introduced by developer Peter O'Connell earlier this year and two other projects. A parking garage would also be built on the lot by the city. A 116-room hotel introduced by LBC Boston for the 1500 block of Hancock Street could also be partially sited on the Hancock Lot.

New office space, and at least one other parking garage, would be built on the Ross Parking Garage and in the vicinity of the Parkingway.

Quincy Mutual and Gate Residential have already begun work on West of Chestnut, which includes 169 apartments and 12,000 square feet of ground floor retail and is being built on privately owned land in the 1400 block of Hancock St.

The Galvin brothers have proposed for two buildings with 48 condos and 8,000 square feet of retail for 1545 Hancock St. on privately owned land.

Developments on city-owned land require a new LDA approved by the council while those on private parcels do not.

Under the current URDP, developers who build on private parcels can reach an agreement with the mayor known as a downtown covenant; doing so allows the developer to go through a less burdensome approval process as urban renewal projects only need a certificate of consistency from the Planning Board.

The council's downtown committee on June 22 gave preliminary approval to a requirments that the Planning Board reviews those covenants. Requiring the Planning Board to review the covenants could hinder development. Koch cautioned.

"I want to create a more business friendly atmosphere," he stated. "I don't want to add to the layers of government that create more obstacles and delays. That doesn't mean developers should have free reign. There are design guidelines. The zoning pieces are in place. The framework is all there. Let's not overburden it."

On the issue of open spaces for the public, Koch said such spaces will be created moving forward even though they weren't included in the URDP amendment. The city already plans to build a new park, Adams-Hancock Green, between City Hall and the United First Parish Church, and will include others elsewhere. Among those will be a new location for the Quincy Farmers Market, which currently operates in the Hancock Lot.

"We're going to be building an incredible Adams-Hancock Green on this end. As we shift and as developments come in, we will take advantage of how we will proceed with creating new green spaces," Koch said.

"The farmers market is important. There is going to be a home for the farmers market, no question about it. We're not dismissing that at all. Where it lands at this point we're not 100 percent sure because we're still working our way through the proposals before us – the O'Connell and the LBC and the Galvin development – and we'll be looking at RFPs and we have the whole Parkingway issue to start to deal with as well.

"There are going to be plenty of opportunities to deal with public spaces that will involve the farmers market."

As for labor unions, Koch said there is a seat at the table for unions – O'Connell has already begun discussions with them – but making every project use 100 percent organized labor is beyond his power.

"There is a seat at the table for unions. There will continue to be. Peter O'Connell has already had some good discussions with some of the unions. We're looking at a very good process whereby the unions will have great involvement early on to that 15-story project and we will continue to do that for each of the projects," Koch said.

"I can't waive a magic wand and make everything union. I can't do that. That's not within my power."

Unions will have every chance to be competitive when it comes to the O'Connell project, the mayor added.

"He is absolutely," Koch responded when asked if the Quincy developer was encouraging unions to participate in the project.

"They will be involved very early in the process so that they have an opportunity to be competitive and it's not one of these last minute deals. I think things are going to work well for the unions on many of these projects."

Koch said market factors, particularly interest rates, are favorable for the development in Quincy Center. While land disposition agreements with the developers are still being ironed out, the mayor said he would submit them to the council for approval under the current version of the URDP if necessary.

"The market is with us right now. The market is what drives the economy and we've got to take advantage of that market," Koch said. "We've got tremendous proposals right now before us that we're trying to work through the process but we need a URDP framework in place in conjunction with them, or we'll go with the old URDP."

"We have a great opportunity here in the city," he added. "If we miss another market cycle then we're going to be years behind again on the downtown redevelopment."

OBITUARY

Valerie E. Campbell, 70

Visiting hours for Valerie E. (Smith) Campbell, 70, of Quincy, were held yesterday (Tuesday) 5-8 p.m. at Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy. Wake service with prayers began at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Campbell died June 26 following a period of declining health.

She was the devoted wife of 54 years to Robert W. Campbell, Sr. Born and raised in Quincy, she was a daughter of the late Stanley and Ethel (Rollins) Smith. She was a lifelong resident of the city.

Mrs. Campbell had worked as a nutritionist for area nursing homes, including John Adams Healthcare and Hancock Park, both in Quincy. Although she enjoyed playing bingo, her happiest times were those spent in the company of her loving family.

In addition to her husband Robert, she leaves behind her adult children Susan E. Jones and her husband Ralph of Hingham, Robert W. Campbell, Jr. and Scott M. Campbell, both of Quincy, Brian M. Campbell and his wife Barbie of Braintree, and Mark J. Campbell of Quincy. Cherished grandmother of Kyle, Brianna, and Ryan Campbell, Kayla and Dylan Jones, and Vincent Joyce. Dear sister of Elayne Kilkenny of NY. She was the sister of the late Clifford and Bruce Smith.

Funeral and Burial will be private.

Memorial donations may be made to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Greater New England Chapter, P.O. Box 845945, Boston, MA 02284.

Report For Duty By Reporting Fraud

By KRISTEN ALBERINO

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist

In July, with American flags flying, we celebrate our nation's birthday and the freedoms and protections we hold dear. Although love for your country can take many forms, Social Security takes preventing and combatting fraud as seriously as we take our other vital missions.

Social Security Online Services
★ Convenient ★ Secure ★
www.socialsecurity.gov

Social Security has a zero-tolerance policy for fraud. In tandem with local law enforcement, we pursue criminals who cheat the system by collecting benefits that they're not owed. This might be as subtle as someone intentionally failing to report income and resources or that they live with their spouse which can result in incorrect payments. Fraud might take the form of someone claiming to be disabled when, in reality, they continue to work. These examples are why we also rely on you — the American public — to report fraud when you see it.

While we can't prevent every instance of fraud any more than the most effective law enforcement agency can prevent all crime, we aggressively investigate and pursue prosecution of those who try to cheat and steal from the system. Our message to those who would defraud Social Security is clear: We will find you; we will prosecute you; we will seek the maximum punishment allowable under the law; and we will fight to restore the money you've stolen from the American people.

We impose stiff penalties to discourage people from committing fraud. We monitor cases closely, and we have sophisticated tools to help us predict where and when fraud may occur so we can catch it early — often before it happens.

Social Security employs innovative weapons in the fight against fraud. Our Office of Anti-Fraud Programs (OAFP) is the newest member of Social Security's anti-fraud team. Established in November 2014, the mission of OAFP is to coordinate all the agency's efforts to efficiently and effectively detect, deter, and mitigate fraud, waste, and abuse of our programs.

OAFP works closely with our Office of the Inspector General to ensure that there are consequences for those who commit fraud — even if the act isn't prosecuted.

Social Security takes fraud seriously, and so should you. In the same way that you might keep a keen eye out for suspicious activity that might harm our nation, we encourage you to keep an eye out for potential Social Security fraud. Some of our most vulnerable citizens — the elderly, disabled children and war veterans, as well as the chronically ill — are counting on you. If you suspect someone is committing Social Security fraud, report it online at http://oig.ssa.gov/report or call the Social Security Fraud Hotline at 1-800-269-0271.

INVITATION TO BID

INVITATION TO BID

CITY OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS
PURCHASING DEPARTMENT
1305 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

The City of Quincy acting on behalf of the Quincy Park Department invites sealed bids for the;

Park Dept. Asphalt Paving-Walkway Project July 16, 2015 @ 11:00 a.m.

Paving project at McIntyre Mall-1305 Hancock St. Quincy

Detailed specifications are on file at the office of the Purchasing Agent, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts, 02169, between the hours of 8:30 AM and 4:30 PM.

Bids must state exceptions, if any, the delivery date and any allowable discounts. Bids/Proposals must be in a sealed envelope. The outside of the sealed envelope is to be clearly marked "BID ENCLOSED" with time/date of bid call.

Firm bid prices will be given first consideration. Bids/Proposals will be received at the office of the Purchasing Agent until the time and date stated above, at which time and date they will be publicly opened and read. Late Bids/Proposals, delivered by mail or in person, will be rejected.

Bidding procedures are subject to the provisions of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts (MGL) Chapter 30, Section 39M and applicable sections of MGL Chapter 149, sections 44A-44.

The successful bidder will be required to conform to the payment of Prevailing Wage Rates, as determined by the Commissioner of Labor & Industries under the provision of M.G.L. Chapter 149, Section 26 to 27D as amended

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept any part of a bid or the one deemed best for the City and waive any informality in the bidding if it is in the best interest of the City to do so.

Thomas P. Koch, MAYOR Kathryn R. Hobin, Purchasing AGENT

7/1/15

Recreation Summer Playground Programs Start Wednesday

The Quincy Recreation Department summer playground program will begin today (Wednesday) at 15 locations with supervised activities for boys and girls ages 6 – 16. The playgrounds are open from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, weather permitting.

There will be no program on Friday, July 3rd.

The free program offers supervised activities that include active games and sports, weekly sports competitions, as well as arts and crafts. There are special events and weekly field trips to local attractions.

In addition to the high school and college staff members who are assigned to each playground, a sports specialist and an arts and crafts specialist visit each location in a regular rotation. Registration is done at the playground and continues throughout the summer to accommodate youngsters who may return from vacation or summer school programs.

Participants must be residents of the City of Quincy, and may attend the program of their choice.

The locations of the supervised playgrounds are:

Faxon Park, Kincaide Park/Sterling Middle School Park, O'Rourke Playground, Forbes Hill Playground, Perkins Playground, Arthur Boyson Park/Heron Road, Snug Harbor Playground/ Palmer Park, LaBreque Field, Fore River Field, Wendall Moses Playground/ Squantum, Bishop Playground/ Montclair, Fenno Street Courts, Beechwood Knoll Playground, Mass Field Playground, and Welcome Young Playground.

The playgrounds will be staffed until Wednesday, Aug. 13.

For more information call the Quincy Recreation Office, 617-376-1394.

TV Production Workshop, Girls Soccer Clinic Have Openings

The Quincy Recreation Department continues the 2015 Summer Sports and More Clinics and Workshops.

The various sports clinics and instructional workshops will run throughout the summer and offer youngsters a variety of summer activities while they enjoy summer school vacation.

Enrollment is limited. Call the Recreation office at 617-376-1394 or visit the Quincy Recreation web site, www.QuincyRec.com, for further information.

Limited openings still exist for two clinics that will be conducted July 6th to July 10th.

The TV Production Workshop will be held at the Quincy Access Television Studio, located at 88 Washington St. Participants will be taught the basic techniques of television production including camera operation, editing, scripting, and studio instruction.

Participants will produce a program that will be cablecast on QATV. The clinic is open to boys and girls entering grades 7-9, and will run from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The cost for the clinic is $85 and includes a t-shirt for each participant.

The Girls Soccer clinic will be held at Veterans' Memorial Stadium. This is an instructional program with an emphasis on the fundamentals: passing, shooting, trapping, dribbling, and defensive skills through a complete series of drills and scrimmages.

The clinic is open to girls entering grades 3– 9 and will be run 8 a.m. to noon. The cost for the clinic is $85 and includes a t-shirt for each participant.

Registration can be done online at www.QuincyRec.com or in person at the Quincy Recreation Department, located at One Merrymount Parkway. For more information call 617-376-1394.

Ben Martin Hurls Gem For Wollaston Sr. Babe Ruth

Ben Martin pitched an eight-inning six-hit shutout against Norwood this past Saturday. In addition he struck out six batters.

In the top of the eighth Wollaston scored the only run of the game. Sammy McGahey blasted a one out double over the left fielder's head. Michael Saccoach replaced McGahey as a pinch runner. After a walk to David Cooper, Padraig Geaney stroked a single to left field, his third hit of the game. Saccoach scored as a result of an aggressive coaching decision coupled with an evasive head first slide.

In the bottom of the eighth inning Martin retired Norwood in order.

Wollaston supported Martin with flawless defense. The infield lead by Cooper's outstanding play turned two double plays; one was in tandem with shortstop Michael Pugsley and the other was unassisted. Centerfielder Geaney made two over the shoulder catches. Left fielder Alex Linsky prevented a run from scoring with a diving head first catch. Catcher John Marsinelli gunned down two runners attempting to steal second base.

The win improved Wollaston's record to 3-4. Earlier in the week, Wollaston defeated Westwood, 13-1. Peter Saccoach pitched a complete game, struck out seven batters and limited Westwood to two hits.

Anthony Demers had a bases loaded clearing triple. Pugsley and Linsky banged out a couple of hits, and McGahey blasted a double over the leftfielder's head.

Book Signing, Special Book Reading

Quincy author Wendy Francis will make an in-store appearance and sign copies of her new novel, The Summer of Good Intentions, Thursday July 9, at 7 p.m.at Barnes & Noble, 150 Granite St., Braintree.

Set on Cape Cod, the novel revolves around the three Herington sisters and their families during one summer in the family's old Cape Cod house.

The event is free and open to the public.

Barnes & Noble will also host a To Kill a Mockingbird Read-A-Thon, Monday, July 13 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Readers are sought for this special reading.

Throughout the day, participants will be invited to read a favorite chapter from this iconic, and timely, novel by Harper Lee, dealing with issues of social justice.

To participate or for more information, call 781-380-3655, or e-mail crm1989@bn.com to reserve a scheduled time slot for their reading. All ages are welcome.

The Read-A-Thon is in celebration of To Kill A Mockingbird, and the July 14 publication of Go Set A Watchman.

Originally written in the mid-1950s, Go Set a Watchman was the novel Harper Lee first submitted to her publishers before To Kill a Mockingbird.

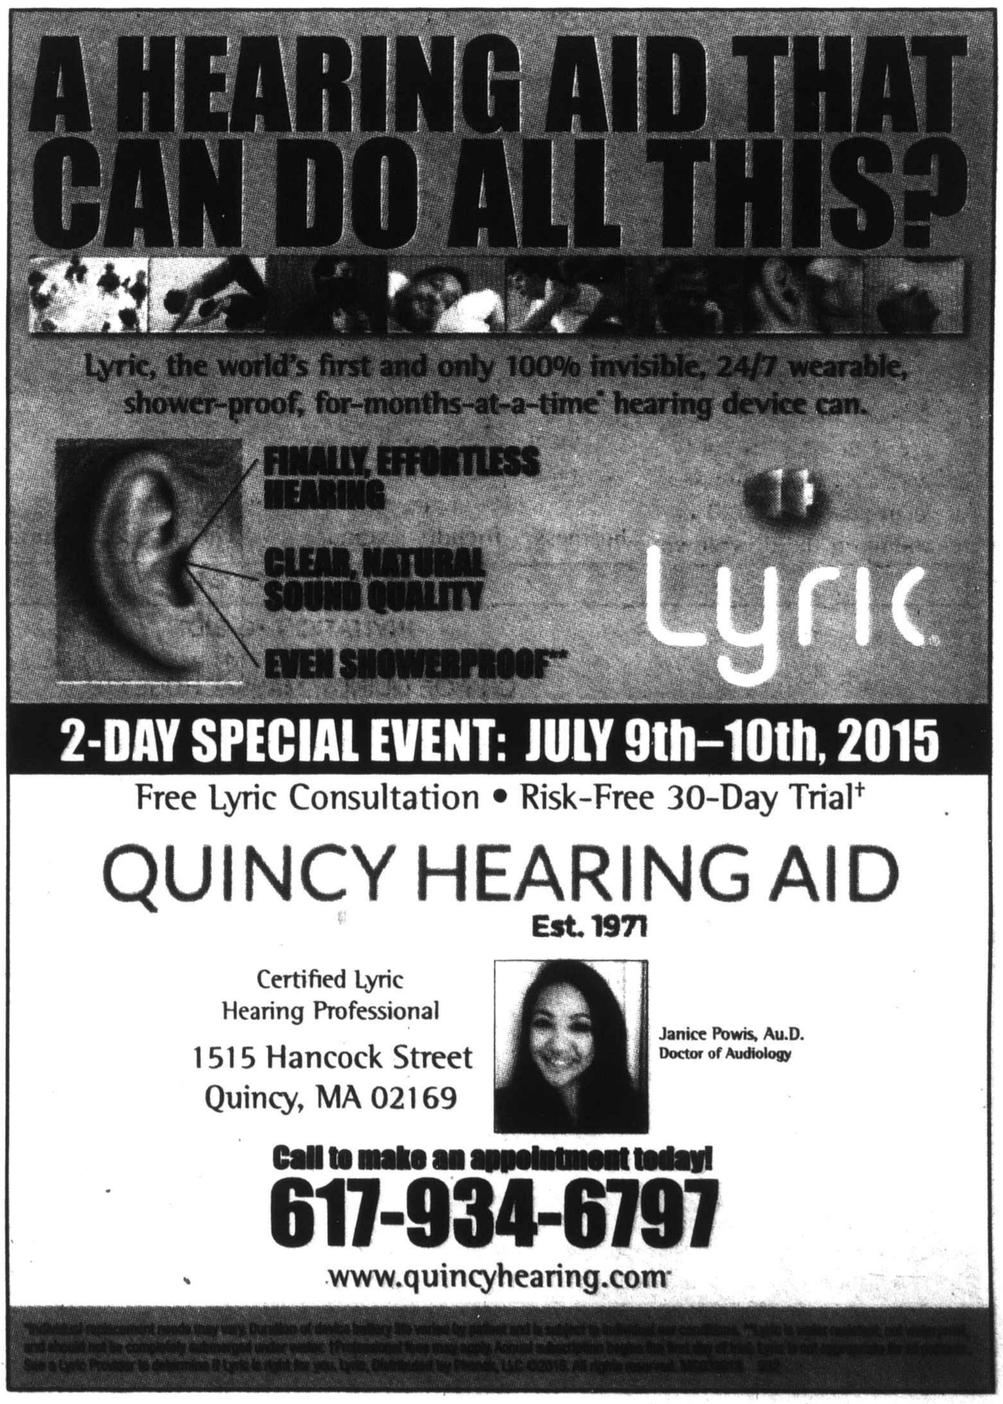
The manuscript was discovered in late 2014. It was believed to have been lost or destroyed.

The event is free and open to the public.

A Grand Old Flag . . . And Fabulous Fireworks

FIREWORKS ILLUMINATE the sky over Black's Creek and Pageant Field at the recent Quincy Flag Day celebration. The American Flag shown here measures 30 feet by 60 feet and was raised using two Quincy Fire Department ladder trucks. Next year's Flag Day celebration featuring the traditional Flag Day Parade followed by fireworks display is set for Saturday, June 11.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth



A HEARING AID THAT CAN DO ALL THIS?

Lyric, the world's first and only 100% invisible, 24/7 wearable, shower-proof, for-months-at-a-time* hearing device can.

FINALLY, EFFORTLESS HEARING

CLEAR, NATURAL SOUND QUALITY

EVEN SHOWERPROOF

Lyric

2-DAY SPECIAL EVENT: JULY 9th–10th, 2015

Free Lyric Consultation • Risk-Free 30-Day Trial†

QUINCY HEARING AID

Est. 1971

Certified Lyric
Hearing Professional

1515 Hancock Street
Quincy, MA 02169

Janice Powis, Au.D.
Doctor of Audiology

Call to make an appointment today!

617-934-6797

www.quincyhearing.com

Remembering Korean War On 65th Anniversary

Cont'd From Page 17

made an official visit to South Korea last fall, an honorary co-chair of the memorial ceremony along with the mayor.

"I had the privilege of being a guest of the Korean government. It was a remarkable and amazing trip," Chan said. "To see the prosperity of Seoul, the prosperity of the South Korean people and the ingenuity and continued strong spirit of moving forward into the future of that country."

"There is no starker reminder of what was accomplished in Korea than the situation today," Sen. John Keenan said. "We see in South Korea a nation that is thriving, growing – a nation of such promise in the present and into the future. Just not so far away, we see what could have been.

"For all of those who wonder – in any war, but in particular that war – is it worth it? There is no doubt that it was worth it and we thank South Korea for standing by us as we stood by them. Together, let's move forward toward a better world."

Naseeb "Moe" Morad took part in the ceremony, singing the Star Spangled Banner and God Bless America. (A recording of South Korean national anthem was also played at the opening of the ceremony).

Morad served in the Army during the Korean War. Three of his brothers also served in the Army during the Korean War; the other three served in the Army in World War II. Morad attends ceremonies throughout the city, and is often asked to sing at the ceremonies.

"Veterans mean a lot to me," he said after the June 25 ceremony. "I'm glad they're doing it because there are not many of us left."

Joseph Dunford Sr. was among more than a dozen Korean War veterans who attended the June 25 memorial. Dunford served in the Marine Corps during the war, rising to the rank of sergeant. He said he was grateful the city remembers those who lost their lives in the war.

"It means that people have generally remembered what occurred there some 65 years ago – for that we're grateful," Dunford said.

Joseph McConville served in the Navy and was stationed in the Atlantic during the Korean War. He said those who served Korea answered the call like veterans of World War II did before them.

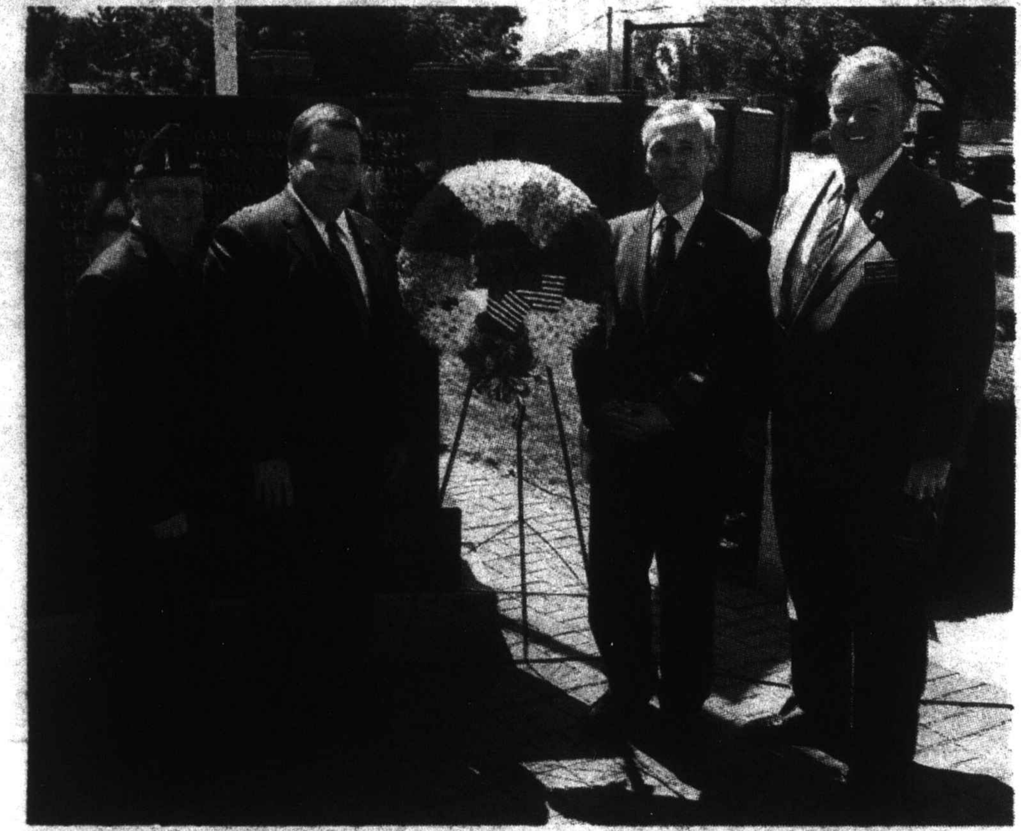
"We answered the call. We followed the World War II guys; they were our models so to speak. We answered the call; you go where you're told and do what you're told to do," McConville said.

"Joe [Dunford] served in Korea in Incheon and so forth. I recall three Marines that did survive the Chosin Reservoir and the Incheon Invasion, yet we lost them in Labrador. These brave people don't always die on the battlefield. They die doing their job and that's what we have to remember.

"We all did our job. We were told to do something, we did it."

MEMORIAL ROLL CALL – The names of the 38 Quincy men who were killed during the Korean War were read at a service commemorating the 65th anniversary of the start of the war June 25 at the city's Korean War Memorial. The names are engraved on the granite monument. From left are readers Naseeb "Moe" Morad, Richard L. Keane, commander, Quincy Veterans Council; William Corcoran and John "Sonny" Joyce. Morad, Corcoran and Joyce are all Quincy veterans of the Korean War. Keane served during the Vietnam War. At left are state Rep. Tackey Chan, Ward 5 Councillor and Veterans Services Committee Chairwoman Kirsten Hughes, and George Bouchard, Quincy graves registration officer.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth



AMONG THOSE WELCOMING Song Jun Ohm, consul general Republic of South Korea (second from right) to the City of Quincy were (from left) George Bouchard, Quincy Graves Registration Officer; Mayor Thomas Koch and Quincy Veterans Services Director George Nicholson. In the middle is the wreath commemorating the 38 Quincy men who died during the Korean War.

DISCOVER QUINCY
50 DAYS of "FREE" DOM
JUNE 13–AUGUST 1

Ginger Betty's Bakery
Open Studios at Ginger Betty's Bakery July 1

MiLTONartCENTER
Open Mic/Open Studios at Milton Art Center July 2

FRIENDS OF THE BLUE HILLS
PROTECT & PRESERVE
Peek-A-Blue Hills Hike July 7

This week's Signature Events:

4th of July Events

John Adams Health Walk 8:00 am - 9:30 am
Squantum 4th of July Parade 10:00 am - 11:00 am
Merrymount 4th of July Parade 1:00 pm - 2:00 pm

Happy Birthday America Celebration at Adams National Historical Park

Re-enactment of the Continental Congress
1:00 pm - 2:30 pm

Reading of the Declaration of Independence
2:30 pm - 3:00 pm

Performance: A Revolutionary Dialouge
Adams-Jefferson Play
4:00 pm - 6:00 pm

For a full list of events, please visit DiscoverQuincy.com.

Discover Quincy, 180 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170. Phone: 617-639-1117

Burke Club Wins City Championship - Page 18

180 Medals Awarded At Senior Olympics - Pages 20, 21

City of Quincy
Senior Olympics

2 CAR-RT LOTC-004
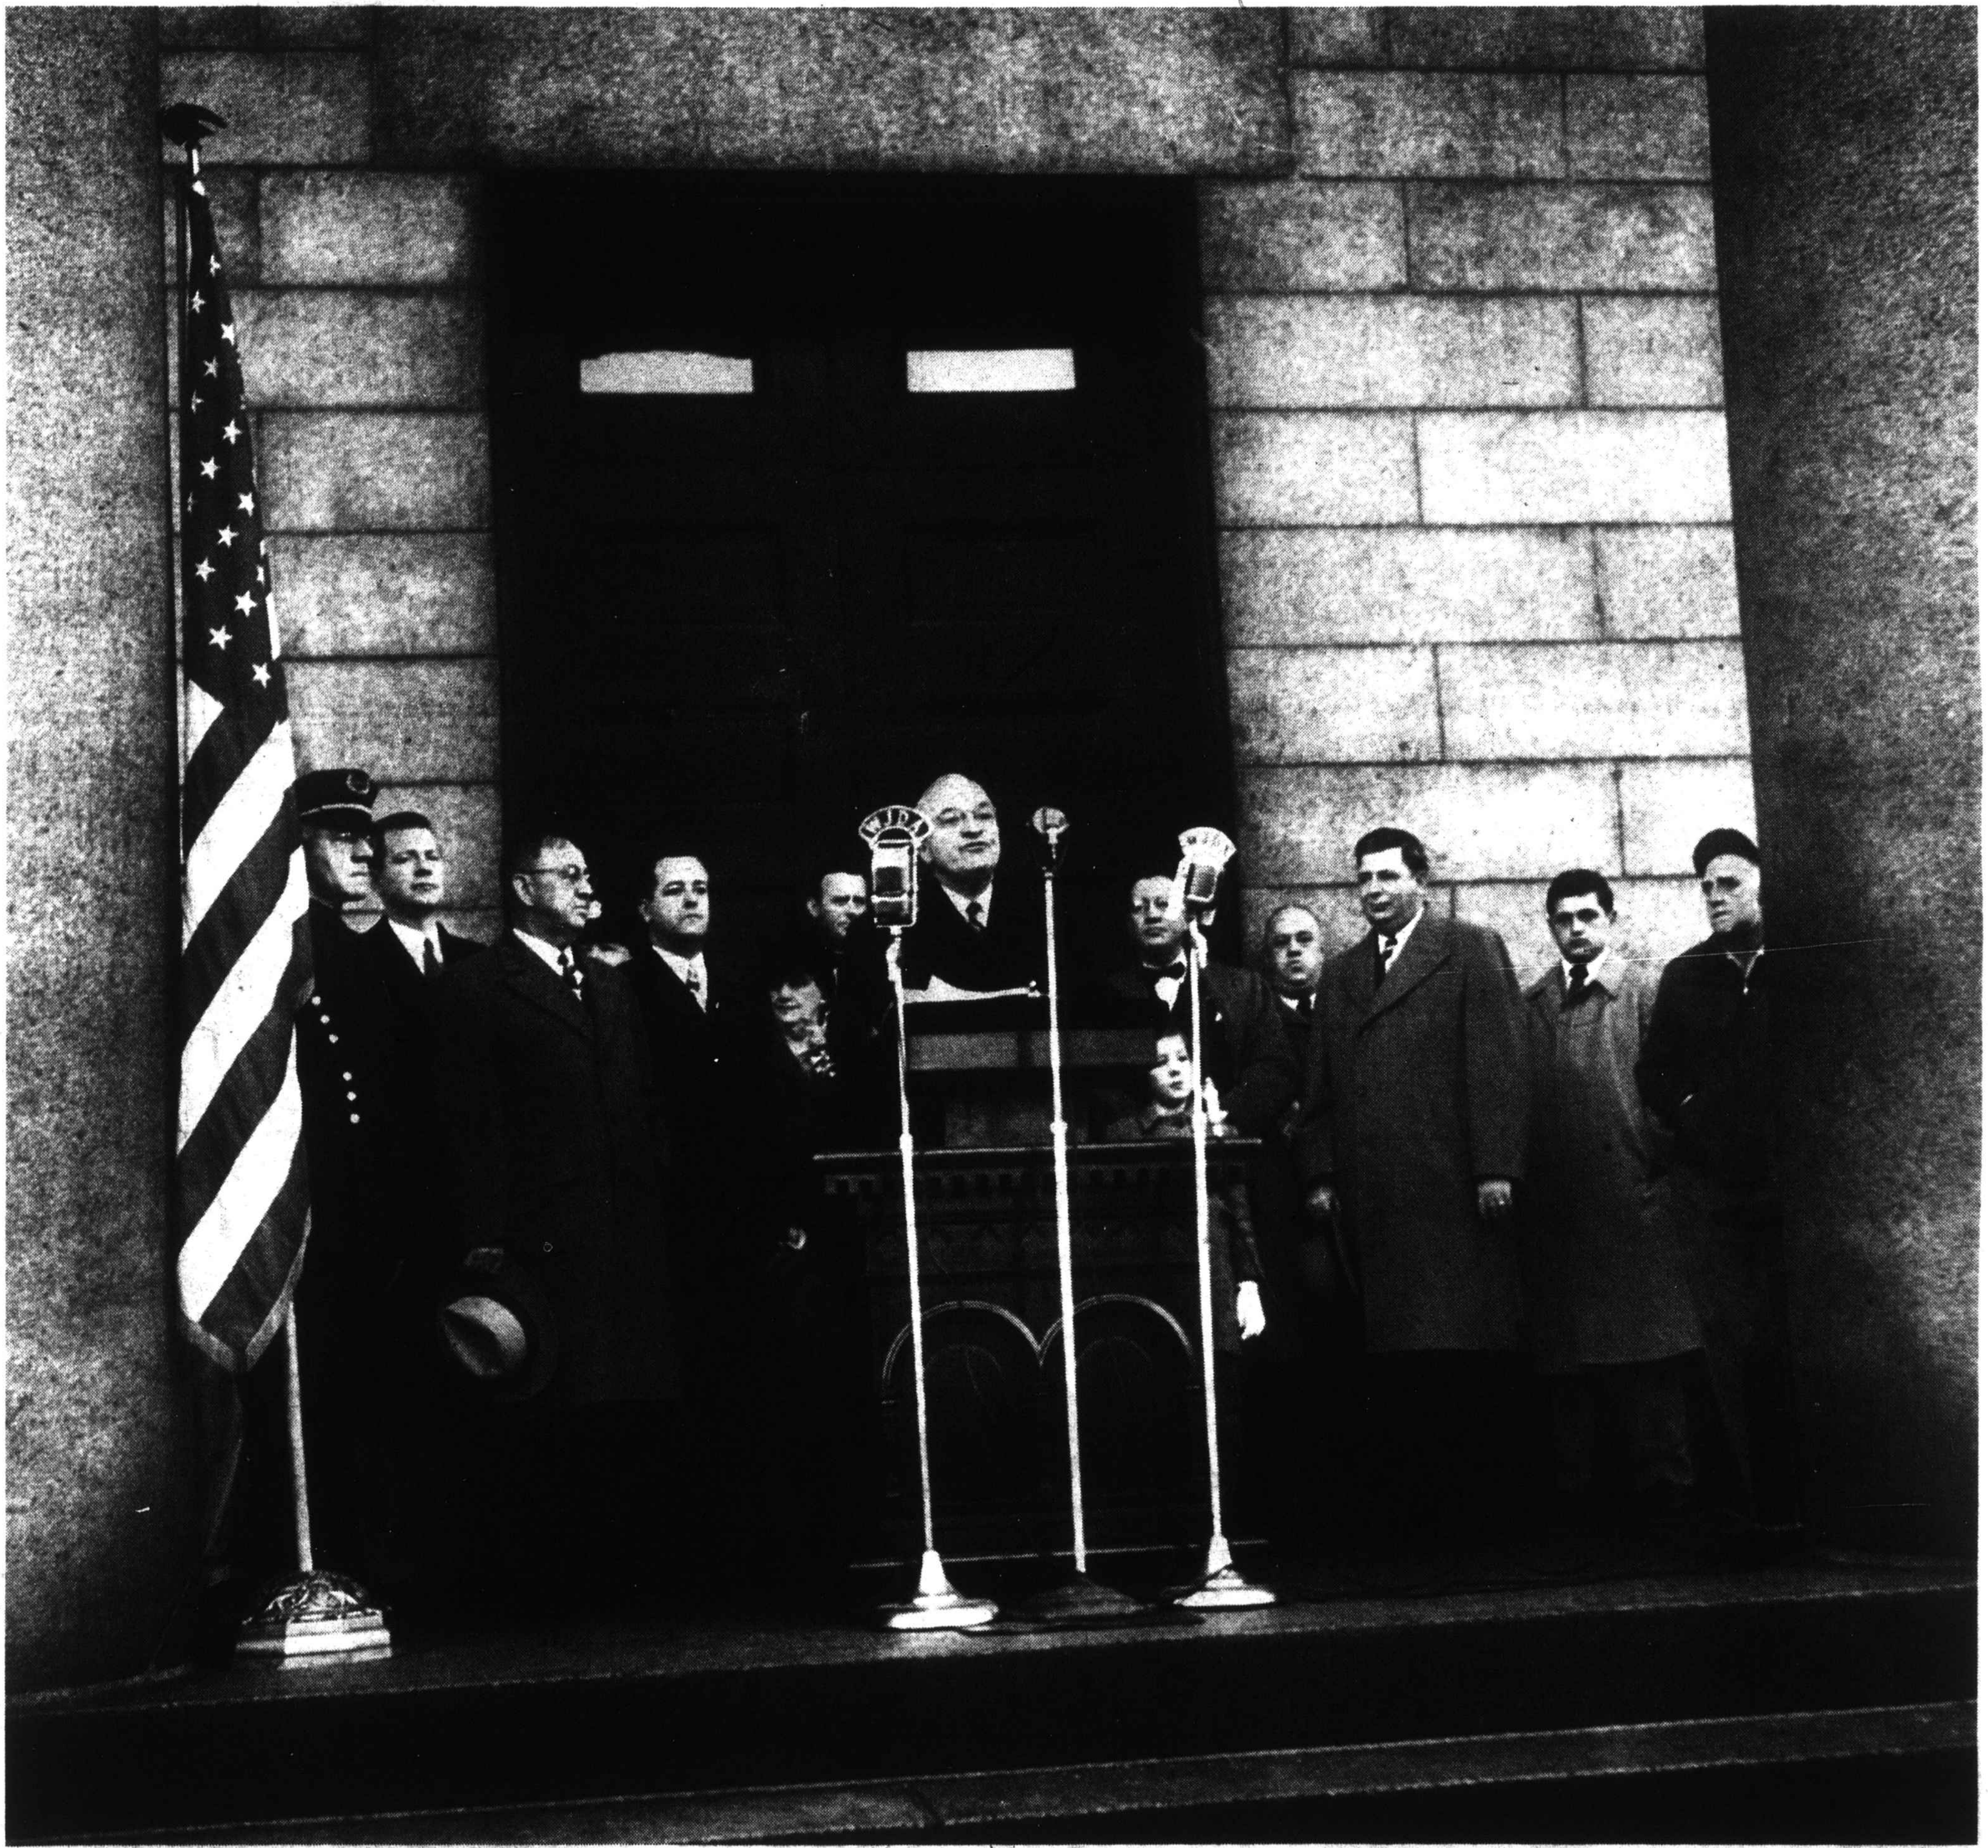
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 42 Thursday, July 9, 2015 75¢

When President Truman Came To Town



And The Local Photographer Who Captured The Historic Event

PRESIDENTIAL HISTORY in the "City Of Presidents" – President Harry S. Truman speaks from the steps of United First Parish Church on Thursday, Oct. 28. 1948 - just days before winning the 1948 Presidential Election. Among those gathered on the steps are Quincy Police Chief John Avery (far left) and Quincy Mayor Charles Ross (holding hat, third from left). This black and white photo was taken by the late Charles Dixon, a Squantum resident who worked as a photographer for many years for The Boston Globe. Truman's visit - 67 years ago this fall - remains the last time a sitting U.S. President has visited Quincy for a public appearance. See Son Beams on Page 4. Other photos on Pages 12, 13, 16 and 17. Charles Dixon Photo Courtesy Jim & Marie Stamos

Meeting Thursday On Olympic Volleyball Plan - Page 2
Voter Registration Available Online - Page 3
Solar Program Deadline Extended - Page 15

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

ON THE FOURTH of July, Squadron 294 of the Sons of the American Legion, Cyril P. Morrisette Post, decorated the commemorative stone at Abigail Adams Park in Quincy in honor of the "Mother of Liberty," Abigail Adams, on the occasion of the 189th anniversary of the passing of her husband, 2nd U.S. President John Adams, on July 4, 1826. Photo Courtesy Guy Ferris

Second Public Meeting Set For July 30

Community Meeting On Olympic Proposal Tonight

A community meeting on a plan to hold beach volleyball events at Squantum Point Park, should Boston be awarded the 2024 summer Olympics, is set for tonight (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. inside the Marina Bay community room, 500 Victory Rd.

Residents will also have a chance to comment on the proposal at a second meeting set for Thursday, July 30 at 6:30 p.m. at the Squantum Elementary School, 50 Huckins Ave.

Boston 2024 – the committee of local business leaders hoping to bring the games to the Bay State – unveiled plans on June 17 to host beach volleyball events in a 20,000 seat temporary stadium at the state-operated park. The plan also includes a number of upgrades to the park, which combined with construction costs for the stadium would total between $23 million and $28.5 million; the organizers said those costs would be privately financed.

The plan includes a 20,000-seat temporary stadium on the parking lot at Squantum Point Park, in the area of the park closest to Marina Bay. The stadium could be constructed in 16 weeks and broken down in seven, according to organizers. Several training courts and other facilities would be housed along a disused runway that cuts through the park.

Cont'd On Page 22

Stop & Shop Summer Concerts

Stop & Shop is hosting a lunchtime summer concert series at the Stop & Shop Plaza, 1385 Hancock St., Quincy Center, every Wednesday July 8 - Aug. 26.

The concerts, from noon to 1 p.m., are free and open to the public.

The event features local artists playing various categories of music including raggae, country, dixie land jazz, Top 40 and more.

STUDENTS ARRIVING FROM OVER 100 UNIVERSITIES

QUINCY COLLEGE
PLYMOUTH, QUINCY & ONLINE

QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU/SUMMER

Summer
FLEX START DATES
5-week session in July.
10-day session in August.

Visiting students from over 100 institutions nationwide choose Quincy College for Summer Sessions.

There is still time to join them. Rapid online registration. Go to quincycollege.edu/summer

DISCOVER QUINCY
50
DAYS of "FREE" DOM
JUNE 13–AUGUST 1

This week's Signature Events:

Concert @ the Crane
Lenny Solomon Band
July 9

Presidential Wreath Laying in honor of John Quincy Adams Birthday Anniversary July 10

The Gallery July 10

Quincycles: The Beaches of Quincy Ride July 11

Quincy Militia vs. Middleboro Cobras July 11

Quincy Rocks Concert: Evan Miller & Los Goutos July 14

For a full list of events, please visit DiscoverQuincy.com.

Discover Quincy, 180 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170. Phone: 617-639-1117

Online Voter Registration

City Officials Also Prep For First Early Voting In Next Year's Presidential Primaries

By SCOTT JACKSON

Residents in Quincy and throughout Massachusetts can now register to vote online; city officials are also preparing for the first early voting in Bay State history, which will be held in the lead up to next year's presidential primaries.

The online voter registration can be done by going to registertovotema.com, which redirects to the state's secure website. Residents then enter identifying information that is verified with the Registry of Motor Vehicle's database; the RMV database is also used to provide the resident's signature.

A resident who does not have an ID issued by the RMV will be directed to the mail-in version of the application, which will print with all of the applicant's personal information and will be pre-addressed to the correct local election official. A resident would also have to submit a mail-in application if the RMV cannot verify the information.

Massachusetts is the 21st state to offer online voter registration, according William Galvin, the secretary of the commonwealth. The Legislature in 2014 mandated the establishment of online registration.

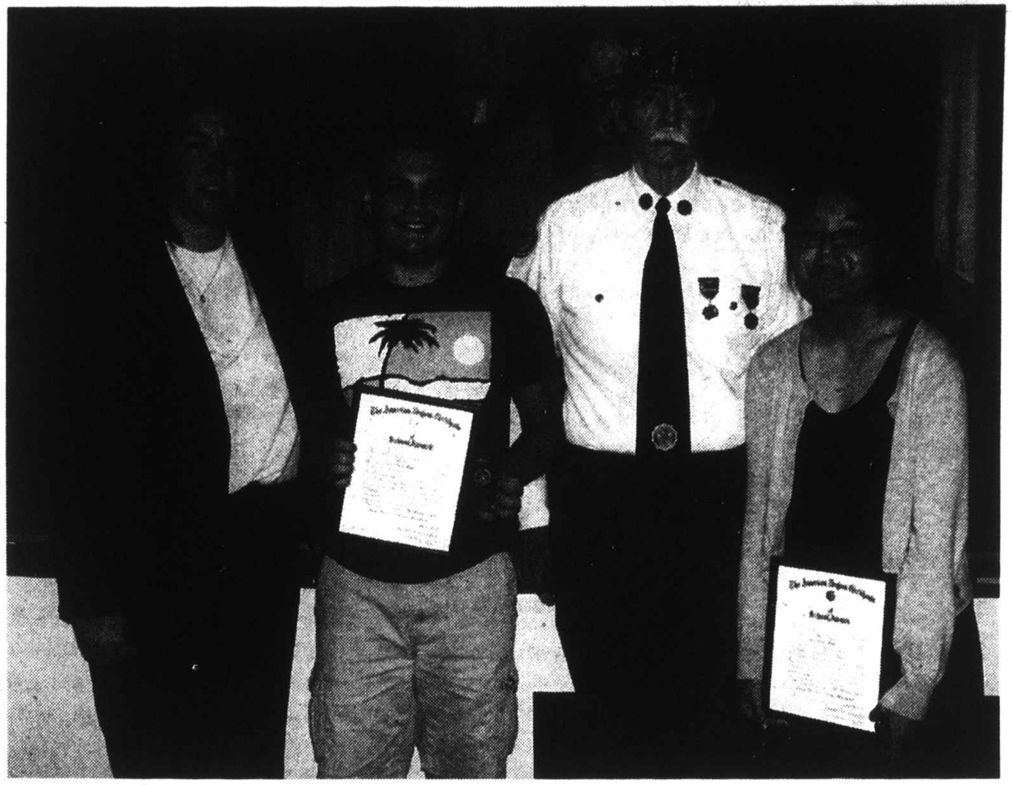
"We're going to go with it. We're going to implement it and we're happy to work with the secretary to get it started this year," City Clerk Joseph Shea said.

By having the online registration up and running for this year's municipal election, Shea said his office could work through any issues that arise before next year's presidential contest.

"They're implementing it this year, so we can work on it in the city election and put it in place for the presidential," he stated. "We will work through it and get it done."

The deadline for residents to register to vote in this year's preliminary municipal election is 8 p.m. on Sept. 2. The preliminary

Cont'd On Page 11



AMERICAN LEGION AWARD RECIPIENTS – Vice Commander Fred McCray of American Legion Post #95 recently presented the American Legion School Awards to Point Webster Middle School students Cindy Trac and Brian O'Connor. The American Legion School Award Medals are given to students who exhibit the highest qualities of citizenship and Americanism, as well courage, honor, leadership, patriotism, scholarship, and service. Cindy and Brian were unanimously selected by their teachers and both students will be attending Quincy High School in September. From left: Principal Christine Barrett, 8th grader Brian O'Connor, Vice Commander Fred McCray and 8th grader Cindy Trac. Photo Courtesy Christine Barrett

Summer 2017 Start Seen For Sterling Construction

By SCOTT JACKSON

Construction of a new Sterling Middle School could begin in two years now that the city has brought on board an architect and project manager for designing the new school.

The city is working with the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA) to replace current Sterling Middle School, which first opened in 1927 and houses students in grades 5-8. The process of replacing the school began in December 2012 when MSBA and local officials toured the current school; the MSBA and city reached an agreement to hold the feasibility study in December 2014.

To complete that study, the city has brought on Watertown-based Joslin Lesser as the owner's project manager Wayland-based Ai3 Architects as the designer for the new school; Ai3 also designed the new Central Middle School, which opened in 2013.

With those companies on board, Mayor Thomas Koch said it could take 18 months for the new building to be designed and go out to bid.

"We're probably a year-and-a-half away from final design and putting the bidding packages out. That would be January of 2017 getting the bidding packages out so we'll be under construction by that summer," the mayor said in a recent interview.

The city plans to construct the new Sterling on the 1.5-acre park located on Roberts Street behind the current school. Koch said there is a number of issues the designer will have to work through, but he believes the new school would

Cont'd On Page 11

Your mortgage and debts paid in full in the next 15 years...

It can happen!

If it's part of your plan to pay off your mortgage, credit cards and home equity loan before you retire, the 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank lets you make it happen. It's also perfect for homeowners who want to borrow against their equity but don't want an adjustable credit line or new 30-year loan. And it may be for you if you have 15+ years left on a mortgage that you'd like to pay off more quickly at a much lower rate. Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. (Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.)

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 06/29/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

LENDER
Insured FDIC

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service

Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169

Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm

(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com

We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

YESTERDAY, TODAY, TOMORROW

There are very few pieces of jewelry that are more coveted than those symbolizing the eternal nature of love. Whether you look to three-stone diamond jewelry as symbolizing past, present, and future, or another of life's significant triads, it is one of the most symbolic and emotional pieces that a woman can wear (aside from her engagement and wedding rings). Thus, it comes as little surprise that three-stone diamond rings and pendants have become one of the most popular gifts for anniversaries. Three-stone diamond rings are also becoming an increasingly popular choice for engagement rings. One large, beautiful diamond flanked by diamonds on each side is the perfect way to declare continuing love and devotion.

Celebrate your love with a three-stone engagement ring from our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. A three-stone engagement ring is the perfect way to honor your unique relationship at this moment in time. If you're looking for a lovely selection of earrings, gemstones, wedding bands, engagement rings, pendants, and watches, you will find it here. We are a full service jewelry store, and we accept custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On July 26, 1775, Congress establishes the United States Post Office and names Benjamin Franklin the first postmaster general. While postmaster, Franklin streamlined postal delivery with properly surveyed and marked routes from Maine to Florida, the origins of Route 1.
- On July 23, 1878, gentleman bandit Black Bart robs a Wells Fargo stagecoach in California. At the next robbery he left behind a handkerchief. Through a laundry mark, Pinkerton detectives traced the handkerchief back to Charles Bolton, an elderly man in San Francisco. Bolton confessed to being Black Bart.
- On July 24, 1915, the steamer Eastland overturns in the Chicago River, drowning more than 800 of its passengers. The disaster was caused by serious problems with the boat's design. The Eastland capsized next to the dock, trapping hundreds of people on or underneath the large ship.
- On July 21, 1959, Elijah Jerry "Pumpsie" Green makes his Boston Red Sox debut, becoming the first black ever to play for the Red Sox, the last team in the major leagues to integrate.
- On July 25, 1965, singer-songwriter Bob Dylan rocks the world of folk music when he performs at the Newport Folk Festival and abandons his acoustic guitar for an electric one. By going electric, Dylan eventually moved rock and folk music closer together.
- On July 20, 1972, a U.S. government study disputes consumer advocate Ralph Nader's charges against the Chevrolet Corvair. Conducted by the National Highway Traffic Administration, the two-year study concluded that 1960-63 Covairs were at least as safe as other cars sold in the same period.
- On July 22, 1990, American cyclist Greg LeMond wins his third Tour de France after leading the majority of the race.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Turkey Train Foliage Ride

The Quincy Council on Aging will head to. New Hampshire Wednesday, Sept. 30th for a scenic foliage ride on the Turkey Train.

The cost of the trip is $74 and includes transportation, train ride and full course luncheon featuring Hart's Turkey Farm roast turkey with whipped potatoes, butternut squash, a beverage and ice cream sundae for dessert as well as local sightseeing and foliage viewing.

The bus will leave Quincy at 9 a.m. and return at approximately 6 p.m.

To register for this trip visit the Quincy Council on Aging at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St. in Quincy. Payment must be made at time of registration.

For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Parkinson's Support Group

The Quincy Parkinson's Support Group was scheduled to meet Wednesday, July 8 at 7 p.m. in the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave.

For more information call 617-770-2090.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Charlie Dixon's Truman Visit Photos

They are images from a day in this city's history that were nearly lost forever.

But thanks to two Squantum residents – Jim and Marie Stamos – the photographs of President Harry S. Truman's visit to Quincy days before the 1948 Presidential Election taken by the late Charles Dixon have been saved and preserved. And two of the black and white snapshots will hang in City Hall – officially the James R. McIntyre Government Center – when the historic building reopens this summer or early fall.

DIXON

First, the photos.

The images were captured on Thursday, Oct. 28, 1948. President Truman stopped in Quincy in the early morning that day as part of a campaign whistle stop tour. An estimated 2,500 people had gathered on Hancock Street in the area of City Hall and United First Parish Church to hear the President speak from atop the steps of the church.

Truman – locked in a tight battle with Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas Dewey – spoke at 7:30 a.m. after being introduced by Quincy Mayor Charles Ross. Also on the steps with the President were Quincy Police Chief John Avery, City Democratic Leader William Flynn, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Paul A. Dever and Lt. Gov. running mate Charles Sullivan; Democratic candidate for attorney general Francis Kelly; Democrat David Concannon of Milton who was running for Congress in the then 13th District and Maurice J. Tobin, former Boston mayor and former Massachusetts governor who was serving as the U.S. Labor Secretary.

Truman's speech was political of course – he was looking for votes and support for himself and other state Democrats on the ballot Nov. 2.

But the President also paid homage to Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams who are entombed in the crypt of the church.

"I have known about Quincy all my life, of course, because it is and has been the home of these two great men," Truman said.

"I am very glad to be here in this historic city this morning, and it is a very high honor to be presented to you on the steps of this church where two great men and their wives are buried.

"You know, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson were political enemies, but they became fast friends. And when they passed away, on the same day (July 4th, 1826), the last words of one of them was, 'The country is safe. Jefferson still lives.' And the last words of the other was, 'John Adams will see that things go forward.'

"You can't beat that in a Republic like this, my friends. That is what makes this country great." Truman told the crowd huddled together on Hancock Street. "We can have our political fights, but we understand that the other fellow has a perfect right to his views no matter what they may be, and he has a right to express them. That is what makes the Constitution of the United States the greatest document of government in the history of the world."

Charles Dixon, a longtime resident of Squantum and photographer for the Boston Globe, took several photos that morning. One shows Truman speaking from the steps of United First Parish Church. Others show the throng of people in Quincy Square who assembled to hear Truman and see the nation's 33rd President. In the background is City Hall – the exterior of Quincy granite structure decorated with patriotic bunting. Positioned above the front doors are headshot photos of Truman. (That photo appears on Pages 16 - 17).

Little did anyone know at the time but Truman's visit here 67 years ago this fall is the last time a sitting U.S. President has made a public appearance in the "City of Presidents."

Also on the steps that day was seven year-old Katie Concannon, daughter of David Concannon, the candidate for Congress. She presented the President with a colorful bouquet of yellow and maroon chrysanthemums. But that heart-warming scene also captured by Charles Dixon almost never happened.

When the President arrived, cute little Katie was told she could not approach the President with her flowers. But word quickly traveled that the young girl was heart-broken and soon enough she was allowed on the steps just behind the President.

And Mayor Ross wasn't the only Charlie Ross present.

Following the President's remarks, Mayor Ross was approached by a man as he stood on the church steps.

"Charlie Ross, meet Charlie Ross," the man said.

The man was Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary. Ross, the press secretary, had graduated high school with Truman and future First Lady, Bess Truman, in Independence, MO. Before joining the President's staff, Charles G. Ross was the first professor of the Missouri School of Journalism.

Also among the crowd were 75 Quincy police officers. The president's motorcade was escorted by a squad of state and Quincy motorcycle officers through the city. Also part of the procession was a large detail of Secret Service men.

Some estimates put the crowd number as high as 10,000. Some school children expressed disappointment that the motorcade from the train depot located behind the Adams Academy traveled too quickly to get a good glimpse of the commander in-chief.

Among the spectators in the crowd outside City Hall that morning was longtime City Clerk and current Norfolk County Commissioner John Gillis.

"Tommy Burke, Dick Koch and myself started the Young Democrats in 1948. Quincy was a big Republican city back then and Democrats lost every election," Gillis recalls. "I was at the church. Dick Koch took the day off, I took the day off. I was in college. Tommy Burke took the day off. We were excited to see the President.

"It was a mob scene. It was crazy. He was a great President," Gillis added.

❑

Charles Dixon, the man behind the camera who took the photos of Truman's visit in 1948, was an accomplished photographer. He covered many events for the Globe during his career including the burial of Robert Kennedy at Arlington National Cemetery in 1968.

Charlie was also a good friend of Jim Stamos.

"I delivered mail to him for 18 years," says Jim, a well-known Squantum resident and Quincy realtor. "He liked cars and he told me he was the Boston Globe's Secret Santa for 40 years. He would get in a helicopter and go to different islands and visit with the lighthouse keepers dressed up in a Santa suit.

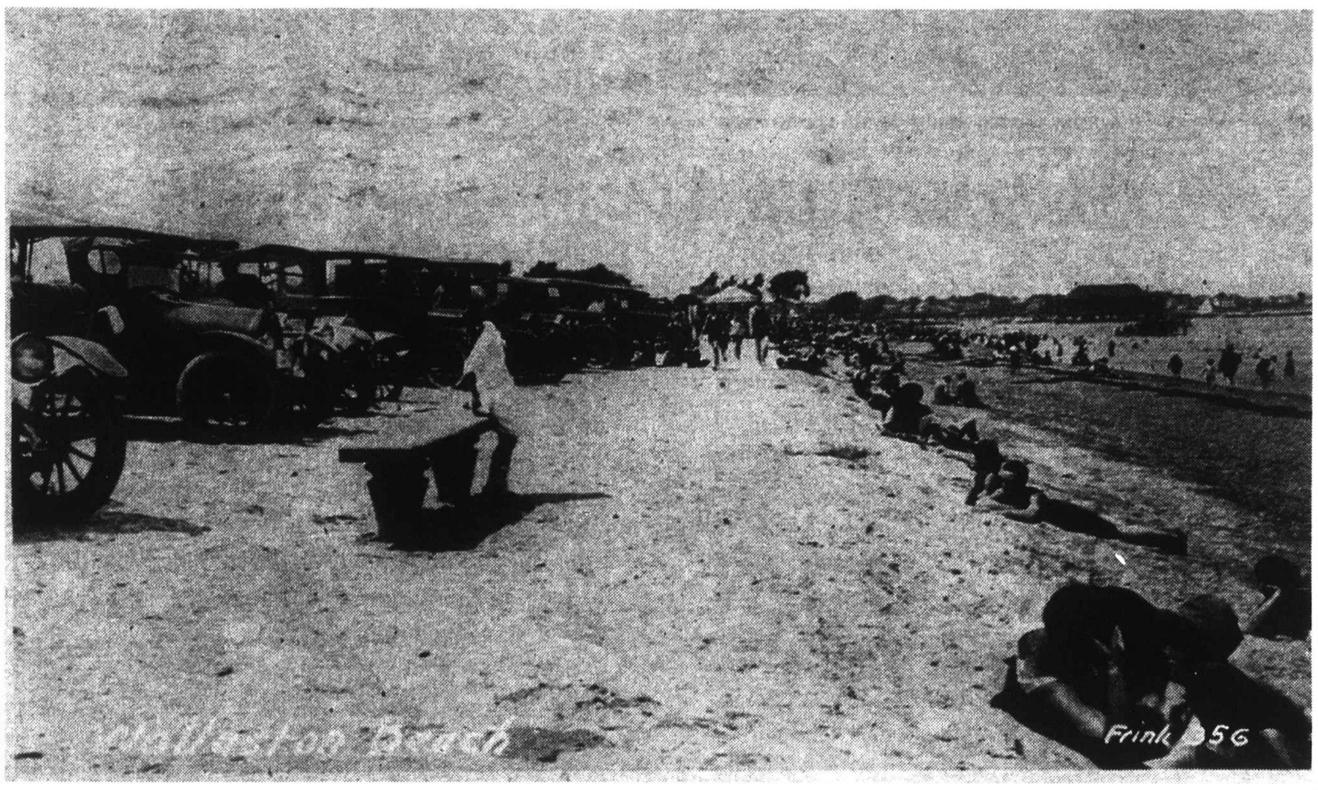
"He built his house out of a rock pile that was just incredible. He was a genuinely nice man."

Charles Dixon died Nov. 20, 2010 at the age 95. He had served in the U.S. Coast Guard during World War II escorting troop ships in dangerous waters and participated in the occupation of Germany. He retired from the Coast Guard Reserve achieving the rank of full commander.

Charlie was born with film and ink in his blood. He was the son of John "Joe" Dixon, a Boston newspaper photographer and Ellen Buchanan Dixon, a Boston

Cont'd On Page 12

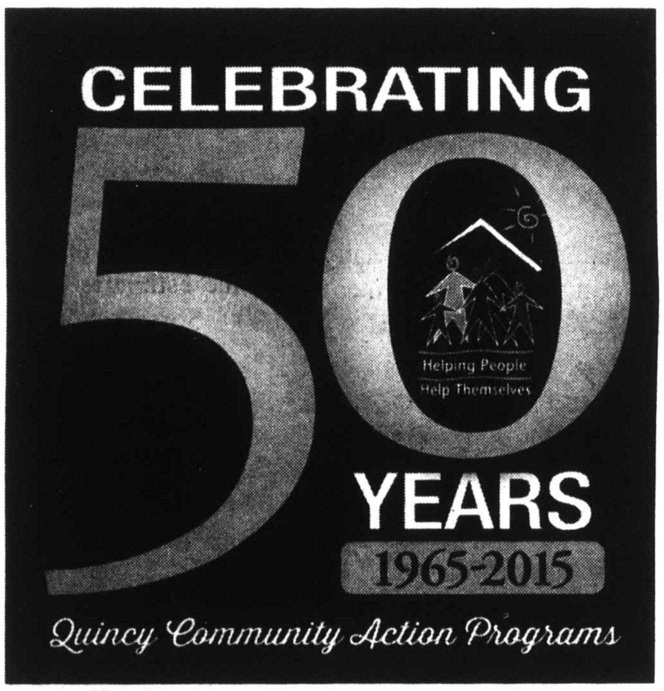
Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1925 real photo postcard view of Wollaston Beach from near the end of Rice Road looking north. Flooding along here during storms led to the first seawall being built the length of the beach the following year. In the distant right is the Wollaston Yacht Club. In front of it is one of the floats that the Metropolitan Commission put along the beach in the summer for swimming. The woman who sent this postcard came down to Wollaston from Albany. N.Y., perhaps in a Model T parked on the left. Henry Frink, a Quincy photographer, published this and many other Wollaston Beach postcards in the 1920's. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy Community Action Marking 50 Years



CELEBRATING
50
Helping People Help Themselves
YEARS
1965-2015
Quincy Community Action Programs

Quincy Community Action Programs (QCAP) will celebrate its 50th anniversary with a special event Friday, July 17 at 5:30 p.m. at "Peace field" at the Adams National Historical Park in Quincy.

Cong. Stephen F. Lynch will be the keynote speaker.

The 50th Anniversary Community Action Champion Awards will be presented to State Street Corporation and Foundation, and to United Way of Massachusetts Bay & Merrimack Valley. Melinda Alexander, Emergency Food Center Coordinator, and Renee Sword, Shelter Coordinator in QCAP's Housing Program, will receive the Lois Craig Memorial Employee Awards.

"We are delighted to celebrate this extraordinary milestone," said QCAP CEO Beth Ann Strollo. "We invite friends, partners, staff, and clients who have shared in our mission over our 50 year history to join us to on July 17."

Since 1965, Quincy Community Action has been the leading anti-poverty service provider in the Greater Quincy region. The organization was incorporated as a result of President Lyndon B. Johnson's landmark "War on Poverty," legislation that sought to address the economic conditions that caused poverty. Its first president was William J. Trifone, and first executive director was Russell O'Connell.

Today, Quincy Community Action Programs (QCAP) has expanded programs to reach a service area consisting of more than 80 communities. Annually, approximately 20,000 unduplicated people benefit from QCAP services. This includes food and nutrition, fuel assistance and weatherization, housing services and affordable housing, Head Start, quality early education and care assistance, information, and referral, adult education and workforce development, job coaching and placement, free tax preparation, and financial education.

Tickets to the event are $75 and are available at www.qcap.org or by calling 617-657-5356. There will be a garden reception with light fare in the gardens of Abigail Adams followed by the awards presentation in the Carriage House.

Limited Openings In Special Needs Summer Program

The Quincy Recreation Department announces limited openings in its special needs summer program, Happy Acres.

Happy Acres is celebrating its 52nd year of operation this summer. The program is held at Pageant Field in Merrymount Park and includes city residents who are diagnosed with moderate disabilities. Students may enter the program at age 7 and continue until they graduate high school.

The program participants take part in recreational activities such as kickball, arts and crafts, wiffleball, boating, swimming, bowling, special events and field trips.

The program operates from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday through Aug. 7th.

Transportation is provided. Participants do not have to attend all sessions. A Licensed special education teacher, college staff, and community volunteers provide supervision.

For enrollment information and assessment of program suitability call 617-376-1394.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME ______________________________

STREET ______________________________

CITY ____________ STATE ______ ZIP ________

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1976
39 Years Ago

Hancock St. A Mall For Sidewalk Bazaar

The seventh annual Sidewalk Bazaar kicked off on Thursday, July 15 with Hancock Street turned into a pedestrian mall for three days.

The event is sponsored by the Quincy Center Business and Professional Association. Some 30 booths, gaily striped and canopied, dot both sides of Hancock Street, displaying the wares and programs of downtown merchants, civic groups and fraternal organizations. Music will be provided by Baron Hugo and his pageant orchestra, and the Quincy High Alumni Band.

Highlight of the festivities will be the selection and crowning of Miss Quincy Bay Friday evening.

$25,000 REHABILITATION PROGRAM FOR SOUTHWEST AREA

A comprehensive community rehabilitation program will get underway shortly in the Water St-Southwest Quincy area; it was announced by the Department of Planning and Community Development.

Estimated costs were pegged at $25,000, including federal funds from the Community Development Block Grant and the Housing Rehabilitation Loan Program. Planning Director Lars N. Lundin said the immediate objective of the program will be to correct those conditions, which exist in the neighborhood, which endanger the health and safety of the residents.

QUINCY-ISMS

Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain, during a visit to the Greater Boston area, cut a cake made for her by Quincy's master baker Ernest Montilio... Rep. Joseph E. Brett (D-Quincy) announced his candidacy for a 10th term as state representative in the Third Norfolk District. (Editor's Note: He didn't make it.)... Maria Del Rosso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Del Rosso, 10 Willow St., Wollaston, was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science Magna Cum Laude, from Suffolk University... Michael W. Morrissey, 22, of 88 Colby Rd., announced his candidacy for State Representative in the Third Norfolk District. Morrissey is a graduate of North Quincy High School and the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. (Editor's Note: He made it.)... Marine Private First Class Richard A. Mountford, son of Mr. Henry Mountford, 180 Essex St., Squantum, reported for duty at the Marine Corps Air Station, New River, Jacksonville, Florida... The Wollaston Theater, Beale St., was featuring Bill Cosby and Raquel Welch in "Mother, Jugs and Speed." Admission $1... Robert T. Batson of Quincy, received a degree in fire science with high honors... Some 400 parents and youngsters attend the Koch Club's 29th annual picnic at Pageant Field, Merrymount. Richard J. Koch, executive director of the Koch Club, called it one of the most successful such events in the Club's long history... Eleanor Villard, 44 Burns Ave., Quincy Point, was elected president of the Catholic Young Adults Organization (Chi Rho) of the Boston Archdiocese, the first woman to hold the post in the group's 20 year history... Mrs. Nancy Santry was elected chairman of the Lincoln-Hancock Community School Council. Ronald Kaufman was elected vice-chairman, Deborah Ross, recording secretary, Thomas Brow, Jr., treasurer and Mrs. Edie Ruta, corresponding secretary... City Councillor at-Large Paul Harold was covering the Democratic National Convention in New York City for The Quincy Sun... The Pilgrim Luncheonette, 1472 Hancock St., Quincy Center, was asking visitors to the Sidewalk Bazaar to "Dine With Us, Great Food, Great Service."... Quincy Typewriter Service, 5 Maple St., Quincy Center, offering a Smith Corona Coronet Super 12 Typewriter for $229, $10 off with a copy of this ad... Henry Bosworth of The Quincy Sun and Kenneth P. Fallon, Jr., of WJDA were co-chairmen of the Miss Quincy Bay Pageant... Navy Fireman Apprentice Joseph T. Keller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keller, Sr., 207 Whitwell St., graduated from the Hull Maintenance Technician School at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif... James C. Fratolillo, 374 Manet Ave., Houghs Neck, was accepted into a seven week summer program at the Berklee College of Music in Boston.

Maria Droste Annual Fashion Show Brings 'Hope To Life'

Bringing hope to life, the Maria Droste Counseling Agency's Annual Spring Fashion Show was recently held at Lantana's in Randolph.

Each year this event is held to benefit the efforts of the Quincy agency. This year, Honorary Chairpersons were Rosemary and Arthur Wahlberg of Quincy, and as always this event proved to be a very fashionable opportunity to socialize with friends and associates.

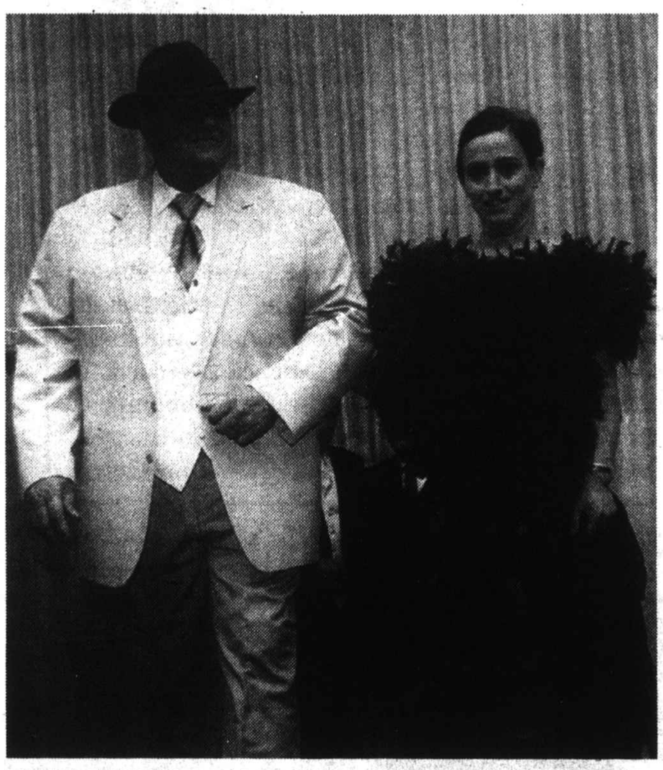
At the event, several local trend setters, both male and female, took to the runway. Ladies modeled important spring selections form a well-known Boston Couturier, David Josef. A selection of accessories were provided by Quincy native, designer Lindsay Tia Reilly. The male side of fashion was featured in a collection from Hajjar's Apparel for Men of Quincy. Hairstyles were under the direction of Susan Canavan from Aura of Quincy and makeup was provided by Brittany Fasano.

The staff of professional counselors at the Maria Droste Agency, all believe in four basic values: acceptance, respect, compassion and healing. To bring "Hope to Life," they provide quality services to ALL in need of a brighter future by offering affordable and timely mental health and holistic services. Since the Agency's opening in 1992, with this mission as a guiding force, the staff and volunteer professionals have provided critical support on a sliding fee scale, based on each client's ability to pay, to individuals, couples, family groups, with clients from seven to seventy. The generosity of supporting people in the community not unlike those organizing this special evening, as well as those attending the event have been vital to the agency's success. The agency values greatly all support given to their efforts.

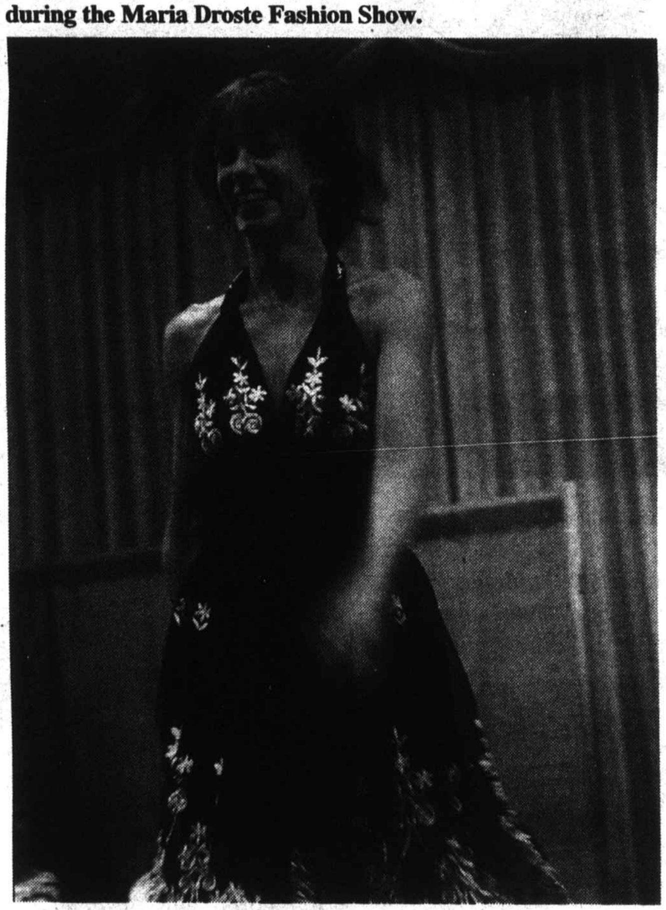
MICHELLE STENBERG, fashion show co-chairwoman, welcomes Boston designer David Josef to the Maria Droste Fashion Show.

MARALIN MANNING, event co-chairwoman, was escorted down the runway by Don Uvanitte of Eastern Insurance at the Maria Droste Fashion Show.

DOLLY Di PESA was escorted by her son, Anthony, at the Maria Droste Fashion Show.



BRUCE WOOD escorts David Josef model, Madeline Cheney during the Maria Droste Fashion Show.

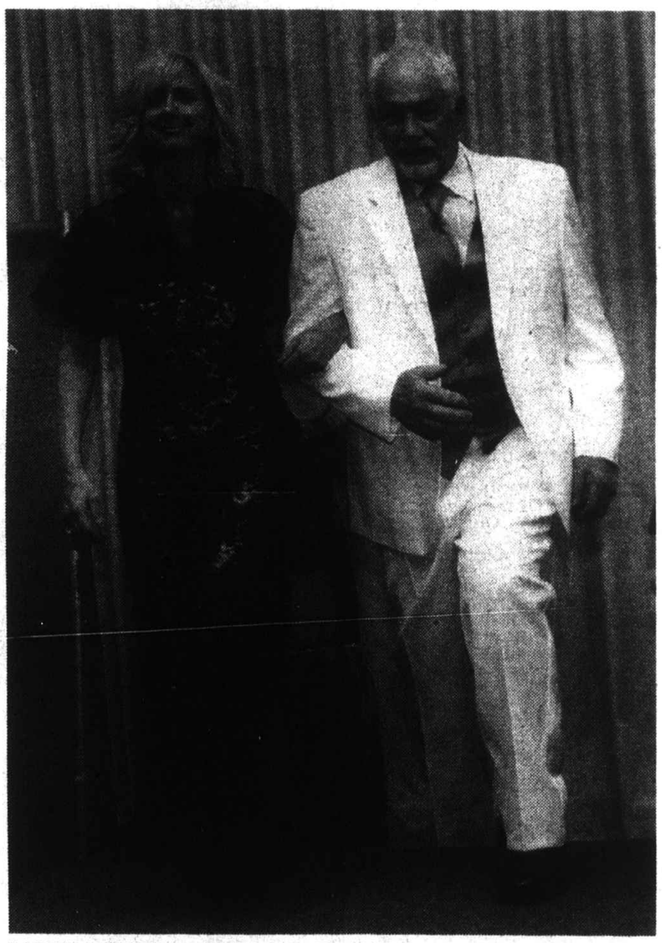


TINA TUGGLE models a David Josef formal during the Maria Droste Fashion Show.

STATE AUDITOR Suzanne Bump shows off one of Quincy designer Tia Linsay Reilly's popular "Bravery Bag" during the Maria Droste Fashion Show.

Photos Courtesy Maralin Manning

PERENNIAL FASHION SHOW favorite Frank Trainor escorts Lisa Cooney at the Maria Droste Fashion Show.



JANET JOYCE, of SBank in David Josef and Bruce Stenberg in a Hajjar ensemble walk the runway at the recent Maria Droste Fashion Show.

MARIA DROSTE BOARD Member Steve DesRoche walks with David Josef model, Jane Conway.

Social

Town Brook Pocket Parks Tour Saturday

The Park Department's Environmental Treasures Program and the Planning Department invite the public to a free tour of the two new pocket parks created along Town Brook.

The tour will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 11. Participants should meet at the intersection of Hannon Parkway (Revere Road) and Mechanic Street. Parking is available at the Hancock lot for a fee.

City Principal Planner Rob Stevens will describe the history of the project and Landscape Architect Matt Ulrich of UBLA Landscaping and Wetlands Scientist Chris Lucas of Lucas Environmental will discuss the Parks' design and features, including a hanging wall and a rain garden.

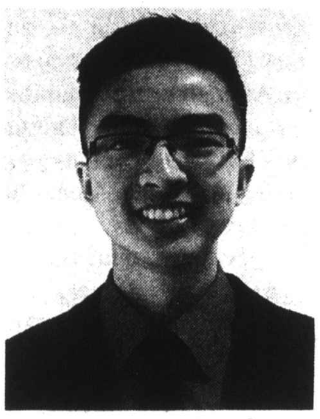
This part of the tour is wheelchair accessible. Following the talk there will be a short stroll to one of the most scenic viewpoints of the brook.

Optional: participants are invited to bring a picnic (or pick up a sandwich or slice of pizza at a nearby store) to enjoy the new parks.

Because there is no shade in the park, bringing water, sunscreen and a hat or umbrella are recommended. No registration is required.

For more information and rain date rescheduling call 617-472-0799.

Henry Fong Awarded Honors College Scholarship



HENRY FONG

Henry Fong, son of Kam Fong of Quincy, has been given the Commonwealth Honors College Opportunity Scholarship by Commonwealth Honors College at the University of Massachusetts Amherst.

The Commonwealth Honors College Opportunity Scholarship supports current UMass Amherst students admitted to CHC as part of the on-campus application process. Selection for this scholarship is based on a combination of the student's UMass Amherst record and financial need.

Fong is a member of the UMass Amherst class of 2018 who pursues a major in Finance. He graduated from North Quincy High School in 2014.

Commonwealth Honors College provides an intellectually challenging undergraduate curriculum for academically talented UMass Amherst students from all backgrounds. This community of scholars prepares students for responsible engagement and future leadership in society.

Two Quincy Students Receive Honors At Phillips Exeter Academy

Two Quincy students have achieved academic honors at Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, N.H. for the spring term.

They are:

Michelle Ramiz, grade 11, earned High Honors for the spring term.

Ilayda Piyale, grade 12, earned High Honors for the spring term.

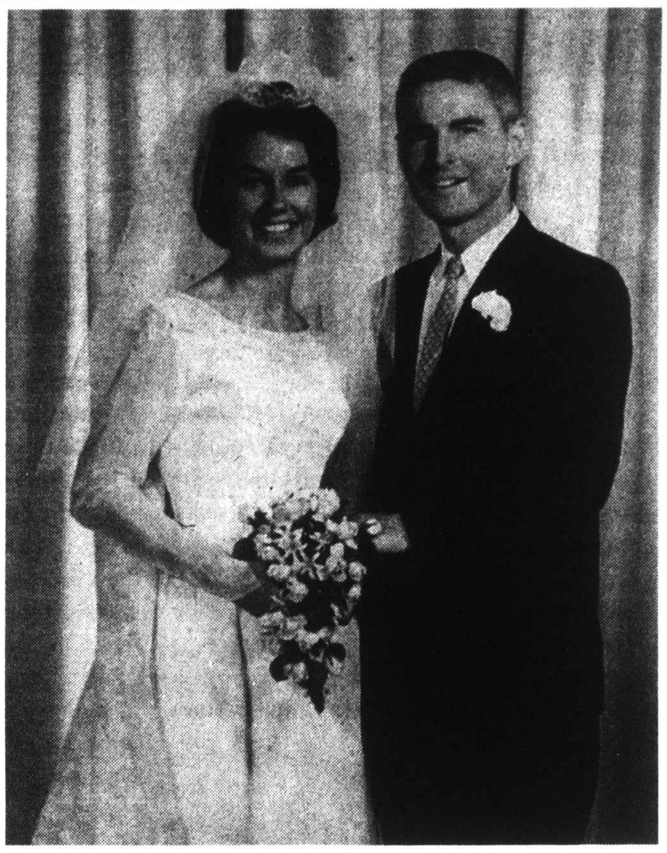
Caitlin Cantor On Holy Cross Dean's List

Caitlin Cantor of Quincy, a fourth-year student at the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, has been named to the Dean's List for the second semester.

She is the daughter of Joann Sullivan Cantor of Quincy.

Cantor also graduated this spring with a degree in studio art and psychology.

MR. and MRS. JAMES GRALTON recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a Mass given by Cardinal Sean O'Malley at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston's South End.



50 YEARS AGO on June 26, 1965, Mr. and Mrs. James Gralton were married in St. Ann's Church in Wollaston.

Mr., Mrs. James Gralton Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversay

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gralton of Marlboro Street in Quincy recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

They were married at St. Ann's Church in Wollaston on June 26, 1965. They recently attended a Mass given by Cardinal Sean O'Malley at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in the South End of Boston, to celebrate their anniversary.

The Graltons are the parents of four children and 11 grandchildren.

James, originally from South Boston, retired from the U.S. Postal Service at the South Postal Annex in South Boston. His wife Mary M. (Regan), originally from Portsmouth, N.H., is a retired Quincy Public School teacher. She taught math for over 25 years at North Quincy High School.

10 Earn Nursing, Health Degrees

Ten students from Quincy recently earned degrees at the MGH Institute of Health Professions in Boston.

They are:

Mark Abair II, Bachelor of Science in nursing degree.

Stella Chen, Bachelor of Science in nursing degree.

Alyssa Distasi, Bachelor of Science in nursing degree.

Karen Mui, Bachelor of Science in nursing degree.

Lydia Southworth, Master of Science in nursing degree.

Aurora Stevens, Master of Science in nursing degree.

Trang Vo, Bachelor of Science in nursing degree.

Mara Batzli, Master of Science in nursing degree.

Man Yin Leung, Master of Science in speech-language pathology degree.

Hoa Tran, Master of Science in nursing degree.

Six Graduate Boston College

Six Quincy residents recently earned degrees from Boston College in Chestnut Hill.

They are:

Daniel Hartel, Bachelor of Arts degree in communication.

Amy Tarrant graduated magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree in communication.

Samantha Lawson, Bachelor of Arts degree in political science.

Nicholas Gillespie, Bachelor of Arts degree majoring in psychology and French.

Doris Wong of Quincy, Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry.

Christine Higgins, Bachelor of Science degree in nursing.

NYC POLICE COMMISSIONER William J Bratton (left), his wife, CBS legal analyst and Investigation Discovery host Rikki Klieman, and Quincy's George Regan recently ttended the New York Police Foundation Gala at the Waldorf Astoria NYC. Bratton, former Boston Police Commissioner, was the honorary chairman of the evening.

Photo Courtesy Regan Communications

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Get Local!
QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

Beat the Summer Heat with a Cool New Style!
HPO
HAIRPLACE ONE
85 QUINCY AVENUE
Call for Appt.
617-472-1060
www.hairplaceone.com

WHAT'S COOKING with Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Joe's Eggplant, Chicken Entree

By MARIE

My niece Ann's husband Joe, even though he is Irish, sometimes cooks a delicious Italian entree. Today's recipe is for an eggplant, chicken dish that is a real tasty treat.

EGGPLANT, CHICKEN & PASTA

1 medium sized eggplant (cubed)
1/2 pound chicken tenders (cut in pieces)
6 ounces sliced mushrooms
1 large can or jar of tomato sauce (homemade if you have it)
1/2 pound medium shells grated Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons olive oil
salt and pepper to taste
1 teaspoon garlic powder

In the hot oil, saute the eggplant until it is al dente. Set aside. In the same pan, saute the chicken, mushrooms and then add the tomato sauce, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Cook for about 20 minutes.

Boil the pasta according to directions. In a large bowl, place the pasta, pour the eggplant sauce over, and sprinkle with grated cheese.

Red, White & Blue Potato Salad

By SUZIE

How about some red, white, and blue potato salad?

Blue/purple hued potatoes look quite "exotic" for sure, but taste pretty much like regular potatoes. These colorful potatoes pack a big nutritional punch by providing carotenoids, and antioxidants like "anthocyanin" that is also found in berries and pomegranets.

This potato is also very resistant to disease and are also able to withstand harsh conditions, which makes it a good environmental choice as well! Here is a delicious and simple potato salad recipe. ENJOY!

2 pounds baby potatoes, a mix of white and blue (or purple)
1/4 cup lemon juice
4 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
1/2-1 tsp Sea salt (I love Redmonds Real Salt)
Freshly ground pepper to taste
3/4 cup chopped roasted red peppers, rinsed
5 scallions, thinly sliced
1 large clove of garlic, minced
1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley

1. Place potatoes in a large saucepan or Dutch oven and cover with salted water. Bring to a boil and cook until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water. Transfer to a cutting board. Let cool for 20 minutes.

2. Whisk lemon juice, oil, salt and pepper and garlic in a large bowl. Cut the potatoes in half, add to the bowl and toss to coat.

3. Just before serving, add peppers, scallions and parsley to the salad and toss gently.

Stacey's Colorful Macaroni Salad

By MARIE

Here is a great and colorful macaroni salad made by my granddaughter Stacey that was such a great addition to a recent cookout. Also made an Asian slaw to go with it. Both recipes are included today.

If you are not a fan of this kind of a salad, you will be after trying this one.

MACARONI SALAD

1 pound of Penne pasta
8 ounces of Greek plain yogurt
1/4 cup white Balsamic vinegar
1/4 cup white rice vinegar
Salt and cracked black pepper
1/4 creamy Italian dressing
1 green pepper (diced small)
1 red pepper (diced small)
8 ounces asparagus (cut in small pieces)

Cook the asparagus until tender. Set aside. Cook the penne pasta according to directions. In a bowl combine the yogurt with the two vinegars, salt and pepper, and the dressing. Add the pasta to the dressing and mix gently until done.

Stacey's Asian Slaw

By MARIE

This is a delicious coleslaw and one that Stacey served with her macaroni salad.

ASIAN SLAW

2 packages Ramen beef noodles (she used organic)
1 package of plain cole slaw
2 bunches of scallions (chopped)
8 ounces of sliced almonds
1 package of unsalted sunflower seeds
1 cup vegetable oil
1/2 cup white vinegar
1/4 cup low sodium soy sauce
1 teaspoon honey (mixed with the spices included in the noodle packages)

Smash the noodles raw and place in a bowl. Add all of the rest of the ingredients and mix well. How easy is that?

Summer Fun At The Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane
Public Library

Are you looking for ways to keep busy this summer? Check out the dozens of programs available at the Thomas Crane Public Library beginning June 26th as we participate in the nationwide summer reading adventure, "Every Hero has a Story." The Thomas Crane Public Library's summer library adventure is two full months of fun for children of all ages.

Learn about reptiles, train to be a Jedi Knight o Superhero, hear concerts, listen to the stories of Anansi and Davy Crockett, show your creativity with crafts, participate in pajama storytimes, play with bubbles, watch a magic show and movies and more all for free this summer at the library.

The library offers programs for children of all ages; details are available on the library's website thomascranelibrary.org.

Every Monday afternoon stop by the North Quincy Branch Library at 2 p.m. for a movie matinee.

Art-to-go a series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy. Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch. Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft. The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays. Our first craft will be a starry red, white and blue wreath to celebrate the Fourth of July.

For a complete listing of all summer programs and activities check out the Events Calendar and Summer Fun section of our website thomascranelibrary.org

These programs are supported in part by a grant from the Quincy Arts Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency and the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Programs Summer 2015

Art-to-Go

Mon., Main Library; Tues., Adams Shore; Wed., Wollaston; Thurs., North Quincy

Drop in from 2 to 4 p.m. up to age 8

Week of July 6th – Windsocks

Week of July 13th – Spiderman scene

Week of July 20th – Firefighter craft

Week of July 27th – Doorhanger

Week of Aug. 3rd – Superhero masks

Week of Aug. 10th – Superhero capes

Week of Aug. 17th – Spidey's web

Week of Aug. 24th – Back-to-school bookmarks

❑

Crafts, movies, Jedi Knights and more at the library this week

Would you like to show off your talent this summer? Stop by the Main library or check our website for information on how you can sign up to participate in our annual Children's Talent Show on Aug. 26th. This summer we have an extra opportunity for you to show us your acting skills. On Aug. 18th the Activated Story Theatre will be performing at the Main Library and there are a limited number of spots for children ages 6-10 to act in the show. Check our website for details.

❑

"Let's Play Together" Pajama Storytime

On Wednesday, July 8th at 6:30 p.m. in the Large Meeting Room at the main Library storyteller Diana Kane presents "Let's Play Together," pajama storytimes designed especially for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult. Come see Ms. Diana for 45 minutes of interactive stories, partner dances, playing in a band and singing together. This six week program is designed for adults and children to enjoy stories and songs as a family. This is a great time for you and your children to sing, dance, listen and talk with each other.

Superhero Cookies @ Adams Shore

On Thursday, July 9th at 2 p.m. children ages 7 and older are invited to join Miss Lori at the Adams Shore Branch Library for a super sweet afternoon decorating cookies and other superhero treats.

❑

Bubble Time

Friday, July 10th at 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Main Library Lawn (rain date 7/17 must be outside)

All Ages

Join us on the front lawn of the library to blow some bubbles! We will have tubs of bubble solution and plenty of bubble makers to experiment with. Can you make giant bubbles? Little tiny bubbles? Can you make bubbles with your hands or do you need a bubble wand? Find out if a square bubble wand makes square bubbles and grab some bubble solution recipes to try out at home. Parents this is sure to be loads of soapy, soaking fun so make sure your children are dressed to get messy.

This program must take place outdoors so in case of bad weather we will blow our bubbles on July 17th.

❑

Storytelling at the Farmers Market, weather permitting

Friday, July 10th at noon

Join us each week at the Farmer's Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy—Lion King

Monday, July 13th at 2 p.m.

This movie is rated G and runs for 89 minutes.

❑

Mother Goose and Little Bo Peep

Tuesday, July 14th at10 a.m.

Main Library Lawn weather permitting

Ages 0-3

Join children's librarians Jane Miller and Gail Columbare on the library lawn as they present Mother Goose and Little Bo-Peep: a Nursery Rhyme and Song Extravaganza. This is a fun-filled program of stories and songs for children ages 4 months to 4 years old accompanied by an adult. No registration is required. This program is especially geared toward very young children.

Cont'd On Page 10

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

QUINCY CENTER PHYSICAL THERAPY
Sports Injuries • General Injuries
Post Surgery
Most Private Insurance Accepted
Medicare, Workers Comp & MVA
101 Adams Street, Suite 26 • Quincy, MA 02169
Phone (617)770-5900 • Fax (617)770-5905

Adams-Hancock Green Update Seen This Summer

By SCOTT JACKSON

Ongoing roadwork in Quincy Center should be completed this fall, Mayor Thomas Koch said in a recent interview, and a meeting will be held by the end of the summer to update residents and business owners on plans for the new Adams-Hancock Green between City Hall and the United First Parish Church.

The $8 million project, largely funded by a $7 million federal earmark, will result in a number of improvements to roads and sidewalks in Quincy Center. Once completed the area will feature widened sidewalks, primarily paved with bricks on Hancock, Temple and Granite Streets, and concrete along Coddington Street. Trees will be planted and new streetlights, benches, and trash receptacles installed. The roads will all be repaved, with bicycle lanes and elevated crosswalks for pedestrians added. The project will be fully compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The biggest change of the roadway and sidewalk improvement project is the closure of Hancock Street between City Hall and the United First Parish Church to make way for the new park.

The project, which is being overseen by the Massachusetts Department of Transportation, began in 2014 and was scheduled for completion by the end of this October. Koch said the roadwork – including the reconfiguration of traffic around the United First Parish Church – should be finished by the end of the fall.

"The bulk of it should be [finished] by the fall," the mayor explained. "I don't know if all the trees and other stuff will be in, but the new configuration should be in by the end of the construction season by the end of the fall. Hopefully the weather doesn't close in early."

After the portion of Hancock Street between the church and City Hall closes, it will be converted into a new public park, the Adams-Hancock Green. Before the park can be constructed, underground utilities under that stretch of Hancock Street need to be replaced.

"We can't begin the final park until we get all the underground stuff squared away," Koch said. "We've got some additional grant monies we're pursuing there, which I think will be favorable results."

Boston-based Halvorson Design Partnership has been tasked with designing the new public space. The mayor said the designer is completing finishing touches and the city will hold a meeting on the design in the coming weeks.

"The design is probably at 95 percent. We're just doing some finishing touches with Halvorson," Koch said. "We will probably have another community meeting at the end of the summer to roll it out again."

The mayor said he has asked Halvorson to design a new walk of names and to complete that portion of the work prior to the rest of the park. In 2013, the city removed some 4,000 bricks from McIntyre Mall as renovation work at Old City Hall began. Those bricks will be featured in the new Adams-Hancock Green, though the city could use new bricks with the same engravings as the old ones.

"We're taking out the walk of names as part of the park. I've asked them to take that out to get that done sooner. We're going through that iteration now of what we will do," the mayor stated.

"I'm inclined to get new bricks to match everything new down in the park rather than use the old bricks that were there 20 years that are faded and chipped. If that happens we can make the old bricks available if families want to take the bricks."

Koch said the initial $30 million price tag for the park has been reduced down to $20 million and could be as low as $15 million depending on the grants Quincy receives for it moving forward.

"As we continue to chip away with the grants we're getting the total dollar figure for the park continues to drop. What once was a $30 million park, because we've already done certain stages of it, we will be down to a $20 million number of perhaps a $15 million number," Koch said.

"The $30 million was everything – the public infrastructure, the sewer, the water, all of those items."

The city received preliminary approval to use up to $40 million from the state's Infrastructure Investment Incentive (I-cubed) program to finance both construction of the Adams-Hancock Green and a new bridge at Cliveden Street. The city has sought an extension of that funding, which it won't receive from the state until new commercial development begins in the downtown. Quincy officials are also looking at other grants for the new park.

"We will keep working through grants with the state. We will be asking for an extension of our I-cubed application...that kicks in when we get a commercial type building," Koch explained.

"We don't have one on the table right now but there could be a commercial development coming. If that doesn't happen for a few years we continue to work with the state and federal government on other opportunities through MassWorks grants or other grants."

The new park will contain statues of its namesakes – Founding Fathers John Adams and John Hancock – at its entrances. Those two new statues were commissioned by the city in 2013.

Two Lloyd Lillie statues purchased by the Quincy Partnership in 1997 and 2002 will also feature prominently in the park. Those bronze statues – the older one depicting Abigail Adams with John Quincy Adams as a child and the other

Cont'd On Page 30

John Q. Adams Birthday Ceremony Friday

The annual Presidential wreath laying ceremony honoring the life and accomplishments of John Quincy Adams, Sixth President of the United States, will be held at United First Parish Church on Friday, July 10, at noon.

The church is located at 1306 Hancock St. in Quincy, directly across from Quincy City Hall and the Quincy Center T Station. The ceremony marks the 248th birthday anniversary of John Quincy Adams who was born on July 11, 1767. The public is invited to attend and admission if free.

The Commanding Officer from the Navy Operations Support Center Quincy will present the wreath on behalf of President Barack Obama. The Navy Honor Guard will place it on the tomb of John Quincy Adams located beneath the church sanctuary.

Guest speakers commemorating the life and accomplishments of John Quincy Adams will be the Mayor Thomas Koch, Edward Fitzgerald, PhD, executive director of the Quincy Historical Society, William Westland, church historian and Peter Boylston Adams, direct descendent of John Quincy Adams. Music will be performed by the Quincy Choral Society and the Navy Band Northeast.

Starting with President Lyndon Johnson, the President of the United States sends a wreath to the burial sites of all deceased presidents honoring their lives on the anniversary of their birthdays.

For more information, call 617-773-0062 or email visitorsprogram@ufpc.org.

Summer Intensive at Center Stage

with Tim Fournier
and Amanda Castro

Tuesday, August 4th and Wednesday, August 5th
9am - 3pm
Ages 10 - 18
1 day price $100 and both days $150
Limited Spaces Available
Email for more Info at centerstagequincy@comcast.net

Junior Level Schedule

Day 1:
9:00 - 10:30 - Jazz with Tim
10:30 - 11:30 - Tap with Tim
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Hip Hop with Amanda
2:00 - 3:00 - ballet with Amanda

Day 2:
9:00 - 10:30 - Contemporary with Amanda
10:30 - 11:30 - Improv with Amanda
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Jazz with Tim
2:00 - 3:00 - Hip Hop with Tim

Senior Level Schedule

Day 1:
9:00 - 10:30 - Contemporary with Amanda
10:30 - 11:30 - Hip Hop with Amanda
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Jazz with Tim
2:00 - 3:00 - Tap with Tim

Day 2:
9:00 - 10:30 - Hip Hop with Tim
10:30 - 11:30 - Jazz with Tim
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Ballet with Amanda
2:00 - 3:00 - Improv with Amanda

FREE CHECKING WITH BIG
BENEFITS.

- Mobile Banking with Mobile Deposit.
- Online Banking and Bill Pay.
- E-Statements.
- ATM/Visa Check Card, fee-free at every Allpoint ATM location.
- No minimum balance.
- No monthly maintenance fees.

Simply Free Checking.
It's the account that works hard for you.

To learn more, call 800-657-3272 or visit ebsb.com.

East Boston Savings Bank
Getting it done since 1848.

Member FDIC. Member DIF.

$50 minimum opening deposit for all accounts.

Beethoven Film Documentary At Crane Library Monday

The documentary Following the Ninth - In The Footsteps of Beethoven's Final Symphony will be shown Monday, July 13 at 7 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy.

This documentary film takes viewers across five continents and into the heart and soul of one of the world's greatest works of art. Completely deaf and adrift from the people he loved, Beethoven composed his Ninth Symphony as an act of transcendence near the end of his life, in 1824. Looking into his own abyss, Beethoven wrote the timeless Ode to Joy for himself, for the people of his day, and for all generations to come.

Today, Beethoven's Ninth Symphony resonates still as the international anthem of hope.

Frankenstein Topic July 14 At Crane Library

The public is invited to the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy on Tuesday, July 14, at 7 p.m. to learn about the extraordinary lives of Mary Wollstonecraft and her daughter Mary Shelley.

Both women defied the social standards of their time and adamantly worked for women's rights. Wollstonecraft died 10 days after the birth of her daughter, so they never knew each other, but Mary Shelley was raised to know of her mother's beliefs and her later life closely reflected her mother's. Mary Shelley wrote Frankenstein at the age of 19.

Come hear an animated presentation by Charlotte Gordon, the author of the just published book on this subject that is receiving rave reviews in the U.S. and England. This new perspective on Mary Shelley's life is causing academics to reevaluate what has been standard thinking and teaching of the classic Frankenstein

Lawn Concerts Start Tonight

The Lenny Solomon band will kick off the summer concert series on the Thomas Crane Public Library lawn tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m.

The July 16th concert will feature the Beatles tribute band, 4EverFab.

The rest of the summer's Thursday Concerts on the Lawn schedule:

July 23 - Sweet Wednesday

July 30 - Howie Newman & Jackie Damsky

Aug. 6 - Andy & Judy Daigle

Summer Fun At The Crane Library

Cont'd From Page 8

The show will go on come rain or shine; in case of inclement weather we will move into the large meeting room. Meeting room space is limited to the first 125 people; when we reach capacity we will close the doors.

❑

Book Discussion— N.E.R.D.S.

Tuesday, July 14th at 7:00 pm

Main Library Children's Room

Ages 10-14 (entering grades 5-8)

Jackson Jones used to be the most popular 11-year-old at Nathan Hale Elementary, but now he's forced to wear hideous magnetic braces on his teeth. Dumped by his friends, he starts paying more attention to his surroundings and discovers that a small group of nerds vanishes regularly during the school day. He learns they're a group of super-secret, super-enhanced spies, and he accidentally gets enhanced himself. The five existing members of the National Espionage, Rescue, and Defense Society want nothing to do with the former "popular," despite the best efforts of their adult handlers. When the NERDS are captured by evil Dr. Jigsaw, can "Braceface" save the day (and the world)?

Join us to discuss this funny superhero story and what kind of super powers you might have. While we talk you will learn how to use beads to create your own Morse code secret messages.

Copies of the book, N.E.R.D.S. National Espionage, Rescue, and Defense Society by Michael Buckley are available for pick up in the Children's Room.

❑

"Let's Play Together" Pajama Storytime

Wednesday, July 15th at 6:30 p.m.

Main Library Large Meeting Room

Ages 2-5 with an adult

Storyteller Diana Kane presents "Let's Play Together," pajama storytimes designed especially for children ages 2-5 and their parents. Come see Ms. Diana for 45 minutes of interactive stories, partner dances, playing in a band and singing together. This six week program is designed for adults and children to enjoy stories and songs as a family. This is a great time for you and your children to sing, dance, listen and talk with each other.

❑

Comic Book Workshop @ Wollaston

Wednesday, July 15th at 7:00 pm

Ages 8 and older

Have you ever wanted to try your hand at making your own comic book? Come on in to the Wollaston Branch for a chance to get started or to continue a comic you've been working on. We'll have paper, pencils, colored pencils, rulers, some layout examples to use and plenty of comic books to look at for inspiration. You can work on your own or bring a friend and work together. Workshop starts at 7pm and runs for one hour.

❑

Preschool Discovery – Super Science @ Wollaston

Thursday, July 16th at 10 a.m.

Ages 2-5

Bring your preschooler in to the Wollaston Branch to do some of our favorite science activities from the past year of Preschool Discovery. Did you have fun mixing baking soda and vinegar? Did you miss out on making constellations? Come in and try out those activities and more! Drop in any time between 10:00 and 11:30 a.m for easy, fun science.

❑

Friday, July 17th Raindate for Bubble Time

Storytelling at the Farmers Market, weather permitting

Friday, July 17th at noon

❑

Music and Movement with Rubi

Saturday, July 18th at 10 a.m.

Main Library Large Meeting Room

Ages 0-4

Sing and dance with Rubi Lichauco! Rubi brings her popular preschool program to Quincy so put on your favorite dancing shoes and join us for this lively mix of music and movement for children ages 0-4 accompanied by an adult. No registration is required.

❑

Sparky's Puppets

Monday, July 20th at 10:30 am

Main Library Large Meeting Room

Ages 3 – 8

Sparky's Puppets presents "Every Hero has a Story" a special puppet show for children ages 3-8 accompanied by an adult. You never know who will save the day. It's not always the biggest and strongest! This show is a lively collection of tales about some surprising heroes. Watch a tiny mouse rescue a huge lion. Follow the adventures of a clever kitten who travels to the moon to solve some puzzling riddles. And discover an unexpected character who proves to be the "greatest of all!"

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy—Beauty and the Beast

Monday, July 20th at 2 p.m.

Rated G

Join us for this ever popular Disney animated version of the classic fairytale. Follow Belle, a bright and beautiful young woman who finds herself in the castle of a prince who has been turned into a beast. With the help of the castle's enchanted staff-a teapot, a candelabra and a mantel clock, among others-Belle learns to see beneath the Beast's exterior to discover the heart and soul of a prince.

This movie is rated G and runs for 90 minutes.

❑

Teddy Bear Storytime @ North Quincy

Tuesday, July 21st at 6:30 pm

Ages 2-5

Join Children's librarian Cathy deVeer and Quinn Z. Bear at the North Quincy Branch for stories and songs for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult. Feel free to wear your comfy jammies and bring along your favorite stuffed friend, as we celebrate summer with vacation stories.

❑

D&D Introduction: The Forgotten Library

Tuesday, July 21st at 7 p.m.

Main Library Children's Room

Ages 10 and older

Be a dungeon-delving hero in this introduction to the Dungeons & Dragons 5th Edition rules. Participants will use pre-built characters and work together to explore a dungeon leading to a lost library full of powerful tomes. Discover the Secrets of Tokra: The Forbidden Library. This one hour program requires no prior knowledge of D&D rules and will be a self-contained adventure.

This program is for children ages 10 and older.

Ayers
Collision Center

HAD A FENDER BENDER?

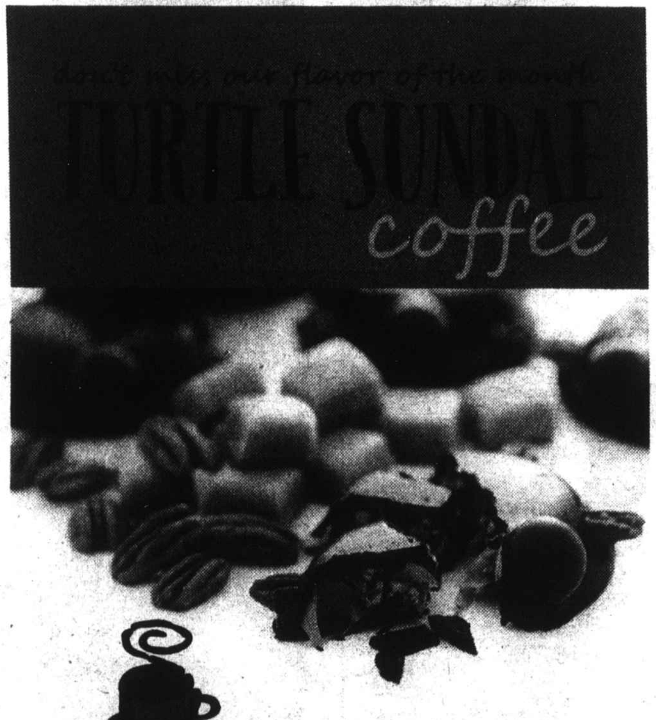
Call Us First!
Paperwork Start to Finish

$200 OFF
*All Qualifying Auto Body Repairs
*contact us for details
Cannot be combined with other offers
Limit one coupon per visit

AYERS COLLISION CENTER

- State of the Art Auto Body Facility
- Insurance Company Coordination
- Experienced Insurance Estimators
- FREE Estimating
- 24 Hour Towing
- Car Rentals Available

(617)328-0056
440B E.Squantum St., Quincy



coffee Break
CAFE
buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net

12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420

77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888

247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century

by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.

TIME FOR A REPLACEMENT?

While advances in technology and materials produce dental prosthetics that are ever more durable, nothing lasts forever. Most dental work can be expected to last 7-10 years, but there is no reason why excellent oral hygiene and a well-balanced diet cannot extend the useful life of bridges, partials, crowns, and other dental restorations up to 20-30 years or more. In the meantime, patients should look for signs of problems that might indicate the need for replacement. For instance, when bridges become unstable due to gum or tooth-decay issues, a bite may feel unbalanced or wobbly. In addition, the deteriorating bridge may feel sensitive when chewing or exposed to hot or cold. These symptoms should prompt a visit to the dentist.

Our dental services include crowns, bridges, dentures, as well as cosmetic dentistry. For more information, or to schedule an appointment, please call us at 617 479-6220. For compassionate dentistry for the entire family, come see us at 44 Greenleaf Street. Our caring, friendly staff strives to make each visit pleasant and comfortable in a relaxed atmosphere. We offer the services of anesthesiology with a fully trained and qualified anesthesiologist. Visit us on the web at www.quincydentist.com.

P.S. The necessity to replace a bridge or crown may be viewed as an opportunity to "upgrade" to longer-lasting, more natural feeling dental implants.

Voter Registration Available Online

Cont'd From Page 3

election will be held on Sept. 22.

The final city election is slated for Nov. 3. The deadline for registering before the November election is 8 p.m. on Oct. 14.

The 2014 law that required the state to begin offering online voter registration also requires communities to hold early voting in the 10-day period leading up to statewide elections. The early voting period will be held in the lead up to the March 1, 2016, presidential primaries.

"We have to have a precinct open for 10 days that anyone in the city can come in and vote, manned by regular election workers and policemen," Shea said.

City officials are still determining where residents will be able to vote during that 10-day period. Shea said the polling place would be centrally located.

Summer 2017 Start Seen For Sterling

Cont'd From Page 3

be a beautiful facility that fits better with the surrounding residential neighborhood.

"There are a lot of site issues they have to work through, but I know it is going to be a beautiful facility. It's probably going to be in the center of the site. It's probably built into the hill, so that when it's done you'll have the space where the old building was that will come down so there is parking and green space. Down below, there will be green space," Koch said.

"It has a great potential for a nice, nice layout. It will fit in better with the neighborhood. That building (the current Sterling) just dominates the street of houses there in a neighborhood setting. It will be nice to see something tie in a little nicer with the neighborhood surroundings."

Discover Quincy Events

Discover Quincy's "50 Days of Freedom" highlights for the week include:

Thursday: Concerts @ The Crane, Lenny Solomon Band at the Thomas Crane Public Library Lawn, 40 Washington St., from 7 to 8 p.m. Sponsored by the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

Friday: Presidential Wreath laying, noon, United First Parish Church, 1306 Hancock St.

The Gallery Friday night, with live music.

Saturday, July 11: Quincycyles: The Beaches of Quincy Ride starting at Anderson Bicycle, 380 Washington St., 7:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. This guided bike tour will visit all 13 beaches along the Quincy coastline: Feel free to finish the ride in Squantum or ride more direct route back to Anderson Bicycle. The ride should last 2- 2.5 hours.

Saturday, July 11: Open House at the William F. Ryan Boating and Sailing Facility, One Merrymount Parkway (beyond Pageant Field) 1 to 3 p.m. Come to Black's Creek to canoe, row, kayak or use the stand up paddleboard in a pristine saltwater lagoon. This equipment is available foruse throughout the summer. Seasonal memberships are available. Adult membership $35. Adult introductory kayak and canoe $15. Youth membership including lessons 1st child- $60, 2nd and 3rd child $25. Family membership $110 includes any youth lessons, adult lessons, and usage during designated times.

On Fridays from 4 to 7:30 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from noon to 6 p.m. family boating is offered when experienced participants may use the rowboats, canoes, kayaks, and sailboats.

Saturday, July 11: Quincy Militia vs. Middleboro Cobras, Veterans Memorial Stadium, 850 Hancock St. Kick-off at 7 p.m. Gates open at 6 p.m. $10 for adults and teens. $5 for children ages 6-12. Free for children under 6 years old and all veterans.

Monday, July 13: Free Tours of the Lyons Turning Mill Lyons Turning Mill, Quincy Quarries Reservation, Ricciuti Dr. 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Join Al Bina of the Quincy Quarry & Granite Workers Museum to learn about the efforts underway to restore the mill and to establish a museum to show the history of quarrying and stonecutting and show its relationship to the industrilization as it relates to Quincy. Built in 1894, the mill used giant lathes to turn granite into columns, spheres and works of art.

Tuesday, July 14: "Quincy Rocks" with Evan Miller - a rising star of the Boston music scene and opens for Los Goutos whose musical concoction ranges fromfolk, rock, country, jazz, Cajun and Latin.

Star Of The Sea Property Sold For $600,000

Developer Seeks Input From Neighbors, City Officials On Site's Future Use

By SCOTT JACKSON

The developer who purchased the former Star of the Sea Church in Squantum wants to hear from neighbors and city officials before deciding what to do with the property.

Bellevue Road Associates LLC purchased the former church at 101-105 Bellevue Rd. for $600,000 from the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston. Bellevue Road Associates is registered to Victor Sheen, the founder and managing director of Oakgrove Residential, based out of Brookline. Sheen said the company would meet with city officials and neighborhood residents before deciding what to do with the church property.

"The next step is to reach out to the mayor, the ward councillor and the neighborhood to have a meeting with stakeholders to find the best use for the property," Sheen said in a phone interview.

"We are a residential developer so our intention is to convert or redevelop the property to a residential project. But there are no firm plans until we meet with stakeholders in the neighborhood."

Sheen said the company purchased the property because of its location and because Quincy is a great market.

"We love Quincy. We do a lot of development in gateway communities such as Boston's South End and Brookline," Sheen explained. "We think Quincy is a great market. We like the location a lot."

In 2004 Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston announced that the Bellevue Road church would be one of more than 50 parishes in Greater Boston to be closed. In July 2011 the archdiocese relegated Star of the Sea to profane use, meaning that it was no longer considered a site for worship.

The Bellevue Road property, which sits in a Residential A zoning district, had an assessed value of $2.1 million, according to the city assessor's online database. The property includes 37,200 square feet (0.85 acres) of land.

Terrence Donilon, a spokesman for the archdiocese, said the archdiocese considers a number of factors when making property transactions.

"We take into account many factors when finalizing any real estate transaction including future use," he wrote in an email.

Friends of Star of the Sea Co-Chairman Maureen Mazrimas said she believes the sale of the church broke a Canon law that states when a property is alienated it must be sold at a fair market value. Mazrimas said the church wasn't marketed effectively when it went up for sale.

"We knew it was going to happen," said Mazrimas. "We're really concerned that it sold for a mere $600,000. There's no way it's worth only $600,000. It's just an example of how the Archdiocese doesn't follow its own rules."

There is no recourse available to the 200-plus members of Friends of Star of the Sea organization because papers on the property have already been passed. "It's just pouring more salt in an already open wound," said Mazrimas. "It's unconscionable. This was a viable parish."

Mazrimas went on to say that the organization "was led to believe" the Archdioceses had not paid taxes on the property after it was closed a second time and no longer used for religious purposes. The property is currently assessed close to $2 million by the City of Quincy.

"At $2 million, that's about $28,000 per year - or about $140,000 for five years," said Mazrimas. "If those taxes have been accruing on the property and will have to be paid at closing, then that's another slap in the face because it reduces the value of the property to $460,000."

SALES, SERVICE, INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES

GRANITE LOCK CO. INC.

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

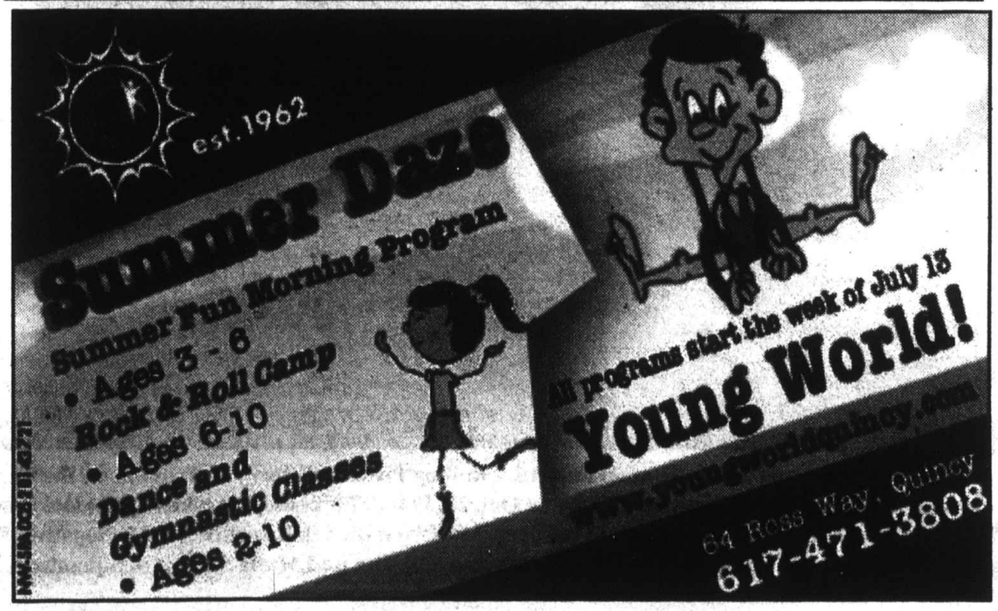
•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"



BellaDerma
Aesthetics-LLC

SUMMER PROMOTIONS

SofTap® Permanent Makeup
Eyebrows, Eyeliner and Lip Treatments - Complimentary Consultations

Environ® Age Management & Resurfacing Treatment
Diminish fine lines, lax skin, pigmentation, sun damage and scarring. (reg. $100) $85

LED Bio-Therapeutic Light Therapy (Anti-Aging or Acne)
LED & Microdermabrasion Combination Treatment (reg. $125) $95
LED & Bio-Ultimate Microcurrent Non Surgical Face Lift Combination Treatment $150

Envy Airbrush Spray Tan & DaVinci Teeth Whitening
Envy Airbrush Full Body Spray Tan & 45 min. Teeth Whitening Treatment $99
Teeth Whitening 60 min. (reg. $125) $75
Envy Airbrush Spray Tan: Full Body $40 / Legs Only $25

Laser Hair Removal •Series of 6 Treatments
Voted Best Of Braintree for 6 Straight Years!
Small Area: Choose Lip or Chin: $300
Medium Area: Choose: Full Face, Underarms or Bikini : $600
Large Area: Choose: Back, Brazilian Bikini, Upper Leg or Lower Leg: $950

Slender Bodies Body Contouring Experience
A combination of Pure Light Slim & Kontur Infrared Body Wrap System
Series of 12 Treatments $599 / Single Treatment $75

BOTOX® Complimentary Consultations - Performed by Nurses - $13 per Unit
Summer Promotions Valid Until 8/29/15

"How old you are is your business...
How old you look is ours!"™

Our NEW location across from the South Shore Plaza
10 Forbes Rd. Suite 270 East Entrance Braintree | 781-535-6886
www.belladermaskinclinic.com

Recalling Pres. Truman's Visit To The 'City Of Presidents'

Charlie Dixon's Truman Photos

Cont'd From Page 4

newspaper poet.

After he passed away, a family member decided to sell his home located in a very desirable section of Squantum.

"The house was in an incredible location. You could see it from Quincy Shore Drive and Wollaston Beach sitting up like a bird house. It was very contemporary for its day," Jim says. "I had the original blue prints and I have some original photos of a steam shovel breaking tremendous amount of stone and you could see Charlie out there next to his old Falcon surveying the whole thing."

The home's new owner cleaned up the house and emptied everything out. One day Jim noticed some dumpsters on the property.

"I said to the owner 'you can't throw any photos away and any Squantum memorabilia. I saved what I could and dragged out this great big box and my wife and I looked through the box to salvage what we wanted to keep like things from the war, photographs. We even have a press pass from the military.

"Over the years I've become an incredible history buff and you find more things by accident," Jim adds.

Call it an accident, a stroke of good luck or just fate but without Jim and his wife's Marie salvage effort the Truman photos would have been gone forever.

Packed away in that box in the back of the garage were some of Charlie's old negatives along with some old cameras and lenses. "There was a tremendous amount of stuff," Jim says, noting the box was custom made out of rough wood.

There was one box of negatives that fascinated Marie. Written in pencil on the front of the Kodak Sheet Film negatives box was the word "Truman." Also written in pencil on the side of the box are the words "Pres. Dewey." Dixon had also covered and taken photos of Dewey's visit to the area – but not Quincy – during the 1948 Presidential race.

Marie hadn't given it much more thought until she read a "Son Beams" column written in April about President Truman's visit to Quincy in 1948.

"We tried to hold the negatives up to the light and figure out what they showed. I saw a City Hall but did I think it was Quincy City Hall? No I didn't," Marie says. "I wondered where this was.

But after I read the Quincy Sun story, I said, 'oh, that's it. I has to be Truman's visit to Quincy in 1948."

The negatives were scanned and created to digital files. When showed the images on a computer screen, Marie said the images "jumped right out at you."

"For me, I've never seen a whistle stop tour other than the fabricated ones during recent presidential elections that make it seem like the good ol' days are here again. This was genuine. Just looking at that and knowing it was a whistle stop fascinated me.

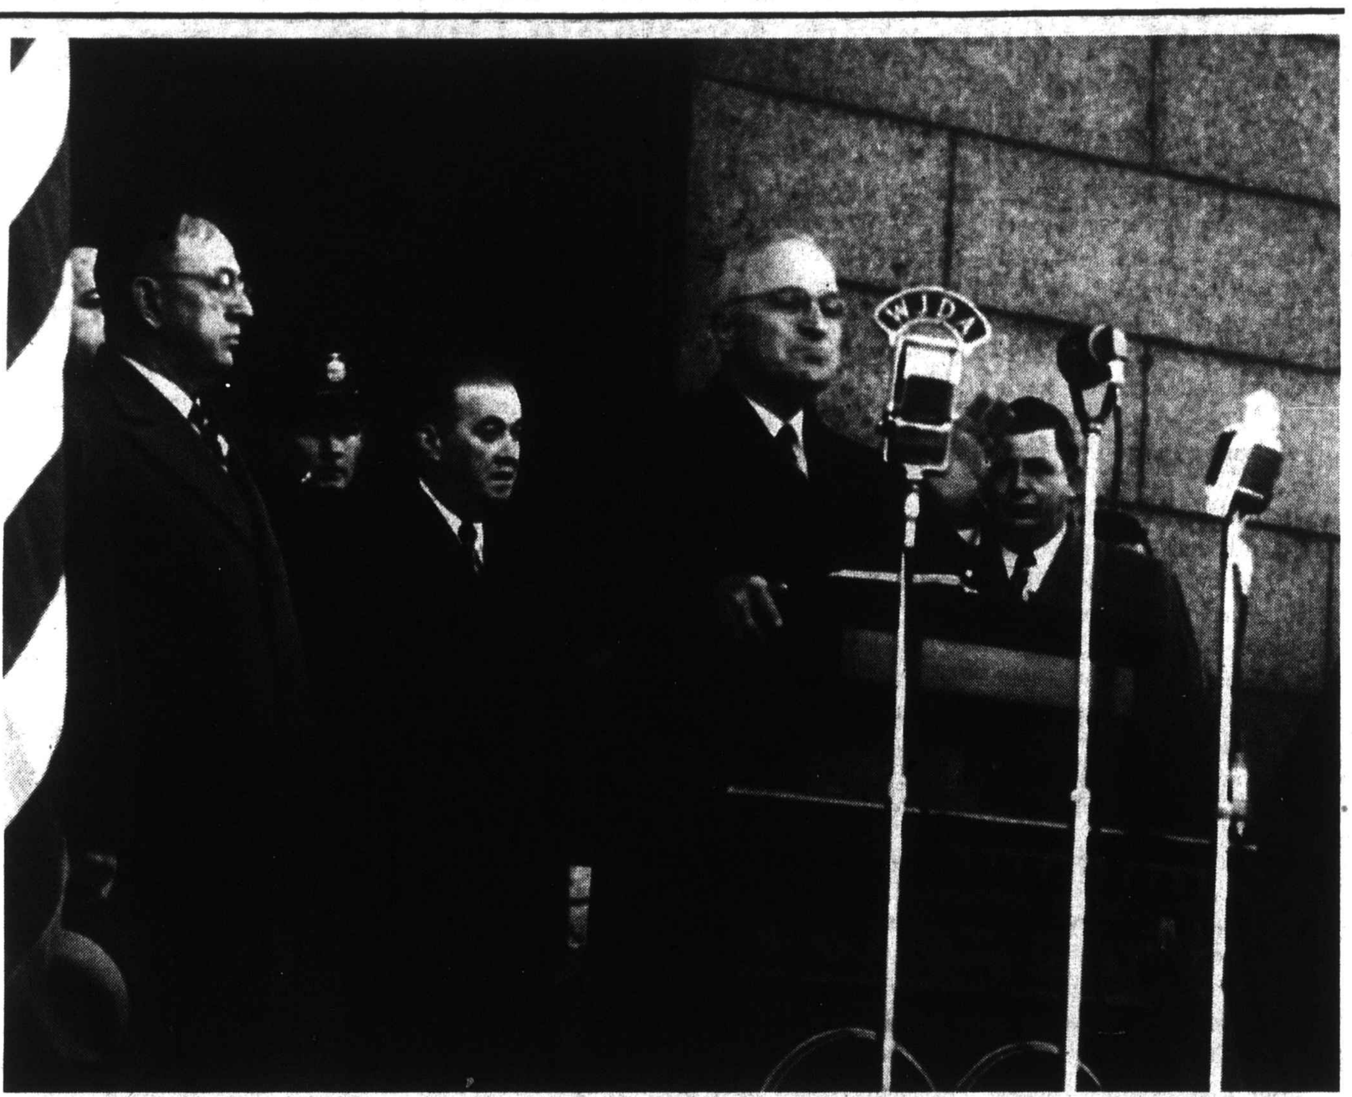
"And when I realized it was Quincy City Hall, I felt very different. I was amazed at the crowd and how tight and close it was. Nobody being kept at bay."

Thanks to the Stamoses, Charlie Dixon's Truman photos have been saved And besides being published in this issue of The Quincy Sun, they will be enlarged and put on display for all to see. Mayor Thomas Koch says some of the photos of Truman's visit here will be framed and placed in the museum section of City Hall when the building reopens.

The Stamoses agree that the photos should be on public display.

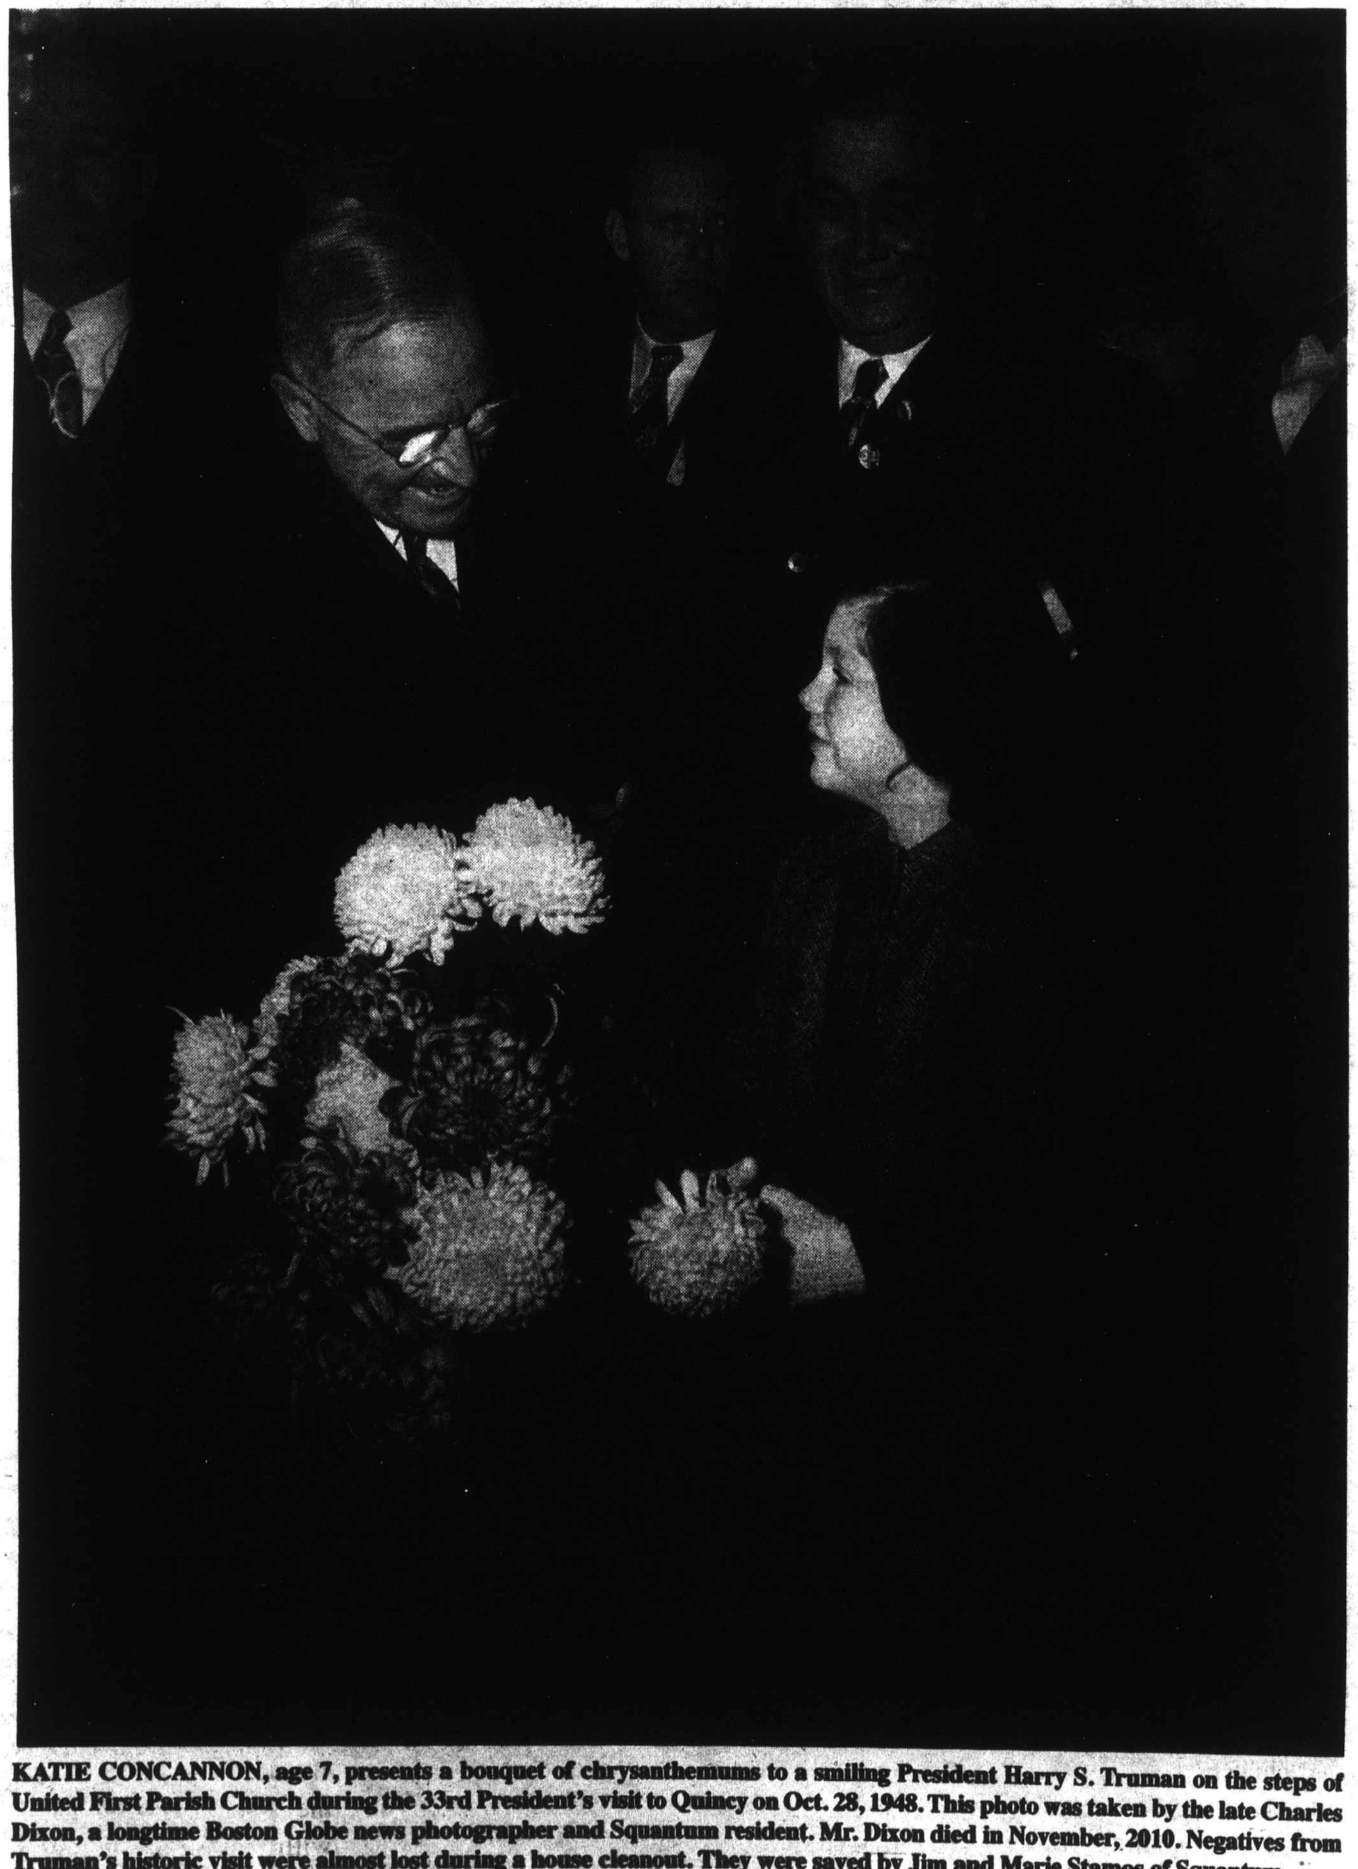
"To me, not sharing this history and not taking advantage of having artifacts like this is like not giving a child an opportunity to play the pi-

Cont'd On Page 13

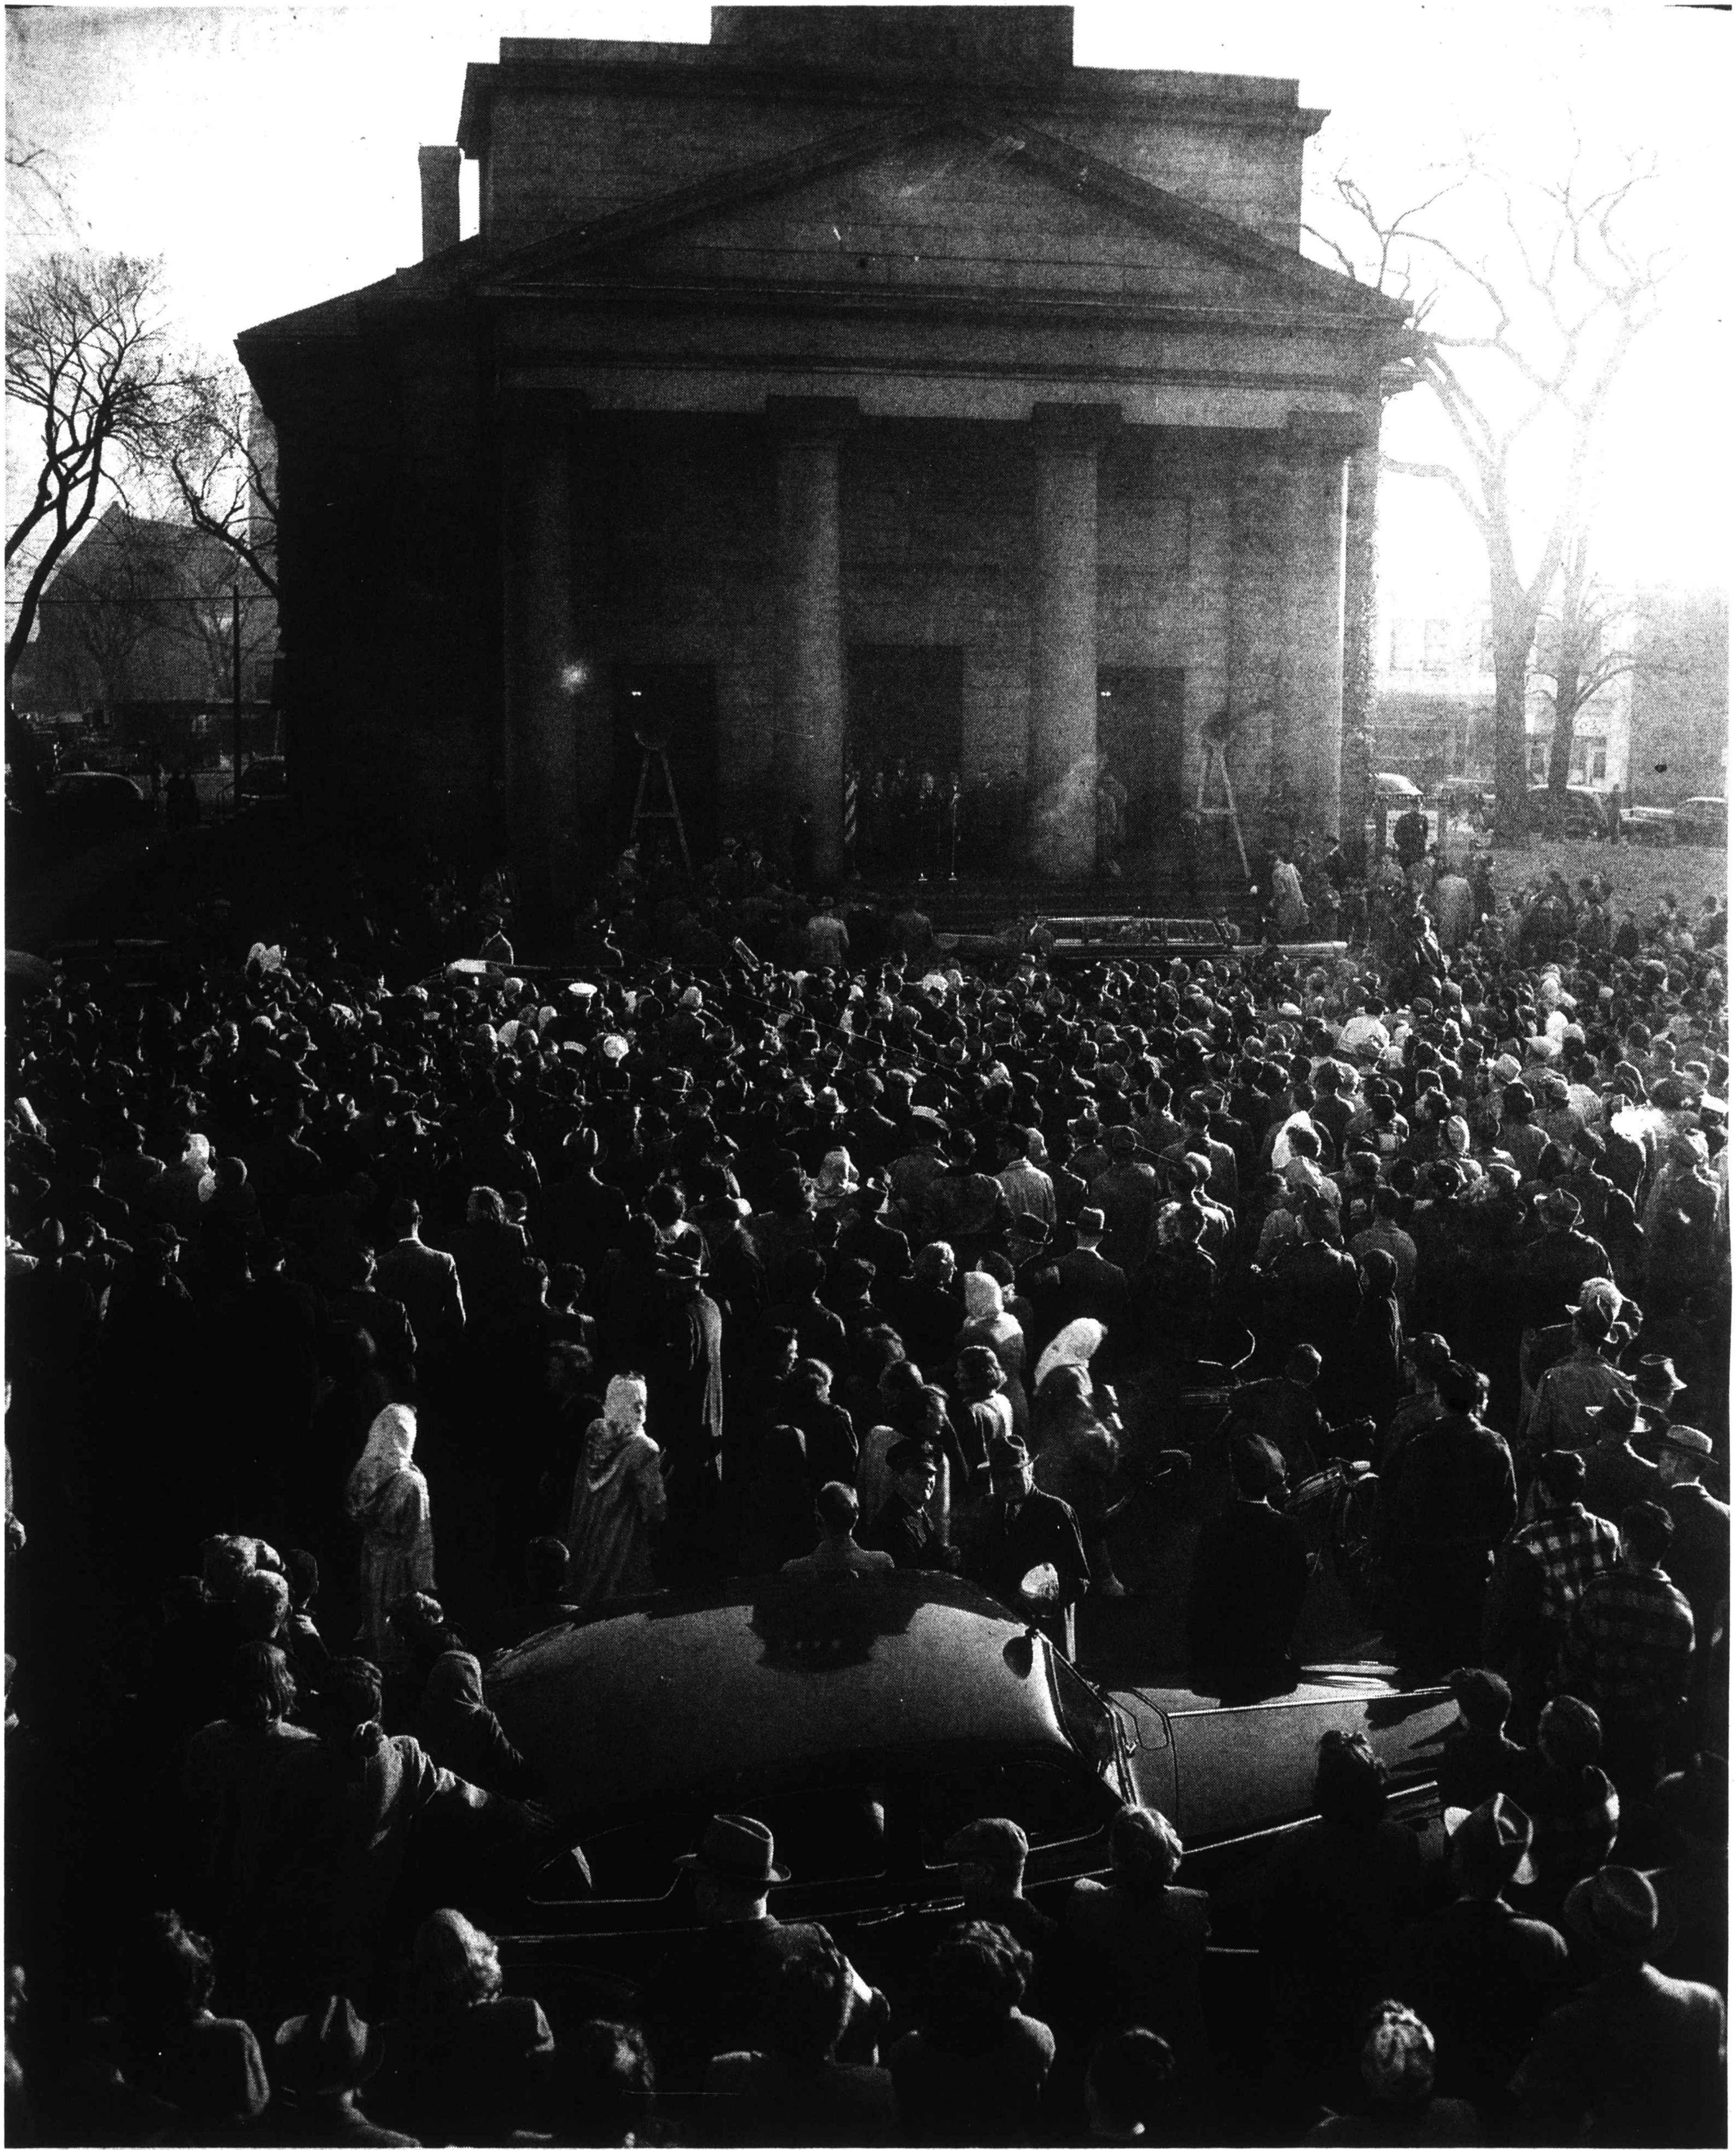


PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN speaks Oct. 28, 1948 from atop the steps outside United First Parish Church in Quincy Center during a campaign stop six days before the 1948 Presidential Election. At left is Mayor Thomas Ross. Notice the microphone near the podium for former local radio station WJDA.

Charles Dixon Photos Courtesy Jim & Marie Stamos



KATIE CONCANNON, age 7, presents a bouquet of chrysanthemums to a smiling President Harry S. Truman on the steps of United First Parish Church during the 33rd President's visit to Quincy on Oct. 28, 1948. This photo was taken by the late Charles Dixon, a longtime Boston Globe news photographer and Squantum resident. Mr. Dixon died in November, 2010. Negatives from Truman's historic visit were almost lost during a house cleanout. They were saved by Jim and Marie Stamos of Squantum.



SIX DAYS before he won a full four-year term defeating Republican Nominee Thomas Dewey in the 1948 Presidential Election, President Harry S. Truman campaigned in Quincy on Oct. 28, 1948. An estimated 2,500 people assembled on Hancock Street between City Hall and United First Parish Church (background) to hear and see the nation's 33rd President. No sitting U.S. President has made a public appearance in Quincy since Truman's visit 67 years ago this fall.

Charles Dixon Photo Courtesy Jim & Marie Stamos

Remembering President Truman's Visit To Quincy

Cont'd From Page 12

ano or hit a ball. It's life and once it's gone it's lost forever," Jim said.

❑

BEFORE REACHING the steps of United First Parish Church for his historical appearance in 1948, President Truman's train stopped at a depot that was located behind the Adams Academy. One of the several hundred people gathered at that location was Marie Clark of Squantum.

Clark, now 87, was a 19-year-old volunteer tutor at the Woodward School the day that President Harry Truman came to town that October day nearly 67 years ago.

Clark, who has lived in Squantum since 1937, called the Truman's visit one of the biggest thrills of her lifetime.

Recalling the day, Marie and a group of Woodward School students crossed the street from the school and gathered with several hundred other folks at the train depot. Other citizens looked on from their porches of their homes situated on what was then Upland Road along the train tracks – that street today is Newport Avenue.

It was early in the morning, around 7:30 a.m. The weather was a little chilly but not too cold for late October.

"The whole school went out to see Truman. There were people standing on their porches along Upland Road, many of [illegible] them waving flags," Clark said.

Cont'd On Page 14

Charlie Dixon's Truman – And Other – Photos

Cont'd From Page 13

"I was in the back of the Adams Academy about 50 to 75 feet away from President Truman. He was wearing his hat when he was standing at the back of the train but when he stepped off the train he starting waving his hat. The crowd was very excited.

"I also remember him praising the citizens of Quincy for their war effort, too," she added, noting Truman recognized the contributions of the men and women who worked at the Fore River Shipyard as well as the Squantum Naval Air Station.

"It was a thrill to see a sitting President in Quincy. I really liked Truman a lot," she said.

Clark was also an admirer of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt – the only U.S. President elected to four terms. FDR chose Truman to be his vice presidential running mate in 1944. Four months into his fourth term, FDR died on April 12, 1945.

Truman succeeded FDR and won a full four-year term in 1948 defeating New York Gov. and Republican Tom Dewey. Dewey carried Quincy – a Republican stronghold at the time – but not by much – only 1,455 votes. Truman, who won Massachusetts, polled 18,491 votes in Quincy. Dewey – the governor of New York – received 19,946 votes in Quincy. Dewey had also campaign in the area leading up to the 1948 election but stopped in Brockton – not Quincy.

President Truman is not the only president Clark would encounter. Although at the time this individual was not yet the President.

Clark graduated from the Woodward School in 1945 and then enrolled at Emmanuel College. She graduated college in 1949. The commencement speaker was a young John Kennedy. The future president was a Massachusetts Congressman at that time. Eleven years later he would win the Presidency in 1960.

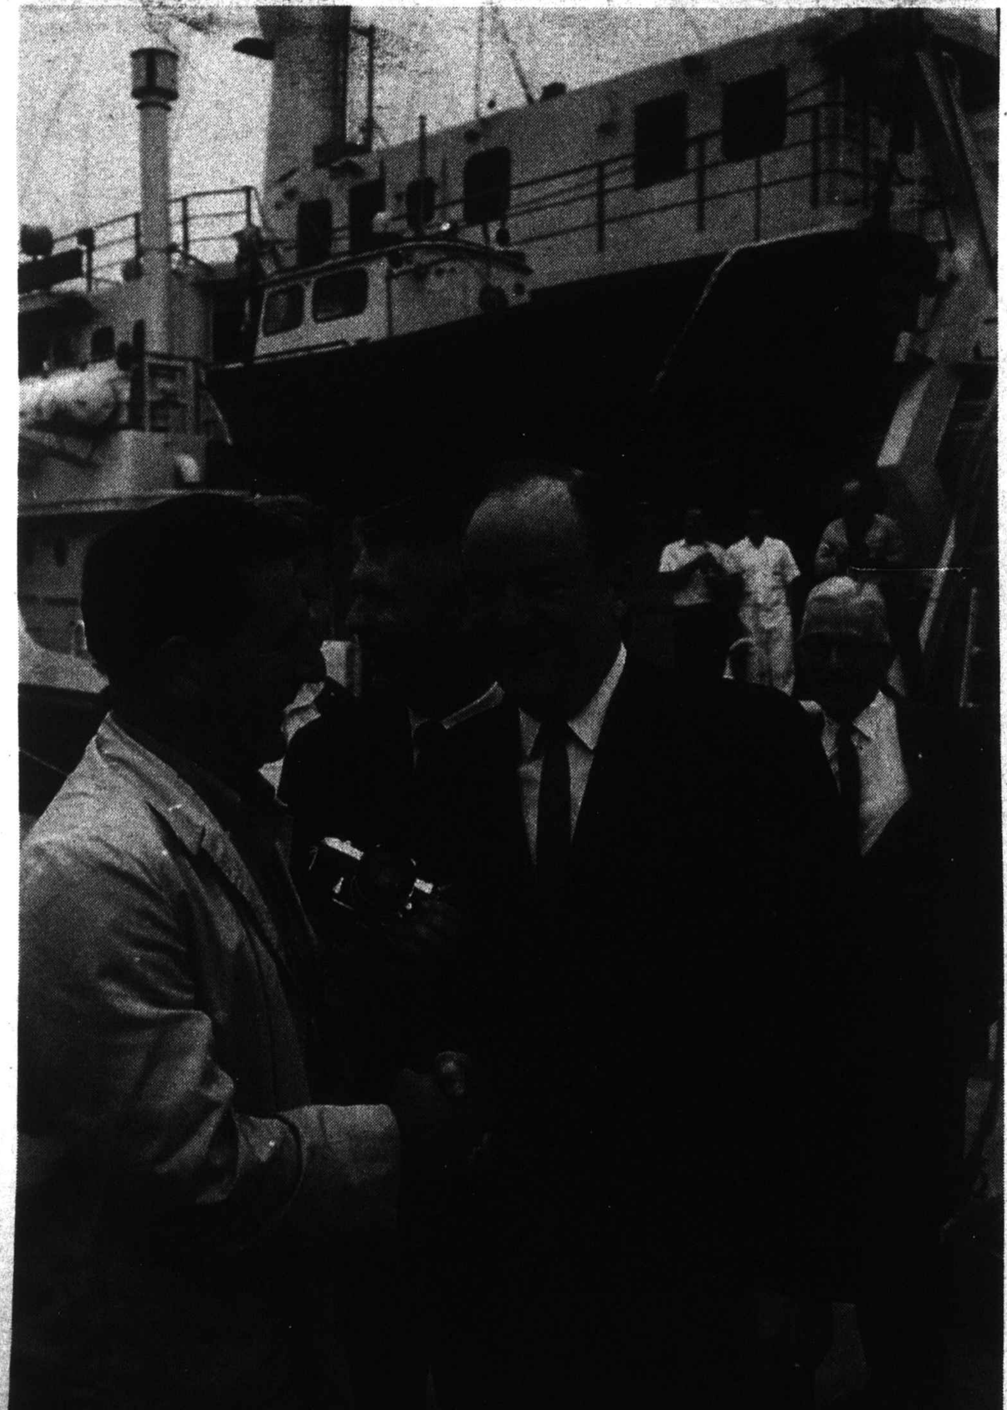
Today, Clark is a retired biochemist. She's remained an active voter over the years and hasn't missed voting in an election since she turned 21 – that was the old voting age before it changed to 18 in 1971.

For many years Clark served as an election worker at the polls in Squantum. She's also retired from her post as a clerk.

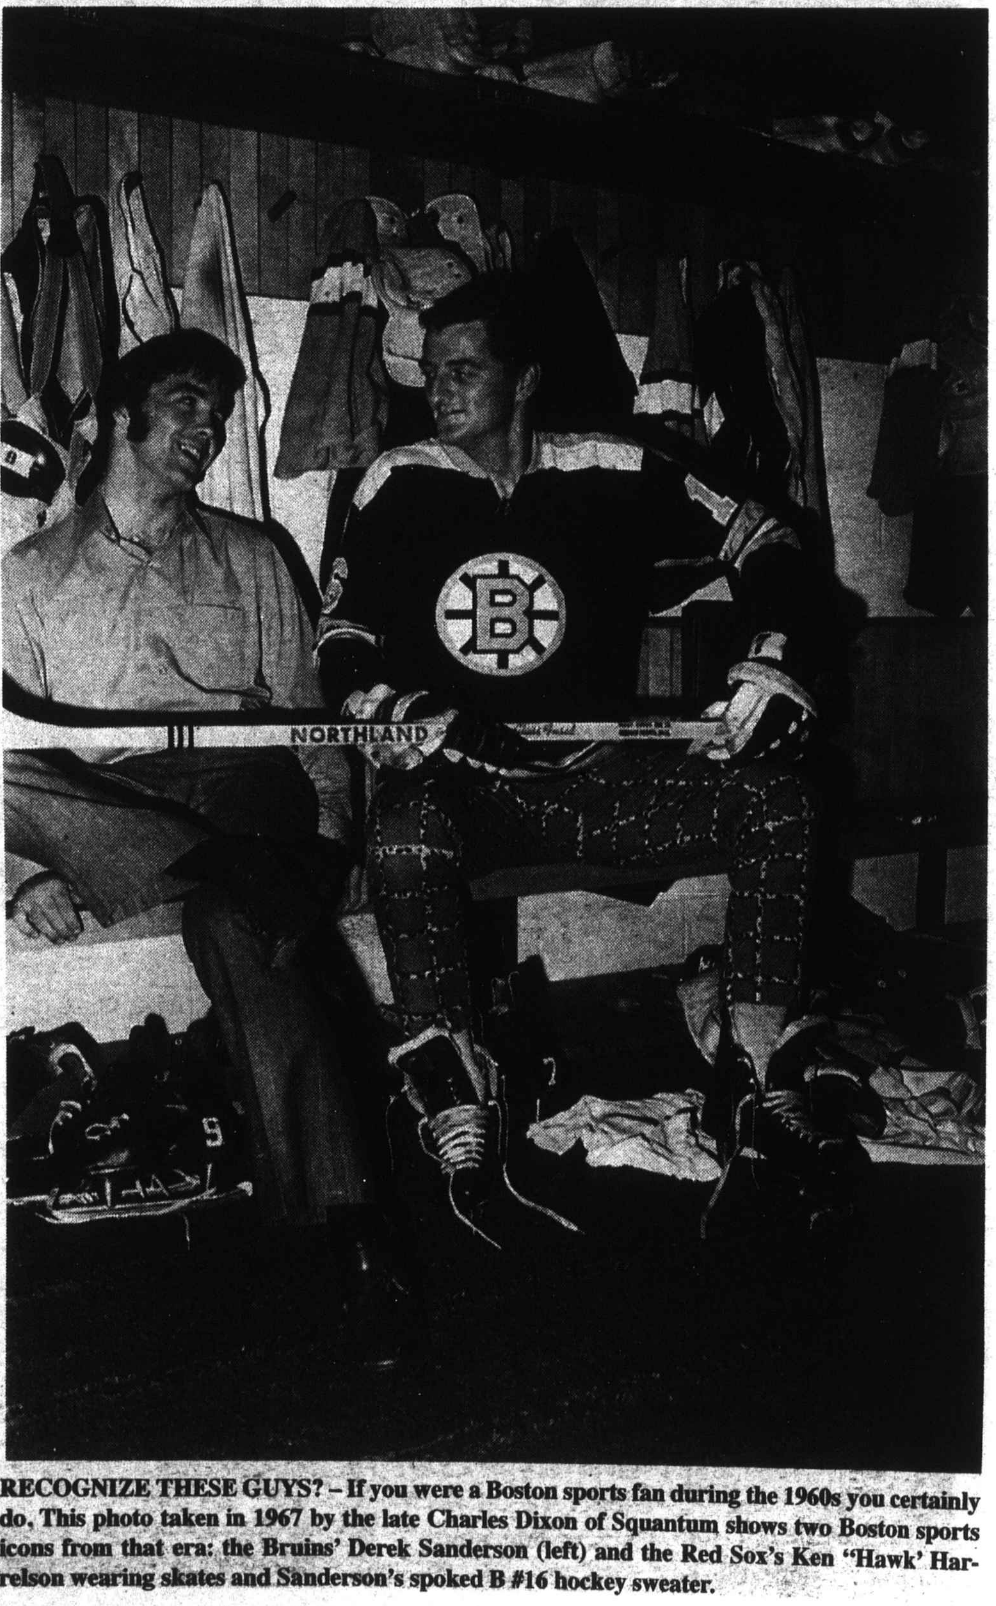
❑

Charles Dixon also covered other events and people during his career at the Globe. We've shared some of these photographs with our readers this week in honor of Charlie and with sincere thanks to Jim and Marie Stamos. Hope you enjoy Charlie's work as much as we do.

NEWS PHOTOGRAPHER Charles Dixon covered the burial of slain Democratic Presidential candidate and U.S. Senator Robert Kennedy for the Boston Globe in June, 1968. The grave of the former U.S. Senator from New York is marked by a simple white cross (at lower left). RFK was laid to rest near his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, at Arlington National Cemetery.



CHARLES DIXON (left) greets Vice President Hubert Humphrey in this photo taken in 1967. Humphrey won the Democratic nomination for President in 1968 but lost the race for the White House to Republican and former Vice President Richard Nixon.



RECOGNIZE THESE GUYS? – If you were a Boston sports fan during the 1960s you certainly do. This photo taken in 1967 by the late Charles Dixon of Squantum shows two Boston sports icons from that era: the Bruins' Derek Sanderson (left) and the Red Sox's Ken "Hawk' Harrelson wearing skates and Sanderson's spoked B #16 hockey sweater.

Solar Program Deadline Extended

QUINCY'S DIRECTOR of Energy and Sustainability, Shelly Dein, introduced the Solarize Quincy program at a recent solar education seminar. Photo Courtesy Rebecca McWilliams

Solarize Quincy, the state- and city-sponsored program that provides discounted solar panels to Quincy residents and small businesses, has been extended beyond its original deadline to Aug. 31.

The extension gives residents and business owners two extra months to have their property assessed for solar.

The Massachusetts Clean Energy Center and the Department of Energy Resources elected to extend the program both because of high demand in the community and the historic levels of snow in February and March that delayed the start of the program, according to the Clean Energy Center.

As of June 30, the program's old deadline, 61 contracts had been signed, for a total of 330 kilowatts of solar panels, said Rebecca McWilliams, lead volunteer for Solarize Quincy. "There was a huge increase in program participation as we approached the original deadline. We gained over 100 kilowatts of electricity based on the contracts signed in a little over a week," McWilliams said.

"The word on the street is that solar is a wise financial decision for your home or business. The Solarize Quincy program offers deep discounts, value, and quality panels."

Because of the extension, Quincy Climate Action Network members volunteering for Solarize will continue attending public events in the hope of signing up more residents for solar assessments, said David Reich, QCAN's board chair.

"QCAN has been the heart and soul of Solarize Quincy, providing the vast bulk of our hard-working volunteers," McWilliams said.

Now that the program has been given two more months of breathing room, Quincy will likely reach the goal of adding over 400 kilowatts of solar capacity to its rooftops, said Dan Barnett, residential sales manager for Solar Flair, the exclusive installer for Solarize Quincy. If Barnett's prediction is borne out, Solar Flair will award a free 5 kilowatt solar installation to a nonprofit. To qualify, the nonprofit must own property in Quincy, and SolarFlair must determine that the property will work for solar, based on aspects like shading and orientation. The winner of the free solar installation will be selected by lottery from among qualifying applicants.

So far, three nonprofits have been nominated to get the free solar panels, said McWilliams.

To nominate a nonprofit, go to solarizequincy.weebly.com and click on "Tier 6" at the top of the homepage. To have a free solar assessment of your house or business, go to the homepage and click on the "Interested" tab.

Housing Goals Forum Wednesday

The Metropolitan Area Planning Council hosted a public forum to seek the public's input to better understand local housing issues and establish housing goals for the city of Quincy yesterday (Wednesday) from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Central Middle School Cafeteria, 875 Hancock St.,

The first of two public forums, MAPC is working with Quincy's Planning and Community Development Department to develop a housing production plan to guide the city in a market-rate and affordable housing preservation and creation strategy.

Through community input, the housing production plan will identify the Quincy's housing needs, demand, opportunities, challenges, and goals for the future. The Plan will also assist the city in meeting Quincy's state-mandated affordable production target.

Registration for the forum can be completed online by visiting http://tinyurl.com/quincyrsvp. You may also share your thoughts on current and future housing opportunities by completing a brief online survey at http://tinyurl.com/hppsurvey.

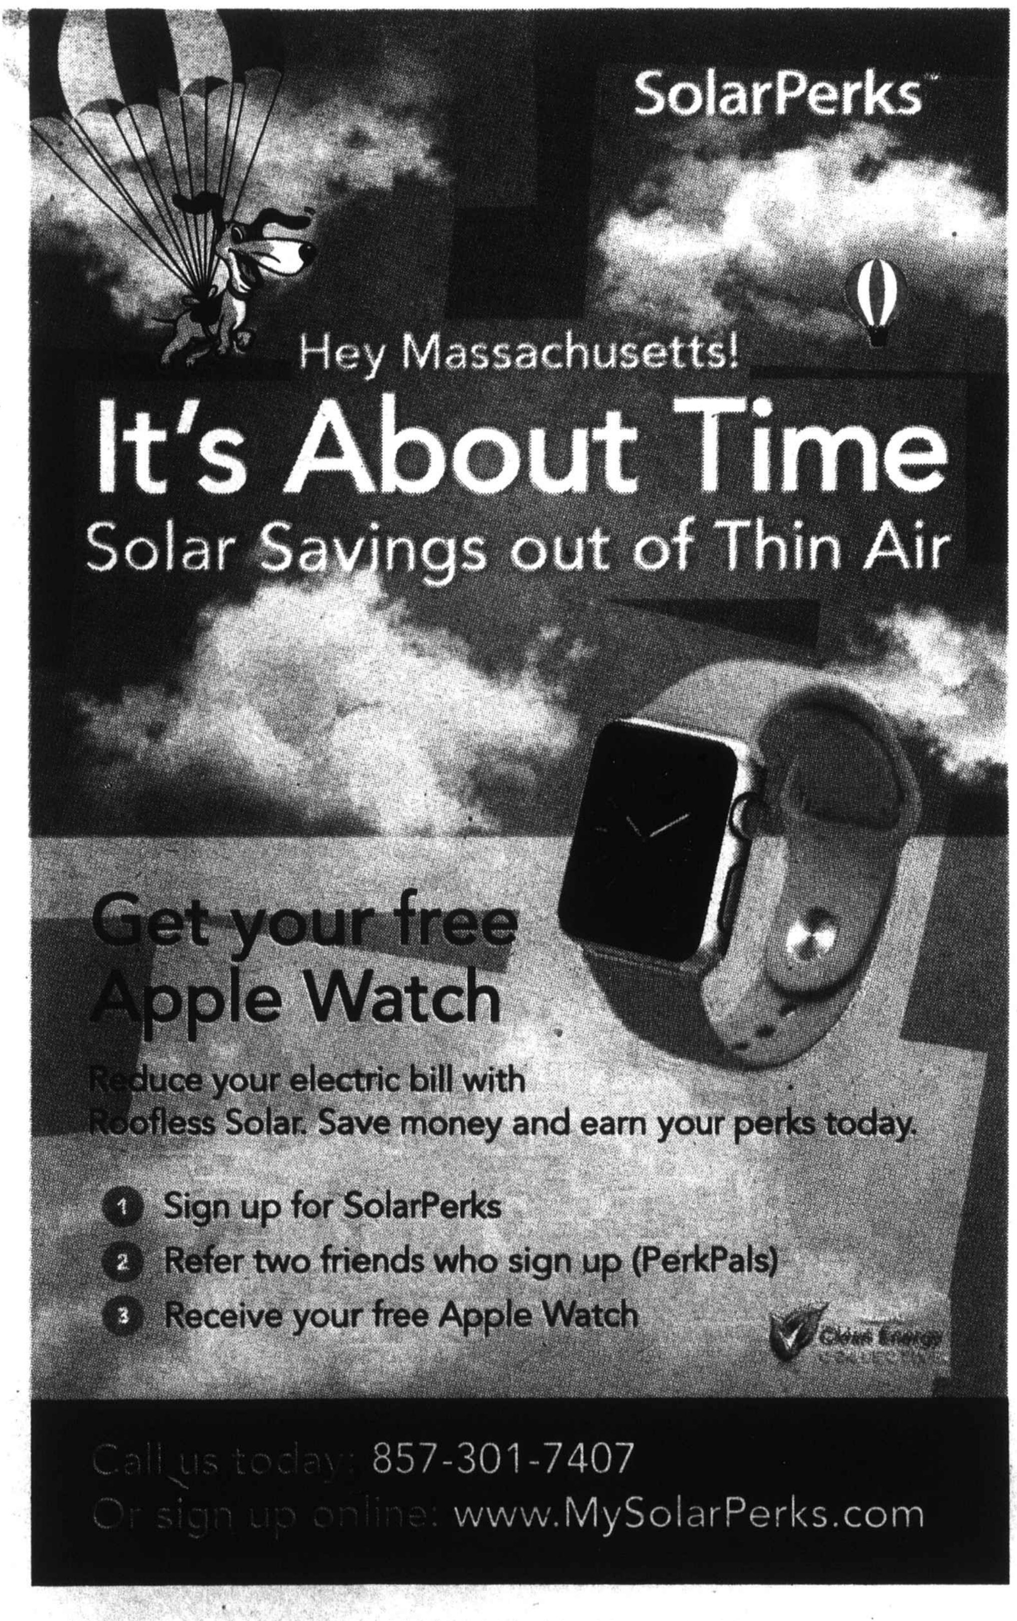
For more information or for special accommodations, contact Matt Smith, senior planner at msmith@mapc.org or 617-933-0760.

Michael Coffey On BC Dean's List

Michael Patrick Coffey of Quincy has earned academic honors at Boston College by making the University's Dean's List for both the fall and spring semesters.

Having just completed his freshman year at Boston College, Coffey is in the Carroll School of Management with a double major in finance and management and leadership.

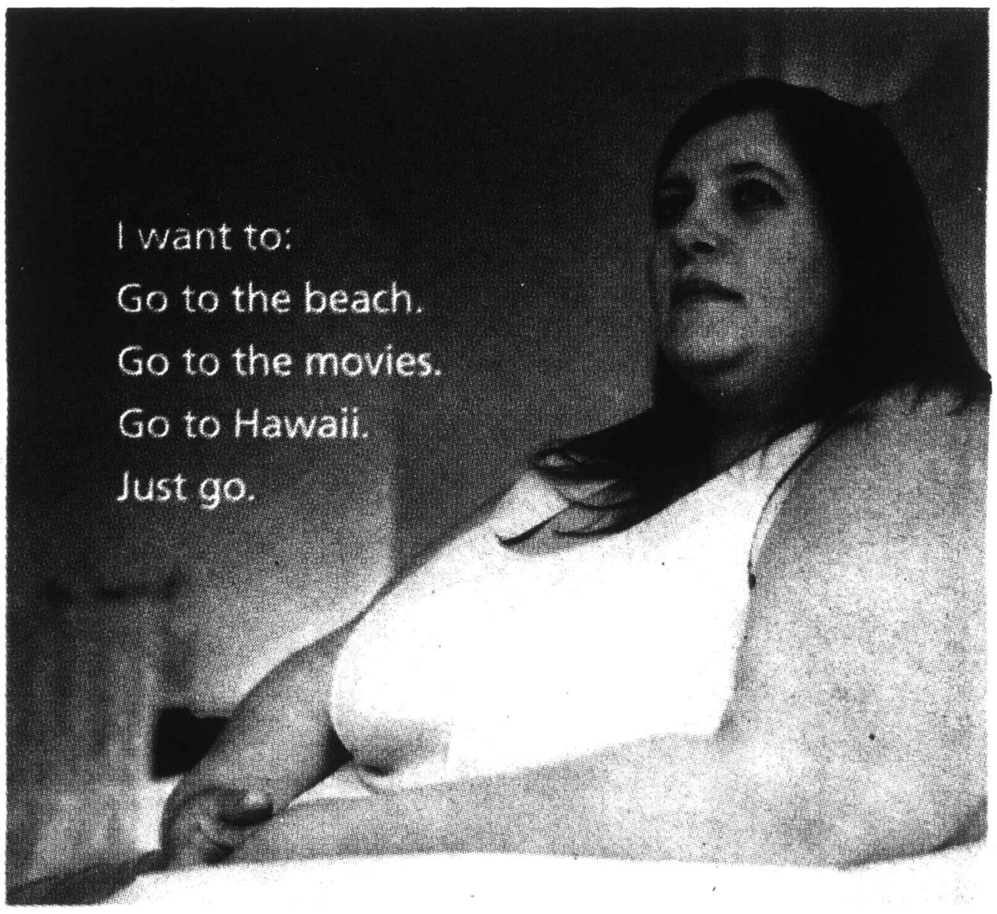
He is the son of Gayle and Michael Coffey of Quincy.



Reduce your electric bill with Roofless Solar. Save money and earn your perks today.

1. Sign up for SolarPerks
2. Refer two friends who sign up (PerkPals)
3. Receive your free Apple Watch

Call us today: 857-301-7407
Or sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com



I want to:
Go to the beach.
Go to the movies.
Go to Hawaii.
Just go.

Learn how you can get your life back.

Losing significant weight comes with obvious health benefits. But what truly inspires our patients? A renewed quality of life. At Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton, we understand.

As part of the Beth Israel Deaconess Bariatric Network, our expertise, leading surgeons and team approach to your care make all the difference. And our commitment to education and support helps you achieve lifelong success.

How do you get your life back? First, by getting information. Join us for a free information session where you can hear about your weight loss surgery options, meet our team and ask questions.

JOIN US
Date: Thursday, July 16
Time: 6:00 p.m.
Place: Nangeroni Education Center at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton 199 Reedsdale Road, Milton
To register for this FREE session, call 617-313-1440.

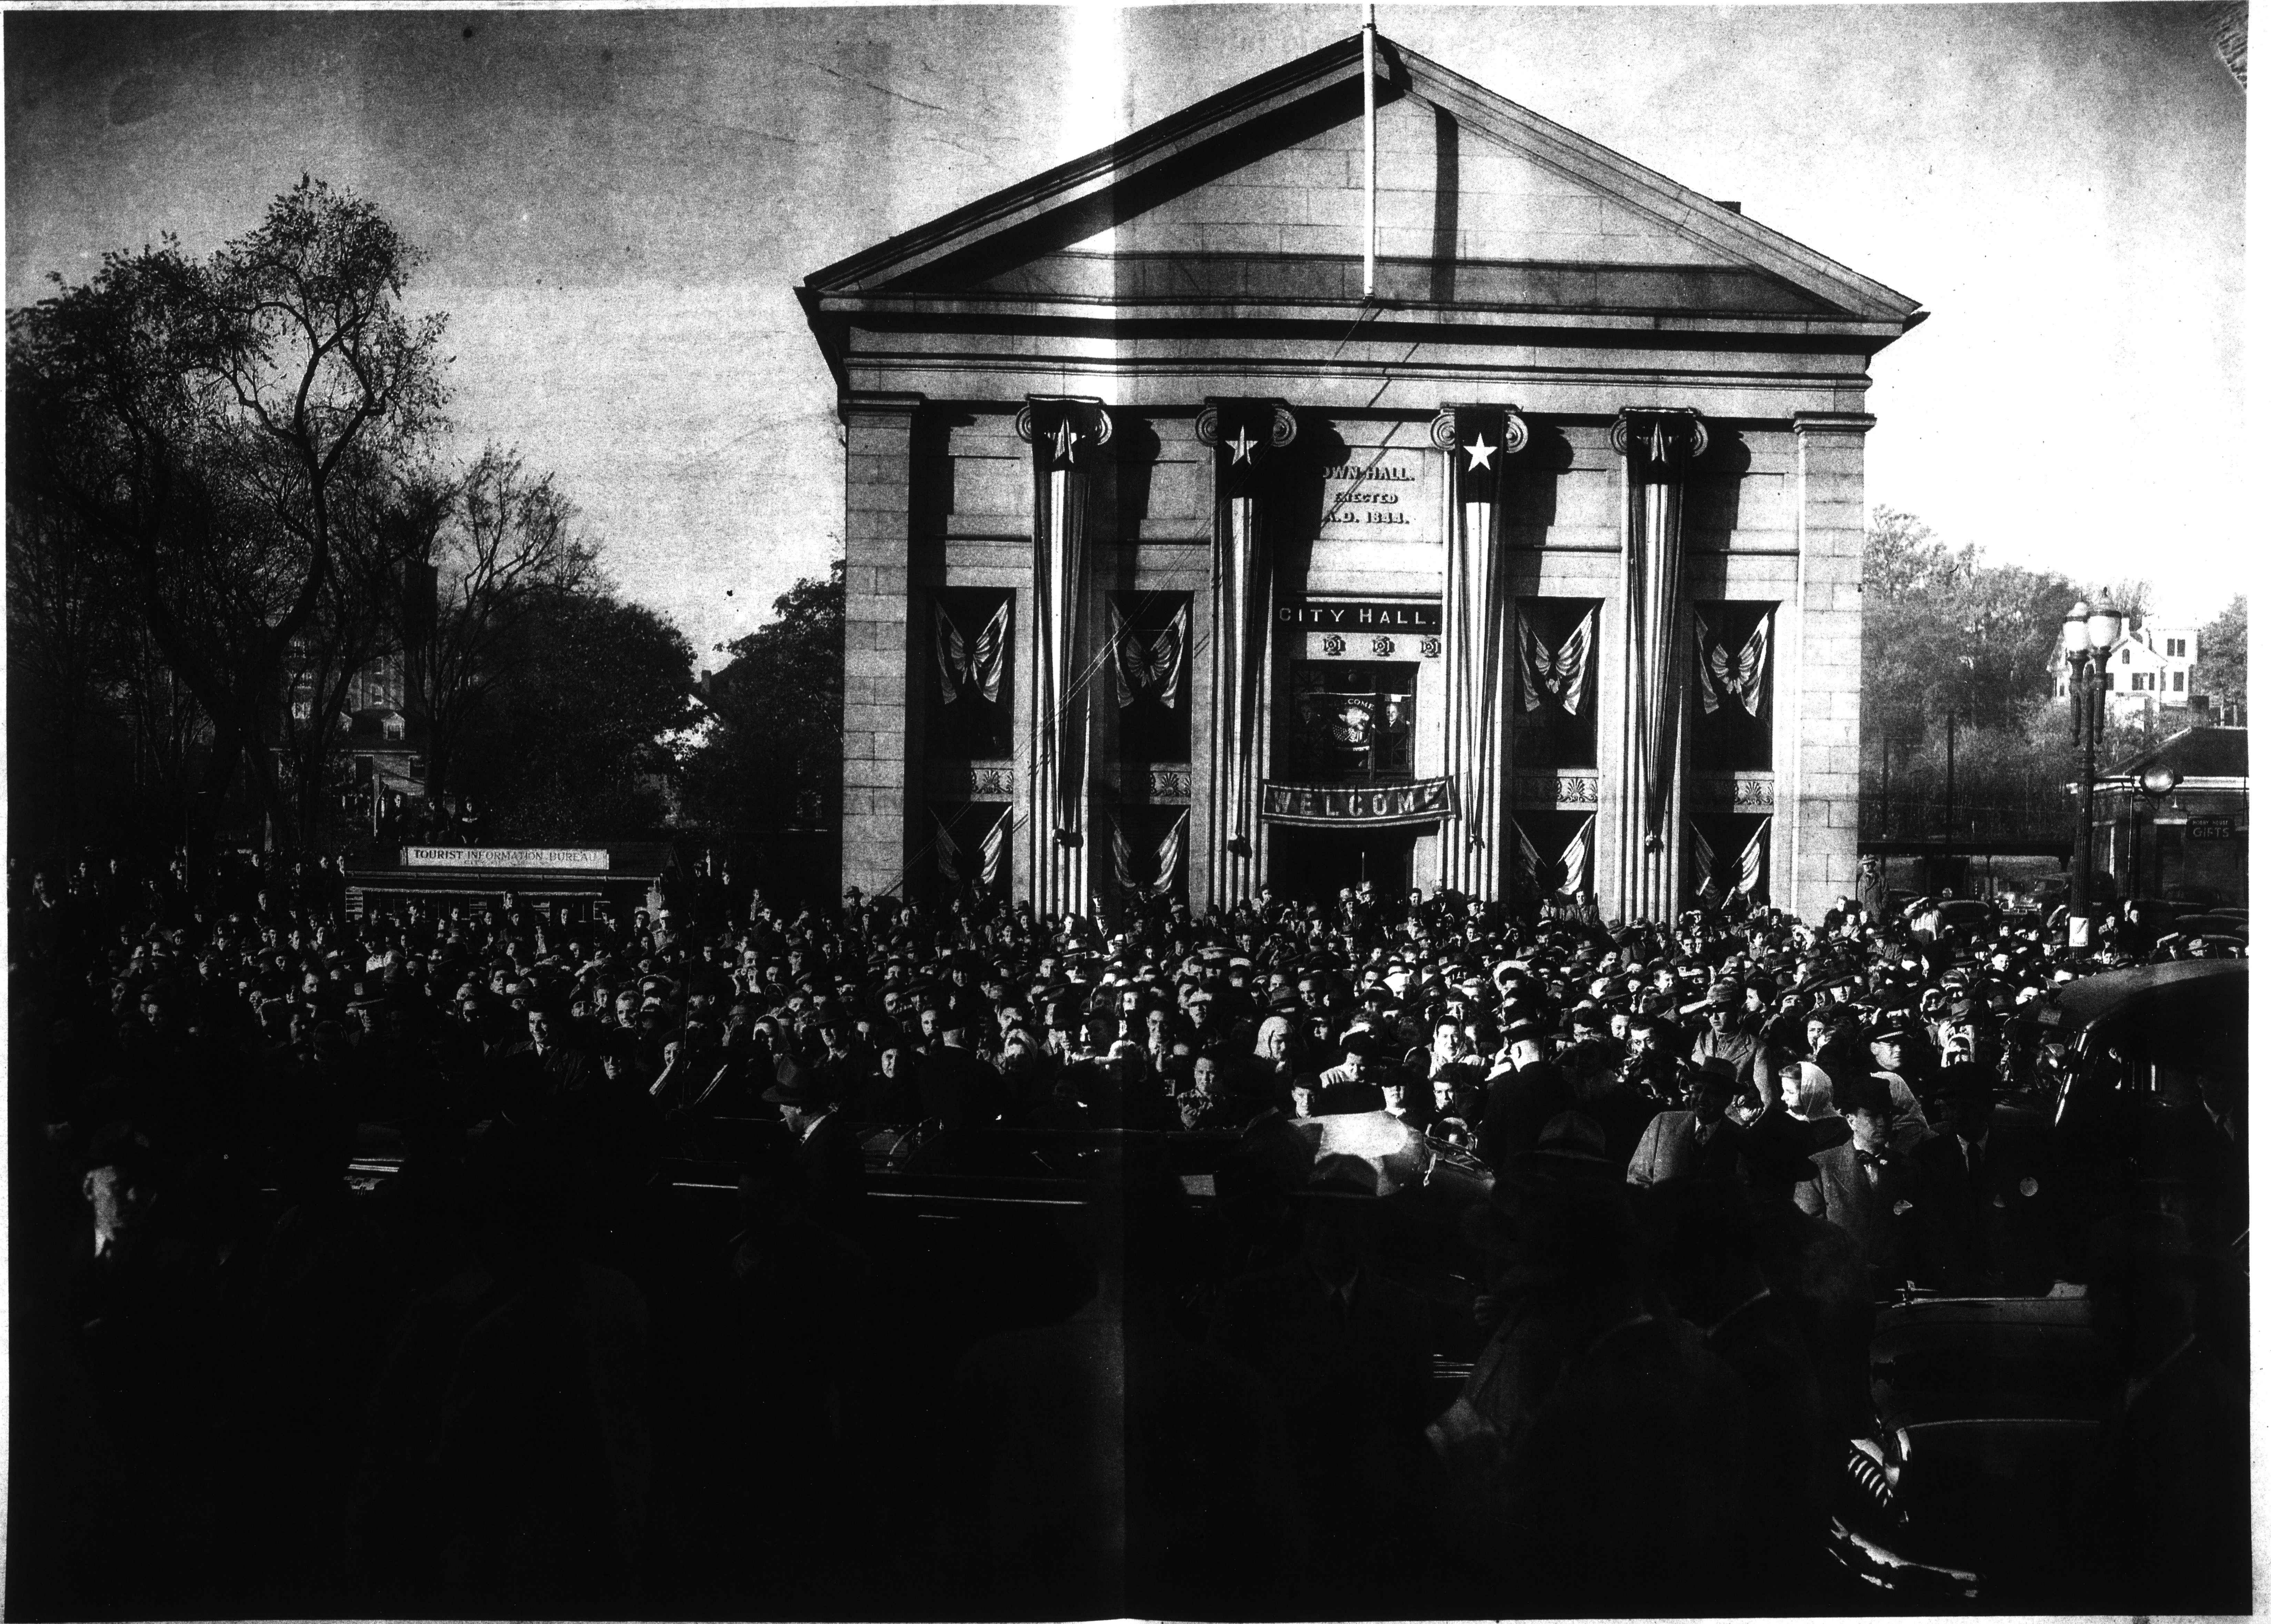
Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital
Milton
A Member of
Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL TEACHING HOSPITAL
bidmilton.org/weightloss

WEIGHT LOSS SURGERY



TOWN HALL.
ERECTED
A.D. 1844.
CITY HALL.
WELCOME
TOURIST INFORMATION BUREAU
GIFTS

CROWD GATHERED OUTSIDE Quincy City Hall on Thursday, Oct. 28, 1948 for President Truman's visit during a campaign whistle stop six days before the President defeated Republican Thomas Dewey in the 1948 Presidential Election. Notice the patriotic bunting decorating City Hall and President Truman's likeness on two posters above the front door entrance to the government building.

Charles Dixon Photo Courtesy Jim & Marie Stamos

THE BURKE CLUB recently won the 2015 Cal Ripken major Quincy baseball city championship. Front row (from left): Dillon Green, Danny Freeman and Pat Mcdonald. Second row: Jackson Murphy, Grant Murphy, Kevin Prichard, Johnny Cristiani, Drew Peterson and Coach Roy Peterson. Third row: Coach John Cristiani, John Bell, Michael Bassett, Shawn Feeney, Jack Prichard and Coach Dave Murphy. Missing from photo coach Chris Prichard. Photo Courtesy John Cristiani

Burke Club Wins City Championship

The Burke Club recently won the 2015 Cal Ripken major Quincy baseball city championship.

Burke defeated Beacon Sports in the championship game, 2-1. The team was coached by David Murphy.

"We had a great year, and from a talent standpoint, this team was loaded," Murphy said.

Burke club was led by a talented group of 12-year-olds: Johnny Cristiani, Jack Prichard, John Bell, Sean Feeney, and Michael Bassett.

"What a talented group of kids. Cristiani and Prichard made my job very easy," Murphy said. "They were like having assistant coaches on the field at all times. If a teammate made an error, those two were positive and just said get the next one."

Burke club finished in first place with the 15-3 record, and went undefeated in the playoffs to win the coveted title. The team only gave up a league-record low 72 runs all year.

"They say defense and pitching wins championships. Burke Club had both all year long," Murphy said. "The team is returning a strong nucleus of talent and is looking forward to defending its title.

The team is sponsored by local attorney and former Boston Celtic George Burke.

Apaches Open Camp At Cavanagh Field July 14

The North Quincy Apaches Youth Football and Cheerleading Program will open pre-season camp July 14th.

This season, the Apaches will be moving their operations from Pageant Field, back home to Cavanagh Field in North Quincy, after a 40-plus year hiatus. Cavanagh Field was home to the Apaches for the first 20 years of the programs existence, dating back to 1951.

The Apaches Tackle Football Program will hold 5 O.T.A Sessions (Organized Team Activities)

July 14	5:30-7:00pm	Cavanagh Field
July 16	5:30-7:00pm	Cavanagh Field
July 21	5:30-7:00pm	Cavanagh Field
July 28	5:30-7:00pm	Cavanagh Field
July 30	5:30-7:00pm	Cavanagh Field

All players are encouraged to attend these light workouts that will focus on football fundamental in a non-contact environment. No pads will be worn. Flag football players entering 3rd and 4th grade are also invited to attend. Football equipment fitting will be done during these practices. The first full practice will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 4th.

The Apaches Cheerleading program will host three placement practices in July. There are no "tryouts" – every child makes the team. These practices are held to evaluate skill Level. The practice dates are:

July 14	3:00-5:00pm	Cavanagh Field
July 15	12:00-2:00pm	Cavanagh Field
July 16	3:00-5:00pm	Cavanagh Field

The Apaches Flag Football Program is scheduled to begin practicse on Wednesday, Aug. 5th from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at Cavanagh Field. The will practice every Wednesday throughout the month of August. All Flag players entering grades 3rd and 4th Grade in the Fall are invited to attend the OTA practice sessions in July.

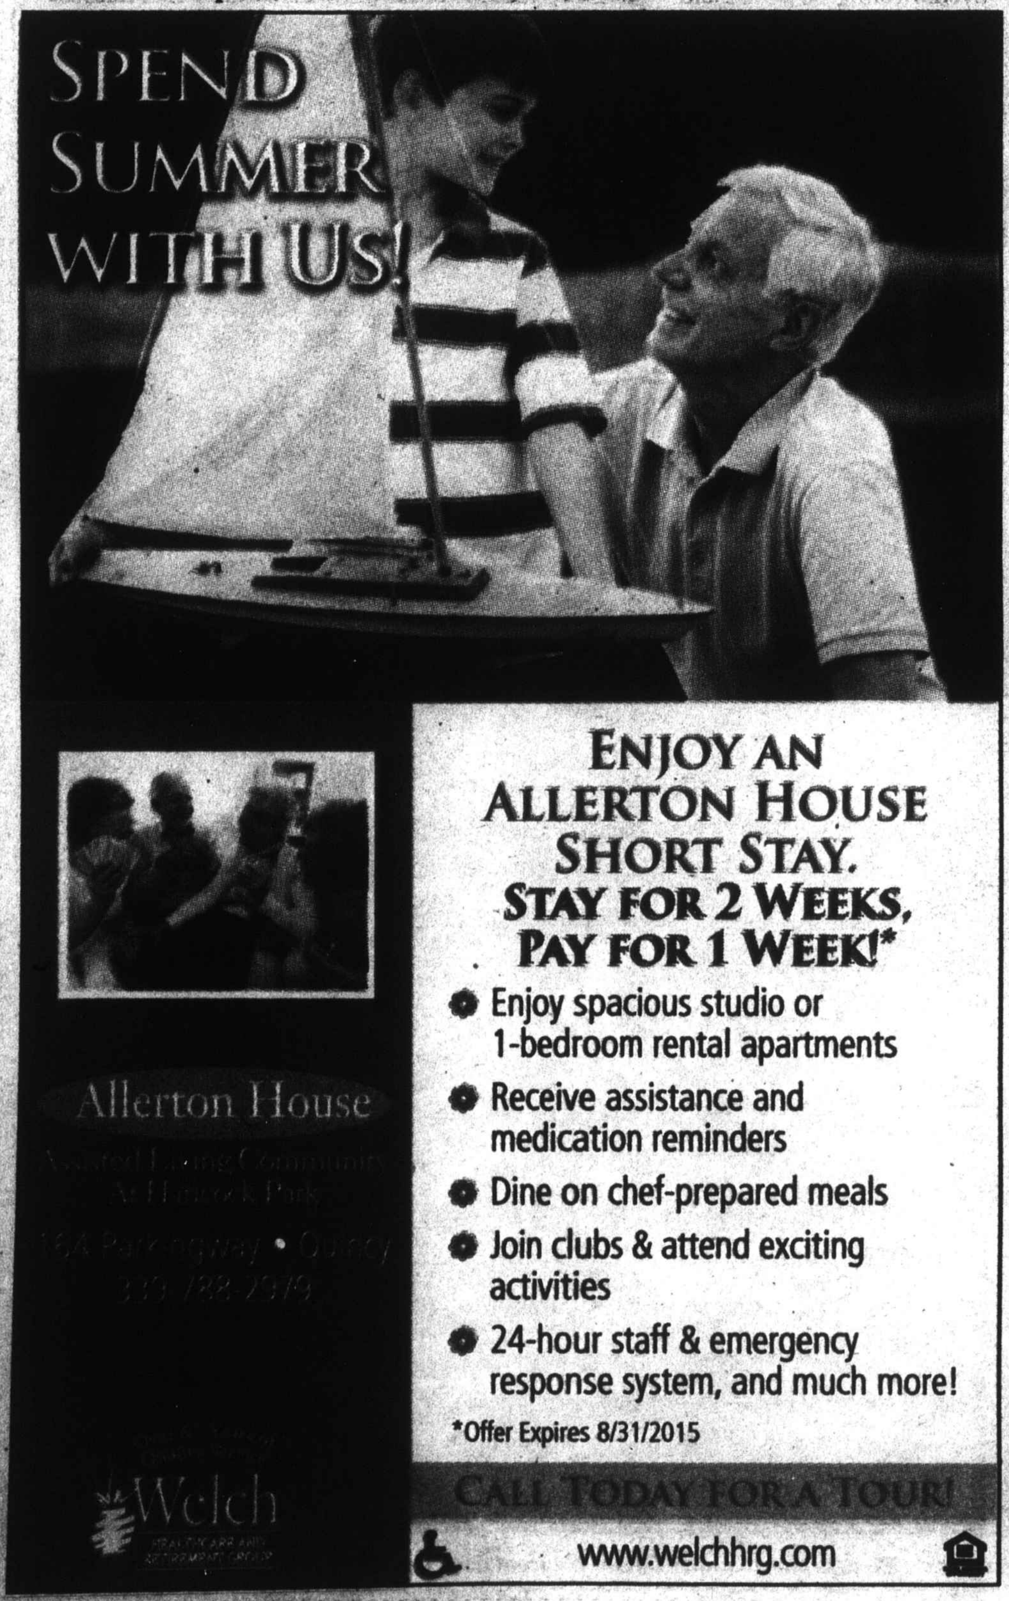
The Apaches will be accepting sign-ups throughout the months of July and August. Players may sign-up in person during any practice or do so online at www.northquincyapaches.com.

FLAG FOOTBALL is for children ages 6-9, entering Grades 1st-4th.

Cheerleading is for children ages 6-14, entering grades 1st-8th.

TACKLE FOOTBALL is for children Ages 8-14, entering grades 3rd-8th.

For more information, contact Team President Sean Halpin at (617) 980-2674 or by email at nqapaches@comcast.net.



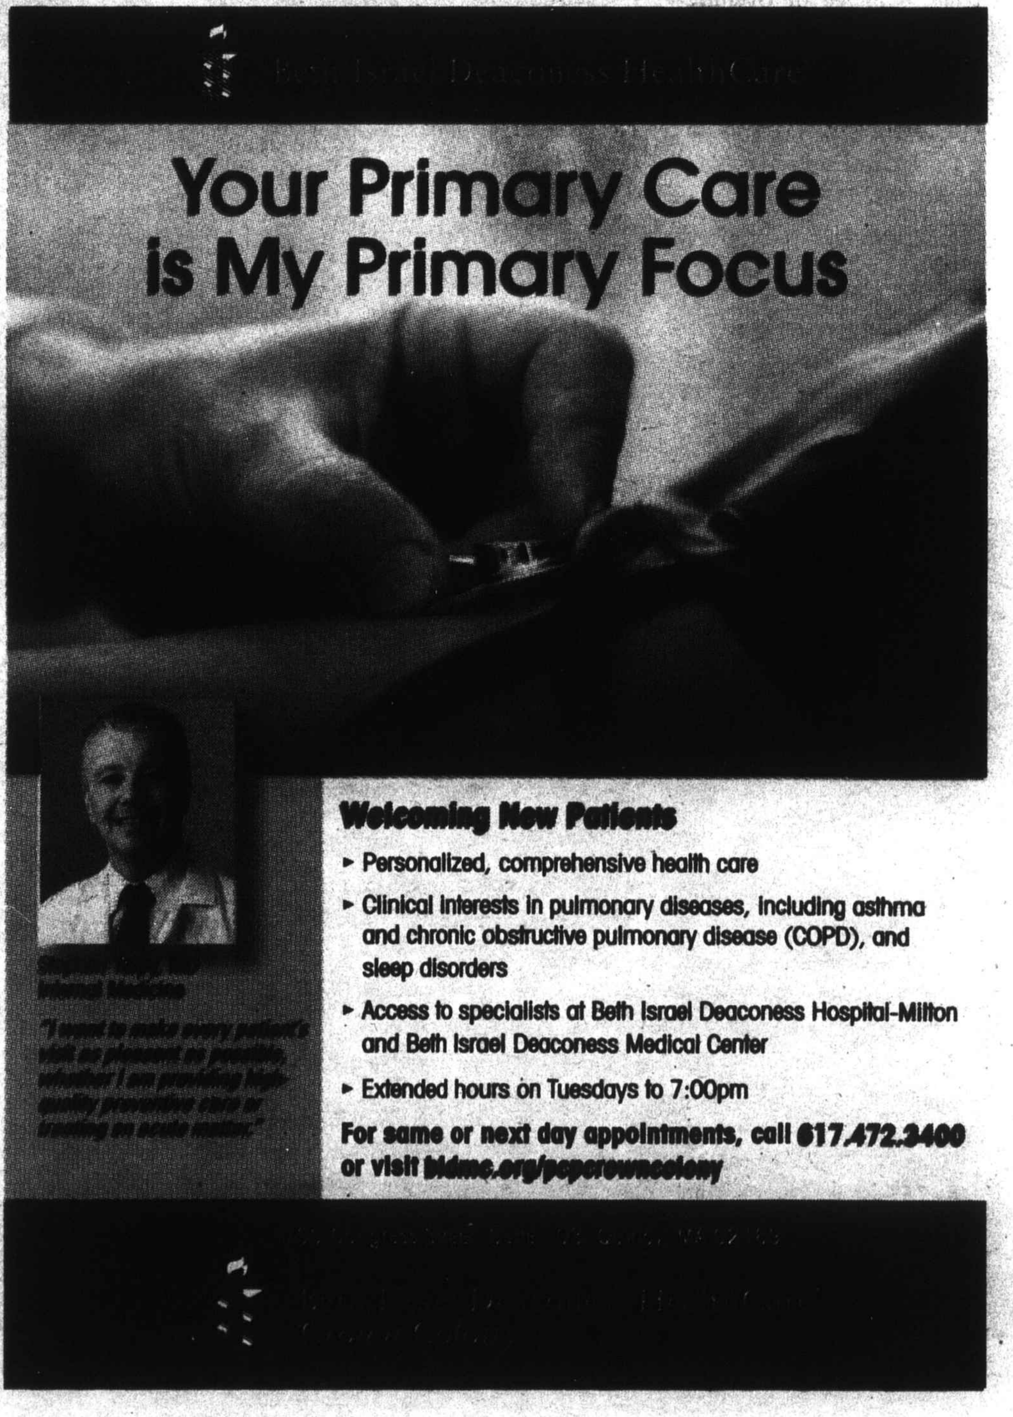
ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com



Your Primary Care is My Primary Focus

Welcoming New Patients

- Personalized, comprehensive health care
- Clinical interests in pulmonary diseases, including asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), and sleep disorders
- Access to specialists at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
- Extended hours on Tuesdays to 7:00pm

For same or next day appointments, call 617.472.3400 or visit bidmc.org/pcpcrowncolony

Runs Record To 12-2-1 For First Place

Morrisette Grinds Out 4 Straight Wins

By BILL GRIFFIN

Before his team began a grinding stretch of six games in eight days, Morrisette coach Steve Maze made a prediction.

"I'll know a lot more about my team after this stretch is over," he said.

He found out his club can fight back from a tough loss. He found out he has the starting pitching which can shut down a losing streak and win a big game against a blue-chip team. He found out his team can use small ball and power ball to score. Mostly, he found out how hard his team can belt a baseball when Morrisette ran four straight wins by scoring 40 runs and knocking out 62 hits.

Monday night's game against Canton contained all of the above ingredients. Josh Helfrich threw six strong innings and eight of nine starters batted safely in a 12-hit attack which featured everything from a suicide squeeze, to a textbook hit-and-run, to ringing doubles which clanged off the fence in deep center field in a 9-2 Zone 6 East victory at Adams Field.

The win lifted Morrisette to 12-2-1 and kept the defending regular-season champs ahead of Braintree (10-1) in the chase for first place.

"I found out that we can play with any team in the East," said Maze.

Morrisette began the demanding run of games by falling to Milton (6-0) and Braintree (8-4). They then played their biggest game of the season. Kenny Sorensen fired a two-hitter, did not walk a batter and Andrew Jaehnig went 4-4 with three RBI in a 12-1 romp (17 hits for Morrisette) in a rematch with Braintree who was the heavy pre-season favorite to win the zone.

"We just didn't play well against Milton. I thought even though we lost to Braintree, we were back on track," said Maze whose club also defeated Cohasset (10-2 on 15 hits)) and Hyde Park (9-5 on 16 hits).

"Kenny's performance against Braintree was huge. You could feel the spirit of the whole team rise. To come back the next night and beat them meant a lot. All teams go into hitting slumps. The second Braintree game snapped us out of ours."

Morrisette showcased all of its offense against Canton. Six of the first seven batters of the game hit safely in a four-run first. Leadoff man Tyler Beach went from first to third on a hit-and-run with Troy Shepherd (two hits, an RBI, as run scored) which was something out of an instructional manual. Beach broke for second. The second baseman moved to cover. Shepherd slapped it through the vacated hole on the right side for a hit.

Robbie Munroe had a double, single and three RBI. Jaehnig had two doubles, a walk and two RBI for Post 294 who led 4-0 after one, 6-2 after three and finished the scoring with three in sixth. The only player not to hit safely was Eddie Riley who did have a beautiful suicide squeeze bunt and a sacrifice fly for a pair of RBI.

"We can hit the ball, but the ability to do the little things, like execute the hit-and-run and get down a squeeze is something that can make all the difference in the playoffs," said Maze.

Helfrich gave six hits, one earned run, walked two and struck out five. He threw hard, but he featured more curveballs than usual. He controlled his breaking stuff well and kept it down and away from the hitters. He was good with men on base. He struck out Joe Peccia with the bases loaded in the second. He left them loaded again in the third when he got Isaac Miley to pop to first.

"Josh asked to pitch tonight because there was a college down looking at him," said Maze. "I thought his curveball was excellent. He's been so valuable for us all year. Not only can he start, but he can give us an inning of relief in back-to-back games if we need it to rest our staff."

Nick Valencenti (two singles, a walk, three runs scored) also had a big night for the winners. Pat Keohane made the defensive play of the game with a div-

Cont'd On Page 22

Quincy Hosting Babe Ruth State Tournament July 17-19

Quincy will host the south sectional of the Babe Ruth State Tournament for 14-year old teams at Adams Field July 17-19.

Quincy will have a team in the tournament.

On July 20, the south and north sectional champions will meet.

On July 21, the state championship games in the 13, 14, and 15 year-old age groups will all be played at Adams Field.

Peter Memorial Blood Drive July 21

The Houghs Neck Community Council Annual Blood Drive in memory of Chris and Trudy Peter will be held on Tuesday, July 21st from 2 to 8 p.m. at St. Thomas Aquinas Hall, 1031 Sea St., Quincy.

Donors must show a form of identification such as a driver's license or a Passport. Appointments are highly recommended, but walk-ins are very welcome.

Call 1-800 redcross (1-800-733-2767) or visit hnccbulletin@yahoo.com to schedule an appointment.

For more information call Eileen Timcoe at 617-479-4107 or email etimcoe@yahoo.com.

THANK YOU! THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

Dr. Freedman will celebrate
20 Years
Owning and Operating Family Practice of Chiropractic!
While we celebrate Dr. Freedman's Anniversary
We also celebrate YOU!
Thank YOU for 20 Incredible years of Chiropractic Miracles!

SAVE THE DATE!
Wednesday, July 15, 2015
10:00-2:00PM
Patient Appreciation Day!

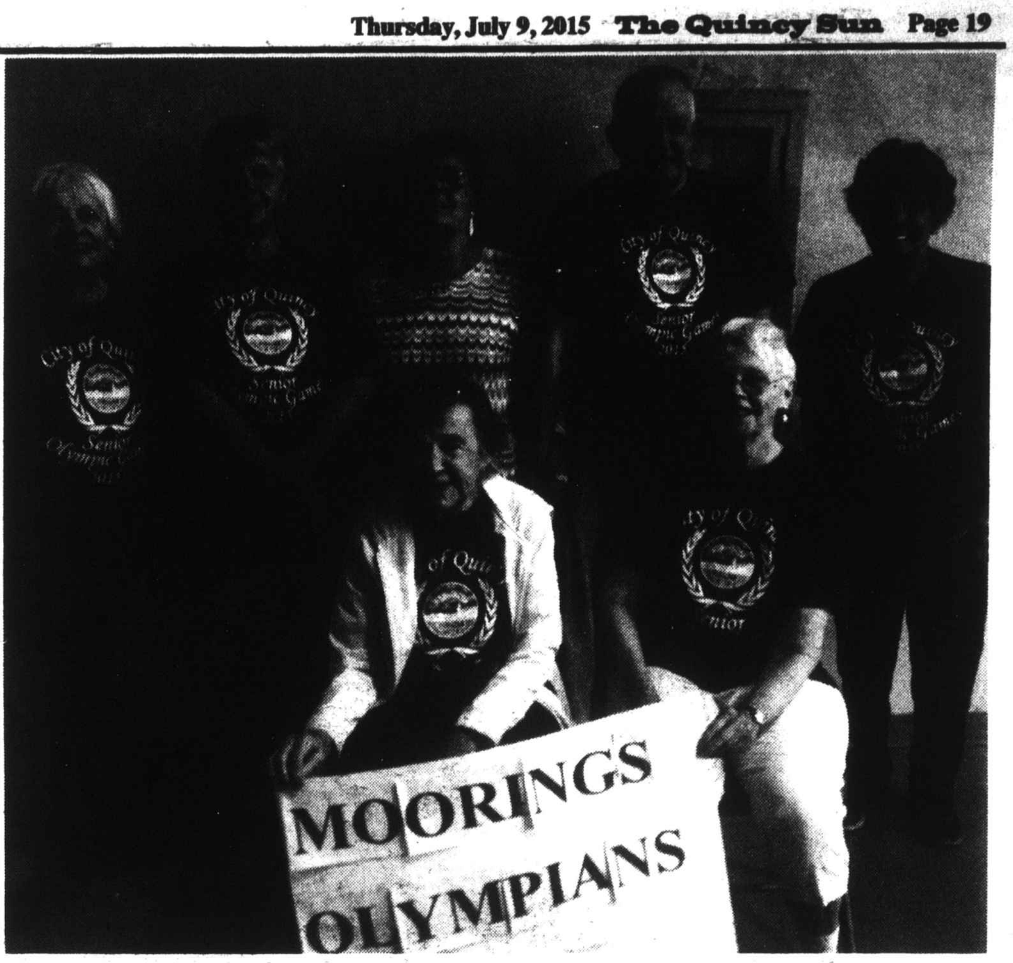
Complimentary Adjustments, Food, Refreshments And Reminiscing...

Don't leave your family at home! Complimentary spinal exams from Monday July 13 – Thursday July 16!!

Family Practice of Chiropractic
Chiropractic Care for Children and Adults
Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
112 McGrath Highway
Quincy, MA
02169

617-472-4220

We don't just have clients – we have a family of patients and We're honored to take care of you!



SENIOR OLYMPIANS – Residents of the Moorings at Squantum Gardens were among the seniors who recently participated in the 33rd annual Quincy Senior Olympics. Front row from left: Peg Buchanan and Sister Martha Walsh. Second row: Lilly Todd, Janice Barry, Janet Powers, Charlie Taylor and Evelyn Sodec. More Senior Olympics coverage on Pages 20 and 21.

Photo Courtesy Peabody Properties/The Moorings

Martin's Masterpiece Leads Wollaston Senior Babe Ruth

By BILL GRIFFIN

What does a pitching performance need to reach the level of a masterpiece?

First, the pitcher must be overpowering. He should pile up the strikeouts. Second, he must have bullseye control. Walks are never good. He should be tough with men on base and give his team a chance to win the ball game. If he surrenders hits, he should scatter them. Hits in bunches mean runs. Then, let's make it even more difficult. Let's ask him to pitch two extra innings.

Lefty Ben Martin did all that for Wollaston Senior

Cont'd On Page 22

Round Ball
BASKETBALL CAMP
For Boys & Girls
INSTRUCTION & GAMES
August 3-7 Ages 7-11
August 10-14 Ages 9-16
at
North Quincy High School
9:00AM - 2:00PM
For Brochure call Ted Stevenson
617-328-3409
*Licensed by the Quincy Health Dept.

Find us on Facebook

Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV

Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, July 9
6:00pm: Senior Olympics volleyball
7:00pm: Senior Olympics Awards

Friday, July 10
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Saturday, July 11
3:30pm: Real Estate Focus
8:00pm: Mayor's Commission on Women

Sunday, July 12
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
8:00pm: Faces of South Asia

Monday, July 13
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Tuesday, July 14
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, July 15
6:00pm: Good News
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, July 9
6:00pm: Update DPW: Summer Update
8:30pm: At Your Library: July Happenings

Friday, July 10
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
8:00pm: At the Library Concert Series:
Boston Road Encore

Saturday/Sunday, July 11/12
10:00am: Health Links: Ticks
1:00pm: Studio Sessions: Ep. 3 & 4
3:00pm: At the Library: Mouli Pal
7:00pm: At Your Library:
Celebrate Quincy's Cultural Diversity

Monday, July 13
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited
9:00pm: NCPC: Prevention Coalitions

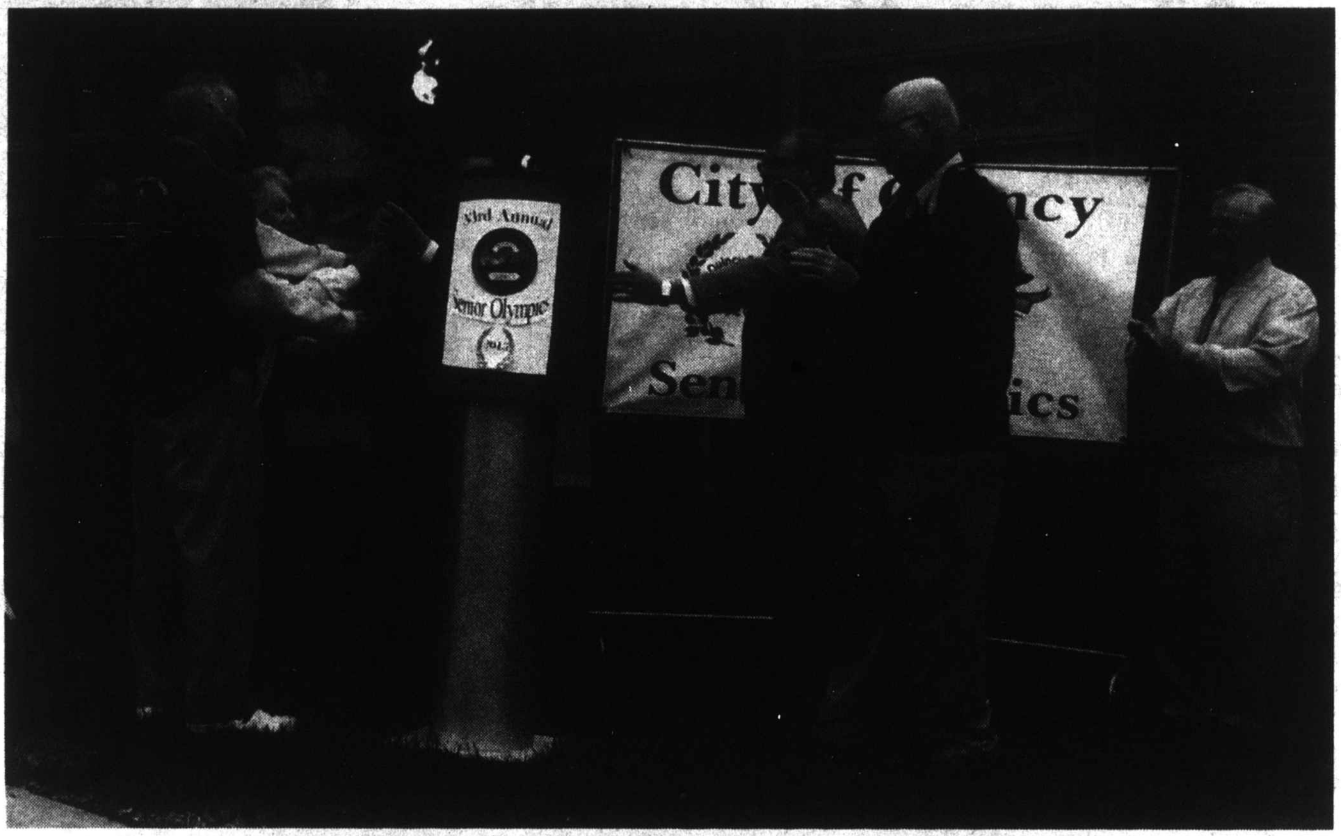
Tuesday, July 14
6:00pm: Health Links: Beach Water Safety
7:00pm: License Board replay

Wednesday, July 15
12:00pm: License Board 7/14

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

180 Medals Awarded At 33rd Annual Senior Olympics

Ceremony Concludes 10 Days Of Friendly Competition



SENIORS Evelyn Hoffstein and Ted Coburn lighting the torch at the one mile walk.

The 33rd annual Quincy Senior Olympics recently concluded 10 days of competition, and its first ever pickle ball tournament, with the awarding of 180 medals at a ceremony at the Kennedy Center.

The ceremony, which also included a pre-award dessert party hosted by River Bay Club, is a fitting conclusion to the friendly competition and a great way of recognizing the accomplishments of the participants.

Organizers acknowledged Linden Ponds, the Games Sponsor; River Bay Club for hosting the Sportsmanship Luncheon, and the closing night social. Thanks were also extended by Recreation Director Barry Welch and Tom Clasby, director of the Kennedy Center to the Site Hosts Torre Dei Passeri Bocce Club, Presidents Golf Course, and Olindy's. Friends of the Olympians were also credited with the success of the annual event, Q.A.T.V, The Quincy Sun, as well as other assisting city agencies including the Police Department, Traffic and Parking, and the Data Processing Print Shop was singled out for producing the Award booklet and games registration forms.

Mayor Thomas Koch acknowledged the seniors for their commitment to an active healthy lifestyle and congratulated them on their achievements as he presented awards and medals.

Welch recognized Michelle Hanly of the recreation staff as the person most responsible for the details that make the games possible and Clasby offered similar praise to Linda Bowes of the Department of Elder Services staff.

Michelle Bell was thanked for her inspirational speech to the seniors at their sportsmanship luncheon at the Kennedy Center. After the awarding of Medals the program concluded with the entire group singing God Bless America.

The list of award winners and medalists are as followed; Gold, Silver, and Bronze medals were presented to the following Senior Olympians. Medals are awarded to participants in each event in five year age categories, 55 and above. Men and women compete separately.

Senior Olympian Volleyball Team

Jim Lynch, Fred Barta, Irene Sou, Josephil Borneo, Mary Fuller, Kristen Johnson, J.C. Borneo, Joan Kierman, Joyce Killian, Meg Doherty, Jack Kelly, Ed Spring and Charles Taylor.

Bowling — Men

Gold: James Degraaf, Richard Collins, Chuck Bohlken, Arthur Crisafulli, Gattonini Benedetto, Kenneth Williams, Maude Haskell.

Silver: Edward Petcavage, Paul Dunphy.

Bronze: Paul Schofield

Darts — Women

Gold: Terri Dempsey, Johanne Steinberg.

Silver: Janet Powers, MaryAnn Dorsey.

Bronze: Nancy Cirillo, Pam Sawyer.

Billiards — Men

Gold: Eugene Marenghi.

Silver: Rich Sutherland

Bronze: Ed Petcavage

Bowling — Women

Gold: Helen LaRose, Karen Young, Linda Nolan, MaryAnn Dorsey, Meg Doherty, Claire Gambino, Virginia McGee.

Silver: Terri Schofield, Marge Sullivan, Barbara Thomas, Barbara Smith.

Bronze: Mary Fitzpatrick, Patricia Burgess, Evelyn Sodec, Jackie Gentile.

Darts — Men

Gold: Ed Petcavage.

Silver: Fred Barta.

Bronze: John Boyle.

Billiards — Women

Gold: Helen LaRose.

Silver: Yvonne Tang.

Bronze: Irene Sou.

Bocce — Men

Gold: Ed McLaughlin, Bill Eaton, George Mallett, Antonio Lacovangelo.

Silver: Josephil Boreno, Thomas Leen, Paul Schofield, Arthur Erikson.

Bronze: Gulistan Malik, Ed Petcavage, Joseph Crisafulli, Patrick Nevins.

Horseshoes — Men

Gold: James Degraaf, Gulistan Malik, Chuck Bohlken, Jack Kelly, George Mallet, Kenneth Williams, John Boyle, Ted Coburn.

Silver: Peter Andrew, Joe Gilmore

Bronze: Ed Petcavage.

Bocce — Women

Gold: Barbara Perry, Barbara Smith, Judith Hurley, Meg Doherty, Nancy Roman, Phyllis O'Leary.

Silver: Mary Fitzpatrick, Nancy Walty, Barbara Coleman, Joan McGrath.

Bronze: Gert Ennis, Marylou Weaver, Katherine Furniss, Elizabeth Mafera, Elinor Maude.

Horseshoes — Women

Gold: Becky Coburn, Linda Nolan, Mary Ann Dorsey, Evelyn Sodec, Betty Mafera, Mary Roever.

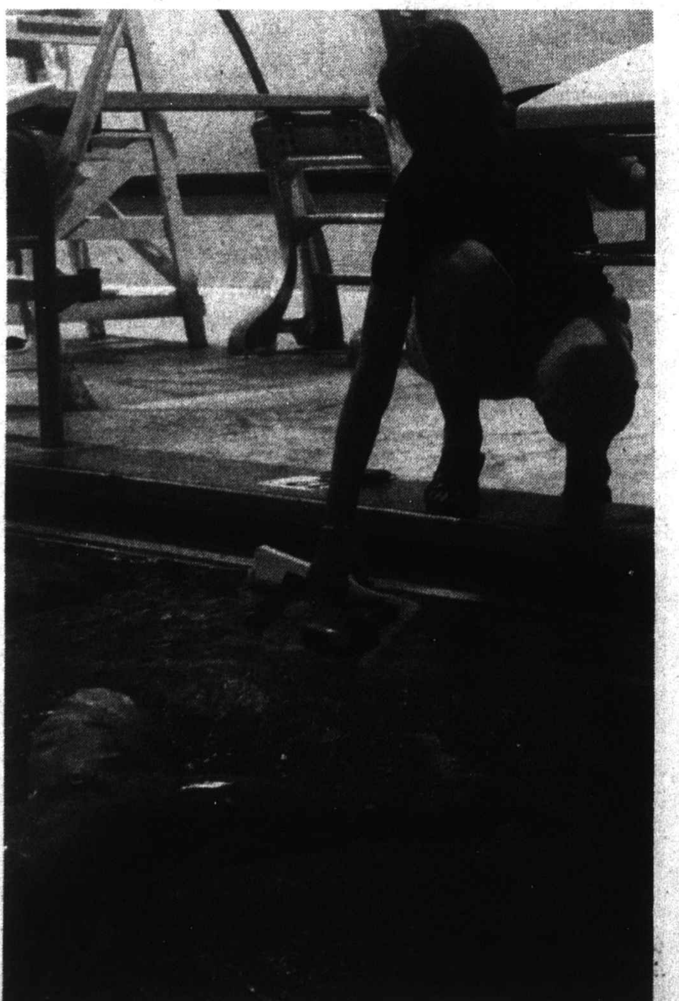
Silver: Donna Desmond, Pam Sawyer, Marilyn Riley, Nancy Cirillo.

Bronze: Joanne Bythrow, Meg Doherty.

Cont'd On Page 21

SENIOR OLYMPIAN Gertrude Ennis at the Torre Dei Passeri Bocce Club.

SENIOR OLYMPIAN and Gold medal winner, Herb Cameron, running the one mile race.



SENIOR OLYMPIAN Judith Hurley and Quincy Recreation Staff Stacey Roche at the 500 yard freestyle.

SENIOR OLMPIAN dart winners (from left to right) Terri Dempsey, Nancy Cirillo, and Janet Powers.

Photos Courtesy Quincy Recreation Department

SENIOR OLYMPIANS Anh Nguyen and Peter Hogan standing with Mayor Koch after receiving their awards for setting the new records for the one mile run. Nguyen running it in 11:10 and Hogan in 7:03. Photos Courtesy Quincy Recreation Department

SENIOR OLYMPIANS (from left to right) Robert Carlson, Joe Gilmore, Jim Lynch, Antoni Iacovangelo, Kenneth Willams, and George Mallett after participating in horseshoes.

180 Medals Awarded At 33rd Annual Senior Olympics

Cont'd From Page 20

Basketball — Men

Gold: Gulistan Malik, J.C. Boreno, Bill Eaton, Thomas Bleakney, Robert Carlson, John Boyle, Ted Coburn.

Silver: Tim Flynn, Jack Kelly, Jim Lynch.

Bronze: Peter Andrew

Golf Putting — Men

Gold: Edward Regan, Tim Flynn, Chuck Bohlken, Richard Tatreau, Tom Bleakney, Pat Nevins, Gus Diezemann, Ted Coburn.

Silver: Peter Hogan, Charles Taylor, George Mallett, Ted Coburn.

Basketball — Women

Gold: Becky Coburn, Linda Nolan, Betsey Cibotti, Barbara Thomas, Nancy Cirillo, Barbara Gilliand.

Silver: Donna Desmond, Pam Sawyer, Evelyn Sodec, Mary Nevins.

Bronze: Roz McCann, MaryAnn McMahon.

Golf Putting — Women

Gold: Helen LaRose, Linda Nolan, Janice Barry, Meg Doherty, Mary Nevins, Barbara Gilliand.

Silver: Barbara Perry, Judith Hurley, Marilyn Riley, Marilyn Masciulli.

Bronze: Johanne Steinberg.

Swimming — Men

Gold: 100 Meter Freestyle: Gulistan Malik, J.C. Borneo.

50 Meter Freestyle: James Rooney, Lee Engdahl, Richard Ganen.

50 Meter Breaststroke: Peter Andrew, Lee Engdahl.

50 Meter Backstroke: Peter Andrew, Lee Engdahl.

100 Meter Backstroke: Gulistan Malik, J.C. Borneo.

500 Meter Freestyle: Peter Andrews, Lee Engdahl.

Softball Throw — Men

Gold: Don Allison, Peter Hogan, Chuck Bohlken, Peter Andrew, Tom Bleakney, Walter Marshall, Gus Diezemann, Ted Coburn.

Silver: Tim Flynn, Edward Spring, George Mallet.

Swimming — Women

Gold: 100 Meter Freestyle: Roberta Allison.

50 Meter Freestyle: Judith Hurley, Diane Mela.

50 Meter Breaststroke: Judith Hurley

100 Meter Breaststroke: Roberta Allison.

50 Meter Backstroke: Judith Hurley, Diane Mela.

100 Meter Backstroke: Roberta Allison.

500 Meter Freestyle: Roberta Allison, Judith Hurley.

Softball Throw — Women

Gold: Helen LaRose, Linda Nolan, Ruth Spring, Barbara Thomas, Sadie Silkwood, Mary Roever.

Silver: Roz McCann, Marilyn Riley, Virginia Lindsay.

Bronze: Marge Sullivan.

Golf Tournament — Men

Gold: Robert Stachowski, Ed McLaughlin, Ed Petcavage, Bill Demers.

One Mile Walk — Men

Gold: Gulistan Malik, Fred Barta, Ed Petcavage, Thomas Bleakney, John Murphy, Herb Cameron, Ted Coburn.

Silver: James Rooney, George Mallett, Barton Spaniak.

Bronze: Hieu Hguyen.

One Mile Run — Women

Gold: Charlotte Cuneo, Patricia DelVal, Anh Nguyen, Mary Roever.

Silver: Vivian Bleakney.

Golf Tournament — Women

Gold: Helen LaRose Patricia DelVal, Betsey Cibotti, Marilyn Riley.

One Mile Walk — Women

Gold: Helen LaRose Karen Young, Judith Hurley Barbara Ward, Sadie Silkwood, Mary Roever, Evelyn Hoffstein.

Silver: Helen Louise Baynes, Mary Hoey, Virginia Lindsay.

Bronze: Vivian Bleakney Leah Mitiguy.

City of Quincy
Senior Olympics
QUINCY
RECREATION
58
90
93

MEN'S SENIOR OLYMPIANS accompanied by the recreation staff after the basketball tournament.

Golf, Hoop Tournaments To Honor 3 Quincy Residents

A weekend full of fun and competition will take place Friday, Saturday and Sunday to celebrate the lives of three Quincy residents.

Dennis Thomson, John O'Connell and Charlie Vidoli were standout athletes in the class of 2002 at North Quincy High who tragically had their lives cut short in the past 11 years. Their friends and families have established a golf tournament and a basketball tournament in memory of these great friends.

On Friday, July 10, the "Charlie Okie Open" will take place at Presidents Golf Course. There are no openings in the tournament, but all are welcome to attend a fundraiser at the Water Club following the tournament from 4-9 p.m. There's a suggested $20 donation at the door for non-golfers and there will be food and raffle prizes available.

The 10th annual O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament tips off on Saturday, July 11 at the Fenno Street courts. A number of local college basketball players, as well as many current and former high school players from Quincy, will participate in the tournament, which features a 16-team men's bracket and a four-team women's bracket. Games begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 11 and Sunday, July 12 and will run throughout both days.

The Thomson, O'Connell and Vidoli families have set up memorial scholarships in their sons' names to benefit North Quincy graduates, and the tournaments serve to raise funds for these scholarships.

The events have been successful in the past thanks to the generous donations of local businesses and Quincy residents. Anyone interested in making a donation can write a check to the John "Okie" O'Connell Fund and send it to Dan Duggan, 61 Bedford St., Quincy 02169.

PRESIDENTS GOLF COURSE

4th of July 4 person Scramble

1st Gross: Eric Daniels, George Lane, Joe Moran, Richard Churchill

1st Net: Elaine Mooney, Dan Birolini, Dave Wagner, Mary VonFreymann

Sunday, Men's Mix

1st Net:	Seamus Moore/Marian Conroy	58
2nd Net:	Paul Ritchie/Pat Hagan	59
3rd Net:	Gino Beniamino/Mal Nestor	60
	Dave Wagner/Marijke Alsbach	60
	John Sassi, Rosemary Jennings	60
	Charlie Ward, Chris O'Neil	60
7th Net:	Paul Nally/Patti Boutilier	61
	Michael O'Neil/Patty Buck	61
1st Gross:	Bob Meehan/Sue Martinelli	67
2nd Gross:	Garrath Whitney/Sue Canavan	68
3rd Gross:	George Edwards/Kim McDowell	70

Martin's Masterpiece Leads Wollaston

Cont'd From Page 19

Babe Ruth against Braintree. Martin struck out 16, did not walk a batter, gave up four harmless singles, and Padraig Geaney drilled the game-winning hit in the bottom of the ninth to lift Wollaston to an exciting 1-0 victory at Adams Field in a South Shore Senior Babe Ruth League game Thursday night.

"Ben Martin was the story of the game," said assistant coach Bob Griffin. "His stuff and control were outstanding. This is the second straight dominating game he's pitched for us, and it couldn't have come at a better time."

The win was the fifth straight for Wollaston and their fourth consecutive one-run victory. It boosted their record to 6-4, put them in mix with Milton and Dedham for second place in the league, and kept alive at least an outside shot at a bid to the state tourney.

"It was a big game, maybe the biggest game of the season for us. It meant a lot in the league and gives us an outside shot at the state tourney," said Griffin whose team advanced to the EMass finals the past two years.

In his previous start, Martin threw a six-hit shutout against Norwood. He struck out six over eight innings. Add it up. He pitched two consecutive complete-game, extra-inning shutouts giving a a total of ten hits and striking out 22. It's great to be young.

"Was I tired? Not at all. I felt like I could go another nine if I had to," smiled Martin after the Braintree game.

The most remarkable part of Martin's effort was the almost 50-50 balance between his fastball and curveball. Last year, Martin threw hard, but was working on his breaking ball. Now, not only can he throw the curve, he throws it as well his fastball. He throws it in all counts. He throws it in all situations. He can bounce it in the dirt for a swinging strike. He can pick a corner for a called strike.

It is not a lazy, rolling curve, but one that dips and breaks down. It is not a throwaway pitch he uses to keep the hitter off balance. It is a No. 1 pitch. He also happens to have a fastball that is a No. 1 pitch. It works out quite well.

"The curve has definitely been the difference for me this year," said Martin. "I worked on it a lot. I'm throwing it better as the season goes on. I have of confidence in it. My catcher (Johnny Marsinelli) has a lot to do with it. I know he'll get any that bounce in the dirt."

Of course, if it weren't for Geaney, Martin might still be pitching. Braintree's Jack Clancy also pitched well, limiting Wollaston to two singles as the clubs battled tied at 0-0 into the ninth. Peter Saccoach and Marsinelli walked, and Mark Munroe reached on an error to load the bases with one out.

This brought up Geaney who was exactly the man Wollaston wanted at the plate in a big situation. Geaney ripped a clean single up the middle to score Saccaoch with the winning run and send the home side off with a happy ending.

"Geaney was the guy we wanted up," said Griffin. "He's been our most consistent hitter all season and he's been swinging a hot bat. He had three of our four hits against Norwood. With one out, I felt confident he could at least lift a fly ball."

Martin was terrific with men on base. He stranded runners at second and third in the first by striking out Jeff Mitchell on a curveball. He struck out two and got a ground ball to leave a runner at third in the fourth. In the fifth, he left a runner at second, ending the threat with a strikeout and a ground ball.

Martin had high praise for his defense and it was justified. Marsinelli caught a great game. With runners on first and second and no out in the sixth, Marsinelli picked off the lead runner with a bullet of a throw to shortstop Mike Pugsley. Pugsley not only got the first out, but caught the second runner too far off first. He handled the play perfectly. He avoided a throw, ran back the base runner and tagged him out.

With two out and the go-ahead run at second in the seventh., second baseman Phil Czajkowski went far to his right and made a diving grab of a hot line drive ticketed for center field to keep the score tied at 0-0.

"It was funny. Right before Phil's catch one of our assistants, Ross Stiffler, told him to forget about the runner at second and just field his position. It worked out just right," said Griffin. "Johnny made a good throw on the pickoff and Pugsley executed the play perfectly."

In other action last week, Sam Keane threw a two-hitter and Marsinelli scored the winning run in a 1-0 decision over South Boston. Pugsley had seven assists at shortstop and Joe Dwyer played fine defense at first.

Wollaston also edged Westwood, 8-7. Pugsley earned the win in relief. Sam McGahey doubled and scored the winning run on squeeze bunt by Brendan Ganno.

Wollaston hosts Cedar Grove Friday at 8 p.m.

Quincycles Beach Ride Saturday

Quincycles will host its Beaches of Quincy Ride Saturday, July 11 at 7:30 a.m.

Quincy boasts 13 beaches and cyclists will see them all during this month's Second Saturday ride. The ride is free and open to the public.

Participants are invited to meet prior to the start time at Anderson Bicycle, 380 Washington St. The 2 to 2.5 hour ride along the coastline of Quincy will conclude with refreshments at Anderson Bicycle.

Quincycles also invites cyclists to take part in two other events later this month. On July 18 explore the Squantum neighborhood on an Easy Rider Ride and on July 25 attend a Safe Cycling Skills Workshop at the Thomas Crane Library for those who would like to ride a bike for transportation but need a boost in confidence.

Quincycles is a group of Quincy residents advocating for bicycle infrastructure on local city streets and promoting responsible bicycling as a means of transportation, recreation, and exercise in Quincy.

For more information about the group visit www.Quincycles.org or email quincycles@gmail.com.

Morrisette Grinds Out 4 Straight Wins

Cont'd From Page 19

ing catch off the grass-top in center in the first. Shepherd made a terrific play going to his right on smash at third to get a force-out in the third.

If Sorensen earned the No.1 pitching star of the week, lefty Joe Cochrane was a close second. He struck out 12 and walked just two in the win over Cohasset. Aaron Clancy led the offense with two hits, an RBI and two runs scored.

"Joe was great," said Maze. "Cohasset plays its home games at Scituate High where a routine fly ball can be a home run, but he kept the ball down and controlled the game for us."

Riley, Jaehnig and Munroe hit home runs in the win over Hyde Park. Riley had three hits, three RBI and three runs scored. Munroe went 3-4 with two RBI.

The chase for first place will likely go down to the final games of the regular season. If Braintree wins out, Braintree wins the zone. Maze would love to finish first, but he remembers well last year when his team won the regular season with an 18-2 record, but went out in two straight games in the playoffs. The playoffs will begin July 17 with games at Adams Field and at Braintree High.

"You always want to finish first, and it would mean a lot to win the Zone 6 East regular season again, but I'll be honest with you. I'd rather see us win in the playoffs," said Maze.

Morrisette is at Hyde Park Friday (5:45) and at Canton Sunday (5:00). Morrisette hosts Milton Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Meeting Tonight On Olympic Proposal

Cont'd From Page 2

If Boston were to host the 2024 games, beach volleyball events would take place over a 13-day period – July 20 to Aug. 1.

The promised improvements to the park include seawall/shoreline restoration and new recreation and playing fields, playground areas, walkways and picnic areas. Another potential upgrade is a visitor center for the Boston Harbor Islands National Recreation Area.

The change in beach volleyball venues was one several announced in recent weeks by Boston 2024. The organizing committee also announced that shooting events will take place in Billerica instead of on Long Island in Boston Harbor as had been originally planned.

The United States Olympic Committee in January chose Boston as the American city to bid for the 2024 games, beating out Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C. The USOC's final application to host the games is due by Sept. 15. The IOC will select a host in September 2017. Rome, Paris, Hamburg, Istanbul, and Johannesburg are among a number of international cities that have expressed interesting in hosting the 2024 games.

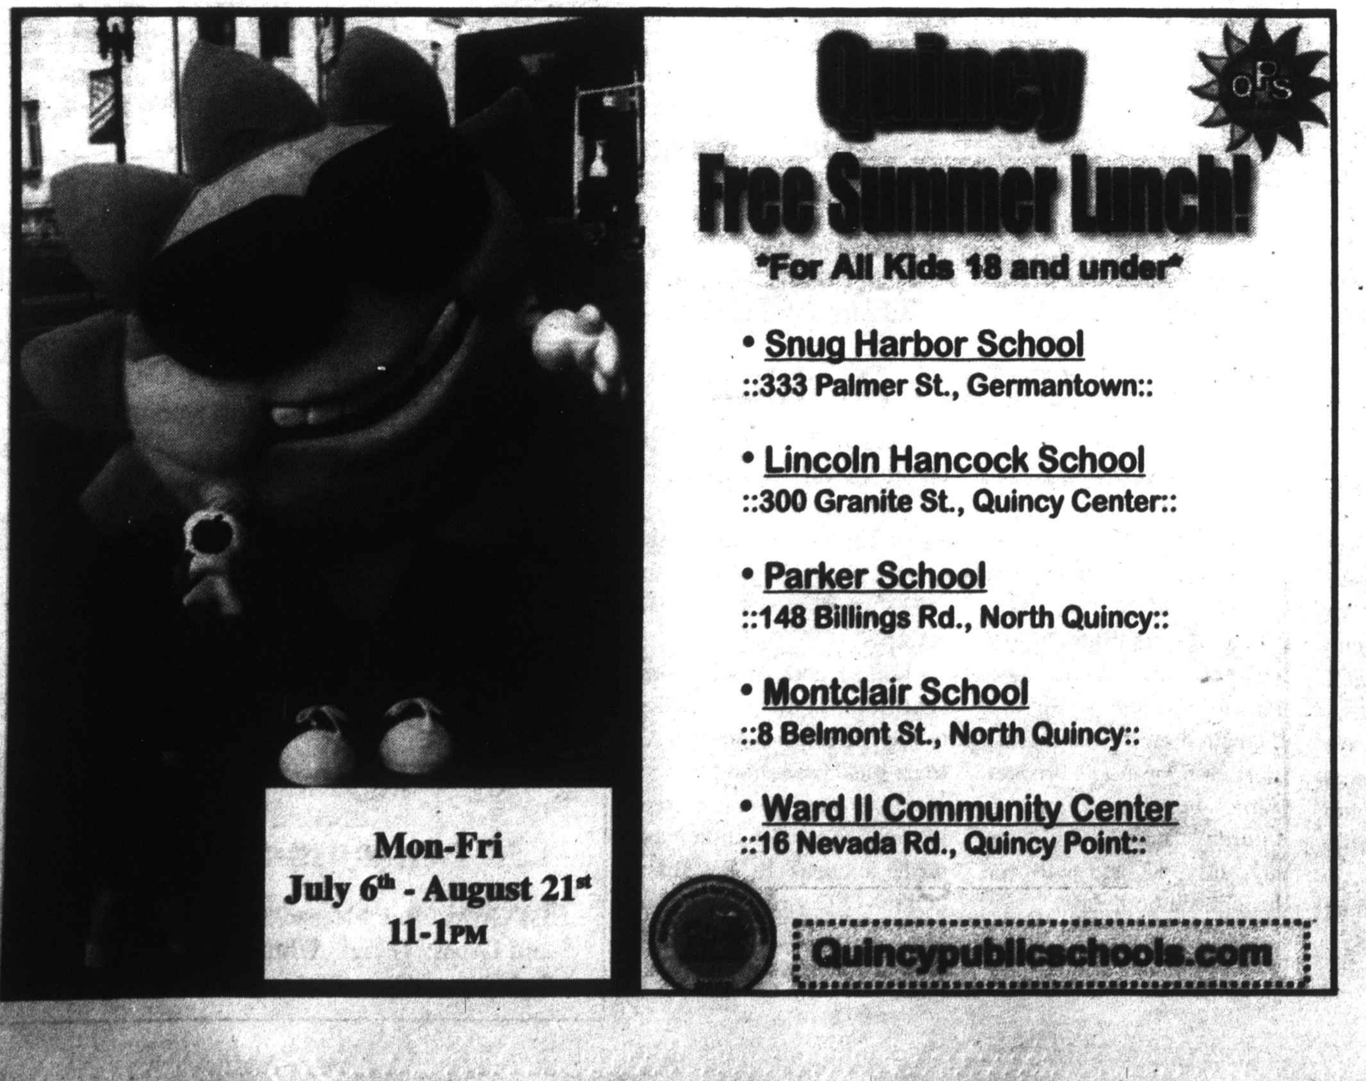
A statewide referendum on hosting the Olympics is planned for 2016. There is no plan to hold a separate referendum in Quincy. Mayor Thomas Koch has said he would use the community meetings – tonight's meeting and the other July 30 – to weigh community consensus for the proposal to host beach volleyball events at Squantum Point Park. If the community doesn't back the plan, the mayor has stated, he won't either.

9 Residents On UNH Dean's List

Nine students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at the University of New Hampshire in Durham, N.H.

They are:

Mathew Head (Honors), Christopher Keenan (Honors), Jackson Lam (High Honors), Rachel Mullin (Honors), Myles Riddell (Honors), Rachel Papile (High Honors), Elizabeth Forde (Honors), John Schwartz (Honors) and Jaclyn Scuzzarella (High Honors).



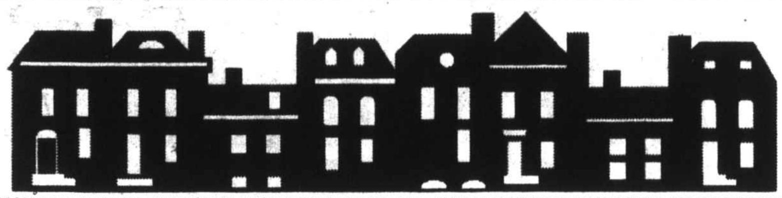
Quincy Free Summer Lunch!
For All Kids 18 and under

- Snug Harbor School
::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincypublicschools.com

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884



Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions June 29 - July 3

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Phillip G. Wong & Yin J.Yu-Wong	Holly C. Muir & Loni S. Rodriguez	$425,000.00	84 Furnace Brook Parkway
Ralph Maturo & Edward L. Anderson	Michael F. Silva & Robyn M. Ostapow	$440,000.00	49 Union Street
James& Deirdre Kilcommons	Sean & Keri Connolly	$410,000.00	65 Longwood Road
Cappola Realty Trust	196-198 West Squantum Realty Trust	$710,000.00	196-198 West Squantum Street
175-177 Federal Avenue Realty Trust	Owen J. & Stephanie Doherty	$425,000.00	175-177 Federal Avenue
Mali & Jeremy Brodt	Jackson B. R. Galloway	$435,000.00	56 Penn Street Unit 4
Alison M Anderson	Weng Real Estate LLC	$203,800.00	210 Newbury Avenue Unit 1R
Beth & Christian Donovan	Guo G. Lin & Xiu Y. Chen	$555,000.00	19 Wayland Street
Eileen Cormican	Christopher Brunner	$235,000.00	33 Elmwood Park Unit 4
Joseph G. Ryan	Elaine M. Savage	$445,000.00	19 Crosby Street
Tina M. & Frank J. Calabro & David A. Cheney	John & Leah Livingstone	$414,000.00	92 Nightingale Avenue
Diana K. Chan	Jichang Du & Ting Liu	$321,888.00	115 West Squantum Street Unit 1112
Boguslaw & Barbara Stankiewicz	Abdelkrim Choury	$250,000.00	24 South Street Unit 301
Corey & Edith MacPherson	Timothy P. & Rory D. Cartland	$485,600.00	63 Sims Road
Joan M. Kirby	Thomas F. Pecoraro	$139,000.00	211 West Street Unit 1B
Richard J Pabich	Wai L. Wong & Frank Leong	$238,000.00	85 East Squantum Street Unit 13
Yee-Ming Chan & Stephen Ribisi	Elivira C. Correia	$527,500.00	18 Jenness Street
Dale & Samuel Rimini & Donna J. Carella	Shazia Noreen & Saad Tauhid	$465,000.00	27-29 Main Street
Charles. McCarty	HCL LLC	$358,000.00	94 Belmont Street
Katharine L. Donovan	Judith Curtis Crampton	$259,000.00	38 Richie Road Unit 38
Kevin P. O'Leary	Rebecca McGrotty	$345,000.00	27 Hilltop Street
Kristen Whitehouse	Thomas G. & Veronika M. Chase	$245,000.00	200 Falls Boulevard Unit B-108
Alan L. & Linda L. Whitman	Xiu H. Du & Shi Q. Zeng	$461,000.00	9 Bayfield Road
Kathryn E. Salines- Johnston	Amy X. Zheng	$280,000.00	100 Cove Way Unit 408
Bjanka & Nikolce Andov	Melisa Sherifi	$230,000.00	140 Quincy Avenue Unit 4
Kelly E. & James J. Goff	Jeffrey A. Doughty	$481,000.00	24 Curtis Street
Mitchell W. Fletcher & Mallika Sundaramurthy	Stephanie A. Wickman	$275,000.00	170 West Street
Mabel R. Biagini Irrevocable Trust	David A. Cheney & Tina M. Calabro	$325,000.00	24 Stanley Circle
Patricia D. Steen	Annie Zhang	$330,000.00	27 Branch Street
44 Town Hill Realty Trust	John P. & Elizabeth Botcheller	$460,000.00	44 Town Hill Street Unit 3
Walter T. & Jeanne B. King	Ellen M. Myers	$590,000.00	95 Monroe Road Unit 1
Michael M. Burns	Shelly C. & Victoria A. Irvin-Kent	$563,000.00	50 Hughes Street
James J. & Kellie A Butts	Lap F. Yu & Lin Li	$482,500.00	31-33 Estabrook Road
4-6-8 Goddard Street Nominee Trust	Ann To & Joey Nguyen	$725,000.00	8 Goddard Street
Godwin C. Aduba	Xiaofeng Yang	$435,000.00	21 Alton Road
Mark & Cassie L. Robertson &Christine C.-Clarke, Stephen	Joseph McPhee	$490,000.00	14 Bayview Street
Linda Quinn & Erica Kintscher	Matthew Brouillard	$486,000.00	24-26 North Payne Street
Bernadette A Boomhower	Rhonda Holyoke	$238,000.00	165 Quincy Shore Drive Unit C61
Evan D. Ho & Jennifer Tang	Yong & Hong Chen	$420,000.00	219 Elliot Avenue
David A. Pepin	Robert H. Nardozzi & Caitlyn A Dwyer	$495,000.00	29 Virginia Road
Alyssa J. & Joseph A Gilmore	Fiske Family Properties LLC	$560,000.00	289 Whitwell Street
Jeremy S & Jennifer Hollman	Brenda Lee & Stanley Tam	$520,000.00	151 Granger Street
Ranko, Mirjana & Marko Stevanovic	Jiebin Tan & Yulian Zhang	$639,999.00	225 Arlington Street
Joan L. Davenport	Betty Chu	$146,000.00	35 Desmoines Road Unit 402
Fannie Mae	Sarah V. & Jarrad H. Vanstan	$361,000.00	33 Virginia Road
Lawrence P. & Vicki L. Tasney	City of Quincy	$525,000.00	30-32 Hunt Street
Ronald Tran & Kim H. Vo	Vanshi Praneet	$290,000.00	200 Cove Way Unit 904
334-336 Billings Road Realty Trust	Wanty & Chi V. Phu & Cindy Chanphu	$630,000.00	334-336 Billings Road

Home Improvement Loans Topic

Representatives from the Quincy Housing Rehab Program will discuss home improvement loans at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy, on Tuesday, July 14th at 10 a.m.

Loans (income eligible) are available to Quincy seniors at zero - 3 % interest and 15-20 year loans. Registration is required for this event. To register call the Quincy Council on Aging at (617) 376-1506.

Home Buyers Workshop

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc. (QCAP) will offera First Time Home Buyers Workshop Thursday, July 16 from 5:45-8:45 p.m. and Saturday, July 18 from 8:45-2:45 p.m. at QCAP, 1509 Hancock St

Attendance at both sessions is required in order to receive a Certificate. To register or more information call 617-657-5315

QUINCY
www.
stamosandstamosrealtors
.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Suantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400

RE/MAX Realty Pros
Above the Crowd!
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your
Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial
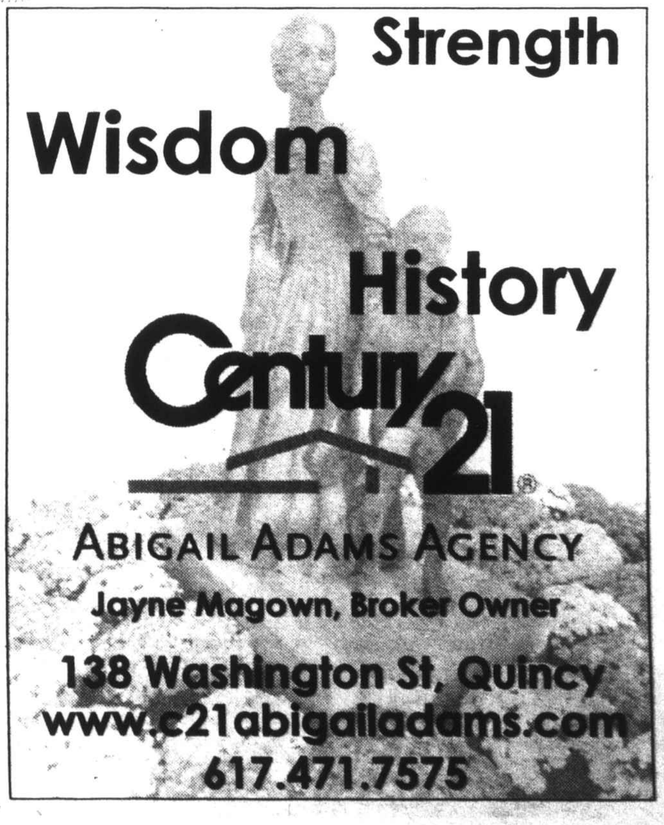
Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties,
Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

FLAVIN Insurance Agency
Complete Insurance Service Since 1925
Auto • Home • Condos • Apartments
Travel Trailers • Umbrellas • Flood • Business
Boats • Commercial Auto
Offering great rates and discounts
Call or drop in for Premium Quote
Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St. Quincy Center
Visit: www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate
222 Sea Street,
Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoor-RE.com



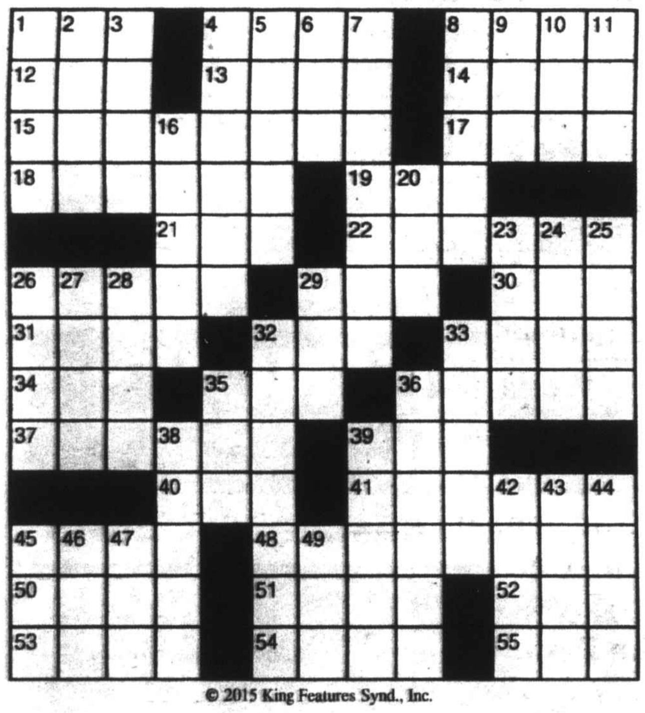
Strength
Wisdom
History
Century 21
ABIGAIL ADAMS AGENCY
Jayne Magown, Broker Owner
138 Washington St, Quincy
www.c21abigailadams.com
617.471.7575

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Stashed
4 "Kapow!"
8 Crooner Jerry
12 Cinnabar or galena
13 — mater
14 Soul singer Redding
15 Magnetic coil
17 Cry
18 Vim
19 Lemieux milieu
21 Roulette bet
22 Grave
26 House on an estate
29 "Glee" network
30 Meadow
31 Winged
32 Grecian vessel
33 Opening day?
34 Omega preceder
35 Emulate 41-Across
36 Edison rival
37 Excluding all else
39 Bro or sis
40 Existed
41 Ms. Earhart
45 Prop for Dr. House
48 Grammatical slip
50 Culture medium
51 Always
52 Jungfrau, for one
53 Band in Boston?
54 Talk back
55 In medias —

DOWN
1 Firetruck necessity
2 Unyielding
3 Take out of context?
4 Brit's sausage
5 Harold of silents
6 Parisian pal
7 Unger's sloppy roommate
8 "Wheel of Fortune" purchase
9 Noshed
10 Recline
11 Sixth sense, for short
16 Fielder's woe
20 Courteney of "Cougar Town"
23 "Desire Under the —"
24 Repast
25 Houston acronym
26 Navigator's stack
27 Moreover
28 Hammer's target
29 Saute
32 James Joyce masterwork
33 Mediterranean three-master
35 Peninsula st.
36 Stopwatches
38 Basins' accessories
39 Comic Soupy
42 Taleteller
43 Gilligan's home
44 Pumps up the volume
45 Upper limit
46 Past
47 Siesta
49 Eggs



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● ORDERS

A D A X U R P M J G D A X V S
Q N K I F D A X T V T Q O M J
H F C A Y W B U E R P N L J H
F D B T Z I X V L G T G R Q O
M K I W R I T T E N N H F G T
D B Z T Y U W V P I T P R N R
Q O H N E L O K H K I Y O I O
H L F L D K C C O C E E A T H
Z X I W L V R G N I D N A T S
U S R A Q A O A E P I O N A M
K J I H M F T G M E S M D B B

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Batting
Birth
Gag
Mail Marching
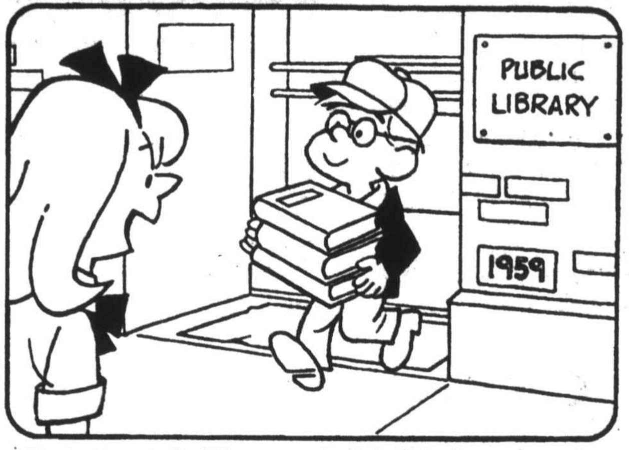
Market
Money
Picking
Short
Side
Standing
Stop
Tall
Telephone
Written

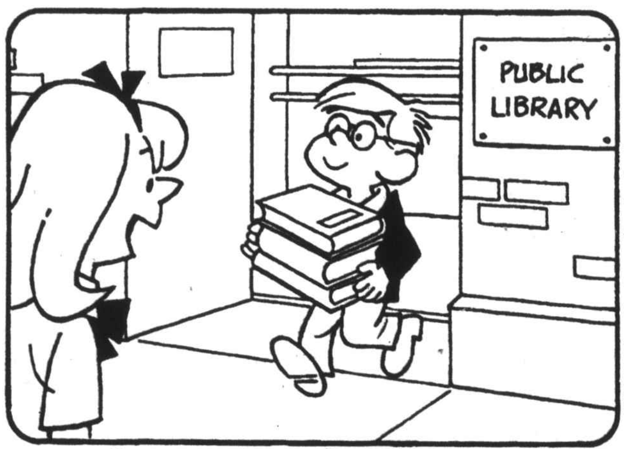
©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY
HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Bow is smaller. 2. Sleeve cuff is missing. 3. Cap is missing. 4. Book is reversed. 5. Mat is missing. 6. Cornerstone is missing.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. ADVERTISEMENTS: What kind of product did the animated character Toucan Sam sell?
2. LITERATURE: Who wrote the novel "Watership Down"?
3. MOVIES: Who plays the title character in "Nanny McPhee"?
4. ANATOMY: The temporal bone would be found in what part of the human body?
5. MEASUREMENTS: How long is a cubit?
6. ASTRONOMY: Which planet in our solar system is closest in size to Earth?
7. MUSIC: What is an anthem?
8. INVENTIONS: Who invented the modern-day assembly line?
9. LANGUAGE: What is the only word in English that has three consecutive double letters?
10. GEOGRAPHY: What is the capital of Arkansas?

Answers
1. Froot Loops cereal
2. Richard Adams
3. Emma Thompson
4. The skull
5. The length of a forearm, from the middle finger to the elbow
6. Venus
7. A piece of music intended to be sung to express patriotism, love or commitment.
8. Ransom Olds, who used it to build the first mass-produced automobile.
9. Bookkeeper
10. Little Rock

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Wishing Well®

5 6 5 8 4 5 4 5 6 5 8 3 8
W A I U S S T D N O S A E

3 6 8 6 5 6 2 8 7 5 6 8 5
S E C W M B S O L I E M S

7 8 7 4 8 7 2 4 6 2 3 8 3
O M O A O K M Y G O O N L

8 5 2 3 7 4 8 2 5 4 5 6 3
S G O U T O E T A N I I T

5 7 2 5 7 8 5 8 7 6 2 4 2
N O H E S N D S E N E T R

7 4 3 2 3 8 6 3 2 3 7 2 6
L R I G O E N N O N F I I

2 3 4 3 4 3 2 3 4 6 3 6 3
N E A A C R G I K N N G G

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Starting something new is always exciting for the adventurous Aries. And here's the good news: This time you might be able to get some assistance in helping you finish what you've started.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Put your daydreaming penchant on hold for now, and face the facts as they are, not as you'd like them to be. Your customary hardheaded approach to "deals," etc., is called for.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Problems beyond your control might delay some of your plans. But things should start to get back to normal by midweek. The weekend could bring an unexpected (but welcome) visitor.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) It's a good time to buckle down and tackle those unfinished tasks so you'll be ready to take on other projects. The week's end could bring an invitation from a most surprising source.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Mixed signals could create a few stressful moments for the Lion. But by midweek, explanations should help ease the tension. The weekend is party time! Share it with someone special.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) This is a good "catching up" week for finishing tasks, calling old friends and maybe reading that book you haven't opened yet or renting that movie you wanted to see again.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Money matters should be worked out, even if it takes time away from a more romantic situation. Better to settle things before feelings turn hard and angry on all sides.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A job-related problem could turn out to be less troublesome than it seemed at first. Just a few moments of talk 'twixt the parties resolves everything to everyone's satisfaction.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The Sagittarian Archer takes aim at health and fitness issues this week. Watch your diet, and try to put more exercise time into your typically busy schedule.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) As you continue to focus on a career or job change, it's a good time to look over some of your rarely used skills and see where they can fit into your future workplace plans.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A loved one's health might be worrisome, but there's good news by midweek. Expect people who share your ideas and your goals to try to contact you by the week's end.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A colleague's request that makes the typically perceptive Pisces feel uncomfortable is a request you probably will want to turn down. The weekend favors family get-togethers.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a gift for making others feel warm and wanted. Even newcomers will feel like old friends.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: H equals E

NHDOZX QHUQYLIDWYDN BHQ
XJMDN GIGX, Y BHIQW OBH
LJOBHQ HZHUBIDO PBJMOYDN
"OMPA OMPA!"

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —
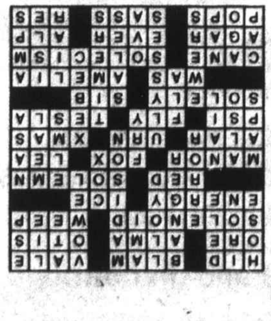
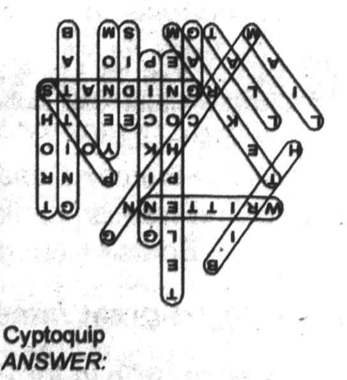
Answers
Solution time: 27 mins.



Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

Gently reprimanding her young baby, I heard the mother elephant shouting "Tusk tusk!"

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, July 12, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have a Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "Let the Son Shine." Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Bethany Church Service is broadcast on Quincy Access Television at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Quincy Point Congregational

Sunday worship is at 10 a.m. at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

The summer sermon series, "Unlikely Prospects," will continue this week with a sermon by Peter Johnston highlighting Saul/Paul. Theresa Jackson will be deacon of the day.

After worship, there will be punch and light refreshments in Social Hall. Sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

The One Room Summer Sunday School has begun. If your child wishes to attend please sign he or she in prior to worship in the children's classroom on the bottom floor adjacent to the elevator. Class takes place every summer Sunday during 10 a.m. worship until Rally Day, Sept. 13th. The children will have fun learning from the 2015 Grow, Proclaim, Serve curriculum specifically formatted for one room environment.

The legacy brick campaign is open one last time for those people or businesses who would still like to add a brick to QPCC's, "Circle of Gratitude" park located on the Abbey Rd. side of the church. Remember a loved one, honor a veteran, publicize a local business or leave words of wisdom to future generations.

Bricks are $75 a piece and the deadline is Aug. 15. Order forms and details available on the Quincy Point Cong. Facebook and Twitter pages or call the church office@ 617-773-6424. Come sit down and enjoy the peaceful respite.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning worship service at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "The Power of Faith, Part 2."

Liturgist for the day, Laurel Wainwright, will call to worship and read the scripture lesson. Martha Chase and Joseph Giggey will serve for the Diaconate. A Baptism will be performed during the service.

Steve Reed, music minister will provide music on the piano and organ. Following the service a coffee hour hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs is held in the coffee room.

All are invited to attend. Non-perishable food items are collected each week for Interfaith Social Services Food Pantry. In July, in addition to the usual items, think cookout for mustard, ketchup, mayo, s'mores ingredients, potatoes, pasta, onions for salads etc.

OBITUARY

Paul A. Merola, 87

A Catholic graveside service with military honors for Paul A. Merola, 87, of Middleborough and formerly West Bridgewater and Quincy was held July 2 at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Mr. Merola died June 29 at home.

He was born and raised in Hyde Park where he attended school. During the Korean conflict Mr. Merola served in the U.S. Army overseas. He became a hairdresser with Laura's Beauty Shop in Quincy working with his wife, Laura Merola.

For the past 51 years he had been the owner of the Canoe Club Ballroom in West Bridgewater. He was an instructor of ballroom dancing, square dancing where he was also a caller and line dancing. He also was fond of bowling.

Beloved husband of Laura A. (Coletta) Merola and the devoted father of Stacy L. Merola-Lagerquist married to Kevin Lagerquist of West Bridgewater and Sheri L. Pascarella married to Dana Pascarella of Randolph. Grandfather of Drew Clancy of West Bridgewater. He was the brother of Frank Merola, Nancy Whyte and Teresa Locarno. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Peck Funeral Home, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Hope Hospice, 765 Attucks Lane, Hyannis, MA 02601.

RELIGION

Squantum Christian Fellowship Vacation Bible School

Squantum Christian Fellowship is sponsoring EVEREST, a Vacation Bible School program from July 13-17, in the Squantum School Media Center, 50 Huckins Ave., Squantum.

Each morning from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. kids ages 4-11 will explore one of the most majestic and beautiful places on earth as they learn to overcome obstacles with God's awesome power. On this "icy" mountain adventure kids will enjoy crafts, games and hilarious skits that will have a fun impact for life.

Parents are invited to come each day at 11:50 a.m. for the Summit Celebration where kids sing their songs, laugh at a closing skit and see the Spotlight Drama where the story and events of the day are highlighted.

Register at www.squantumcf.org or call 617-328-8771. The fee is $30/child or $45/family and reg. ends July 10.

Each year at VBS the church focuses on children in some area of the world. In 2014 the children donated Legos and clothing for underprivileged children at Campo Alegria in Nicaragua.

This year the church will be sharing God's love with Afghan refugees in Athens, Greece. Children will be asked to donate used clothes and money for crafts, puzzles and sports equipment. A team from Squantum Christian Fellowship will deliver these in August when they work at a refugee center serving meals, running a children's program, and teaching various practical classes for adults to help them build new lives.

'Patriotic Dinner' July 17

The monthly dinner committee of the Quincy Catholic Collaborative of St. Mary-Sacred Heart-St. Ann Parishes will host a "Patriotic Dinner" Friday, July 17 at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria at Sacred Heart Parish, 386 Hancock St.

The menu features chicken potpie, mashed potatoes, salad, rolls, dessert, coffee, tea and soda. Cost is $10 per person or $25 per family with children under age 12.

Reservations are needed by July 15 and may be made by calling Sacred Heart rectory at 617-328-8666.

Plans for future events include a Sunset Breakfast Dinner on Aug. 28 and an Oktoberfest dinner Oct. 24.

For more information contact the parish at 617-328-8666 or visit the collaborative website at www.qcc14.org.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM,
10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm
on Saturdays, other times
by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped
parking, elevator to Upper/Lower
Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible &
Handicapped parking, side entrance
air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning
Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "The Power of Faith, Part 2"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship Service
at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding
will conduct the service and preach a sermon entitled
"Let the Son Shine"
- Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099

SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible

Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene

Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

PEACE

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

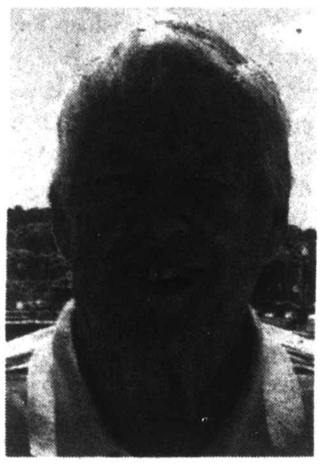
OBITUARIES

Ronald R. Beaudoin, 87

A funeral Mass for Ronald R. "Hio" Beaudoin, 87, of Quincy was celebrated July 2 in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Beaudoin died June 27 after losing his long battle with cancer.

A lifelong Houghs Neck resident, he was a Korean War veteran, U.S. Army, served in the Merchant Marines and worked as a clam digger and lobsterman out of Quincy Bay.



RONALD R. BEAUDOIN

He is the beloved father of Richard Beaudoin and his wife Gayle of Pembroke, Linda Beaudoin-Wright of Pembroke, Raymond Beaudoin of Barre, Roger Beaudoin of Braintree, Ronald P. Beaudoin and his wife Arlene of the Philippines, Patricia Beaudoin and Teresa Beaudoin, both of Weymouth; dear grandfather of Holly, Nicholas, Geena James, Veronica, Marie, Lisa and Daniel; and great-grandfather of Natalie.

Beloved brother of the late Armand Beaudoin of Braintree and Lucille Williamson of GA and is also survived by his nieces and nephews: Donna DelRosso Beaudoin, Peter Beaudoin, Cathy Beaudoin, Denise "Sharp" Beaudoin, Armand "Chip" Beaudoin, Leslie Williamson, David Williamson, Eddie Williamson and Suzanne Williamson.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at St. Denis Cemetery, Harrisville, NH.

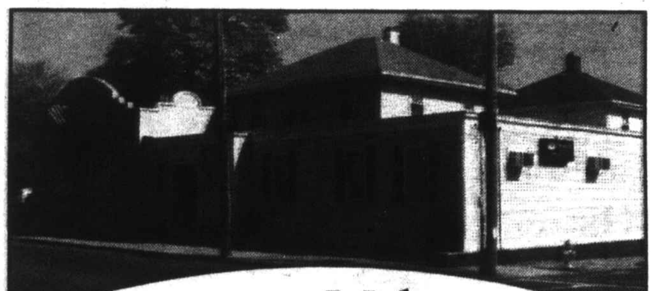
Donations in Ronald's memory may be made to the Humane Society.

Gerald R. Bradley, 72

Gerald Robert Bradley, 72, formerly of New York and Quincy, died June 17.

Loving husband of the Late Jacqueline Bradley. Beloved father of Robin A. Vokoun and husband Scott of Nevada, Gerald Bradley Jr. of Florida. Brother of Gayle Buckwalter of Florida, Michael J. Bradley of Medford, Robert E. Bradley of Duxbury and Nanci Ciccolo of Hingham. Also surviving are 5 grandchildren, 5 nieces and 2 nephews.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the visiting hours on Saturday, July 11 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Davis Funeral Home, 6200 So. Eastern Ave., Las Vegas, Nevada.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit www.dewarefuneralhome.com

Walter F. Gibson, 85

A funeral Mass for Walter Francis Gibson, 85, of Quincy, was celebrated Monday in Holy Trinity Parish at Most Blessed Sacrament Church, Quincy.

Mr. Gibson passed away on June 30.

He was a retired Metropolitan Police Officer and Massachusetts State Trooper.

Mr. Gibson proudly served his country during the Korean War as a member of the United States Army. He is also known by his family and friends as Moe, Fred, Ty, and Gibby.

Walter will be dearly missed by his family and friends.

Son of the late Francis and Delia (Clancy) Gibson. Beloved husband of Mary Julia Gibson (Cavanaugh) for 59 years. Loving father of Maryanne DeThomaso and her husband Dan of Braintree, Stephen Gibson and his wife Mary of Quincy, Kathleen Gilmartin of Holbrook, and Richard Gibson and his wife Katie of Milton.

WALTER F. GIBSON

Proud Grandfather of Erin Girard, Danielle DeThomaso, Brigette Gibson, Mary Kate Gibson, Joey Gilmartin, Shannon Gilmartin, and Ryan Gilmartin. He is also survived by Francis Gibson of Dennis, James Gibson of Franklin, and Ruth Maddox of Virginia, among many nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Home of Little Wanderers, 10 Guest St. Boston, MA 02135.

Mary T. Buzzell

A funeral Mass for Mary T. (Piselli) Buzzell of Quincy was celebrated July 2 in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Buzzell died June 29.

She loved her family, especially her children and grandchildren. She enjoyed hosting and cooking for family and friends for gatherings at her home. Mrs. Buzzell worked as an administrative assistant at Lord and Taylor for more than 25 years and was a member of the Tenant Association at the Fenno House where she would plan fun activities.

Mrs. Buzzell was an active parishioner at Sacred Heart Church and enjoyed the seashore and having everyone together. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

MARY T. BUZZELL

Former wife of the late Paul Bradford Buzzell. Devoted mother of Paul Buzzell and his wife Marilyn of East Taunton, Cheryl Doherty and her partner Tim Brooks of FL and Michael Buzzell and his wife Deborah of Quincy. Cherished grandmother of Paul, Patrick, Ashley, Christopher, and Lucia. Loving aunt of Dr. Carmen Quintiliani, Virginia Gallagher, Dr. Anthony Quintiliani, and Dr. Stephen Quintiliani. Predeceased by five siblings. Also survived by many special friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Memorial donations may be made to Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation, P.O. Box 650309, Dallas, TX 75265.

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE
& CREMATION SERVICES
OF MASSACHUSETTS

Honored Providers of:

Veterans Funeral Care™

PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887
26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

BBB

Linda N. Galvin, 72

A funeral Mass for Linda N. (Coletti) Galvin, 72, of Quincy was celebrated July 2 at St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Galvin died peacefully June 26 at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital – Milton.

She was born, raised, and educated in Quincy. She had lived in Braintree for eight years, previously in Quincy for many years. Mrs. Galvin worked as an assembler in the electronics industry. She was employed for more than 20 years with the former S.H. Couch Company, which was purchased by the Exide Corporation. She retired in 1981.

Her happiest days were spent in the company of her family. She was a loyal and affectionate sister, friend, godmother and "Auntie" and will be lovingly remembered.

LINDA N. GALVIN

Beloved wife of the late John R. Galvin. Loving daughter of the late Sabatino and Nora (Varanese) Coletti. One of seven siblings, she was the dear sister of Angelo Coletti of FL and was predeceased by Grace DaRu, Lee Moneypenny, Gloria Casler, Robert Coletti, and Alma M. Mahoney. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at a later date.

Memorial donations may be made to the Activities Fund at Royal Braintree Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, 95 Commercial St., Braintree, MA 02184.

Jane E. Doine

A funeral service for Jane E. (Roffo) Doine, of Quincy will be held today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. in the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Doine died July 2 surrounded by her loved ones after an eight-year battle with esophageal cancer.

She courageously fought her battle with grace and dignity. She was cared for by her family up until just two weeks ago.

Her greatest joy was that of being a wife, mother, and grandmother to her adoring family.

Mrs. Doine's passions included attending Air Supply concerts, enjoying her coffee, going on weekend adventures with her grandkids, trips to the beach and ocean, and practicing her faith. She will be remembered for her kind heart, positive outlook, and her sense of humor.

JANE E. DOINE

Beloved wife of John C. Doine of Quincy. Loving mother of Elizabeth A. Rottach and her husband Neal of Taunton, Alicia M. Toland and her husband Dan of Pembroke, and Jennifer Doine and her fiance Ken O'Boy of Bridgewater. Sister of Charles W. Roffo of NH and Joanne E. Roffo of Quincy.

Cherished "Grammy" to Malia, Patrick, D.J., Lindsay, and Hope. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were Wednesday from 4 to 8 p.m. at the Keohane Funeral Home.

Burial will be in St. Francis Xavier Cemetery, Weymouth.

Memorial donations may be made to American Cancer Society, 30 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory
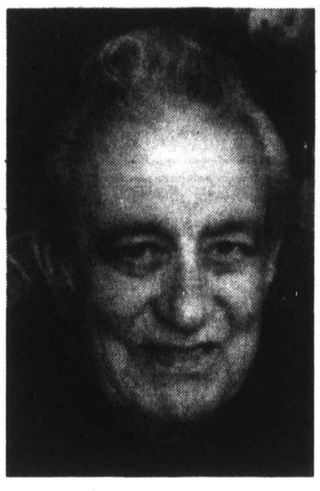
With Flowers

cliffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Mario M. DelVecchio, 84



MARIO M. DELVECCHIO

A funeral Mass for Mario M. DelVecchio, age 84, of Braintree, formerly of Quincy, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in Saint John the Baptist Church, 44 School St., Quincy.

Mr. DelVecchio died peacefully July 4 at New England Sinai Hospital in Stoughton, surrounded by his loving family.

Born, raised, and educated in Quincy, he was a graduate of Quincy High School, Trade School Department, Class of 1949. He had lived in Braintree for over 25 years, previously in Quincy for all of his life.

As a young man, Mario proudly served in the United States Army in the Korean War, attaining the rank of Corporal. He received the Korean Service Medal with two bronze service stars.

Mr. DelVecchio was employed as a plumber for over 40 years and was a longtime member of Plumbers and Pipefitters Union, Local 12. During his career he worked for the Linbach Mechanical Company in Woburn, Royal Plumbing Company in Weymouth, and Barile Plumbing Company in Braintree. He retired from the Commonwealth Plumbing Company in 1988.

He was a member of the Braintree VFW, Braintree American Legion, Braintree DAV Chapter #29, and the Braintree Sons of Italy.

He was a kind, generous, and sincere man who loved and accepted everyone. He was known for his easygoing demeanor and infectious smile.

Beloved husband of the late Eleanor C. "Ellie" (Cordone) DelVecchio.

Loving brother of Leo J. DelVecchio and his wife Marilyn, Vincent M. DelVecchio and his wife Bitsy, Alfred G. DelVecchio and his wife Thomasine, all of Quincy, and the late Josephine Puglisi.

Also survived by many nieces and nephews, grand nieces and grand nephews.

Visiting hours were 4 to 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with military honors at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Hospice of the South Shore, 30 Reservoir Park Drive, Rockland, MA 02370.

Joseph J. Whooley, 75

A funeral service for Joseph J. Whooley, 75, of Quincy, was held Tuesday at the Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy Center.

Mr. Whooley died July 2.

A lifelong Quincy resident, he was a Vietnam Veteran US Army and worked at the JFK Library in Boston.

He was the loving father of Thomas Whooley of Quincy, Susan Goldstein of Lynnfield, Barbara McBee of CO; brother of Thomas Whooley of Quincy, Rita Whooley of Rockland and the late Margaret Williams; and was the dear grandfather of 7 grandchildren.

Burial with Military Honors was at St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home 74 Elm St., Quincy Center.

More Obituaries Online at www.
thequincysun.com

Frank A. Myett, Jr.

FRANK A. MYETT, JR.

A funeral Mass for Frank A. Myett, Jr. of Marshfield, formerly of Quincy, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Myett died July 1.

Frank, affectionately known as Fio, grew up in East Boston and lived in Quincy for over 50 years before recently moving to Marshfield. He proudly served in the Air Force during the Korean War.

Active in the Quincy community and local politics; he was one of the first volunteers of the Quincy Community Action Program founded in 1964 to assist those in need.

Mr. Myett had an appreciation for all things related to music. Years ago he brought his love of music to the Baker Beach 4th of July celebration, a cherished tradition for residents and local politicians in Quincy. A man who will fondly be remembered for, he will be missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing him.

Beloved husband of 60 years to Jeanne (Ciampi) Myett of Marshfield. Devoted father of Lynne Cipullo and her husband Louis "Buddy" and Stacey Reynolds and her husband Richard of Marshfield, David Myett and his wife Julie of Centerville and Robert Myett and his wife Sheree of Weymouth. Loving brother of Fr. Robert Damian Myett of Providence, RI, and the late Donald Myett. Cherished "Papa" of 8 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

Visiting hours were 3 to 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Burial in MA National Cemetery, Bourne at 2:45 p.m. today (Thursday).

Memorial donations may be made to Alzheimer's Assn., MA chapter, 480 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472, Cranberry Hospice, 36 Cordage Park Circle #326, Plymouth, MA 02360, or www.pearsgroup.org on behalf of Colin Joyce, Frank's great-grandson.

Jane D. Logan, 61

JANE D. LOGAN

A funeral service for Jane D. (Kingsbury) Logan, 61, of Quincy, was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

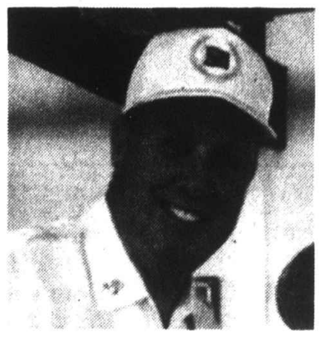
Mrs. Logan died unexpectedly June 24.

Devoted and adored mother of James J. Logan and his wife DeeDee of Southborough, Matthew P. Logan and his wife Melanie of Plymouth, and Andrea J. Logan of Watertown, and her nephew whom she loved as her own son, John S. Kingsbury and his wife Nancy of OR. Loving grandmother of Jameson, Avery, Thomas, and Charlie.

Caring sister of Donald of Boston, Paul of NJ, Thomas of Boston, Daniel of Weymouth, Elizabeth Vogelsang of Plymouth and Linda Conti of Northborough. Predeceased by brothers Edward, Richard, William, Robert, Joseph, John and James, and sister Carole Kingsbury.

Born and raised in Boston, Mrs. Logan was a longtime resident of Plymouth where she lovingly raised her children in a home full of love and encouragement. Mrs. Logan loved music of many genres and periods. She enjoyed dancing and spending time with her large family whom she loved very much. She will be dearly missed but her family's memories of her love will see them through.

Donald McCarthy Sr., 66



DONALD McCARTHY SR.

A Mass of Christian Burial for Donald McCarthy Sr., 66, of Quincy and formerly Jamaica Plain was celebrated Tuesday in Most Blessed Sacrament Church, Quincy.

Mr. McCarthy died unexpectedly June 29.

He was the loved son of the late William and Eleanor (Perkins) McCarthy. Mr. McCarthy graduated from North Quincy High School in 1967 and was a drummer in the drum and bugle corps. He then attended the New England Institute of Anatomy in 1972 to which he then became a licensed funeral director. Mr. McCarthy began his more than 40-year career as a funeral director for area funeral homes before ultimately joining the Deware Funeral Home family where he worked for more than 25 years.

Throughout his life, Mr. McCarthy was an active member in the communities to which he served. He was involved in many organizations and often served in a leadership role for many of them such as the Quincy South Shore Cultural Commission, Quincy Kiwanis, Quincy Elks, North Quincy Knights of Columbus, Harvey's Salt Water Fishing Club, Quincy Sons of Italy, Most Blessed Sacrament Church to which he served as a Eucharistic minister, Quincy Yacht Club, Quincy Bay Race Week, Commodores Club of America, Parent Teacher Associations, notary of the public, Town River Yacht Club and the Christmas Parade Committee as well as the city of Quincy's First Night celebrations.

Mr. McCarthy also shared his love of the outdoors with many of his friends and family members. As an avid boater, he would frequent yacht clubs in and around Quincy Bay on the most recent pride and joy "Quick Decision." Proud to fly his burgees on the stem Mr. McCarthy was a past commodore of the Quincy Yacht Club as well as a past president of the Commodores Club. He would frequent surrounding yacht clubs for various functions always sharply dressed in his uniform.

Mr. McCarthy is survived by his fiancée Eileen Reid of Quincy, his children Donald S. McCarthy II of NH, Scott McCarthy of Canton, Angela McCarthy of Bridgewater, William J. Reid of Quincy, and Lisa M. Reid of Quincy. Loving grandfather to Ethan, Colin, Bryan, and Lachlyn. Also, one of five sons he is leaving behind Kenneth F. McCarthy of AZ, William P. McCarthy of Norwood, and Paul G. McCarthy of FL., and the late Robert E. McCarthy of Weymouth. He also leaves cousins, nieces, nephews and many loved and cherished friends. He and Eileen brought together family and friends creating a new family legacy the McReid Family.

Funeral arrangements were made by Deware Funeral Home, 576 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

In lieu of flowers, a scholarship fund has been established in Mr. McCarthy's name. Please contact Mr. David Dibona 617-471-9179 at the Houghs Neck Community Counsel Scholarship Committee to make a donation.

In Loving Memory of Judy McQuinn Downing
On her July 11th Birthday

If tears could build a stairway,
and memories build a lane,
we would walk right up to heaven,
and bring you home again.

Sadly Missed by Family & Friends

Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service

SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

DOLAN
FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

- Funerals
- Cremations
- Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

CLASSIFIEDS

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE OF ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW

PROJECT: Pine Hill Cemetery Expansion
LOCATION: Willard St., Quincy
PROPONENT: Quincy

The undersigned is submitting an Environmental Notification Form ("ENF") to the Secretary of Energy & Environmental Affairs on or before July 1, 2015

This will initiate review of the above project pursuant to the Massachusetts Environmental Policy Act ("MEPA", M.G.L. c. 30, s.s 61-621). Copies of the ENF may be obtained from Christopher Cassani, Quincy Parks Director One Merrymount Parkway Quincy, MA 02170 617-376-1251 Copies of the ENF are also being sent to the Conservation Commission and Planning Board of Quincy (Municipality) where they may be inspected.

The Secretary of Energy & Environmental Affairs will publish notice of the ENF in the Environmental Monitor, will receive public comments on the project for 20 days, and will then decide, within ten days, if an environmental Impact Report is needed. A site visit and consultation session on the project may also be scheduled. All persons wishing to comment on the project, or to be notified of a site visit or consultation session, should write to the Secretary of Energy & Environmental Affairs, 100 Cambridge St., Suite 900, Boston, Massachusetts 02114, Attention: MEPA Office, referencing the above project. By Christopher Cassani (Proponent)
7/9/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-037

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 28, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of West Elm Variety for a Special Permit/Flood Plain/Variance/Finding to extend the nonconforming use in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming structures), Chapter 8.1.9 (special permit flood plain), Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements), and Chapter 3.4.4 (variance required) on the premises numbered 139 WEST ELM AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/9/15, 7/16/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-038

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 28, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Andrew Smeaton for a Variance to construct an addition in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 4.1.1 (setbacks) on the premises numbered 46 MAYFLOWER ROAD, QUINCY, MA.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/9/15, 7/16/15

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

PART TIME DRIVERS

Drive Cars_Monday's
10am-3pm
Earn $60.00

FAST-PACED ENVIRONMENT
FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE

Apply in person, call or email Mike Cooley at: quincyaa@quincyauction.com

617-773-5000

Quincy Auto Auction
196 Ricciuti Drive, Quincy EOE

7/30

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR ORDER OF COMPLETE SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE
Docket No. NO14P0678EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Anne M Duff
Date of Death:
December 30, 2013

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Paul Duff of Carver, MA requesting that an Order of Complete Settlement of the estate issue including to adjudicate a final settlement, determine testacy, determine heirs and other such relief as may be requested in the Petition.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 07/29/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: June 22, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate
7/9/15

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details* 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
SPARKLE: 7, female, calico.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
SHADOW: 15, female, black.
NIKKI: 4, female, tabby.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
MAWMAW: 9, female, tortie.
ABBEY BUTTERCUP: 15 & 13.
BABY: 4, male, black.
KITTY: , female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
DIVA: female, 7, experienced owner.
SWEET PEA & YOMO: 1 & 6, females.

MISCELLANEOUS

AUCTIONS

ONLINE BANKRUPTCY BOAT AUCTION! July 11-22 Inspection 7/11-Saranac Lake, NY from 10-3. 24' Spencer Serene, V-8 Merccruiser 350hp, Wooden Hull, Custom Built by Spencer Boatworks 212-375-1222-www.AuctionAdvisors.com

HELP WANTED

NEWSPAPER READERS WANTED to participate in an in-person research project. Participants will receive $100. We want to know your opinions about what separates the great newspapers from the good ones. The research will be conducted during the last two weeks of July in Dedham, MA, and your 3-hour interview can be scheduled at your convenience. If you are an avid reader of daily and/or weekly newspapers, please call the New England Newspaper & Press Association at (781) 320-8042 for more info, or go to www.noy.nenpa.com

LAND

CANADA'S EAST COAST-www.sunsetdunespei.com-P.E.I.'s fastest growing year round FAMILY beachfront community. 19 Homes Completed. Offering reduced 2015 Lot pricing starting at $49,000. TOLL-FREE 1-866-636-7155

MISCELLANEOUS

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

WANT TO BUY

CASH FOR DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Up to $35/Box! Sealed & Unexpired. Payment Made SAME DAY. Highest Prices Paid!! Call Jenni Today! 800-413-3479 www.CashForYourTestStrips.com

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association
Learn and Live

PERSONAL

Prayer to St. Theresa

Oh Glorious St. Theresa
Whom almighty God has raised up to aid and counsel mankind. I invite your miraculous intercession. So powerful are you obtaining every need of body and soul, our Holy Mother Church proclaims you a "Prodigy of Miracles." Now fervently I beseech you to answer my petition (mention here) and carry out your promise of doing good upon earth of letting fall from heaven a shower of roses. Henceforth, Dear little flower, I will fulfill your plea to be made known everywhere and I will never cease to lead others to Jesus through you. Amen
(Say prayer everyday for 9 days. By 4th day, ask for a sign. If prayers are to be answered between 4th and 9th day, you will see a rose in a Magazine, TV picture or receive Roses. You can also get strong scent of roses in home even if no roses are present. Must promise publication. Thank you.) M.L. 7/9

May the Sacred heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred heart of Jesus pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us, St. Jude helper of the hopeless pray for us. Say this prayer nine times a day. By the eighth day your prayer will be answered. Say it for nine days. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. My prayers have been answered. Thank you St. Jude. P.C.B. 7/9

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642 7/23

HAIR SALON

ALL SUMMER BUZZ CUTS $15
ALL CHILDRENS $10
CLIPPER HAIR DESIGN
MARINA BAY
(617)328-9719 7/23

CASH FOR HOUSES

CASH MONEY PAID FOR HOUSES
ANY CONDITION, ANY AREA, ANY ISSUE
PROBATE FORECLOSURE ETC...
QUICK CLOSINGS
NO REALTOR COMMISSIONS
(617)249-3961 8/6

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

HELP WANTED

PRESCHOOL ASSISTANT

Morning Position for School Year, starting in September
Letter of Interest & Resume to: info@wollastonhillmontessori.com 7/9

QUINCY CHECKER CAB
OF QUINCY IS HIRING DRIVERS
APPLY IN PERSON AT
673 WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY
NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE
8/6

CLASSIFIEDS

SERVICES

- Parking Lots
- Driveways
- Asphalt Patchwork

Stoughton
call or text
781-267-6827

SEALCOATING

STONE-ELLIS

7/9

FORMICA BRAND CENTER

Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured

Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com

8/13

SAVE
Budget Fuel

Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063

TF

SHRUB TRIMMING
DAVID RICHARDS
617-328-9136

7/9

HTA

Hancock T.V. & Appliance

Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street,
Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE

- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates

CLEAN-UPS

617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES

11/26

D.D & Son's Masonry

Brick, Block, Stone, Concrete, Steps, Walls, Patio's, Fireplaces, Walkways

40 yrs. exp. • Lic & Insured
617-866-3307

7/16

POWER PLUMBING

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749

TF

J.F. ROOFING Co.
QUINCY, MA

- Shingles
- Rubber
- Slate
- Copper
- Vinyl Replacement Windows

(617)471-8216

12/31

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC

Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589

TF

SCENTSY
Lee Ann Zappi
Independent Scentsy Rep
leeannzappi.scentsy.us
leeannzappi@verizon.net
Mention this ad and get 10% off

7/23

T & M Landscape Co.

- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~

9/3

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome

TF

Leave Message 617-773-4761

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE
Average Room - walls $150
Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out.
Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479

7/9

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255

10/29

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

QUINCY MARKET
Corner of Temple & Washington St.

GOODIE'S STORE
1250 Hancock St., Presidents Place

NEW STORE ON THE BLOCK
1183 Hancock St., Quincy Ctr. T Station

HANCOCK TOBACCO
1500 Hancock St.

MIGNOSA'S FRUIT BASKET
138 Granite St.

RITE-AID
132 Granite St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
77 Parkingway

HANCOCK PARK LOBBY SHOP
164 Parkingway

FRANKLIN ST. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

SHOP N SAVE LIQUORS
20 Independence Ave.

DONUT + DONUTS
33 Scammell St.

PRESIDENTIAL LIQUORS
25 Scammell St.

TEDESCHI'S
85 Quincy Ave.

DAILY MART
291 Quincy Ave.

ROCHE BROTHERS
The Falls

WALGREENS
418 Quincy Ave.

ARTERY GROCERY
1000 Southern Artery

TEDESCHI'S
495 Washington St.

DAIRY FARM
330 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
230 Washington St.

STOP & SHOP
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

BAXTER'S PHARMACY
385 Washington St.

TEDESCHI'S
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

VILLAGE COMM. MARKET
100 Willard St.

COPELAND LIQUORS
273 Copeland St.

GRANITE MART
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

JOE'S PLACE
260 Centre St.

CORNER FOOD MARKET
1060 Hancock St.

200 FOOD MART
200 Sea St.

ADAMS SHORE SUPERMARKET
494 Sea St.

PALMER STREET MARKET
231 Palmer St.

BERNIE'S GENERAL STORE
1147 Sea St.

WEST ELM VARIETY
139 W. Elm Ave.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

BEALE ST. SMOKE SHOP
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

COFFEE BREAK CAFÉ
12 Old Colony Ave.

SUPREME LIQUORS
615 Hancock St.

HANNAFORD BROTHERS
475 Hancock St.

RITE-AID
475 Hancock St.

MULLANEY'S VARIETY
205 W. Squantum St.

STOP & SHOP
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

WALGREENS
324 Hancock St.

RED APPLE FOOD SHOP
48 Billings Rd.

SAM'S VARIETY
125 Billings Rd.

DAVE'S GENERAL STORE
66 Newbury Ave.

ATLANTIC MARKET & LIQUORS
247 Atlantic Ave.

CVS
321 Quincy Shore Dr.

CARMINE'S CAFÉ
69 Huckins Ave.

TEDESCHI'S
751 E. Squantum St.

LUCKY SHAMROCK
265 Beale St.

ANDRE'S STORE
20 Brook St.

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES
1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX

☐ Services
☐ For Sale
☐ Autos
☐ Boats
☐ For Rent
☐ Wanted
☐ Help Wanted
☐ Work Wanted
☐ Pets
☐ Lost & Found
☐ Real Estate
☐ Antiques
☐ Flea Markets
☐ Yard Sales
☐ Instruction
☐ Day Care
☐ Personal
☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

☐ Enclosed is $ ___________ for the following ad to run ___________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ________________________________

____

____

____

____

____

____

____

____

Yvonne M. Gallo, 89

A funeral Mass for Yvonne M. (Predella) Gallo, 89, a lifelong Quincy resident, was celebrated Tuesday in Saint John the Baptist Church, 44 School St., Quincy.

Mrs. Gallo died peacefully July 2 at the Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born in Quincy, raised and educated in Quincy schools and was a graduate of Quincy High School.

Mrs. Gallo had been employed for over 10 years as a secretary for the Alfredo Aiello Italian Food Company in Quincy. Previously, she was secretary for the former South Shore Mosquito Control for many years.

She was devoted to her family and especially to her cherished grandchildren and great grandchildren. She enjoyed supporting their various activities and took pride in their accomplishments.

Beloved wife of the late Alfio J. Gallo.

YVONNE M. GALLO

Devoted mother of Gerald P. Gallo and Linda Norton of Hopedale, Carolyn M. Provan and her husband Keith of Kingston, Jayne A. Buczek of Braintree and Edward Buczek of Raynham, Kevin P. Gallo and his wife Lisa of Braintree.

Loving grandmother of seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Sister of Pauline C. Maurer of Florida and the late Richard P. Predella.

Yvonne is also survived by many nieces, nephews and friends.

Interment was in Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Lucille T. Hughes, 96

A funeral Mass for Lucille Theresa (Mezzetti) Hughes, 96, a lifelong resident of Quincy, was celebrated Monday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Hughes died June 29. She was pleased to have spent her final years in the comfort of her home.

She was born in Weymouth, raised and educated in Quincy schools. As a young woman, Mrs. Hughes began her career working in her family's bowling business, Olindy's, in Quincy Center. Later, she worked as a saleswoman at the former Bell Shops and Cummings, also in Quincy Center. She then was certified as a nursing assistant and worked for many years at the former Quincy City Hospital. She had been retired for many years.

Mrs. Hughes had many talents including making braided rugs, crocheting, and was accomplished in the art of ceramics. She loved her home, which was built by her late father, enjoyed gardening, and took great pride in her yard.

LUCILLE T. HUGHES

Beloved wife and friend of the late Robert E. Hughes, Jr. Mother of Darlene J. Hughes of Quincy. Daughter of the late James Olindy and Clara M. (Piccuito) Mezzetti. She was the sister of Betty Russo of Quincy and predeceased by brothers, John Mezzetti and Al Mezzetti. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at St. Francis Xavier Cemetery, Weymouth.

Memorial donations may be made to a charity of your choice.

Adams-Hancock Green Update Seen This Summer

Cont'd From Page 9

John Adams – currently face each other on opposite sides of Hancock Street in the vicinity of the new park.

"The old statues are going to be incorporated into a mini park within a park. That concept is to reflect the Peace Field feel – the hedge and the garden effect – so those will be incorporated and think it will be very, very well done," Koch said.

"[John] Adams and Hancock will be kind of the pillars, the entryways on each end. This is also John Hancock territory not just Adams territory so we will try to honor each of them for their contributions."

While no new statue of John Quincy Adams as an adult will be featured in the Hancock-Adams Green, the mayor said a bust of the sixth president will likely be placed elsewhere in the new Quincy Center.

"There are going to be other placemaking around the square that we will be able to do with that president," Koch said. "J.Q. Adams they argue had the highest IQ and was a tremendous thinker, so I would think something a little different maybe of him and the bust or the head form talking about what a great mind he was."

Koch identified a bust of longtime Boston Pops conductor Arthur Fiedler on the Boston Esplanade and one of John F. Kennedy at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., as two examples of what a bust honoring the sixth president could look like.

There will also be space for a new statue of Abigail Adams elsewhere in the new downtown.

"We can't do it all at once," Koch said. "I think we will be able to marble in all of these things."

The new park will feature fountains, a pavilion, and a promenade. The 18-foot-wide promenade will run north to south through the park. Bollards will separate Hancock Street from the promenade; those can be lowered on special occasions or to provide access for emergency vehicles.

"There will be water features, fountains. There will be a hardscape in between the church and City Hall that could be used for civic engagement events. There will be a green space more toward the T end that is going to have a little pavilion area for potential concerts and cultural events," Koch said.

"That will also be a great area to have some of the Christmas festival activities around that time of year. It's going to have some great opportunities down the road as we build out the new T station.

"This is going to be just magnificent when you think about the combination. Old City Hall will be done. The Hancock Cemetery will be done. The Hancock-Adams Green will be done. Coddington is done. The other embellished landscape areas will tie everything in a little better. It's really going to be unrivalled in the region as far as I'm concerned."

Help Your Parents Plan Their 'Someday'

By KRISTEN ALBERINO

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist

Since your parents have done a lot for you over your lifetime, this is the perfect time of year to return the favor by helping them find their "Someday" at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

In May, we honored mothers on Mother's Day and, in June, we thanked our fathers on Father's Day. In July, we get to show our appreciation for both. Parents' Day, celebrated on July 27, is a great time to make sure your parents take the necessary steps to have a bright and comfortable "Someday" in retirement.

Social Security Online Services

www.socialsecurity.gov

Even if they're still young, it's never too early to help your parents start planning for their retirement or help them imagine what their "Someday" might look like. When you ask them about their retirement plans, encourage each of them to open their own secure my Social Security accounts at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount. It's quick, easy, and free to do! They can even do it from the comfort of home.

My Social Security features several tools available to guide your parents through the retirement process, whether they're just starting to think about it or they're already retired. Before retiring, your parents can view their Social Security Statement to verify the accuracy of their earnings records and find out what benefits they can expect to receive at age 62, full retirement age, and at age 70. They can also get personalized benefit estimates using the Retirement Estimator at www.socialsecurity.gov/estimator. The Estimator shows different scenarios, like how future wage changes or alternate retirement dates will affect their future benefits.

Once your parents have retired and are receiving Social Security benefits, they can use their accounts to:

- check benefit information;
- get an instant letter with proof of their benefits;
- change their address and phone number;
- get a replacement SSA-1099;
- get a replacement Medicare card; and
- start or change their direct deposit or electronic payment method.

Retirement is a big life change, so let your parents know you'll be there for them just as they've been there for you! When you help them sign up for my Social Security at www.socialsecurity/myaccount, you're showing that their "Someday" means something to you.

Mahesh Chandra, 78

Mahesh Chandra, 78, of Natick, died June 21 at home after a period of illness.

He leaves his wife, Veena Chandra; two daughters, Divya Das and her husband Anurag of Needham and Mona Leveille and her husband Robert of Andover; along with five grandchildren, Monica, Nina and Neel Das and Rohan and Krish Leveille.

Mr. Chandra was born in Mysore, Karnataka, India, son of Munshilal and Prakashvati Goyal, one of nine children. He is survived in India by two brothers, Vijay Goyal and Ravinder Prakash of Mysore, and two sisters, Prabha Gupta of Delhi and Rashmi Govil of Khurja, along with cousins, nephews, nieces and other family members.

He moved to the United States in 1964 to pursue advanced studies in Structural Engineering at Auburn University. He worked for various engineering firms in the Atlanta and Boston areas and retired several years ago from working for the City of Quincy as a structural engineer.

The funeral will be private. A religious ceremony to commemorate his passing will be held on Saturday, July 11.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Rice Funeral Home, 300 Park Ave., Worcester.

Memorial donations may be made to the National Kidney Foundation, 30 East 33rd St., New York, NY 10016 or online at www.kidney.org.

NOTICE TO OUR READERS:
A Job Well Done and Crime Prevention Journal
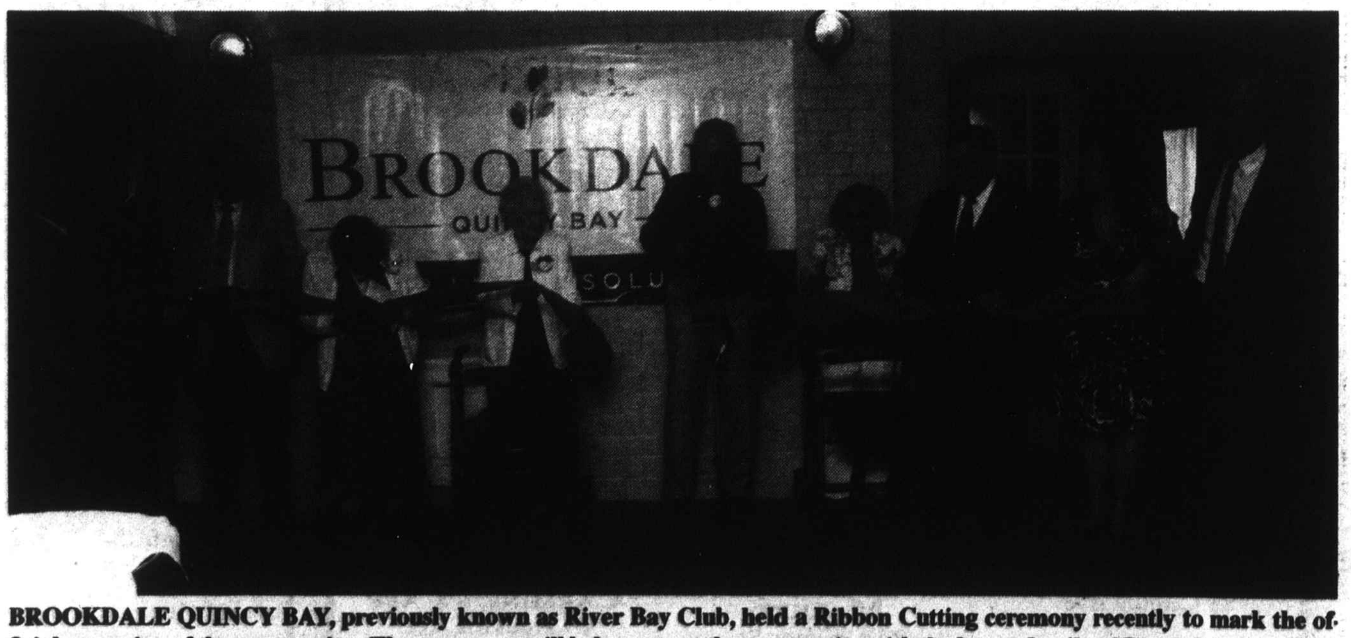
Will Return Next Week



BROOKDALE QUINCY BAY, previously known as River Bay Club, held a Ribbon Cutting ceremony recently to mark the official renaming of the community. The new name will help connect the community with the larger family of Brookdale communities nationwide. The event was highlighted by an original poem written for the occasion by resident Dorothy Parks. The ribbon was cut by Dr. Brooks White, a resident for more than 20 years, who was assisted by Florence Paige and Phyllis Ruscitto, both of whom are 101 years old. Attendees, who included Mayor Tom Koch, enjoyed a range of hors d'oeuvres, and a signature cocktail prepared by the Brookdale Community Bay culinary team. From left to right: Dean Rizzo, president Quincy Chamber of Commerce; Geri Good, Brookdale District Director of Operations; Quincy Council on Aging Director Tom Clasby, Dorothy Parks Phyllis Ruscitto, Brooks White, Florence Paige, Mayor Thomas Koch, Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest and Marc Cohen executive director Brookdale Quincy Bay.

Photo Courtesy Brookdale Quincy Bay

Mayor Thomas P. Koch Wishes to Thank the Quincy Flag Day Committee and Parade and Fireworks Sponsors of the 64th Annual Quincy Flag Day Parade & Celebration!

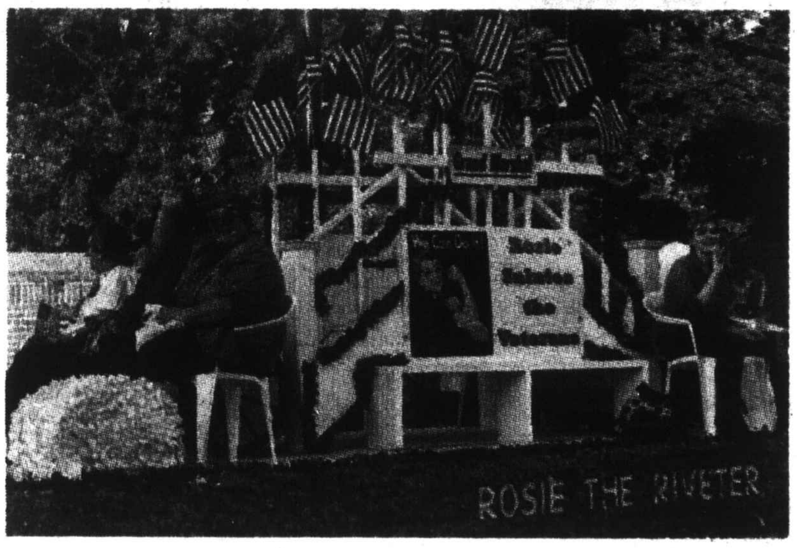
Photo by Lisa Aimola



ROSIE THE RIVETER

Richard J. Koch
Youth Servi Award Winner
Edward Keohane

Photos courtesy of Bob Bosworth

Fireworks Sponsor

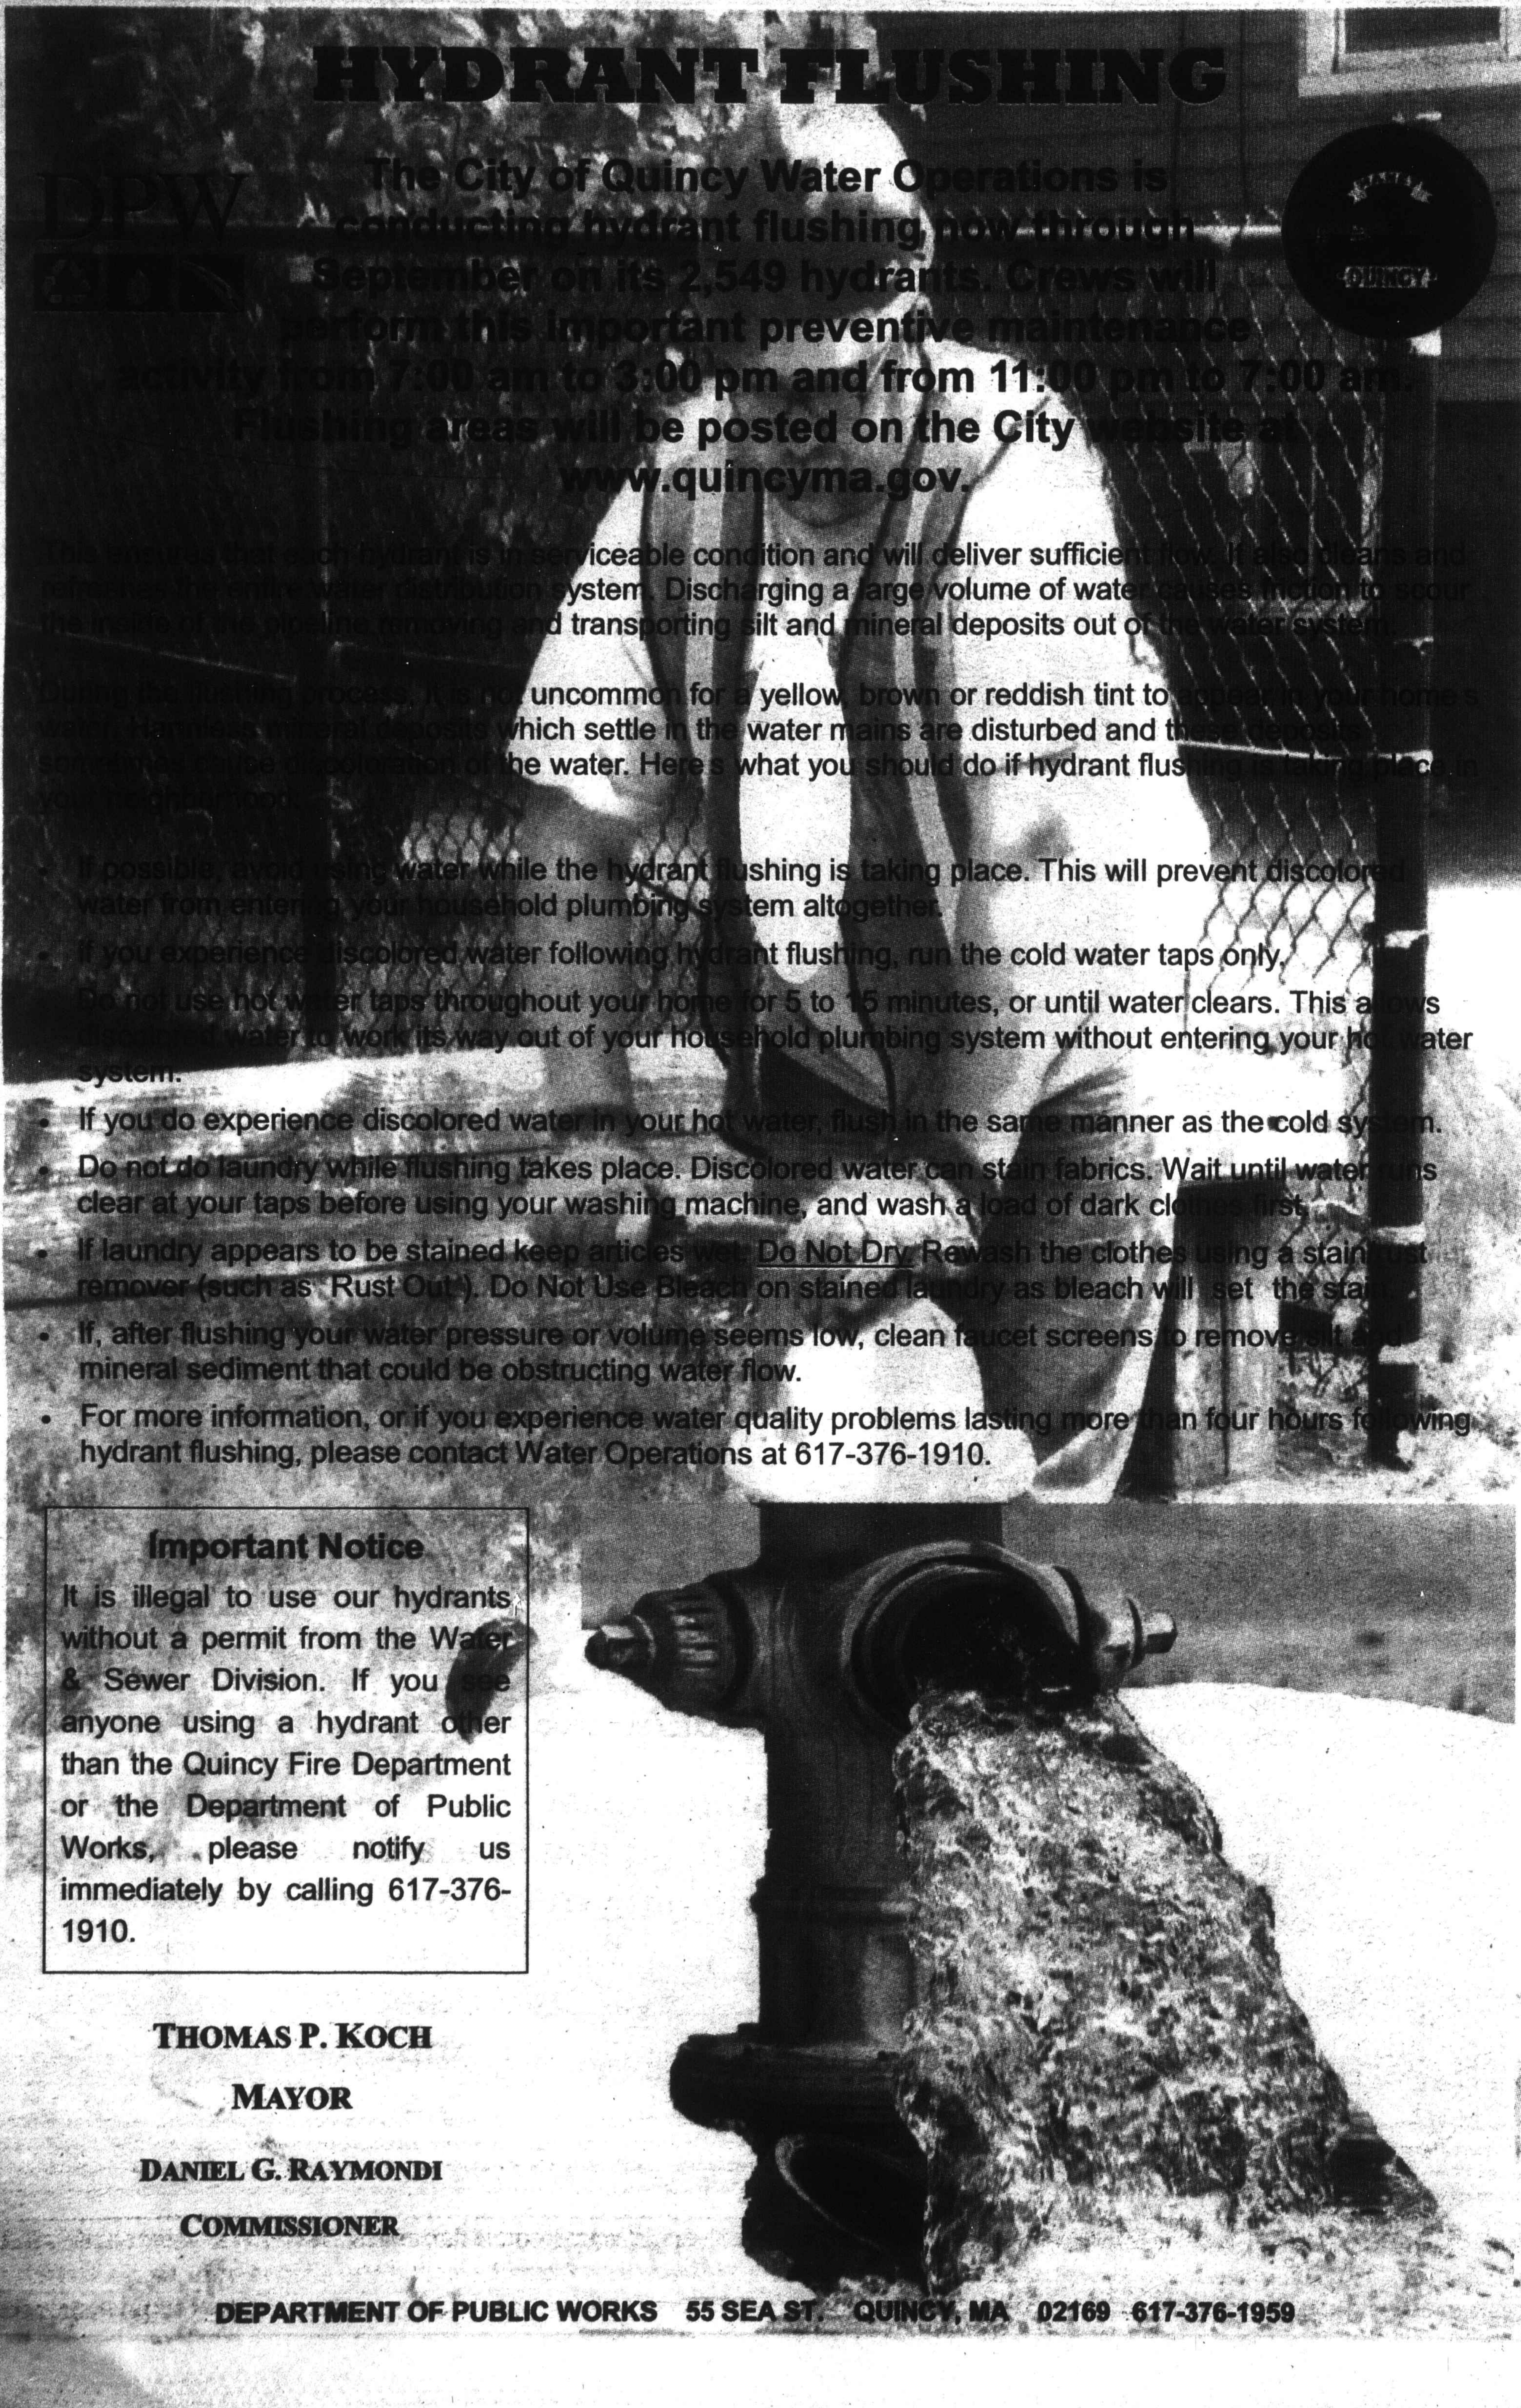
QUIRK AUTO DEALERS

Parade Sponsors

City of Quincy
Colonial Federal Savings Bank
Eastern Bank
Keohane Funeral Home
Quincy Credit Union

See You Next Year – 65th Flag Day Parade & Celebration

Saturday, June 11, 2016



HYDRANT FLUSHING

DPW

The City of Quincy Water Operations is conducting hydrant flushing now through September on its 2,549 hydrants. Crews will perform this important preventive maintenance activity from 7:00 am to 3:00 pm and from 11:00 pm to 7:00 am. Flushing areas will be posted on the City website at www.quincyma.gov.

This ensures that each hydrant is in serviceable condition and will deliver sufficient flow. It also cleans and refreshes the entire water distribution system. Discharging a large volume of water causes friction to scour the inside of the pipeline removing and transporting silt and mineral deposits out of the water system.

During the flushing process, it is not uncommon for a yellow, brown or reddish tint to appear in your home s water. Harmless mineral deposits which settle in the water mains are disturbed and these deposits sometimes cause discoloration of the water. Here s what you should do if hydrant flushing is taking place in your neighborhood.

- If possible, avoid using water while the hydrant flushing is taking place. This will prevent discolored water from entering your household plumbing system altogether.
- If you experience discolored water following hydrant flushing, run the cold water taps only.
- Do not use hot water taps throughout your home for 5 to 15 minutes, or until water clears. This allows discolored water to work its way out of your household plumbing system without entering your hot water system.
- If you do experience discolored water in your hot water, flush in the same manner as the cold system.
- Do not do laundry while flushing takes place. Discolored water can stain fabrics. Wait until water runs clear at your taps before using your washing machine, and wash a load of dark clothes first.
- If laundry appears to be stained keep articles wet. Do Not Dry. Rewash the clothes using a stain/rust remover (such as Rust Out). Do Not Use Bleach on stained laundry as bleach will set the stain.
- If, after flushing your water pressure or volume seems low, clean faucet screens to remove silt and mineral sediment that could be obstructing water flow.
- For more information, or if you experience water quality problems lasting more than four hours following hydrant flushing, please contact Water Operations at 617-376-1910.

Important Notice

It is illegal to use our hydrants without a permit from the Water & Sewer Division. If you see anyone using a hydrant other than the Quincy Fire Department or the Department of Public Works, please notify us immediately by calling 617-376-1910.

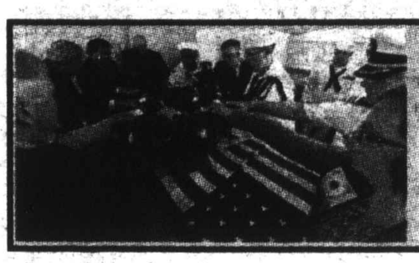
THOMAS P. KOCH

MAYOR

DANIEL G. RAYMONDI

COMMISSIONER

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS 55 SEA ST. QUINCY, MA 02169 617-376-1959



President John Quincy Adams' Life, Legacy Celebrated - Page 2

Quincy Youth Basketball Champs Crowned - Pages 16, 17

2
CAR-RT LOTC-004
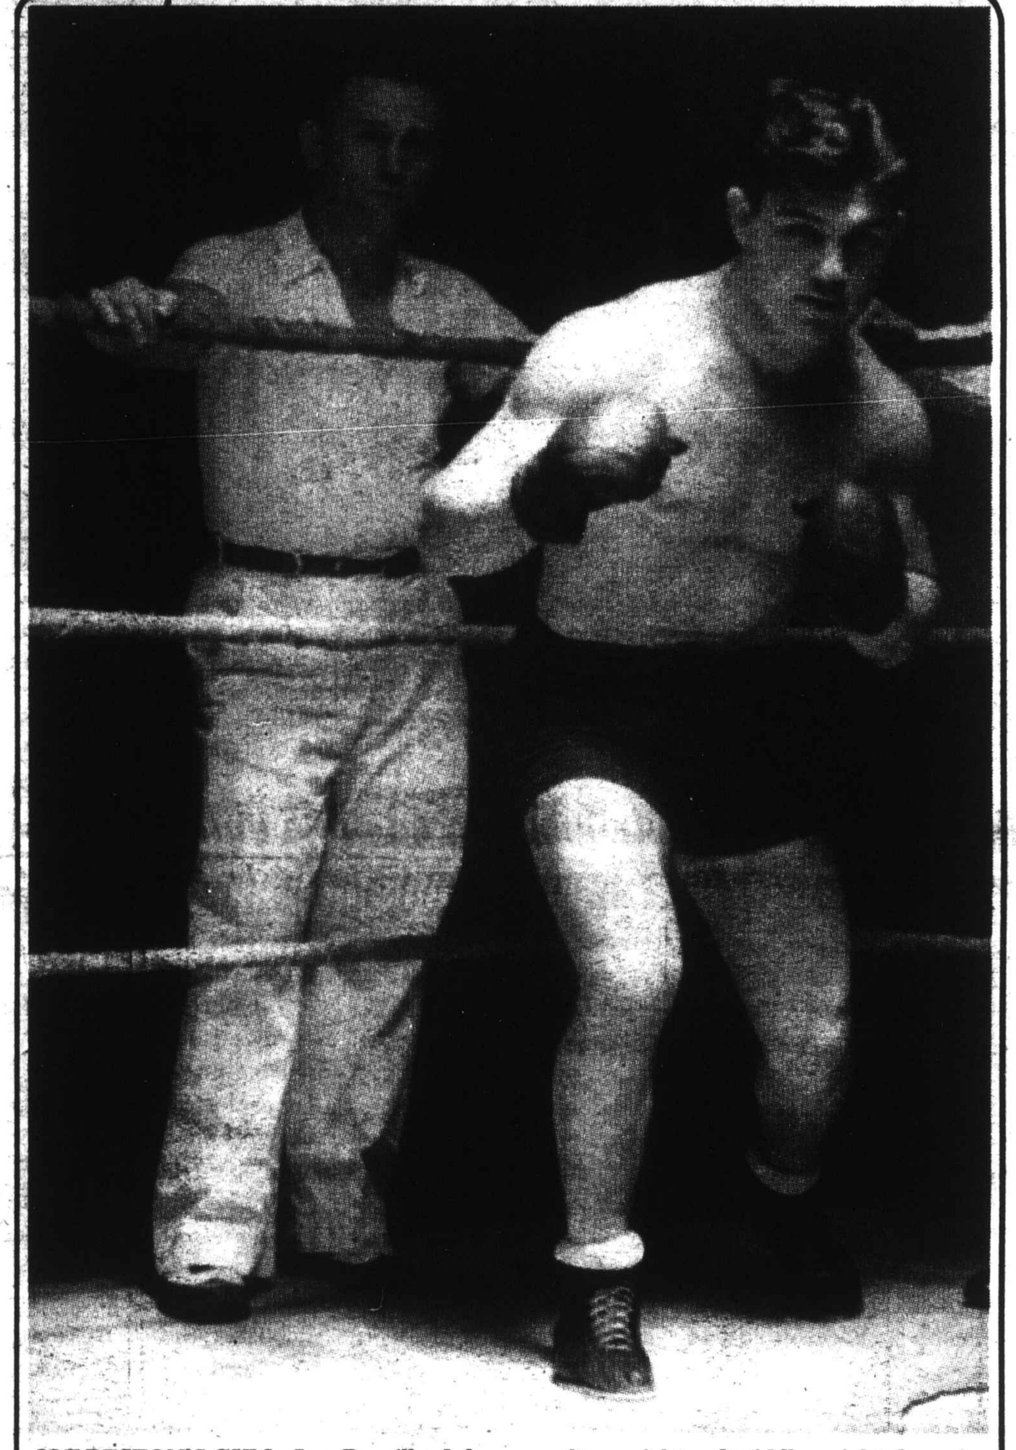
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 43 Thursday, July 16, 2015 75¢



JOE BESTON'S GYM – Lou Brouillard, former welter-weight and middle-weight champion of the world, trained at the old Beston's Gym located in the Shaw Building (later the Bargain Center) in Quincy Center. At left is Joe Beston who founded the well-known gym in 1922.

Photo Courtesy Paul Beston

A Look Back At A Quincy Institution

Fond Memories Of Joe Beston's Gym

By BILL GRIFFIN

People who remember The Bargain Center know when Quincy was in a different time. People who remember what stood above The Bargain Center for 26 years know when Quincy was in a different world.

For nearly three full decades, from 1922 to1948, Joe Beston's Gym graced the city from the roof of the old discount store. In those rare, old days of boxing, Joe Beston trained fighters. He trained world champions. He trained kids from the Point who wanted to battle kids from the north side. He trained fighters from places like England and Sweden and France and Italy. He trained them by the hundreds and by the thousands.

"To understand it, you have to understand it was a different world, it was

Cont'd On Page 14

August Finish For City Hall Annex Work

By SCOTT JACKSON

Work inside the City Hall annex – needed to make way for a new office space for the city clerk – should be finished by the middle of next month.

The work inside the annex is being undertaken to create a new home for the departments falling under the auspices of City Clerk Joseph Shea. Those offices had been located on the first

Cont'd On Page 11

Residents Not Digging Beach Volleyball Venue

- Few Express Support For Games At Squantum Park
- Second Community Meeting Set For July 30

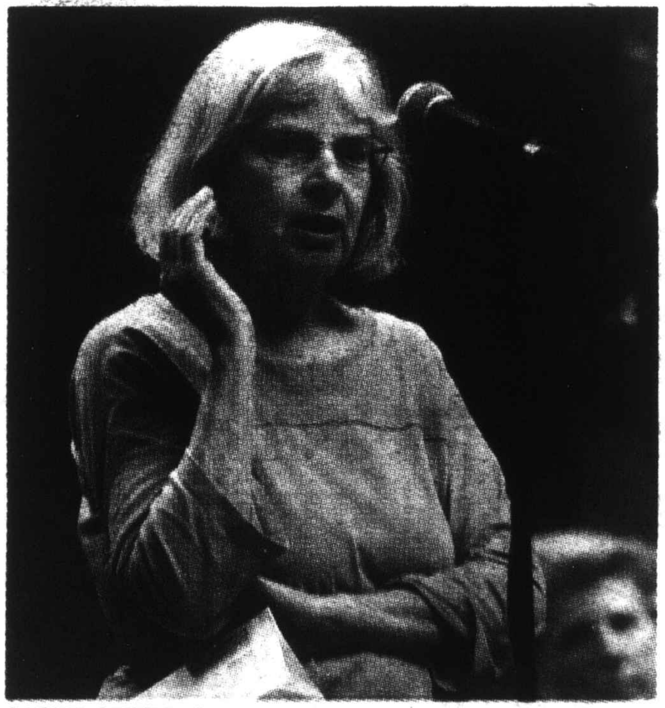
By JOE REARDON

The effects on the environment and potential transportation problems were just two of the concerns raised at the first public hearing held last Thursday evening at the Marina Bay community room for the proposal to hold Olympic volleyball at Squantum Point Park if the 2024 Summer Olympics are awarded to Boston.

An overflow crowd of more than 200 people, many voicing their opposition by holding signs that read "Don't Play With Quincy" and "Stop 2024 Boston Olympics" were on hand to hear details about the estimated $23 million to $28.5 million privately funded project.

The plans for Quincy to host volleyball in a tempo-

Cont'd On Page 4



SALLY OWEN of Wollaston was among the concerned citizens who spoke at the July 9th community meeting on the proposal for an Olympic beach volleyball venue at Squantum Point Park. Owen said she was concerned about the proposed venue's environmental impact on the park.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

City Closes On Final North Quincy Home

By SCOTT JACKSON

The city has closed on the ninth and final home officials planned to purchase and raze to make way for renovations to Teel Field and a new parking lot for North Quincy High School. The demolition of those houses will begin in the coming weeks.

The city paid Lawrence and Vicki Tasney $525,000 for the duplex at 30 Hunt St. in addition to a total of $75,000 in relocation fees to the families that had been

Cont'd On Page 9

04879 06810

Police Investigating Pedestrian Fatality - Page 3

Chris, Trudy Peter Memorial Blood Drive July 21 - Page 9

Encouraging Signs In Real Estate Market - Page 19

For more Quincy news, visit:

The Quincy Sun.com

Contributions Of Sixth U.S. President Remembered On 248th Birthday Anniversary

John Quincy Adams' Life, Legacy Celebrated

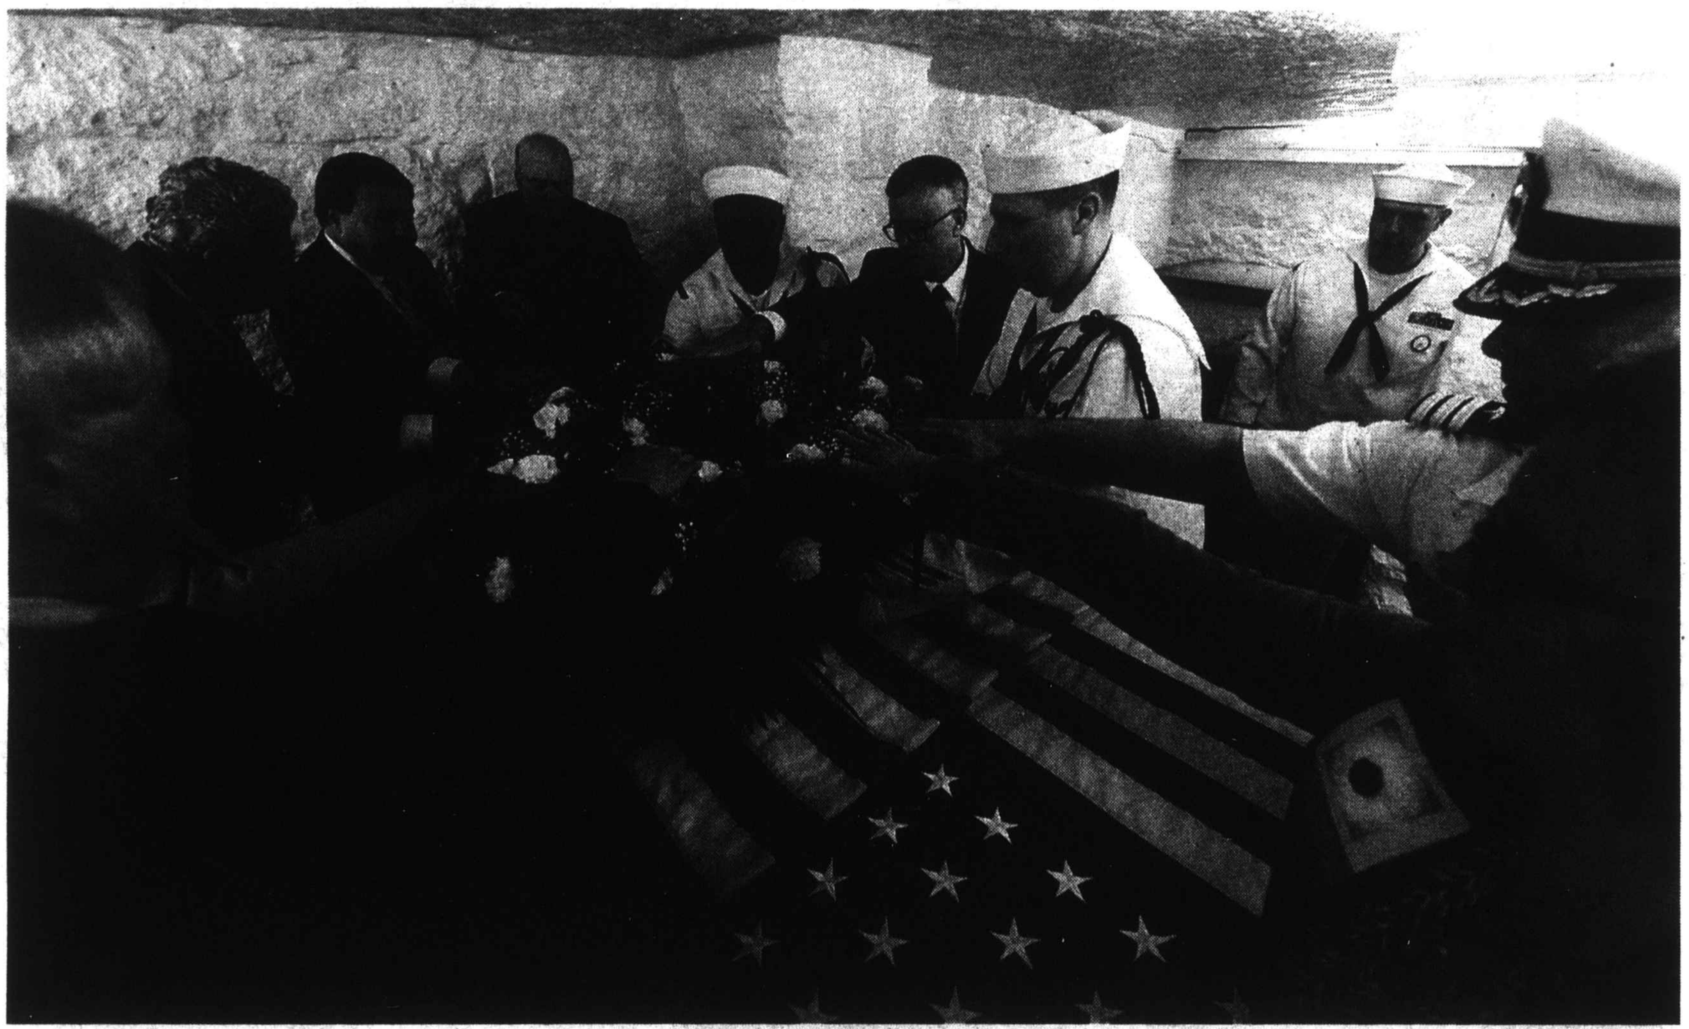
By JOE REARDON

John Quincy Adams probably wouldn't recognize 21st century Quincy, but there's little doubt he'd be pleased with the progress that's been made since his time as the sixth president of the United States.

Those words were echoed by Quincy Mayor Thomas Koch during last Friday's 248th birthday ceremony for Adams honoring his life and accomplishments and the traditional laying of the Presidential Wreath in the crypt of the United First Parish Church.

Adams, Koch said, has a legacy that is not only "unmatched" in the city of Quincy, but in the nation as well. "Much has been written about the contributions of the Adamses," said Koch. "He would be pleased with what is happening within the city of Quincy. He'd be pleased that we are restoring city hall across the street. I think he'd be pleased that we're working on the infrastructure across the entire city. I think he'd be pleased with the progress we're mak-

Cont'd On Page 13



A PRESIDENTIAL WREATH from President Barack Obama is placed on the granite tomb of John Quincy Adams during a ceremony honoring the Sixth U.S. President's 248th birthday anniversary July 10 at United First Parish Church, Quincy Center. JQA was born July 11, 1767. Among those placing the wreath on the tomb in the church crypt are (clockwise from left) Ed Fitzgerald, director; Quincy Historical Society, H. Kirtland Switzer II, member, United First Parish Church; Mayor Thomas Koch, Peter Boylston Adams, a direct descendant, Adams Memorial Society; HM3 Troydannie Clarke, Navy Operational Support Center Quincy; Gary Haynes, director, History and Visitor Program, United First Parish Church; YN2 David Clarke, Navy Operational Support Center Quincy; Support Center Commander Eric Vandiver and Rev. Rebecca Froom, United First Parish Church minister. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Salvation Army's 'Christmas In July' Kettle July 23

In an effort to help those struggling to meet basic needs, The Salvation Army of Quincy will host its second annual "Christmas in July" event Thursday; July 23.

Volunteers will ring the bell outside City Hall near the John Adams statue from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. July 23.

"Our Christmas in July event is an opportunity to remind people that need knows no season; it exists year-round, not just in the wintertime when it's cold outside and when people normally think of The Salvation Army," said Captain Timothy Ross, Corps Commanding Officer of The Salvation Army. "but throughout the year."

Ross continued:

"As individuals and families throughout Quincy continue to struggle with energy assistance, hunger, and numerous other issues throughout the summer months, it's important to keep the spirit of Christmas alive and provide a helping hand to our neighbors.

The funds raised will support The Salvation Army's vital programs and services for those in need throughout the year. You may know The Salvation Army as a provider of emergency food and social services, but you may not realize that The Salvation Army offers so much more including a summer camp experience at Camp Wonderland, a preschool, spiritual programming and nursing home visits just to name a few.

"The Salvation Army works with individuals and families in order to provide hope while also guiding them towards becoming financially stable," said Captain Nicole Ross "Sometimes it means giving a listening ear or the ability to resolve a financial emergency. Other times it may mean energy education, eviction prevention and case management – these are just a few items of the services that are provided on a daily basis to improve the lives of others."

Members of the Salvation Army's Board of Directors will be manning the kettle. Local elected officials, business people and the public are also invited to take part.

Those who would like to participate and volunteer some time at the kettle should email Quincy Sun Publisher Robert Bosworth at thequincysun@verizon.net.

GENNARO'S EATERY

Summer Deal

Dine-In & Take-Out

Large Round
Cheese Pizza
$8.99

Tuesdays All Day & Night

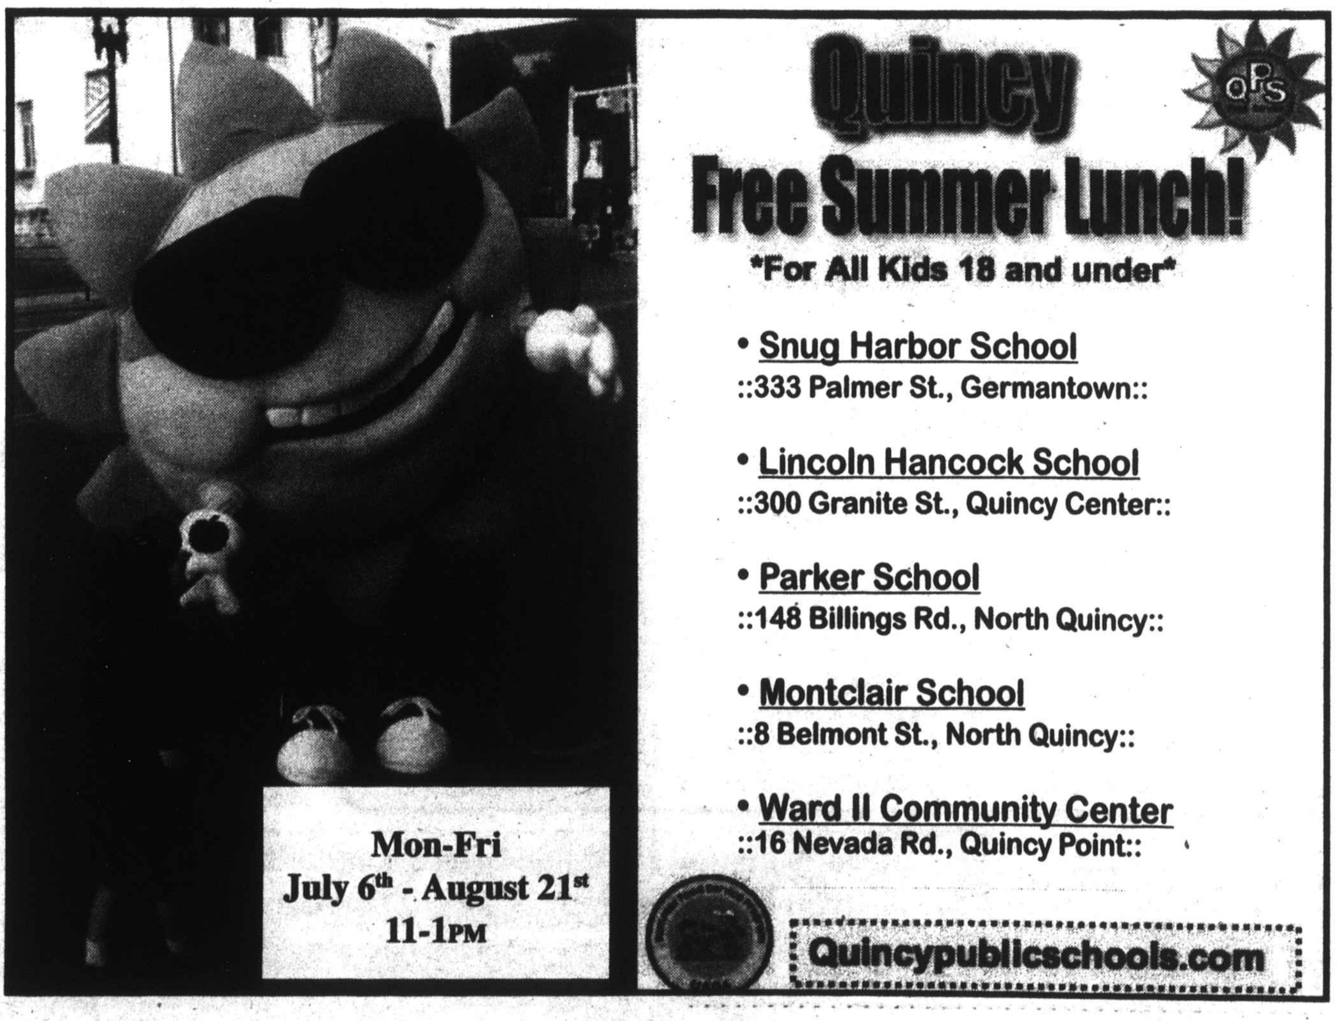
Homemade
Pizza Dough & Sauce

Call 617-773-1500

Daily Specials
617-499-6929

Deal ends August 31, 2015

We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA



Quincy
Free Summer Lunch!
For All Kids 18 and under

- Snug Harbor School
::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincypublicschools.com

Accident Occurred On Quincy Shore Drive

Police Investigating Pedestrian Fatality

By SCOTT JACKSON

The investigation of a fatal pedestrian crash on Quincy Shore Drive that claimed the life of a 65-year-old Braintree man Sunday night is ongoing, according to state police.

State troopers responded to the scene shortly before 9 p.m. on Sunday night after receiving a report that a pedestrian was struck by a vehicle in the vicinity of 814 Quincy Shore Drive. The pedestrian was taken by EMS to Boston Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead.

Margaret Krippendorf, spokeswoman for Norfolk County District Attorney Michael Morrissey, identified the victim as Wayne Guilherne, a 65-year-old Braintree resident.

State police on Monday said a preliminary investigation by troopers assigned to the South Boston Barracks and the State Police Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Section indicated the victim was attempting to cross Quincy Shore Drive in a marked crosswalk when he was struck. The investigation, they said, suggests that a vehicle in the right lane, closest to Guilherne, stopped to let him cross; Guilherne crossed that lane safely but upon entering the next travel lane he was struck by a 2012 Toyota Corolla being operated by a 30-year-old South Boston man.

The Corolla's driver, who was not injured, remained at the scene, according to state police. The vehicle was towed to a state police facility to be processed for evidence.

No charges had been filed as of Tuesday and the investigation remained ongoing.

THANK YOU CADETS – The Sons of the American Legion, Cyril P. Morrisette Post 294, expresses thanks to the North Quincy High School students who are members of the Air Jorce Junior ROTC program at the school. The students helped take down the 330 American Flags at Flags for Veterans Island, School and Pleasant Streets, Quincy. The cadets also helped put the flags in storage until they are returned to the island before Veterans Day in November.

Photo Courtesy Karen Moody

Toys Stolen From Fore River Clubhouse

By SCOTT JACKSON

Quincy police are continuing to investigate the theft of bicycles and other toys that were going to be delivered to Boston Children's Hospital from the Fore River Clubhouse.

The break at the building, located at 16 Nevada Rd. in Quincy Point, was reported around 8 a.m. on July 9.

One of the rooms inside the building had been used to collect toys for the Marine Corps Toys for Tots program. Police said eight adult bicycles, several remote control toys and other assorted toys were stolen from the building. The bicycles had been donated and were going to be given to Boston Children's Hospital.

Also taken from a supply closet were several tools, including two cordless drills, a Sawzall, screwdrivers and a ratchet set.

Police said the reporting party stated the break in happened sometime after June 30 and the building had been open to the public during the July 4 weekend. The reporting party told police there was no sign of forced entry on the exterior of the building; responding officers observed several doors to be smashed or pried open.

Police Capt. John Dougan on Monday said the investigation into the break-in is ongoing. Anyone with additional information or who saw something suspicious in the vicinity of the clubhouse is asked to contact Det. A.J. Carthas at 617-745-5782.

Overnight Work At Hancock/Squantum Sts.

The ongoing transformation of the Hancock and Squantum streets intersection will require nightime work to replace underground utilities in the middle of the intersection.

Overnight work began July 12 and will continue to Friday, July 17. Hours of work will be 9 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Home Buyers Workshop

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc. (QCAP) will offer a First Time Home Buyers Workshop Thursday, July 16 from 5:45-8:45 p.m. and Saturday, July 18 from 8:45-2:45 p.m. at QCAP, 1509 Hancock St

Attendance at both sessions is required in order to receive a Certificate. To register or more information call 617-657-5315

Hough Many Scoops

Join us for National Ice Cream Day, July 19th for $1 off a one scoop ice cream
if you tell 'em Popsie sent ya!

1094 Sea Street • Houghs Neck
617-302-3961
Open daily 11am to 10pm

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

GOING GREEN

It is certainly appropriate that peridot is the birthstone for August, the month in which nature reaches its zenith of verdant beauty. This gem variety of olivine ranges in color from light yellow-green to intense bright green to olive. Adding to this green gemstone's beauty is its velvety appearance, which imparts a rich glow and deep luster. No wonder that peridot is thought to exert a calming effect on wearers, with a claimed ability to soothe nerves and dispel negative emotions. Its popularity extends back thousands of years, with even a mention in the Bible under the name "chrysolite." Cleopatra is said to have been so enamored with peridot that she wore it as one of her "emeralds."

An ancient gemstone, peridot has become popular again. The majority of gems can be divided into precious and semi-precious categories. The term "precious" is reserved for the most rare and expensive of gems - including diamonds, emeralds, rubies, pearls and sapphires. Most remaining gems - including varieties of quartz like Peridot, Amethyst, and Bloodstone - are semi-precious. If you are considering buying a peridot to be set in a ring, earrings, pendant, or other jewelry, then stop by our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers
Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry
www.rogersjewelry.com

A better way to get money from your house

You have a house with lots of equity. Good cash flow. Investments you don't want to touch right now. And you have something you want money for. What's the best way to get it? How about a 15-Year refinance from Colonial Federal? With fixed monthly payments, it's more predictable than an adjustable-rate home equity line. Way less expensive than credit cards. And you'll have it all paid off in 15 short years ... quicker if you make extra payments along the way. Sound good? Call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
NO POINTS!
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

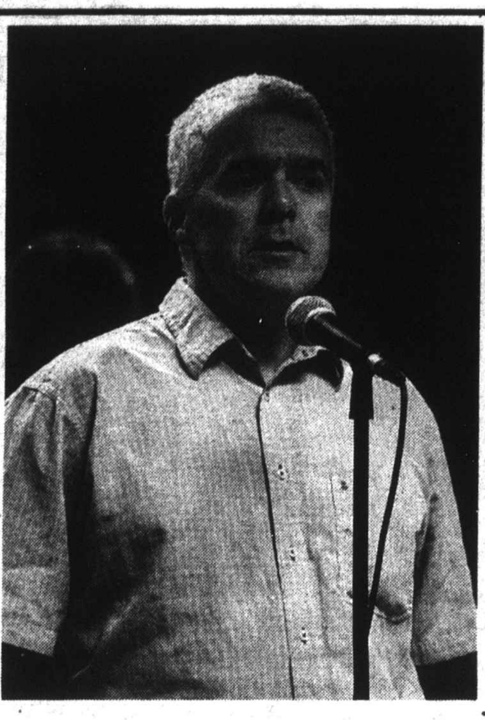
QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 07/08/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

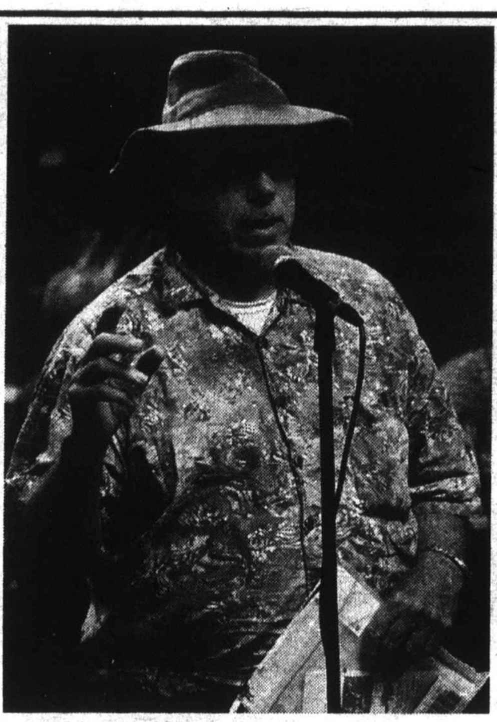
EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

DON'T PLAY GAMES WITH QUINCY

NANCY SINCLAIR, a Marina Bay resident, holds a "Don't Play Games With Quincy" sign while asking Boston 2024 representatives about traffic and safety concerns if an Olympic beach volleyball stadium is set up at Squantum Point Park.



JOE WALSH, a Quincy Center resident, spoke in favor of a proposed Olympic beach volleyball stadium at Squantum Point Park if Boston is awarded the 2024 Summer Games.



DAVID HODGDON voiced support for proposed Olympic beach volleyball stadium at Squantum Point Park. "I think there will be a lot of volunteers who will help out," he said.

JOAN PIERCE of Quincy said the state-owned Squantum Point Park is a special spot and expressed concern that a beach volleyball stadium could possibly destroy the park's meadow. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth rary 20,000 seat stadium were released on June 17. Also included in the plan are several upgrades to the park including seawall and shoreline restoration, new recreation and playing fields, playground areas, scenic walkways and picnic areas and potentially a visitor center for the Boston Harbor Islands National Recreation Area. The stadium would be constructed in 16 weeks for the volleyball games, which would run 13 days from July 20 to Aug. 1. The Boston Common was the original location for volleyball to be held but was scrapped because of poor feedback.

Residents Not Digging Beach Volleyball Venue

Cont'd From Page 1

The United States Olympic Committee chose Boston as the American bid for the games in January over Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C. The final application to host the games is due Sept. 15. The IOC will select the host city in September 2017. Other cities in the mix are Rome, Paris, Hamburg, Istanbul, Johannesburg and Budapest.

Mayor Thomas Koch had stated he would use the public meetings to get a feel for the residents' support or opposition for the proposal. Koch opened the hearing by welcoming the committee and reminding those in attendance there was still much work to be done before any decision is made. "There's a lot of steps that have to go through before it comes here," said Koch.

A statewide referendum on hosting the Olympics is planned for 2016.

Committee member Nikko Mendoza told the crowd that Olympics would bring long lasting benefits to Boston and the surrounding area. There is a potential, she said, of 51,000 jobs being created the year of the games.

David Manfredi of Elkus Manfredi Architects said there have already been revisions to every venue over the last eight weeks from the plan that was submitted last December. He said the most important question to be answered was "Does having that venue in that location make Quincy a better place to live? The legacy is to put it back better than we found it."

Manfredi went on to say that the games can be a catalyst for improvement to the the green spaces. He used Franklin Park, which would host the equestrian and modern pentathlon as an example, where White Stadium would undergo renovations including the addition of up to 5,000 temporary seats.

The proposal also includes the use of transit connections to the site by ferry and transit. Ferries, capable of carrying 500-600 people, would run every 15 minutes to and from Squantum Point from Long Wharf and possibly sites as far north as Salem and south from Hingham.

The committee also said 40-60 tram trips per hour would run between North Quincy station and Squantum Point Park with 200 passengers on each tram for an hourly total of 8,000 to 12,000 people. Trams would transport people to the site by way of Commander Shea Boulevard. There would be no parking in the Marina Bay area for the volleyball games.

Sally Owen of Wollaston said she was very concerned of the effects on the currently disused runway, citing that many people walk their dogs in the scenic area. "This area is totally used all the time," Owen said. "This is probably the most creative gem of a park in Quincy."

Joan Pierce, a Quincy resident, said the state-owned piece of space is a special spot and was concerned that the meadow could possibly be destroyed. "This is obviously a radical change of use," she said.

Chris Hoeh said the committee failed to tell the people of an Olympic Road Network from the Olympic Village to the venues for the athletes that will be paid for by public money and be open 15 hours during the day. It will require the host city to sign to put in action, according to Hoeh, and once it is set they can "fast track" the building. "It sounds like a crazy conspiracy theory but it's true," said Hoeh.

Nancy Sinclair, who lives in Marina Bay, said she was concerned about the traffic in the area and what would be done to keep it at a minimum. "Do you have any thoughts of how I'm going to get in and out of my house?" said Sinclair.

David Hodgdon, the founder of the Blue Hills' Nordic Ski Patrol program, has been a part of four Olympic games and stressed the importance of bringing the games to Boston and pointed out that volunteers will make the games run more smoothly. "I think it's critical we support the Olympics," he said. "I know that there will be a lot of volunteers who will help out."

Quincy's Joe Walsh was the biggest proponent of the games who spoke during the public forum. Walsh represented the United States in two paralympics in cross country skiing and said the Olympics are often a once-in-a-lifetime experience for athletes and spectators alike. "I have had the opportunity to witness the growth from the ground up," he said. "Seeing the pride of the community to say 'we're good and we're going to show the world we're good' is fantastic.' I'm really excited about it and I wanted everyone to hear that enthusiasm."

Mendoza said she believes traffic and the environment are the two biggest concerns of the citizens about the proposal. She said she is looking forward to an "ongoing, comprehensive, robust dialogue" with Quincy citizens at future hearings and that the first one was a good start. "I think this was a great conversation and we have much more work to do," she said.

A second meeting is slated for Thursday, July 30 at the Squantum Elementary School, 50 Huckins Ave., beginning at 6:30 p.m.

"I am building a fire, and every day
...d more
... the
...ent.

BOSTON 2024 COMMITTEE representatives (from left) Mike McArdle, David Manfredi and Nikko Mendoza fielded questions from concerned residents at a community meeting July 9 at 500 Victory Rd., Marina Bay. The 90-minute meeting focused on a proposal to build a temporary Olympic beach volleyball stadium at Squantum Point Park if Boston is awarded the 2024 Summer Games. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

QCAP Free Financial Education Seminars

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc., will host a free financial education seminar on the basics of credit, credit reports and credit scores in August.

Attendees may choose to attend one of the two seminars set for Tuesday, Aug. 4 and Tuesday, Aug. 11.

Both seminars start at 6 p.m. and take place at QCAP's fourth floor conference room, 1509 Hancock St., Quincy.

To RSVP, call the Financial REACH Center at 617-657-5355.

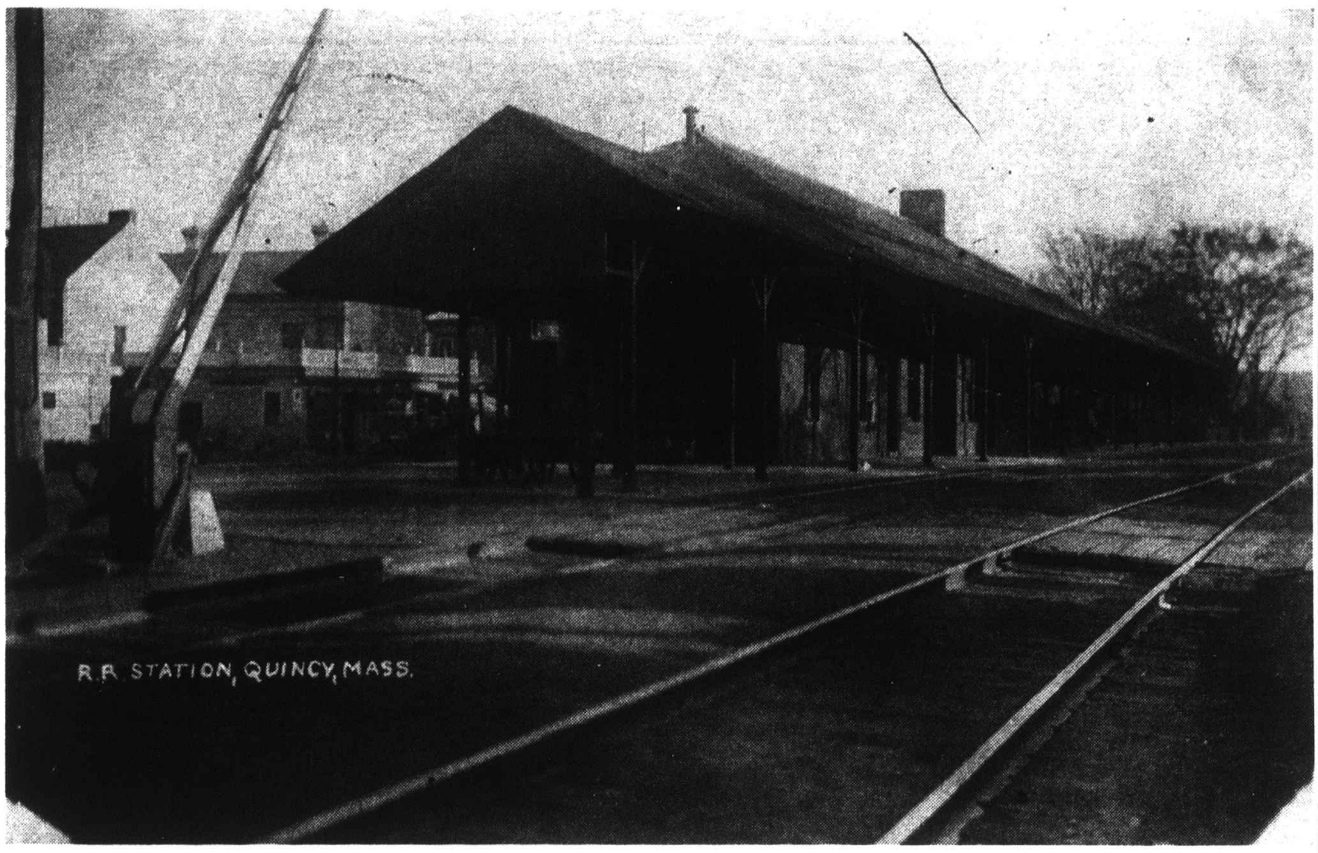
John Morton On Dean's List

John W. Morton of Quincy, a fourth year student at the College of the Holy Cross, has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester.

Morton is the son of Dennis and Joan Morton of Quincy.

He is majoring in English and political science.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS 1910 real photo postcard is a view of the Quincy Center station on the Old Colony Railroad looking south. In the left distance can be seen the rooftop vents of City Hall, everything else in this view is gone. The grade crossing gate was on the old Saville Street which ran from Hancock Street across the tracks here to Goffe Street, now Presidents Lane, up the hill to the right. It was used mostly by horse-drawn wagons since there were very few cars in Quincy at the time. In later years an iron fence between the tracks kept anyone from crossing the tracks here and instead a steel pedestrian overpass was constructed. Today the tracks along here are depressed below grade and run under the T station and Granite Street instead of over it as they did here. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Why Animal Research Is Vital To Human Health

OP ED

By FRANKIE L. TRULL

This spring marks the 60th anniversary of one of the greatest breakthroughs in the history of public health. Researchers announced the success of vaccine trials for polio, the viral illness that crippled children and terrified parents. Those trials paved the way for the eradication of polio in the United States.

That remarkable breakthrough depended on animal research. Indeed, animals are indispensable to the development of vaccines and medical treatments.

But some in the animal-rights community want to ban the established, well-regulated practice of understanding disease and testing medicine in laboratory animals. Such an agenda places little value on public health and threatens the lives of countless humans.

Consider glioblastoma multiforme, an aggressive brain tumor that kills 12,000 Americans every year. Researchers at Duke University recently developed a new experimental treatment that promises to help save lives. Yet without animal testing, researchers could never have developed it.

The new treatment for GBM is a re-engineered polio virus. Scientists and doctors modified it to help the immune system identify and attack cancer cells.

Before human trials could begin, though, researchers needed to confirm the effectiveness and safety of the new approach. So they injected the re-engineered virus into the brains of macaque monkeys, whose systems operate similarly to those of humans. The results were very positive.

In developing this new approach, the Duke team drew on years of previous animal research.

For example, a 1991 Harvard study used a genetically engineered virus to treat a mouse with GBM. Researchers at the State University of New York at Stony Brook in 1996 showed that a specific receptor on the surface of a mouse's cell made it susceptible to infection by the polio virus.

Four years later, a joint research team from Duke and Stony Brook demonstrated how a genetically modified polio virus could eliminate human tumors through that special receptor in mice. This sequence of research achievements involving animals paved the way for clinical trials in humans and eventually a breakthrough therapy.

Duke's research path is hardly exceptional. The vital role of animal research is readily apparent in other breakthroughs as well.

A 1995 study by researchers at the University of Pennsylvania and Georgetown University demonstrated that a modified herpes virus could shrink tumors in mice and nonhuman primates. That led to a successful Phase III clinical trial in humans in 2013 of a treatment for melanoma.

In September, a woman in Japan received an experimental stem-cell treatment for blindness. Previous studies involving monkeys and mice had concluded that the procedure was safe.

Despite these medical advances, activists continue to wage war on animal research. For example, activists have successfully pressured almost all major airlines into refusing to transport animals for research.

The transport ban has been especially costly for researchers in the United States because monkeys come from farms in Asia and Mauritius -- where they are humanely raised. Researchers must now charter flights to get the animals they need.

Activists demanding a ban on animal studies should explain to the patients in the Duke trials why the world would be better off without animal research. If they did so, the public could finally see the inhumanity of their humane-sounding demands.

Frankie L. Trull is president of the Foundation for Biomedical Research.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM
FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO
The Quincy Sun
Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968
1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169
NAME ____________
STREET ____________
CITY ____________ STATE ______ ZIP ______
CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN
[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1961
54 Years Ago

Seawall Projects Seen Doomed By Legal Ruling

More than half of Quincy's projected seawall and shore protection programs of almost $300,000 are apparently doomed by the ruling of Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., banning such protection for private property, Public Works Commissioner Charles R. Herbert disclosed.

Projects whose costs total an estimated $100,000, are apparently prohibited by the interpretation made by City Solicitor Douglas A. Randall of the state official's ruling.

TWO PROTEST MEMORIAL MOVING CONTRACT

Two Quincy granite men, James J. Ricciuti and James Canniff, told the City Council Finance Committee that they were not asked to bid on the contract for moving the Adams Memorial from Merrymount Park to the new site on the lawn of the Presidents' Homes.

The contract was awarded to the Ricciardi Granite Co. for $985. Thomas Morrissey, city-purchasing agent, noted that the process should have come through his office but Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa asked City Historian William C. Edwards to obtain quotes on the moving project.

QUINCY-ISMS

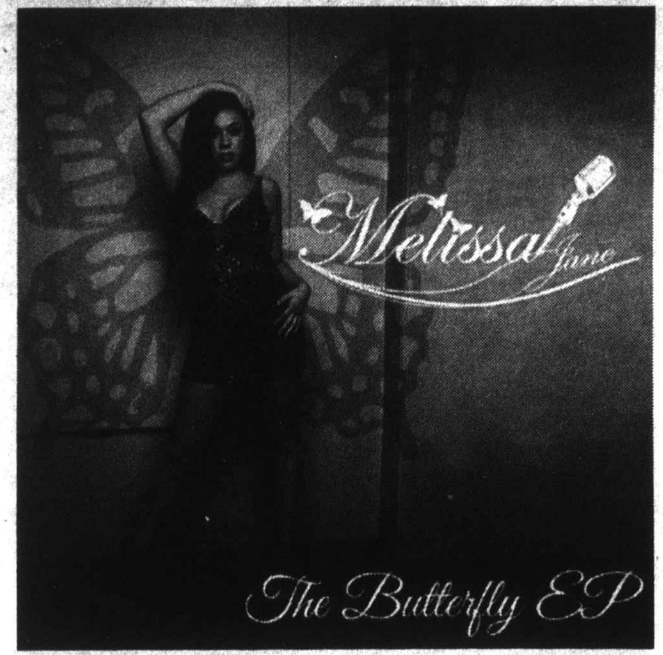
Siesta Sleep Shops, 211 Parkingway, Quincy Center, was promoting a ninth anniversary sale of all types of beds and mattresses and large discounts… First National Stores was advertising "Top Round or Cube Steak at the Exciting Price of $.79 a lb."… Councillor at-Large Carl W. Anderson and his wife celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary with a dinner and attendance at the South Shore Music Circus… The John Adams Eagle Aerie was planning its annual clambake for July 23 at Drinkwater Grove in Randolph. Bakemasters were President Michael Panaro and Lino A. "Sonny" Ponti… William E. Lambert, Jr., 507 Hancock St., Quincy, a junior electrical engineering student at Northeastern University, won a $600 General Motors Scholarship for the 1961-1962 school year… Atty. George V. Flavin, 78 Hilma St., North Quincy, was sworn in by Governor John A. Volpe as a member of the State Public Utilities Commission… The Houghs Neck Legion Auxiliary completed plans for a "Christmas in July" dance to be held at the post home, 1116 Sea St. Committee members included Diane Clark, chairman, Lois Phillips, Margaret Crombie, and Theresa Rhode… Leon E. Rauche, Sr., 61 Dayton St., West Quincy, was elected president of the Massachusetts Public School Custodians Association. Mr. Rauche, a World War I veteran, is a custodian at the Gridley Bryant School, West Quincy… William J. Martin, president of the South Shore National Bank, Quincy, was named to the board of directors of the Howard Johnson restaurant chain… A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zoia at Quincy City Hospital… James McDonough, president, Robert Grenier, vice-president, Richard Anderson, treasurer, and Arthur Lemieux, secretary, are the officers of the newly formed Quincy Barbershoppers… Ernest Montilio, proprietor of Montilio's Pastry Shops, 29 Chestnut St., Quincy, received notification from Rome, Italy, that he was a four-time winner for his exhibition of Italian and French pastries at the recently held Fair of Rome… Harry's Shoe Store, 40 Billings Rd., North Quincy, announced the winner of the U.S. Keds Buddy Contest was five-year old Robbie Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip A. Robinson of 42 North Bayfield Rd., North Quincy… Maureen Mitchell, Peggy Riley and Denise DeCoste won top honors as the most outstanding twirlers among 198 entries in the Annual Contest held at the Weymouth Fairgrounds… Miss Ann Marie McCarron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. McCarron, 15 Huckins Ave., Squantum, was commissioned a 1st lieutenant in the U.S.A.F. Naval Corps. Her sister Janice McCarron is also a member of the U.S.A.F. Nursing Corps… Dr. Daniel B. Reardon, 83, a Quincy physician and long-time member of the Quincy School Committee, died at his home, 74 Greenleaf Place, Wollaston… Robert J. Fitzmaurice, 18 Grogan Ave., West Quincy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fitzmaurice, was undergoing eight weeks of basic training at Fort Dix, NJ… Robert Briscoe, Jewish Lord Mayor of Dublin, Ireland, was made an honorary citizen of Quincy by Mayor Della Chiesa… Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Blowers, 111 Butler Rd., Quincy, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a trip to Washington, D.C.

KEEPING UP WITH THE RED SOX

The Boston Red Sox, with a record of 43 wins and 47 losses, were in sixth place in the 10-team American League, 15 1/2 games behind the league leading Detroit Tigers.

The Red Sox turned down a trade with the Chicago White Sox. The trade would have sent Red Sox pitcher Tom Brewer to Chicago for Quincy native White Sox pitcher Dick Donovan.

Arts & Entertainment



RECORDING ARTIST Melissa Jane of Quincy will release "The Butterfly EP" later this month. She will also perform live at her release party Friday, July 24 at 8:30 p.m. at Kama Lounge, 39 Cottage Ave., Quincy.

Quincy's Melissa Jane To Release New EP

Release Party At Kama Lounge

Recording artist Melissa Jane of Quincy is set to release "The Butterfly EP," which is described as "a bold, soulful mix of House and R&B with eclectic lyrics and real emotion that hits you deep, making you want to dance the night away."

Executive produced by Melissa Jane herself, "The Butterfly EP" is being released worldwide on iTunes, Spotify, Amazon Music, iHeart Radio, Rhapsody, Google Play and more, by Boston independent record label Norma Jeane Records on Wednesday, July 22. Producers on the EP include Brent Barlow and Danny Satori, both of Boston; Curt Markey of Augusta, GA; and DJ Shu-ma of Tokyo, Japan. The lyrics were all written by Melissa Jane.

On Friday, July 24 at 8:30 p.m., Melissa Jane will be performing live at her release party – which is free and open to the public – at Kama Lounge, 39 Cottage Ave. Quincy. The show is all ages and will feature a live DJ set by Danny Satori, one of the producers on the EP.

Nominated for "Boston's Best Independent Artist," Jane is known around the New England area for her unique, sultry vocals and charismatic stage presence. She has hundreds of performances under her belt-including at Fenway Park, Gillette Stadium, The Hard Rock Cafe and The Paradise Rock Club. Melissa has worked in the studio with numerous heavy hitters in the music industry from Boston to NYC to LA and her music has played on radio and in clubs, shops and restaurants spanning across four continents.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, July 16
6:00pm: NQHS Graduation
8:00pm: QHS Graduation

Friday, July 17
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, July 18
12:00pm: Merrymount 4th of July Parade
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Sunday, July 19
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
8:00pm: Chamber of Commerce Breakfast

Monday, July 20
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:00pm: LIVE: Eye on Quincy

Tuesday, July 21
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:30pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, July 22
7:00pm: Merrymount 4th of July Parade
10:0pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, July 16
6:00pm: Update DPW: Summer Season
7:00pm: Bringing Beacon Hill to You Substance Abuse

Friday, July 17
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: License Board 7/14

Saturday/Sunday, July 18/19
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At Your Library: July Happenings
1:00pm: In the Know: Solarize Quincy
2:00pm: Bringing Beacon Hill to You
4:00pm: License Board 7/14

Monday, July 20
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus

Tuesday, July 21
6:00pm: Health Links: Remembering When

Wednesday, July 22
6:00pm: In the Know: Solarize Quincy
7:00pm: @Your Library: Celebrating Quincy's Cultural Diversity

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

FORTY-ONE MEMBERS of the Quincy Choral Society were joined by singers from seven other choruses from across the country at a recent performance at Carnegie Hall in New York City. Members of the QCS who performed Mozart's "Requiem" appear in the photo below.

Photos Courtesy Quincy Choral Society

QCS Receives Standing Ovation At Carnegie Hall

The Quincy Choral Society received a standing ovation after their recent performance of Mozart's "Requiem" at Carnegie Hall in New York City on June 20.

Forty-one members of the chorus were joined by singers from seven other choruses from across the country under the direction of Dr. Joe Miller from Westminster Choir College.

The Quincy Choral Society resumes rehearsals for their upcoming 35th Anniversary Season on Sept. 14 under the direction of their Music Director John Nichols. New singers interested in joining are encouraged to attend the first rehearsal. More information can be obtained by visiting the group's website: www.quincychoral.org. or by calling Diane Murphy: (781) 856-8555.

QUINCY
CHORAL SOCIETY

39 Quincy Students On Boston College High Honor Roll

Boston College High School announces 39 Quincy students received academic honors for the fourth quarter.

They are:

HIGH HONORS

Class of 2016: John Foley, James MacDonald, Joshua Quinlan, Gregg Selbert.

Class of 2017: Andrew Golden, Andrew Kraunelis, Sean McDermott, Michael O'Donovan, Evo Fearnley, Cormac McAdams, Kevin Pedro, Henry McBride and Jonathan Sheehan.

Class of 2018: Owen Carberry, John Fitzpatrick, Dattatreya Kalluri, John MacDonald, Diarmuid McGonagle, Steven Ngo and Andy Trebicka.

HONORS

Class of 2016: Michael Devane, Corwin Huang, James Hussey, Adam McCormack, Daniel Yameen.

Class of 2017: Andrew Prendeville, Khrystoffer De Jesus, Michael Dockrey, Matthew Fox, Anthony Gonzales, Aidan Largey, William Pham.

Class of 2018: Brendan Cole, Justin Sullivan, Thomas Sullivan, Declan Deasy, Sean Healy, Jack Kelly and Edward Ordway.

Turkey Train Foliage Ride

The Quincy Council on Aging will head to New Hampshire Wednesday, Sept. 30th for a scenic foliage ride on the Turkey Train.

The cost of the trip is $74 and includes transportation, train ride and full course luncheon featuring Hart's Turkey Farm roast turkey with whipped potatoes, butternut squash, a beverage and ice cream sundae for dessert as well as local sightseeing and foliage viewing.

The bus will leave Quincy at 9 a.m. and return at approximately 6 p.m.

To register for this trip visit the Quincy Council on Aging at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St. in Quincy. Payment must be made at time of registration.

For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Three Residents On Regis Dean's List

Three Quincy students are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Regis College in Weston.

They are:

Allison Bui, Class of 2017; Kawtar Laftih, Class of 2017; and Ngoc Ly, Class of 2015.

Social

ROTARY CLUB of Quincy recently held its installation of new officers at the Neighborhood Club of Quincy. From left: Karen Bertrand, District Governor Nominee; Russell Bertrand, District 7950 Governor 2015-2016; Kristine David, Connie Stoeckel, Rotary President Rick Stoeckel, President Elect Andy Oatway, Catherine Oatway, Bill Lundregan, former President of Salem Rotary and Paul Harris Fellow and Secretary, Jennifer Elliot. Photo Courtesy Rotary Club of Quincy

Rick Stoekel New President Of Rotary Club Of Quincy

Rick Stoekel, owner of Stoekel Insurance, was recently installed as the president of the Rotary Club of Quincy.

Other officers for the 2015-2016 year are: Andy Oatway, president elect; John McManus, treasurer; Jennifer Elliot, secretary; and Walter White, immediate past president.

The newly elected Board of Directors were also introduced: Patrick McDermott, Edward Barrett, Wendy Simmons, Frank Ardito, Joseph Palumbo, Sarah Jacobs, and Brandon Moss (for the period 2016-2018).

Stoekel joined Rotary in 2001 and was active for several years before work obligations required him to take a leave of absence from the club. At the first opportunity to come back to the Rotary Club of Quincy, he was welcomed back by many friends, old and new.

"The Rotary Club of Quincy has an excellent track record in fund-raising and I'm looking forward to the Club being able to support specific community projects throughout the Quincy area. Service in the community is very important to our Club," Stoekel said.

Those intersested in joining the Rotary Club of Quincy are invited to attend the club's weekly Tuesday meeting/lunch at 12:15 p.m. at The Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale R. For more information visit http://www.quincyrotary.com.

O'Donnell Women's Council Of Realtors Speaker

WOMEN'S COUNCIL of REALTORS, Greater Boston Chapter President Julie Palmaccio (left), President-Elect Sheila Horne-Talarico, and Norfolk County Register of Deeds William O'Donnell. Photo Courtesy Norfolk County Registry of Deeds

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell recently conducted an informational seminar for the Women's Council of REALTORS, Greater Boston Chapter at the Berkshire Hathaway Homes Services office in Norwood

O'Donnell, accompanied by his outreach team, provided a synopsis of Registry services, followed by an interactive overview of its on-line computer system.

"Providing information on our services and having key stakeholders become more comfortable using our on-line computer system is a win-win situation for both the Registry and real estate professionals," O'Donnell said. "Realtors count on accurate and easily accessible land record information in order to provide better service to their customers. This free flow of information helps both entities achieve their goals.".

In addition to showing how to navigate the agency's website, www.norfolkdeeds.org including its on-line research component, O'Donnell also spent time discussing several of the Registry's most popular services. These include the Consumer Notification System, a new program offered by the Registry that alerts residents when a land document has been recorded against their name. Deed Scam warnings, where homeowners are being solicited to pay an exorbitant fee for their deed, when a copy of it can be easily obtained at the Registry for a few dollars. And the benefits of the Homestead Act, which provides limited protection against the forced sale of a property owner's principal residence to satisfy unsecured debt up to $500,000.

"I very much appreciate the efforts of Julie Palmaccio, president of the Women's Council of REALTORS, Greater Boston Chapter, Sheila Horne-Talarico, president-elect and Jeanne Sanfilippo, Berkshire Hathaway Home Services, Norwood, for hosting the seminar on our behalf. We were glad to be of service to this fine organization."

For more information on the Registry of Deeds, call (781) 461-6101, or visit the Registry's website: www.norfolkdeeds.org.

CELEBRATING NONAGENARIANS – The Quincy Council on Aging recently held a Milestone celebration at the Kennedy Center for residents age 90 and over. Shown here are the most "senior" seniors who attended the event. Back row left to right: Molly Papile and Paula Younie, front row Tony Cronis. A catered luncheon was served.

Photo Courtesy Quincy Council on Aging

Christa Hagearty Honored By Family Business Magazine

CHRISTA HAGEARTY

Dependable Cleaners President and CEO Christa Hagearty was named an Outstanding Woman of Family Business by The Warren Group and Massachusetts Family Business magazine.

Hagearty recently received her award at Babson College as part of the New England Family Business Conference.

The Outstanding Women of Family Business Award is an annual award that honors the achievements, commitment and dedication of female family business professionals who demonstrate outstanding leadership and commitment both within their businesses and in the communities they serve.

Sister Bridget Haase Awarded College Of New Rochelle Citation

Quincy resident, Sister Bridget Haase, OSU, a graduate of The College of New Rochelle (CNR) was recently awarded the Ursula Laurus Citation at the College's 77th annual Alumnae/i College Weekend.

The Ursula Laurus Citation is given to honor CNR alumnae/i and friends who have provided outstanding leadership and have demonstrated, by their capabilities, efforts and interest, their selfless and generous devotion to furthering the high ideals and rich traditions of Ursuline education. The Citation was presented by Judith Huntington, President of the College.

QUINT'S
House
of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919

761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Get Local!

QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

WHAT'S COOKING with Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Rice Crusted Spinach, Ricotta Pie

By MARIE

Every once in awhile, I go back to making a rice crust especially when I have leftovers. And the nice part, it can be enjoyed the next day either heated up or just cold.

Today's recipe is for a spinach and ricotta filled pie. Any favorite vegetable can be used such as broccoli or kale.

RICE CRUSTED SPINACH, RICOTTA PIE

Crust

1 cup cooked rice
1 egg
1/4 cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Slightly grease a pie plate. Cook rice according to directions. Add the beaten egg, the cheese, salt and pepper and mix well.

Place in the pie plate making sure that the sides are firmly in and then bake in a 425 preheated oven for 5-7 minutes.

For the filling

1 small bag spinach or frozen equivalent
1 cup ricotta cheese
2 tablespoons cream cheese
1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
1 egg beaten
salt and pepper to taste

I used the spinach raw and it cooked wonderfully. In a bowl, mix the ricotta, egg, cream cheese, grated cheese, salt and pepper. Add the cut up spinach and blend well.

Place in the rice crusted plate and bake in a 325 oven for 30 minutes or until top is slightly golden.

Simple And Elegant Sorbet

By SUZIE

'Tis the season for sorbets. Fresh fruit sorbets are not only good for you, but delicious and packed with fiber.

The sorbets you get out are normally highly processed and full of sugar and other ingredients that you wouldn't dare put in your blender!

Here is a recipe for a sorbet that is simple and elegant. Great to serve at a party or for a healthy and fun dessert. Kids and grownups alike will be asking for more.

The fresh mint leaves not only make the dessert look elegant, but they really elevate the flavor. Strawberries are packed with vitamin C (you get 160% of your daily requirement from just a cup), Folic acid, potassium, and fiber.

When you make things like this yourself, they are also packed with vitamin L, probably the most important vitamin of all.

4 cups frozen strawberries
1/3 cup. organic grape juice concentrate
Fresh mint leaves

Remove frozen strawberries from freezer and thaw 5-10 minutes. Put strawberries and grape juice concentrate into a food processor or powerful blender and puree until smooth and creamy. Adjust sweeting by adding more grape juice concentrate if needed. Serve immediately or refreeze for more solid consistency. Garnish with fresh mint leaves.

Corn Flaked Crusted Pie

By MARIE

One of my favorite cereals is corn flakes. Sometimes I sprinkle over vanilla ice cream for a delicious treat.

So recently I found a great recipe for a corn flake crust, and decided what a great idea to make it and use vanilla pudding and whipped cream for the filling,

CORN FLAKE CRUST

1 cup crushed corn flakes
1/4 cup sugar
1/3 cup melted butter

Combine the ingredients and mix well. Place in a pie plate making sure all of the sides are firmly packed. Bake in a 375 degree oven for 5-7 minutes. The crust comes out so crispy. Chill it for a short time.

Cook 2 packages of vanilla pudding for a nice thick pie. Cool and then place it into the corn flake crusted plate, and refrigerate until ready to serve.

I made whipped cream for the topping, but any cream will do.

23 Residents Earn ENC Degrees

Twenty-three Quincy residents recently received diplomas from Eastern Nazarene College in Quincy.

Leahnora Anderson and Jacob Cramer graduated Cum Laude with Bachelor of Arts degrees.

Maegan Bourne graduated Summa Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Mark Chella and Debra Corley graduated with Master of Education degrees.

Jared Corbin graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science degree and a bachelor Arts degree.

Gerald McCarthy and Mitchell Patino graduated Magna Cum Laude with Bachelor of Arts degrees.

Evan Detwiler, Mary Gogan, Sondra Hazelton, Mi Hae Kim, Jackie Logan, Almancia Pompilus, Sarah Shaw, and Tyler Knowlton graduated with Bachelor of Arts degrees.

John Hughes, Gabrielle Humphreys and Tianyuan Zhang graduated with Bachelor of Science degrees.

Madeline McDonough and Leonardo Silva graduated Summa Cum Laude with Bachelor of Science degrees.

Luke Wooster graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Jacob Koch graduated Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science degree.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-617-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

Giulia Murphy Graduates Hofstra

Giulia Murphy of Quincy recently graduated from Hofstra University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in public relations.

Jade Team
2015

QUINCY FIRE LOCAL 792 raised $13,000 for Relay for Life. Along with many others, Quincy firefighters participated in the overnight event held recently at Pageant Field, where Quincy firefighters paid tribute to their fallen brothers who have passed away from cancer. Quincy Fire Local 792 would like to thank all who have donated to this cause.

Photo Courtesy Mike Palaza

Summer Fun At The Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane Public Library

The Thomas Crane Public Library has scheduled for the following events and activities for children.

Music, Puppets, Dungeons and Dragons at the library this week

This week you can dance and Sing with Rubi, watch a puppets show with Sparky and explore the Forbidden Library with a Dungeons and Dragons Adventure and more. Weekly craft, story and movie programs continue check the list below for this week's programs. Details for all summer programs are on our website thomascranelibrary.org.

❑

Storytelling at the Farmers Market, weather permitting

Join us Friday, July 17th at noon at the Farmer's Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

❑

Music and Movement with Rubi

On Saturday, July 18th at 10 a.m. in Main Library large meeting room sing and dance with Rubi Lichauco! Rubi brings her popular preschool program to Quincy so put on your favorite dancing shoes and join us for this lively mix of music and movement for children ages 0-4 accompanied by an adult. No registration is required.

❑

Sparky's Puppets

On Monday, July 20th at 10:30 a.m. in Main Library large meeting room Sparky's Puppets presents "Every Hero has a Story" a special puppet show for children ages 3-8 accompanied by an adult.

You never know who will save the day. It's not always the biggest and strongest! This show is a lively collection of tales about some surprising heroes. Watch a tiny mouse rescue a huge lion. Follow the adventures of a clever kitten who travels to the moon to solve some puzzling riddles. And discover an unexpected character who proves to be the "greatest of all!"

❑

Art-to-go a nine-week series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy. Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch.

Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft. The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays.

Craft for the week of July 20th: create a Firefighter hat

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy

On Monday, July 20th at 2 p.m. join us at the North Quincy Branch Library for a showing of the Disney classic Beauty and the Beast.

Follow Belle, a bright and beautiful young woman who finds herself in the castle of a prince who has been turned into a beast. With the help of the castle's enchanted staff- a teapot, a candelabra and a mantel clock, among others- Belle learns to see beneath the Beast's exterior to discover the heart and soul of a prince. This movie is rated G and runs for 90 minutes.

❑

Teddy Bear Storytime @ North Quincy

On Tuesday, July 21st at 6:30 p.m. join Children's librarian Cathy deVeer and Quinn Z. Bear at the North Quincy Branch for stories and songs for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult. Feel free to wear your comfy jammies and bring along your favorite stuffed friend, as we celebrate summer with vacation stories.

❑

D&D Introduction: The Forgotten Library

Children ages 10 and older are invited to join us on Tuesday, July 21st at 7 p.m. in the Main Library Children's Room for a evening of adventure.

Be a dungeon-delving hero in this introduction to the Dungeons & Dragons 5th Edition rules. Participants will use pre-built characters and work together to explore a dungeon leading to a lost library full of powerful tomes. Discover the Secrets of Tokra: The Forbidden Library.

This one-hour program requires no prior knowledge of D&D rules and will be a self-contained adventure.

❑

"Let's Play Together" Pajama Storytime

On Wednesday, July 22nd at 6:30 p.m. in the Large Meeting Room at the main Library storyteller Diana Kane presents "Let's Play Together," pajama storytimes designed especially for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult.

Come see Ms. Diana for 45 minutes of interactive stories, partner dances, playing in a band and singing together. This six-week program is designed for adults and children to enjoy stories and songs as a family.

This is a great time for you and your children to sing, dance, listen and talk with each other.

Ziyi Li Earns Master Of Science Degree

Graduate student Ziyi Li of Quincy recently received a Master of Science degree in accounting from the University of Rhode Island.

Chris, Trudy Peter Memorial Blood Drive

2-8 P.M. July 21 At St. Thomas Aquinas Hall

CHRIS PETER

TRUDY PETER

An American Red Cross blood drive in memory of Chris Peter and his mother, Trudy Peter, will be held Tuesday, July 21 from 2 to 8 p.m. at St. Thomas Aquinas Hall, 2 Darrow St., Houghs Neck.

To make an appointment to give blood, download the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

In 1984, 22-year-old Chris Peter, an innocent victim, was killed in a drunk driving crash. To keep his memory alive, Chris' parents, Charlie and Trudy Peter, started hosting an annual blood drive with the Red Cross. In its 31 years, this memorial blood drive has collected more than 2,500 pints. In 2003, Trudy passed away and the blood drive is also in remembrance of her.

The Houghs Neck community is encouraged to donate blood in Chris and Trudy's memory to help hospital patients in need.

"Even though Chris was taken way too soon, he still made a huge impact donating 11 pints of blood to the Red Cross to help patients," said Charlie Peter, Chris's father and Trudy's husband. "We are hosting this blood drive in memory of both Chris and Trudy because we want to give back to the community and blood donation is a cause near and dear to our hearts."

The Red Cross urges eligible donors to help offset a seasonal decline in donations and prevent a shortage this summer by giving blood. During June, July and August, there are about two fewer donors than needed at each Red Cross blood drive. This can add up to more than 100,000 fewer donations during the summer. Many schools that host blood drives are out of session, and vacation schedules can make regular donors less available – both contributing to the seasonal decline.

Donors of all blood types – especially those with types AB, O negative, A negative and B negative – are needed to help ensure blood products are available to hospital patients this summer. Type AB donors have the universal plasma type, which can be given to patients of all blood types. Plasma helps maintain blood pressure and supplies critical proteins for clotting immunity. It is often needed for burn, trauma and cancer patients.

To donate blood call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or visit redcrossblood.org to make an appointment or for more information.

All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age (16 with parental consent in some states), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

City Closes On Final NQ Home

Cont'd From Page 1

living in the home, Chris Walker, spokesman for Mayor Thomas Koch, said Monday.

Beginning last fall, the city completed the purchases of eight other neighborhood homes – seven on Hunt Street and one on Newbury Avenue – for $4.2 million, including both the cost of the properties and relocation fees. The purchase of 30 Hunt St. brings that total to $4.8 million. The City Council in June 2014 approved borrowing up to $12 million to pay for the purchase of the homes, Teel Field renovations, and the new parking lot.

Demolition of the homes should begin within the next few weeks, Walker said. That process is expected to take about six weeks.

Work on Teel Field has already begun. Earlier this spring, a contractor began preloading the field, a process that involves compressing the earth under tons of dirt to help settle the ground and prepare it for construction. The city had to complete a similar process when it constructed the new track at Faxon Field on Southern Artery.

The preload will remain on Teel Field for four to six months and geotechnical engineers will need to confirm the process is complete before work can begin, according Chris Cassani, the executive director of the Quincy Park Department.

Mayor Thomas Koch said the renovation of Teel Field should be completed by September 2016.

"I was hoping it would be ready for spring of 2016 sports – I don't think that will be the case. My guess is it will be ready for fall 2016," Koch said in a recent interview. "A year from this September, they will be playing on that field."

The renovation project includes the addition of new grandstands with seating for up to 600. Teel Field's grass playing surface will be replaced with more durable, synthetic turf. A new sound system, lighting, restrooms and concessions will also be added.

Once the renovations are completed, the field will be able to host North Quincy High's soccer and lacrosse games; the school's junior varsity football team may play there as well. Youth leagues would also have a chance to use Teel Field, alleviating the burden on other fields in the city.

As part of the project, the city will create a new, 139-vehicle parking lot on Hunt Street to serve both the field and North Quincy High School.

21st Annual North Quincy High School Football Alumni Golf Tournament

Hyannis Golf Club ~ June 22, 2015 ~ www.northquincyfootball.com

For the Benefit of the NQHS Scholarship Fund

The 1966 Undefeated Football Team ~ 2015 Honoree

~ SPONSORS ~

Attorney David P. Mahoney, 15 Foster St., Quincy, 617-770-0000 ~ Dave Mahoney

Baker, Braverman & Barbadoro, P.C., Attorneys at Law, 300 Crown Colony Drive, Suite 500, Quincy, 781-848-9610, www.bbbs-law.com ~ Paul Barbadoro

Club Harriet

Congratulations to the 1966 NQHS Undefeated Football Team! ~ The Flynn Family

Granite Rail Tavern ~ Gerry Mulvey

In Honor of Frank J. Romano, Jr. ~ Cheryl Romano

In Loving Memory of Anthony and Carmella Pollara ~ Lesley and Ron Pollara

In Memory of Stephen "Steff" O'Donnell, NQHS 1981 ~ The O'Donnell Family

In Memory of Two Great Teammates and Friends Frank Barrett and Hank Fisher, Class of 1946. T-Day: North 6, Quincy 0! ~ Greg Fisher

Justice of the Peace Susan Z. Stamos, www.JustPeace1.com ~ Sue Stamos

Louis & Company, Advertising & Marketing, 222 Forbes Rd., Ste. 204, Braintree, 781-356-5830(o), 617-842-7491(c) ~ Lou Trubiano, President

Mayor Thomas Koch ~ Tom Koch, NQHS Class of '81

Mullaney's Variety, 205 West Squantum St., North Quincy, 617-328-0240 ~ Jim Mullaney

Murphy Dental Group, John M. Murphy, DMD, Patrick J. Murphy, DMD, 617-696-3900, jmurphydmd.com ~ Jack Murphy

NQHS Class of '73. 42 Years United! ~ The Class of '73

NQHS Principal Rob Shaw

Paul McAlduff Class of '67, Peter McAlduff '63, Janice McAlduff, '70, Geraldine McAlduff McCarthy '61, Rich McCarthy '81, John McCarthy '82 and Janet Marie McCarthy '85. Thanks for the great years at NQHS and Congratulations to the 1966 Undefeated NQHS Football Team! ~ Paul McAlduff and Rich McCarthy

Raise Your Hand If You Love Mike! ~ Aunt Sue and Steve Stamos

Roadway Wholesale Tire, 1301 SW 2nd Street, Pompano Beach, FL, www.roadwaywholesaletire.com, 877-242-6481, Congratulations, 1966 Undefeated NQHS Football Team! ~ Paul McAlduff and Rich McCarthy

Stamos & Stamos Realtors, 747 East Squantum St., Squantum, 617-328-9400, www.stamosandstamosrealtors.com ~ Jim Stamos

Thanks for the great memories and all the fun I had coaching! ~ Coach Ralph Frazier

The Schaetzl Family ~ Bill Schaetzl

The White Family, 430 Beale Street, Walter '71, Mary '72, Theresa '73, Michael '74, John '79, Linda '84 ~ John White

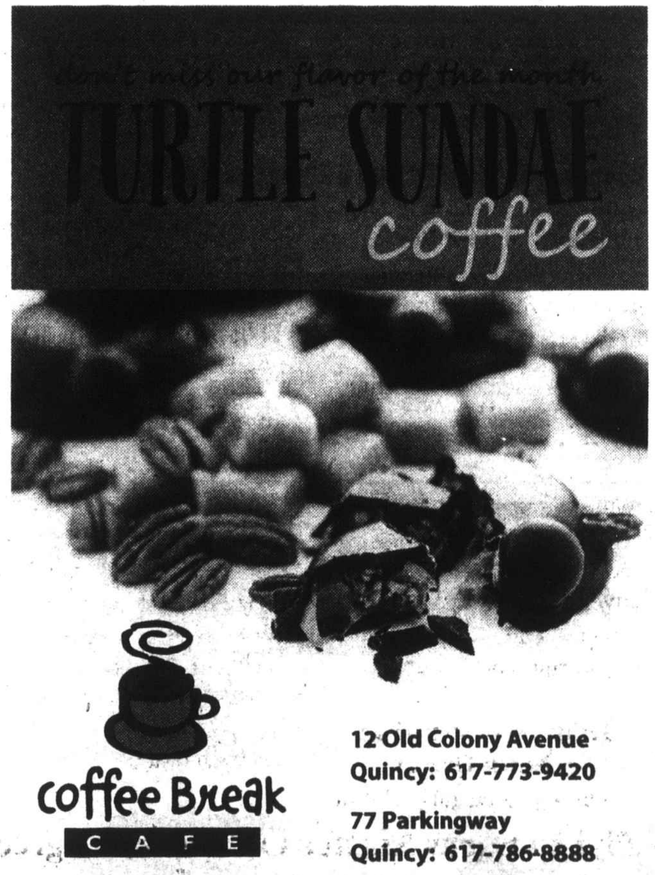
2006 NQHS Football Alumni Honoree Billy Carroll, We Miss You! ~ The Whole Gang

~ SPECIAL THANKS ~

Boston Tavern, Thomas Finneran, Greg Fisher, John Flynn, Hajjar's Bar & Grill, Steve Hopkins, Paul & Ellen Lippens, Paul McAlduff, Rich McCarthy, Medway Café, Bob Morton, Jim Mullaney, Lesley & Ron Pollara, Steve & Sue Stamos, John White, The Quincy Sun, and everyone who supports this terrific event!

~ CONGRATULATIONS 2015 NQHS SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS ~

Alex Chen, Michael Finn, Frederick Flynn, Ciara Forde



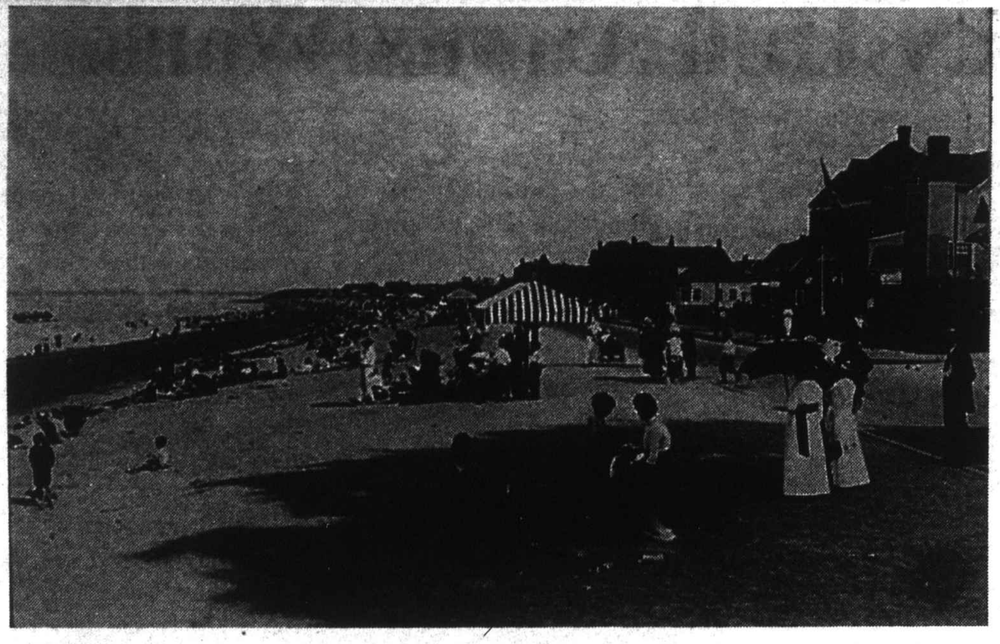
coffee Break CAFE

buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net

12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420

77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888

247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090



HISTORIC NEW ENGLAND will host a Wollaston Walking Tour Saturday, July 18 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The tour will illustrate how the area - including Wollaston Beach - has evolved over the last 300 years. This image courtesy of Historic New England shows Wollaston Beach in the early 20th century,

Historic New England Hosts Wollaston Walking Tour Saturday

The public is invited to join Historic New England for the Wollaston Walking Tour Saturday, July 18 from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

In 1770, Edward Pierce, a Dorchester carpenter, built a mansion for Col. Josiah Quincy. Originally surrounded by fields and pasture, the estate's boundaries once encompassed several hundred acres and reached from what is now Hancock Street to Quincy Bay. When the house was built, the area around it, now a densely populated neighborhood known as Wollaston, was very rural.

The walking tour will illustrate how the area evolved over a 300-year period. Explore Moswetuset Hummock, the seat of the ruling chief Chickatawbut; see Quincy Bay and Boston Harbor through the eyes of Col. Josiah Quincy and General George Washington; and witness the development of an early twentieth-century middle class neighborhood that reflects a range of architectural styles. An optional tour of Historic New England's 1770 Josiah Quincy House follows the walking tour.

The tour departs from the Moswetuset Hummock parking area, East Squantum Street, near junction with Quincy Shore Drive.

The tour is $5 for Quincy residents and Historic New England members, $10 for nonmembers.

Registration is recommended. For more information or to register, call 617-994-5930 or visit HistoricNewEngland.org.

NQHS Class Of 1965 Reunion

The North Quincy High School Class of 1965 will hold its 50th reunion Saturday, Nov. 7 at the Best Western Adams Inn, Quincy.

For more information and registration visit NQHSclassof65.com.

Summer Dance
Center Stage Performing Arts Studio
507 Furnace Brook Pkwy
Quincy, MA
www.centerstagequincy.com
(617) 328-8669

Ages 4-7 yrs.
"Princess Dance & Crafts"
Come and be a princess for a week.
Learn dances, tumble, dress up, play with props, have tea parties, games, stories, and princess crafts. New princesses explored each day.
9:30-12:30 pm July 27th-31st $150.00

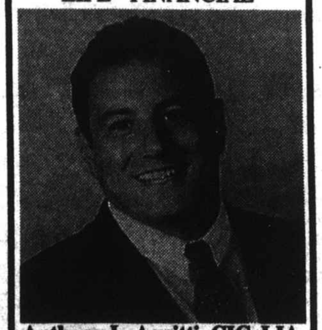
"All Things FROZEN"
Come cool off and discover everything Frozen!
Join us as we learn new dances, play games, tumble, dress up, use props, and create cool crafts.
9:30-12:30pm August 10-14th $150.00

Ages 7-11 yrs.
"Dance Intensive"
Explore dance in the styles of Acro/Tumbling, Ballet, Lyrical, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Tap, and Broadway. Incorporating stretch, yoga and barre work. Also, learn new dance routines, learn line dances, play movement games, work on jumps, leaps, turns, technique and performance.
1:30-4:30pm July 27th-31st $150.00

Ages 12 and up
"Dance Intensive"
Explore dance in the styles of Acro/tumbling, Ballet, Lyrical, Modern/Contemporary, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Tap, Broadway and International dance (such as Latin, African and Bollywood). Also, incorporating stretch, yoga and barre work. Learn new dance routines, learn how to create your own choreography, work on jumps, leaps, turns, technique and performance.
1:30-4:30pm August 10-15th $150.00

"New lunch bunch option"
12:30-1:30 pm for any camp
Drop in $10.00 daily or $40.00 weekly

"Please bring water, peanut-free snack, dance shoes or socks, and wear dance or moveable clothing.



AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL
Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

Quincy Homestead Open For Public Tours Saturday

The Quincy Homestead, a National Historic Landmark, will be open for public tour Saturday, July 18th, between noon and 4 p.m.

The Homestead is located on Butler Road at the corner of Hancock Street in Quincy.

Tours will start approximately on the hour and the half hour beginning at noon. The last tour begins at 3:30 p.m.

All tours are free of charge, but a voluntary contribution is appreciated.

Dating from 1686, the house is 329 years old. During the 17th and 18th century, this mansion was considered the grandest estate in Quincy.

During the pre- Revolutionary War era, it was a meeting place for such patriots as Josiah Quincy, John Hancock and John Adams. It was the childhood home of Dorothy Quincy Hancock, the wife of John Hancock.

Quincy Homestead is operated by The Colonial Dames of Massachusetts in conjunction with The Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR).

Groups may request a private tour on a date of their choice by phoning 617 742 3190 or emailing dames@nscdama.org. The remaining public tours this season will be held Aug. 1, Aug. 15, Sept. 12 and Oct. 3.

For additional information, visit the Homestead's new website: www.nscdama.org

Master Sand Sculptors At Wollaston Beach Thursday

Master sand sculptors will create large sand castles at DCR's Wollaston Beach today (Thursday) as part of Save the Harbor/Save the Bay's Better Beaches program before competing in the Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival next week.

Sculptors Abe Waterman of Prince Edward Island, Morgan Rudluff from California and Kevin Crawford from Australia will sculpt a 20-ton sand castle on Wollaston Beach.

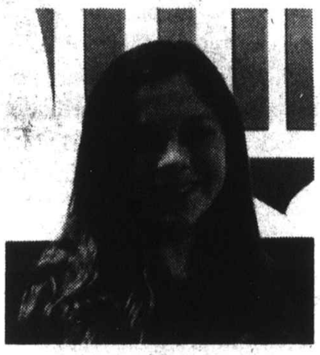
This year the Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival will be held Friday, July 24 and Saturday, July 25 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sunday, July 26.

This year's event features 10 solo master sand sculptors and five teams of two master sand sculptors competing in the duo competition.

Admission to the Revere festival is free and open to the public.

For more information, visit www.internationalsandsculptingfestival.com.

Jennifer Small Cast In Summer Musical



JENNIFER SMALL

Jennifer Small, 13, of Quincy is among the performers cast in the Boston Children's Theatre's "Thoroughly Modern Millie Jr." The BCT Summer Studios 3 production runs July 23-26 at Shore Country Day School, 545 Cabot St., Beverly.

In the musical, Small is cast in the role of "Priscilla Girl," an aspiring actress. She was most recently seen in BCT's production of Stuart Little.

Going into eighth grade at Central Middle School, Jennifer appeared in her school productions of Little Mermaid, Jr. as "Flounder" and in Beauty and the Beast Jr as "Belle." She has performed with South Shore School of Theatre in Seussical Jr., Pinocchio, The Secret Garden, The Music Man, and Peter Pan. In addition to her stage credits, Jennifer has been seen in numerous film and television projects including Dreamworks Studios' Spotlight and the film Almost Midnight.

Performances are set for Friday, July 24 at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, July 25 at 2 p.m. and Sunday, July 26 at 7:30 p.m.

For ticket and other information visit www.bostonchildrenstheatre.org or call 617-424-6634, x222.

Four Residents Graduate Stonehill College

Four students from Quincy recently received degrees from Stonehill College in Easton.

They are:

Michelle Barry, Bachelor of Arts degree; Kristen Bimmler, Bachelor of Arts degree; Kathryn Wegener; Bachelor of Arts degree; and Nicholas Yotts, Bachelor of Science degree.

Three On Becker College Dean's List

Three Quincy students are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Becker College in Worcester.

They are:

Jean-Luc Bellefleur, Ian Hunter and Martin Wong.

Two On Quinnipiac University Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Quinnipiac University in Hamden, CT.

They are: Alexandra Fareri and Jennifer Palmer.

PAUL'S AUTO BODY
384 Centre St., Quincy 617-471-6280
Open Mon-Fri 8AM - 5PM
(Walking distance from Quincy Adams T Station)
Expert Repairs on All Makes & Models
Insurance Estimates
Auto Glass Installed
Complete Auto Detailing & Reconditioning
$25.00 OFF
ANY DETAILING SERVICE OVER $100.00
Cannot be combined with other offers
One coupon per visit
Expert Color Matching
Licensed Dealer
Pre-Owned Vehicles
Insurance Rentals Available

August Finish For City Hall Annex Work

Cont'd From Page 1

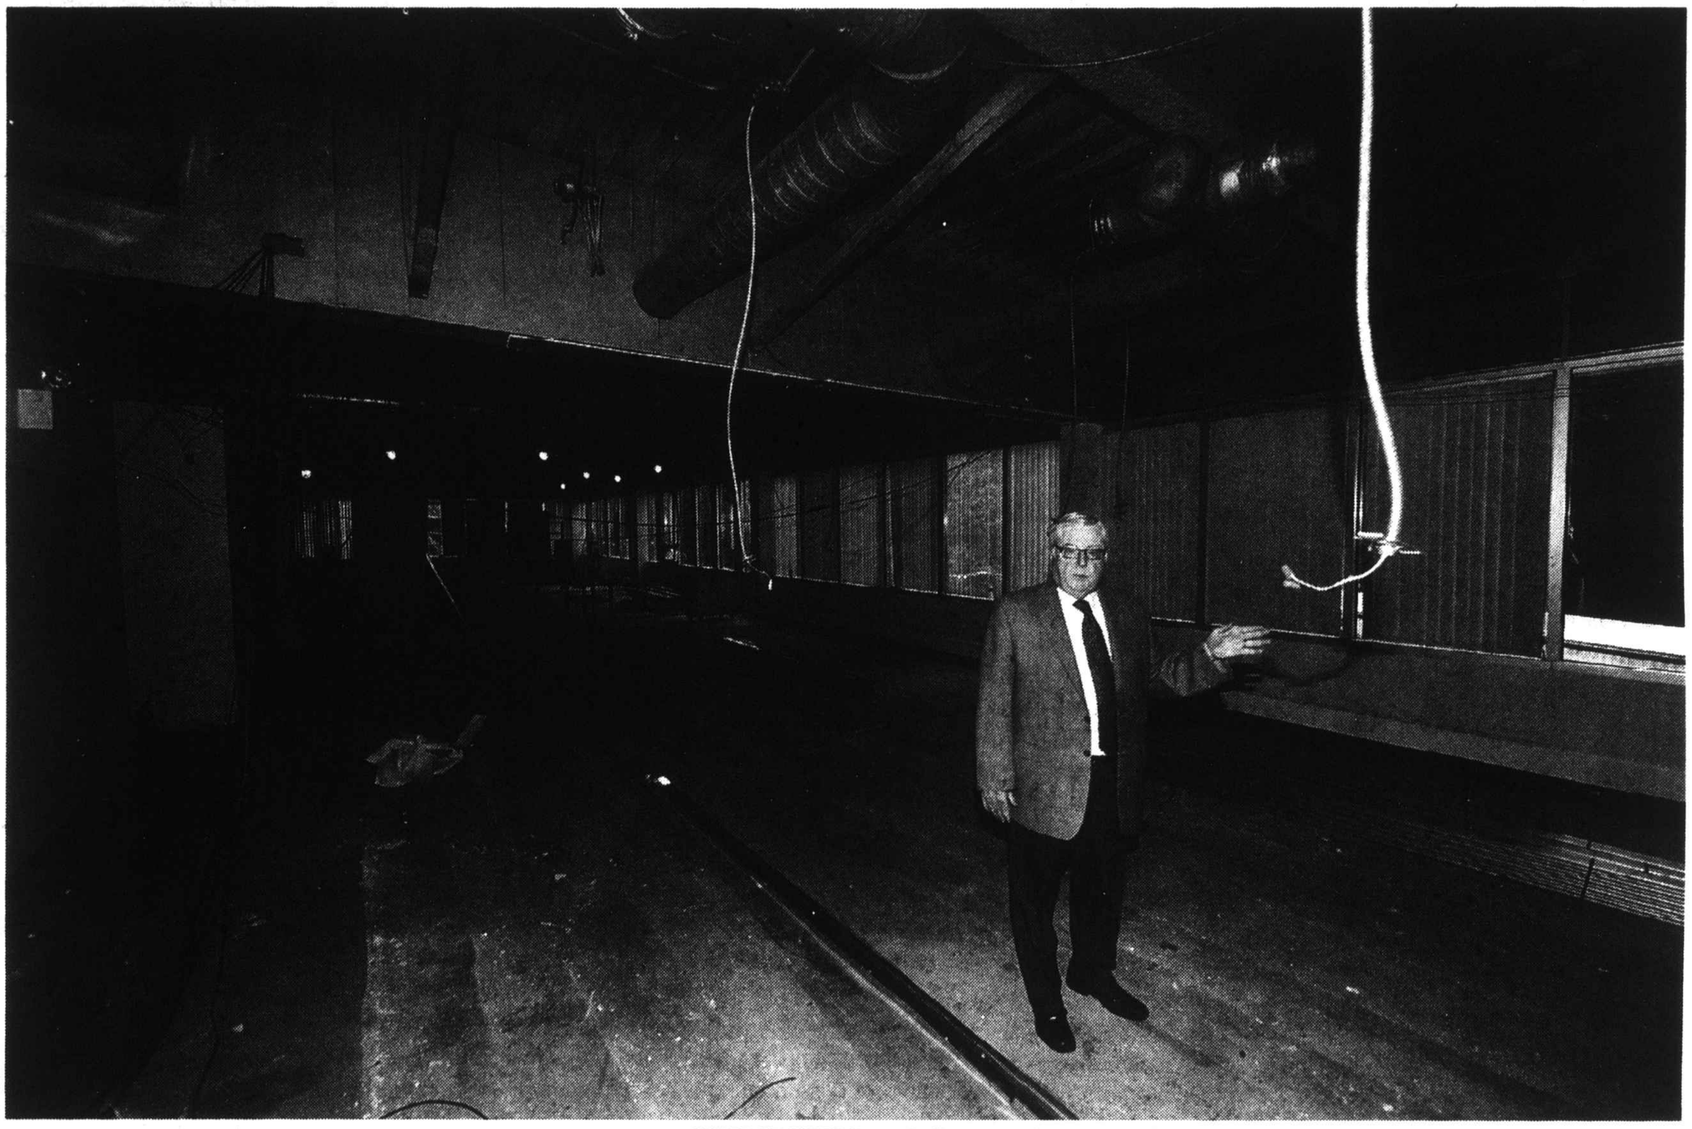
floor of Old City Hall and are now in rented space in the Monroe Building adjacent to the McIntyre Mall.

After the renovation project is complete, the clerk's offices will be located on the second floor of the annex. Mayor Thomas Koch said the renovations necessary for the move to take place should be finished in August – work on the adjacent Old City Hall should be completed in early September. The city clerk's move to the annex could be completed in mid August or after the Sept. 22 municipal preliminary election.

"We want to have everything ready for September. We probably need four to six weeks to get it built out so I think by mid August we should be able to move back Joe Shea's operation," Koch said in a recent interview.

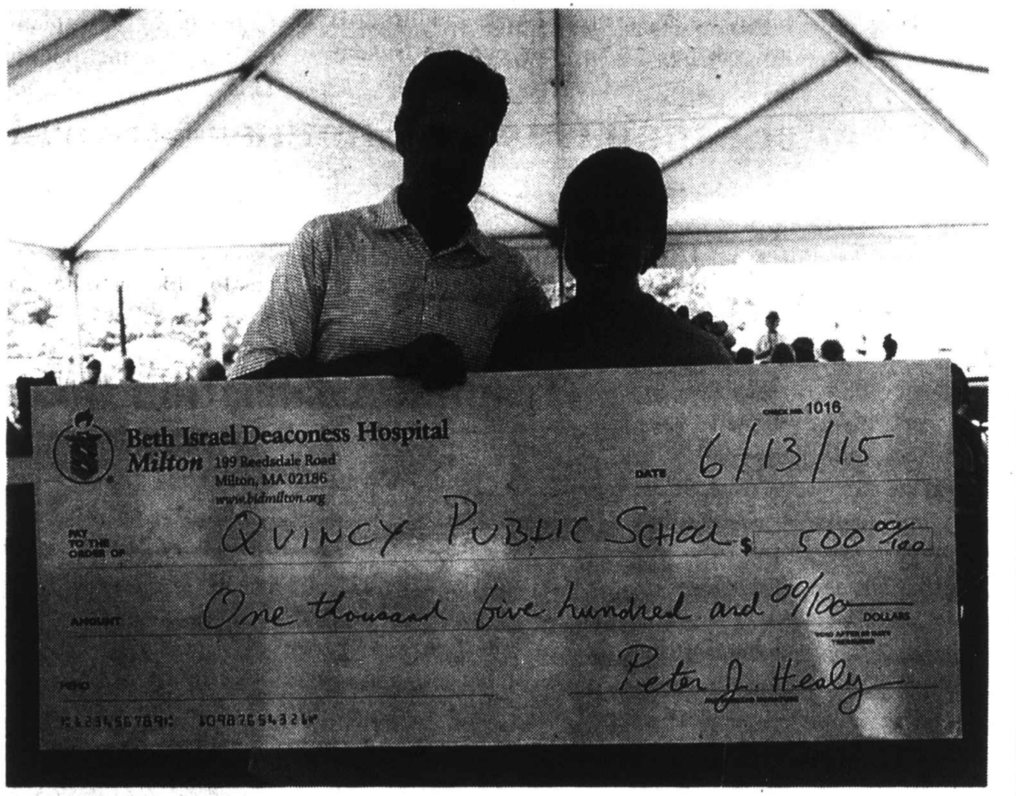
"And I'll let Joe make that decision. If he wants to wait until after the preliminary to

Cont'd On Page 28



CITY CLERK Joseph Shea stands in second floor space of the City Hall annex that will be the new home for the city clerk's office. The space will also be used for the assistant city clerk's office, Vital Statistics Department and the Quincy License Board office. Those offices will be relocating from the first floor of the Monroe Building adjacent to McIntyre Mall.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth



BETH ISRAEL DEACONESS Hospital-Milton recently awarded a $500 community health grant to Quincy Public Schools to help fund the production of a substance abuse prevention documentary which would be shown to students. Peter Healy (left), president and CEO of Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton, presents the check to Michelle Andrews, the project director for Quincy Public Schools.

Photo Courtesy BID Hospital/Milton

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital - Milton Awards Community Health Grants

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital –Milton (BID-Milton) recently awarded Point Webster Middle School, Quincy Public Schools and the South Shore YMCA Germantown Neighborhood Center community health grants totaling $3,500.

The grants were through the hospital's Community Health Grants Program. Each year BID-Milton awards grants up to $1,500 to area organizations that address one of the hospital's community health priorities. During the last six years BID-Milton has awarded more than 30 local organizations community health grants totaling an estimated $50,000.

A $1,500 grant was awarded to Point Webster Middle School's Substance Abuse Prevention Program. Under the program, eighth-grade students author, perform and record an original play that depicts assertive refusal skills, healthy alternatives to alcohol, tobacco and other drugs to fellow students, school staff and the community.

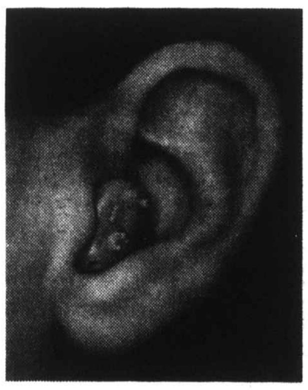
A $500 grant was awarded to Quincy Public Schools to create a documentary film, "Destroying the Dragon," consisting of interviews with young addicts in recovery speaking about their experiences. The film will be shown to Quincy students.

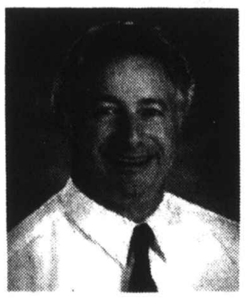
A $1,500 grant was awarded to South Shore YMCA Germantown Neighborhood Center for its Women's Counseling and Nutrition Education Program. The grant funding will enable the center to expand the program to include a summer session.

"Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton is committed to improving the health of its communities, and these grants are an important aspect of that ongoing effort," said Peter Healy, president and CEO of the hospital. "The programs that received these grants are making a meaningful impact and helping to address the community's health needs."

Enjoy Your Summer At
VILIA Rosa
Restaurant & Lounge
705 Adams St., Quincy
617-773-0095
www.villarosaquincy.com

Sunday's Summer Special
Boiled Lobster Dinner
Served with French Fries & Cole Slaw
$18.99





Reach Your Hearing Potential

If your hearing aids are over four years old, you should know that new computer chips have allowed hearing aids to work faster and smarter in different environments. Nobody hears everything they want, but you could get the most out of your hearing with newer technology.

Let us help you reach your hearing potential and reconnect with your surroundings!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation, and ask about our current specials!

(617) 770-3395

Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart.
Where Eddie's Diner was!

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Financing available through Wells Fargo

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DANIEL MINTON

Crime Prevention Journal - Page 20

LT. DAN MINTON

On Sunday, July 5, at approximately 4:07 a.m., Officer Jeffrey Bossart was on routine patrol on Harvard Street near Beale Street when he spotted three people on the sidewalk. As soon as they realized he was a Police Officer, they immediately ran off in a full sprint through yards, to Piermont Street and down Granger Street, where they continued to flee through backyards.

The Officer was able to identify one male suspect as wearing a baggy white t-shirt and another male with a dark colored t-shirt.

Officer Bossart notified Quincy Police Communications of what transpired as he continued to search the area for the suspects. Officer Mark Connolly responded to the scene to assist. Officer Bossart noticed a sensor light on the garage of a Granger Street home illuminated, so he exited his cruiser and observed someone hiding behind a parked car in the driveway. This person ran off through the backyard, jumped a chain linked fence and ran through the next back yard towards Beale Street. This suspect was a male wearing a gray and white striped short sleeve or sleeveless shirt and had shoulder length dark hair.

The Officers continued to check the area but with no known crime and no citizens calling in anything suspicious, there was not much to go on. At approximately 4:40 a.m., Officer Bossart observed a male on Norfolk Street near Beale Street running away, so he drove to the next block and observed two people run quickly into a home located on Norfolk Street. As the Officer pulled up to the home, the front door was slammed behind the suspects.

The Officer walked up the front stairs and saw through a window the suspects running up the inside stairs to the second floor. Officer Bossart knocked on the front door but there was no answer, so he queried a few different motor vehicles that were parked in front of the house and then cleared the area. At approximately 5:45 a.m., Officer Bossart continued his diligence by conducting surveillance of the Norfolk Street address to see if anyone came out. While there, a resident came out of a house and said that at approximately 4:15 a.m. he awoke to a crash in his home. He got out of bed and checked his home. He found a large male with a bushy beard in his home holding an illuminated flashlight in one hand and a laptop and his (the owner's) pack of Marlboro 72's.

The owner yelled at the man, which startled him so much that he dropped the laptop and cigarettes and ran out of the back door. The home owner watched the suspect run through the back yard, trip on a wire fence, then get up and proceed to run towards a house on the adjacent street, which was on Norfolk Street. When this victim described the suspect as having a large bushy beard, this matched the Registry of Motor Vehicles photo of a registered owner of one of the vehicles the Officer queried earlier that was parked outside of the suspect home on Norfolk Street.

The victim said that he would be able to identify the suspect if he saw him again, so Officer Bossart showed him the RMV photo and he spontaneously stated that it was "the same guy who was in my house." When asked why he didn't call the Police, the victim said that he got his belongings back and did not want to spend the next 3 hours in the police station explaining the incident. The Officer inquired how the suspect got into the house and the victim said that he left his back door unlocked.

Officers Bossart and Connolly returned to the Norfolk Street address because the house was within sight of the victim's home and could have easily hidden inside. After numerous attempts to raise someone within the house, the Officers went to the rear where there was a sliding glass door that was ajar.

Officer Bossart peered in and saw people appearing to be asleep. One person woke up and alerted his friends hurriedly, frantically yelling at them that the cops were here. Officer Bossart yelled to the occupants to come outside, which they did. He then asked them if the suspect with the beard was in the house and they said he was.

While waiting for the suspect to appear, Officer Bossart spoke with one of the occupants, who was wearing a baggy white t-shirt which was covered in dirt and had some blood on it. He was asked what happened to his shirt and he became alarmed, asking repeatedly what the Officer meant. After pointing out the dirt and blood a few times over and over again, this occupant stated that a friend of his had fallen into a grill and cut himself and he caught him while falling. The Officer knew that one of the initial suspicious persons who fled from the Officer had the same clothing on. This occupant denied being involved in any overnight activities.

At this time, the bearded suspect appeared and had dirt all over his legs, hands and his clothing, which was also bloody. When asked why he was in this condition, the suspect was unable to provide a reason as to why and denied being outside overnight.

Officer Connolly stayed with the suspect while Officer Bossart returned to the victim's house to have him identify the suspect. The victim was brought to the suspect's location on the Norfolk Street sidewalk and said he was "100% sure" that that he was the person in his home. The victim then blurted out, "I'm 150% positive."

The suspect, a 21 year old Medford resident, was placed under arrest for "Breaking and Entering in the Night w/ Intent to Commit a Felony." Officer Bossart returned to the station to file his report when he received a phone call from a female who said that she was at the party at Norfolk Street and when she awoke this morning she discovered that her $300 Go-Pro camera had been stolen. She said that she had placed it in her pocketbook which she then hid under the kitchen table but only the stick was in her bag.

Moments after hanging up with this victim, the Officer received another phone call from another victim who also attended the party. She said she had $20-$30 stolen out of her wallet which was in the center console of her car. She added that all her credit cards were still there. Although one arrest was made, the investigation continues.

Nice Work!

❑

ROBO-CALLS: Technology makes it easy for scammers to fake or "spoof" caller ID information. They can make it look like they're calling from a different place or phone number. Scammers use this trick as a way to get around call-blocking and hide from law enforcement. They hope you'll be curious enough to pick up.

Don't fall for it.

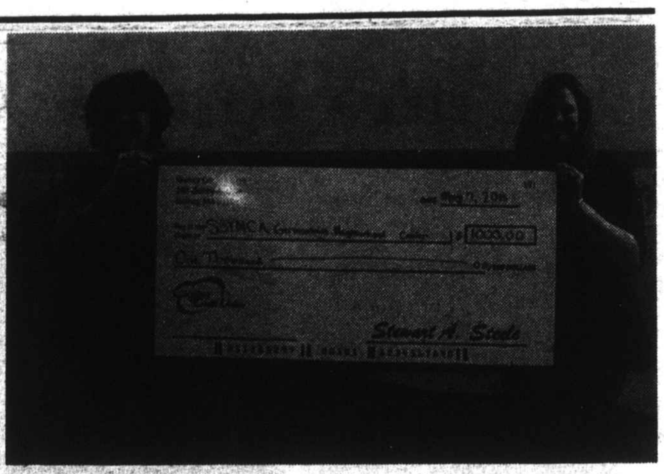
The real callers could be calling from anywhere in the world. An example of this is the Internal Revenue scam, claiming that you owe money and face criminal action, including arrest if you don't make immediate payment by wire. These scammers now add the IRS telephone number, which shows up on your phone.

As always, if you don't recognize the number, don't pick up or press buttons to be taken off the call list or to talk to a live person. That just leads to more calls.

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

TIME OUT
PIZZA & GRILL
2 LARGE $15.99*
CHEESE PIZZAS
TOPPINGS EXTRA
*Must present Coupon at time of Order
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
$2.00 OFF*
ANY ORDER OF $18
OR MORE CASH ONLY
*Cannot Be Combined With Any Other Coupon or Offer
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
OPEN: 7 Days
525 Sea St., Quincy
617-479-2300

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING
REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com



QUINCY CREDIT UNION recently donated $1,000 to the South Shore YMCA/Germantown Neighborhood Center. Kathy Quigley (left), the Center's executive director, receives the donation from Lauren Pedretti, QCU Sales and Business Development Associate. Photo Courtesy Quincy Credit Union

Quincy Credit Union Donates $1,000 To GNC

Quincy Credit Union recently donated $1,000 to the South Shore YMCA/ Germantown Neighborhood Center.

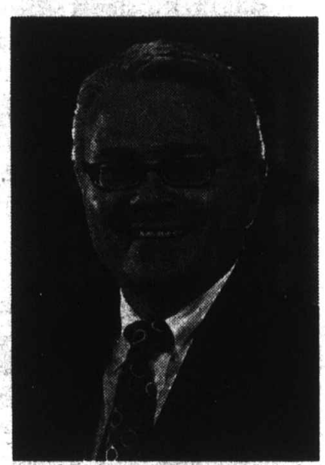
"Quincy Credit Union's Board of Directors has been a constant supporter of The Germantown Neighborhood Center's Food Pantry (Meaghan's Place)," said Kathy Quigley, the Center's executive director. "Because of their generosity we can continue to serve those who suffer from the effects of poverty."

The recent donation also helped underwrite the expense of the center's Family Lifelong Learning Center wellness classes, self-help programs for women, and support the center's food pantry in providing meal assistance to many at-risk families.

Located at 366 Palmer St. in Quincy, the Germantown Neighborhood Center (GNC) has been providing critical support services to youth and families in the City of Quincy since 1982.

Quincy Credit Union currently provides financial services to over 30,000 members operating from two locations; 100 Quincy Avenue, Quincy and 519 Columbian Street, Weymouth. Membership is available to those who live or work in Norfolk, Plymouth Counties and the communities of Dorchester.

Dr. Michael Gustafson On Hospital Association Board



Dr. MICHAEL GUSTAFSON

Quincy resident and Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital President Michael Gustafson, MD, MBA, has been named to the Massachusetts Hospital Association's (MHA) Board of Trustees and elected 2015–2016 Chair of the Clinical Issues Advisory Council (CIAC).

Dr. Gustafson has been a member of CIAC since 2012.

He served as chief operating officer at BWFH from 2011 until being named president in 2015. Under his leadership, the institution has undergone a remarkable transformation of key clinical programs, with tremendous growth in inpatient and outpatient volumes and improved financial stability.

"I am committed to improving staff engagement, the environment of care, patient safety and quality outcomes and the overall experience for patients and families at BWFH," says Dr. Gustafson. "I hope that my experiences here can help to inform hospitals across Massachusetts through my role on the Clinical Issues Advisory Council."

Two Residents Receives Bank Citizenship Awards

Two Quincy residents are among 12 recent graduates of South Shore high schools awarded the 2015 South Shore Bank Citizenship Award.

Local award recipients are Emma Kimmell, Quincy High School; and Elaine Twitchell, Weymouth Evening High School.

The award recognizes students who have made their schools a better place, have demonstrated a commitment and concern for the community and have displayed personal qualities of sincerity, responsibility and conscientiousness.

John Quincy Adams' Life, Legacy Celebrated

Cont'd From Page 2

ing in our schools. Today we celebrate and remember the legacy of John Quincy Adams. The city plays an important part in the history of this country. And it was the Adams family that played such a big part in the early days."

Commander Eric Vandiver, representing President Obama, was on hand for the ceremony and the musical prelude was performed by the Navy Band Northeast out of Newport, Rhode Island.

Reverend Rebecca Froom, the first female minister in the 375-year history of the church, gave the Invocation. "We gather this afternoon to celebrate a remarkable man; the life of John Quincy Adams," said Froom. "We gather in gratitude for all that this man has given our country, gratitude for all those who supported him and his work and gratitude for all those who strive and work to preserve his legacy. We gather in this place where President Adams himself has worshipped."

Adams descendant Peter Boylston Adams, traveled from Florida to attend the ceremony and told an amusing story of the time Adams' wife, Louisa Catherine, used her fluent French to talk her way out of getting shot by French soldiers when she was in a Russian carriage on the way to Paris. When she was delayed in getting to Paris, Adams asked her what kept her. "He was a great ambassador and secretary of state," Adams said.

Along with being irascible, sarcastic and unforgiving, church historian William Westland pointed out Adams' uniqueness and the fact that he wrote two hymns to go along with his other accomplishments. "Now I ask you, how many presidents of the United States wrote hymns?" said Westland. "Along with that he was a scholar, a linguist, a poet, a writer, a scientist and a musician."

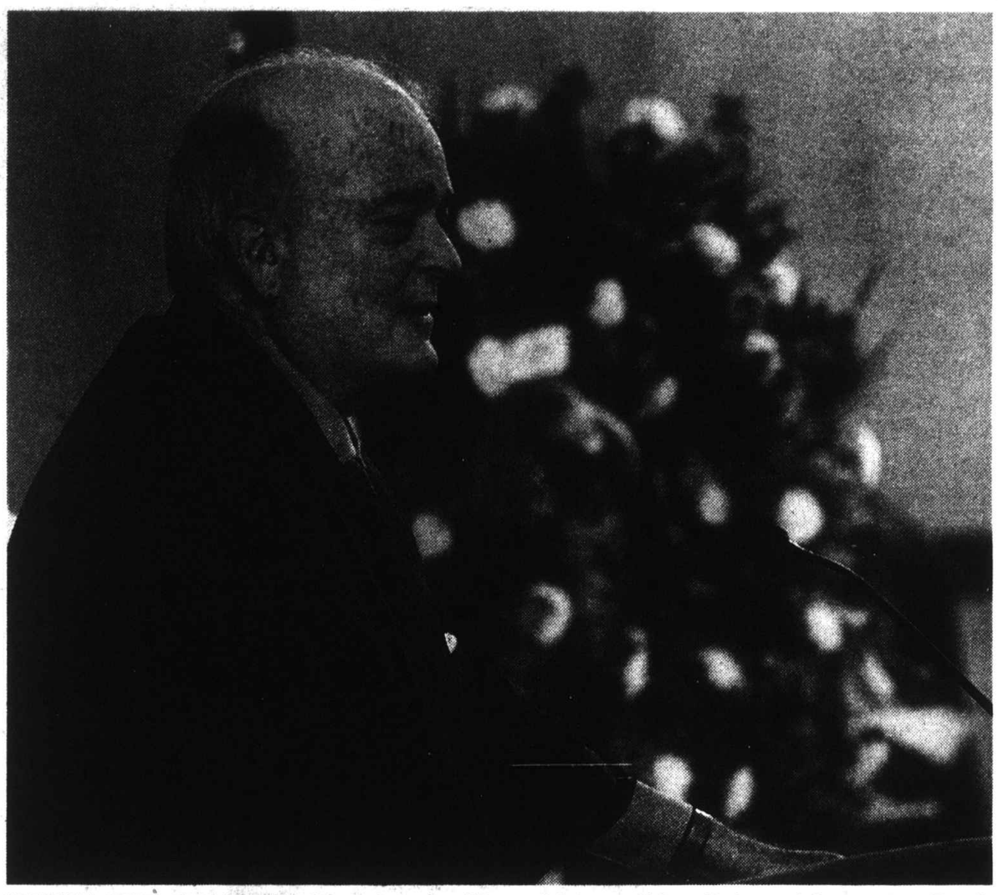
Westland said that Adams once wrote about himself, "I am a man of hope and forbidding manners without the ability to reform. I was born in a controversial world and can not mistake my destiny."

A moment of silence was held for Arthur Ducharme, the historic director at the church for 15 years, who died in 2012.

Edward Fitzgerald, the executive director of the Quincy Historical Society described the link Adams had with Lincoln from Daniel Walker Howe's book What Hath God Wrought. "Abraham Lincoln, admirer of Henry Clay, would apply the principles of John Quincy Adams to save the Union, purge it of slavery, and promote both education and economic expansion."

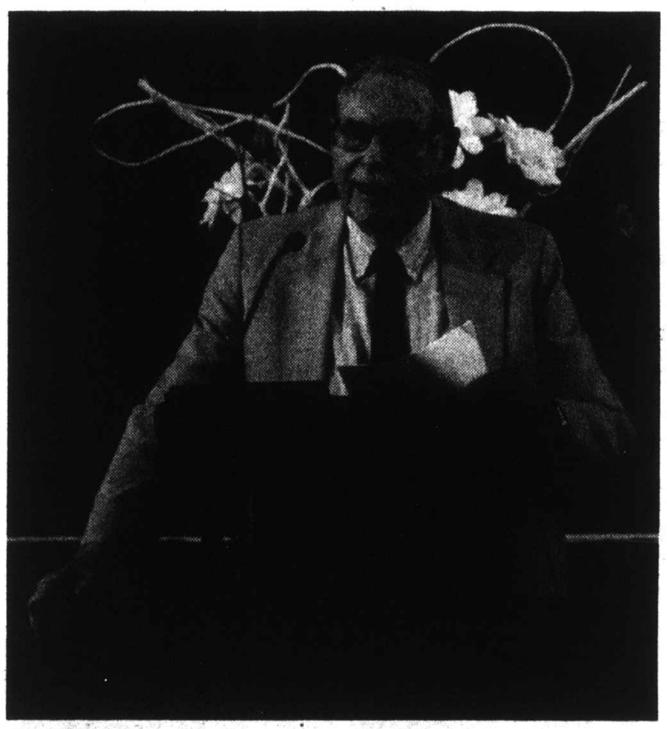
Fred Kaplan's John Quincy Adams: American Visionary showed Adams' vision for America "that we haver largely fulfilled," said Fitzgerald. "So right now, Adams' reputation - at least among historians - is the highest its ever been. Let's just consider where we've gone for a moment. We've gone from Miller's "rather unlikely hero" in 1995 to John Adams: American Visionary and National Builder of Grand Strategy in 2014."

Fitzgerald added: "We're two years from his 250th birthday, and I hope historians continue to appreciate and explore the amazing complexity of this man. Including things that are not always perfect or even favorable but are always fascinating and capable of surprising. It would surprise most people that he was the first president to say 'representative democracy' because as Emerson said of him he was naturally a bruiser, who enjoyed a fight, his rhetoric is combative and we don't always see how deeply his is probing and perhaps struggling with these still evolving concepts of democracy and human rights."



AMONG THE SPEAKERS honoring the life and legacy John Quincy Adams at a Presidential wreath-laying ceremony commemorating the Sixth U.S. President's 248th birthday anniversary at United First Parish Church July 10 were (clockwise from top left) Adams family descendant Peter Boylston Adams, Mayor Thomas Koch, Edward Fitzgerald, PhD, executive director, Quincy Historical Society; Rev. Rebecca Froom, United First Parish Church Minister and (below) United First Church Parish Historian William Westland.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth



GENNARO'S EATERY

Bundle Meals $35.99

Take-Out Only • Feeds 4-5

Pick One Entree
Chicken, Ziti & Broccoli
Chicken Marsala
Chicken Saltimbocca
Chicken Cacciatore
Chicken Parmigiana
Chicken Piccata
Chicken Gennaro

Pick One Pasta
Penne or Linguini

Pick One Salad
Garden or Caesar

Includes
Loaf of Bread

Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials 617-499-6929
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

Fond Memories Of Joe Beston's Gym

Cont'd From Page 1

a time when boxing was king," said Paul Beston, Joe's grandson.

From 1900-1950, boxing was second only to baseball in national popularity. In the middle of all this was the great depression. Men knew how to fight. They fought to live. Boxing was simply the next step. They went to Joe Beston's Gym. He trained them. Sometimes he gave them a place to sleep. They listened and they learned. They put on gloves. They stepped into the ring and punched for a way out of their lives.

"People fought so they could eat," said Paul Beston. "They came from Quincy, from all over the country and all over the world. The number of fighters who came from Europe was amazing."

This was not a gym of spandex and elliptical machines. This was a gym of jabs and hooks, of rings and ropes, of speed bags, of heavy bags to hit and heavy weights to lift. Champions like Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey came to the gym. Only Stillman's in New York was busier. For a time, for a hard time in the country's life, this little gym in Quincy was a place to train, to fight and to hope.

"It was a gym out of the movie Rocky," said Beston. "You could almost see Mickey or Rocky there. It had the dusty smell and feel of an old gym. There was always action. There were boxing people, fight people all over the place. It was definitely not like going to the YMCA or Planet Fitness for a workout."

In the end, though, this is more a story about a family than it is a story about a place. Three extraordinary men were at the center of it all. Joe started the gym and kept it until The Bargain Center took it away to store cheap suits. His son-in-law Lou Brouillard trained there and became the welterweight and middleweight champion of the world. His son Harold "Turk" Beston spent much of his childhood there and went on to do things far more important than old gyms or road work or boxing matches.

❑

Joe was born in Newcastle, England. He was a professional soccer player and the lightweight wrestling champion of Europe. Remember, this was a different world. It was a time when wrestling was the real thing, not some amusement on a bad cable channel.

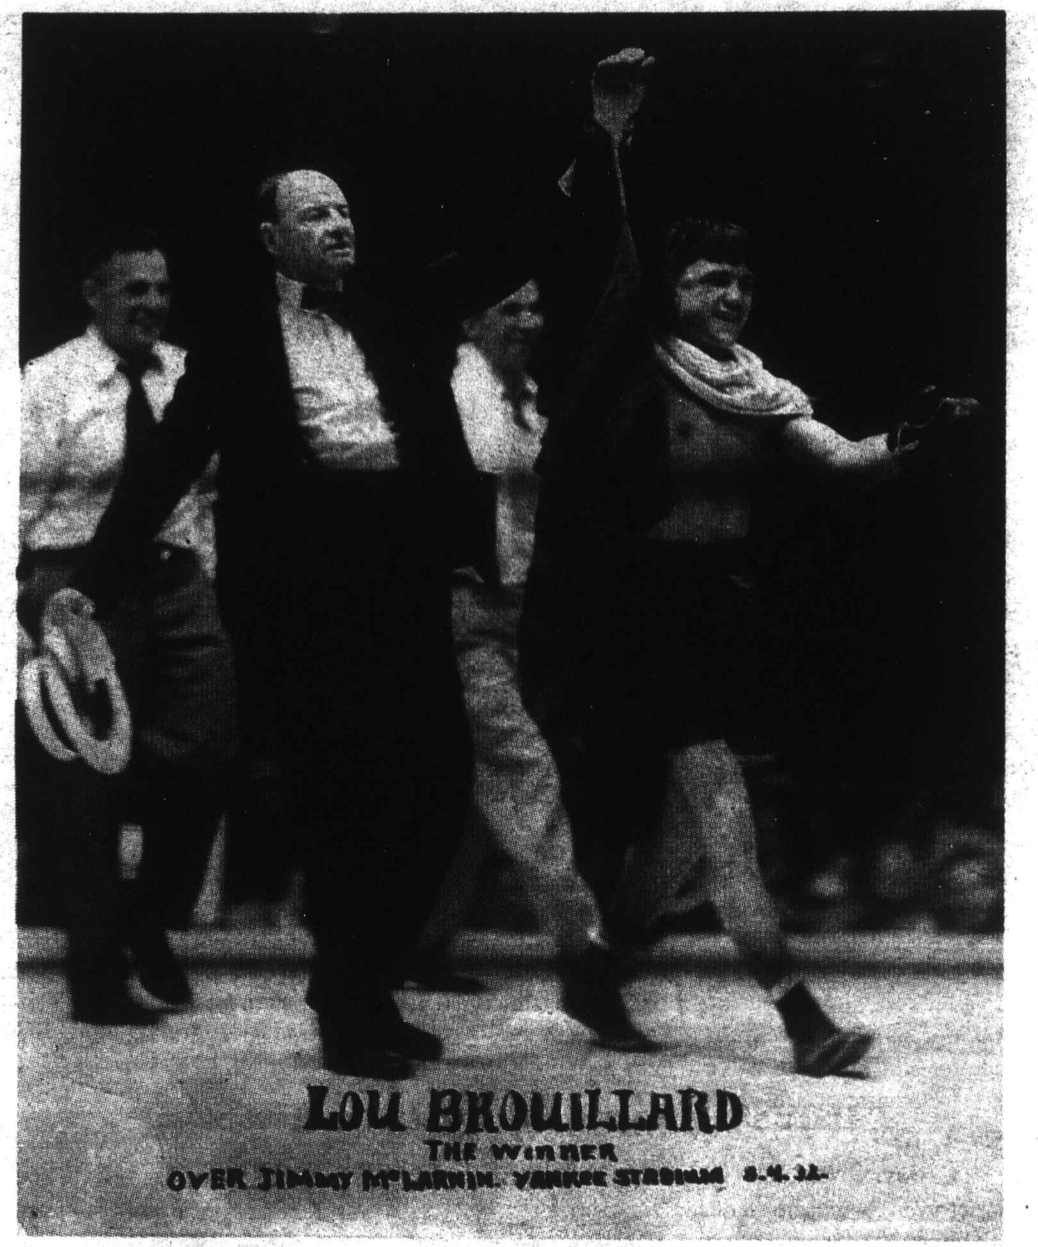
"He went 300 matches and never lost a fall. It's still a world record. It made it into Ripley's Believe It or Not," said Paul Beston.

He moved to Canada and then to America when he was in his early 30s. He settled in Hough's Neck. Beston opened a gym in Wollaston, but outgrew it in less than a year. The reason was simple. Word spread. He could train fighters. He could build champions and contenders. He moved to the floor above The Bargain Center.

He built it and they came. First they came from training rooms in attics near the Fore River Shipyard. They came from Quincy, the South Shore, the entire country and from distant lands. If you could fight, this gym in Quincy Square was your field of dreams.

"My grandfather had only the one champion in Lou, but he trained at least 10-15 contenders. By that, I mean fighters who were in the top 10 in their divisions," said Beston.

He was a great trainer and he was a better man. During the depression, he let the homeless sleep in his gym. He brought a homeless man home, bought him new shoes and supported him for months. The man stole Joe's cash box and fled his house. Months later, the man returned. He was broke again. He had nothing. Joe gave him a job in his gym.



LOU BROUILLARD
THE WINNER
OVER JIMMY McLARNIN. YANKEE STADIUM 8.4.32.

LOU BROUILLARD defeated future Hall of Famer Jimmy McLarnin in a bout at Yankee Stadium on Aug. 4, 1932. Brouillard - who was inducted in the World Boxing Hall of Fame in 2000 - trained at Joe Beston's Gym in Quincy Center. During his career, he held the World Welterweight Title and the World Middleweight Title. Photo Courtesy Paul Beston

Beston had two testimonials which attracted the biggest names in boxing. In one of them, his supporters raised a purse of $400 in appreciation for all that Joe had done. When Joe walked outside, he met a man who told him he could not pay for his wife's medical care. Joe did not know the man. He was a stranger in a tough spot. Joe Beston gave him the $400. Sometimes a fellow needs a little help getting up off the mat.

"My grandfather helped so many people and he never talked about it," said Beston.

❑

Brouillard was born in Canada. He heard of Joe Beston and his gym. He moved to Quincy and settled in The Neck near Joe. He trained in his gym. He did his road work on the streets of Hough's Neck. He ran up Great Hill, and he ran from the Neck to the Square. He married Joe's daughter Minnie. Like Joe, he came from another land, but he became a Quincy guy.

And he became a champion. He was welterweight champion of the world at age 19 and middleweight champion at age 21. He beat Mickey Walker. Many boxing experts rate Walker in the top 10 or 15 all-time fighters. At one point, Brouillard's record was 78-1. He beat Jack Thompson in the first championship fight ever in the Boston Garden in 1931 before a crowd of 19,000 fans who paid out $55,000 in the middle of the depression to see the bout.

"That was a huge event. The Garden was built for boxing and political conventions. At that time, boxing was the biggest thing in Boston," said Beston.

Brouillard was not a dancer. He was a fighter. One writer described his style clearly: Lou Brouillard leads with his head. He battered people. He didn't fool them. He hit them. He was a tough man. For fun, he chopped wood. Once, he gave away 150 pounds and won a logging contest with a 295-pound man.

"I asked Sam Silverman (a famous boxing promoter in Boston in the 1960s and 1970s) how Lou would have done against Marvin Hagler or Sugar Ray Leonard. Silverman said Hagler would probably have caught him with a big punch, but that Lou would have beaten Leonard," said Beston.

His fame spread to Europe. Twice he fought France's Marcel Thil for the middleweight title in Paris. Twice Brouillard dominated the fight. Twice Thil won by claiming low blows. When one of the fights was shown to French fans in a Paris movie theater, they saw there was no low blow.

Several newspaper accounts stated that the fans rushed from the theater, put Lou on their shoulders and marched through the streets of Paris proclaiming: Long Live the King.

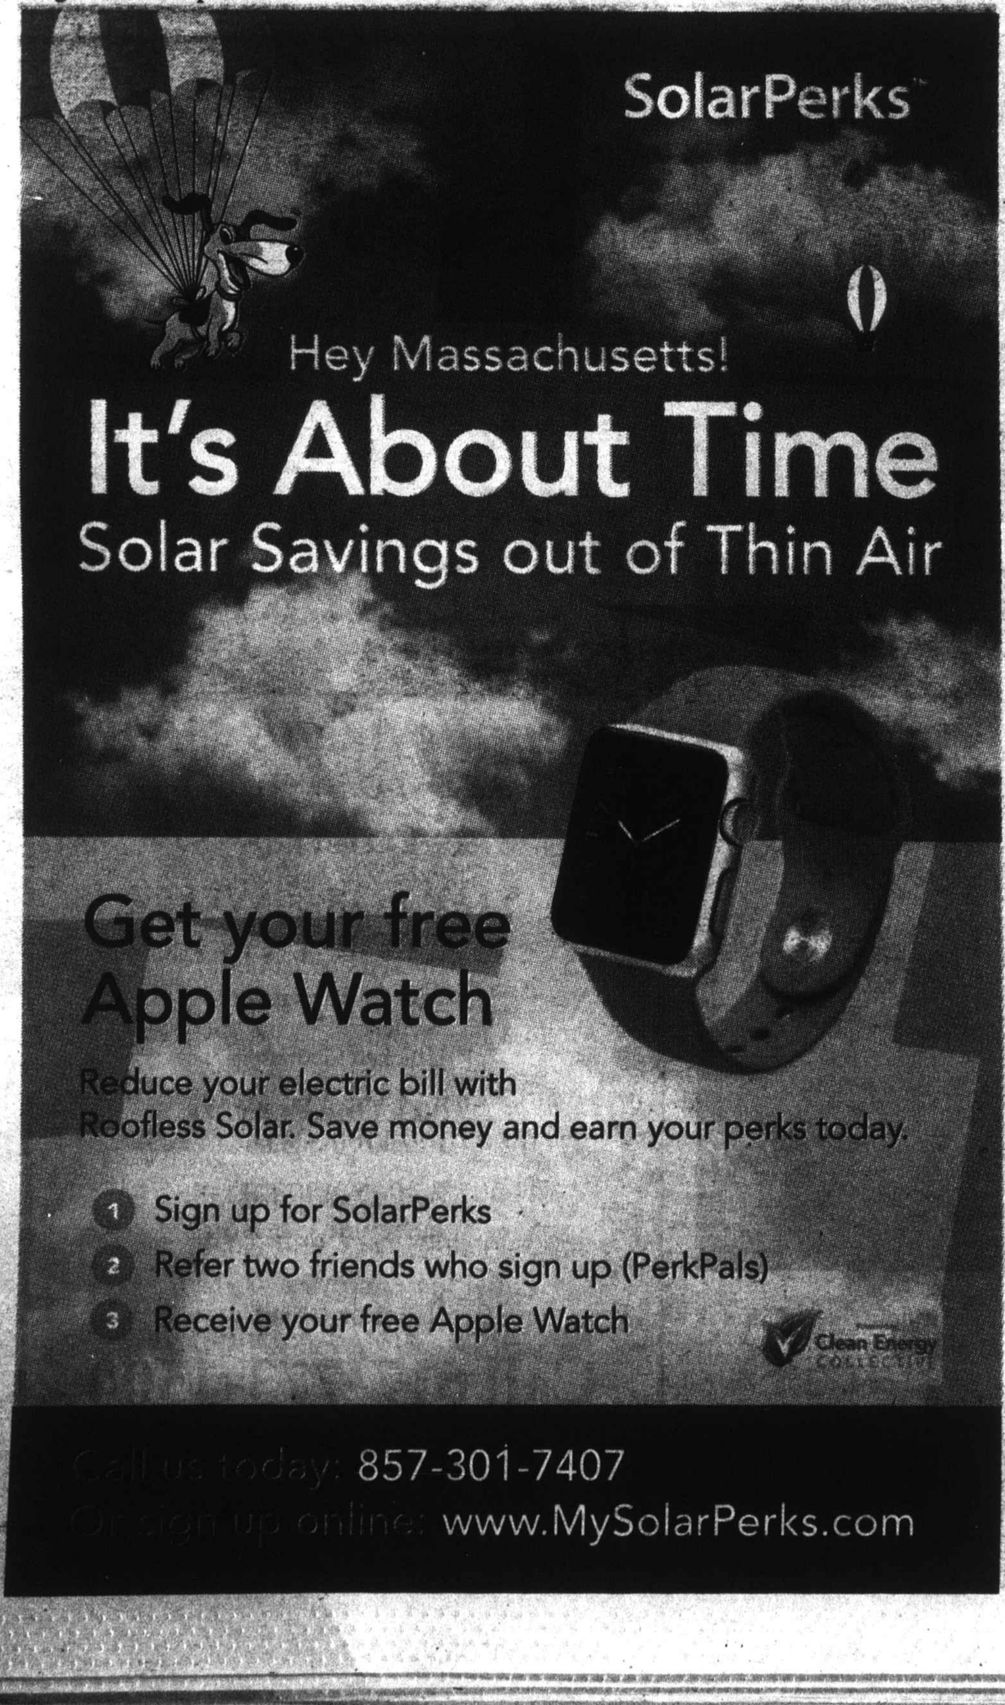
The great curse of the 1930s was the rise of the Nazis in Germany. Adolph Hitler came to know of Lou Brouillard. In 1933, Brouillard clobbered Germany's Adolph Heuser, a Nazi named after Hitler. Hitler loved sports. When Jesse Owens dominated the 1936 Olympics in Munich and Joe Louis knocked out Germany's Max Schmeling, Hitler was furious.

In 1938, Brouillard wanted another shot at Heuser in Germany. Hitler stepped in and stopped the bout because he feared Brouillard would win. Newspaper accounts tell of Gestapo-inspired riots in Berlin, Munich, and Hamburg where storm troopers burnt posters of Brouillard in effigy. The American embassy refused to issue Brouillard a passport because it feared for his life if he went to Germany.

"Lou wasn't afraid of anything. After Louis beat Schmeling, Lou wanted to take his shot at a Nazi," said Beston.

❑

Cont'd On Page 15



SolarPerks™

Hey Massachusetts!

It's About Time

Solar Savings out of Thin Air

Get your free Apple Watch

Reduce your electric bill with Roofless Solar. Save money and earn your perks today.

1. Sign up for SolarPerks
2. Refer two friends who sign up (PerkPals)
3. Receive your free Apple Watch

Clean Energy Collective

Call us today: 857-301-7407
Or sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com

Joe Beston's Gym: A Quincy Institution

Cont'd From Page 14

Harold "Turk" Beston spent much of his childhood at his father Joe's gym. He was also a three-year starter and a three-year All-Scholastic at center on Munroe MacLean's football teams at Quincy High. When World War II began, Beston did more than serve, he volunteered to be one of the original Army Rangers.

Only 1,500 were chosen out of 16,000 who wanted to be Rangers. Beston was one of them. He went through 14 months of training from British commandos in preparation for the invasion on D-Day on June 6, 1944.

"My father always said the training he got in the gym and the toughness he built up in Munroe MacLean's practices helped him when he trained to be a Ranger," said Paul Beston.

He was at Pointe du Hoc on Omaha Beach on D-Day. There were 250 men in his unit when the invasion began. There were 47 left when the unit made its way off the beach. Beston was one of them. On the 40th anniversary of D-Day, on June 6. 1984, President Ronald Reagan flew 12 men from Turk's original unit back to where they landed on Omaha Beach. Beston was one of them.

"That meant so much to my father. He met the President and had his picture taken with him. He saw his old comrades and I think it helped him appreciate all that he did," said Paul Beston.

❑

There was always a Quincy feel to Joe Beston's gym. If kids didn't want to box, there was room for soccer, volleyball, handball and basketball. Guido Pettinelli, George Burke and John Gillis were frequent visitors to the gym. Pettinelli was a police officer who gave his time to youth sports in the city from the Dorchester line to the Braintree line. Burke's contributions to sports in Quincy are the stuff of legend. Gillis went on to become the City Commissioner.

There was a bit of the North vs. Quincy rivalry in the place. Pettinelli told a story about the way Joe Beston handled it.

"Joe would find two kids about the same size and ability. One would be from North. One would be from the Point. If they wanted to mix it up, Joe would give them gloves and put them in the ring. I saw some good bouts."

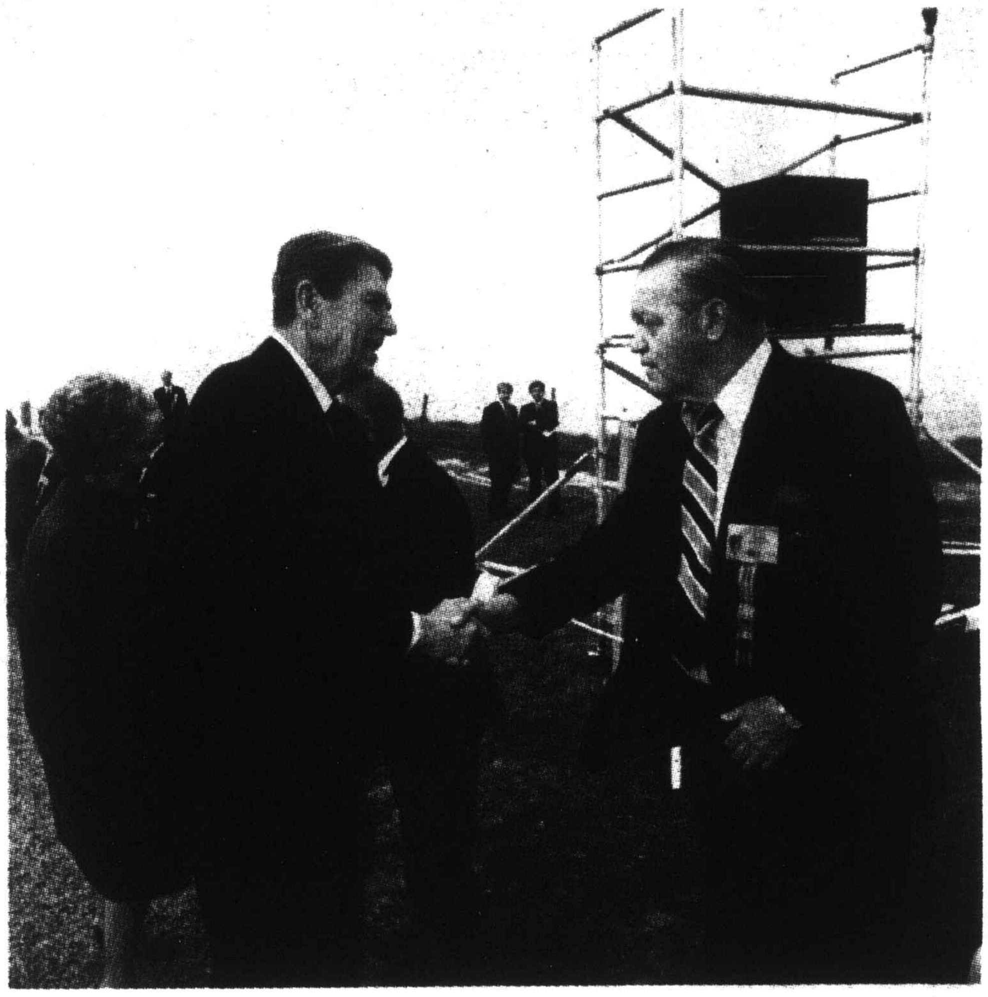
"My grandfather always thought of Quincy. When Lou was having all his success, my grandfather said it was because of that good Hough's Neck salt air he got in lungs when he ran the streets down there," said Paul Beston.

❑

Perhaps it was all best expressed by Joe Beston when he learned his gym would close in December of 1948.

"This is not a gymnasium. It's an institution. Hundreds of thousands of boys have trained here. I take pride in the work I've done with the boys. I'd rather send a boy off on the right foot with a healthy body and a decent mind than to turn out a champion."

Well said, Mr. Beston.



HAROLD 'TURK' BESTON (right) shakes hands with former President Ronald Reagan at the 40th anniversary of the D-Day Invasion at Omaha Beach in 1984. Beston - a Quincy High School football standout who trained at his father's gym in Quincy Square - volunteered to be one of the original Army Rangers. He was among 1,500 Rangers selected from 16,000 volunteers. Beston was only one of 47 Rangers out of 250 in his unit who survived the D-Day invasion.

Photo Courtesy Paul Beston

Fitness Industry Topic Thursday

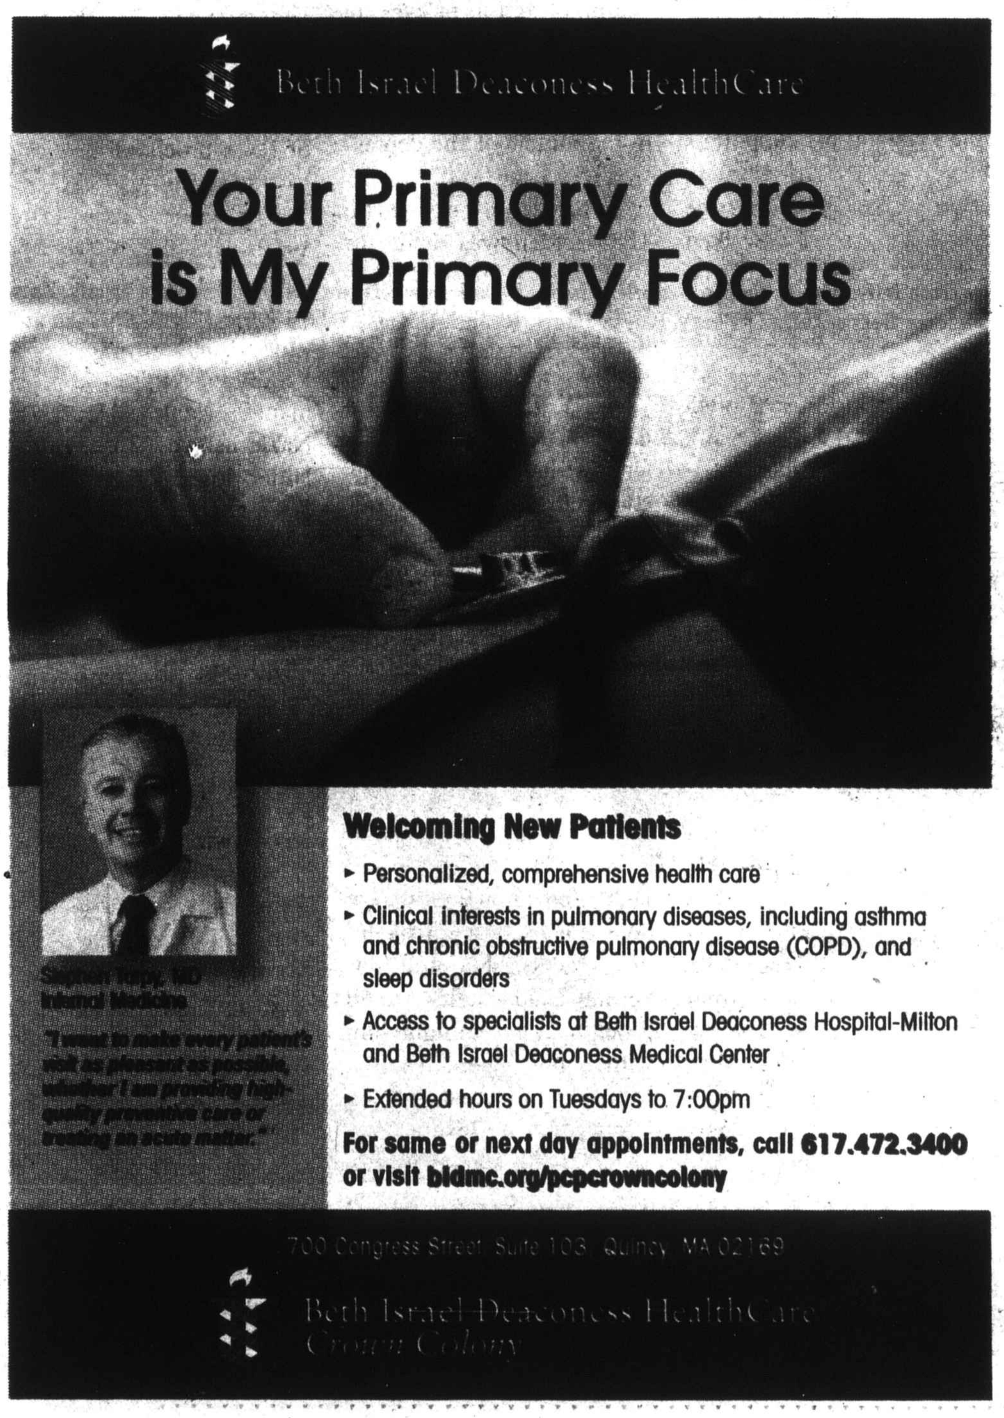
Dr. Wayne Westcott, instructor of Exercise Science at Quincy College, will join other local industry professionals to talk about the changing world of fitness today (Thursday) at 5:15 p.m. in the conference room at Presidents Place, 1250 Hancock St., Quincy (garden level of the north tower).

The event is free and open to the public.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts that the number of recreation and fitness workers should grow by 13.5 percent by the year 2022, adding about 82,500 new positions.

Dr. Westcott and others will discuss all the career opportunities in the industry. There will be the opportunity to ask questions and receive information from hiring professionals from local facilities. In addition, Dr. Westcott will discuss the educational requirements needed to begin a career in exercise science.

RSVP to attend, space is limited. Call (617) 984-1716 or email WWestcott@quincycollege.edu.



Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare

Your Primary Care is My Primary Focus

[illegible]

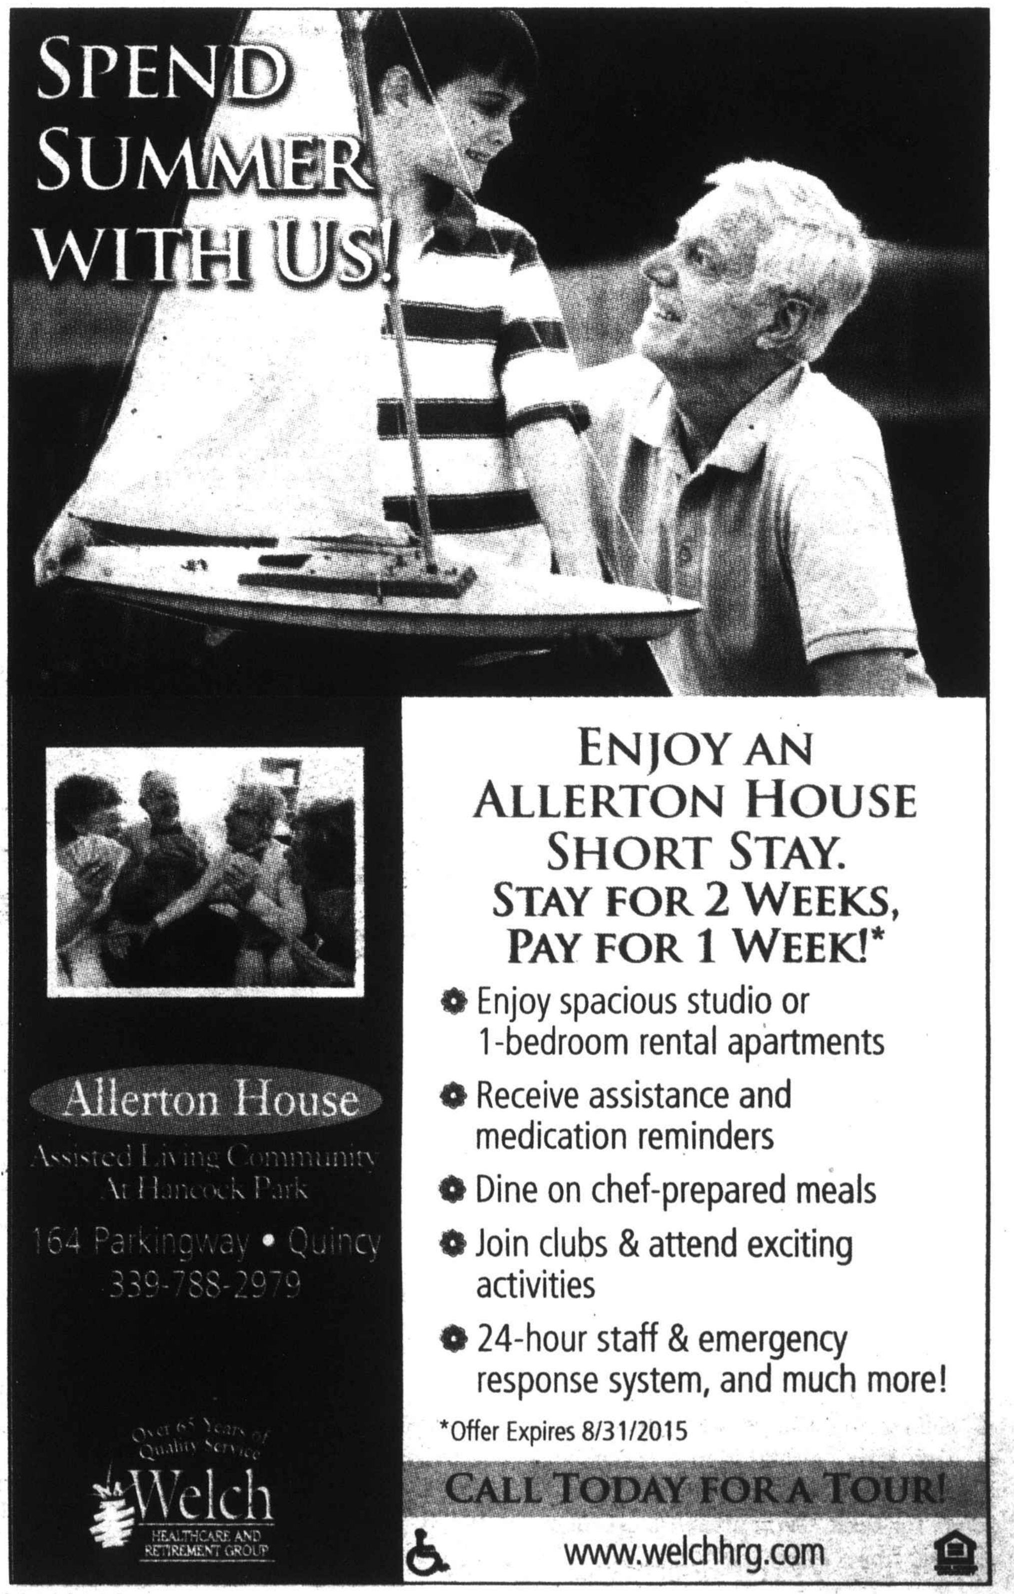
Welcoming New Patients

- Personalized, comprehensive health care
- Clinical interests in pulmonary diseases, including asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), and sleep disorders
- Access to specialists at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
- Extended hours on Tuesdays to 7:00pm

For same or next day appointments, call 617.472.3400 or visit bidmc.org/pcpcrowncolony

700 Congress Street Suite 103 Quincy MA 02169

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare
Crown Colony



SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP

Undefeated Atty. George Burke Defeats Colonial Federal

The Championship Game for Quincy Youth Basketball Cosgrove Division (Boys Grades 3-5) was an exciting finish to a fun season.

Atty. George Burke (undefeated at 9-0) and Colonial Federal, who was in fifth place going into the playoffs, played a very close game at the end of the regular season, so it was no surprise that the level of intensity and competition remained high when the two met again in the Championship game. The crowd at the Quincy High School gym enjoyed a game in which both teams left everything on the court.

Colonial Federal kept charging all game long led by Brandan Pham (eight points), Scott Gutro (nine points), and Christian Spagnolo (one point). Coaches Steve Spagnolo, Jim Devine, and Glenn Morales charged up Colonial Federal at half time and the boys responded by staging a strong rally in the second half.

Ultimately, the Atty. George Burke players were able to maintain their composure and take advantage of the strengths that had allowed them to achieve an undefeated season: relentless defense, aggressive offensive rebounding, and playing together as a team. The fifth grade players agreed early in the season to keep everyone on the team involved and help the younger players get better every game. They enjoyed the rewards of seeing every player on the team contribute points and key defensive plays in the Championship game.

Benny Nguyen (14 points) and Dylan Green (six points) led the scoring with their confident drives to the basket. Sam Wong and Jude Locken (two points each), Emmett Bandzak and Ty Mainini worked hard to set picks, score points when they were open and make plays happen when they were not, and to make defensive stops with their feet. Reán Beqo (four points) dominated in the key, both on offense and defense, and showed that even fouls don't slow him down by making back-to-back free throws in critical minutes.

Atty. George Burke won the championship game against Colonial Federal, 28-18. After the game, the smiles on the faces of players for both teams showed that they are proud of their season, and they deserve to be.

ATTY. GEORGE BURKE team: front row (from left): Dillon Green, Benny Nguyen, Sam Wong and Emmett Bandzak. Back row (left to right): Ty Mainini, Reán Beqo, Jude Locken and Coach Mark Bandzak. Missing from photo: Denzel Quartey.

Healy Family Shocks Undefeated Roche Bros. For Title

The Quincy Youth Basketball Girls Grades 3 through 5 Championship Game was recently held at Quincy High School.

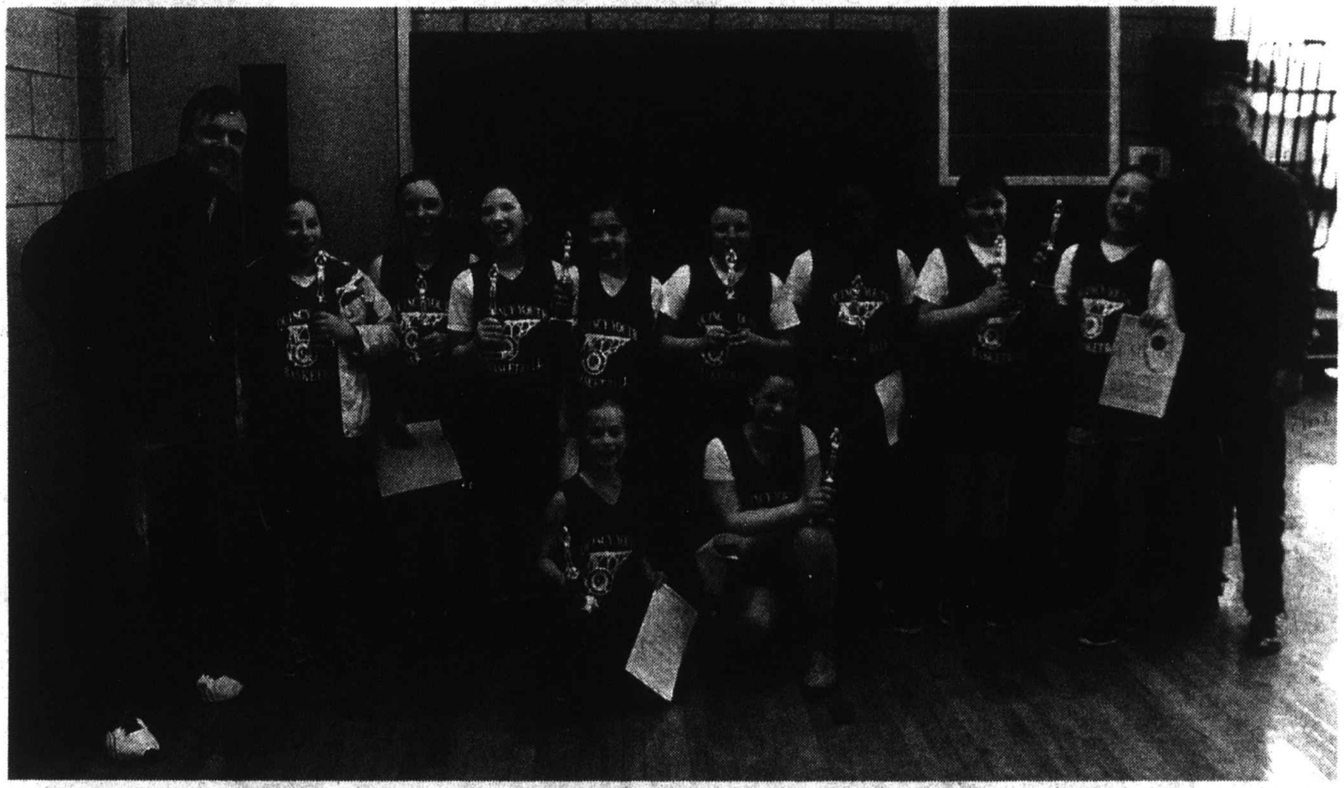
The Healy Family (4-3 for the season); coached by Sean Healy and John O'Leary, conquered previously undefeated Roche Bros,, coached by Andy Mariano, 19-16 in a tough defensive battle.

The Healy Family was led by Elizabeth Chetwynd's seven points, the defense of Victoria Berry (eight points), and several key steals and assists by Mikayla Miller (2 points).

The Healy Family starters Molly Nelson, Carmela Canavan, Elizabeth Chetwynd, Victoria Berry, and Emma Kinsley (two points) got off to an early 6 - 0 start and led 11-6 at half-time.

The Healy Family started the second half with Kayla Healy, Julia O'Leary, Victoria Berry, Zara Valencius, and Sarah Shishko who extended the lead, 15-6. The Roche Bros. team led by Ashley Little, Victoria Mariano, Elleana Bush and Raquel Devine (two points apiece, and Helena Middleton and Isabella Carinci (four points each) made a great comeback and outscored The Healy Family 10 to 4 in the last 15 minutes of the second half to make it an interesting last few minutes.

The Healy Family will defend their title next year but will be without fifth graders Sarah Shishko, Carmela Canavan and Julia O'Leary who will move up to the next division. They will be missed.



HEALY FAMILY Team (front row from left): Mollie Nelson, Isabella Carinci. Back row left to right: Coach Sean Healy, Zara Valencius, Elizabeth Chetwynd, Victoria Berry, Julia O'Leary, Kayla Healy, Raquel Devine, Ashley Little, Sarah Shishko and Coach John O'Leary.

United HVAC Co. Topples No. 1 Marchant A C

Quincy Youth Basketball's Boys 6th to 8th Grade Second Annual Ron Smith Memorial Championship Game recently took place on the hardwood at Quincy High School when United HVAC Co., coached by John Scolaro and Long Le, conquered previously undefeated Marchant A C 43-33.

After losing a tight game to Marchant A C in the regular season, United was anxious to meet them again in the finals. The game started with Marchant, led by longtime coaches Bruce Marquis and Tom Nazzaro, hitting their first three shots after tip-off.

United kept calm and executed their game plan of getting the ball inside to Albi Biba, resulting in a game high total of 17 points for Biba. With great defense from Tyler Carey, Aidan DiBonis (two points), Danny Maier, and Nick Rhu, United HVAC Co. went into half-time with a six point lead. Late in the second half, Marchant A C tied the game.

Marchant A C players Robert Cabral (three points); Josh Dangora, (10 points and 100 percent from the free throw line); Brian O'Connor (10 points); and Pat Nazzaro (13 points) kept the pressure on United to defend and score. United's Ben Akkara, Chris Allalam, and Adnane Baghough came off the bench to help fend off the fierce Marchant A C competitors, while Tyler Le and Daniel Scolaro maneuvered turnovers and scored 12 points each to bring United within range of a win.

A huge basket by forward DiBonis secured the victory with little time remaining. It was a great effort by both teams and was a fitting tribute to the passion Ron Smith, former Quincy Youth Basketball IAABO referee, had for the game.

Following the game, each United HVAC player was presented with a commemorative medal by Ron's wife, Patty Smith.

UNITED HVAC Team (from left): Coach John Scolaro, Aidan DeBonis, Danny Maier, Tyler Carey, Ben Akkara, Nicholas Rue, Chris Allalam (hidden), Adnane Baghough, Albi Biba, Daniel Scolaro, Tyler Le and Assistant Coach Long Le.

Covais Law Office Triumphs Over Quincy Credit Union

Covais Law Office defeated Quincy Credit Union 34 - 22 to capture the Quincy Youth Basketball Girls Grades 6-8 Championship in a fiercely played contest.

Covais Law Office entered the Championship Game with a near perfect record of 9-1 while Quincy Credit Union (QCU) finished the season at 5-8. Covais Law Office suffered their only loss of the season at the hands of Quincy Credit Union by two points.

Coached by John Lyons and Steve Brown, Quincy Credit Union was disciplined and very well coached throughout the regular season as well as during the playoffs and championship game. In the championship game they moved the ball well, led by Megan Lyons (10 points) and Hannah Robinson (eight points) who hit some crucial outside shots. Riley Pascarelli (four points) also provided rebounding and tough defense. The bench contributed energy and enthusiasm.

Megan Lyons of QCU possesses lightning speed and plays with constant determination. She is nearly unstoppable on offense; however, Covais Law Office employed a double team as well as team help defense to try to staunch Lyons' powerful scoring threat.

Covais Law Office's scoring was balanced with the starting 5 doing most of the damage. Sarah Ainsley scored a game high 14 points and provided stellar rebounding; Lindsay Sheridan (two points) added excellent leadership at point guard, while Mary Kate McAleavey (four points) provided punch from her shooting guard/forward combination efforts. Kayla Larkin-Goldman (four points) delivered extra clout and all around incredible determination (and averaged over 20 points per game in the regular season). Megan Piquette popped in four points while also playing solid defense.

Journey Strouble came off the bench to nail two crucial long range jump shots, rebounding and passing well off a recent sprained hand injury.

Team Covais was blessed with very talented 6th graders in Emma O'Neil (two points) and Lily Scola, who played well and aggressively and were not intimidated by their elder opponents in a hard fought game.

For some of the returning players of Covais Law, such as Sheridan, McAleavey and Strouble, this was their 3rd Championship season in a row under Coach Totten while Larkin-Goldman and Piquette have each been very important players in two prior championships. Newcomers to the team - Sarah Ainsley, Emma O'Neil and Lily Scola - have now earned their first league championship.

Covais Law Office was coached by long-time QYB coach Dan Totten who is also the QYB Coordinator for Clinics and Tournaments. Covais Law Office Sponsor, Mike Covais, provided great team comradery by hosting the team's last practice and providing pizza for the team and parents along with a pep talk for the players.

This championship game capped a learning filled and exciting season where some of the girls from grades 6 through 8 were able to represent Quincy Youth Basketball playing at halftime of the Harvard vs. Yale Women's Pink Zone basketball game in February which benefits research in the fight against breast cancer.

COVAIS LAW OFFICE team front row left to right: Lindsay Sheridan, Emma O'Neil, Lily Scola. Second row left to right: Assistant Coach Olivia Palazzi, Mary Kate McAleavey, Kayla Larkin-Goldman, Sarah Ainsley, Meaghan Piquette, Journey Strouble. Third row left to right: Coach Dan Totten, and Assistant Coach Ashley Totten (hidden).

Photo Courtesy Quincy Youth Basketbal

Quincycles Easy Rider Ride Saturday

Quincycles will host their Easy Rider Ride Saturday, July 18 at 9 a.m.

The monthly third Saturday rides are designed for bicyclists who prefer shorter distance, relaxed pace recreational rides.

Participants are invited to meet prior to the start time at Squantum Point Park. From there the ride will follow a route along the water to access the Neponset Bridge and back to the Marina Bay boardwalk for coffee at Cream and Sugar.

The ride is free and open to the public.

Later in the month on July 25, Quincycles will run a Safe Cycling Skills Workshop at the Thomas Crane Library for those who would like to ride a bike for transportation but need a boost in confidence.

Quincycles is a group of Quincy residents advocating for bicycle infrastructure on our city streets and promoting responsible bicycling as a means of transportation, recreation, and exercise in Quincy.

More information about the group can be found on their website at www.Quincycles.org or by email quincycles@gmail.com.

Morrisette Jr. Legion Bows To Braintree, Downs Hudson

By BILL GRIFFIN

One bad inning.

For six innings against Braintree, Morrisette Junior Legion played the kind of quality baseball they have featured all season. They rapped out 10 hits and drew four walks. Curtis Frazier and Kevin Fitzgerald were on base all day. They built a 5-1 lead. Ryan Cox delivered another fine effort in relief. The defense made the plays.

But there was that one inning which decided the game. Braintree took advantage of three errors and scored nine runs in the third inning en route to an 11-7 win in a battle of first-place contenders in Zone 6 at Adams Field Sunday afternoon.

"Other than the one inning we played well," said coach Gerry Shepherd. "We got a little sloppy which is something we haven't done all season. Braintree is a good team and they capitalized."

It was the second chapter in the chase for first place at Adams Field over the weekend. Friday night, Morrisette rallied from a four-run deficit and scored twice in the bottom of the seventh to edge Franklin in an 8-7 thriller. The win avenged a 5-4 loss to Franklin earlier in the season.

Morrisette rebounded from the Braintree loss with a 4-1 win over Hudson Sunday night. Owen Lynch pitched the first six innings to earn the win. Cox finished up with an inning of relief.

Shawn Kelley, Max Storch and Kyle Brennan each had three hits in the win over Hudson.

Sunday's results lef Braintree in first place with a 13-2 record. Quincy stood at 12-2, and Franklin was 11-4.

Morrisette was scheduled

Cont'd On Page 18

Marsinelli's Arm, Bat, Speed Leads Wollaston Sr. B.R.

By BILL GRIFFIN

Johnny Marsinelli remembers when he began catching three years ago for the Wollaston Senior Babe Ruth team. He remembers one thing especially well. He remembers how his throws to second base would arrive on two and three bounces.

Those days are lost and gone forever. His throws now arrive not as ground balls, but as shoulder-high darts. He threw out two runners by ridiculously wide margins in Friday night's game against Cedar Grove, and his throwing was only part of the story.

He had a double, a single, stole three bases, scored three runs, including the equalizer in the bottom of the seventh, to lead Wollaston to an important 6-5 South Shore Senior Babe Ruth League win at Adams Field.

"I remember when I started with Wollaston. I can still hear people making fun of my throws when they bounced to second base," smiled Marsinelli who has just finished his freshman year at Mass. Maritime. "I played a lot of long toss, and that helped my arm strength. I also thinks it's a matter of getting stronger, eating right and feeling healthier."

The win lifted Wollaston to 8-5 on the season and put them in good position to qualify for the league playoffs. The regular season ended Wednesday, and the playoffs are scheduled to begin Monday.

Wollaston missed qualifying for the state tourney by percentage points after advancing to the EMass finals the past two years. Norwood was the final team to make the states with a winning percentage of .620. At the time the selections were made, Wollaston had a winning percentage of .600.

"This was a big win for us in the league," said assistant coach Bob Griffin. "Six of eight teams make the playoffs, but only Milton is guaranteed a spot right now. Everybody else is still in the mix."

Marsinelli has thrown out better than 50 percent of base-stealers this season, a remarkable number, but it was his bat and speed as much as his arm which helped decide the game Friday night. Wollaston trailed, 5-4 entering the home seventh after giving back a one-run lead in the top half of the inning on two unearned runs. It was a time for resilience, a time when Wollaston needed a shot of energy from its lead-off man. If the first batter makes a quick out in this situation, things tend to grow grim.

Marsinelli led by serving a single into left center. Wollaston had a man on, its best base-runner who had scored in the first on an error, a sacrifice and two wild pitches.

"It was important that we answered back by getting a runner on. It showed we were still in the game after we gave up the lead," said Griffin.

Marsinelli stole second on a big jump off the pitcher. He stole third on an insane jump off the pitcher. He was standing at third almost before the pitched ball arrived to the catcher. Honest.

"I usually steal off the pitcher," said Marsinelli. "My third base coach Steve Reardon let me know the second baseman wasn't holding me on. After I saw the pitcher look twice, I knew I could go."

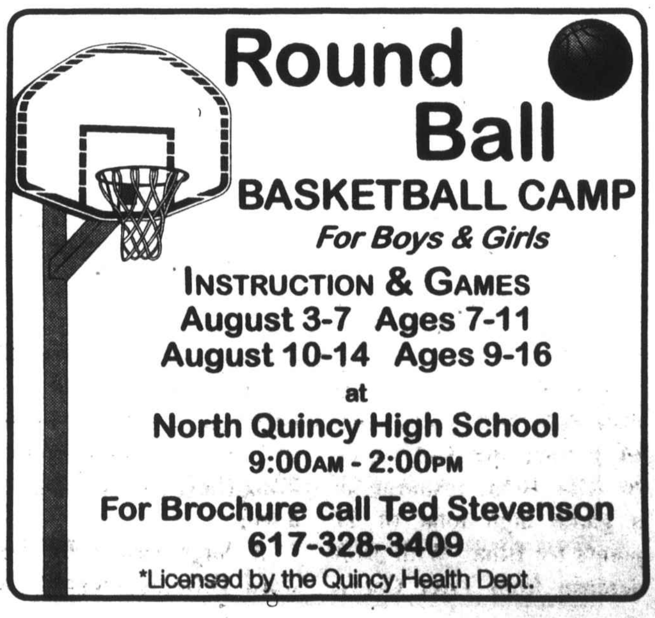
Shortstop Mike Pugsley lined a single to right center to tie the score. After Padraig Geaney and Ben Martin walked to load the bases, Pugsley raced home on a wild pitch with the winner.

"Pugsley's hit was big and Padraig and Ben both gave us good at-bats," said Griffin.

Martin went the distance to earn the win. The lefty wasn't as overpowering as he was in his nine-inning, 1-0 classic over Braintree in his last start, but he was very good on a night when he didn't have his best stuff. He scattered five singles, struck out seven, walked two and gave just one earned run. He was tough, he battled the hitters and gave his team a chance to win. It was his third straight one-run victory.

"I told Ben after the game that pitching in adversity like tonight and giving us a chance to win was almos

Cont'd On Page 18



Round Ball
BASKETBALL CAMP
For Boys & Girls
INSTRUCTION & GAMES
August 3-7 Ages 7-11
August 10-14 Ages 9-16
at
North Quincy High School
9:00AM - 2:00PM
For Brochure call Ted Stevenson
617-328-3409
*Licensed by the Quincy Health Dept.

Morrisette Jr. Legion Bows To Braintree, Downs Hudson

Cont'd From Page 17

to end its regular season Tuesday night at Canton. However, if first place still needed to be decided, Morrisette would face Braintree Wednesday. The playoffs are scheduled to begin Friday.

In other action last week, Morrisette dropped Foxboro, 5-1 and stopped Cohasset, 11-4.

Fitzgerald and Frazier had big days at the plate against Braintree. Frazier went 3-4 out of the cleanup hole while Fitzgerald had two hits, scored twice and was hit by a pitch. Brennan had a double, a walk, two RBI and scored a run.

Martin MacCormack added a single and two RBI while Kelley had a double and an RBI. Storch singled, walked and scored twice. Eric Barber scored a pair of runs. There were several deep drives to the outfield. Morrisette hit the ball.

"Our offense has been consistent all season," said Shepherd. "Curtis is hitting over .400 batting cleanup. Kevin Fitzgerald is a pitcher, but he's hitting .370 and we had to find a place for him in the lineup (left field)," said Shepherd.

Morrisette had chances to score more runs. The fifth was the only inning Morrisette didn't have a base runner. They stranded 10 runners in seven innings. They chipped away after Braintree's big inning, but couldn't produce the hit to turn around the game.

"One reason was a lot of the rallies started with two outs," said Shepherd. "We just weren't able to get the big hit. That's unusual for us. We've hit well with men on base all season."

Cox entered in relief in the third. He got the final out of the inning, settled down the game and pitched 4 1/3 innings of solid relief. He gave four hits, no earned runs, struck out one and retired the last seven batters he faced. His secret was low, hard strikes.

"Ryan has an excellent fastball and he keeps the ball down," said Shepherd.

Errors hurt Morrisette in the third, but there was also excellent defense. Storch made a diving stop at second base on a ball hit up the middle and turned it into a force play. Fitzgerald raced deep in left center for a catch which saved two runs in the fourth. Kelley showed a strong arm and range in center. MacCormack handled four chances cleanly at short.

"Outside of the third inning, our defense was good," said Shepherd. "That play Storch made up the middle was outstanding."

Brennan and MacCormack each had a pair of RBI in the first two innings as Morrisette went out quickly to a 5-1 lead, but Braintree sent 14 batters to the plate in the nine-run third to take command of the game with a 10-5 lead.

The win over Franklin was a rewarding one. Morrisette trailed 4-0 in the fifth. Frazier, Lynch, Fox, Fitzgerald and Cox had singles in a three-run rally which cut the lead to 4-3. Morrisette jumped ahead, with a two-run sixth highlighted by a Fitzgerald double and a suicide squeeze by Cox.

Morrisette was one strike away from the win in the top of the seventh, but Franklin rallied for two take the lead, 7-6. Morrisette answered with a double by MacCormack and singles by Brennan and Owen Lynch to tie the game. Fitzgerald, Barber, and Cox then drew consecutive walks to force home the winning run.

"It's a great group. They really pull for each other. You could see that in the way we came back against a good team," said Shepherd.

Marsinelli's Arm, Bat, Speed Leads Wollaston Sr. Babe Ruth more impressive than when he is his zone, everything is going right and he strikes out 16 like he did against Braintree," said Griffin.

Cont'd From Page 17

Pugsley was terrific. He had three singles and a sacrifice in four trips. He scored twice, drove in two runs and made an excellent play deep in the hole at short in the second. He and Marsinelli combined for five of Wollaston's six runs and for five of Wollaston's seven hits from the 1-2 spots in the order. They both started and finished the offense with speed and clutch hits.

"They delivered what you need from the 1-2 spots on the order. They both can get on base, and they both can run," said Griffin.

It was 1-1 after one. Cedar Grove went up, 3-1 in the third. Wollaston got one back in the fourth when David Cooper singled, moved to second on a Sam McGahey walk, stole third and scored on Evan Feinberg's ground ball.

Wollaston went up, 4-3 with two in the fifth. Marsinelli doubled and scored on Pugsley's bloop single. Pugsley took third on an error and hustled home on a short wild pitch. Cedar Grove scored two in the top of the seventh, but Marsinelli and Pugsley had the final answer with a dose of small ball for the win in the home half.

"Our hitting has been struggling, so we had to piece some things together," said Griffin. "We got a bunt down, we stole some bases, we worked walks, we forced some mistakes. It gave us a big win."

THANK YOU! THANK YOU! THANK YOU!

Dr. Freedman will celebrate
20 Years
Owning and Operating Family Practice of Chiropractic!
While we celebrate Dr. Freedman's Anniversary
We also celebrate YOU!
Thank YOU for 20 Incredible years of Chiropractic Miracles!

SAVE THE DATE!
Wednesday, July 15, 2015
10:00-2:00PM
Patient Appreciation Day!

Complimentary Adjustments, Food, Refreshments And Reminiscing...

Don't leave your family at home! Complimentary spinal exams from Monday July 13 – Thursday July 16!!

Family Practice of Chiropractic
Chiropractic Care for Children and Adults
Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
112 McGrath Highway
Quincy, MA
02169

617-472-4220

We don't just have clients – we have a family of patients and We're honored to take care of you!

Morrisette Opens Playoffs Friday

By BILL GRIFFIN

The legion season crams 21 games into 31 days. The playoffs test their champion with five games in five days. If a team does not have pitching depth, they will lose, and young arms will fall off young shoulders.

Morrisette has pitching in both quality and quantity, and it has been a keynote of a second straight remarkable season. Greg Paulo, Josh Helfrich and Joe Cochrane showed it well Monday night, and they were supported by a balanced nine-hit attack as Post 294 rolled to its ninth straight win with a convincing 9-1 victory over Milton in a Zone 6 East contest at Adams Field.

"It was great game for us," said coach Steve Maze. "We pitched well, we hit the ball right through the lineup, and we made the plays against a quality, well-coached Milton (13-7) team."

The win lifted Morrisette to 17-2-1 on the year and 35-4-1 over the past two regular seasons. First place in the zone and the second seed in the tournament behind Franklin was decided Tuesday night in a showdown on the road against Braintree.

The double-elimination playoffs will be played at Adams Field Friday and Saturday night. They will then move to Braintree High School on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights.

A look at the last five games of the win streak shows a deep pitching staff and how well Maze has used it. Last week Ethan Yau beat Weymouth, 7-1 with a complete-game effort. Dave Suslowicz went six and Kenny Sorensen finished up in a 4-1 decision over Holbrook.

Cochrane threw a complete-game victory, striking out five and walking nobody, in an 8-1 win over Hyde Park. Sorensen went six and Helfrich earned the save in a 7-5 verdict over Canton. Monday night, it was Paulo, Helfrich and Cochrane.

Add it up. In five straight games, Maze started five different pitchers and the five different pitchers each earned a victory. Three different pitchers threw in relief. Toss in Andrew Jaehnig who can be a shutdown closer, and it is clear that Morrisette comes into the playoffs with a platoon of pitchers.

"We don't have a designated relief pitcher or a No. 1 starter," said Maze. "What we do have is a number of pitchers who throws strikes and know how to pitch."

Maze has handled them brilliantly. He has kept innings and pitch counts down. He has not worn out one or two starters. His pitchers have grown comfortable as starters or relievers. He has mixed and matched, kept them fresh and sharp, and put them in situations where they can succeed. Helfrich, in particular, has delivered quality innings which have won games and kept the staff rested.

"The idea has been to keep them fresh and rested," said Maze. "If you have a lead, why use a starter for 95 pitches when you only need him for 65? There's no need for it. You get him out, get ice on his arm and you can use him for an inning two days later.

"We can't afford to start a pitcher on Monday and not use him again until Saturday. He must have two days rest, but after that, if his pitch count is low, we can use him in relief for an inning or two."

Witness Monday night. Paulo had his curveball crackling. He threw four innings, gave four hits, one run, struck out six and did not walk a batter. Helfrich pitched two hitless, shutout innings. Cochrane struck out a pair in the scoreless seventh.

"You can't just throw fastballs against a team like Milton. You have to mix it up and Greg had a good curveball," said Maze.

Despite the pitching, first star of the night went to third baseman Troy Shepherd. Shepherd had two hits, two RBI, scored a run and made two terrific plays in the field. He reacted instantly to make a diving stop of a rocket down the line from Colin Rooney in the third. In the fourth, he charged a soft tapper from Oliver Green and got him at first with a laser of a throw.

"Troy played second base for the Xaverian team which went to the Super 8. He wasn't sure if he could make the switch to third. I told him to relax. We'd work on it and he'd be fine. He is a special player,"said Maze.

The attack was deep and balanced. Seven of nine starters hit safely. All nine starters reached base. Seven different players scored and six different players drove in runs. Aaron Clancy had two hits and two RBI while Helfrich had two hits and scored a run.

Tyler Beach (another fine night at shortstop) and Joe Brady each had a single and scored twice. Adam MacCormack had a single, scored a run and added an RBI. Pat Keohane had a double and drove home a run, and Nick Valencenti had an RBI and a run scored. Eddie Riley walked, scored a run and added an RBI.

Morrisette scored seven in the second and two more in the third.

"I like our balance," said Maze. "We can hit, bunt, and put on a play from the top to the bottom of the order."

Houghs Neck Manets Practice Schedule Tuesday, Thursdays

The Houghs Neck Manets started OTAs (organized team activities) Tuesday at Brill field.

Manets franchise holders Bill and Keri Luggelle announce the upcoming practice schedule for all tackle, flag and cheerleading programs. The practice schedule is Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 5 to 7 p.m.

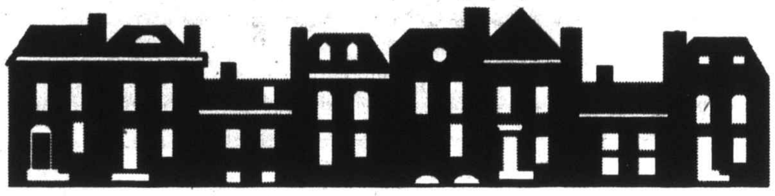
As the 2015 season approaches the Manets have a lot to be excited. The Freshman team is coming off a league championship and look to repeat with returning freshman coach Kevin Gomez leading the way. Coach Greg Santoro's Junior varsity team was undefeated last year. Defensive standouts Ryan McCarthy and Zachary Luggelle are two of the many returning starters. The flag team anticipates another great season with many returning players such as touchdown kid Michael "Mikey"Galligan.

The cheerleading team won the leagues best cheerleading award last year and are ready to defend there title.

The Manets varsity just 15 points away from winning the championship last year look for revenge by taking the title this year. Head Coach Mike Flavin says he can already feel the excitement from the kids this year and is expecting another successful season.

Some key returners are Quarterback Shane Murphy, Mike Cugini, Lukas Shaaf, Kevin Ferent, Jake Galligan, Derek Little and Isaiah Steinberg. Flavin in just his second year as Manets Head Coach complements Luggelle, Dana Pringle, John Fahey along with all the assistant coaches for the overall success of the entire organization.

Sign ups are still welcomed. Contact Bill Luggulle at 617-835-1681.



Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions July 6 - July 10

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
O'Leary Revocable Trust	Michael T. Lynn & April M. Donnellan	$355,000.00	165 Whitwell Street
Dianne Ring	Huang L. Kuang & Mu Z. Feng	$280,000.00	234 South Street
Michael S.Clarke	Kevin & Julie A. Noonan	$425,000.00	81 Wesson Avenue
Michael Nigro	Eileen & Sharon O'Malley	$215,000.00	50 Shennen Street
Kara G. Thorvaldsen	Deborah B. & Eric P. Hall	$430,000.00	272 Belmont Street
Prout Realty Trust & Tempo Realty Trust	Rachel Lau	$465,000.00	171-175 Granite Street
Peter J. & Anggelina V. Bernier	Chun S. Liu	$310,000.00	142 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 149
Baslie Chen	Marko & Ranko Stevanovic	$218,000.00	91 Washington Street Unit 28
Joseph W. Sweeney	Zihua Lin	$223,000.00	100 West Squantum Street Unit 109
Lillian R. Ryan & Austin G. Bynarowicz	Ghyath Alkhalil	$192,000.00	766 Willard Street Unit A1
Mon Lee	Lubna Khan	$161,000.00	6 Presidents Lane Unit 6-8
Brett G. Bell	Amit Parate & Meeral Patel	$422,000.00	504 Sea Street Unit 504
Kwan M. & Pui C. Cheung	Ming S. Li & Chui Y. J. Chan	$223,800.00	100 West Squantum Street Unit 106
Zhi Y. Q. Yu	Xin Q. Wu & Qun Li	$425,000.00	116 Greene Street
Patricia G. Williams & Laurie A Cater	Kennedy Rental Properties Investment Group 1 LLC	$334,100.00	35 A California Avenue
John G. & Mark S. Seamans	Robert C. & Lori A. Maynard	$325,000.00	26 Hughes Street
Patricia J. Kirby & Russell C. Chase	Wendy D. Che & Thomas Tran	$745,400.00	2 Saint Germain Street
John & Mary I. Hough	Arps A. & Vanessa B. Edouard	$410,000.00	29 Vershire Street
joshua & Kara K. Daghlian	John V. & Christian Lobue	$420,000.00	83 Upton Street
Martha B. Smith	Michael J. Haines	$432,000.00	102 Piermont Street
Kelly M. Brennan	Maung M. Myint & Khin New	$222,000.00	915 Hancock Street Unit HA-1
175-177 North Turo Street Nominee Trust	Anna M Siwczak	$365,000.00	12 Princess Eve Drive
John T. Butler Family Irrevocable Trust & Verna L. Butler Family Irrevocable Trust	David & Henry Yu	$291,000.00	77 Adams Street Unit 704
Robert E., Janet M., Michael J., & David A. Lorman	Keith Burke	$287,000.00	20 Gordon Street
James P. Campbell	Barry J. Walker	$399,500.00	77 Madison Avenue
Fannie Mae	Jin F. Zou	$185,000.00	74 Walnut Street
21 Border Street LLC	Kevin P. Mannix & Kara G. Thorvaldsen	$850,000.00	21 Border Street
Adamson Holdings LLC	Christopher & Erica Pittman	$425,000.00	27 Meadow Street
Karen J. Winstead	Mary Helen Walker & Michele M. Frost	$405,000.00	28 Middlesex Street

Register O'Donnell Sees Encouraging Trends In Real Estate Market

Citing continued growth in the total dollar volume of real estate sales and the robust gains in the mortgage market in the second quarter of 2015, Norfolk County Register of Deeds William O'Donnell expressed "cautious optimism" that the Norfolk County real estate market is exhibiting several encouraging signs.

"During the last quarter (April-June), the total number of deeds recorded rose a modest 4 percent to 4,745 compared to the same time period in 2014," O'Donnell said. "I am convinced this number would have even been bigger except for the lack of real estate inventory as buyers compete amongst themselves for a limited number of properties."

According to O'Donnell, the total dollar volume of residential and commercial real estate sales increased by 27 percent to $2.4 billion and the average sale price of property increased by 24 percent to $790,659 compared to the same quarter last year "These numbers clearly reflect, that despite the limited number of properties available, Norfolk County continues to be a desirable place to live and work," O'Donnell said.

Another significant trend was the continued turnaround in the mortgage market. O'Donnell cited the number of mortgages recorded 8,510, a substantial 30 percent increase from the second quarter of 2014. Total mortgage borrowing for the comparative period was $3.9 billion, a 45 percent increase.

"What these figures show," O'Donnell said, "is the continuing improvement in the real estate market and in consumer confidence in the mortgage markets. Such actions can only improve the overall economy."

One troubling statistic O'Donnell noted was the 69 foreclosure deeds filed in the County during the second quarter, a 77 percent increase from the same time period in 2014.

"This is a result of lending institutions working through a backlog of foreclosures, which were triggered by the housing crisis of 2008 and it's not just affecting Norfolk County, but all areas of Massachusetts," O'Donnell said. "Compounding this data was the modest increase in the number of notice to foreclose recordings, 149 in the second quarter, as compared to 138 during the same time period of last year. Notice to Foreclose Mortgage is the first step in the foreclosure process. These stats are a clear indicator that some of our neighbors are still struggling," O'Donnell added.

The Registry continues to partner with Quincy Community Action Programs at (617) 479-8181 x-376 and Neighbor Works Southern Mass at (508) 598-0950 to help anyone who has received a Notice of Foreclosure from a lender.

Another option for consumers is to call the Massachusetts Attorney General's HomeCorps program at (617) 573-5333.

One remaining positive development gleamed from the past quarter, the Register pointed out was a 7 percent increase in the number of Homesteads recorded. Homestead recording provides for limited protection against the forced sale of an individual's primary residence to satisfy unsecured debt up to $500,000.

"Overall, I continue to be cautiously optimistic about the Norfolk County real estate market. I am hopeful that we will see an uptick in inventory which will benefit home buyers, particularly first-timers looking to own a starter house or condominium. However, one note of caution is to watch what the Federal Reserve does with interest rates later this year," O'Donnell said.

Century 21
Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com

Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals

ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes

"STILL NUMBER ONE"

FLAVIN & FLAVIN REALTY

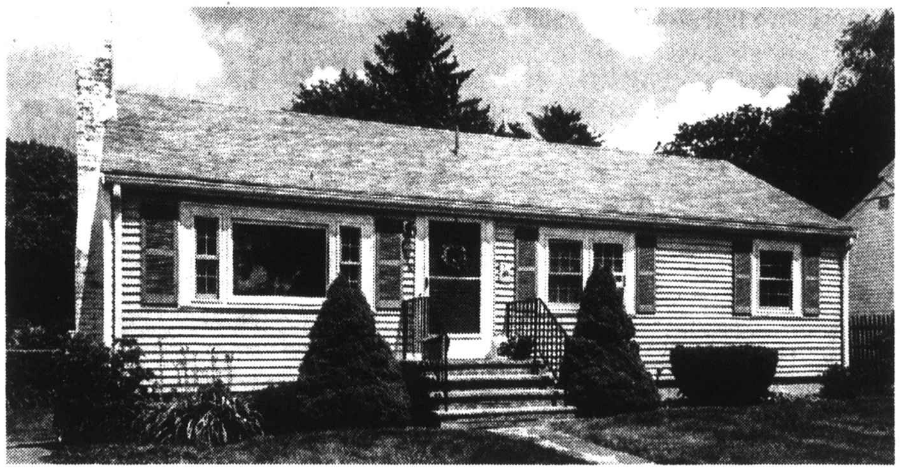
Complete Real Estate Service Since 1925

Free Opinion of Value
~
Committed to Property Ownership
~
Offering Seller & Buyer Representation

a century of connecting people with homes

Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St. Quincy Center
Visit www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

25 CELEBRATING 25 YEARS 1990 - 2015
SUCCESS!
REAL ESTATE



176 Lansdowne Street

Move in ready - one floor living in Squantum!

3 bedroom, 1 bath ranch style home
Updated kitchen and bath
Newer Gas heat and hot water
Fireplace and Hardwood floors
3 season bonus room
Nice, level lot and Marsh VIEWS!

Offered at $435,000

Deborah Riley
Realtor®
SUCCESS! Real Estate
968 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02170

Phone: (617) 773-7676
Cell Phone: (617) 447-3591
Fax: (888) 371-6027
Email: deborah.riley09@gmail.com

I will NEVER represent both parties in a real estate transaction

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
June 26 - July10
ARRESTS: 45
TOTAL CALLS: 1,307
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 4

FRIDAY, JUNE 26

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 1:34 a.m., Wall St. Truck windshield smashed. Caller was advised. Does not want a report because she believes the police are dirty and may be involved.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 12:01 p.m., Edwards St. Open door, storm broken glass on sidewalk. Not sure if anyone is in house. K2 reported tracked ended on Main St.

LARCENY, 1:35 p.m., Home Ice Sports Bar, 35 Washington St.

LARCENY, 2:11 p.m., Granite St. Caller states mother's home was burglarized. He believes it was a visiting nurse. Items they believe were taken include antique coins. Caller states this occurred last week.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 2:27 p.m., 1266 Furnace Brook Pkwy. Vehicle is being reported stolen at this time from the parking area of the Willard Building on June 26, Milton PD queried it several times on date reported. Vehicle is reported to have been towed to Auto Service & Tire in Mattapan. State Police Milton contacted to get information on arrest that involved vehicle being reported stolen.

SATURDAY, JUNE 27

ATTEMPTED LARCENY, 1:05 a.m., Cathay Pacific, 111 Hancock St. Detail assistance.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:04 a.m., Wilson Ct.

LARCENY, 11:27 a.m., Wendy's, 520 Southern Art. Car and house keys.

LARCENY, 1:35 p.m., 321 Quincy Shore Dr. Black male, 25-30 years old, cap white shirt, black short jeans, ran from store with a few items. Not sure what direction of flight. Trespassed from entering CVS but is allowed to use drive through to pickup prescriptions. Gray BMW, smaller model.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 1:51 p.m., Burgin Pkwy. Sister came to house June 24 at 10:45 p.m. banging on door for caller to come out of the apartment, Sister put hole in door while banging. Caller just wants it on record.

LARCENY, 2:08 p.m., Buckley St. Two planters stolen sometime last night. Caller is requesting frequent checks at his home around 2:30 a.m. He says people coming out of the 7-Eleven or in the neighboring area are stealing things from his yard and littering beer cans and bottles in his yard.

LARCENY, 4:33 p.m., Palmer St. Caller said her husband who lives elsewhere stole her fan a few years ago. Civil matter, advised. Fan returned.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:11 p.m., Taffrail Rd. Window.

SUNDAY, JUNE 28

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:07 a.m., Sachem St. Green storage box knocked over. Box put upright. Post office notified to re-secure box.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:41 p.m., Rhoda St. Caller was away and returned home to find house broken into and several items missing.

INDECENT EXPOSURE, 7:25 p.m., Mill St. White male, dark jacket, pants with red stripe. Party is masturbating. One under arrest for open and gross.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:53 p.m., 1400 block Hancock St. Throwing bottles at Quincy Fire. One under arrest. Male charged with malicious destruction of property.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:09 p.m., 64 Willard St. Caller said his car was keyed.

MONDAY, JUNE 29

LARCENY, 11:53 a.m., Falls Blvd.

TUESDAY, JUNE 30

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:25 a.m., Quincy Gas, 451 Quincy Ave. Front motion. Found padlock broken, possibly an attempted break.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:27 a.m., Water St. Common area of multi unit dwelling broken into overnight.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:49 a.m., Tedeschi, 650 Adams St. Tagging.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12:03 p.m., Clive St. Caller states unknown party scratched the side of his car and broke a glass table in front of his house.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:12 p.m., Pequot Rd. DPW ran over bike. Parties advised.

LARCENY, 3:26 p.m., Bank of America, 1400 Hancock St. iPhone 6.

THURSDAY, JULY 2

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:56 p.m., West St. Caller says tenant left and trashed the apartment. Advised. Civil matter with landlord tenant.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 4:47 p.m., Seawinds Condominium, 90 Quincy Shore Dr. Moped stolen from pool area.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 7:33 p.m., Moffat Rd. ATV.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:11 p.m., Rockview Rd. Caller hung up on State PD. Said he left his house 8:30 a.m. and just got home to find items missing. Caller called back, he had left at 7:30 p.m. All his meds missing.

FRIDAY, JULY 3

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:04 a.m., Half Door, 1514 Hancock St. Rocks were thrown through some of the front windows of the Half Door. Caller did not get a description of the individuals who threw the rocks. Report submitted after two person were identified as suspects but no proof.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 3:06 p.m., Newport Ave. Caller says he got in a fistfight with his upstairs neighbor. Second caller states someone has a hammer. No weapon president. Simple assault, officer to file report. Arrest for A&B and disorderly conduct.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:54 a.m., Beacon St. Caller not on scene states property manager saw someone trying to break in.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:08 p.m., 1 Dennis F. Ryan Pkwy. Window of car is smashed out.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 11:17 a.m., Hancock Parking Area, 50 Revere Rd. Caller states vehicle was stolen someone overnight from parking area near Fours Restaurant.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 12:50 p.m., 300 block Water St. White t-shirt, blue jeans, black pocketbook. Arrest made.

LARCENY, 3:05 p.m., Atlantic St. State PD will handle call.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 3:33 p.m., Pond St. Bumper.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 5:11 p.m., Washington St. Red four-door sedan. Caller sees two males trying to steal it. Caller is neighbor of car owner. Party is fixing the steering column; confirmed with owners.

LARCENY, 7:16 p.m., Presidential Pub, 29 Temple St. Caller states she has been threatened over the last few months, but phone was stolen from Presidential Pub about an hour ago. She says people follow her everyday. Caller believes her phone is in a South Street apartment and she knows party who took it. Caller gone on arrival.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 11:23 p.m., 300 block Water St. White male kicking door. Arrest made.

SATURDAY, JULY 4

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 12:14 a.m., 200 block Centre St. Knocked on front door; broke front door. Two white males, one tall in his early 30s with hoodie last seen heading south on Centre. Two in custody, ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 12:21 a.m., Charles St. Caller wants to speak with officer about past A&B. Caller advised. Did not want to pursue anything, was a mutual pushing match with unknown party.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:36 a.m., Three Guys Smoke Shop, 5 Copeland St. Glass, general motion, backup line going off as well. White male with a crew cut, white sneakers light hooded sweatshirt carrying a bag and a carton of cigarettes fled northward on Copeland. Blue hooded sweatshirt with white strings and black back with green squares on side. No suspect found in immediate area.

LARCENY, 10:22 a.m., Victory Ave. Two house guests from last night left with caller's debit card and $1,100 cash. Caller has suspect info. Complaints for larceny over.

LARCENY, 11:49 a.m., Bromfield St. Go carts. Green Ford Ranger. Homeowner called back, stated suspect returned and had taken stuff under impression it was trash. Person has since returned the goods.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 11:59 a.m., George Rd. Nurse at QMC said party was beat up and thrown down the stairs by a group of girls in the area of George Rd.

LARCENY, 3:09 p.m., Stop & Shop, 65 Newport Ave. One party under arrest for larceny over.

SUNDAY, JULY 5

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:54 a.m., Pine St. Officer Bossart witnessed three individuals run into the residence of 167 Norfolk St. at around 4:20 a.m. this morning. He was then flagged down by an individual on Pine Street at a later time. The individual explained to the officer that hew woke up in the middle of the night to a bearded man in his house carrying his laptop and a few other items. He chased him out of the house but did not call the police at that time. Officer Bossart was able to pull an owner registration on a vehicle parked outside Norfolk. He then showed that picture to the victim, who stated he believed that to be the man who was inside the home.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12:40 p.m., Wollaston Church of the Nazarene, 37 E. Elm Ave. Parked on East Elm. Window smashed and bumped damage. Rock thrown at passenger front window.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:30 p.m., Standish Rd. Caller claims her MV was keyed. Both doors on a blue Nissan.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 11:52 p.m., Greenleaf St. Owner believes his car was stolen. He believes he left it unlocked. Operating by a white male, blond hair, possibly wearing tank top.

MONDAY, JULY 6

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:44 a.m., Union St. Caller came back from NY to find has B&E occurred while he was away. Happened a couple days ago. Gained access through rear window. Several items missing.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:35 a.m., Prestige, 9 Franklin St. Caller came into work today and found the Coke vending machine flipped over.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:59 a.m., Lapels Dry Cleaning, 1211 Hancock St. Closed at 7 p.m. Friday. Came in this morning to discover all the money from the cash drawer was gone.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:42 a.m., Mondis Pizza, 33 Cottage Ave. Closed at 10 p.m. Friday. Came in this morning and saw some items were taken as well as money in the register.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 2:24 p.m., Merrymount Rd. Caller stated over the weekend individuals who did not have permission to enter the home did so and may have taken some items from inside. The homeowner is currently under hospital care with dementia. Caller lives in Newburyport and is in the midst of going through the court system to legally ban those individuals from entering the premises. Civil matter to be settled by the caller.

LARCENY, 4:32 p.m., Elmwood Ave.

TUESDAY, JULY 7

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 11:42 a.m., Dunns Hill Rd. Caller states wallet was possibly stolen from residence sometime overnight.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12;25 p.m., Presidential Dr. Gray Ford Focus. Has suspect info.

LARCENY, 2:36 p.m., Walnut St. Broken window. Caller states this has happened multiple times. Possible suspect info.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:16 a.m., Euclid Ave. Front and backdoor keyed on driver's side. Happened overnight July 7.

LARCENY, 12:25 p.m., Home Depot, 177 Willard St. Wallet.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:37 p.m., Highpoint Cir. Driver's side panel was smashed sometime on Sunday.

THURSDAY, JULY 9

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:06 a.m., Fore River Clubhouse, 16 Nevada Rd.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, Cleverly Ct. Caller said her friend spotted vehicle near Ashmont Station. Boston PD notified. Owner located car at Edwin St. in Boston.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, Louis Anthony Salon, 229 Parkingway. Outside of dual thick window smashed.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:59 p.m., Wall St. Broken window. Suspect in black Allen #34 jersey went to Bernie's.

LARCENY, 4:23 p.m., Wendy's, 520 Southern Art. Had six prescriptions stolen from her bag at Wendy's while she was there with her friends. Happened sometime yesterday.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:01 p.m., Presidents Ln. Came home to find door open and basement window broken.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:56 p.m., West St. Garage was broken into and two bikes were stolen.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 100 block of Washington Street, Revere Road, Greenleaf Street, Cleverly Court.

❑

CAR BREAKS: 145 Willard Street, 575 Sea Street, Spence Avenue, Elm Street, Newbury Street.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Beacon Street, 300 block of Water Street, low numbers of Copeland Street, Pine Street, Union Street, 1211 Hancock Street, Cottage Avenue, Merrymount Road, Dunn's Hill Road, President's Lane, West Street.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us -- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

RELIGION

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, July 19, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have a Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "What Kind of Church Are We?" Fellowship with light refreshments will follow.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

The church office is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 - 3 p.m. Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Service is broadcast on QATV at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Quincy Point Congregational

Sunday worship is at 10 a.m. at Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

The summer sermon series, "Unlikely Prospects," will continue this week.

After worship, there will be light refreshments in Social Hall. Sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

The One Room Summer Sunday School has begun. If your child wishes to attend please sign he or she in prior to worship in the children's classroom on the bottom floor adjacent to the elevator. Class takes place every summer Sunday during 10 a.m. worship until Rally Day, Sept. 13th. The children will have fun learning from the 2015 Grow, Proclaim, Serve curriculum specifically formatted for one room environment.

The legacy brick campaign is open one last time for those people or businesses who would still like to add a brick to QPCC's, "Circle of Gratitude" park located on the Abbey Rd. side of the church. Remember a loved one, honor a veteran, publicize a local business or leave words of wisdom to future generations.

Bricks are $75 a piece and the deadline is Aug. 15. Order forms and details available on the Quincy Point Cong. Facebook and Twitter pages or call the church office@ 617-773-6424. Come sit down and enjoy the peaceful respite.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service of worship at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave., starts at 10 a.m.

This week Deacon Ralph Jacobs will lead the service and preach the sermon "Sing to the Lord a New Song."

Liturgist Rob Rheault will call to worship and read the scripture lesson. Helen Miller and Rob Rheault will serve for the Diaconate.

Following the service a fellowship coffee hour is hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs. All are invited to attend.

Plans are being made for the annual church fair to be held on Nov. 6 and 7.

OBITUARY

Mary T. DiFazio, 95

A memorial funeral Mass for Mary Theresa "Terry" (Magaldi) DiFazio, age 95, of Quincy, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in Saint Joseph's Church, 550 Washington St., Quincy.

Mrs. DiFazio died peacefully July 3.

She was the beloved wife of the late Antonio DiFazio, devoted mother of Donald V. DiFazio and his wife Susan of Weymouth, Anthony J. DiFazio and his wife Pamela of Garland, Texas, Robert P. DiFazio and his wife Margaret of East Bridgewater and Paul K. DiFazio of Quincy, cherished grandmother of 11, great-grandmother of 10, and great great-grandmother of 1.

One of nine siblings raised in South Boston, she is survived by her sister Louise MacCormick of Milton and sister-in-law Barbara Magaldi of South Boston.

MARY T. DIFAZIO

A homemaker, Mrs. DiFazio was well known for her cooking, cake decorating, sewing, and knitting talents. She enjoyed square dancing, playing the piano and traveling.

Following the funeral Mass, interment will be at Blue Hill Cemetery in Braintree.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Fenno House, 540 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02170 or the Pat Roche Hospice Home, 86 Turkey Hill Rd., Hingham, MA 02043.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On July 31, 1916, future racing legend Louise Smith is born in Barnesville, Georgia. In the mid-1940s, racing promoter Bill France was looking for a female driver as a way to attract spectators and recruited Smith, who was famous for outrunning law enforcement on the local roads.

• On Aug. 2, 1923, President Warren G. Harding dies of a stroke. Harding, 58, was returning from a presidential tour, a journey some believed he had embarked on to escape corruption rumors circulating in Washington.

• On July 30, 1945, the USS Indianapolis is torpedoed by a Japanese submarine in the Pacific and sinks within minutes in shark-infested waters. Of the 1,196 men on board, an estimated 900 made it into the water and just 317 survived to be rescued four days later.

• On July 29, 1958, Congress passes legislation establishing the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. NASA was created in response to the Soviet Union's launch of the first satellite, Sputnik I.

• On Aug. 1, 1961, the amusement park Six Flags Over Texas opens. The park was the first to feature a log flume and a 360-degree looping roller coaster. A day at Six Flags cost $2.75 for an adult.

• On July 28, 1978, "National Lampoon's Animal House," a movie spoof about 1960s college fraternities, starring John Belushi, opens in U.S. theaters. "Animal House" became a box-office hit and part of pop-culture history.

• On July 27, 1981, Adam John Walsh, age 6, is abducted from a mall in Hollywood, Florida, and later found murdered. In the aftermath of the crime, Adam's father, John Walsh, became a leading victims-rights activist and host of the long-running TV show "America's Most Wanted."

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Quincy Religion Directory
SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 10:30AM, 12 NOON and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Deacon Ralph Jacobs will preach n
"Sing To The Lord a New Song"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship Service at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach a sermon entitled "What Kind of Church Are We?"
Child Care Available For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service

PEACE

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617) 479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St. • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.
SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chostain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

Harry A. Marini

HARRY A. MARINI

A funeral Mass for Harry A. Marini, Lieutenant, Quincy Fire Department, Retired, age 90, a lifelong Quincy resident, was celebrated Wednesday in Saint John the Baptist Church, Quincy Center.

Mr. Marini died peacefully July 9 at the Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital – Milton, surrounded by his loving family.

He was born, raised and educated in Quincy and graduated from Quincy High School, Class of 1944.

Mr. Marini was a Lieutenant in the Quincy Fire Department with 34 years of honorable service. He worked in various stations throughout the city and retired in September of 1982.

He served in the United States Army during World War II. He participated in the Battle of the Bulge and received numerous medals including the European African Middle Eastern Theater Campaign Ribbon with three battle stars.

He was a member of the Cyril P. Morrisette American Legion Post #294 in Quincy and the Tri-County Beagle Club of Mansfield. Harry loved the outdoors and beagles. He enjoyed carving ducks and hunting. Harry was also an avid Red Sox fan.

Mr. Marini was devoted to his family, and was especially known to his grandchildren for his warmth and kindness.

Beloved wife for sixty-seven years of Dorothy F. (Dowd) Marini.

Devoted father of Kathleen A. Morganella and her husband Joseph of Weymouth, Gail M. Haskell and her husband Kenneth of Weymouth and Paul L. Marini and his longtime friend Nella Townsend of Quincy.

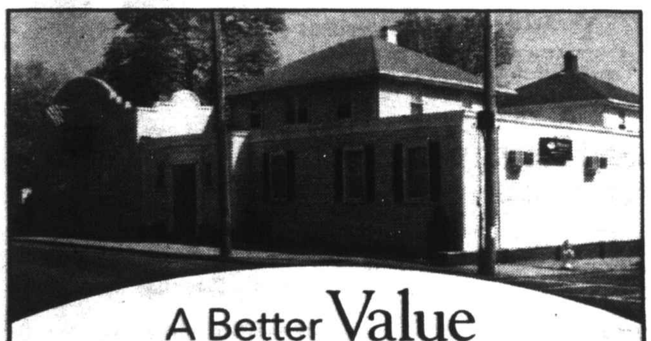
Loving grandfather of Joseph Morganella and his wife Sarah, Scott Morganella and his wife Stephanie and Nicole Delany and her husband Michael, Kenneth Haskell, Jr. and Geoffrey Haskell and Matthew Marini. Loving great-grandfather of Max Morganella.

Dear brother of the late Louise McIntyre.

Interment with military honors at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Jimmy Fund, Memorial Contributions, P.O. Box 849168, Boston, MA 02284.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, visitation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationary package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).
A Service Family Affiliate of AFFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720. (508) 676-2454.

Charles D. 'Charlie' Jaehnig, Sr.

CHARLES D. JAEHNIG, SR.

A funeral Mass for Charles D. "Charlie" Jaehnig, Sr. of Quincy was celebrated Monday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Jaehnig died July 7.

His life centered around his loving family, his deep faith, and strong sense of community. He and his beloved wife Joan raised seven active boys in a community they loved. He cherished the vacation time spent at Newfound Lake, NH; a 50-year tradition. He had been a longtime organizer of the activities that everyone enjoyed at camp; including baseball, softball, mountain climbing, and of course the song sheets for the campfire.

A 50 year parishioner at St. Joseph's Church, Mr. Jaehnig was a member of the Holy Name Society, a Eucharistic Minister, and longtime Usher. He faithfully attended Mass right up until the end of his life.

He coached his sons and hundreds of other Quincy boys in baseball and basketball. He coached baseball in Quincy for over 30 years, including time with the Koch Club, Keohane's, and Jaehnig Chiropractic of the Quincy Youth Baseball League, and Quincy Legion Post 95. He coached St. Joseph's Basketball teams for many years.

Mr. Jaehnig was a charter member of the Jiggstone Adventure Club and Kenyan Running Club.

He and his wife Joan have attended countless sporting events for their children and grandchildren, something they have enjoyed their entire lives. He also got great pleasure in working in his flower and vegetable garden.

Mr. Jaehnig was a Veteran of the U.S. Army during the Korean Conflict. He retired from Boston Edison as a Watch Electrician in 1993, after 40 years of dedicated work.

He will be remembered for his easy-going manner, friendly face, hard-working example, and strong faith.

Beloved husband of Joan (Conlan) Jaehnig of Quincy. Loving father of Mark C. and his wife Christine of Quincy, Stephen F. of Hull, Michael G. and his wife Elizabeth of Braintree, James E. and his wife Patti-Ann of Quincy, Charles D., Jr. and his wife Andrée of Quincy, Dan J. and his wife Jane of Quincy, and the late William D. Jaehnig. Brother of Rita Pistone of FL, Arthur of Weymouth, and Paul of Boxboro, Cherished "Grampa" to Patrick, David, Matthew, Andrew, Jennifer, Ryan, Samantha, Robert, Jillian, Thomas, Christopher, Emma, and Caroline. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Joseph's Church, 556 Washington St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Kenneth J. Gurney, 74

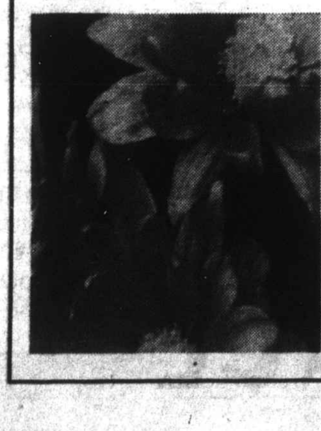
Kenneth J. Gurney, 74, of Quincy died July 5.

A Vietnam veteran, U.S. Navy, he was a lifelong Quincy resident and worked at the Fore River Shipyard before retiring.

The beloved husband of Nancy E. (Gorry) Gurney, Ken was the loving father of Lynn Gurney of Mansfield and Kenneth Gurney, Jr. and his wife Christine of Weymouth, and dear grandfather of Alexis and Victoria.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the VNA Hospice 100 Trade Center, Woburn, MA 01801. www.vnahospicecare.org



Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

clifford.com
1.800.441.8884

Donald E. McCusker

DONALD E. McCUSKER

A funeral Mass for Donald E. "Don" McCusker of Quincy was celebrated July 11 in Sacred Heart Church, North Quincy.

Mr. McCusker died July 6.

He was born and raised in Quincy and was very proud of his roots. He continued to reside in Quincy where he and his wife Sally brought up their family.

Mr. McCusker was a graduate of BC High, Boston College and Northeastern University where he received degrees in finance and engineering. A United States Army Veteran, he proudly served his country during the Korean War.

Mr. McCusker worked at General Dynamics for over 33 years. He was instrumental in the early years of the Koch Club in West Quincy.

He was a faithful parishioner of St. Agatha's in Milton and Sacred Heart in North Quincy.

Mr. McCusker will be remembered for his work ethic and his loving sense of humor. His main passion was his family and spending time with those he loved. He will be sadly missed.

Beloved husband of Sally McCusker (Dolan) of Quincy. Loving father of Lt. Col. James McCusker, USMC, (Ret.) and his wife Jacqui of CA, Brian McCusker and his wife Michelle of Braintree, Thomas McCusker and his wife Eileen of Sandwich, Matthew McCusker and his wife Carol of Hanover and the late Michael McCusker. Father-In-Law of Barbara McCusker of Weymouth.

Devoted Grampy of Sean, Sherri, Brendan, Chris, Steve, Corey, Ashley, Tim, Andy, Haley, Sara, and the late Katelyn, as well as seven great grandchildren. Caring brother of Lorraine Meighan of MD and the late Peggy Mullen. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Wounded Warrior Project, P.O. Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

Elizabeth A. O'Donnell

ELIZABETH A. O'DONNELL

A funeral Mass for Elizabeth A. "Betty" (Callow) O'Donnell, of Quincy, was celebrated Tuesday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. O'Donnell died peacefully at home surrounded by her family on July 8.

She grew up in Mattapan and graduated from Hyde Park High School. She was a homemaker for many years before her career with John Hancock Insurance where she worked for over 20 years.

Mrs. O'Donnell was an avid reader and enjoyed trips to Foxwoods. The foundation of her life was her family, they were all that was truly important to her. She will be sadly missed.

Beloved wife of the late Richard F. O'Donnell. Loving mother of Robyn E. O'Donnell of Quincy, Shannon M. Banks and her husband Thomas of Milford, Janice M. Knight and her husband Scott of Santa Monica, CA, Joyce A. O'Donnell and her husband Michael of Quincy, John M. O'Donnell (QPD) of Quincy and the late Richard F. O'Donnell, Jr.. Mother-in-Law of Bernadine O'Donnell of Milton. Devoted Grandma of Kayleigh, Jacquelyn and Lindsey Banks, Elizabeth and PFC Michael O'Donnell (U.S Army), Katie and Brendan O'Donnell and April and Leo Knight. Sister of Janet O'Connor of NY and the late Edward, Clara, Dorothy and Jean. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and cousins.

Burial was in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Boston.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Mary A. McNally, 89

MARY A. MCNALLY

A funeral Mass for Mary A. (Garvey) McNally of Quincy, 89, of Quincy will be celebrated tomorrow (Friday) at 10 a.m. in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. McNally died July 10.

Beloved wife of the late Peter "Chris" McNally. Loving mother of Peter R. McNally and his wife Ellen. Cherished grandmother to Mary and Teresa McNally of Quincy. Devoted sister of Agnes Ryan of London, Bridget McCaffrey of London, Margaret Martin of Ireland, Teresa Sitch of London, Anthony Garvey of Ireland and the late Thomas and John Garvey. Sister-in-law of Tony McNally and his wife Mary of North Quincy. Sister-in-law of the late Maura Gavigan and her late husband Mike. Longtime dear friend of Kathleen Flynn of Milton. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Mrs. McNally was born in Cloncowley, Drumlish, County Longford, Ireland, and lived in London before immigrating to the United States in 1973 with her husband Chris and son Peter. She had a strong work ethic working as a nursing assistant at both Presidential Nursing Home and Quincy Visiting Nurses.

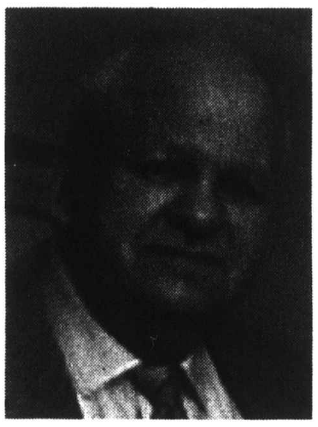
She was a longtime parishioner of St. Ann's Parish and was devoted to her Catholic faith. Mrs. McNally was a fiercely independent woman who enjoyed traveling and walks on the beach. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known her.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) at Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy. A celebration of life service will be held at 9:15 a.m. tomorrow in the funeral home, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Alzheimer's Assn., MA Chapter at alz.org/manh or St. Ann Parish, 757 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02170.

John E. Schmock, 85



JOHN E. SCHMOCK

A memorial funeral Mass for John E. "Jack" Schmock, 85, of Quincy will be celebrated at 10 a.m. on July 20 at St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Schmock died peacefully July 11 at his home.

He was born, raised and educated in Ludington, Michigan. Mr. Schmock lived in Quincy for the last 65 years. He was a communications sergeant in the military intelligence service.

Mr. Schmock began his career working as an electrical engineer for the former S. H. Couch Company, Inc. where he designed fire alarms. He then worked for the city of Quincy, first as the director of civil defense for 12 years and then as the superintendent of fire alarms for 22 years. Upon retirement, he became the owner and operator of the former Jack's Guns and Ammo in Quincy.

Beloved husband of the late Carolyn A. (Loeffler) Schmock. Devoted father of Darlene M. Best of Centerville, Daniel J. Schmock of Quincy and Gary R. Schmock of Hull. Loving grandfather of James M. Anderson of Quincy and Darisa M. St. Germain of Foxborough. Also survived by several other grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Dear brother of the late Robert and Richard Schmock. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and extended family.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

More Obituaries On Page 21
and Online at www.thequincysun.com

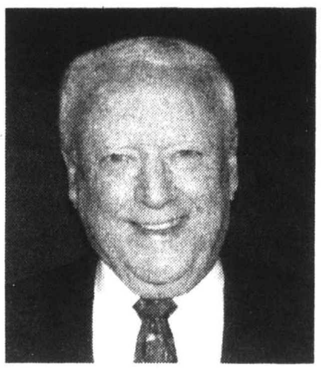
Francis M. Cleary, 78



FRANCIS M. CLEARY

A funeral Mass for Francis M. "Frank" Cleary, 78, of Quincy will be celebrated tomorrow (Friday) at 11:30 a.m. in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Cleary died suddenly July 11.

His life was centered around his loving family and his devotion to his faith and dedicated work. He faithfully attended daily Mass up until the end of his life. At Blessed Mother Teresa, Dorchester, Mr. Cleary coordinated the monthly group for the Pine Street Inn Meal Service. He also served as a volunteer on Thanksgiving and Christmas at the Pine Street Inn for 36 years, making his family very proud and happily awaiting his arrival home to have him carve up the turkey.

Mr. Cleary grew up in Savin Hill and had received the Dorchester Hall of Fame Award in 2009 for someone who had moved out of the area but continued to do much for the community. He had retired on his 78th birthday this past May 29, working more than 49 years in the dental industry. His last 18 years were spent working for Patterson Dental with a firm commitment to his clients, always available. He said the word 'retirement' was not in his dictionary and therefore was intent on working in real estate.

Mr. Cleary was a constable in Quincy for 22 years. He loved traveling with his wife, going off for a day to a favorite spot and still getting her back in time for the 4 p.m. Mass at St. Ann's. He loved their trips to San Francisco, Lake George and Rochester, N.Y. Mr. Cleary was a veteran who served in the Marine Reserves and then moved to the Navy to go off on an adventure over the seas. He truly loved his country, God, and family and will be sadly missed by the friends he always managed to keep in touch with.

Beloved husband of Margaret (Doran) (Peggy) Cleary of Quincy. Loving father of their children and spouses: Debra and Wayne Cromp of Weymouth, Brian and Marina Ostrov Cleary of Dorchester and Susan and Brendon Anderson of Pembroke. Fun-loving and cherished Grampy to Martin, Sarah, Daniel, Jack, Erik and Julien. Son of the late Martin and Bridget (Rabbitt) Cleary of Ireland and Savin Hill. Brother to Elizabeth Gelly of East Falmouth, Martin and Joan Cleary of Marshfield, Evelyn Gallagher of Weymouth and Richard and MaryAnn Cleary of Plainville. Brother-in-law to George and Jean Doran of Quincy and Mary McLaughlin of Raynham. Also survived by many cousins, nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy. A celebration of life service will be held at the funeral home at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, prior to the Mass.

Interment at St. Mary's Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Pine St. Inn at pinestreetinn.org or the Quincy Animal Shelter.

Giovanna Rossicone, 87

GIOVANNA ROSSICONE

A funeral Mass for Giovanna (Paletta) Rossicone, 87, of Quincy and formerly East Boston was celebrated Tuesday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Rossicone died July 9 at Hancock Park Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Quincy.

Born in Scanno, Italy, on Feb. 27, 1928, she was the loving daughter of the late Francesco and Ubalda (Mancini) Paletta. Mrs. Rossicone was a loving and devoted homemaker. She cherished her family, cooking for them and treasured time with them at Sunday dinners.

Beloved wife of Secondino Rossicone for 60 years. Mrs. Rossicone was the loving mother of Carmelo Rossicone and his wife Angela and Marisa Ranalli and her husband Massimo, all of Braintree. She was the cherished grandmother of Cynthia, Roberto, Tanya and Adriana.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to OSIA Charitable and Educational Trust (earmarked "Alzheimer's"-Rossicone) 93 Concord Ave., Belmont, MA 02478.

Frances R. Penella

FRANCES R. PENELLA

A funeral Mass for Frances R. (Buonvicino) Penella, a longtime Quincy resident, was celebrated July 10 in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Penella died peacefully July 3.

She loved to travel. She also enjoyed line dancing, playing Bingo, knitting and crocheting. A talented cook, she always loved preparing meals for her family to enjoy.

Mrs. Penella will be remembered as a devoted wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother who cherished her family, they were the foundation of everything that was truly important to her.

She will be sadly missed by everyone who knew her.

The beloved wife of the late Domenic Penella. Loving mother of Robert Penella and his wife Sara of Hartsdale, NY, Vincent Penella and his wife Sally of Pepperell, Frank Penella of Weymouth and Steven Penella and his partner David D'Amato of Jamaica Plain. Sister of the late Rocco Buonvicino and Charles Verno. Cherished grandmother of Nicholas and Nicole Penella, Luke and Melanie Penella and Martha and Stephen Busemeyer. Great grandmother of Thomas and Julia Busemeyer and Ryder Rotaru Penella. She is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

William R. 'Bob' Brubaker, 88

A memorial gathering for William R. "Bob" Brubaker, 88, of Rockland, formerly of Quincy, will be held Saturday, July 18 at 10 a.m. in the Ross Ballroom at Granite Links, 100 Quarry Hills Dr., Quincy.

Mr. Brubaker died July 4.

He was the devoted husband of more than 54 years to MaryAnn (Suk) Brubaker who died in 2007.

Born and raised in Whittier CA, Mr. Brubaker served his country in the US Navy and US Air Force and was a veteran of both WWII and Korea. Following his military service, he and his young bride moved to Massachusetts, settling in Wollaston, where he began work as a talented Mechanical Drawer and Draftsman of highly technical manufacturing processes and subject matter. He was employed for many years with Baker Bros. of Stoughton.

Mr. Brubaker enjoyed reading, fishing and Western movies, but his happiest times were those spent in the company of his loving family.

He was the loving father of Sandra McLeish and her husband Andrew of Centerville, VA, Michael Brubaker and his wife Paula of Weymouth, and Nancy Owen and her husband Donald of Norfolk.

Cherished grandfather of Erik and Joshua McLeish, Nicole, Caitlin and Amanda Brubaker and Catherine, Michael and Christopher Owen. He is also survived by Sisters-in-Law Justine Notarangelo and Geraldine Carroll both of Rockland, and Jacqueline Vandermolen of Hanson.

Burial with military honors was held privately at the Massachusetts National Cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Hamel, Wickens and Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Robert H. Wilson, Jr., 67

A funeral Mass for Robert H. Wilson, Jr., 67, of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) at Sacred Heart Church, Weymouth.

Mr. Wilson died July 10 at Quincy Medical Center.

Born in Quincy on June 8, 1948, he was the loving son of the late Robert H. and Gertrude (McCluskey) Wilson. Mr. Wilson was a graduate of Quincy High School and Quincy Junior College. He served in the United States Marines during the Vietnam War. He worked for the U.S. Post Office in East Milton for many years.

Former husband of Linda (Ciraolo) Wilson. Mr. Wilson was the loving father of Robert H. Wilson III and his fiancée Brenda Noel, Michael Wilson and his wife Erin and Kevin Wilson. He was the cherished grandfather of Michael, Maeve, Ronan, Noel and the dear brother of Judy Pino and the late Janet and Kathy Wilson.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Private interment.

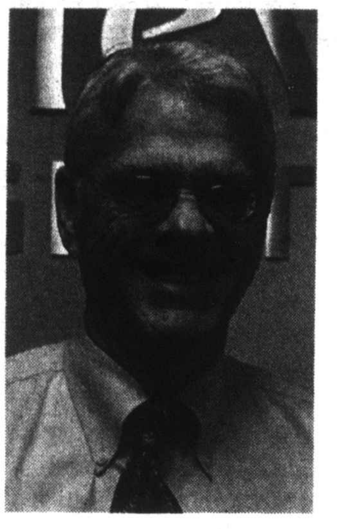
Memorial donations may be made to Prayers For Charlotte, 33 Partridge Hill Rd., Braintree, MA 02184.

Protect Your Kids From The Four Most Common Pool Dangers

By DR. JACK CORNWELL

There is nothing like swimming in a pool on a hot summer day. From the moment you enter the pool to the second you towel off, the relief you get from swimming can get you through the hottest of summer days.

However whether you swim in an in-ground or above-ground pool, you need to keep an eye on your kids, or they might have to deal with one of the many common pool injuries that ruin summer fun for thousands of children every year. Let's take a look at some of the most common injuries and how they can be avoided.



DR. JACK CORNWELL

DIVING

Parents always tell their kids not to dive headfirst into the water. While this eliminates the possibility of severe spinal injury, jumping into the shallow part of a pool feet first, is no less dangerous. If the water level in your pool is low, your kids are at a greater risk for twisting or spraining their ankles, knees, wrists and elbows. While these injuries are far from life threatening, the swelling and stiffness from a sprained joint can be very painful. The lower the water level in your pool, the greater risk of injury, so be sure to keep an eye on the amount of water in your pool and keep it full.

SLIPPING and FALLING

Make sure there is no running around the pool. This is the first and most common pool lesson we learn. And it is critical for preventing injuries. Wet surfaces, especially the tiled areas commonly found around a pool, can be exceptionally slick, making it easy for your kids to slip and fall. While scrapes and bruises can easily result from these falls, there is also the potential that your child could slip and fall into the pool.

These types of injuries are incredibly common around inground pools with plenty of surface area especially if you don't have a good filtration system to refilter standing water back into the pool. While you might be worried about scrapes and bruises from the fall, hitting the ground hard can cause injuries that, if your children fall into the water, make it very difficult for them to get out on their own. That's why parents should constantly remind their kids that they should walk and not run at the pool.

IRRITATION FROM TOO MUCH CLEANER

Chlorine and other disinfectants are essential to keep your pool safe from waterborn bacteria, but if you're not careful about mixing chemicals in the right balances, you could create a caustic pool of water that can irritate swimmers' eyes, ears, airways and skin.

Usually, you can notice the acrid smell of a pool overloaded with too much cleaner, but if swimmers start to complain about stinging in their eyes and throat or a rash develops, get them out of the pool immediately and visit a local urgent care center. The best way to make sure this doesn't happen is to test your pool's PH level and make sure it is chemically balanced.

SWIMMER'S EAR

Swimmer's ear is one of the most common summertime illnesses and swimming pools are often to blame. While swimming should be a good time for everyone, you should still know how swimmer's ear can temporarily ruin the fun.

The ear is designed to funnel water out of the outer ear canal, but when too much water rushes in at once, it creates a pressure imbalance and pockets of water can become trapped inside. Bacteria loves warm and wet environments, so if you were swimming in a pool that's not treated regularly, you may have created the perfect breeding ground for germs to grow inside your ear canal.

Though this may sound serious, swimmer's ear is most often cleared up with some drying ear drops that you can get from any urgent care center.

The good news is that for the most part, these injuries can be prevented and easily treated, either on your own or with the help of your doctor or local urgent care center. At the end of the day, paying close attention to your child around the pool is critical to having an injury free summer.

Dr. Jack Cornwell is the Medical Director of Care-Well Urgent Care.

Openings In Rock Climbing, Sports And More Clinics

The Quincy Recreation Department announces limited openings exist in two of its summer workshops that will be conducted during the week of July 20.

The Rock Climbing Clinic has openings in the mid-day session which is held form 11:15 a.m. to 1:45 p.m. and the afternoon session which is held from 2 to 4:30 p.m. The clinic will be held on Monday, July 20th, Tuesday, July 21st, and Wednesday, July 22nd at the Quarry Hills Recreation Area, Granite Rail Quarry on Ricciuti Drive in West Quincy.

Rock climbing clinic is open to boys and entering Grades 5 through 9. Cost is $90 and includes a t-shirt for each participant.

Top roping is a unique and challenging experience. Students will climb and rappel with confidence as certified guides safely belay them. All equipment is provided.

This is not a climbing wall. Students will climb and rappel to heights of 70 feet, learn a variety of knots and set up anchors under the S-E-R-E-N-E principle.

The Sports & More Clinic #2 will be held at the Quincy Recreation Department, located at One Merrymount Parkway. The clinic provides a week of traditional activities under supervision that will include group games and organized play like capture the flag, dodge ball, scavenger hunts, board games, arts and crafts, sports and more.

This recreational experience will be planned and informal; spontaneous, and organized with plenty of fun. The clinic is open to boys and girls entering grades 3 through 9, and will run from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. from July 20th to July 24th.

Cost is $85 and includes a t-shirt for each participant.

Enrollment is limited. Registration can be done online at QuincyRec.com or in person at the Quincy Recreation Department, located at One Merrymount Parkway. For more information call 617-376-1394.

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS
BY PUBLICATION
AND MAILING
Docket No. NO14D1618DR
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Paul Matovu vs.
Jeneva Barnes

To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for irretrievable breakdown. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon: Paul Matovu, 112 Greenleaf Street, Quincy, MA 02169 your answer, if any, on or before 09/17/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 1, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/16/15

LEGAL NOTICE

ALL POLICE ORDERED OR ACCIDENT TOWS
(Sale of Motor Vehicle under G.L. c. 255, Section 39A)
Notice is hereby given by: Schlager Auto Body, 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA
pursuant to the provisions of G.L. c.255, Section 39A, that on August 1, 2015 at 9:00A.M. at 299 Centre St., Quincy Public Sale
the following Motor Vehicle will be sold to satisfy the garage-keeper's lien thereon for storage, towing charges, care and expenses of notices and sale of said vehicle.
Description of Vehicle: 1FMZU74K94VA5634 Ford Explorer 2003 MASS
Name and address of owner of vehicle: Diniz Lobo Depina, 98 George St., Roxbury, MA.
By: James Schlager
This notice has been given under the provisions of G.L. c.255, Section 39A
7/16, 7/23, 7/30/15

PUBLIC NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE
City of Quincy
IN COUNCIL

The purpose of the City of Quincy's Stormwater Management Regulations is to assist applicants when applying for Quincy's Stormwater Management Permit. The regulations provide an overview of permit procedures including; filing procedures, application and engineering review fees and surety requirements, and actions that the Department of Public Works may take on an application. The regulations describe stormwater management permit technical standards and submission requirements which include an erosion and sediment control plan, stormwater management plan (e.g. engineered stormwater control drawings and calculations) and a long term operations and maintenance plan. The regulations also describe inspection requirements of the applicant/owner and the City both during and after construction and items required in order to obtain a Certificate of Completion. The regulations also further define Surety requirements and provide an overview of the concept of Low Impact Development for voluntary consideration by applicants.

In accordance with Chapter 43 Section 23 this proposed ordinance change is over eight (8) pages and copies may be obtained in the City Clerk's Office Monday thru Friday 8:30 AM – 4:30 PM.

Joseph P. Shea
Clerk of the Council

7/16/15

Please
Recycle
♻
This Paper

Half A Century Of Help With Medicare

By KRISTEN ALBERINO

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist

On July 30, 1965, President Lyndon B. Johnson signed Medicare into law with these words: "No longer will older Americans be denied the healing miracle of modern medicine. No longer will illness crush and destroy the savings that they have so carefully put away over a lifetime."

Social Security Online Services
★ Convenient ★ Secure ★
www.socialsecurity.gov

For 50 years, the Medicare program has provided essential health care services for millions of people who are age 65 or older, disabled, or have debilitating diseases. Without Medicare, many people would not be able to pay for hospital care, doctor's visits, medical tests, preventive services, or prescription drugs.

Your Medicare card is the most important piece of identification you own as a Medicare beneficiary since medical providers will request it when you seek their services. If you need to replace a lost, stolen, or damaged Medicare card, you can do it online with a my Social Security account at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount. Requesting a replacement card through my Social Security is safe, convenient, and easy. Going online saves you a trip to your local Social Security office or unproductive time on the phone. Request your replacement Medicare card the easy and convenient way — online — and you'll get it in the same amount of time as you would if you applied in an office or over the phone — in about 30 days.

Fifty years ago, Medicare didn't have as many options as it does today. As the largest public health program in the United States, Medicare includes four parts to keep you covered:

Part A is insurance that covers inpatient hospital stays, outpatient care in nursing facilities, hospice, and home health care.

Part B includes medical insurance for doctor's services, medical supplies, outpatient care, and preventive services.

Part C is a Medicare advantage plan that allows you to choose your health care coverage through a provider organization. You must have Part A and Part B to enroll in Part C. This plan usually includes Medicare prescription drug coverage and may include extra benefits and services at an additional cost.

Part D is prescription drug coverage. There is a separate monthly premium for this plan; however, people with low resources and income may qualify for the Extra Help with Medicare prescription drug costs from Social Security. Visit www.socialsecurity.gov/prescriptionhelp to see if you qualify.

A recent survey to Medicare beneficiaries asked: Why do you love Medicare? One person stated, "It gives peace of mind not only for seniors, but for veterans and disabled as well." Another satisfied recipient replied, "I most likely wouldn't be alive today without Medicare." These are just two of the millions who endorse Medicare's half-century strong success story.

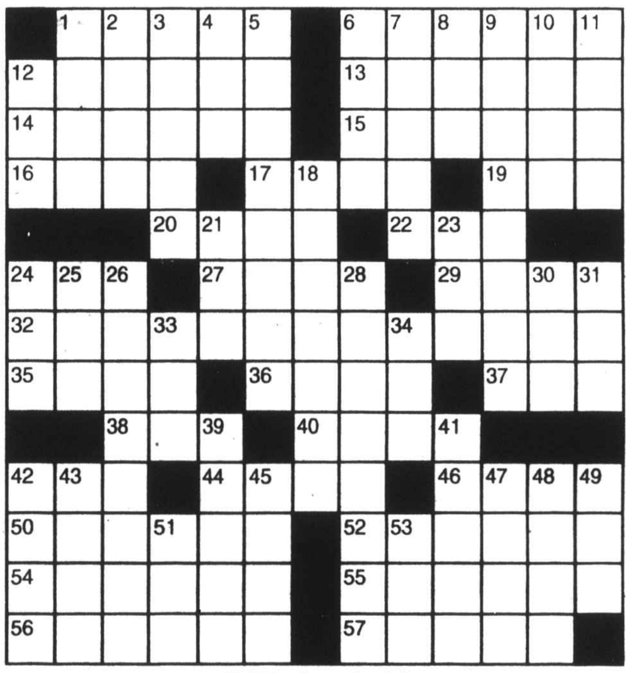
For more information about Medicare, visit www.medicare.gov.

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Abacus components
6 America's Cup contenders
12 Cyclist's need
13 Ottoman, for one
14 Ill will
15 Perfectly
16 Tousle
17 Eastern potentate
19 Conditions
20 Ganges garment
22 Corrode
24 Citric quaff
27 Smooch
29 Unrivaled
32 Quick pick-me-up?
35 Information
36 Cheshire countenance
37 Supporting
38 Midafternoon, in a way
40 "The Thin Man" pooch
42 Green machine?
44 Wire measures
46 Author Uris
50 Clutches
52 Using the Web
54 Give the same old story
55 Brought up
56 Sailor's assent
57 Eyelid problems

DOWN
1 Suitor
2 Right angles
3 Off
4 Calendar abbr.
5 At the wheel
6 Bigfoot's cousin
7 "Moonstruck" subject
8 Bookkeeper (Abbr.)
9 Become friends
10 Not kosher
11 Witnesses
12 "Let me think ..."
18 Strong wind of southern France
21 Wanted-poster abbr.
23 Alien of TV lore
24 Help
25 "CSI" evidence
26 Rough guess
28 Collagist's tool
30 "The Matrix" role
31 Always, in verse
33 Skater Babilonia
34 Can. prov.
39 Suggest
41 Soothe
42 City of India
43 Deuce defeater
45 Land in the water
47 Green acres?
48 Change for a five
49 Homer's neighbor
51 Vast expanse
53 Trawler need



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● COMMONWEALTH NATIONS

R T Q O L I G A D B Y W T S R
P U N I T E D K I N G D O M M
K I F D Z A R B T Y W U K I U
S Q O I N M I O K O T I E F D
A T L A M A A L P H N N N B Z
X E C W U I S N A A U G Y A Q
B O N L B D J F A R G H A O F
D C A M Y N R W B H T N V M T
S N A T S I K A P Q G S I A P
N Z L K C I H F E C B Z U S Y
W D N A L A E Z W E N V U A S

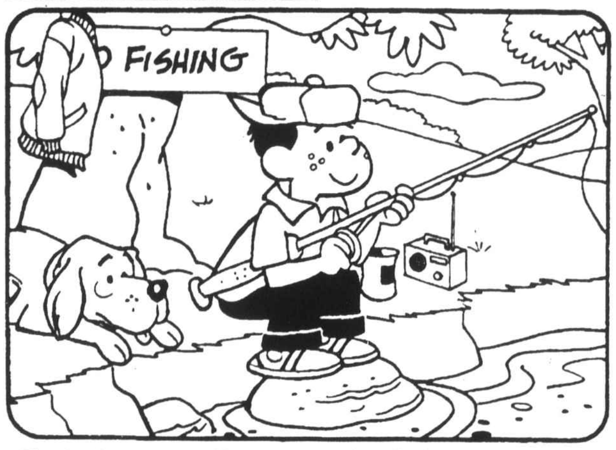
Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Australia
Belize
Brunei
Canada
Ghana
Kenya
Malta
New Zealand
Pakistan
Samoa
Singapore
South Africa
Tonga
United Kingdom
Zambia

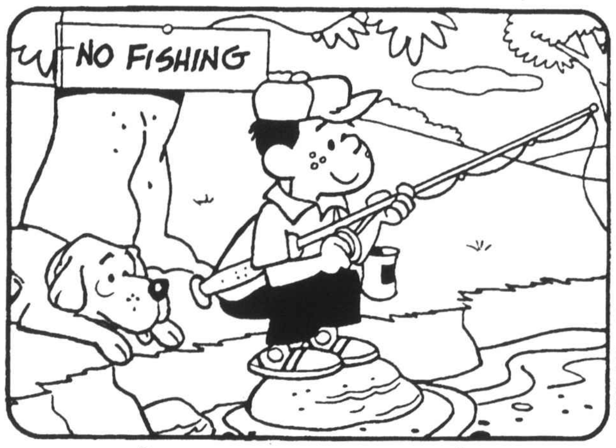
©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Jacket is missing. 2. Dog's ear is different. 3. Cap is reversed. 4. Cuffs are missing. 5. Cloud is different. 6. Radio is missing.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. U.S. STATES: What time zone is the state of Alabama in?
2. LANGUAGE: What does the Greek prefix "crypto" mean?
3. SCIENCE: What does an ichthyologist study?
4. MOVIES: What was the first major movie to show a flushing toilet?
5. ABBREVIATIONS: What does BMW stand for?
6. MUSIC: Who wrote the Beatles' song "Here Comes the Sun"?
7. MEASUREMENTS: The word "octennial" refers to a recurring period of how many years?
8. ANIMAL KINGDOM: What is the only mammal that can fly?
9. GEOGRAPHY: What did the African nation of Burkina Faso used to be called?
10. MYTHOLOGY: Who was the Egyptian god of the afterlife?

Answers
1. Central
2. Hidden or secret
3. Fish
4. "Psycho"
5. Bavarian Motor Works
6. George Harrison
7. Eight
8. A bat
9. The Republic of Upper Volta
10. Osiris

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Wishing Well®

4	7	6	2	7	2	4	5	3	4	7	3	2
G	S	Y	D	O	O	I	T	S	F	F	H	N
5	4	7	8	3	5	3	5	6	3	6	8	6
R	T	T	B	O	U	W	S	O	A	U	E	G
8	5	4	6	8	6	4	8	3	4	6	8	4
E	T	F	E	N	T	R	E	P	O	A	R	M
2	4	3	4	6	7	2	4	3	2	6	5	4
O	A	P	F	N	H	T	R	R	G	S	I	I
6	2	5	3	6	2	4	6	8	3	4	2	8
W	I	N	E	E	V	E	R	G	C	N	E	E
6	4	2	7	2	8	5	3	7	5	8	3	8
S	D	U	E	P	T	T	I	A	U	I	A	C
3	7	5	3	7	5	7	5	3	5	7	5	3
T	R	I	I	T	T	E	I	O	O	D	N	N

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A bit of Arian contrariness could be keeping you from getting all the facts. Turn it off, and tune in to what you need to hear. It could make all the difference this week.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting an answer to a vital question involving financial matters might take longer than you'd expected. A new factor might have to be dealt with before anything can move forward. Be patient.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Use your good sense to see what might really be driving a colleague's workplace agenda. What you learn could lead to a new way of handling some old problems.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A change of mind might once again turn out to be a good thing. True, most of your co-workers might not like the delay, but as before, they might appreciate what follows from it.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You revel in golden opportunities this week. One cautionary note, though: Be careful to separate the gold from the glitter before you make a choice. Someone you trust can help.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Marriage is important this week, as are other partnerships. Don't let yourself be overwhelmed by sentiment. Instead, try to steer a path between emotion and common sense.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Dealing with someone who has let you down is never easy. But the sooner you're able to clear up this problem, the sooner other problems can be successfully handled.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A "friend" who is willing to bend the rules to gain an advantage for both of you is no friend. Reject the offer and stay on your usual straight and narrow path.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) After all the effort you've been putting in both on the job and for friends and family, it's a good time to indulge your own needs. The weekend could bring a pleasant surprise.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might want to do something new this weekend. Close your eyes and imagine what it could be, and then do it, or come up with the closest practical alternative.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your good deeds bring you the appreciation you so well deserve. But, once again, be careful of those who might want to exploit your generous nature for their own purposes.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Trolling for compliments isn't necessary. You earned them, and you'll get them. Concentrate this week on moving ahead into the next phase of your program.

BORN THIS WEEK: Meeting new people usually means you're making new friends. People want to be reflected in your shining light.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: K equals T

VPHOSZP B NOZ QBLIBLX BK
APJF GOJI KR JPTRAP TF
NBLKPJ QRRKNPOJ, B GOI KR
SZP VRRK ZKJPLXKG.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —

Answers

Solution time: 24 mins.

Magic Maze ANSWERS:

Cyptoquip ANSWER:

Because I was finding it very hard to remove my winter footwear, I had to use boot strength.

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-037

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 28, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of West Elm Variety for a Special Permit/Flood Plain/Variance/Finding to extend the nonconforming use in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming structures), Chapter 8.1.9 (special permit flood plain), Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements), and Chapter 3.4.4 (variance required) on the premises numbered 139 WEST ELM AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/9/15, 7/16/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-038

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, July 28, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Andrew Smeaton for a Variance to construct an addition in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 4.1.1 (setbacks) on the premises numbered 46 MAYFLOWER ROAD, QUINCY, MA.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/9/15, 7/16/15

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS
BY PUBLICATION
AND MAILING
Docket No. NO14D1532DR
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Kelly Walker
vs.
Alexandre M Reis

To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for irretrievable breakdown. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon Kelly Walker 43 Bradford Street Quincy, MA 02169, your answer, if any, on or before 09/17/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS,
Hon. John D Casey,
First Justice of this Court
Date: July 1, 2015
PATRICK W MCDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/16/15

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS
BY PUBLICATION
AND MAILING
Docket No. NO15D0267DR
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Berlene Valcin
vs.
Ricardo A McDonald

To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for irretrievable breakdown. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon Berlene Valcin 167 South Street #5 Quincy, MA 02169, your answer, if any, on or before 09/17/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS,
Hon. John D Casey,
First Justice of this Court
Date: July 1, 2015
PATRICK W MCDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/16/15

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

LEGAL NOTICE

ALL POLICE ORDERED OR ACCIDENT TOWS
(Sale of Motor Vehicle under G.L. c. 255, Section 39A)

Notice is hereby given by: Schlager's Towing Service, 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA, 02169

pursuant to the provisions of G.L. c. 255, Section 39A, that on Saturday, August 1, 2015 at 9:00A.M. at 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA 02169 at 9:00A.M. a Public Sale the following Motor Vehicle will be sold to satisfy the garagekeeper's lien thereon for storage, towing charges, care and expenses of notices and sale of said vehicle.

Description of Vehicle: 3GNFK16T63G260583 Chevy Suburban 2003 MA:NE45LL

Name and address of owner of vehicle: Charles Baker 67 Allen St., Randolph, MA 02368

By: James Schlager

This notice has been given under the provisions of G.L. c. 255, Section 39A

7/16/15, 7/23/15, 7/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE
PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO15P1791EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Dorothy I. Giarrusso
Also Known As:
Dorothea I. Giarrusso
Date of Death:
April 14, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of

Petitioner Marianne Sorgi of Boston, MA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Marianne Sorgi of Boston, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

7/16/15

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMONWEALTH OF
MASSACHUSETTS
THE TRIAL COURT
PROBATE AND
FAMILY COURT
NORFOLK DIVISION
Docket No. NO14P2868EA
SALE OF REAL ESTATE

To all persons interested in the estate of IRENE F. LOMANNO late of QUINCY in said County of Norfolk, deceased.

A petition has been presented to said court for license to sell at private sale certain real estate of said deceased.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said court at Canton before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 5TH day of AUGUST 2015, the return day of this citation.

Witness, John D. Casey, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this day 3RD of JULY 2015.

PATRICK W MCDERMOTT
Register

7/16/15

FOR SALE

17 ft. Perception Sea Kayak
& Rudder Airalite Eclipse
Model with Spray Skirt and Paddle, Red/White $950.00
Call 617-471-1649

7/16

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly!
Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay,
Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp.
Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642

7/23

REPORT
POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

PART TIME DRIVERS

Drive Cars_Monday's
10am-3pm
Earn $60.00

FAST-PACED ENVIRONMENT
FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE

Apply in person, call or email Mike Cooley at: quincyaa@quincyauction.com

617-773-5000
Quincy Auto Auction
196 Ricciuti Drive, Quincy EOE

7/30

MISCELLANEOUS

HELP WANTED

NEWSPAPER READERS WANTED to participate in an in-person research project. Participants will receive $100. We want to know your opinions about what separates the great newspapers from the good ones. The research will be conducted during the last two weeks of July in Dedham, MA, and your 3-hour interview can be scheduled at your convenience. If you are an avid reader of daily and/or weekly newspapers, please call the New England Newspaper & Press Association at (781) 320-8042 for more info, or go to www.noy.nenpa.com

ADOPTION

Adoption: Pregnant? Loving Childless couple, Theresa and Mark, wish to adopt a newborn infant. Living expenses paid. Legal/Confidential. Please call or text 24/7.

1-806-201-0200

LAND

CANADA'S EAST COAST-www.sunsetdunespei.com-P.E.I.'s fastest growing year round FAMILY beachfront community. 19 Homes Completed. Offering reduced 2015 Lot pricing starting at $49,000. TOLL-FREE 1-866-636-7155

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

WANT TO BUY

CASH FOR DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Up to $35/ Box! Sealed & Unexpired. Payment Made SAME DAY. Highest Prices Paid!! Call Jenni Today! 800-413-3479 www.CashForYourTest-Strips.com

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE
LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details* 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings •
Showers • Christenings • Meetings
After Funeral Gatherings

TF

PERSONAL

Congratulations to Courtney Lorraine, Patricia
Teresa and Michael Patrick on your respective graduations with honors!
With Love & Pride, Nana

7/16

We hope that all our family and friends have a safe and happy summer
Love,
Nanny & Poppy

7/16

The Shipyard;
Will it Float?
A yardbird recounts the funny, factual story of the Fore River Shipyard
Autographed $17.95
757-678-2729

7/16

Prayer to The Blessed Virgin
(Never Known to Fail)

O, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendour of Heaven. Blessed mother of the son of God, Immaculate Virgin assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech thee from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Thank you for your mercy to me and mine. Amen. This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted. The prayer must be published. D.A.

7/16

HAIR SALON

All Summer
Buzz Cuts $15
All Childrens $10
Clipper Hair Design
Marina Bay
(617)328-9719

7/23

CASH FOR HOUSES

CASH MONEY PAID
FOR HOUSES
Any condition, Any Area,
Any Issue
Probate Foreclosure etc...
Quick Closings
No Realtor Commissions
(617)249-3961

8/6

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools,
calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com

TF

HELP WANTED

Quincy Checker Cab
of Quincy is hiring drivers
Apply in person at
673 Washington St., Quincy
No Phone Calls Please

8/6

P/T RECEPTIONIST

Consolidated Brick, a masonry distributor in Avon (15 min. from Quincy) seeks reliable, honest part-time receptionist
Mon.-Fri. 10:00 a.m.-2:00p.m.

- Strong telephone skills
- Professional appearance & demeanor
- Customer service skills
- Basic computer literacy

Reply to: hr@consolidatedbrick.com

EEO

8/6

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF CONSERVATOR OR OTHER PROTECTIVE ORDER PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304 & §5-405

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO15P1901PM
In the matter of:
Benjamin P Sullivan
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
(Person to be Protected/Minor)

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Laura R Sullivan of Quincy, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Benjamin P Sullivan is in need of a Conservator or other protective order and requesting that Laura R Sullivan of Quincy, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Conservator to serve With Personal Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is disabled, that a protective order or appointment of a Conservator is necessary, and that the proposed conservator is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 08/12/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 08, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/16/15

SERVICES

FORMICA BRAND CENTER

Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured

Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com
8/13

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE

- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates

CLEAN-UPS

617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE
Average Room - walls $150
Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out.
Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479
9/24

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

T & M Landscape Co.

- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~ 9/3

D.D & Son's Masonry
Brick, Block, Stone, Concrete, Steps, Walls, Patio's, Fireplaces, Walkways
40 yrs. exp. • Lic & Insured
617-866-3307
7/16

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

SCENTSY
Lee Ann Zappi
Independent Scentsy Rep
leeannzappi.scentsy.us
leeannzappi@verizon.net
Mention this ad and get 10% off
7/23

J.F. ROOFING CO.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
(617)471-8216
12/31

Patrick Brady
Commercial Mortgages
Apartment Buildings 5 units or more
80% LTV, Long Term Fixed Rate
Non-recourse
Call Today!
617-619-7337
7/16

HTA

Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255
10/29

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
SPARKLE: 7, female, calico.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
SHADOW: 15, female, black.
NIKKI: 4, female, tabby.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
ABBEY & BUTTERCUP: 15 & 13.
KITTY: 5, female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
SWEET PEA & YOMO: 1 & 6, females.
BAABAA: 6, male, black.
BELLA & BABY GIRL: 8, females.
CLOVER: 2, female, tabby.
PADDY: 4, male, black.

We need you.
WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE
American Heart Association

The Quincy Sun CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX
☐ Services
☐ For Sale
☐ Autos
☐ Boats
☐ For Rent
☐ Wanted
☐ Help Wanted
☐ Work Wanted
☐ Pets
☐ Lost & Found
☐ Real Estate
☐ Antiques
☐ Flea Markets
☐ Yard Sales
☐ Instruction
☐ Day Care
☐ Personal
☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

☐ Enclosed is $ ____________ for the following ad to run ____________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________
____
____
____
____
____
____
____

August Finish For City Hall Annex Work

CITY CLERK Joseph Shea stands in the second floor space in the glass City Hall Annex that will house the City Election Office, City Council Office and Auditor's Office. The space is located directly across the hallway from where the City Clerk, Assistant City Clerk, Vital Statistics and the License Board offices will be located. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

THE OFFICE OF Municipal Finance is located on the third floor of the City Hall annex building in space previously occupied by the Planning Department. The Planning Department is now located in Coddington Building along with the School Department and Information Technology Department.

Cont'd From Page 11

move over because it's too disruptive, I'll let him make that call. If that's the case, as soon as that is over he can come back over."

The renovation work inside the all-glass annex began in late June. To make room for the City Clerk's office, the Municipal Finance Department relocated from the second floor to the third floor space used by the Planning Department. The Planning Department moved to the Coddington Building last fall.

With the temporary council chamber closed because of the renovations, boards and commissions that met in that space– the Planning Board, Board of License Commissioners and Zoning Board of Appeals – will be holding meetings this summer at the Coddington Building at 34 Coddington St.

Once the project is complete, Shea's offices will occupy more than half of the second floor including both the temporary council chamber and adjoining space that houses the Municipal Finance Department. The Election Department, which also falls under Shea's purview, will take over space previously used by the IT Department before that department moved to the Coddington Building.

The Purchasing Department will remain on the second floor as will the City Council office, which Koch said would be expanded during the renovation work.

The mayor's office and Law Department will both remain on the third floor of the annex. The treasurer's office and the assessors will stay in place on the ground floor. Koch said it would have been disruptive to move those offices to the second floor in order to keep the City Clerk's Office on the first floor.

"It would have been disruptive to try and move those office," the mayor stated. "People coming in to the treasurer's office or the assessors' office, you want to make it as convenient as possible for them because they're either paying a bill, challenging a bill or wanting more information."

The city clerk's records will be housed in the basement of the annex. Koch said the city may continue to rent space at the Monroe Building for additional storage even after moving out of the office space there.

The renovations inside the annex are part of the project to renovate Old City Hall, officially the James R. McIntyre Government Center. Koch said Old City Hall should be open in time for the City Council to begin holding meetings there once it returns from its summer recess in September.

The council chamber on the second floor of Old City Hall will have room for 180 people with room for 40 more on a balcony above.

The renovated council chamber, also known as the Great Hall, has been designed to reflect what the building would have looked like when it first opened in 1844. The walls of the chamber will be painted a shade of green and woodwork will have all natural cherry finished, according to the mayor.

Koch added that he is working with the Public Buildings Department and school officials to find new homes for a pair of chandeliers that were previously placed in the council chamber after the late Paul Harold donated them to the city in memory of his parents. The mayor said they will likely wind up in two of the school system's older buildings.

"They would look beautiful in a couple of those foyers," Koch said. "They have the big, high ceilings when you come into the stairwells. They would be a nice fit in those."

The Great Hall will be reserved for council meetings and major civic events, such as mayoral inaugurations. A public meeting space on the first floor of Old City Hall with seating for 85 people will be used by other boards.

Additional space on the first floor will be used for exhibits highlighting the city's history. The mayor has tasked a panel of local historians with identifying what will fill out that space.

STUDENTS ARRIVING FROM OVER 100 UNIVERSITIES

QUINCY COLLEGE
PLYMOUTH, QUINCY & ONLINE

QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU/SUMMER

Summer
FLEX START DATES
5-week session in July.
10-day session in August.

Visiting students from over 100 institutions nationwide choose Quincy College for Summer Sessions.

There is still time to join them. Rapid online registration. Go to quincycollege.edu/summer

Donation Replaces Stolen Toys - Page 9
Morrisette Junior Legion Team State Tourney Bound - Page 16
Quincy U13 N.E. Champs - Page 18

2 CAR-RT LOT0
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 44 Thursday, July 23, 2015 75¢

New State Budget Bumps Local Aid

Includes Money For Behavioral Health Pilot Program In Quincy

By SCOTT JACKSON

Massachusetts' $38.12 billion budget for fiscal year 2016, signed into law by Gov. Charlie Baker on July 17, increases local aid to Quincy by $844,055 (1.96 percent) over the previous budget.

The budget benefits the city in other ways, such as the establishment of a behavioral health pilot program that Quincy will be included in and the permanent establishment of the Metropolitan Beaches Commission.

Quincy will receive $43,859,886 combined for Chapter 70 education funding and unrestricted local aid for the new fiscal year, which began July 1. Of that, $26.26 million is for Chapter 70 funds and $17.6 million is unrestricted local aid. In fiscal 2015, the city received $43,015,833 in local aid for those two categories – $26.02 million in Chapter 70 funding and $16.99 million in unrestricted local aid.

In addition to the increase in local aid, the budget includes a number of other items beneficial to Quincy,

Cont'd On Page 11

SERVICEMEN MOURNED – American flags were lowered to half staff at city offices, athletic fields and parks including this flag at Upper Merrymount Park near the World War II statue in memory of the five U.S. military service members who were killed in a shooting rampage July 16 at a recruiting center in Chattanooga, TN. Four Marines and one sailor died and three others were wounded in the attack. One of the Marines, Gunnery Sgt. Thomas Sullivan, was from Springfield. The gunman was killed by police. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Festival Sept. 26 Features Two Dozen Food Trucks

By SCOTT JACKSON

Two dozen food trucks – serving up everything from lobster rolls, barbecue, whoopie pies and French, Jamaican and Asian fusion fare – are set to participate in the Quincy Food Truck Festival on Sept. 26.

The festival, the first of its kind in Quincy, will be held on Pageant Field and is being organized by Food Truck Festivals of America in partnership with the Quincy Park Department. The festival will begin at noon on Sept. 26 and end at 5 p.m.; a special VIP hour will start at 11 a.m. Anne-Marie Aigner, the founder of the Boston-based company, had some advice for residents who plan on attending.

"Come hungry, come thirsty, come early and leave your diet at home," she said Monday in a phone interview.

At least 22 food trucks will participate in the festival; that number could increase depending on demand prior to the event. Aigner said the number of trucks

Cont'd On Page 12

'Christmas In July' Kettle Thursday

Standout At City Hall To Support Salvation Army

In an effort to help those struggling to meet basic needs, The Salvation Army of Quincy will host its second annual "Christmas in July" event today (Thursday) in Quincy Center.

Volunteers will ring the bell outside City Hall near the John Adams statue from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"Our Christmas in July event is an opportunity to remind people that need knows no season; it exists year-round, not just in the wintertime when it's cold outside and when people normally think of The Salvation Army," said Cap-

Cont'd On Page 28

52 Apartments Proposed On Old Colony Avenue - Page 3
Plan For 18 Condos In North Quincy Unveiled - Page 9
'Puppy Doe' Suspect Sentenced In Larceny Case - Page 11

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

FB Parkway Guardrail Replacement

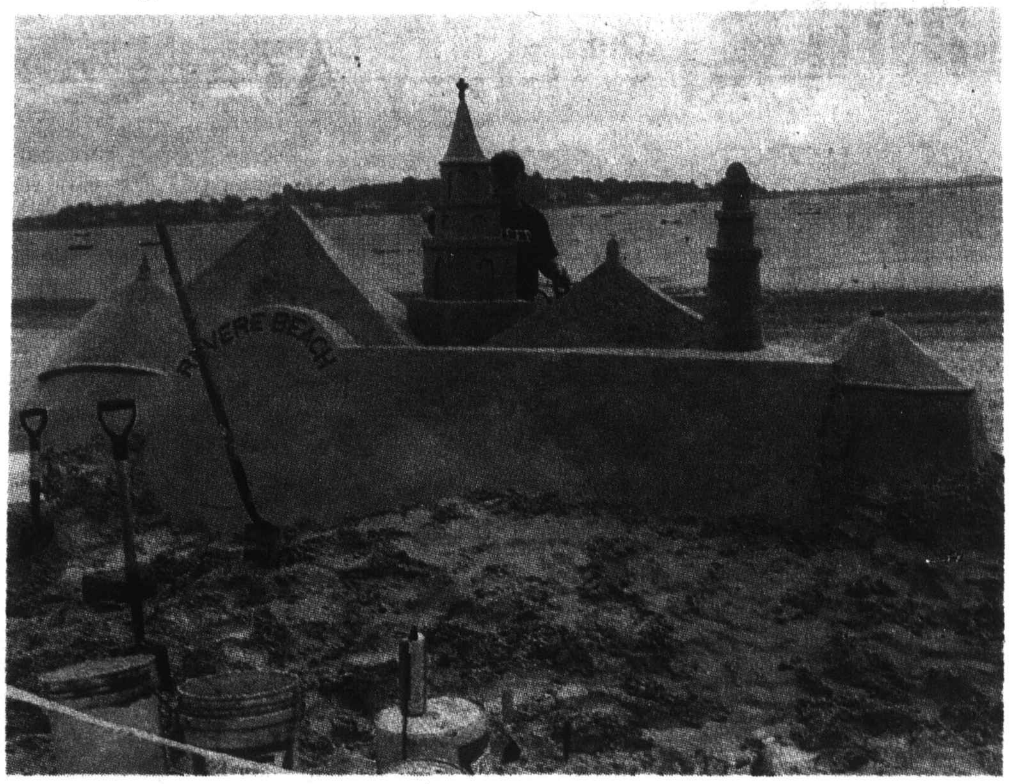
The second-phase of the state project to replace aging guardrails along Furnace Brook Parkway began Monday and is anticipated to last three weeks.

Traffic will be detoured from the Parkway between Hancock Street and Southern Artery from roughly 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. during construction. While no through traffic will be allowed, neighborhood residents will be allowed access to homes and local roads.

The Massachusetts State Police, the Quincy Police and the state Department of Conservation and Recreation have developed detour plans that avoid local roads. Traffic will be monitored by both state and local officials.

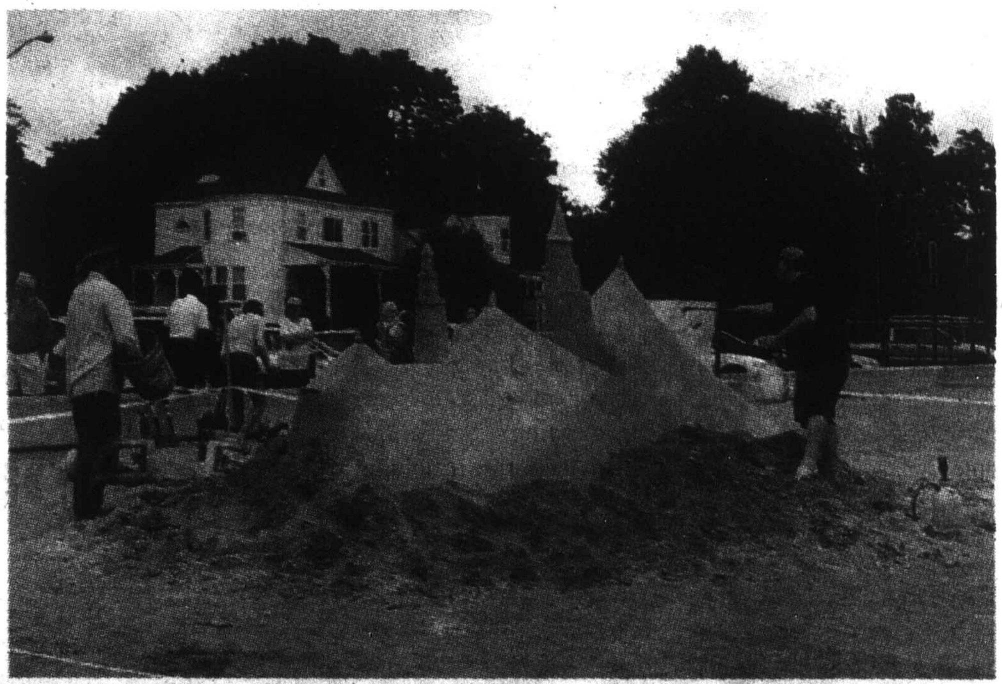
Work will take place Monday through Friday.

Sculptors Create Sand Masterpiece



KEVIN CRAWFORD, a master sand sculptor from Australia, works on a sand castle using 20 tons of sand at Wollaston Beach last Wednesday. Crawford and two other master sand sculptors created the sand castle to help promote this weekend's Save the Harbor/Save the Bay's Better Beaches International Sand Sculpting Festival at Revere Beach. In the photo below, fellow master scupltor Abe Waterman (at left with bucket) assists Crawford. The sculptors worked last Wednesday and Thursday creating the masterpiece. A photo of the finished creation appears on Page 32.

Quincy Sun Photos/Ally Graf



Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare

Your Primary Care is My Primary Focus

Stephen Tarpy, MD
Internal Medicine

"I want to make every patient's visit as pleasant as possible, whether I am providing high-quality preventive care or treating an acute matter."

Welcoming New Patients

- Personalized, comprehensive health care
- Clinical interests in pulmonary diseases, including asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), and sleep disorders
- Access to specialists at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital-Milton and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
- Extended hours on Tuesdays to 7:00pm

For same or next day appointments, call 617.472.3400 or visit bidmc.org/pcpcrowncolony

700 Congress Street, Suite 103, Quincy, MA 02169

Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare
Crown Colony

DISCOVER QUINCY
50
DAYS of "FREE" DOM
JUNE 13–AUGUST 1

This week's Signature
Events:

Concert @ the Crane Sweet Wednesday July 23

THE GALLERY
The Gallery July 24

Quincy Unplugged
Quincy Unplugged July 27

QUINCY ROCKS
Quincy Rocks Concert July 28

Quincy Bay Race Week July 30-August 2

ARTS AFFAIR AT MARINA BAY
20th Annual Arts Affair at Marina Bay August 1-2

For a full list of events, please visit DiscoverQuincy.com.

Discover Quincy, 180 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170. Phone: 617-639-1117

52 Apartments Proposed On Old Colony Avenue

By SCOTT JACKSON

Abutters to a proposed four-story, 52-unit apartment building on Old Colony Avenue are worried the new building would be too big and offer too few parking spaces, while the applicant stated the proposal meets the recommendations laid out in a planning agency's vision for revitalizing Wollaston Center.

Philip Boncaldo and his wife, Alyse Baker-Boncaldo, have proposed tearing down a one-story office building and two two-story, multi-family homes at 118 Old Colony Ave. and 54 and 60 Warren Ave. and replacing them with the new building. The 118 Old Colony Ave. and 60 Warren Ave. structures are in an Industrial B zoning district; 54 Warren Ave. is in a Residential B zoning district.

The Planning Board held a hearing on the plan July 15 and the board will meet again on the matter Aug. 12. The Zoning Board of Appeals must also approve the plan.

The 52 apartments in the proposed building, which would be within one-third of a mile of the Wollaston MBTA station, would all be studio and one-bedroom units. The developer would designate five of the apartments as affordable housing; those units would be rented to residents who earn less than 80 percent of the median income for the area.

Included in the proposal are a total of 43 parking spaces on the ground level of the building and in a parking lot, which would be built at 54 Warren Ave. Baker-Boncaldo said she would seek out tenants who do not have vehicles, similar to what she has done at a property the family owns on Beal Street.

"Right now on the Beal Street location we have, I am very, very clear with my realtors that there are no cars, there is no parking. I don't want to hear about parking down the street. I want you to find clients for me that do not have cars, and there are many and we do not have a problem with that," she ex-

Cont'd On Page 10

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER Board Member Bea DiMattia of Merrymount and her dog, Captain Crunch, greet visitors to the "Yappy Hour" event at the Best Westen Adams Inn Gazebo July 15. The shelter's first "Yappy Hour" event was well attended by many people and their very cute dogs of all shapes and sizes. There was also a raffle, cash bar and complimentary snacks.

Lisa Aimola Photo

New Walking, Running Trail Opens At Faxon Park

By SCOTT JACKSON

Faxon Park's newest accommodation – a three-quarter-mile long trail for walkers, joggers and runners – is now open.

The Red Diamond Trail, which is largely flat, is surfaced with woodchips. A sign points to the start of the trail, and red diamonds on trees along the trail mark its route.

The Quincy Parks Conservancy helped raised money for the new trail. Ward 2 Councillor Brad Croall ran the 2014 Boston Marathon to help fundraise for it. He said the project is an example of collaboration between the Quincy Park Department and the community.

"From a ward councillor's perspective, when you propose a community project you hope and pray this is how they turn out," Croall said. "It came out great."

The new track is scalable, meaning it can be added to in the future if funding is available, Croall said. A master plan for Faxon Park included a running/walking trail up to two miles long.

Encompassing 57 acres of land, Faxon Park is Quincy's second largest park, trailing only Merrymount Park. The park is located off Faxon Park Road near Quincy Avenue.

Faxon Park includes three ball fields – two for baseball and a lighted softball field, a basketball court, tot lot, picnic area with pavilion and walking paths.

The land was donated to the city by the Faxon family. Henry Faxon donated 37 acres in 1885 and his son, Henry M. Faxon, donated the remaining 20 acres in 1935.

QUINCY CENTER
PHYSICAL THERAPY

Sports Injuries • General Injuries
Post Surgery

Most Private Insurance Accepted
Medicare, Workers Comp & MVA

101 Adams Street, Suite 26 • Quincy, MA 02169
Phone (617)770-5900 • Fax (617)770-5905

Ask the
GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

A SUGGESTION FOR OPAL LOVERS

If you love the wonderful play of color that opal gives off, you might want to investigate another gemstone of similar beauty. Ammolite produces a spectacular display of iridescent color, either representing the full range of the visible spectrum or limited to just one or two colors. Mined in Alberta, Canada, ammolite began its life as a sea creature, the ammonite, about 65 million years ago. During this time, the spiral-shelled creature eventually perished and settled on the ocean floor. Millions of years later, the shells emerged fossilized and encrusted in minerals that create an array of dazzling colors. When fashioned into jewelry, ammolite displays a stunning iridescence that captures the attention and imagination of all who see it.

The best ammolite stones produce a vivid display of multiple colors; have a strong iridescence that can be observed from a wide range of angles; and have a pleasing pattern of color with minimal interruption. Rogers Jewelry is a full service jewelry store. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. If we don't have it in stock we will get it, usually within 72 hours with no obligation on the customer's part. For more information, please call 617-773-3636. We are located at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Are you thinking of buying a house?

If you're getting ready to buy a house, Colonial Federal is a great place to get the money you need. Customers tell us all the time that they're "so glad a bank like Colonial Federal still exists." Friendly, independent and 100% local, we'll make it easy for you to get the mortgage you need for the house you want. And we're here for you after the closing too. If that sounds like the kind of bank you want to be with, call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online atcolonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR
NO POINTS! A GREAT RATE!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776

ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 07/15/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Aug. 4, 1892, Andrew and Abby Borden, elderly residents of Fall River, Mass., are found bludgeoned to death in their home. Suspicion soon fell on daughter Lizzie and the axe she'd just bought. At her trial, the jury only took 90 minutes to decide that such a sweet-looking Christian woman could never commit such a heinous crime.

• On Aug. 6, 1928, Andy Warhol, one of the most influential artists of the latter part of the 20th century, is born Andrew Warhola in Pennsylvania. After being incorrectly credited as "Warhol" under an early published drawing, he decided to permanently remove the "a" from his last name.

• On Aug. 9, 1945, a second atom bomb is dropped on Japan by the United States, at Nagasaki, resulting finally in Japan's surrender. The devastation wrought at Hiroshima had not been sufficient to persuade the Japanese War Council to accept the Potsdam Conference's demand for unconditional surrender.

• On Aug. 3, 1958, the U.S. nuclear submarine Nautilus accomplishes the first undersea voyage to the geographic North Pole. The Nautilus dived at Point Barrow, Alaska, and traveled nearly 1,000 miles under the Arctic ice cap to reach the top of the world.

• On Aug. 6, 1964, the United States Congress overwhelmingly approves the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, giving President Lyndon B. Johnson nearly unlimited powers to oppose "communist aggression" in Southeast Asia. The resolution marked the beginning of an expanded military role for the United States in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

• On Aug. 8, 1988, the Chicago Cubs host the first night game in the history of Wrigley Field. The first-ever night game in professional baseball took place nearly 60 years earlier in Des Moines, Iowa.

• On Aug. 5, 2002, the rusty iron gun turret of the ironclad warship U.S.S. Monitor was raised from the floor of the Atlantic, where it had rested since it went down in a storm off Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, during the Civil War. She sank in December 1862, while being towed from Cape Hatteras. (c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Council On Aging Turkey Train Foliage Ride

The Quincy Council on Aging will head to New Hampshire Wednesday, Sept. 30th for a scenic foliage ride on the Turkey Train.

The cost of the trip is $74 and includes transportation, train ride and full course luncheon featuring Hart's Turkey Farm roast turkey with whipped potatoes, butternut squash, a beverage and ice cream sundae for dessert as well as local sightseeing and foliage viewing.

The bus will leave Quincy at 9 a.m. and return at approximately 6 p.m.

To register for this trip visit the Quincy Council on Aging at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St. in Quincy. Payment must be made at time of registration.

For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Nomination Papers Trickling In

Nomination papers are starting to trickle into the city's Election Department. As of Tuesday, eight out of the 30 potential candidates have returned papers and of those six have qualified for the fall ballot.

Those who have qualified for the ballot (with at least 50 certified signatures) are:

• William Phelan, 86 Monroe Rd., running for mayor. He has 315 certified signatures.

• John McCone, 111 Darrow St., running for Ward 1 councillor – 119 certified signatures.

• Sandy Verhault, 183 Highland Ave., running for Ward 3 councillor – 86 certified signatures.

• Michael McFarland, 27 Village Dr., incumbent seeking re-election as councillor at-large – 106 signatures.

• Kathryn Hubley, 44 Marion St., incumbent seeking re-election to school committee – 130 signatures.

• James DeAmicis, 66 Campbell St., running for school committee – 94 signatures.

Two others have submitted signatures but need more to qualify for the ballot. They are: Ward 4 Councillor Brian Palmucci, 16 Cross St., with 46 certified signatures and Gina Ostis, 57 Estabrook Rd., running for Ward 5 councillor, 26 certified signatures. They and the others who have pulled papers have until 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 4 to submit at least 50 signatures.

Those who have pulled papers but have not submitted any as of Tuesday are:

• Mayor: incumbent Thomas Koch, 249 Newbury Ave.; Charles J. Dennehey, Jr., 610 Willard St.; Doug Gutro, 230 Marlboro St. and Anne Mahoney, 12 Ferriter St.

• Councillor at-Large: incumbent Joseph Finn, 15 Williams St.; Noel DiBona, 70 Chickatabot Rd.; Nina Liang, 2 Williams St.; and David McCarthy, 48 Whitney Rd.

• Ward 1 Councillor: incumbent Margaret Laforest, 236 Rock Island Rd.

• Ward 2 Councillor: incumbent Brad Croall, 65 Gay St.; James M. Connors, 124 Martensen St. and Gulistan M. Malik, 109 Curtis Ave.

• Ward 3 Councillor: Ian Cain, 192 South Central Ave. and Karl Roos, 8 Park St.

• Ward 4 Councillor: Kevin J. Worley, 2 Douglas St.

• Ward 5 Councillor: Incumbent Kirsten Hughes, 116 Willow Ave.; and Gordon G. DeCambra, 64 Dickens St.

• Ward 6 Councillor: incumbent Brian McNamee, 94 Newbury Ave. and William P. Harris, 74 Ashworth Rd.

• School Committee: incumbent Paul Bregoli, 80 Willow Ave.; Amanda Crabb, 12 Linden St.; and Frank Santoro, 80 Havilend St.

Candidates seeking city-wide office can submit nomination papers with signatures from any Quincy registered voter.

Candidates seeking a ward council seat must submit nomination papers with signatures from registered voters from that specific ward.

If all potential candidates return papers that are certified with 50 or more signatures, there would be contested races for every city office this fall. There would also be a preliminary election for mayor, Ward 2 councillor, Ward 3 councillor and Ward 5 councillor on Sept. 22. The top two-vote getters in each of those races would advance to the Nov. 4 final election.

❑

VOTERS WILL ELECT at least one new School Committee member in this fall's municipal election but come January there could be as many as five new members on the board.

How so?

It all depends on who is elected this fall to the school committee, mayor and city council.

Stay with me on this one.

At the moment, there are five residents who have taken papers out for the three School Committee seats on the ballot this fall. Two of the five are current incumbents who are seeking re-election: Paul Bregoli and Kathryn Hubley.

The other three who have taken out papers for school committee are former School Committeeman and retired Quincy High principal Frank Santoro, and political newcomers James DeAmicis of 66 Campbell St. and Amanda Crabb, 12 Linden St., Wollaston. The third incumbent – David McCarthy – is running for councillor at-large and thus his school seat is open this fall.

So, it is possible that voters could elect three new school committee members in the fall election.

But how could there be five new members?

That dynamic has to do with the race for mayor and city councillor at-large.

There are two current School Committee members who are at the mid-way point of their four-year terms but are on the ballot as well this fall. Anne Mahoney is running for mayor and Noel DiBona is running for councillor-at-large. Neither is risking their school seat by running for another office this fall since they were elected to four-year terms two years ago.

If Mahoney and/or DiBona are elected mayor and councillor at-large respectively, that would create a vacancy for their school committee seat(s).

A school committee seat that becomes vacated half-way through a term would necessitate a joint convention of the school committee and city council. Those representatives would convene and elect a successor to fill that vacancy. The convention would take place after the inauguration of the mayor in January but generally occurs soon after the vacancy is official.

During a joint convention, anyone can place their name in nomination and speak on their desire to fill the vacancy. It is not just the candidates who ran for school committee who are eligible to fill that vacancy. There is no set ordinance or city policy that mandates the vacancy be filled by a former candidate for that specific seat.

A lot would have to happen to trigger this kind of scenario of five new school committee members next year. But as it stands now it is possible.

❑

OUR SPREAD July 9th on former President Harry Truman's appearance in Quincy days before the 1948 Presidential Election brought back some fond memories for some of our readers.

And for one in particular, who, with the help of another reader, was able to spot one of his relatives.

Among the citizens visible in the "double-truck" centerfold photo taken from the steps of United First Parish Church (with City Hall in the background) is the late Quincy Police Capt. Frank Vallier. He is standing by the front wheel near the Police Wagon in the lower right portion of the black and white photo.

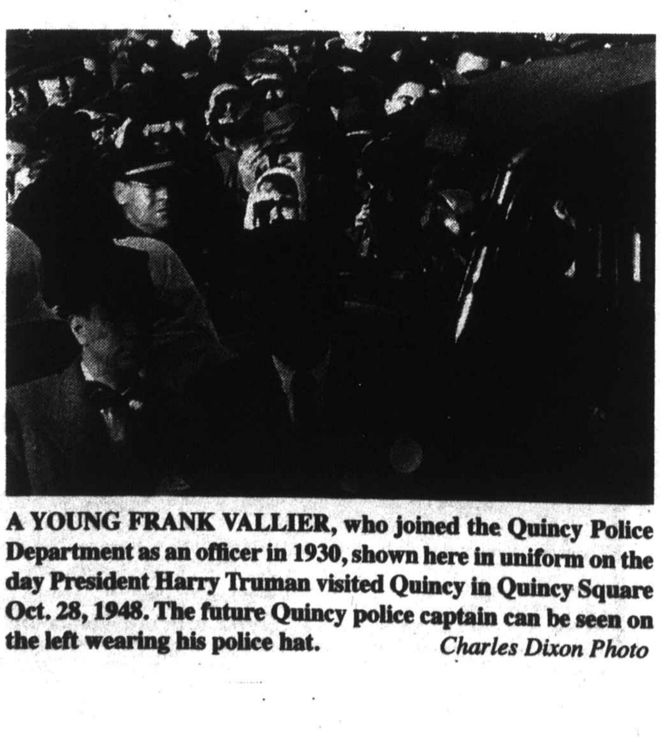
"His body is blocked by two men and a woman wearing a scarf, but his face in unmistakable," said his grandson, Joe Vallier. He noted Dick Merna of West Quincy first noticed him and brought it to Joe's attention.

At the time this photo was taken on Oct. 28, 1948, Frank Vallier was a Quincy police officer but the following year was promoted to lieutenant. He became a captain in the 1970s and help found "Survival," a drug treatment program, that same decade. The program was a direct response to the heroin problem that was plaguing the city at that time.

Capt. Vallier was on the Quincy Police Department for 42 years. He was married to Mary Vallier, the Quincy Sun's Citizen of the Year in 1993.

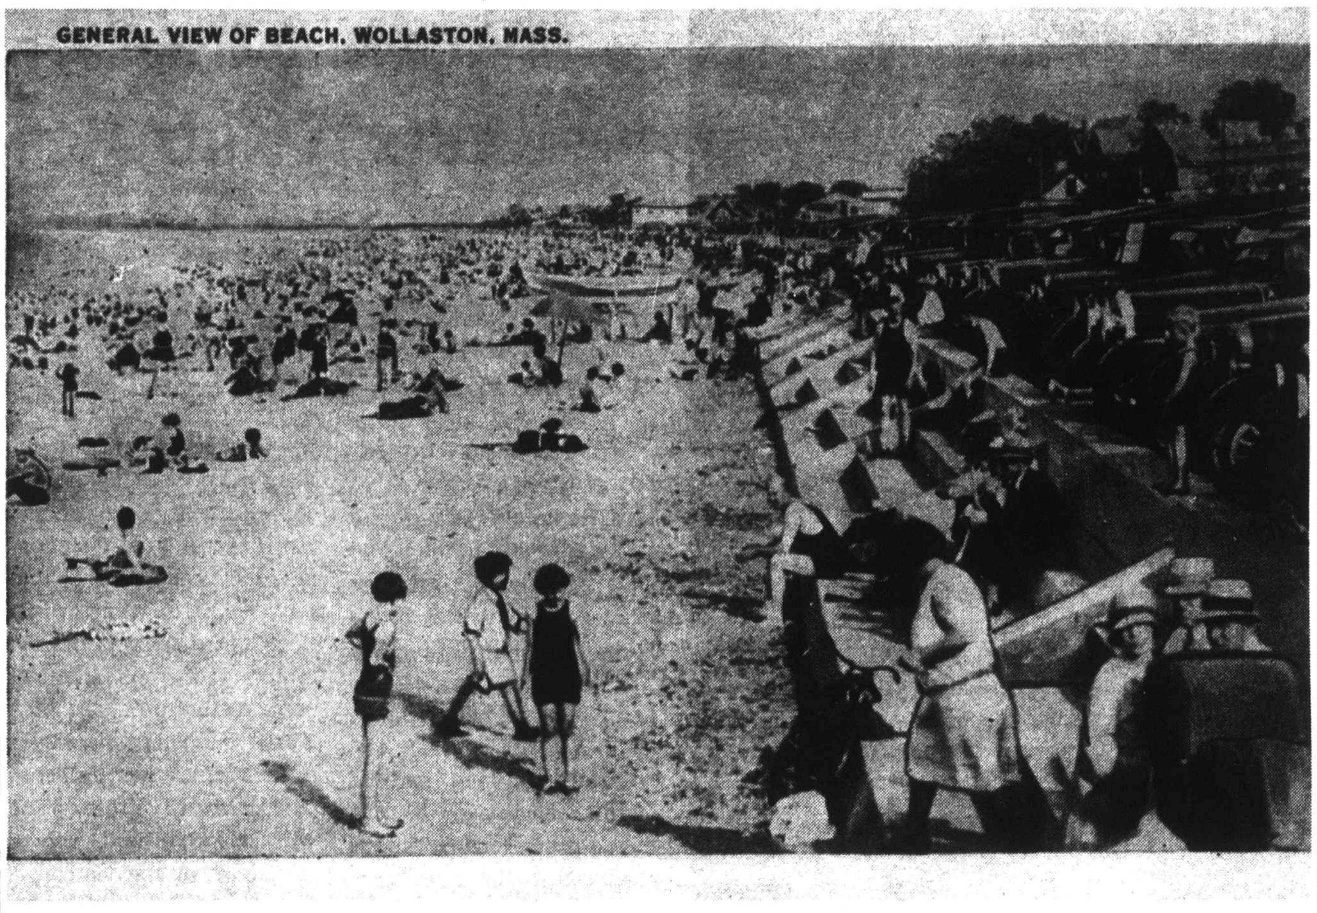
United First Parish Church, where that historic Truman photo was taken by the late Charles Dixon, is a special place for the Vallier family. Frank Vallier's funeral service was held at that church and the procession wrapped around the block two times there were so many cars in it.

The Pink Dogwood on the right side of the church has a stone under it bearing his name dedicating the tree in Frank's memory.



A YOUNG FRANK VALLIER, who joined the Quincy Police Department as an officer in 1930, shown here in uniform on the day President Harry Truman visited Quincy in Quincy Square Oct. 28, 1948. The future Quincy police captain can be seen on the left wearing his police hat. Charles Dixon Photo

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS POSTCARD is a 1933 view of Wollaston Beach taken from the ramp of the Wollaston Yacht Club looking south. The water was often polluted then with raw sewage from Moon Island, but there was no monitoring of water quality so people went in unless it just looked too dirty. This crowded scene shows that it was a very popular destination. The seawall shown on the right was built in 1926 to provide parking and to allow for widening the original road. It also helped prevent flooding across the street. The steps of the wall were a great place to sit if you were not dressed for swimming, and they along with the parked cars provided a little shad in the late afternoon. Many family picnics were spread out on those steps. The present seawall built in 1960 offers none of the same amenities. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Two Residents Graduate Clark University

Two Quincy residents recently received degrees from Clark University in Worcester.

Qui H. Trinh graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in biology.

Brandon Mei Guo graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in mathematics and with high honors in computer science.

READERS FORUM

Boston Olympics Is Wishful Thinking

As I read the article "Residents Not Digging Beach Volleyball Venue" in The Quincy Sun, I became more and more incredulous when I read the piece about transportation.

To wit: "Ferries, capable of carrying 500-600 people, would run every 15 minutes to and from Squantum Point..." Where are these ferries to come from? According to the MBTA website, the T's ferries have a capacity of 350-400 persons. Will 600 people be unloaded at the dock in 15 minutes? Ferries running precisely apart every 15 minutes?!

More fantasy: "The committee also said 40-60 tram trips per hour would run between North Quincy station and Squantum Point Park with 200 passengers on each tram for an hourly total of 8,000 to 12,000 people. Trams would transport people to the site by way of Commander Shea Boulevard."

So the idea is to run trams one a minute? Good luck with that.

The Red Line is going to transport 12,000 people in an hour? Will Commander Shea Boulevard then be closed to all other traffic?

Unless I am missing something big, the 2024 Olympics in Boston is wishful thinking.

Peter Gleba
Hancock Street
Quincy

'Leadership We Trust' ??

We received through the mail "Koch for Quincy - Leadership We Trust" flyer.

I have met Mayor Koch several times. He's a personable, outgoing person.

However, I won't trust him any more to spend and allocate our hard-earned taxes.

Why?

- He's recently voted for himself and for the city council pay raises.
- Quincy Center / Street Works partnership failure. We still have empty store fronts and less business tax dollars coming in.
- Property/Real Estate taxes have risen the last few years.
- Over $12 million spent on snow removal this past winter, with an original budget of $1 or 2 million.
- A "few" million dollars spent on renovating Old City Hall.
- Money spent on buying up houses to build a school parking lot/field.

Let me ask you: what type of leadership is that?? You trust his continued leadership for Quincy?

Ask ourselves the following question: "Are we, the residents and businesses, of Quincy better now than before?"

Gene Lee,
Putnam Street
Quincy

SUBSCRIPTION FORM
FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO
The Quincy Sun
Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968
1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169
NAME ____________________
STREET ____________________
CITY ____________ STATE ______ ZIP ________
CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN
[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1980
35 Years Ago

New E-W Connector Would Raze Five Downtown Buildings

Five downtown Quincy buildings housing 12 current or former business establishments would be demolished to make way for the proposed Revere Road Connector.

A public hearing on the route proposed by the State Department of Public Works has been all but assigned after 45 downtown businessmen and others petitioned for it.

The connector is designed to hook up with the Burgin Parkway (Upland Rd.) Extension which in turn is designed to bring traffic from the South Shore into downtown Quincy.

CABLE TV IN QUINCY STILL 1 1/2 YEARS AWAY

Cable television in some 50 percent of the homes in Quincy is still at least a year and a half away.

George Riley, chairman of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Cable Television, told a hearing Monday that his group probably would make its recommendation to Mayor Arthur Tobin around Labor Day.

After that, he said, the bidding process, including public hearings, will take more time and then it will be 15 to 18 months for the winning company to construct facilities in the city.

QUINCY-ISMS

Robert Leo Eng, commander of Quincy Legion Post, presented American Legion Awards to Central Junior High School students David Marcham and Lori Kelly for exemplifying courage, excellence and scholarship... Michael J. Trifone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Trifone of Quincy, recently graduated from Cushing Academy with recognition in varsity football, wrestling, track and baseball... Peter J. Cattaneo, 35 Barry St., West Quincy, was named to the dean's list for the spring semester at Fitchburg State College... Mr. and Mrs. John Munn, 45 Riverside Ave., Adams Shore, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a party given by their four children. The couple were presented with citations from Senator Paul Harold and Mayor Arthur Tobin... Allen Folger and Gerald Gherardi were co-chairmen of a committee planning the 50th anniversary reunion of the Quincy High School classes of February and June 1930... The annual Jerry Lewis Spelling Bee held in Quincy elementary schools raised over $13,000 to fight muscular dystrophy. The top three student fundraisers were Tammy O'Brien, Snug Harbor School, and Victor Papagno and Tad Sheets of the Furnace Brook School... Brian S. Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Terry, 99 Summer St., Quincy Point, received a Juris Doctor degree from Suffolk University Law School... The Canniff Monument Co., 34 Intervale St., South Quincy, was advertising 24" long, 36" high gravestones for $444... Rabbi David Jacobs of Temple Beth El was scheduled to be the guest speaker at the Sunday, Aug. 3 service at Houghs Neck Congregational Church... Rev. John Stagnaro has been assigned as a parish priest at St. John's Church. He replaces Rev. Joseph Connolly who was reassigned to St. Mary's of the Annunciation parish in Melrose... The Rev. Charles McEachern, First Baptist Church of Wollaston, celebrated his 40th anniversary in the ministry. He has served for 14 years at the church... William F. Walsh, 43, of 282 Franklin St., South Quincy, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Governor's Council from the 4th District... Helen and Burton Cook, 87 Ames St., West Quincy, were recently re-elected to the board of directors of the Massachusetts Lupus Foundation. They are the owners of Tags Discount Furniture and Sleep Shop in Quincy... Atty. Peter Eleey, 69 Forbes Hill Rd., Quincy, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Governor's Council from the 4th District. Eleey was a former Norfolk County assistant district attorney... David S. O'Hanley, South Central Ave., Wollaston, a recent graduate of Bridgewater State College, has accepted a $7,500 fellowship from the University of Minnesota, to pursue graduate studies... Burke Seafood, 61 Billings Rd., North Quincy, was advertising "This Week's Specials," Scallop Dinner for $2.99... Richard J. Koch, chairman of the 1980 Quincy Cancer Crusade, announced that the drive had exceeded its goal of $26,500 with nearly a month remaining in the drive... Kiwanis captured the American League title in the Quincy Junior Baseball League with a 16-6 record. Mark McDonald pitched and batted Kiwanis to a 7-5 victory over Colonial Federal.

Arts & Entertainment

QUINCY BAND BOOSTERS recently purchased $3,500 worth of percussion equipment for the city's band program. From left: Dr. John Franceschini, Sterling Middle School principal; Renée Czajkowski, Treasurer, Quincy Band Boosters; Beth Hallett, Coordinator for High School Curriculum and Programs; Angel Marquis, Kevin Warner, Delana Wiley and Matthew Cavanaugh, Band Director and Instrumental Music Teacher. Photo Courtesy David Jacobs

Band Boosters Purchase Percussion Equipment

The Quincy Band Boosters, a 501 (c)3 charity, has been busy raising money the last few years to support the City of Quincy's band program.

The Band Boosters group recently purchased $3,500.00 worth of percussion equipment. With the purchase and donation of the music equipment comes the responsibility to secrure and maintain the percussion equipment.

The Quincy Band Booster has received the support of the entire Sterling Middle School staff, Principal Dr. Franceschini and Assistant Principal Courtney Mitchell. The administration team and teachers at Sterling Middle School have made music education a priority. Franceschini and Mitchell have made every effort possible to see to it that students at Sterling Middle School are able to attend Musical rehersals and music programing.

The Sterling Middle School administration has provided the music program at Sterling with dedicated space to house and secure the new percussion equipment.

Marina Bay Arts Affair Aug. 1, 2

Gallery, Art Demonstrations At 500 Victory Rd.

The 20th annual Arts Affair at Marina Bay will be held Saturday, Aug. 1 and Sunday, Aug. 2 in the lobby and cafeteria of Corporate Park, 500 Victory Rd., North Quincy.

Event hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Aug. 1 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Aug. 2.

Admission and parking is free. There will be raffles and art demonstrations throughout the weekend, rain or shine.

One of the largest art events on the South Shore, the Arts Affair at Marina Bay is a two-day exhibition that features artists, sculptors, and photographers who live and work in many South Shore and Boston communities.

The lobby and cafeteria of Corporate Park are transformed into an exciting pop-up gallery, displaying works in drawing, mixed media, oil and acrylic; photography, sculpture, and watercolor. An experimental category new this year is FFII (Fabulous Fakes, Inviting Imitations.) Artists will exhibit either exact duplication, or creative interpretation of a work which has inspired a re-creation of the original.

The awards presentation will held Saturday, Aug. 1 at 2 p.m. in the Cafeteria. Judges are Susan Nalband, director of 555 Gallery, Boston, for photography; Tatiana Yanovskaya-Sink of Quincy, for drawing, mixed media, and sculpture; and Gary Koeppel of Roslindale for oil and acrylic painting, and watercolors. Yanovskaya-Sink and Koeppel will judge FFII.

For information call 781-961-2378, visit www.artsaffair.org or find us on Facebook.

Summer Fun At The Crane Public Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane
Public Library

The Thomas Crane Public Library has scheduled for the following events and activities for children.

Papermaking, Music and Magic at the library this week

This week you can make your own paper, dance at Adams Shore, sing with Mama Steph and be amazed by a magic show with Mike Bent. Weekly craft, story and movie programs continue check the list below for this week's programs. Details for all summer programs are on our website thomascranelibrary.org.

Storytelling at the Farmers Market, weather permitting

Join us Friday, July 24th at noon at the Farmer's Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

Papermaking

Have you ever wondered how paper is made? Join artist Maia Hawes on Friday, July 24th any time from 2 to 4 p.m. at the main library and create some one of a kind paper. Everyone will have a chance to try their hand at making sheets of paper as we transform our rainbow paper chains into entirely new paper.

This program is for children of all ages accompanied by an adult. Even very young children will have fun making paper with a little help from a caregiver. If there is time and space at the tables teens and adults may make some paper as well.

The program will happen rain or shine, if the weather doesn't cooperate we will move inside.

Children's Movie @ North Quincy

On Monday, July 27th at 2 p.m. join us at the North Quincy Branch Library for a showing of the Disney's Aladdin.

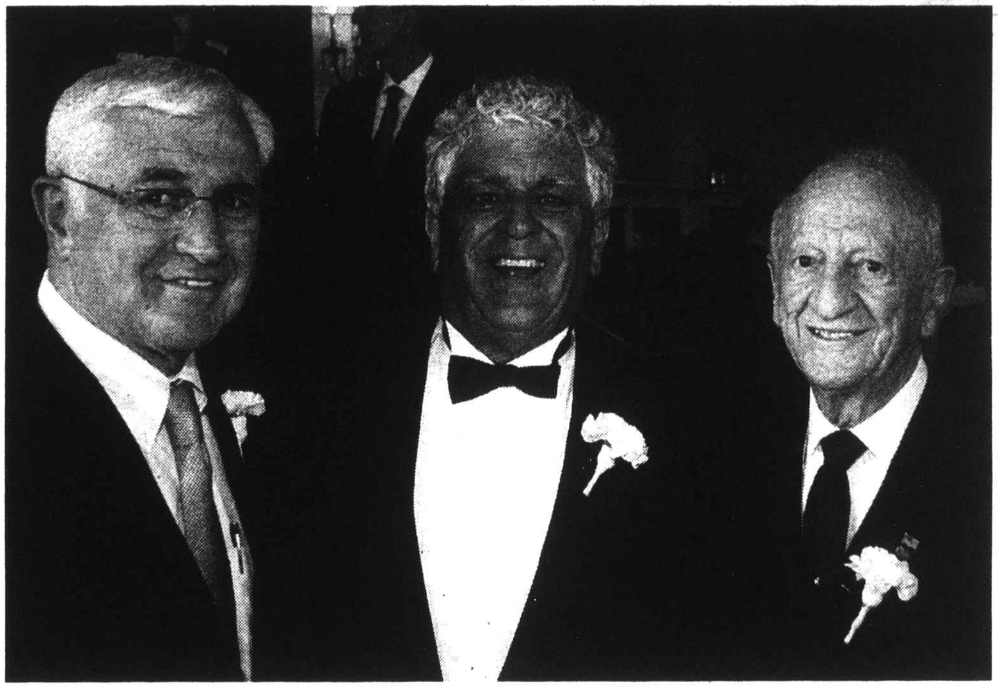
Aladdin, a street urchin, is the only person who can enter the cave of wonders and retrieve a magical lamp for the dark Vizier Jafar. Aladdin becomes trapped in the cave with his sidekick, Abu, and accidentally discovers the resident of the lamp. Aladdin develops a relationship with the Genie and uses his wishes to become a prince to chase the affections of Princess Jasmine. When Jafar finally steals the lamp and gets three

Cont'd On Page 8

GENNARO'S EATERY
Summer Deal
Dine-In & Take-Out
Large Round
Cheese Pizza
$8.99
Tuesdays All Day & Night
Homemade
Pizza Dough & Sauce
Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials
617-499-6929
Deal ends August 31, 2015
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

20th Annual ArtsAffair
at Marina Bay
August 1st & 2nd (Rain or Shine)
Saturday 10am to 6pm
Sunday 10am to 5pm
Showcasing Boston &
South Shore art
association members,
and independant artists.
Free admission
Free parking
Art Demonstrations
Raffles
20th Anniversary
Oils & Acrylics / Watercolor / Drawing / Mixed Media / Photography / Sculpture / Fabulous Fakes
ARTSAFFAIR
AT MARINA BAY
www.artsaffair.org
Marina Bay Corporate Park Lobby & Cafeteria, 500 Victory Road, Quincy, MA 02171

AMONG THE GUESTS attending the recent 50th anniversary celebration of WORK Inc. at Granite Links Golf Club were (from left) Peter Cook, Sr., Beth Cook and Mayor Tom Koch.



OTHERS ATTENDING WORK Inc's 50th anniversary dinner included (from left) Paul Guzzi, President and CEO, Boston Chamber of Commerce; Jim Cassetta, president, WORK, Inc and Lou Pasquale, Manager, at Phillips, Morrissey Boulevard, Boston.

WORK Inc. Celebrates 50 Years Of Service To People With Disabilities

WORK Inc. recently its 50th Anniversary at the Granite Links Golf Club in West Quincy. The event was attended by over 450 people including board, staff, volunteers, consumers and their family members, awardees and public servants from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, City of Boston and Quincy.

The Awards Ceremony was hosted by Boston City Councillor Ayanna Pressley. This year's award recipients included the following individuals:

WORK Inc. Employees of the Year-Kim Davy and Julia Flemming; Ability One Performer of the Year Jeannine Walters; Residential Program Participant of the Year John Raimondi; Strides Program Performer of the Year Sharon Doyle; Best Job Match, Market Basket Manager William Dube and Fred Wheeler/Market Basket Manager John Sevastis and Nicholas McDonald/ Market Basket Manager Mark Scamman and Scott Georgianna; and the Joe Rogers Award presented by the Rogers Family.

The event included a special 50th Anniversary Commemorative video highlighting 50 years of achievements for people with disabilities living and working in the Greater Boston area. The event included cocktails, dinner, awards ceremony, a silent auction and a $10,000 raffle. Sponsored by several businesses including the event's Underwriter FM&M, the anniversary dinner raised over $200,000 for WORK Inc.

WORK Inc is a 501c3 nonprofit and tax exempt organization whose mission is to ensure that all individuals with disabilities have the ability to grow, the right to make choices, access to education, and the opportunity to participate in community life via meaningful work.

WORK INC. Board Member Phil Carver (left), Pam Carver and Andrew Wilbur were among the 450 people who attended WORK Inc.'s 50th anniversary dinner at the Granite Links Golf Club in Quincy.

Photos Courtesy WORK Inc.

Arbella, WalMart Among Sponsors Of Interfaith Social Services Gala

Interfaith Social Services, a multiservice center for South Shore families in need, announces the Arbella Insurance Foundation and WalMart have each committed to $25,000 sponsorships of the 18th annual Feed the Hungry Gala.

This is the second year in a row both companies have served as the Gala's Presenting Level sponsors.

"We are incredibly grateful to Arbella Insurance and Walmart for their partnership with Interfaith Social Services as we work together to help local families in need," said Rick Doane, executive director of Interfaith Social Services. "While last year's Gala was a record-setting fundraiser to support Interfaith's programs, we also saw increased demand from our community for food, counseling and emergency assistance. We hope that more local businesses than ever will join with Interfaith, Arbella Insurance Foundation, Walmart, and our other partners as we fight against hunger here on the South Shore. We need everyone's help in serving our neighbors who are struggling to make ends meet."

This year's Feed the Hungry Gala will be held at Granite Links Golf Club in Quincy on Friday, Dec. 4. Proceeds raised at the Gala allow Interfaith Social Services to feed, clothe and comfort more than 20,000 local residents each year through programs that include budget counseling and homelessness prevention, mental health counseling, professional clothing for low-income job seekers, and one of Greater Boston's largest emergency food pantries.

Other Gala sponsors include: JetBlue Getaways, South Shore Living, Granite Links, Law Offices of George G. Burke, and The Lombardo Companies.

Businesses or individuals who are interested in adding their names to this list can visit the Gala website at www.FeedHungryGala.org to learn more about the various sponsorship opportunities that are available.

Emma Ainsley On Dean's List

Emma Ainsley of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List for spring semester at Carroll University in Waukesha, WI.

Two Residents Receive URI Degrees

Two Quincy students recently earned degrees at the University of Rhode Island in Kingston.

They are:

Tina Prifti, Bachelor of Science in nursing; and Isabella Natale, Bachelor of Arts in psychology, minor in Human Development and Family Studies.

Four Residents On RPI Dean's List

Four students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, NY.

They are:

Joslyn Huang who studies business and management; Kevin Mullin, studies mechanical engineering; Nathalie Pham, studies biology; and Brian Tam, studies games and simulation Arts and Science.

Three On Rhode Island Dean's List

Three students from Quincy are on the Dean's List at the University of Rhode Island in Kingston for the spring semester.

They are:

Johnathan James Yacano, Ying Chen and Jessica M Muscato.

SALES. SERVICE. INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES
GRANITE LOCK CO. INC.
www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

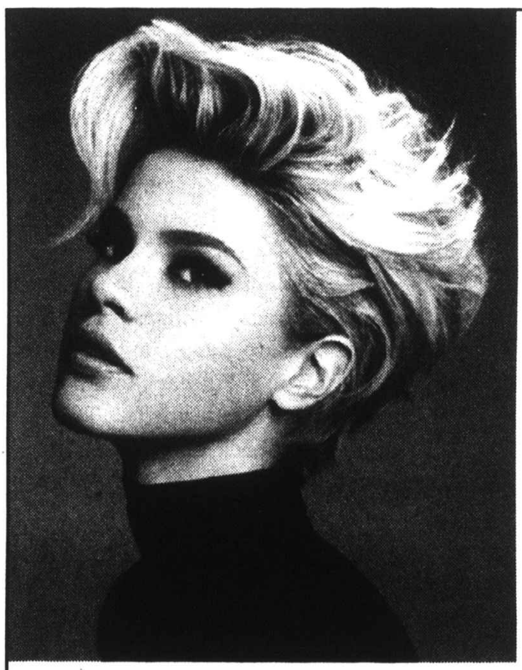
•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"



Beat the Summer Heat with a Cool New Style!

HPO
HAIRPLACE ONE

85 QUINCY AVENUE
Call for Appt.
617-472-1060
www.hairplaceone.com

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Peach Cake

By MARIE

Although a family favorite has been apple cake, I found a recipe for peach cake – a first for me which I thought was such a wonderful recipe.

I used canned peaches for this recipe, but fresh (if they are ripe will do).

PEACH CAKE

1 - 16 ounce can peaches (cut in pieces)
2 cups all purpose flour
1 cup almond flour (keeps cake light)
3 eggs
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 1/4 cups sugar

Mix the oil and sugar together. Add the eggs, vanilla, cinnamon. Add the dry ingredients slowly until well blended.

Fold in the peaches gently.

Bake in a 350-degree oven for 35-40 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean. Serve with ice cream of cream.

Cashew Sour Cream

By SUZIE

Cashews are one of those nuts that are so desirable and delicious, you can give them as a Christmas gift and get rave reviews. On top of that, the nutritional aspects are astonishing.

Healthy amounts of copper, magnesium, manganese, phosphorus, and vitamin K, along with lesser-known phytonutrients, such as antioxidants, tyrosinase, melanin, elastin, proanthocyanidins, and oleic acid, provide hard-to-ignore benefits for the body. Each nutrient plays its part in providing bone strength and joint flexibility, discouraging migraines, improving memory, lowering blood pressure, and protecting against UV damage, heart disease, and cancer. They are also one of those "healthy fats" I am always talking about!

Fun Facts: Until the discovery of America, it was unclear how long Native Americans had been using cashews, but they found that indigenous South Americans were already removing the outer coating and roasting the nuts as a part of their diets. It was the Portuguese who carried cashew trees back and planted them, spreading the cultivation and appreciation to other European countries. On any continent, anyone owning a cashew tree in the 1500s was considered very wealthy and important.

Here is a recipe for Cashew Sour Cream that is taken from Danielle Walker's blog "Against All Grain" I hope you enjoy it! So much better for you than dairy sour cream!

- 1/2 cup whole raw cashews
- 1/3 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon lime juice
- 1/2 teaspoon apple cider vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon sea salt
- 3/4 teaspoon nutritional yeast (optional, gives it a cheese-dairy type flavor)

Instructions:

Put the cashews in bowl and fill it with enough water to cover them. Soak for 2 hours.

Drain and rinse the cashews and add them to a blender. Add the fresh 1/3 cup water, lime juice, vinegar, salt, nutritional yeast.

Blend until very smooth. Refrigerate for 1 hour before serving, or up to 3 days.

Meat Loaf & Eggplant Parmesan

By MARIE

They are two of my family's favorite foods. One is a delicious meat loaf, and the other is eggplant Parmesan. Just imagine these two put together?

Today's recipe does just that. I know it sounds difficult, but it is pretty easy to attain such a combination.

Everyone has their own way of preparing meat loaf, but today's is one of the versions.

MEAT LOAF

2 pounds ground beef
2 eggs (beaten)
1/2 cup seasoned bread crumbs
2 tablespoons fresh parsley
Salt and pepper
1/3 cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons ketchup
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder

Mix the eggs, salt and pepper, bread crumbs, parsley, cheese, ketchup and garlic powder. Add the beef and lightly blend together.

On a cookie sheet with parchment paper, place the meat loaf mixture all over the sheet firmly packing it down. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 25-30 minutes. Remove from oven.

EGGPLANT PARMESAN

Six slices of eggplant (cut in one inch slices)
1 cup tomato sauce
Six slices mozzarella cheese
Basil or oregano (or both)
3 tablespoons olive oil
Salt and pepper

In the hot oil, sauté the eggplant turning until they are golden brown.

Place the eggplant nicely over the meatloaf. then the mozzarella cheese. Top them each with the tomato sauce, and a sprinkle of basil and oregano. Put back in a 375-degree oven until the cheese melts.

When it is cut, each one gets a slice of the eggplant with the meat loaf. What a treat!

QCAP Free Financial Education Seminars

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc., will host a free financial education seminar on the basics of credit, credit reports and credit scores in August.

Attendees may choose to attend one of the two seminars set for Tuesday, Aug. 4 and Tuesday, Aug. 11.

Both seminars start at 6 p.m. and take place at QCAP's fourth floor conference room, 1509 Hancock St., Quincy.

To RSVP, call the Financial REACH Center at 617-657-5355.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-781-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

Robert Salvucci, Tyler Beach Awarded Steven V. Barrett Memorial Scholarships

THE BARRETT FAMILY recently awarded two scholarships to two recent QHS graduates and outstanding scholar-athletes in memory of Steven V. Barrett. From left: Judy Salvucci, Beverly Barrett, $1,000 scholarship recipient Robert Salvucci, Christopher Barrett, Nancy (Barrett) Ceriani, Christine Barrett and Rick Salvucci. Robert Salvucci was the class president and was awarded the Patriot Ledger Scholar Athlete, and Patriot League Scholar Athlete, for varsity baseball. He will attend the University of Rhode Island.

TYLER BEACH, also a 2015 graduate of Quincy High School, received a $1,000 scholarship from the Barrett family in memory of Steven V. Barrett. From left: Nancy (Barrett) Ceriani, Christine Barrett, Beverly Barrett, Christopher Barrett, Tyler Beach, Rick Beach, Ruta Beach and Ryan Beach. Tyler Beach will attend Westfield State to play baseball and to major in criminal justice. The Barrett family is a big part of the QHS family. They have award $1,000 scholarships for almost 16 years. Their devotion to Steven's memory is heartwarming and everlasting.

Photos Courtesy Judy Salvucci

Summer Fun At The Library

Cont'd from Page 6

wishes of his own, Aladdin must rely on his intelligence to trick Jafar and save his friends and the Kingdom. This movie is rated G and runs for 90 minutes.

Children's Dance Party @ Adams Shore

If you can move your feet you can move to the beat! Children age 5 and older are invited to join us in the Adams Shore meeting room on Tuesday, July 28th from 10 to 11 a.m. for a dance party featuring some of your favorite songs.

Super You Magic Show with Mike Bent @ Adams Shore

On Wednesday, July 29th at 2 p.m. the amazing Magician Mike Bent presents Super You! Hero Training Academy. Using hilarious comedy, amazing magic, crazy puppets, music, sound effects and riveting storytelling, this magic show will help kids discover their inner "super powers" and become certified Agents of R.E.A.D.

As always Mike features some great stories in his show, The Day the Crayons Quit by Drew Daywalt, Dex: The Heart of a Hero by Caralyn Buehner and Boys of Steel: The Creators of Superman by Marc Tyler Nobleman. You'll be amazed to watch one of your young readers become "Magnet Boy": The boy with an "attractive" personality while another summons her inner hero to become "The Strongest Girl in the World!

This zany magic show will have you rolling with laughter. For children ages 3 and older accompanied by an adult.

Pajama Storytime with Denise Shaver

On Wednesday, July 29th at 6:30 p.m. in the Main Library Large Meeting Room storyteller Denise Shaver presents a pajama storytime designed especially for children ages 2-5 and their parents. Join Miss Denise for stories rhymes and songs. This is the third in our six week series designed for adults and children to enjoy stories and songs as a family. This is a great time for you and your children to sing, dance, listen and talk with each other.

Concert with Mama Steph

On Thursday, July 30th at 10 a.m. the main library large meeting room join us for a concert with Stephanie Chase. Mama Steph is one of our favorite local musicians. Sing along with original songs and old favorites at this special concert is for our youngest patrons ages 0-4 accompanied by an adult.

Developer Proposes 18 North Quincy Condos

Ward Councillor Concerned Project Would Dwarf 'Modest Neighborhood'

By SCOTT JACKSON

A developer has proposed an 18-unit, four-story condominium building on Newbury Avenue in North Quincy, which the neighborhood's city councillor fears would "look like the Taj Mahal" because of its size compared to other homes in the area.

The Planning Board on July 15 held a public hearing on Brenco Construction's plan to tear down two houses at 143 and 147 Newbury Ave. in North Quincy and replacing them the new building. The first floor of the building would include parking and each of the three floors above would have a single one-bedroom unit and five two-bedroom units.

The developer has proposed 33 parking spaces on site. Thirty-one would be located in the garage on the first floor of the structure, including 26 spaces that would use parking lifts. Two additional spaces would be provided outside the building. Rob Fleming, the attorney representing Brenco Construction, said many residents of the new building would rely on public transportation because the North Quincy MBTA station is about one-quarter of a mile away.

"This is a real transit oriented development at 143 Newbury. We feel this is the perfect location for this type of residential proposal," Fleming said. "Many of the condominium purchases of these residences will be using public transportation because of its vicinity to the MBTA station."

Eric Bradanese, the project engineer, said all stormwater would be collected on site and recharged into the ground using two subsurface units. The new driveway for the building would use a pervious material to allow water to infiltrate into the ground.

The landscaping plan includes three Cherokee dogwoods that would be planted along the southern side of the site, which Bradanese noted would provide a buffer between the new building and abutting residences. Plantings in front of the building include blue muffin arrowwood and day lilies. The landscaping in front of the building is being revised to improve sightlines for vehicles entering and exiting the driveway, which was an issue brought up by the peer reviewer, Bradanese said.

The total size of the two lots is 27,100 square feet. The project area, however, includes just 16,100 square of land because the developer plans to sell 11,000 square feet on the back of the properties to the city. That land would be used as part of the project to renovate Teel Field and create a new parking lot to serve the field and nearby North Quincy High School. City Solicitor Jim Timmins said the city has agreed to pay $130,000 for the land, which will come out of the $12 million bond approved for the project.

Fleming said the developers have worked closely with the city as it finalized plans for the Teel Field project. The developers, he added, also agreed to lower the height of the proposed building from five stories to four and to reduce the number of condos from 20 two-bedroom units to the proposed 18 units residents expressed concern about the size of the building during a neighborhood meeting late last year. The surrounding neighborhood includes many one- and two-family homes, though there is a four-story apartment building directly across the street at 146 Newbury Ave.

Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee, who lives at 94 Newbury Ave., expressed concern over the size of the building and its impact on the neighborhood, including the impact on traffic. He said the developer's agreement to eliminate one story and reduce the number of units from 20 to 18 didn't go far enough.

"I feel like I've watched Gale Sayers run," McNamee said, referring to the former Chicago Bears running back. "Remember Gale Sayers when he ran? He would give you the dead leg and then shake it loose. The concession here was two units for one-story. I feel like I've been given the Gale Sayers leg on this. A two-unit concession for one story I do not feel is adequate."

The proposed condo building, McNamee said, would tower over the houses in the surrounding neighborhood. To alleviate that, the councillor suggested eliminating the parking lifts to reduce the building's height.

"I'm afraid if you compare this with other dwellings in that neighborhood, this is going to look like the Taj Mahal. This is going to be a dauntingly large structure and it's going to change the complexion of what is primarily a one- and two-family neighborhood, a very modest neighborhood, a working class neighborhood," McNamee said.

"I would love to see them give up one level of that stacked parking and find parking outside that building to lower the elevation of the building. Stacked parking just increases the height of the building, so that may be something that could be considered by the developer."

Planning Director Dennis Harrington told the Planning Board the developers had yet to respond to a list of 30 revisions sought by the peer reviewer for the project and a request for traffic information.

"We are going to review this thing – a complete review – before this matter is acted upon by the board or any reccomendation comes from the department, but we are quite a way away from having a fully complete review that we can base a recommendation on," Harrington said.

No residents chose to address the Planning Board regarding the Newbury Ave. proposal at the July 15 meeting. The public hearing was continued to the board's next meeting, which has been scheduled for Aug. 12 at the Coddington Building, 34 Coddington St.

Granite
Date July 17, 2015
Pay to the Order of Toys for Tots
$5,000.00
Five Thousand and 00/100 Dollars
Rob Hale

GRANITE TELECOMMUNICATIONS donated $5,000 to U.S. Marine Corps Toys for Tots July 17. The North Quincy-based company and its employees in five states raised the money to replace toys stolen earlier this month from the Fore River Club House, which were to be given to Boston Children's Hospital. Pictured (from left): Granite CEO Rob Hale, Corporal Vincent Dolan, Master Gunnery Sgt. Nick Anastos, and Mayor Thomas Koch.

Photo Courtesy Granite Telecommunications

Granite Telecom Donates $5,000 To Replace Stolen Toys For Tots

By SCOTT JACKSON

Granite Telecommunications donated $5,000 to replace toys bound for Boston Children's Hospital that were stolen from the Fore River Club House earlier this month.

The company's employees in five different states helped raise the funds by an impromptu "Jeans Day" fundraiser July 14; Granite employees were jeans to work that day and made a donation to Toys for Tots, the group that collected the toys stolen out of the clubhouse. Granite matched its employees' donations.

Vincent Dolan, the local administrator of the U.S. Marine Corps Toys for Tots program, accepted the $5,000 check from Granite CEO Rob Hale during a ceremony July 17 at the company's North Quincy headquarters. Mayor Thomas Koch was also on hand.

The break-in at the Fore River Club House, located at 16 Nevada Rd. in Quincy Point, was reported to police around 8 a.m. on July 9.

One of the rooms inside the building had been used to collect toys for Toys for Tots. Police said eight adult bicycles, several remote control toys and other assorted toys were stolen from the building. The bicycles had been donated and were going to be given to Boston Children's Hospital.

Also taken from a supply closet were several tools, including two cordless drills, a Sawzall, screwdrivers and a ratchet set.

Police said the reporting party stated the break-in happened sometime after June 30 and the building had been open to the public during the July 4 weekend. The reporting party told police there was no sign of forced entry on the exterior of the building; responding officers observed several doors to be smashed or pried open.

Anyone with additional information or who saw something suspicious in the vicinity of the clubhouse is asked to contact Det. A.J. Carthas at 617-745-5782.

Summer Dance Intensive
at
Performing Arts Studio Center Stage
507 Furnace Brook Parkway
Quincy

Dance with world renowned teachers in the area for a short time only!
Tim Fournier and Amanda Castro
Tuesday, August 4th and Wednesday, August 5th
9am - 3pm
Ages 10 - 18
1 day price $100 and both days $150
Limited Spaces Available
Email for more Info at centerstagequincy@comcast.net

Junior Level Schedule
Day 1:
9:00 - 10:30 - Jazz with Tim
10:30 - 11:30 - Tap with Tim
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Hip Hop with Amanda
2:00 - 3:00 - ballet with Amanda
Day 2:
9:00 - 10:30 - Contemporary with Amanda
10:30 - 11:30 - Improv with Amanda
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Jazz with Tim
2:00 - 3:00 - Hip Hop with Tim

Senior Level Schedule
Day 1:
9:00 - 10:30 - Contemporary with Amanda
10:30 - 11:30 - Hip Hop with Amanda
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Jazz with Tim
2:00 - 3:00 - Tap with Tim
Day 2:
9:00 - 10:30 - Hip Hop with Tim
10:30 - 11:30 - Jazz with Tim
11:30 - 12:30 - Lunch
12:30 - 2:00 - Ballet with Amanda
2:00 - 3:00 - Improv with Amanda

QUINT'S
House of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service
Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169
Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm
(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com
We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

52 Apartments Proposed On Old Colony Avenue

Cont'd From Page 3

that," she explained.

"That will be one of my criteria. I want to go out there with the premise of no parking. If there is – OK, fine – we will accommodate. However… if we do this the right way we should not have an overabundance of cars that cannot be accommodated."

Several residents who live in the neighborhood, however, did raise concerns about parking as well as concerns over the size of the proposed building.

William Haugh, an Old Colony Avenue resident, said the proposed project would add a flood of cars to the neighborhood.

"You're talking 80 cars with this. I don't care how you look at it and how you say it, it's a fairy tale. This building is 52 units. You're going to have couples in there with two cars. You're going to have a flood of cars from this building and they're going to in a neighborhood that already has no parking."

Faith Raimondi, who lives on Warren Avenue, said she was concerned about having the parking lot directly across the street from her home. She also expressed concern over drainage if the proposed building were constructed; Raimondi said her property has been flooded at least 15 times in the 38 years she has lived there and project would only exacerbate that issue.

"This is my home," she said. "I think this is definitely going to depreciate the quality of my life and depreciate the value of my home."

Eric Fleming, who owns a business at 124 Old Colony Ave., said the proposed building is too big and has too small of a setback from his one-story building.

"I have no issue with the Boncaldos. They're great people and I'm sure they're great landlords. I have no issues with a dense residential development in this neighborhood personally. This one is just too big," he said, adding that prospective tenants could simply say they did not have a car and instead choose to park on the street.

James White of H.W. Moore Associates, a peer reviewer for the project, noted the proposed parking spaces for the project are only eight feet wide, one foot narrower than required by the city's zoning code. New structures in both Residential B and Industrial B zoning districts require a 25-foot setback; the setbacks for the proposed building are as little as two feet.

"The building is large and very dense for this neighborhood," White said. "If the building is set back off the street lines, it would soften up the appearance and offer a better project."

Christopher Harrington, the attorney representing the Boncaldos, said the project meets recommendations the Metropolitan Area Planning Council included in its 2013 "Re-Envisioning Wollaston" plan. In that plan, MAPC suggested reducing the minimum lot size to 5,000 square feet for mixed-use and multi-family developments, removing front and side yard setbacks, and changing residential parking requirements to a minimum of 0.5 spots per unit and a maximum of one per unit.

"This project is following along with those recommendations," Harrington said.

George Haivanis, owner of Wollaston Wine & Spirits at 58 Beale St. supported the project in a letter that to the Planning Board that was read aloud during the meeting.

"The four-level replacement building will be a great aesthetic improvement with curbside appeal. The neighborhood will not be negatively impacted by the residents, because the properties already have four-family structures," Haivanis said. "We believe new housing units with young professionals will greatly enhance the neighborhood and increase the consumer shopping in the local businesses in Wollaston."

Two realtors who work with the Boncaldos vouched for the rigorousness of Baker-Boncaldo's screening process. Phil Ragusa of Boston Premier Properties told the board Baker-Boncaldo rejected a couple recently because both had a vehicle but the apartment only had one spot available.

"In regards to the parking, I know there has to be rules and guidelines and they know," Ragusa said.

Food Pantries Need Gardeners To Donate Fresh Produce

Canned food drives are not the only way to donate much needed supplies to local food pantries. The Harvest Helpers program, a collaboration between Keohane Funeral Home, Interfaith Social Services and the Weymouth Food Pantry, has devised a way to provide local, fresh produce to neighbors in need.

Using free seedlings donated by Keohane Funeral Home or their own supplies, backyard gardeners are asked to plant an extra row of produce for neighbors in need and then donate a portion of their fresh produce to Interfaith Social Services food pantry at 105 Adams St. in Quincy or the Weymouth Food Pantry at 1189 Commercial St. in Weymouth.

Executive Director of Interfaith Social Services Rick Doane said that their food pantry received the first donation of radishes by the end of June and expects to receive tomatoes, zucchini, squash, peppers and more fresh produce as the growing season progresses through July and August.

At the end of May, Keohane donated hundreds of seedlings to backyard gardeners to kick-off the program. While more people picked up seedlings this year than previous years, Doane wants even more people in the community to participate.

"The seedlings that we gave out are an encouragement for people, but we hope that anybody with a garden will contribute at least a portion of their harvest to the food pantry this year," said Doane.

To set an example that healthy food can be grown almost anywhere, volunteers from Arbella Insurance in Quincy planted a garden at Interfaith's office in Quincy Center.

More volunteers are needed to tend the plot, and Doane is looking for two or three people to adopt Interfaith's Harvest Helpers garden for the rest of the season. The seedlings are growing, and Doane expects their lettuce to be ready for harvest soon.

Keohane has also planted produce gardens at their locations in Quincy and Weymouth. All the vegetables harvested from the Keohane gardens will be donated to Interfaith's Food Pantry and the Weymouth Food Pantry.

Keohane Funeral Home is sponsoring a Facebook fundraising campaign to benefit the local food pantries this summer. For every new "like" on their Facebook page, Keohane Funeral Home will donate $1 to Interfaith's Food Pantry for the month of July and to the Weymouth Food Pantry for the month of August.

Visit the Keohane Facebook page at https://www.facebook.com/KeohaneFuneralHome?rf=160271140660476

To volunteer or get more information, contact Doane at 617-773-6203 or rdoane@interfaithsocialservices.org; Joe Reardon at 617-773-3551 or joe@keohane.com; or Cas Casados at the Weymouth Food Pantry at 781-331-7682 or cas@weymouthfoodpantry.org.

'Sweet Wednesday' Outdoor Concert Tonight

The band "Sweet Wednesday" will perform outside on the Crane Public Library lawn, 40 Washington St., Quincy Center tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m.

The award-winning band performs original songs about topics as diverse as a disaster ridden day in New York City, long distance friendships, and ghosts along the historic old Highway 66.

Concert goers are encouraged to bring picnic blankets, lawn chairs and bug spray.

The final two concerts in this summer's Thursday Concerts on the Lawn schedule are:

- July 30 - Howie Newman & Jackie Damsky
- Aug. 6 - Andy & Judy Daigle

All library concerts are made possible by the support of the Friends of the Thomas Crane Library.

For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

Safe Cycling Workshop Saturday At Library

Are you interested in riding your bike for transportation but need a boost in confidence?

Do you want to use the bike racks at the library but can't see yourself riding here?

The Thomas Crane Public Library is partnering with local community cycling advocacy group Quincycles to help.

On Saturday, July 25, at 2 p.m. veteran cyclists Irene Lutts and Kevin Gillespie will offer insights and tips that can help you stay safe and have more fun when you ride. This workshop will also include some skills practice outside so be sure to bring your bike.

Since this program includes riding practice, which will be conducted outdoors, Saturday, Aug. 1 is the backup date in case of inclement weather on the 25th.

This event is co-sponsored by QuinCycles (http://www.quincycles.com/).

For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

Open Mic Night Monday

The Thomas Crane Public Library will host a free acoustic open mic night Monday, July 27 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the main library, 40 Washington St., Quincy Center.

The public is invited to share a talent, sing a song, offer a joke or read poetry to the audience. Play something original or bring your best cover, read a poem, perform a dramatic monologue, debut your stand-up comedy skit or engage in any amateur style performance.

All musicians, poets and performers are encouraged to participate and all ages are welcome. Sign up in person starting at 6:15 p.m. or just come to enjoy this monthly mix of local performances which starts at 6:30 p.m.

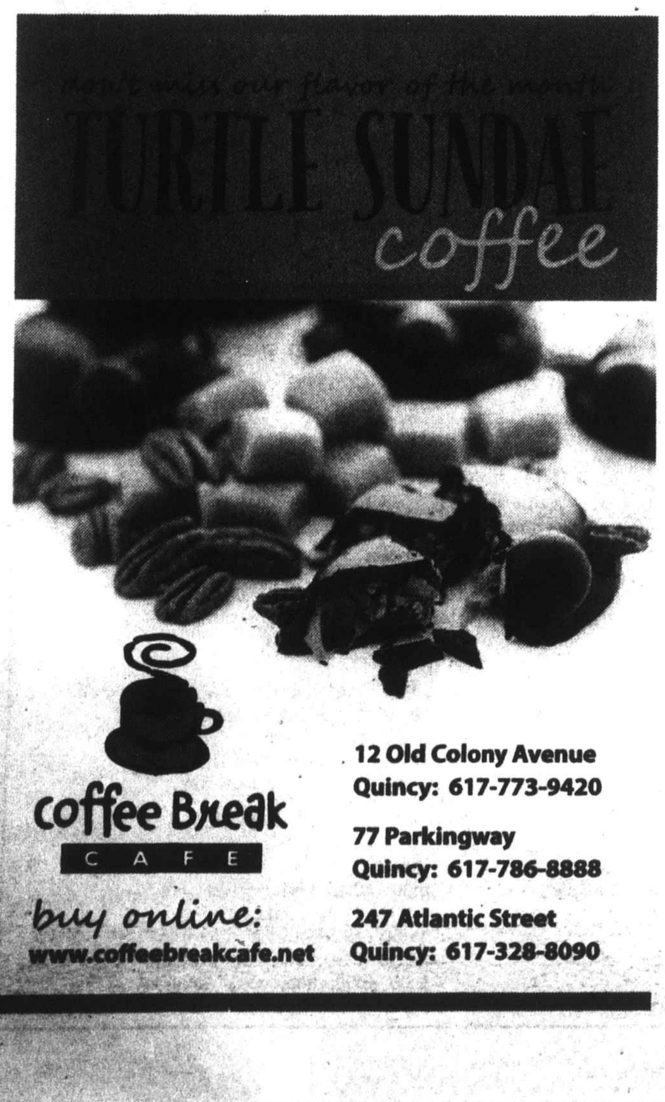
For more information, visit thomascranelibrary.org or call 617-376-1316.

3 Graduate Roger Williams

Three Quincy residents recently earned degrees at Roger Williams University in Bristol, RI.

They are:

Mariah Anastasi, Bachelor of Arts in psychology; Michael McGarty, Bachelor of Arts in history; and Deanna Soricelli, Bachelor of Arts in psychology.

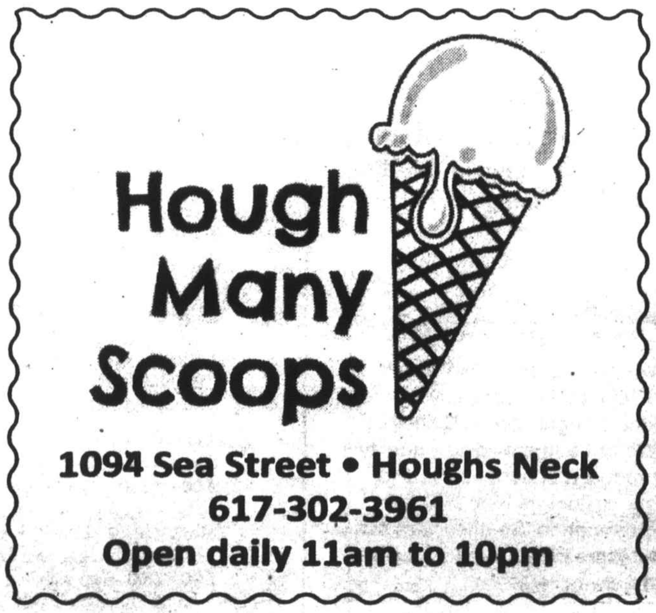


coffee Break
CAFE
buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net

12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420

77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888

247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090



Hough Many Scoops

1094 Sea Street • Houghs Neck
617-302-3961
Open daily 11am to 10pm

Get Local!

QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

New State Budget Bumps Local Aid

Cont'd From Page 1

members of the city's delegation on Beacon Hill said in a statement.

"This is a very strong budget for Quincy, something that the entire delegation worked on together and can be proud of," Sen. John Keenan said.

Included in the budget is a new behavioral health pilot program, which will help manage services in the community and behavioral health emergencies held in the field. Quincy's legislators on Beacon Hill worked to have the city designated as part of the pilot program in response to the closure of Quincy Medical Center.

"The closure of Quincy Medical Center at the beginning of the year created a vacuum for behavioral health services in the city of Quincy," Rep. Ron Mariano, the House majority leader, said.

"We recognized that shortfall and have responded in this budget by funding an innovative local program that will make behavioral health resources more readily available in the immediate service area. With this, and other advancements in local aid, I believe this budget demonstrates a strong state commitment to investing in Quincy and our most important community institutions."

The Metropolitan Beaches Commission is a group that works to improve public beaches, including both Wollaston Beach and Squantum Point Park in Quincy; the delegation worked to ensure the commission would be established permanently. Additionally, $700,000 has been appropriated to ensure adequate seasonal staffing for metropolitan beaches, including those in Quincy.

"We take a lot of pride in our beaches in Quincy," Rep. Bruce Ayers said. "This necessary funding for staffing, along with the newly established commission, is a positive step towards maintaining and improving our beaches. It provides a great benefit to the community."

The budget also includes $50,000 to fund hazardous materials training for the Quincy Fire Department as well as funding for additional substance abuse specialists at the Quincy District Court.

The budget reflects "an even stronger commitment to substance abuse prevention and detox centers, with nearly $100 million in funding," Rep. Dan Hunt said. The budget takes a number of steps to address the state's opioid epidemic such as $250,000 designated towards public awareness and expanded use of Narcan, the nasal spray used to reverse opioid overdoses, which has been carried by members of the Quincy Police Department since 2010; a statewide bulk purchasing program to keep Narcan affordable; $1.5 million for an opioid prevention grant program; and $2.5 million to expand access to Vivitrol, a non-narcotic drug that supports addiction recovery by blocking the effects of opioids.

The budget includes reforms on several statewide issues.

Among those is a new, five-member fiscal management and control board for the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority that has the authority to oversee and change operations at the transit agency, which experienced widespread service problems during this winter's historic snowstorms. The control board will exist until 2018; it can be extended an additional two years if in the public interest.

Baker appointed the five-member board shortly after signing the budget. Appointed to the board were Joe Aiello, a former MBTA assistant general manager; Lisa Calise, CFO for the Perkins School for the Blind; Brian Lang, president of UNITE HERE Local 26, Boston's hotel and food service union; Steve Poftak, executive director of the Rappaport Institute for Greater Boston at Harvard Kennedy School; and Monica Tibbits-Nutt, executive director of the 128 Business Council.

The budget also exempts the MBTA from the Taxpayer Protection Act, also known as the Pacheco Law, for three years. The Pacheco Law, approved in 1993, requires state officials to clear regulatory hurdles before privatizing public services. The state's inspector general will now review contracts to ensure cost savings and provide oversight while the law is suspended.

Rep. Tackey Chan said the delegation "will be watching closely during this three-year period to find out if the MBTA does achieve savings while providing safe and reliable services."

Language in the budget prohibits the use of public funds for the proposed Boston 2024 Olympics unless certain conditions are met. Those conditions include a series of public hearings and specific funding authorization by the Legislature toward specific public works projects related to the games.

Further, the budget increases the maximum earned income tax credit offered by the state for low-income working families from 15 percent of the federal credit up to 23 percent.

'Puppy Doe' Suspect Convicted Of Larceny

Sentenced To 3-5 Years In Prison

By SCOTT JACKSON

The 34-year-old Polish national charged with animal cruelty in the "Puppy Doe" case has been sentenced to three to five years in prison after being found guilty of stealing $130,000 from the woman for whom he was supposed to be acting as caretaker in 2013.

Judge Kenneth J. Fishman on Tuesday sentenced Radoslaw Czerkawski to three to five years in prison, one day after he was convicted on all four counts he was facing: larceny of property valued at over $250 from a person over age 60; two counts of larceny over $250; and attempting to commit a crime.

Jurors heard testimony over the course of five days and deliberated less than three hours.

Prosecutors had charged Czerkawski with stealing the $130,000 from Janina Stock, a Quincy resident. Stock died at home on Aug. 31, 2013; Puppy Doe, a young pit bull, was found badly injured that same day in a Whitwell Street park and was later euthanized.

At Tuesday's sentencing hearing, Assistant District Attorneys Greg Connor and Tracey Cusick had asked Fishman to impose a sentence of five to seven years in state prison, a significant upward departure from the sentencing guidelines range of one year to three years, based on several aggravating factors.

"We appreciate the service of this jury, and appreciate Judge Fishman taking the aggravating factors – including Mrs. Stock's infirmity and vulnerability – into consideration in passing a sentence above the guidelines," District Attorney Michael W. Morrissey said following the hearing. "We believe strongly that this case merited an upward departure from the guidelines."

Morrissey on Monday said Quincy Police Detectives Thomas Pepdjonovic, William Montieth and Chuck Landry, and State Police detectives attached to the Norfolk DA's Office, did excellent work putting together a difficult and complex case. He also credited his prosecutors for their presentation of the case to the jury.

"Janina Stock was over age 90 and in difficult health when Mr. Czerkawski was hired as her caretaker, based in part on their shared Polish heritage and language," Morrissey said Monday, following the conviction. "He abused that trust, eventually helping himself to an enormous share of her personal assets at the end of her life. I am very pleased that this diligent jury has reached this verdict."

Czerkawski was indicted separately on multiple counts of animal cruelty in the Puppy Doe case; he has pleaded not guilty to those charges. The next hearing on the still outstanding animal cruelty indictments against Czerkawski is Aug. 14 at 2 p.m.

City Fills More Than 9,000 Potholes

City workers and contractors filled more than 9,000 potholes over the last several months as part of an expanded program initiated by Mayor Thomas Koch that targeted roads forced to weather the historic Winter of 2015, officials said.

DPW crews answered more than 1,260 individual pothole requests from residents, and the expanded operation also allowed department engineers to divide the City into zones and identify and fix potholes methodically across the city. In total, more than 9.050 have been filled to date – compared to about 2,200 in 2014, DPW Commissioner Daniel Raymondi said.

The pothole blitz included a combination of DPW personnel and private contractors hired through a $200,000 appropriation written by the Koch administration and approved by the City Council in March. That money was taken from state-certified revenue surpluses, and did not affect the City's operating bottom line, officials said.

The spring and summer months have also seen DPW crews conduct major crosswalk and lane-striping programs, catch basin and stormwater water operations, and the second year of an expanded mosquito-control program with special tablets being dropped in catch basins, officials said.

FOUNDATION FOR A DRUG-FREE WORLD

Don't Let Quincy Be Harmed by Drugs

The World's Most Effective Drug Awareness Program is FREE For Schools, Police, Driver's Ed, Community Groups and YOU

DrugFreeWorld.org

1-888-NO-DRUGS

Learn the Truth About Drugs that Dealers Don't Want You to Know

Crack Pain Killers Marijuana Alcohol Heroin Crystal Meth Inhalants LSD

Sponsored by The Church of Scientology.
1515 Hancock St., 3rd Fl., Quincy Center. Stop by for a free booklet.

Find us on Facebook

Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV

Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, July 23
6:00pm: QCC Breakfast
7:00pm: Senior Olympics Highlights

Friday, July 24
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, July 25
12:00pm: QRD Musical Theatre Workshop
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Sunday, July 26
12:00pm: Lodge of Elks Scholarship Ceremony
7:00pm: QRD Dance Clinic

Monday, July 27
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:30pm: Lodge of Elks Scholarship Ceremony

Tuesday, July 28
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:30pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, July 29
9:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, July 23
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Asperger's Syndrome
7:00pm: Veterans Corner: Veterans Services

Friday, July 24
5:00pm: Currently in Quincy (replay)
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Empyema
7:00pm: Bring Beacon Hill to You: Substance Abuse
7:30pm: In the Know: Solarize Quincy

Saturday/Sunday, July 25/26
10:30am: FYI:QHD Empyema
12:00pm: Quincy Flag Day Parade & Ceremony
3:00pm: At the Library Concert: Genesis Chamber Singers
9:00pm: At Your Library: July Happenings

Monday, July 27
8:00pm: Quincy Distict Court: Law Day

Tuesday, July 28
8:00pm: At the Library Concert: Jeff Snow

Wednesday, July 29
6:00pm: In the Know: Solarize Quincy

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Festival Sept. 26 Features Two Dozen Food Trucks

Cont'd From Page 1

could top out at 30, which would make it the largest event Food Truck Festivals of America hosts this year.

Aigner said a number of food trucks have already confirmed they will be at the Quincy festival, barring any unforeseen circumstances. Those trucks will offer a variety of dishes. Among the specialties are seafood, including lobster rolls, oysters and shrimp; paninis; gourmet hot dogs; grilled cheese; ribs and other barbecued foods; Jamaican food; Asian fusion; French fare; pasta; and desserts such as whoopie pies and ice cream.

Also on tap for the festival is a beer garden, sponsored by Samuel Adams. Inside the beer garden, which will be located in the parking lot adjacent to Pageant Field, those over 21 will be allowed to purchase several craft beers offered by the brewery; the beer will be sold by the glass and in flights. The garden will also include the Samuel Adams Experience, which shows how several varieties of beer are brewed.

As of Monday, beer is the only alcoholic beverage that will be available for sale at the festival. Aigner said there have been requests to serve wine on site as well and that is something she plans to discuss with the company's vendors prior to the festival.

Polar Beverages is also sponsoring the event. A number of the company's products – seltzers, sodas and water – will be sold during the festival.

General admission tickets to the event cost $5; admission for children 12 and under is free. For $20, festivalgoers can purchase a VIP ticket, which provides access to the festival at 11 a.m., one hour before those with general admission tickets can get in as well as a free dessert and unlimited non-alcoholic beverages; only 500 VIP tickets are available. Food, beverages and other goods must be purchased separately.

Tickets can be purchased in advance online at http://ftfa.eventbrite.com.

Aigner said residents hoping to attend the festival should purchase them in advance to ensure they will be able to go. Because each food truck can only take so much food with it to the festival, organizers may have to limit the number of tickets sold, which could leave those who plan on purchasing tickets the day of the event empty handed.

"If you think about it, there is only so much room on a truck for food," Aigner said. "We don't want to have to turn Quincy residents away. We want to make sure people who did buy tickets in advance get food, no matter when they come."

As of Monday, some 6,000 people had RSVP'd to the festival on the event's Facebook page. Aigner said not all those people will purchase tickets, but she was pleased with the interest from the community.

"We've only just begun the marketing – we have a ways to go before September," Aigner said.

"It's clear," she later added, "the residents really like food trucks and they're looking for creative, good foods served in one place."

In addition to food and beverages, the festival will include a craft sale with 50-60 crafters. Face painting will be offered as well. Some entertainment, such as a radio station will be on hand. Despite that, the event is all about the food trucks.

"People are there to eat," Aigner said.

Organizers will begin setting up the festival around 7 a.m. on Sept. 26. They will also handle the cleanup after it ends.

"We leave it like we found it," Aigner said, "or in some cases better than we found it."

Aigner founded Food Truck Festivals of America in 2011. Previous festivals have been held throughout New England and as far away as New Mexico, South Carolina and at JetBlue Park in Fort Myers, Florida, where the Red Sox hold their spring training.

This year, Aigner wanted to hold an event on the South Shore and contacted officials in Quincy and several neighboring communities to gauge their interest. The Quincy Park Department, she said, was the most responsive and welcoming of those she talked to.

"We were looking for a slot on the South Shore and we outreached to several communities. When we called the Quincy Park Department, it was love at first phone call," Aigner said.

"The city of Quincy has been among the most welcoming, among the most responsive and among the most supportive of the all the communities we've dealt with."

The Board of License Commissioners on July 14 approved Food Truck Festival of America's request for a special use permit to host the Quincy Food Truck Festival. Aigner told the board organizers would work with the Fire Department and Health Department to ensure all trucks at the festival are up to code.

"As protocol for every festival we ask the local fire department and health department to do inspections before the trucks open," Aigner said. "[Truck owners] know we do that so they would be wasting a lot of money, a lot of time, a lot of staff time and a lot of food if they're not in good order."

September's food truck festival could be the first of many in the city, Aigner added, noting that Pageant Field provides more than enough room to expand the event in future years.

"We are fortunate in Quincy to be able to work in a venue that is expandable," she said. "Many of our venues are not, meaning they're a one-time event this year but they wouldn't be able to grow next year. We see Pageant Field and our partnership with the city as being something that we would like to turn into an annual event."

Aigner said the number of food trucks in New England has grown exponentially in the past several years. When she was organizing a 2011 event at Pine Hills in Plymouth, only eight food trucks could be found; the region now boasts 500 of them.

Many of the trucks at the Quincy Food Truck Festival are small businesses. Aigner said her company, which is based in Boston, doesn't invite food trucks from major chain restaurants to its events.

"It's not just a matter of having a great time. It's a matter of supporting small businesses because each one of these trucks, for the most part, is a small business. We don't invite major brands," Aigner said. "These are all really unique trucks with very creative chef-owners."

The company organizing the event has been working with the Quincy Park Department and the office of Mayor Thomas Koch to plan the festival.

"We're really excited about what this will do for our city, for our park system," Chris Cassani, the executive director of the Park Department, told the commissioners.

"We think this will be an absolutely terrific, family friendly event – a food event that's really going to shed greater light on our city. We're seeing broad appeal already from folks being interested in this. It's something the mayor supports very much."

The license board approved the request for a special permit in a unanimous vote.

"This is new and novel for us but we're never ones to shrink from trying something new," City Clerk Joseph Shea, the board's chairman, said.

"I already have my ticket so I will see you there," Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Jackson added.

Cassani said his department is working with the organizers to ensure the city is reimbursed for any costs incurred as a result of the festival.

"We're working with them to make sure our costs are recouped," he said after the license board meeting. "If there is a small donation to the Park Department, that would be great, but we're working on getting those costs recouped."

He added that the city would be willing to host the event again in the future, depending on how September's festival goes.

❑

In other action July 14, the licensing board also approved a special use permit for the Quincy August Moon Festival.

This festival, now in its 28th year, will be held Aug. 16 in the Ross Parking Lot with a rain date of Aug. 23. John Brothers, the executive director of Quincy Asian Resources Inc., said he expects 12,000 to 15,000 people from across the South Shore to attend. The August Moon Festival will include live entertainment, an international food court and food trucks, amusements and activities for those who attend.

"It's a lot of fun for everybody, whether you're Asian or non-Asian, young or old, it doesn't matter," Brothers said.

❑

The board approved a request by The Townshend, 1250 Hancock St., for an extension of premise for the restaurant's all alcohol permit, which will allow the restaurant to open an outdoor patio.

Restaurant owner Devin Adams said the 270-square-foot patio would seat 25 to 35 guests. The space will be set apart from the sidewalk with a semi-permanent barrier that can be removed when the patio is closed for the season.

Restaurants in the city can offer outdoor seating between Patriots Day in April and Columbus Day in October, according to Shea. No alcohol service is allowed outdoors after 11 p.m., though guests can remain in the patio until 1 a.m.

❑

The commissioners approved a request from Pham Management Inc., d/b/a Hancock Liquors, 229 Quincy Ave., for a transfer of the retail all alcohol license held by Quincy Liquor Store, d/b/a Hancock Liquors, and a pledge of license to Bank of Canton.

❑

Two requests were continued until the board's next meeting on Aug. 4.

The first was a request by C&W Group, Inc., d/b/a Top Pot Asian Cuisine Restaurant, 67 Billings Rd., for a CV all alcohol license. The applicant requested a continuance so a neighborhood meeting could be held on the proposal.

The second was a request for transfer and change of location of the CV all alcohol license restaurant license issued to Hong Kong Eatery, 1515 Hancock St., to Tiger Rose Group LLC, d/b/a Shabu J. Japanese Restaurant, 633 Hancock St. The hearing was continued because the Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a hearing on the restaurant at its July 28 meeting.

The Aug. 4 license board meeting will be held at the Coddington Building, 34 Coddington St., because of ongoing work at City Hall.

Drum And Bugle Competition July 30

Drum and bugle corps from across the country will face off against each other at the Catholic Youth Organization Nationals Tribute July 30 at Quincy's Veterans' Memorial Stadium.

Eight drum and bugle corps – including two from Boston and one from Rockland as well as one each from New Hampshire, Iowa, Wyoming, Oregon and California – will compete in the event.

The conpetition begins at 7:30 p.m. July 30; gates open at 6 p.m.

Tickets to the competition cost $20-$35 and can be purchased in advance online at dci.org. They will also be available the day of the competition beginning at 4 p.m.; the price increases by $5 at the gate.

The event is part of the Drum Corps International Tour, which concludes next month with a world championship competition at Lucas Oil Field in Indianapolis.

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century

by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.

TREATMENT FOR "LONG" TEETH

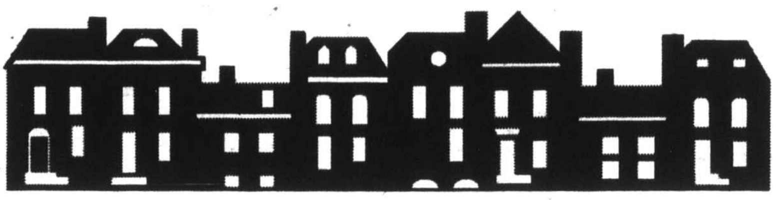
The term "long in the tooth" refers to age-related gum recession, which makes the crowns of older persons' teeth look longer. Fortunately, there is a simple cure for receding gums, which reduces tooth sensitivity, the incidence of tooth decay, the potential for underlying bone loss, and tooth loss. A "gum graft" involves harvesting tissue from the roof of the patient's mouth and stitching it to the gum tissue surrounding the tooth with the exposed root. While the discomfort produced on the roof of the mouth can be similar to the experience of a "pizza burn," it is temporary and can be managed with pain medication. In time, the transplanted gum tissue heals and provides the exposed root with necessary protection.

Your family members have different smiles-and different dental health problems. That's why our comprehensive dental service includes everything from preventative care to restorative teeth and gum treatments. We stress the importance of preventive dental care for the entire family. Call us now at 617 479-6220 and schedule an appointment. We're located at 44 Greenleaf Street. We offer the services of anesthesiology with a fully trained and qualified anesthesiologist.

P.S. Gum-contouring surgery reshapes and sculpts gum tissue that is too high on the teeth, which creates the appearance of a "gummy smile."

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com



Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions July 13 - July 17

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Federal National Mortgage Association	L&N Real Estate Investments LLC	$250,000.00	44 Kidder Street
John D. & Joan A. Hafner	Doris Montgomery	$385,000.00	35 Merrymount Road Unit A2
Daniel J. & Karin M. Ballantine	Li Chu & Christy Chan	$450,000.00	24 Perry Road
Dora Constantopoulos	Mirna P. Emannuelli & Pilar A. Rozell	$280,000.00	611 Sea Street
Hualin Li & Weiqi Tang	H & L Realty Investment LLC	$388,000.00	157 Fenno Street
Carlos I. & M. Pilar Gutierrez	Zhuo H. Chen & Yong J. Wang	$445,000.00	75 Atlantic Street
Kyson D. Vo	Robert Moore & Madeline Brodt	$474,000.00	232 Hollis Avenue
Kam M. , Yuet K. & Hattie C. Chou	Sarbjit Singh & Tejinder Kaur	$225,000.00	230 Willard Street Unit 405
Elsie M. & Donald B. Heath, Helen A. & Richard Kelley, Paul A. & Karen L. Zanolli	West Street Properties LLC	$450,000.00	258-260 West Street
Donna M. Sawyer & Paul J Principato & Catherine E. McNamara	Shao Y. Zheng	$320,000.00	79 Willow Avenue
John & Danuta Dellorfano	Stephen M. Cidlevich	$335,000.00	15 Campbell Street
Litty S. Lee & Kok M. Chong	Haiqing Shan & Shu Z. Gong	$426,000.00	112 Farrington Street
John J Sullivan Living Trust	Steven & Linda Tso	$651,000.00	39-41 Flynt Street
Mark Walsh	Margaret Hegenberger	$225,000.00	200 Cove Way Unit 520II
Daniel J. & Jennifer Csernica	Fu R. Zhao & Yao J. Li	$280,000.00	185 Quincy Shore Drive Unit A-23
Buckley Family Trust	Wei H. Zhu	$383,000.00	464 Beale Street
Patricia J. Ford	PL Properties III LLC	$600,000.00	74 Tirrell Street
Karin A. Dempsey	Gjergji & Viktora Plasari	$480,000.00	5-7 Rockview Road
Stanislav Levich	Harriet E. Barret	$235,000.00	77 Adams Street Unit 402
Maria C. & Teresa A. Vera	Brendan Campbell	$155,000.00	45 Oval Road Unit 48
Amy H. Cento	Kristen Harwin	$555,000.00	53 Neponset Road
Dockside Properties LLC	Gabriel Homes Company Inc.	$125,000.00	86 Centre Street
NQ-II LLC	Chang Z. & Mei Y. Lin	$474,900.00	39 Fayette Street Unit 202
Cuong C. Huynh	Chieu Q. Dao	$210,000.00	920 Southern Avenue
Thomas & Suzanne D. Corwin	Cynthia Hottleman	$262,000.00	61 Bay State Road
37-39 Davis Street Condominium Trust	Lindsey L. & Michael C. Jennings	$225,000.00	39 Davis Street Unit 39
Cleary Irrevocable Home Trust	Guangyong & Dechun Xue	$490,000.00	115 Phillips Street
Gloria Kim	Darrel A. D. Cunha	$385,110.00	87 Franklin Street Unit 302
Thuy N. T. Nguyen	Baotuan T. & Thanh N. T. Nguyen	$315,000.00	4 Ring Avenue
Ellen M. Murphy	Thomas P. & Catherine A. Folan	$250,000.00	62 South Street Unit 15
Eastern Gate Properties LLC	Michael J. Curry	$337,500.00	303 Copeland Street
Carolina Betancur	Cuong Truong & Ngoc-Diep To	$200,000.00	796 Willard Street Unit D-1
NQ-II LLC	Wei Guo & Mengqi Lin	$426,000.00	39 Fayette Street Unit 206
Helen T. Doyle	Briana Bergstrom & Brendan Cunniffe	$220,000.00	66 Lenox Street
Gaganjit & Sandeep K. Sandhu	Yee F. Ng	$352,000.00	25 West Howard Street Unit B2
38 Elliot Avenue Realty Trust	Alison M. Anderson	$326,000.00	38 Elliot Avenue
Kamchun Cheung	Kelly M. Brennan	$311,500.00	64 Willard Street Unit 406
Andrew J. & Jillian N. Mauriello	Ran Kim & Tina Dimonda	$437,700.00	18 Richie Road
William Cocoris 2005 Trust	Harold J. McDermott	$635,000.00	2001 Marina Drive Unit 602W

Ask Barbara Graceffa: Secretary Of The Interior

Why are subway tiles so popular as a kitchen backsplash? Debbie

Ah, those ubiquitous subway tiles! Since they were first introduced in New York City more than a century ago, they have remained popular for many reasons. These classic tiles are inexpensive, starting at about $2 per square foot. They are also stain-resistant, light reflective, easy to clean, very durable (although they can scratch), complement any décor, and come in loads of colors and finishes.

The traditional ones are 3 x 6 inch glazed, white ceramic. Yet today's finishes come in matte, speckled, faux stone, textured, bronzed, and crackle finishes. They are also made of glass, stone, and metal. Some even have rounded or beveled edges.

In my opinion, they are a great choice to save some money, especially if you do not want the backsplash to make a statement. They are also popular in bath and laundry rooms, too. Because ceramic is heat resistant, we are also seeing them as fireplace surrounds.

What can we place on top of our kitchen cabinets that do not reach to the ceiling? Justin and Tom

The space above your cabinets is a great place to show off a collection or to accessorize, in general. When it comes to collections, make sure the items are not too small and I suggest they are somehow related to cooking. Start a new or display your current teapot or teacup collection or vintage tins.

If you have a lot of cookbooks, buy some small easels and display them so you can see the covers. You could also place a basket collection or framed family photos or choose a color and start adding all items of the same color. If you prefer an eclectic feel, the sky's the limit and use lifts and ledges to vary heights of your objects.

Just remember, whatever you place up there will be out of reach for most and definitely needs to be dusted from time to time!

Do you have a decorating problem needing a professional solution? Send your questions to Secretary of the Interior at barbara@sec-interior.com.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

FLAVIN Insurance Agency
Complete Insurance Service Since 1925
Auto • Home • Condos • Apartments
Travel Trailers • Umbrellas • Flood • Business
Boats • Commercial Auto
Offering great rates and discounts
*Call or drop in for Premium Quote
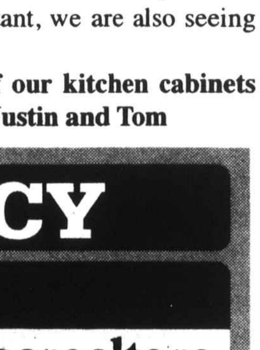
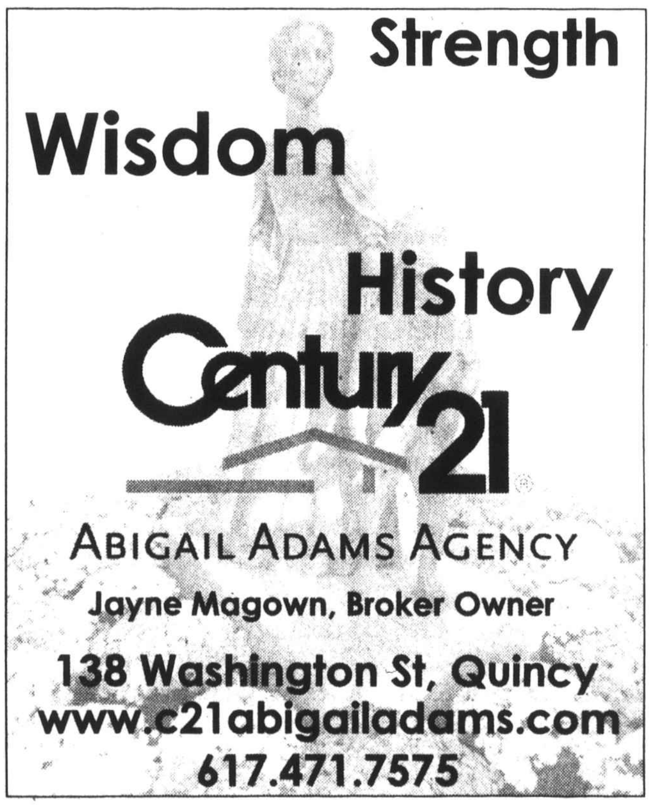
Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St. Quincy Center
Visit: www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

QUINCY
www.
stamosandstamosrealtors
.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Suantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400



RE/MAX Realty Pros
Above the Crowd!
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your
Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com



Strength
Wisdom
History
Century 21
ABIGAIL ADAMS AGENCY
Jayne Magown, Broker Owner
138 Washington St, Quincy
www.c21abigailadams.com
617.471.7575

If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate
222 Sea Street,
Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoor-RE.com

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

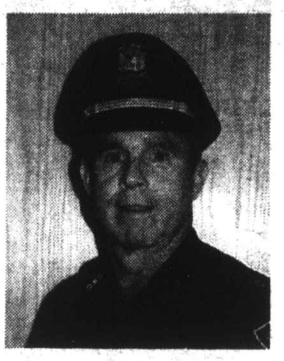
On Friday, July 9, 2015, at approximately 1:00 p.m., Officer Mike Brandolini, working in uniform in Quincy Square as part of the Anti Crime Unit, was conducting surveillance in the area of the rear parking lot of the Presidential Pub located at 29 Temple Street. The Officer received numerous complaints of open drug dealing and drinking of alcoholic beverages in that lot. The Quincy Police had responded to 5 calls in the last few weeks of drug deals at this location.

While watching the area, Officer Brandolini observed a male and a female exit the Presidential Pub and proceed to the side of the parking lot. The female sat on a cement wall and opened her pocketbook while the male stood next to her. From about 25 feet away with an unobstructed view, Officer Brandolini observed the female remove several twenty dollar bills from her pocket book. The bills had a new crisp appearance to them. She handed the bills to the male, who then placed them into his left trouser pocket. She held out her left hand, palm facing up and the male dropped something into her hand. Through training and experience, the Officer believed that he just witnessed a drug transaction.

Officer Brandolini telephoned ACU 2 (Anti-Crime Unit) Officer Steve DesRoche and informed him of the event. Officer DesRoche responded to the area while Officer Brandolini made his move to detain the two people.

At this time, the male was walking away towards Washington Street by the Post Office, so Officer Brandolini approached the female who remained behind. The female was asked for identification and asked why she had given money to the male she was with. She denied any knowledge of what the Officer was referring to and denied giving anyone any money. The Officer searched her pocket book but no narcotics were found, so she was sent on her way.

Officers Brandolini and DesRoche teamed up and located the male as he exited the Home Ice Bar at 35 Washington Street. It had been approximately 5 minutes since the drug transaction took place. The Officers detained the male and searched him, finding $157.00 on him, much of this in $20.00 bills. In another pocket, the Officers found a small bag containing 4 blue colored pills identified as Class B Oxycodone 30mg. The male said, "I found the pills lying on the ground." The male, a 59 year old Dorchester resident, was placed under arrest and charged with, "Possession of Class B with Intent to Distribute." Nice Work!



LT. DAN MINTON

❑

ANOTHER JOB WELL DONE: On Monday, July 13, 2015, at approximately 5:35 p.m., Officers Eugene Smith and Colleen Paccioretti were dispatched to the rear parking lot of 99 Brackett Street on a report of a man hitting a woman.

Upon arrival, Officer Smith located 2 men in the lot who identified themselves as the callers/witnesses. They stated that they had been riding their bicycles in the parking lot when they heard yelling so they drove over to the back left corner of the parking lot. There they saw a male wearing a white t shirt, standing over a woman punching her in the face repeatedly. They could hear the women yelling, "No! No! Stop!" followed by the male yelling, "No, here's one more!" as he punched her in the face again. At this time, the suspect spotted the two bicyclists and yelled at them, "Get out of here! Mind your business!" They called 911.

Officer Smith located a female wrapped in blankets lying in the bushes. The woman identified herself and confirmed that she had been beaten. She had bruises around her eyes and slight bleeding inside her right eye. She told the Officers that her boyfriend was upset with her but she did not know why. She stated that he was verbally abusive which led to him punching her in the face with a closed fist multiple times. Once she fell to the ground, he kicked her repeatedly, took $25.00 from her and left.

When asked if this was the first time he had assaulted her, she replied, "No, he beats me all the time." The name and description of the suspect was given out to all Officers. Officer Roger White, assigned to the Community Policing Unit, found the suspect in the area of the Sea Monkey Marina on the Southern Artery. The suspect, a 47 year old homeless man, was placed under arrest and charged with, "Assault and Battery on a household member, Assault and Battery with a Dangerous Weapon/shod foot and Unarmed Robbery." Brewster EMS transported the victim to the Quincy Medical Center for treatment and evaluation. Officer Smith explained to the victim her rights under the domestic violence laws but she declined all services. Nice Work!

❑

SENIORS SCAM: A pill that makes your brain 15 years younger!

With today's hectic lifestyle, stress and aging, people often get concerned that they are becoming more forgetful. Recently, a barrage of advertisement enticed many people to an offer that a pill, approved by scientists, statistics and satisfied customers, could reverse 10 to 15 years of memory loss. According to an FTC lawsuit, Brain Research Labs, KeyView Labs, MedHealth Direct, and others misled people by saying their product, Procera AVH, was a clinically proven solution for memory loss and for decline in the ability to learn, concentrate and make everyday decisions. Procera ads assured consumers this "breakthrough nutritional formula" would "help reverse up to 15 years of mental decline," and improve concentration, focus and mood. The companies allegedly used ads to play on the fears of older consumers - warning that, by age 50, people lose over half their brainpower. The FTC says the ads prompted older consumers to imagine lives in which they couldn't handle their own financial matters, couldn't be trusted to buy anything, had to move into a nursing home to "live with strangers," and other unnerving scenarios. Many consumers bought into the claims — paying anywhere from $40 to $80 for a 3-4 week supply. However, the FTC says the companies didn't back their claims with solid science. The settlement ordered the companies to cease and to back future advertising claims with good science.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
July 10 - 17
ARRESTS: 28
TOTAL CALLS: 1,127
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1

FRIDAY, JULY 10

LARCENY, 1:49 p.m., 195 Burgin Pkwy. Caller says a large package was supposed to be delivered, checked with post office, was advised to call police.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 2:54 p.m., Randlett St. Caller just arrived home.

LARCENY, 4:29 p.m., Palmer St. Xbox was taken.

ARMED ROBBERY, 6:26 p.m., 400 block Washington St. Attempted carjacking. Caller said she saw a male party wearing a gray shirt and hat smash the window of a minivan in a lot behind Jimmy's Tire and steal a purse. Male party fled southbound on Hancock in a white motor vehicle, unknown make and model. Male described as white with dark hair, orange shirt, brown shorts, 5'9" average build, between the ages of 21 and 21. In the company of a white female, blonde hair in a pony tail, white tank top, blue jean shorts. EMS Clear. Patient refusal.

SATURDAY, JULY 11

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 1:31 a.m., 500 block Hancock St. Caller said his neighbor burst into his apartment and threatened and hit him. Happened more than an hour ago. Complaint for A&B and threats.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 8:05 a.m., Martensen St. Chevy van.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 2:48 p.m., Franklin St. Would like to speak to officer regarding car locks.

SUNDAY, JULY 12

LARCENY, 1:22 p.m., Larry Pl. Claims party stole wagon.

LARCENY, 2:56 p.m., Stop & Shop,

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 3:38 p.m., 249 Washington St. Party reports she woke up and found her windshield smashed. Believes the damaged occurred between midnight and 7 a.m.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:46 p.m., 215 Quincy Ave. Tires were slashed. Tires not slashed. May have been tampered with. Parties able to fill them.

MONDAY, JULY 13

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:03 a.m., LM Heavy Civil Construction, 100 Hancock St.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 9:08 a.m., low numbers Billings Rd. States two males came into his room, assaulted him, took his Xbox. One male is also resident. Two Hispanic males left the area. One with purple shirt, one with orange shirt. May be in area of Glover Ave. Complaint for B&E daytime put person in fear, A&B dangerous weapon (shod foot) and A&B.

LARCENY, 1:04 p.m., Edison Pk. Weed whacker.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:29 p.m., Spear St. Landlord noticed damage with B&E in the past.

LARCENY, 7:46 p.m., Pet Supply Plus, 625 Southern Art. Money.

TUESDAY, JULY 7

LARCENY, 2:14 p.m., Dundee St. Ring.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:30 p.m., 40 Willard St. Caller came out and rear window of vehicle was broken. Nothing taken from the car.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:20 p.m., 400 block Granite St. Caller states a male who lives on street was punching the hood of her vehicle. Also has a witness there. Minor damage and person was given a case number for insurance.

LARCENY, 10:50 p.m., CVS, 42 Beale St. Credit card. Party placed in custody.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 15

LARCENY, 10:02 a.m., Lee Kennedy Co., 122 Quincy Shore Dr. Computer taken July 10.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 12:54 p.m., Woodward Ave. Follow up. Complaint for A&B. Suspect from previous incident taken out of this call and put in that one.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 3:24 p.m., Miller Stile Rd. On porch. One under arrest for B&E.

ARMED ROBBERY, 10:04 p.m., Walker St. Claims items taken from room he rents. Black male, 18 years old, 6 feet tall, gray baseball style shirt, red Hyundai Accent, left towards Neponset Bridge. Took MacBook, iPad, phone. Now stating he was robbed at gunpoint. Caller called back and stated "I forgot to mention I was robbed at gunpoint so you might want to speed it up."

FRIDAY, JULY 17

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 1:12 a.m., Yesterday's, 536 Hancock St. White male in his 20s, gray shirt, blue shorts seen smashing window and entering building. Nothing appears missing, unsure is suspect actually entered building. Wallet on ground outside indicating owner male party 1. Debit card inside wallet indicating owner is male party 2. Unable to locate party 1; party 2 went to QMC for an evaluation, appeared to be under influence. No proof either involved at this time.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 4:09 a.m., Quincy Medical Center, 114 Whitwell St. Uncontrollable patient. One party coming into station for protective custody; medically cleared by QMC. Complaint for A&B.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 95 Martensen St.

❑

CAR BREAKS: 12 Hancock St.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: 536 Washington St., Miller Stile Rd. (arrest), Spear St., 100 Hancock St., Randlett St.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us – Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

O'Donnell Emphasizes Need To File Mortgage Discharges

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell is emphasizing the importance of filing a mortgage discharge in a timely manner after the mortgage has been paid off.

"During our office hours, a frequently asked question by homeowners is do they have clear title to their property," O'Donnell said. "This is determined by accessing our online records and verifying if all mortgages associated with the property have been discharged.

"When a mortgage is paid off, a mortgage discharge document needs to be recorded with the Registry of Deeds to clear a homeowner's property title. A discharge is a document (typically one page) issued by the lender, usually with a title such as 'Discharge of Mortgage' or 'Satisfaction of Mortgage.'"

O'Donnell said in many instances discharges are often filed directly by banks or settlement attorneys with the Registry as part of a property sale or as a result of a refinancing transaction. In other cases, the mortgage discharge is sent to the property owner who is then responsible for making sure the document is recorded at the Registry.

"Whether or not a discharge is recorded by the lending institution or the individual property owner, it is ultimately the responsibility of the property owner to check and make sure that all necessary documents have been recorded at the Registry of Deeds," O'Donnell said. He also noted there have been cases where no discharge has been recorded against a long paid off mortgage. Unfortunately, many of the lending institutions that provided funds for these mortgages in the first place are no longer in existence, in most cases these financial entities have merged with another lending institution.

If a property owner needs to retrieve an original discharge of a mortgage and is unclear which lending institution is now responsible for providing the document, an option is to contact the Massachusetts Division of Banks at 1-800-495-2265. This government agency can assist the consumer in tracking down contact information for the lending institution that is responsible for the mortgage.

When recording a discharge, the original document is required. The Registry of Deeds does not accept photo copies or faxed copies of documents. The filing fee, set by state statute, is $76.

"After paying off all the mortgages on their property, homeowners want to be assured that they have clear title to their property, especially if they are contemplating selling it," O'Donnell said. "Being diligent and aware of what is required will go a long way in giving the homeowner peace of mind."

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds is staffed with customer service representatives who can be reached Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 781-461-6101. Representatives have been trained in researching documents and are well versed on the subject of mortgage discharges and what, if necessary, needs to be done to clear title to a property.

NORTH QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL Air Force Junior ROTC program was recently honored with the Silve Star Community Service with Excellence Award by the Department of the Air Force Air University. Cadets shown here (front row from left): Brendan Chow, Luu Pham, Miochael T. Truong, Emily Huang, Allison Wong, Gina Zheng and Frank Chin. Standing (from left) left to right: Jonathan Liang, Leo Vivutonayucun, Brian Zou, Sarah Tsan, Alexander DeJesus, Wilson Chen, Cory Chiu, Dan Rielly, and MSgt John D. DeLorenzo Jr. USAF (Ret.). Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

NQHS AFJROTC Students Earn Award

The North Quincy High School Air Force Junior ROTC program was recently honored with the Silver Star Community Service with Excellence Award by the Department of the Air Force Air University.

Only five percent - or 45 out of 889 Air Force programs nationwide – earn the award. The cadets and students of North Quincy High were recognized for their outstanding support of the school and the community. Collectively the cadets/students contributed more than 12,000 hours of service this past school year.

Also honored as the top cadets for the school year are Group Commander Marty Vo, Deputy Commander Ken Zou, Director of Operations Emily Chin, Director of Operations Support Michael T. Truong and Senior Enlisted Advisor Alan Chen.

The North Quincy High School Air Force Junior ROTC is directed by MSgt. John DeLorenzo, Aerospace Instructor.

Quincycles Safe Cycling Skills Workshop Saturday

Are you interested in riding your bike but need a boost in confidence?

Do you want to use the bike racks at the library but can't see yourself riding there?

Quincycles wants to help.

On Saturday, July 25 at 2 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., veteran cyclists Irene Lutts and Kevin Gillespie will offer insights and tips that can help you stay safe and have more fun when you ride. This workshop will also include some skills practice outside so be sure to bring your bike.

Since this program includes riding practice, which will be conducted outdoors, Saturday, Aug. 1 is the backup date in case of inclement weather on July 25.

Quincycles is a group of Quincy residents advocating for bicycle infrastructure on our city streets and promoting responsible bicycling as a means of transportation, recreation, and exercise in Quincy.

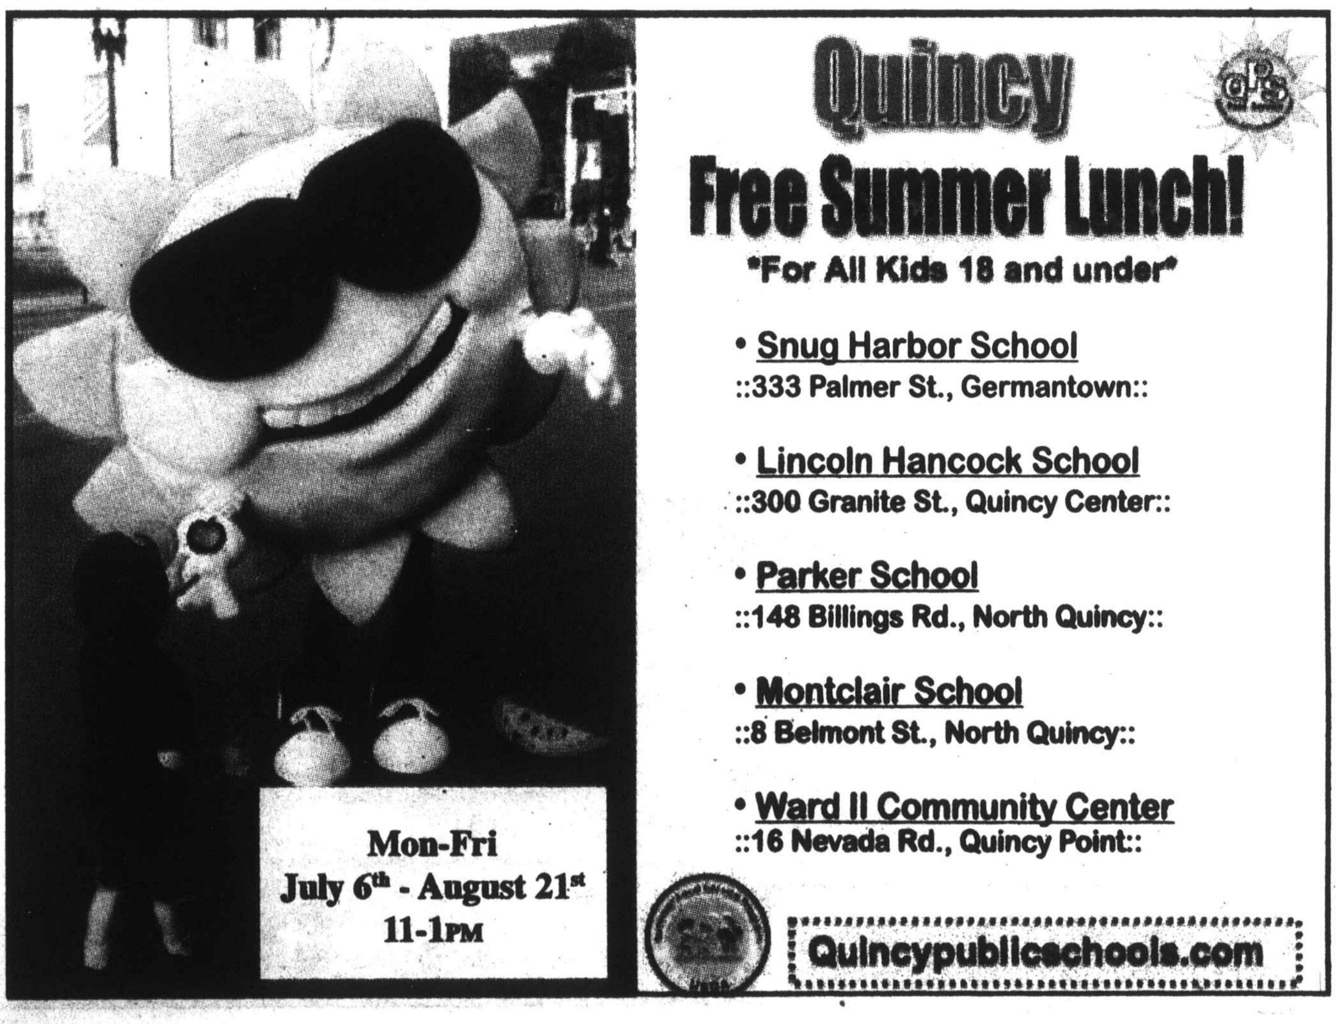
More information about the group can be found on their website at www.Quincycles.org or by email quincycles@gmail.com.

Two On St. Joseph's Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia.

They are:

Thomas Hobin, majoring in accounting; and Matthew Poles, majoring in family business and entrepreneurship.



Quincy
Free Summer Lunch!
"For All Kids 18 and under"

- Snug Harbor School
::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincypublicschools.com

GENNARO'S EATERY

Bundle Meals $35.99
Take-Out Only • Feeds 4-5

Pick One Entree
Chicken, Ziti & Broccoli
Chicken Marsala
Chicken Saltimbocca
Chicken Cacciatore
Chicken Parmigiana
Chicken Piccata
Chicken Gennaro

Pick One Pasta
Penne or Linguini

Pick One Salad
Garden or Caesar

Includes
Loaf of Bread

Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials 617-499-6929
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

Morrisette Jr. Legion Bound For State Tourney

Captures District 6 Crown

By JOE REARDON

The District 6 American Junior Legion Tournament belonged to Quincy Post 294 and now the team heads west this weekend for what promises to be an enormously competitive five-day state tourney in Greenfield.

Quincy is hoping to be the last team standing in Greenfield. After rolling through the regular season to a first-place finish at 16-2, Quincy won three games in a row to capture the District 6 tourney on Sunday with a 2-1 win over defending champion Braintree.

John MacDonald went the distance, striking out eight, and also scored the winning run when a throw down to second base sailed high and MacDonald came all the away around to break the 1-1 tie.

That win came on the heels of a 6-5 win on Saturday night against Cohasset. Owen Lynch was strong on the mound over the first five innings and Ryan Cox came in and picked up the win with two innings of clutch work.

This one didn't come easy for Post 294, but proved to be one of the most satisfying victories of the season. Trailing by a run in the seventh, Matt Fox came up big with a two-run walk-off hit to center field to end it, setting up the matchup against the tough Braintree squad.

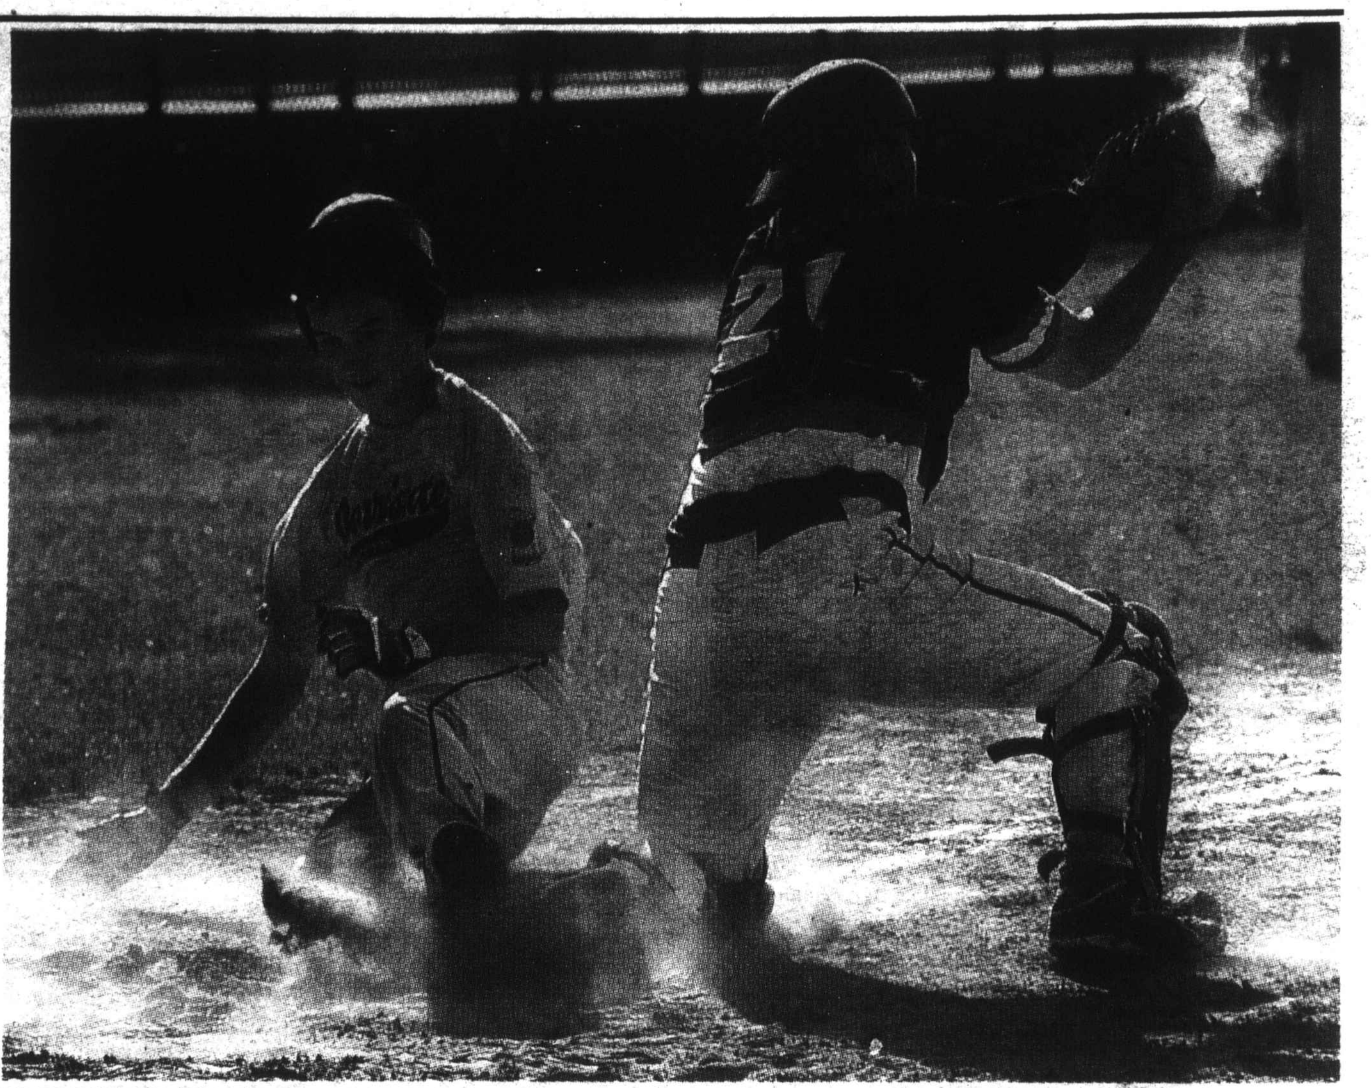
There aren't many games during a junior legion season that you can chalk up as not meaning much in the standings, but Quincy Post 294's 5-1 loss to Franklin on Monday evening at sweltering Adam's Field was one of those rare ocassions.

In this outing, Post 294 only wanted to get through the contest against Franklin injury free while at the same time giving the reserves a chance to get some playing time in. And in the spirit of the exhibition ocassion, Quincy threw out seven different pitchers on the hill.

Quincy coach Kyle Ainsley only wanted to get his team through the Franklin game unscathed and put some different players on the field. Ainsley is confident that Post 294 has a boatload of momentum as the team heads to the state tourney.

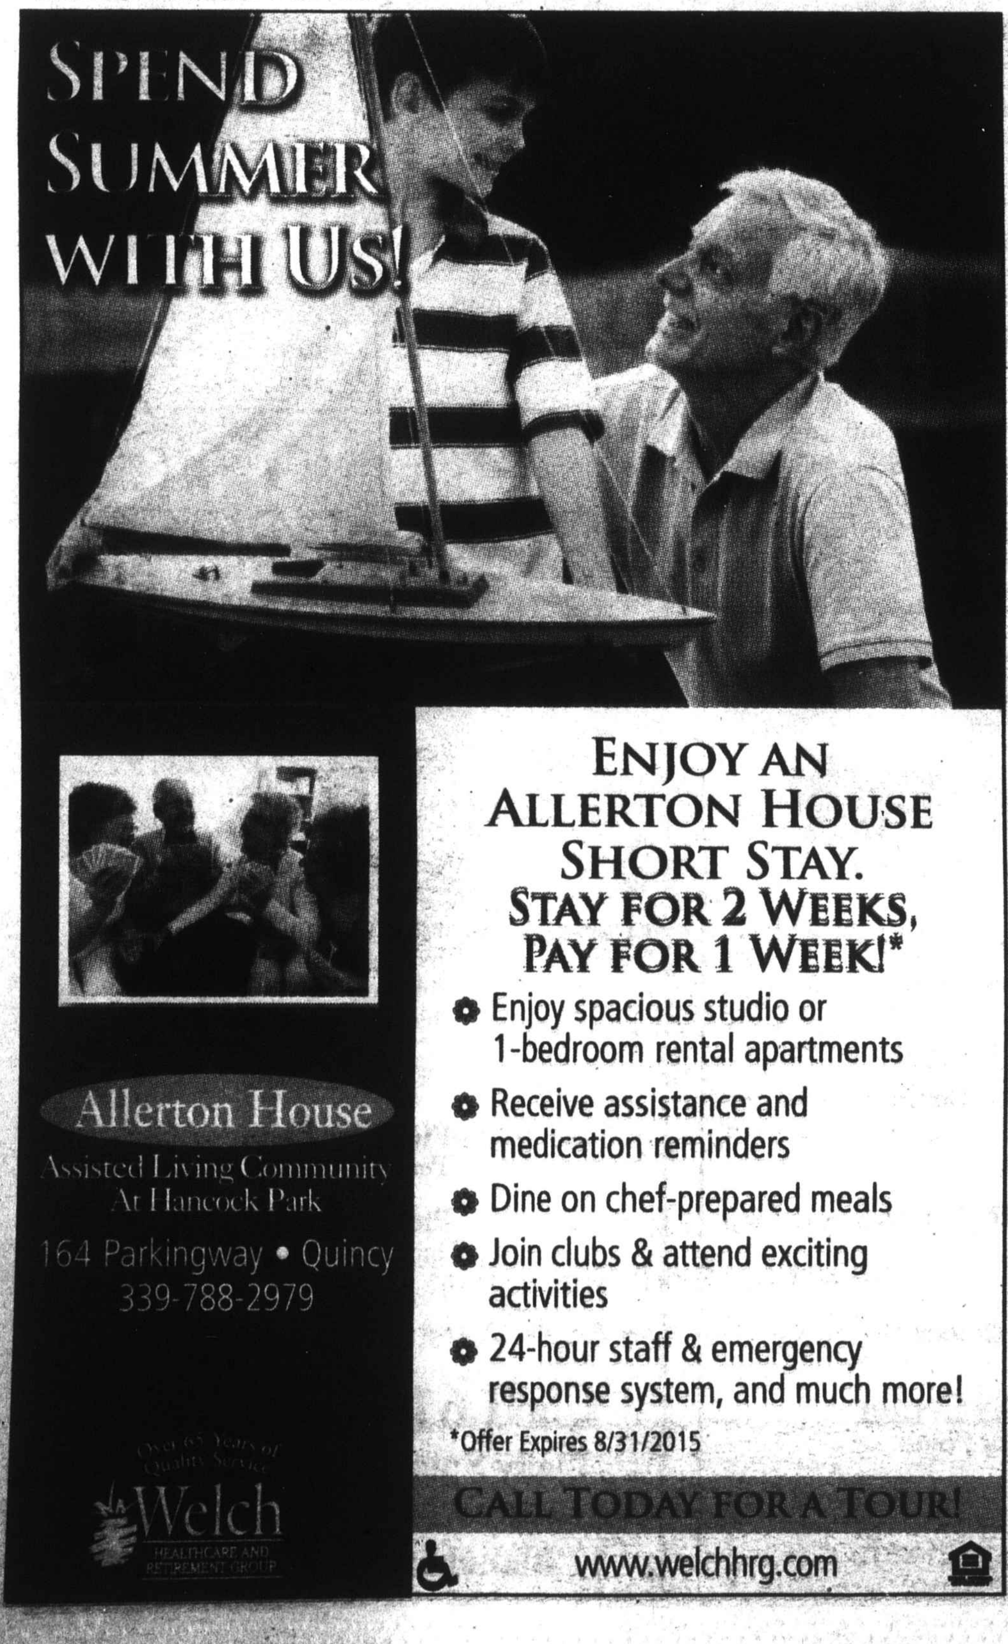
"I wouldn't consider (tonight) a scrimmage," said Ainsley. "We have qualified for the state tournament and were 3-0 entering this game. Right now we're just playing for seed. We're guaranteed a bid. We wanted to rotate in some of the guys who haven't played as much and pitch some of the guys who haven't pitched as much. We wanted to rest some guys and get our starting pitching in a situation where we're strong starting the tournament on Saturday. We beat Braintree 2-1 and we beat them 2-1 during the season also. They're the defending state champions and that was mostly the same team back together. That was a big win for us yesterday. We're very strong. We have all-around strength. We hit one through nine and we run four, five guys out there pitching. We've got strong defense behind the plate

Cont'd On Page 20



ERIK BARBER slides home safely ahead of the throw against Franklin Monday at Adams Field. The Morrisette Junior Legion team captured the District 6 crown and heads to the state tournament in Greenfield this weekend.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth



SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

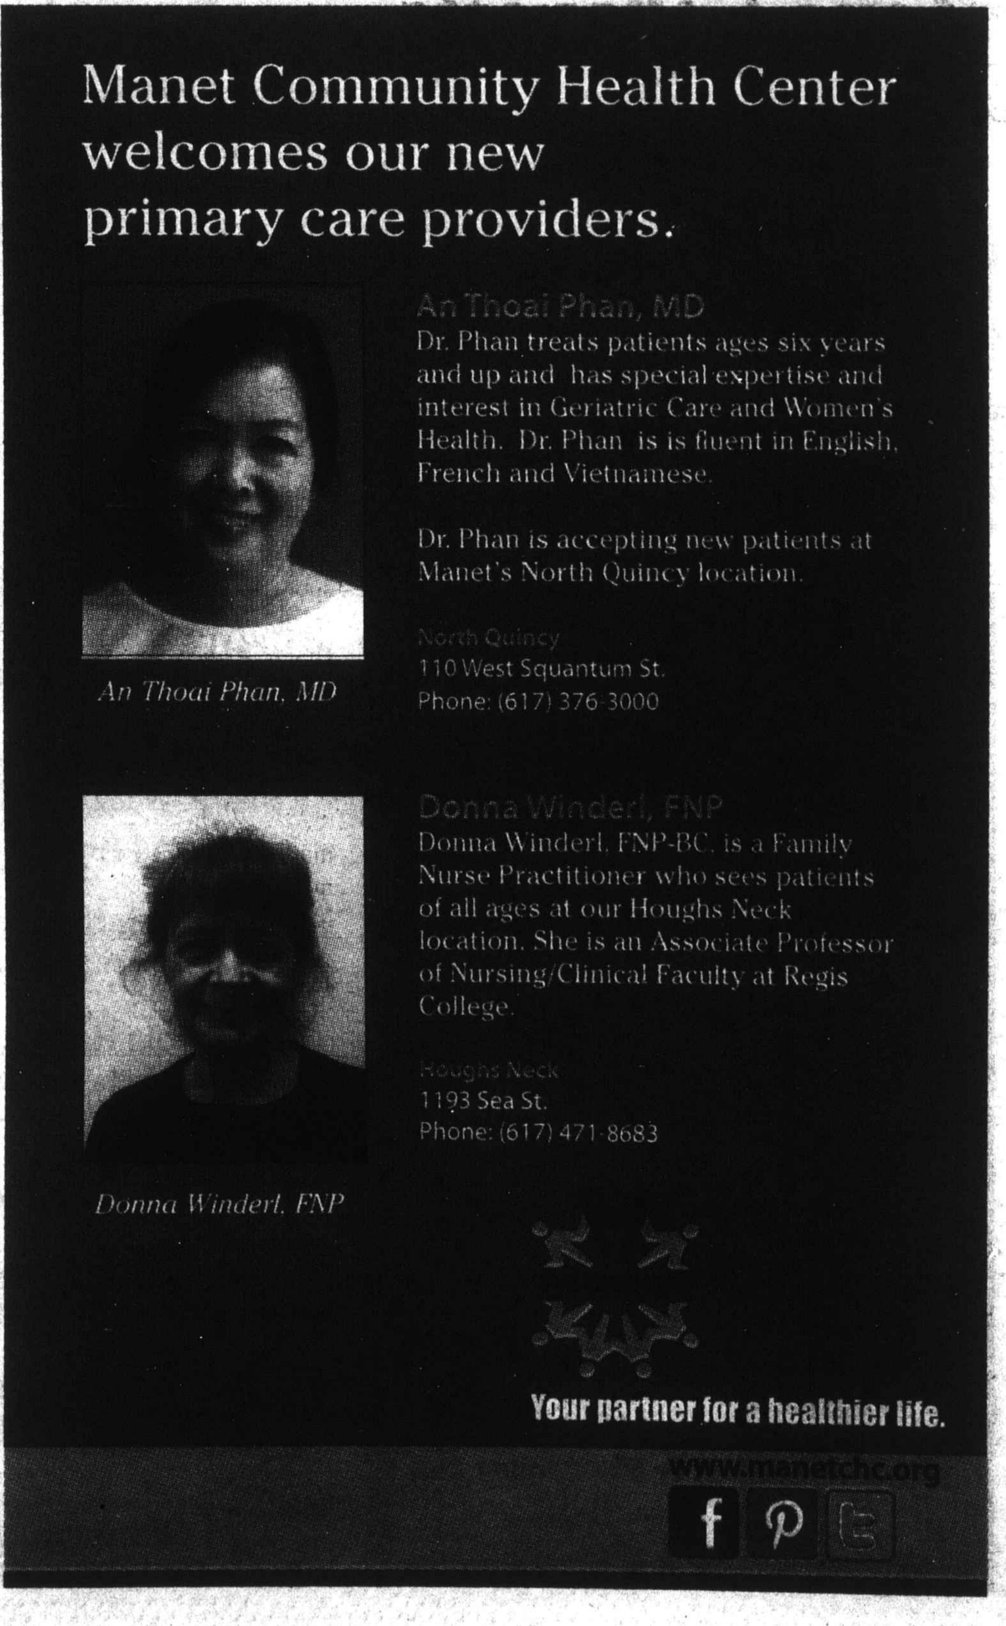
*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP



Manet Community Health Center welcomes our new primary care providers.

An Thoai Phan, MD
Dr. Phan treats patients ages six years and up and has special expertise and interest in Geriatric Care and Women's Health. Dr. Phan is is fluent in English, French and Vietnamese.

Dr. Phan is accepting new patients at Manet's North Quincy location.

North Quincy
110 West Squantum St.
Phone: (617) 376-3000

An Thoai Phan, MD

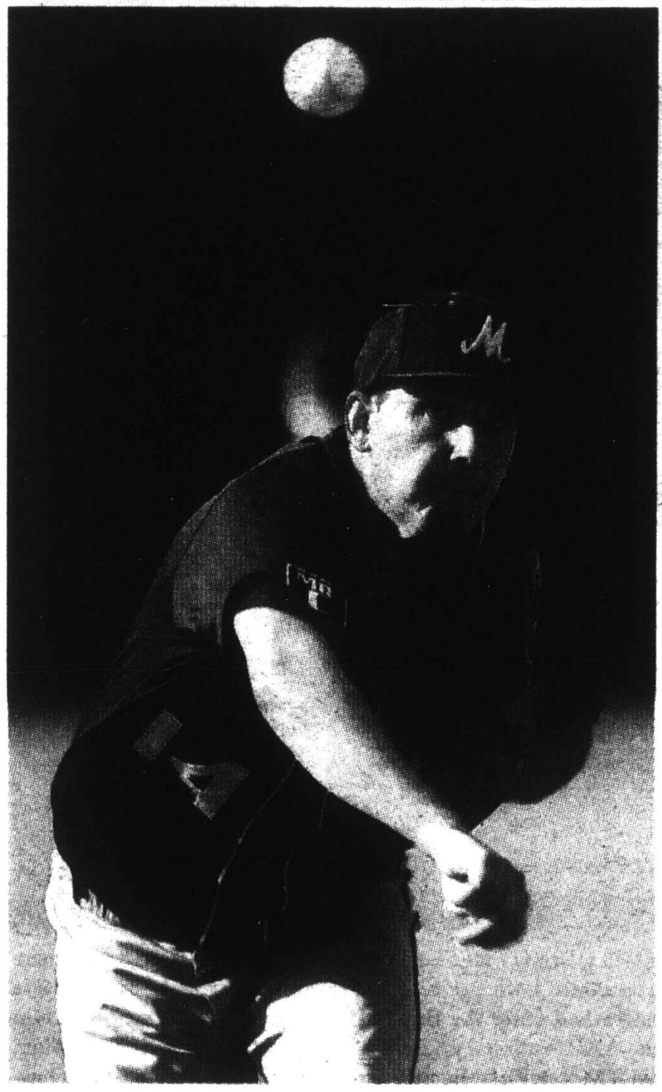
Donna Winderl, FNP
Donna Winderl, FNP-BC, is a Family Nurse Practitioner who sees patients of all ages at our Houghs Neck location. She is an Associate Professor of Nursing/Clinical Faculty at Regis College.

Houghs Neck
1193 Sea St.
Phone: (617) 471-8683

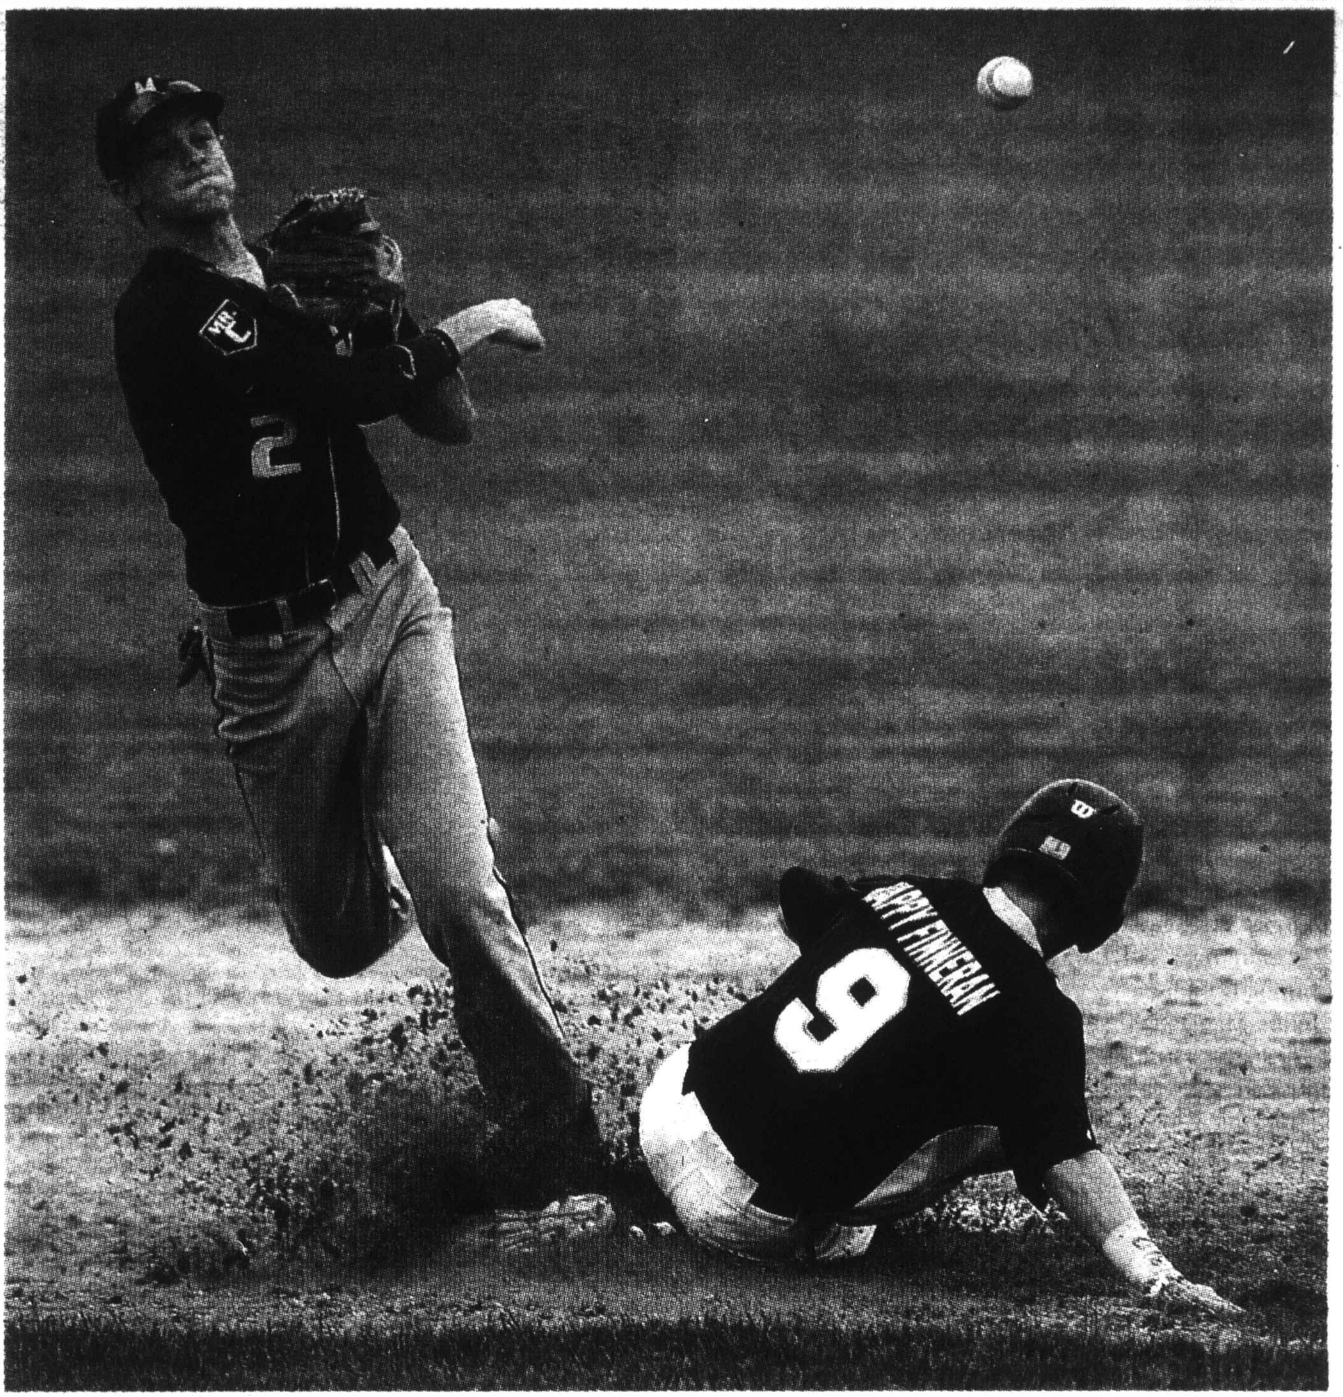
Donna Winderl, FNP

Your partner for a healthier life.

www.manetchc.org



GREG PAULO scattered seven hits and fanned six Norwood batters in 4 2/3 innings but Morrisette bowed 4-2 in the first game of the Zone 6 Playoffs last Friday night at Adams Field. Morrisette was shut out by Franklin 4-0 Saturday and was eliminated from post-season play.



MORRISETTE SECOND BASEMAN Eddie Riley forces a Norwood runner at second base and throws to first base in the opening game of the Zone 6 Playoffs. Morrisette bowed to Norwood 4-2 and fell to Franklin 4-0 and was eliminated from post-season play over the weekend.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Morrisette Eliminated From Zone 6 Playoffs

Bows To Norwood, Franklin

By BILL GRIFFIN

The playoffs are different.

All the teams are good. There are no cupcakes. The pitching is excellent. Hits and runs and rallies are earned, not given. Games are decided by the slightest shade of difference, by a line drive caught or a bloop hit which falls in safely. And finally, always, there is the luck of the draw.

Morrisette had a tough draw. In the opener, Post 294 faced Norwood who started slowly while waiting for players from its state championship high school team to get ready for legion ball. By the end of the season, Norwood was hot. They won three games in the final two days to make the tourney and had ace lefty Sean Mellen, fresh and fit from 12 games of rest to start the season, at his best.

In the second game, there was Franklin who at 19-2 was the top seed with the best record in Zone 6. Morristte was 17-3-1 in the regular season. The two were a combined 36-5-1, and they met in the losers bracket. There are no easy rides.

Mellen threw a four-hitter, fanned seven and was tough with men on base to lift Norwood past Morrisette, 4-2 Friday night. Franklin scored the only runs of the game in a four-run fifth and rode the complete-game pitching of Colby Lewis to a 4-0 decision which eliminated Morrisette from the Zone 6 playoffs Saturday evening at Adams Field.

"That's the way the playoffs go. That's why they call it a game of inches. A bounce of the ball or a key play can decide a game," said Morrisette coach Steve Maze.

The issue was the hitting. The pitching was good. The defense was exceptional. Morrisette only had two runs and nine hits in two games. It was especially frustrating against Mellen and Norwood because Post 294 worked nine walks and had a glut of chances to score, but could not produce the elusive big hit.

"You have to hit the ball and score runs to win in the playoffs, and we weren't able to do that," said Maze. "This is the second year in a row we've scored two runs in two playoff games. You need more offense to advance."

Morrisettte played terrific defense. Troy Shepherd at third started a double play by handling a wicked bounce on a smoking ground ball. He also charged three tappers for outs off strong, accurate throws. Eddie Riley at second made a fine tag and throw for a 4-3 double play against Norwood. Catcher Aaron Clancy threw out two base-stealers and blocked everything in the dirt for two games.

Clancy and left-fielder Nick Valicenti combined to make the play of the game against Franklin. With two out and runners on first and second in the third, Nick Burgos looped a single to left. Valicenti put a great charge on it and fired a spot-on throw to the plate. It skidded in ankle-high. Clancy made a terrific scoop and simultaneous tag for the out. It was special stuff.

"Our defense has been the backbone of our team all year. When our pitchers made mistakes, our defense made up for them," said Maze.

In the opener, Norwood scored three in the third. Morrisette chipped away on an RBI single by Andrew Jaehnig to cut it to 3-1 in the home third. In the fourth, Valicenti walked and eventually scored on a wild pitch to make it 3-2, but Norwod added an insurance run in the fifth to put it away.

Mellen threw hard. He signed as a scholarship player with Northeastern as a junior and was clocked at 87 MPH during the high school season. Morrisette battled him. They forced the nine walks and made

Cont'd On Page 19

SolarPerks

Hey Massachusetts!

It's About Time

Solar Savings out of Thin Air

Get your free Apple Watch

Reduce your electric bill with Roofless Solar. Save money and earn your perks today.

1. Sign up for SolarPerks
2. Refer two friends who sign up (PerkPals)
3. Receive your free Apple Watch

Clean Energy Collective

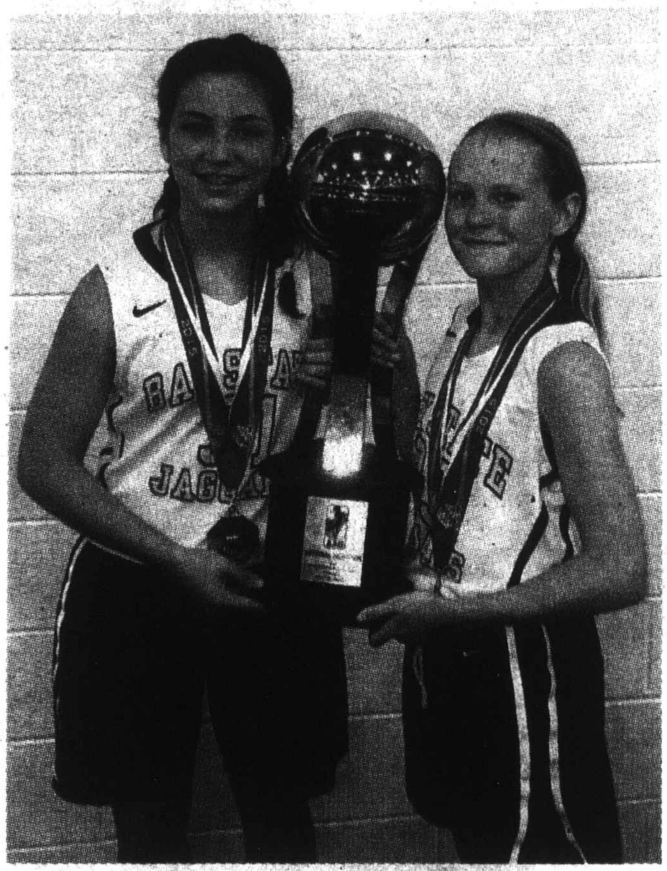
Call us today: 857-301-7407

Or sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com

QUINCY'S OWN U13 AAU baseball team played and won all three playoff teams and beat Providence in the New England championships recently. Players and coaches celebrating their title with the championship trophy. Front row (laying down left to right) are Cameron Munchbach and David Ryan. Kneeling (from left) Logan Crowley, Bobby Foley, Coleman Flaherty, Brandon Sullivan, Sean Goudey and Zach Hatfield. Standing: Coach Kyle Ainsley, Neil Sanders, Brendan Donovan, Doug Concannon Jr., Coach Doug Concannon, Michael Fonte, Tommy Le, coach Sean Goudey and Aidan Murphy. Missing from photo: Coach Bob Sullivan and retiring Coach Mark Donovan who has coached the boys for the past five years.

Photo Courtesy Sara Regan Levine

Quincy Girls AAU Champs



TWO QUINCY RESIDENTS – Fallon Hobin (left) and Kenzie Matulonis, both age 12 – are members of the AAU 6th grade basketball team the Bay State Jaguars who went 7-0 to win the AAU National Championship held recently in Hampton, VA.The Bay State Jaguars team is made up of competitive basketball players from around the state. Fallon and Kenzie will be entering into the seventh grade at Central Middle School in the fall.

Photo Courtesy Kathryn Hobin

Quincy 14-Year-Olds In Babe Ruth State Finals

Edge Lynn In Semifinals

By BILL GRIFFIN

The night had everything. The atmosphere was electric. There was the pressure of a state semifinal showdown against an unbeaten team. There was clutch pitching, aggressive base-running, a remarkable defensive play, just enough hitting, and a victory Quincy's 14-year-old Babe Ruth team will not soon forget.

Connor McDonald pitched 2 2/3 innings of shutout relief and hustled out an infield hit to drive home the winning run. Center fielder J.P. Kelley made a catch and throw which probably saved the game as Quincy edged Lynn, 4-3 in the semifinals of the State Babe Ruth Tournament before a large, loud crowd in Lynn Monday night.

Quincy played Marblehead at Adams Field Tuesday night for the state crown.

"I've been to the national regionals and Monday was one of the most exciting atmospheres I've ever been in," said coach Mark Jaehnig. "There must have been 200 people there and they were loud. Lynn was unbeaten in the tournament. For the kids to come through under pressure in a hostile environment against a real good team shows what kind of a team they are."

Begin with the fifth inning. Quincy is down, 3-2. The bases are loaded and there is one out. The game could get away right here. McDonald enters in relief. Kelley ranges into right center to catch a fly ball. His momentum is taking him away from the plate. It will not be an easy throw home.

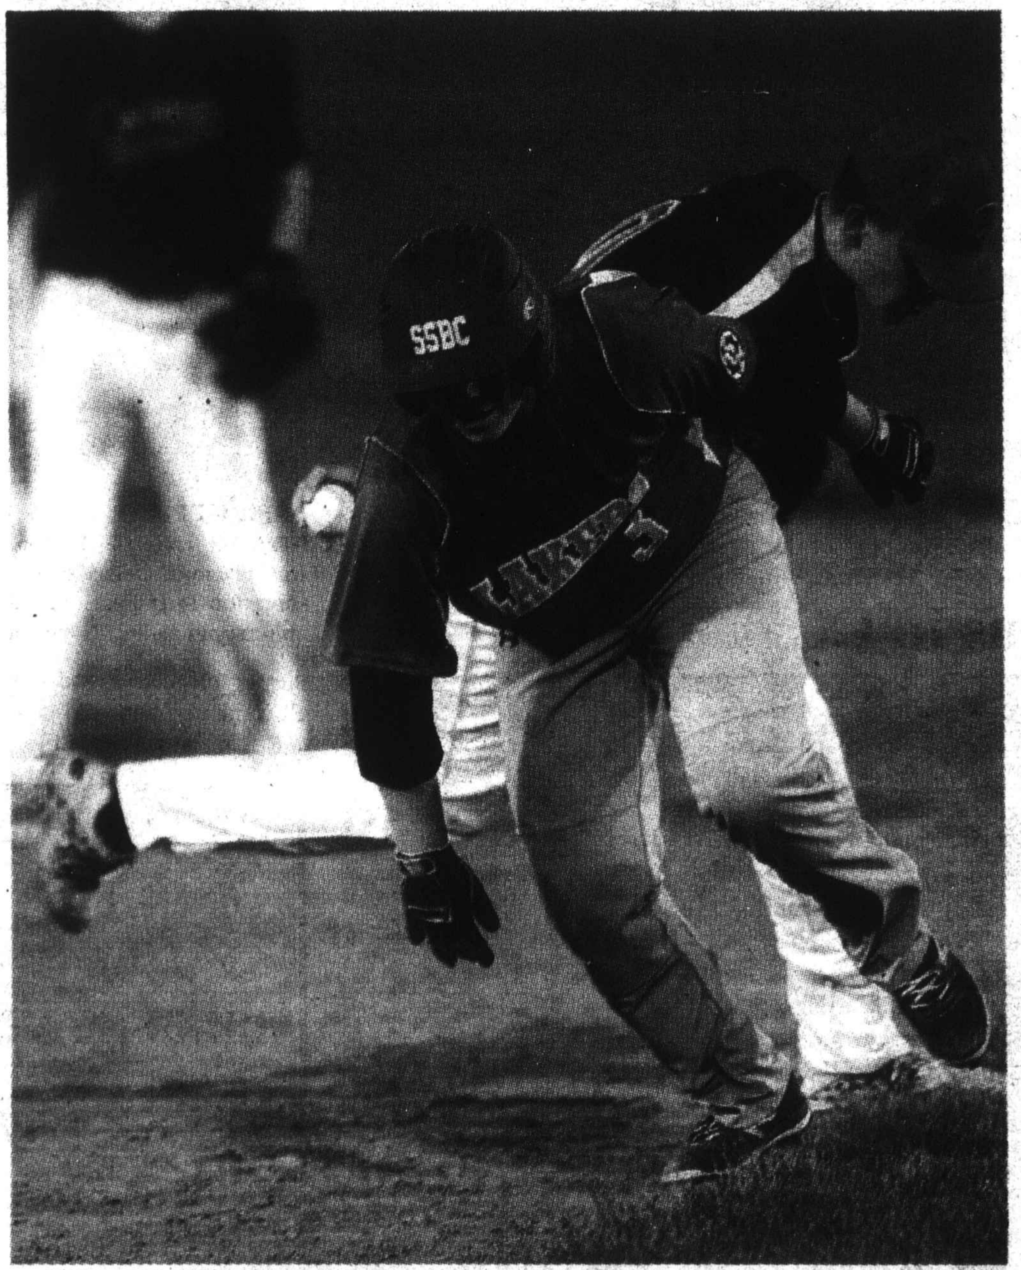
Lynn's runner tags from third, Kelley fires a one-hop strike to home to nail the runner on a close play. Instead of a big inning, the rally dies and Lynn goes into the final two innings with just a one-run lead.

"It was an unbelievable play. I didn't think he had a chance. I was yelling to cut off the ball, but thankfully it went through on a one-hop strike," said Jaehnig.

Quincy pushed across a pair of runs in the sixth for a 4-3 lead which was all McDonald would need. Colin McGrath reached second on an error. Owen Carberry bunted for a hit and stole second. One run scored on a ground ball to tie the game. With two out, McDonald slapped a grounder to short and beat the throw to score Carberry with the winning run.

"We stole and ran all night. It was a great effort by Connor. If he's out, the

Cont'd On Page 20



QUINCY'S COLIN MCGRATH tags out a Silver Lake baserunner caught in a rundown.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

OWEN CARBERRY gave up just three hits and no earned runs in 6 1/3 innings of work in Quincy's 6-5 comeback win over Silver Lake in the tournament opener.

Morrisette Eliminated From Playoffs

Cont'd From Page 17

him throw a staggering 151 pitches in seven innings. They stranded nine, including leaving the bases loaded in the seventh.

"I thought we had good at-bats. We were patient and we made him throw pitches. We had chances, but we couldn't get the hit when we needed it." said Maze.

Post 294 had a fine chance in the second. With runners on first and second and two out, Robbie Munroe ripped a shot up the middle. It struck Mellen directly on the glove. He never saw it. If it is a foot either side, it is a single, a run and maybe a rally.

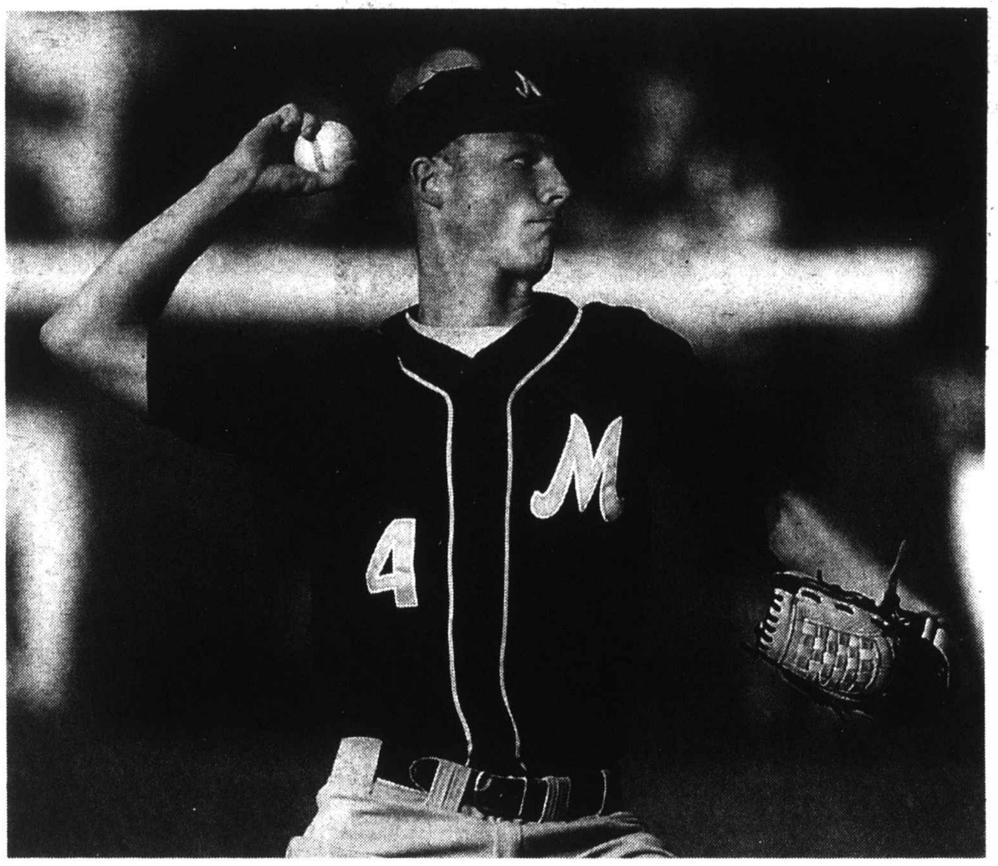
"It is what it is. Sometimes you hit rockets and they catch them," said Maze.

Greg Paulo went the first 4 2/3, giving seven hits and striking out six. Except for the third, he was in control. Dave Suslowicz finished with 2 1/3 innings of shutout relief.

"Suslowicz was good. He threw strikes and mixed up his pitches," said Maze.

Franklin put up all the game's offense with its four-run fifth in the second game. Munroe had a single and a double for Morrisette while Shepherd had two singles. Shepherd had three hits, two line-drive outs in two playoff games and emerged over the second half of the season as special baseball player.

Morrisette had a chance in the first to take an early lead. Shepherd and Pat Keohane singled. With two out, Valicenti hit a rope directly at the second baseman for the third out. Another line drive found another glove. After that, Lewis gave Morrisette little.



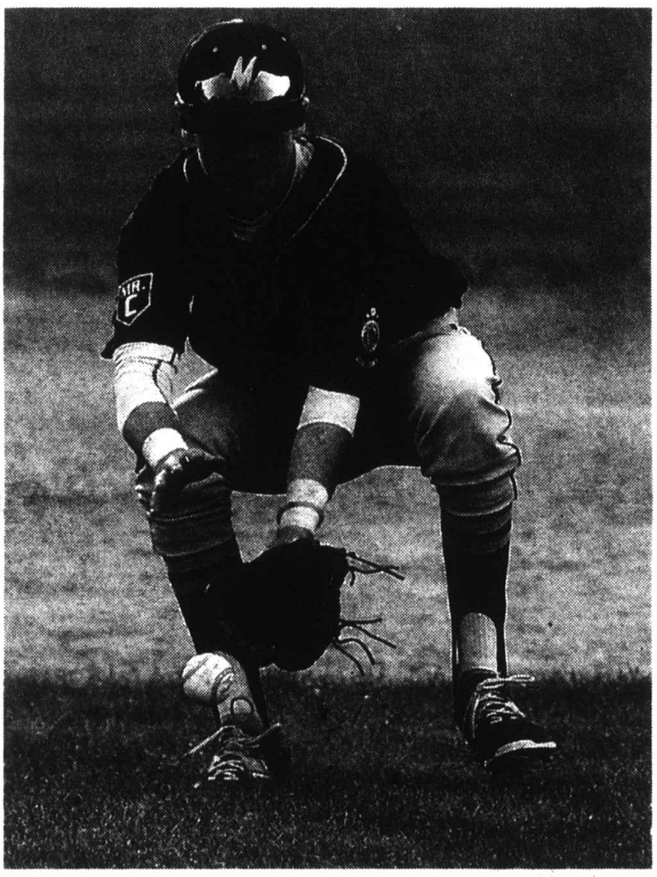
DAVE SUSLOWICZ tossed 2 1/3 innings of shutout relief in game one of the playoffs but Morrisette bowed to Norwood, 4-2. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

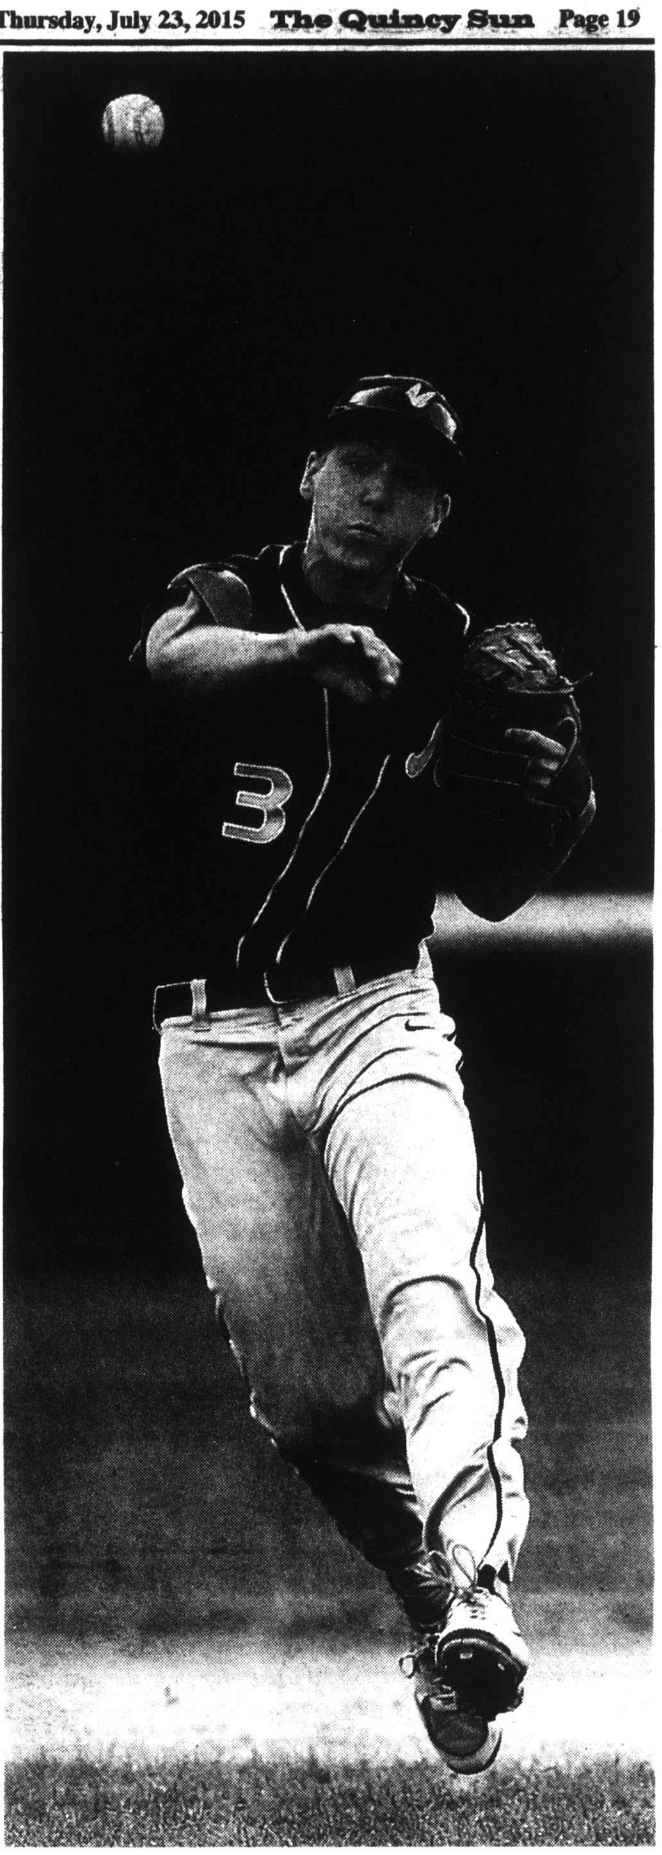
It is the second straight year Morrisette has gone out in two games in the playoffs after a wonderful regular season. Last year, they were 18-2. It is a bittersweet feeling.

"You don't want to dwell just on the playoffs and forget what a good season we had," said Maze. "Still, I think I'd rather sneak in the playoffs at 10-10 and advance rather than have a good season end like this."

Maze spoke of the group he has coached for the past two years.

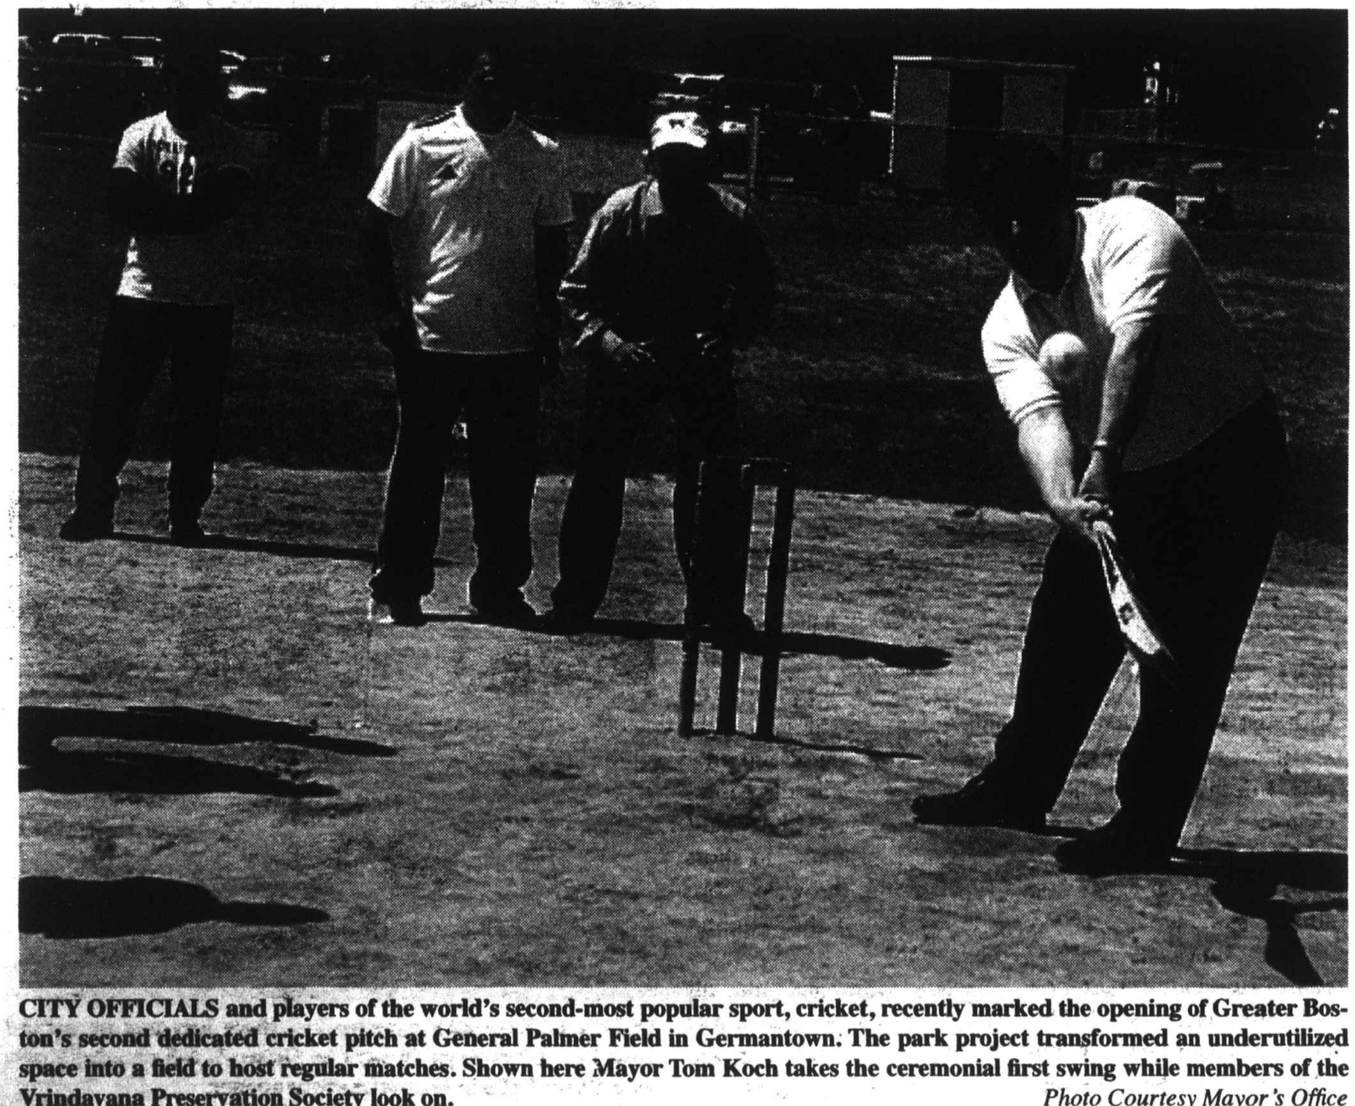
"As a whole, they are as good a group as I've ever coached," said Maze. "They're just good kids. They have the right attitude, they're respectful, and they all came to practice to work and get better. I enjoyed them and I'll miss coaching them dearly."





MORRISETTE PLAYED EXCEPTIONAL defense against Norwood. Here third baseman Troy Shepherd (left) fields a slow grounder before throwing the runner out at first. Above shortstop Tyler Beach makes a fine running throw to first for another out against Norwood.

Cricket Pitch Opens In Germantown



CITY OFFICIALS and players of the world's second-most popular sport, cricket, recently marked the opening of Greater Boston's second dedicated cricket pitch at General Palmer Field in Germantown. The park project transformed an underutilized space into a field to host regular matches. Shown here Mayor Tom Koch takes the ceremonial first swing while members of the Vrindavana Preservation Society look on. Photo Courtesy Mayor's Office

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

RUNNING INTO TROUBLE?

Patellofemoral pain syndrome ("runner's knee") is a painful condition that often results from knee overuse. It involves the patella (kneecap), which is attached to the quadriceps and the shin bone and also fits into grooves in the end of the thigh bone (femur). With the repeated flexing of the knee that comes with running or walking, joggers and runners may experience irritation on the inside surface of the kneecap, which causes pain. In addition, patellofemoral pain syndrome may result from misalignment of the hips, legs, knees, or feet. Whether due to wide hips, underdeveloped thigh muscles, being knock-kneed, having subluxations, or over-pronation, knee pain can result. These problems can be diagnosed by chiropractic gait analysis.

Runner's knee is a common ailment among runners, but it can also strike others. A continuing schedule of regular chiropractic checkups can help detect, correct, and maintain optimum spinal and nervous system function. Chiropractic care can help anyone become healthier. Call FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC at 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. We are able to adjust patients sitting, standing, or lying down to accommodate any level of discomfort.

P.S. Without proper treatment that addresses the underlying cause(s) and not just the symptoms, patellofemoral pain syndrome can become recurrent and chronic.

www.freedmanchiro.com

Quincy 14-Year-Olds In Babe Ruth State Finals

Cont'd From Page 18

inning is over and the score is tied," said Jaehnig.

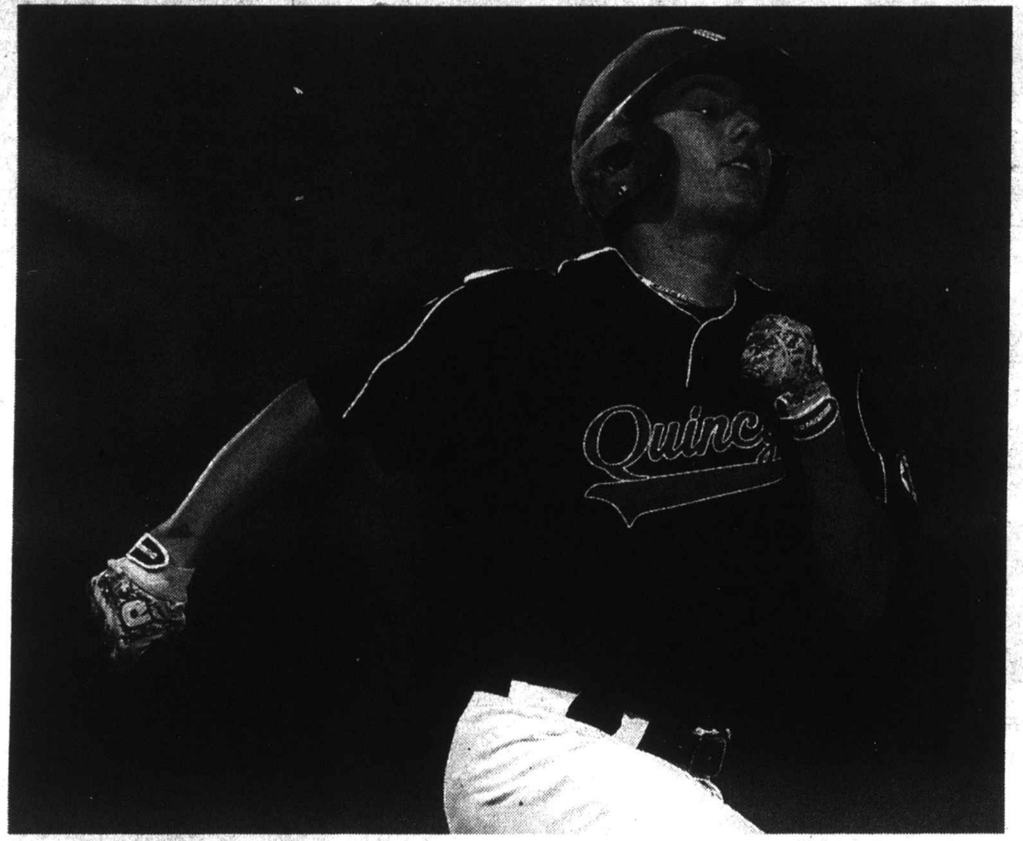
McDonald struck out four of the final six batters and left the potential tying run stranded on base in the seventh inning.

Quincy started the scoring in the first when Vicker DiGravio singled, stole second, moved to third on a fielder's choice, and came home on an error. After Lynn went up, 2-1, Kelley tied it 2-2 with a single.

Lynn took a 3-2 lead in the fifth and was threatening for a lot more when McDonald and Kelley stepped to center stage and turned around the game for Quincy.

Quincy advanced as the No. 2 seed out of the South Sectionals which were played at Adams Field last weekend.

Quincy compiled a 3-1 record. They rallied for two runs in the seventh and four in the eighth for a thrilling 6-5 decision over Silver Lake in the tournament opener. Quincy then rolled past Tri Town, 10-4 behind a three-run homer from Curtis Frazier and rode the two-hit, five-strikeout pitching of Tommy Kelly to a 12-1 victory over Gateway.



CURTIS FRAZIER hit a three-run homer in Quincy's 10-4 win over Tri-Town in the 14-Year-Old Babe Ruth State Tournament held at Adams Field. Quincy played in the tournament championship Tuesday evening after The Sun went to press. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Norwood defeated Quincy, 5-3 Monday morning.

"This was a busy weekend with a lot of baseball," said Jaehnig. "Some of these kids played in the junior league and the junior legion as well. They held up well and played quality baseball."

The first game against Silver Lake was one of the best in the tournament. Despite excellent pitching from Carberry (6 1/3 innings, three hits, no earned runs), Quincy trailed, 2-0 entering the seventh and final inning.

Twice, Quincy was down to its last strike. Twice, they answered with a big hit. DiGravio led with a single and came around on a stolen base, a wild pitch and a ground ball. Quincy was within, 2-1 with two outs, but had nobody on base. Jack Free faced a two-strike count. One more strike and the game is over. He delivered a single.

Pinch-runner Aidan O'Sullivan stole second. McDonald went to two strikes. Four times, he stayed alive by fouling off pitches. He then drilled a single to left center which tied the game.

Martin McCormack, Curtis Frazier and DiGravio had singles in a four-run eighth which put Quincy up, 6-2. It's over, right? Not so much. Silver Lake answered with three in the bottom half to draw within, 6-5 before Frazier struck out the final batter to end it.

Baseball seldom gets better than this.

"I think I can feel my heart start to beat again," smiled Jaehnig. "To have kids this age show the composure they did, especially when we were down to our final strike, is something special to see."

Quincy rallied again in the Tri Town win. After falling behind, 2-0, they put up one in the third, three in the fifth and and six in the sixth. McGrath had a pair of hits. Frazier picked up the win on the mound in relief of Patrick Nazzaro who threw well. Free finished it in relief with 1-2-3 seventh.

In the win over Gateway, Carberry got down two squeeze bunts for runs. Frazier had three hits. McGrath added a two-run double while McCormack chipped in with a hit and two walks.

Quincy also turned a 5-4-3 double play and a 1-6-3 DP. These crisp plays showed well the quality of defense Quincy played throughout the tournament. After the first two innings of the Silver Lake game, Quincy was rock solid. McCormack at shortstop was especially impressive.

Quincy led, 3-2 after four in the Norwood game. Norwood scored two in the fifth and one in the sixth for the win.

Quincy had more than its share of chances. They stranded nine runners through the first four innings Frazier led the offense with three hits and two RBI.

"We had good opportunities. The kids didn't leave the park until 11:00 Sunday night after the Gateway game, so they have been a little tired. They played a lot of baseball," said Jaehnig Nazzaro had an RBI single while McDonald doubled and scored a run. Quincy scored its three runs in the fourth and came close to more. With two outs and runners on second and third, McGrath lined a shot to left, but a shoestring catch ended the threat.

Morrisette Jr. Legion Bound For State Tourney

Cont'd From Page 16

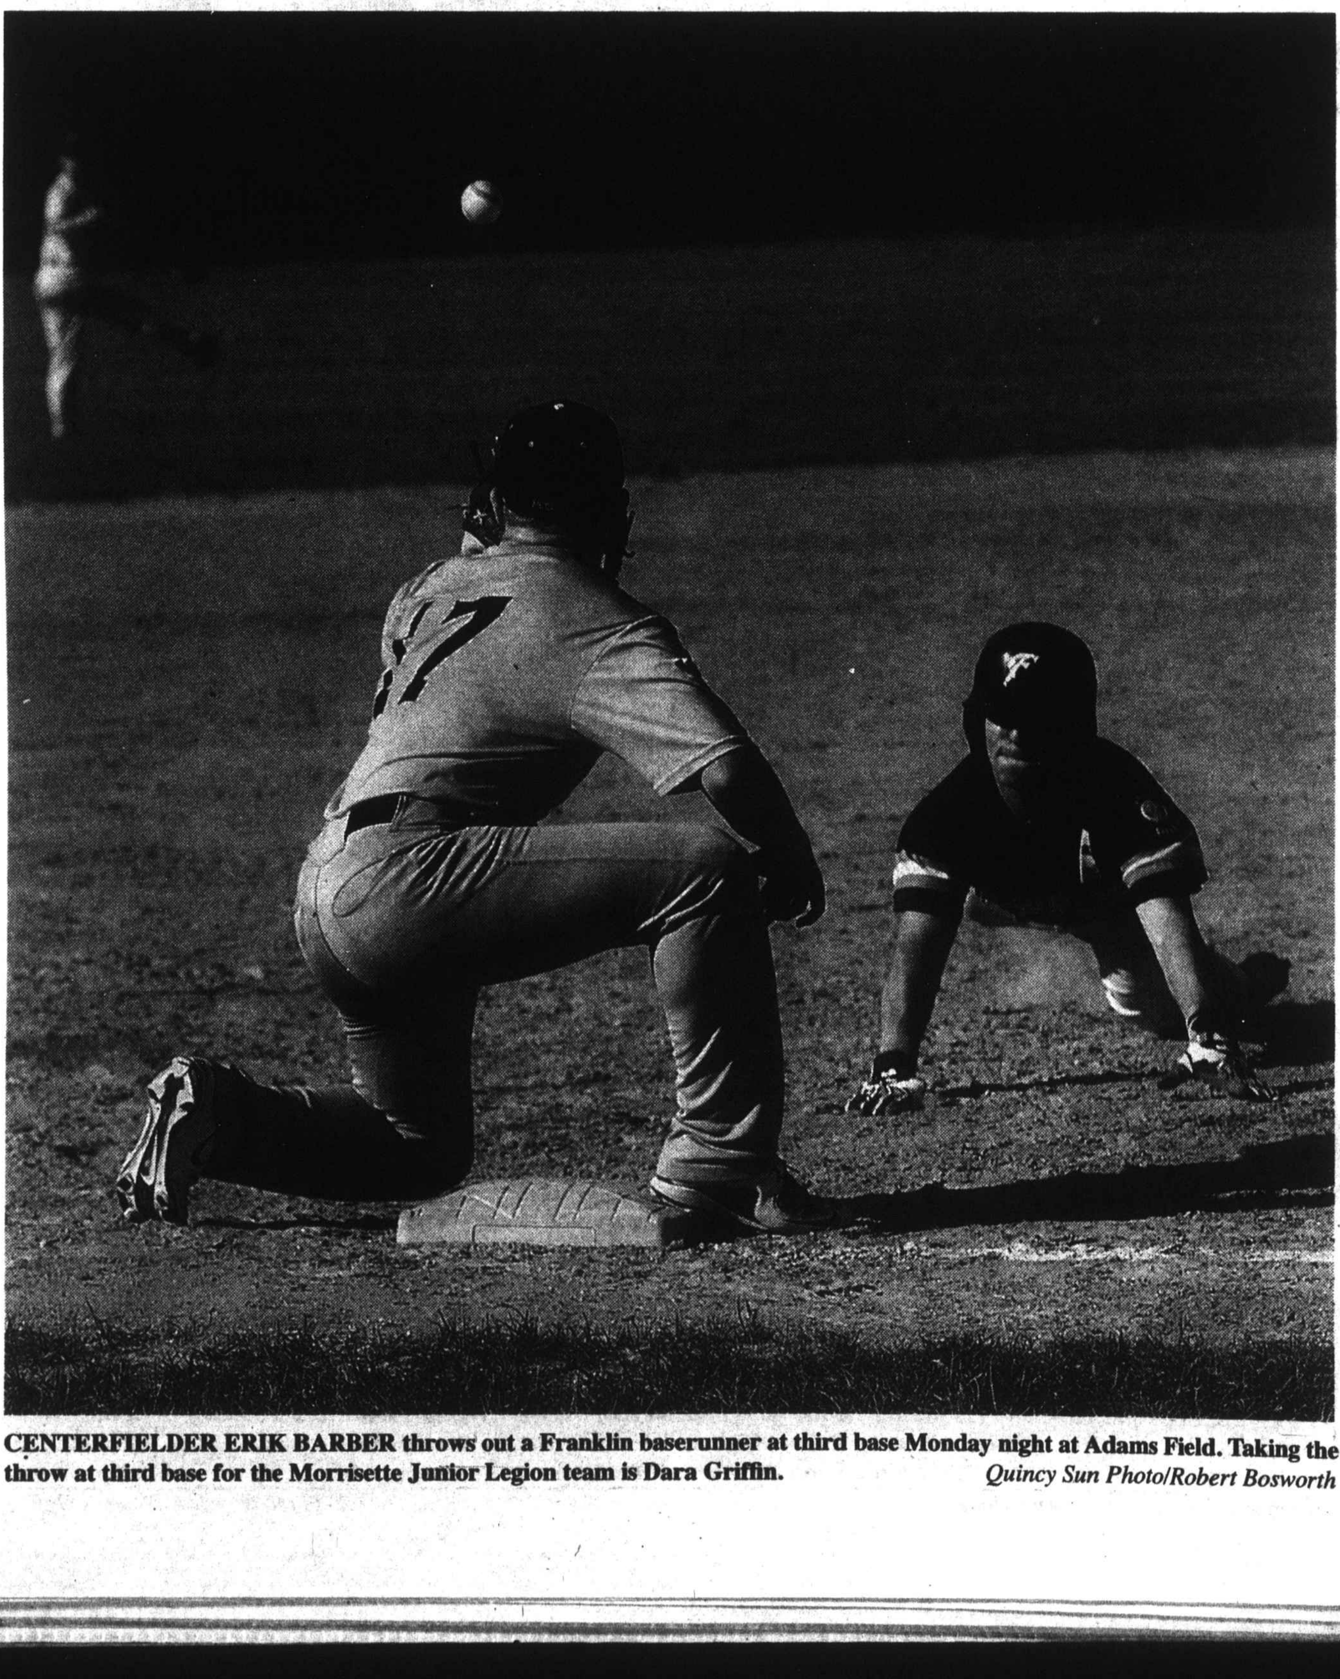
and strong defense up the middle."

A double and an error led to Franklin's first run in the first. The visitors threatened in the second, but that bid was cut short when Quincy catcher Matt Fox fired a strike to second base to nab a baserunner attempting to steal.

Trailing 4-0 in the third, Post 294 finally got on the board, sending seven batters to the plate in the bottom of the inning. Dara Griffin led off with a sharp single to left field and Erik Barber reached on an error two batters later. A fielder's choice made it two outs before Kyle Brennan proceeded to drill a single to left to score Barber, cutting the lead to 4-1.

Quincy had a golden opportunity to shrink the defecit in the sixth when the first two batters reached on errors. Martin McCormack jumped all over a fastball that he drilled to the left fielder who doubled off the Quincy runner at second. The next batter flied out to end the inning without Post 294 getting on the board.

Post 294 wouldn't go easy though, loading the bases with two walks and a Barber single to right field, bringing the tying run to the plate with two outs. A groundout, however, ended the game with Quincy healthy and intact.



CENTERFIELDER ERIK BARBER throws out a Franklin baserunner at third base Monday night at Adams Field. Taking the throw at third base for the Morrisette Junior Legion team is Dara Griffin. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Frank Kelly Memorial Track, Field Meet Friday

The Frank Kelly Memorial Track and Field Meet will be held Friday, July 24 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Faxon Field, rain or shine.

Participants are asked to arrive at the field adjacent to Quincy High School by 5 p.m.

The meet will feature running events, the standing broad jump, long jump, high jump, softball throw, turbojavs and the shotput.

For more information, call Geoff Hennessy at 617-510-1456.

Two Residents Graduate RPI

Two students from Quincy recently earned degrees from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, NY.

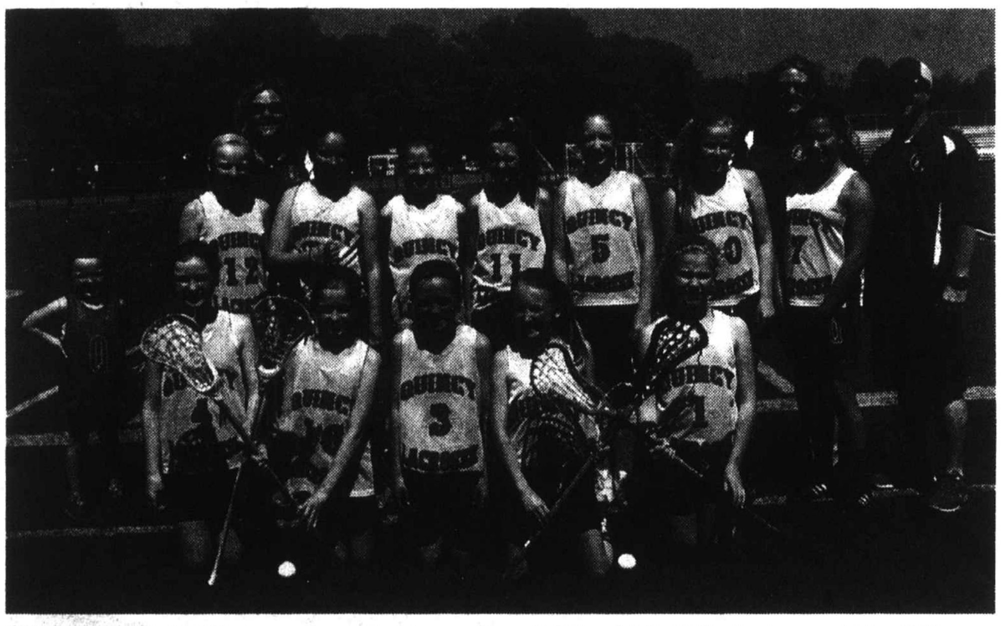
Frank Mastrorilli graduated with a BS in electrical engineering.

Brian Tam graduated Summa Cum Laude with a BS in games & simulation arts & sci.

Quincy Youth Lacrosse Wraps Up Successful Season

QUINCY YOUTH LACROSSE recently enjoyed another successful year in 2015. The program continues to grow and looks forward to next year. Visit the league's website at http://quincylax.uslaxteams.com/ for more information. Shown here is the Quincy Girls U11 (3/4 and Developmental) team. Front Row: Mattea Garrett, Caroline Beers, Kate O'Toole and Alex Kane. Middle row: Delia Nichol, Caroline Tracey, Katelyn Stirling, Alexandra Demopolous, Siena Nichol and Mikayla Barry. Back row: Coach Eric Beers and Coach Chris Nichol. Missing from photo: players Cate Demopolous, Sophia Johnston, Lola Pagnani, Shea Nolan, Kendyll Nolan and Coach Kristen Nichol.

Photos Courtesy Rob Kane



GIRLS 5-6 GRADE lacrosse team front row (from left to right): Ellie Anderson, Julia O'Leary, Maddie Bailey, Chloe Lynch and Abby Codner. Back row: Sophie Lynch, Alyssa Ryan, Coach Dawn Lynch, Morgan Novak, Kathleen Higgins, Karaline O'Toole, Sarah Gorham, Brooke Deady, Coach Lynn Bailey, Jackie Kane and Coach Rob Kane. Missing from photo: Charlotte Kelliher.

GIRLS 7/8th GRADE lacrosse team front row from left: Tianna Prisco, Chloe Ho, Neasa O'Donnell, Megan Bailey, Meghan Greene and Celia White. Back Row (L to R): Coach Neisa Fratolillo, Makinley Morrison, Mackenzie Maguire, Eve Anderson, Cassandra Davis, Maggie Tierney, Lindsay Lee, Rachael Higgins, Maeve Hally and Coach Maria McNulty.

BOYS 3/4TH GRADE Quincy Youth Lacrosse team. Front: Michael Richardson. Second row (from left): Dylan Almeida, Tyler Larson, Dan Andrews, Teddy Lynch, Sean Haley and Gerry Caldwell. Back row: Coach Mike Haley, Coach Kevin Lynch, Seamus O'Toole, Nate McMillan, Barry Page, Tommy Christian, Sean Adams and Coach Kenny Larson.

BOYS 5/6TH GRADE lacrosse team: Front row (L to R): Gerry Caldwell, Chris Cabezas, Michael Gorham, Dan Andrews, Teddy Lynch and Joseph O'Connor. Back Row (L to R): Coach Kevin Lynch, Sean Haley, Brett Collins, Coach Mike Haley, Michael Richardson, Brendan Hines, Sean Andrews, Kevin Feeney, Liam Hines, Joe Hurton, Cooper Hernon and Coach Matt Collins.

BOYS 7/8TH GRADE lacrosse team front row from left to right: Tommy Page, Jake McGahey, Josh McMillan Ryan Quirk, Brendan Bailey, Jason Whalen, Will McMillan and Jack O'Brien. Back Row (L to R): Coach Kevin Lynch, Jake Defranco, Brendan Kilcommons, Joe Noone, Mike Cugini, Dan O'Leary, Jake Zisk, John Norton and Coach Tim Bailey.

William R. Caddy Detachment Golf Tournament Sept. 11

The William R. Caddy Detachment #124, Marine Corps League, will hold its 25th annual Caddy Golf Classic Friday, Sept. 11 at South Shore Country Club, Hingham.

Shot-gun start at 9 a.m.

Cost is $125 per golfer, or $600 per team.

Price includes green fees, commemorative golf shirt, hole-in-one contest to win a new Toyota Corolla and a three-court roast beef luncheon at Raffael's Greenside Grill Restaurant, South Shore Country Club.

All raffles and prizes will be awarded after the luncheon.

Proceeds from the tournament support the Detachment's activities and charities including funding for indigent patients at the Bockton VA Hospital, toys and gifts for the Toys for Tots program, scholarships and other needs for veterans and their families.

For more information, call 617-479-3505.

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

O'Connell-Thomson Hoop Tournament Big Success

Memorial Event Raises $3,100 For NQHS Scholarships; 10-Year Total Over $38,000

By JOE REARDON

Wet stains of sweat began to appear on the back of the players' jerseys almost from the opening minute of play, but that hardly mattered to the talent on the court that saw 16 men's squads and four women's teams compete in the enormously popular and competitive O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament, held July 11-12 on the Fenno Street courts.

The event, celebrating its 10th anniversary, is the brainchild of Dan Duggan and held in honor of his fellow 2002 North Quincy High graduates and close friends John O'Connell and Dennis Thomson who have since passed away.

The event was once again a huge success with more than $3,100 raised for scholarships in both O'Connell's and Thomson's names and brought the 10-year total to over $38,000.

Under a white tent, items that included basketballs autographed by the Boston Celtics and a pair of signed Kelly Olynyk sneakers were on display, to be raffled off the second day of competition. Volunteers were also busy selling bottled water to help battle the hot temperatures that rose to the the low 90s on Sunday afternoon.

Duggan, who got married this past weekend, believes his senior class at North Quincy was special in that the students were so close, but also was hit with an almost overwhelming tragedy in the death of the popular athletes.

"It's a lightning strikes type of deal," said Duggan. "The only thing I say is that it wasn't three out of eight. Our whole senior class was really close friends. It was three out of 25. We're lucky we had such a huge group of friends and obviously unlucky that tragedy kept striking our group of friends.

Cont'd On Page 24

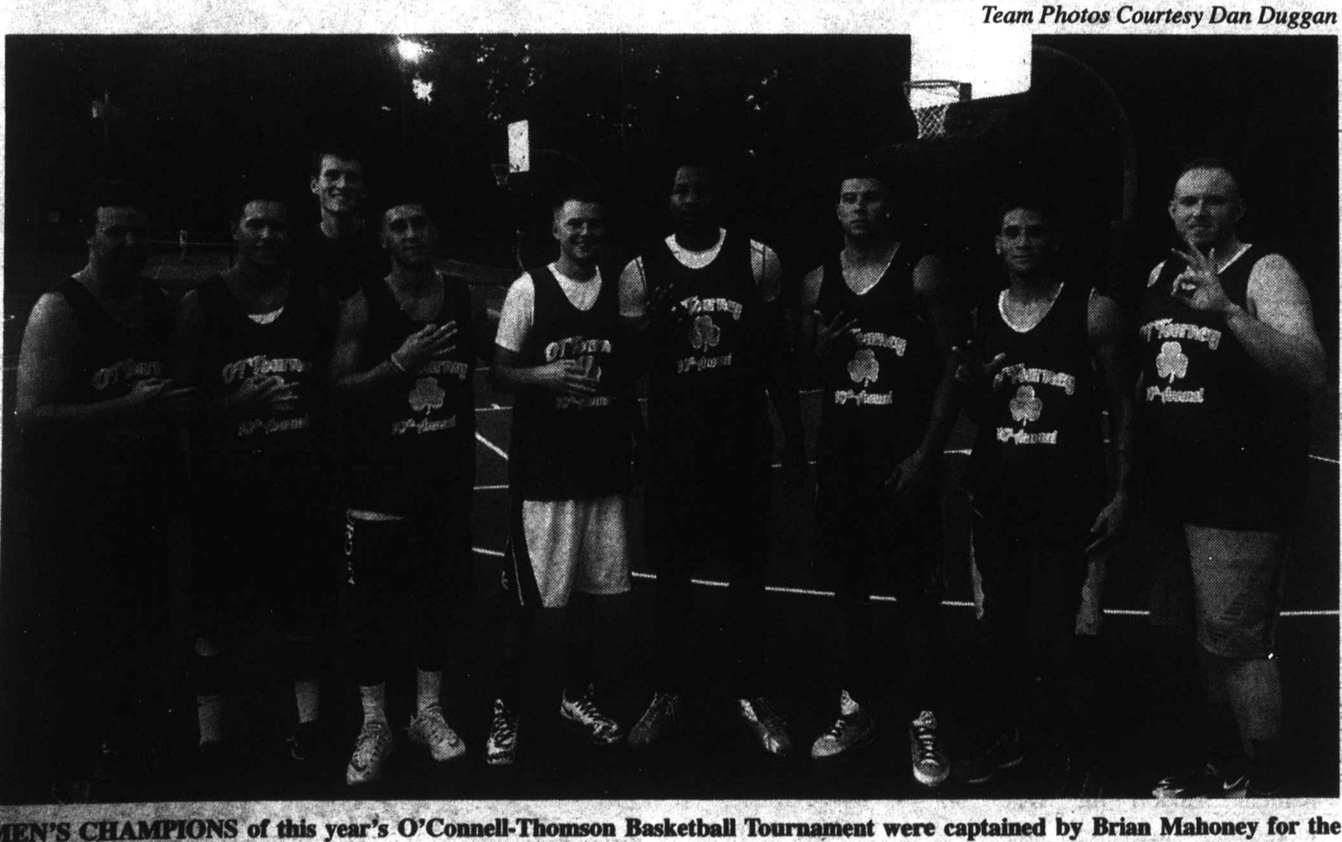
O'T Tourney
10th Annual

SHARING A MOMENT at the recent 10th annual O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament at the Fenno Street courts in Wollaston are (from left) Dennis Thomson Sr., Matt O'Connell, Mary O'Connell and organizer Dan Duggan. Mr. Thomson is the father of Dennis Thomson nad the O'Connells are the parents of John O'Connell, the namesakes of the memorial tournament. The 2002 graduates of North Quincy High School each had their lives tragically cut short. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

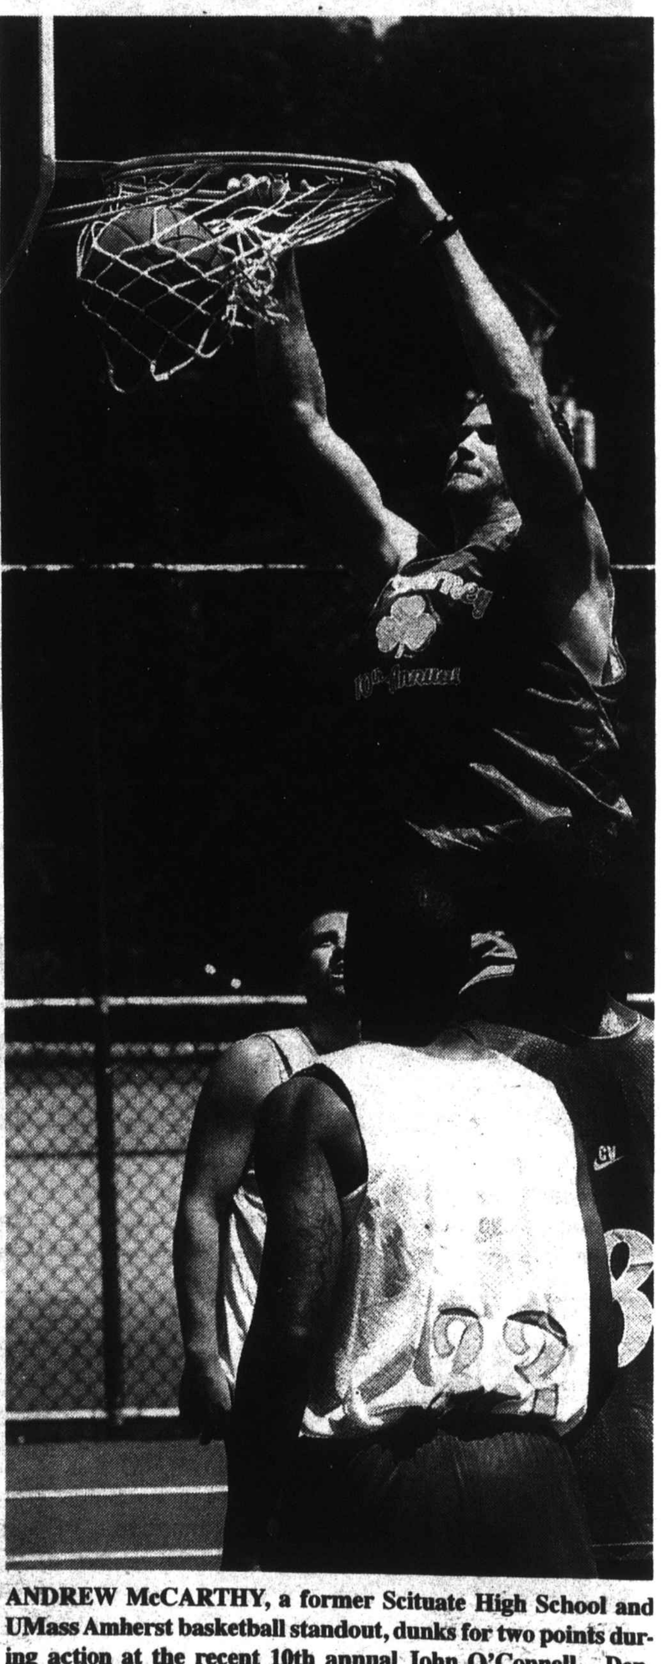
O'T Tourney
10th Annual

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONS of this year's O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament were captained by Diana Mitchell for the second straight year. From left: Terri Duffy, Rachel Bernache, Diana Mitchell, Joelle Martin, Kyra Rose and Caroline Kilduff.

Team Photos Courtesy Dan Duggan



MEN'S CHAMPIONS of this year's O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament were captained by Brian Mahoney for the third straight year. From left: Brian Mahoney, Thomas Mahoney, Ryan Sharry, Anthony DiBona, Kevin Mahoney, Ike Azotam, Julian Colarusso, Jordan Rote and Paul Donoghue. The Mahoneys, DiBona, Colarusso and Donghue are Quincy natives.



ANDREW McCARTHY, a former Scituate High School and UMass Amherst basketball standout, dunks for two points during action at the recent 10th annual John O'Connell - Dennis Thomson Basketball tournament at Fenno Street courts in Wollaston. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

THE 10TH ANNUAL O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament featured competitive games and plenty of action. A total of 16 men's teams and four women's teams competed in the tournament that included a number of local college basketball players as well as many current and former high school players from Quincy. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

O'Connell-Thomson Hoop Tournament Big Success

Cont'd From Page 22

"We all played basketball and baseball and some played football. We had an unusually close group of guys in our class."

Duggan has seen the tournament grow in the 10 years and fresh crops of younger players show off their talents in what is a quality two days of basketball.

"It's amazing," he said. "I look at these kids here and some were 10 years old and sitting on the wall watching the games and now they're out there playing, and I'm on the way out and over the hill. There's so many cool layers to it. It's what has kept it going strong.

"Guys age themselves out and the younger kids step right in. Some of the kids don't know the guys personally but they honor them by coming. They know this is part of their summer and pay tribute by playing. It's been a great run."

Duggan has no intention of ending the popular summer tournament, despite the fact that life will become even busier after getting married.

"I can't see myself ever giving it up," he said. "It's a labor of love. It's a lot of work in a short period of time, but you step back and remember what it's all about - to keep my friends' memories alive. It's also a great weekend for guys to come and play basketball. There aren't many (tournaments) like this around. It's got two purposes it serves: The memory of my friends and to play basketball. Those are two of my loves and it's a natural fit for me. The little headaches you have running around are worth it. It's always a great weekend."

Matt O'Connell, John's dad, said the event was something his son would have loved to play in. "Oh God yes, he would love this," said O'Connell. "It's a very nice event. It'll be 10 years this October. It's bittersweet, but it's nice seeing everybody."

John Fidalgo, who also graduated from North Quincy in 2002, was on hand to watch the action on Fenno Street and praised Duggan for his tireless work in making sure the tournament runs smoothly.

"Dan does a great job with it," said Fidalgo. "It's kind of been his baby from the beginning. I know it takes a lot of work to put it together. Everyone appreciates the work he puts in."

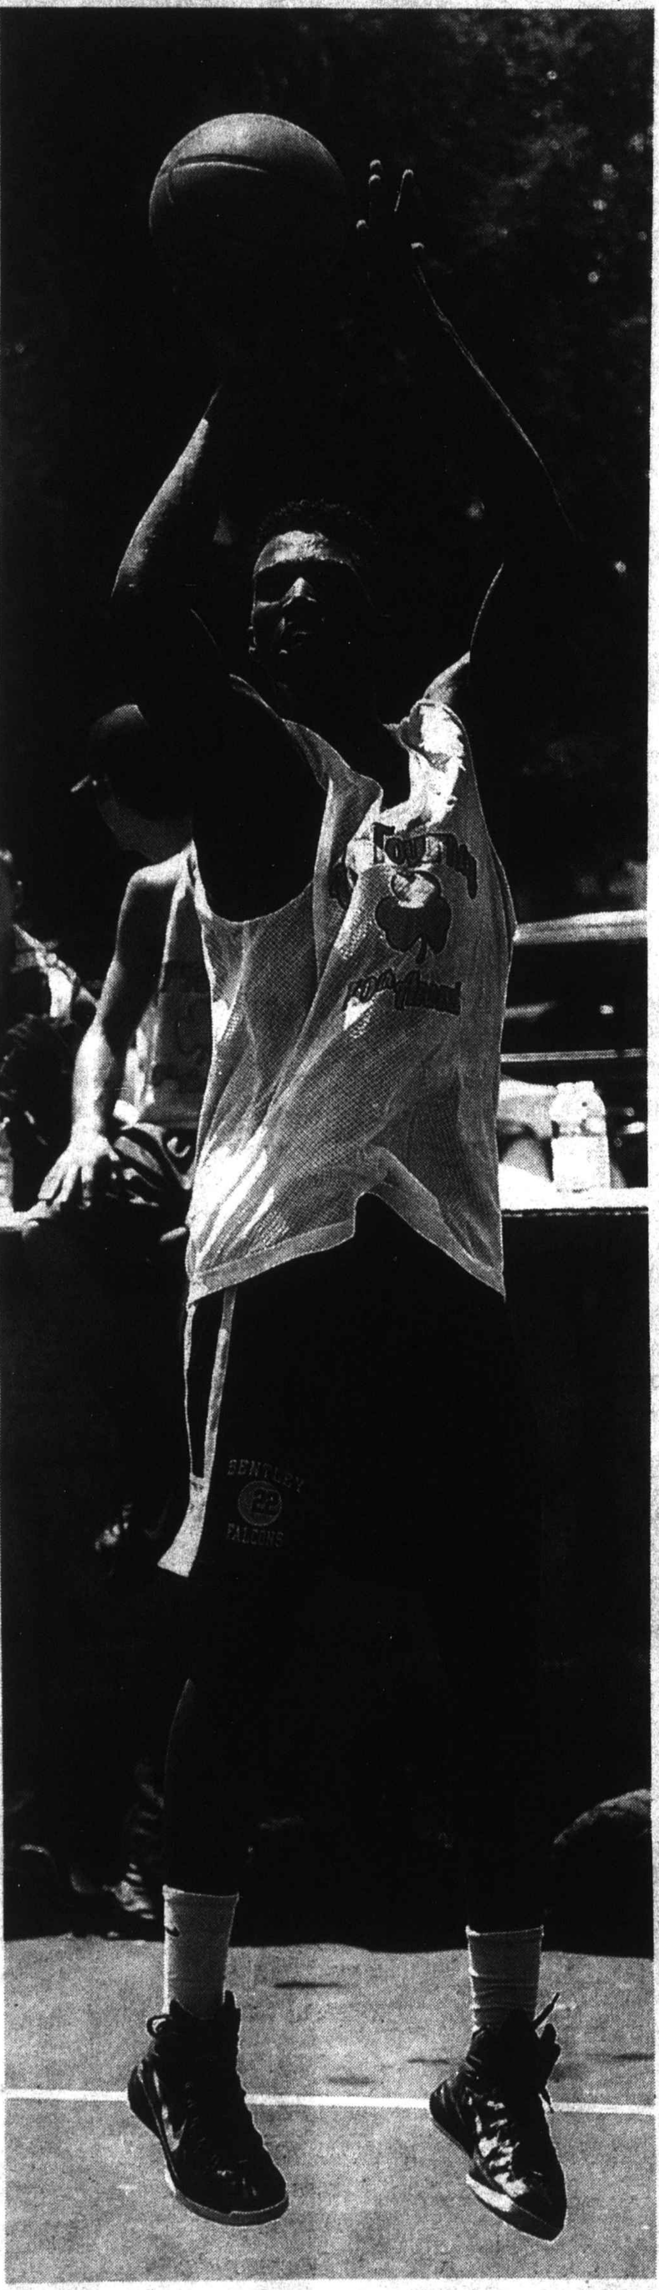
Fidalgo believes O'Connell and Thomson would have loved the event and been right in the thick of the action. "They would have played and been very competitive," he said. "The thing is our whole group of friends was very competitive in everything we did. The cool thing that Dan has done with it is that he's made it a really competitive tournament. People travel from all over to play and it means something to win it. Ten years is a long time to keep something going. Most golf tournaments are done after a year."

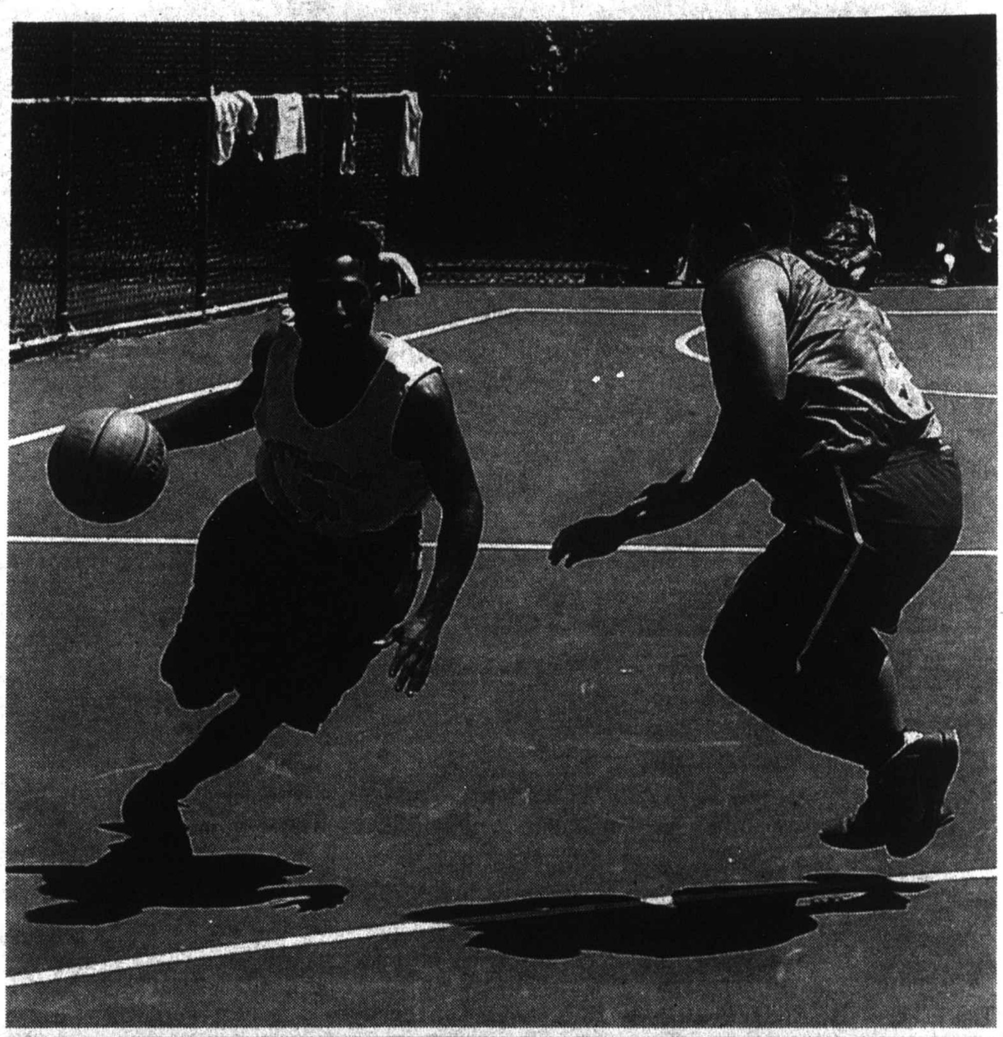
Dennis Thomson Sr., said both his son and O'Connell were taken far too young.

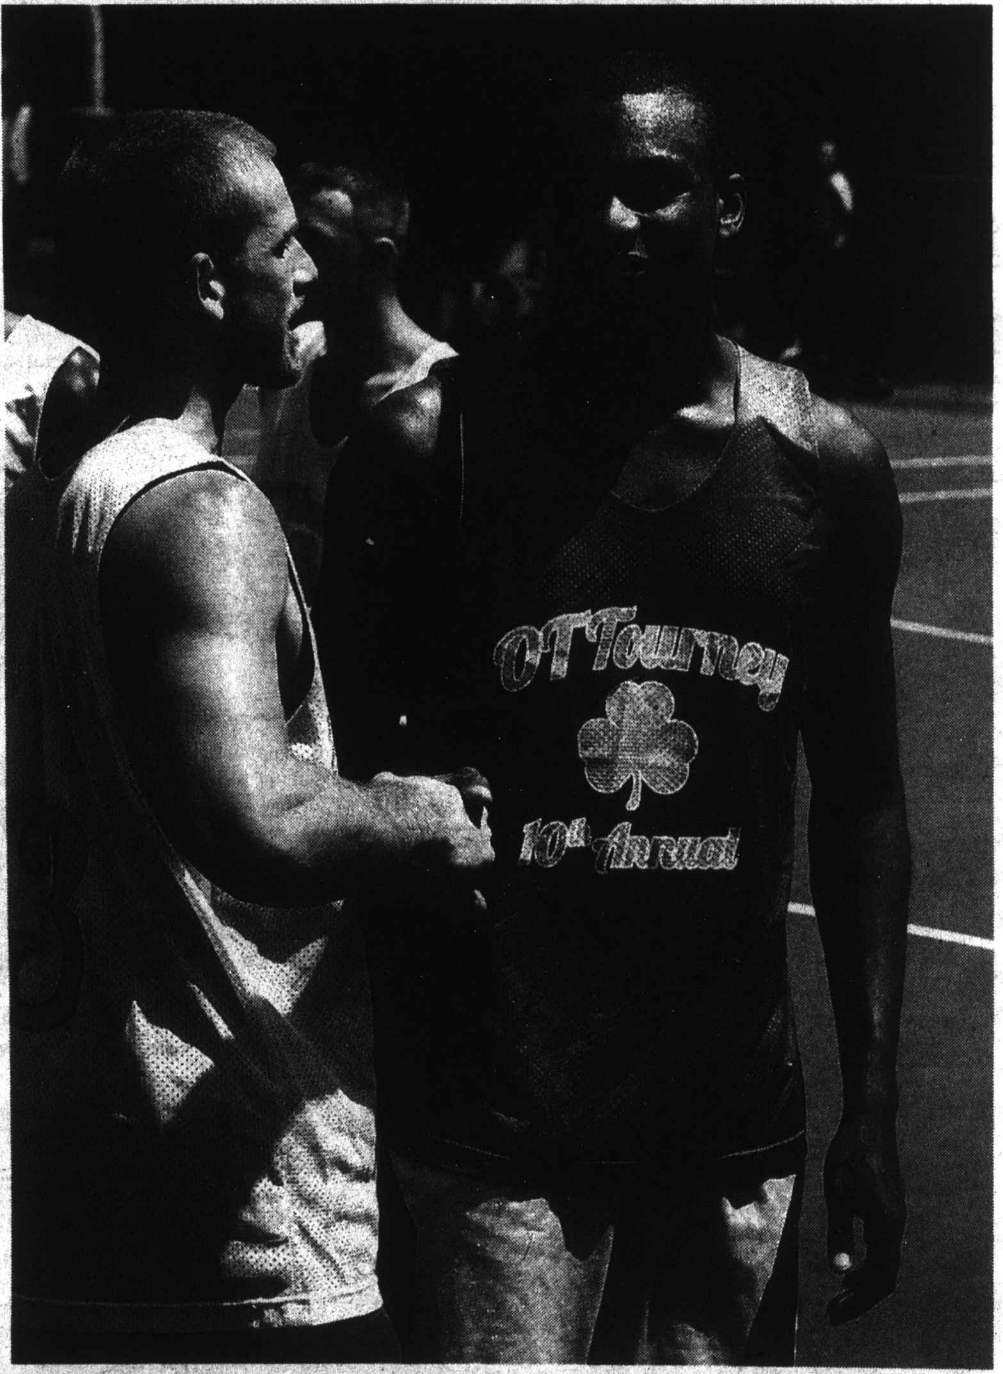
"It's a shame," said Thomson. "He went too early. I talk to him all the time at his gravesite. They were just two dynamite kids. You miss them. There's nothing you can say. This brings everyone together."

The sponsors were generous once again and a special thank you goes out to those who helped make it a success once again:

Mayor Thomas Koch, Scanlan-Smith family, Holleran family, Charles O'Brien, Chris Doherty, Pizzi Family, Tackey Chan, Margaret Collins, Margaret Downing, Kevin Coughlin, Richard Branch, Kevin McAuliffe, Tony Murdoch, Andy Mannix, Dave McCarthy, Kaitlin Pollara, Derek Chamberlain, Meade Family, Law Office of Patrick Foley, P.J. Kennedy & Sons, The Irish Pub, Malachy's Saloon, Egan's Sunoco, J.J. Foley's, The Playwright, Balducci's House of Pizza, The Fours, The Chantey, Stadium Sports Bar & Grill, O.B.'s Cafe, Clarke's Faneuill Hall, Nix's Mate, Warehouse, The Greatest Bar, Causeway, Maggiano's, Howl at the Moon, Lincoln tavern, Stats Bar & Grille, Boston Beer Garden, Burke's Seafood, Babycakes, Seaport Boston Hotel and Boston Herald







TWO COMPETITORS shake hands after one of the many games featured as part of the 10th annual O'Connell-Thomson Basketball Tournament at Fenno Street courts. This year's event raised $3,100 bringing the 10-year total to $38,000. Proceeds benefit a scholarship fund for North Quincy High School students. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Maxwell Greenwood Graduates Ithaca College

Maxwell Greenwood of Quincy recently graduated from Ithaca College's School of Humanities and Sciences with a degree in history.

RELIGION

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, July 26, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have a Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "Invest In Your Life." Fellowship with light refreshments will follow.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

The church office is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 - 3 p.m. Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Service is broadcast on QATV at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Covenant Church Seeks Children's Pantry Donations

The Children's Pantry at The Covenant Church of Quincy is seeking donations of gently used or new children's clothing, books and supplies.

"For more than 15 years our church members, neighbors and members of other Quincy churches have helped us with donations," said Rev. Karen Palmatier, pastor of the congregation. "This is a very important ministry to our congregation and the community. We are very grateful for all the help and now we need people to help again.

"We especially need children's summer clothing sizes infant to 4T," Rev. Palmatier added.

The Children's Pantry, located at 315 Whitwell St., serves children and their families by providing needed clothing, books and supplies, free of charge. Many of the visitors have become good friends of the pantry because they have been coming for years, very often donating clothing their children have outgrown.

Hours for the Children's Pantry are Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 11:30 a.m. To arrange an appointment for drop-off, call the church office at 617-479-5728.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service of worship at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "Rooted and Grounded."

The Service of Dedication of the 120th Anniversary Fund will be dedicated to the Glory of God through song, prayer and the proclamation of God's word.

Liturgist Kara Kuntupis will call to worship and read the scripture lesson. Jaime and Rob Gordon will serve for the Diaconate.

Music minister Steve Reed will direct the choir singing "Ode to the Church" words and music by the late Rev. M. Alicia Corea and Arden Schofield written for the 100th anniversary of the church. Michelle Paul will play old favorite hymns on the flute accompanied by Steve Reed.

A plaque will be presented to the Church with the names of all who gave to the fund.

Following the service the annual church picnic will take place outside on the church grounds.

Quincy Point Congregational

July 26, 2015, Sunday worship is at 10 a.m. in the air-conditioned sanctuary of Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington Street. The summer sermon series of "Unlikely Prospects" continues with a sermon by Peter Johnston. This week's unlikely prospect is, Matthew. Jane Raymond will be deacon of the day. After worship, join us in the Social Hall for punch and light refreshments. While you are there please sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

The One Room Summer Sunday School has begun. If your child wishes to attend please sign him or her in prior to worship in the children's classroom on the bottom floor adjacent to the elevator. Class will take place every summer Sunday during 10 a.m. worship until Rally Day, September 13th, 2015. The children will have fun learning from the 2015 Grow, Proclaim, Serve curriculum specifically formatted for one room environment.

The legacy brick campaign is open one last time for those people or businesses who would still like to add a brick to our, 'Circle of Gratitude' park located on the Abbey Road side of the church. This is a wonderful way to remember a loved one, honor a veteran, publicize a local business or leave words of wisdom to future generations. Bricks are $75 a piece and the deadline is August 15th. Order forms and more details available on the Quincy Point Cong Facebook and Twitter pages or call the church office@ 617-773-6424. Come sit down at the park and enjoy the peaceful respite.

OBITUARY

Joan L. Mathieson, 77

JOAN L. MATHIESON

A funeral Mass for Joan L. (Tantillo) Mathieson, 77, of Marstons Mills will be celebrated tomorrow (Friday) at 10 a.m. in St. Mary of the Sacred Heart Church, Hanover.

Mrs. Mathieson died peacefully July 18.

Born on June 21, 1938, she was the daughter of the late Dominic J. and Frances (Sansone) Tantillo. Raised and educated in Quincy, she lived in Hanover until moving to Marstons Mills in 1987.

Mrs. Mathieson was a customer service representative for Burgin Platner and Hurley Insurance and also the lead ski instructor at Blue Hills Ski Area. She enjoyed bowling and karaoke, and sang at the St. Mary's folk music mass in the 1970s.

Beloved wife of the late Edward L. Mathieson. Devoted mother of Jane M. Williamson of Halifax and James L. Mathieson and his wife Sally of Hanover. Dear sister of Frances Reeve of Middleborough, Rose Marie Gallo of Quincy, Janet Corbin of S. Dennis, and the late Nanette Jenkinson. Cherished grandmother of Jake and Haley Mathieson. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours are 4-7 p.m. today (Thursday) at Sullivan Funeral Home, Hanover.

Interment at Hanover Center Cemetery.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 30 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701.

Quincy Religion Directory
SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible.
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 8:00AM and 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM,
11:00AM and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm
on Saturdays, other times
by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible &
Handicapped parking, side entrance
air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK
CONGREGATIONAL
CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning
Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach n
"Rooted and Grounded"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY
CONGREGATIONAL
CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship Service
at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding
will conduct the service and
preach a sermon entitled
"Invest In Your Life"
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

PEACE

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday
School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT
CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St. • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099
Sunday Services
and Sunday School
10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening
Meetings – where testimonies of healing
are shared 7:30 p.m.
SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY
UNITED METHODIST
CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

James Wenners

JAMES WENNERS

Memorial visiting hours for James Wenners, a lifelong Quincy resident, were held July 16 at Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Wenners died with his family by his side July 8.

He was also the legendary clam digger of Quincy and enjoyed the outdoors and ocean. He was loved by so many people in Quincy and was a Quincy High School graduate.

Son of the late David and Helen Wenners. Lifelong companion of Sheila Wallace of Quincy. Cherished father of Lenny Wallace, David Wenners, Jesse Kehoe, all of Quincy, Crystal Martin of Millis and Ashley Wenners of No. Attleboro. Beloved brother of Cheryl and Robby Glynn of Quincy and the late Stanley and Roy Wenners. Cherished Grandfather of James Wenners, Jacob Bunting, Annabelle Howard and Layla Kehoe. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Flora G. Moscone, 96

A funeral Mass for Flora G. Moscone, 96, of Braintree, a longtime resident of Quincy, was celebrated Tuesday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Ms. Moscone died peacefully July 16 at the Royal Braintree Nursing and Rehabilitation Center surrounded by her loving family.

She was raised and educated in Quincy and was a graduate of Quincy High School, Class of 1937. She had lived in Braintree for the past 10 years, previously in Quincy all of her life.

Ms. Moscone was employed as an administrative assistant in the Trust Department of State Street Bank and Trust Company in Boston for 28 years. She had been retired for many years. Ms. Moscone was a longtime parishioner of St. Joseph's Church in Quincy Point and was a member of St. Joseph's Ladies Sodality.

Beloved daughter of the late Silvio and Emma (Silveri) Moscone. Sister of Ann Anastasi of Norwood, Dante Moscone of FL and predeceased by Lee Oriola and Donald S. Moscone. Also survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Saint Joseph's Church, c/o 556 Washington St., Quincy, MA 02169.

A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit

www.dewarefuneralhome.com

Robert S. O'Meara, 51

ROBERT S. O'MEARA

Visiting hours for Robert S. "Bobby" O'Meara, 51, of Quincy were held July 17 at Cartwright-Venuti Funeral Home, Braintree.

Mr. O'Meara died July 13.

Bobby was born and raised in Quincy. He was a truck driver and a member of the Braintree Moose Lodge. Mr. O'Meara was a frequent donator to Locks of Love and an avid fan of fishing and of Boston area sports teams, especially the Patriots.

Beloved son of Shirley (Spargo) O'Meara of Weymouth and the late William O'Meara, and stepson of Maria (Coonen) O'Meara of Randolph. Devoted brother of Brian P. O'Meara and his wife Elaine Dechambeau of Holbrook, William F. O'Meara and his wife Kristen of Braintree, Allison O. McDonald and her husband John of Randolph, and Michael O'Meara of Randolph. Longtime companion of the late Cheryl Romano. Also survived by several aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.

Private interment.

Peter J. Janis, 91

A funeral service for Peter J. Janis, 91, of Quincy was held Tuesday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Janis died July 16.

Beloved husband of 67 years to Marcelle (LaChance) Janis of Quincy. Loving father of Patricia Kelley and her husband John of Plymouth, Christine Janis and her husband Douglas MacFarlane of FL, Denise Johnson and her husband Eric of Duxbury and Peter R. Janis and his fiancée Karen Carlson of Quincy. Cherished grandfather of 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Janis grew up and was educated in Roxbury and later settled in Quincy with his wife, Marcelle, where they raised their four children. Mr. Janis was the ultimate entrepreneur; he was a self employed plumber for many years and then developed Rossmore Laundry in 1964 and Jamaica Plain Car Wash, all being successful businesses.

He was not only a successful businessman but he was known for being a kind and generous person in the community of his business always willing to help those in need of a helping hand. He was an avid Red Sox fan and a proud WWII Coast Guard veteran. Mr. Janis was dedicated to his work but most of all to his family, who were the cornerstone of his life. He will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known him.

Interment at Forest Hills Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial donations may be made to Alzheimer's Assn., MA Chapter, 480 Pleasant St., Watertown, MA 02472.

DOLAN

FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

◆ Funerals
◆ Cremations
◆ Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:

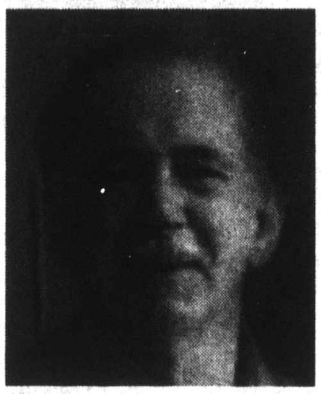
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

Michael A. Quinlan, 70



MICHAEL A. QUINLAN

A funeral Mass for Michael A. Quinlan, 70, of Quincy and formerly Boston was celebrated Monday in Holy Trinity Parish at the Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Quincy.

Mr. Quinlan died July 16 at the Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston surrounded by his loving family.

He was born in Boston, raised and educated in Roxbury schools. He had lived in Quincy for the past 20 years. Mr. Quinlan was a self-employed plumber for many years.

Husband of Tammy R. (Lane) Quinlan. Devoted father of Michael M. Quinlan, Nathan J. Quinlan, Joshua E. Quinlan and Jonathan Fabian, all of Quincy. Beloved son of the late Bernard and Eleanor (Travalia) Quinlan. One of 17 siblings, he was brother of Bernard Quinlan, Eleanor Morrison, William Quinlan, Margaret Ormberg, James, Warren, Charles, Ann Marie Quinlan, Kathleen D'Aniello, Regina Cuff, Robert, Christopher and John Quinlan and predeceased by Richard Quinlan, Patricia Tammarow and Marylou Sanborn. Also survived by many nieces, nephews, grandnieces and grandnephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to the Friends of the Unborn, P.O. Box 692246, Quincy, MA 02269-2246.

Ernestine R. Mantia, 84

A funeral service for Ernestine R. (Davidson) Mantia, 84, of Braintree was held Tuesday in McMaster Funeral Home, Braintree.

Mrs. Mantia died July 16 at South Shore Hospital.

Born in Milton and raised in Quincy, she was a graduate of Quincy High School, class of 1949. She had been a volunteer at South Shore Hospital for many years in the cardiac rehab department and the Cottage Shop. Her many hobbies included refinishing furniture; gardening, dress design and music.

Loving mother of Ronald Mantia and his wife Kim of Bridgewater, Francis Mantia and his wife Michelle of Norwell, Wayne Mantia of Braintree and his former wife Leta Fulton and Gail Graziano and her husband Louis of Hanover. Sister of the late Dr. George Davidson and Erva MacDonald. She is also survived by 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Beloved companion of Joseph Canelli of Braintree.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice.

Eugenia Baciulis

A Mass of Christian Burial for Eugenia Baciulis of Quincy was celebrated July 18 in St. Peter Lithuanian Church, Boston.

Mrs. Baciulis died July 14.

Beloved wife of the late Antanas. Devoted mother of Raymond and his wife Ann of Quincy and the late Jonas Baciulis. Dear sister of Irena Holmes and her husband Jay of Arlington and Ruta St. Onge of Pembroke. Also lovingly survived by nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Casper Funeral Home, South Boston.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Interment Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Old Colony Hospice, One Credit Union Way, 4th Floor, Randolph, MA 02368 or Camp Neringa, 147 Neringa Rd, Brattleboro, VT 05301.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

clifffords.com

1.800.441.8884

Charles A. Lopresti, 89

A funeral Mass for Charles Alfred Lopresti, 89, of Quincy was celebrated Tuesday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Lopresti died following a brief illness on July 17.

Devoted husband of more than 60 years to Mary E. (Kelly) Lopresti. Beloved father of Charles J. Lopresti and his wife Lauretta (Tuffo) of Braintree and Charlene Cipollone of FL. Loving grandfather of Alexandra Lopresti, Jacqueline Conley and Charles Lopresti. Great-grandfather of Mia and Madeline Conley. Also survived by his sister Jennie Nigro of Weymouth and several nieces and nephews. Brother of the later 1st LT John P. Lopresti U.S. Army KIA during WWII at the Battle of the Bulge and late Frances Bresnahan.

Born in Quincy, Mr. Lopresti served his country honorably during World War II in the U.S. Army. He was the former veterans agent and director of veterans service for the city of Quincy. Active member of the Cyril P. Morrisette American Legion Post #294 and St. John the Baptist Church in Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to Boston Children's Hospital, 300 Longwood Ave., Boston, MA 02115.

Anne M. McAdams, 80

A funeral Mass for Anne M. (Gaudiano) McAdams, 80, of Plymouth and formerly Hingham was celebrated Tuesday in St. Bonaventure's Parish, Plymouth.

Mrs. McAdams died at home July 15.

She was born in Quincy, the daughter of Angelo and Anne (Kirby) Gaudiano, and graduated from Quincy High School and Quincy Junior College. She worked for Howard Johnson's and enjoyed going to the Hingham Senior Center.

Wife of the late Charles Edward McAdams, she leaves her children and their spouses Lindsey Flynn of Plymouth, Steven of Plymouth, Christopher and Pam Mackie of Marshfield, Darren and Maryellen of East Bridgewater, and Todd of Plymouth. She also leaves eight grandchildren and many nieces and nephews. She was the sister of the Edward Gaudiano.

Funeral arrangements were made by Davis Funeral and Cremation, Plymouth.

Interment at Vine Hills Cemetery, Plymouth.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 5 Manley St., West Bridgewater, MA 02379.

Lucille Y. Perry

A funeral service for Lucille Y. "Lucy" (Tourigny) Perry of Quincy, formerly of East Weymouth, will be held at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) in McDonald Keohane Funeral Home, East Weymouth.

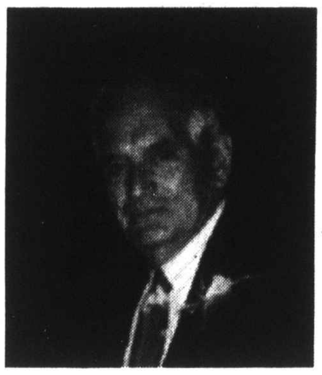
Mrs. Perry died of lung cancer July 16.

Daughter of the late Raymond and Alice Tourigny. She is survived by her husband of 54 years, John "Jack" Perry of Quincy. She leaves behind two daughters, Irene Kneeland of Plymouth, Maureen Simpson of NH, and a son, Michael Perry of Quincy. In January 2013, she was predeceased by her first-born daughter, Michelle Theberge. She is survived by her brothers Raymond, Charles and David Tourigny, and her sisters, Lorraine Emberley and Diane Towle. Survived by eight loving grandchildren and many loving nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at the funeral home.

Interment at Fairmount Cemetery, Weymouth.

Thomas P. Broderick



THOMAS P. BRODERICK

A funeral Mass for Thomas P. "Scoop" Broderick of Quincy was celebrated July 18 in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Broderick died July 15.

He graduated from Roslindale High School and was a standout athlete. He was awarded Boston Post All-Scholastic in football. Mr. Broderick proudly served his country in the Army as a TEC 4 during WWII. He married his beloved wife Bernice during a five-day pass before spending 27 months in the Pacific.

Mr. Broderick worked for 40 years in construction, including 30 of those years at Stanley Newman Company. He was a member of the Local 3 bricklayers union and worked very hard to support his family. They were his world, especially being a "Buppa" to his grand and great-grandchildren.

He enjoyed traveling, especially to Florida, with family and friends and taking daily walks around Wollaston. Mr. Broderick was a generous man who loved to watch the Red Sox lose. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Beloved husband of the late Bernice R. "Sis" Broderick. Loving father of James Broderick and Donna Carter, both of Quincy. Predeceased by six siblings. Cherished Buppa of Thomas, Richard, David & James and eight great-grandchildren. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Edmund C. Brown Jr., 93

A memorial service for Edmund Carlton "Carl" Brown Jr., 93, of Holbrook was privately held.

Mr. Brown died July 12 after a brief illness.

Born in Quincy, he was a graduate of Quincy Trade School and a veteran of World War II, having served the U.S. Navy as an electricians mate 2nd class. Mr. Brown was the owner of E.C. Brown Oil Heating Company for several years before joining the United Association of Plumbers and Pipefitters Local 51 and retired from the town of Holbrook as the superintendent of maintenance for the Holbrook School System.

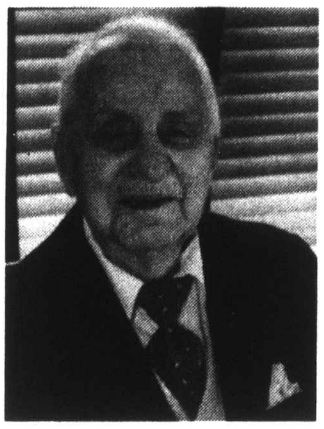
Mr. Brown also served the town of Holbrook as a CALL firefighter for many years, was an active participant with the Brookville Baptist Church and then the Winthrop Congregational Church of Holbrook. He was a past member of the Holbrook Rotary Club and was also active with Boy Scout Troop 13, having served as scoutmaster for several years.

He was the husband of the late Eleanor (Baker) Brown and loving father of Richard Brown and his wife Sandy of VA, Phyllis Elaine Magnussen and her husband Milton of CT, Kenneth Brown and his wife Mary of Randolph, Steven Brown and his wife Sue of Brockton, Donald E. Brown and his wife Ellen of Plymouth, Carol Ann Rovaldi and her husband Don of Sharon, James Brown and his wife Janet of Bridgewater, and William Brown and his wife Audrey of Brockton. Brother of the late Francis O'Farrell. Also survived by 21 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Arrangements were made by Cartwright Funeral Home, Holbrook.

Memorial donations may be made to the Winthrop Congregational Church, 16 N. Franklin St., Holbrook, MA 02343.

Frank DiCesare, 101



FRANK DiCESARE

A funeral Mass for Frank DiCesare, 101, of Scituate and formerly Quincy was celebrated Tuesday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. DiCesare died peacefully July 16 at the Queen Ann Nursing Home in Hingham.

Born on April 17, 1914, he grew up at 41 Roberts St. in South Quincy and attended the Lincoln School. As a teenager, he enrolled in the Quincy Trade School, graduating in 1932 as a machinist. In 1934, Mr. DiCesare got a job as a machinist with Bethlehem Steel at the Fore River Shipyard at $17 a week.

At the shipyard during World War II, he made parts for the aircraft carriers USS Wasp I and II, the battleship USS Massachusetts and cruisers USS Quincy and USS Salem. In 1955, Mr. DiCesare was promoted to supervisor, a job that made him responsible for overseeing 47 men in the shipyard's machine shop. When General Dynamics bought the Shipyard in 1964, he became a quality control inspector, a job he would hold for 15 years before retiring in 1979.

Beloved husband of the late Lucille Jancaterino. Devoted father of Frank "Buddy" DiCesare and his wife Margaret of Scituate. Loving grandfather of Frank DiCesare II of LA and Caroline DiCesare of Foxborough. Brother of the late Dave DiCesare, Yolanda Jancaterino, Christine Parker, Dino DiCesare, Josephine Loughi, Lena Paone, Vera Garbin and Mary Pietrafosa. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Glastonbury Abbey, 16 Hull St., Hingham, MA 02043.

Marion A. Lorgeree, 96

A funeral Mass for Marion A. (McNabb) Lorgeree, 96, of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Lorgeree died July 10.

She worked as a waitress for several different restaurants, most recently Vallee's and Florian Hall. She was an avid walker and cherished her time outdoors. Mrs. Lorgeree enjoyed playing bingo and cards, especially whist, 500 rummy and canasta.

Her family was her greatest joy in life and she treasured the meals she cooked for them and the time they all spent together. Mrs. Lorgeree was always willing to go the extra mile for those she loved. She will be sadly missed.

Beloved wife of the late Francis Lorgeree. Loving mother of Robert Lorgeree and his late wife Ellen, Edward Lorgeree and his wife Sandra and Mark Lorgeree and his companion Patricia. Devoted grandmother of Donna and her husband Ben, Robert, Deborah, Steven, Russell and his wife Tricia, Kevin, Heather and Douglas and his wife Lori. Daughter of the late John and Gertrude McNabb. Caring sister of Rita, Janet and the late Doris, Eileen, Helena, Lillian, Harold, Robert, Paul and Joseph. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 30 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE
& CREMATION SERVICES
OF MASSACHUSETTS
Honored Providers of:
Veterans
Funeral Care
PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887
BBB
26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service
SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

OBITUARY

Helvi E. Rautiala, 82

A funeral service for Helvi E. Rautiala, 82, of Quincy was held yesterday (Wednesday) at Peck Funeral Home, Braintree.

Ms. Rautiala died at the Hancock Park Nursing and Rehabilitation Center on Monday.

She was born and raised in Quincy and was lifelong resident. Ms. Rautiala was a graduate of Quincy High School. She had been a secretary for Union Commercial Corporation in North Quincy. She was a member of Faith Lutheran Church.

Ms. Rautiala was devoted to her family and she possessed a friendly disposition. She treated all persons with whom she had contact with kindness.

She was the daughter of the late Eino and Hilja Rautiala. She leaves two sisters, Elsie Salorio and Helen Andrews, both of Braintree, as well as many nieces and nephews.

Interment at a later date at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Faith Lutheran Church, 201 Granite Street, Quincy, MA 02169.

Recreation Boating, Sailing Programs Available For Adults

The Quincy Recreation Department William F. Ryan Boating and Sailing Facility at Blacks Creek programs continue the programs for the summer of 2015 with a full menu of programs for adults.

A full complement of canoes, kayaks, (single and tandem), row boats and the popular, easy-to-sail O'Day widgeon sailboats at the ready for beginner to advanced participants. Paddle boards are also available.

The program located in scenic Merrymount Park is open seven days a week and adults may use the facility from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. weekdays and Saturday and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m.

Adult Memberships for the summer season are $35 and allow unlimited use. A one-day membership is available for $15. Members of the recreation boating and sailing staff are available for instruction or you may paddle or sail on your own in the salt water created when Furnace Brook meets the sea.

Participants may register in person during normal operating hours and there is no waiting period with immediate access to the boats. Additional information on the adult as well as youth and family programs can be obtained by calling the facility at 617-376-1397.

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE
PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No. NO15P1728EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Bertel L. Carlson
Also Known As:
Bertel Leonard Carlson
Date of Death:
March 10, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of:

Petitioner Beverly Ann Cyr of Littleton, MA.

a Will has been admitted to informal probate.

Beverly Ann Cyr of Littleton, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve without surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

7/23/15

Thomas Madden On Westfield State Dean's List

Thomas M. Madden of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Westfield State University.

A sophomore, Madden is double majoring in criminal justice and psychology.

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS
BY PUBLICATION
AND MAILING
Docket No. SU15D1237DR
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Suffolk Probate
and Family Court
24 New Chardon Street
Boston, MA 02114
(617) 788-8300
Andy Hoang Le vs.
Phuong Hang An Nguyen

To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for irretrievable breakdown of the marriage pursuant to G.L. c. 208 Sec 1B. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon: Andy Hoang Le, 2 Nixon St., Dorchester, MA 02124 your answer, if any, on or before 09/24/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS, Hon. Joan P. Armstrong, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 1, 2015

FELIX D. ARROYO
Register of Probate

7/23/15

More Obituaries On Pages 25-27 and Online at www.thequincysun.com

---

LEGAL NOTICE

ALL POLICE ORDERED OR ACCIDENT TOWS
(Sale of Motor Vehicle under G.L. c. 255, Section 39A)
Notice is hereby given by: Schlager Auto Body, 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA
pursuant to the provisions of G.L. c.255, Section 39A, that on August 1, 2015 at 9:00A.M. at 299 Centre St., Quincy Public Sale
the following Motor Vehicle will be sold to satisfy the garage-keeper's lien thereon for storage, towing charges, care and expenses of notices and sale of said vehicle.
Description of Vehicle: 1FMZU74K94VA5634 Ford Explorer 2003 MASS
Name and address of owner of vehicle: Diniz Lobo Depina, 98 George St., Roxbury, MA.
By: James Schlager
This notice has been given under the provisions of G.L. c.255, Section 39A
7/16, 7/23, 7/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 138 of the General Laws of Massachusetts that the Board has received an application from Bravo Restaurant Group, LLC d/b/a Bravo Pizzeria, 531 Washington Street, Michael M. Reza, Manager for a CV Wine and Malt Restaurant License. A hearing will be held in Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Room 121, Quincy TUESDAY AUGUST 4, 2015 @ 4:00 P.M.

Joseph P. Shea
Chairman

7/23/15

'Christmas In July' Salvation Army Kettle

Cont'd From Page 1

tain Timothy Ross, Corps Commanding Officer of The Salvation Army, "but throughout the year."

Ross continued:

"As individuals and families throughout Quincy continue to struggle with energy assistance, hunger, and numerous other issues throughout the summer months, it's important to keep the spirit of Christmas alive and provide a helping hand to our neighbors.

"The funds raised will support The Salvation Army's vital programs and services for those in need throughout the year. You may know The Salvation Army as a provider of emergency food and social services, but you may not realize that The Salvation Army offers so much more including a summer camp experience at Camp Wonderland, a preschool, spiritual programming and nursing home visits just to name a few."

"The Salvation Army works with individuals and families in order to provide hope while also guiding them towards becoming financially stable," said Captain Nicole Ross. "Sometimes it means giving a listening ear or the ability to resolve a financial emergency. Other times it may mean energy education, eviction prevention and case management – these are just a few items of the services that are provided on a daily basis to improve the lives of others."

Members of the Salvation Army's Board of Directors will be manning the kettle. Local elected officials, business people and the public are also invited to take part.

Among those who have signed up to ring the bell today (Thursday) are:

Paul Moody, commander, Sons of the American Legion Squadrom 294, Morrisette Legion Post; Don Uvanitte, Eastern Insurance Group and chairman of the Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; Dorothy Newell, Salvation Army Advisory Board; Jim Felci, Salvation Army Advisory Board; John Pasciucco, Salvation Army Advisory Board; Tina Cahill, director of Development, Quincy College; Amy Huber, NorthEast Community Bank and member Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; Karen Giovanniello, president of the Quincy Art Association and member of the Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; School Committeeman Noel DiBona; Ward 1 city council candidate John McCone; Ward 3 council candidate Sandy Verhault and Quincy Sun Publisher Robert Bosworth, member Salvation Army Advisory Board.

Those who would like to participate and volunteer some time at the kettle should email Quincy Sun Publisher Robert Bosworth at thequincysun@verizon.net.

Social Security Marking 80 Years

By KRISTEN ALBERINO

Social Security Public Affairs Specialist

Eighty years ago, on August 14, 1935, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the Social Security Act into law. The new law guaranteed a basic income for retirees and, at the time, the unemployed.

Over the years, Social Security has expanded its safety net to provide benefits for retirees, people with disabilities and the chronically ill, and spouses and children of deceased workers. The agency has evolved to serve the needs of a changing America. Now, we're celebrating this historic anniversary by looking at both our successful past, and the path to an even brighter future.

Social Security Online Services
★ Convenient ★ Secure ★
www.socialsecurity.gov

Social Security is there for you during all stages of life. Right from the beginning, we issue a unique Social Security number to most newborns when an application is taken at the hospital. This allows us to track your income over your working career and accurately calculate your retirement benefit. We provide disability benefits to injured and chronically ill workers and their families. We provide survivors benefits to widows, widowers, and the minors of deceased workers. We also provide Supplemental Security Income (SSI) to those with low income and resources, and Extra Help with Medicare prescription drug costs for people who qualify.

In our decades of experience, Social Security has evolved to meet the fast-paced demands of the digital world. Creating an online my Social Security account, for instance, let's you view your Social Security Statement, verify the accuracy of your earnings record, and get estimates of future monthly benefits. Once you begin receiving Social Security benefits, you can use your online account to manage your record, including changing your address and phone number, checking your benefit information, changing your electronic payment method, and obtaining an instant benefit verification letter or replacement SSA-1099/1042S. If you haven't already, you can easily sign up for a my Social Security account at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

Our safe and secure online services allow you to apply for retirement, spouse's, Medicare, and disability benefits from the comfort of your home. You can quickly complete an online retirement application at www.socialsecurity.gov/applyonline.

Looking to the future, we recently released our Vision 2025, a strategic plan to help us shape the future of Social Security service delivery and maintain clear communication with you. For more information about our vision for the next ten years, visit www.socialsecurity.gov/vision2025.

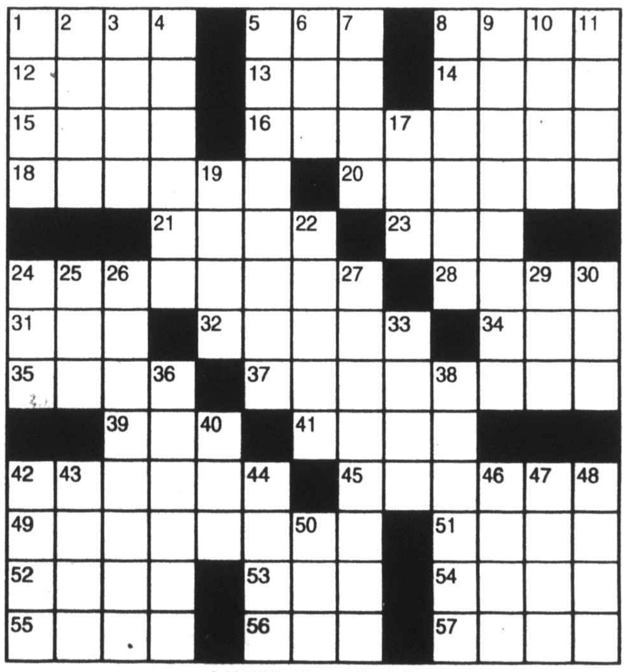
We look to the next 80 years with a renewed commitment to proudly serving Social Security customers throughout their lifetime, when and where they need us. See how Social Security has evolved over the years at www.socialsecurity.gov/history.

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
- 1 Nut's partner
- 5 Encountered
- 8 "The lady — protest too much"
- 12 Great Lake
- 13 Raw mineral
- 14 Franc replacement
- 15 On the briny
- 16 Legally requires
- 18 Fluffy dessert
- 20 Butter-and-sugar candy
- 21 Billions of years
- 23 Always, in verse
- 24 Flies south for the winter, e.g.
- 28 Standard
- 31 Bakery offering
- 32 Mila of "That '70s Show"
- 34 Neither mate
- 35 Slugs
- 37 Captains of industry
- 39 Mouse's cousin
- 41 Norse thunder god
- 42 Tolerates
- 45 Cheap
- 49 Serves as a go-between
- 51 — Minor
- 52 Andy's pal of old radio
- 53 Have bills
- 54 Hammer's target
- 55 Dexterous
- 56 Tiny
- 57 Dilbert's workplace

DOWN
- 1 Shaft of light
- 2 Approximately
- 3 Stead
- 4 Quick preview
- 5 Impetus
- 6 Historic time
- 7 Camp shelter
- 8 Be way too loud for
- 9 Leading
- 10 Genealogy chart
- 11 Firetruck need
- 17 Female deer
- 19 Drench
- 22 French legislature
- 24 Speedometer stat
- 25 Midafternoon, in a way
- 26 Discard
- 27 Take a vacation tour
- 29 Fish eggs
- 30 Wifely address
- 33 Winter forecast
- 36 Cruel person
- 38 In the vicinity
- 40 Earl Grey, e.g.
- 42 "Diary of — Housewife"
- 43 Everlys' hit, "Let It —"
- 44 Pack away
- 46 Scottish hillside
- 47 Egyptian fertility goddess
- 48 Chat
- 50 Ram's mate



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● HIGH —

H	N	K	H	E	B	Y	V	S	P	M	J	H	E	B
Y	V	T	Q	O	L	I	G	D	B	Y	W	T	R	P
M	K	I	W	F	D	B	Y	W	S	U	G	S	Q	E
O	M	K	I	I	F	D	B	S	Z	C	O	X	W	V
U	S	Q	O	N	R	D	R	L	J	H	H	F	D	I
C	A	Y	A	D	V	E	N	T	U	R	E	O	N	S
W	V	T	O	S	T	S	P	A	Q	P	H	E	O	O
N	L	O	K	A	I	R	M	P	M	H	T	F	O	L
F	L	E	W	C	A	O	U	B	E	M	N	I	N	P
B	Z	Y	W	E	V	H	J	U	S	T	O	L	M	X
R	Q	P	G	N	M	L	J	S	A	E	S	C	I	E

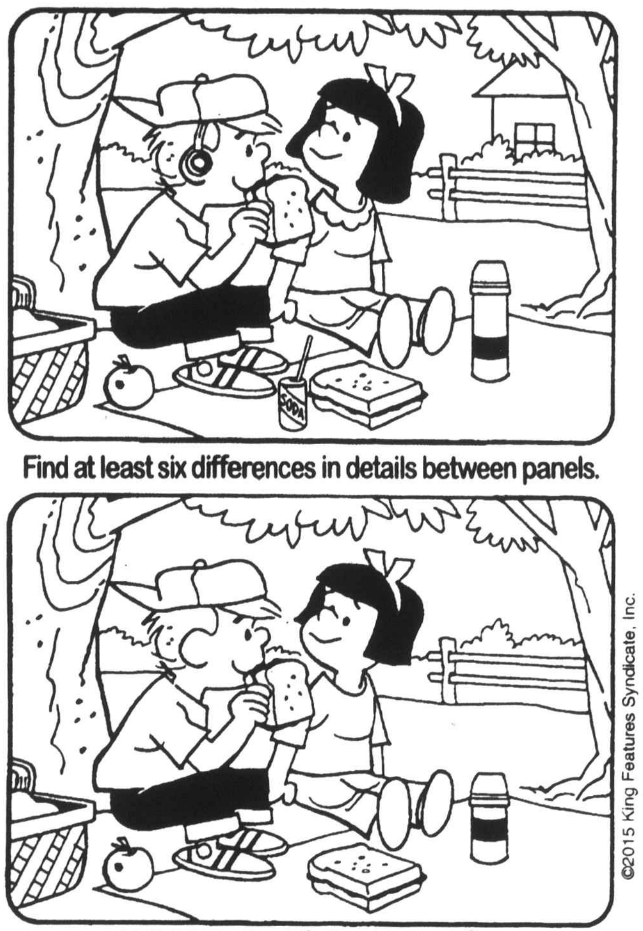
Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Adventure
Command
Explosive
Gear
Horse
Jump
Life
Noon
On the hog
School
Seas
Stepper
Time
Waters
Wire

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY
HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.

Differences: 1. Headset is missing. 2. Soda can is missing. 3. Hair is shorter. 4. Collar is missing. 5. House is missing. 6. Thermos is smaller.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. MEASUREMENTS: What is the Fahrenheit equivalent of 100 degrees Celsius?
2. GEOGRAPHY: How many U.S. states border the state of Missouri?
3. LANGUAGE: What is a pangram?
4. BIBLE: What kind of birds did Noah send to find dry land?
5. MUSIC: Which pop music song contains the phrase, "You can't hide your lyin' eyes"?
6. ART: Jean Arp was a founding member of what art movement in the early 1900s?
7. LANDMARKS: What style of structure is the Washington Monument?
8. MOVIES: Who has won the most Oscars for Best Director of a film?
9. FIRSTS: Who was the first woman to win an Olympic gold medal for tennis?
10. INVENTIONS: What company first developed the floppy disk?

Answers
1. 212 degrees
2. Eight
3. A sentence that uses every letter of the alphabet
4. A raven and a dove
5. "Lyin' Eyes" by the Eagles
6. Dada
7. Obelisk
8. John Ford, who won four
9. Charlotte Cooper, 1900
10. IBM

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Wishing Well®

8	6	4	3	4	5	8	6	4	7	2	8	3
A	L	E	W	N	A	N	O	D	B	A	E	I
7	2	5	4	6	5	4	2	8	4	2	3	4
U	T	S	L	V	U	E	E	W	S	L	S	S
7	2	5	4	8	6	3	5	3	8	2	4	2
I	E	C	S	B	I	D	C	O	E	P	U	H
3	7	6	3	7	5	4	5	8	2	4	5	4
M	L	N	I	D	E	C	S	L	O	C	S	E
2	5	2	6	4	6	8	3	2	8	7	5	7
N	F	E	G	S	F	O	S	C	V	B	U	R
6	5	8	4	6	2	5	2	7	3	6	5	8
R	L	E	S	I	A	D	L	I	Y	E	A	D
5	3	6	3	6	2	3	7	6	7	3	7	7
Y	O	N	U	D	L	R	D	S	G	S	E	S

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't gnash those pearly whites because you might have to delay your plans. This could give the Lucky Lamb a better perspective of what's been done, and what still needs doing.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Scoring financial bull's-eyes is easy for the focused Bovine who knows the ins and outs of the marketplace. But even with your success record, caution is still the watchword.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Watch that tendency to over-romanticize a situation that should be given closer scrutiny. Better to be suspicious now and ask for an explanation, or face a sad surprise later.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Bruised self-confidence can make things difficult unless you accept the fact that you have what it takes. Ignore the critics and concentrate on believing in yourself. Good luck.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Congratulations on what you've accomplished. But this is no time to curl up for some serious catnapping. Your rivals are probably already working on plans to overtake your lead.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Your adventurous side wants to play a more dominant role this week, and you might want to oblige. Try to arrange for some getaway time with that special person.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Taking logical approaches to pesky workplace issues can help resolve even long-standing problems. A shift in policy might catch you by surprise. Be alert to signs of change.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your kindness and compassion are exactly what are needed in dealing with an awkward situation in the early part of the week. Share the weekend fun with family and friends.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Keeping your focus straight and true is a good way of getting your points across. Save any variations for a later time. The musical arts are important this weekend.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Reject advice to cut corners in reaching your goal. Better to take a little more time to do the job as you promised. You'll gain new respect for your honesty and integrity.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Don't allow a troublesome situation to grow so big that it will be increasingly difficult to deal with. The sooner you speak up, the sooner everyone will be able to benefit.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Confronting someone who is making a lot of mistakes could be the kindest thing you can do both for that person and for anyone who could be adversely affected by the errors.

BORN THIS WEEK: You absolutely glow when you see beautiful things, and everyone around you is warmed by your light.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

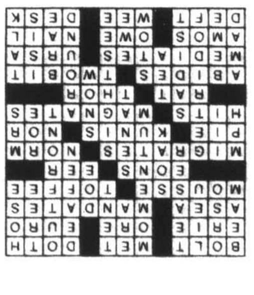
This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: J equals L

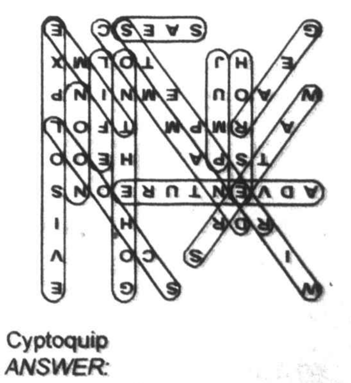
KY WLC AZQ RCBBZO
KORHKGMQKLO QL SGKQZ
HZGYZFQ SLGBR YLG M RLOA,
LOZ EKAIQ FMJJ QIMQ M
JWGKFMJ EKGMFJZ.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 21 mins.



Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

If you get sudden inspiration to write perfect words for a song, one might call that a lyrical miracle.

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE
PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO15P1728EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Bertel L. Carlson
Also Known As:
Bertel Leonard Carlson
Date of Death:
March 10, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of

Petitioner Beverly Ann Cyr of Littleton, MA a Will has been admitted to informal probate. Beverly Ann Cyr of Littleton, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

7/23/15

NOW ENROLLING

Quincy Catholic Academy
Accepting Applications for the 2015-2016 School Year
Preschool (3yr. olds) to Grade 8
370 Hancock Street
617-328-3830
www.quincycatholicacademy.org
7/23

CLASS REUNION

Quincy High School
Class of 1957
Reunion Lunch
The Common Market
Sept. 19, 2015
Call Rose Volpe Kennedy
617.328.7181
7/23

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642
7/23

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-039

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Judy Chen for a Finding to change use from retail to restaurant with sit down bar and that the increase in pre-existing non-conforming parking will not be substantially more detrimental in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.2 (nonconforming use) on the premises numbered 663 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-040

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Zhimin Huang for a Special Permit/Flood Plain/Finding/Variance to construct a second level and an addition in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements), Chapter 8.0 (Flood plain) and Chapter 3.4.3 (change nonconforming) on the premises numbered 8 SAFFORD STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-041

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Mitchell Pauly, Trustee for a Finding/Variance to extend first floor unit into area of basement to increase living area in unit in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) and Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 24 NORTH CENTRAL AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-042

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of 123 Elm Condominium Trust c/o Kimberly Bielan, Esq. for a Finding to alter its pre-existing nonconforming accessory parking in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.2 (nonconforming uses), Chapter 5.1.7 (parking space requirements), Chapter 5.1.8 (off street parking) on the premises numbered 123 ELM STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

FOR SALE

Harley Davidson truck and blanket, framed pictures, tool box, lamps, baskets, dolls, household items, camera, couch
617-481-8769
7/30

Antique Columbia Granfonia Wind Up Record Player Stand-Up Model, Works Fine. All Original. Moving, Must Sell. $325
Call Don
781-789-7642
7/30

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com
TF

LEGAL NOTICE

ALL POLICE ORDERED OR ACCIDENT TOWS
(Sale of Motor Vehicle under G.L. c. 255, Section 39A)

Notice is hereby given by: Schlager's Towing Service, 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA, 02169

pursuant to the provisions of G.L. c. 255, Section 39A, that on Saturday, August 1, 2015 at 9:00A.M. at 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA 02169 at 9:00A.M. a Public Sale the following Motor Vehicle will be sold to satisfy the garagekeeper's lien thereon for storage, towing charges, care and expenses of notices and sale of said vehicle.

Description of Vehicle: 3GNFK16T63G260583 Chevy Suburban 2003 MA:NE45LL

Name and address of owner of vehicle: Charles Baker 67 Allen St., Randolph, MA 02368

By: James Schlager

This notice has been given under the provisions of G.L. c. 255, Section 39A

7/16/15, 7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

CASE NO. 15-043

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm on the Second Floor in the Council Chambers, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Xiao Qi Tian for a Finding to legalize a two family home in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4 (finding required) on the premises numbered 48 TOWN HILL STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

ACCOUNTS PAYABLE ASSOCIATE

Full-time energetic self-starter needed for multi-entity Quincy organization.
2 years high volume experience required.

Reply to:
ddoherty@girihotels.com
7/30

Experienced hand toss pizza cook needed at Gennaro's Eatery in Quincy. Responsible for all prep necessary for pizza making, we make our own dough, and other miscellaneous tasks.

- Reliable, hard working, keeping your station clean, and taking pride in your work is required . Fast Paced and high volume without giving up quality is a must.
- Weekends a must.
- Valid social security or green card.
- Must be able to lift up to 50 lbs.
- Must speak English.
- Must be clean & neat in appearance, no facial jewelry, no large jewelry or accessories, no earrings larger than a dime.
- Must have good customer service skills.
- Must work with wait staff, counter help, & other cooks. Must have good attitude and be pleasant.

reply to: gennaroseatery@gmail.com
7/30

PART TIME DRIVERS

Drive Cars_Monday's
10am-3pm
Earn $60.00

FAST-PACED ENVIRONMENT
FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE

Apply in person, call or email Mike Cooley at: quincyaa@quincyauction.com

617-773-5000
Quincy Auto Auction
196 Ricciuti Drive, Quincy EOE
7/30

PERSONAL

WORLD'S ONLY GOLF TEE AND PENCIL IN ONE!
WWW.TEECIL.COM
7/23

Prayer to St. Theresa

Oh Glorious St. Theresa
Whom almighty God has raised up to aid and counsel mankind. I invite your miraculous intercession. So powerful are you obtaining every need of body and soul, our Holy Mother Church proclaims you a "Prodigy of Miracles." Now fervently I beseech you to answer my petition (mention here) and carry out your promise of doing good upon earth of letting fall from heaven a shower of roses. Henceforth, Dear little flower, I will fulfill your plea to be made known everywhere and I will never cease to lead others to Jesus through you. Amen
(Say prayer everyday for 9 days. By 4th day, ask for a sign. If prayers are to be answered between 4th and 9th day, you will see a rose in a Magazine, TV picture or receive Roses. You can also get strong scent of roses in home even if no roses are present. Must promise publication. Thank you.) J.O.
7/23

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE
LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details* 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings •
Showers • Christenings • Meetings
After Funeral Gatherings TF

HAIR SALON

ALL SUMMER
BUZZ CUTS $15
ALL CHILDRENS $10
CLIPPER HAIR DESIGN
MARINA BAY
(617)328-9719 7/23

CASH FOR HOUSES

CASH MONEY PAID
FOR HOUSES
ANY CONDITION, ANY AREA,
ANY ISSUE
PROBATE FORECLOSURE ETC...
QUICK CLOSINGS
NO REALTOR COMMISSIONS
(617)249-3961 8/6

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association
Learn and Live

HELP WANTED

QUINCY CHECKER CAB
OF QUINCY IS HIRING DRIVERS
APPLY IN PERSON AT
673 WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY
NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE
8/6

P/T RECEPTIONIST

CONSOLIDATED BRICK, A MASONRY DISTRIBUTOR IN AVON (15 MIN. FROM QUINCY) SEEKS RELIABLE, HONEST PART-TIME RECEPTIONIST
MON.-FRI. 10:00 A.M.-2:00P.M.

- STRONG TELEPHONE SKILLS
- PROFESSIONAL APPEARANCE & DEMEANOR
- CUSTOMER SERVICE SKILLS
- BASIC COMPUTER LITERACY

REPLY TO: HR@CONSOLIDATEDBRICK.COM

EEO 8/6

CLASSIFIEDS

MISCELLANEOUS

AUCTION/REAL ESTATE/ LUNENBERG MA

BANKRUPTCY ORDERED; Two Large Land Parcels-Sold Separately; Bid Online Now; For details & terms, visit www.Tranzon.com; Tranzon Auction Properties; 866-503-1212; Michael B. Carey MA Lic.#AU3188; Samantha Kelley MA RE Lic. # 134740

HELP WANTED

Drive where you're appreciated! MVT needs OTR teams for runs east of KS:
*Weekly home-time
*Sign-on bonus
*MPG rewards
Mesilla Valley Transportation
915-791-8730
www.driveformesillavalley.com

HELP WANTED

NOW HIRING
Work and Travel
6 Openings Now $20+Per HOUR
Full-time Travel, Paid Training,
Transportation Provided,
Ages 18+
BBB accredited apply online
www.needajob1.com
Call toll-free 1-866-751-9114

HELP WANTED

NEWSPAPER READERS WANTED to participate in an in-person research project. Participants will receive $100. We want to know your opinions about what separates the great newspapers from the good ones. The research will be conducted during the last two weeks of July in Dedham, MA, and your 3-hour interview can be scheduled at your convenience. If you are an avid reader of daily and/or weekly newspapers, please call the New England Newspaper & Press Association at (781) 320-8042 for more info, or go to www.noy.nenpa.com

HELP WANTED-SALES

WANTED: LIFE AGENTS; Earn $500 A DAY; Great Agent Benefits; Commissions Paid Daily; Liberal Underwriting; Leads, Leads, Leads, LIFE INSURANCE, LICENSE REQUIRED. Call 1-888-713-6020

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

SERVICES

IMAGE LANDSCAPING
We are committed to your property
We clean IT
Trim IT
Remove IT
QUALITY WORKMANSHIP
617-471-0044
FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED 11/26

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE
- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates
CLEAN-UPS
617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES 11/26

FORMICA BRAND CENTER
Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured
Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com
8/13

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER
56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
SPARKLE: 7, female, calico.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
SHADOW: 15, female, black.
NIKKI: 4, female, tabby.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
ABBEY & BUTTERCUP: 15 & 13.
KITTY: 5, female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
SWEET PEA & YOMO: 1 & 6, females.
BAABAA: 6, male, black.
BELLA & BABY GIRL: 8, females.
CLOVER: 2, female, tabby.
PADDY: 4, male, black.

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

T & M Landscape Co.
- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~ 9/3

COMMONWEALTH BUILDING INC.
is a Quincy-based Commercial/ Retail GC servicing New England. Please visit us at www.combuild.com for more info. 7/23

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 10/1

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

SCENTSY
Lee Ann Zappi
Independent Scentsy Rep
leeannzappi.scentsy.us
leeannzappi@verizon.net
Mention this ad and get 10% off 7/23

J.F. ROOFING CO.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
(617)471-8216 12/31

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE
Average Room - walls $150
Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out.
Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479 9/24

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 10/29

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK ☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.

2-4 WEEKS ☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.

5-10 WEEKS ☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

11 WEEKS OR MORE ☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

☐ Enclosed is $ ____________ for the following ad to run ____________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________

____

____

____

____

____

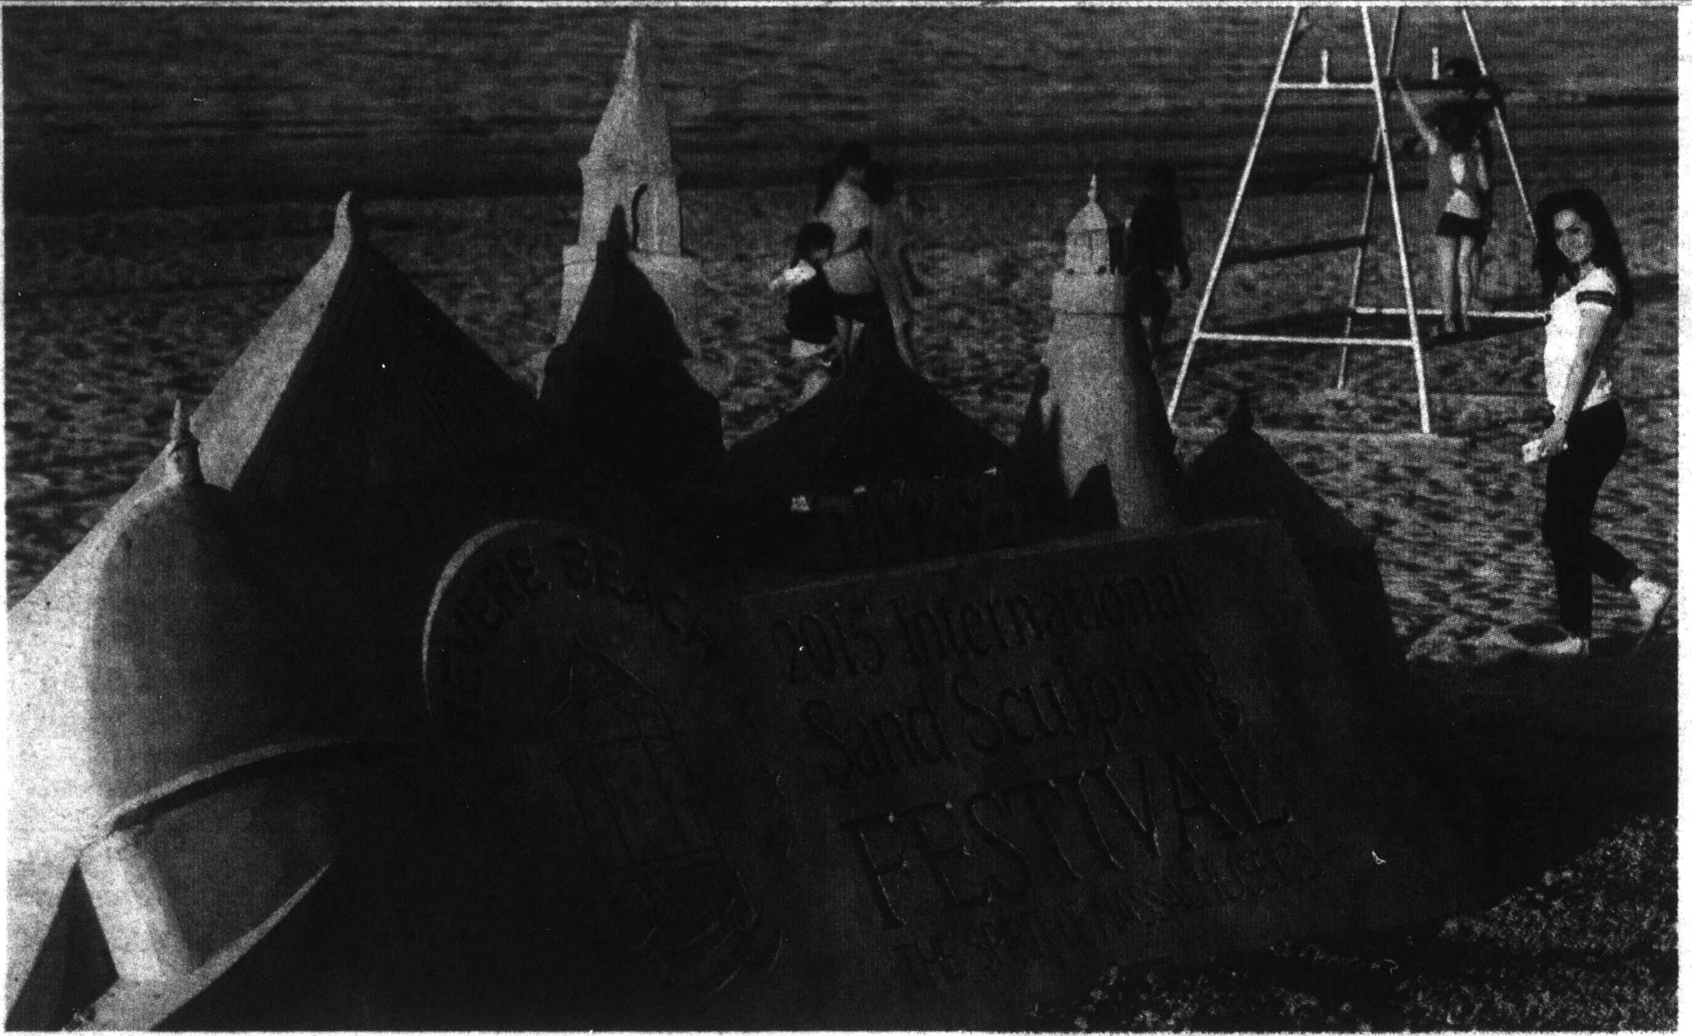
____

____

____

INDEX
☐ Services
☐ For Sale
☐ Autos
☐ Boats
☐ For Rent
☐ Wanted
☐ Help Wanted
☐ Work Wanted
☐ Pets
☐ Lost & Found
☐ Real Estate
☐ Antiques
☐ Flea Markets
☐ Yard Sales
☐ Instruction
☐ Day Care
☐ Personal
☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.



BEACH PASSERBY admires the finished 20-ton sand castle sculpture created by three master sculptors on Wollaston Beach last week. Sculptors Abe Waterman of Prince Edward Island, Morgan Rudluff from California and Kevin Crawford from Australia created the sculpture over two days last week to help promote the Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival Friday, July 24 and Saturday, July 25 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday, July 26 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The Wollaston Beach creation depicted several well-known Boston landmarks, including (from left) the State House Dome, Zakim Bridge, Old North Church and Boston Light (lighthouse). The scupltors began working on the sand castle last Wednesday. Part of the castle showing the Old North Church was toppled by vandals and was remade with limited time on Thursday. This weekend's competition in Revere features 10 solo master sand scupltors and five teams of two master sand sculptors. Quincy Sun Photo/ Robert Bosworth

Red Line Service Suspended JFK-NQ On 3 Weekends

Beginning on Saturday, July 25, and continuing on selected weekends through the month of August, Red Line service between JFK/ Umass and North Quincy stations will be temporarily suspended to allow workers to make the subway more resilient to harsh winter weather conditions, the MBTA announces.

On weekends when workers will be replacing third rail and switch heaters, Red Line service between JFK/ Umass and North Quincy will be suspended in both directions from start to end of service. Shuttle bus service will be provided, serving JFK/Umass and North Quincy stations. Service will be impacted on the following weekends:

- Saturday, July 25 and Sunday, July 26
- Saturday, Aug. 22 and Sunday, Aug. 23
- Saturday, Aug. 29 and Sunday, Aug. 30.

The $83.7 million Winter Resiliency Plan is designed to address critically needed improvements to the MBTA's infrastructure, equipment, and operations. Information regarding the Plan can be found athttp://www.mbta.com/about_the_mbta/news_events/?id=6442454500&month=&year=.

All shuttle bus stops are accessible for persons with disabilities. For transportation news and updates visit MassDOT website: www.mass.gov/massdot, or follow on twitter at www.twitter.com/massdot.

solarflair
CLEAN ENERGY SOLUTIONS

SOLARIZE MASS
QUINCY

Solarize Quincy has been Extended!

DER

MASSACHUSETTS CLEAN ENERGY CENTER

You now have until August 31st to take advantage of Solarize Quincy's lowest pricing

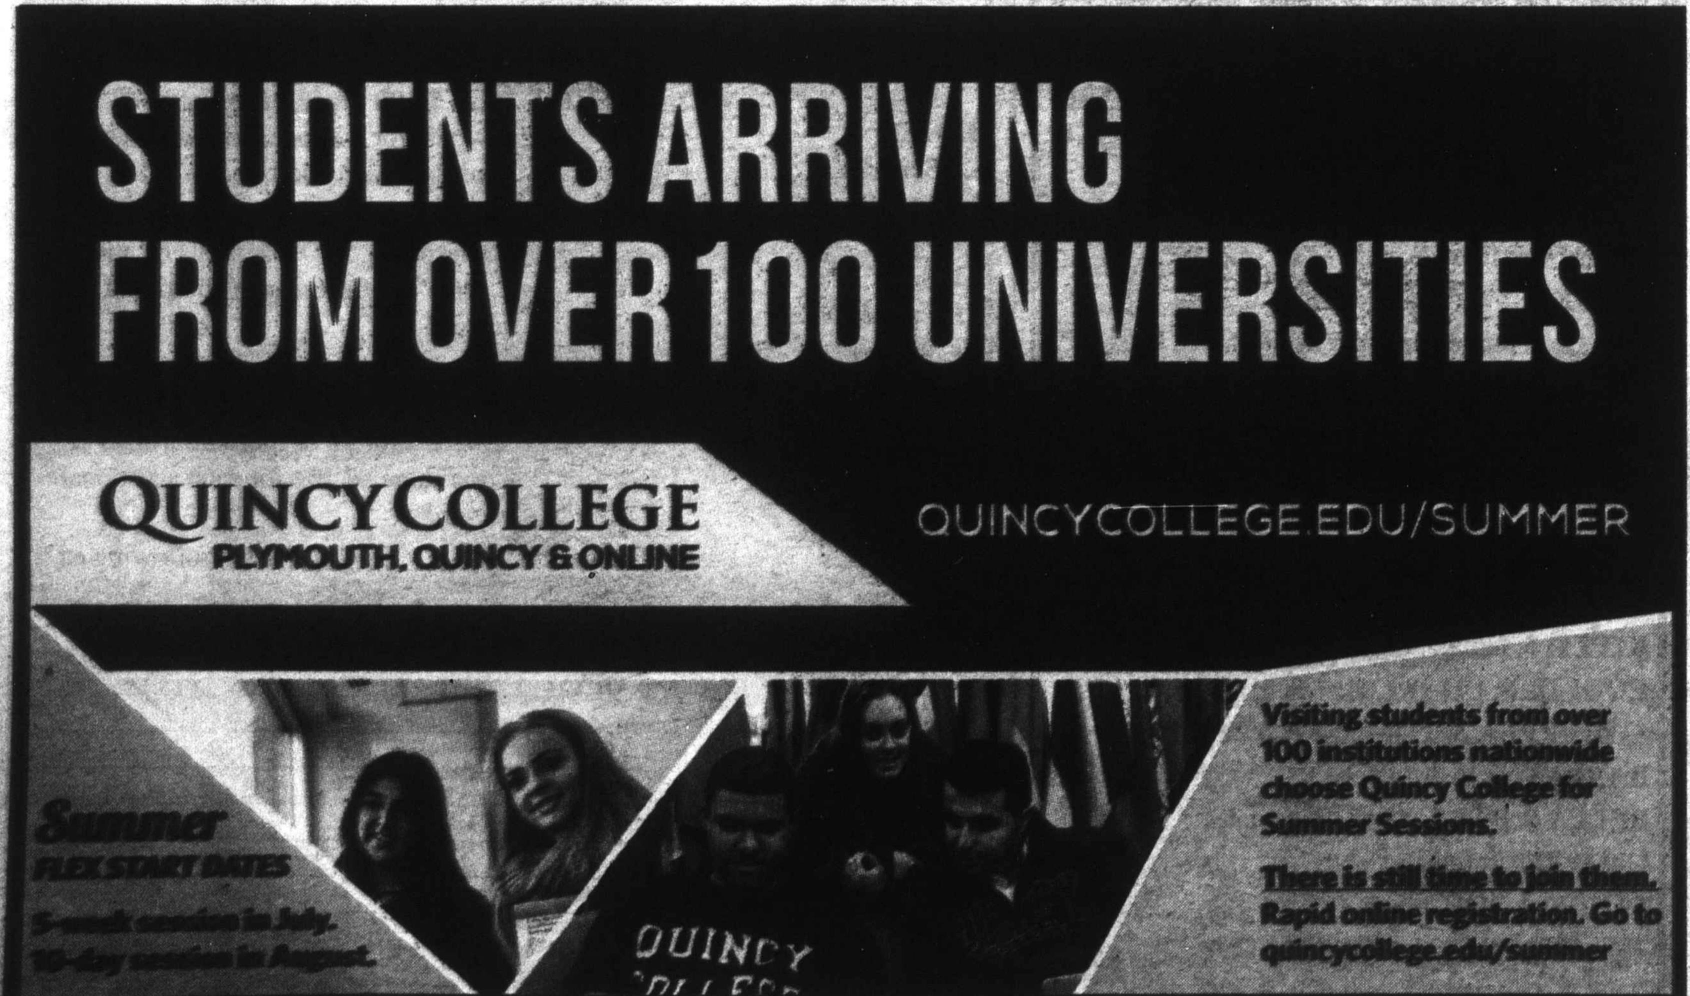
LOWEST PRICES

LIMITED TIME ONLY

Solarizequincy.Weebly.com

SolarizeQuincy@solarflair.com or (508)-808-0350

Solarize Quincy is an initiative of the MA Clean Energy Center and Department of Energy Resources



STUDENTS ARRIVING FROM OVER 100 UNIVERSITIES

QUINCY COLLEGE
PLYMOUTH, QUINCY & ONLINE

QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU/SUMMER

Summer
FLEX START DATES
5-week session in July.
10-day session in August.

Visiting students from over 100 institutions nationwide choose Quincy College for Summer Sessions.

There is still time to join them. Rapid online registration. Go to quincycollege.edu/summer

Quincy 14-Year-Olds Win
State Babe Ruth Title - Page 18
Quincy Community Action
Celebrates 50th Anniversary - Page 14

CAR-RT LOTC-004
2
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 45 Thursday, July 30, 2015 75¢

KETTLE KIDS – Madison Morrissey, left, age 5 and her sister Caylee, age 6, drop a donation into the Salvation Army red kettle during last Thursday's "Christmas In July" event outside Quincy City Hall near the John Adams Statue and McIntyre Mall. The second annual "Christmas in July" kettle raised $1,136 for the Salvation Army of Quincy. Other photos on Pages 4, 15, 16 and 17.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Houghs Neck Blood Drive Remembers Chris, Trudy Peter

By JOE REARDON

July 21st was a milestone day for 16-year-old Jason Goodwin at the 31st Annual Chris and Trudy Peter Memorial Blood Drive at St. Thomas Aquinas Hall in Houghs Neck.

The Plymouth South junior was set to give blood for the first time in memory of his uncle, Chris Peter, and grandmother, Trudy Peter. Chris was killed in a tragic drunk driving crash back in 1984 at the age of 22 and his parents Charlie and Trudy put together a blood drive in his memory shortly thereafter. Trudy worked tirelessly on the blood drive before passing away in 2003.

For Jason, who has been coming to the blood drive with his parents since he was 2 years old, finally being able to give blood was something he was looking foward to for the uncle he HOUGHS NECK Community Council and the Peter family co-hosted a blood drive July 21 in memory of Chris and Trudy Peter. From left: Dave DiBona, president, Houghs Neck Community Council; Eileen Timcoe, a volunteer; and Charlie Peter, father of the late Chris Peter and husband of the late Trudy Peter. This year marked the 31st annual blood drive.

Quincy Sun Photo/Joe Reardon

Cont'd On Page 11

Two Unions Join Quincy Center Project

Electrical, Iron Workers Part Of West Of Chestnut Construction

Two local labor unions have reached agreements to work on the first Quincy Center redevelopment project – West of Chestnut – which features two buildings with a combined 169 apartments and 12,000 square feet of street-level retail space.

Gate Residential Properties on Monday announced the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) Local 103 and Local 7 Iron Workers have joined the West of Chestnut project team. They join two other local construction workers' unions as the first of two buildings is now beginning to rise along Hancock Street.

The agreements with the local union trades come as construction continues on West of Chestnut, the $60 million residential and commercial project in the 1400 block of Hancock Street that is jumpstarting development in downtown Quincy.

Weymouth-based Aldon Electric, a member of IBEW Local 103, was awarded the

Cont'd On Page 2

Dropped Olympic Bid Brings Relief, Disappointment

By SCOTT JACKSON

Local officials reacted with disappointment and relief following Monday's decision to drop Boston's bid to host the 2024 Summer Olympics.

The United States Olympic Committee and Boston 2024 announced the decision Monday afternoon, six months after the national committee selected Boston over three other cities – Los Angeles, San Francisco and Washington, D.C. – that also bid to host the games. In a joint statement, the two organizations cited a lack of public support as the reason the bid was withdrawn.

Boston 2024's newest plan – dubbed "bid 2.0" – featured venues across Massachusetts. The Olympic stadium would have been built in Widdett Circle in

Cont'd On Page 9

Gutro Concerned Over Bridge Work

By SCOTT JACKSON

Councillor Doug Gutro will call on city officials to release documents related to the demolition of the Long Island Bridge once the council returns from its summer recess in September.

Gutro, in a letter dated Tuesday to Inspectional Services Director Jay Duca,

Cont'd On Page 15

License Board Closes Local Bar After Stabbing - Page 3
Marina Bay Arts Affair This Weekend - Page 6
NQHS Baseball Hall Of Fame Induction - Pages 21, 22

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

Two Labor Unions Join Quincy Center Project

Cont'd From Page 1

electrical work for West of Chestnut. Aldon Electric President Allen Mullaney is a resident of Quincy.

In addition to IBEW Local 103, Local 7 Iron Workers have begun to erect the steel podium for the 169-unit residential apartment and retail development. Local 4 Operators and Local 1421 Building Wreckers also played a key role in the demolition and excavation work onsite for West of Chestnut.

"We are pleased that we were able to come to terms and that these local workers will be participating in this important and exciting project for Quincy," Damian Szary, a principal with Gate Residential said.

"West of Chestnut is the first of several new developments that will help transform downtown Quincy, and a project that will offer outstanding amenities, vibrant urban living and convenient access to the Red Line, commuter rail and many bus routes into and around Boston."

IRON MEN – Adrian Eugenia (left) and Sean McCusker, both members of Iron Workers Local 7, unload a shipment of steel support beams for the West of Chestnut project. The beams will be used in the first floor platform of a new building on Hancock Street; part of the platform can be seen at right. Once completed, West of Chestnut will include two buildings with a combined 169 apartments and 12,000 square feet of street level retail. Photo Courtesy Ernie Corrigan

Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and Gate Residential Properties are partners in the joint venture.

"We began meeting with local labor unions last fall and pledged to engage any union that could work within the finances of this project," Quincy Mutual Executive Vice President James J. Moran said.

"The labor unions that are now participating in the construction of this project made a commitment to competitively bid the work within our budget so that they could put their members to work and participate in the revitalization of Quincy's downtown. We are proud to have them and proud of the community that we have called home for 164 years."

Earlier this summer, Gate Residential began construction on West of Chestnut following the announcement last fall of a new joint venture with landowner Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Quincy Mutual, which has been in continuous operation in Quincy since it was founded in 1851, has invested more than $23 million in the downtown Quincy redevelopment effort to date.

West of Chestnut will feature 169 highly-amenitized residential units in two six-story urban midrise buildings – including approximately 12,000 square feet of commercial and retail space on the ground level that will feature restaurants and active retail stores. Amenities include a top-of-the-line fitness center, cross-training studio, a club suite with a lounging media room, a dog-wash room, and an outdoor fireplace and courtyard.

West of Chestnut is one of many new developments set for Quincy Center. Other projects include renovations to City Hall and the new Adams-Hancock Green. A replacement for the Quincy Center MBTA station is also envisioned as well as other mixed-use residential and retail developments.

Quincy Chamber of Commerce President Dean Rizzo announced in the spring that Quincy currently has $600 million of residential and commercial development in the works.

"Quincy is in the midst of an exciting development boom, and we're pleased that West of Chestnut is part of this great story," he said.

"With world-class amenities and set in a prime location near shopping and restaurants – just minutes from downtown Boston – West of Chestnut will attract a new wave of young professionals, and consumers, to Quincy Center."

Gate Residential expects to begin the pre-leasing process for West of Chestnut in January 2016 and complete construction on the first phase of the project by spring 2016. A second phase of the project, called East of Chestnut, will follow – featuring approximately 220 units with additional amenity and retail space.

As a leading Boston-based developer, Gate Residential creates vibrant apartment communities in targeted urban areas near highly desirable employment and university markets that are easily accessible by public transportation. Its most recent project in Chelsea, One North Boston, set a record for leasing 100 percent of its 230 apartments within two months of opening. Founded in 2010, Gate Residential Properties, LLC is the multifamily development and investment arm of Redgate Holdings, LLC.

VELOCITY DANCE COMPANY

Now Enrolling For Fall!

50% Off Registration

Ballet Tap Jazz Modern Hip Hop
Contemporary Musical Theatre
Pre-School Through Adults
Open House Saturday August 8, 10am-3pm
Studio: 37 Billings Road North Quincy
617-733-5793 velocitydance@aol.com
www.velocitydancecompany.com

solarflair
CLEAN ENERGY SOLUTIONS

SOLARIZE MASS
QUINCY

Solarize Quincy has been Extended!

DOER

MASSACHUSETTS CLEAN ENERGY CENTER

You now have until August 31st to take advantage of Solarize Quincy's lowest pricing

LOWEST PRICES

LIMITED TIME ONLY

Solarizequincy.Weebly.com

SolarizeQuincy@solarflair.com or (508)-808-0350

Solarize Quincy is an initiative of the MA Clean Energy Center and Department of Energy Resources

License Board Closes Bar After Stabbing Incident

By SCOTT JACKSON

The Board of License Commissioners on Tuesday ordered the immediate closure of an East Howard Street bar, days after a man was stabbed on the premises.

The board voted 5-0 in favor of revoking all licenses – CV all alcohol, entertainment and pinball – granted to Yaz's Place, located at 132 E. Howard St., effectively immediately. The revocation followed a 90-minute hearing, during which neighbors complained of repeated problems at the establishment. The attorney representing the bar's owner argued the decision was predetermined – then walked out before commissioners took a vote.

The most recent incident took place during the early morning hours of July 24. Quincy Police Officer Dwayne Goldman told the board he was on patrol in Quincy Point that night when he received a request for backup from another officer who was assigned to monitor Yaz's Place at closing time. Goldman said he found a chaotic scene when he arrived at the parking lot; the crowd prevented officers from aiding a 27-year-old man who had been stabbed.

"When I arrived on scene I observed a chaotic scene of well over 100 people in the parking lot. There were several fights going on and countless people yelling and screaming," Goldman said. "There were so many people acting aggressively toward the police on scene it was impossible to render any sort of medical aid to the victim."

In total, nine police units responded to the scene that night along with three ambulances and it took about a half-hour to clear the parking lot, according to Goldman. The victim was taken to Boston Medical Center with non life-threatening injuries.

Police Lt. Peter Turowski, the department's liquor inspector, said the response required so many officers almost none were left to service the rest of Quincy.

"Until this was brought under control, it basically left the rest of the city without police coverage," he stated.

Officers were able to recover a razor blade from the scene. Goldman said the patrons in the parking lot, as well as the victim, were able or willing to provide information to police. Turowski said two men who identified themselves as promoters inside the bar told an officer who attempted to question them that he had no business being inside the venue.

Cont'd On Page 32

12 So Far Qualify For Ballot; Nomination Papers Due Aug. 4

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

With less than a week before the filing deadline, 12 of the 30 residents who pulled nomination papers to run for elected office this fall have qualified for the city ballot as of Tuesday afternoon.

Election workers were also adding up nomination papers submitted by another three residents Tuesday afternoon. Fifty signatures from registered voters are required to appear on the ballot.

The filing deadline for those running for school committee, city council and mayor is next Tuesday, Aug. 4 at 5 p.m.

Those who have qualified for the ballot and the number of certified signatures as of Tuesday:

Ward 1 Councillor:

- Incumbent Margaret Laforest, 236 Rock Island Rd. – 120 signatures.
- John McCone, 111 Darrow St. – 119 signatures.

Ward 3 Councillor:

- Karl Roos, 8 Park St. – 285.
- Sandy Verhault, 183 Highland Ave. – 86.

Ward 4 Councillor:

Incumbent Brian Palmucci, 16 Cross St. - 125.

Ward 5 Councillor

- Incumbent Kirsten Hughes, 116 Willow Ave. – 77.
- Gina Ostis, 57 Estabrook Rd. – 93

City Council at-Large

- Incumbent Michael McFarland, 77 Village Dr. – 106.
- Nina Liang, 2 Williams St. – 414.

Mayor

- William Phelan, 86 Monroe Rd. – 315.

School Committee

- Incumbent Kathryn Hubley, 44 Marion St. – 130.
- James V. DeAmicis, 66 Campbell St. – 94.

Three others returned nomination papers on Tuesday but the number of signatures were unknown before The Sun went to press.

They are: mayoral candidate Doug Gutro, 230 Marlboro St.; School Committee candidate Frank Santoro, 80 Havilend St. and Ward 6 Council candidate William P. Harris, 74 Ashworth Rd.

Fifteen other residents have taken out papers for elected office but as of Tuesday afternoon had not returned any to the Quincy Election Office.

Perkins, Moses Playground Ceremonies Sunday

Mayor Thomas P. Koch and the Quincy Park Department announce the ceremonial openings of the newly reconstructed courts at Perkins Playground in Merrymount and Wendall Moses Playground in Squantum.

Ribbon cuttings will be held Sunday, Aug. 2. The Perkins Field Playground ceremony will be at 10 a.m., while the Wendall Moses Playground will be at 10:45 a.m.

Funds were granted through the Community Preservation Act to reconstruct the recreational courts at both locations. New fencing was erected around the perimeter of the courts while old surfacing was removed and new asphalt was poured to create a smooth playing surface.

City officials said the new surface will also alleviate draining issues the old courts encountered during heavy rainfall. Perkins Field Playground now consists of a roller hockey court and basketball court. Both were freshly painted and new hoops were added to the basketball court. Wendall Moses Playground consists of a new roller hockey court.

"Our parks and playgrounds are among our most important assets for our young people and families, and I'm proud that we are continuing to make the necessary, affordable investments that are keeping our fields and courts among the best in the Commonwealth," Koch said. "I wish to thank the Community Preservation Committee for their approval of our funding request and the Park Department for its work in completing these projects in a timely, efficient manner."

For more information, please contact the Quincy Park Department at 617-376-1251.

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

NEW LOOKS IN EARRINGS

The newest looks in earrings lean toward the decidedly unusual. Chief among these are "ear climbers," which work their way up the outer edge of the ear from their point of attachment at the ear lobe, This atypical design has gained quite a bit of traction after a number of A-list celebrities adorned with climbers recently took to the Red Carpet. Because every woman's ear is different, it is essential that these ear-hugging earrings be sized correctly and tried on before purchase. Climbers range in size from relatively short to those that extend right to the top curvature of the ear. Another unusual earring style that promises to be very popular is the extremely versatile double-sided earring.

From the runway to the Red Carpet, double-sided earrings are everywhere. The smaller gemstone sits in front, while the larger gemstone secures to a post behind the lobe. For the latest trends in jewelry, stop by our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and are happy to handle custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Homeowners with equity:
Roll all your debt into one new loan

You have a mortgage. And a decent amount of equity. You also have high-rate credit card debt, maybe an equity loan payment, auto loan, student loans or other debts you'd love to combine into one loan at today's still low rates. That's what you get with a 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank. Some people like this idea because it makes life simple and streamlined. For others, it's a fresh start and a real weight off their back. Is it right for you? Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, Vice President/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.

15-YEAR FIXED
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR
NO POINTS!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 07/22/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

LENDER Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Aug. 10, 1776, news reaches London that the Americans have drafted the Declaration of Independence. Parliament was unwilling to negotiate with the American rebels and hired Hessians, German mercenaries, to help the British army crush the rebellion.
- On Aug. 13, 1903, engineer Felix Wankel, inventor of a rotary engine, is born in Lahr, Germany. Wankel reportedly came up with the basic idea for a new type of internal combustion gasoline engine when he was only 17 years old.
- On Aug. 15, 1914, the American-built Panama Canal, connecting the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, is inaugurated with the passage of the U.S. vessel Ancon, a cargo and passenger ship. Engineers moved nearly 240 million cubic yards of earth in constructing the 40-mile-long canal.
- On Aug. 11, 1934, the first group of federal prisoners classified as "most dangerous" arrives at Alcatraz Island, a 22-acre rocky outcrop in San Francisco Bay. The convicts joined military prisoners left over from the island's days as a U.S. military prison.
- On Aug. 12, 1973, golfer Jack Nicklaus wins the PGA Championship for his 14th major title, surpassing Bobby Jones' 43-year-old record.
- On Aug. 16, 1984, John DeLorean, founder of the DeLorean Motor Company, is found not guilty due to entrapment after being charged with smuggling drugs in an effort to raise money for his struggling automobile company.
- On Aug. 14, 1994, Illich Ramirez Sanchez, the terrorist known as Carlos the Jackal, is captured in Sudan by French intelligence agents. In 1975, Sanchez and his men took 70 OPEC officials hostage at a Vienna conference, escaping with up to $50 million in ransom after killing three hostages.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Caddy Detachment Golf Tournament Sept. 11

The William R. Caddy Detachment #124, Marine Corps League, will hold its 25th annual Caddy Golf Classic Friday, Sept. 11 at South Shore Country Club, Hingham.

Shot-gun start at 9 a.m.

Cost is $125 per golfer, or $600 per team.

Price includes green fees, commemorative golf shirt, hole-in-one contest to win a new Toyota Corolla and a three-course roast beef luncheon at Raffael's Greenside Grill Restaurant, South Shore Country Club.

All raffles and prizes will be awarded after the luncheon.

Proceeds from the tournament support the Detachment's activities and charities including funding for indigent patients at the Bockton VA Hospital, toys and gifts for the Toys for Tots program, scholarships and other needs for veterans and their families.

For more information, call 617-479-3505.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

CATHY BIRCHMORE of Quincy rings the bell for the Salvation Army at the "Christmas in July" kettle event July 23 outside City Hall near the John Adams statue. Cathy, age 62, has been volunteering for the Salvation Army for 41 years.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Cathy Birchmore: A True Ringer

More Photos On Pages 15, 16, 17

When you think of the Salvation Army and its Christmas fundraising initiative, the familiar red kettles immediately come to mind.

But in Quincy, perhaps nobody embodies the spirit of the red kettle more than Cathy Birchmore.

Cathy, age 62, has been ringing the bell for the Salvation Army for 41 years. That's correct. More than 40 years. It's more than volunteering for Cathy.

It's become a way of life.

"It makes you feel good," she says. "It's kind of like working for God's Army. It's better than being paid because it's stuff that you can keep inside you."

Cathy became a "soldier" with the Salvation Army after attending a church service at the Quincy Corps on Baxter Street. She was babysitting two children who also attended church there.

"That was in January and the following Christmas I volunteered to be a bell ringer. I was on unemployment and I wanted to do something to volunteer. So I volunteered for the season and I liked it."

Her first bell ringing was outside at the old Bradlees at Presidential Plaza on Quincy Avenue. In the following years, she's volunteered at kettles throughout Quincy and surrounding area. "They rotated me around. I was outside a lot," she says.

And outside next to a red kettle is exactly where you would have found Cathy last Thursday. She rang the bell all day at the Quincy Salvation Army's "Christmas in July" kettle set up on Hancock Street near City Hall and the John Adams statue. Despite bright sun- shine and warming temperatures, Cathy remained at her spot from the morning to late afternoon making sure those near the kettle heard that familiar bell.

Cathy also dressed the part, wearing a red t-shirt and her finger nails painted green. And she brought with her two bells, including one with sentimental value. The old-fashioned bell was given to her from an admirer during a standout at the South Shore Plaza years ago.

But if you really wanted to feel the holiday spirit, all you had to do was watch Cathy ring her bell. And listen to why she's been volunteering for more than four decades.

"I like ringing the bell because of the people. The Salvation Army does a lot of good stuff. People will come back and tell you about all the different stories of what the Salvation Army has done for them. Especially the service men and women who have returned after serving in the wars. They tell you how the Salvation Army was so good to them."

Cathy is more than a bell ringer. She is an inspiration to anyone who has faced physical challenges. She has two prosthetic legs. She uses a wheelchair for mobility and if she has to stand for a long time. At home she lives alone and uses a walker to get around.

She takes the bus from her Germantown home to Quincy Center where she likes to shop.

Cont'd On Page 16

Memorial, Honor Flags $30 Donation For Flags For Veterans Island

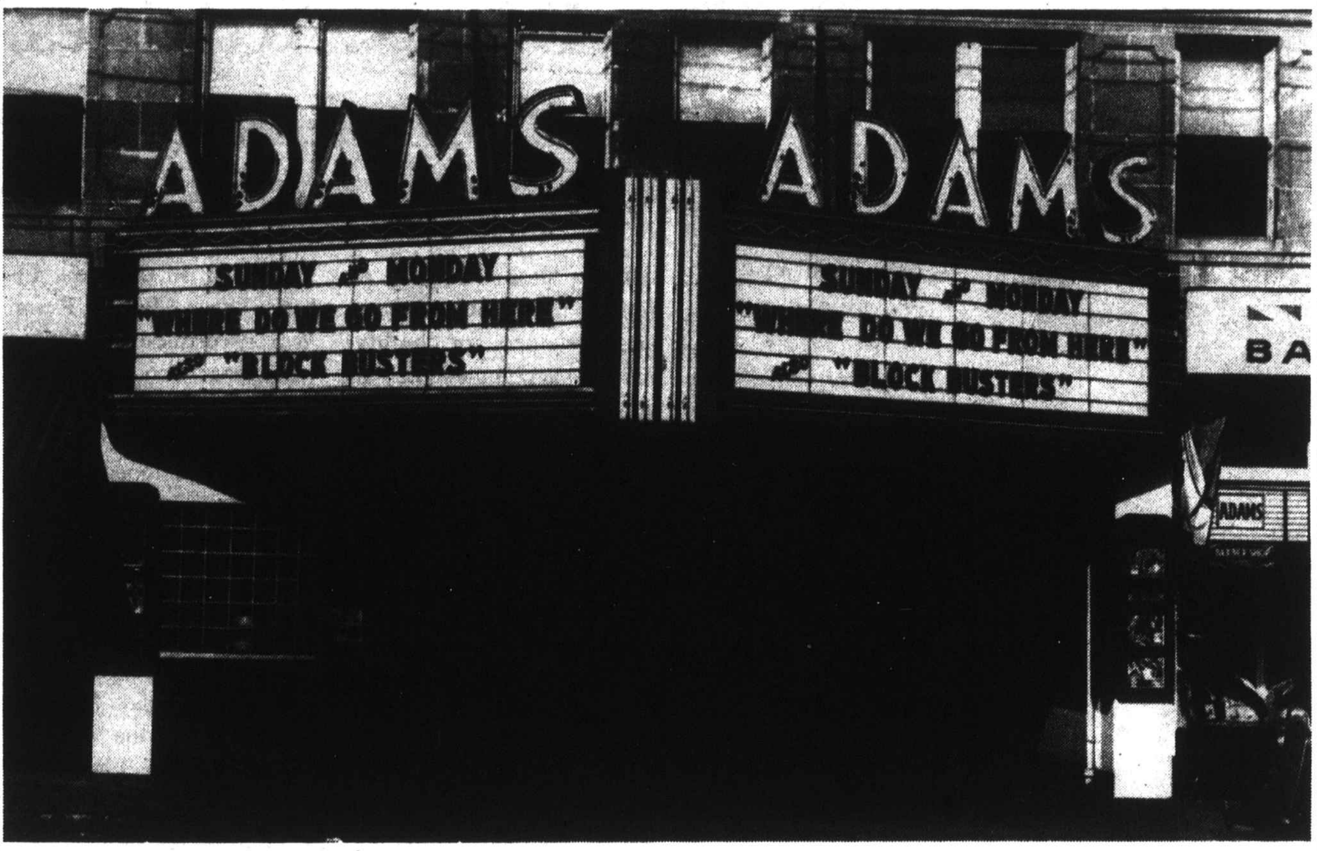
The Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294, Morrisette Post, is accepting donations for memorial flags and honor flags to be placed at Flags for Veterans Island, School and Pleasant Streets, Quincy.

The one-time donation to place a flag at the Island is $30. Donated flags can be purchased in memory of a veteran who was killed in action or has passed away. Honor flags are placed for those who are currently serving in the military or who have served their country and are still living.

To purchase a memorial or honor flag, contact Paul Moody, coordinator of Flags for Veterans Island and the commander of the Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294. He can be reached by calling 617-472-5952.

Flags purchased by Oct. 1 will be placed on the island in time for the SAL Veterans' Day ceremony in November. To date, more than 330 flags have been donated for the island.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1948 real photo postcard reproduction showing the Adams Theater that was at 15 School St. in Quincy Center across from today's Firestone store. When built in 1932 this was known as the Plymouth Building with apartments on the top floor. The theater space shown here was home for a few years to the Capital Garage that sold and serviced Packard automobiles. In 1934, after the garage moved out and until the start of World War II, this space was used by the Quincy Arena and was the site of amateur and semi-pro boxing and wrestling matches. The Adams Theater opened here after the Arena closed and it was open for almost 20 years. On Saturday afternoon admission was only five cents. On the right was the Adams Barber Shop and the Art Studios was on the left. There still are apartments on the second floor, but the building is now known as the Apthorp Building and the theater space is home to retail shops. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@ verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy Homestead Open For Tours Saturday

THE QUINCY HOMESTEAD, a National Historic Landmark located at the corner of Hancock Street and Butler Road in Quincy, will be open for public tours Saturday, Aug. 1, between noon and 4 p.m.

Photo Courtesy Colonial Dames of Massachusetts

The Quincy Homestead, a National Historic Landmark, will be open for public tours Saturday, Aug. 1, between noon and 4 p.m.

Tours will start approximately on the hour and the half hour beginning at noon. The last tour begins at 3:30 p.m.

All tours are free of charge, but a voluntary contribution would be appreciated. The Homestead is located on Butler Rd at the corner of Hancock St in Quincy.

Dating from 1686, the house is 329 years old. During the 17th and 18th century, this mansion was considered the grandest estate in Quincy. During the pre- Revolutionary War era, it was a meeting place for such patriots as Josiah Quincy, John Hancock and John Adams. It was the childhood home of Dorothy Quincy Hancock, the wife of John Hancock.

Quincy Homestead is operated by The Colonial Dames of Massachusetts in conjunction with The Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR).

Groups may request a private tour on a date of their choice by phoning 617 742 3190 or emailing dames@nscdama.org. The remaining public tours this season will be held Aug. 15, Sept. 12 and Oct. 3.

For additional information, visit the Homestead's new website: www.nscdama.org

Outdoor Concert Tonight At Library Lawn

Howie Newman and Jackie Damskey will perform an outdoor concert on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St. tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m.

Newman and Damsky are experienced, professional musicians who play funny original songs as well as well-known covers.

All concerts are made possible through the sponsorship of the Friends of the Thomas Crane Public Library.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME ______________________________

STREET ______________________________

CITY __________________ STATE ________ ZIP __________

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1964
50 Years Ago

Contract Signed For Vo-Tech High School

Mayor Ameilo Della Chiesa signed a contract with Caudill, Rowlett and Scott for design of the city's new $5 million vocational-technical high school.

The signing marked the formal start of the project approved by the City Council last month. Other signers were John M. Rowlett, a partner in the firm, and Public Works Commissioner Charles R. Herbert.

The contract includes a provision that the school must not cost more than the $5 million already authorized for the project.

CITY INCINERATOR ACTION BLOCKED

More than 500 Quarry St. area residents were granted a preliminary injunction blocking the city from proceeding with plans for a municipal incinerator at Hardwick's Quarry.

Atty. Harry Pavan said that he had filed a bill in equity at Norfolk Probate Court and received the restraining order.

The order blocks the city from taking any action towards building an incinerator in the Quarry Street area.

QUINCYISMS

Stop and Shop Supermarkets were advertising "Top Round Steaks, The Finest Meat You'll Ever Eat, for 99 cents a pound"… Governor Endicott Peabody, a candidate for re-election, spent the day, Monday, campaigning in Quincy. He made stops at the Fore River Shipyard, Raytheon and at the Koch Club festivities at Cavanaugh Stadium… Mrs. Elizabeth Cornfoot., 22 Nilsen Ave. celebrated her 100th birthday, receiving friends and relatives. Mrs. Cornfoot, a native of Scotland, came to America as a bride… Wollaston Federal Savings and Loan Association, 15 Beach St. announced that the current dividend on savings accounts was 4 +% per annum… Rotarian Kenneth P. Fallon, Jr. will be program chairman as the members of the Quincy Rotary Club salute "Quincy Bay Race Week" at their regular weekly meeting… Shea's Formica, 809 Hancock St., Wollaston, was offering "Whirlpool Washing Machines, New Super Soak Cycle, 12 lb. Wash for $188.29"… Marine Reserve Major Warren F. Goodie, 50 Buckingham Rd., completed a two-week Reserve Officers Senior School at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, VA… Jean Fallon of 14 Putnam St., Quincy, who recently graduated from Acadia University, Nova Scotia, received a medal for excellence in German and a book award from the German Government. Miss Fallon spent her junior year abroad at Tubikgen University in Germany… The Quincy Probus Club was planning its annual outing at the Metropolitan Yacht Club. Louis Simons was the general chairman and Malcolm Levine, ticket chairman… Esther Mann, 20, daughter of Rabbi Jacob Mann, 88 Lancaster St., Quincy Point, returned from a year's study as a Wouk Scholar at the Hebrew University in Israel… Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti (D) of Quincy, a candidate for governor, says that if Gov. Peabody is re-nominated, the state will elect a Republican governor in November. (Editor's note: Gov. Peabody was not re-nominated and the voters returned former Gov. John Volpe (R) to the governor's office.)… Lt. Col. Stephen T. Keefe, of 175 Rock Island Rd., Houghs Neck, was commanding the 901st Troop Carrier Group, based at Hanscom Field, Bedford… Airman 3rd Class Richard W. Barry, 175 Holbrook Rd., North Quincy, was undergoing two weeks of intensive reserve training. Barry was serving his second term as Ward 6 City Councillor… The Rev. Hugh Corey, pastor of Glad Tidings Church, Assemblies of God, Washington and Elm Streets, Quincy Point, announced that a $40,000 improvement program has been planned for the church office… Roxie's Discount Food, 479 Southern Artery, was offering "Whole Chickens, 3 pound average, for Frying or boiling, Fresh Killed, 27 cents a pound"… Mayor Della Chiesa celebrated his 63rd birthday (born July 31, 1901) by putting in a full day's work in the mayor's office… Forty disabled veterans of World War I and II were guests on a fishing trip and dinner at Harvey's Wharf, Houghs Neck, sponsored by Harvey's Salt Water Fishing Club. Frank Locke was club president.

KEEPING UP WITH THE RED SOX

The Boston Red Sox left Boston for a 22-day road trip during which the club was scheduled to play 19 games. Sox Manager, Johnny Pesky, hoped that the team would "hold its own" during the lengthy trip. The Red Sox left for the road after sweeping a three game series with the Cleveland Indians. The Sox were in fifth place in the ten team American League with a 50-51 record, 12 + games behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

Arts & Entertainment

ARTS AFFAIR at Marina Bay Saturday and Sunday will feature artwork from artists, sculptors and photographers. The two-day exhibit will be set up in the lobby and cafeteria at Corporate Park, 500 Victory Rd., North Quincy. Quincy Sun File Photo/Ally Graf

Marina Bay Arts Affair Saturday, Sunday

Gallery, Art Demonstrations At 500 Victory Rd.

The 20th annual Arts Affair at Marina Bay will be held Saturday, Aug. 1 and Sunday, Aug. 2 in the lobby and cafeteria of Corporate Park, 500 Victory Rd., North Quincy.

Event hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Aug. 1 and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Aug. 2.

Admission and parking is free. There will be raffles and art demonstrations throughout the weekend, rain or shine.

One of the largest art events on the South Shore, the Arts Affair at Marina Bay is a two-day exhibition that features artists, sculptors, and photographers who live and work in many South Shore and Boston communities.

The lobby and cafeteria of Corporate Park are transformed into an exciting pop-up gallery, displaying works in drawing, mixed media, oil and acrylic; photography, sculpture, and watercolor. An experimental category new this year is FFII (Fabulous Fakes, Inviting Imitations.) Artists will exhibit either exact duplication, or creative interpretation of a work which has inspired a re-creation of the original.

The awards presentation will be held Saturday, Aug. 1 at 2 p.m. in the Cafeteria. Judges are Susan Nalband, director of 555 Gallery, Boston, for photography; Tatiana Yanovskaya-Sink of Quincy, for drawing, mixed media, and sculpture; and Gary Koeppel of Roslindale for oil and acrylic painting, and watercolors. Yanovskaya-Sink and Koeppel will judge FFII.

For information call 781-961-2378, visit www.artsaffair.org or find us on Facebook.

Children's Events, Activities At Crane Public Library

Music, Movies, Crafts

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane
Public Library

The Thomas Crane Public Library has scheduled for the following events and activities for children.

Music, Movies and Crafts This Week at the Library

Dance and Sing with Rubi, watch a favorite movie with friends or create a craft this week. Programs are offered for children of all ages stop by, borrow some books and join us for a program. Details for all summer programs are on our website thomascranelibrary.org.

Storytelling at the Farmers Market, weather permitting .

Join us Friday, July 31st at noon at the Farmer's Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

Registration for Superhero Cookies

Miss Lori had such a large group for Superhero Cookies in July that we are requiring registration for a second session of this program to be held at the Main Library on Wednesday, Aug. 12th at 10 a.m. so that we don't run out of cookies. This program is for children ages 7 and older.

Register online, in person or call the Children's Room at 617-376-2411 to register beginning Saturday, August 1st.

Music and Movement with Rubi

On Saturday, Aug. 1st at 10 a.m. in Main Library large meeting room sing and dance with Rubi Lichauco! Rubi brings her popular preschool program to Quincy so put on your favorite dancing shoes and join us for this lively mix of music and movement for children ages 0-4 accompanied by an adult. No registration is required.

❑

Art-to-go a nine-week series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy. Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch.

Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft. The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays. Craft for the week of August 3rd – Superhero Masks

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy

On Monday, Aug. 3rd at 2 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch Library join us for a showing of Disney's Little Mermaid.

This is the story of a little mermaid named Ariel, who dreams of going on land. When her father, King Triton, Forbids her to go on land, Ariel visits Ursula who her father had banished. Eventhough she helps her get to land, what Ariel doesn't know is that Ursula has plans to destroy her to get revenge on her father. This movie is rated G and runs for 90 minutes.

❑

Purple Cow Reads

Come meet the Purple Cow! On Tuesday, Aug. 4 at 10 a.m. in the Main Library Large Meeting Room Wilson-certified reading instructor Nicole DeBassio and her very purple friend will lead kids aged 4-6 in activities designed to lay a foundation of letters and sounds that will help them become fluent readers.

❑

Pajama Storytime with Big Ryan

On Wednesday, Aug. 5th at 6:30 p.m. in the Main Library Large Meeting Room join Big Ryan for a pajama storytimes designed especially for children ages 2-5 and their parents. Big Ryan and his puppet pals will share stories, songs, and fun.

This program is part of our six week pajama storytime series designed for adults and children to enjoy stories and songs as a family. This is a great time for you and your children to sing, dance, listen and talk with each other.

❑

Children's Movie @ Adams Shore—The LEGO Movie

On Thursday, Aug. 6th at 2 p.m. at the Adams Shore Branch Libray join us for a showing of The LEGO Movie.

This original 3D computer animated story follows Emmet, an ordinary, rules-following, perfectly average LEGO minifigure who is mistakenly identified as the most extraordinary person and the key to saving the world. He is drafted into a fellowship of strangers on an epic quest to stop an evil tyrant, a journey for which Emmet is hopelessly and hilariously underprepared. This movie is rated PG and runs for 101 minutes.

PERFORMING ARTS STUDIO
Center Stage

Summer Dance
Center Stage Performing Arts Studio
507 Furnace Brook Pkwy
Quincy, MA
www.centerstagequincy.com
(617) 328-8669

Ages 4-7 yrs.
"Princess Dance & Crafts"
Come and be a princess for a week.
Learn dances, tumble, dress up, play with props, have tea parties, games, stories, and princess crafts. New princesses explored each day.
9:30-12:30 pm July 27th-31st $150.00

"All Things FROZEN"
Come cool off and discover everything Frozen!
Join us as we learn new dances, play games, tumble, dress up, use props, and create cool crafts.
9:30-12:30pm August 10-14th $150.00

Ages 7-11 yrs.
"Dance Intensive"
Explore dance in the styles of Acro/Tumbling, Ballet, Lyrical, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Tap, and Broadway. Incorporating stretch, yoga and barre work. Also, learn new dance routines, learn line dances, play movement games, work on jumps, leaps, turns, technique and performance.
1:30-4:30pm July 27th-31st $150.00

Ages 12 and up
"Dance Intensive"
Explore dance in the styles of Acro/tumbling, Ballet, Lyrical, Modern/Contemporary, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Tap, Broadway and International dance (such as Latin, African and Bollywood). Also, incorporating stretch, yoga and barre work. Learn new dance routines, learn how to create your own choreography, work on jumps, leaps, turns, technique and performance.
1:30-4:30pm August 10-15th $150.00

"New lunch bunch option"
12:30-1:30 pm for any camp
Drop in $10.00 daily or $40.00 weekly

*Please bring water, peanut-free snack, dance shoes or socks, and wear dance or moveable clothing.

QUINT'S
House
of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919

761 Southern Artery
QUINCY

617-773-7620

20th Annual ArtsAffair
at Marina Bay
August 1st & 2nd (Rain or Shine)
Saturday 10am to 6pm
Sunday 10am to 5pm

Showcasing Boston &
South Shore art
association members,
and independant artists.

Free admission
Free parking
Art Demonstrations
Raffles

20th Anniversary

Oils & Acrylics / Watercolor / Drawing / Mixed Media / Photography / Sculpture / Fabulous Fakes

ARTSAFFAIR
AT MARINA BAY
www.artsaffair.org
Marina Bay Corporate Park Lobby & Cafeteria, 500 Victory Road, Quincy, MA 02171

Social

Drum And Bugle Competition Thursday

Drum and bugle corps from across the country will face off against each other at the Catholic Youth Organization Nationals Tribute tonight (Thursday) at Quincy's Veterans' Memorial Stadium.

Eight drum and bugle corps – including two from Boston and one from Rockland as well as one each from New Hampshire, Iowa, Wyoming, Oregon and California – will compete in the event.

The conpetition begins at 7:30 p.m. July 30; gates open at 6 p.m.

Tickets to the competition cost $20-$35 and can be purchased in advance online at dci.org. They will also be available the day of the competition beginning at 4 p.m.; the price increases by $5 at the gate.

The event is part of the Drum Corps International Tour, which concludes next month with a world championship competition at Lucas Oil Field in Indianapolis.

Blue Hills Reservation Awareness Topic Aug. 12

The Friends of the Blue Hills and the Quincy Department of Planning and Community Development will host an informational meeting Wednesday, Aug. 12 to discuss ways to increase awareness of the Blue Hills Reservation among Quincy residents.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on the third floor of the Coddington Building, 34 Coddington St., in Quincy.

All are welcome to attend.

For more information, email info@FriendsoftheBlueHills.org or call 617-696-8248.

Quincy High School Class Of 1965 Reunion

Quincy High School Class of 1965 hold its 50th reunion Saturday, Nov. 28 in the Tirrell Room, Quincy Lodge of Elks, Quarry Street, West Quincy.

Cocktails at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Those who would like to attend should send a $65 (per person) check payable to "QHS Class of 1965" to Bob Sparks, treasurer, 58 Cedarcrest Rd., Canton, MA 02021. For more information, call Dan Raymondi at 617-479-9044.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-781-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

QCAP Free Financial Education Seminars

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc., will host a free financial education seminar on the basics of credit, credit reports and credit scores in August.

Attendees may choose to attend one of the two seminars set for Tuesday, Aug. 4 and Tuesday, Aug. 11.

Both seminars start at 6 p.m. and take place at QCAP's fourth floor conference room, 1509 Hancock St., Quincy.

To RSVP, call the Financial REACH Center at 617-657-5355.

Helen Murphy On Dean's List

Helen Murphy, a Public and Community Health major, was named to the Dean's List in Ithaca College's School of Health Sciences and Human Performance for the spring semester.

NEW QUINCY LIONS President David Smith (right) with installing officer David Sawyer.

LION OF THE YEAR Paula Rowe (left) is presented flowers by outgoing Club Presidents Michelle Lydon and Charles Phelan.

Quincy Lions Club Installs New Officers

David Smith was installed as the new president of the Quincy Lions Club for the 2015-2016 year.

Other officers installed for the club's 75th year of service to the community are:

Amy Huber, first vice president; Rick Doane, second vice president; Kris Richardson Smith and Steven Mansfield, treasurer; and Jeffrey Poirier, secretary.

At the installation ceremony held at the Neighborhood Club of Quincy, new President David Smith spoke of the Club's continued commitment to the students of the Quincy Public Schools, specifically those students who require glasses and or vision exams.

In addition to vision impairment support, The Quincy Lions Club continues to provide thousands of dollars in scholarships to graduating Quincy High and North Quincy High students.

Over the last 75 years the Quincy Lions Club has donated thousands of dollars to local scholarships, eye research, and other numerous charitable endeavors in the City of Quincy,

The Club also recognized Lion Paula Rowe as Lion of the Year. Rowe was honored for her commitment to the Quincy Lions Club and her efforts have supported the Club's continued outreach efforts.

Fred Saluti was awarded The Frank McCauley Service Award in recognition of his years of service to the Quincy community.

The Quincy Lions Club meets on the first and third Thursday of the Month at 12 PM at the Neighborhood Club of Quincy.

For more information visit www.quincylions.org

QUINCY LIONS CLUB Board of Directors (from left) Doreen Smith, Karen Giovanniello, Steve Mansfield, Serena Huxley and David Sawyer. Photos Courtesy Quincy Lions Club

FRED SALUTI (center) was presented the Frank McCauley Award for outstanding community service. Making the presentation are Charles Phelan (left) and Ed O'Leary.

Three Residents Receive Masters Of Ed Degrees

Three Quincy residents recently earned degrees at American International College in Springfield.

They are:

Samantha Velezis who received a Master of Education; Sarah Marshall, Master of Education; and Michael Clark, also a Master of Education.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, July 30
6:00pm: QRD Musical Theatre Workshop
7:00pm: Faces of South Asia

Friday, July 31
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, August 1
3:30pm: Real Estate Focus
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Sunday, August 2
12:00pm: At Your Library: August
7:00pm: Quincy Elks Scholarship Ceremony

Monday, August 3
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:00pm: LIVE: Eye on Quincy

Tuesday, August 4
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:30pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, August 5
9:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, July 30
7:00pm: QRD Dance Workshop
8:30pm: At Your Library: August Happenings

Friday, July 31
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: License Board 7/28

Saturday/Sunday, August 1/2
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At Your Library: August Happenings
3:00pm: At the Library Concert: Fumito Nunoya
4:00pm: License Board 7/28
11:00pm: License Board 7/28

Monday, August 3
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisted
7:00pm: Chamber of Commerce Breakfast

Tuesday, August 4
4:00pm: LIVE: License Board
7:00pm: License Board (replay)

Wednesday, August 5
12:00pm: License Board 7/28
6:00pm; In the Know: Solarize Quincy
7:00pm: QRD Musical Theatre Workshop

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Enjoy Your Summer At
VILLA Rosa
Restaurant & Lounge
705 Adams St., Quincy
617-773-0095
www.villarosaquincy.com

Sunday's Summer Special
Boiled Lobster Dinner
Served with French Fries & Cole Slaw
$18.99

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Rice Pilaf With Zucchini, Squash

By MARIE

With the abundance of summer squash and zucchini which some of my friends have growing in their garden, I found a recipe for rice pilaf with these two vegetables – a wonderful combo.

RICE PILAF

1 1/2 cup rice
1 small yellow squash (cut in small chunks)
1 small zucchini (cut in small chunks)
3 cups chicken or vegetable stock
2 tablespoons fresh parsley
1 tablespoon oil
1 small onion (sliced)
Grated cheese for topping

In the hot oil, sauté the onion and cook for a couple of minutes. Add the rice stirring it until kernels are well coated.

Add the stock, bring to a boil and reduce to low heat, cover and cook for 15 minutes.

Add the zucchini and squash, and cook until vegetables are tender and the liquid is absorbed (about 10 minutes).

Mix the rice well and sprinkle the parsley and grated cheese over it.

Mexican Food Recipes

By SUZIE

My kids love the restaurant "Chipotle" and since they use some very good ingredients and have a good food philosophy. I let them enjoy it on occasion.

Home cooking is always best, but this is my go to "fast food" for the kids when I am too busy to prepare a meal at home. After taking a poll at a recent family party, seems everyone enjoys Mexican food....some love it even more than Italian food! Here are a few recipes that are pretty authentic, easy, healthy and delicious.

Everyone especially seems to love guacamole. Guacamole, made from avocados, is an extremely healthy and delicious side dish, and is also very easy to prepare! Avocados are loaded with important nutrients, healthy fats, and have more fiber than a bowl of oatmeal per serving! Hard to believe, but true! Here is a guacamole recipe that people are raving about. I even enjoy guacamole as a spread on a sandwich, or as a side dish to my morning eggs along with some salsa, instead of toast.

GUACAMOLE

2 ripe Hass Avocados
1/2 of a Jalapeno pepper, seeded, and minced
1/4 of a red onion, finely chopped
2 heaping Tablespoons of Cilantro, finely chopped
1/4 of a lime, juiced
1/4 teaspoon salt

Simply combine the mashed ripe avocados with other ingredients. Chill and serve with some organic chips or vegetables.

HOMEMADE SALSA

2 cups ripe tomatoes, chopped
1 cup sweet onions, chopped
1 cup green bell pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
1 jalapeno finely diced
1 teaspoon Celtic Sea Salt
chopped fresh cilantro

Combine everything except the cilantro. Let stand at room temperature about an hour before adding the cilantro. Stir gently and serve.

LIME RICE

2/3 cup white Basmati rice
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 tsp sea salt
juice of 1 lime
3 tsp. chopped cilantro
1 heaping teaspoon pasture butter OR olive oil

Heat butter or oil in saucepan under low heat. Add in rice and lime juice. Simmer for just a few minutes, stirring the whole time. Now add salt and water and bring to boil. Cover and simmer until rice absorbs water (about 25 minutes) Uncover and fluff rice. Stir in cilantro gently. Season with salt to taste if needed.

Anita's Potato Salad

By MARIE

Today's recipe for potato salad was given to me by my niece Anita who lives in Arizona and sends me some wonderful recipes on my e-mail.

It is a little different from the usual ingredients and so delicious. Any kind of potato can be used either with the skin on or other. The day I made it, I used Yukon Gold.

POTATO SALAD

4 medium sized potatoes
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons apple cider or white vinegar
2 tablespoons dry mustard
2 celery stalks (diced small)
1/2 cups scallions (cut)
2 tablespoons fresh parsley

Boil the potatoes with the skins on. Cool and cut in pieces.

Add the rest of the ingredients and chill until ready to serve.

In Sync Center Of Arts Owner, Staff Attending Training Conference

In observance of In Sync's 20th year, owner Teri Mangiaratti and her staff will attend the DanceLife Teacher Training conference in Phoenix, Arizona.

The four-day retreat will offer. Mangiaratti and her staff new insight and rejuvenation to the studio's lesson plans and curriculum. There will be seminars in all dance styles at all levels—from ages two through adult.

Mangiaratti and her staff are excited to expand their knowledge base to continue offering the most current and cutting edge in dance education. In addition to participating in the seminars, Mangiaratti will speak at the conference about the importance of creating a positive studio culture—something she works so hard to implement back home at In Sync.

The studio, located at 550 Adams Street in Quincy, had an extremely trying winter after a portion of the plaza's roof collapsed under the record amounts of snowfall. Even though the plaza hasn't been fully reconstructed, both In Sync's summer programs and fall registration are in full swing.

For more information, call (617) 328-5678 or visit www.insyncarts.com.

REGISTRY OF DEEDS recently collected women's suits from area residents that were donated to Interfaith Social Services (ISS) in Quincy. From left: ISS Career Closet Manager Karen Ukraine, Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell and ISS Executive Director Rick Doane. Photo Courtesy Norfolk County Registry of Deeds

Registry Of Deeds Delivers Women's Suits To Interfaith Social Services

Due to the great response from Norfolk County residents, the Registry of Deeds "Suits for Success" program was a big success.

Register William O'Donnell recently delivered a large amount of donated women's suits to the Interfaith Social Services "Career Closet." Executive Director Rick Doane and Career Closet Manager Karen Ukraine were on hand to accept the donation.

"On behalf of Interfaith Social Services I sincerely want to thank Register O'Donnell for his efforts on our behalf. The Registry's 'Suits for Success' program is a wonderful program and through the generosity of the residents of Norfolk County we are the beneficiary. "The "Suit for Success" program continues to be a great program to help those in need due to the continued support of the residents of the County's 28 communities," O'Donnell said.

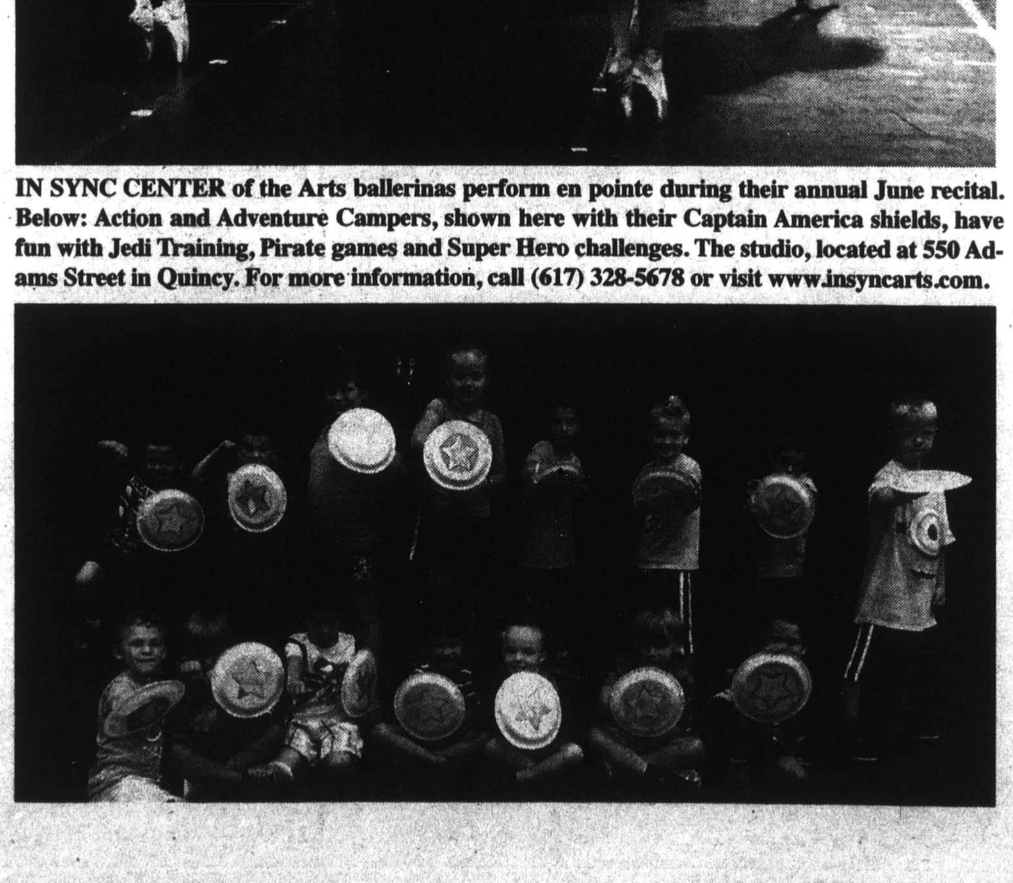
O'Donnell has been in collaboration with Interfaith Social Services of Quincy and Father Bill's/MainSpring of Quincy and Brockton for the past seven years in assisting in their efforts to provide clothing to individual's in need.

The "Suits for Success" program assists men and women who are re-entering the work force, by providing them with business attire free of charge. Father Bill & MainSpring assists men who are seeking employment and need suitable attire. The Interfaith Social Services Career Closet assists both men and women by providing outfits suitable for employment.

Business suits for both men and women, appropriate footwear and accessories are all in need. Donated items should be ready to wear, in style, cleaned/pressed and on hangers. To participate, bring donations to the Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, 649 High St., Dedham, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Contact Alicia Gardner at 781-461-6104 or at agardner@norfolkdeeds.org with any questions or to schedule a drop off time.

All contributions are tax deductible. To learn more about these organizations go to their websites at www.interfaithsocialservices.org and www.helpfbms.org.

IN SYNC CENTER of the Arts ballerinas perform en pointe during their annual June recital. Below: Action and Adventure Campers, shown here with their Captain America shields, have fun with Jedi Training, Pirate games and Super Hero challenges. The studio, located at 550 Adams Street in Quincy. For more information, call (617) 328-5678 or visit www.insyncarts.com.



Dropped Olympic Bid Brings Relief, Disappointment

Cont'd From Page 1

Boston and an athlete's village in the city's Columbia Point.

Quincy had been included in plans for the games. As part of bid 2.0, Boston 2024 in June announced a proposal to hold Olympic beach volleyball competitions at the state-run Squantum Point Park. The plan included a 20,000-seat temporary stadium and improvements to the park itself, including upgrades to a pier, which would be used for ferry service.

Quincy Mayor Thomas Koch said he was disappointed by the decision to nix the bid, but understands why it was made.

"I thought it was a great opportunity but I also recognize there were a lot of questions about financing and other concerns. I thought it was a great opportunity for Boston to be on the world stage," Koch said shortly after Monday's announcement.

"I'm a little disappointed but I understand the reality of the situation."

Koch said he never supported public financing for the games, except for necessary infrastructure upgrades. Those upgrades – including improvements to the MBTA Red Line and Commander Shea Boulevard in North Quincy as well as a new ferry terminal at Squantum Point Park to replace ferry service previously offered at the Fore River Shipyard – are still needed, he said.

Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee, who represents Marina Bay and Squantum, on Monday noted about 80 percent of residents he had heard from opposed the beach volleyball proposal, with 20 percent in favor. He said he was glad the USOC and Boston 2024 agreed to pull the bid over a lack of public support.

"I think it's a positive that they're listening to the public. The public support wasn't there," McNamee said. "I'm glad they listened to the public and they weren't obstinate about it."

Councillor Doug Gutro, who is running for mayor in this fall's municipal election, announced on July 22 his opposition to hosting the beach volleyball events at Squantum Point Park. He said then that "the public resources and political will, investment and intellectual energy that this effort requires are far better off devoted to those large scale challenges that are manifest today," including investments in infrastructure investments. On Monday, Gutro welcomed the news that Boston would no longer bid to host the games.

"We're back to the same place we should be. This discussion about public transportation and infrastructure improvements needed in the city of Quincy will happen in earnest today, instead of hitching those to a flawed Olympics proposal," Gutro said.

Rep. Bruce Ayers attended a community meeting on the proposal to host beach volleyball at Squantum Point Park, which is part of his district. On Tuesday, he said he was concerned about the use of taxpayer funds for the games, the impact of the beach volleyball events on Marina Bay and other nearby neighborhoods, and what type of mitigation Boston 2024 would commit to. Ayers praised Boston's mayor for his refusal to sign the contract that could have left taxpayers on the hook for cost overruns.

"I was surprised they pulled out. I commend (Boston) mayor Marty Walsh, for saying that no taxpayers funds would be used," Ayers said.

Hours before the USOC and Boston 2024 announced they would scuttle the bid, Walsh said he would not bow to pressure from the national committee to sign a host contract agreement, which would have left Boston on the hook for any cost overruns. Later that day, after the bid was dropped, Walsh said none of the games' benefits were worth handing over the city's financial future.

"I strongly believe that bringing the Olympic games back to the United States would be good for our country and would have brought long-term benefits to Boston. However, no benefit is so great that it is worth handing over the financial future of our city and our citizens were rightly hesitant to be supportive as a result," Walsh said in a statement.

"We always anticipated having the time to do our due diligence on the guarantees required and a full review of the risk and mitigation package proposed last week. This is a monumental decision that cannot be rushed, even if it means not moving forward with our bid for the 2024 Summer Games."

Atlanta in 1996 was the last U.S. city to host the Summer Olympics; New York and Chicago lost bids to host the 2012 and 2016 games, respectively, to London and Rio de Janeiro and the USOC did not submit a bid to host the 2020 games. Salt Lake City hosted the 2002 Winter Olympics.

The USOC has until Sept. 15 to apply to host the 2024 competition. Scott Blackmun, the committee's chief executive officer, said Monday the decision gives officials time to consider a bid from another city.

"We have not been able to get a majority of the citizens of Boston to support hosting the 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Therefore, the USOC does not think that the level of support enjoyed by Boston's bid would allow it to prevail over great bids from Paris, Rome, Hamburg, Budapest or Toronto," Blackmun said, referring to several international cities that are expected to apply to host the 2024 games.

"Boston 2024 has expressed confidence that, with more time, they could generate the public support necessary to win the bid and deliver a great games. They also recognize, however, that we are out of time if the USOC is going to be able to consider a bid from another city."

Los Angeles, the city that hosted the 1932 and 1984 Olympics, is considered the new frontrunner for the U.S. bid for the 2024 games.

Steve Pagliuca, chairman of Boston 2024 and Boston Celtics co-owner, said Boston and the state would be better off because of the bidding process.

"Although we had hoped for a different outcome, we know that Boston will still benefit from the bidding process. Ours is a world-class city, but we face challenges when it comes to the cost of housing, our aging infrastructure, and the need to help all Bostonians find good jobs," Pagliuca said.

"We believe that our planning for the games, including the vision for Widett Circle and Columbia Point, has already benefitted Boston, Mayor Walsh's important 2030 planning process, and other civic conversations around the future of Boston's neighborhoods and economic vitality. It can still advance many of the economic development, housing, infrastructure, and job creation opportunities throughout Boston and the Commonwealth that bid 2.0 outlined."

Organizers behind the Boston bid planned to hold a statewide referendum on the plan in 2016.

Evan Falchuk, who unsuccessfully ran for governor as a third party candidate last year, led an effort by Citizens for a Say to put a second referendum on the ballot for next year asking voters to prohibit the use of public money to finance the Olympics, with the exception of transportation improvements. Falchuk on Monday said the threat of such a binding-vote led to the pulled bid.

"If Boston 2024 could have produced a plan that did not rely on a taxpayer bailout, they would be still in the running for the 2024 games," he said.

HEALTH LINKS

A Message from the Quincy Health Dept.

Rodent Control

By RUTH JONES
BSN, RN, BC, CP-FS

RUTH JONES

Rat infestations have become an increasing problem in many cities and towns. Rats can destroy and contaminate food and other household materials, and can transmit viruses, bacteria, and parasites to humans causing illnesses. Rats make their presence known by leaving burrows, droppings, gnaw marks, tracks, trails, nests and hidden food stashes. They will burrow in the ground, under buildings and rubbish, usually within 150 feet of food and water sources, and can squeeze through the tiniest of spaces.

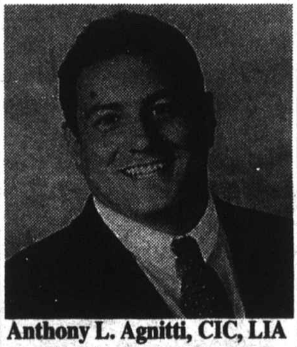
Everyone must do their part to help to control this problem. Use rodent proof containers with tight-fitting lids for garbage and trash. DO NOT put trash out for pick-up in bags only. Use rodent proof containers to store food and pet food, and clean up after pets, rats love leftovers! Be aware of rodent activity in and around outdoor gardens, fruit plants, and bird feeders. Routinely mow lawns, trim shrubs, plug holes in floors and walls, and tear down or fix dilapidated fences, sheds and garages.

The best way to deal with rats on your property is to hire a licensed pest management professional. Work with your neighbors to rid your neighborhood of rodents. Notify the Quincy Health Department of significant rodent activity in your area. Inspectors can assist you in identifying possible places that rats may be living and eating and can cite property owners with identified rodent infestations to correct the problem.

For more information please call the Quincy Health Department at 617-376-1275 and check our link on the City of Quincy webpage at www.quincyma.gov.

Hough Many Scoops
1094 Sea Street • Houghs Neck
617-302-3961
Open daily 11am to 10pm

AGNITTI INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL



Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

Your Ears Need TLC!

There are many ways to care for your ears. The best thing you can do is have someone who will guide you and answer your questions without making you feel rushed.

Let the Tobias family make you feel at home with people that care about you, not your wallet.

Don't let your doctor send you elsewhere! Exercise your right to experience a higher level of personalized care.

We are three generations dedicated to people's hearing issues in the Boston area since 1959!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation!
617 770-3395

Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169

near Roche Bros and Walmart

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Arts, Culture, History, Rec. Programs To 'Discover Quincy'

By MARGARET LAFOREST
Director
Discover Quincy

The final week of the Discover Quincy 50 Days of Freedom Program Series features many free, family friendly events with a focus on arts, culture, history and recreation.

Thursday, July 30: Eight South Shore Yacht Clubs make up the Quincy Bay Race Week Association and the 78th Annual Quincy Bay Race Week regatta starts with the Inside Line Racing for junior sailors in the N-10, Optimist and Laser fleets on July 30 and 31 at Wessagussett Yacht Club, 212 Wessagusett Rd., Weymouth. Adult racing on the Outside Line features 210, Club 420, Hustler, Laser, Multihulls, Rhodes 19 and Thunderbird Classes on Aug. 1 and 2 at Squantum Yacht Club, 646 Quincy Shore Dr.

Spectators can view races from various locations along the Quincy shoreline.

The free outdoor Concerts @ The Crane features Howie Newman and Jackie Damsky at 7 p.m. on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Public Library. Howie and Jackie play funny original songs (suitable for all ages) as well as well-known covers. They combine music, comedy and audience participation to provide a truly unique entertainment experience.

Chocolate, Cupcakes & Dresses! Boutique on Billings hosts an Open Studio night at Billings Corner, 363 Billings Road from 7 to 9 p.m. featuring the couture of Boutique on Billings, cupcakes from Wollaston's Baby Cakes and decadent chocolate from West Quincy chocolatier Purefections.

Friday, July 31: The Grand Finale of Discover Quincy's Pop Up Art Gallery, this is the last chance for the public to see how artists have transformed a vacant retail space in Quincy Center into an art gallery featuring the work of 70 local artists and four pop up shops.

The Gallery at 64 Ross Way is open free to the public from 6 to 10 p.m. Art is available for sale and there's a cash bar. This week's entertainment lineup includes our resident D.J. Stenny and a performance by Young World dancers at 6:30 p.m. At 7 p.m., we welcome Paranom and his soulful, lyrical, and sometimes cryptic style. Rhyming since the age of 9 beginning in the city of Lynn, Paranom utilizes a raw but smooth and sophisticated delivery– with the aim of using the artform to shed light on various realities and knowledge of life to inspire, challenge, and unite by any means necessary. At 7:45 p.m, Hybrid Thoughts takes over the stage. Rocking together for nearly two decades, Kirk and Mike have collectively shared the stage and worked with KRS-ONE, Jadakiss, Tech N9ne, Bone Thugs N Harmony and many more. Hybrid Thoughts is a collaboration born out of conscious lyrics laid over well produced beats. They are known far beyond Boston as a true hip hop crew that breaks down political discourse with a style all their own. Quincy's own Nicoletta Lyons, an avant garde fashion designer brings Lola's Urban Vintage Fashion Truck and will host a fashion show for The Gallery's Closing Night.

Saturday, Aug. 1: The 20th Annual Arts Affair at Marina Bay is one of the largest art events on the South Shore. This two-day event will introduce you to the talents of artists, sculptors, and photographers who live and work in many of the South Shore communities. Free admission and parking, raffles, and art demonstrations throughout the weekend.

The lobby and cafeteria of 500 Victory Rd. are transformed into an exciting gallery space from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Salem Media Group Boston, part of the largest Christian Media Company in the country, calls Marina Bay home with three radio stations: WEZE 590 AM The Word, WROL 950 AM the Spirit of Boston and WWDJ Radio Luz 1150 AM.

The Open Studio event offers free tours and a chance to be a part of live radio here in Quincy on Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon – just in time for the kickoff of The Irish Hit Parade, a tradition on WROL for the last 48 years. Salem Media Group is on the second floor of 500 Victory Rd., above the Arts Affair. Discover DCR Squantum Point Park Marina Bay, MWRA Haul Road 10 to 11 a.m. Take a walk where boats were built and planes once flew. DCR Squantum Point Park is rich in aviation and naval history. Today this 50-acre park provides cooling breezes and scenic views of the Boston skyline while providing valuable habitat for an abundance of birdlife. Join a DCR park ranger to discover the hidden history of Squantum Point Park.

Tickets are available for the CYO Nationals Tribute, performances of Hairspray, the Broadway Musical by the South Shore School of Theater and the Quincy Militia football games. Visit the DiscoverQuincy.com event calendar for more information.

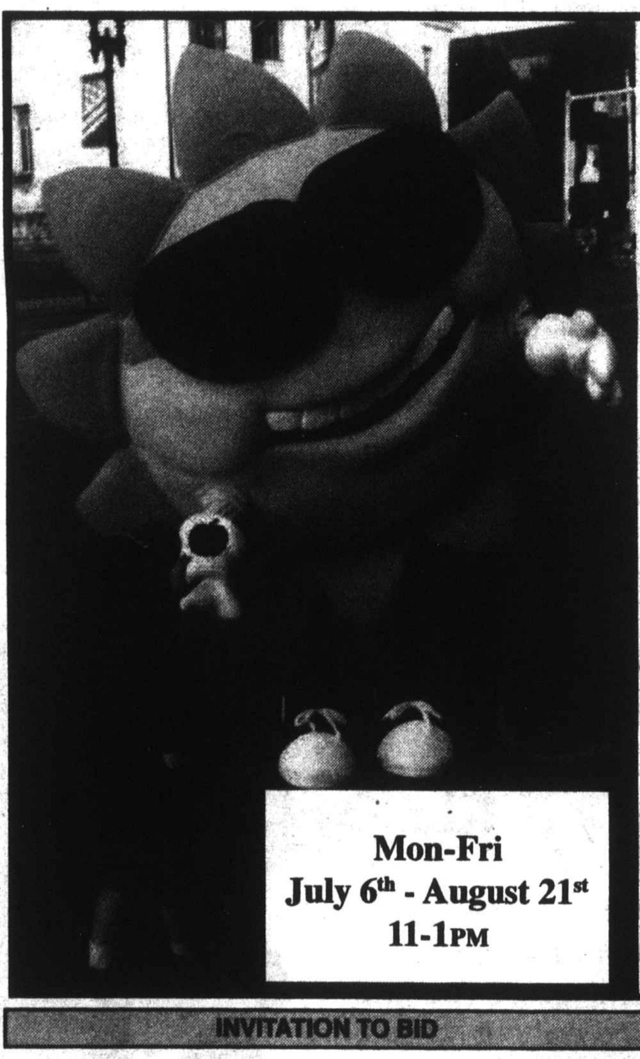
S.S. School Of Theatre To Present 'Hairspray'

Quincy-based South Shore School of Theatre will present the musical "Hairspray" Friday, July 31 at 7 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 1 at 2 p.m. in the Edith Cove Auditorium of Eastern Nazarene College, 23 East Elm Ave., Quincy.

Tickets are $5 per child 12 and under and $10 for students and adults. Tickets are available at the door or online at Eventbrite.com.

The show, set in 1962 Baltimore, is a tale about overweight teenager Tracy Turnblad who is determined to defy the stereotypes of beauty and becomes cast in the Corny Collins dance television show. Once she finally makes it on the show, she does everything in her power to integrate the television network, and protests outside of the stattion with her black comrades, which lands her in jail. In the end, the right side of history wins out and the television network finally becomes integrated.

The show is directed by Tara Brook Watkins, who founded the South Shore School of Theatre six years ago.



Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincy
Free Summer Lunch!
For All Kids 18 and under

- Snug Harbor School
::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Quincypublicschools.com

GENNARO'S EATERY

Summer Deal
Dine-In & Take-Out

Large Round
Cheese Pizza
$8.99

Tuesdays All Day & Night

Homemade
Pizza Dough & Sauce
Call 617-773-1500

Daily Specials
617-499-6929

Deal ends August 31, 2015

We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

INVITATION TO BID INVITATION TO BID

INVITATION TO BID

CITY OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS
PURCHASING DEPARTMENT
1305 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY, MA 02169

The City of Quincy invites sealed bids/proposals for:

"NORTH QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL DECORATIVE EXTERIOR IRON WORKS RESTORATION"

PUBLIC BUILDING AUGUST 13, 2015 @ 11:00 a.m.

In accordance with M.G.L. Chapter 149, the Public Building Department acting on behalf of the City of Quincy ("City") is seeking proposals from qualified professionals for restoration of the Decorative Exterior Iron Works on the second and third levels of North Quincy High School located at 316 Hancock Street.

Detailed specifications are available on-line at the City of Quincy's website, www.quincyma.gov and also available at the office of the Purchasing Agent, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts, 02169, between the hours of 8:30 AM and 4:30 PM

All questions regarding this bid should be directed to Kathryn R. Hobin, Purchasing Agent through fax: 617-376-1074 and email: khobin@quincyma.gov and cc: to kimtrillcott@quincyma.gov. Questions will be accepted until August 7, 2015 at 4:00 p.m.

Bids/Proposals must be in a sealed envelope. The outside of the sealed envelope is to be clearly marked "BID ENCLOSED" with time/date of bid call.

The successful bidder will be required to conform to the payment of Prevailing Wage Rates, as determined by the Commissioner of Labor & Industries under the provision of M.G.L. Chapter 149, Section 26 to 27D as amended.

Firm bid prices will be given first consideration. Bids/Proposals will be received at the office of the Purchasing Agent until the time and date stated above, at which time and date they will be publicly opened and read. Late Bids/Proposals, delivered by mail or in person, will be rejected.

If applicable, bids shall be in accordance with M.G.L. Chapter 30B, Chapter 149 as amended, and Chapter 30, Sections 39A, 39B and 39F-R.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept any part of a bid or the one deemed best for the City and waive any informality in the bidding if it is in the best interest of the City to do so.

Thomas P. Koch, MAYOR
Kathryn R. Hobin, PURCHASING AGENT
7/30/15

HN Blood Drive Remembers Chris, Trudy Peter

CHARLIE PETER (second from left) with members of his family at the 31st annual Houghs Neck Community Council Blood Drive held July 21 at Saint Thomas Aquinas Hall. The blood drive is held in memory of Charlie's late wife, Trudy, and their late son, Chris.

Quincy Sun Photo/Joe Reardon

Cont'd From Page 1

had heard so much of but had never met.

Jason admitted he was a little apprehensive but that wasn't going to stop him from donating for the first time.

"I'm excited but I'm not a big fan of needles though," Jason said. "I never met him. He died way before I was born. He sounded like one of the nicest guys you'd ever want to meet."

The annual blood drive has been an enormous success over the years with more than 2,500 pints collected. According to the Red Cross however, there is historically a seasonal decline during the summer months where there is an average of two fewer donors at every blood drive. And while that may not sound like a large number, it can add up to more than 100,000 fewer donations during the months of June, July and August.

The hall was already buzzing with activity an hour before the start of the blood drive, which included six tables used for people giving blood and two more for those donating double red cells and a screening area for donors.

Charlie was optimistic about a big turnout for the annual event but also expressed his concern for the overall drop off in numbers of people giving blood. "Blood drives everywhere have dropped off a lot," he said. "We used to get a hundred pints but we're down from that. I really don't know why and I feel really bad about it but that's the way it is. They've put more restrictions on it every year and it gets tighter and tighter to give."

Charlie was quick to give credit to the Houghs Neck Community Council, headed by president Dave DiBona, for its support of the blood drive and getting the word out to the community. Charlie and Trudy ran the event for more than twenty years before the council took over after Trudy passed away.

"My wife and I wanted to have a memorial for Chris so this is a living memorial," Charlie said. "I was so happy when the Houghs Neck Community Council took it over when my wife passed away. Houghs Neck does a lot of good things. In my opinion this thirty year blood drive is one of the best things they do. I'd love to see a big turnout today."

DiBona, who was on hand for the event, has known the Peter family for years. Now in his third year as council president, DiBona makes it a priority to advertise the event in the council newsletter that is mailed out to Houghs Neck residents.

"They're a terrific family and very community minded," said DiBona.

Charlie's daughter, Anne Young of Roxbury, was busy putting out snacks ranging from chocolate chip cookies and snicker doodles to brownies and cheesecake for those who would need to get their blood sugar back up after donating.

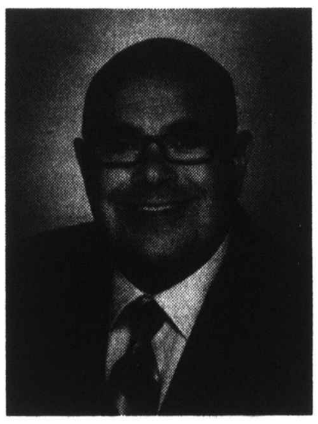
Young said that Chris had been a regular donor before he passed away. "It's a right of passage in our family," she said. "When we were little we'd go with our father to Quincy Hospital and we'd sit in the canteen with the nurse and have sugar wafers and pineapple juice while dad donated. When we turned sixteen he'd sign our permission slips and we'd make our first donation."

Young used to run the child care area before taking over the snack table duties. People could bring their children to the blood drive and they'd do crafts and color in the child care area while their parents were giving blood.

"One of the things when we were calling and asking people to donate they said they'd love to come in but they had child care issues," said Young. "It was a lot of fun. I did it for years."

Young said the blood drive is almost like a neighborhood reunion for her after moving out of Quincy. "To come down to this event is like old home week," she said. "It's wonderful to see everybody but it's unfortunate why we're seeing them. The good that comes out of it and number of people who ultimately will be helped is worth it."

Craig Good Senior Mortgage Originator At MountainOne Bank



CRAIG GOOD

Craig Good has been appointed Senior Mortgage Originator at MountainOne Bank's Quincy office, announces Peter Radigan, Senior Vice President for Consumer Lending/Mortgage Banking.

Good is responsible for originating residential loans in MountainOne Bank's South Shore market. Prior to joining MountainOne, he originated mortgages and loans at Natick and Rhode Island banks.

Good is a Buffini & Company ClubNet Member; members are trained in enhancing productivity, developing office cultures, and boosting profitability. In the community, he serves on Board 54 of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials, is an Amateur Athletic Union certified basketball coach, and served previously as head basketball coach of the Hanover Youth Athletic Association.

He lives in Hanover with his son, Caleb.

Two Residents Graduate Franklin Pierce University

Two students from Quincy recently received degrees from Franklin Pierce University in Rindge, NH.

They are:

Paige J. McGroarty, Bachelor of Arts degree in environmental science and anthropology.

Michael M. Stille, Bachelor of Arts degree in computer information technology.

Rachel Selbert On Minnesota Dean's List

Rachel Selbert of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at the University of Minnesota Twin Cities in Minneapolis/St. Paul.

Selbert is a student in the College of Continuing Education.

Get Local!

QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

TIME OUT
PIZZA & GRILL

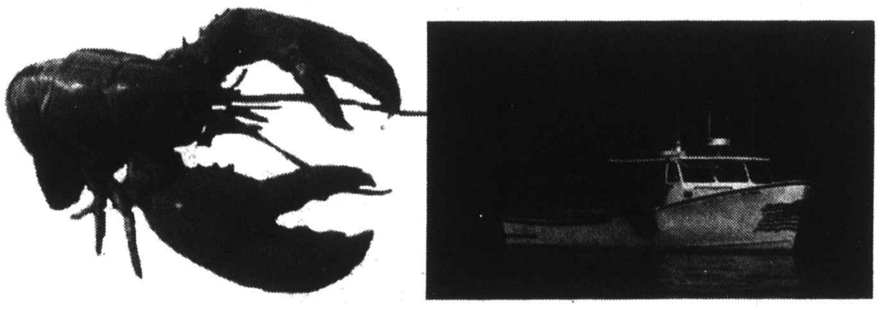
OPEN: 7 Days
525 Sea St., Quincy
617-479-2300

2 LARGE $15.99*
CHEESE PIZZAS
TOPPINGS EXTRA
*Must present Coupon at time of Order
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering

$2.00 OFF*
ANY ORDER OF $18 OR MORE CASH ONLY
*Cannot Be Combined With Any Other Coupon or Offer
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering

LOBSTER

The fishing vessel November Gale will be at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center, 137 Bay View Avenue this summer every Friday and Saturday from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m., Start Friday June 5th and continuing through the months of June, July and August to provide you with the freshest and most inexpensive lobsters.



Lobster fresh off the boat from my pots to yours.
Always a sell-out, be sure to come early.

Now Accepting
VISA MasterCard AMERICAN EXPRESS DISCOVER NETWORK

Contact Capt. Steven Holler at 617-590-4579
for pricing and information

Directions: Follow Sea Street into Houghs Neck, turn right after Louis Crossing Restaurant onto Bay View Avenue. Go straight for 200 yards, parking is on your left.

Also visit us online www.november-gale.com
Follow us on Facebook

Noel DiBona Candidate For Councillor At-Large Seat

NOEL DiBONA

Noel DiBona, a current member of the Quincy School Committee, is seeking one of the three council at-large seats in this fall's municipal election.

DiBona will kick off his city council at-large campaign Thursday, Aug. 13th at a reception from 5:30 to 8 p.m. at Alba Restaurant, 1486 Hancock St. in the upstairs private room. The public is welcome to attend.

In announcing his bid for city councillor at-large, DiBoina said:

"I am in my 19th year as co-owner of a small business in Quincy, Russ DiBona & Son Landscaping. I live in the Merrymount section of Quincy with my wife, Niamh and our two young boys, Tyler and Aidan. We are members of the Merrymount Association.

"I was educated in the Quincy Public Schools attending Daniel Webster Elementary School, Point and Sterling Middle Schools and a 1993 graduate of Quincy High School. I was a captain of both my football and baseball teams at Quincy High. I attained my bachelor's degree at the University of Massachusetts Boston.

"Currently I hold a position as a Quincy School Committee member. I am the chairman of the Health, Transportation and Safety subcommittee, as well as a Board member on the Sterling Middle School Building Committee. I have been an advocate for the music program throughout the Quincy Public Schools since being a school committee member.

"In the last two years the music program has had a 50 percent increase in enrollment jumping from 60 to 90 band members at Quincy and North Quincy High School. There has also been the addition of a new music teacher in 2014 and a new instrumental music teacher in 2015. I have also supported the Advanced Placement (AP) program, which is now being expanded in the other four middles schools at Broad Meadows, Point-Webster, Sterling and Atlantic along with Central Middle School starting this September.

"I take great pride in being the Junior Vice Commander of the Sons of American Legion at Morrisette Post #294. In tribute to my dad Russ DiBona, a 23-year U.S. Air Force Vietnam Veteran and my grandfather, Thomas DiBona, a U.S. Navy World War II Veteran. I participate in the ceremonies at the Flags for Veterans Island at Fort Square every Memorial Day and Veterans Day to honor the living and deceased men and women of the Armed Forces.

"I am a former Quincy Park and Recreation Board Member and former President of the Ward 2 Civic Association. I currently belong to the Quincy Elks Lodge #943 and the Sons of Italy Quincy Lodge #1295. I am also in my fifth year as the head coach of the Quincy Point Panthers of the Quincy Youth Football League, a team I once played for as a child."

DiBona said he is running for one of three council at-large seats this fall because he has a vision for the Quincy community.

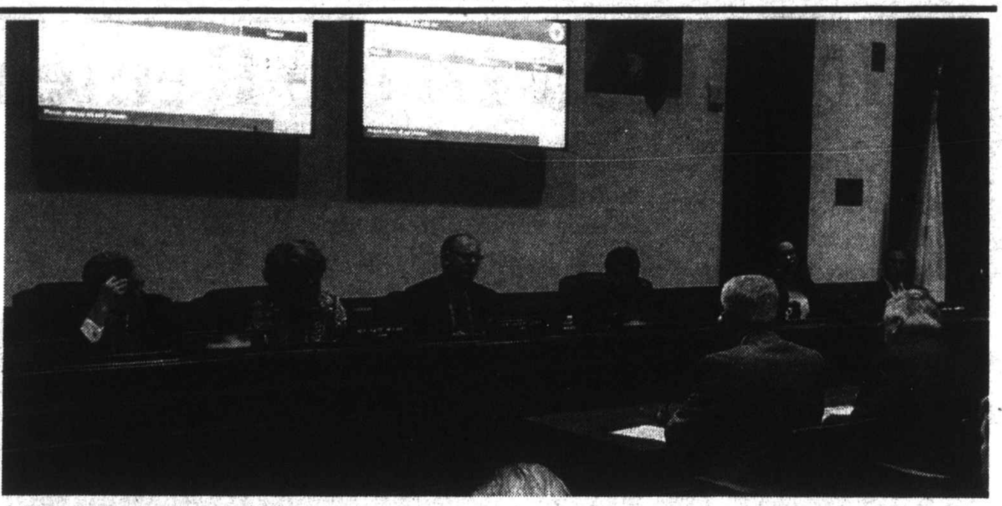
"Not only because I am raising a family in Quincy, but also because it's my hometown. I care about the interests and concerns of its citizens.

"Quincy should be safe for our children and where people can thrive towards success. We should invest in educating our youth, support commercial real estate development, combat the drug epidemic and making sure our streets are safe.

"As a small business owner I can apply my skills to city government. I will combine my business, community activism and family experience to the City Council in order to keep a balanced approach when making decisions," DiBona said.

For more information on DiBona's campaign, visit his Facebook page: Facebook.com/VoteNoelDiBona. He also has a campaign website: www.VoteDiBona.com.

"If you have any questions or concerns email me at VoteNoelDiBona@gmail.com. Lastly, I ask you for your vote on Nov. 3rd," DiBona said.



NORFOLK DISTRICT Attorney Michael Morrissey (foreground far right) and state Sen. John Keenan (foreground left) testify before the Joint Committee on Public Health, alerting committee members to the growing use of Gabapentin in combination with opioid prescription drugs and heroin. Photo Courtesy Norfolk County DA's Office

District Attorney, Quincy Senator, Partner On Substance Abuse Work

Morrissey, Keenan Push For Better Monitoring Of Potential Opioid Enhancers

Norfolk County District Attorney Michael Morrissey and state Sen. John Keenan recently testified before the Joint Committee on Public Health, alerting committee members to the growing use of Gabapentin in combination with opioid prescription drugs and heroin.

The two officials are pushing for action on a bill that would bring Gabapentin into the state's Prescription Drug Monitoring Program (PMP), a system that provides data on prescription drug dispensing across the state. Under current law pharmacies must report certain prescriptions into the database on a weekly basis, and physicians are required to check a patient's record in the system before starting a patient on an opioid prescription for the first time.

The current system collects data on drugs classified as Schedule II through Schedule V, reflecting a risk classification system used by the federal government. Gabapentin is not listed in these schedules, but a state law allows the commissioner for public health to designate additional drugs that must be recorded in the PMP. The bill, filed by Keenan, would direct the commissioner to require that Gabapentin and other similar products be monitored under the PMP.

Keenan said the designation is strictly an administrative change that requires data collection and analysis. It would not create any new restrictions on prescribing, would not require prescribers to log into the system before issuing a prescription, and would not change any of the penalties associated with possessing or distributing the drug without a legal prescription. "This is simply a matter of providing better information that can help us combat substance abuse," said Keenan. "It is a small but important part of a broader strategy that we will be introducing this year."

Keenan is vice chairman for a special committee formed by Senate President Stan Rosenberg to address opioid addiction.

Morrissey testified that his office is increasingly seeing Gabapentin found in conjunction with overdose deaths or arrests for possession and distribution of other drugs. The drug has an enhancing effect on the euphoria associated with opioid and heroin use. "The evidence is clear that this drug is becoming more popular for abuse," Morrissey said, "and this is a simple measure that heightens our awareness and ability to mitigate this risk." He told committee members that in Norfolk County 84 people have died this year from overdose, and that Gabapentin appears more frequently in these cases than many drugs that are already monitored. "We're seeing the effects every day," said Morrissey "but when it comes to understanding it, we just have very little information right now."

Numerous studies have found a strong connection between opioid prescription drugs, and the risk for addiction and overdose. In 2012 the state assembled an expert panel to review prescribing patterns, and make recommendations on how to reduce this risk while still providing access to pain treatment. A key finding was that poly-substance use – or the combined use of certain drug pairings – is a very significant indicator for overdose risk, with a majority of overdose victims having used more than one class of drug. The same panel found that over 50,000 people each month have access to an opioid prescription and a benzodiazepine prescription at the same time.

"That information alone is something that can lead to safer prescribing," Keenan said, "and doctors and public health officials should be able to access the same sort of data for other potentially dangerous drug combinations."

13 Residents Earn Degrees At UMass-Lowell

Thirteen residents recently earned degrees at the University of Massachusetts in Lowell.

They are:

Ivon Tran received a bachelor of science degree in criminal justice.

Kelly Curran, master of business administration degree.

Ibrahim Agoro, bachelor of science degree in mathematics.

Emma Paulauskas, master of arts degree in criminal justice.

Nitish Trivedi, master of business administration degree.

Ravi Dipali, master of science in engineering degree in mechanical engineering.

Paul Gould, bachelor of arts degree in history.

Trevor Kelly, bachelor of arts degree in psychology.

Pei Ting Wang, bachelor of science degree in nursing.

Chen Sun, bachelor of science in engineering degree in civil engineering.

Andrew Leone, bachelor of science in engineering degree in civil engineering.

Joseph Benoit, master of science in engineering degree in civil engineering.

Lindsey MacPherson, bachelor of arts degree in psychology.

August's Flavor of the Month is a perfect blend of nuts, caramel, nougat and chocolate...
try our
Snickers Parfait COFFEE today!
Coffee Break CAFE
buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net
12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420
77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888
247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions July 20 - July 24

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Raymond G. Sweeney	Indenture of Trust of Alfred Roncarati	$319,900.00	155 Kendrick Avenue Unit 210
Rex Company LLC	John P. & Alyssa B. Kopp	$355,000.00	27 Westford Street
Almir & Neira D. Davis	Xin C. Wu	$255,700.00	123 Elm Street Unit B-4
HSBC Bank Use National Association	HSBC Bank USA National Association	$504,000.00	36 Shea Street
Queen Realty LLC	Tian H. & Lan F. Chen	$586,000.00	100-102 Hamden Circle
Paul J. & Elaine B. Dangelo	Ryan Yi & Jodi Jean	$630,000.00	239 Safford Street
29 Pleasant Street Realty Trust	Michelle Yu & Cai Y. Chen	$520,000.00	29 Pleasant Street
Kendrigan Place Limited Paretnership & WR Corporation	10 Winter Street Limited Parnership	10080000	10 Winter Street
Kendrigan Place II Limited Paretnership & Winter Street Holding Inc.	10 Winter Street Limited Parnership	1120000	10 Winter Street
Raymond E. Ekwujuru	Mary D. Murray Family Trust	$294,000.00	79 Suomi Road
Andrea M. Marlar	Walter & Jeanne King	$345,000.00	54 Merrymount Road Unit 3
Margaret D. & Albert E. Cronin, Mary E & William G. Cunniff	Cho S. & Cho F. Low	$409,000.00	183 Elmwood Avenue
Kevin S. & Anya Reppucci	Andrea M. Marlar	$455,000.00	1322 Quincy Shore Drive
Sang & Tung Lam	Joshua D. Foley & Hoa M. Nguyen	$305,000.00	961 Sea Street
Cynthia J. & Michael	James H. & Jenny S. Liebelt	$700,000.00	8 Harvey Lane Unit 8A
Stephen A. & Lindsay Gray	Jorge & Lee Mestre	$374,000.00	106 Piermont Street
Kristi L. Savage & Susan M. Gruning	Christopher D. Arinez	$308,500.00	75 Cleverly Court
Angela C. Johnson	Michael & Whitney Girard	$410,000.00	118-120 Holmes Street Unit 202
Roger J. Cardinal & Diane M. McCormick	Lathika Prabhakaran	$405,500.00	10 Ricciuti Drive Unit 8
Kevin & Andrea Pettinelli	Duc T. M. Mai & Jamie H. Duong	$434,900.00	4 Montilio Street
Michael P. Shea	Timothy M. Burkhart	$726,000.00	90 Safford Street
George J. & Virginia M. Klier	David M. Dombroski & Caitlin M. McGovern	$320,000.00	774 East Squantum Street
Clinton D. Lynch	Annie Ho-Wan	$230,000.00	90 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 611
Avery Yuan	Thang Quyet & Tuan Viet Nguyen	$280,000.00	90 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 614

Nova Suites Opens In Downtown Quincy

City officials and local business people stopped by the opening recpetion for Nova Suites, the recently renovated extended stay executive suites located at 3 Cottage Ave. in downtown Quincy.

Notable attendees who enjoyed light refreshments and toured the updated rooms included Mayor Thomas Koch, city councillors Kirsten Hughes, Margaret Laforest and Brad Croall and Quincy Chamber of Commerce President Dean Rizzo.

Nova Suites was transformed by the development firm LBC Boston, under the guidance of partners Alex Matov and Andrian Shaprio, who have collectively purchased more than $23 million worth of property in Quincy Center.

FROM LEFT: Ryan Malgeri, junior partner, LBC Boston; Andrian Shaprio, managing partner, LBC Boston; Quincy Mayor Tom Koch; Margarita Bradley, Director of Project Development, LBC Boston; Alex Matov, managing partner, LBC Boston. Photo Courtesy Nova Suites

Quincy Agency Owner Receives All-State Designation

Allstate agency owner Duy Nguyen has been designated an Allstate Premier Agency for 2015.

The Duy Nguyen Agency is located at 953 Hancock St. in Quincy.

The Allstate Premier Agency designation is bestowed upon 48 percent of Allstate's nearly 10,000 agency owners across the country.

The Premier Agency designation is awarded to Allstate agency owners who have demonstrated excellence in delivering an accessible, knowledgeable and personal customer experience while achieving outstanding business results.

Valvoline Raising Money For The Jimmy Fund

Valvoline Instant Oil ChangeSM customers can help fight cancer from July 27 through Sept. 6 by contributing $1 to the Jimmy Fund through the A Chance for Kids & Families® program at participating Valvoline Instant Oil Change locations including 366 Centre St., Quincy.

This is the second year in a row that Valvoline Instant Oil Change is participating in A Chance for Kids & Families. In 2014, all 46 service centers raised more than $26,000.

Ask Barbara Graceffa:
Secretary Of The Interior

My kitchen desperately needs a facelift. What do I need to know to paint the cabinets? Can I paint counter tops and appliances, too? Charles

Note: This response will span over several issues of The Quincy Sun.

With the proper preparation, tools, and paints, you can paint cabinets, countertops, appliances ... even tiles and floors. However, there are some important things to consider before heading to the hardware store.

Cabinets: If the cabinets are in good shape and hand built or made of solid wood or plywood, you will save a great deal by painting instead of replacing them. Yet, if the cabinets are made of pressed wood or laminate, save your time and money and consider replacing the doors or refacing the cabinets, doors, and drawer fronts.

Most importantly, DO NOT skip or skimp on the prep work before you paint.

Remove the doors and drawers and their knobs and pulls. Draw yourself a map of your cabinet layout –noting where each door and drawer goes -- and add a small piece of tape to the inside of each piece labeling it for when you hang them back up when done painting. For example, the upper cabinet doors can be, starting on the left: U1, U2, ... while the lower ones are L1, L2, etc.

Next, decide whether you are keeping the same hinges and other hardware; if not, keep one of each so you purchase the proper replacement sizes. (Remember: You can always spray paint metal hardware, too. Try a glossy black or a shiny metallic paint, like stainless steel or chrome).

Then use a product like TSP (trisodium phosphate) to clean off your cabinets before sanding thoroughly – both steps will help ensure proper adherence of the paints. Wipe off and vacuum up the dust residue and repair any small holes or cracks with spackling compound; larger repairs require joint compound.

Readers, stay tuned for the next installments of Dear Secretary of the Interior for advice on choosing paints and supplies for the cabinets and more on painting counter tops, appliances, tiles, and floors.

Do you have a decorating problem needing a professional solution? Send your questions to Secretary of the Interior at barbara@sec-interior.com.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

FLAVIN & FLAVIN REALTY
Complete Real Estate Service Since 1925
SOLD
Free Opinion of Value
~
Committed to Property Ownership
~
Offering Seller & Buyer Representation
a century of connecting people with homes
Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St. Quincy Center
Visit: www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

QCAP Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Non-Profit Marks Half Century Of Dedicated Service

QUINCY COMMUNITY ACTION Programs, Inc. recently celebrated its 50th anniversary at a special event held at the Old House at Peace field, Adams National Historical Park. Among those attending (from left) were Josephine Shea, QCAP Board president; state Sen. John Keenan; Mayor Thomas Koch; Rosemary Wahlberg, former QCAP executive director; Cong. Stephen Lynch; William J. Trifone, first president, Quincy Community Action Board of Directors; Beth Ann Strollo, QCAP chief executive officer; and state Rep Tackey Chan. Photos Courtesy QCAP

By SCOTT JACKSON

Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc., a nonprofit organization that now serves 20,000 individuals on the South Shore and beyond, marked its golden anniversary with a special celebration recently at the Old House at Peace Field in the Adams National Historical Park.

For Beth Ann Strollo, QCAP's executive director since 1999, the 50th anniversary is a time to reflect on the work the organization has done in the community over the past half century.

"As someone who has been with the organization for 31 of the 51 years, it feels like a really historic time and a time we're all really proud of this history and reflecting on all the work that went into the organization and into the community," Strollo said in a recent interview.

"Quincy is a community that is dedicated to helping all of its residents," she added. "We work hand-in-hand with the city, particularly the mayor's office and Planning Department."

The organization traces its routes back to 1964, one year before it was formally incorporated. That year, in his first State of the Union, President Lyndon Baines Johnson declared an "unconditional war on poverty" and laid out his vision for the Great Society. By that August, Congress had approved several programs to tackle poverty, including Medicare, Medicaid, Head Start, food stamps, Job Corps and others. The legislation also required low-income residents be given an opportunity to speak about how poverty should be addressed in local communities.

That year, Quincy Mayor Amelio Della Chiesa appointed 24 residents to form the Quincy Community Action Organization, which later changed its name to Quincy Community Action Programs. In May 1965, the organization formally incorporated. William J. Trifone was the group's first president and Russell O'Connell the first executive director.

"In 1964, residents in the city of Quincy decided they wanted to help residents who needed hand ups," Strollo said. She highlighted several areas of concern those residents had, including stopping high school students from dropping out, housing, nutrition, and access to job training.

"It was that vision that group had that started this organization. It's incredibly powerful to reflect on that and think about the role we played and how we continue their work."

QCAP serves approximately 20,000 individuals. Nearly half – 9,800 – live in Quincy. Some 3,600 live in Weymouth, 1,900 in Braintree and 760 in Milton. In total, the organization serves residents of 80 communities in the eastern half of Massachusetts, some as far away as Methuen and Dracut on the New Hampshire border, Oxford in the central part of the state, Mashpee and South Yarmouth on Cape Cod, and several communities on the South Coast including Fall River and New Bedford.

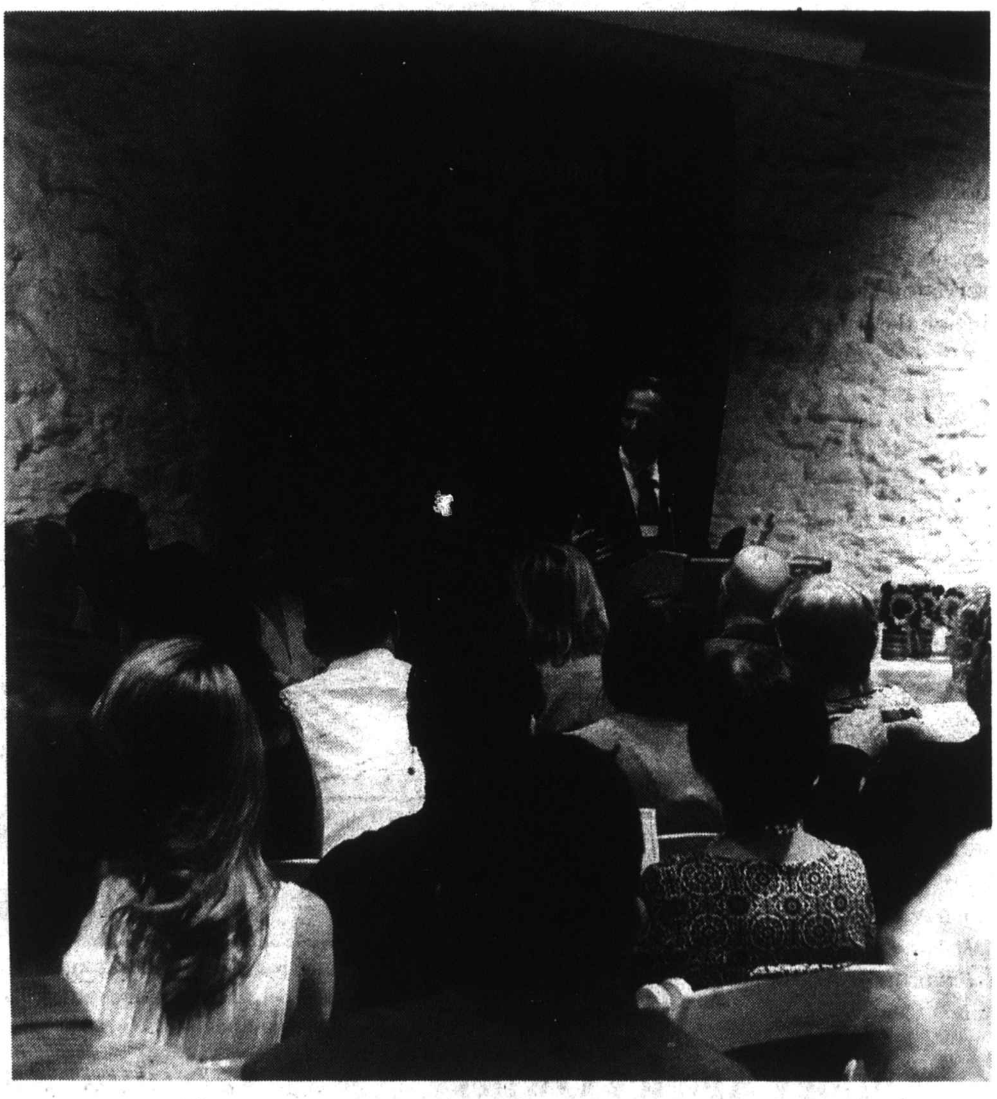
The organization offers a number of programs. QCAP's emergency food center serves more than 1,300 households consisting of 3,100 people; those families receive nearly 525,000 meals. Some 1,600 special holiday food orders were filled for Thanksgiving, Christmas/Hanukah, Chinese New Year and Easter and 475 children received holiday gifts in 2014.

Fuel assistance was provided to 3,430 families in the past year and 238 households received home weatherization and appliance management services to improve efficiency and reduce costs.

Nearly 2,000 households received assistance from QCAP's housing program in 2014. Some 409 homeless families living in motels received comprehensive assessments; 117 of those were moved into permanent housing. Another 61 families were prevented from becoming homeless or moved from a homeless situation into stable housing.

More than 1,500 children received childcare subsid-

Cont'd On Page 31



CONG. STEPHEN F. LYNCH was the keynote speaker at Quincy Community Action Program, Inc.'s 50th anniversary celebration at the Adams National Historical Park in Quincy.

Interfaith Social Services Backpack Drive For Area Students

Interfaith Social Services, a multiservice center for South Shore families in need, is holding its annual Backpack Drive to help deserving students throughout the area whose parents families are clients of Interfaith's food pantry.

"Interfaith's Backpack Drive is essential to getting the school year off to a strong start for these children," said Rick Doane, executive director of Interfaith Social Services. "Not only does this initiative reinforce the importance of education, but it also defrays a significant cost faced by their parents."

Interfaith's food pantry serves about 500 school-age children each month. Organizers hope to provide each child with a new backpack that includes the supplies they are likely to need throughout the upcoming school year. "This program wouldn't be possible without the generosity of our community partners," said Doane.

Two types of backpacks are needed – one for grades K to 5 and another for grades 6 to 12. Detailed instructions and a list of what each backpack needs to include can be found at www.InterfaithSocialServices.org. Donors are asked to pre-pack backpacks, rather than donate individual supplies. Monetary donations for the backpack program also are accepted.

This year, the deadline for donations is July 31. Backpack distribution will start on Monday, Aug. 3, and will continue throughout the month of August.

To learn more or to participate, contact Karen Ukraine at kukraine@interfaithsocialservices.org or call 617-773-6203 x19.

85 On UMass Amherst Dean's List

Eighty-five students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at the University of Massachusetts-Amherst.

They are:

North Quincy: Ying Dan Chen.

Quincy: Abdulrahman Omar Basabrain, Alexandra Katherine Reardon, Alphonsus Mari Peter Preza, Andrew David Keezer, Brenda Kieu Huynh, Carolyn Helen McDonagh, Devin Nicole Melendy, Fiona Elizabeth Riordan, Jay Bosworth Newman, Jianhong Chen, Jun Hui Chen, Kathy Thao Van, Lawrence Quang Tran, Li Ma, Lok Man Wong, Madison Kirby, Martha Pham, Michelle Elizabeth Walsh, Mohammad Elrefaie, My Boi Huynh, Perry Chen, Phillip Tran, Phu Minh Tang, Stacey Lee Gallagher, Tommy Dang Nguyen, Victoria York Yung Hum, Wei Xie, Wen Hao Chen, Wing Lam Lee, Xiuying Chen, Zetian Zhou, Zu Jun Chen, Agnes Setow, Alan Lee, Amy Ly, Anne Liu, Che-Ting Lin, Chongze Chen, Cyril Justin Caparanga, Dingkang Liu, Emily Manqing Mai, Emily Mei, Hongda Lin, Jason Tan, Jia Hui Liang, Ka Wo Fong, Kevin Michael Le, Mark Mena Hanna, Simon Chau, Simon Quach, Sin Wing Chung, Tommy Do, Wai Yee Law, Xiao Fei Ma, Xueling Cherri Zhao, Yim Hui, Zhuotao Huang, Aditi Sharma, Andrew Joseph Maloney, Angela April Kou, Ban Q Hua, Emily Mottolo, Gui Ming Huang, Haoxian Lin, Henry Fong, Jaclyn Marie Bryson, Jianan Liu, Jiexian Huang, John Gaeton D'Arcangelo, Joseph Barrie Jachowicz, Justine Michele Lomanno, Karen Ly, Lucas Liang, Mary Zheng, Michelle Huang, Ping Ting Zou, Raymond M Tang, Stanley Yu Man Lok, Terrence Hong Yu, Tony Chen, Ying Chen, Yuh Ling Chan, Yuh S Chan and Yuling Chen.

HAPPY RINGERS – sisters Jessica (left) and Rebekah Vandervort ring the bell with Santa Claus at the Quincy Salvation Army's "Christmas in July" kettle standout July 23 near City Hall and McIntyre Hall. The event raised $1,136 for the Salvation Army. More photos on Pages 16 and 17.
Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Gutro Concerned Over Long Island Bridge Work

Cont'd From Page 1

said he is concerned about ongoing work to repair piers for the former bridge. The 3,450-foot span was demolished in phases this spring, though the piers that supported the bridge remain.

The councillor said he does not recall pier work being brought up during any community meeting or Conservation Commission hearing on the demolition.

"Photographs have recently been provided to the mayor, City Council and your department illustrating repair work to the piers and damage that occurred," Gutro wrote in his letter to Duca.

"At the neighborhood meeting and Conservation Commission meetings, many residents including myself have no recollection of any discussion relative to the restoration of damaged piers, other than to illuminate them to aide in navigation for area boaters. On-site crews who performed the repairs could just as easily removed the damaged piers in the interest of public safety."

Gutro goes on to ask Duca for any documentation the Inspectional Services Department or Conservation Commission may have relative to the pier work. A draft City Council resolution seeks the same information, which would be given to the council's oversight committee.

Chris Walker, the spokesman for Mayor Thomas Koch, previously told The Sun the permit issued by the Conservation Commission allowed the city of Boston to repair the piers.

"At this point it appears Boston is doing nothing more than what is allowed under the permit" Walker said last week. "There are conditions in the permit that allowed for the repairs of the piers that were likely to be damaged by the demolition."

Boston officials, Walker added, have not yet shared any information regarding the replacement of the bridge with Quincy officials.

Meet The Candidates Night Aug. 18

The Quincy LGBT community will host a "Meet the Candidates Night" Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Social Center, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

Candidates for mayor, city council and school committee have been invited to participate in the forum.

Candidates will be given an opportunity to speak for three to four minutes and also answer questions from the audience.

All are welcome to attend. RSVP to Frank Rubino at frank.rubino543@gmail.com.

MICHAEL W. MORRISSEY
NORFOLK DISTRICT ATTORNEY invites you to join him at his annual Summer B.B.Q.
ADAMS INN | QUINCY
29 Hancock Street,Quincy, MA
Thursday, August 6, 2015 | 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.
Donor $25, Sponsor $50, Patrón $100
For tickets, please mail check to The Morrissey Committee at P.O. Box 215 • N. Quincy, MA 02171
TICKETS HELD AT DOOR
617.376.0900

DISCOVER QUINCY
50
DAYS of "FREE" DOM
JUNE 13–AUGUST 1
Thank you!
Final week
Signature
Events:

THE GALLERY
The Gallery Closing Night
July 31

July 31, Closing Night
Quincy's own Nicoletta Lyons, an avant gaarde fashion designer brings Lola's Urban Vintage Fashion Truck and will host a fashion show for The Gallery's Closing Night. She will share the stage with her husband, world renowned spoken word artist, Aztech, who brings a new level of concious hip hop to his adopted hometown.

Thank you to our sponsors:
Galvcon Development, Bay State Equipment, Curry Hardware, DJ Stenny, FX White Electrical, Grandasia, Kulturez, Marketing Superheroes, Quincy Art Association, Stadium Quincy, Wood Commercial Painting and Zamforia

ARTS AFFAIR AT MARINA BAY
20th Annual Arts Affair at Marina Bay August 1-2

Saturday, 10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.
Awards Presentation Ceremony at 2pm in the cafeteria
Sunday, August 2, 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
Marina Bay Corporate Park, 500 Victory Road
One of the largest art events on the South Shore, the Arts Affair at Marina Bay is a two-day event that will introduce you to the talents of artists, sculptors, and photographers who live and work in many of the South Shore communities. Free admission and parking, raffles, and art demonstrations throughout the weekend. The lobby and cafeteria of 500 Victory Road are transformed into an exciting gallery space, displaying works in drawing, mixed media, oil & acrylic; photography, sculpture, and watercolor.

For a full list of events, please visit DiscoverQuincy.com.
Discover Quincy, 180 Old Colony Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170. Phone: 617-639-1117

‘Christmas In July’ Kettle Raises $1,136 For Salvation Army

DOING THE MOST GOOD

Cathy Birchmore: A True Ringer

Cont’d From Page 4

Nothing slows Cathy Birchmore down.

“I want to get out and keep going. I don’t consider myself as being disabled because I can still get up and go. I don’t have a homemaker. I do everything myself at home,” she says.

Because of her legs, for the past six years she’s rang the bell inside at the South Shore Plaza.

She says she’ll be there again this year and is counting down the days until Christmas.

Cathy’s more than a volunteer.

She’s an asset – a treasure – that the Salvation Army cherishes.

“One of the great assets of The Salvation Army is the army of volunteers behind the Army,” said Capt. Timothy Ross, Quincy Corps Officer. “Cathy Birchmore is one of The Salvation Army’s longest serving volunteers in Quincy. She has been volunteering with the Christmas Kettle Campaign for 41 years.

“She has faced many challenges in her life but is always willing to give back and serve others with a great heart and a smile no matter what the circumstances. Cathy does a great job every Christmas season collecting money in the kettle at the South Shore Plaza and greeting all who pass by with a friendly smile.

“It is a pleasure to have Cathy as both a member and a volunteer with of The Salvation Army. It is because of many people like Cathy that The Salvation Army is able to fulfill its mission on a daily basis,” Capt. Ross added.

The sun was out and the temperatures warmed up on this “Christmas In July” day. Cathy took her familiar spot next to the red kettle. She thanked each and every person who stopped to put a donation in the kettle. Some seem almost apologetic that they only had loose change to spare. But every nickel adds up to a contribution that will make a difference for someone who is down on their luck.

“Someday they might need the Salvation Army so it’s nice that they can give even change if that’s all they got. It makes them feel better if they can give,” Cathy says.

The Salvation Army’s Christmas in July kettle raised $1,136. Money that will help those struggling to meet basic needs.

The kettle also underscored the message that need knows no season. And the Salvation Army is ready any time of year to lend a helping hand.

“As individuals and families throughout Quincy continue to struggle with energy assistance, hunger, and numerous other issues throughout the summer months, it’s important to keep the spirit of Christmas alive and provide a helping hand to our neighbors,” Capt. Ross said.

“The funds raised will support the Salvation Army’s vital programs and services for those in need throughout the year. You may know The Salvation Army as a provider of emergency food and social services, but you may not realize The Salvation Army offers so much more including a summer camp experience at Camp Wonderland, a preschool, spiritual programming and nursing home visits to just name a few,” he added.

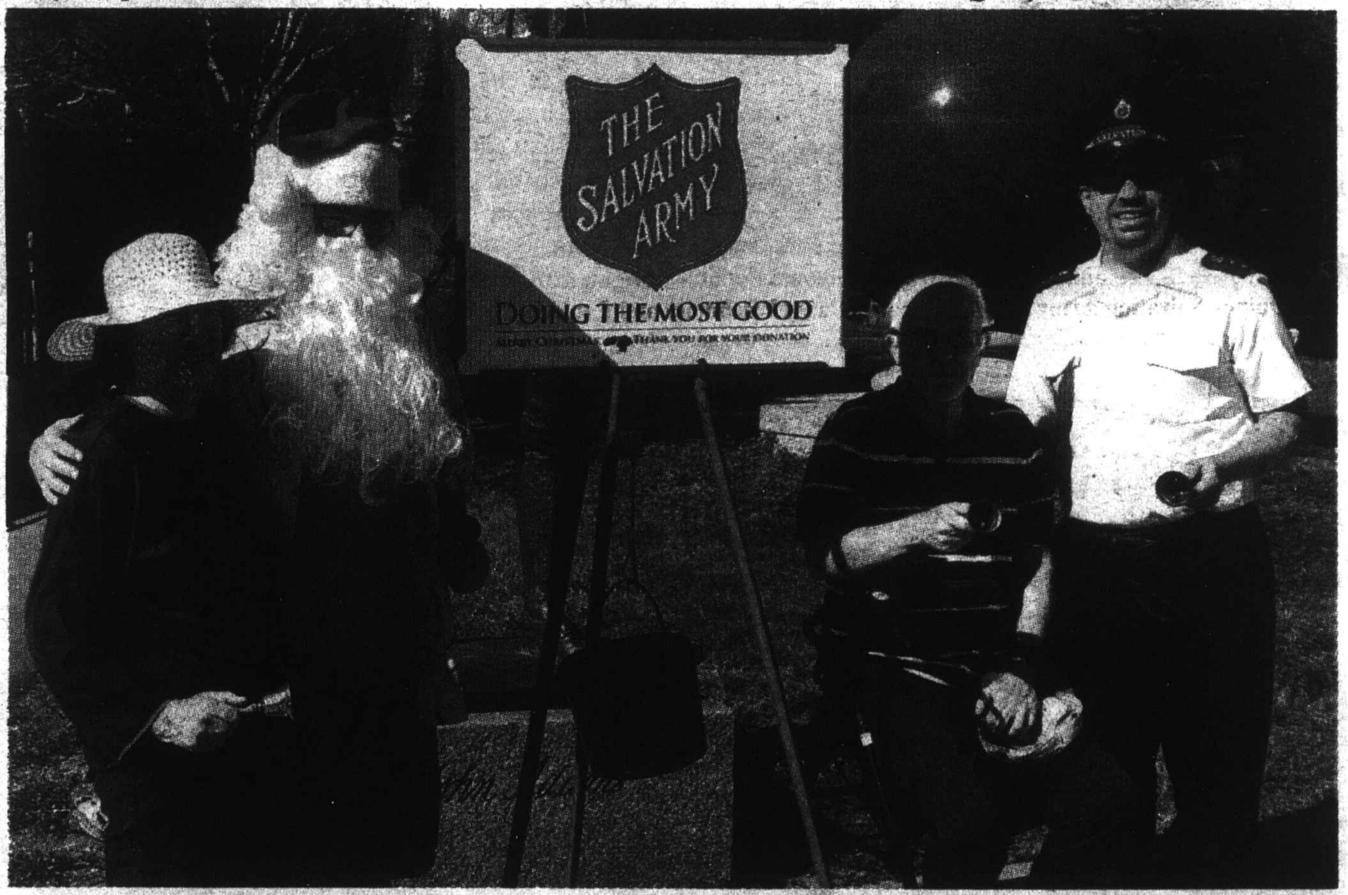
The day is just about over and the kettle is retrieved from the sidewalk in front of Hancock Street. Dozens have stopped by to drop a donation in the bucket. And Cathy has enjoyed sitting in the sun and being a part of the Salvation Army’s mission of service.

“I love the Salvation Army,” she says. “Everything that it stands for is good. There’s not a better group of people. They always make you feel warm when you’re there.”

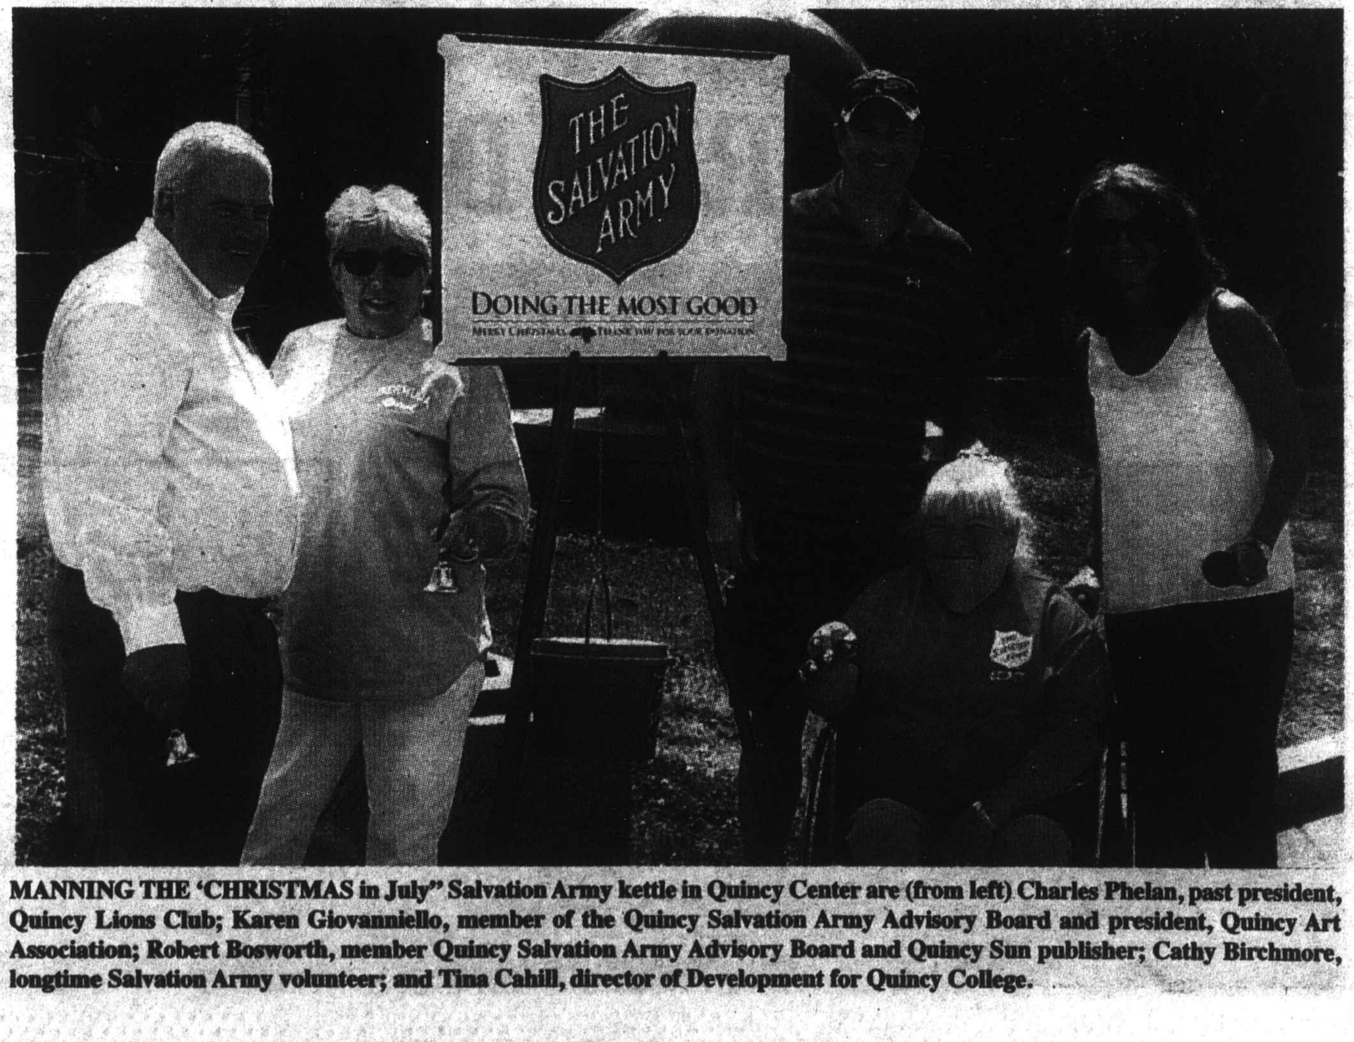
THE SALVATION ARMY
DOING THE MOST GOOD

THE SALVATION ARMY of Quincy’s second annual “Christmas in July” kettle raised $1,136.60. Volunteers manned the kettle that was set up in Quincy Center near the John Adams statue and McIntyre Mall. Among the volunteers who rang the bell were (from left) School Committeeman and councillor at-large candidate Noel DiBona, Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes, Santa Claus (a close friend of Joshua Vachon) and Captain Timothy Ross, Quincy Corps Officer, The Salvation Army. The red kettle – familiar during the holidays – was set up on July 23 to raise funds for those struggling to meet basic needs. “Need knows no season, it exists year-round, not just in the wintertime when it’s cold outside and when people normally think of The Salvation Army,” Capt. Ross said.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth



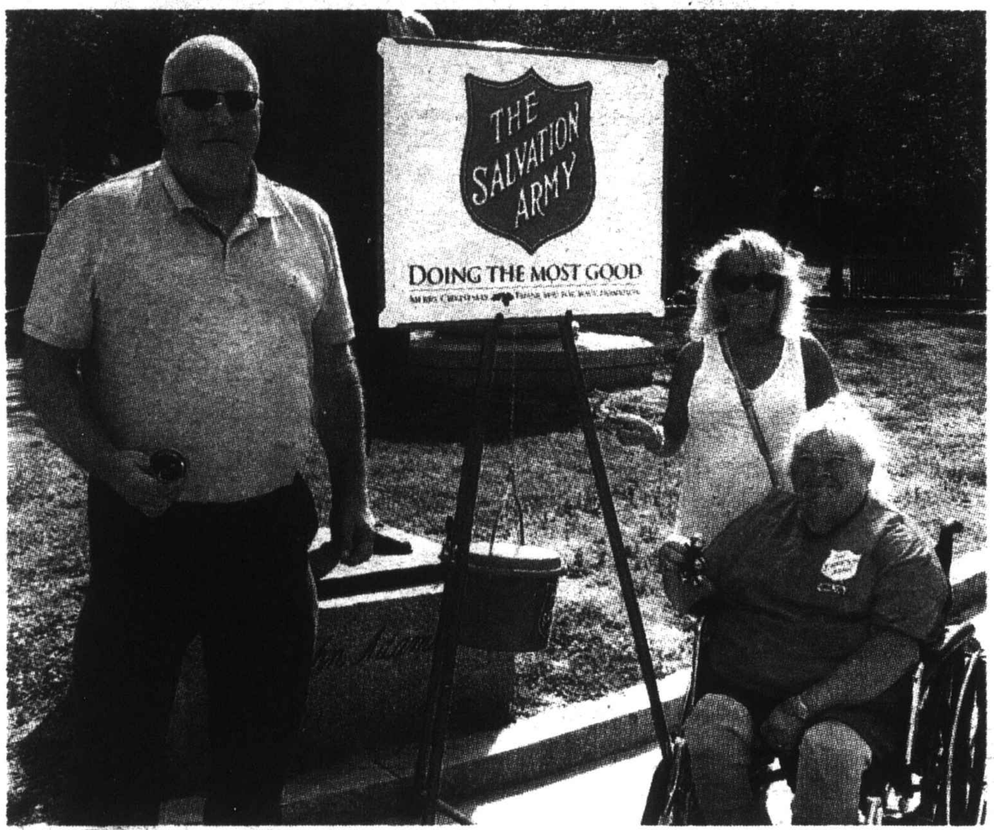
VOLUNTEER BELL RINGERS who participated in the Quincy Salvation Army’s second annual “Christmas in July” event in Quincy Center July 23 included (from left) Dorothy Newell, a member of the Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; Santa, William Connors and Capt. Timothy Ross.

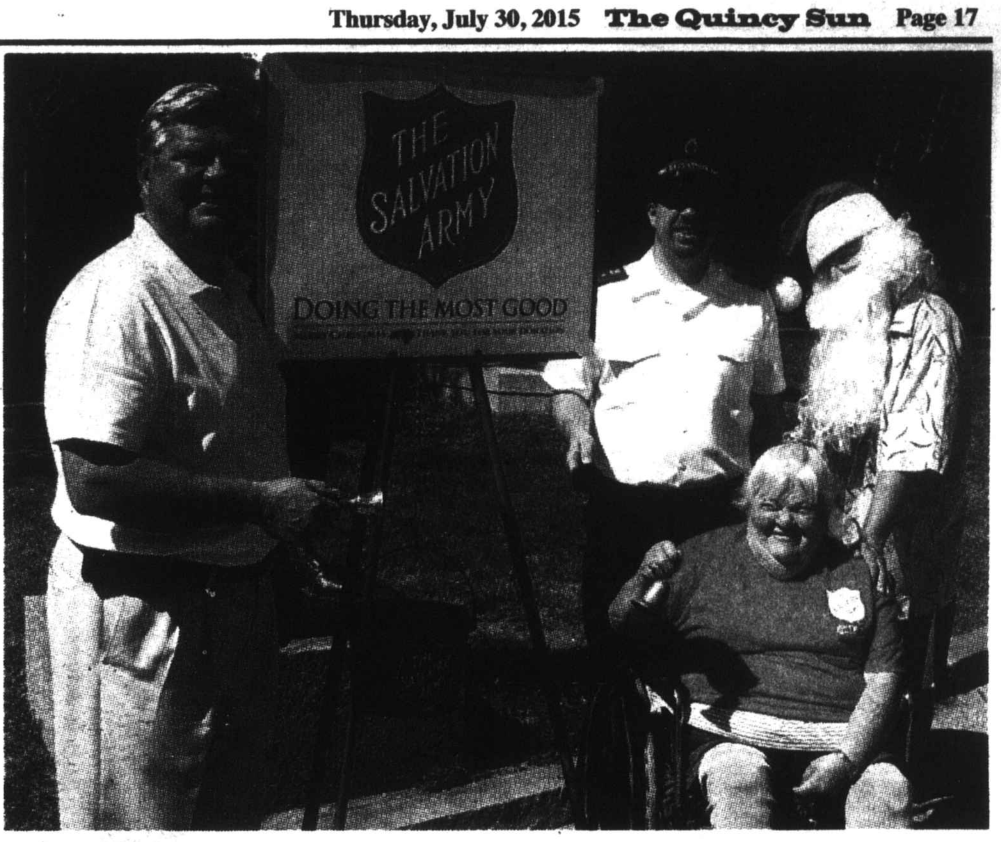


MANNING THE ‘CHRISTMAS in July” Salvation Army kettle in Quincy Center are (from left) Charles Phelan, past president, Quincy Lions Club; Karen Giovanniello, member of the Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board and president, Quincy Art Association; Robert Bosworth, member Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board and Quincy Sun publisher; Cathy Birchmore, longtime Salvation Army volunteer; and Tina Cahill, director of Development for Quincy College.

THE SALVATION ARMY DOING THE MOST GOOD.℠

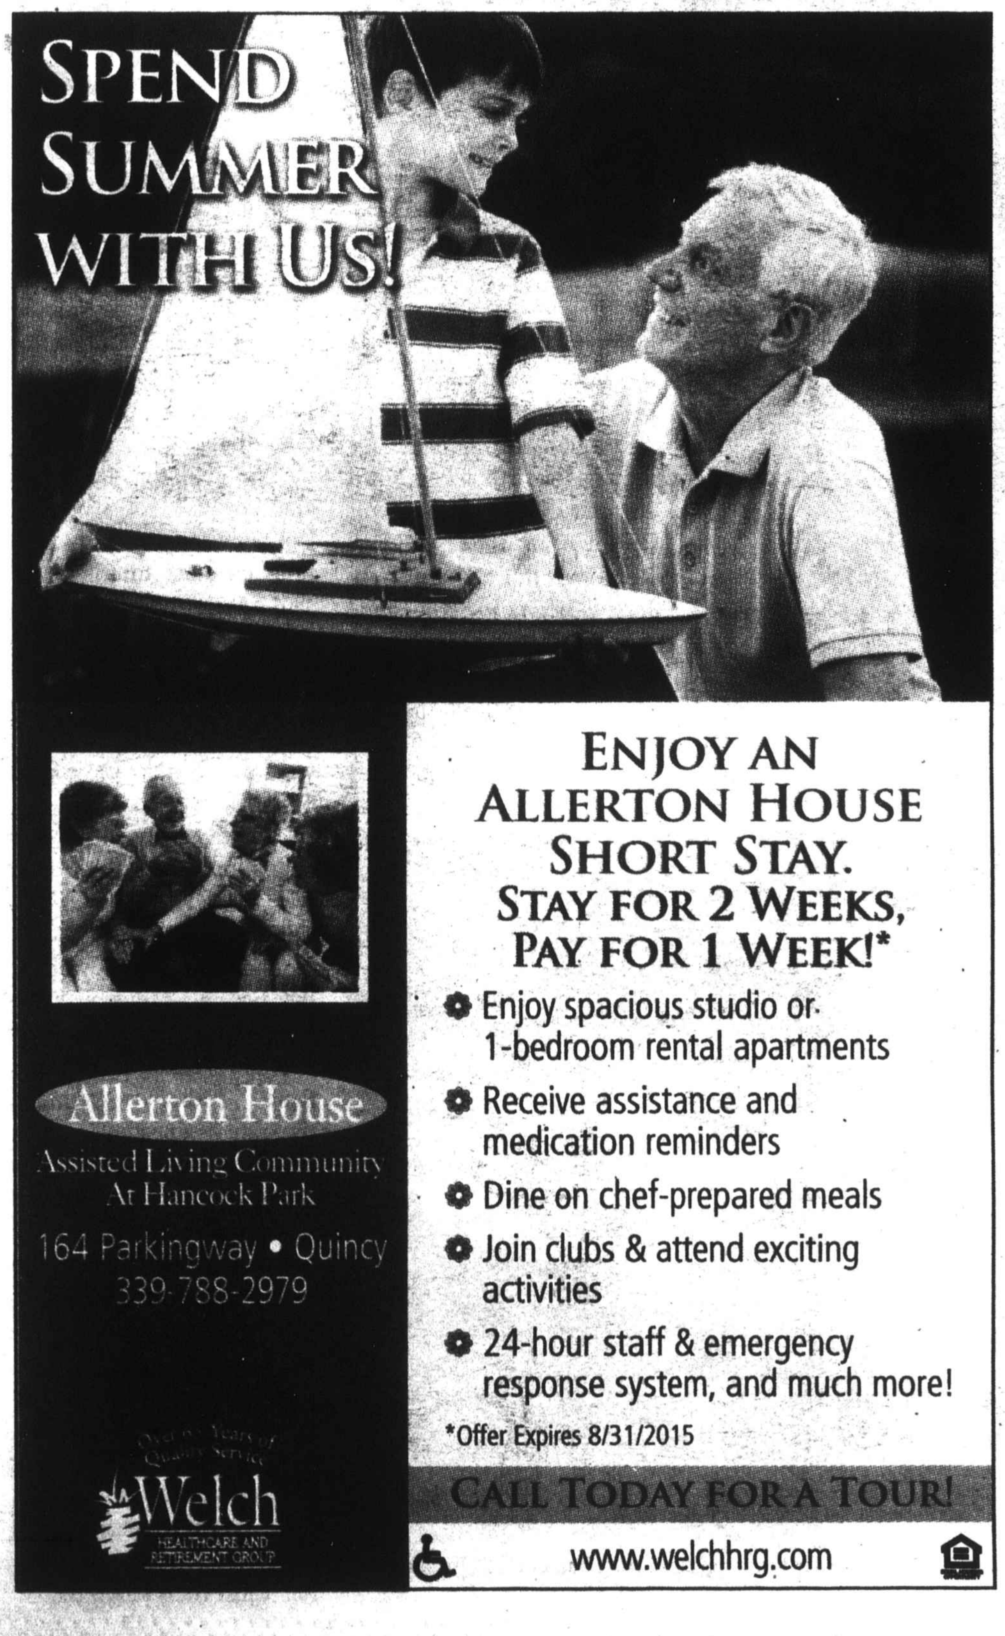
'Christmas In July' Raises $1,136 For Salvation Army





VOLUNTEER BELL RINGERS for the Quincy Salvation Army's "Christmas in July" kettle July 23 in Quincy Center included (top from left) John McCone, candidate, Ward 1 city councillor; Sandy Verhault, candidate, Ward 3 city councillor; and Cathy Birchmore. Other volunteers were (at right, top): Don Uvanitte, chairman, Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; Capt. Timothy Ross, Santa and Cathy Birchmore; and bottom photo at right: John Pasciucco, member, Quincy Salvation Army Advisory Board; Cathy Birchmore and Paul Moody, commander, Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294, Morrisette Legion Post.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth



SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

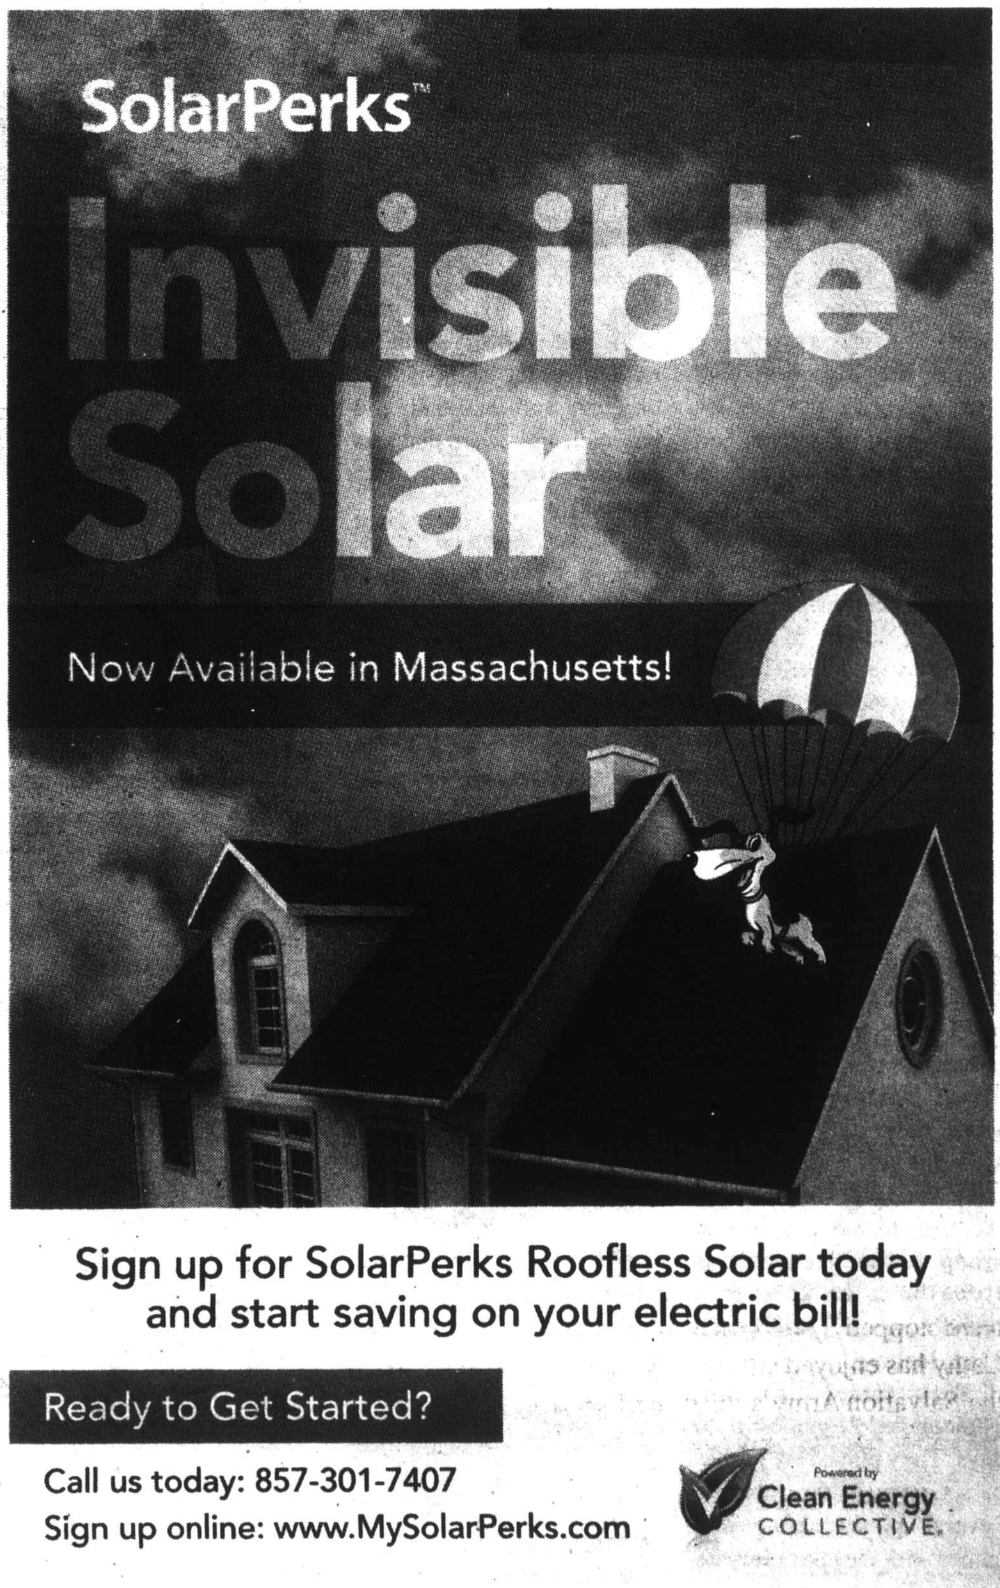
*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP



SolarPerks™

Invisible Solar

Now Available in Massachusetts!

Sign up for SolarPerks Roofless Solar today and start saving on your electric bill!

Ready to Get Started?

Call us today: 857-301-7407
Sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com

Powered by Clean Energy COLLECTIVE.

2015
BABE RUTH BASEBALL
Eastern Massachusetts
14-Year Old
STATE CHAMPION

QUINCY 14-YEAR-OLD Babe Ruth team celebrates its state championship at Adams Field after defeating Marblehead 10-0 in the title game July 21. Kneeling (from left to right) Coach Tom Nazzaro, Connor McDonald, Andrew Airosus, Alex Kennedy, Tom Kelly, Alex Kiley, Owen Carberry and Coach Mark Free. Standing (from left) Coach Mark Jaehnig, Aidan O'Sullivan, Vicker DiGravio, Colin McGrath, Curtis Frazier, Anthony Rizzitano, J.P. Kelley, Martin McCormack, Jack Free and Patrick Nazzaro.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Wins Babe Ruth State Championship

14-Year-Olds 'Three-Peat' As State Champs: Page 21

By BILL GRIFFIN

After they had won their state championship, after Quincy had rolled past Marblehead 10-0 last week in the title game of the Babe Ruth 14-year old Tournament, the players walked to the mound at Adams Field, stood in two rows and waited for the pictures to be taken.

Parents and families filed onto the field. The players smiled. They held their banner and trophy. Cameras and phones captured the moment. The players enjoyed a prize they had won with work and skill.

The most interesting part of it all was what was absent, what was not there. There was no yelling and screaming and laughing. There was no wild celebration. There was no wild pile of players rolling on the field. The first thing they did after the game was run sprint drills across the outfield. They acted like they had been there before. There was a good reason for this. They had.

It was the fifth state championship in six years for this group of players. Impressive.

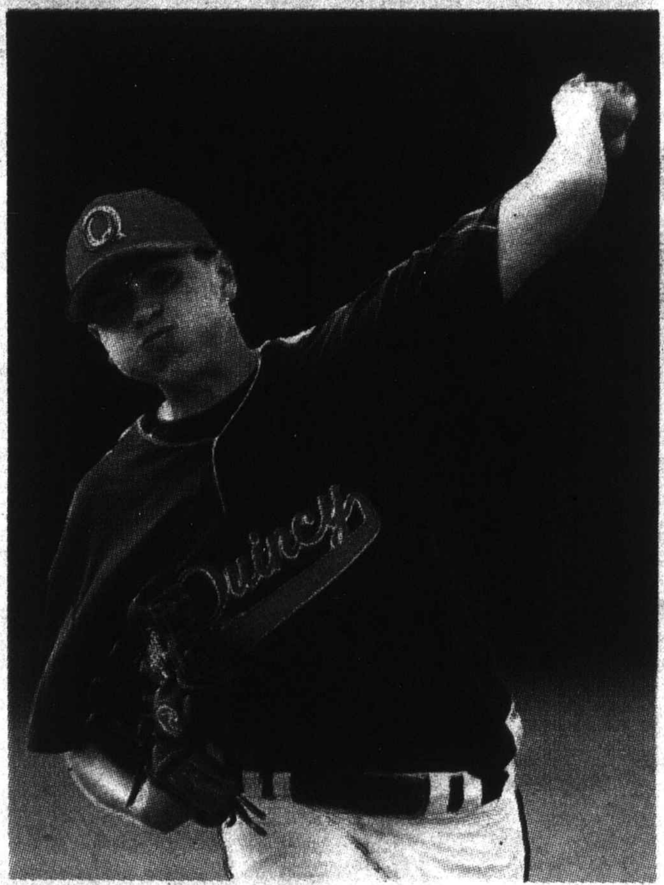
"I want to thank coach (Mark) Free and coach (Tom) Nazzaro for all the work they did with these kids this year and when they were younger. They handed them off to me as a special group. It was like someone giving you the keys to a brand new car," said coach Mark Jaehnig.

They earned this one. They played 21 games in 26 days. They played six games in six days in the tourney. Several players also had games with the junior league team and the junior legion. On Sunday in the middle of the tournament, shortstop Martin McCormack, right fielder Curtis Frazier and third baseman Tommy Kelly played three games for three different teams in three different tournaments. They won them all.

They left Adams Field at 11 p.m. Sunday night and were back for a 10 a.m. game the next morning. They drove to Lynn that night and won the game of of a lifetime. They played baseball and baseball and baseball, and, when that was finished, they played more baseball.

"It was tiring at times, but we were doing something we loved which was playing baseball," said McCormack who had an excellent tournament. "I did get a little weary especially

Cont'd On Page 19



CONNOR McDONALD pitched four innings of two-hit shutout ball in Quincy's 10-0 win over Marblehead in the 14-Year-Old Babe Ruth State Championship July 21 at Adams Field.

TOMMY KELLY lays down a bunt scoring pinch runner Andrew Airosus from third in a squeeze play for one of Quincy's six runs in the fourth inning against Marblehead.

Quincy Drops Out Of Regional BR Tourney Due To Scheduling Conflict

By BILL GRIFFIN

The problem was rather simple. They couldn't be in two places at the same time.

Quincy's 14-year old team hoped to compete in both the New England Babe Ruth Championship and the State Junior League Championships last weekend, but scheduling difficulties made it impossible.

Quincy dropped out of the Babe Ruth Championships and won the state Junior League title for the third straight season. Quincy will compete in the Northeast Regionals in Freehold, New Jersey, beginning Thursday, Aug. 6.

"We needed scheduling relief from one of the two organizations, and we were unable to get it. We worked hard to make it happen, but we were unable to do so," said Mark Jaehnig who coaches both teams.

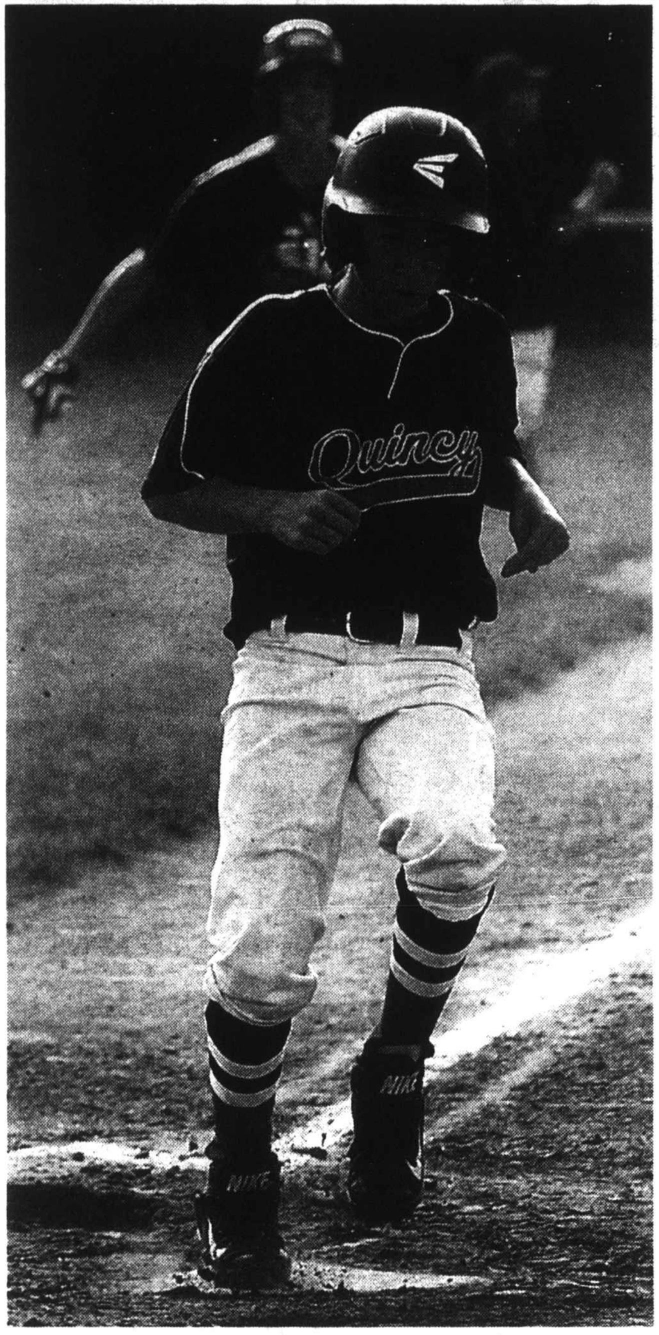
The Babe Ruth team was scheduled to begin its tournament in Westfield Friday at 4:30. The Junior League team was scheduled to start its tourney in Auburn Friday at 7:00. This was clearly impossible. For a time, it seemed Quincy might be able to move back its Babe Ruth game to 1:30, but it didn't happen.

"We had the 4:30 time slot because we were the last team to qualify by winning its state tournament," said Jaehnig. "We were scheduled to play Connecticut. The Connecticut coach indicated he was open to a change in time, but it didn't work out with the Babe Ruth organization."

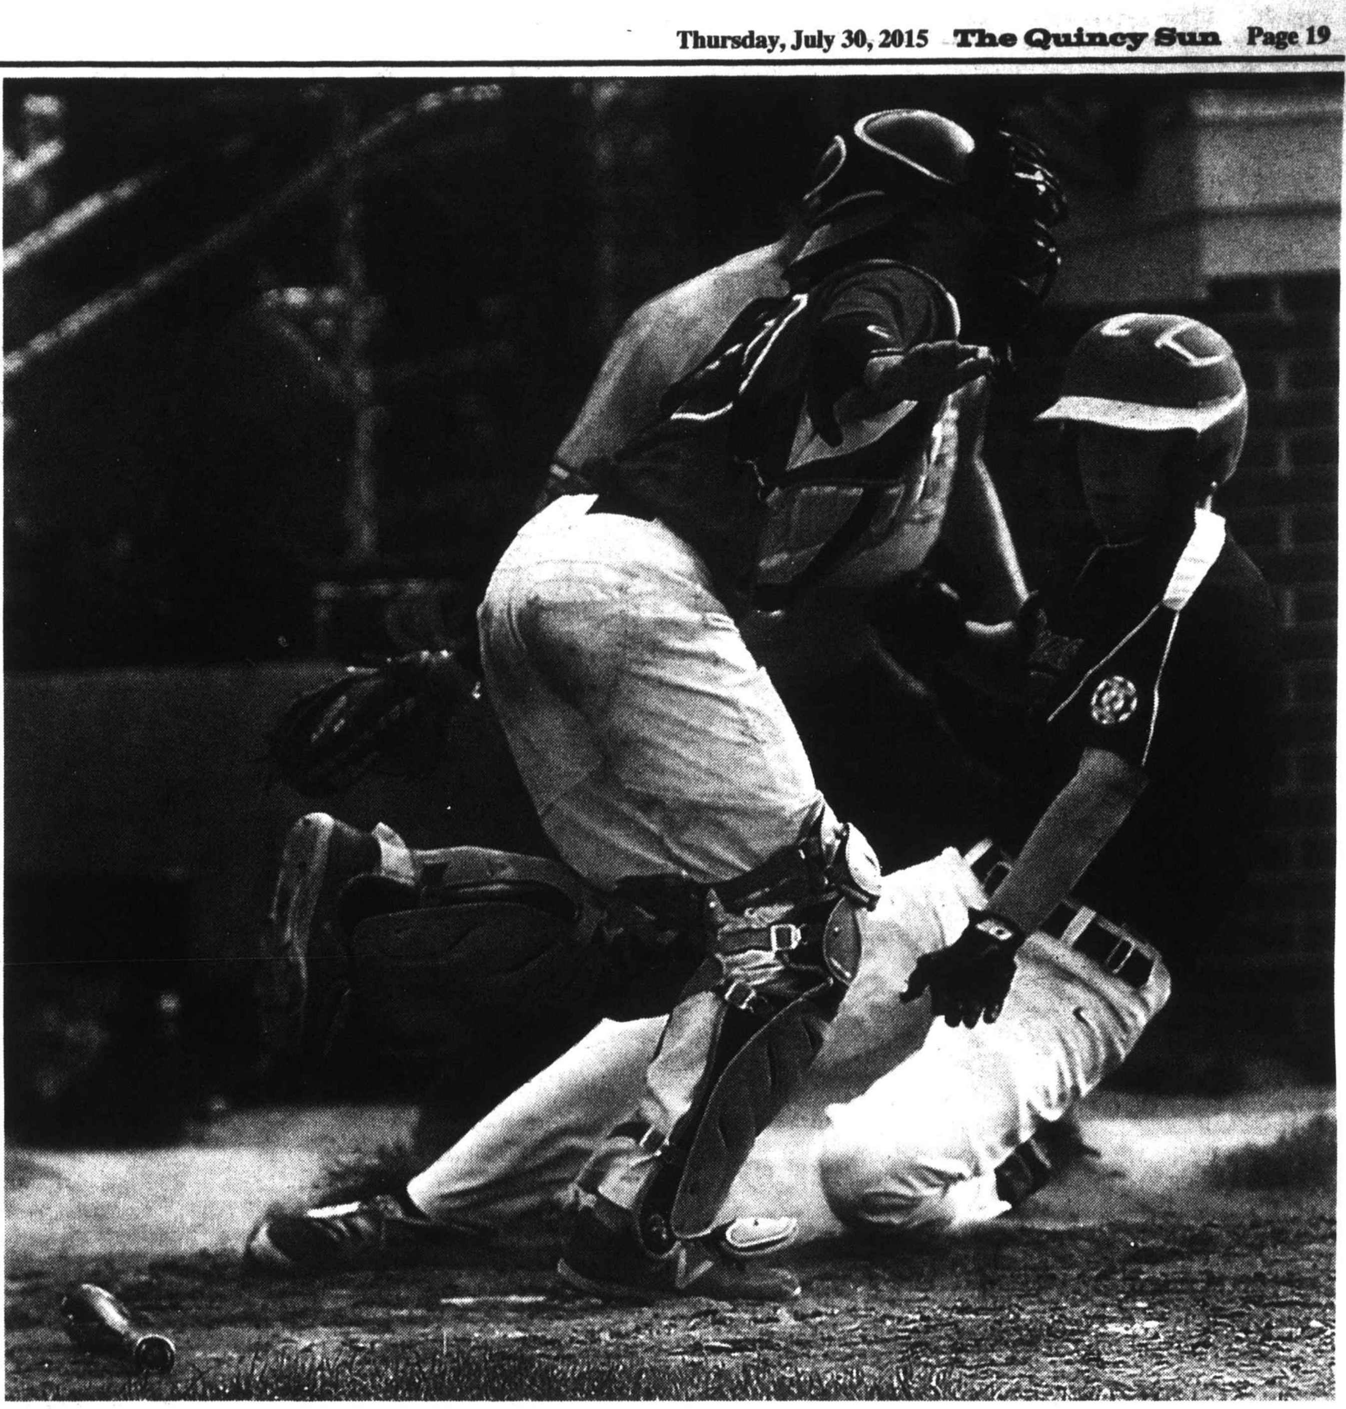
Quincy won its state championship with a 10-0 win over Marblehead last Tuesday.

The reason Quincy chose the Junior League was the tournament was completed over the weekend. The Babe Ruth Tourney extended through Wednesday.

"If we had chosen the Babe Ruth Tourney, we would have played with a reduced roster. We would have lost four players to the Spartan AAU team after Sunday," said Jaehnig. "That would have greatly reduced our chances. We were able to play the Junior League tourney with a full roster. We would have loved to compete in both tourneys, but it just didn't happen."



ALEX KENNEDY scores Quincy's first run against Marblehead in the 14-Year-Old Babe Ruth state championship at Adams Field July 21.

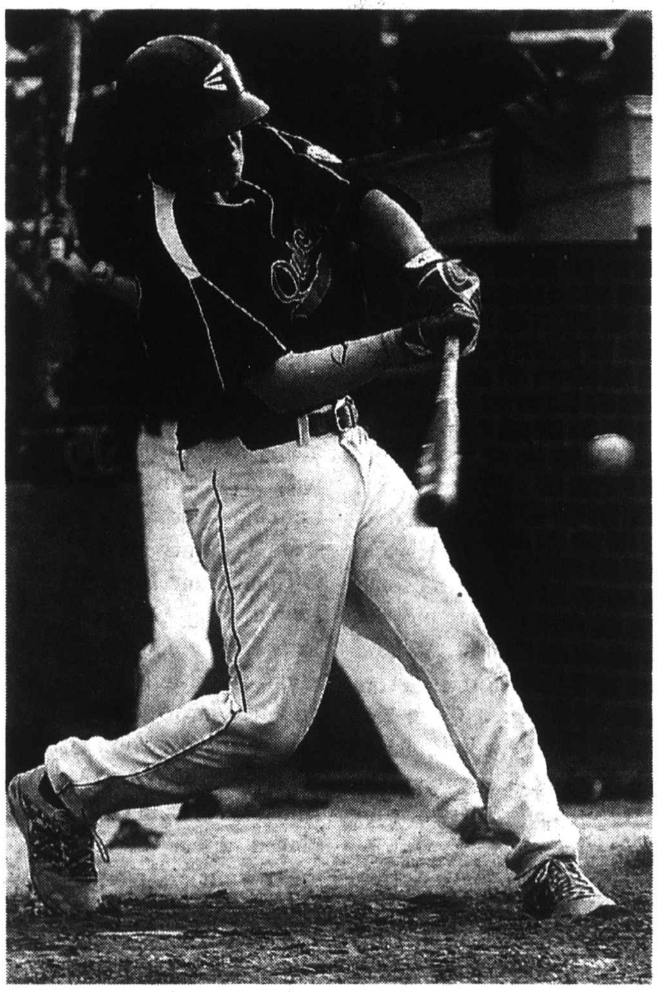


MARTIN McCORMACK slides home safely for another Quincy run in its victory over Marblehead for the 14-Year-Old Babe Ruth state championship July 21 at Adams Field.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Babe Ruth State Champs

Cont'd From Page 18



COLIN McGRATH lines a hit for Quincy against Marblehead.

towards the end, but when I saw we had another game, it was like getting a shot of adrenaline."

"I told them one thing after the game: No baseball tomorrow," smiled Jaehnig. "It was a lot. But if you love baseball, you'll like it. If you don't, you won't. These kids loved to play."

The championship win over Marblehead showcased well the pitching, hitting and defense which Quincy played throughout the tournament.

---- They pitched. Connor McDonald pitched four innings of two-hit shutout ball through four innings against Marblehead. He faced just two hitters over the minimum. His control was excellent, he mixed his pitches, kept the ball down and let his defense make the plays. The previous night against Lynn, he recorded the final eight outs on just 31 pitches while protecting a slender one-run lead.

"You couldn't ask a professional pitcher to do more than what Connor did against Lynn. He was good again tonight when we needed him," said Jaehnig.

There was more than McDonald. A team does not win five games in six days without pitching depth. Owen Carberry finished the Marblehead game with a scoreless performance in relief. In the opener against Silver Lake, he pitched well enough to have a shutout through six innings were it not for two unearned runs. Patrick Nazzaro, Frazier and Jack Free strung together seven quality innings against Tri Town.

When the staff was weary and needed a good, deep start, Kelly stepped up with six innings of one-run, two-hit, five strikeout baseball against Gateway.

"The pitching was excellent, both starting and in relief throughout the tournament," said Jaehnig.

--- They hit. They hit with power and they played the small ball of bunts and squeezes and runners flying around the bases that Jaehnig loves. They put away Marblehead with four in the second and six in the fourth. They hit throughout the lineup. Eight different players had hits, six different players had RBI, nine different players scored.

Power? J.P. Kelley and Andrew Airosus had doubles. McCormack, Kelley and Vicker DiGravio drove in runs. Frazier, Kelly and Colin McGrath also had RBI.

Small ball? In the six-run fourth, there were six stolen bases, and a perfect squeeze bunt by Kelly.

It was that way through the tournament. There was power and hitting. There was a three-run homer from Frazier against Tri Town and clutch singles from Free and McDonald when Quincy was down to its last strike against Silver Lake. And there were the little things. There were two squeeze bunts by Carberry against Tri Town and stolen bases by DiGravio and Aidan O'Sullivan which put runners in scoring position in the two-run, seventh-inning rally which tied the game against Silver Lake.

"You like to think you can have players who can do many different thing especially the little things like bunting and running the bases. I like to play aggressive baseball and this group is perfect for it," said Jaehnig.

--- They fielded. They made one harmless error against Marblehead. After the first two innings against Silver Lake in the opener, they did not hurt themselves with an error and or unearned run. There was Kelley's memorable throw which likely saved the game against Lynn. However what was more meaningful was not the exceptional play, but the fact that Quincy made all the routine plays. They gave away nothing. To score against Quincy, a team needed hits. Nothing came easy.

"We spend a lot of time on fly balls and ground balls in practice. That showed in the tournament. Martin McCormack at shortstop was outstanding," said Jaehnig.

And there was the fact that they had been here before. This is a group that went to the Cal Ripken National Tournament when they were 12. In the tight games against Silver Lake and Lynn, in the games that decided the tournament, they played with confidence born from experience.

"We've been through so many games like Lynn and Silver Lake, that we have the confidence that someone is going to come through and do what we need to win," said McCormack.

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

IS TIMING EVERYTHING?

New research ranking the causes of attacks of low-back pain by degree of risk suggests that people are most vulnerable between 7 a.m. and noon. According to the study involving nearly 1,000 adults who experienced episodes of low-back pain, 40 percent of the sprains and strains occurred between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. Because spinal discs swell with fluid overnight, they are potentially more susceptible to loading stresses in the morning. As far as what stresses are most likely to cause low-back pain, researchers found that "being distracted" while performing tasks (i.e., lifting and moving objects, etc.) increased the risk 25-fold. These findings suggest that it is important to concentrate on lifting loads correctly, particularly in the morning.

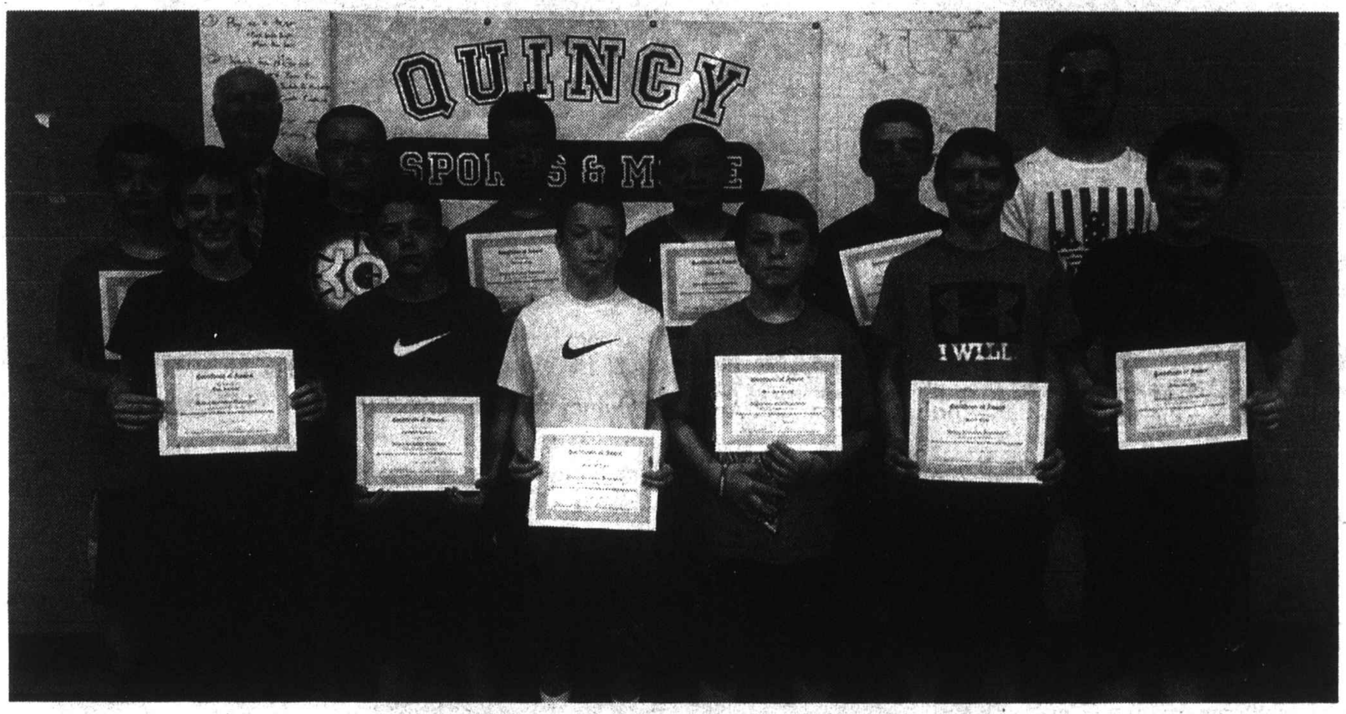
Today's column has been brought to you as a public service. Include chiropractic check-ups as part of your family's healthcare routine. Give FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC a call at 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We have the experience and expertise to give you the care you need. Let us make a difference for your good health and comfort right now and in the future. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. We offer computerized spinal scans. We are able to adjust patients sitting, standing, or lying down to accommodate any level of discomfort.

P.S. According to the above-mentioned study, a 60-year-old is five times less likely than a 20-year-old to suffer lifting-related low-back pain, probably because he or she has learned to do it properly.

www.freedmanchiro.com

Merrymount Blue Wins Middle School Hoop Crown

MERRYMOUNT BLUE – (front row) from left: JJ Camara, Lily Scola, Jason Chu and Ryan Cefalo. Back row: Recreation Director Barry Welch, Jack Cook, Colin Keaveny, Zac Carson and Recreation Leader Edward Grennon.



CENTRAL MAROON: Front row from left: Eion Gormley, Christian Toscanini, Sean O'Toole, Milo Santangelo, David Ryan and Aiden Murphy. Back row: Aaron Huang, Recreation Director Barry Welch, Thomas McCormack, Jordan Feng, Tommy Le, Michael Cugini and Recreation Leader Curran Jorgensen.

Photos Courtesy Quincy Recreation Department

Merrymount Blue defeated Central Maroon in the Middle School Division Championship of the Quincy Recreation Department All-City Basketball Tournament. The tournament pool of 11 teams was one of the deepest in recent memory, and both teams had to win some tight games to reach the title match. In the end, Merrymount's size and tenacity were the difference makers, as they overcame a talented Central team, 39-29.

Colin Keaveny, who capped off a dominant tournament performance with 20 points in the championship game, paced Merrymount's offense and grabbed a huge portion of his team's rebounds. Ryan Cefalo and Jason Chu provided scoring, each chipping in 7 points while playing lock down defense on the other end of the court. JJ Camara scored 3 points, showing his unselfish playmaking abilities throughout the game, and Zac Carson scored 2 while protecting his team's basket. Also playing well for Merrymount was Lily Scola, who played great defense and team captain Jack Cook, who provided rebounding and court leadership. Coach Eddie Grennon praised and thanked his team for a great year, and attributed the win to the team's teamwork and defensive skill.

Central Maroon proved a tough out for Merrymount, surging late to close a double-digit gap in the final minutes of the game. David Ryan kept the Central team in it until the end, hitting 4 three-pointers in the second half, finishing with 14 total points. Forwards Jordan Feng and Tommy Lee played major roles on both sides of the court, both finishing with 4 points. Guards Eoin Gormley (3), Aaron Huang (2), and Sean O'Toole (2) handled the rest of the scoring for Central. Thomas McCormack, one of the unsung heroes of the tournament, provided a surge of energy when Central needed it most, igniting a late second half run with a string of big blocks and rebounds. Mike Cugini and Aiden Murphy played hard defensively, and Christian Toscanini and Milo Santangelo helped move the ball and pressured opposing guards. Coach Curran Jorgensen was proud of his players for their enthusiasm and sportsmanship throughout the tournament and congratulated Merrymount for a well-played championship game.

The All-City Basketball Tournament is a Quincy Recreation tradition that is conducted annually at the conclusion of the winter recreation programs and has been held for more than 50 years. Teams are created from participants in the neighborhood recreation programs from all parts of the city. Recreation leaders, who were assigned their respective gyms when the program started in November, coach all teams. Participants regularly attend the gyms in their home neighborhoods and are from both public and private schools.

Both teams faced long roads on their way to the championship. In the semifinals Merrymount Blue defeated Central Gold 41-34 behind 25 points from Colin Keaveny. Also playing well for Merrymount Blue were Alex Atanassov and Devin Desmond. Franco Calabro, who used an impressive array of moves to finish with 17 points, led Central Gold. Ethan McDevitt started the game with 2 beautiful long-range shots, finishing with 6 points, and Jon Cristiani added 5 to go along with his superb ball handling skills. Sixth grader Declan Geary showed he wasn't afraid of the older and bigger Merrymount team, battling down low to finish with 4 points to complement a strong rebounding performance. Tyler Carey and Ryan Quirk provided tenacious defense off the bench and Colby St. Marie chipped in 2 points while battling down low for rebounds. Team Captain Mike Levine showed heart and leadership, playing hard and rooting his teammates on the entire game. Paul Carson coached the talented Central Gold team.

In the other semi-final, Central Maroon toppled Atherton Hough 32-26. Jordan Feng and Zach Hatfield, who finished with 8 and 6 points, respectively, led a dominant Central team, each putting on impressive performances on the offensive glass. Also playing well for Central were Eddy Nguyen and Badr Bahri who's defense helped set the tone for the rest of the game. Atherton Hough struggled to score against the tough Central defense, but James Dutcher continued to slash his way to the rim, finishing with 9 points. Robert O'Bryan and Jon Early both played well defensively, adding 5 and 3 points to their team's total. James Keenan showed there was no giving up in him, as he continued to play tough defense and compete for rebounds until the final whistle blew.

In earlier tournament action, Merrymount Blue defeated Squantum gym 35-22 behind strong games from Ryan Cefalo and JJ Camara. The game was a defensive battle, with the teams tied at 13 going into the half. Josh Dangora led Squantum in scoring with 7 points, Kieran O'Driscoll scored 6, and Phillip Vu added 5. Tim Layden scored 4 points to go along with an impressive offensive rebounding performance. Joe Champagne and Thomas Roche played pivotal roles moving the ball on offense. Joe Sands and Dennis Champagne played well on defense, holding the high-powered Merrymount offense to its lowest scoring performance in the tournament. Also playing well for Squantum was Dimitris Dimitriou and Henry Cunniff. Pat Dooley coached the resilient Squantum team.

In the first game of the tournament, Merrymount Blue matched up with Snug Harbor, advancing with a score of 48-33. Snug Harbor got great scoring performances from Trentan Souza, Robbie Hill, and Devante Williams, who finished with 10, 8, and 7 points. Nathan Steinburg scored 5 and Jaden Nee hit a 3 pointer to finish up the scoring for Snug Harbor. Mostafa Alibrahimy and Kamari Grant played extremely unselfishly, and contributed several assists each. Steve Scolaro coached Snug Harbor.

To reach the semi-finals, Central Gold defeated Atlantic in overtime, 41-34. Landon Pierron scored 5 points in overtime, and Franco Calabro hit some clutch free throws to pull out the win for Central. Atlantic got a majority of its scoring from Darren Chen and David Liang, who finished with 9 and 8 points each. Jeffery Huang hit two from long range to finish with 6, Kenny Tran scored 6, and Jeffery Zhang added 5 for Atlantic. Tyler Li and Jack Huang pestered the taller Central guards all game and forced several key turnovers. Michael Nguyen, Noah Le, and Gary Liang contributed on the defensive glass and started fast breaks that led to Atlantic scores. Tommy Nguyen, Justin Huynh, and Steven Le impressed with their hustle and competitive spirit. Joe MacRitchie coached Atlantic.

In the first round, Atlantic toppled Point Webster Green in a close game, 30-29. Atlantic was led by a 12-point performance from the smooth-shooting Kenny Tran. Point Webster used a well-balanced offensive attack to stay in the game, with Albi Biba and Mike Lomano leading the way with 8 points each. Brian O'Conner and Joe Ban each scored 4; Joe Osgood and Sean Dwyer added a basket each; and Mark McKenna hit a free throw to round out the scoring for Point Green. Andrew Cudmore, Joseph Butts, and Adian O'Connell played great defense on the perimeter, while Billy Nguyen, Megan Piquette, and Eric Manter contributed with their rebounding. Olivia Skinner and Paige Maze showed a great deal of heart and determination. Richard Turpin coached Point Webster Green.

On the other side of the bracket, Central Maroon faced Merrymount White in a second round game, overcoming Merrymount 46-45 on a Tommy Le lay-up with time expiring. Central got a dominating performance from Eoin Gormley, who hit 5 threes on his way to 24 points. Performing well for Merrymount was Brendan Keaveny, who hit 4 threes and finished with 21 points. Win Tran dominated on the offensive boards, and finished with 16 points. Robert Cabral and Pat Nazzaro scored 4 each for Merrymount. Ryan Mele and Andrew Sullivan were counted on in crunch time to guard opposing players. Nick Moosick and Jon Albert played great on both sides of the ball, providing tons of energy off the bench. Paul Carson coached Merrymount White.

In the first round, Merrymount White defeated Point Webster Yellow, 31-28 on a buzzer beating three from Ryan Mele. Nick Moosick kept Merrymount in the game late, coming up with two timely steals. Jules Wiggins showed off his ability to get to the hoop and finished with a game high 18 points. TJ Ortiz scored 8 second half points, and Nick Rue scored 2. Derek Jordan and Kellum Huang showcased their ball-handling and passing skills. Drew Boretti, Bryan Amorim, and

Cont'd On Page 21

Quincy 'Three-Peats' Jr. League State Champs

By BILL GRIFFIN

In a span of four days, a band of 14-year-old baseball players from Quincy won two state championships in two different leagues in two different tournaments in two different cities. Match that.

Quincy rolled to two straight victories over Woburn in the best-of-three state finals of the Junior League last weekend in Auburn. With the sweep, Quincy won its third straight state Junior League title and earned its third consecutive trip the Northeast Regionals which start in Freehold, New Jersey, Thursday, Aug. 6.

"This was a goal we set back in January when we began working indoors. We wanted to get back to New Jersey," said coach Mark Jaehnig. "It's a tournament against the best teams from the East Coast, and the people there show the kids a great time."

In the opener against Woburn, Connor McDonald and Owen Carberry each had a pair of RBI and McDonald got the final out of the game with the bases loaded to carry Quincy to a 6-4 decision.

In the second game, Colin McGrath pitched a complete-game four-hitter and fanned six while Jack Free had a pair of hits and three RBI as Quincy wrapped up its trip to New Jersey with a 13-3 victory over Woburn.

Quincy won the State Babe Ruth Championship at Adams Field Tuesday, July 21. The key to the twin titles was pitching depth. Quincy won five games in the Babe Ruth Tournament. Quincy won two games in the Junior League finals over the weekend. Quincy had seven different winning pitchers in the seven games.

"We never came close to both titles in the past. We didn't have the pitching depth," said Jaehnig whose teams have made the regionals five times in seven years. "We played 23 games in 31 days between the two tournaments and we won 22 of them. It's a remarkable accomplishment when you think about it. Two state titles in less than a week and we have another chance to go back to New Jersey."

Both games were closely contested. The opener obviously came down to the final pitch. In the second game, Quincy was only up 4-3 in the fifth inning before opening it up with three in the fifth and six in the seventh.

"It was excellent baseball. Woburn was a good, well-coached team. The final score of the second game makes it look like a cakewalk, but it wasn't," said Jaehnig.

Quincy jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the opener. Curtis Frazier and McGrath singled and scored a two-run triple by Carberry.

After Woburn tied it, 2-2, Quincy went ahead in the third. Martin McCormack singled, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on a sacrifice fly by Frazier.

Quincy upped it to 5-2 in the forth. Carberry and Andrew Airosus singled. They worked a double steal and both runners scored on a single by McDonald.

After Woburn closed within 5-3, Quincy added an insurance run in the top of the seventh on a single by Vicker DiGravio, a sacrifice by McCormack and a single by Frazier.

Woburn cut it to 6-4 in the bottom of the inning. before McDonald entered in relief to get the final out on a fly ball to Aidan O'Sullivan in left field. It was McDonald who recorded the final eight outs in relief in the thrilling semifinal win over Lynn in the Babe Ruth Tournament.

Alex Kiley pitched the first 4 2/3 and struck out four to get the win. Frazier, Carberry and McDonald finished it in relief.

J.P. Kelley made a pair of fine defensive plays in center. DiGravio threw out a base-stealer.

"McDonald has gotten some big outs for us, and he did it again against Woburn," said Jaehnig.

McGrath was the story in the clincher on Saturday afternoon. The right-hander walked just one and retired 12 of the last 13 batters he faced. He had his fastball and curve working, and he used one pitch to set up the other. He was also economical with his pitches, throwing only 78 in seven innings. The junior league has a 95-pitch limit per game which would be a factor in the contest.

"He got his fastball over for strikes and when he had the batters set up, he mixed in the curveball," said Jaehning.

The offensive star of the game did not pick up a bat. Airosus, the designated pinch runner, had four stolen bases and scored four runs.

"He was our offensive MVP," said Jaehing. "He was a terror on the bases. He made things happen for us with his speed."

McGrath and McDonald each had a pair of hits. McDonald also drove in two runs.

Quincy took an early 3-0 lead. DiGravio was hit by a pitch and Frazier singled. McGrath and Free delivered RBI singles and Carberry squeezed home a run.

After Woburn closed within 3-2, Airosus helped Quincy manufacture a run. After an error, Airosus stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a sacrifice fly by DiGravio for a 4-2 lead.

Woburn cut the lead to 4-3 in the third, but Quincy clinched it with rallies in the fifth and sixth. McGrath doubled and stole third to start the fifth inning. Carberry had a sacrifice. One run scored on an error, and Free and McDonald delivered RBI singles for a 7-3 lead.

McDonald, DiGravio and McCormack had RBI singles in the sixth-run sixth which put away the game.

"We worked counts to get the pitch count up for the Woburn pitcher. It worked for us when they went to their relief pitchers," said Jaehing.

Merrymount Blue Hoop Champs

Cont'd From Page 20

Parker Mullin played well and displayed their unselfishness and teamwork. Rich McAllister coached Point Webster Yellow.

In their first game, Atherton Hough defeated a young Sterling team, 56-28. Brian Goncalves scored 7 second half points, and finished with a team high 10. Axel Rodriguez scored 4 points, and Starlyn Soto and Amarion Robinson each added 3 points. Mason Kimura, Aby Lopes, Akai Fitzpatrick, and Nathan Landaverde finished with 2 points apiece. Also playing well for Sterling was Cody Francil, Billy Hibbard, and Joe Brahimi. Colleen Nichol coached Sterling.

Recreation Director Barry Welch presented certificates of achievement to all finalists and trophies to the members of the Champion Merrymount Blue team. The game was video taped for rebroadcast by the Recreation Department and can be seen on Q.A.T.V. The department extends its congratulations to all who participated and its gratitude to all staff members who coached, officiated, or otherwise contributed to another successful tournament.

NORTH QUINCY HIGH School Baseball Hall of Fame recently held an induction dinner at the Neighborhood Club of Quincy. Among this year's inductees were (from left) Don Miller (Class of 1951), Dick Laracy (1950), Gus Cuneo (1952) and Robert "Scotty" Whitelaw (1945.) Story, other photos on Page 22.

Bryan Hanly Attends Football 'Top Gun' Showcase

Bryan Hanly of Quincy, a student at Milton Academy, Class of 2018, impressed NFL level coaches at the position-specific Football University (FBU) Top Gun Showcase held recently in Dublin, Ohio.

Hanly was invited to Top Gun because of his outstanding performance as a defensive lineman at the FBU Boston camp. He joined more than 800 of the nation's top athletes at their respective positions and trained with current and former NFL players and coaches. Hanly is a rising sophomore who earned a varsity letter during his freshman year at Milton Academy.

This Top Gun national showcase gathered the most elite performers from across the United States and allowed them to compete and display their abilities together on one stage. Being a part of Top Gun means that these players are considered the best at their respective positions. Football University has an impressive alumni list that includes some of the top college football recruits and players in the nation.

Headlining the Top Gun Showcase coaching staff were quarterback coach Jeff Rutledge, former quarterback coach of the Arizona Cardinals; running back coach Robert Edwards, offensive line coach Jim McNally, who is considered the best offensive line coach in the game; defensive back coach Ray Buchanan; and wide receiver coach Charlie Collins, who is considered one of the finest receiver coaches in the game.

U.S. ARMY
ALL AMERICAN BOWL
GOAR'''COM
ARMY.COM
ARM''
184
R'

BRYAN HANLY of Quincy, a student at Milton Academy, Class of 2018, was invited to participate in the Football University (FBU) Top Gun Showcase held recently in Dublin, Ohio.

QHS Boys Soccer Alumni Game Aug. 7

Quincy High School Boys Soccer will host its fourth annual Alumni Game Friday, Aug. 7 at 8 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Any past QHS boys soccer alumni are welcome and encouraged to participate.

To register, visit the alumni game registration link https://qhsboyssoccer.wufoo.com/forms/k11zfbe806oe0lj/. All alumni wanting to play must register. Participants can either pay at the end of the registration and save $5 (registration fee will be $15) or they can close the form at the end of the registration process and pay $20 the day of the event. Registration fee includes a game day shirt.

The game will be played in memory of Alfred Schofield, Class of '64. All proceeds will be donated to the Lamar Thompson Book Award.

Limited spaces available. For more information contact Janice Dane at jdane123@comcast.net

Burke Donates $3,000 To Germantown Center

Quincy attorney George Burke recently donated $3,000 to the Germantown Neighborhood Center and has committed to give $50,000 to the YMCA for a total giving of more than $100,000 to the YMCA.

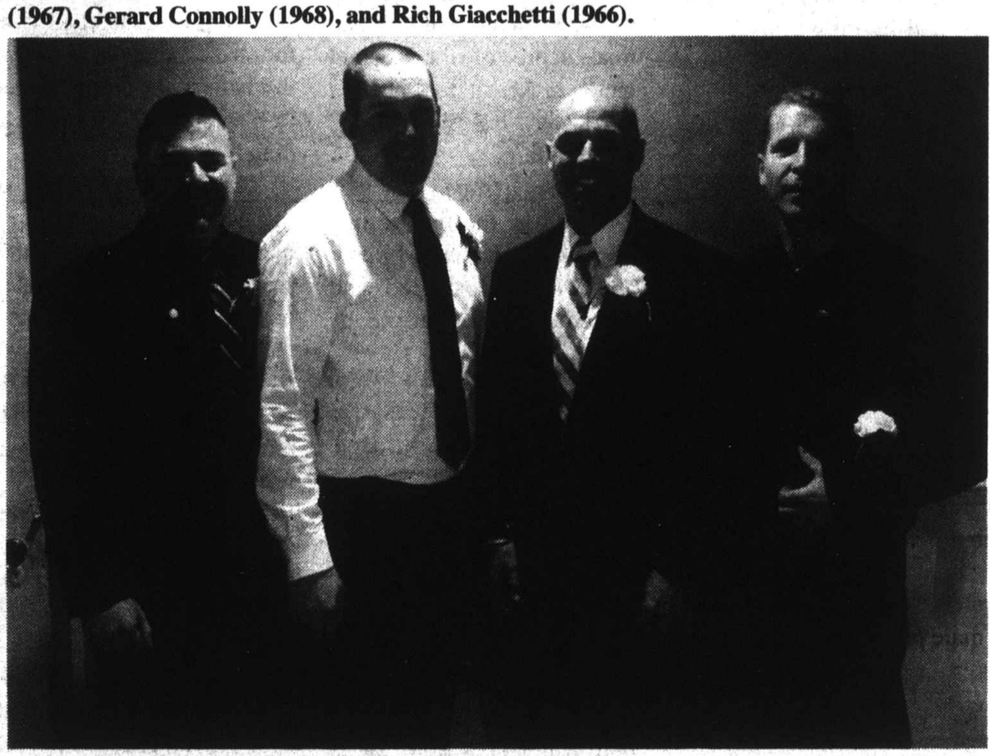
Burke, who was a star basketball player at the University of Massachusetts and later played for the Boston Celtics, began playing basketball as a young boy at the old YMCA on Washington St. He also attended Camp SAH (Stay at Home.)

NQHS BASEBALL Hall of Fame inductees (from left) Rev. David P. Nelson (1972), Tim Flynn (1971), Jim Driscoll (1972), Frank Miceli (1975), and John Lawlor (1975).

OTHER NQHS BASEBALL Hall of Fame inductees (from left) Ed Carroll (1961), Steve Verenis (1967), Gerard Connolly (1968), and Rich Giacchetti (1966).

NQHS BASEBALL Hall of Fame inductees (from left) Dave King (1979), Bob Stack (1977) and Jim McGinley (1977).

Photos Courtesy Sandy Verhault



NQHS BASEBALL Hall of Fame inductees (from left) Ryan Herlihy (1997), Malachy Higgins (1996), Dan Duncan (1994) and Kevin MacDougall (1990).

North Quincy Baseball Hall Of Fame Adds 21 Inductees

The North Quincy Baseball Hall of Fame recently inducted 21 players at its third induction ceremony, held at the Neighborhood Club in Quincy with more than 200 in attendance.

Special Award inductees included Robert "Scotty" Whitelaw (1945) and Dick Laracy ('50). Whitelaw was a second baseman and two-year starter before enlisting in the U.S. Navy in 1945. He also served as commissioner of the ECAC from 1971 to 1989. Whitelaw has also been inducted into the Springfield College Hall of Fame and the ECAC Hall of Fame. Laracy caught for the Raiders under Hal Forest. Drafted into the Army in 1952, he played on a service baseball team with Willie Mays and Vern Law. Laracy managed and coached in Quincy from 1969 to 1989 and won 216 games, including five city championships. Laracy, at age 70, played in the Roy Hobbs Baseball World Series and was league MVP at age 77.

James Payson White ('43) was a three-year starter behind the plate. In his junior year, White hit .346 and followed that with a .406 average his senior year. He was chosen a Patriot Ledger All Star in 1943 and went on to play for the Westville Miners in the Central League in Nova Scotia.

August "Gus" Cuneo ('51) was one of the best pitchers to play at NQ. In 1952, he was selected to play in the U.S. All Star Sandlot Classic and played at Yankee Stadium with former Yankee standout Tony Kubek. He went on to play at AIC, throwing a no-hitter against Providence and having a career 13-4 mark with a 1.90 ERA.

Don Miller ('51), along with Cuneo, gave North a solid staff. Highlights included an 11-strikeout win over Thayer while also going 4-4. In 1950, he was selected as an Honorable Mention All Scholastic.

Ed Carroll ('61) was one of a long line of standout catchers at North. His senior year, Carroll hit .309. He played at UConn and caught for the Huskies in the College World Series in 1965, playing future major leaguers Sal Bando and Rick Monday. As a senior at UConn, Carroll finished 11th in the Yankee Conference in batting average. He was signed by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1966.

Rich Giacchetti ('66) was a natural as a baseball player. In 1965, he hit 4.77 with 10 multi-hit games. He played for Tufts in both baseball and football, captaining both squads his senior year. Giacchetti shared GBL MVP honors with Raiders teammate Pete Varney in 1970. In football, Giacchetti was an All New England and was selected to the Little All American Team. He was offered a free agent tryout with the Boston Patriots in 1970.

Steve Verenis ('67) was a three-year varsity starter in the outfield. He hit .368 his senior year, going 5-7 versus Hingham and 4-5 against Somerville. Verenis played at UMass Amherst for hall of fame coach Dick Bergquist.

Gerry Connolly ('68) played first base and was a three-year starter. His career highlights included going 3-5 against Revere with a home run and three RBI. His senior year, Connolly hit safely in all but five games. He helped lead Morrisette to two Zone 6 championships hitting .500 in the playoffs in 1969.

Tim Flynn ('71) led North to two second place finishes in the GBL while playing second base. Coach Charlie Bunker said Flynn turned the double play as well as anyone he had seen. As a senior, Flynn hit for a .342 average. He played at Suffolk, finishing with a .306 career average.

Jim Driscoll ('72) joins his father Bob in the Hall of Fame. This burly slugging first baseman hit several balls out of the old Adams Field in the wooden bat era. He also played for Morrisette, leading the team in hitting in 1972 with a .390 average.

David P. Nelson ('72) was an outstanding catcher for North. His senior year, Nelson was a GBL All Star and hit .360. Coach Ray Cattaneo, Nelson's coach at Morrisette, called him "the best catcher in Legion baseball." Nelson his .380 in 1972. At Middlebury College, Nelson was a four-year starter with his .458 average in 1975 still ranked fourth all time.

John Lawlor ('75) was co-captain of the Raider team in 1975. As a junior, he went 4-1 and was a key factor in North's EMass tournament team. Lawlor also starred at Morrisette, leading the '75 team to the World Series, tossing a no-hitter and hitting .360 for the season.

Frank Miceli ('75) was a two-year outfield starter. Miceli hit .381 his senior year and was chosen a Suburban League All Star. He had a great year for Morrisette's World Series team. In the state championship game, Miceli had seven RBI including a grand slam and a triple. In the playoffs he hit .408 with 16 RBI.

Jim McGinley ('77) was a three-sport captain his senior year. A two-year starter for Coach Bunker, McGinley hit .308 as a junior and .422 as a senior. He went on to Massasoit, where he was an All New England in soccer.

Bob Stack ('77), a fleet footed shortstop, hit third in the Raiders lineup. As a junior, he hit .333 and as senior he hit .370. Stack had great range and a terrific arm. He played for Wollaston Legion, hitting .363 and for the Quincy Bay Mariners, hitting .360 in their inaugural season.

Dave King ('79) or "Benny" was a standout in 1978 and 1979. He helped lead NQ to the Suburban League title in 1979, batting .409. Described by his coaches as a "clutch hitter," King hit for a .520 average for Morrisette in the 1977 Legion playoffs.

Kevin MacDougal ('90) joins his brother Bill in the Hall of Fame. In North's 1989 title run, MacDougal was a key player leading the team with a .368 average. He also starred for Morrisette, finishing with 0.50 ERA in 1989 and led the team in hitting in 1990 with a .337 average and 23 RBI.

Dan Duncan ('94) was a versatile player for the NQ, catching, pitching and playing the field. A Zone 6 All Star for Morrisette, Duncan went to Assumption College where he finished with a career .287 average and 23 homeruns.

Mal Higgins ('96) was a pitcher for NQ and Dave Perdios, compiling a 5-1 mark in 1996. He threw two one-hitters that season. For Quincy Legion, Higgins hit .391. He played his college ball at Franklin Pierce, where he ranks among the all time leaders in 12 categories. His .425 average is first all time while his 30 homeruns tied him for first.

Ryan Herlihy ('97) pitches for North for two seasons, leading the staff in wins in 1997. In Legion play, Herlihy compiled a 9-1 record over two summers and was their big game pitcher. He no-hit West Roxbury in 1997, only the second no-no for Morrisette since 1975.

Hall of Fame committee members include: Ken McPhee, Paul Bregoli, Sandy Verhault, Mike Cahill, Tony Anderlionis, Ryan Herlihy and Jack Outerbridge.

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Wednesday, July 15, 2015, at approximately 3:25 p.m., Officers Bill Lanergan, David Sansevero and Matt Pantezelos were dispatched to Miller Stile Road for a report of a possible Breaking and Entering in progress. Anti-Crime Officer Steve DesRoche was in the area and also responded.

The Officers were flagged down by the caller/homeowner who pointed to a side porch and stated, "He is still here - he broke in and has all my tools." As Officers DesRoche and Lanergan approached the home, they observed an enclosed side porch with a male inside. As the Officers closed in, they observed that the male was holding a jig saw between his legs, a drill in one hand and numerous pocket pieces in his other hand. The Officers ordered the suspect to drop the tools and show his hands.

When the suspect refused to comply with this simple instruction, the Officers forcibly removed the items from his hands and placed him in handcuffs for safety reasons. The suspect had a very large bulge in his shorts covered by his shirt. Officer Lanergan lifted the shirt and found a pair of blue sneakers and speaker wire that the victim immediately recognized and shouted, "Those are mine." The suspect had several sockets in his pockets too.

Officer Lanergan interviewed the victim who said that he was sleeping when his fifteen year old son woke him up. He said his son was visibly freighted and said "Dad, dad, I think someone broke in - I hear noises on the porch and see someone." The victim said he became concerned for their safety so he called "911" and looked on the porch, where he saw the suspect shoving items stored on the porch into his pockets and down his pants. The victim said it seemed like less than a minute before Police cars arrived on scene.

LT. DAN MINTON

Meanwhile, the suspect was read his Miranda Rights and then told Officers that his friend told him he could come over any time and he could take anything he wanted. As unbelievable as the suspect's story was, the Officers questioned him further to incriminate himself. The suspect was unable to provide his friend's name and stated he had only met him the night before. He then changed his story and stated that the homeowner's girlfriend had allowed him into the home. The victim refuted this and said that he is married and his wife was at work and that he had never seen the suspect before.

At that time, the suspect, a 24 year old Quincy resident, was transported to the Police station by Officer Pantezelos to be booked on the charge of, "Breaking and Entering in the Daytime." Nice Work!

❑

TEENAGE DRIVING: (source; The Boston Globe)

#1 Rank: motor vehicle accidents among US causes of death for teens 16-19.

#1 Rank: of the 16-19 year old age group for crash risk.

250: Average number of teens killed nationwide in car accidents each month in the summer in 2013.

Wearing a seatbelt reduces the risk of crash injury by 45%

A combination of other teens in the car and cell phones in the car are the two top distractions which result in car accidents.

4.1 out of the 6 seconds: time spent looking away from the road on cell phone before crashing.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
July 17 – 24
ARRESTS: 36
TOTAL CALLS: 1,119
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 3

FRIDAY, JULY 17

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 1:12 a.m., Yesterday's, 536 Hancock St. White male in his 20s, gray shirt, blue shorts seen smashing window and entering building. Nothing appears missing, unsure is suspect actually entered building. Wallet on ground outside indicating owner male party 1. Debit card inside wallet indicating owner is male party 2. Unable to locate party 1; party 2 went to QMC for an evaluation, appeared to be under influence. No proof either involved at this time.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 4:09 a.m., Quincy Medical Center, 114 Whitwell St. Uncontrollable patient. One party coming into station for protective custody; medically cleared by QMC. Complaint for A&B.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:09 a.m., Elm St. Caller says brake line was ripped from vehicle. States it happened before. Advised, frequent checks.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:45 a.m., Putnam St. Laptop missing. Looks like forced entry at backdoor. Believes it was a "friend of a friend" who just moved up here from DC.

LARCENY, 1:48 p.m., Quarterdeck Rd. Package. Attempting arrest for larceny over at Quarterdeck Rd. No arrest. Complaints to be filed.

LARCENY, 3:11 p.m., Matthews Jewelers, 12 Beale St. Assisting Sharon PD.

LARCENY, 5:14 p.m., Prime Gas, 700 Hancock St. Customer dispute.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 7:00 p.m., 64 Ross Way. Caller states her friend borrowed he car at 2 p.m. and was supposed to b back at 6:30. She states she only knows his first name. Red 1997 Toyota Corolla. She states he borrowed it from her at Mass School of Barbering.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:32 p.m., Arthur St. Medication taken. Also $350, Pandora bracelet and charms.

SATURDAY, JULY 18

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:59 a.m., Stop & Shop offices, 1385 Hancock St. Tires slashed. Victim is gone on arrival, will be back at 7.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:10 a.m., Archstone Quarry Hills, 333 Ricciuti Dr. Caller says he was last in his apartment at midnight. Just got back and everything is gone.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:11 p.m., Stop & Shop offices, 1385 Hancock St. Tires were slashed last night. She called this morning and was told to call back when is back at work.

SUNDAY, JULY 19

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 4:12 a.m., Three Guys Smoke Shop, 5 Copeland St. Broken glass and motion. Attempted B&E. Cracked door from rock. Suspect entered building. Suspect in dark colored Altima occupied by dark skin male. BOLO given to all cars.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:17 p.m., Emerald St. Caller states someone tried to break in through his bulkhead.

MONDAY, JULY 20

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:33 a.m., Turner St. Tagging. Also graffiti on rock.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:01 p.m., West St. Just got home.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:22 p.m., Bicknell St. Music room lock was damaged.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:55 p.m., Quincy Market, 33 Washington St. Passenger side window was smashed sometime between 6:15 p.m. and 6:45 p.m. Female is now standing around the car. Caller does not know is she was involved. One female under arrest for P/C. Unknown is she is responsible for vandalism at this time.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:33 p.m., Merrymount Rd. Came home to find front door opened. She has not gone in the house yet.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 8:15 p.m., Bent Ter. Male and a female. Male party is wearing a backpack. Caller said they entered through a back window. Two parties were sent on way. Possible 94C activity. There were no signs of a break.

TUESDAY, JULY 21

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 1:59 a.m., Captains Wk. Woman yelling at someone. Some woman attempted to push through the AC unit in the window to get into the caller's apartment. Party has since fled. Complaint is for B&E int misdemeanor and malicious damage.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:23 p.m., Union St. Front passenger's side window.

LARCENY, 6:41 p.m., McIntyre Mall, 1305 Hancock St. One under arrest for a straight warrant. One under arrest for larceny over $250. Small amount of class D recovered and turned in for destruction. Arrested on other charges, not a warrant.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 7:17 p.m., Kelly's Cellar, 1546 Hancock St. Caller knows the person that assaulted her. Caller was able to utilize social media to identify a suspect that had previously assaulted her. Officer report and complaints for A&B filed.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 7:44 p.m., Palmer St. Two males having a dispute. Caller thinks she saw a knife. Cross complaints for past A&B. No transport.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 22

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:29 a.m., High Point, 193 Quarry St. About 21 scratch marks on the window of caller's car overnight.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 11:36 a.m., Brooks Ave. Caller says they rented equipment to a party who is saying workers stole it. The equipment reported stolen is a Mustang Bobcat with a serial number.

LARCENY, 5:56 p.m., Alba, 1486 Hancock St. Party gone prior to officers' arrival. Stole a bag of wine. Alba has video of a 6' male wearing a blue baseball jersey that says Links on the front and 9 on the back taking a bag of wine from the wine storage. They also have him on video doing the same thing on Saturday.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 7:06 p.m., Taffrail Rd. 40-year-old man slapped a 6-year-old in the head. He has left area.

THURSDAY, JULY 23

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:01 a.m., Faxon Rd. Driver's side keyed. Dirt thrown onto hood.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:37 a.m., Cross St. Damaged screen, not cut.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 1:35 p.m., Hancock Parking Area, 50 Revere Rd. See caller at the Fours. Caller gone on arrival, spoke to him on the phone. Girlfriend borrowed car and moved spots.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 2:43 p.m., Bersani Cir. Mountain bike taken from basement. Break in window.

LARCENY, 3:18 p.m., Walmart, 301 Falls Blvd. Holding one who does not have ID on her. Goods returned and person trespassed.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 6:22 p.m., Harriet Ave. Came home to find house broken into. She has been in the house.

LARCENY, 9:13 p.m., Commonwealth Restaurant, 79 Parkingway. Purse. Suspect is white male, 5'10", blue shirt, silver wedding ring, light hair short. Unable to locate suspect.

FRIDAY, JULY 24

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 2:07 p.m., Bower Rd. Suspect not on scene anymore, but they may come back. Caller states the suspect is heading towards Skyline apartments. Black male, white shirt, red pants. Two females. Braintree PD notified.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:18 a.m., Alrick Rd. Arrived home at 3 a.m. When she walked in the house was a mess. There was a ladder leading to the window on the second floor. Caller was last home at 11:30 p.m. on July 23. Unit sent to crime scene after victim was told to return there. Upon his arrival he determined house needed to be cleared, two additional units sent.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: Revere Rd., Brooks Ave., Ross Way.

❑

CAR BREAKS: 625 Willard St., Washington Ct., 200 block Beach St., 300 block Billings Rd.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Captain's Walk, Bent Ter., Merrymount Rd., West St., Ricciuti Dr., Arthur St., Putnam St., Alrick Rd.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us – Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

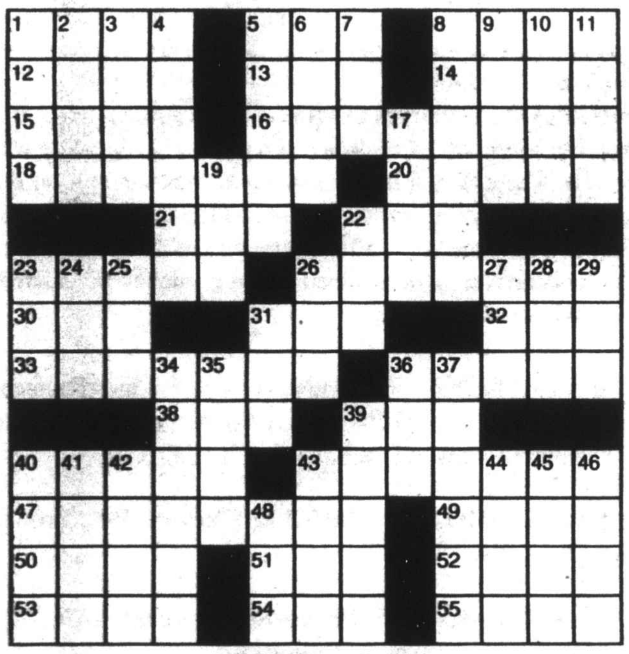
They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Highway division
5 Lamb's mama
8 Take to the pool
12 Press
13 Atlas page
14 Windy day toy
15 Uncategorized (Abbr.)
16 Pete Fountain's instrument
18 Rifle attachment
20 Minuscule bits
21 Regret
22 Big Apple letters
23 Bedding material
26 Stocking style
30 Exist
31 Office machine
32 Hockey legend Bobby
33 Presidential advisors
36 English composition
38 Fresh
39 See 37-Down
40 Ottoman officer
43 Tiara's relative
47 Surfing mecca?
49 — and kin
50 Take the show on the road
51 Praise in verse
52 Birthright barterer
53 Heche or Hathaway
54 Solidify
55 Univ. paper

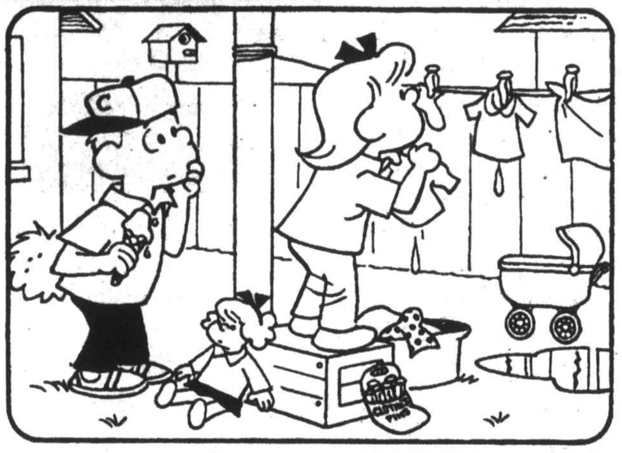
DOWN
1 Big branch
2 Operatic solo
3 Inquisitive
4 "Keep singing!"
5 Host
6 Poet Whitman
7 Eco-friendly govt. agency
8 Bandleader Henderson
9 Drunkard
10 Particular
11 Citi Field team
17 Beams
19 Sister
22 Put the kibosh on
23 Varnish ingredient
24 401(k) alternative
25 Kan. neighbor
26 Obese
27 Ph. bk. data
28 Geological period
29 Attempt
31 Not many
34 Belong naturally
35 Approach
36 Listener
37 With 39-Across, holiday entree
39 "Monopoly" buy
40 Pocket bread
41 Any time now
42 Dazzle
43 Relinquish
44 Unless, in law
45 Greek vowels
46 So
48 Yule quaff



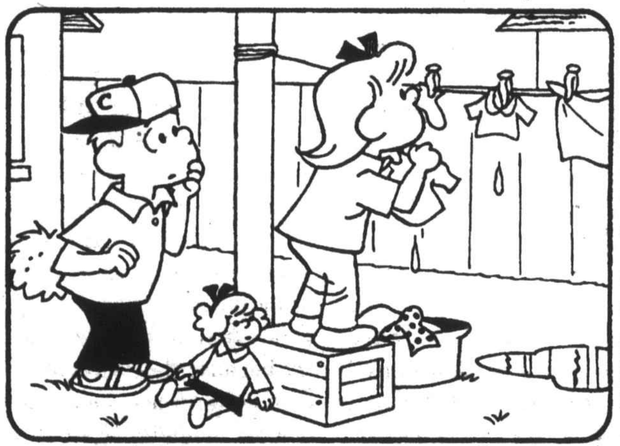
© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Birdhouse is missing. 2. Cone is missing. 3. Doll's head is turned. 4. Clothespin bag is missing. 5. Dress is smaller. 6. Carriage is missing.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. GEOGRAPHY: Drake Passage is directly south of which continent?
2. U.S. CITIES: Independence Hall is located in which city?
3. LANGUAGE: What is a shaggy dog story?
4. LITERATURE: Who wrote the novel "Lady Chatterley's Lover"?
5. MUSIC: Who composed "Clair de Lune"?
6. U.S. PRESIDENTS: When did Franklin Roosevelt contract polio?
7. PSYCHOLOGY: What fear is represented in the condition called "iophobia"?
8. TELEVISION: Who voices the character of Mr. Burns on "The Simpsons"?
9. HISTORY: When did the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising begin?
10. ENTERTAINMENT: Which entertainer's nickname was "Satchmo," short for "Satchel Mouth"?

Answers
1. South America
2. Philadelphia
3. A long-winded and often pointless anecdote
4. D.H. Lawrence
5. Debussy
6. 1921
7. A fear of poison
8. Harry Shearer
9. 1943
10. Trumpeter and singer Louis Armstrong

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Avoid adding to the tension around you. Even a well-meant reaction against something you perceive as unfair could be misunderstood. Let things calm down, and then talk about it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good time for romance for unattached Bovines, and a good time for reinforcing the bonds between partners. Children's needs are important during the latter part of the week.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A compliment from a surprising source sends you wafting way up into the clouds, where -- sorry to say -- your view of what's going on is obscured. Come on down and face some reality.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Even a family-loving person like you sometimes can feel you're at the end of the line with contentious kinfolk. But things can work out. Remember that it's better to talk than walk.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A job-related move might hold more positive surprises than you'd expected. Go into it with confidence, and look for all the advantages it offers. Then decide what you'll do with what you find.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Driving yourself too hard to get something done on a deadline you set up can backfire. Ease into a more realistic finish date, and add more breaks to your work schedule.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your sense of humor can brighten any dark period, and your laughter can dispel those gray clouds swirling around you. The weekend presents a surprising but welcome change.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Be careful about the words you use, especially in touchy situations. The old Chinese saying that the spoken word is silver, but the unspoken gold could well apply here.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Some facts could emerge to shed light on unresolved past problems. What you learn also might help explain why a once-warm relationship suddenly cooled down.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Don't let your pride get in the way of checking into what could be a great new opportunity. Get the facts first, and worry about procedure and protocol later.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A health problem in the family might have other relatives assuming that, as before, you'll take over the health-care duties. Surprise them and insist they share in the caretaking.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A series of changes can be unsettling, but in the long run, it can pay off with new perspectives on what you plan to do. Keep your mind open to the possibilities that might well lie ahead.

BORN THIS WEEK: You might be under a "royal" sign, but you have a wonderful way of embracing everyone as an equal.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● THE BOSS

Z N H D A X U R P M J G D A X
V S G Q N K N I A T P A C I F
D A X I V T M A N T R Q O M J
R H F C E A N A M R I A H C Y
W O U R P R T E N E H N Z L J
H F R D O L E B D A R Z X C V
G N E E U Q C V H I G O T R Q
O N C S P M H S O K S E F I H
P R I M E M I N I S T E R F D
B Z Y K W V E R O T C E R I D
T R Q O N L F K I H F D C P A

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

CEO
Chairman
Chief
Czar
Director
Emperor
Foreman
King
Manager
President
Prime minister
Queen
Shah
Sovereign
Sultan

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Wishing Well®

6	5	8	5	8	3	8	2	3	2	4	8	3
B	F	K	L	E	T	E	P	H	S	T	P	I
6	2	8	7	2	5	6	8	7	6	3	8	3
E	Y	P	T	C	O	C	R	R	A	N	O	K
2	5	2	5	8	7	5	2	7	5	8	6	3
H	W	I	E	M	Y	R	C	H	S	I	U	Y
4	2	4	8	3	8	7	2	5	2	3	4	6
E	R	A	S	O	E	A	E	A	V	U	C	T
5	8	5	8	3	8	3	6	2	4	5	8	5
R	S	R	U	N	N	G	I	E	H	I	B	V
8	2	5	8	6	8	4	7	8	4	2	7	2
R	L	E	O	O	K	S	R	E	U	A	D	T
7	4	2	4	2	8	2	7	4	6	4	6	4
E	C	I	C	O	N	N	R	E	U	S	S	S

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

CryptoQuip

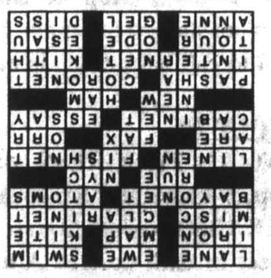
This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: J equals O

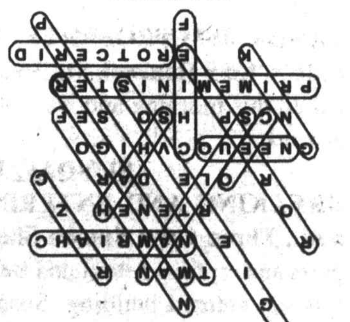
HSAVD Z AJJL AKV BDZXN
IZTIVD BJJLZV JFA JS AKV
SDZEIV, PJFYE CJF XHC ZA PHX
H BJYE XTHN?

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —
Answers
Solution time: 21 mins.



Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

After I took the crisp ginger cookie out of the fridge, would you say it was a cold snap?

RELIGION

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, August 2, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have a Worship Service with Communion at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. Gary W. Smothers will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "What Kind Of A Church Member Am I?" Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

The church office is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 - 3 p.m. Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Service is broadcast on QATV at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

'Family Fun Day' Aug. 8 At Wollaston Beach

Life Community Church of Quincy will celebrate its seventh annual "Family Fun at the Beach" Day Saturday, Aug. 8 from noon to 8 p.m. at Wollaston Beach, Quincy Shore Drive, Quincy.

The event will feature a host of free activities including: inflatable jumpers and obstacle courses, carnival games, face painting, and balloon animals and more.

The public is invited to attend.

Families can picnic on the beach, or purchase food from food vendors and local restaurants. Families are encouraged to bring blankets or lawn chairs for the sundown showing of "Big Hero 6."

Life Community Church meets each week at Sterling Middle School, 444 Granite St., Quincy, with services during the summer at 10 a.m.

A summer children's program, "Super Summer Kids Week," a free camp for school age children (kindergarten through grade 5) will be held each evening from 6 to 8 p.m. during the week of Aug. 10-14. Registration for the camp will be held during "Family Fun at the Beach" day.

For more information, visit http://familyfunatthebeach.com.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service of worship at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will preach the sermon "The Bread of Life."

Ralph Jacobs will be liturgist for the day, calling to worship and reading the scripture lesson. Nancy and Ralph Jacobs will serve for the Diaconate. Minister of music on organ and piano is Steve Reed.

Following the service a fellowship coffee hour is hosted by Molly and Nancy Jacobs. Everyone is welcome.

Monday evening at 7 p.m. the church council will meet in the Gordon Room. The Board of Trustees is continuing work on the ceiling in Fellowship Hall to be completed before the fall activities commence.

Covenant Church Seeks Children's Pantry Donations

The Children's Pantry at The Covenant Church of Quincy is seeking donations of gently used or new children's clothing, books and supplies.

"For more than 15 years our church members, neighbors and members of other Quincy churches have helped us with donations," said Rev. Karen Palmatier, pastor of the congregation. "This is a very important ministry to our congregation and the community. We are very grateful for all the help and now we need people to help again.

"We especially need children's summer clothing sizes infant to 4T," Rev. Palmatier added.

The Children's Pantry, located at 315 Whitwell St., serves children and their families by providing needed clothing, books and supplies, free of charge. Many of the visitors have become good friends of the pantry because they have been coming for years, very often donating clothing their children have outgrown.

Hours for the Children's Pantry are Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 11:30 a.m. To arrange an appointment for drop-off, call the church office at 617-479-5728.

Parish Novena Aug. 6-14

Holy Trinity Parish will conduct its second annual parish novena between the Feast of the Transfiguration and the Eve of the Assumption of Mary Aug. 6-14.

The novena will feature guest celebrant and/or speakers every weeknight including Deacon Alvaro Soares, Mother Olga Yaqob, Fr. Michael McNamara, Sister Carlotta Gilarde CSJ and Fr. Donatus Ezenneka.

The intention of the novena will be that Holy Trinity becomes a prophetic parish. This was the focus of the homily "Ezekiel's Mission and Yours" which can be heard at holytrinityquincyma.podomatic.com along with homilies from Holy Trinity Parish.

All parishioners from Holy Trinity and other parishes are welcome to attend the novena and pray for their own intentions or those of their respective parishes as well.

The Novena will be held on weeknights at 7 p.m. starting Aug. 6th and continuing to Aug. 14th at Most Blessed Sacrament (MBS) Church. Weekends the novena will be incorporated into the regular mass schedule.

For more information contact Holy Trinity Parish via their website at holytrinityquincy.com or call 617-479-9200.

Quincy Point Congregational

Communion will be by intinction during the 10 a.m. Sunday worship service in the air-conditioned sanctuary of Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Peter Johnston will be preaching and Jane Raymond will be the deacon of the day. After worship, join us in the Social Hall for punch and light refreshments. Sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

The legacy brick campaign is open one last time for those people or businesses who would still like to add a brick to our, 'Circle of Gratitude' park located on the Abbey Road side of the church. Remember a loved one, honor a veteran, publicize a local business or leave words of wisdom to future generations. Bricks are $75 a piece and the deadline is Aug. 15th.

Order forms and more details available on the Quincy Point Cong Facebook and Twitter pages or call the church office at 617-773-6424.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 8:00AM and 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 11:00AM and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning
Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach n
"The Bread of Life"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship Service with Communion at 10AM
Rev. Gary W. Smothers will conduct the service and preach a sermon entitled "What Kind of Church Member Am I?"
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617) 479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.
SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

PEACE

OBITUARIES

Lorraine T. Carta, 50

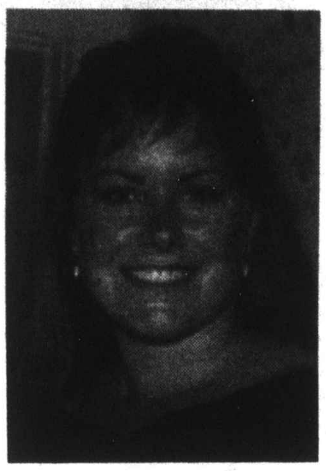
Visiting hours for Lorraine T. "Lori" (Prescott) Carta, age 50, of Smithfield, Virginia, were held July 23 at Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mrs. Carta died July 19 from complications with melanoma at the Sentara CarePlex Hospital in Hampton, Virginia, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born, raised and educated in Quincy and graduated from Quincy High School, Class of 1983. She attended the University of South Florida. After marrying, Mrs. Carta remained in Florida before moving with her children to Albany, Georgia. She recently moved to Smithfield, Virginia, to live with her son.

She was an extremely loyal and valued employee. She worked tirelessly in the service industry, from Disney World to a southern plantation to local markets, so she could provide for her children. She had the extraordinary ability to handle any task. Mrs. Carta could change her car's oil, program a complicated sound system, paint an entire house, and cook a gourmet meal without thinking anything of it.

Mrs. Carta was tremendously proud of and devoted to her children. She never missed a single one of her daughter's gymnastic meets or one of her son's football games, even when she had to drive across several states to attend. Though her children were raised in the Deep South, she managed to instill in them her love of the Red Sox and Patriots.



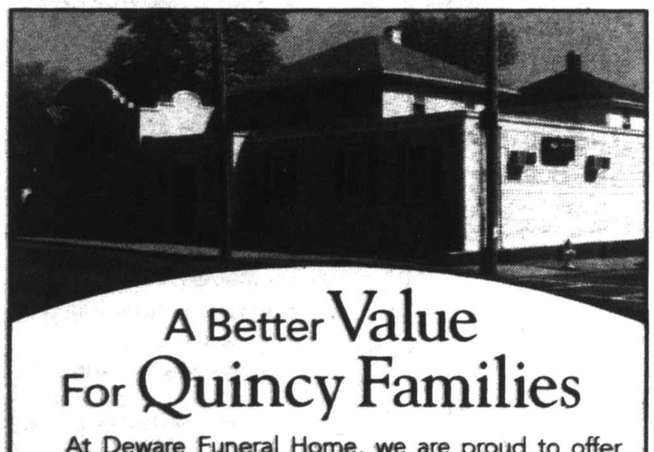
LORRAINE T. CARTA

She loved cooking for a house-full of people, going to the beach, and spending time with her dogs. She will always be remembered for her unparalleled kindness, perfect smile, and infectious laugh.

Beloved mother of Kristin M. Carta and her fiancé Dewayne Farmer of GA and Michael J. Carta of VA. Loving daughter of Gertrude H. (Cole) Prescott of Quincy and the late John C. Prescott. Dear sister of John C. Prescott, Jr. of Duxbury, Glen T. Prescott of FL, Beverly J. Cannone, Dean L. Prescott and Sharon Healy Mahoney, all of Norwell. Also survived by many aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

Private interment.

More Online at www.thequincysun.com



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, visitation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationary package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).
A Service Family Affiliate of AFFS and Service Corporation International, 306 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720 (508) 676-2454

Beverly A. Cummings, 68

A funeral Mass for Beverly A. (Uvanitte, Operach) Cummings, 68, formerly of Quincy and formerly of Braintree, was celebrated Monday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Cummings died unexpectedly July 22.

Beloved wife of the late John Cummings. Loving mother of Denise Operach-Shakespeare of Holbrook, Deborah Operach of Milton, Paula Operach and her husband Scott Wirtanen of Hanover and Jennifer Creesy and her husband Scott of Taunton. Sister of Paul Uvanitte of Lakeville and Joanne Uvanitte of Halifax. Cherished grandmother of Emilee, Ella, Nick, Jake, Chloe, Patrick, Adam, Carter and Brendan. She is also survived by her nephew Gary.

She was born and raised in Quincy and worked as a business manager for 30 years. She traveled to Ohio with her husband John where they lived for several years before returning to Quincy in 2011 after the death of her husband.

BEVERLY A. CUMMINGS

Mrs. Cummings enjoyed going on cruises, amusement parks, the beach and most importantly spending time with her family. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known her.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, 220 N. Main Street #104, Natick, MA 01760.

John F. Fitzgerald, 88

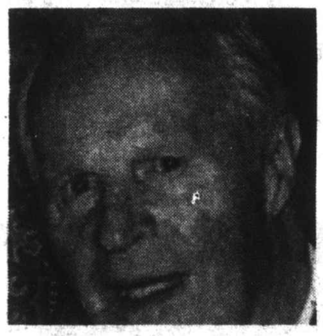
A funeral Mass for John F. Fitzgerald, retired Boston Police Department patrolman, 88, of Marshfield, formerly of Quincy and Dorchester, was celebrated July 25 in Our Lady of the Assumption Church, Marshfield.

Mr. Fitzgerald died July 22.

He was born and raised in Dorchester and graduated from Dorchester high School. Mr. Fitzgerald had lived in Quincy for many years and had been a summer resident of Marshfield for 60 years.

He was a 35-year member of the Boston Police Department from 1951 to 1986 and was a member of the Boston Police Post. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and the Korean War, serving in many regions. Mr. Fitzgerald's greatest moments was to be surrounded by his loving family.

Beloved husband of Joan F. (Sampson) Fitzgerald. Father of John F. Fitzgerald Jr. (Patricia) of Marshfield, Joan Conley Sheehan (John) of Marshfield, Jean Griffin (Bill) of Quincy, Judi Ann Gaine (Mike Reidy) of Quincy and Jane Marie Sullivan Vecchione (Paul) of Marshfield. Loving grandfather of Kelly and Eve Fitzgerald, Kerri Ann, Kristi, Colleen, Karen and Richard Conley, Bill QPD, Leanne, Lisa and Jacqueline Griffin, Sean Fitzgerald QPD, Colleen and Anna Gaine and Michael, Lea Marie, and Joseph Sullivan. Great-grandfather of 11 soon to be 14. Brother of Marguarite Garbett of Norwood and nine late brothers and sisters.



JOHN F. FITZGERALD

Funeral arrangements were made by MacDonald Funeral Home, Marshfield.

Interment at Couch Cemetery, Marshfield.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, PO Box 22718, Oklahoma City, OK 73123-1718.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

clifford.com

1.800.441.8884

Mary Louise Bonvie, 75

A celebration of life Mass for Mary Louise (Kennally) Bonvie, 75, a lifelong Quincy resident, will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Bonvie died on July 7 after a brief but courageous battle with acute sepsis.

The daughter of the late James R. Kennally, who was a chief medical officer in the USN, she spent two years living in Japan during the U.S. occupation. She was a Quincy High graduate, class of 1957, where she enjoyed singing in the choir and dancing, passions that continued throughout her life.

Mrs. Bonvie was also the beloved daughter of the late Mary Louise (O'Brien) Kennally. She is survived by her son, Ron Bonvie and his beloved companion, Lynne, of Quincy and Bill Bonvie, Jr. and his wife Debora of FL. She is also survived by her sister and dear friend, Margaret Spencer and her husband, Glenn, of Quincy and her brothers Brien Kennally and his wife Cynthia, and Richard Kennally and his wife, Linda. She will be sadly missed by her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and many beloved nieces and nephews.

MARY LOUISE BONVIE

An avid fan of Elvis Presley, one of her most cherished memories was seeing him perform live. She was a gifted and creative artist with an admirable eye for style and design. She will be deeply missed by her family and friends; her innate kindness, generosity and humor can never be replaced.

Mrs. Bonvie had made arrangements to be a "whole body donor" for medical research and education, and it is with great pride that her wishes were honored.

Memorial donations may be made to the Quincy High School Drama Club, 100 Coddington St. Quincy, 02169, where the Mary Lou Bonvie Scholarship fund is being established to help young performers realize their dreams.

Edward B. Peters

A funeral service for Edward B. Peters of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, was held Tuesday in John J. O'Connor & Son Funeral Home, Dorchester.

Mr. Peters died July 24.

Survived by his sister Ann Saucier of CT. Predeceased by his loving brothers and sisters William, Gerard, Robert, John Jr., Joan, Alice, Katherine and Lorraine. Also survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

Mr. Peters was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and an avid fan of the Boston Red Sox and New England Patriots

EDWARD B. PETERS

Interment at Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

Lance R. Lourie, 71

A funeral service for Lance Richard Lourie, 71, of Hull and formerly Quincy was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Downing Cottage Funeral Chapel, Hingham.

Mr. Lourie died peacefully at his home on July 25.

Beloved brother of Bud Lourie. Loving uncle to Susan, Jane, Robert, William, Michael, Daniel, Karen, and Diane. Also survived by his cat Bailey and his many good friends. Son of the late Murray K. Lourie and Leah (Bosselmann) Lourie. Brother of the late Lois Stober.

Mr. Lourie proudly served his country in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Enterprise, which took part in an operation to recover the Apollo rocket. He was a longtime resident of Quincy who graduated from Don Bosco High School in Boston. He was a letter carrier for the USPS in Boston and East Milton for more than 20 years before retiring to Hull.

Mr. Lourie was a cat lover, videophile and political pundit. He was an adventurer who loved hiking the Blue Hills and exploring the seacoast of Boston and Rhode Island. He was fond of Jamaica and Bob Marley. Mr. Lourie was a loving and caring man who will be truly missed by all who knew and loved him.

Interment with Military Honors at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.

Memorial donations may be made to the MSPCA-Angell , 350 South Huntington Ave., Boston MA 02130.

Alta P. Vena

ALTA P. VENA

A funeral service for Alta P. (Kidder) Vena of Quincy will be held at 7 p.m. tonight (Thursday) in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Vena died Sunday.

Beloved wife of the late Michael P. Vena; loving mother of Michael L. Vena and his wife, Sheri, of Raynham and Kevin Vena of Dorchester; and cherished grandmother of Nicole and Michael J. Vena of Raynham.

Mrs. Vena was born in Sherman, West Virginia. She worked for Boston Financial Data Services for many years before retiring. She enjoyed bingo, trips to Foxwoods, meeting with her friends at Martensen Street and family gatherings.

Mrs. Vena cherished her children and grandchildren. They were truly the most important aspect of her life. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Visiting hours are 4-7 p.m. tonight in the funeral home.

Interment at a later date.

Alfred H. Hodgkins, 86

A memorial service for Alfred "Al" Harrington Hodgkins, 86, of Hilton Head Island, S.C., and formerly Scituate will be held Aug. 2 at 1 p.m. in First Trinitarian Congregational Church, Scituate.

Mr. Hodgkins died July 24 in Hilton Head Island.

He was born in Quincy to Donald and Helen Hodgkins on Aug. 20, 1928. He attended Quincy High School and graduated in 1946. Mr. Hodgkins served as a tech sergeant in the U.S. Air Force from 1950 to 1954. He married the love of his life, Jean Louise MacKenzie, on May 16, 1953, in Quincy.

Mr. Hodgkins worked as a technical writer and industrial film producer for several companies, including IBM, Hewlett Packard and Raytheon for 30 years. He then began a career as an actor and voice-over artist. His most notable films were Mystic Pizza, The Verdict, and Mermaids. He was a member of the South Shore Choral Arts Society, the choir at the FTCC Church in Scituate and played vibraphone in the band, Olde Kids on the Block. He and his wife relocated to Hilton Head in 2005. Mr. Hodgkins played vibraphone in the Hilton Head Plantation Big Band until his passing.

Survived by his loving wife, Jean Louise MacKenzie Hodgkins, his children Richard and Mary Hodgkins, Daniel and Susan Hodgkins, Gail Hodgkins Smith and Joseph Perry, and Beth Hodgkins Green. He left behind 10 grandchildren: Aprile Hodgkins, Kathryn Hodgkins, Sabrina Perry, Brianna Hodgkins, Timothy Polyak, Anna Hodgkins, Michael Green, Nicholas Polyak, Christopher Polyak, and Julia Polyak. Preceded in death by his parents, Donald and Helen Hodgkins, and brothers George and Robert Hodgkins.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Island Funeral Home & Crematory, Hilton Head Island, S.C.

A musical memorial celebration of Mr. Hodgkins' life will be held at a later date on Hilton Head Island.

Stanley A. Spargo, 91

A funeral service for Stanley A. Spargo, 91, a lifelong resident of Quincy, was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

Mr. Spargo died July 24 at the John Adams Healthcare Center in Quincy.

Born in Quincy on April 30, 1924, he was the loving son of the late Joseph J. and Elsie T. (Johnson) Spargo. Mr. Spargo worked for the HP Hood Company where he retired after 30 years of service and was a member of the HP Hood Quarter Century Club.

The beloved husband of the late Mary (Rusconi) Spargo, Mr. Spargo was the loving father of Paul Spargo and his wife Marianne of Weymouth, Gail Spargo of Braintree, Richard Spargo of Weymouth and David Spargo and his wife Suzanne of Quincy. He was the cherished grandfather of Kimberly, Mary, Joseph, Hope, Heather, Sarah, Alycia and great-grandfather of Mina and Ava.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

More Obituaries On Page 30 and Online at www.thequincysun.com

Charlotte Knowles, 89

CHARLOTTE KNOWLES

A funeral home service for Charlotte Knowles, 89, a resident of Linden Ponds in Hingham, was held Monday in Sullivan Funeral Home, Hanover.

Mrs. Knowles died suddenly but peacefully July 22.

Born in South Portland, Maine, she was the daughter of Charles and Marjorie (Gaudette) Crooker, and sister of Norma Demaggio of Quincy and the late Barbara Connor. A graduate of Quincy High School, she married the late Alexander Knowles and was employed by Liberty Mutual for several years until the adoption of their son, Douglas.

They resided in the Norwell Homes neighborhood of Norwell for more than 50 years. Mrs. Knowles worked part time for the Norwell Schools Food Service and taught many of her family members and neighbors to drive. She enjoyed reading and solving crossword puzzles, traveling and cruising with her husband and family, and spending time with her grandchildren.

Survived by her son and daughter-in-law Douglas and Linda Knowles of Norwell, grandchildren Kaitlyn Knowles of Medford and Gregory Knowles of Weymouth, sister Norma Demaggio of Quincy, and many nieces and nephews.

Interment at Washington

Beatrice A. Noyes, 80

BEATRICE A. NOYES

A funeral Mass for Beatrice A. Noyes, 80, of Quincy, formerly of Green Harbor and New York City, was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in Our Lady of the Assumption Church, Marshfield.

Dr. Noyes died July 18 after a long illness.

She was raised in Weymouth and spent summers in Green Harbor. A graduate of Weymouth High School, she went on to attend UMass Amherst and received a doctorate in education administration from New York University.

During the course of her life, Dr. Noyes traveled extensively, including to Japan and Germany, teaching U.S. military families, but settled in New York where she was a librarian in the New York City School Department. After retirement, she resided in Green Harbor year round until she became ill.

Daughter of the late Albert E. and Beatrice M. Noyes. Sister of Raymond Noyes and his wife Marcia of Marshfield, she is also survived by her nieces and nephews Ann Marie McGuire and her husband John of MN, Cheryl Noyes of North Weymouth, Steven Noyes and his wife Ying of CA, R. Andrew Noyes and his wife Jaimie of Marshfield, and six great-nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by MacDonald Funeral Home, Marshfield.

Interment at Winslow Cemetery, Marshfield.

Memorial donations may be made to Sowing Seeds, Ltd., P.O. Box 1001, Marshfield, MA 02050.

Mary Fontana

A funeral Mass for Mary (Mineo) "Ma" Fontana of Braintree, formetly of Quincy, will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. today (Thursday) in St. Francis of Assisi Church, Braintree.

Mrs. Fontana died at home Monday surrounded by her loving family.

Beloved wife of the late Joseph Fontana and Jerry DiTocco. Loving mother of Jerry DiTocco and his wife Christine of GA, Donna Balcom and her late husband Donald of Braintree and Jacqueline Guilfoyle and her husband Jack of Plymouth. Sister of Anna Hassan of Rockland and the late Alice Marchese and Josephine Tolson. Also survived by 11 grandchildren, 31 great-grandchildren, four great great-grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

She was born in Palermo, Sicily, and immigrated to Quincy at the age of 6 where she lived until moving to Braintree six years ago. Mrs. Fontana had worked as a hostess for many years at Valley's Steak House and the Sheraton Tara in Braintree. She loved to play bingo and travel to Foxwoods.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at McMaster Funeral Home, Braintree.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Hospice of the South Shore 30 Reservoir Park Dr., Rockland, MA 02370-1055.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN FOR INCAPACITATED PERSON PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO15P1803GD
In the matter of:
Anna Cutter
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
Alleged Incapacitated Person

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by South Shore Elder Services of Braintree, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Anna Cutter is in need of a Guardian and requesting that some suitable person be appointed as Guardian to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is incapacitated, that the appointment of a Guardian is necessary, and that the proposed Guardian is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court and may contain a request for certain specific authority.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 08/05/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: June 29, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/30/15

Please Recycle
This Paper

LEGAL NOTICE

SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION
Docket No. 15W0157-WD, 15W0158-WD,
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Yi Xi Wu, Plaintiff
V.
Chung Hing Tam, Defendant

To the above named Defendant:

A Complaint has been presented to this Court by the Plaintiff Yi Xi Wu seeking Support-Custody-Visitation.

You are required to serve upon: Yi Xi Wu, your answer, on or before 10/08/2015. If you fail to do so, the Court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer in the office of the Register of this Court at CANTON.

Witness, JOHN CASEY, Esquire, First Justice of said Court at CANTON, this 24th Day of July 2015.

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No. NO15P1929EA
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Brenda J. Parker
Date of Death:
June 24, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of:

Petitioner Elizabeth A. White, Esq. of Pembroke, MA.

a Will has been admitted to informal probate.

Elizabeth A. White, Esq. of Pembroke, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve without surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

7/30/15

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-039

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Judy Chen for a Finding to change use from retail to restaurant with sit down bar and that the increase in pre-existing non-conforming parking will not be substantially more detrimental in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.2 (nonconforming use) on the premises numbered 663 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-040

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Zhimin Huang for a Special Permit/Flood Plain/Finding/Variance to construct a second level and an addition in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements), Chapter 8.0 (Flood plain) and Chapter 3.4.3 (change nonconforming) on the premises numbered 8 SAFFORD STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-041

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Mitchell Pauly, Trustee for a Finding/Variance to extend first floor unit into area of basement to increase living area in unit in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming) and Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 24 NORTH CENTRAL AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-042

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of 123 Elm Condominium Trust c/o Kimberly Bielan, Esq. for a Finding to alter its pre-existing nonconforming accessory parking in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.2 (nonconforming uses), Chapter 5.1.7 (parking space requirements), Chapter 5.1.8 (off street parking) on the premises numbered 123 ELM STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

FOR SALE

Harley Davidson truck and blanket, framed pictures, tool box, lamps, baskets, dolls, household items, camera, couch
617-481-8769
7/30

COLLECTION OF BONE CHINA TEA CUPS AND SAUCERS
WILL SELL INDIVIDUALLY
781-883-1854
7/30

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-043

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 11, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Xiao Qi Tian for a Finding to legalize a two family home in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4 (finding required) on the premises numbered 48 TOWN HILL STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

7/23/15, 7/30/15

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

ACCOUNTS PAYABLE ASSOCIATE

Full-time energetic self-starter needed for multi-entity Quincy organization.
2 years high volume experience required.

Reply to:
ddoherty@girihotels.com
7/30

Experienced hand toss pizza cook needed at Gennaro's Eatery in Quincy. Responsible for all prep necessary for pizza making, we make our own dough, and other miscellaneous tasks.

- Reliable, hard working, keeping your station clean, and taking pride in your work is required . Fast Paced and high volume without giving up quality is a must.
- Weekends a must.
- Valid social security or green card.
- Must be able to lift up to 50 lbs.
- Must speak English.
- Must be clean & neat in appearance, no facial jewelry, no large jewelry or accessories, no earrings larger than a dime.
- Must have good customer service skills.
- Must work with wait staff, counter help, & other cooks. Must have good attitude and be pleasant.

reply to: gennaroseatery@gmail.com
7/30

PART TIME DRIVERS

Drive Cars_Monday's
10am-3pm
Earn $60.00

FAST-PACED ENVIRONMENT
FLEXIBLE SCHEDULE

Apply in person, call or email Mike Cooley at: quincyaa@quincyauction.com

617-773-5000
Quincy Auto Auction
196 Ricciuti Drive, Quincy EOE
7/30

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

Hair Salon Assistant

1000 Southern Artery, Senior Citizen Housing in Quincy, is looking for a Salon Assistant to work 18 hours per week (Wednesday–Friday). The Salon Assistant will assist the Beauty Shop Supervisor/Stylist with regular, daily activities such as hair washing, preparation work, scheduling appointments, and cleaning the shop. The candidate is required to hold a Massachusetts Hairdressing License and may perform beauty shop services as needed. The ideal candidate will work well with senior citizens and be flexible.

To apply, please contact Linda Roach at 617-471-1000.
7/30

QUINCY CHECKER CAB
OF QUINCY IS HIRING DRIVERS
APPLY IN PERSON AT
673 WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY
NO PHONE CALLS PLEASE
8/6

P/T RECEPTIONIST

CONSOLIDATED BRICK, A MASONRY DISTRIBUTOR IN AVON (15 MIN. FROM QUINCY) SEEKS RELIABLE, HONEST PART-TIME RECEPTIONIST
MON.-FRI. 10:00 A.M.-2:00P.M.

- STRONG TELEPHONE SKILLS
- PROFESSIONAL APPEARANCE & DEMEANOR
- CUSTOMER SERVICE SKILLS
- BASIC COMPUTER LITERACY

REPLY TO: HR@CONSOLIDATEDBRICK.COM

EEO
8/6

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

CASH FOR HOUSES

CASH MONEY PAID FOR HOUSES
ANY CONDITION, ANY AREA, ANY ISSUE
PROBATE FORECLOSURE ETC...
QUICK CLOSINGS
NO REALTOR COMMISSIONS
(617)249-3961
8/6

LEGAL NOTICE

ALL POLICE ORDERED OR ACCIDENT TOWS
(Sale of Motor Vehicle under G.L. c. 255, Section 39A)

Notice is hereby given by: Schlager's Towing Service, 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA, 02169

pursuant to the provisions of G.L. c. 255, Section 39A, that on Saturday, August 1, 2015 at 9:00A.M. at 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA 02169 at 9:00A.M. a Public Sale the following Motor Vehicle will be sold to satisfy the garagekeeper's lien thereon for storage, towing charges, care and expenses of notices and sale of said vehicle.

Description of Vehicle: 3GNFK16T63G260583 Chevy Suburban 2003 MA:NE45LL

Name and address of owner of vehicle: Charles Baker 67 Allen St., Randolph, MA 02368

By: James Schlager

This notice has been given under the provisions of G.L. c. 255, Section 39A

7/16/15, 7/23/15, 7/30/15

HELP WANTED

REGGIE'S OIL

PT Clerical Help Wanted

$10 per hour
Mon-Fri
Flexible Hours
10-15 hrs per week
Call for Interview
(617)471-2095
8/6

REGGIE'S OIL

HVAC/Oil Burner Service Tech Wanted

4-5 years Experience Required
Must be Licensed
Call for Interview
(617)471-2095
8/6

PERSONAL

"Happy Regatta Week" to Uncle Doug Menz - Red Lin, Bernie, Alph and Family 7/30

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642
8/6-

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
SHADOW: 15, female, black.
NIKKI: 4, female, tabby.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
ABBEY & BUTTERCUP: 15 & 13.
KITTY: 5, female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
SWEET PEA & YOMO: 1 & 6, females.
BAABAA: 6, male, black.
BELLA & BABY GIRL: 8, females.
PADDY: 4, male, black.
ELTON: 3, male, gray tabby.
FRANCOISE & LUCAS: 2 & 1, males, tabby.
LC: 5, female, gray tabby.

CLASSIFIEDS

MISCELLANEOUS

AUCTIONS

LIVE AUCTIONS-State of MA Surplus Fri, Aug.7 31-69 Bishop Rd, Ayer, MA Saturday, Aug.8 289 Lyman St, Westborough, MA 1-800-536-1401 www.AuctionsInternational.com Lic#3218

AUCTION / REAL ESTATE

BANKRUPTCY ORDERED; Two Large Land Parcels-Sold Separately; Bid Online Now; For details & terms, visit www.Tranzon.com; Tranzon Auction Properties; 866-503-1212; Michael B. Carey MA Lic.#AU3188; Samantha Kelley MA RE Lic. # 134740

HELP WANTED

NEWSPAPER READERS WANTED to participate in an in-person research project. Participants will receive $100. We want to know your opinions about what separates the great newspapers from the good ones. The research will be conducted during the last two weeks of July in Dedham, MA, and your 3-hour interview can be scheduled at your convenience. If you are an avid reader of daily and/or weekly newspapers, please call the New England Newspaper & Press Association at (781) 320-8042 for more info, or go to www.noy.nenpa.com

HELP WANTED

NOW HIRING -Work and Travel 6 Openings Now $20+Per HOUR Full-time Travel, Paid Training, Transportation Provided, Ages 18+ BBB accredited apply online www.needajob1.com Call toll-free 1-866-751-9114

HELP WANTED-SALES

WANTED: LIFE AGENTS; Earn $500 A DAY; Great Agent Benefits; Commissions Paid Daily; Liberal Underwriting; Leads, Leads, Leads, LIFE INSURANCE, LICENSE REQUIRED. Call 1-888-713-6020

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

WANT TO BUY

CASH FOR DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Up to $35/ Box! Sealed & Unexpired. Payment Made SAME DAY. Highest Prices Paid!! Call Jenni Today! 800-413-3479 www.CashForYourTestStrips.com

SERVICES

IMAGE LANDSCAPING

We are committed to your property

We clean IT
Trim IT
Remove IT

QUALITY WORKMANSHIP
617-471-0044 11/26
FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE

- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates

CLEAN-UPS

617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES 11/26

FORMICA BRAND CENTER

Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured

Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com
8/13

Landscape, Construction & Masonry

- Patios
- Walkways
- Retaining Walls
- Front Stairs
- Drainage Solutions
- Excavating/Demolition
- Plantings
- Seed/Sod Lawn Installation

C.McGue Landscape
617-778-8775
www.cmcguelandscape.com
10/29

BOOTS ON THE GROUND MOVING CO.

-NO MOVE IS TOO BIG OR TOO SMALL-

- IN-TOWN MOVES
- OUT OF TOWN MOVES
- IN HOUSE SERVICE
- JUNK REMOVAL
- FREE ESTIMATES
- FULLY INSURED

8/20
Quincy, MA (781)366-0255
BOGMOVING@gmail.com
Facebook.com/BootsOnTheGroundMoving

We need you.

American Heart Association
Learn and Live

Potholes are a year-round problem

REPORT POTHOLES

and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

POWER PLUMBING

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

T & M Landscape Co.

- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~ 9/3

McGue EXCAVATING

- Sewer Line Repair/Installation
- Water Line Repair/Installation
- Additions & Foundations
- Drainage Solutions
- House/Garage Demolition
- Stump Removal

10/29
617-872-8779
Bonded - Fully Insured - Licensed

SAVE
Budget Fuel

Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

THOMAS C. SWEENEY

Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References
10/1

J.F. ROOFING Co.

QUINCY, MA

- Shingles
- Rubber
- Slate
- Copper
- Vinyl Replacement Windows

(617)471-8216
12/31

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE

Average Room - walls $150 Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out. Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479 9/24

HTA

Hancock T.V. & Appliance

Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street,
Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC

Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255
10/29

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET,
QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX

- ☐ Services
- ☐ For Sale
- ☐ Autos
- ☐ Boats
- ☐ For Rent
- ☐ Wanted
- ☐ Help Wanted
- ☐ Work Wanted
- ☐ Pets
- ☐ Lost & Found
- ☐ Real Estate
- ☐ Antiques
- ☐ Flea Markets
- ☐ Yard Sales
- ☐ Instruction
- ☐ Day Care
- ☐ Personal
- ☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

☐ Enclosed is $ ___________ for the following ad to run ___________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________
____
____
____
____
____
____
____
____

Morrisette Jr. Team Advances

By JOE REARDON

Gerry Sheppard makes it a priority to get a surplus of pitching when he puts the Morrisette Junior Legion team together every year. The old axiom you can never have enough pitching is one Sheppard believes in strongly and it has paid off during the regular season and the playoffs.

Never was a solid pitching peformance needed so badly for Morrisette than Monday against Sandwich in the state finals in Greenfield. On the brink of being eliminated after a 10-3 loss to Methuen on Sunday, Quincy roared back to take an entirely satisfying 5-1 win against the Cape team. Quincy was scheduled to play North Attleboro Tuesday evening. The top two teams in the states move on next to play in the New Englands in Rhode Island.

"Two of the three games were really good," said Sheppard. "The middle game (against Methuen) we walked a few too many guys. It was a huge win today (Monday) going into tomorrow."

Owen Lynch was huge on the mound for Quincy with six strong innings and Dara Griffin was impressive mopping things up in the seventh.

Pitching was only part of the win as Morrisette played great defense, turning three double plays to get out of innings. Max Storch, Curtis Frazier and Martin McCormack had big RBI to pace Quincy's offense.

Morrisette defeated host Greenfield on Saturday, pounding 12 hits on the way to an 8-3 win. John MacDonald kept Greenfield off balance in his 6-1/3 innings of work with eight strikeouts. MacDonald also had a big day at plate, pounding three RBI. Adam MacCormack added three RBI of his own and Matt Fox drove in a pair of runs.

Morrisette looks to be in a great position moving forward with eight fresh arms Sheppard can chose from to take the mound. "I thought at the beginning we'd be good enough," he said. "We still have arms. I think we're in better shape than most of the teams. When you get into the tournament, generally whoever has the deepest pitching does the best."

Wollaston Sr. Babe Ruth Moves On To Tourney Finals

By BILL GRIFFIN

The pitching has been excellent all season for Wollaston's Senior Babe Ruth team, and it has been brilliant in the playoffs as well. The recent boost has come from the offense which scored 13 runs in two games as Wollaston rolled to a sweep of Tri Town in the semifinals of the South Shore Senior Babe Ruth playoffs.

Lefty Ben Martin and righty Sam Keane took care of the pitching, allowing just one unearned run and six hits in the two games. In the opener, Martin gave three hits and fanned six in a 7-1 decision over Tri Town at Adams Field Sunday night.

Keane then left no doubt about the clincher. He struck out 12, walked just two and didn't allow a runner to second base until the seventh inning in a complete-game three-hitter as Wollaston moved into the finals with a 6-0 decision Monday night at Joyce Field in Holbrook.

Wollaston (12-6) will play the winner of the Milton vs. Dedham semifinal series in the finals which will begin Thursday or Friday night at a site and time to be determined. Wollaston finished second behind Milton in the regular season.

"The pitching all year has been outstanding, but in our last few regular-season games and in the playoffs, we've started to hit the ball. Right now, we're playing good, solid baseball at just the right time of year," said assistant coach Bob Griffin

As good as the hitting has been, it always starts with pitching. Martin has been an effective ace all season. He has three shutouts and has allowed just one earned run in his last five games. Both his fastball and curve are No. 1 pitches, and he knows how to mix and control them.

"We had a bye in the first round and a long layoff," said Griffin. "Ben was a little rusty in the first inning, but after that they had trouble touching him. His velocity and control got better and better. He only gave one hit after the first inning."

Keane was just as good. He threw his fastball, curve and changeup for strikes. Tri Town could not key on one or even two pitches. The Tri Town runner, who did reach second, walked and advanced on defensive indifference when Wollaston was guarding a six-run lead in the final inning.

"He had them off balance all night," said Griffin

Evan Feinberg led the winning attack in the clinching game with a single, double, triple and two RBI. Keane helped himself with a pair of hits. Johnny Marsinselli and Mike Pugsley each singled and scored to jump-start the winning attack in the first inning.

"We had a lot of batting practice when we had time off because of the bye. It paid off against Tri Town," said Griffin.

Wollaston supported Keane with an errorless performance in the field. The infield with Pugsley (short), David Cooper (second) and Ben Regan (first) was solid.

In the opener, Tri Town went up, 1-0 in the first, but Wollaston took the lead for good with two in the second. Martin had an RBI in the rally.

Wollaston broke open the game with three in the fourth. Feinberg had a two-run single and Padraig Geaney also had a single and an RBI as Wollaston took a 5-1 advantage which was more than enough for Martin.

"Along with the extra hitting, I think the college kids who didn't play baseball this year are starting to find their batting eyes," said Griffin. "Marsinelli, Pugsley, Geaney and Martin are all hitting the ball well."

Marsinelli caught two strong games behind the plate and also controlled Tri Town's running game. He set the tone by throwing out a base-stealer in the first inning of the opener.

For the last two years, Wollaston has been playing in both the league and state playoffs at this time of year. This season, Wollaston just missed qualifying for states, and Griffin feels it has helped his club in the league playoffs.

"You expend a lot of energy in the states. There are a lot of games in a short stretch. I think this year we are fresher for the league," he said.

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE
PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No. NO15P1746EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
John Anthony Shaw
Date of Death:
February 26, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of:

Petitioner Mary S. Vassalli of East Weymouth, MA.

a Will has been admitted to informal probate.

Mary S. Vassalli of East Weymouth, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve without surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachusetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

7/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION ON PETITION FOR ALLOWANCE OF ACCOUNT
Docket No. NO09P2633EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
In the matter of:
William W. Bruinsma
Date of Death:
November 10, 1998

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by: Frederick N. Pellegrini of Dedham, MA requesting allowance of the 4th, 5th, and 6th account(s) as Personal Representative and any other relief as requested in the Petition.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 08/19/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 15, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

07/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

ALL POLICE ORDERED OR ACCIDENT TOWS
(Sale of Motor Vehicle under G.L. c. 255, Section 39A)
Notice is hereby given by: Schlager Auto Body, 299 Centre St., Quincy, MA pursuant to the provisions of G.L. c.255, Section 39A, that on August 1, 2015 at 9:00A.M. at 299 Centre St., Quincy Public Sale
the following Motor Vehicle will be sold to satisfy the garage-keeper's lien thereon for storage, towing charges, care and expenses of notices and sale of said vehicle.
Description of Vehicle: 1FMZU74K94VA5634 Ford Explorer 2003 MASS
Name and address of owner of vehicle: Diniz Lobo Depina, 98 George St., Roxbury, MA.
By: James Schlager
This notice has been given under the provisions of G.L. c.255, Section 39A
7/16, 7/23, 7/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE AND ORDER:
Petition for Appointment of Guardian of a Minor
Docket No. NO14P1491GD
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
In the Interests of: Francis Peter Jonathan Lang
of Quincy, MA
Minor

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED PARTIES

1. Hearing Date/Time: A hearing on a Petition for Appointment of Guardian of a Minor filed on 06/06/2014 by Lisa A. Foss of Quincy, MA will be held 09/17/2015 8:45 AM Review Hearing.

Located Canton.

2. Response to Petition: You may respond by filing a written response to the Petition or by appearing in person at the hearing. If you choose to file a written response, you need to:

File the original with the Court; and

Mail a copy to all interested parties at least five (5) business days before the hearing.

3. Counsel for the Minor: The minor (or an adult on behalf of the minor) has the right to request that counsel be appointed for the minor.

4. Presence of the Minor at Hearing: A minor over age 14 has the right to be present at any hearing, unless the Court finds that it is not in the minor's best interests.

ORDER TO PETITIONER(S)

IT IS ORDERED THAT copies of this Notice and the Petition for Appointment of Guardian of a Minor be served in hand on the minor, (if 14 or more years of age and not the petitioner), the guardian, the parents of the minor, and any other person if ordered by the Court, at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing date listed above.

If Service in hand cannot be accomplished on any interested party, IT IS ORDERED that copies of this Notice and the Petition for Appointment of Guardian of a Minor be served on the interested party by leaving at and mailing by regular first class mail to last and usual place of residence of the interested party at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date of hearing listed above.

If the identity or whereabouts of an interested party is not known, IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that copies of this Notice and Petition for Appointment of Guardian of a Minor be served on all interested persons at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing date by publishing a copy of the Order and Notice once in The Quincy Sun, Quincy, MA publication to be at least Seven (7) days prior to the hearing date.

If required, service on the United States Veteran Administration and the Department of Children and Families may be accomplished by regular first class mail at least Seven (7) days prior to the hearing.

THIS IS A LEGAL NOTICE: An important court proceeding that may affect your rights has been scheduled. If you do not understand this notice or other court papers, please contact an attorney for legal advice.

Date: March 26, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/30/15

LEGAL NOTICE

DIVORCE SUMMONS
BY PUBLICATION
AND MAILING
Docket No. NO15D0272DR
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Sandra K. Fernandes vs,
Ruben J. Fernnandes

To the Defendant:

The Plaintiff has filed a Complaint for Divorce requesting that the Court grant a divorce for Irretrievable breakdown. The Complaint is on file at the Court.

An Automatic Restraining Order has been entered in this matter preventing you from taking any action which would negatively impact the current financial status of either party. SEE Supplemental Probate Court Rule 411.

You are hereby summoned and required to serve upon: Sandra K. Fernandes, 118 Greenleaf St., Apt. 14, Quincy, MA 02169 your answer, if any, on or before 10/01/2015. If you fail to do so, the court will proceed to the hearing and adjudication of this action. You are also required to file a copy of your answer, if any, in the office of the Register of this Court.

WITNESS, Hon. John D. Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 23, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

7/30/15

QUINCY COMMUNITY ACTION PROGRAMS, INC. recently celebrated its 50th anniversary at the Adams National Historical Park in Quincy. Among the guests attending the event were (from left) City Clerk Joseph Shea, Norfolk County Sheriff Michael Bellotti, Fraink and Huguette (Yogi) Trainor, and Dolly Di Pesa.

ALSO ATTENDING QCAP's 50th annivesary event were (from left) Russell O'Connell, QCAP first executive director; Rosemary Wahlberg, former executive director; Josephine Shea, QCAP Board president, William Trifone, first QCAP Board president; Cong. Stephen Lynch and Beth Ann Strollo, chief executive officer.

Quincy Community Action Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Cont'd From Page 14

ence, which allows parents/caregivers the opportunity to work or attend school.

Other programs include Head Start, which provides early education; adult education; financial education; credit counseling; job search support, referrals and placement; and free tax preparation.

QCAP has a team of 140 employees to help provide the services it offers. Some 600 people volunteered for the organization over the past year.

Strollo identified a number of major accomplishments QCAP has achieved since its founding. The Head Start program, for example, began in 1965 as an eight-week summer program. In the 1980s, QCAP began offering Head Start as a full-day program. Another accomplishment she listed was the purchase of 388 Granite St. in 1986. QCAP first used that site to expand is South West Quincy Community Center; the property is now used for affordable housing.

"In the '80s we really transformed our Head Start program to more fully address the needs of working families. We began offering full day education for the students," Strollo said.

"Prior to that was when we purchased our first parcel of real estate – 388 Granite St. We still own it today. It allowed us to expand our community center…we then transformed it into affordable housing."

A decade ago, in 2005, the organization was able to purchase the building at 1509 Hancock St. in Quincy Center where its administrative offices are located. Strollo said that was significant because it secured the QCAP's home in the community.

"That was a significant milestone because it allowed us to control our destiny," she said.

In 2010, QCAP ended its decade-and-a-half search for a new home for its Head Start program when it purchased the former St. Joseph's School on Pray Street in Quincy Point. The 32,000-square-foot facility opened in 2012 as the Rosemary & Archie Wahlberg Head Start Early Learning Center. The building has 16 classrooms with room for 240 children.

"That was very significant for us," Strollo said. "We were looking for a home for our Head Start program for many, many years.

Strollo said the organization's work will continue, despite the success QCAP has had over the past 50 years.

"There are always folks who need a hand up," she said. "That's why our motto is 'helping people help themselves.' There will always be folks who that help."

QCAP, Strollo stated, is always looking at the community's needs. One particular need the organization will look to address in future years is affordable housing. QCAP has developed 49 affordable housing units over the years and Strollo wants to add to that total.

"We're trying to create more affordable housing. That's an area we will be focusing on," she said.

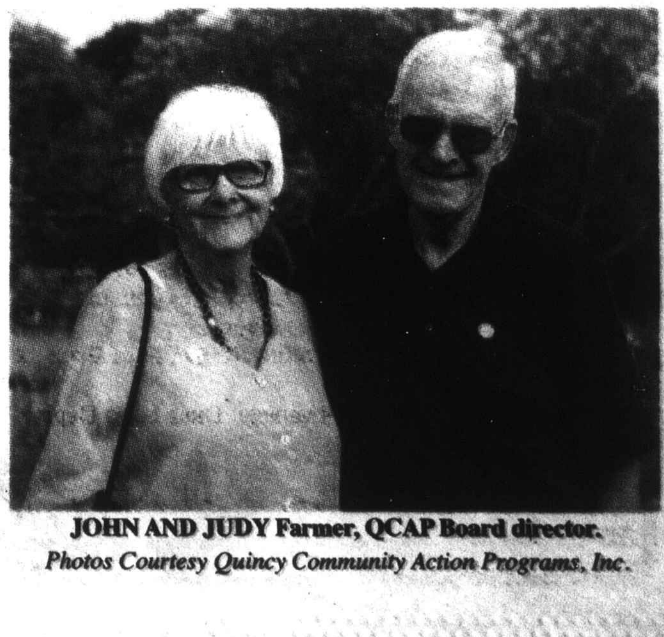
Other areas the group hopes to address are the needs of local youths and expanding the Head Start program. The latter is dependent on additional federal funding.

FROM LEFT: Josephine E. Shea, QCAP Board president; state Sen. John Keenan; Mayor Thomas Koch; Cong. Stephen Lynch; Marianne Peak, superintendent, Adams National Historical Park; state Rep. Tackey Chan; and Beth Ann Strollo, QCAP chief executive officer.

FROM LEFT: Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest, Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes, Josephine Shea, QCAP Board president; Beth Ann Strollo, QCAP chief executive officer, and Michael McFarland, city councillor and president of Colonial Federal Savings Bank.

RICHARD AND BARBARA Morris, QCAP Board director.

BARBARA SCHUMACHER and Kevin Matta, QCAP Board director.



JOHN AND JUDY Farmer, QCAP Board director.

Photos Courtesy Quincy Community Action Programs, Inc.

YELLOW SUN and an orange sky make a pretty postcard-like sunset scene of Dorchster Bay as seen from the Squantum seawall.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

License Board Closes Bar After Stabbing Incident

Cont'd From Page 3

"It was quite obvious these two men who were employed by Yaz's Place willfully and deliberately interfered with this police investigation," Turowski said.

Turowski also noted the board had sanctioned Yaz's Place three times prior since it opened in 2009. Shortly after it opened, the bar received a written notice for failing a compliance check. In 2012, it received a one-day suspension after gunshots were reported in the parking lot. Most recently, last fall the board handed down a five-day suspension for a failed compliance check. That suspension is under appeal before state regulators.

Turowski said the manager of record for the bar, Yaser Mohamed, was not present for any of those incidents nor had he seen Mohamed on site since it opened in 2009.

Ward 2 Councillor Brad Croall said any action short of revocation of the licenses would be a "slap in the face." Residents near the bar, he added, have had enough.

"You've heard the testimony. I know I've dealt with all of you for the last several years regarding this establishment. I could probably boil down the sentiment from the neighborhood into several words, which is quite frankly we've had enough," Croall said.

Three residents who live near the bar all spoke in favor of revoking the license, as did Rob Corley, executive director of NeighborWorks Southern Mass. They complained of unruly patrons who go to Yaz's Place.

"We're here to discuss an incident that occurred this past weekend, which has honestly been the culmination of what can only be described as a living hell for those of us who live near this establishment," East Howard Street resident Heather Edison said.

Several people who could not attend the meeting urged the board to revoke the license, including Mayor Thomas Koch. The owner of the property also wrote to the board, saying the lease with Yaz's Place would not be renewed when it expires Nov. 30.

Attorney Rudy Miller, who represents Mohamed, said the manager did not receive proper notice of the violation and that the commissioners had already made up their minds before the meeting. Miller, his client and other bar employees then left the meeting.

"It is clear and transparent that this is predetermined and I will not participate in something that is predetermined. If I had confidence that this matter was actually subject to debate and true consideration, I would remain here, but this is offensive," Miller said.

"We're all offended by someone being slashed with a razor blade. We're all offended by outsiders coming in and creating all sorts of havoc in the city. I don't want you to misunderstand. That is troublesome on every level for someone who is reasonable.

"I'm offended by the process and subverting the process, because win, lose or draw, the only thing someone from my background demands if fair play and an even playing field…at some point, when we get back into my world, this will be back for a true, fair hearing."

Turowski said he notified a manager at the bar in writing of the hearing later in the day on July 24 and also spoke to Mohamed on the phone about the meeting. Police Chief Paul Keenan – who later made the motion to revoke the licenses – said a special board meeting was called because of concerns over public safety.

"This is a public safety issue. We can't allow this to continue down at that establishment. Someone is going to get killed down there – not under my watch," Keenan said.

Political Advertisement

VOTE
HARRIS
FOR COUNCILOR
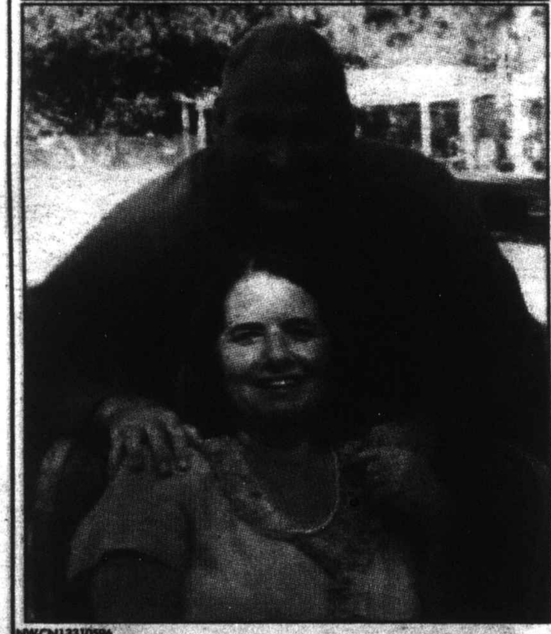
WARD 6



Political Advertisement

Hello, my name is William Harris.

This fall, on Election Day, I would appreciate your consideration and the honor of your vote for Ward 6 Councilor in the city of Quincy.

My wife Carole, who is also my Chairperson, and I will be married 28 years this August. For the last 18 years, we have been blessed to be able to live in Ward 6, in Squantum. That's where we brought up our two beautiful children, Mary and Ted, who were very fortunate to attend Quincy's schools both public and private. Mary and Ted both attended the Squantum School, and Mary graduated from Woodward, while Ted attended Atlantic and graduated from North Quincy High.

We were able to raise our children in a safe and secure environment thanks to all of our hard working public servants in Quincy, which I am absolutely certain helped develop our children into the fine young adults they are today.

If I am elected, I will be committed to support a sound and coordinated approach to spending and the use of our tax dollars to ensure the high quality of life everyone deserves, not only in Ward 6 but throughout all of Quincy.

We have many serious issues that need to be addressed that effect all of us, especially the citizens in Ward 6. From the proposed 2024 Olympic volleyball stadium in Marina Bay, to overseeing responsible real estate development that ensures the quality of life in our neighborhoods, while fighting against congested construction just for the sake of outsiders profits with minimal tax revenue gains.

I will be the voice of Ward 6 in a way that all people are heard, and I will vote on issues the way the people want. I promise I will be a councilor you can approach for answers and solutions to your issues, no matter the size, small or large.

Over the coming months, I will continue to walk the neighborhoods of Ward 6 to meet as many of you folks as I can. I'm looking forward to meeting you, and would really appreciate your support.

Please join us on Tuesday, August 11th, from 6-8:30 p.m. when we kick off our Campaign at the Robert I. Nickerson Post, 20 Moon Island Road Squantum.

Thank You

William "Bill" Harris

Please RSVP at billyh02171@aol.com

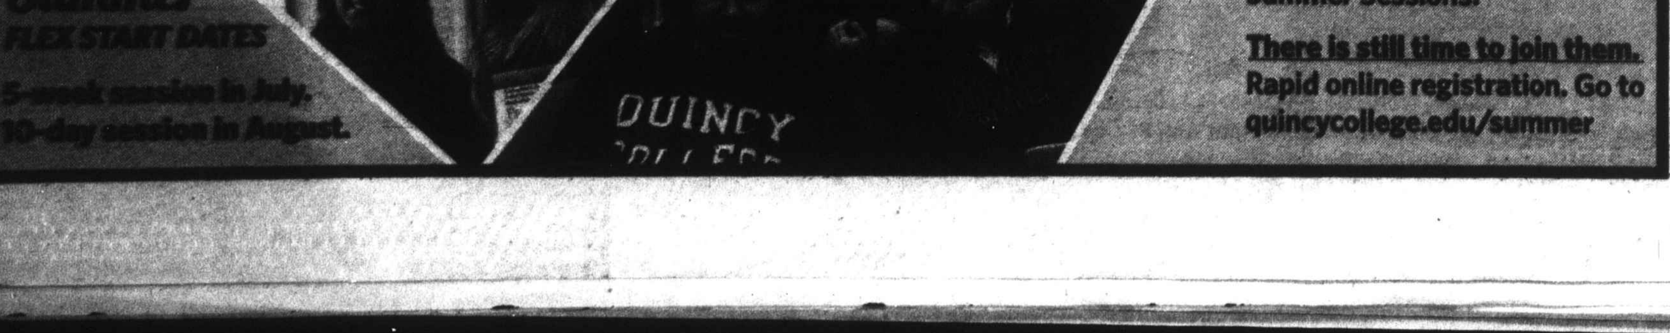
Paid for the committee to elect William Harris

Carole E Harris 74 Ashworth Rd Quincy MA 02171

STUDENTS ARRIVING
FROM OVER 100 UNIVERSITIES

QUINCY COLLEGE
PLYMOUTH, QUINCY & ONLINE

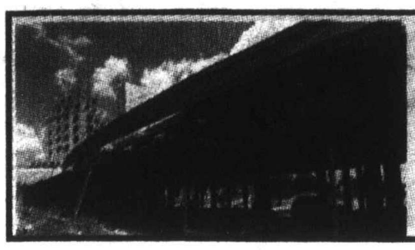
QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU/SUMMER



Summer
FLEX START DATES
5-week session in July.
10-day session in August.

Visiting students from over 100 institutions nationwide choose Quincy College for Summer Sessions.

There is still time to join them.
Rapid online registration. Go to quincycollege.edu/summer



Downtown Project Showing Progress
- Page 3 -

Gov. Baker Joins Quincy Elks
At Scholarship Night - Page 8

CAR-RT LOTC-004
2
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 46 Thursday, August 6, 2015 75¢

AND THEY'RE OFF – Youngsters race in the 50-yard-dash for four-year-olds at the Quincy Track Club's recent Frank Kelly Meet at Faxon Field. The race is a highlight of the annual track meet. Story, other photos on Pages 16, 17, 18 and 19.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

27 File For City Election

• Preliminary Election Sept. 24 For Mayor, Wards 2, 3, 5 Seats

• Contested Races Also For Councillor At-Large, Wards 1 And 6; School Committee

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Twenty-seven residents submitted nomination papers before Tuesday's filing deadline setting up a four-way city-wide preliminary election for mayor Sept. 24 as well as contested races in all but one elected office in the final election Nov. 3.

Headlining the fall ballot will be four candidates seeking the first four-year mayoral term in the city's history.

Incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch, who is seeking a

Cont'd On Page 11

Preliminary Election Now Thurs., Sept. 24

Moved From Sept. 22 Due To Yom Kippur Holiday

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

The City of Quincy Preliminary Election date has been changed to Thursday, Sept. 24 from Tuesday, Sept. 22 to avoid a conflict with the Jewish holiday, Yom Kippur.

"The decision to change to Sept. 24 was made in an effort to protect the rights

Cont'd On Page 13

Finn Wants Council Input On Downtown Agreements

By SCOTT JACKSON

The president of the City Council wants the body to have input on agreements with potential downtown redevelopers, including those who plan to build on privately held land.

Councillor Joseph Finn, who is midway through his second year as the president of the City Council, discussed downtown redevelopment during a recent interview. The council president, first elected to an at-large seat in 2001, also gave his thoughts on the city's snow removal efforts during a historic winter.

Mayor Thomas Koch's new vision for the downtown entails multiple developers each building on their own parcels, as well as on the city-owned Hancock and Ross parking areas; the city would undertake infrastructure projects to encourage new development in the area. One project, West of Chestnut, is already underway on privately-owned land. The mayor unveiled three other projects in April

Cont'd On Page 12

Quincy Marine Next Joint Chiefs Chairman

By SCOTT JACKSON

A Marine Corps general who grew up in Merrymount is set to serve as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff starting in the fall.

The U.S. Senate on July 29 confirmed President Barack Obama's appointment of Gen. Joseph F. Dunford Jr. to the position of chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff by voice vote. Dunford will become only the second Marine to serve as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the highest-ranking military officer in the U.S. Armed Forces and the top military advisor to the president, when his is sworn in.

The swearing-in ceremony is expected to take place Oct. 1. Dunford will replace Army Gen. Martin Dempsey as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs. Dempsey has held that post since 2011 and will be retiring after a 41-year career in the military.

Dunford has served as the commandant of the Marine Corps since October 2014.

Dunford moved to Quincy from Boston at the age of 12. He graduated from the former St. Ann's School in Quincy, Boston College High School and St. Michael's University in Vermont before enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1977.

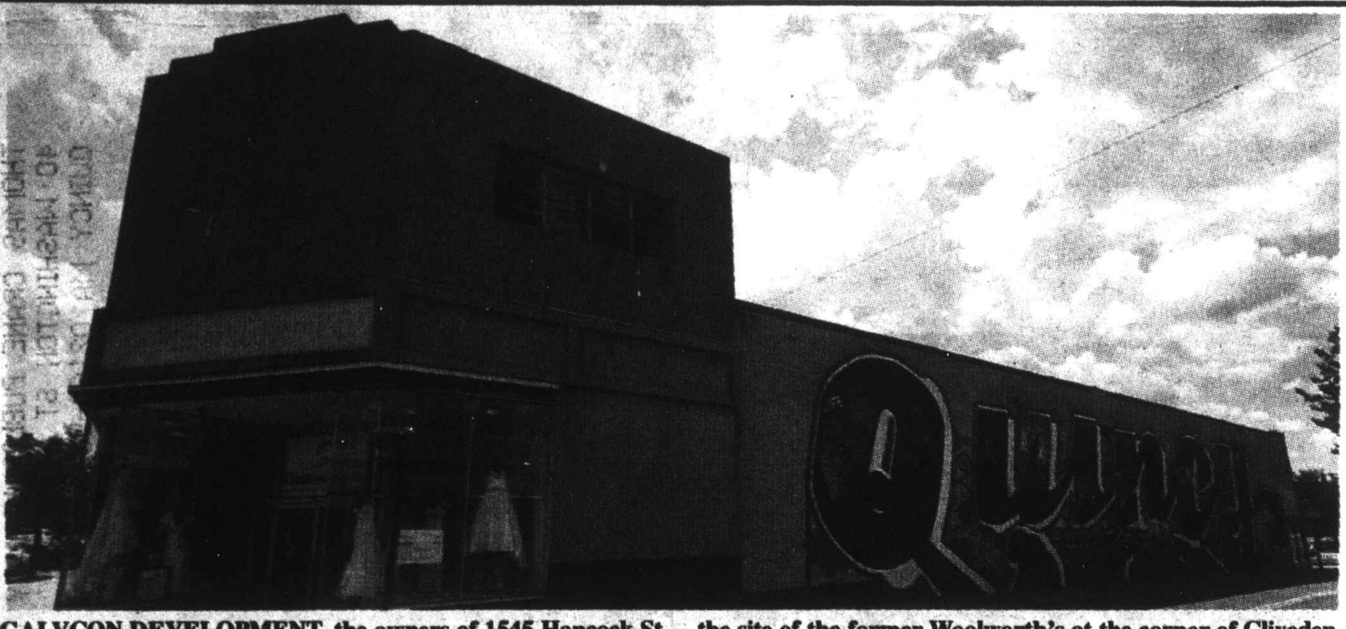
Dunford's parents, Joseph Sr. and Katherine, still reside in Merrymount. Joseph Sr. served in the Marine Corps during the Korean War, rising to the rank of sergeant. He then served in the Boston Police Depart-

Cont'd On Page 9

GEN. JOSEPH DUNFORD

End Of Year Start For Quincy Center Condos - Page 2
Farmers Market Moving To Pageant Field - Page 6
Health Dept. Tip: Don't Get 'Ticked Off' - Page 9

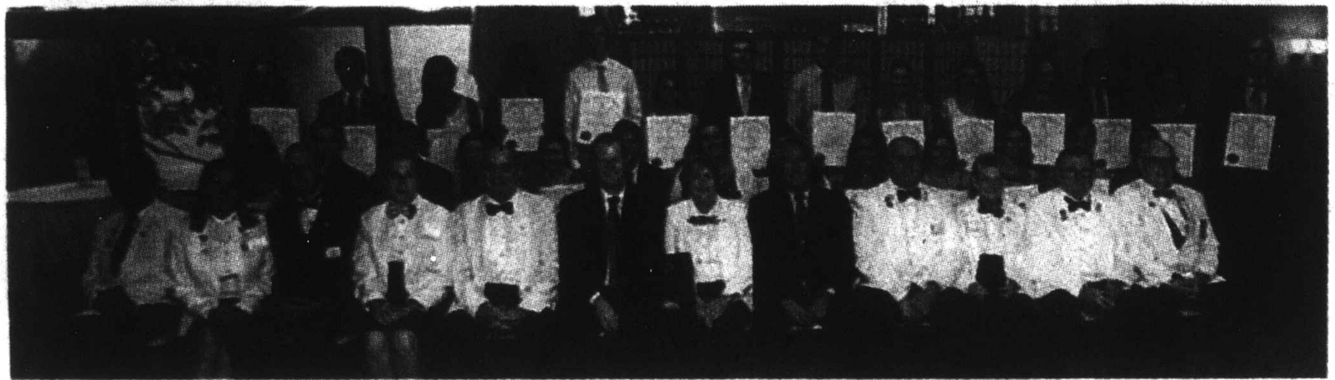
For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com



GALVCON DEVELOPMENT, the owners of 1545 Hancock St. – the site of the former Woolworth's at the corner of Cliveden Street – plan to begin work on two new condominium buildings by the end of the year. The "Quincy" mural on the side of the building helped promote a pop-up art gallery by Discover Quincy. The gallery had its final viewing last Friday night.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Lodge Of Elks Awards Over $20,000 In Scholarships



QUINCY LODGE OF ELKS recently held its annual scholarship night at the Lodge home, Quarry Street, Quincy. Among those present this year was Gov. Charlie Baker. Story, other photos on Page 8. Shown here in this group photo are scholarship recipients with Gov. Baker and members of the Elks. Front row (from left): James Quigg, Board of Directors; Juli Creedon, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; James Drinkwater, Jackie Drinkwater, former Exalted Ruler; James Folk, Board of Directors chairman; Gov. Baker; Maureen Mesheau, Exalted Ruler; State Rep. Bruce Ayers, Scholarship chairman; William Trojano, Esteemed Leading Knight; Maureen Gibbons, Treasurer; Jack Madden, Board of Directors; Martin Blake, Esteemed Loyal Knight. Second row: Li Wen Wong Fang; Michael Finn; Breton Lowry; Molly Mahoney; Samantha Dittrich; Brian Djerf; Eileen O'Connor; Carly Brilliant; Jenna Folk; Olivia Trojano; Isabella Cobble; Krista Laforest; Patrick Verhault. Back row: Olivia McEvoy; Christopher Gorman; Vicky Chan; Payton Coutlis; Joseph McCauley; Jennifer Hong; Cornelius Koch; Steven Marstjepovic; Olivia Johnson; Marissa Pati; Madison Davis; Andrew Johnson; Emily Gilmartin and Jonathan Gallagher. Mindi Sokoloski, MS Photography

End Of Year Start For Condo Project

By SCOTT JACKSON

Galvcon Development hopes to begin work on two new condominium buildings in Quincy Center by the end of the year.

The Quincy-based company, led by brothers Sean and Scott Galvin, unveiled plans in April for Cliveden Place featuring two new condominium buildings at 1545 Hancock St. – the site of a former Woolworth's.

Sean Galvin recently told The Sun the company has finalized its application for a certificate of consistency (COC) and filed for an urban redevelopment covenant; a public hearing on the proposal is likely to take place at the Planning Board's Sept. 9 meeting.

"We just filed our COC application and for our covenant with the city," Galvin said July 30.

Galvin said the retail tenants who lease space in existing buildings on the property have all made arrangements to move elsewhere once the company gets the go-ahead to commence demolition. Over the last seven weeks, Discover Quincy hosted an art gallery on the site. The last day for the gallery was July 31.

The developers hope to begin work by the end of the year; no work on site is anticipated until after the permitting process is completed.

"We would like to be in there this year," Galvin said.

The proposal features two six-story buildings with a total of 56 condominium units – 28 in each of them. The initial plan for the project, as unveiled in April, includes two five-story buildings with 48 units total.

In addition to the 56 condos, the proposal includes The Shoppes At Cliveden – 8,000 square feet of retail and commercial space with a 120-foot-long exterior covered colonnade in the ground level of the building on Hancock Street.

The second building, located on Ross Way, would have 36 parking spaces on its first two levels. A glass atrium facing Ross Way would lead to the residential units. A 22-vehicle car park is planned between the two buildings.

The project is expected to cost $27 million and Galvin said it would take 18 to 24 months to complete construction.

Condos inside the buildings will range in size from two bedrooms, to two bedrooms with a den, to three bedrooms ranging from 1,200 to 1,400 square feet.

Each unit will have ten-foot-high ceilings, eight-foot-tall windows and open space floor plans. Features inside the condos include hardwood floors, stainless steel appliances, in-unit laundry, European cabinetry with contemporary stone countertops and a master en suite with a soaking bath.

The Galvins' proposal was one of three unveiled in April at a City Hall press conference.

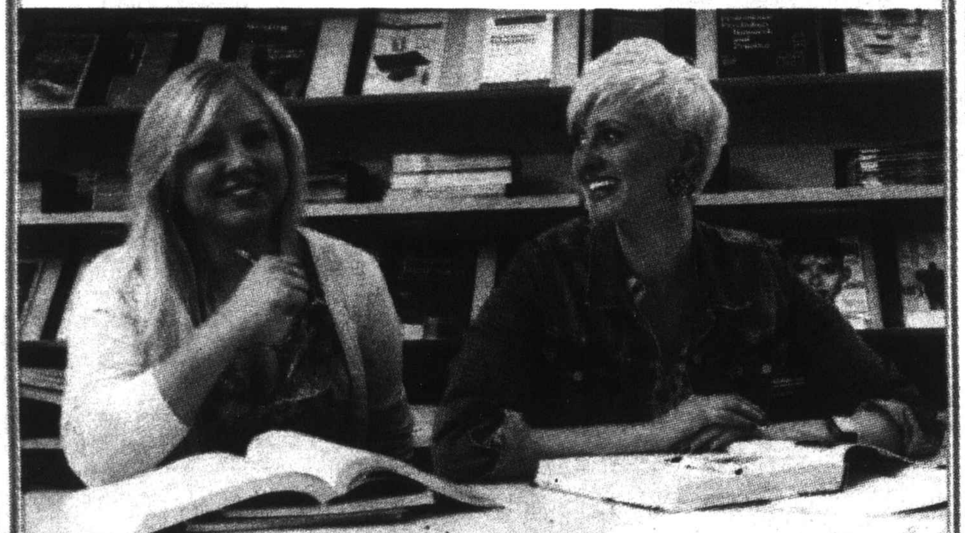
The other projects include a 15-story, 122-unit residential tower proposed by Quincy developer Peter O'Connell for the city-owned Hancock Lot and a 116-room hotel proposed by LBC Boston for the 1500 block of Hancock Street. A portion of the hotel may also be sited on the Hancock Lot.

Candidates Night Aug. 18

The Quincy LGBT community will host a "Meet the Candidates Night" Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Social Center, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

Candidates for mayor, city council and school committee have been invited to participate in the forum.

All are welcome to attend. RSVP to Frank Rubino at frank.rubino543@gmail.com.



SMART PLAN

PRE-FALL PREP @ QUINCY COLLEGE

Summer 2 Flex Classes, 10-Days Long ▪ August 10-21
Learn More & Register summer.quincycollege.edu

PRE-FALL PREP @ QUINCY COLLEGE

Warm up for fall and earn three credits in 10-days. Our most popular courses of the summer are being offered in a focused format this August 10-21 as part of our Summer 2 Flex Semester series.

Pursue a creative interest, tackle your core degree requirements, or continue on a professional pathway.

Your schedule is our schedule. Choose from morning classes, from 9am - 1pm, or evening classes, from 6pm - 10pm on our two convenient campus locations in Quincy & Plymouth. Classes begin August 10.

These courses have been hand-picked for you to seize the summer, and breeze into fall.

@ QUINCY COLLEGE

LOSE THE WAIT. REGISTER ONLINE @ SUMMER.QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU

Center Stage
PERFORMING ARTS STUDIO

507 Furnace Brook Pkwy., Quincy • 617-328-8669
www.centerstagequincy.com • centerstagequincy@comcast.net

C&C Design Studio

OPEN HOUSE DATES:
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 5TH 9AM-3PM
FRIDAY, AUGUST 21ST 4-7PM
SUNDAY, AUGUST 30TH 10-12PM

West Of Chestnut Project Rising In Quincy Center

By SCOTT JACKSON

The $60 million West of Chestnut project – the first private redevelopment project in Quincy Center, featuring two new buildings with a combined 169 apartments and 12,000 square feet of ground floor retail and commercial space – remains on pace for completion by the end of next July.

Work on West of Chestnut, a joint venture between Gate Residential Properties and the Quincy Mutual Group, began in April. It is being constructed in the 1400 block of Hancock Street, adjacent to the Granite Trust Building. The project got off to a good start, according to Gate Residential Principal Kyle Warwick; the buildings are on pace for openings in April and July of next year, as originally planned.

"Everything is going well. We've made a lot of progress," Warwick said in a phone interview. "We've done some good work on site."

Once completed, both buildings will stand six stories tall – five wood-framed floors atop a concrete and steel ground base at ground level. The steel structure for the building on Hancock Street, which will include 64 apartments once completed, was installed in recent weeks, as was the building's elevator shaft, which stands prominently over the site.

"The steel for the podium is up for the Hancock Street building. There was a lot of site work completed before that," Warwick said. "You will start to see it rise out of the ground."

The next step, Warwick explained, is the pouring of concrete, which will act as a base for the five upper floors of the building. Installation of the wood frames for those floors will begin this month.

"The first deck pour will begin [this] week," Warwick said. "The framing will start in August."

When the West of Chestnut project received approval from the Planning Board in March, Warwick said the goal was to have the Hancock Street building open by April 2016. Five months later, the project remains on pace to meet that goal.

STEEL BEAMS on the Hancock Street side of the $60 million West of Chestnut project show the progress being made with the first private redevelopment building in Quincy Center. Construction is on pace to be completed by the end of next July. Visible in the background is the Granite Trust Building located at 1400 Hancock St. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

"Everything is on target for that building," Warwick said. "It is on pace for opening in April of next year.

The second building – the larger of two – is being built on the corner of Chestnut Street and Cottage Avenue. Once completed, it will include 105 apartments and a below grade parking structure with room for 75 vehicles.

Workers had to excavate the ground to make way for the new foundation. That foundation, Warwick explained, is nearly complete; work on a section of the foundation had to wait until an electrical transformer was removed.

Once the foundation is poured, steel framing for the podium will be installed. The steel work will begin this month, Warwick said, and the second building remains on pace for completion in July 2016 as originally planned.

Dellbrook Construction, the project's general contractor, has a website with updates on construction. The site – westofchestnut.blogspot.com – is updated on a weekly basis.

The 169 apartments in the two buildings will range in size from studio to two bedrooms, and rents will be comparable with those of

Cont'd On Page 15

Hough Many Scoops

1094 Sea Street • Houghs Neck
617-302-3961
Open daily 11am to 10pm

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

TAKE FLIGHT

If you have ever dreamt of flying, know that jewelry designers share in your fantasy. One of the more popular trends in jewelry today involves fairytale pieces that seem to take flight. Birds, butterflies, dragonflies, and fairies are among the curious creatures whose forms are captured in vibrant colored gemstones, precious metals, and enamel. In pieces ranging from rings and pendants to cuffs and brooches, these designs show the whimsical side of fine jewelry. The gemstone renderings of fantastic creatures are as well suited with evening wear as they are with casual occasions. The feeling of motion that these winged pieces generate is sure to inspire a sense of playfulness in all who behold them.

If you're looking for a lovely selection of earrings, gemstones, wedding bands, engagement rings, pendants, and watches, you will find it at our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store, and we accept custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. We also pay top dollar for old unwanted or broken jewelry. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry www.rogersjewelry.com

Your mortgage and debts paid in full in the next 15 years...

It can happen!

imagine

If it's part of your plan to pay off your mortgage, credit cards and home equity loan before you retire, the 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank lets you make it happen. It's also perfect for homeowners who want to borrow against their equity but don't want an adjustable credit line or new 30-year loan. And it may be for you if you have 15+ years left on a mortgage that you'd like to pay off more quickly at a much lower rate. Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. (Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.)

15-YEAR FIXED
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR
NO POINTS!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 07/22/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL.

• On Aug. 18, 1590, John White, the governor of the Roanoke Island colony in present-day North Carolina, returns from a trip to England to find the settlement deserted. No trace of the 100 colonists has ever been found.

• On Aug. 23, 1784, four counties in North Carolina declare their independence as the state of Franklin. In defiance of Congress, Franklin survived as an independent nation for four years with its own constitution, Indian treaties and legislated system of barter.

• On Aug. 22, 1950, the United States Lawn Tennis Association accepts Althea Gibson into its annual championship at Forest Hills, New York, making her the first black player to compete in a U.S. national tennis competition.

• On Aug. 19, 1960, in the Soviet Union, downed U.S. reconnaissance aircraft pilot Francis Gary Powers is sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for espionage. Eighteen months later, the Soviets agreed to exchange him for a KGB spy.

• On Aug. 17, 1978, the Double Eagle II completes the first trans-Atlantic balloon flight when it lands near Paris, six days after lifting off from Presque Isle, Maine. The helium-filled balloon covered 3,233 miles.

• On Aug. 20, 1989, Lyle and Erik Menendez shoot their parents to death in family's California home. Although the brothers were not immediately suspected, Erik confessed his involvement to his psychotherapist, who taped the sessions to impress his mistress, who ended up going to the police. Lyle, 22, and Erik, 19, were arrested.

• On Aug. 21, 1991, just three days after it began, a coup against Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev collapses. The Soviet Union would soon cease to exist as a nation and as a Cold War threat to the United States. Gorbachev resigned as leader of the Soviet Union in December 1991.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

General Wellness For Seniors At Kennedy Center

Dr. Gabrielle Freedman, of Family Chiropractic in Quincy, will be at the Kennedy Center, on Tuesday, Aug. 11 at 10:30 a.m., for a presentation on General Wellness for Seniors.

The presentation will include topics such as nutrition and the effects of sugar, exercise, how stress can affect your health and proper sleeping techniques.

Registration is required for this presentation as space is limited. To register, call the Quincy Council on Aging at (617) 376-1506.

Parkinson's Support Group

The Quincy Parkinson's Support Group will meet Wednesday, Aug. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave., Quincy.

Topics of discussion include symptoms, treatments, and co-morbidity as well as future guests and activities.

For more information call 617-770-2090.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Sept. 24th Preliminary Right Move

Quincy's decision to change the date of the fall preliminary election from Tuesday, Sept. 22 to Sept,. 24 was the right call.

Because of a state law that was enacted last month, the Secretary of State's office last week directed Quincy and 15 other communities to change the date of their preliminary election that was scheduled for Sept. 22. This year, Sept. 22 is the start of Yom Kippur – the holiest day of the Jewish calendar.

The new law mandates that if the day fixed by a city or town for holding a preliminary or primary election falls on a religious holiday and impairs the rights of voters as determined by the state secretary, the city or town shall change the date of the election as to protect the rights of voters.

That's a good law and the city was correct to follow the mandate and move the preliminary election two days to Thursday, Sept. 24. While some Jewish folks have said they could still vote during the day on Sept. 22 before Yom Kippur begins at sundown that evening, there are others who may not have had that opportunity. Like those who have to work during the day. And at sundown – when their work day is over – go home to observe Yom Kippur and thus bypass the voting booth for religious reasons.

We are aware that some, including candidates, are not happy with the decision. One school of thought mentioned is the date change favors an incumbent. Can't seem to follow that logic. Everyone still has the same amount of time to campaign and if anything, the change could favor challengers who have two more days or organize campaign workers to get their vote on election day.

The polls on Thursday, Sept. 24 will still be open in the same locations and the same hours had the election been held Sept. 22. Polling precincts are not changing and the polls will still be open for 13 hours - from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

We do realize that the date change is an inconvenience for some preliminary election candidates who have printed up campaign literature reminding voters to get to the polls on Tuesday, Sept. 22. But there will be plenty of reminders about the election date being Thursday, Sept. 24, including the issues of The Quincy Sun leading up to the preliminary election.

And in that rare case that someone shows up to vote on Tuesday, Sept. 22 – they will be reminded and see signage that the election is actually two days away – on Thursday, Sept. 24. They will not miss that chance to vote.

There are also some who think changing the date two months before the preliminary election disenfranchises voters.

Seriously?

I think there are a whole host of other reasons why folks don't bother going to the polls anymore. Voter turnout in city elections – even with a contested mayor's race – has declined during the last few decades.

I don't think having the election on Tuesday, Thursday or even a Saturday really impacts turnout.

It's the voters' belief that casting a ballot will elect public officials who follow through on campaign promises and will improve the quality of life in Quincy as well as address issues head-on.

Could the city have selected another Tuesday in September for the preliminary election?

Not a viable option this year.

Tuesday, Sept. 8 is the day after Labor Day – the final long holiday weekend of the summer. You want to really disenfranchise voters? Tell them they have to vote the day after Labor Day – when kids are getting ready to resume school while the rest of us are shaking out the cobwebs from a holiday weekend.

Tuesday, Sept. 15 would not have worked, either, because of another Jewish holiday. Rosh Hashanah begins Sunday, Sept. 13 and ends the evening of Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Having an election on a Thursday – while rare – has happened before. Quincy joined voters across the state for a state primary Thursday, Sept. 6, 2012. The date was moved from a Tuesday because of Rosh Hashanah.

In the end, this change impacts four races. There will be a city-wide preliminary election for the mayor's seat plus council races in Wards 2, 3 and 5.

And the date change only triggers two minor adjustments in the political calendar:

• The last day to apply for an absentee ballot for the preliminary election is now Wednesday, Sept. 23 at noon.

• Last day to register to vote for the preliminary election is now Friday, Sept. 4 at 8 p.m.

And, in case you didn't know already, the final election is Tuesday, Nov. 3. That date is set in stone.

❑

A FAMILIAR FACE from Quincy's political past is now making a name for himself in elected office on Cape Cod.

NICASTRO

Dean Nicastro, who served as Quincy city solicitor under former Mayor Frank McCauley from 1983 to 1985, was recently elected to a three-year term on the Town of Chatham Board of Selectman.

It was Nicastro's first try for elective office in Chatham. He previously served as vice chairman of the town's Finance Committee, an appointed post.

Nicastro says McCauley has been most interested and very encouraging of his new political career and credits the former mayor with offering some very wise counsel from his wealth of experience. Frank, most political observers know, is the only Quincy resident to be elected to all four municipal elected offices: mayor, school committee, councillor at-large and ward councillor.

Nicastro's political roots run deep in Quincy. Before serving as city solicitor, he was an assistant solicitor in 1982. He also served several years on the Quincy Planning Board (appointed by McCauley.) You might say he was bitten by the political bug serving as a summer assistant to former Mayor James McIntyre.

His first attempt for public office was in 1971 when he finished sixth in a school committee preliminary election. Not bad considering there were 23 candidates on the ballot.

Nicastro is a retired attorney who has lived in Chatham since 1993. He says he keeps in touch with his Quincy roots and recently visited the city to donate a picture of his late father, Dr. Joseph S. Nicastro, to Quincy College. The portrait hangs in the Nicastro Learning Center named for him in 2005.

Congratulations on your election win, Dean.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

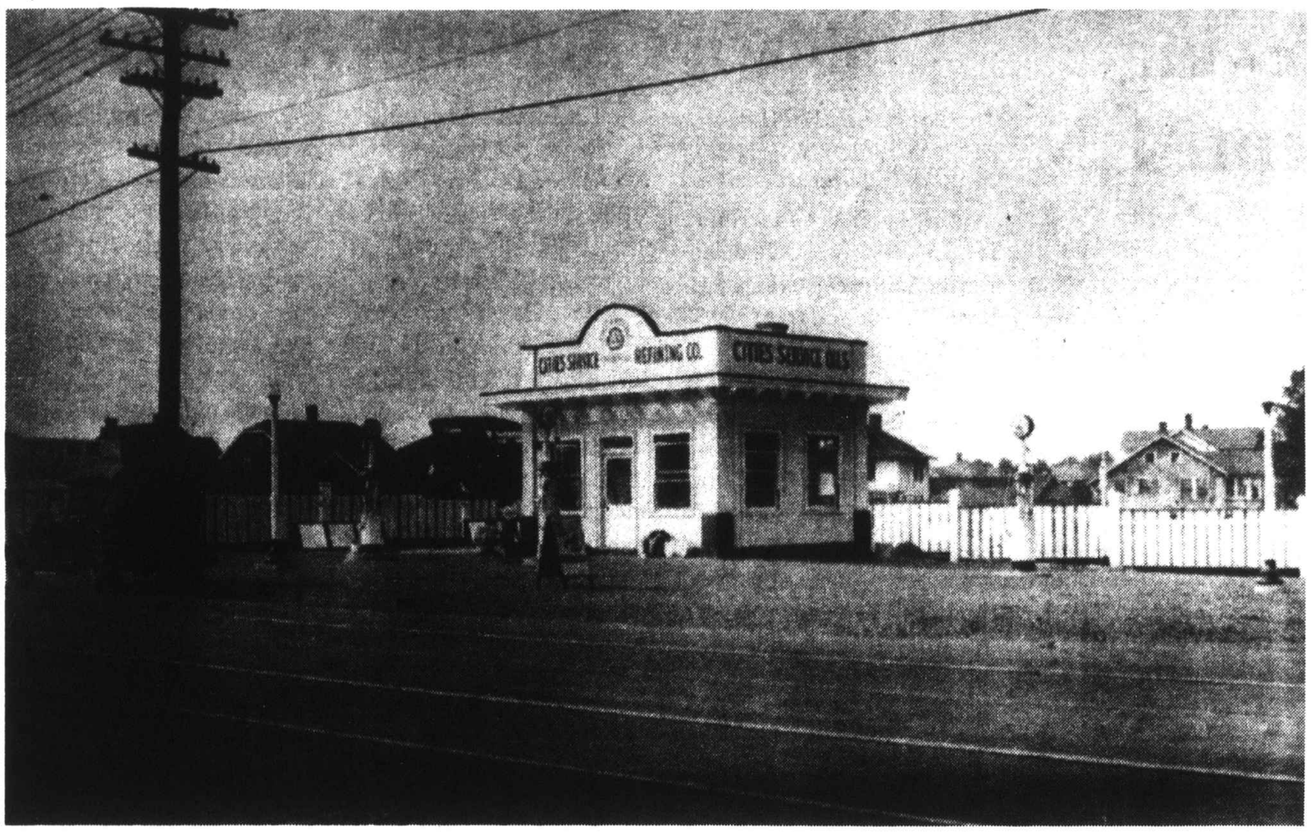
For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-781-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

Blood Drive At Marriott Today

A community blood drive will be held today (Thursday) from noon to 6 p.m. at the Boston Marriott Quincy, 1000 Marriott Dr., Quincy.

To donate blood, call 1-800-733-2767 or visit redcrossblood.org.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1927 real photo postcard view of the Cities Service Refining Company's filling station at 614 Hancock St. on the corner of Willet Street in Wollaston. The house on the right is on the corner of Willet and Earle Streets. The rooftops on the left are houses on Ferndale Road. Notice the Ford Model T on the outdoor lift just to the left of the building. At the time gasoline cost about 14 cents per gallon and Ford claimed the Model T got 25 miles per gallon. However most drivers reported they only got 10-12 miles per gallon. Nothing beyond the white fence shown here is visible today as trees surround the building on this corner which is now Donovan Bros. Automotive Repair garage. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

READERS FORUM

One House Bill For Every Man, Woman And Child

It is rare that one Bill being introduced for passage will benefit every man, woman, and child in the Commonwealth. House Bill 2032 will do exactly that. It will help to safeguard the health and well being of all residents here in Massachusetts.

This Bill has been presented by Rep. Sarah K. Peake, 4th Barnstable District, and is sponsored by 10 senators and representatives from around the state including Sen. John Keenan and Rep. Bruce Ayers. Its purpose is to provide "for an investigation and study by a special commission (including members of the General Court) to study the health impacts from wind turbines to protect the health of the citizens of the Commonwealth."

The public hearing for the Bill was held at the State House before the Joint Committee on Public Health July 28. There were 15 persons present in support of the passage of Bill 2032; there will be written testimony from those who were unable to attend on such short notice; the Hearing information was not available until July 21. There was one person, who is an employee of one of the turbine developers, who spoke in opposition. The persons in attendance supporting the Bill travelled from the Berkshires, Central Mass, The Cape, Falmouth, Scituate, Fairhaven and Quincy to speak in favor of its passage. Many of the victims spoke of debilitating illness that has occurred since the industrial wind turbine(s) were erected, others came as victims' advocates. Others spoke in support because they felt that answers were necessary before the industrial wind turbine agenda moved forward.

If anyone felt for a moment that anyone in their family might fall victim to the health problems and symptoms presently being experienced by those living "near" improperly located industrial wind turbines, they would certainly want to know that an unbiased, independent health investigation was done and there was no health risk to their family living near one. "Near" has yet to be determined and this Bill would enable resolution of the problem. The often referred to and so-called, "DEP/DPH Health Study of 2012" was not unbiased or independent, nor was it a health investigation. Not one of the, then known, victims was interviewed by the "panel." It has been recognized as a flawed "study" because of methodology used, the pre-study pro-wind energy bias of several of the study participants and conclusions arrived at. Since 2012, there have been many breakthroughs including dozens of peer-reviewed published scientific studies which support the risk of health problems from improperly located industrial wind turbines.

One gentleman who attended the hearing is from Scituate and lives over 3,000 feet from an offending industrial turbine. There were several people from Falmouth who have been forced into law suits to be heard and still, today, there is no resolution to this life altering situation; others have abandoned or sold homes. In the Town of Kingston there have been proven noise exceedences and, yet, the Kingston Board of Health, the enforcing authority, and the Massachusetts DEP who writes the standards regulations refuses to take action to shut down the offending machines or limit the operations of the machines to human friendly hours (the suggestion has been from 12 a.m. to 4 a.m. which are not reflective of the average child or adult sleeping habits). Sleep deprivation has been a big issue. This is one reason why it is so important for cities and towns to take the proper steps and enact proper bylaws before an industrial wind turbine project is proposed, after it's too late.

The Town of Plymouth is planning a 4-turbine wind farm on the Mann cranberry "farm;" the project is owned by ConEd. Given the suggested safe distances from an industrial wind turbine 1.25 miles (minimally), the

Cont'd On Page 10

SUBSCRIPTION FORM
FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO
The Quincy Sun
Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968
1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169
NAME ______
STREET ______
CITY ______ STATE ______ ZIP ______
CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN
[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1990
25 Years Ago

Falco, Mullen Face 'Intensive Interviewing' For Police Chief's Job

With the retirement of former Police Chief Francis X. Finn approved by the State Retirement and Pension Boards, Mayor James A. Sheets said that he will begin "intensive interviewing" with the two candidates to succeed Finn next week.

Sheets said he plans to meet with Sgt. William Falco and Lt. Francis Mullen for two hours each next week.

If all goes according to plan, Sheets said he will name the new chief by Sept. 1 Falco was the top scorer in a Civil Service examination while Mullen finished second.

(Editor's note: Mayor Sheets chose Lt. Mullen to fill the chief's job. Sgt. Falco, who went on to become a police captain, was later appointed chief by Mayor William Phelan.)

REHIRING UNLIKELY, MORE LAYOFFS LOOM

With the city slated to lose $1.5 million in local aid this fiscal year, Mayor Sheets said it is unlikely 47 laid-off workers will be rehired this year and it is possible that more employees will be cut from the payroll next year.

The state legislature voted to reduce local aid by four percent to balance the state budget. With the governor expected to approve the measure, Quincy's local aid will drop from $35,535,759 to $34,100,000.

Sheets called the legislature's action "the worst news of my administration" because it's really the first time the legislature has itself cut local aid.

QUINCYISMS

Previte's Market, 72 Sumner St., Quincy Point, was offering, "at a low, low price, Boneless Chicken Breasts for $1.79 a pound"… The State Legislature approved a bill changing the name of Quincy Junior College to Quincy College… The Quincy Sun's Sunbeams column asked the question "Do you like Leo Kelly's moustache? Think he looks better with it than without it? Should he keep it or shave it? Tell Leo when you see him"… Nancy Barrett, daughter of Chris and Doreen Barrett of Quincy was named to the President's List at Framingham State College. To qualify for the President's List a student must receive a 3.25 grade point average for each of three consecutive semesters… Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schofield were honored at a 50th wedding anniversary celebration at their home, given by their five children. Mr. and Mrs. Schofield (the former Geraldine Mann) were married July 16, 1940 at the Blessed Sacrament Church Rectory in Houghs Neck… Linda J. Robinson of Quincy graduated from Eastern Nazarene College, Cum Laude, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Accounting… Peggy Demers was installed as the 1990-1991 president of the Quincy Legion Post 95 Auxiliary. The installation was conducted by Norfolk County officers… The Committee to Elect Paul Van Schaick State Senator was planning a fundraising cruise Aug. 11, donation $35… Four Quincy residents received second honors at Don Bosco Technical High School. They are Thomas Leonard, Christopher Mazzini, Brian Jeanette and Thomas Piotrowski… Jane A. Sparks of Quincy received her associate degree with highest honors from Middlesex Community College… President Pharmacy, 152 Franklin St., South Quincy, was offering "All Greeting Cards, 50% Off (Year Round)… Richard Armstrong, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Armstrong, Sr., received a bachelor degree from Brandeis University. He plans to attend law school… Michele Del Vecchio, daughter of Leo and Marilyn Del Vecchio of Quincy, recently received a Bachelor of Science degree, majoring in physical therapy. Miss Del Vecchio graduated cum laude… William Geary, former MDC Commissioner, received a special recognition plaque for his efforts to establish an esplanade along Dorchester's shoreline… William Esselstyn of Quincy, was named the outstanding senior in accounting by Eastern Nazarene College during the college's annual Honors Chapel… Erin Kinnally of North Quincy High School, was named first place winner in the Fleet Reserve Association Essay Contest "What Freedom of Speech means to Me"… Bruce Ayers of North Quincy, was licensed as a Community Access Monitor by the State Office of Handicapped Affairs. He is responsible for enforcing federal and state laws, which prohibit discrimination against handicapped persons… Peter M. McElory was promoted to an elected member with the firm of Cosgrove, Eisenberg and Kiley, P.C. McElory was a former associate with the firm.

Arts & Entertainment

Farmers Market Moving To Pageant Field Sept. 4

On Sept. 4, the Quincy Farmers Market is moving to Pageant Field.

A full day of activities will mark the first day of the "Market-in-the-Park" - perfect day for a picnic.

A Bike-to-Market Day will launch the move.

Quincycles is organizing rides to the market which leave from three different neighborhoods of the city. For details check www.quincyfarmersmarket.com in the coming weeks.

Bicycle inspections and basic maintenance skills will be offered by Quincy's Mike Fink a.k.a. "Boston Bike Guy" – a bicycle mechanic shop founded as a mobile bike shop at the Farmers Market. There will also be BMX Bike stunt riding demonstration.

Live music will be organized by Mike Delaney and the Roslindale Open Mic musicians. Children's activities such as weaving and story telling will make for a nice day.

In 1982 the market was founded as a downtown event, located in the John Hancock Municipal Parking Lot. In anticipation of construction on the site the market must move.

The Quincy Parks Department invited the market to establish a new location in the city's park at 1 Merrymount Parkway. The market will continue at Pageant Field every Friday until Nov. 20. If all goes well it will open at Pageant for the 2016 season.

"We're both excited and nervous about the move," Market Manager Janet Little said. "We love the new location. It is much more scenic.

"There are more amenities – bathrooms, picnic tables, electricity, barbecue grills, open grass fields, bike paths, and the water. We are very thankful to the Parks Department for offering to work with us to make it happen. But moving a market is one of the riskiest things a market can do.

"It will be up to the community to embrace the move and help us create a new market experience there. There are tremendous opportunities afforded by the park. We invite members of the community to volunteer to organize activities which take advantage of a 'Market-in-the-Park.'

"Pageant Field is really beautiful and a country-like setting within the city," Little said. "I am really looking forward to what we can do at this new location."

Chris Cassani, Executive Director of the Park and Forestry Department, said: "We are looking forward to having the market inside of Merrymount Park. It will add another enjoyable dimension to the visitor's experience at Pageant Field. We think it's a great fit, and it's been a pleasure to work with Janet and Kevin on this new endeavor."

If you would like to volunteer to work with the market on children's activities and other recreational experiences at Pageant Field for the 2016 season, or have any other questions, contact the Market Manager Janet Little at (339) 225-2607.

Look for information at www.quincyfarmersmarket.com where you can also sign up for a weekly newsletter, and see daily updates at www.facebook.com/quincyfarmersmarket .

Healthy Eating Topic At Kennedy Center

The Quincy Weymouth Wellness Initiative invites families (ages 18 and older) to attend a Healthy Eating Class on Wednesdays beginning Aug. 12.

Classes will take place Wednesdays for 12 weeks from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy

The free program provides tips for nutrition and lifestyle changes to promote better health and successful weight management.

There will be a weigh in session followed by discussion with Ruth Jones BSN, RN, BC, CP-FS, Public Health Nurse of the Quincy Health Department. Healthy snacks will be served at each meeting.

Register by calling the Kennedy Center at 617-376-1506.

GENNARO'S EATERY
Bundle Meals $35.99
Take-Out Only • Feeds 4-5
Pick One Entree
Chicken, Ziti & Broccoli
Chicken Marsala
Chicken Saltimbocca
Chicken Cacciatore
Chicken Parmigiana
Chicken Piccata
Chicken Gennaro
Pick One Pasta
Penne or Linguini
Pick One Salad
Garden or Caesar
Includes
Loaf of Bread
Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials 617-499-6929
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

Children's Activities At Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane Public Library

The Thomas Crane Public Library has scheduled for the following events and activities for children.

Superheroes, super villains and reptiles this week at the library

Create a superhero costume for your favorite stuffed animal or doll, discuss a book about a school for super villains and meet reptiles this week. Programs are offered for children of all ages stop by, borrow some books and join us for a program. Details available at thomascranelibrary.org.

Storytelling at the Farmers Market

Join us Friday, Aug. 7th at noon at the Farmers' Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

❑

Art-to-go a nine-week series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy. Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch.

Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft. The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays. Craft for the week of Aug. 10 – Superhero Capes.

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy

On Monday, Aug. 10th at 2 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch join us for a showing of Disney's Hercules.

After Zeus fights and sends the Titans to the underworld, he becomes the ruler of Mount Olympus, home of all Greek gods.

Hades is sent to rule the underworld, but he makes plans to throw Zeus out of Mount Olympus with the Titans' help. The three Fates warn him that his plans would be endangered if Hercules, Zeus' newborn child, is still around by the time he tries to take over Mount Olympus.

Hades sends Pain and Panic to turn Hercules into a mortal and kill him, but they fail in their attempt and leave him on earth with his divine strength to be raised as a human. Hercules grows up but later learns he is the son of gods, and in order to return to Mt. Olympus he must turn into a "true hero."

This movie is rated G and runs for 90 minutes.

❑

Stuffed Animal Superheroes

Children ages 2 and older, accompanied by an adult are invited to stop by the main library children's room anytime between 10 a.m. and noon on Tuesday, Aug. 11th to create a superhero costume for a stuffed animal, doll or other toy. Bring along your favorite toy and turn them into a superhero.

❑

Book Discussion— H.I.V.E.

On Tuesday, Aug. 11th at 7 p.m. in Main Library Children's Room children entering grades 5 through 8 are invited to join us for a super villain book discussion.

Otto Malpense may only be thirteen years old, but so far he has managed to run the orphanage where he lives, and he has come up with a plan clever enough to trick the most powerful man in the country. He is the perfect candidate to become the world's next supervillain.

That is why he ends up at H.I.V.E. the Higher Institute of Villainous Education, handpicked to become a member of the incoming class. And, as master of mischief Otto soon discovers, here the slickest of young tricksters, thieves, and hackers have been brought against their will to be trained as the next generation of supervillains.

Otto and his friends refuse to be held prisoner at the institution and develop a scheme to escape, but they must defeat the all-seeing computer system, a seemingly undefeatable assassin in black, and a giant carnivorous plant to succeed.

Copies of the book, H.I.V.E. Higher Institute of Villainous Education by Mark Walden are available for pick up in the Children's Room.

❑

Superhero Cookies

On Wednesday, Aug. 12th at 10 a.m. in the Main Library Large Meeting Room children ages 7 and older are invited to join Miss Lori for a super sweet morning decorating superhero cookies. In order to make sure there are enough cookies for everyone registration is required.

Register online, in person or call the Children's Room at 617-376-2411.

Pajama Storytime with Denise Shaver

On Wednesday, Aug. 12th at 6:30 p.m. in the Main Library Large Meeting Room storyteller Denise Shaver presents a pajama storytimes designed especially for children ages 2-5 and their parents. Join Miss Denise for stories rhymes and songs.

Reptile Show @ Wollaston

On Thursday, Aug. 13th at 10 a.m. at the Wollaston Branch Library join us to meet some reptiles up close.

Reptiles are one of the most misunderstood and feared groups in the animal kingdom. Learn about the natural history, biology, adaptations, habitats, and more when you meet live amphibians, snakes, lizards, turtles, tortoises, and crocodilians.

This program is suitable for children ages 3 and older accompanied by an adult.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8
Thursday, August 6
6:00pm: QRD: Dance Clinic
7:00pm: Access Quincy Computer Journal
Friday, August 7
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
Saturday, August 8
12:00pm: Faces of South Asia
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers
Sunday, August 9
10:30am: Terra Santa News
6:00pm: Your Federal Government
Monday, August 10
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
5:30pm: Real Estate Focus
Tuesday, August 11
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming
Wednesday, August 12
9:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11
Thursday, August 6
7:00pm: Quincy Senior Olympics Highlights
8:30pm: At Your Library: August Happenings
Friday, August 7
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: License Board 8/5
Saturday/Sunday, August 8/9
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
11:00am: At Your Library: August Happenings
3:00pm: At the Library: Mouli Pal
4:00pm: License Board 8/5
8:00pm: QRD: Television Production Workshop
11:00pm: License Board 8/5
Monday, August 10
6:00pm: Crime Watch: 911/Pedestrian Safety
8:00pm: Flag Day Parade & Ceremonies
Tuesday, August 11
6:00pm: Health Links: Child Safety
8:00pm: Chamber of Commerce Breakfast
Wednesday, August 12
6:30pm: FYI:QHD Enlarged Heart
7:00pm: QRD: Television Production Workshop

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Social

Quincy August Moon Festival Aug. 16

The 28th Annual Quincy August Moon Festival will be held Sunday, Aug. 16 in the area of the 1400 Hancock Street block in Quincy Center.

Hosted by Quincy Asian Resources Inc. (QARI), the festival will open with a traditional Lion Dance at 11 a.m., followed by hours of live entertainment, amusements, food vendors, fun activities and information for people of all backgrounds and cultures to enjoy. Admission is free.

The festival is part of the global celebration honoring the moon goddess and celebrating a new harvest during the time when the moon is the brightest.

This year's festival features two stages that will hold cultural performances by local artists throughout the day. Activities include a watermelon eating contest, a dunk tank, amusement rides and pony rides.

In addition, the South Shore YMCA will host a children's area featuring games and face painting. There will also be a food court featuring food and beverage vendors as well as food trucks serving varied dishes. Exhibits from local businesses and organizations will also be in the area.

In the event of bad weather, the event may be rescheduled for Sunday, Aug. 23. Information is available at www.quincyasianresources.org.

A New Home For The Quincy ArtsFest

By KAREN GIOVANNIELLO
President
Quincy Art Associaton

The Quincy Art Association has news for you!

After many successful years of hosting the annual Quincy ArtsFest at Merrymount Parkway, we've been given the opportunity to move the ArtsFest across Vietnam Veterans Drive to Adams Field.

We're all very excited about the new home for the ArtsFest and we hope you'll share in the excitement. We've already had offers to paint a mural on the scoreboard. Not to be concerned, Dumbo and Jumbo will keep an eye out for would be artists.

A note to all our Little League fans, your field will be left in tip top condition for next Spring, in spite of the elephants. We've had many fun and successful years at Merrymount hosting the most popular family event on the South Shore. For all our friends that do not enjoy change, we'll be OK, as long as we still have donuts from Donut King.

We're thrilled and we hope our visitors are equally happy with our new space. We have great plans for the new home of the ArtsFest and look forward to sharing them with you.

We have many fond memories of the 10 plus years the ArtsFest was hosted at Merrymount, but now it's time for the ArtsFest to turn a page. Join us at the ArtsFest as we kick off a new beginning for the visual arts in Quincy.

With more space, we'll be able to accommodate our growing needs. We've wanted to expand our exhibit area, but were unable to do so because of limited space. Now we'll have plenty of room for exhibits and have more room for our crafters. I'm sure they'll be very happy. Who knows, we may just invite more crafters to join us. Has anyone seen the Bag Ladies?

Speaking of Adams field, how would you like to spend an evening under the stars listening to the Quincy Symphony? Well shake out your blankets and find your picnic basket in anticipation of evening entertainment at the ArtsFest.

Plans are in progress and we're waiting for final approval. We're planning other activities and events, but we want to save some surprises for our visitors.

We're quite excited about our big move and we look forward to many great years at Adams Field. Join us in celebrating the new home for the annual Quincy ArtsFest.

Kayla Themmen-Adams Graduates Westfield State

Kayla Themmen-Adams of Wollaston recently graduated from Westfield State University with a Bachelor of Arts in commuication, and a concentration in communication and culture.

Themmen-Adams also received academic honors at Westfield by making the University's Dean's List for the spring semester.

KAYLA THEMMEN-ADAMS

Dr. Mallika Marshall To Host Quincy Nonprofit's Heroes In Health Care Gala

Dr. Mallika Marshall will help Visiting Nurse Association of Boston celebrate 10 years of Heroes in HealthCare as mistress of ceremonies for the nonprofit's annual gala on Saturday, Nov. 14. Photo Courtesy VNA of Boston

WBZ-TV News Medical Reporter Dr. Mallika Marshall will help Visiting Nurse Association of Boston celebrate 10 years of Heroes in HealthCare as mistress of ceremonies for the nonprofit's annual gala on Saturday, Nov. 14, at 6 p.m. in the Mandarin Oriental Hotel, 776 Boylston St., Boston.

The Heroes in Health Care Gala celebrates individuals who have made profound and sustained contributions to the health and wellbeing of the citizens in our community. This year's honorees are Dr. Edward Benz Jr., president and CEO of Dana-Farber Cancer Institute; Larry Jasinski, CEO of ReWalk Robotics; and Mark Levin, Kevin Starr and Dr. Robert Tepper, co-Founders of Third Rock Ventures. The event has raised $2 million in essential funding for VNA of Boston's direct patient care and support for vulnerable, underserved populations through the nonprofit's Maternal Child Health Program andCharitable Care Fund.

VNA of Boston, established in 1886, is the oldest organized visiting nurse association in the United States. The agency has an office at 300 Crown Colony Dr., Quincy, and serves residents of Greater Boston.

"As a practicing physician at the MGH Chelsea Health Center, I have a lot of experience working with home health care, and I had the opportunity to see what these incredible (VNA of Boston) clinicians do up close and personal. Their work is nothing short of incredible," Dr. Marshall shared with the crowd gathered at last year's event.

Dr. Marshall is board-certified in both internal medicine and pediatrics. In addition to practicing at the Massachusetts General Hospital Chelsea Urgent Care Clinic, she also serves on the staff of Harvard MedicalSchool. This is the third year Dr. Marshall is serving as mistress of ceremonies for VNA of Boston's Heroes in Health Care Gala.

Bocce Tournament Benefits Jimmy Fund

The third annual Quincy Bocce Tournament will be held Sunday, Aug. 9 from 2 to 8 p.m. at Pageant Field in Quincy.

Proceeds from the tournament will benefit the Jimmy Fund and Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Money raised will support the fight against cancer in adults and children as well as cancer care and research.

Organizaers of the tournament are seeking donations and sponsors from the community. Donate a gift card, or food items for the concession stand. All proceeds from the concessions will go to the Dana Farber Institute/Jimmy Fund.

For more information and to make a donation, call John Benoit at 617-909-9534.

Bethany Routier On Dean's List

Bethany Routier of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the spring semester at the University of Maine at Farmington.

Come Meet Your Candidates and Hear How They Hope To Improve the City of Quincy
CANDIDATES NIGHT
Tuesday, August 11, 2015
6:00 -9:00 PM
Best Western Adams Inn
29 Hancock St., N Quincy, MA 02171

Please forward questions for the candidates to QuincyMAGop@gmail.com

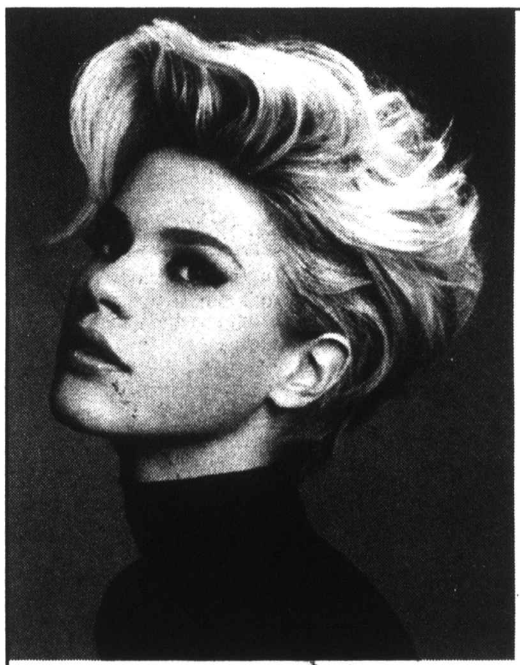
SPONSORED BY THE QUINCY REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE

P.O. Box 690185, Quincy, MA 02269
www. QUINCY MASSGOP.com



Beat the Summer Heat with a Cool New Style!

HPO
HAIRPLACE ONE

85 QUINCY AVENUE
Call for Appt.
617-472-1060
www.hairplaceone.com

WHAT'S COOKING with Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Chicken, Avocado Lettuce Wraps

By MARIE

Today's recipe is for a chicken and avocado combination sent to me by my niece Anita who lives in Arizona and is a great cook.

The chicken can be prepared any way you prefer, either roasting, boiling, because it's going to be shredded.

SHREDDED CHICKEN
& AVOCADO WRAP

2-3 pieces chicken breast
1 avocado
1 small onion (minced)
Juice of one lime
salt and pepper
2 tablespoons cilantro (or parsley)

Cook the chicken anyway you like. Let cool and then shred.

Mix the avocado with the onion, cilantro, salt and pepper, and then add the lime juice.

They can be wrapped in tortillas or large lettuce leaves.

Watercress With Olives, Tomatoes

By SUZIE

An aquatic plant found near springs and slow-moving streams, watercress is an often-overlooked, leafy green food source.

Watercress has been cultivated in Europe, Central Asia, and the Americas for millennia for use as both food and a medicine. It earned its reputation as a healing herb quite early.

Around 400 BC, Hippocrates located the first hospital on the island of Kos close to a stream to ensure that fresh watercress would be available for treating patients. Modern science has identified more than 15 essential vitamins and minerals contained in this one herb – more iron than spinach, more calcium than milk, and more vitamin C than oranges. Vitamins A, C, and K, and phytonutrients like isothiocyanates and gluconasturtiin in watercress strengthen bones, limit neuronal damage, fight infection, help maintain healthy connective tissue, and prevent iron deficiency.

Studies have found the compound PEITC in watercress may suppress breast cancer cell development and prevent DNA damage in cells. FUN FACT: You could call watercress the first fast food. It was a free and therefore important source of sustenance throughout Europe and the US in the 19th century. Given the nickname "poor man's bread," bunches were often rolled into a cone and eaten as an on-the-go breakfast sandwich

Thinkstock

Anyway, here is a delicious recipe using this magical vegetable

WATERCRESS WITH OLIVES AND TOMATOES

½ cup extra virgin olive oil
¼ cup lemon juice
2 shallots sliced thinly
¼ cup fresh oregano leaves, chopped
2 bunches watercress thick stems discarded washed well, and chopped
5 ounces mixed salad greens
1 cup sliced grape tomatoes
½ cup pitted Kalamata olives
6 ounces feta cheese

Sea salt and pepper to taste: Make dressing in a small bowl, add shallots and oregano as well and mix. Let sit a few minutes. Now toss together with everything else. ENJOY.

Chocolate Meringue Bars

By MARIE

Today's recipe is one I recently found in my mother's cook book - and if you like chocolate you will love this chocolate meringue bar recipe.

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE BAR

1 cup of butter (softened)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 egg yolks (reserve whites for topping)
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
small package chocolate bits

For the Top

2 egg whites
1 cup brown sugar
Preheat oven to 350 degrees

First cream the sugar and butter until fluffy, Add the beaten egg yolks, vanilla and hot water-mix well. Now add the dry ingredients. Beat well.

Spread evenly on a greased cookie sheet, and pat down.

Sprinkle the chocolate bits on the dough.

Beat the egg whites until stiff. Add the brown sugar, mix well and spread it over the top of the dough.

Bake for 15-20 minutes. Cut into squares or bars.

SALES, SERVICE, INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES
GRANITE LOCK CO. INC.
www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"

GOVERNOR CHARLIE BAKER and Exalted Ruler Maureen Mesheau present a Massachusetts state citation to scholarship recipient Jenna Folk at the Quincy Lodge of Elks recent Scholarship Night.

Mindi Sokoloski, MS Photography

Gov. Baker Joins Quincy Elks In Presenting $20,000 In Scholarships

Massachusetts Gov. Charlie Baker recently joined the officers, trustees, and members of the Quincy Lodge of Elks to present scholarship awards totalling more than $20,000 to 32 college-bound students from Quincy and the South Shore.

Scholarships were conferred by Gov. Baker and Maureen Mesheau, Exalted Ruler of the Quincy Lodge of Elks. The officers of the Quincy Lodge also joined the presenters at the front of the room.

"We're here tonight to celebrate the goodness and the greatness that many of our young people bring to the table every day. They reflect the values of hard work, commitment, and follow-through that they've been taught by their parents, teachers, and the people they've gotten to know along the way," Gov. Baker said. "I commend the Quincy Lodge of Elks for continuing this fine tradition of supporting our students with their scholarship program."

"I want to thank Gov. Baker for accepting our invitation to attend tonight. This is just one of the many great ways the Elks give back to the community," said state Rep. Bruce Ayers (1st Norfolk District), who also serves as the Elks Scholarship Committee chairman. "This year's class is one of the largest we've ever had, with students going to colleges such as Villanova, Boston College, Tufts, and Harvard."

Exalted Ruler Mesheau congratulated the students and their families for the hard work that went into their successful high school careers. "We're proud to honor you here tonight and support you as you begin college," she said.

The event was held in the Tirrell Room at the Quincy Lodge of Elks. Over 100 people – including Elks members, scholarship recipients, and their guests – were in attendance. Scholarship recipients received citations to honor their achievements, followed by dinner.

Scholarship recipients are:

Callie Baker; Carly Briliant; Vicky Chan; Isabella Cobble; Payton Coutlis; John Crump; Madison Davis; Samantha Dittrich; Brian Djerf; Michael Finn; Jenna Folk; Jonathan Gallagher; Emily Gilmartin; Christopher Gorman; Jennifer Hong; Andrew Johnson; Olivia Johnson; Cornelius Koch; Krista Laforest; Deanna Leung; Breton Lowry; Molly Mahoney; Steven Marstjepovic; Brendan McAuliffe; Joseph McCauley; Olivia McEvoy; Eileen O'Connor; Marissa Pati; Olivia Trojano; Patrick Verhault; Emma Will; and Li Wen Wong Fang.

Each recipient was presented with an official Massachusetts State Citation from Rep. Ayers, as well as a DVD of the event, courtesy of Quincy Access Television. The full ceremony can be viewed on Quincy Access TV, or on YouTube.

The Quincy Lodge of Elks is proud to continue supporting our high school seniors by recognizing their academic achievements and successes.

EXALTED RULER Maureen Mesheau and Scholarship Chairman Rep. Bruce Ayers present Gov. Charlie Baker with an education award on behalf of the Quincy Lodge of Elks.

Mindi Sokoloski, MS Photography

HEALTH LINKS

A Message from the Quincy Health Dept.

Don't Get Ticked Off

By RUTH JONES
BSN, RN, BC, CP-FS

Ticks are insects that feed on the blood of mammals, birds, and reptiles. Deer ticks and dog ticks are common throughout Massachusetts. Ticks can bite you and spread diseases like Lyme disease, Babesiosis, Anaplasmosis, Tularemia, and Rocky Mountain spotted fever. Ticks do not fly or jump. They attach to animals or people that come into direct contact with them and usually travel around your body for hours before finding a spot to feed. It is important to find ticks and remove them before they attach and become engorged with your blood.

Ticks favorite places to go on your body include areas between the toes, back of the knees, groin, armpits, and neck, along the hairline, and behind the ears. One of the best things you can do is check yourself for ticks once a day. Perform a tick check on your children and your pets after coming inside.

If you find a tick attached to your skin, don't panic. Use a pair of fine point tweezers to grip the tick as close to the skin as possible and pull straight out with steady pressure. Circle the calendar date and note where on the body the tick was removed. Your physician may choose to treat you following a tick bite. Notify your health care provider if you have been bitten by a tick, or if you develop a rash where you were bitten or experience symptoms such as fever, headache, fatigue, or sore and aching muscles or other signs of illness following a tick bite.

RUTH JONES

Ticks live in shady, damp, brushy, wooded, or grassy areas (especially in tall grass). To protect yourself, stick to main pathways and the center of trails when hiking, Wear a light-colored, long-sleeved shirt with long pants and tuck your pants into your socks and use bug repellents. Repellents that contain DEET can be used on your exposed skin. Permethrin is a product that can be used on your clothes. Talk to your veterinarian about the best ways to protect your pets and livestock from ticks.

Two On UNE Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at the University of New England in Biddeford/Portland, ME.

They are:

Britney Broderick and Maggie Lynch.

QUINT'S
House
of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919

761 Southern Artery
QUINCY

617-773-7620

Wollaston Beach Water Quality Good But Could Be Better, Report Says

By JOE REARDON

The quality of water at Wollaston Beach is holding steady compared to this time last year and to other beaches in the area, but there is still work that needs to be done according to a recent report by the Save the Harbor/Save the Bay organization.

Covering the period from Memorial Day weekend through July 18, Wollaston Beach has been safe to swim in 90% of the time, very close to the 94% number from 2014. The number represents the percentage of days that each site is below the threshold Enterococcus bacterial count.

Wollaston Beach ranks well ahead of the percentages of King's Beach in Lynn and Swampscott (88/74), Dorchester's Malibu (93/87) and Tenean Beach and Constitution Beach in East Boston (96/83) and on par with the other public beaches tested which include Nahant, Revere, Winthrop, Carson, Nantasket, M Street, City Point and Savin Hill. The two-year combined average of the beaches is 96/93.

"There hasn't been much change and (Wollaston) is doing fairly well compared to other beaches," said Bruce Berman, the director of strategy, communications and programs for Save the Harbor/Save the Bay. "The beauty of the report card is that it's pretty straight forward."

Berman said the level of pollution seems higher because the smallest of summer storms can cause "pollution events" that force officials close a beach. Improvements to sewer systems in the area have made a big difference in keeping the beaches open. "

Though the total rainfall amount so far this season is similar to 2014, there were more frequent small storms during the study period, which has had a dramatic impact on water quality on some of our beaches this year."

Wollaston has greatly improved on its 88% mark in 2013 and 89% in 2011 after a 93% rating in 2012.

Berman also said the frequency, duration and intensity of the rain is a factor in the number of days the beaches are open. The frustration comes, he said, because much of the rain has come during weekends.

"Those are the days you wish the beach would be open," Berman said. "That's frustrating for everyone. We're not quite there for Wollaston but we're on our way. When a beach is closed 25 percent of the time as King's and Tenean have been this year, there are real problems which we have to address.

"The big takeaway is that most of our beaches are doing great, but there is still more work to do - and we intend to do it," Berman added.

Quincy Marine Next Joint Chiefs Chairman

Cont'd From Page 1

ment for 40 years, retiring as a deputy superintendent. After his son was nominated for the chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs, Joseph Sr. said he and his wife were surprised but proud.

"After we kind of digested the fact, we were extremely proud of the accomplishment," Joseph Sr. told The Sun in May, shortly after his son was nominated to serve as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs by the President.

Two of the Dunford's children – Joseph Jr. and Michael – served in the Marines as well; the latter retired as a lieutenant colonel. Joseph Sr. and Katherine have two other sons, Paul and James.

Joseph Jr. played in Quincy Youth Hockey growing up and baseball for the Koch Club. He also had a paper route, which was passed down between all three brothers.

Prior to being appointed commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Dunford – known as "Fighting Joe" – served as the commander of the International Security Assistance Force in Afghanistan. In that capacity, he oversaw all U.S. and allied troops in the country.

Before that Dunford served two years as the Marine Corps' assistant commandant. He was also an infantry officer at all levels. He commanded the 2nd Battalion, 6th Marines, and he commanded the 5th Marine Regiment during the 2003 invasion of Iraq.

In addition to his undergraduate degree from St. Michael's, Dunford holds a master's degree in government from Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., and a master's in international relations from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University in Medford. He is a graduate of the U.S. Army Ranger School, Marine Corps Amphibious Warfare School, and the Army War College.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

The Committee to Elect
Noel DiBona
COUNCILOR-AT-LARGE
Cordially invites you to our Campaign Kickoff
Thursday, Aug. 13th
Alba Restaurant
(Upstairs Private Room)
1486 Hancock Street
5:30 - 8:00 p.m.

If you are unable to attend and want to donate
Please send to: Committee to Elect Noel DiBona
70 Chickatabot Road Quincy, MA 02169

Paid for by the Committee to Elect Noel DiBona
70 Chickatabot Rd., Quincy, MA 02169

FREE CHECKING WITH BIG
BENEFITS.

- Mobile Banking with Mobile Deposit.
- Online Banking and Bill Pay.
- E-Statements.
- ATM/Visa Check Card, fee-free at every Allpoint ATM location.
- No minimum balance.
- No monthly maintenance fees.

Simply Free Checking.
It's the account that works hard for you.

To learn more, call 800-657-3272 or visit ebsb.com.

East Boston Savings Bank®
Getting it done since 1848.

Member FDIC. Member DIF.

$50 minimum opening deposit for all accounts.

READERS FORUM

One House Bill For Every Man, Woman And Child

Cont'd From Page 5

1,200-foot to 1,600-foot distance is inadequate to protect residents, but the permits have been granted based on existing bylaws. One problem is getting the turbine "parts," some of them over 150 feet long through the towns from New Bedford where there are two ships waiting to offload "parts" for the Plymouth project; but, the developer did not make prior arrangements for bringing the 60+ trucks (by some estimates) carrying parts through towns and over a bridge to arrive at its final destination in Plymouth.

This reflects how "cart before the horse" the implementation of the industrial wind turbine agenda has been. This project, based on known estimated and recommended impact distances, will impact Bourne and Wareham as well as residents of Plymouth.

We have to assume that the health and safety of the citizens is of top priority to all stakeholders in the industrial wind turbine agenda. HB.2032 mandates a report from the Commission by May 1, 2016. Perhaps, in the best interest of the residents, the Mann/ConEd project and others pending approval or approved but not started should be put on hold pending the outcome.

We feel that the passage of HB 2032 will be a benefit to all citizens of the Commonwealth and will be instrumental in identifying wind turbine health impacts and health issues resolvable and not. It is only through this type of investigation that proper placement of industrial wind turbines can be established.

There are many variables and inconsistencies from location to location and manufacturer to manufacturer. The industrial wind turbine will never have standards where one size fits all. There is no simple solution. People, the environment, the economy are suffering through what, at this point, remains experimentation; the weapon of choice being the industrial wind turbine.

Keep in mind that these industrial machines have gone from 660kw, 254 feet tall which have been problematic to 2MW, 500 feet tall and they are growing. In terms of bylaws, how many are outdated and have not taken into consideration the today-sized turbines?

An issue, perhaps, for another day. Today, it is about health and safety.

HB 2032 is based on the history of Lyme Disease. If you or anyone you know, has been impacted by Lyme Disease, you know that because of the vagaries of the symptoms, it had no name, was often misdiagnosed and its victims were thought to be suffering psychosomatic illnesses or, to be blunt, were just plain crazy.

Lyme Disease and what we will call by common reference "Wind Turbine Syndrome" are not much different given the various and not easily diagnosable symptoms.

Developers and pro-wind people have capitalized on the randomness of symptoms of a yet to be identified and named illness, labeling the victims and we who want to know more before the industrial wind turbine agenda moves forward as "Nimbys" and the symptoms as Nocebo affect. For many years the Nocebo label was the fate of Lyme Disease sufferers.

Today, unfortunately, too many know Lyme Disease is real. How many misdiagnoses did it take to identify it? How many people suffered needlessly as a result? A similar occurrence and crises can be avoided through the passage of HB 2032.

Regardless of your opinion about the industrial wind turbine, everyone should support HB 2032; it is a safeguard. It is a Bill which addresses solely health and safety issues which are capable of and may impact every man, woman and child in the State should the industrial wind turbine agenda be allowed to move forward unfettered and without safety guidelines. Any furtherance of the industrial wind turbine agenda must be based on fact and the reality of known impacts related to noise both audible and inaudible and establishment of safe distances presently underestimated by the manufacturers and developers in both suburban neighborhoods and rural neighborhoods throughout the state.

All Committee members in attendance were remarkably attentive to the issue. Please take a moment today and call the Joint Committee on Public Health 617-722-2130 and ask that HB 2032 be expedited and there be no delays in the passage of the HB 2032.

Louise Grabowski, Esq.
Crabtree Road, Quincy
Richard Mann
Mears Avenue, Quincy
Marie Stamos
Sonoma Road, Quincy

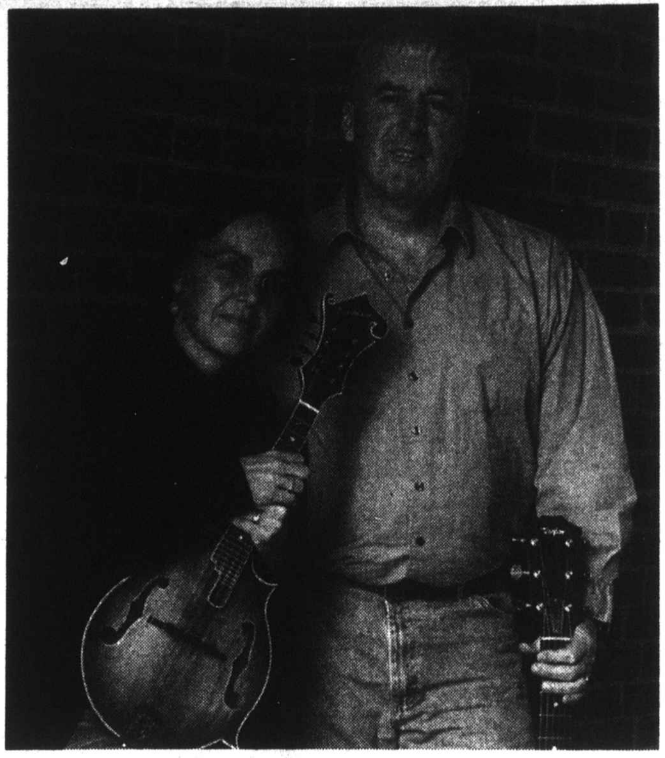
Tiny Houses Topic Aug. 11

Tiny houses will be the subject at a presentation Tuesday, Aug. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy Center.

Christopher Page will discuss this new trend in minimalist, environementally conscious living. Page built his own tiny house with his own hands and is lecturing widely about this movement.

The tiny house movement is a growing phenomenon which taps into issues of sustainability, minimalism and economic freedom. More and more people are considering the option of downsizing their possessions and living in a smaller space.

Page built a 210 square foot tiny house during the second half of 2014 and has been living in it since then. His talk will cover some general information about the movement and his process of building and living in his house. There will be time for questions both during and after the presentation.



JUDY and ANDY DAIGLE

Judy, Andy Daigle In Concert Tonight At Library Lawn

Folk singers Andy and Judy Daigle will perform in concert tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m. outside on the lawn at the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy Center.

The Daigles have been singing together since 2009. Their musical interests range from "old-timey" traditional songs right through the folk music stalwarts such as John Prine, Bob Dylan, Ian and Sylvia, and Townes Van Zandt. The singers and songwriters they have been able to explore many different genres and facets of folk music as well as country music. It has been described as "folk with a country flavor." They use the guitar and mandolin to set the mood and character of each song.

Fenno House Yard Sale

Fenno House, 540 Hancock St., North Quincy, will hold its seventh annual FUN-Raising Fair Aug. 14th and 15th from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The fair will feature a yard sale, raffle, household items, bake sale, and cold drinks. Fenno House is not-for-profit Assisted Living and traditional apartments for seniors.

NQHS Class Of 1960 55th Reunion Sept. 12

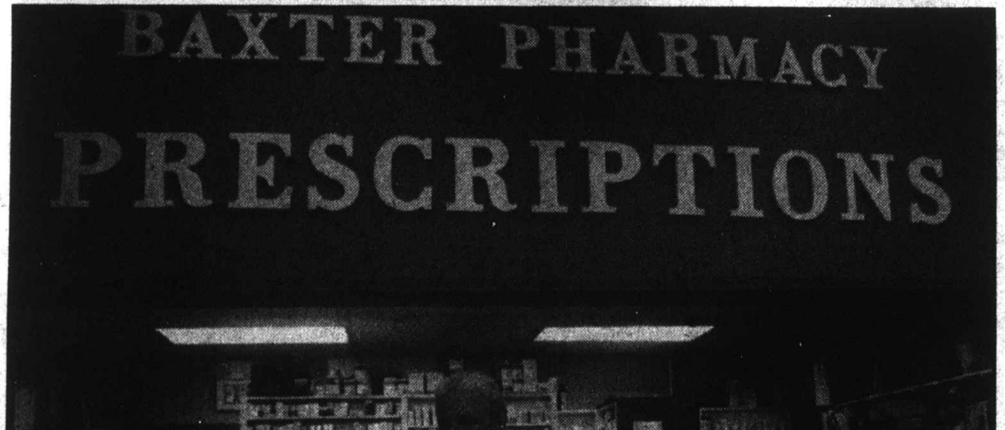
North Quincy High School Class of 1960 will hold its 55th reunion Saturday, Sept. 12 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Best Western Adams Inn, Constitution Room, North Quincy.

Cost is $55 per person. There will be a cash bar.

A blockout of rooms is available for attendees. Call 800-368-4012 or 617-328-1500. Shuttle from Logan Airport to the hotel is also available.

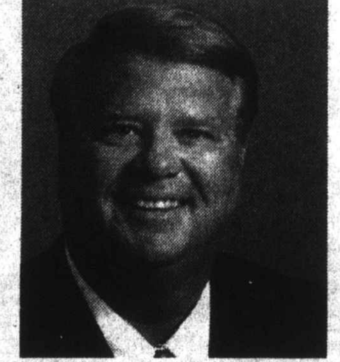
For reservations to the reunion, call Dottie and Jim McCabe, 617-680-2766 or email Jmccabe130@aol.com.

Get Local!
QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot



BAXTER PHARMACY AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES
DEDICATED TO OLD FASHIONED SERVICE
Hours: M-F 8AM-6:30PM Sat 9AM-4PM
ORTHOPEDIC SUPPORTS • BATH SAFETY PRODUCTS • DIABETIC SUPPLIES
OSTOMY • WALKERS • CANES • CRUTCHES • COMMODES • CARDS • GIFT ITEMS
464 Washington Street, Quincy, MA
LOCAL DELIVERY AVAILABLE 617-773-7733 www.baxterpharmacy.com

21 locations
Eastern insurance
AUTO • HOME • BUSINESS
LIFE & EMPLOYEE BENEFITS
WORKERS COMPENSATION • UMBRELLA
MARINE • BONDS • PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY
(617) 328-8300
(508) 270-5317
382 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169
DUvanitte@easterninsurance.com



DONALD UVANITTE
Sr. Vice President,
CIC, ARM AAI, AU, AIS, CRIS, LIA
21 locations
21 locations
21 locations

All But One Elected Office Contested In Fall Election

Four-Way Race For Two Mayoral Nominations In Preliminary Sept. 24

Cont'd From Page 1

fourth term, and three opponents will vie for two nominations in the preliminary election Sept. 24. Besides Koch, the other three mayoral contenders are former Mayor William Phelan; School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney and Councillor Doug Gutro.

The top two vote-getters in the mayoral preliminary election Sept. 24 will square off in the final election Nov. 3. The winner will serve a four-year term that begins in January, 2016.

There will also be a preliminary election Sept. 24 for three ward council seats.

In Ward 2, incumbent Brad Croall, 65 Gay St. has two opponents in the preliminary. They are James M. Connors, 124 Martensen St. and Gulistan M. Malik, 109 Curtis Ave.

In Ward 3, three candidates are seeking to succeed longtime councillor Kevin Coughlin who decided not to run for re-election earlier this year. The candidates in Ward 3 are Ian Cain, 192 South Central Ave.; Karl Roos, 8 Park St., and Sandy Verhault, 183 Highland Ave.

In Ward 5, incumbent councillor Kirsten Hughes of 116 Willow Ave., has two opponents in the preliminary election. They are: Gordon G. DeCambra, 64 Dickens St.; and Gina Ostis, 57 Estabrook Rd.

The top two finishers in the ward council preliminary election will face one another Nov. 3.

The date of the preliminary election was moved last week to Thursday, Sept. 24 from Tuesday, Sept. 22 because of the Yom Kippur holiday. (Related story appears on Page 1.)

The final ballot Nov. 3 will feature contested races for mayor, school committee, councillor at-large and five out of six ward council seats. The only incumbent without a challenge this fall is Ward 4 councillor Brian Palmucci, 16 Cross St.

Here's a list of the other residents who have qualified for the ballot by submitting papers with signatures from at least 50 registered voters in Quincy. The actual number of certified signatures for some candidates was undetermined as the Sun went to press Tuesday.

MAYOR

- Doug Gutro, 230 Marlboro St., 468 signatures; Mayor Thomas Koch, 249 Newbury Ave., an estimated 2,000 signatures; Anne Mahoney, 12 Ferriter St., an estimated 750 signatures; and William J. Phelan, 86 Monroe Rd., 315 signatures. City clerk staff were still counting signatures from Koch and Mahoney who dropped off nomination papers Friday and Monday.

The race for mayor features an incumbent, two current city-wide office holders and a former mayor.

Phelan, who was elected mayor in 2001, was re-elected in 2003 and 2005 before being unseated by Koch in 2007. Koch defeated Phelan in a mayoral rematch in 2009.

Mahoney, in her third term on the school committee, made an unsuccessful bid against Koch in the 2011 mayor's race. She is at the mid-point of a four-year term and does not have to vacate her school seat to run for mayor.

Gutro, who has served on the city council since 2001, is making his first run for mayor. He is vacating his councillor at-large seat to run for mayor.

COUNCILLOR AT-LARGE

There are five candidates – including two incumbents – running for three at-large council seats.

Running for re-election are:

Joseph Finn, 15 Williams St. (275 signatures) and Michael McFarland, 27 Village Dr. (106 signatures). The three other candidates are School Committeeman Noel DiBona, 70 Chickatabot Rd., (116 signatures) School Committeeman David McCarthy, 48 Whitney Rd., (92 signatures) and political newcomer Nina Liang, 2 Williams St. (414 signatures).

DiBona, who topped the school committee ballot in his first run for office in 2013, is at the mid-way point of his school committee term. McCarthy is vacating the school seat he has held for nearly 12 years to make a bid for councillor at-large.

The other ward council races:

WARD 1

- Incumbent Councillor Margaret Laforest, 236 Rock Island Rd., is being challenged by John McCone, 111 Darrow St. They submitted 120 and 119 signatures respectively.

WARD 6

- Incumbent Brian McNamee, 94 Newbury Ave., #101 (92 signatures), is being challenged by William P. Harris, 74 Ashworth Rd. (126 signatures).

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Two incumbents are among the four candidates seeking three seats on the school committee. One of the seats is open because David McCarthy is running for councillor at-large.

On the ballot for School Committee will be incumbents Paul Bregoli, 80 Willow Ave. and Kathryn Hubley, 44 Marion St. (130 signatures); former school committeeman and retired Quincy High School principal Frank Santoro, 80 Havilend St. (74 signatures) and first-time candidate James V. DeAmicis, 66 Campbell St., (94 signatures).

The number of signatures submitted by Bregoli was undetermined at press time.

Ballot positions for the mayoral, Wards 2, 3 and Ward 5 council preliminary election will be drawn at the City Clerk's office on Friday, Aug. 14.

Candidates appearing on the Nov. 3 final election ballot will be listed by incumbent first then challenger. For school committee and councillor at-large, challengers will be listed alphabetically by last name after the incumbents.

Residents who pulled nomination papers but did not file are:

Charles Dennehey, Willard Street (mayor); Kevin J. Worley, Douglas Street (Ward 4 councillor); Joseph Graham, Wendell Avenue (Ward 5 councillor) and Amanda Crabb, Linden Street (school committee).

Quincy Republican City Committee Hosting Candidates Night Aug. 11

The Quincy City Republican Committee will host a Candidates Night featuring candidates running in this fall's city election on Tuesday, Aug. 11 at the Best Western Adams Inn, 29 Hancock St., North Quincy.

Candidates seeking seats on the School Committee, City Council and mayor have been invited to participate.

The forum will begin at 6 p.m. with school committee candidates followed by candidates seeking ward council seats and the three council at-large seats.

The evening will concluce with the four mayoral contenders. That portion of the forum is expected to begin around 8:30 p.m.

The forum will be moderated by Christine Cedrone, chairman, Quincy Republican City Committee.

Each candidate will have a one-minute opening statement. The moderator will aks two questions to each candidate and they will have 30 seconds to answer.

There will be no rebuttals but candidates will be allotted a two-minute closing in which they can rebut to an earlier question.

The GOP Committee reminds candidates and supports that no political signs are allowed inside the Best Western Adams Inn.

Light refreshments will be available.

AC Causes Fire At Granite Place

By JOE REARDON

A malfunctioned air conditioner was the cause of a fire shortly before 9 a.m., Monday morning at Granite Place at 125 Granite Ave.

More than $100,000 of water damage resulted in the sixth-floor fire that was spotted and called in by a Quincy firefighter who was in the engine truck at the location as two other firefighters were treating a woman on the ninth floor on a separate medical call. The firefighter, who called in the fire, saw what could have been a curtain that was burning fall out and smoke coming out of the window. Three other engines and two ladder trucks were on their way to the site before a fire alarm sounded.

"We had a good jump on it," said Quincy Deputy Chief Paul Griffith. "It definitely could have been worse."

The fire was extinguished by the sprinkler system in the 269-unit senior living facility and firefighters were at the scene for two hours until the elevators were back on line and the room where the fire started was cleared out.

A 102-year-old woman a floor below was unhurt when part of the ceiling collapsed from water damage. No one in any other apartments were injured.

The sixth floor was evacuated and the woman who lived in the unit was transported to the hospital for precautionary measures by a Brewster Ambulance. She had attempted to put the fire out with pots, pans and water after flames spread from the air conditioner to a bed in the apartment.

WINE Copeland LIQUOR
PACKAGE STORE
COPELAND
The Best in Spirits
Dennis Carson
SERVING NEIGHBORS SINCE 1958
273 Copeland St. Quincy, MA 02169
(617)471-5418
www.copelandpackage.com

QUINCY CENTER PHYSICAL THERAPY
Sports Injuries • General Injuries
Post Surgery
Most Private Insurance Accepted
Medicare, Workers Comp & MVA
101 Adams Street, Suite 26 • Quincy, MA 02169
Phone (617)770-5900 • Fax (617)770-5905

Dina's Hair & Nail Unisex Salon
5 School St., Quincy
617.479.1797
Chair for Rent call Dina for more info.
Adult Cuts $9.00
Color $30.00
Hair Cut & Blowdry $25.00
Matrix Perm $40.00
Wax, Lip & Eyebrows $6.00
Includes wash, cut & style
WE ALSO DO EXTENSIONS
1st time clients only

IS YOUR CD
MATURING
SOON?
Call today for more information or to schedule a consultation

BRAINTREE
INVESTMENT SERVICES
A Wealth Management Division of the Braintree Cooperative Bank
Braintree Investment Services
Located at Braintree Cooperative Bank
Patrick C. Dougherty
Vice President
1000 Washington Street
Braintree, MA 02184
(781)356-8750
patrick.dougherty@lpl.com
www.braintreeinvestments.com
Not FDIC Insured Not Bank Guaranteed May Lose Value
Not Insured by Any Federal Government Agency Not a Bank Deposit
Securities offered through LPL Financial, Member FINRA/SIPC. Insurance products offered through LPL Financial or its licensed affiliates. Braintree Cooperative Bank and Braintree Investment Services are not registered brokers/dealers nor affiliates of LPL Financial.

Finn: Council Input On Downtown Agreements

Cont'd From Page 1

– a residential tower on the Hancock Lot, a hotel partially sited on the lot, and two condo buildings on a privately owned parcel on Hancock Street.

That plan is a stark departure from the previous plan for the downtown, with Street-Works serving as the master developer for the entire project. During the recent interview, Finn noted the plan now in place – with multiple developers – reflects the original vision the city had for Quincy Center before Street-Works got involved. Before new development can get off the ground, Finn said it's important for the council to amend the Urban Revitalization Development Plan this fall.

"I think right now in terms of moving it forward, the most critical component is this Urban Revitalization Development Plan and how important that is I'm hoping is not lost on any of my colleagues. The way the meeting has gone so far, I don't think it has been," Finn said. "It's that URDP that really sets the regulatory framework of how we proceed towards the future."

The URDP was first approved in 2007 and has been amended twice, in 2009 and 2010; a third amendment is currently pending before the council's finance and downtown committees.

Finn said the council needs to amend the pending amendment to ensure the body has the authority to provide input on agreements reached between the mayor's office and would-be developers. The council has the authority to approve land disposition agreements reached with developers who plan to build on city-owned parcels – the council approved one with Street-Works for the entirety of Quincy Center. But the body does not presently have the ability to review urban redevelopment covenants, which are negotiated between the mayor's office and developers who plan to build on privately-owned land.

"In the old model, when we signed the land disposition agreement we were essentially – and I had said back then to anyone who would listen – that was our one bite at the apple," Finn said.

"What I'm concerned about when we've shifted a model now that has us focusing even in our own public parcels with things as a project-by-project basis, it becomes absolutely critical to have some platform where the basis of those deals comes out. In other words, what is it that the city is giving up, what is it that the developer is putting in?

"We need that, I think, within the context of the land disposition agreements on the public parcels. But even with the private parcels I believe the council now has a role to play, given the fact that this is going to determine who contributes what to infrastructure, what is it that the city is going to put into this and the like. It becomes absolutely critical that the council have some say with the urban redevelopment covenants as well.

"Right now, what we have to do is amend the amendment in such a way that it ensures the council moving forward is engaged in it. That's the one place where the nature of any deals that are made can come out and then that way the council can protect the interests of the taxpayers of Quincy in relation to that."

The council's downtown committee gave preliminary approval in June to a plan that would give the Planning Board the ability to review downtown covenants.

In the early phase of redevelopment, three residential projects – the 15-story tower proposed by Peter O'Connell and two additional projects– would take place on the Hancock Lot. A new parking structure would be built there as well. Finn said he is concerned the council has yet to receive a review of parking needs associated with the Hancock Lot.

"We need to know what our current parking needs are now. We need to know how they will be affected by whatever construction they choose to do first, if they're doing that first. Finally, we need to know what are the long-term parking needs associated with any kind of integrated plan we have for the downtown," Finn said.

"I haven't seen really anything related to details regarding those things. I think that's the stuff that really needs to come before the council."

The city, he added, should also look at other options aside from selling parcels in the Hancock Lot to developers.

"The other question I think is worth asking is in major projects they do in other parts of Massachusetts – and some very big projects – does it have to be an outright sale of those properties or can there be ground leases that generate ongoing income in relation to the city of Quincy in some way?" Finn said.

"Are there other financial models that protect our rights on the property moving forward, so you're just not getting rid of land but you're creating a vision for the future that is protecting people 50 years down the road?"

One issue that has percolated in recent months is the use of union labor on downtown projects. Street-Works had reached agreements with organized labor groups to use union workers on its project; at least 25 of those workers were required to be Quincy residents. With Street-Works out of the picture, Finn said builders should be held to community standards such as fair wages and appropriate safety.

"We oversimplify it just to make it an issue about union labor to be honest with you. What it really is about is just wages. It's about safety in the work place. It's about ensuring the workers who are working down here are appropriately trained and skilled in what they do and trying to ensure to some extent that people within Quincy itself are beneficiaries of this in terms of work and in terms of whatever uplift it brings to the economy," Finn said.

"Those are the key issues, the community standards that we hold here in Quincy that are important and critical to us. I do believe that in some way that should be a statement of principal as we move forward with the development of this."

"It's not just about union versus non-union," Finn added. "It's about community standards and what's important to us here in Quincy – obviously, organized labor often reflects the very values I'm talking about.

"That's not going to be a problem, I would think, within the context of our own public properties because of prevailing wage and because we're kind of allowed to enforce those standards in some way. The question becomes working with our private landowners and people who are wishing to develop things, how do we convey to them the importance of those same standards."

Finn said enforcing those community standards could be a point of negotiations between the city and developers.

"If we're talking about a certificate of consistency and if we're talking about infrastructure deals where the city of Quincy perhaps is putting in additional resources to cover these things, then perhaps it becomes a point of negotiation where we need to be able to uphold what some of our values are and say at a minimum we really need you to be discussing these projects the groups we know can live up to and meet those community standards," he explained.

Like labor standards, Finn said affordable housing – targeted at workers who make less than 80 percent of the median income for the area – should also be a point of negotiation between the city and developers.

Under the city's Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance, developers can opt to designate 10 percent of units in a new project for affordable housing, donate land for a future affordable housing project, or pay into the affordable housing trust fund. Urban redevelopment projects, however, are exempt from those requirements.

Finn said it's important for Quincy to add to its affordable housing stock, because less than 10 percent of housing units in the city presently qualify as affordable. The 10 percent figure is important because developers can bypass local zoning codes in communities with less than 10 percent affordable housing under Chapter 40B of state law.

"That's a critical part, not just for the downtown but for Quincy generally," Finn said of the affordable housing component. "As it stands right now we are below slightly, but nonetheless below, our quota of 10 percent affordable housing, which leaves us quite vulnerable to other 40B types of development.

"So when we're talking about this it's within the context of a larger state law too that means we want to be able to create those opportunities to protect us from the kinds of development we don't necessarily want to see, which would put incredible strains and stresses on the resources but also allows developers to leverage just about anything they want based on the threat of 40B types of development they can use."

Affordable housing, Finn explained, is designed to keep younger workers and those in public service jobs in the city.

"These are really what I call working force apartments – younger people just starting out or cops and schoolteachers, beginning types of families – [that's who] these rents are intended for," Finn stated.

"Quite honestly, Quincy has always done a great job with special needs popula-

Cont'd From Page 30

August's Flavor of the Month is a perfect blend of nuts, caramel, nougat and chocolate...

try our
Snickers Parfait COFFEE today!

Coffee Break CAFE
buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net

12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420
77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888
247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

THE ICE CREAMSMITH
Homemade Ice Cream & Yogurt
Ice Cream Cakes, Pies and Pizzas
SPECIAL FLAVORS :
•Peach
•Fudge Brownie
•S'mores
2295 Dorchester Avenue
Dorchester Lower Mills MA 02124
617-296-8567 Open Daily Noon - 10 pm
www.theicecreamsmith.com

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service
Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169
Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm
(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com

We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

GREATER QUINCY CHILD CARE CENTER
859 Willard St., One Adams Pl., Quincy
(1/2 mile from the So. Shore Plaza)
- Infants: 8 weeks to 15 months
- Toddlers: 15 months to 2.9 years
- Preschool: 2.9 to 5 years
- Kindergarten: We only close 12 holidays
- Hours: 7:30 am to 6 pm • Developmental Curriculum
- Full or Part Week • Hot Lunch • State-of-the-art Center
- Music & Large Motor Enrichment Programs
- Small Teacher/Student Ratios * High-tech Security System

FALL 2015 KINDERGARTEN
Year Round • Full Day (7:30 am to 6 pm)
We only close for 12 holidays • Call to schedule a tour!
Age Req. - 5 years old by Oct. 31, 2015 - 12/1 Ratio
We are celebrating 30+ years of quality care and education.
617-773-8386 • gqccc@aol.com
www.greaterquincychildcare.com
Accredited by the NAEYC Academy for Early Childhood Program Accreditation

Preliminary Election Now Thursday, Sept. 24

Cont'd From Page 1

of all voters in our city," City Clerk and Chairman of the Board of Registrars Joseph Shea stated in a letter to all candidates July 29. The change is in accordance with a new state law that mandates that all voters be given the right to fully participate in voting in an election and not to interfere with religious observances.

Quincy is one of 16 communities that was advised by the Massachusetts Secretary of State's Office to change its preliminary election date from Sept. 22. Some communities have opted to reschedule its election to the last week of September while at least one has moved the date to a day in October.

Yom Kippur, also known as Day of Atonement, is the holiest day of the Jewish calendar. Jewish people traditionally observe the holy day with a 25-hour period of fasting and intensive prayer. This year, Yom Kippur is observed Sept. 22 and Sept. 23.

Shea said Thursday, Sept. 24 has been selected as the new date for the city Preliminary Election because other Tuesday dates earlier in the month are not feasible.

Another Jewish holiday – Rosh Hashanah – begins Sunday, Sept. 13 and ends the evening of Tuesday, Sept. 15. The second Tuesday in September – Sept. 8 – falls on the day after Labor Day – the final holiday weekend of the summer.

"We're abiding by the state law and rescheduling the city Preliminary Election to Thursday, Sept. 24," Shea said. "I wish we could have had this information in April before we set the City Election Calendar in May. Moving the date is a bit of an inconvenience but everything else stays the same. We're not moving any polling locations and the polls will still be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 24," Shea said.

There will be three races – including a city-wide preliminary for mayor – on the ballot Thursday, Sept. 24.

Seeking the two nominations for mayor will be incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch and three challengers: former Mayor William Phelan, School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney and Councillor Doug Gutro. The two top-vote getters advance to the final election Nov. 3.

There are also preliminary elections for city councillor in three wards.

In Ward 2, incumbent Brad Croall faces challenges from James Connors and Gulistan Malik.

In Ward 3, three candidates are vying to succeed Kevin Coughlin who is not seeking re-election. They are Sandra Verhault, Ian Cain and Karl Roos.

In Ward 5, incumbent Kirsten Hughes faces challenges from Gordon DeCambra and Gina Ostis.

The two top-vote getters in the ward council preliminary election will face one another Nov. 3.

Positions on the ballot for the preliminary election will be drawn Friday, Aug. 14.

Shea noted the new Sept. 24th preliminary election date will trigger two minor adjustments to the election calendar. He said the last day to apply for an absentee ballot is now Wednesday, Sept. 23 at noon. The last day to register to vote for the preliminary election is now Friday, Sept. 4th.

CITY INTERNS – The City of Quincy hires young residents during the summer to earn some money and to gain some workplace experience. Supporting City Engineer Shawn Hardy (back row-center) with a myriad of technical tasks are summer interns Charles Chen (back row-left), a senior computer engineer at Eastern Nazarene, Jasmine Eltoury (front row-left), a mass communications major at Bunker Hill Community College, Yusra Ahmed (front-center) a junior at Quincy High School and Lawrence Tran (far-right), a pre-med junior at U Mass Amherst.

Photo Courtesy Department of Public Works

McCone Urges Action On Y Demolition

John McCone, candidate for Ward 1 city councillor, is calling on city officials to take immediate action regarding the demolition of the old South Shore YMCA building on Coddington Street.

McCone sent a petition, on behalf of and signed by the neighbors living near the site, to Quincy Police Chief Paul Keenan requesting that no afterhours permits be issued to any contractor doing outside work at the YMCA.

"The City of Quincy Ordinances prohibit construction between 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. in the city. I am not sure why or if contractors working on the YMCA project ever received permits before but the neighbors want the practice to stop or the ordinances enforced," McCone said. Any contractor wishing extended hours must receive a permit from the Quincy Police Chief.

In addition McCone sent a letter to the Quincy Building Inspector pointing out several hundred young adults attend programs at the YMCA adjacent to the demolition site every day. McCone requested he take immediate action to require the contractor make the site safe.

"I am shocked this has gone on as long as it has without any action or communication to neighbors by the city. We can do better," McCone said.

McCone said he has met YMCA neighbors while campaigning who have raised several concerns regarding the YMCA demolition project, particularly the city's oversight of this project.

The Y's new facility opened at the end of 2013 in advance of the planned opening due to flooding in the old building.

"While the new facility is beautiful, the area was left with a dangerous eyesore next to it," McCone said. "The building was left vacant and in an unsecure state for some time without any real work being done to take it down."

In response to a request by The Quincy Sun for an update on the demolition project, Sara Trubiano, director of marketing for the South Shore YMCA, said in a written statement:

"The South Shore YMCA is working closely with the DEP on the demolition of the old YMCA building. The Y will continue working with our construction management team according to the DEP-approved plan to get the building down as quickly and safely as possible."

McCone said neighbors in the area of the YMCA are frustrated by the lack of communication on the project.

"While I would hate to see further delay in the demolition of this building the lack of concern for public safety and the lack of concern for the neighbors by the city raises great concern," McCone added.

Quincyles 'Sea To Summit' Bike Ride Saturday

Quincycles will host a ride Satuday, Aug. 8 at 7:30 a.m. along the Sea to Summit Route as designated in the MAPC Bicycle and Pedestrian Network Plan adopted by City Council in January.

Participants are invited to meet prior to the start time at the Bernazzani School on Furnace Brook Parkway. The ride is free and open to the public and will be a more challenging ride at a moderate pace.

The route will bring cyclists up into the Blue Hills to the Chickatawbut overlook, and then back through Quincy to Nut Island and returning to the Bernazzani School. For those who would like, the ride will conclude at nearby Montilios Bakery for coffee and pastry.

Quincycles is a group of Quincy residents advocating for bicycle infrastructure on our city streets and promoting responsible bicycling as a means of transportation, recreation, and exercise in Quincy.

More information about the group can be found on their website at www.Quincycles.org or by email quincycles@gmail.com.

NQHS Fall Athletic Registrations Due Aug. 9

North Quincy High School will be collecting Fall Athletic Registration Paperwork on Wednesday, Aug. 9 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Nurses' Office located on the second floor of the high school.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

My name is Gina Ostis and I am proud to announce my candidacy for Ward 5 Councillor. My husband Phil and I have lived in our home on Estabrook Rd. for 12 years. We love our neighborhood and community.

All are welcome to join me and my family and friends of the Committee to Elect Gina Ostis for a fundraiser on Thursday, August 6th, 6-8pm
at Bistro Chi, 37 Cottage Ave., Quincy.
Appetizers and Cash Bar.
RSVP to my campaign manager at jonifalls@gmail.com or call 720.940.8209

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com

See Your Future Clearly!
Everything from the simplest repair to the most advanced lenses and frames.
KING OPTICAL
20 School Street West • Braintree
(Off Washington Street)
(781) 843-2133
www.kingoptical.net

DENTISTRY for the 21st Century
by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.
PRESERVING YOUR SMILE

Because our smiles are among the first things that people notice about us, the loss of front teeth (due to decay, gum disease, or trauma) can be a matter of considerable concern. Fortunately, dental porcelain is an excellent material for replacing the natural look of real teeth. Whether used to fabricate a crown attached to an implant or a fixed bridge, porcelain more closely replicates the look of enamel than any other dental material. Not only is porcelain able to match the exact color of natural teeth, it displays translucency at the biting edges that suggests the layering and depth of real enamel. As a result, porcelain replacement crowns are often indistinguishable from the teeth they replace.

Porcelain crowns can successfully achieve both esthetic and functional results. Everybody loves a dazzling smile, and there are a variety of procedures available to help you improve the look of yours. Our goal is to help preserve your smile for a lifetime. Call 617 479-6220 to schedule a dental appointment. Our office is located at 44 Greenleaf Street. We offer the services of anesthesiology with a fully trained and qualified anesthesiologist. Visit us on the web at www.quincydentist.com.

P.S. Porcelain crowns and bridgework are as durable as they are beautiful.

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Wednesday, July 29, 2015, at approximately 11:54 p.m., Officers Jeffrey Bossart, Stephen Dabilis and Steven O'Hare were dispatched to a residence on Bigelow Street to investigate a reported assault and battery in progress. Responding units were updated en route that the caller stated he had been injured, was vision-impaired, and had been disconnected on the phone. Brewster Ambulance was also dispatched due to the report of an injury.

Upon arrival, the Officers made their way to the second floor of this rooming house, where they found the victim in his room. He was very upset as he pointed to the room across the hall and stated that the man/suspect (known to him) just attacked him. The victim/caller had bruising and marks on his forehead. The Officers then asked the suspect what happened. He said that another tenant was "blaring his music" so he went next door and started pounding on the door to tell him to turn it down. He stated while yelling at the tenant, the victim came out of his room yelling at him to "Shut up and then he came at me." This led to a brief shoving match before the suspect and victim returned to their respective rooms.

The Officers interviewed the victim, who said that he heard the suspect yelling at the tenant about the music so he opened his door and told the suspect that he was louder than the music and told him to stop yelling. He said that the suspect then turned towards him and yelled that he was sick of everyone always telling him what to do, followed by the suspect pushing the victim and then hitting him in the head. The suspect then threw the victim to the ground and then continued hitting him.

The victim added that during the assault, he was covering up trying to block the punches while yelling at the suspect that he was blind and was going to call the Police. The suspect threw in a few more punches and then returned to is room. Brewster Ambulance then came into the room and evaluated the victim's injuries.

A brief interview of the tenant who played the music loudly revealed that he didn't open his door because the suspect had punched him in the past and described him as a "weird guy" and very temperamental. He added that approximately a month ago the suspect assaulted him, causing injuries to his ribs and wrist. He said that he did not contact the Police following the incident because he did not want to escalate things with the suspect. The tenant denied seeing or hearing any commotion between the suspect and victim.

LT. DAN MINTON

Officer Bossart asked the tenant if he knew that the victim was blind and he stated that he did. He then asked the tenant if he believed that the suspect knew the victim was blind and he said that "the whole house knows he is blind." Officer Bossart interviewed the victim again, asking him if the suspect knew that he was blind and he stated that yes he did, referring to a time that he was sitting very close to the television while watching it and the suspect walked by. The suspect asked the victim if he was blind, to which the victim replied yes and told him about his lack of vision. The victim told the Officers that he is legally blind, receives government disability assistance, and displayed a MBTA disability card. Officer Bossart then questioned the suspect, asking him if he knew the victim was blind. After pausing and thinking it over, the suspect said he knew the victim had a "bad eye" but shrugged numerous times when asked if he knew the victim was blind. The Officer asked the suspect if the victim said anything about being blind during their shoving match and the suspect confirmed that the victim "mentioned something about being blind." When asked about the bruises on the victim's forehead, the suspect said he was just defending himself.

Based on verbal testimony and physical evidence available, Officer Bossart placed the suspect, a 58 year old Quincy resident, under arrest and charged with, "Assault and Battery on a Disabled Person." Officer Bossart noted in his report that the suspect was a very large man, able-bodied, with several weights within his room that he uses to workout. He also noted that the victim kept locking his door every time the Officer would exit his room to interview others. The victim said he was afraid that the suspect would attack him, even with the Police Officers there. Nice Work!

❑

ONLINE DATING SCAMS: Millions of Americans use chat rooms, dating and social networking sites to meet people. As exciting and promising as this may be, keep in mind that there are scammers out there who prey on those hoping to get involved in a relationship. Scammers often create false profiles to enhance online relationships. The photo(s) used most likely is not the person doing the scamming. Be alert to signs such as:

- The scammer wants to leave the dating site immediately and use personal email.
- He/she claims love in a heartbeat
- He/she claims to be from the U.S., but is traveling or working overseas
- He/she plans to visit, but is prevented by a traumatic event or a business deal gone sour

Scammers also like to say they're out of the country for business or military service and this delays any chance of actually meeting up. Scammer's ultimate goal is to steal money from you using false pretenses. The goal is to get you to wire them money to cover travel expenses to see you, hotel bills, visas or other official documents, medical emergencies, hospital bills for a child or other relative or losses from a temporary financial setback. Other fictitious stories used by scammers are that they were the victim of a mugging or robbery. These scammers will use additional ruses once they get some money from you. In the end, your money will be gone along with the person you thought you knew.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
July 24 – 31
ARRESTS: 29
TOTAL CALLS: 1,154
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1

FRIDAY, JULY 24

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 2:07 a.m., Bower Rd. Said her son was assaulted by a male who said he had a gun. Was not assaulted with a gun and a gun was not seen by anyone. Suspect not on scene anymore, but they may come back. Caller states the suspect is heading towards Skyline apartments. Two females. Braintree PD notified.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:18 a.m., Alrick Rd. Arrived home at 3 a.m. When she walked in the house was a mess. There was a ladder leading to the window on the second floor. Caller was last home at 11:30 p.m. on July 23. Unit sent to crime scene after victim was told to return there. Upon his arrival he determined house needed to be cleared, two additional units sent.

LARCENY, 7:46 a.m., 1284 Furnace Brook Pkwy. Suitcase. Caller's girlfriend's suitcase was taken at above location. Not currently in Quincy, but advised to call when back in Quincy so him or his girlfriend can speak to an officer in person.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:57 a.m., 90 Billings Rd. Back window of car. Party would like to speak to an officer.

LARCENY, 2:04 p.m., 40 Willard St. Caller had a box with her credit cards and cash in it. No longer in her office.

ATTEMPTED LARCENY, 2:58 p.m., Alltown Check Cashing, 34 School St. Counterfeit check. Holding check and license. One in custody for uttering and two warrants. Arrest for attempted larceny by check, uttering, forgery and the warrants.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 5:55 p.m., low numbers of Furnace Brook Pkwy. Punched by individual. Started as a disagreement over pool work. Complaint for A&B.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 7:27 p.m., 400 block Adams St. 2002 Landrover Freelander was stolen sometime yesterday. Recovered during other incident.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:42 p.m., 90 Billings Rd. Lawn.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 10:54 p.m., Wren Ter. Area checked. Nothing showing. Party never saw anything. Thought she heard the front door.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:13 p.m., Stop & Shop garage, 226 Burgin Pkwy. 2015 Honda Accord's window smashed on the passenger side. Party had tires slashed recently.

SATURDAY, JULY 25

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:48 a.m., Old Railroad Café, 273 Willard St. Window. Frequent checks.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 12:15 p.m., 165 Taffrail Rd.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:38 p.m., Stop & Shop, 495 Southern Art. Spray paint. Video shows a male spraying something on the car.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:28 p.m., Bayview Rd. Plants. Caller will callback tomorrow.

LARCENY, 11:21 p.m., Town River Yacht Club, 60 Mound St. Purse stolen. Purse not lost. Found inside the club.

SUNDAY, JULY 26

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 12:36 a.m., Kelly's Cellar, 1546 Hancock St. Large group. Staff trying to get the people out. Assisted with crowd control.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 4:43 a.m., Fifth Ave. Drunk female claims her house was broken into. No signs of a break. Caller wants to report missing medication. Report filed.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:13 a.m., Buckley St. House egged.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:05 a.m., Bayview Rd. Plants and barrels. Neighbor problem. No crime at this time. Officer request community police follow up for neighbor problem.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:10 a.m., Butler Rd. Caller last night about other house for a noise complaint. Came out this morning and saw his fence is damaged. Malicious damage.

ARMED ROBBERY, 10:07 p.m., Safford St. Happened 30 minutes ago. Two Hispanic males. One was wearing a brown hoodie, dark jeans. Other was wearing a blue hoodie, dark jeans. One party was 6'1", heavy set wearing white sneakers. Other was 5'9" with a knife.

MONDAY, JULY 27

LARCENY, 12:11 p.m., BJ's, 200 Crown Colony Dr. Cellphone.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 3:41 p.m., Doane St. Caller states his tires were vandalized and requests to speak with a police officer at location above. Gone on arrival. Party was also clam digging.

LARCENY, 5:05 p.m., 7-Eleven, 75 Copeland St. Male party ordered $150 worth of lottery tickets. Said he had to run out to his car to get money and took off. $430 worth of tickets taken. Hispanic male, 45, wearing a light gray shirt, bright green tattoo on his arm.

LARCENY, 5:54 p.m., Burger King, 62 Granite St. Phone. Two suspects – male and female – homeless looking, one wearing white shirt. No sign of individuals in area. Phone was left on table by victim while she went up to get food and was gone when she returned.

LARCENY, 7:02 p.m., Applebees, 200 Hancock St. Had wallet when arriving at restaurant. It wasn't there when she had to pay before leaving. Alerts at 10:30 that credit/debit cards were being used.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:12 p.m., 100 Washington St. Black male in his early 20s wearing white t-shirt and dreadlocks. Punched auto driving school window. Headed south on Washington Street, may be bleeding from hand. Possible suspect stopped at Mazda dealership on McGrath. Brewster notified for hand injury. Complaints filed on suspect who was taken to QMC.

LARCENY, 10:17 p.m., IHOP, 119 Parkingway. Bill unpaid. Store to handle. Partial plate number, possibly blue Explorer.

TUESDAY, JULY 28

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:18 a.m., Presidential Dr. Two tires slashed.

LARCENY, 9:37 a.m., 200 block Common St. Package taken from front porch last Wednesday.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:07 a.m., 300 block Granite St. Just seeking advice. Advised.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:30 p.m., Quarterdeck Rd.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 29

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 12:13 p.m., Albertina St. Condemned house. Male in rear of house going in window. Forced entry made to check home. Appears someone is living in home. Building checked, no one there. Previous owner has been back to house. Possible new owners may have been ones to put up ladder to check out house.

LARCENY, 2:50 p.m., Post Office Quincy Center, 47 Washington St. Larceny inside post office.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:49 p.m., Quarterdeck Rd. Vehicle was keyed on passenger side.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 11:51 p.m., Bigelow St. Knows name of the party that beat him up. They are living in a boarding house; reports the other person went back into his house. One under arrest for assault on elderly person.

THURSDAY, JULY 30

LARCENY, 9:20 a.m., 23 E. Elm Ave. Caller works for an auto glass replacement company. Left a tool in a customer's car. Customer was supposed to return in and never did. This was more than two weeks ago. Misunderstanding. Two parties to work out by themselves.

LARCENY, 1:01 p.m., 67 Federal Ave. $2,500 guitar. Occurred on Sunday or Monday.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:08 p.m., Parkingway. Caller reports new model black Ford Focus has broken side window. Vehicle parked in Commonwealth with back window down. No break.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:41 p.m., 100 block Beale St. Passenger side window smashed.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 10:45 p.m., Hamden Cir. Caller came home to find his house broken into.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 400 block of Adams Street.

❑

CAR BREAKS: 300 block of Centre Street, Burgin Parkway extension, 300 block of Sea Street, Dayton Street, Grogan Avenue.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Alrick Road, Fifth Avenue, Wren Terrace, Hamden Circle.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us -- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

West Of Chestnut Project Rising In Quincy Center

Cont'd From Page 3

other apartment buildings in Quincy Center.

The studio units will each be approximately 520 square feet. One-bedroom units will range in size from 680 to 750 square feet; one-bedroom units that include a den will top out at 790 square feet. Two-bedroom units will average 1,000 square feet. The largest units in the building, with two bedrooms and a den, will have 1,100 square feet of space.

Apartments in the two buildings will have hardwood floors with carpeting in the bedrooms. Kitchen amenities include quartz countertops, stainless steel appliances, and European cabinets.

Tenants living on site will have access to a fitness center and a club suite on either side Chestnut Way, the new public road that will bisect the site.

The health and fitness suite, located behind the Hancock Street building, will have a cross-training center with free weights and ropes and a state-of-the-art gym with cardio and other exercise machines.

The club space will feature flat screen televisions, networking space with computers and a copy center, and a game room with foosball and pool tables. Also planned is a chef's kitchen, which residents could reserve for a fee to entertain guests, and a media center.

Located next to the L-shaped building on the corner of Cottage Avenue and Chestnut Street will be a private courtyard for tenants. The courtyard's features include an outdoor kitchen, fire pit and play lawn.

The 75 spaces in the underground parking lot will be augmented by another 30 at ground level.

WORKERS AND HEAVY EQUIPMENT continue progress with the West of Chestnut development in Quincy Center. This photo was taken from the corner of Cottage Avenue and Chestnut Street looking towards Hancock Street. The project will feature two new buildings with a combined 169 apartments and 12,000 square feet of ground floor retail and commercial space. There will also be 75 parking spaces underground and another 30 at ground level.

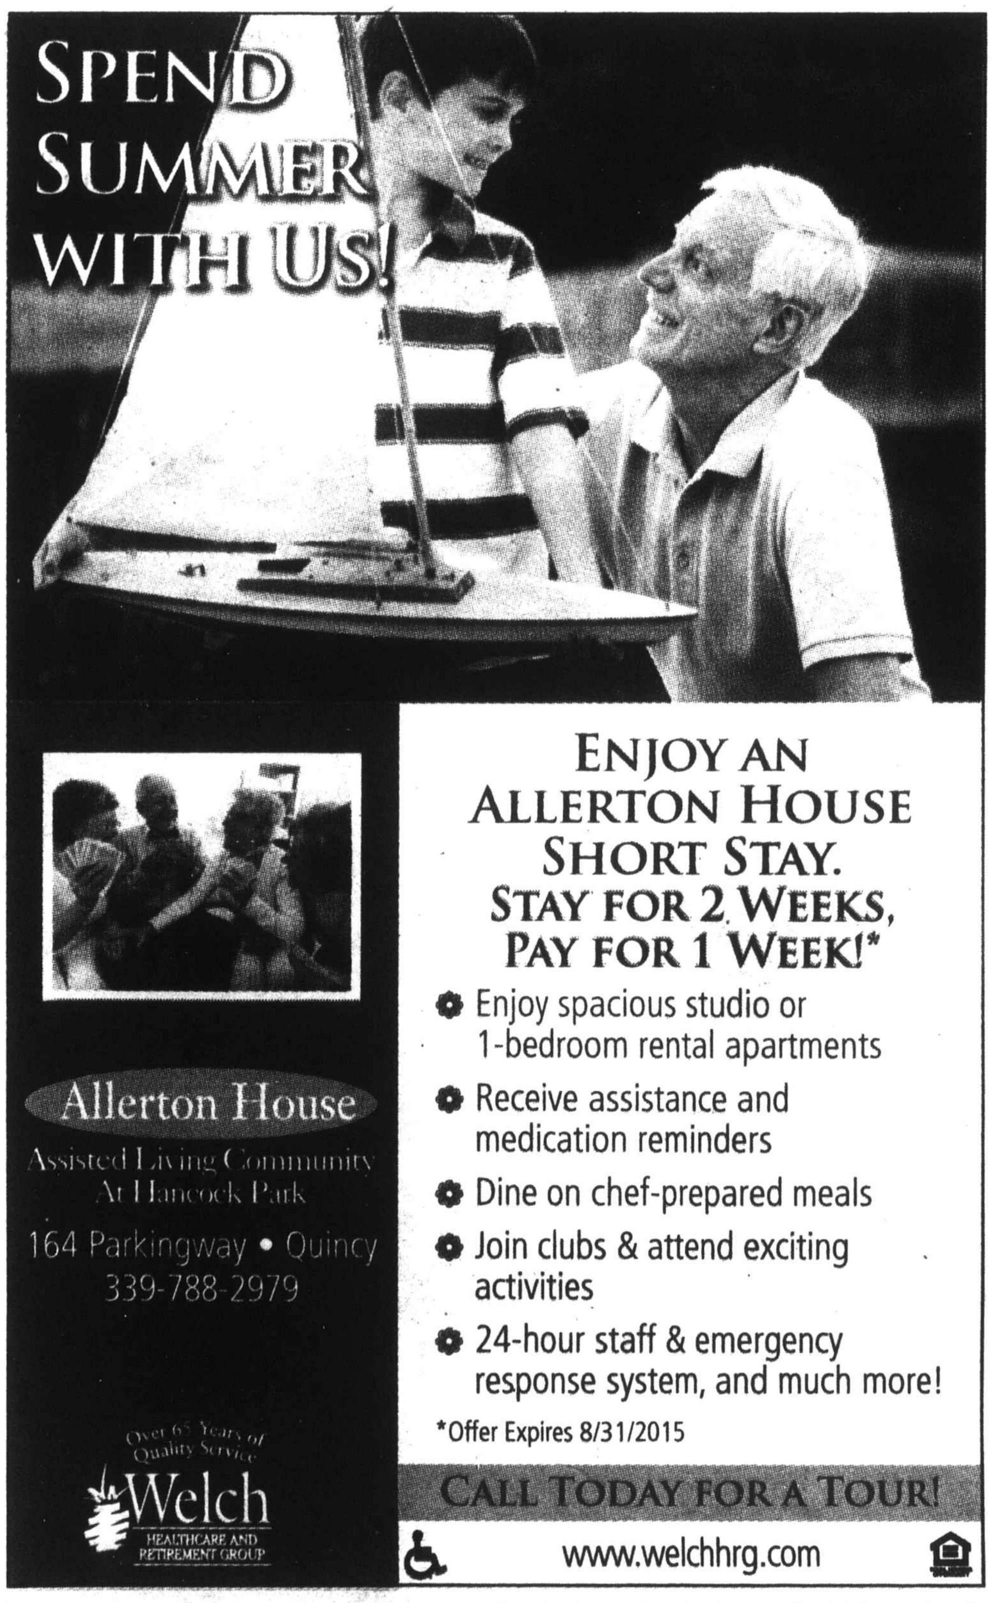
Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth



SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

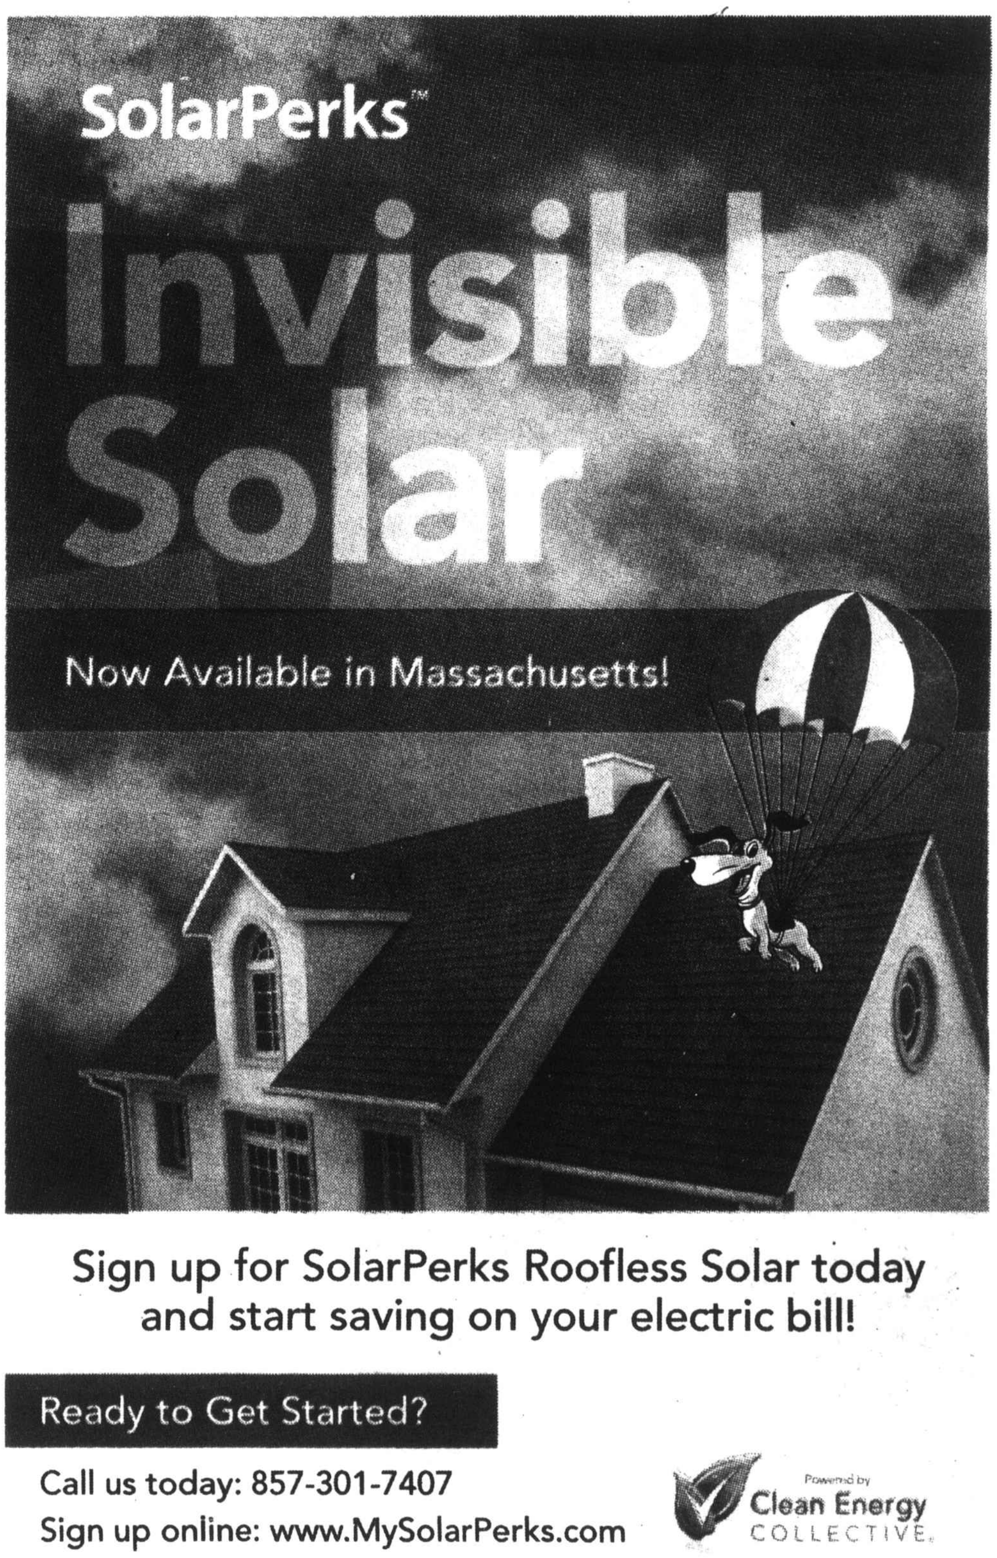
*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP



SolarPerks™

Invisible Solar

Now Available in Massachusetts!

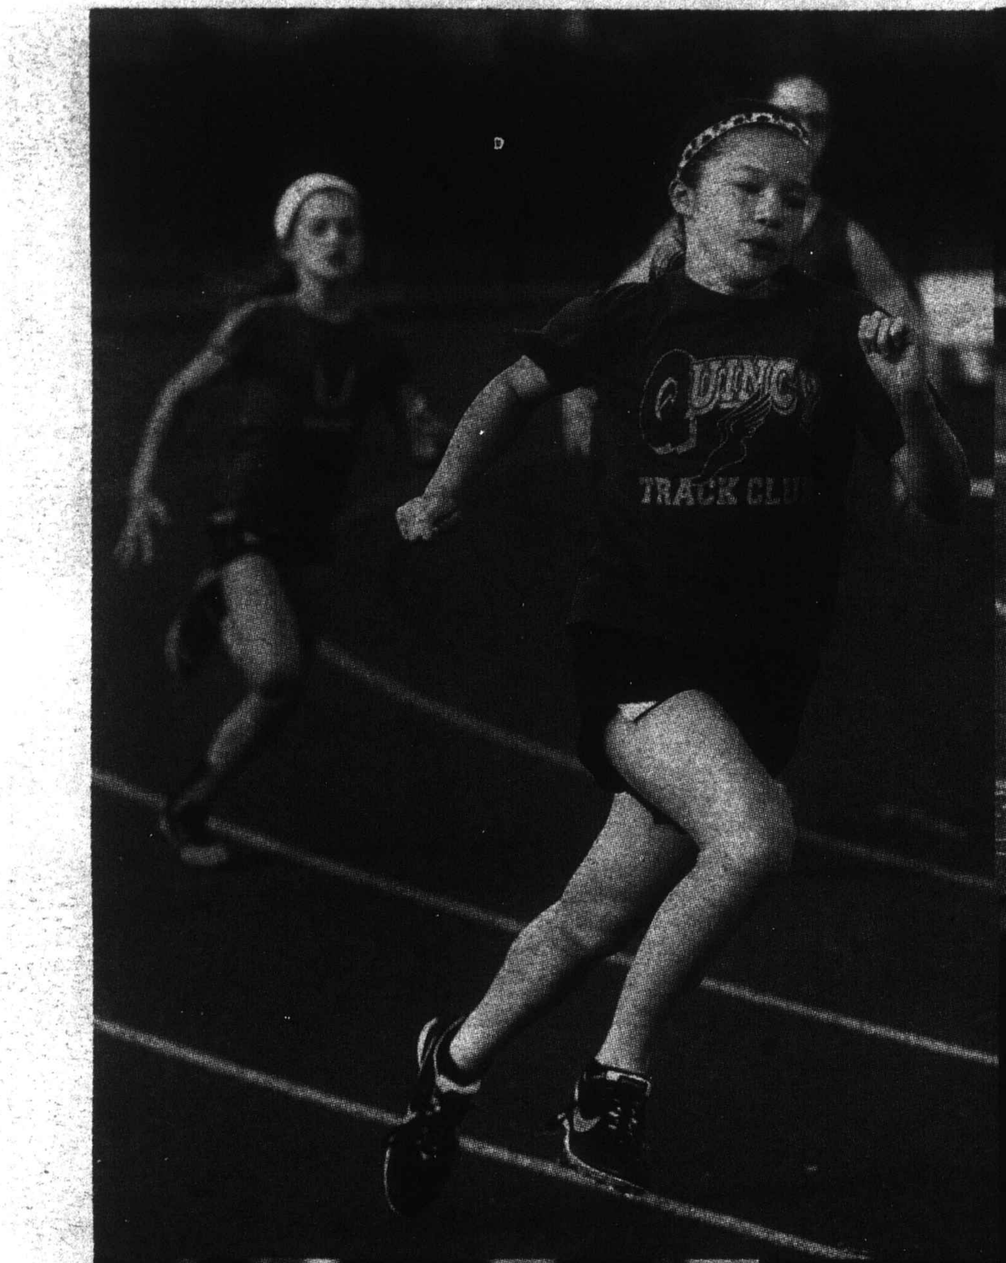
Sign up for SolarPerks Roofless Solar today and start saving on your electric bill!

Ready to Get Started?

Call us today: 857-301-7407
Sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com

Powered by Clean Energy COLLECTIVE.

Quincy Track Club Youngsters Compete – And Have Fun – At Frank Kelly Meet



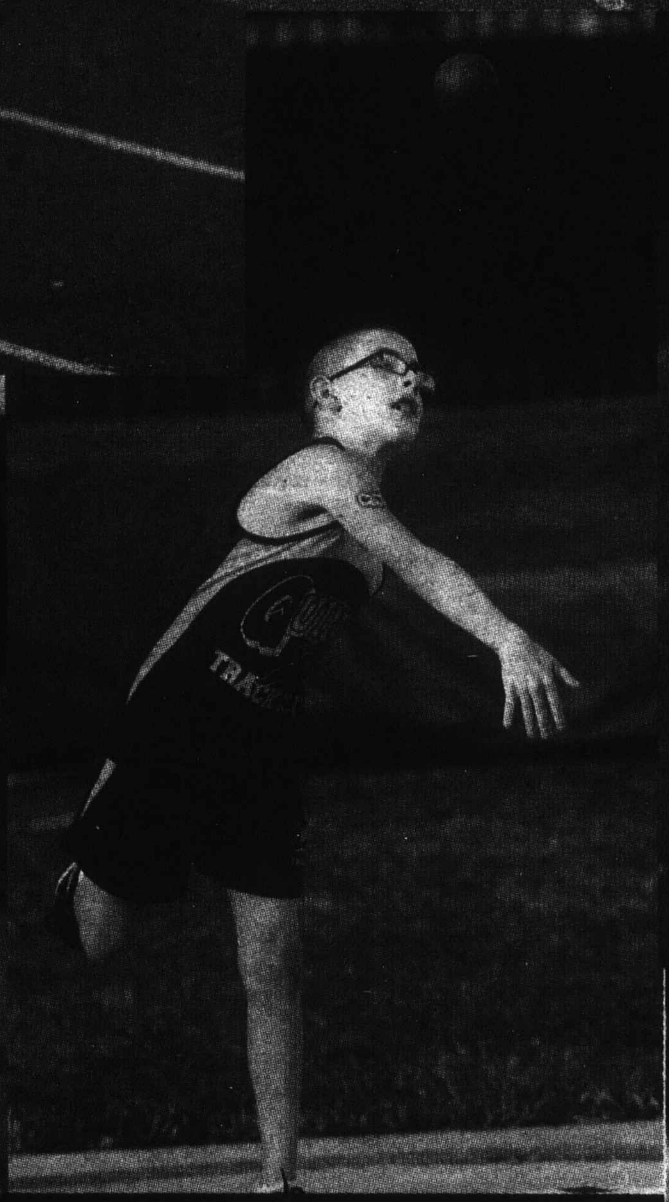
QUINCY
TRACK CLUB

QUINCY
TRACK CLUB

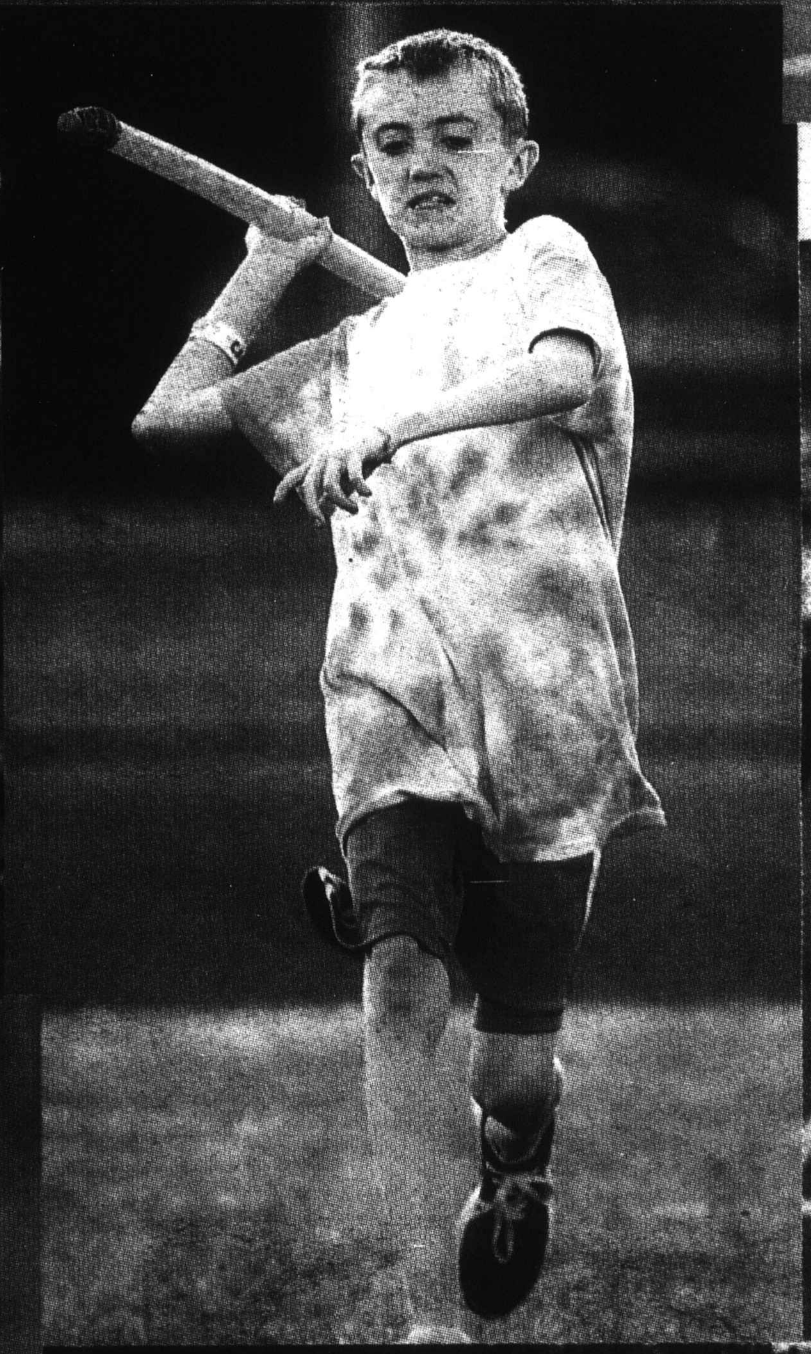
QUINCY
The Stars
FOUNDED BY FR

QUINCY
TRACK CLUB

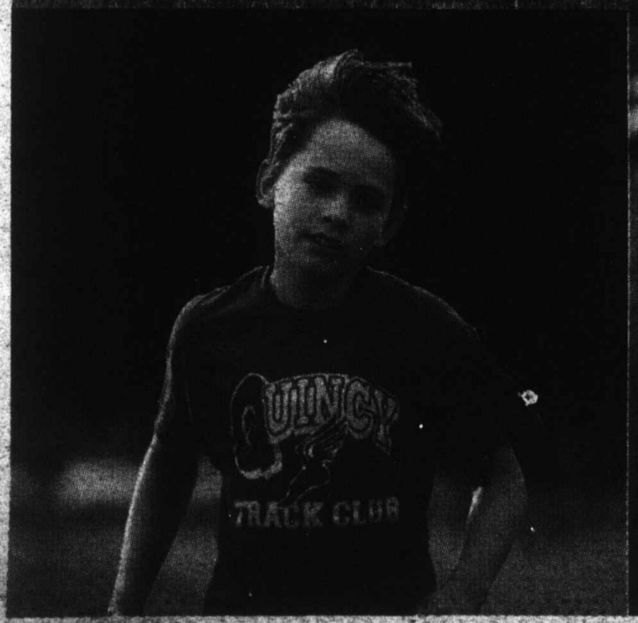
Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth
Story, other photos on Pages 18, 19



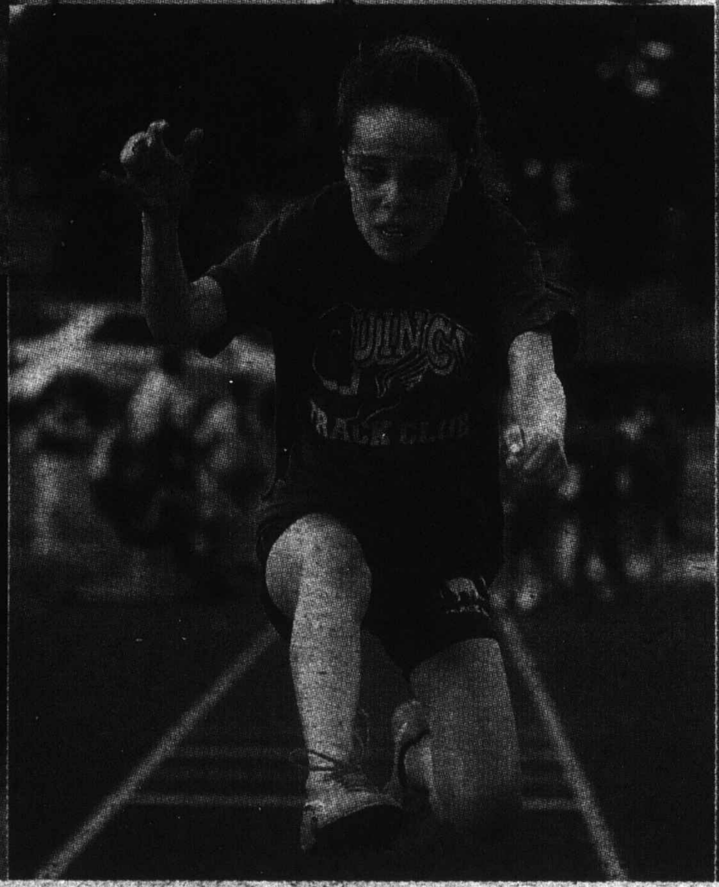
QUINCY
TRACK CLUB



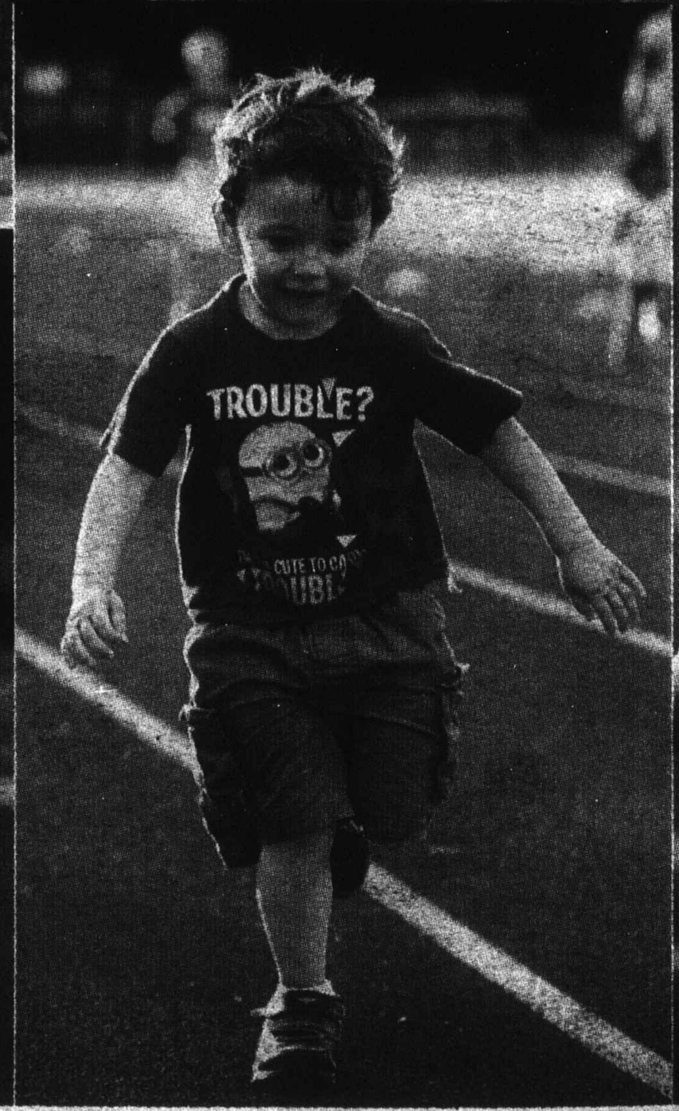
QUINCY
TRACK CLUB

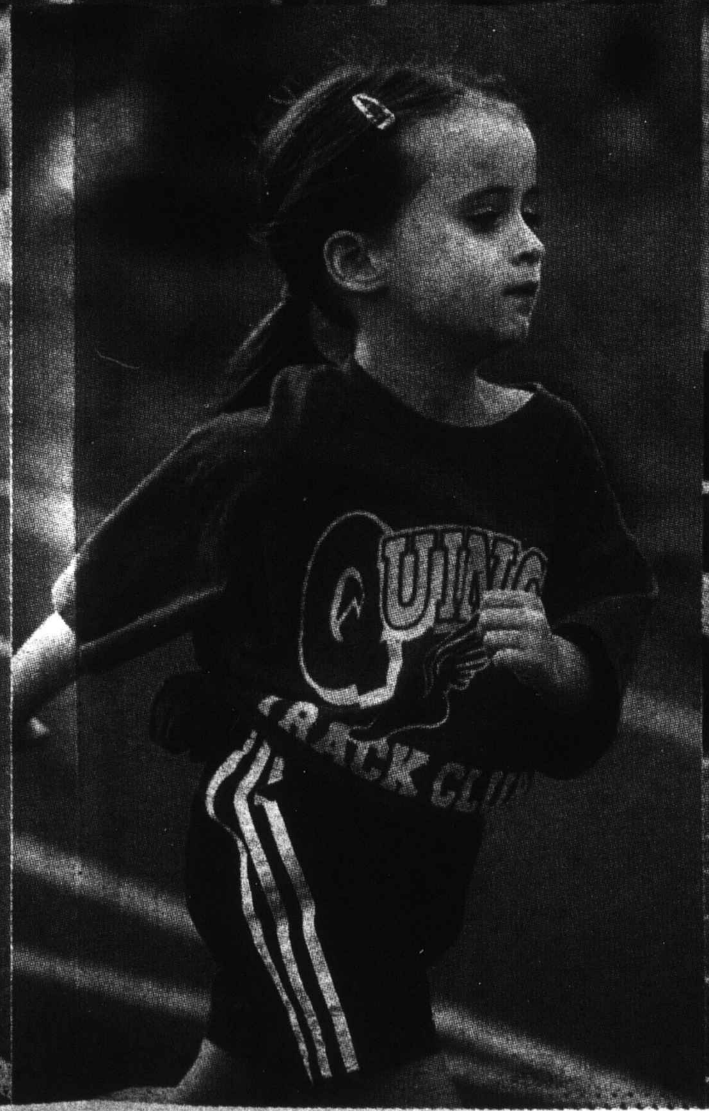


QUINCY
TRACK CLUB



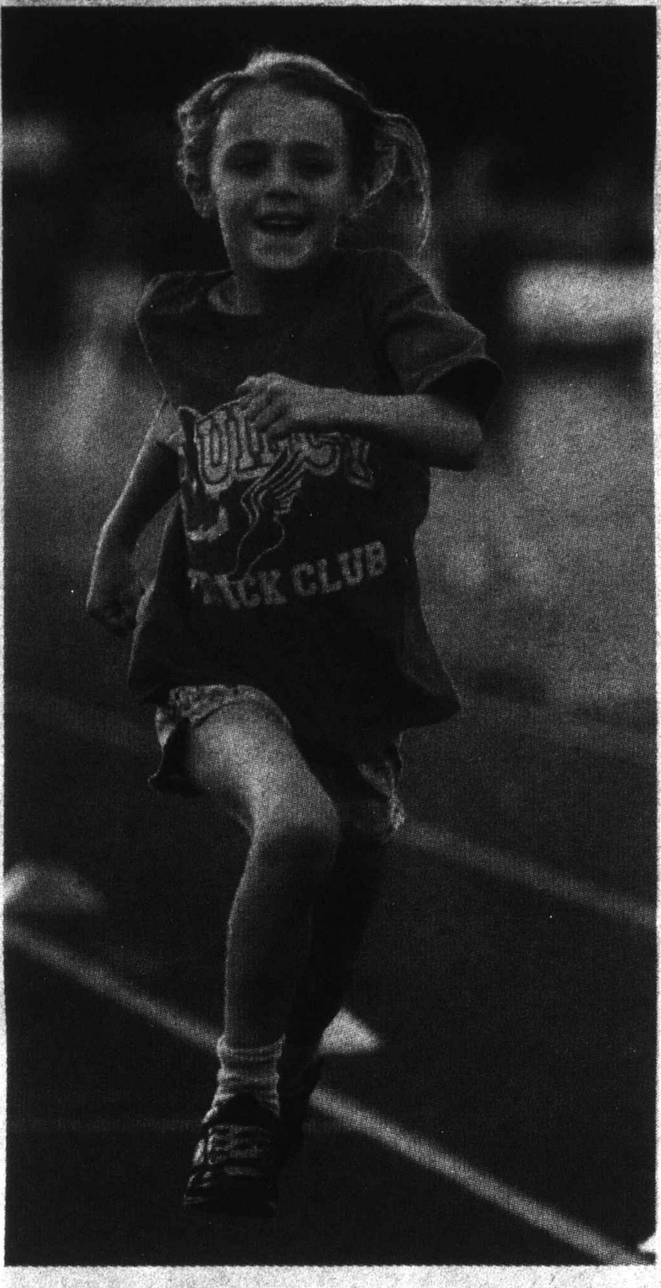
QUINCY
TRACK CLUB





QUINCY
TRACK CLUB

QUINCY
TRACK CLUB



ELLIE GAETA, age 6, was the winner in the girls 400 at the Quincy Track Club's recent Frank Kelly Meet held at Faxon Field. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Track Club
The Stars of Tomorrow

EMELIA HENRY of Quincy clears a hurdle in one of the running events at the Quincy Track Club's recent Frank Kelly Meet at Faxon Field.

Hundreds Compete At Frank Kelly Meet

Quincy Track Club: Where Future Stars Shine

By JOE REARDON

Geoff Hennessy has seen several young tracksters grow through the Quincy Track Club and blossom into star athletes.

Improving every year and showing determination beyond their years athletes such as Karen Cashman, who captured a bronze medal in speedskating at the Lillihammer Olympics and distance running phenoms Emily and Julia Bryson, who will run for Brandeis University in the fall also started at a young age and have been volunteer coaches for years. They can often be seen spurring on the youngsters who are running on the Faxon Field Track.

The season wrapped up recently with the enormously popular Frank Kelly Meet, named after the man who founded the club in 1974, before Hennessy took over just a couple of years later and whose name has become synonymous with cross country and track in the city of Quincy.

Hennessy has seen several youngsters have big break through performances in the Kelly meet and that was the case again recently as youngsters took advantage of the cool, overcast conditions to run, jump and throw to personal bests in an array of events.

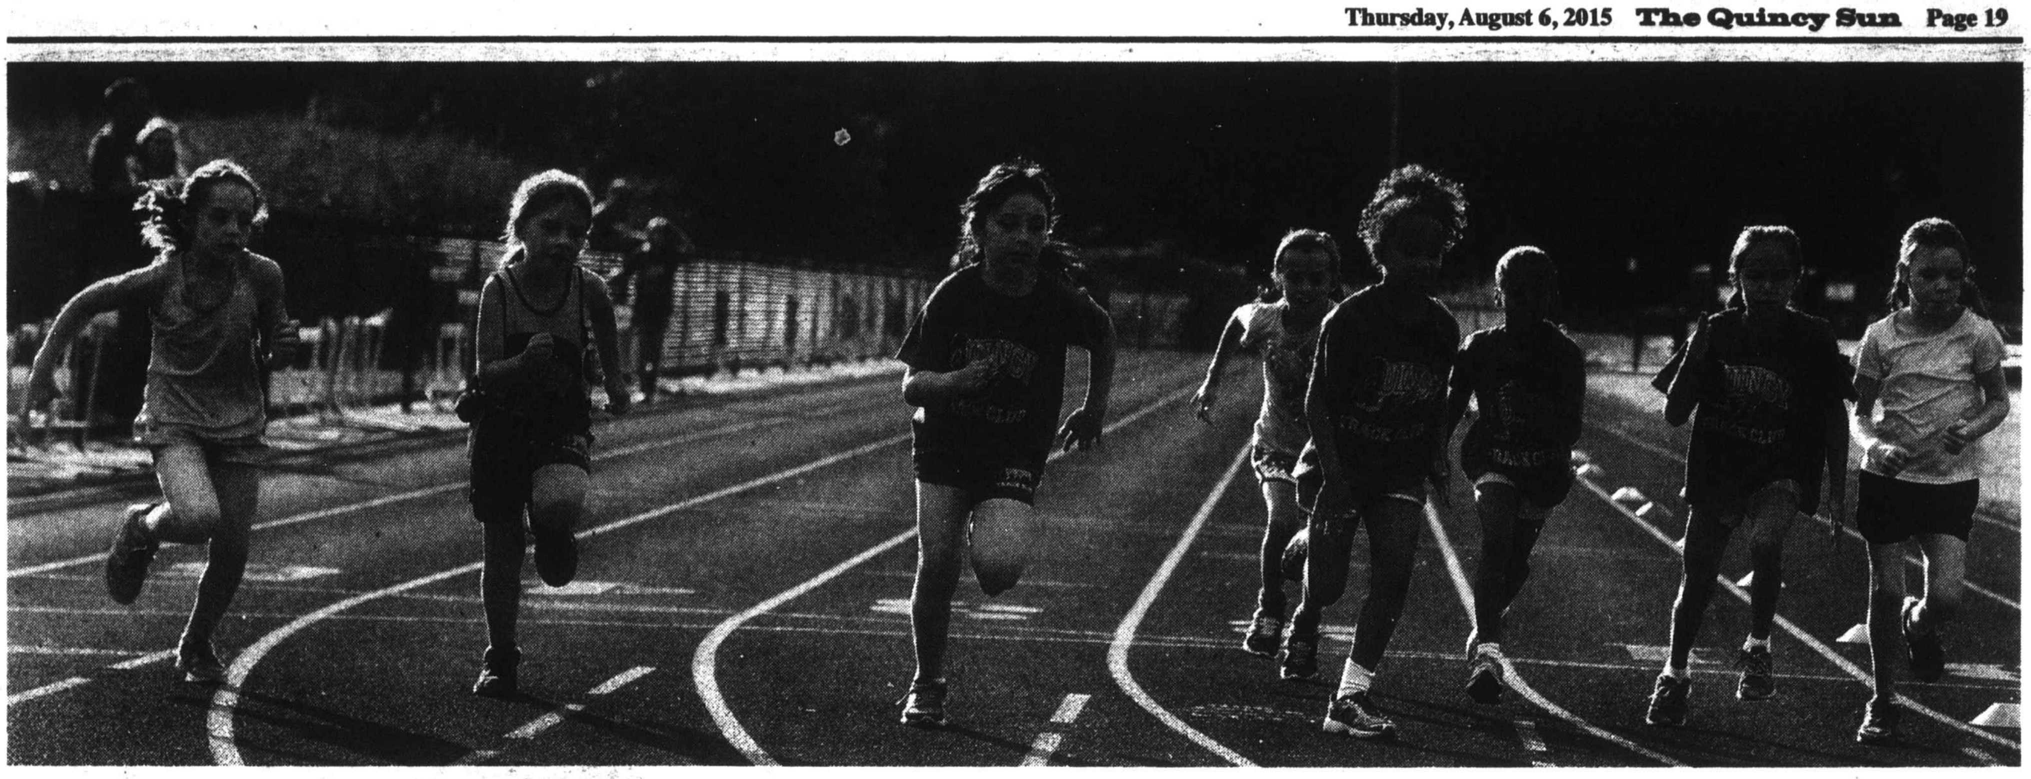
"You see kids who may have been out or not at their best and then they come here where there's competition from other clubs and they suddenly come out of the woodwork and do a great job," said Hennessy shortly after the completion of the meet. "It's a good meet. We give out ribbons and the kids can do as many events as they want."

While races were being run on the track, the turbo javelin, long jump and high

Cont'd On Page 19

ROBERT CANNON of Quincy, won multiple events at the Quincy Track Club's Frank Kelly Meet. Here he holds some of his first-place ribbons.

GRACE WARREN of Quincy takes off in the long jump, one of the field events at the Quincy Track Club's recent Frank Kelly Meet at Faxon Field.



FRANK KELLY MEET always features fun and competitive events for members of the Quincy Track Club. Above girls ages 7 and 8 leave the starting line in the 800 run. Below: one of the highlights of the meet is youngsters aged 4 and younger participating in the 50-yard dash.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Track Club: Where Future Stars Shine

Cont'd From Page 18

jump were in full competitive mode on the infield of the Faxon track. Just outside the track on the final turn, shot putters pushed themselves, trying to land new personal bests in the last competition of the season.

Andy and Christina Geagan, themselves running enthusiasts, were at the track to cheer on their sons Patrick and Colin. Colin particularly enjoys the field events while Patrick is out to run the competition into the ground. Patrick and Colin have already run a 5K without stopping at 6 and 7 years old, respectively

"Patrick is definitely the more competitive one," said Andy. "He likes to go against the older kids."

Christina echoed her husband's feelings. "He wants to improve every time," she said. "He wants to beat everybody. He's super competitive. We just have to be careful to hold him back."

One of the most impressive athletes on the track was 10-year-old Jamie Fulton of Weymouth and a member of the Quincy Track Club more than proved she has a future on the track. Jamie showed plenty of range on the oval as she picked up wins in the 800, 200, 100 and 50 and was the most impressive performer on the track.

Jamie is the epitome of an all-around athlete. She plays soccer and flag football during the fall, but admitted track is her true love and it helps elevate her game in the other sports. "I love track," she said with a smile. "Track is my favorite sport. It helps me in soccer because you need to run fast to be able to get to the ball. You do a lot of running (in track) so you're always in shape."

Jamie credits Hennessy for her improvement on the track. "He is a great coach and I've learned a lot, especially how to pace myself," said Jamie.

Another budding track star who won four events was nine-year-old Robert Cannon of Quincy who took home first-place ribbons in the 800, 400, 200 and 100 running events.

Members of the Quincy Track Club who participated in the Frank Kelly Meet are:

Jackson Baldini, Jonathan Baldini, Matilde Baldini, Jess Bargar, Brighid Burke, Joey Burke, Joseph Campo, Robert Cannon, Sophia Clark, Kyle Clements, Elizabeth Cordero, Emma Cramond, Mica Cumberbatch, Stephen Cunniffi, Luisa Devarie, Eileen Durgin, Sabrina Egan, Gianna Failla, Joey Ferreira, Mikaela Ferreira, Jamie Fulton, John Fulton, Peter Fulton, Kamille Garrick, Colin Geagan, Patrick Geagan, Angelina Giannetti, Alex Giaquinto, Eddie Giza, Kristian Glozheni, Alexandra Guia, Chloe Guia.

Also Rhiley Harrigan, Alivea Healy, Lola Healy, Eliza Henry, Emilia Henry, Robert Horsley, Violette Ingram, Billy Kennedy, John Kennedy, Jacob Kerfien, Spencer Knight, Paulina Lydon, John Lynch, Matthew Manzi, Angelie McGrath, Richard McGrath, Ellis McRoberts, Gemma McRoberts, Justus Mosley, Claudia Mulvey, Veronica Mulvey, Blake Nelson, Zoe Nelon, Lucas Ortiz, Mateo Ortiz, Alex Ouellette, Nick Ouellette.

Enhea Panarita, Lola Paradis, Daithi Quinn, Sorcha Quinn, Victoria Reid, Jordyn Robinson, Joy Robinson, Jerry Roche, Nevin Roche, James Roper, Matthew Roper, Madison Rose, Raymond Rose, Emma Roux, Mason Ryan, Janna Salbibia, Gerelle SanJose, Terezze SanJose, Atharv Saxena, Charlotte Shapiro, Declan Shields, Amaya Six-Tiger, Rio Six-Tiger, Kaylee Sleiman, Keira Sleiman, Nathan Sleiman, Ellie Smith-Gaeta, Mollie Smith-Gaeta, Jonah Stephens-Roye, David Sutter, Sophia Walsh, Grace Warren and Rahul Yarramsetti.

QHS Boys Soccer Alumni Game At Stadium Friday

Quincy High School Boys Soccer will host its fourth annual Alumni Game Friday, Aug. 7 at 8 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Any past QHS boys soccer alumni are welcome and encouraged to participate.

To register, visit the alumni game registration link https://qhsboyssoccer.wufoo.com/forms/k11zfbe806oe0lj/. All alumni wanting to play must register. Participants can either pay at the end of the registration and save $5 (registration fee will be $15) or they can close the form at the end of the registration process and pay $20 the day of the event. Registration fee includes a game day shirt.

The game will be played in memory of Alfred Schofield, Class of '64. All proceeds will be donated to the Lamar Thompson Book Award.

Limited spaces available. For more information contact Janice Dane at jdane123@comcast.net

Two On Roger Williams Dean's List

Two students from Quincy are on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Roger Williams University in Bristol, R.I.

They are: Mariah Anastasi, majoring in psychology; and Deanna Soricelli, majoring in psychology.

Ying Ge Wang On Dean's List

Ying Ge Wang of Quincy has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at Clark University in Worcester.

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

BRAIN MATTERS

One reason why chiropractic treatment may be so effective in treating tension headaches is that there is a connection between tension in neck muscles and the brain. There is, in fact, a tiny web of fibrous tissue connecting a muscle in the back of the neck with the brain's "dura mater," which is the outermost fibrous membrane covering the brain and the spinal cord. When this small muscle in the neck is moved, the connecting tissue pulls on the dura mater and causes it to contract. Because the dura mater is abundant in nerves and produces intense pain when irritated, tense neck muscles may lead to tension headaches. If so, chiropractic treatment may effectively resolve the tension and the pain.

Do you suffer with tension headaches? At FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC, we combine the art of 'hands on' healing with modern medical science to restore normal joint and neurological function and improve your overall health. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy, where we do not use drugs and address the cause of the problem, not just the symptoms. To schedule an appointment please call 617.472.4220. We offer computerized spinal scans.

P.S. Tension headaches may result from stress-induced muscle spasms in the upper cervical spine that cause irritation of nerves and constriction of blood vessels in the neck, which help supply blood to the dura mater of the brain.

www.freedmanchiro.com

Four Local Youngsters Attend Kids Football Camp

Four Quincy youngsters were among the 54 boys and girls who attended the 8th annual kids football clinic at Gillette Stadium with Tedy Bruschi sponsored by SBLI.

Youth were selected to attend the minicamp based on essays that they wrote. Among them were Marco and Victoria Carvalho, Julio Ramos, and Renée Clermont, all of Quincy, who were all members of Tedy's Rushers. The kids received a personalized locker, an official Bruschi Patriots jersey, a proper announcement onto the field while running through the big inflatable helmet, and the chance to participate in football drills with NFL greats.

Bruschi enlisted some of his football pals to lend a hand, including Jerod Mayo, Ryan Wendell, Mathew Slater, Tyler Gaffney, Vince Taylor, David Andrews, Jimmy Jean, Chris Harper, D.J. Lynch, Jimmy Mundine, Brandon King, and Patriots strength and conditioning coach, Harold Nash.

STADIUM
SBLI
KIDS FOOTBALL CLINIC with TEDY BRUSCHI
Bank of America
ALEX AND ANI
TEDY BRUSCHI'S CHOICE
VISA
CROSS
Tedy's Rushers

FOUR QUINCY YOUNGSTERS were among the 54 boys and girls who attended the 8th annual kids football clinic at Gillette Stadium with Tedy Bruschi sponsored by SBLI. First row (from left to right): Declan Costigan (Avon); Conner Sheehan (Avon); Christina Femino (North Falmouth); Elias Feagins (Brockton); Camille Femino (North Falmouth); Javion Lloyd (Dorchester). Second row: Matt Abate (team captain); Max Sheerin (team captain); Marco Carvalho (Quincy); Nayvon Reid (Brockton); Jamari Lloyd (Brockton); Julio Ramos (Quincy); Renée Clermont (Quincy); and Victoria Carvalho (Quincy). Third row: New England Patriot Minutemen; Harold Nash, New England Patriots Strength and Conditioning Coach; Jimmy Mundine; Jimmy Jean; Vince Taylor; D.J. Lynch; Paul Lynch, Assistant Vice President and Communications Manager at SBLI; Teddy Brushi; David Andrews; Matthew Slater; Ryan Wendell; Tyler Gaffney; Jerod Mayo and New England Patriot Minutemen.

Photo Courtesy Regan Communications

Mayor: Park, Rec Facilities Part Of Substance Abuse Fight

Opening newly reconstructed basketball and street-hockey courts at opposite ends of the City this past weekend, Mayor Thomas Koch said that the City's ongoing investment in parks and recreation facilities is an often-overlooked tool in the ongoing fight to stem substance abuse.

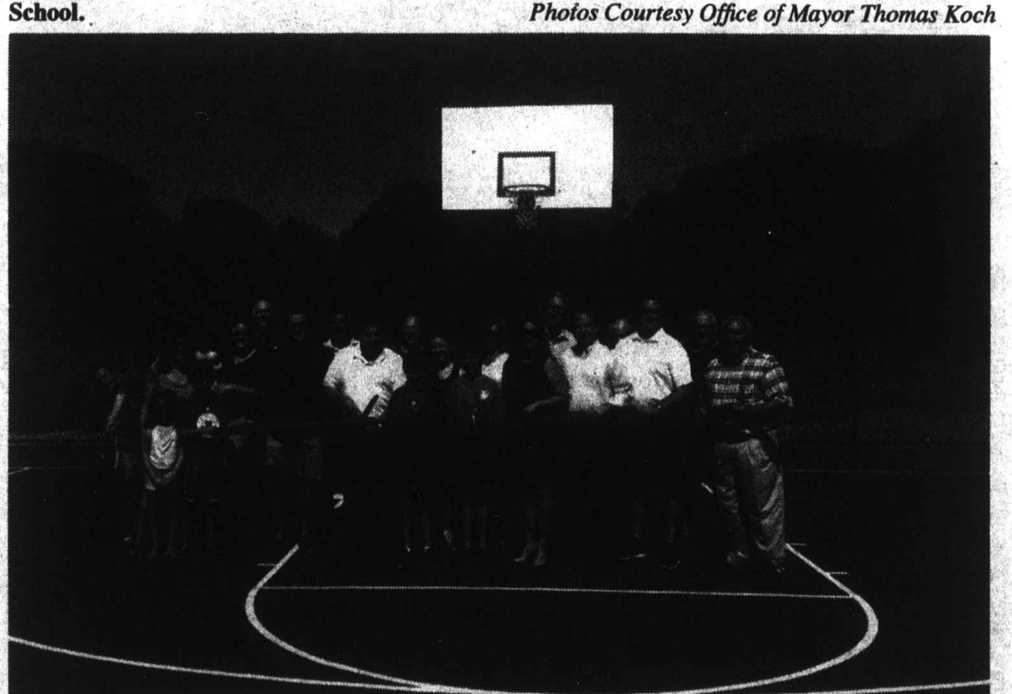
"We have a responsibility to provide our young people with the kind of facilities they will use on a regular basis and keep them as active as possible and away from the dangers that we all know exist when our kids think they have nothing to do," said Koch.

"It's certainly no silver bullet, but together with our programs in the Quincy Public Schools, the most substantial activities program anywhere in Massachusetts in the Quincy Recreation Department, and our commitment to first-rate facilities, it can and it does make a difference."

Cont'd On Page 31

CITY LEADERS and residents were on hand Sunday for the dedication of newly reconstructed basketball and street hockey courts. The photo above was taken at Wendall Moses Playground in Squantum. The photo below was taken at Perkins Field Playground near the Merrymount School.

Photos Courtesy Office of Mayor Thomas Koch



GOLFERS WANTED

to support Brockton VA Hospital, Toys for Tots & The Fisher House

25th Annual
Caddy Golf Classic

Friday, September 11, 2015
9:00AM Tee Time
South Shore Country Club
274 South Street
Hingham, MA 02043
$150.00 per person

Includes:
- Golf Cart & Golf Shirt
- Hole-In-One contest to win a new Toyota Corolla Sponsored by Tufankjian Toyota of Braintree
- Greenside Grill Award Luncheon

Hole Sponsorships:
- Marine Corps League Hole Sponsor @ $500 per Hole
- Caddy Detachment Hole Sponsor @ $250 per Hole
- Commandant's Hole Sponsor @ $100 per Hole
- *In Memory of Loved Ones @ $100 per Hole (up to 2 names)

Please make checks payable to Caddy Golf Classic
Mail to: William R. Caddy Detachment #124
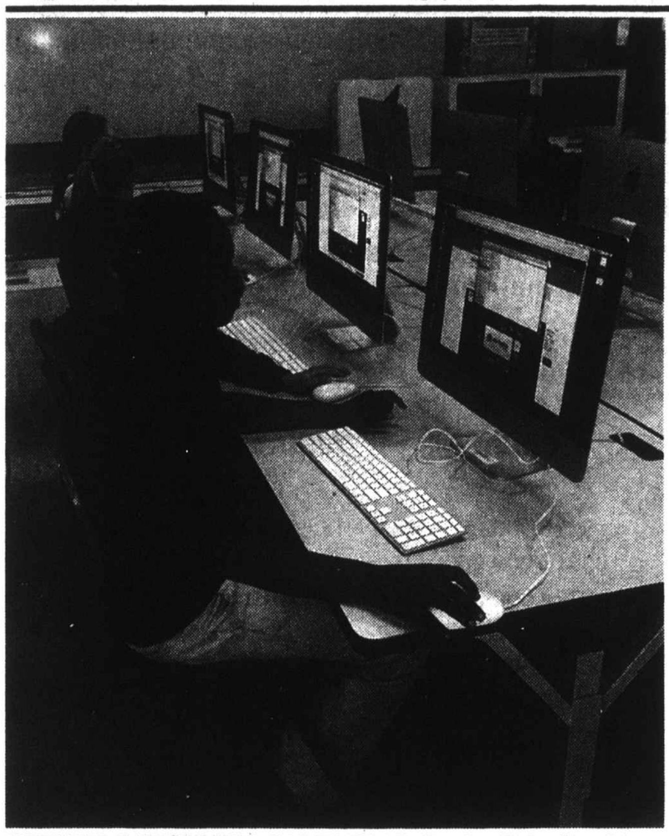
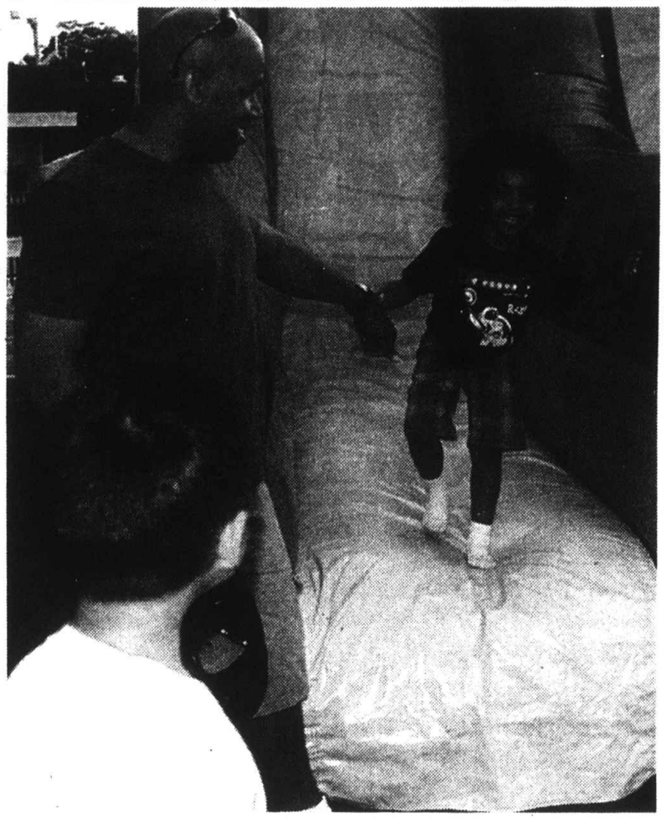
111 Newbury Avenue, North Quincy, MA 02171
or call Chairman Leo Cardarelli (617)479-7405



QUINCY CATHOLIC ACADEMY 4th Grader Tyler Raphino in the computer lab, one of QCA's technology advancements over the past five years.



CAMERON BERNADEAU, a Quincy Catholic Academy preschooler, enjoys the slide at the Academy's recent outdoor festival.

QUINCY CATHOLIC ACADEMY K-2 student Ruby Holahan is happy playing outside in the playground.

Quincy Catholic Academy: Five Years And Growing

With Technology, Upgrades, Expansion

It's been five years since Quincy Catholic Academy has opened its doors, and since then, the Academy has taken quite the transformation from where it started.

To celebrate this milestone, QCA held an outdoor festival on June 10 with moon bounces, face painting, balloonists, cotton candy, popcorn, and crafts open to students, alumni, and the public.

"We are so proud of all the accomplishments we've made in such a short time," said Principal Cathy Cameron. "We encourage everyone to come visit and see what an incredible place QCA is. Our teachers and staff are truly wonderful, we offer an outstanding academic program and our facility has so much to offer."

In 2010, the Archdiocese decided to combine Quincy's three remaining Catholic schools into one, calling it Quincy Catholic Academy. Teachers and staff from the three schools merged, and together have created an incredible learning environment for students in Preschool through Grade 8. Over these last five years, QCA is continually growing with its technology, facility upgrades, and enhancements to its curriculum.

After opening with a successful four-year-old program, QCA opened a new Preschool program for three year olds in 2011. The Early Childhood Program has since grown considerably. A brand new Early Childhood area of the school for students in Preschool to K-1 has been created. "This new space offers a cheerful, nurturing environment that challenges children with many age-appropriate activities," said Ms. Cameron. "And construction for more classrooms continues!"

During the first year, QCA's gymnasium had a complete makeover with a new hardwood floor, top-rated, ceiling mounted basketball nets, and protective wall padding. Along with the Academy's gym classes and QCA Wolves basketball team, many other local leagues continually use this facility for their games and practices. A school store was also added, where students can purchase school supplies and QCA merchandise.

In 2012, QCA continued with its facility upgrades and unveiled its new outdoor playground. This large outdoor space gives students a great area to run around, climb, and get fresh air during a school day.

"Playgrounds help children to develop in two ways: physically and socially, which is fundamental for our students," said Principal Cameron. In 2014, QCA named their park "The Father John O'Brien Playground" in honor of Sacred Heart Parish's Father O'Brien who was instrumental in the success of Quincy Catholic Academy.

Technology is constantly changing, and QCA keeps along with it. During the first year in 2010, Smart boards were installed in all middle school classrooms. In 2012, new Chrome notebooks were implemented in Grades 4 through 8, using Khan Academy where students strengthen math skills and challenge each other to more difficult assignments.

In 2013, brand new 60-inch Apple® flat-screen televisions were installed in the K2 to Grade 5 classrooms directly linked to teachers' Apple® iPads. The most recent upgrade was this year in April 2015 when 25 new IMacs were installed in QCA's computer lab

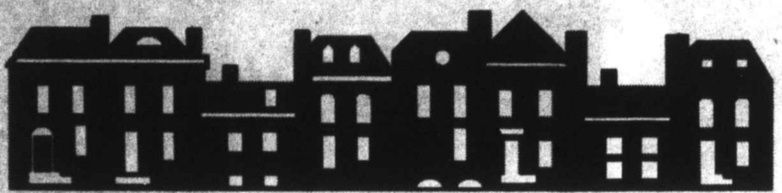
With a graduating class of 38 students this year, all attending prestigious high schools, QCA continues to grow and keep up with the 21st century needs that are required to help students reach their highest potential. Located at 370 Hancock St. in North Quincy, Quincy Catholic Academy has a rolling open enrollment and will be offering tours throughout the summer months. For more information, call 617-328-3830.

SHARING A MOMENT at the Quincy Catholic Academy's recent outdoor festival are (from left) Amanda and Chloe O'Neill, Mia Pecevich, and Angelina Coletti.

QUINCY CATHOLIC ACADEMY students at a recent pep rally in gym.

Photos Courtesy Quincy Catholic Academy

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com



Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions July 27 - July 31

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Naples Family Irrevocable Trust	Khanh Q Le	$388,000.00	18 Montilio Street
Charles G & Elizabeth Antonakos	Jillian L Maxey	$318,000.00	65 Hillside Avenue
Sue & Qin H Mei	Chuan Tian & Yu Xiao	$220,000.00	115 West Squantum Street
Zhong Liu	Kevin Ng	$417,000.00	12 Isabella Street Unit 12
Devareaux & Shaquanna Brown	Qian Zhao	$192,000.00	802 Willard Street Unit E-4
Sarah Solorzano	Xia Lin & Chow Zhang	$239,900.00	200 Falls Boulevard Unit E-107
Rosa & Emilio Recupero	Otturboli Real Estate LLC	$378,000.00	27-29 Trafford Street
Zhi & Suiki Liao	Quin Lin & Mingxia Yang	$434,000.00	136 Hamilton Avenue
Stephen M Blanchette	Carol Chu	$119,000.00	35 Desmoines Road Unit 310
Govoni Realty Trust of 2012	Jun G Zheng & Sheng J Yu	$635,000.00	138 - 140 Willow Street
Matthew R & Brandy M Mongeau	Kristen Finn	$320,000.00	12 Dartmouth Street
PEJR LLC	Vadivel M Umpathy & Praveena R Kanipakam	$590,000.00	187 Franklin Street
Mary Stanton Trust	Daniel K & Meagan J Shaffer	$429,000.00	144 East Elm Avenue
Susan J Dellio	Paul M Lopes & Liza M Iolli	$519,000.00	152 East Elm Street
Ahmad Debs & Quy Nguyen	Lilyana Nguyen	$361,000.00	32 Weymouth Street
Principle Broadcasting Network LLC	Vertical Bridge Towers LLC	$558,472.00	285 State Street
Liem Nguyen & Chau Mai	Nicholas A Allard	$345,000.00	84 Gilbert Street
Peter C, Susan J, Steven S, Michael P Ramponi	Matthew Ramponi	$425,000.00	106 Edwards Street
Fintan J Murtagh & Laura L Bunting	Patrick J Calnan Jr	$620,000.00	75 Sonoma Road
Paul A Jr & Diane M Henderson	Michael Guidi & Lisa M Rosson	$470,000.00	42 Sunnyside Road
Kathleen C Phaneuf & Raphael A Rodriguez	Jimmy G Wu	$368,050.00	482 Beale Street
Peter J Olivieri	William R Michaud	$15,000.00	60-62 Raycrof Street
Siobhain Feeney	Elizabeth Anthony	$337,500.00	90 Dexter Street
Sheryl A Widberg - Sheryl Gunapati	Scott & Carlos Bechaz	$467,500.00	129 Bay View Avenue
Eric Johnson	Chong Xu	$335,000.00	184 Washington Street
Leah P Gibson - Leah p Campnale	Ying L Gao	$533,000.00	12 Ruthven Street
Timothy E & Lisa M Geaudreau	Wilson Chieng & Bonnie Kwan	$276,000.00	139 Federal Avenue
Stephen F MacDonald	Guan Y & Chun H Zhang	$368,888.00	52 Graham Street
Jeffrey & Nicole Richard	Guo Q Huang, Si & Frank F Zhou	$290,000.00	200 Cove Way Unit 202
Wililam & Brenda Moran	Caitlin B Foley	$329,500.00	26 Reardon Street
29 Sunset Point Realty Trust	Bryan Doherty	$145,000.00	211 West Street
Catherine A Miner	Yan Lin	$340,000.00	154 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 37
Richard A & Avis E Dalrymple	Michael J & constance Welch	$374,000.00	119 Turner Street
Damian J & Taedra Turco	Pou S & Mann H Sit	$300,000.00	294 Billings Road
Samuel D Borowiec	Bower Condo Trust	$245,000.00	15 Bower Road
Tomasz & Zyta Nagler	Michael McGinn & Kathleen McGinn-Morancy	$289,000.00	100 Cove Way Unit 303
Yong Y Zeng & Ai Z Gao	John P & Elizabeth Nuzzo	$650,000.00	214 Billings Street
Pamela L Perry & Bruce C Tainter	Benjamin S Dunham & Wendy Rolfe-Dunham	$262,000.00	90 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 815
Anthony & Anne Brogan	Johnny Ling	$738,000.00	158 Arlington Street
Gurnek Realty Trust	American Eagle Investment LLC	$1,700,000.00	1546-1548 Hancock Street
Alun Wong	Jian Q Zheng & Yan F Gao	$439,400.00	9 Hollis Avenue
Manxue Guo, Pengcheng Zhu, Hongwei Zhang, Xiaoyun Xu	DP Development LLC	$620,000.00	32 Gilson Road

Register Of Deeds Office Hours Here Sept. 24

Nofolk County Register of Deeds William O'Donnell will hold office hours in Quincy Thursday, Sept. 24 from 10 a.m. to noon at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington St., Room 121.

O'Donnell and Registry staff awill be available to answer basic questions, transport documents for recording, assist in the filling out of a Declaration of Homestead form that provides for limited protection against the forced sale of an individual's primary residency to satisfied unsecured debt up to $500,000, as well as helping a person sign-up for the new Consumer Notification Program that alerts a homeowner against a property fraud transaction.

There will also be on-site work stations that can provide real-time status of a mortgage discharge, print out a deed or provide a demonsrtration on how the Registry's On-Line Land Records Database works.

No appointment is necessary to attend the open office hours.

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

FLAVIN Insurance Agency
Complete Insurance Service Since 1925
Auto • Home • Condos • Apartments
Travel Trailers • Umbrellas • Flood • Business
Boats • Commercial Auto
Offering great rates and discounts
Call or drop in for Premium Quote
Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St. Quincy Center
Visit: www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

QUINCY
www.
stamosandstamosrealtors
.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Squantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400

RE/MAX Realty Pros Above the Crowd!
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your
Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com

If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate 222 Sea Street, Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoor-RE.com

Real Estate

PASS Realtors Donate To 3 Charities

DOVE, Habitat For Humanity Norfolk Advocates For Children

Plymouth and South Shore ASSOCIATION of REALTORS, INC.
Plymouth and South Shore Association of REALTORS® (PASS)
Date: 6/16/15
$ 2,000.00
Pay to the order of: DOVE INC.
Two Thousand and 00/100
Memo
Authorized Signature

DOVE check presentation: front row (left to right) PASS Community Service Committee members: Julie Chapman, Trip Miller, DOVE Director of Development & Communications Dawn Hayes, Jennifer Warchal and Suzanne O'Leary. Back row (left to right) PASS Community Service Committee members: Jonathan Keener, Craig Mancusi, Bill Bailot, John Harrington, Jeff DeMoura, Marilyn Creehan, Amy Troup, Ginny Wandell and Kevin Constantino. PhotosCourtesy PASS

Members of the Plymouth and South Shore Association of Realtors (PASS) Community Service Committee presented three local charities with grant monies secured from the Massachusetts Association of Realtors (MAR) Charitable Foundation's Housing and Homeless Assistance Grant program.

Receiving donations were:

- $2,000 grant for Domestic Violence Ended (DOVE, Inc.)
- $1,500 grant for Norfolk Advocates for Children
- $500 grant for Habitat for Humanity of Greater Plymouth.

The program supports local non-profit groups and their initiatives to provide affordable housing, shelter, and emergency care services within the Commonwealth.

Norfolk Advocates for Children (NAC) is a public/private partnership with the Norfolk District Attorney's Office and more than 50 public and private organizations that provide specialized services to children and families who have experienced physical, sexual or domestic abuse. They will utilize the grant funds to provide a trauma-focused, evidence-supported mental health treatment coordinated through the NAC. For more information on Norfolk Advocates for Children contact 508-543-0500.

DOVE, Inc., will utilize their grant to help fund the operation of their 24-hour anonymous hotline and their emergency shelter that houses victims of domestic violence and their children. DOVE advocates work with shelter guests to ensure their safety and navigate the many support systems DOVE provides including legal, financial, and psychological services to help victims achieve economic stability and self-sufficiency.

DOVE teaches domestic violence prevention programs in school systems across the South Shore instructing youth how to recognize early signs of abusive relationships and what to do if they find themselves in an abusive situation. Visit http://www.dovema.org for more information on DOVE, Inc.

Habitat for Humanity of Greater Plymouth (HFHGP) received the grant for their Veteran Build Program where HFHGP will build three new affordable homes in Plymouth, two of which will be earmarked specifically for veterans and their families. They were also recognized for their Brush with Kindness program that provides home repairs and accessibility accomodations. To learn about these programs visit http://www.hfhplymouth.org.

Ask Barbara Graceffa: Secretary Of The Interior

My kitchen desperately needs a facelift. What do I need to know to paint the cabinets? Can I paint countertops and appliances, too? Charles

Note: This response continues from the July 30 issue and will span over several issues of The Quincy Sun.

Now that the prep work is ready for painting the cabinets, you are ready to head to the paint store for supplies (and advice!). Above all, buy high quality products, including brushes and paint. Cheap brushes and rollers fall apart - often leaving bristles or roller fuzz on your surface - and inexpensive paints have less pigment in them causing you to spend more time putting on more coats to get the coverage you need.

Measure your cabinets and bring those dimensions to the paint store. Decide if you plan to paint just the exterior of the doors or the interiors, too. (If you paint only the exteriors, you will save on time and the cost of additional paint.) Also, it is good to tell the paint manager what type of paint or stain currently resides on your wood cabinets.

Armed with the proper information, s/he can advise you on how much and what type of primer and paint (and sheen – satin and semi-gloss are typically used) to purchase. Seek advice on which tools to use, too; they include sprayers, brushes, and rollers.

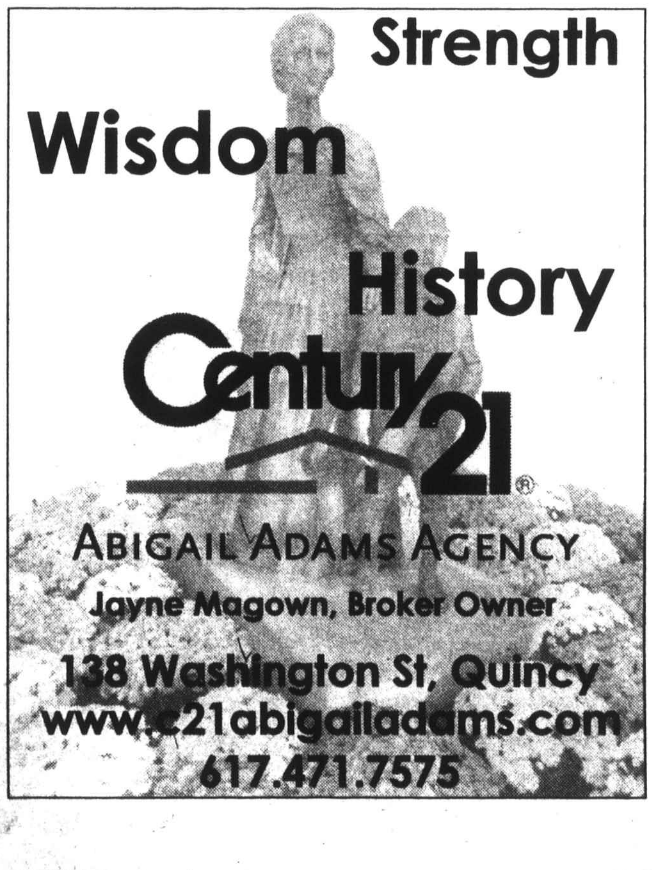
Be prepared to spend the time to do one coat of primer and two top coats of paint. If you are painting the interior doors, do them first. Then paint the frame faces – the front of the cabinets, minus the doors and drawers.

Next, move to the door fronts. Position them horizontally for smooth paint coverage and fewer drips. Allow all pieces to dry thoroughly before adding hardware and repositioning doors and drawers in place.

Readers, stay tuned for the next installments of Dear Secretary of the Interior for advice on painting countertops, appliances, tiles, and floors.

Do you have a decorating problem needing a professional solution? Send your questions to Secretary of the Interior at barbara@sec-interior.com.

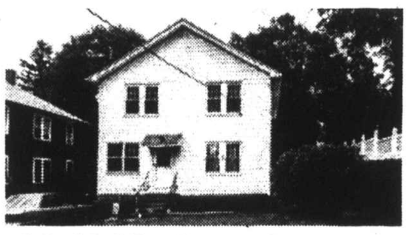
Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy. For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.



25 CELEBRATING 25 YEARS 1990 - 2015
SUCCESS!
REAL ESTATE

67 Sims Road, Quincy
Beechwood Knoll

A beautiful colonial home nestled at the top of a family friendly cul-de-sac in one of Quincy's most sought after neighborhoods. Well maintained three-bedroom colonial offering both privacy and a wonderful neighborhood feel. A spacious formal living room with fireplace and formal dining room, kitchen and laundry room. Off of the living room is a 3 wide window sun room. Upstairs are three bedrooms and a bathroom with a full size attic. Expansive and private yard with rear mahogany deck, Jacuzzi and screen house with bar for outdoor entertaining. Prime location in proximity to Boston, Wollaston Beach and Quincy shops and restaurants. $499,900



14-16 Madison Avenue, Quincy

Wonderful 2 Family home in convenient location. This 2 family home has updated kitchens and baths, hardwood floors throughout. Oversized decks overlooking large level yard. Full unfinished basement with full bath that could easily be finished for additional living space. Laundry in each unit. All separate utilities. Newer heating systems. Convenient location close to Quincy Center, "T", and highway. $499,900

172 Franklin Street, Quincy
Coming Soon... Stay Tuned! $324,900

Call Carolyn Glynn
Success! Real Estate
for showings 617.797.5616

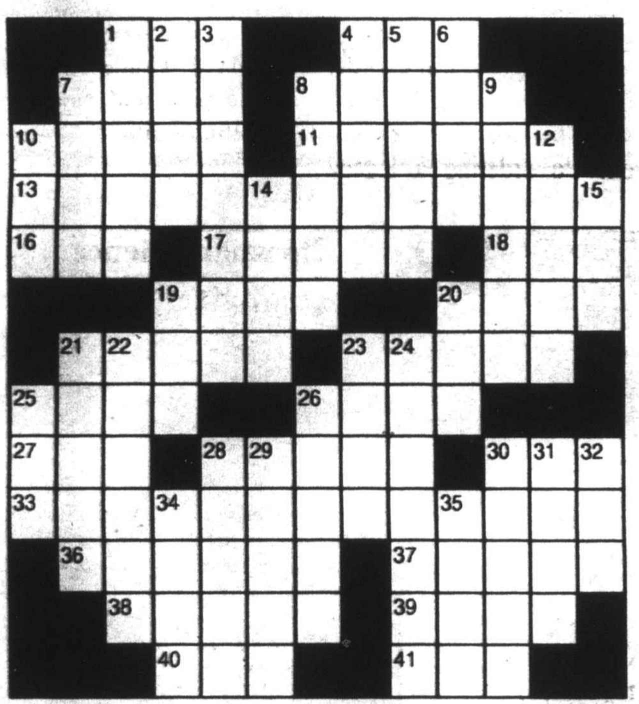
Carolyn Glynn
Success! Real Estate
Cell (617) 797-5616
Email cagreal@aol.com
Office Fax (617) 773-7611
CBR, REALTOR
Quality Service Award recipient 2009, 2010, 2011
Top Producer Award recipient 2011, 2012,2013

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Legislation
4 Cooking spray brand
7 Hint
8 Overseas money
10 Plant life
11 Psychological injury
13 Easy task comparison
16 Toss in
17 Grant's successor
18 Letter after pi
19 Phone inventor
20 Mulligan, e.g.
21 Dodge
23 Magnetic induction unit
25 Unescorted
26 Cartoonist Goldberg
27 Branch
28 Surmise
30 Macabre author
33 Easy task comparison
36 Central German city
37 Soap opera extra, often
38 Beat
39 Advertising award
40 Dog's doc
41 Golfer Ernie

DOWN
1 Frank — Wright
2 Emanation
3 Newscast segment
4 Blender setting
5 Large part of Al-Jazeera's audience
6 Small grimace
7 Dressed (in)
8 — alcohol
9 Stings
10 Rx watchdog org.
12 Liniment targets
14 Converse
15 Explanation
19 Huge
20 Take to court
21 Sucker
22 Shakespeare title role
23 Spew like Old Faithful
24 "Perfect attendance" spoiler
25 Witnessed
26 So old it's new again
28 Greedy kid's demand
29 Inappropriate
30 Hilton heiress
31 Roughly
32 — out a living
34 Ukraine's capital
35 Yank



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● THINGS PULLED

C N K H E B Y V S P M J H E B
Y V H T Q E R O L I G D B Y W
T R A P L M K E I F D B Y W U
S Q M C E N O M G K I F D B Z
X W S U G S O Q O G N L J H F
S U T D S C A G H Y I W V T S
M L R L Q R K T A P N R L K I
R E I K S R E T A W O H T F E
C A N A O E B V Z P Y W V U S
N A G P T R Q D E L S P N M L
R J S E H C N U P L I H F E D

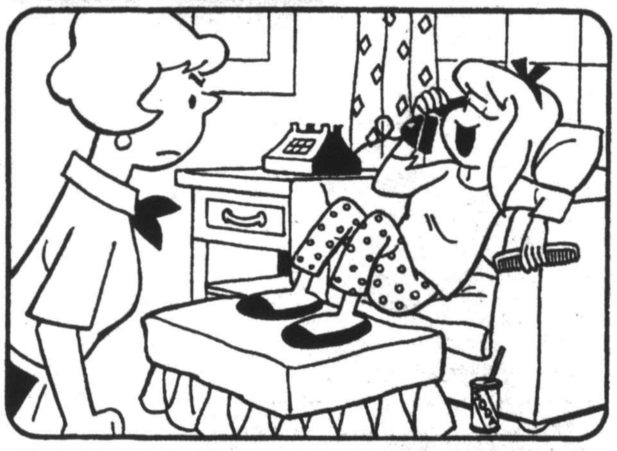
Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Hamstring
Legs
Lever
Muscle
Nails
Pork
Punches
Rank
Rope
Sled
Strings
Tails
Teeth
Wagon
Water skier

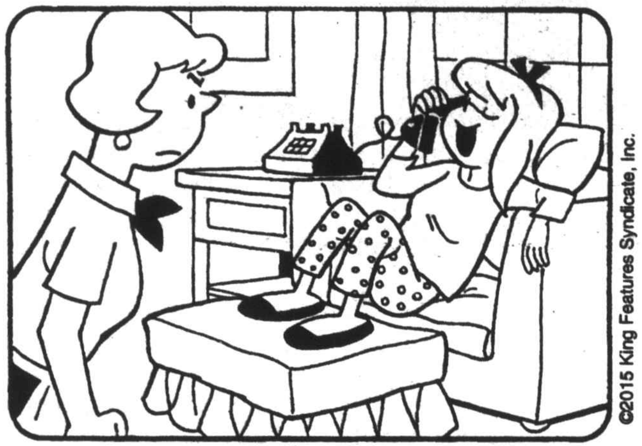
©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Hair is different. 2. Sleeve is shorter. 3. Handle is missing. 4. Curtain is different. 5. Comb is missing. 6. Soda can is missing.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. LITERATURE: Who wrote the 20th-century novel "The Sea Wolf"?
2. GEOGRAPHY: The island of Bali is province of what nation?
3. HISTORY: Which was the only American colony not represented at the first Continental Congress of 1774?
4. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: Where is the Mount Palomar Observatory?
5. BIBLE: What Bible verse begins with the words: "The Lord is my shepherd ... "?
6. PERSONALITIES: What is Tiger Woods' real first name?
7. MEASUREMENTS: How many square inches are in a square foot?
8. INVENTIONS: Who is credited with inventing potato chips?
9. LANGUAGE: What kind of animal does the adjective "porcine" refer to?
10. MEDICINE: What causes chilblains?

Answers
1. Jack London
2. Indonesia
3. Georgia
4. California
5. Psalm 23
6. Eldrick
7. 144
8. George Crum
9. Pigs
10. Inflammation from exposure to cold, then sudden warming

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Wishing Well®

5 3 6 3 6 7 4 3 6 7 4 7 2
A U A N T D W E I O O M A

7 8 4 7 6 8 3 2 4 5 3 2 4
E A R S D R X D K W P A E

8 7 8 2 6 4 6 7 3 4 2 5 6
T T I P Y F S I E F T O U

4 6 4 7 3 5 4 8 7 3 4 2 7
O M R C C R T S H T P T A

8 7 8 4 3 5 7 2 3 8 7 5 7
T R I A E K M O D C O O N

3 4 8 5 4 2 4 7 5 8 4 3 5
F Y V F S L O Y L E F A O

2 4 2 8 3 8 3 5 2 8 5 8 8
I F F N M T E V E U E R E

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A previous misunderstanding continues to taint the atmosphere to some extent in the early part of the week. But cooler heads prevail, and the situation eases by week's end.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) While the artistic aspect of the Divine Bovine is well-served this week, that practical side is also getting the sort of recognition that could lead to a new and well-deserved opportunity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) With home-related matters taking on more importance this week, now could be the time to make some long-deferred purchases. But shop carefully for the best quality at the best price.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations. While that family problem might still rankle, it should be easing thanks to your efforts to calm the waters. Also, a workplace situation seems to be moving in your favor.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat's energy levels should be rather high these days, and you might do well to tackle any tasks that still need doing. This will clear the way for those upcoming projects.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Someone's criticism might not be as negative as you perceive. Actually, it could be helpful. Discuss the matter with your critic, and you both could learn something valuable.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A business matter could cause some friction among your colleagues. But once again, that logical mind of yours comes to the rescue. And the sooner it does, the better!

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) There might still be some heated temper flare-ups out there. But your sensible self should advise you to stay out of these situations until things cool down and calm is restored.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Changing your mind could be the right thing to do if you can't resolve your doubts. You might want to discuss the matter with someone whose advice you trust.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The Sea Goat's merrier side dominates this week, and this means that, despite your usual busy schedule, you'll be able to squeeze in parties and all sorts of fabulous fun times.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An educational opportunity could lead to something other than what you had planned. But keep an open mind, and before you decide to turn it down, check it out.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The Piscean wit and wisdom helps you work through a situation that might have been accidentally or even deliberately obscured. What you unravel could prove to be very revealing.

BORN THIS WEEK: Loyalty is important to you. You demand it, but you also give it generously and lovingly.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

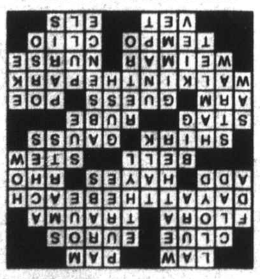
Clue: J equals T

GKDQTYK JRK AQJRKAQJCDCQE
EKKXKX JV TYK Q ZPCBBCEZ
JVVN, RK ZPQGGKX RCY
ATNJC-BNCKPY.

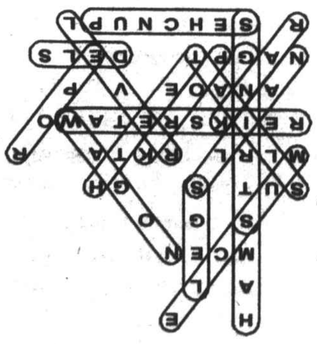
© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword — Answers

Solution time: 25 mins.



Magic Maze ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip ANSWER:

Because the mathematician needed to use a gripping tool, he grabbed his multi-pliers.

RELIGION

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, August 9, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have a Worship Service with Communion at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon. Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

The church office is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 - 3 p.m. Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Service is broadcast on QATV at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

'Family Fun Day' Aug. 8 At Wollaston Beach

Life Community Church of Quincy will celebrate its seventh annual "Family Fun at the Beach" Day Saturday, Aug. 8 from noon to 8 p.m. at Wollaston Beach, Quincy Shore Drive, Quincy.

The event will feature a host of free activities including: inflatable jumpers and obstacle courses, carnival games, face painting, and balloon animals and more.

The public is invited to attend.

Families can picnic on the beach, or purchase food from food vendors and local restaurants. Families are encouraged to bring blankets or lawn chairs for the sundown showing of "Big Hero 6."

Life Community Church meets each week at Sterling Middle School, 444 Granite St., Quincy, with services during the summer at 10 a.m.

A summer children's program, "Super Summer Kids Week," a free camp for school age children (kindergarten through grade 5) will be held each evening from 6 to 8 p.m. during the week of Aug. 10-14. Registration for the camp will be held during "Family Fun at the Beach" day.

For more information, visit http://familyfunatthebeach.com.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service of worship at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and preach the sermon "Living in Unity" based on Psalm 133.

Liturgist for the day is Sue Rheault calling to worship and reading the scripture lesson. Music minister, Steve Reed will play the piano and organ. Serving for the Diaconate are Janice Hughes and Jeff Craig.

Union Congregational Church

Beginning this Sunday, Aug. 9th and continuing through Sunday, Aug. 30th Pastor Jack Swanson will lead a morning Bible Study of the bible book of Philippians at Union Congregational Church, Wollaston.

Philippians is one of the happiest books in the Bible and was writen by the Apostle Paul to encourage people in their walk of faith.

The Bible Study will be basic and brief beginning at 9 a.m. and finishing up by 9:45 a.m. Coffee and muffins will be served.

Covenant Church Seeks Children's Pantry Donations

The Children's Pantry at The Covenant Church of Quincy, located at 315 Whitwell St., is seeking donations of gently used or new children's clothing, books and supplies.

"For more than 15 years our church members, neighbors and members of other Quincy churches have helped us with donations," said Rev. Karen Palmatier, pastor of the congregation. "We are very grateful for all the help and now we need people to help again.

"We especially need children's summer clothing sizes infant to 4T," Rev. Palmatier added.

The Pantry serves children and their families by providing needed clothing, books and supplies, free of charge. Many of the visitors have become good friends of the pantry because they have been coming for years, very often donating clothing their children have outgrown.

Hours are Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 11:30 a.m. To arrange an for drop-off, call the church office at 617-479-5728.

Parish Novena Aug. 6-14

Holy Trinity Parish will conduct its second annual parish novena between the Feast of the Transfiguration and the Eve of the Assumption of Mary Aug. 6-14.

The novena will feature guest celebrant and/or speakers every weeknight including Deacon Alvaro Soares, Mother Olga Yaqob, Fr. Michael McNamara, Sister Carlotta Gilarde CSJ and Fr. Donatus Ezenneka.

The intention of the novena will be that Holy Trinity becomes a prophetic parish. This was the focus of the homily "Ezekiel's Mission and Yours" which can be heard at holytrinityquincyma.podomatic.com along with homilies from Holy Trinity Parish.

All parishioners from Holy Trinity and other parishes are welcome to attend the novena and pray for their own intentions or those of their respective parishes as well.

The Novena will be held on weeknights at 7 p.m. starting Aug. 6th and continuing to Aug. 14th at Most Blessed Sacrament (MBS) Church. Weekends the novena will be incorporated into the regular mass schedule.

For more information contact Holy Trinity Parish via their website at holytrinityquincy.com or call 617-479-9200.

Quincy Point Congregational

Sunday worship is at 10 a.m. in the air-conditioned sanctuary of Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Peter Johnston will preach and Chris Mendez will be the deacon of the day. After worship, all are invited to Social Hall for punch and light refreshments. While there, sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

The legacy brick order deadline is Aug.15th. Consider the long-lasting benefits to ordering a legacy brick to add to the, 'Circle of Gratitude' park located on the Abbey Road side of the church.

Remember a loved one, honor a veteran, publicize a local business or leave words of wisdom to future generations. Bricks are $75 a piece. Order forms and more details available on the Quincy Point Cong Facebook and Twitter pages or call the church office@ 617-773-6424. Come sit down at the park and enjoy the peaceful respite.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 8:00AM and 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM,
11:00AM and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm
on Saturdays, other times
by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible &
Handicapped parking, side entrance
air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning
Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach
"Living In Unity"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship
Service at 10AM

Rev. William C. Harding
will conduct the service
and preach a sermon
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

PEACE

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617)479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099

SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible

Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene

Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

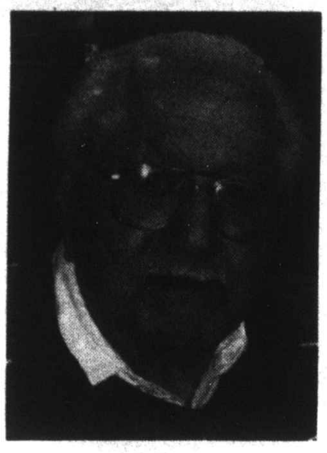
Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

Vincent T. Comoletti, 83



VINCENT T. COMOLETTI

Funeral services for Vincent T. Comoletti, 83, of Braintree were held July 31 at Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mr. Comoletti died peacefully July 27 at Boston Medical Center. He was surrounded by his loving family.

Mr. Comoletti was born in Quincy, raised and educated in Quincy schools and was a graduate of Quincy Trade School, Class of 1951. He had lived in Braintree for 50 years. Vincent was a proud veteran of the Korean War. He served as a staff sergeant and was awarded the Korean Service Medal with 1/ Bronze Star.

Throughout his life, Mr. Comoletti was an incredibly hard worker. He was a shipwright at the former Fore River Shipyard in Quincy and worked for both the Bethlehem Steel Company and General Dynamics. He retired in 1986 after over 25 years of service.

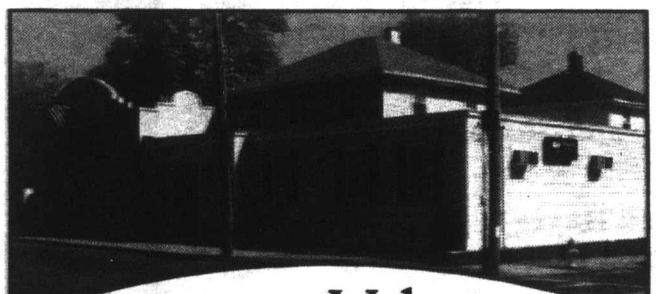
He was devoted to his family, with whom he loved to share his delicious Italian recipes. Whenever the family got together, he could always make them laugh with his endless collection of jokes. Mr. Comoletti was an avid Boston Red Sox fan, cheering for the team even when everyone else had lost hope. He also looked forward to his frequent trips to Mohegan Sun and always made new friends on the bus ride.

Beloved husband of Marjorie M. (Murphy) Comoletti for 60 years. Devoted father of Glenn M. Comoletti and his wife Candace of Bourne, Diane M. Bell of Taunton, David V. Comoletti and his wife Ann of Marshfield and Jeffrey J. Comoletti of Weymouth. Loving grandfather of nine grandchildren: Alicia Bourget, Ashley Bell, Jillian Comoletti, Allison Comoletti, David Comoletti Jr., Adam Comoletti, Jason Comoletti, Matthew Comoletti, and Andrew Comoletti. He had one cherished great-granddaughter, Amelia Bourget.

Mr. Comoletti was the last of seven siblings and is survived by many nieces and nephews.

Interment with Military Honors at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Disabled American Veterans, ATTN: Gift Processing, P.O. Box 14301, Cincinnati, OH 45250-0301.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

Anne A. Thompson, 90

ANNE A. THOMPSON

A funeral service for Anne A. (Scherban) Thompson, 90, of Quincy was held Aug. 1 in Russell & Pica Funeral Home, Brockton.

Mrs. Thompson died July 23 at the Colonial Rehabilitation and Nursing Center in Weymouth after a period of failing health.

She was the wife of the late James W. Leehan and Joseph G Thompson to whom she was married for 43 years.

Born June 17, 1925 in Boston, Mrs. Thompson was the daughter of the late Dimitri Scherban and Mary (Turchinetz) Scherban. She was the last surviving sibling of eight children. Raised in Dorchester, she graduated from Dorchester High School and then worked as a purchasing agent at Hayes Bickford for several years.

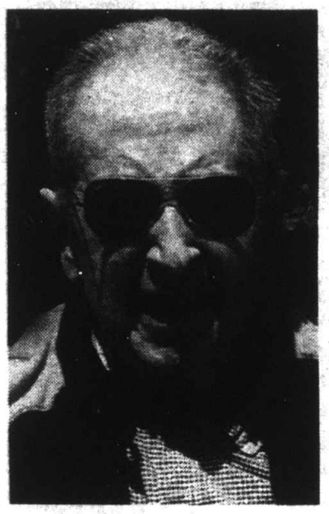
Mrs. Thompson dedicated much of her life to the Women's Club in Williston, Florida, where she received the Woman of the Year award for 1981-1982 and the Women's Club in Milton. She was president of the Williston Women's club for many years and then president of the Milton Women's Club from 2004-2014. She retired as president at age 89.

She is survived by her daughter Roberta Gelsi and her husband Arthur of Hanson and her son-in-law Richard Burgess of Stoughton. She is also survived by five grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and one great great-grandchild and several nieces and nephews. She was the mother of the late Bernadette Anne Burgess and James W. Leehan, Jr.

Interment at Melrose Cemetery, Brockton.

Memorial donations may be made to the Salvation Army, 25 Shawmut Rd., Canton, MA 02021.

Cornelius M. Cahill, 90



CORNELIUS M. CAHILL

A funeral Mass for Cornelius M. Cahill, 90, of Quincy was celebrated July 30 in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Cahill died July 28.

A lifelong Quincy resident, he was a U.S. Army veteran of World War II where he was a member of the 508th Parachute Infantry Regiment of the 82nd Airborne Div. and a POW. Mr. Cahill worked as a clerk for the U.S. Post Office, where he worked for 40 years before retiring, and was a member of the DAV and the George F. Bryan VFW Post 613.

The loving husband of the late Mary (Gaitens) Cahill, he was the beloved father of Annmarie Alakel and her husband John of Weymouth and Thomas P. Cahill and his wife Jayne of Pembroke; dear grandfather of Nicholas and Megan Alakel and Cara, Thomas and Christen Cahill; beloved brother of Margaret M. Mahoney of CA, Geraldine F. McPartland of Weymouth and the late Jeremiah, Thomas and Patricia Cahill.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Wounded Warrior Project, P.O. Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

clifffords.com
1.800.441.8884

Paul J. Gentile, 42

PAUL J. GENTILE

A funeral Mass for Paul J. Gentile, 42, of Quincy was celebrated Monday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Gentile died July 28.

Beloved husband of Lani Gentile of Quincy. Cherished father of Monica Gentile and Paul Phillip Gentile both of Quincy. The beloved son of Gale Gentile of Holbrook and Paul J. Gentile and his wife Cathy of Abington. Brother of Joseph Gentile of Abington. Son-in-law of Maureen and Steve Kowlski of Quincy. Brother-in-law of Stephen Kowlski of Hanson and Maura Nugent of Quincy. Godson of Pamela Flaherty of FL. Also survived by many aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

A longtime Quincy resident, Mr. Gentile was a talented contractor. He enjoyed fishing and boating. He also enjoyed following all the New England sports teams, but nothing was more important to him than his children Monica and Paul Phillip; he adored them. They were the most important part of his world.

Mr. Gentile will be sadly missed by all those who knew him.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Louis A. Prunier, 80

A funeral Mass for Louis A. Prunier, 80, a lifelong Quincy resident, was celebrated Monday in Holy Trinity Parish at the Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Quincy.

Mr. Prunier died peacefully July 30 at the John Scott House Rehabilitation and Nursing Center in Braintree.

He was born and raised in Quincy and was a graduate of Quincy High School and Curry College. He had been employed in the banking industry for many years.

Mr. Prunier was a longtime season ticket holder and avid New England Patriots fan. He also enjoyed the Boston Bruins. He was proud to have served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War. Mr. Prunier was a lifelong parishioner and usher at the Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Quincy.

Beloved son of the late George C. and Jeannette (Letourneau) Prunier. Devoted brother of Dolores M. Belcastro of Duxbury and the late George R. Prunier. Loving uncle of John M. Belcastro, Karen A. Brean of Marshfield, Jeannette M. Martinson of Weymouth, Janice M. Cahill of Marshfield, Lisa M. McNamara of Marshfield and Stephen M. Belcastro of Quincy. Also survived by many grandnieces and grandnephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 30 Speen St., Framingham, MA 01701-1803.

DOLAN
FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

◆ Funerals
◆ Cremations
◆ Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

Muriel M. Trotman, 100

A funeral service for Muriel M. (Blackmore) Trotman, 100, of Greenwood, S.C., and formerly Quincy was held Monday in Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Mrs. Trotman died peacefully July 28 at Hospice Care of the Peidmont in Greenwood.

She was born Oct. 25, 1914, and had resided in Greenwood for the past seven years, moving there from Quincy where she was born and raised. Prior to her move she had been a resident at 1000 Southern Artery and a member of Quincy Point Congregational Church.

Family members include two sons and their wives: Wilfred Trotman and his wife Nina J. of SC and William Trotman and his wife Kathleen of NH and her daughter-in-law Gail Trotman of FL. She is also survived by seven grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her husband Wilfred in 1995, her son Robert in 2001, her sister, Beatrice Sturtevant, her brother, Ernest Blackmore and an infant grandson, William Robert.

MURIEL M. TROTMAN

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St., Quincy, MA 02169-5716 or to a charity of one's choice.

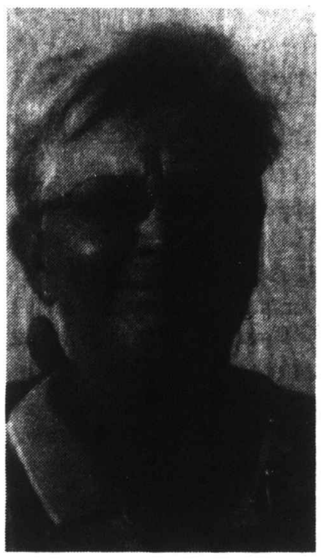
Sandra R. Jordan, 74

A funeral for Sandra Rose Jordan, 74, a longtime resident of Quincy, was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Ms. Jordan died peacefully surrounded by the love, care and comfort of her family on July 30.

Born in South Boston, she was the daughter of the late Sophie Uvello. She graduated from UMass Boston with a degree in business. She worked for more than 20 years as a federal pension agent for the U.S. Government. After her retirement in 1988 she volunteered her services in the Quincy Public School system.

An avid golfer, she actively promoted the advancement of women's golf in her community. She was one of the founders of the Presidents Ladies Association at Presidents Golf Course in 1981 and remained active in the association until 2015. She encouraged beginners to join a Monday night league to learn the basics and rules of golf. She also served as president of South West Suburban League and was a loyal board member and rules committee chair of the Women's Golf Association of MA.



SANDRA R. JORDAN

She was passionate about family, and is survived by her daughter Ramona Jordan of Quincy and by grandsons Mo AL-Kjatib and Khaled AL-Khatib, both of Quincy. She was the sister of Paul Zemotel of Hanover, and Aunt of Paul Zemotel of Weymouth, Gary Zemotel of Plymouth and Michelle Lyne of Weymouth.

Private interment.

Matthew J. McDonnell Esq., 74

A Mass of Christian Burial for Matthew J. McDonnell Esq., 74, of Quincy, formerly of Dorchester, was celebrated Wednesday in St. Gregory Church, Dorchester.

Mr. McDonnell died peacefully at home July 29.

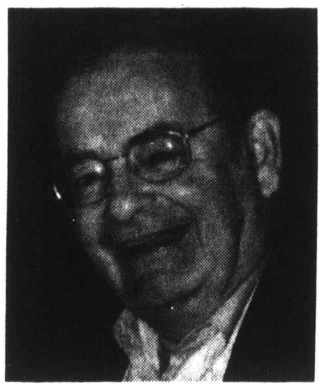
To his family he was a big brother, devoted father, trusted uncle, proud grandfather and loving husband to his best friend and wife of 48 years Eileen (Dervan) McDonnell. To countless others, he was a dedicated friend, honest counsel, master storyteller and Red Sox fanatic.

Mr. McDonnell was predeceased by his parents, Margaret (Angland) McDonnell and John Matthew McDonnell. He is survived by his wife, five children and their spouses: Matthew and Theresa McDonnell of South Boston, Paul and Laura McDonnell of Wellesley, Marie McDonnell Howard and Alex Howard of Arlington, Eileen and Jon Casciari of Winchester, and Christine and David Smoragiewicz of Belmont; his beloved siblings Ann Ragonese, Paul T. McDonnell and Margaret Murray; and nine cherished grandchildren Matthew S. McDonnell, Sabrina McDonnell, John Howard, Colin Casciari, Elizabeth McDonnell, Ronan Howard, Peter Smoragiewicz, Meah Casciari and Thomas McDonnell.

A son of Irish immigrants, Mr. McDonnell learned to be industrious as a young child selling newspapers at Ashmont Station. He later achieved "Triple Eagle" status having graduated from B.C. High '59, Boston College '63 and Boston College Law School '66. He was passionate about the law and proud of his practice.

Mr. McDonnell was a leader in the community, serving as Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus Council #180 of Lower Mills, President of the Quincy Lions Club, the Quincy Bar Association, the Norfolk County Bar Association, the Neighborhood Club of Quincy and Merrymount Association. He was a board member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, Massachusetts Bar Foundation, Notre Dame Academy of Hingham, Por Cristo and the Quincy College Board of Governors.

Mr. McDonnell was also admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. Of his many accomplishments, including the daily crossword, he was most proud of his family, always making time for his children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews.



MATTHEW J. McDONNELL ESQ.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Dolan Funeral Home, 460 Granite Ave., East Milton.

Memorial donations may be made to Boston Medical Center: https://development.bmc.org/donate.

Julia O'Donnell, 83

A funeral Mass for Julia T. (Connolly) O'Donnell, 83, of Quincy and formerly Dorchester was celebrated Monday in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. O'Donnell died peacefully July 31 at the William B. Rice Eventide Home in Quincy surrounded by her loving family.

She was born, raised and educated in Carna, County Galway, Ireland. She immigrated to the United States as a young woman in 1951. She had lived in Quincy for the past 20 years, previously in Dorchester for most of her life.

Mrs. O'Donnell was a homemaker and was devoted to her family, especially her grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Beloved wife of the late James J. O'Donnell. Devoted mother of James M. O'Donnell and his wife Joann of Arlington, Barbara Manning of Quincy, Eileen M. O'Donnell of Quincy, and the late John P. O'Donnell. Loving grandmother of Kristin Bedard, Michael O'Donnell, Christopher Manning, Deidre Manning, Kevin Manning, Katrina Bleckley, Daniel Bleckley, and Olive Dyer. Cherished great-grandmother of Kristian, Colin, Lucas and Trent.

JULIA O'DONNELL

One of 11 siblings, she was the dear sister of Catherine Connolly of Quincy, Margaret Craven of ME, James Connolly of Quincy, Matthew Connolly of England and Thomas Connolly of Medford. She was predeceased by Mary Augustino, Sean, Patrick, Joseph and Edward Connolly. Julia is also survived by many nieces, nephews and cousins.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to Father Bill's & MainSpring, c/o 422 Washington Street, Quincy, MA 02169.

Dorothy H. Anderson, 102

A funeral Mass for Dorothy Helen (Sears) Anderson, 102, of North Quincy was celebrated Monday in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Anderson died peacefully July 25 at her daughter's home in Rockland.

She was born in North Quincy on May 25, 1913, to the late Mary (Holland) and Ted Sears. She was the wife of the late James L. Anderson. She was the mother of James L. Anderson and his wife Maureen of Weymouth, Judith M. Watson and her husband Bill of Rockland, and the late Dorothy H. Anderson. Sister of Patricia Neault and her husband Ron of VA and the late Mary Sirois of Quincy. Also survived by six grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren, and dear special friends Clay and Barbara Roberts of Duxbury.

Mrs. Anderson attended daily Mass at Sacred Heart Church and then would watch daily Mass on Catholic TV. The most important things in her life were her faith and family. The family is so grateful for the friends and family who came to visit as her health declined. She lived her life with resilience, grace, and dignity. She was truly a lady before her time and a current thinker of modern day issues.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Norwell VNA and Hospice.

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE
& CREMATION SERVICES
OF MASSACHUSETTS

Honored Providers of:
Veterans
Funeral Care™

PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887
26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service

SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY · RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 · www.thesweeneybrothers.com

During a hard time, there's an easy decision.

Lydon Chapel for Funerals

Simple Cremation $1,699.00

644 Hancock Street, Quincy (617)472-7423 www.lydonchapelforfunerals.com

"Serving Our Community, One Family at a Time"

CLASSIFIEDS

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION GIVING NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF CONSERVATOR OR OTHER PROTECTIVE ORDER PURSUANT TO G.L. c. 190B, §5-304 & §5-405

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate
and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
Docket No. NO15P2024PM
In the matter of:
Eleanor H Bertrand
Of: Quincy, MA
RESPONDENT
(Person to be Protected/Minor)

To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Southwood at Norwell Nursing Center of Norwell, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Eleanor H Bertrand is in need of a Conservator or other protective order and requesting that Susan A Braus, Esq. of Hingham, MA (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Conservator to serve With Personal Surety on the bond.

The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is disabled, that a protective order or appointment of a Conservator is necessary, and that the proposed conservator is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 08/26/2015. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail to file the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 21, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

8/6/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-044

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Boston Scientific Corporation for a Variance/Finding to seek relief from the required setback and that the alteration of the structure due to the subdivision is not substantially more detrimental in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1.1 (conformance) and Chapter 3.4.3 (alter nonconforming) on the premises numbered 500 COMMANDER SHEA BOULEVARD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-045

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Welby Builders, LLC, Donald Gillespie, Manager, for a finding and dimensional variances to construct a five unit, three story residential development in the Residence B zoning district in violation of Title 17, Sections 4.1 (dimensional regulations) and 3.4 (nonconforming uses and structures).

The parcel of land is located at 113 Elm Street, and is shown as Lot 20 on Assessors' plan no. 2036

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-046

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Oranmore Enterprises, LLC for a Variance/Finding to construct a new four story, 18-unit residential building in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming structures) and Chapter 4.1.1 (conformance) on the premises numbered 143 & 147 NEWBURY AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-047

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Douglas Okun for a Variance to except the existing nonconforming conditions and the new construction attaching to the existing nonconforming building to enclose egress stairs in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1.1 (conformance) on the premises numbered 29 PACKARDS LANE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

CASH FOR HOUSES

CASH MONEY PAID FOR HOUSES
ANY CONDITION, ANY AREA, ANY ISSUE
PROBATE FORECLOSURE ETC...
QUICK CLOSINGS
NO REALTOR COMMISSIONS
(617)249-3961
8/6

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-048

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Chris Gundersen for a Variance/Finding to remove deteriorating garage and construct a new attached garage with a game room above in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming use) on the premises numbered 16 RODMAN STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
SHADOW: 15, female, black.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
KITTY: 5, female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
SWEET PEA & YOMO: 1 & 6, females.
BAABAA: 6, male, black.
BELLA & BABY GIRL: 8, females.
PADDY: 4, male, black.
ELTON: 3, male, gray tabby.
FRANCOISE & LUCAS: 2 & 1, males, tabby.
LC: 5, female, gray tabby.
TEXEY: 2, male, black & white.
MAYNARD: 8, female, black.

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

After School Staff Tutors/Teachers

SEPTEMBER OPENINGS IN NORTH QUINCY

If you're a good kid wrangler with a flair for teaching and tutoring, we have rewarding work for you.

- Local program seeking a part-time people afternoons to help school-age children in a classroom setting with homework, math and reading in our afternoon classes.
- Prefer someone to work 18-20 hours per week, 2:30-5:30 pm MWThF and 12-5:30 pm Tuesdays. Would consider fewer hours.
- Some experience with school age children required; experience with foreign language students is helpful but not necessary.
- Pay from $10 to $14 per hour depending on experience.
- Must be high school graduate.
- All applicants must undergo a background check and meet other requirements.

Typical applicants might be college students, retired teachers, etc., but we are open to any responsible, caring people who love children.

Located near subway.

Please email with specifics about your background, send your resume if you have one to:
ivyschoolquincy@gmail.com

8/20

PERSONAL

Happy "Labor Day" to Uncle Doug Menz -Sophia, Jimmy, Peter, Arrianna, JohnIV, Kevin, Sydney Lena, Brynn with love 8/6

HAPPY BIRTHDAY PAPA CARL! YOU ARE THE GREATEST! LOVE, ETHAN & LEA DOROTHY 8/6

Happy Birthday Carl! We love you! Brack - McKenna & Mooneys, Calabros, McKennas, Adducis & Jorgensen Families! 8/6

Holy Spirit Novena

Holy Spirit. You who solve all problems, light all roads so I can obtain my goal; You who give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget all evil against me and that in all instances in my life You are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank You for all things as You confirm once again that I never want to be separated from You, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with You in eternal glory. Thank You for your mercy toward me and mine. Say this prayer for three consecutive days, the favor will be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Prayer must be published immediately without mentioning the favor. M.O'H-Y 8/6

REUNION

55th Class Reunion
North Quincy High School
Class of 1960

Saturday, September 12, 2015
6pm-10pm
Best Western Adams Inn
North Quincy, MA 02169
Adams Inn, Constitution Room

$55 per person
Hors d'oeuvres, pasta station, delicious desserts, hot coffee, select tea
Cash Bar

Reservations:
Dottie and Jim McCabe
617-680-2766
jmccabe130@aol.com
8/6

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642
8/6-

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

CLASSIFIEDS

FOR SALE

Above Ground
Esther Williams
Oval, Extruded Aluminum Pool
with Deck and New Liner.
In Great Condition
617-773-0679
8/6-

HELP WANTED

REGGIE'S OIL

PT Clerical Help Wanted
$10 per hour
Mon-Fri
Flexible Hours
10-15 hrs per week
Call for Interview
(617)471-2095
8/6

REGGIE'S OIL

HVAC/Oil Burner Service Tech Wanted
4-5 years Experience Required
Must be Licensed
Call for Interview
(617)471-2095
8/6

Quincy Checker Cab
of Quincy is hiring drivers
Apply in person at
673 Washington St., Quincy
No Phone Calls Please
8/6

P/T RECEPTIONIST

Consolidated Brick, a masonry distributor in Avon (15 min. from Quincy) seeks reliable, honest part-time receptionist
Mon.-Fri. 10:00 a.m.-2:00p.m.

- Strong telephone skills
- Professional appearance & demeanor
- Customer service skills
- Basic computer literacy

Reply to: hr@consolidatedbrick.com

EEO
8/6

MISCELLANEOUS

AUCTIONS

LIVE AUCTIONS-State of MA Surplus Fri, Aug.7: 31-69 Bishop Rd, Ayer, MA Saturday, Aug.8 289 Lyman St, Westborough, MA 1-800-536-1401 www.AuctionsInternational.com Lic#3218

HELP WANTED- TRUCK DRIVERS

Drivers: CDL A or B to transfer vehicles from local customers plants to various locations throughout U.S. -No forced dispatch-Safety Incentives -No Freight to handle. We specialize in reducing your deadhead. Apply online at www.mamo-transportation.com under Careers or call 1-800-501-3783

LAND

CANADA'S EAST COAST-P.E.I.'S fastest growing year round FAMILY beach-front community with 19 Homes Completed, offering reduced 2015 Lot pricing starting at $39,000. TOLL-FREE 1-866-636-7155. www.sunsetdunespei.com

SERVICES

SERVICES

IMAGE LANDSCAPING

We are committed to your property

We clean IT
Trim IT
Remove IT

QUALITY WORKMANSHIP
617-471-0044
11/26
FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE

- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates

CLEAN-UPS

617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES
11/26

FORMICA BRAND CENTER

Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured

Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com
8/13

Landscape, Construction & Masonry

- Patios
- Walkways
- Retaining Walls
- Front Stairs
- Drainage Solutions
- Excavating/Demolition
- Plantings
- Seed/Sod Lawn Installation

C.McGue Landscape
617-778-8775
www.cmcguelandscape.com
10/29

Come and join
101 Health & Fitness
for quality strength training and conditioning. Also try our Ju-Jitsu and Boxing programs.
1452 Hancock St., Quincy MA 02169
617-328-2000
8/20

BOOTS ON THE GROUND MOVING CO.

-NO MOVE IS TOO BIG OR TOO SMALL-

- IN-TOWN MOVES
- OUT OF TOWN MOVES
- IN HOUSE SERVICE
- JUNK REMOVAL
- FREE ESTIMATES
- FULLY INSURED

8/20
Quincy, MA (781)366-0255
BOGMOVING@gmail.com
Facebook.com/BootsOnTheGroundMoving

MISCELLANEOUS

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

WANT TO BUY

CASH FOR DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Up to $35/ Box! Sealed & Unexpired. Payment Made SAME DAY. Highest Prices Paid!! Call Jenni Today! 800-413-3479 www.CashForYourTest-Strips.com

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association
Learn and Live

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

T & M Landscape Co.

- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ Affordable Rates ~ 9/3

McGue EXCAVATING

- Sewer Line Repair/Installation
- Water Line Repair/Installation
- Additions & Foundations
- Drainage Solutions
- House/Garage Demolition
- Stump Removal

10/29
617-872-8779
Bonded - Fully Insured - Licensed

SERVICES

SAVE

Budget Fuel

Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References
10/1

J.F. ROOFING Co.

QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
(617)471-8216
12/31

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE
Average Room - walls $150 Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out. Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479
9/24

SERVICES

HTA

Hancock T.V. & Appliance

Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD

PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
Quincy
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255
10/29

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET,
QUINCY, MA 02169
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

RATES

1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

INDEX

☐ Services
☐ For Sale
☐ Autos
☐ Boats
☐ For Rent
☐ Wanted
☐ Help Wanted
☐ Work Wanted
☐ Pets
☐ Lost & Found
☐ Real Estate
☐ Antiques
☐ Flea Markets
☐ Yard Sales
☐ Instruction
☐ Day Care
☐ Personal
☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

☐ Enclosed is $ ____________ for the following ad to run ____________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________
____
____
____
____
____
____
____
____

Finn: Council Input On Downtown Agreements

Cont'd From Page 12

tions and with really poor folks both through public housing but also some of the Section 8 stuff that has occurred throughout the years as well as some of the more traditional HUD elderly programs that exist.

"What we haven't had is what is it that keeps young, working people in with some level of affordability. That's really what the Inclusionary Zoning Ordinance was aimed at, to create affordable housing at that level."

❑

A record-breaking 114 inches – or 9.5 feet – of snow fell in Quincy this previous winter. The lion's share of that total, 85 inches, fell during a three-week period between Jan. 26 and Feb. 15.

Finn said the city's response to the snow was "fairly good." He also credited the Department of Public Works and the mayor's office for their responsiveness to any issues he raised.

"I think the city's response for the most part was fairly good. As an at-large councillor you can gauge when things are bad because the number of phone calls you get compared to what a ward councillor might be getting are far different. So you do hear things and when an at-large councillor starts to hear things, you know it's really bad," Finn said.

"I did not really get that many complaints. When I did, I found the Department of Public Works was very responsive, the mayor's office was incredibly responsive and tried to deal with the specific issues as they came up."

Quincy spent $13.5 million on snow and ice removal this year. More than half of that total, $7 million, went towards hauling the snow to farms at the Fore River Shipyard, Squantum Point Park and Crown Colony. Operations inside the snow farms – stacking and pushing the snow into hulking mounds – cost an additional $1.5 million.

Finn said the city made the right choice to remove snow from neighborhoods and place it in the snow farms, because there was no other place to put it.

"In terms of the snow transport and removal, I think that was necessary because there was no other place to go with that," the council president said.

"In terms of the costs, I've been door knocking. I know a lot of people feel like the costs were outrageous but I don't know what they gauge that on. Again, I'm open to looking into it further, which I think the auditor [Susan O'Connor] is committed to, to try and get beneath some of these costs but it looks to me clearly that the snow hauling seems to represent the largest amount of the cost.

"It's one thing to say after the fact 'these costs were outrageous,' but when one neighborhood was getting called you were dealing with all the calls from other neighbors saying when is our going to be hauled.

"I know people wanted to compare it to Worcester, but there are any number of variables you could look at. We were in the general ballpark as Boston proportionally and the same with Somerville. I'm a little hesitant to jump out and say we could have done this for far less."

The mayor presented a report on the costs of snow removal to the council in June. Finn said O'Connor, the auditor appointed by the council, is in the process of reviewing those costs further.

"I'm sure this is not the last autopsy we've done in relation to this, because I know the auditor was asked to do some further looking at the costs," Finn stated.

99 Restaurant Reopening Aug. 13

The Ninety Nine Restaurant & Pub, 59 Newport Ave. in Quincy will celebrate its Grand Re-opening on Thursday, Aug. 13 after undergoing a revitalization of the restaurant's décor and amenities.

The restaurant will be closed for renovations from Monday, Aug. 10 to Wednesday, Aug. 12.

As part of the grand reopening celebration, the Ninety Nine will host a ribbon cutting ceremony, and offer prizes for guests as they enjoy appetizer sampling. In addition to the festivities, $1,000 will be donated to the Quincy Youth Football League.

The restaurant will reopen at 4 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 13th. The Grand Re-Opening Celebration will begin at 5 p.m. Attendees will include Stephen Koski, President of Quincy Youth Football, Patrick McDermott, Vice President of Quincy Youth Football, George Maze, Treasurer of Quincy Youth Football and Jennifer Buckley, Board of Directors of Quincy Youth Football.

"We're proud Ninety Nine Restaurants is passionate about the community in which we operate" said Frank Rampino, General Managing Partner of the Quincy Ninety Nine. "As we celebrate our grand re-opening here in Quincy, we're thrilled to share a donation with Quincy Youth Football. We look forward to continuing to support Quincy Youth Football and with the help of our guests and team members, know this will be a fun and successful grand re-opening event."

The new look of the restaurant will pay homage to the brand's heritage while also showcasing updated and modern amenities. In order to evolve with the ever-changing tastes of their guests, the Ninety Nine chose to revitalize the Quincy restaurant, offering an inviting atmosphere that is brighter, warmer and comfortable for an even more enjoyable dining experience.

The exterior and interior will feature new colors, and the interior will have new flooring and carpeting, and décor that highlights the Quincy community. The bar area will undergo more renovations including expanded ceiling height, additional seating, new barstools, and a new mahogany wooden bar top. All of the bar updates will compliment brand new flat screen televisions.

Two Residents Running Falmouth Road Race To Benefit Dana-Farber

Melissa Fernald and Sean Healy from Quincy will run the 43rd annual New Balance Falmouth Road Race Sunday, Aug. 16 to help conquer cancer as members of Dana-Farber Cancer Institute's team.

Fernald and Healy, along with more than 250 Dana-Farber teammates from New England and beyond, will cover the seven-mile race course with a goal to raise $700,000 to support adult and pediatric patient care and cancer research at Dana-Farber. This year, the Dana-Farber team celebrates its 13th year of participation in the race's Numbers for Nonprofits program.

Each Dana-Farber team member commits to raise or contribute at least $1,500 for the Jimmy Fund through his or her run. The team this year is striving to generate an average of $3,000 per runner.

To learn more about running for Dana-Farber or to support a runner, visit www.rundanafarber.org/falmouth.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE AND ORDER:
Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of Guardianship of a Minor
Docket No. NO11P0971GD
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021

In the Interests of: Eoin J. Calnan of Quincy, MA
Minor

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED PARTIES

1. Hearing Date/Time: A hearing on a Petition to Resign as Guardian of a Minor or Petition for Removal of Guardian of a Minor filed by Richard Calnan and Donna Calnan on 7/6/2015 will be held 08/13/2015 8:30 AM Guardianship of Minor Hearing.

Located Canton.

2. Response to Petition: You may respond by filing a written response to the Petition or by appearing in person at the hearing. If you choose to file a written response, you need to:

File the original with the Court; and

Mail a copy to all interested parties at least five (5) business days before the hearing.

3. Counsel for the Minor: The minor (or an adult on behalf of the minor) has the right to request that counsel be appointed for the minor.

4. Presence of the Minor at Hearing: A minor over age 14 has the right to be present at any hearing, unless the Court finds that it is not in the minor's best interests.

ORDER TO PETITIONER(S)

IT IS ORDERED THAT copies of this Notice and the Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of a Guardian of a Minor be served in hand on the minor, (if 14 or more years of age and not the petitioner), the guardian, the parents of the minor (unless they are the petitioner), and any other person if ordered by the Court, at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing date listed above.

If Service in hand cannot be accomplished on any interested party, IT IS ORDERED that copies of this Notice and the Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of Guardian of a Minor be served on the interested party by leaving at and mailing by regular first class mail to last and usual place of residence of the interested party at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date of hearing listed above.

If the identity or whereabouts of an interested party is not known, IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that copies of this Notice and Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of Guardian of a Minor be served on all interested persons at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing date by publishing a copy of the Order and Notice once in The Quincy Sun, Quincy, MA publication to be at least Seven (7) days prior to the hearing date.

If required, service on the United States Veteran Administration and the Department of Children and Families may be accomplished by regular first class mail at least Seven (7) days prior to the hearing.

THIS IS A LEGAL NOTICE: An important court proceeding that may affect your rights has been scheduled. If you do not understand this notice or other court papers, please contact an attorney for legal advice.

Date: July 9, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

8/6/15

INVITATION TO BID INVITATION TO BID

INVITATION TO BID

CITY OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS
PURCHASING DEPARTMENT
1305 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY, MA 02169

The City of Quincy invites sealed bids/proposals for:

BUILDING MAINTENANCE — WOLLASTON FIRE STATION, 111 Beale Street, Quincy, MA 02170 — AUGUST 20, 2015 @ 11:00 a.m.

BUILDING MAINTENANCE — QUINCY POINT FIRE STATION, 615 Washington Street, Quincy, MA 02169 — AUGUST 20, 2015 @ 11:30 a.m.

The City of Quincy is soliciting bids from DCAM certified and qualified masonry contractors for the re-pointing and repair of brick masonry building exteriors and related work including but not limited to repairing flashings, replacing lintels, caulking and sealing.

The proposed project scope is divided into two projects: two fire stations; one located at 111 Beale St. in the Wollaston section of Quincy, 02170 and the second located at 615 Washington St. in Quincy Point, 02169.

A non-mandatory, but recommend, walk-thru of the project sites is scheduled for August 10, 2015 at 9:00 AM beginning at the Beale St. Firehouse and after that proceeding to the Washington St. address at 10:00 AM.

Detailed specifications are available on-line at the City of Quincy's website, www.quincyma.gov and also available at the office of the Purchasing Agent, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts, 02169, between the hours of 8:30 AM and 4:30 PM

Bids/Proposals must be in a sealed envelope. The outside of the sealed envelope is to be clearly marked "BID ENCLOSED" with time/date of bid call.

The successful bidder will be required to conform to the payment of Prevailing Wage Rates, as determined by the Commissioner of Labor & Industries under the provision of M.G.L. Chapter 149, Section 26 to 27D as amended.

Firm bid prices will be given first consideration. Bids/Proposals will be received at the office of the Purchasing Agent until the time and date stated above, at which time and date they will be publicly opened and read. Late Bids/Proposals, delivered by mail or in person, will be rejected.

If applicable, bids shall be in accordance with M.G.L. Chapter 30B, Chapter 149 as amended, and Chapter 30, Sections 39A, 39B and 39F-R. DCAM Certification in the category of MASONARY is required.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept any part of a bid or the one deemed best for the City and waive any informality in the bidding if it is in the best interest of the City to do so.

Thomas P. Koch, MAYOR
Kathryn R. Hobin, PURCHASING AGENT

8/6/15

Fruit, Vegetable Vouchers

Carney Hospital and Manet Community Health Center are offering a fruit and vegetable voucher program aimed at improving the health of patients with or at risk for diabetes.

As part of its community benefits program, Carney Hospital is providing Manet with 3,500 Farmers Market Coupons to distribute to patients with or at risk of Type 1, Type II or gestational diabetes who are enrolled in Manet's Clinical Care Management program.

The Farmers Market Coupon program will enable selected patients and their families to receive free vouchers to purchase fresh fruits and vegetables at local farmers markets each week through October, encouraging them to improve their diets and, hopefully, improve their overall health.

The overall aims of the program are to ensure positive health outcomes, behavioral change and long-term health.

The Farmers Market Voucher Program aims to assist in making fresh fruits and vegetables more convenient and affordable, particularly for low-income patients.

Recreation Boating, Sailing

The Quincy Recreation Department William F. Ryan Boating and Sailing Facility at Blacks Creek programs continue the programs for the summer of 2015 with a full menu of programs for adults.

A full complement of canoes, kayaks, (single and tandem), row boats and the popular, easy-to-sail O'Day widgeon sailboats at the ready for beginner to advanced participants. Paddle boards are also available.

The program located in scenic Merrymount Park is open seven days a week and adults may use the facility from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. weekdays and Saturday and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m.

Adult Memberships for the summer season are $35 and allow unlimited use. A one-day membership is available for $15. Members of the recreation boating and sailing staff are available for instruction or you may paddle or sail on your own in the salt water created when Furnace Brook meets the sea.

Participants may register in person during normal operating hours and there is no waiting period with immediate access to the boats.

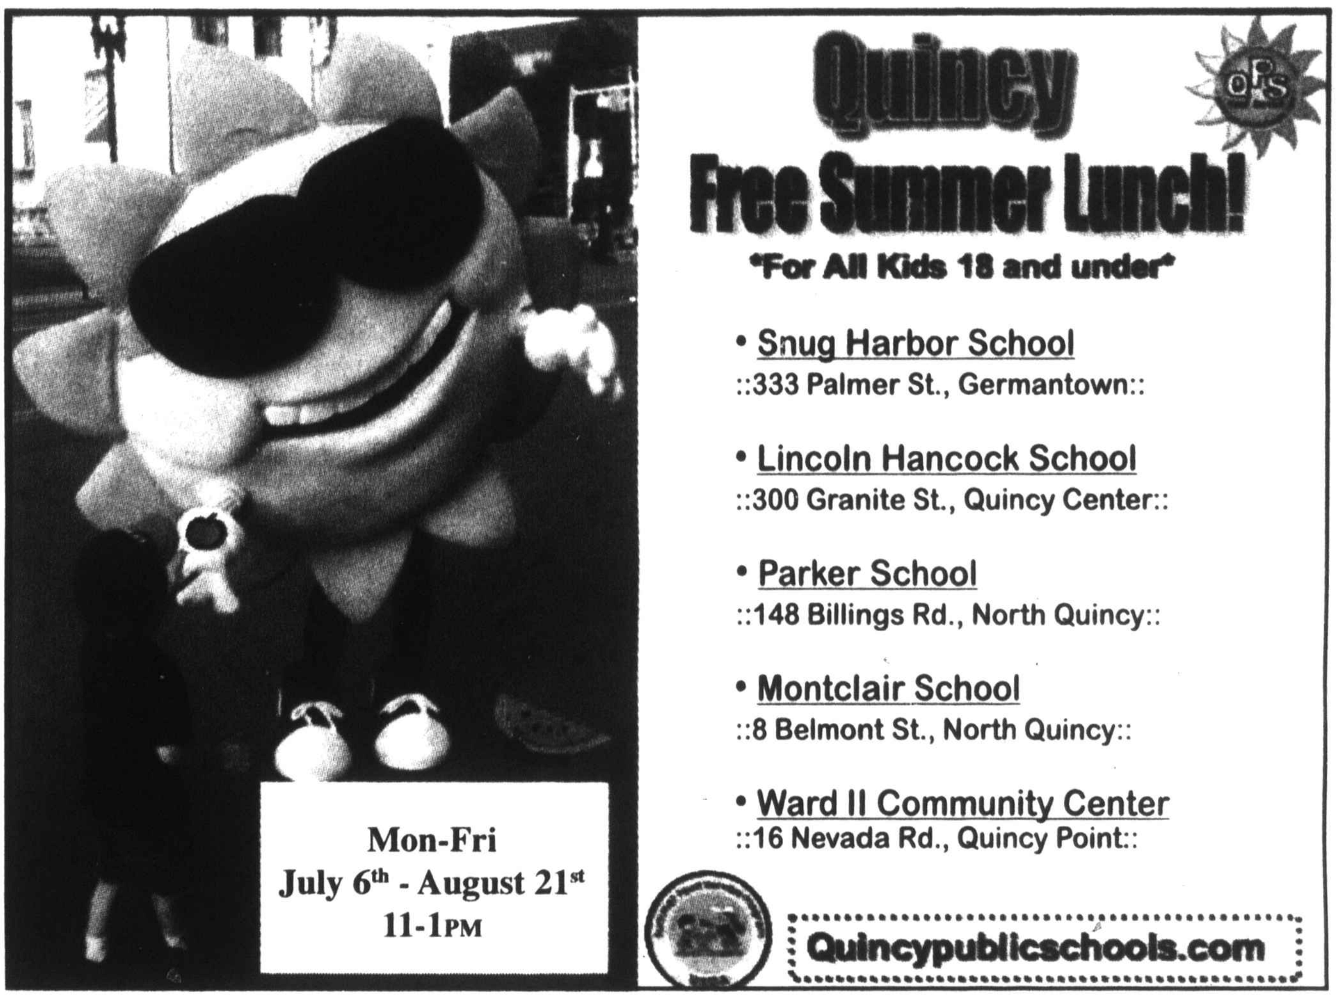
Mayor: Park, Rec Facilities Part Of Substance Abuse Fight

Cont'd From Page 20

The newly rebuilt basketball court at the Perkins Field Playground near Merrymount School and street-hockey court at Wendall Moses Playground in Squantum opened for play this week, marking the latest in a broad series of park, playground, and open space improvements spearheaded by the Koch administration.

The $350,000 project was financed by the Community Preservation Fund, a voter-approved revenue source that does not affect the City's operational bottom line. This year, the fund is also financing the total reconstruction of Therrien Field in West Quincy and the soccer fields at Cleverly Court – which were obtained by the City just a few years ago as part of an agreement with the MWRA.

The park improvements tie directly to the broader program of infrastructure improvements citywide, including new and renovated schools, underground utilities, flood relief and historic preservation projects. Most of those projects, Koch said, are also leveraged by state and federal grants and other revenue sources that keep the City's overall debt low.



Quincy

Free Summer Lunch!

For All Kids 18 and under

- Snug Harbor School
  ::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
  ::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
  ::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
  ::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
  ::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincypublicschools.com

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Mayor Koch Delivers 2,000 Nomination Signatures

QUINCY — Joined by his oldest son, Cornelius, Mayor Tom Koch on Friday delivered 2,000 nomination signatures to officially earn a place on the preliminary election ballot for re-election.

Cornelius, a June graduate of North Quincy High School, will cast his first-ever vote for his dad in the Preliminary Election on Thursday, September 24.

Together with dozens of volunteers, Mayor Koch collected the signatures by speaking with voters across the City over the last two months.

"I want to thank our wonderful group of friends and volunteers who helped us collect signatures," Koch said.

Vote Thursday, September 24

KOCH
FOR QUINCY

Leadership We Trust

KochForQuincy.Com
617-773-KOCH (5624)

Paid For By The Committee To Re-Elect Mayor Tom Koch

Kochforquincy
Koch4quincy

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

MAYOR KOCH'S ANNUAL COMMUNITY COOKOUT

Thursday, August 13, 2015
5:00pm
Pageant Field

GOOD FOOD - GOOD TIMES - GREAT PEOPLE

Hope to see you there!

Tom

617-773-5624

www.kochforquincy.com

Koch4Quincy

KochForQuincy

MUSIC - GAMES - MOONWALK FOR THE KIDS

Tourist Season In Full Stride
- Page 9 -

Outstanding Season For Wollaston Senior Babe Ruth - Page 18

2 CAR-RT LOTC-004
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 47 Thursday, August 13, 2015 75¢

'We Will Never Forget You'

FAMILY AND FRIENDS of Emily Zarnoch light candles in her memory during a funeral service for the beloved Quincy school teacher Monday at Central Middle School. More than 500 attended the service in the auditorium of the school where Emily taught as a substitute teacher last year. Set to begin her full-time teaching career next month, she was killed a tragic hit-and-run accident Aug. 4 in York, ME. People from all walks of life including many of her former students recalled "Miss Z's" passion for teaching and zest for life. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Hundreds Celebrate The Life Of Teacher Emily Zarnoch

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

An overflow crowd of family, friends, fellow educators, students and other admirers bid a tearful farewell Monday to Emily A. Zarnoch at a funeral service in the school where she was set to begin teaching full-time next month.

More than 500 people attended the service at Central Middle School, many sharing heart-felt memories of the 24-year-old beloved teacher known for her positive, happy attitude and infectious smile.

Among those who spoke were some former students of "Miss Z" as she was affectionately known. One middle school student took the microphone during open tributes near the end of the two-hour service and said to the silent auditorium, "I know I'll forget some of the things I'll learn in school but I know I'll never forget the impact Miss Z had on my life."

Emily had worked last year as a substitute teacher at Central Middle School. She was hired July 15 as a full-time teacher. Last Tuesday, she was killed by a hit-and-run driver while walking with her boyfriend on a road in Maine. Police say the driver was driving drunk and has been arraigned on manslaughter charges.

Emily's tragic and untimely death left a community grief-stricken. More than 1,100 mourners attend-

Cont'd On Page 2

Remembering Emily: Page 4
Obituary On Page 26

'Inactive' Voters Can Still Cast Ballots - Page 3
Three Water Rescues In One Week - Page 11
City Losing 'Irreplaceable Institution' - Page 15

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

FLOWERS AND COLLAGE of photos of Emily Zarnoch were placed at the entrance to the Central Middle School auditorium for the young school teacher's funeral service Monday. An estimated 500 people filled the auditorium - a testament of the beloved teacher's impact on her students and the community. Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

'We Will Never Forget' Teacher Emily Zarnoch

(Cont'd From Page 1)

ed her wake at the Keohane Funeral Home Sunday.

Her funeral service was a beautiful tribute that featured kind and loving words from her family and friends as well as some of the young minds that she touched in her all-too-brief but shining teaching career.

One of her students said, "She was a nice teacher and she was always happy." Another remarked, "She was a force of positivity."

"We're so sad to know she's gone. I'll miss her dearly," a third added.

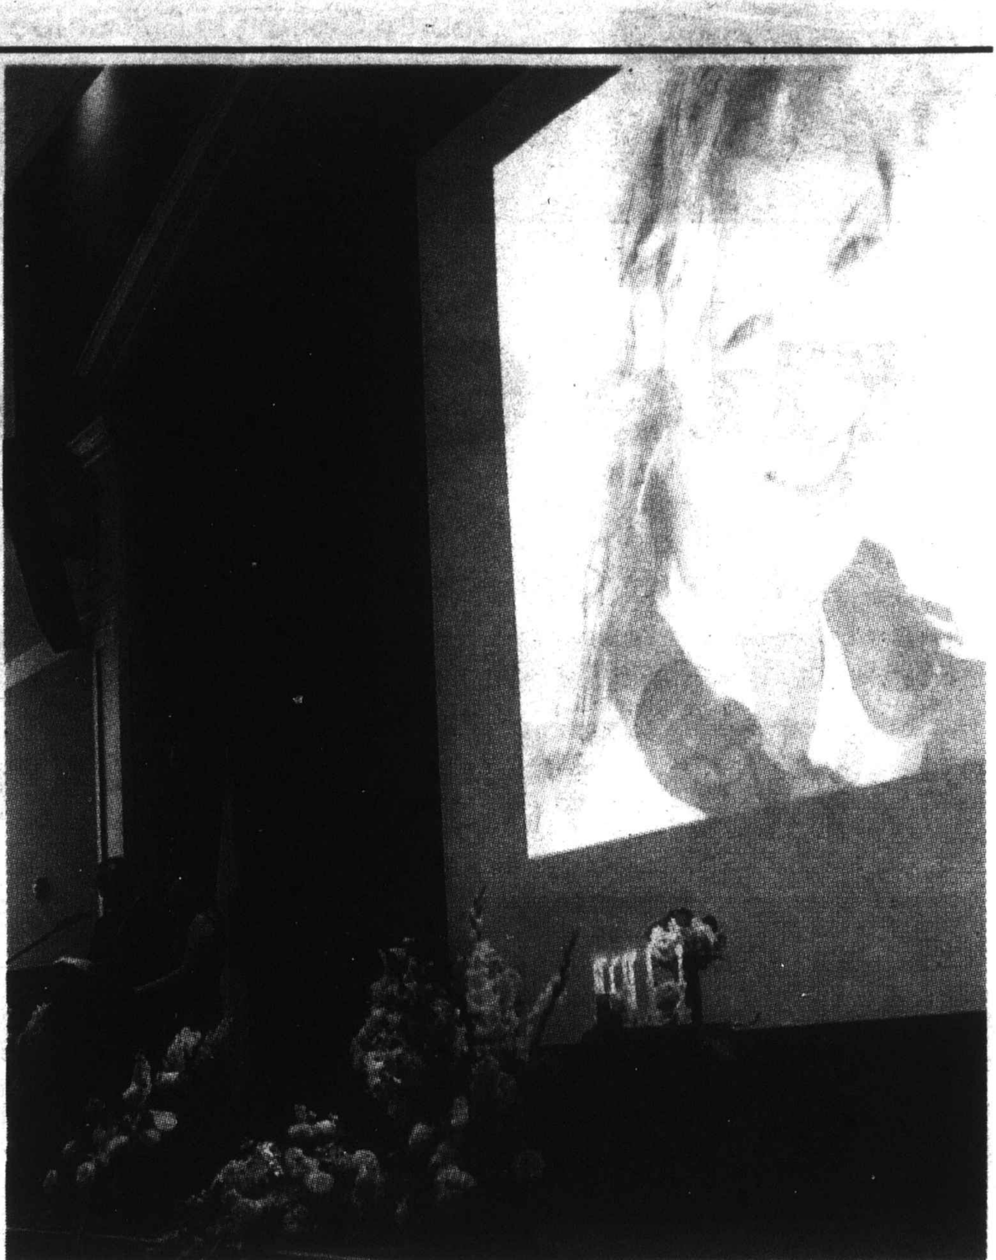
Everywhere one looked, Emily's presence was felt.

On the stage were large floral arrangements of red, white and blue flowers – befitting for the proudly patriotic girl who loved her city and country.

A small table was also positioned in the middle of the stage to hold candles that were lit by family and friends in Emily's memory. In the middle of that table was a small stuffed animal – an elephant wearing a "Rams" sweater for her alma mater, Framingham State University. Emily received her B.A. in English with a concentration in secondary education at FSU in 2014.

On the large screen above the stage was a photo of Emily taken while she was in Baja, Mexico in 2013. She is radiant and smiling.

Many wore memory ribbons in teal – Emily's favorite color.



JOHN AND GWEN ZARNOCH, parents of Emily Zarnoch (visible on the screen at right) thanked the community for their outpouring of support and love following their daughter's tragic passing. More than 1,100 paid their respects at Emily's wake at the Keohane Funeral Home Sunday. Another 500 people attended her funeral service at Central Middle School Monday.

As family and friends gathered on stage to light the candles, the Beatles' "Here Comes the Sun" played on the sound system.

The stage was set for some wonderfully moving and touching tributes in testament of a young woman who loved life as much as the people around her.

Emily's brother Kyle called his sister his best friend and a source of inspiration and encouragement.

"No matter how discouraged I was with something

Cont'd On Page 17

SOLARIZE QUINCY

ONLY A FEW

WEEKS LEFT!

Limited Time Only!

SOLARIZE MASS
QUINCY

solarflair
CLEAN ENERGY SOLUTIONS

You have until August 31st to take advantage of Solarize Quincy's lowest pricing. If you have a proposal, sign up today!

Solarizequincy.weebly.com

Solarizequincy@solarflair.com or 508-808-3050

Solarize Quincy is an initiative of the MA Clean Energy Center and Department of Energy Resources

MASSACHUSETTS CLEAN ENERGY CENTER

DOER
Massachusetts Department of Energy Resources

City Health Officials Say:

Heavy Snowfall May Be Root Of Rat Problem

By SCOTT JACKSON

This winter's heavy snowfall may be to blame for a new nuisance in the city: rats.

The Quincy Health Department received so many calls about rat infestations this spring that officials began a separate list to keep track off all the complaints. As of Monday afternoon, the department received 52 separate calls for rat infestations since department started that log on June 15, according to Ruth Jones, the department's public health nurse/educator.

The department also has a separate map listing each complaint it receives of a rat infestation. The problem, Jones said, is not isolated to one particular part of Quincy.

"We have had complaints in all different areas of the city," she said.

Health officials believe this winter's record-breaking snowfall is likely the source of the rat problem. Exterminators typically begin baiting for the rodents as early as February and March, according to Jones, but that wasn't possible this year because the snowpack prevented exterminators from accessing traps.

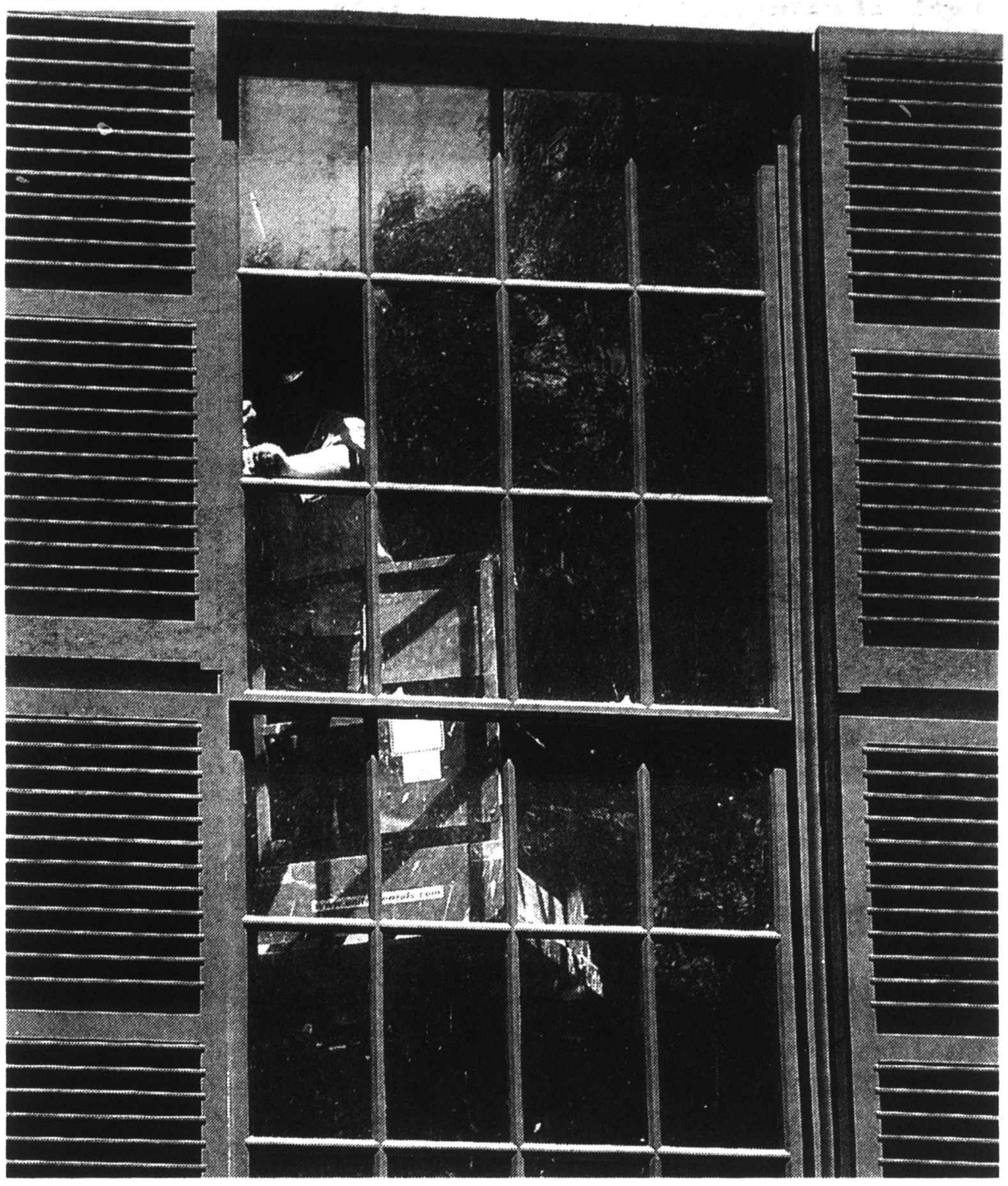
"It allowed rats more time to proliferate," Jones said.

Speculation has also focused on two other culprits – private gardens in the city and demolition of old buildings. Rats do burrow in residents' gardens, however, Jones said exterminators believe they do not feed in the gardens themselves. The Health Department also inspects each building slated for demolition; those buildings are baited as part of the process.

"We don't think [demolition] is the sole cause," Jones explained, before acknowledging that it may still be a contributing factor to the problem.

Residents who note a possible rat infestation in their area are asked to contact the Health Department at 617-376-1275. The department, with permission from the property owner, will send an inspector to the scene to identify areas where rats may be living,

Cont'd On Page 13



WORKER PREPARES wood using a putty knife for a new pane of glass in one of the windows at the James R. McIntyre Government City - Old City Hall. The renovation project is nearing completion.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

'Inactive' Voters Can Still Vote

By SCOTT JACKSON

Residents who have received letters from the city indicating they have been placed on a list of inactive voters are still eligible to vote this fall.

Under state law, the city is required to place any resident who has not responded to the annual city census for the last two years or voted in the last two elections on the list of inactive voters, according to City Clerk Joseph Shea.

Shea said those residents who have been placed on the inactive list remain eligible to vote. Election workers, he explained, have two lists of voters at each polling precinct. The top list includes all active voters in the precinct; if a person isn't on that list, the election worker will automatically check the second list, which includes all residents in the precinct placed on the inactive list. If that person is on the precinct's inactive list, they can vote after filling out a form affirming they are a resident of the city.

Nicole Crispo, the assistant city clerk, said it's not too late to be removed from the inactive list and placed back on the active one. Residents who have been placed on the inactive list can return the city census by mail, drop it off in person at the city clerk's office at 1259 Hancock St., or contact the clerk's office at 617-376-1132.

"It's still not too late," Crispo said. "We're happy to put you back on the active list."

Voters in Quincy will be heading to the polls twice this fall. Preliminary elections for mayor and Ward 2, 3 and 5 city councillors will be held on Thursday, Sept. 24. The final municipal election is Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Ask the
GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

A HARD CHOICE

Those fortunate enough to have been born in September have sapphire as a birthstone, which belongs to the family of minerals (corundum) that is second only to diamond in hardness. Thus, sapphire is as durable as it is beautiful. As far as names are concerned, all red corundum is called ruby while corundum of all other colors is called sapphire. The most valuable among these is the cornflower blue sapphire, which comes from the Kashmir Province of India. However, there are also various other colors of sapphire, including pink, green, yellow, orange, and even colorless sapphire. These fancy sapphires can be used to express individuality, which makes them the perfect choice for women who love unique colored gemstone jewelry.

Shopping for a September birthday? THe finest quality gemstones such as sapphire have been a hallmark of our tradition. The term "precious" is reserved for the most rare and expensive of gems - including sapphires, diamonds, emeralds, rubies and pearls. Most remaining gems - including varieties of quartz like Peridot, Amethyst, and Bloodstone - are semi-precious. If you are considering buying a sapphire to be set in a ring, earrings, pendant, or other jewelry, then stop by our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers
Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry
www.rogersjewelry.com

Are you thinking of buying a house?

If you're getting ready to buy a house, Colonial Federal is a great place to get the money you need. Customers tell us all the time that they're "so glad a bank like Colonial Federal still exists." Friendly, independent and 100% local, we'll make it easy for you to get the mortgage you need for the house you want. And we're here for you after the closing too. If that sounds like the kind of bank you want to be with, call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online atcolonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR
NO POINTS! A GREAT RATE!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 08/05/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Aug. 28, 1877, Charles Stewart Rolls, co-founder (with Henry Royce) of the Rolls-Royce automobile company, is born in London. In 1900, Rolls reportedly was responsible for changing the national speed limit from 4 mph to 12 mph.

• On Aug. 30, 1918, in Belfort, France, Colonel Arthur L. Conger plants a false operational order for an impending Allied attack in the wastebasket of a hotel where a German agent was on staff. As intended, the order was found and the Germans chose to withdraw from the area.

• On Aug. 26, 1939, the first televised Major League baseball game is broadcast between the Cincinnati Reds and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field. There were only two stationary camera angles: down the third base line, and above home plate.

• On Aug. 29, 1949, in Kazakhstan, the USSR successfully detonates its first atomic bomb. To measure the effects of the blast, the Soviets constructed buildings and bridges, and placed animals in cages nearby. The atomic explosion destroyed those structures and incinerated the animals.

• On Aug. 24, 1958, Maria Teresa de Filippis, the first woman ever to compete in Formula One racing, drives a Maserati in the Portuguese Grand Prix. Her racing career began after two of her brothers made a bet that she couldn't drive fast.

• On Aug. 27, 1967, Brian Epstein, age 32, manager of the Beatles, is found dead of a drug overdose in his Sussex, England, home.

• On Aug. 25, 1984, Truman Capote, author of the pioneering true-crime novel "In Cold Blood", dies at age 59 in Los Angeles. After reading about murders of a farm family, Capote traveled to Kansas to do research with his childhood friend, Harper Lee, who later wrote "To Kill a Mockingbird."

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Sounds Of The Greatest Generation

Quincy Council on Aging presents an evening of big band music and patriotic sounds of the greatest generation at a special evening event on Friday, Sept. 11 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Hall, 120 Quarry St.

Music will be provided by the Olde Kids Swing Band that frequently visits the Kennedy Center. Light refreshments will be available as well as a cash bar.

Tickets are $15 per person and can be purchased at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum S., Quincy. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Brewster Ambulance Seminar

On July 1st, Brewster Ambulance began providing services to the residents of Quincy.

On Tuesday, Aug. 18th and Thursday, Aug. 20th Christopher DiBona and other representatives from Brewster Ambulance will be at the Kennedy Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to explain the various programs Brewster Ambulance offers including but not limited to Smart911. Representatives will answer questions and assist members with registration for the Smart911 system. For more information call (617) 376-1506.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Remembering Emily

Emily Alicia Zarnoch didn't just live her life.

She embraced it with a zeal and zest that was infectious and endearing.

The pretty 24-year-old blue-eyed, blonde haired young lady was also goal-orientated.

By the time she reached high school, she knew she wanted to be a school teacher.

Not just any teacher but a teacher in Quincy.

She achieved that goal last year when she was hired as a substitute teacher by the Quincy Public School system. And made such an impression with faculty and students alike that she was hired as a full-time teacher at Central Middle School beginning next month.

But life can be terribly cruel. Heart-breaking. Tragic.

Emily will not be in a classroom when school bells ring next month. She was struck and killed by a hit-and-run driver Aug. 4 while walking along a road in York, ME with her boyfriend. The driver of that car, police say, was driving drunk and is facing manslaughter charges.

Emily's loss has affected more than just her loving family. It's saddened the entire Quincy community and beyond.

Her parents, Gwen and John Zarnoch, said the outpouring of emotion and support has been overwhelming.

"It's been tremendous and unexpected," Gwen said sitting by her husband in the backyard of their Wollaston home on a perfectly clear and sun-drenched afternoon last Saturday. "It's really helped us get through this knowing we have so much love in this community."

"We've gotten calls, letters, people stopping by the house with food," John adds, noting one of his co-workers stopped by the house and trimmed the hedges just to lend a hand.

"It's been such a help. We didn't realize we needed this as much as we did. It's been so helpful."

John and Gwen are asked if they have learned anything about Emily from those who have also grieved over the loss of their daughter.

"We've come to realize Emily really knew so many people and had touched so many people. Some I didn't know. They've been so affected by it," John says.

"You start to realize," Gwen continues, "that it's not just us who have lost something wonderful. Everyone has."

Emily Alicia Zarnoch was born July 23, 1991 at Quincy Hospital. A lifelong Quincy resident, she attended Beechwood Knoll Elementary, Atlantic Middle School and graduated from North Quincy High School in 2009. She earned her B.A. in English with a concentration in Secondary Education from Framingham State College in 2014.

Growing up Emily enjoyed a myriad of activities and hobbies including dance, music and singing. She ran track with the Quincy Track Club and cross-country at NQHS. She also helped coach track at the middle school and high school levels. Earlier this year, she had earned a coaching certificate to teach pole-vaulting.

She was also a certified lifeguard instructor with the Quincy Recreation Department.

"She was a natural teacher who truly cared about the outcome of her efforts with every child," said Recreation Director Barry Welch. "Her enthusiasm was contagious and her potential as a teacher was unlimited."

Emily began as a lifeguard and swimming instructor during her senior year at North Quincy. She returned to the pool each summer for three years while studying English and secondary education at Framingham State University.

It was during her high school years that her future vocation came into focus: she wanted to be a school teacher. She had noticed that many of the educators at NQHS were young and she soon realized that being a teacher was within her reach.

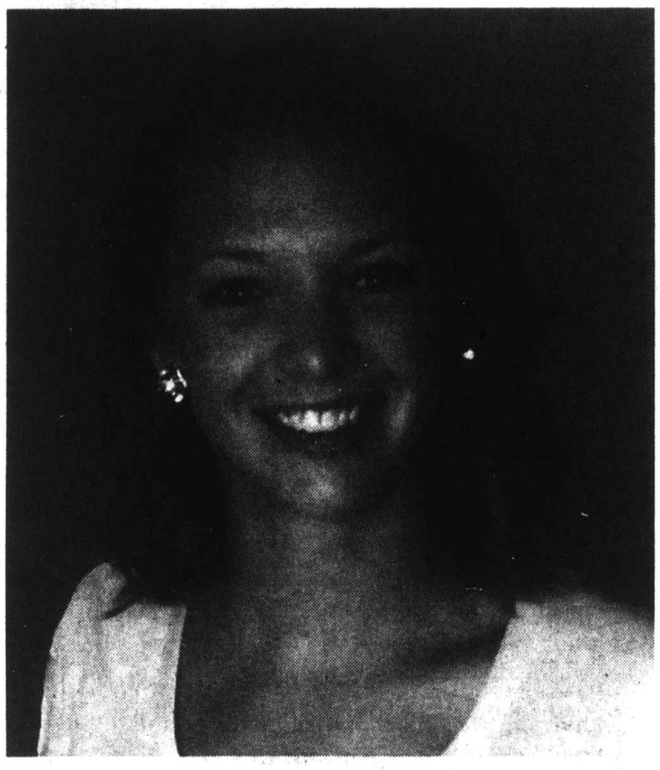
But teaching was only part of the career goal. She had to be a teacher in Quincy – her beloved hometown.

"She loved Quincy," her mother says. "She used to say anything you want to do you can do in Quincy. I want to live in Quincy and I want to teach in Quincy. I think the people here had a lot to do with it.

"Emily was a people person. But she also said everything's here. If you want to go to the city (Boston) the city is right here. We have the train, the beach. She loved the ocean air.

"When she came home from Framingham State, she always said "Ah, I can breathe again. She loved the ocean air."

Emily enjoyed being around kids. When she decided to focus on a teaching career, her folks couldn't have been prouder.



EMILY ZARNOCH

"Teaching and reaching out is a wonderful profession," John says. "Once in a while we tried to mention other occupations to consider but she was very strong-willed. We were very proud that she wanted to become a teacher. It's a nice career track to get into. She was so much into this city and helping people. It was a good choice and a good match for her personality."

Gwen and John said Emily was lively, caring and interested in everyone she'd meet.

"When she would look at a classroom, she never saw it as a group. She saw it as the people inside," Gwen says. "She was always interested in people themselves, not as a mass block of groups and I think that really suited her to becoming a teacher. She would have been great."

Emily's loss has deeply saddened the Quincy school community.

School Supt. Dr. Richard DeCristofaro called Emily an enthusiastic young educator just beginning her career.

"Last school year, Emily was the building substitute at Central Middle School and had classroom assignments in all of the subject areas and grades and taught every one of Central's 650 students over the course of the year.

"Beyond the school day, Emily was an integral part of many extracurricular activities, serving as a club advisor, assisting with the cross-country and track programs, and attending concerts and plays to support the students," DeCristofaro said.

She signed her contract as a full-time teacher July 15. It was a moment to celebrate in the Zarnoch house.

"Emily was screaming and walking about three feet off the ground," Gwen recalled, emotion in her voice. "We were all very excited for her. Being a Quincy school teacher was her dream job. She didn't want to live anywhere else or teach anywhere else.

"That's what she wanted. It's just wonderful that she was able to accomplish that and realize that.

"She put in all the work to reach that goal," John adds. "The certification, working as a substitute – and she finally got to that position. She wanted to be with the kids and do that kind of work."

From a young age it was clear teaching was a natural fit for Emily.

When she was a second grader at the Beechwood Knoll School, she noticed one day a young girl the school who had moved from Venezuela. It was the little girl's first day of school and she seemed intimidated about going into the unfamiliar building.

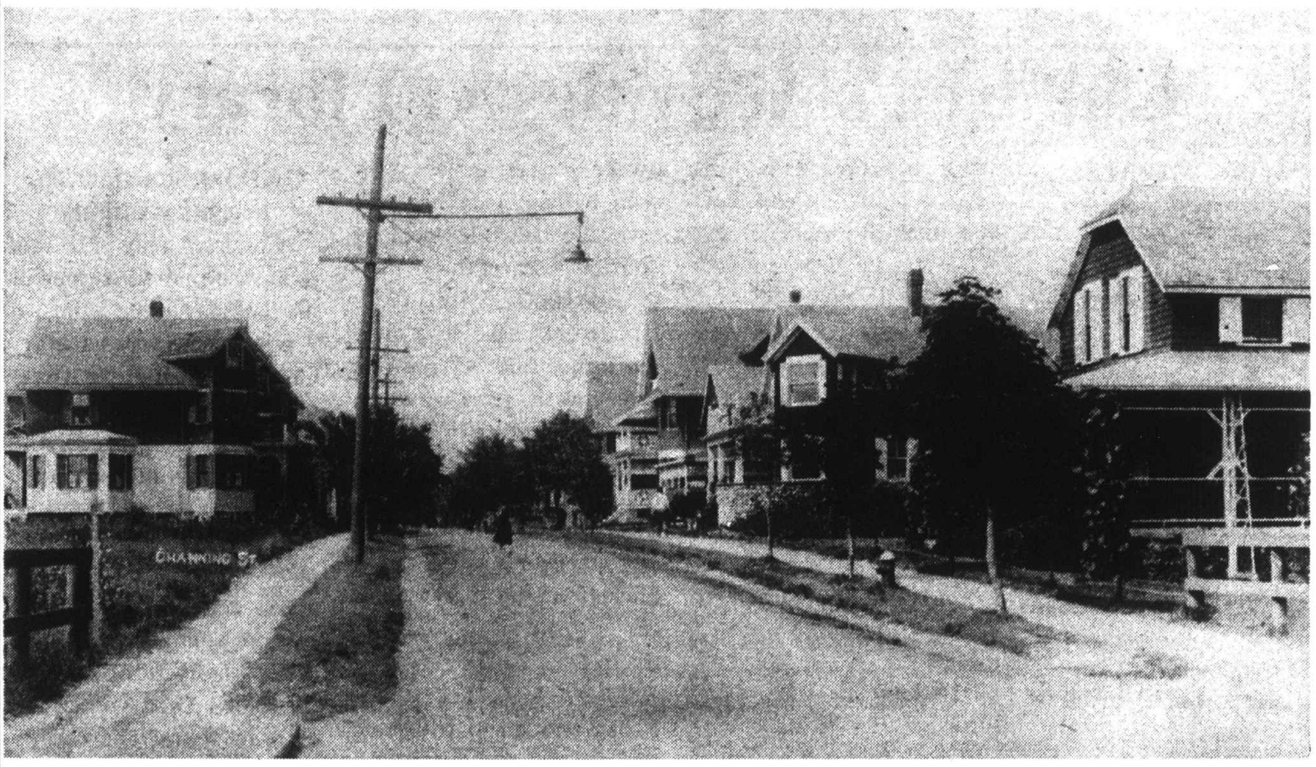
"Emily just went over to her and touched her and talked to her a little and put her right at ease. Soon the girl was comfortable and two of them went to the school to start the day," Gwen recalled.

Emily was also an avid reader – another trait that made teaching a good fit.

"She's always worked well with kids and she always had a passion for reading. I think she wanted to share that with kids," Gwen said.

Cont'd On Page 31

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS AN early 1920's real photo postcard view of Channing Street in Norfolk Downs taken from the foot of the walkway to the Squantum Yacht Club looking towards Billings Road. This street and the others along here were dead ends in the 1890s when laid out by the land company that subdivided the farmland into house lots in what is now Norfolk Downs. Quincy's coastline along here was salt marsh and eel grass until the Metropolitan Commission built the Boulevard in 1908. The old post and rail fence that lined the roadway can be seen on the right and left sides of this picture. The first Squantum Yacht Club building here was on the shore just to the right then in 1904 with the new road coming they were forced to built a new clubhouse over the mudflats. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Open House Saturday At Dorothy Quincy Homestead

The Quincy Homestead on Butler Road in Quincy has just three more open houses this season, with free public tours on Aug. 15, Sept. 12, and Oct. 3.

The Homestead is featured on Quincy's downtown walking tour, and its grounds can be enjoyed even when house tours are not in progress.

Sometimes confused with Josiah Quincy's house, the Quincy Homestead is known locally as the Dorothy Quincy House. Built in 1686 and expanded in 1706, it's the earliest surviving home of the Quincy family, which had Adams and Hancock connections. Dorothy, the youngest child of Edmund Quincy IV, married John Hancock, signer of the Declaration of Independence. Two of her portraits adorn the house.

The Quincy Homestead is operated by the National Society of Colonial Dames, Massachusetts, and owned by the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR).

Though public tours are free, donations are welcome. There is a charge for private tours, which may be arranged by calling 617 742-3190.

READERS FORUM

Calls Wind Turbine Syndrome A Myth

Some people deny the climate is changing. Others say it's changing but not because of human activity. Still others, like the writers of a letter that appeared in the Aug. 6th Sun, believe in a thing called wind-turbine syndrome.

I guess they're entitled to their opinion. "Everybody has one," as the saying goes.

The letter writers admit that a 2012 study by two Massachusetts state agencies found no health effects from living near a wind turbine. But they describe this study as biased and say they would like a do-over. They call for the state to fund a new study, this one to be conducted by a special committee including "members of the General Court."

You don't suppose such a committee would be subject to political pressures, do you—including pressures from shadowy anti-wind groups with funding from fossil fuel interests like the Koch Brothers (Bill, Charles and David)?

Another question: If it existed, wouldn't wind turbine syndrome, with its debilitating impacts, have crippled the whole generation of students who have attended Hull High School since 2001, a few hundred feet from an "industrial scale turbine"? And why, if wind turbines are so dangerous to human health, have people in towns with wind installations weighed in heavily against efforts to remove them—in Falmouth by a town meeting vote of almost 2 to 1?

Like the 2012 state study, a study by MIT scientists, published last year in the peer-reviewed Journal of Occupational Environmental Medicine, finds no health effects from proximity to wind turbines. How many studies do we need?

A bill to fund the study demanded by the people who wrote last week's letter to the Sun has been introduced in the state legislature. I dearly hope the legislature, and especially our city's delegation, will vote against wasting the taxpayers' money to study an imaginary disease.

In my observation, the syndrome, with its ever-expanding list of symptoms, is often connected with concerns over loss of property value. I would allay those concerns by pointing out that nine studies by respected, independent organizations found no correlation between the siting of wind turbines and property values, according to the website cleantecnica.com.

In other words, the idea that wind turbines lower property values is--like the wind turbine syndrome--a myth.

David Reich
Phillips Street

SUBSCRIPTION FORM
FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO
The Quincy Sun
Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968
1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169
NAME ____________________
STREET ____________________
CITY __________ STATE ______ ZIP ______
CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN
[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00
[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED
[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1975
40 Years Ago

IRS Moves Into New Downtown Office

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will officially dedicate its new offices at 1200 Hancock St. on Friday, Aug. 15.

Invited guests include U.S. Senators Edward M. Kennedy and Edward W. Brooke along with Cong. James A. Burke, Senator and City Council President Arthur H. Tobin and Chamber of Commerce President William E. Kelley.

The IRS offices will be located in the new Quincy Savings Bank Building on the third floor.

$325,000 GRANT TO FIGHT DRUGS IN QUINCY-SOUTH SHORE AREA

Massachusetts has received a total of $325,000 to fund a drug enforcement unit to crack down on narcotics traffic in the South Shore area surrounding Quincy.

Congressman Burke said the total award was broken down into three grants, all funded by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

QUINCYISMS

Miss Jeanne Anne Rathgeb, 17, was chosen Miss Quincy Bay of 1975… Inspector of Plumbing and Gas Fittings James A. Erwin, Jr., reported that 123 applications for a total of $88,679 were granted by his office in July… Construction of the Goliath Crane, the largest crane in the western hemisphere, was completed at the General Dynamics Quincy Shipyard… The Houghs Neck Legion Post was planning a chicken barbeque Sunday, Aug. 17 at the Post home. John Christensen was chairman of the committee… Hart's Jewelers, 1422 Hancock St., Quincy Center, was offering the following services: Diamond Appraising, Estate Appraising, and Gemstone Identification… Helen Gurich's Beauty Garden, 1436 Hancock St., was offering "All Permanents Regardless of Their Original Value, Only $9.95"… Sons of Italy Lodge 1295 was planning its third annual Exceptional Dinner-Dance for C.P. adults and their companions, Sunday, Aug. 24, at the Lodge Home, 120 Quarry St. Venable John Fantucchio was the chairman of the dinner committee… The Massachusetts Committee to Elect Fred Harris President held a yard sale at the home of Mrs. Barbara Kelley; 207 Whitwell St. Harris was one of the six announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. (Editor's note: He didn't make it.)… Rev. Keith C. Munson officially began his new pastorate at the United First Parish Church, Quincy Center, by performing a wedding… Fifteen Boy Scouts from Troop 35 sponsored by the Most Blessed Sacrament Church in Hough Neck, attended Boy Scout camp, Adams Pond, Storrer Reservation, Barnstead, New Hampshire. For the fourth consecutive year the troop carried off the first prize in the Olympic Competition. Members of the troop who attended were: Kevin, Paul and Mike Bythrow, Matt and Mike Matthews, Kevin and John Robertson, Greg McKinnon, Ed Powers, Joey Rudolph, Shawn Winn, Mike Guidice, Ed Brennan, Bob Burke and Wally Chapman… Mrs. Mildred Ambrosia, Red Cross Blood Donor Chairman, announced that 37 pints of blood were donated at a recent bloodmobile visit at Quincy Point Congregational Church… The Quincy Sun's Sunbeams column reported that the LaRaia for Mayor Committee was planning an "in depth voter survey of 3,000 Quincy voters." The survey to begin after Labor Day… Ellen M. Griffen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Griffen, 185 South Street, Quincy point, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism from Northeastern University… Fred E. Morrill, Jr., 100 Grandview Ave., Wollaston, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He was a dean's list student… Ward 5 Councillor Warren Powers was scheduled to meet with Police Chief Francis X. Finn to discuss "Tightening Up" enforcement of speeding regulations in the Wollaston area… The Wollaston Credit Union, 651 Hancock St., was offering "No Notice Savings Accounts Paying 5 +% Per Annum, Special Notice Accounts Paying 6% Per Annum"… Alexander R. McQuarrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bouvier, 433B Sea St., Quincy, was promoted to Master Sergeant in the U.S. Air Force. He was a 1955 graduate of Quincy High School… Atty. Paul D. Harold was recently re-elected National Committeeman of the Massachusetts Young Democrats at the group's convention held in Framingham.

Dick Flavin Book Reading, Signing Aug. 27

Popular local television personality, announcer, ambassador, and poet laureate for Fenway Park, Dick Flavin, will be reading from and signing copies of his new book, Red Sox Rhymes: Verses and Curses, Thursday, Aug. 27 at 7 p.m., at Barnes & Noble, 150 Granite St., Braintree.

Flavin has entertained audiences with his poetic talent and abiding love for the Red Sox before countless home games for more than 20 years. Flavin's poems are gathered together for the first time in his new book.

Illustrated with more than 50 photos from the official Red Sox archives, Red Sox Rhymes honors all of Red Sox fandom and is an essential memento for every BoSox fan.

As a beloved Red Sox insider, Flavin has been privileged to watch history in the making, from the team's 2004 World Series victory that finally broke its nearly century-long "curse," to road-tripping with Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky, to witnessing Ted Williams final appearance at the plate. His pithy and comedic verses-including such gems as "The Beards of Summer," "Long Live Fenway Park," and his best known, "Teddy at the Bat"- pay homage to the American pastime, New England's favorite team and players (and the curses and legends that have followed it), and the passionate Nation that has remained faithful through victory and defeat.

The event is free and open to the public.

Theatrical Troupe At Crane Library Aug. 18

The Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy will host the national touring theatrical troupe Act!vated Story Theatre Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 10:30 a.m.

The troupe will perform stories for the summer reading program "Every Hero has a Story" in August. The program is free and suitable for all ages.

The program is intended to help keep kids motivated and interested in reading by getting them involved in stories and exposing them to theatre.

The 45-minute show features two folktales chosen from the following: the ever popular Grimm brothers tale Little Red Riding Hood; the tall tales of the American hero Davy Crockett; the popular Polish legend The Dragon Of Krakow; the African trickster tale Anansi Goes Fishing; the Native American nature myth Coyote and Eagle; and the Eastern European Jewish story Something From Nothing.

Twelve kids, age 6 and up, will be cast as "guest stars."

To participate, kids attend a free theatre workshop led by the actors 30 minutes before the show begins. No experience necessary.

Call the children's librarian to sign up for the preshow theatre workshop. The performance is open to all ages.

For more information about "Act!vated Heroes" or Act!vated Story Theatre visit http://activatedstorytheatre.com.

Find us on Facebook

Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV

Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, August 13
6:00pm: QRD: TV Production Workshop '15
8:00pm: Quincy Honors...Rosie the Riveters

Friday, August 14
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, August 15
3:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
11:00pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Sunday, August 16
10:30am: Terra Santa News
6:00pm: Quincy Honors...Rosie the Riveters

Monday, August 17
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:30pm: QRD: TV Production Workshop '15

Tuesday, August 18
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7:00pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, August 19
9:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, August 13
7:00pm: Senior Olympics Awards
8:30pm: At Your Library: August Happenings

Friday, August 14
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
8:00pm: QRD: TV Production Workshop '15
8:30pm: NCPC: Basketball Camps

Saturday/Sunday, August 15/16
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
9:30am: Update DPW: Summer Season
11:00am: At Your Library: August Happenings
12:30pm: NCPC: Basketball Camps
2:00pm: Quincy Honors...Rosie the Riverters
2:30pm: Studio Sessions: Episode 5

Monday, August 17
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Home Security

Tuesday, August 18
6:00pm: Health Links: Complimentary Therapies
8:00pm: Quincy District Court: Law Day '15

Wednesday, August 19
8:00pm: Studio Sesions: Episode 6
8:30pm: Bringing Beacon Hill to You

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Arts & Entertainment

Children's Activities At Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane Public Library

The Thomas Crane Public Library has scheduled for the following events and activities for children.

Superheroes, Storytellers and More This Week at the Library

We have a very busy schedule this week with Superhero Training Camp with Jim Manning, storytelling with the Activated Storytellers, a Dungeons and Dragons Adventure, LEGO building and science experiments. Programs are offered for children of all ages stop by, borrow some books and join us for a program. Details for all summer programs are on our website thomascranelibrary.org.

Storytelling at the Farmers Market, weather permitting

Join us Friday, Aug. 14th at noon at the Farmer's Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

Superhero Training Camp

On Friday, Aug. 14th at 2:30 p.m. out on the Main Library Lawn Jim Manning returns to train us to be superheroes.

Join Jungle Jim for this high energy interactive show as he leads children ages 3-10 through the rigors of what it takes to be a true superhero!

Jungle Jim challenges the audience to see if they have what it takes to be a hero. This program captures their attention by turning patrons into superheroes themselves. The show progresses to talk about the heroes in our daily lives. What is it about them that makes them heroes? Who are the heroes in the children's lives?

As a reward for the children completing their big challenge, Jungle Jim will meet his toughest challenge and attempt to climb inside of a 6-foot balloon!

This program will take place rain or shine in case of bad weather we will move inside to the large meeting room.

Art-to-go a nine-week series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy. Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch.

Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft. The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays.

Craft for the week of August 17th – Spidey's web

Children's Movie @ North Quincy

On Monday, Aug. 17th at 2 p.m. a the North Quincy Branch Library join us for a showing of Disney's classic Sleeping Beauty.

When a new princess is born to King Stefan and his wife, the entire kingdom rejoices. At a ceremony, three good fairies - Flora, Fauna, and Merryweather - bestow gifts of magic on the child. But an evil sorceress named Maleficent shows up, and because of a rude remark by Merryweather, she places a curse on the princess - that she will die before sunset on her 16th birthday after pricking her finger on a spinning wheel's spindle.

Merryweather turns things around by casting a spell that will allow the princess - named Aurora - to awake from an ageless sleep with a kiss from her true love. On her 16th birthday Aurora meets Prince Phillip and falls in love. Maleficent manages to kidnap the Prince and her horrible prophecy is fulfilled when she tricks Aurora into pricking her finger on the spindle of a spinning wheel and falling asleep.

The Prince soon finds himself up against Maleficent's army of brutes, and the power of Maleficent's evil spells. Is the Prince strong enough to withstand the powers of the evil sorceress? This movie is rated G and runs for 75 minutes.

Activated Story Theatre

On Tuesday, Aug. 18th at 10:30 a.m. in Main Library Large Meeting Room join the Activated Story Theatre as they present two heroic tales with a fully activated story theater performance of "Anansi Goes Fishing" and "Davy Crockett" a tall tale from the United States.

The original "spider man," Anansi – the beloved hero of many African folktales – gets his way by cunning and cleverness. This story includes brief retellings of "Anansi and the Moss Covered Rock" and "Anansi and the Story Box".

Davy Crockett was a genuine historical figure who was also a genuine storyteller, He became a legend largely through the extremely tall tales he told. In this rendition we also bring you Sally-Ann-Thunder-Ann-Whirlwind Crockett who wins Davy's heart at barn dance and wrestles alligators with her bare hands.

As always this high energy duo will have the audience in stitches as Mr. Turtle tricks cunning Anansi into doing all the work and the giant book stage transports us into Davy Crockett's imagination. If you have never seen the Activated Storytellers you are in for a treat. This program is for children ages 4 and older accompanied by an adult.

D&D Introduction: The Forgotten Library

Children ages 10 and older are invited to join us on Tuesday, Aug. 18th at 7 p.m. in the Main Library Children's Room for a evening of adventure.

Be a dungeon-delving hero in this introduction to the Dungeons & Dragons 5th Edition rules. Participants will use pre-built characters and work together to explore a dungeon leading to a lost library full of powerful tomes. Discover the Secrets of Tokra: The Forbidden Library. This one hour program requires no prior knowledge of D&D rules and will be a self-contained adventure.

Did you play in July and want to play again? Come on in to continue your adventures in the Forbidden Library.

LEGO Building at Wollaston

On Wednesday, Aug. 19th children ages 5 and older are invited to stop by the Wollaston branch library all day for free-play LEGO building. Grab some LEGO bricks and build a boat, a spaceship, a double-decker couch - anything you want, then toss them back and try to make something else. LEGOs must be returned by the end of the program, sorry! Parents please note these are regular LEGO, not DUPLO and are not appropriate for smaller children. The branch is open from 1:00 to 9:00 pm, LEGO clean up will take place at 8:45.

Preschool Discovery – Mystery Science @ Wollaston

On Thursday, Aug. 20th at 10 a.m. bring your preschoolers, ages 2-5, in to the Wollaston Branch to try out some mystery science activities. Examine your finger prints and shoe prints, test your memory, try some color chromatography and more!

Drop in any time between 10 and 11:30 a.m and help your child be a junior science detective!

Quincy August Moon Festival Sunday

The 28th Annual Quincy August Moon Festival will be held Sunday, Aug. 16 in the area of the 1400 Hancock Street block in Quincy Center.

Hosted by Quincy Asian Resources Inc. (QARI), the festival will open with a traditional Lion Dance at 11 a.m., followed by hours of live entertainment, amusements, food vendors, fun activities and information for people of all backgrounds and cultures to enjoy. Admission is free.

The festival is part of the global celebration honoring the moon goddess and celebrating a new harvest during the time when the moon is the brightest.

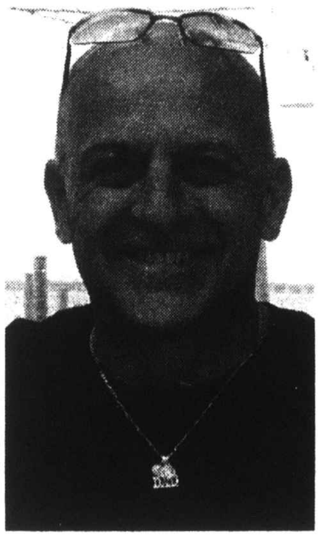
This year's festival features two stages that will hold cultural performances by local artists throughout the day. Activities include a watermelon eating contest, a dunk tank, amusement rides and pony rides.

In addition, the South Shore YMCA will host a children's area featuring games and face painting. There will also be a food court featuring food and beverage vendors as well as food trucks serving varied dishes. Exhibits from local businesses and organizations will also be in the area.

In the event of bad weather, the event may be rescheduled for Sunday, Aug. 23. Information is available at www.quincyasianresources.org.

Social

'Friends Of Mark Messina' Fundraiser Sept. 15



MARK MESSINA

"Friends of Mark Messina" will hold a fundraiser Sunday, Sept. 15 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Granite Links Pavilion Tent, Quincy.

Tickets are $25 and the event will feature music, karaoke, hors d'oeuvres, raffles and an aution.

Proceeds from the event will benefit Mark Messina, a North Quincy native who was severaly injured in a tractor trailer accident last Labor Day, Sept. 1, 2014.

During an over the road trip through Hattiesburg, MS for UPS, Messina was resting in the tractor's sleeper berth while his team member was driving. When the driver swerved to avoid deer crossing the road he hit the soft shoulder, lost control and crashed the tractor into the trees.

The driver escaped with minor injuries. Mark was not so fortunate. He was thrown from the sleeper berth and ended up pinned beneath the dashboard. He suffered a broken spine, three broken ribs and a punctured lung. Mark was rushed to Forest General Hospital and had emergency reconstructive surgery.

The original prognosis was positive. He was told it may take 6-8 weeks before he regained feeling in his legs. At the time Mark had feeling from the waist up. Four days after the accident, Mark developed complications and required additional invasive surgery. He would need to be stabilized before being transported to the Shepherd Center in Atlanta, GA.

After two weeks in Mississippi, Mark was airlifted to Atlanta for intensive therapy. Upon arrival, it was discovered that Mark had suffered a setback.

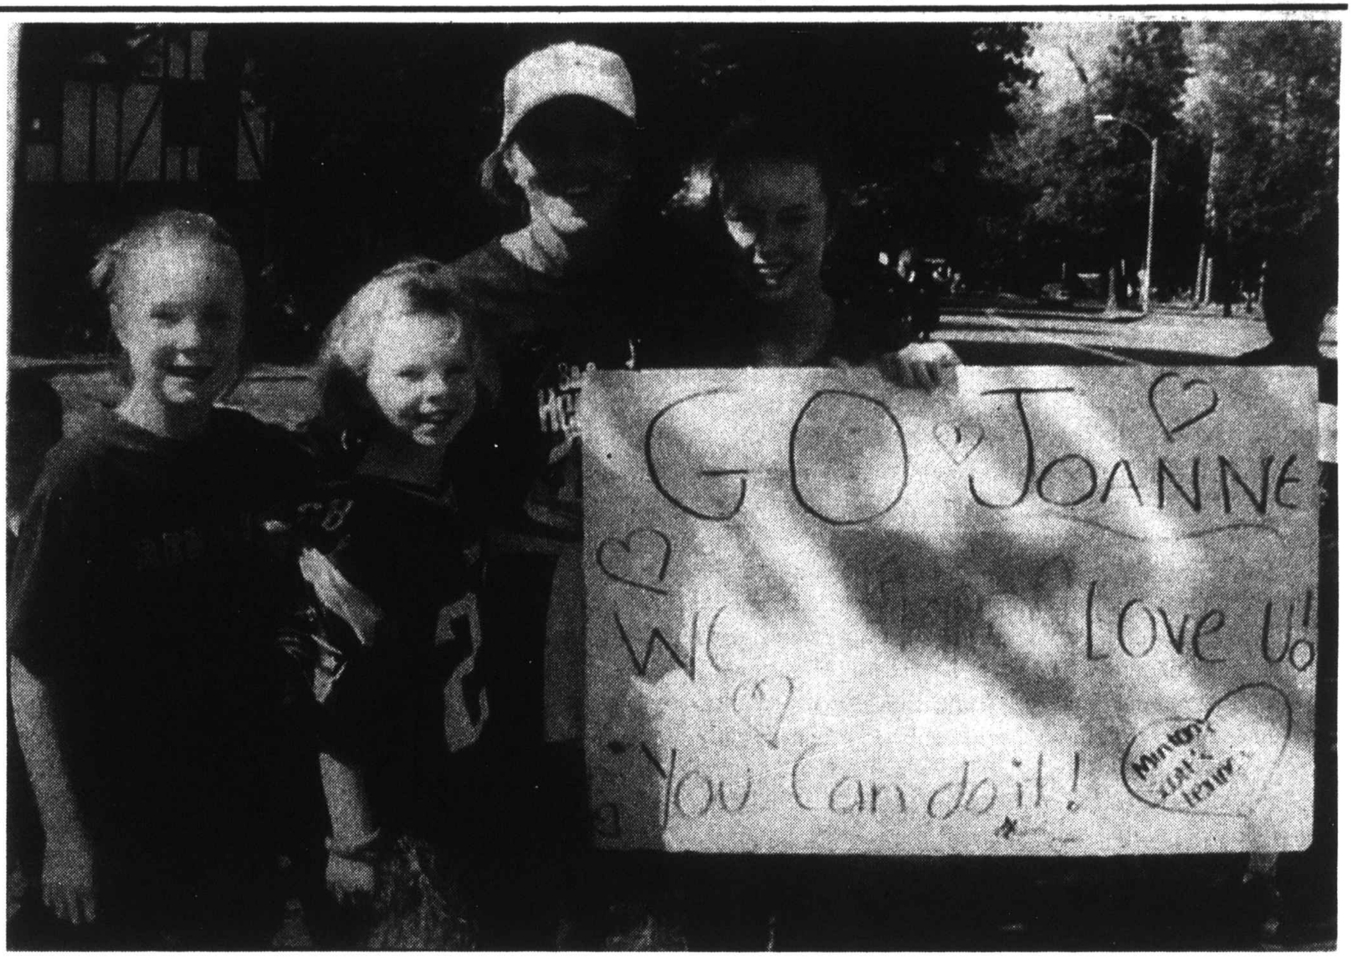
He had lost feeling from the waist up to his chest. A condition called SPAM (Sub-acute Progressive Ascending Myelopathy) had set in. This condition affects approximately 1% of spinal cord injury patients. Research of this condition showed that the feeling lost at onset may return, slowly and painfully, but feeling below the original point of injury may not. Mark's uphill fight turned into a mountain.

Mark spent a couple of months at the Shepherd Center while struggling through therapy and rehabilitation. It was now time to come home to face the challenges of a new lifestyle. Mark and Jacinta's home in Nashua, NH needed to be renovated to become handicap accessible. During this time, and currently, they reside in a handicap accessible hotel room at the Marriott Residence Inn in Nashua. While experiencing lengthy delays in the beginning of this work, they also had to deal with the insurance company on the purchase of a handicap van.

It was determined that even after modifications to their home it would still be unsafe and their new living conditions would be difficult. It was decided that they would sell their home in Nashua and have a new home built in Seabrook, NH. Adding to their financial constraints, according to Workers' Compensation guidelines, Mark and his family will soon lose all group health benefits. Medical expenses, for Mark only, directly related to his accident will be covered. All other family health benefits will be lost. To help offset these costs, and to address future expenses as they adapt to their new reality, we ask for help.

For ticket information call Paul Messina at 617-312-5091. To donate online visit "FriendsofMarkMessina.org"

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
GYMNASTICS & DANCE SCHOOL
WAS VOTED #1 ON THE SOUTH SHORE
Ages 2 – Adult
NOW ACCEPTING REGISTRATIONS!
781-843-9624
"An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child"
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree • www.joansolympicgym.com



GO Joanne
We Love U!
You Can do it!

JOANNE MINTON (second from right) with her three daughters (from left) Jane, Molly and Sarah Minton after she compleeted the 26.2-mile Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk in 2009. Joanne, who was diagnosed with brain cancer in 2007, made it her mission to complete the walk and help others in need. She passed away Sept. 22, 2014. Her daughters who have organized the team "Attitude Is Everything" in tribute to their mom, will walk in this year's walk Sept. 27. Photo Courtesy Minton Family

Family, Friends To Walk In Honor Of Joanne Minton

On Sunday, Sept. 27, the "Attitude Is Everything" Team will walk the 26.2 mile Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk in honor of their dear friend and mother, Joanne Minton.

In 2007, Joanne was diagnosed with brain cancer. While raising four small children, being a devoted wife, compassionate nurse and an active community member, she fought a long and positive battle during the first year of the diagnosis. Through various surgeries and treatment methods, Joanne never missed a game, school event, friend's birthday (making her to be famously known for her bundt cakes) or a chance to give back to her community.

Two years after an initial diagnosis with some uphill battles ahead of her, Joanne made it her mission to complete the 26.2 miles and help others in need. She was determined to complete the walk and in record time! She trained by walking the beach and city of Quincy months prior.

On the day of the event, Joanne set out alone to conquer not only 26.2 miles but cancer. Our family and community surprised her at heart break hill, cheering her on and offering words of support. She completed the walk in 6 hours, with no breaks and pure determination to prove to herself and other cancer victims that anything was possible.

On Sept. 22nd, 2014 after seven inspirational years of battling brain cancer, Joanne passed away peacefully amongst family and friends in her home. She was a true believer that "Attitude is Everything" and anything could be accomplished with the right mindset.

To carry on Joanne's devotion to her community and the passion she conveyed during her 26.2 miles, Team "Attitude is Everything" will be walking this September in her footsteps.

To help raise money for the Jimmy Fund Walk, the team and the Quincy Police Department is hosting a Community Yard Sale Saturday, Sept. 19 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Beechwood Knoll School.

"With a City of Quincy Community Yard Sale in September as well as personal fundraising, we plan to donate funds raised to the Pediatric Patient Assistance Fund at the Jimmy Fund/ Dana-Farber Cancer Institute," said Sarah Minton, one of Joanne's daughters. "This fund provides money to families of pediatric patients at Dana - Farber for hospital parking, gas, hotel, food, and other expenses during a very difficult time.

"We thank you for your support and remembering our mother and friend in such a positive and inspiring manner," Sarah added.

To sell products at the yard sale, the cost is $40 per space (size of a parking lot space) and the vendor can keep all profits and/or donate items to be sold at the yard sale for the team to sell and keep profits. Donated items can be picked up upon request.

Craft and independent vendors are welcome.

For more information or to participate, e-mail Sarah Minton at sarah.jfyardsale@gmail.com or call (617) 785-5557.

Mackenzie Irvin Graduates Le Moyne College

Mackenzie Irvin of Quincy recently graduated from Le Moyne College in Syracuse with a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science.

She also made the Dean's List for the spring semester.

GREATER QUINCY CHILD CARE CENTER
859 Willard St., One Adams Pl., Quincy
(1/2 mile from the So. Shore Plaza)
- Infants: 8 weeks to 15 months
- Toddlers: 15 months to 2.9 years
- Preschool: 2.9 to 5 years
- Kindergarten: We only close 12 holidays
- Hours: 7:30 am to 6 pm • Developmental Curriculum
- Full or Part Week • Hot Lunch • State-of-the-art Center
- Music & Large Motor Enrichment Programs
- Small Teacher/Student Ratios * High-tech Security System

FALL 2015 KINDERGARTEN
Year Round • Full Day (7:30 am to 6 pm)
We only close for 12 holidays • Call to schedule a tour!
Age Req. - 5 years old by Oct. 31, 2015 - 12/1 Ratio
We are celebrating 30+ years of quality care and education.
617-773-8386 • gqccc@aol.com
www.greaterquincychildcare.com
Accredited by the NAEYC Academy for Early Childhood Program Accreditation

GENNARO'S EATERY
Summer Deal
Dine-In & Take-Out
Large Round Cheese Pizza
$8.99
Tuesdays All Day & Night
Homemade
Pizza Dough & Sauce
Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials
617-499-6929
Deal ends August 31, 2015
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Peach - Nectarine Pie

By MARIE

With the surplus of delicious peaches and nectarines, today's recipe uses these two wonderful fruits for this dessert.

A pie crust can be used or Bisquick if you prefer for the tops. Individual pies can be made in a muffin tin or a pie plate.

PEACH - NECTARINE PIE

2 nectarines
1 large peach
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
Pie dough or Bisquick (organic can be used)
1 muffin tin or pie plate

Cut and slice the peaches and nectarines the same way as apples when you bake an apple pie.

Add the spices and place the mixture either in the muffin tins or a casserole dish. On top of each, place the pie dough or the Bisquick over the top, edging the dough around each one. If you use the pie crust, egg wash the tops by beating one egg and slit the tops.

Bake in a 400-degree oven until tops are golden brown-about 20 minutes or so depending on how you make them.

Mix the Bisquick according to directions.

Saute in butter turning until tender.

Banana/Egg Pancakes

By SUZIE

Here is a recipe for pancakes that only require two ingredients. Bananas and eggs!

Now, these are not exactly like regular pancakes, but they shouldn't disappoint. (Unless you do not like the taste of bananas, because these taste like banana pancakes) They sort of taste like the middle of French toast, that custardy yummy part.

These are great with a bit of butter, and you can top them with the usual maple syrup or just some fresh fruit. These are best made small, because they are too hard to flip if they are bigger. I usually just use 2 tablespoons or so per pancake.

INGREDIENTS: 1 ripe banana, mashed well

2 large eggs, whisked well

Simply mash the banana well and whisk the eggs well (separately) then mix together well into the batter!

Cook on a greased griddle (like you would with regular pancakes) and flip when done. Serve with butter and whatever else you prefer! You can add vanilla if you like, or 1/8 tsp baking powder for lighter pancakes.

I hope you like these! Healthy for sure and a good way to get your protein in the morning and feel very satisfied.

Apple - Raisin Roll

By MARIE

With the weather finally feeling like summer, and still wanting to make some desserts, I found an easy way to make one out of apples instead of a pie.

It's so much easier, and it contains the same ingredients as a pie, but made in a roll. I sprinkled a few raisins when I made them, but it's strictly optional.

APPLE-RAISIN ROLL

1 large pie crust
2 large apples (diced small)
1/4 cup raisins
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

In small bowl, mix the flour, sugar, salt and spices together.

In another bowl. place the apples, raisins, and the lemon juice, and blend well.

Add the mixture from the small bowl and mix until all the apples are nicely coated.

In the round pie crust, place the apple mixture evenly all around and then roll like a jelly roll.

Place on a cookie sheet (I used parchment paper) and brush the top with a one egg wash. Slit the top with a few openings and bake in a 375-400 degree oven until top is golden. It takes about 25-30 minutes. Serve with ice cream or whipped cream.

Quincy License Board Briefs

By JOE REARDON

The Quincy License Board took the following action at its Aug. 5th meeting.

- The board voted unanimously to grant a Common Victualer License requested by Albert Hassan for the Evolino's restaurant, 103 Franklin Street.
- Voted unanimously to grant a Special Use Permit to the City of Presidents 5K Run/Walk for the 2nd Annual 5K Run/Walk, Sunday, Sept. 27.
- Voted unanimously to grant a Common Victualer License at the request of Humera H. Makwana for the School House Pizza, 1-3 School Street.
- Voted unanimously to continue the hearing until Tuesday, Sept. 8, regarding the request for Transfer and Change of Location of the CV All Alcohol Restaurant License issued to Hong Kong Eatery, 1515 Hancock St, to Tiger Rose Group, doing business as Shabu J. Japanese Restaurant, 663 Hancock St.
- Voted unanimously to continue the hearing until Tuesday, Sept. 8, regarding the request of Bravo Restaurant Group, doing business as Bravo Pizzeria, 531 Washing St., for a CV Wine & Malt License.
- Voted unanimously to grant the request of Fiesta Shows for a Special Use permit to hold carnivals Sept.,18-20 at St Mary's Church, 95 Crescent St. & Most Blessed Sacrament Church, 1015 Sea St.

Patricia Molloy of 116 Crescent St., said debris was blown across the street onto her lawn last year and her driveway was blocked by the cars of people at the carnival. "There was debris on my lawn last year," Molloy said. "The noise factor is what it is. There's nothing you can do about that."

Quincy Police Chief Paul Keenan told Molloy she should work with the police detail that will be at the carnivals to help make sure the traffic does not block local residents in the area.

- Voted unanimously to grant the request of the 99 Restaurant, 59 Newport Ave., for a one-day Entertainment License (DJ), Thursday, Aug. 13, from 4:45 p.m to 7:30 p.m.

RUBEN CHARLES (right) of Quincy and his family join Joe Andruzzi, president of the Joe Andruzzi Foundation (JAF) and three-time Super Bowl champion, at the recent JAF's Codzilla Thrill Ride. For the sixth year, JAF, a nonprofit organization committed to providing emotional and financial support to cancer patients and their families when it is needed most, invited a group of cancer patients and their families to enjoy a wild and wet excursion aboard the Codzilla thanks to Boston Harbor Cruises. Prior to the ride, all of the patients and families had their picture taken with Joe and his Super Bowl rings. Photo Courtesy Stacey Howard

Broad Meadows Marsh Guided Tour Aug. 24

The Park Department's Environmental Treasures program is featuring a free tour of the recently restored Broad Meadows Marsh with Lawrence Oliver of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Participants should meet at 6 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 24 in the parking lot behind Broad Meadows Middle School on Calvin Road. Bring water, bug repellent, sunscreen and a sunhat.

The Marsh was largely destroyed when dredged material from the Town River Federal navigation project was dumped in the Marsh in 1938 and 1956. The area became overrun with phragmites. Over the last several years major work has been done to restore the marsh and to create a park on the upland area.

Oliver will share his over 30 years of experience in environmental work and salt marsh restoration as he describes how the salt marsh was restored and why this ecosystem is so important.

Many of the trails contain large pieces of gravel which may be challenging for people with stability problems.

There will be an optional pay your own way dinner at a local restaurant after the tour. No registration is required.

For more information and rain date rescheduling, call 617-472-0799.

Quincy Coastal Adaptation Plan Survey Released

The Metropolitan Area Planning Council (MAPC), in partnership with the City of Quincy, has released a Coastal Adaptation Plan survey.

The survey, found at https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/quincyclimate, asks residents and business owners what concerns them most about climate impacts in Quincy, and what should be done to remain resilient.

A Coastal Adaptation Plan Forum was held on Earth Day, April 22 at the Germantown Neighborhood Center in Quincy. The forum offered locals a chance to learn about climate change and its impacts on the natural environment, Quincy's developed areas and its infrastructure, its coastal areas, local health, and the local economy.

Special focus was on vulnerable populations, including lower-income- and non-English-speaking residents, as well as those with disabilities and other health concerns living within floodplain areas.

Citizen input received included concerns about flooding, Quincy's environmental resiliency and how extreme weather affects residents, especially seniors and low-income communities.

There were also questions about new construction practices and funding to support residents that are impacted by severe climate. Many solutions were offered around zoning and ordinance changes, green infrastructure and innovative adaptation practices, community education and outreach, wetland restoration, promoting LEED certified buildings and identifying funding sources to support implementing the Coastal Adaptation Plan.

The Quincy Planning Department and MAPC will host an interactive booth for the project at the August Moon Festival Sunday, Aug. 16 in Quincy Center.

Sarah Tehan Graduates The Newman School

Sarah Tehan of Quincy, a 2015 high school graduate of The Newman School, successfully completed the private school's International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma Program.

Located in Boston's Back Bay, The Newman School is one of three independent schools in Greater Boston to offer the world recognized IB Program, an academically rich and rigorous program of study that prepares students for success in both higher education and the global workforce.

Tehan is one of 14 students who earned an IB diploma from Newman this year. Completing this prestigious program reflects Sarah's determination and achievement in reaching goals within the framework of IB's high level of academic rigor.

Two Quincy Students On Delaware Dean's List

Two Quincy residents have been named to the Dean's List at the University of Delaware in Newark, DE for the spring semester.

They are:

Siobhan Deasy and Meredith Flaherty.

Tourist Season In Full Stride

By SCOTT JACKSON

Tourists from across the United States and beyond continue to come to Quincy to see historic sites associated with the Adams family.

Visitation at the United First Parish Church at 1306 Hancock St. – known as the Church of the Presidents, as it is the final resting place of John and John Quincy Adams and their wives, First Ladies Abigail and Louisa Catherine – is up five percent this year compared to last year, according to Gary Haynes, the director of the church's visitor program.

Between the start of the season in April and July 29 of this year, 3,848 visitors have toured the church, compared to the 3,664 who visited the site through July 30 of last year. This year, visitors have come from 47 U.S. states –no residents of Montana or the Dakotas had visited the building through July 29 – and 19 foreign countries, including Canada, Russia, Nepal, Japan, Australia, South Korea, Brazil, Chile, Iraq, Cape Verde and several western European nations.

"Compared to last year we've seen a five percent increase," Haynes said. "Our numbers started picking up in the last couple weeks."

Of those visitors, 347 of them have been students who visit the church on school trips. Many of the students are from Massachusetts, but some come from much further away.

"We've had students from as far away as Wisconsin," Haynes said.

July was the busiest month so far this season for the United First Parish Church. On average, 50 visitors come to tour the church each day; the busiest day so far this year was July 23, when 95 people visited.

This winter, which forced many schools throughout New England to stay in session until late June, didn't impact visitation Haynes stated, because the busy season typically starts in mid-July. Many families from out of state chose to travel in July because the new school year starts in August where they live.

"A lot of parents tell us that throughout the country school starts in the second or third week of August," Haynes said. "That explains why July is one of our biggest months."

For the second year in a row, roadwork is ongoing throughout Quincy Center as part of the Adams Green transportation project. Haynes said the work hasn't had much of an impact on the number of visitors to the United First Parish Church; some people might not know how to get to the church, but they can ask Quincy police officers in the area or staffers at the Adams National Historical Park's visitors' center how to get there.

Aug. 1 marked the end of Discover Quincy's 50 Days

Cont'd On Page 12

Adams National Historical Park

TROLLEY TAKES VISITORS to the Adams National Historical Park that includes the birthplaces of Presidents John and John Quincy Adams as well as the "Old House," home to four generations of the Adams family. The trolley departs from the Visitor Center located at 1250 Hancock St. in Quincy Center.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Quincy Man Pleads Guilty In $3.4M Investment Scheme

A Quincy man pleaded guilty Monday in U.S. District Court in Boston in connection with a scheme which defrauded $3.4 million from 65 individuals who sought to invest in the foreign currency exchange market.

Marcellus Lopes Lee, 47, pleaded guilty to 16 counts of wire fraud and six counts of money laundering. Lee was indicted on those charges in July 2014. U.S. District Court Judge Indira Talwani scheduled sentencing for Nov. 2, 2015.

Lee owned and operated Taurus Global Markets, Ltd. (TGM), an entity which Lee held out as a company that engaged in foreign currency trading (forex) on behalf of investors. Lee defrauded investors by convincing them to wire funds to TGM's Belize bank account for the purpose of trading in the highly-risky forex market. Lee, however, did not trade the investor money and instead used it for his personal expenses.

Although TGM's website represented that it had staff, management, and a computer network "distributed all across the world," TGM, in fact, had no employees and Lee operated it by himself, primarily from his residence in Quincy. Lee also sent investors what purported to be account documents reflecting that their money was invested in the forex market. Eventually, most investors were told that most or all of their money had been lost in forex trading when, in reality, Lee had simply spent it.

The charge of wire fraud provides for a sentence of no greater than twenty years in prison, three years of supervised release, and a fine of $250,000. The charge of money laundering provides for a sentence of ten years in prison, three years of supervised release, and a fine of $250,000. Actual sentences for federal crimes are typically less than the maximum penalties. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and other statutory factors.

U.S. Attorney Carmen M. Ortiz; Vincent B. Lisi, Special Agent in Charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Boston Field Division; and William P. Offord, Special Agent in Charge of the Internal Revenue Service?s Criminal Investigation in Boston, made the announcement today. The case is being prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Mark J. Balthazard of Ortiz's Economic Crimes Unit.

You'll love your account at QCU
Really, why? What's so great about QCU?
Quincy Credit Union
Find us on Facebook
BEST BUY GIFT CARD
Open a Student Advantage Checking Account and VISA® Debit Card and receive a $10 Best Buy® Gift Card. Better hurry, the offer ends 9/30/2015!
Awesome! Thanks!
Visit qcu.org for details

[illegible]

Student Advantage Accounts are for Members ages 15-25. QCU will not charge Student Advantage Account Holders for ATM use; however, the ATM owner may impose a fee if you use an ATM not in the SUM network. At age 26, Student Advantage Totally Free Checking Account will be [illegible]

NCUA
Federally Insured by NCUA

100 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558

SUM

Toll Free: (866) 479-5558 • www.qcu.org

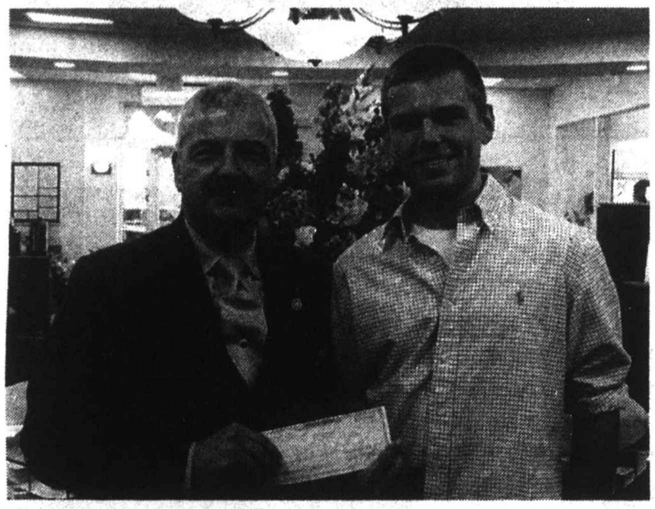
VISA

519 Columbian St.
Weymouth, MA 02190
781.340.7117

MSIE

QUINCY FIREFIGHTERS recently participated in "Fire Up A Cure" that was held in Matthews Arena at Northeastern University. From left to right are Tim Kennedy, Tom Gannon, Mike Palaza, Maria Stephanos (Fox 25 News), Shawn Darcy, Pat O'Donnell and Kevin Ferent. At the event, fire departments from around the state competed against each other to raise money and awareness for pediatric cancer. Events included: tug of war, obstacle course, fire truck push and a hot wing eating competition.

Photo Courtesy Mike Palazza



BRAINTREE COOPERATIVE BANK President and CEO Paul Pecci (left) presents a scholarship to Timothy Collins, a 2015 graduate of Braintree High School. Collins will attend the University of New Hampshire, Peter Paul College of Business and Economics this fall. He will major in accounting. Each year, Braintree Cooperative Bank awards a graduating senior who plans to major in business or finance with a scholarship to aid with their upcoming college expenses.

Get Local!

QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

Hearth 'n Kettle
RESTAURANTS • Est. 1973
Approved

Made-from-scratch New England fare and other chef's favorites

Open Daily at 7 am
BREAKFAST
LUNCH • DINNER
Breakfast served all day!

- Soups and Chowders
- Appetizers, Salads, Sandwiches
- SEAFOOD
- All-Natural CHICKEN & BEEF
- Kids Menu • Gluten-free selections
- Specialty Cocktails • Beer • Wine

If it's Wholesome, Great Tasting & Competitively Priced . . . it's H'nK Approved!

www.HearthnKettle.com

PLYMOUTH
at the John Carver Inn
(508) 747-7405

WEYMOUTH
151 Main Street (Route 18)
(508) 399-6688

Candidates Night Aug. 18

The Quincy LGBT community will host a "Meet the Candidates Night" Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Social Center, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

Candidates for mayor, city council and school committee have been invited to participate in the forum. All are welcome. RSVP Frank Rubino at frank.rubino543@gmail.com.

Fenno House Yard Sale

Fenno House, 540 Hancock St., North Quincy, will hold its seventh annual FUN-Raising Fair Aug. 14th and 15th from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The fair will feature a yard sale, raffle, household items, bake sale, and cold drinks.

NQHS Class Of 1960 Reunion

North Quincy High School Class of 1960 will hold its 55th reunion Saturday, Sept. 12 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Best Western Adams Inn, Constitution Room, North Quincy.

Cost is $55 per person. There will be a cash bar.

A blockout of rooms is available for attendees. Call 800-368-4012 or 617-328-1500. Shuttle from Logan Airport to the hotel is also available.

For reservations to the reunion, call Dottie and Jim McCabe, 617-680-2766 or email Jmccabe130@aol.com.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-781-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

August's Flavor of the Month is a perfect blend of nuts, caramel, nougat and chocolate...

try our
Snickers Parfait
COFFEE
today!

Coffee Break CAFE

buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net

12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420

77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888

247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090

Burke: Client Can ID Man Seen In Museum Video

By SCOTT JACKSON

A prominent Quincy attorney says a client of his may be able to identify a man seen in a recently released video recorded at the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum 24 hours before it was robbed of 13 works of art worth an estimated half-billion dollars 25 years ago.

George B. Burke, a former Norfolk County district attorney, on Monday informed U.S. Attorney for Massachusetts Carmen Ortiz that the unnamed client said he could identify a man seen in a video federal investigators released on Aug. 6.

"[I] was recently contacted by a former client stating that he saw the video on TV regarding the Gardner Museum heist," Burke wrote in a faxed letter to Ortiz. "He recognized the person in the video as a person who had work with him in antiques. My client wishes to remain anonymous."

The video released on Aug. 6 – recorded just before 1 a.m. on March 17, 1990 – shows a vehicle pull up next to the rear entrance of the Boston museum. The FBI and U.S. Attorney's Office said the vehicle in the video matches the description of a vehicle that was reported to have been parked outside the museum moments before the theft on March 18, 1990.

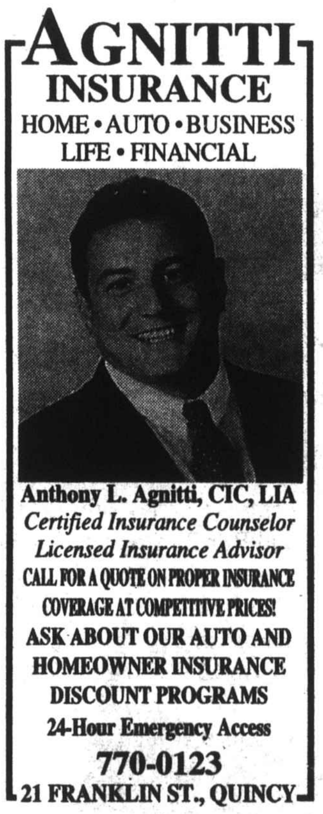
The video then shows a man – the one Burke said his client could identify – exit the vehicle. The man was allowed to enter the museum, against museum policy, by a security guard.

In the early morning hours of March 18, 1990, two white males dressed in Boston Police uniforms gained entrance to the Gardner Museum by advising the security guard at the watch desk that they were responding to a report of a disturbance within the compound. The guard allowed the thieves into the facility, which the FBI said was against museum policy.

Upon entry the two thieves subdued the on-duty security personnel, handcuffed them, and secured both guards in separate remote areas of the building's basement. The suspects did not brandish weapons, nor were any weapons seen during the heist. No panic button was activated and no Boston Police notification was made during the robbery. The video surveillance film from the evening of the robbery was seized by the thieves prior to departure. They did not take the video footage from the night before.

Thirteen works of art with a combined value of at least $500 million were stolen during the robbery; they are considered priceless by the art community. Items taken that night include Vermeer's "The Concert"; three Rembrandts, including "The Storm on the Sea of Galilee," his only seascape; five works by Degas; Manet's "Chez Tortoni"; a Shang Dynasty Chinese bronze beaker from 1200-1100 BC; Govaert Flinck's "Landscape with an Obelisk"; and a Napoleonic eagle finial.

The museum has offered a $5 million reward for information that leads to the recovery of all 13 works in good condition. Tips that lead to the return of individual items will result in a portion of the $5 million being rewarded, based on the item's market value compared to the other works.



AGNITTI
INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL

Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

Three Quincy Water Rescues In One Week

Fire Dept. Urges Residents: Think Safety First

By MIKE SLADE
Fire Prevention Officer
Quincy Fire Department

Recently, the Quincy Fire Department responded to three separate emergencies involving water rescues in one week.

The first water rescue took place in Hough's Neck. Engine 6 responded to a person in distress in the ocean without a boat or a lifejacket. Engine 6 immediately sent two firefighters by rescue boat to the scene, Lt. Jim Bailey stayed on land at Edgewater Drive to keep eyes on the victim while guiding by radio the rescue boat to the victim.

Firefighters Jimmy McCarthy and Bill O'Neil were able to swiftly extract the patient from the water as he began to submerge. They brought the victim by rescue boat to the dock at the Public Landing, where Brewster Ambulance was standing by for care and transport of the patient.

"The Firefighters of Engine 6 were timely, safe, and highly efficient in their rescue of this individual and I am proud to have had command of that incident" said Lt. James Bailey of the Quincy Fire Department.

The second water rescue was at the Quarries on Ricciuti Drive in West Quincy. Engine 5, Ladder 1, and the Special Service Unit were dispatched to the Quarries due to a report of a man who fell into the water. Quincy Fire established command and called for special rescue equipment from Ladder 1. This included rescue suits, ropes, flotation devices, and lighting.

Quincy Firefighter Anthony Gilbody swam to the victim and rescued him, bringing him back to shore while Firefighter Chris Barry assisted in the rescue.

The third rescue was at The Bay Point Marina in Quincy Point. A person became disoriented and fell into the water where they remained semiconscious. Quincy Fire Department Engine 3 responded to the scene. Upon seeing the patient, Capt. Tim Burchill immediately jumped into the water and with the assistance of on scene firefighters, pulled the patient to safety.

The Quincy Fire Department would like to remind Quincy citizens to think of safety first when being near the water. Accidents involving water can happen anywhere and can cause traumatic situations that usually can be avoided. Please remember the following tips when planning to be near the water:

It is always best to be prepared. If you do find yourself in an emergency situation, call 911 immediately. While waiting for 911 to respond, the following methods could be used to rescue the victim:

First try to reach for the person. Make sure that you have something solid to hold onto while reaching for the victim. If you cannot reach the person, throw something buoyant to the person to help keep them afloat.

If you are boating, knowing how to respond to an emergency when you are on the water can mean the difference between life and death. Help may be far away from where you are when boating, so knowing First Aid and CPR is very important and can be lifesaving. Each person on the vessel should have a U.S. Coast Guard properly fitted lifejacket worn on them at all times. It is a great idea to a submersible ship to shore radio attached to each person as well. The distress channel to call for help is channel 16.

When approaching a victim in the water by boat, make sure to approach the victim slowly with no wake. Upon approaching the victim, make sure to turn off the engine. Assess the injuries and talk to the victim if you can. If the victim has a minor injury, help him aboard your vessel for transport. If the victim is seriously injured, support the victim in the water. Keep the victim stable until help arrives.

The Quincy Fire Department has an average response time of less than three minutes. The three victims mentioned are fortunate to have survived. Please help Quincy stay safe by remembering the dangers of being in the water this summer. Please think safety first.

The Quincy Fire Department is committed to keeping the citizens of Quincy safe. If you should have any questions or concerns whatsoever, do not hesitate to call the Quincy Fire Departments Fire Prevention Bureau at 617-376-1015.

QUINCY FIRE BOAT can be utilized by firefighters for water rescues. Firefighters responded to three separate emergencies involving water rescues in one week recently.

QUINCY LADDER 1

BREWSTER AMBULANCE SERVICE is providing the city with a pair of multilingual Automated External Defibrillators or AEDs, the life-saving tools used for people suffering heart attacks or cardiac arrest. As part of its new Emergency Medical Service contract with the City, Brewster already provided 35 AEDs to Quincy's first responders. The two additional units will be placed in public places. The AEDs provided by Philips Healthcare provide state-of-the-art technology allowing users to choose between English or Chinese dialects. Mayor Koch will be working with Quincy Asian Resources Inc., and the Quincy Fire Department to determine the locations for the multlingual AEDs. From left: Brewster Paramedic Bill Goodwin, Brewster Paramedic Supervisor Scott Volz, Deputy Fire Chief Joseph Jackson, Brewster Clinical Director Chris DiBona, Kristen Gallant of Philips Healthcare, Brewster President Mark Brewster, Fire Chief Joseph Barron, Mayor Koch, QARI Executive Director John Brothers, Betty Yau from Mayor Koch's office, and Firefighter Jimmy Wong.

Two Arrested For Illegal Shellfishing

By SCOTT JACKSON

Two Quincy residents were recently arrested for illegally shellfishing in Germantown.

Quincy Police Capt. John Dougan said an officer on patrol spotted the two residents in mud flats off of Doane Street shortly before 9 a.m. on Aug. 4. The area is closed to shellfishing because it is considered contaminated.

Dougan said the two residents -- Charles Tan, age 64, and Run Tan, age 52 – were found with a shovel and pitchfork and were placing clams into a bucket. The two residents told the officer they did not have a permit to shellfish, Dougan stated.

They both were charged with shellfishing without a permit and shellfishing in a contaminated area, according to Dougan.

The incident on Aug. 4 was the second such incident in as many weeks; Dougan said another resident was charged with illegal shellfishing the week prior after being spotted clamming off Germantown.

Your Ears Need TLC!

There are many ways to care for your ears. The best thing you can do is have someone who will guide you and answer your questions without making you feel rushed.

Let the Tobias family make you feel at home with people that care about you, not your wallet.

Don't let your doctor send you elsewhere! Exercise your right to experience a higher level of personalized care.

We are three generations dedicated to people's hearing issues in the Boston area since 1959!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation!
617 770-3395

Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169
near Roche Bros and Walmart

Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

Enjoy Your Summer At
VILLA ROSA
Restaurant & Lounge
705 Adams St., Quincy
617-773-0095
www.villarosaquincy.com

Sunday's Summer Special
Boiled Lobster Dinner
Served with French Fries & Cole Slaw
$18.99

THE CAST of "1776 - The Musical" appearing at the Company Theatre Center for the Performing Arts recently visited the Adams National Historical Park and toured the "Old House" that was home to four generations of the Adams family. From left, Park Rangers Julieanne Fontana and Crystal Vezina; cast Danny Bolton (who portrays Charles Thompson in the musical), John Crampton (George Read), Douglas Jabara (Benjamin Franklin), John Colpoys (James Wilson), Bob Gumpright (Samuel Chase), Francis Sheehan (Robert Livingston), Eric Daniels (Andrew McNair), Park Curator Kelly Cobble, Park Ranger Elizabeth Brown and Park Guide Gabriella Hornbeck. Zoe Bradford, director of "1776," said the actors visited the historical site to enhance their stage performance. "Our actors wanted the enriching experience of actually coming and feeling this 18th century world and experiencing the history of the site so they can take it back with them," Bradford said. Park Supt. Marianne Peak said "It was a privilege for the National Park Service to host the Cast of 1776 The Musical who spent precious moments engulfed in the Adams story leading up to their Saturday night performance at The Company Theatre. The musical concludes its theatrical run on Aug. 16.

For more information, visit companytheatre.com. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Tourist Season In Full Stride At Local Historic Sites

Cont'd From Page 9

of Freedom, which included more than 150 different events – at least one each day beginning June 13 with the city's Flag Day parade. Many visitors to the United First Parish Church were interested in the program, Haynes said.

"A lot of people were picking up [Discover Quincy's] literature. They've been very popular," Haynes said.

This season is just as busy at the Adams National Historical Park.

"The tours are busy as ever. Every trolley is filled," Caroline Keinath, the park's deputy superintendent, said. "Our staff is eager and ready to assist the visitors who come to the park."

Through the end of June – the most recent date stats are available – some 86,000 visitors came to the park, which includes both the birthplaces of John and John Quincy Adams on Franklin Street and the Old House at Peace Field (also known as the Adams Mansion) on Adams Street. The total number of visitors through June 30 is similar to last year's number at this point, Keinath said.

July is the busiest month for the historical park, Keinath explained. On Independence Day alone, nearly 1,000 visitors came to the site to participate in three special events the park service hosted. Visitors had the chance to participate in a reenactment of the Second Continental Congress' debate regarding the Declaration of Independence in one event and take part in reading the declaration from outside John Adams' study – the room where he died on July 4, 1826 – in a second event. The third event that day was a stage on the relationship between Thomas Jefferson and John and Abigail Adams.

"We had just under 1,000 visitors who participated in one of three programs that day," Keinath said. "It was a good experience."

The park is also trying to have a greater presence in the community. On July 11 – the birthday of John Quincy Adams – the park had the reenactor who portrays the sixth president appear at a celebration held in Braintree, for example.

Peace Field was also one of the stops on a Quincy history walk in June as part of the school system's Beyond the Bell program. More than 400 students were able to visit the grounds that day.

"We viewed the landscape and came up with stories and ideas and put them on signs along a trail," Keinath said. "The kids really enjoyed that. They stopped and enjoyed every one."

Once a week over the last several weeks, a park ranger gave free tours of the Hancock Cemetery of Quincy Center as part of Discover Quincy's 50 Days of Freedom. Keinath said between 10 and 20 people came to tour the cemetery each day a tour was offered.

This year, Keinath has also worked to make the park's website – NPS.gov/Adam – more engaging. One change she made to the site is a new section on other nearby attractions in Quincy and the surrounding area. The park also has a new Instagram account, @AdamsNPS, for park staffers to share pictures taken on site.

This season, the Adams Park is offering three special (or focus) tours. Keinath said the tours are designed for people who've seen the Old House before – such as Quincy residents – and want a different experience.

"The focus tours are an extension of the tour we give the general public. We want them to engage local residents who have seen the house," Keinath said. "It lets them experience the houses in different ways."

The focus tours offered by the park are:

"Farm of a Patriot: Four Generations on the Landscape," which focuses on the grounds, gardens and outbuildings at the park including Abigail Adams' orchard, John Quincy Adams' tree seminary, Charles Francis Adams' English garden and Brooks Adams' summer home. The tour is offered at 2 p.m. on Mondays.

"At Home and Abroad: Furniture, Fine Art, and Decorative Arts," which highlights items collected by Adams family members during their numerous trips abroad. The tour is offered at 2 p.m. on Tuesdays.

"Henry Adams: An Education." The tour – offered Thursdays at 2 p.m. – includes a visit to the third floor of the Old House, which is generally off limits to the public. Henry Adams was the son of Charles Francis Adams and a Pulitzer Prize winning author and historian.

Those who wish to take one of the tours are asked to call the visitors' center at 617-770-1175 to the day of to confirm the tour's availability and times.

Library Art, Concert, Presentations Mark WWII 70th Anniversary

The Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy is commemorating the 70th anniversary of the end of World War II with an art exhibit, concert and two presentations.

ART: During August, the Library is exhibiting selections from its collection of colorful posters from World War II. Produced by government agencies and by commercial firms, World War II propaganda posters conveyed their messages through emotional illustrations and memorable phrases. Wartime posters addressed every citizen as a combatant in a war of production and united the power of art with the power of advertising. Common poster themes include wartime security, enlistment, production of food and war materials, salvage and conservation, patriotic inspiration, relief efforts, and funding of the war through the sale of war bonds.

CONCERT : On Sunday, Aug. 16 at 3 p.m. Krisanthi Pappas and her band will perform a special set of swinging music from 70 years ago. The concert will be held outside on the lawn weather permitting.

PROGRAMS: Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 7 p.m.: U-Boats in the Caribbean.

Ligia Domenech, a history profressor in the Global Studies Department at Northern Essex Community College, wrote the definitive account of the German U-boat blockage in the Caribbean and will present her most interesting.

Tuesday, Aug. 25 at 7 p.m.: Boston Harbor before and after World War II.

Learn about how the Boston Harbor Islands were used for military purposes during WWII. Harbor mines and submarine nets will be discussed as well as the many military installations and forts that no longer exist.

Learn what happened to the forts with the end of WWII and how that impacted the Boston Harbor Islands and the harbor in general.

Ayers
Collision Center
HAD A
FENDER BENDER?
Call Us First!
Paperwork Start to Finish
$200 OFF
*All Qualifying Auto Body Repairs
*contact us for details
Cannot be combined with other offers
Limit one coupon per visit
·State of the Art Auto Body Facility
·Insurance Company Coordination
·Experienced Insurance Estimators
·FREE Estimating
·24 Hour Towing
·Car Rentals Available
(617)328-0056
440B E.Squantum St., Quincy

TIME OUT
PIZZA & GRILL
OPEN: 7 Days
525 Sea St., Quincy
617-479-2300
2 LARGE $15.99*
CHEESE PIZZAS
TOPPINGS EXTRA
*Must present Coupon at time of Order
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
$2.00 OFF*
ANY ORDER OF $18
OR MORE CASH ONLY
*Cannot Be Combined With Any Other Coupon or Offer
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering

Heavy Snowfall May Be Root Of Rat Problem

Cont'd From Page 3

eating and drinking.

"We have been pretty proactive," Jones said. "Every complaints get assigned to an inspector. The inspector goes out and checks the property."

If the burrows are detected on private property, the property owner is responsible for hiring an exterminator to take care of the problem. If the rats are originating on city-owned land, the city will use a contractor to bait the area.

"It's an ongoing process," Jones said.

The department can cite property owners with an identified rodent problem who fail to address it.

There are several steps residents can take to help alleviate the rat problem. The department is asking residents to stop using bird feeders while the problem persists.

"Bird feeders are a huge area of feeding for the rats," Jones said. "Refrain from using bird feeders for now."

Likewise, if residents have any bags of seeds in their garage or elsewhere they should be covered to prevent rats from getting at them.

All trash should be placed in bags inside trashcans with tight-fitting lids; trash should not be simply left on the curb in plastic bags.

Pet food should be kept in rat-proof containers. Residents should also clean up after their pets.

Routine maintence – such as mowing lawns, trimming bushes, plugging holes in floors and walls, and repairing or tearing down dilapidated fences, sheds and garages – can also help alleviate the rat problem.

Mahoney: Create Public Safety Commission

Mayoral candidate Anne Mahoney says addressing Quincy's growing crime problem would be a focal point of a Mahoney administration.

Mahoney said that if elected, she would create a public safety commission comprised of residents, business owners, law enforcement and public safety experts to develop a proactive plan to reduce crime across the city. As mayor, she would take personal responsibility for implementing the plan and achieving tangible results.

Mahoney – who is among four candidates running for mayor this fall – said "Quincy of today has become a much more dangerous place to live."

She said the city has seen a rash of serious crimes in the past few months, including assaults, stabbings and bar room brawls. She noted the "melee" at Yaz's Place involved nearly 100 people, while another bar room assault left a man dead. Two women were assaulted on Quincy streets recently – one in Quincy Center outside the Thomas Crane Library and the other in Wollaston – while a man was stabbed at a Burger King in the middle of the afternoon.

"If that stabbing had occurred during the school year, that Burger King probably would have been packed with kids stopping in after school," said Mahoney. "If Quincy residents don't feel safe going to the library, walking home from the bus stop or going to Burger King, they're going to leave the city – and that in turn, will impact businesses, property values and set Quincy back rather than moving us forward."

To combat the crime problem, Mahoney said the city must take a proactive approach to get drugs of the street.

"Quincy needs a mayor with the skills and business experience to proactively plan for the future, anticipate problems and develop solutions to prevent those costly mistakes from happening in the first place. As mayor, I'll make public safety a top priority so that Quincy will once again be a safe place to live, work and raise a family."

Koch Appointed To State Economic Council

Gov. Charlie Baker has appointed Mayor Thomas Koch to a newly established Seaport Economic Council, created to help guide the Commonwealth in realizing a shared vision of a strong maritime economy that leverages coastal assets.

The Seaport Economic Council will focus on the strengths of Massachusetts coastal communities and the opportunity the maritime economic sector represents, with consideration given to the resilience and sustainability of coastal areas.

"Quincy boasts 27 miles of beautiful shoreline and has a great deal of coastal needs and opportunity, so I am very grateful for this appointment to the Seaport Economic Council," Koch said.

The Seaport Economic Council will challenge the 78 coastal communities of Massachusetts to leverage their unique geographic advantages in order to grow jobs and the economy, while preparing for the future to engage with the challenges posed by sea level rise and increasingly powerful coastal storms. Lt. Gov. Karyn Polito will chair the Council.

Deputy Secretary of the Executive Office of Housing and Economic Development Carolyn Kirk, a former Mayor of Gloucester, will serve as Vice Chair of the Council, and the remainder of the Council will be comprised of municipal leaders, representatives from coastal communities, trade associations representing the maritime economy, and senior level staff from the Commonwealth's Departments of Transportation and Energy and Environmental Affairs.

Leonard Scarnici Graduates Marine Corps Bootcamp

Leonard J. Scarnici of Quincy, a 2014 graduate of Quincy High School, recently graduated with the rank Private First Class from Marine Corps bootcanp at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.

Scarnici is currently attending infantry school at Camp Geiger, North Carolina. He is the son of Larry and Nancy Scarnici.

LEONARD J. SCARNICI

Amanda Anderson Graduates Basic Training

Air Force Airman Amanda E. Anderson graduated from basic military training at Joint Base San Antonio-Lackland, San Antonio, Texas.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills. Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Anderson is a 2012 graduate of North Quincy High School.

Yasser El Hamoumi On Dean's List

Yasser El Hamoumi, of Quincy is on the Dean's List for the spring semester at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y.

El Hamoumi is a member of the Class of 2015, majoring in mechanical engineering.

QUINT'S
House
of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919

761 Southern Artery
QUINCY

617-773-7620

HEALTH LINKS

A Message from the Quincy Health Dept.

Mosquitoes

By RUTH JONES
BSN, RN, BC, CP-FS

RUTH JONES

There are approximately 3,000 species of mosquitoes that have been identified worldwide, with more than 150 different kinds of mosquitoes found in North America. Fifty-one different kinds of mosquitoes have been found in Massachusetts. Some mosquitoes carry germs that can make people and animals sick. Mosquitoes can transmit germs when they bite. In Massachusetts, the most frequently seen diseases linked to mosquitoes are West Nile virus (WNV) and eastern equine encephalitis (EEE) virus.

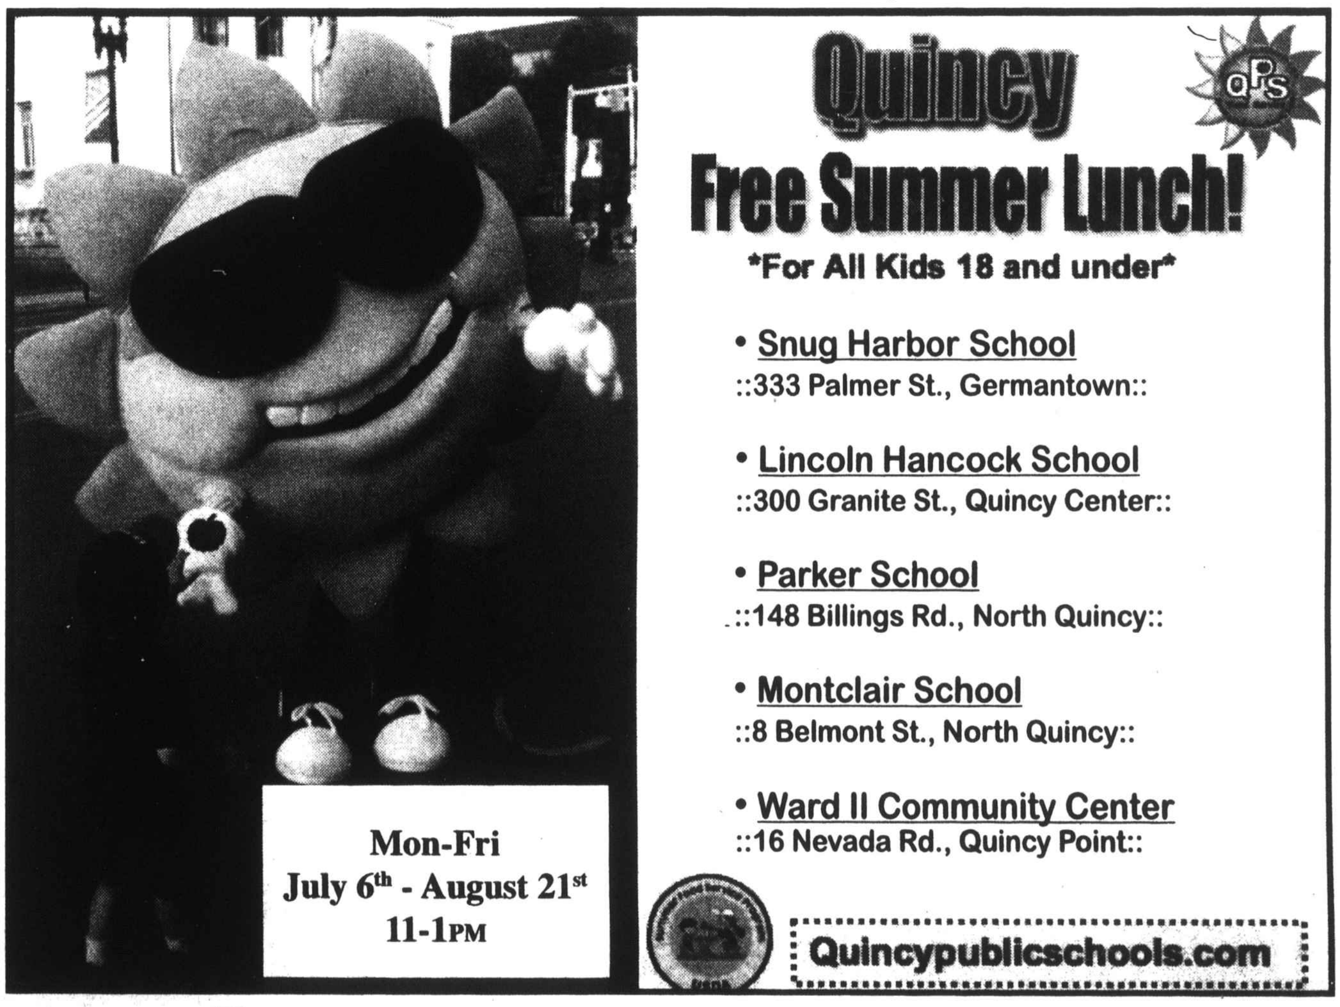
Most adult mosquitoes prefer damp, shady areas where they can find protection from the sun; some of them will even hide in your house. Mosquitoes need water to lay their eggs in and plants to hide in so they are usually found around water and plants. Some like swamps or ponds and others prefer water in swimming and wading pools, old tires, watering cans, flower pots and trash cans.

Only female mosquitoes bite to suck blood, using the blood to make eggs. They are attracted to the carbon dioxide that humans and other animals breathe out, and can follow a stream of carbon dioxide from as far as 50 feet away. Mosquitoes are also attracted to substances like lactic acid on your skin, which your body produces in greater amounts when exercising. Mosquitoes may also prefer certain scents or fragrances and are more attracted to dark colors than light colors.

Some mosquitoes feed on animals like frogs, turtles and birds. Other kinds bite mammals, including horses and humans. Some will bite both birds and mammals including humans. These mosquito species play an important role in spreading disease between birds and other mammals, including humans. Diseases that are usually found in birds can be transmitted to humans (and some other mammals, like horses) by mosquitoes that bite both birds and mammals.

Mosquitoes can bite you at any time. Tips to avoid being bitten:

- Stay indoors from dusk to dawn, during the peak biting hours for many mosquitoes.
- Wear long-sleeves, long pants and socks when outdoors.
- Use a repellent with DEET or permethrin, according to the instructions on the product label.
- Repair window and door screens in your home.
- Dump standing water twice weekly.
- Be aware of stagnant water on private property-these should be reported to the local Board of Health.
- Avoid outside areas with obvious mosquito activity.
- Avoid overnight camping near freshwater swamps where EEE activity is likely.



Mon-Fri
July 6th - August 21st
11-1PM

Quincy
Free Summer Lunch!
For All Kids 18 and under

- Snug Harbor School
::333 Palmer St., Germantown::
- Lincoln Hancock School
::300 Granite St., Quincy Center::
- Parker School
::148 Billings Rd., North Quincy::
- Montclair School
::8 Belmont St., North Quincy::
- Ward II Community Center
::16 Nevada Rd., Quincy Point::

Quincypublicschools.com

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Saturday, August 1, 2015, at approximately 9:45 p.m., Officers Steve Kelly and Bruce Tait were dispatched to Wal-Mart on a report of a female inside the store who said she was assaulted by her boyfriend. She stated that he was waiting for her outside the store near the garden center in a Nissan Maxima. QPD communications informed the Officers that the female caller was afraid that her boyfriend was going to kill her and that she was hiding in the store near the women's bathroom.

Upon arrival, Officer Kelly spotted the vehicle parked outside the garden center with a male leaning against the rear of the vehicle as he texted on his phone. The Officer approached the male and asked him if he was waiting for a girl inside the store. The suspect responded by saying that he was and there wasn't a problem. When informed that a female inside the store called the Police about him, the suspect reiterated that there was no problem. When asked if he owned the vehicle, the suspect said it was owned by his wife and provided the name of the caller/victim. Officer Tait arrived on scene and stayed with the suspect while Officer Kelly went inside to find the victim.

Upon locating her, the Officer noted that she was crying and shaking while holding her left shoulder. She said that she was assaulted by her boyfriend and then pulled back her hair to show the Officer red marks on both sides of her neck. She said that they came to Wal-Mart to buy toys for his son. The victim said that her boyfriend (not married as claimed by the suspect) had been beating her since yesterday, 7/31/15, and had threatened to beat and kill her on the way to Wal-Mart today. While shopping together in the toy section, the suspect became enraged and said, "I'll kill you. I'll beat you right here. I'll smash your head on the shelf." He suddenly grabbed her by the neck and strangled her.

LT. DAN MINTON

The victim said that due to the choking and asthma, she couldn't breathe. She also stated, "I heard something go pop in my left shoulder near my neck too." The victim said she was able to break away and walked away towards the safety of other shoppers while calling the Police. The victim refused medical attention as well as the offer to get protection with a restraining order. When advised that her boyfriend would be placed in custody for assaulting and strangling her, the victim said she wanted her car keys back. She then inquired as to how much bail would be for the suspect.

Officer Kelly radioed Officer Tait to place the suspect in custody. The suspect, a 22 year old Milton resident, was placed under arrest and charged with, "Strangulation, Threats To Kill and Assault and Battery on a Household member." Nice Work!

❑

ANOTHER JOB WELL DONE: On Thursday, July 30, 2015, at approximately 5:30 p.m., Quincy Police Marine Unit Officer Michael Foley was walking the beach in the area east of Doane Street on the shore of Rock Island Cove for the purposes of enforcing the clam laws in the City Of Quincy. He came upon a male digging up the sand with a pitchfork between the high tide line and the low tide line.

When asked what he was digging for, the male showed the Officer his bucket which was half full of shellfish. When asked if he had a permit to dig for shellfish, he said he did not.

The shellfish beds that the suspect was digging in have been designated as contaminated under MGL Chapter 130 Section 74A. The male was placed under arrest for the violation and for two outstanding default warrants. Nice Work!

❑

IDENTITY THEFT PROTECTION: The FTC recently filed criminal charges against a company who advertises on television about being able to completely protect your financial information. The company stated that it sends out "Actionable alerts" as soon as they detect your social security number, name, address or date of birth in applications for credit and services within their network. The problem is that the alerts come only after the fact that you have been compromised or exposed to the identity theft. So, the bottom line is that most of these companies claim to protect you but what they really do is alert you that there has been an attempt to gain access to one of your accounts. According to Michelle Singletary of the Washington Post, "You may feel some comfort in purchasing an identity-theft protection service. But even the best of them still leave you vulnerable because what they largely provide is an after-the-fact "defense."

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
July 31 – Aug. 7
ARRESTS: 31
TOTAL CALLS: 1,214
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 4

FRIDAY, JULY 31

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 12:17 p.m., Buckley St. Caller in Worcester states sister called her and was going to apartment to take items. Caller is resident and no one is allowed in apartment. All clear, no one around.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 2:14 p.m., Cross St. TV and DVD player missing.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 2:41 p.m., Tyler St. Party just fled out back door, no description.

AREMD ROBBERY, 6:34 p.m., Fayette St. Gun. Three Asian males fled in brown car down West Squantum St. towards Milton.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 10:50 p.m., Nightingale Ave. Medications taken. Caller arrived home at 9:30 p.m.

SATURDAY, AUG. 1

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 2:24 a.m., Newbury Ave. One white male, 6' tall, possibly gray t-shirt, fled in white Toyota Tundra. Mom woke up to someone trying to open her window. He said "Oh, I am looking for someone named Kerry." A second motor vehicle was parked two houses down from address, saw white Tundra take a U-turn and passenger got out and went in car. Unable to make out second car. Reporting party states suspects may have broken into house across the street also. Party never got inside house. Mistaken address. Male party left area. No window was opened. Suspicious party simply knocked on window.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:57 a.m., West Elm Variety, 139 W. Elm Ave. Shattered windows.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:18 a.m., Burger King, 62 Granite St. White male in green jacket, green shorts came in causing problem and threw a bunch of condiments around and fled. Party located at Granite and Hancock. Suspect given trespass notice by manager.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 8:21 a.m., Point Liquors, 230 Washington St. Front door alarm. Key holder en route. 783 doing a walkthrough with party on scene. Party was possibly dropped off and picked up in a yellow van cab. Suspect identified.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:57 a.m., Hancock Parking Area, 50 Revere Rd. Car keyed, two tires slashed. Has suspect info.

LARCENY, 1:11 p.m., Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St. See security in atrium; victim there and security has theft on video. Suspect is white male, 5'10" – 6' tall, white tank top, jeans, work boots. Took an LG phone with pink case. Arrested for larceny from a building.

INDECENT EXPOSURE, 1:17 p.m., Merrymount Park, 784 Hancock St. White male, 55. Blue shirt and black pants. Just used fountain as bathroom.

LARCENY, 3:15 p.m., Yardarm Ln. Bike.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 5:07 p.m., Taffrail Rd. Caller called earlier. She states at the time it was a civil matter, but individual from previous incident came and towed her car while she was out. She states she owns the vehicle and has paperwork to prove it. Not stolen. Repossessed by company. Person was advised her remedy was at Quincy District Court. Any paperwork in her possession was a copy. However, it would appear that months ago she was the victim of an unscrupulous car dealer.

LARCENY, 11:37 p.m., Adams St. Braintree Blue Cab. $57. Credit car slip missing. Around 11:20 p.m., He is on his way to Logan to pick up a fare. Will be in to file a report later.

MONDAY, AUG. 3

LARCENY, 6:47 a.m., Washington St. Male in lobby reporting someone he knows took money from him when he was passed out.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 7:45 p.m., 1354 Hancock St.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:29 p.m., Palmer St. Rear window of minivan smashed with unknown object. Unsure if anything was taken.

TUESDAY, AUG. 4

LARCENY, 11:26 a.m. TJ Maxx, 100 Granite St. Incidents happened on June 23 and June 29.

LARCENY, 1:13 p.m., 803 Southern Art. Items.

LARCENY, 1:22 p.m., Sea St. Truck. No crime in Quincy, advised.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:21 p.m., Grace Rd. Caller's 2014 Chevy was struck by her neighbor's screen house that flew out of the yard and hit her car. Wanted info logged for insurance.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:14 p.m., Winthrop Pk. Two known males came into his house and stole a safe. Male does not want officers to his house to investigate. Left the station.

LARCENY, 6:11 p.m., Miller St. Building manager reports he has people on video stealing packages.

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 6:14 p.m., Falls Blvd. White female in white shirt and jeans shorts in hallway ringing everyone's doorbell. Caller believes she does not reside there. One female under arrest for B&E in the daytime.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 7:45 p.m., 22 Quarry St. 2009 Toyota Camry. Mother wants to report it as a using without authority. Does not want to go to court if found.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 8:24 p.m., Copeland St. Girlfriend told her boyfriend (the caller) that her entertainment center was vandalized. Caller is paranoid. There is no damage.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:26 p.m., Marina Bay, 542 E. Squantum St. Caller is the general manager of the lot (he is not on scene). He got a call that someone was lurking around a boat near the boat storage area. Officer has party in the boat. One person under arrest for B&E of a boat. Additional unit checking the area for a black sedan, possibly and Audi.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 5

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:03 a.m., Mill St. Chevy Express van passenger's side window broken overnight. Unknown if entry was made.

MOTOR VEHICLE, 1:08 p.m., Holmes St. Caller says motorcycle is missing.

LARCENY, 2:33 p.m., W. Squantum St. Asian male in gray shorts, blue shirt just took caller's cellphone and ran down to the NQ station parking lot. Occurred in front of NQ MBTA station, party fled towards Newport Ave. Incident occurred roughly 15 minutes prior to call. Unable to locate party.

LARCENY, 5:51 p.m., Furnace Brook Pkwy & Newport Ave. Was helping a friend change a tire when she noticed a man by her car. Thought he was coming over to help. When she want back to her car the phone was cone.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:33 p.m., Quincy Shore Dr. Reports her neighbor cut down a tree on her property. Resident reports tree and bushes in way of public walkway. Did not see who cut down tree. Caller is a renter and has alerted landlord.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 10:06 p.m., Cliveden St. One transported to QMC. Report to be filed.

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 11:11 p.m., 2 Hancock St. Motorcycle. Called towing companies; none have it.

THURSDAY, AUG. 6

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:10 a.m., Babcock St. & Sea St. Caller has a brick through windshield. Car is not drivable.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:56 a.m., High St. Caller states vehicle his being hit by eggs every Wednesday night. No suspect info.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:07 a.m., Flynt St. Caller states tires on multiple vehicles have had air let out of them.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 9:53 a.m., Lancaster St. Woke up this morning and saw her credit cards, cash and phone were missing.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:04 p.m., Holbrook Rd. Caller came home and saw house was broken into. States parties were drinking and left a bottle in the home.

LARCENY, 7:21 p.m., Bayside Rd. Debit card. Two transactions at two different places.

BREAKING AND ENTEIRNG, 9:17 p.m., Stewart St. Caller would like to speak with an officer about follow up information from a past break.

FRIDAY, AUG. 7

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:18 a.m., Ricciuti Dr. Tires slashed. Looking to file report and have vehicle towed to Quirk.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 200 block of Taffrail Road, Holmes Street, 2 Hancock Street, 22 Quarry Street.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Arlington Street, 600 block of Adams Street.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: Buckley Street, Cross Street, Fayette Street, Nightingale Avenue, 230 Washington Street, 1354 Hancock Street, Winthrop Park, Lancaster Street, Holbrook Road, Stewart Street.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us -- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

Quincy Losing 'Irreplaceable Institution'

Iconic Beachcomber Closing After 56 Years In Business

By JOE REARDON

Bill Burns and Lisa Ransom were sitting on the Beachcomber patio on a recent afternoon enjoying a beer and taking in the warm breeze off of Quincy Bay, the way countless couples have in the more than five decades the iconic club has been in operation.

Ransom, who is originally from Dorchester, remembers a night out at the Beachcomber was just a quick drive over the Neponset Bridge. The pair was surprised to hear that it would be closing down for good following the Sept. 4-5 weekend and 56 years in business.

"It's kind of sad that it's closing," said Ransom. "I always had fun here, especially when I was younger and came with my friends. We didn't come here every weekend, but we came a lot. I mean it's been here for years and I have some memories of it."

The McEttrick family, who have owned the well-known club at 797 Quincy Shore Dr. since 1959, put it up for sale in early 2014 and the new owners, who paid in the neighborhood of $1.6 million for the location, are expected to demolish the current 2,876 square-foot building and build a high-end restaurant. The new restaurant will also be called the Beachcomber.

Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes knew the club in two ways, as a patron and a performer. Hughes was the lead singer of a cover band called Velvet Krush and played there more than a dozen times when she was in her 20s. "It was always packed and there were local people there you've known your whole life," said Hughes. "It's certainly the end of an era. Growing up around the corner I started going there when I was 21. My in-laws were from Charlestown but actually met there. They weren't from the South Shore but everyone knew of the Beachcomber."

Hughes believes that the new owners naming of the restaurant after the Beachcomber is a nice touch. "It's great that they want to pay tribute to the club," said Hughes. "I know once the proposal is ready we're going to have a full neighborhood meeting to make sure the needs of the neighborhood are met and the history of the space is honored. We want the spot to become a contributor to the commercial community moving forward."

Like Hughes, Councillor Doug Gutro said he will be sad to see the club close its doors after dishing out years worth of extraordinary entertainment on Quincy Shore Drive.

Gutro calls the Beachcomber "one of those irreplaceable institutions" and believes its history will someday be in the Quincy Historical Society.

"It breaks my heart," said Gutro of the closing. "Quincy is losing one of the most iconic beachfront businesses on the South Shore."

Along with the top-line entertainment and terrific view of Quincy Bay, Gutro said the Beachcomber also hosted countless fundraisers over the years and the McEttrick family, which owns the club, deserves recognition for the work it has done for the needy and other organizations.

One of the final fundraisers will be taking place on Aug. 16 for the Quincy Animal Shelter from 2-7 p.m.

"They've been there for everybody," he said. "Not only were they hugely successful from a business standpoint, but they stepped up for different groups."

An array of varied talent has performed at the Beachcomber, including such big names as Sammy Davis Jr., Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Loretta Lynn, Linda Rondstadt and Count Basie. Other acts who performed over years included The Dropkick Murphys, Clutch Grabwell, Mark Morris, the Del Fuegos, The Stompers, Jim Plunkett, The Fools and Fat City. Several Irish acts appeared over the years as well such as The Olde Brigade, Denis O'Gorman and Inchicore.

The club did a "Do You Remember" Concert Series for its 50th Anniversary back in 2009 which covered five decades of music that had been played at the club.

Jimmy McGettrick, the beloved owner who founded the club, passed away from brain cancer in 2011 and the day-to-day running of the business was taken over by family members.

Look for several acts to be brought back to perform one last time before the doors close for good.

BEACHCOMBER

THE BEACHCOMBER, an iconic Wollaston Beach club for 56 years, will be closing its doors next month. New owners of the property at 797 Quincy Shore Dr. plan to demolish the building and build a high-end restaurant on the site.

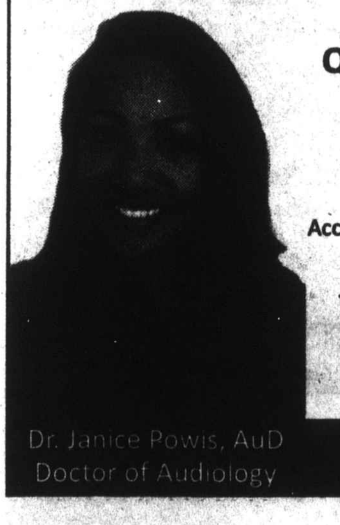
Photo Courtesy Amy Kelly

Quincy LGBT Community Hosting Candidates Night Aug. 18

The Quincy LGBT community will host a "Meet the Candidates Night" Tuesday, Aug. 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Social Center, 120 Quarry St., Quincy.

Candidates for mayor, city council and school committee have been invited to participate in the forum.

All are welcome to attend. RSVP to Frank Rubino at frank.rubino543@gmail.com.



QUINCY HEARING AID
EST. 1971
Quincy's Neighborhood Hearing Center
Celebrating 45 Years of Service

Doctoral-level expertise and state-of-the-art equipment to accurately diagnose and treat your hearing loss.

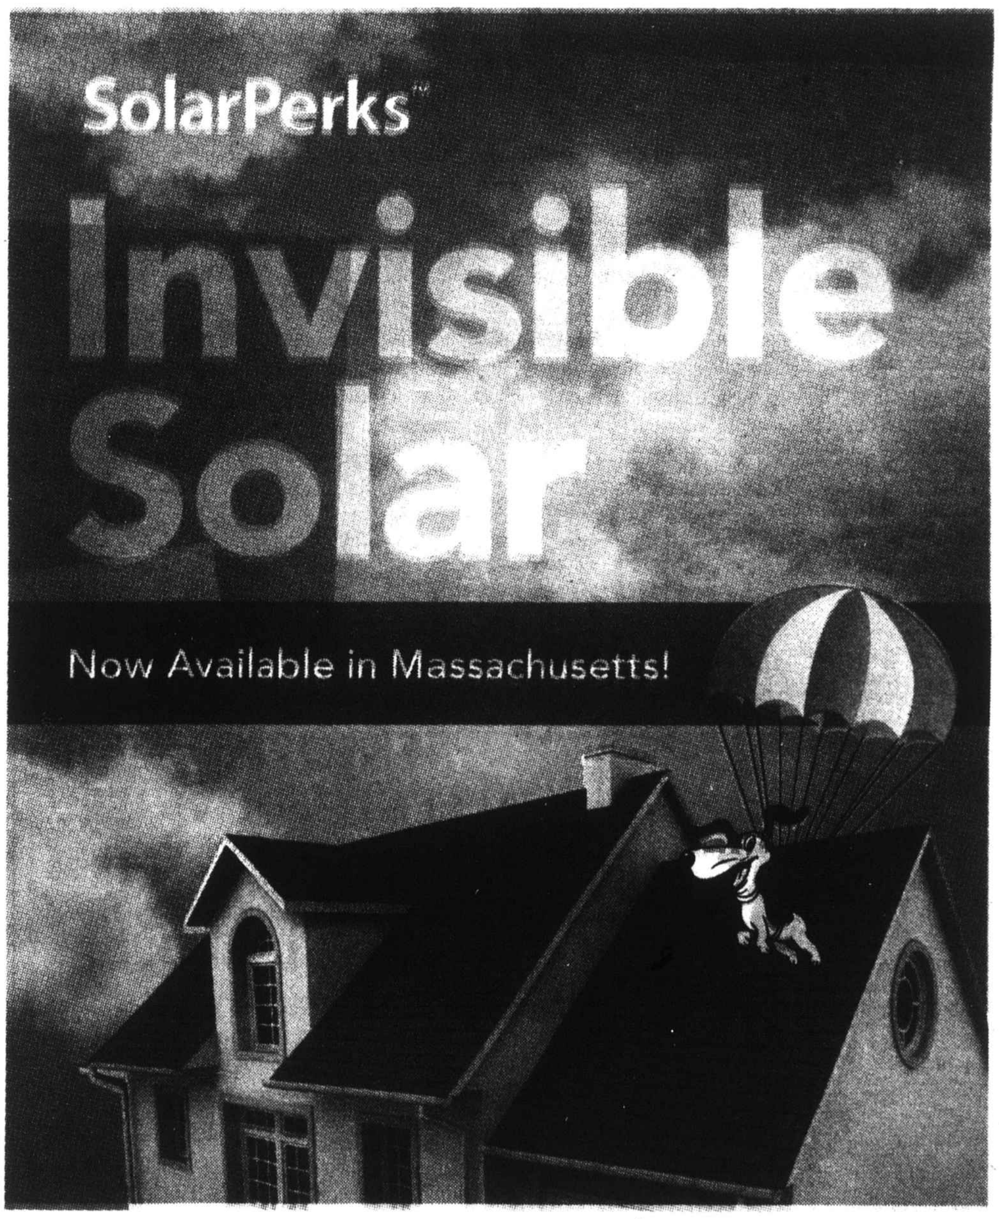
Access to the latest hearing aids from the leading manufacturers.

Caring and knowledgeable staff -- we take the time to find the right match for your hearing loss, budget, and lifestyle.

Conveniently located in the heart of Quincy Center:
1515 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169,
across from the Gentle Dental

Dr. Janice Powis, AuD
Doctor of Audiology

CALL NOW FOR YOUR FREE CONSULTATION
(617)934-8155

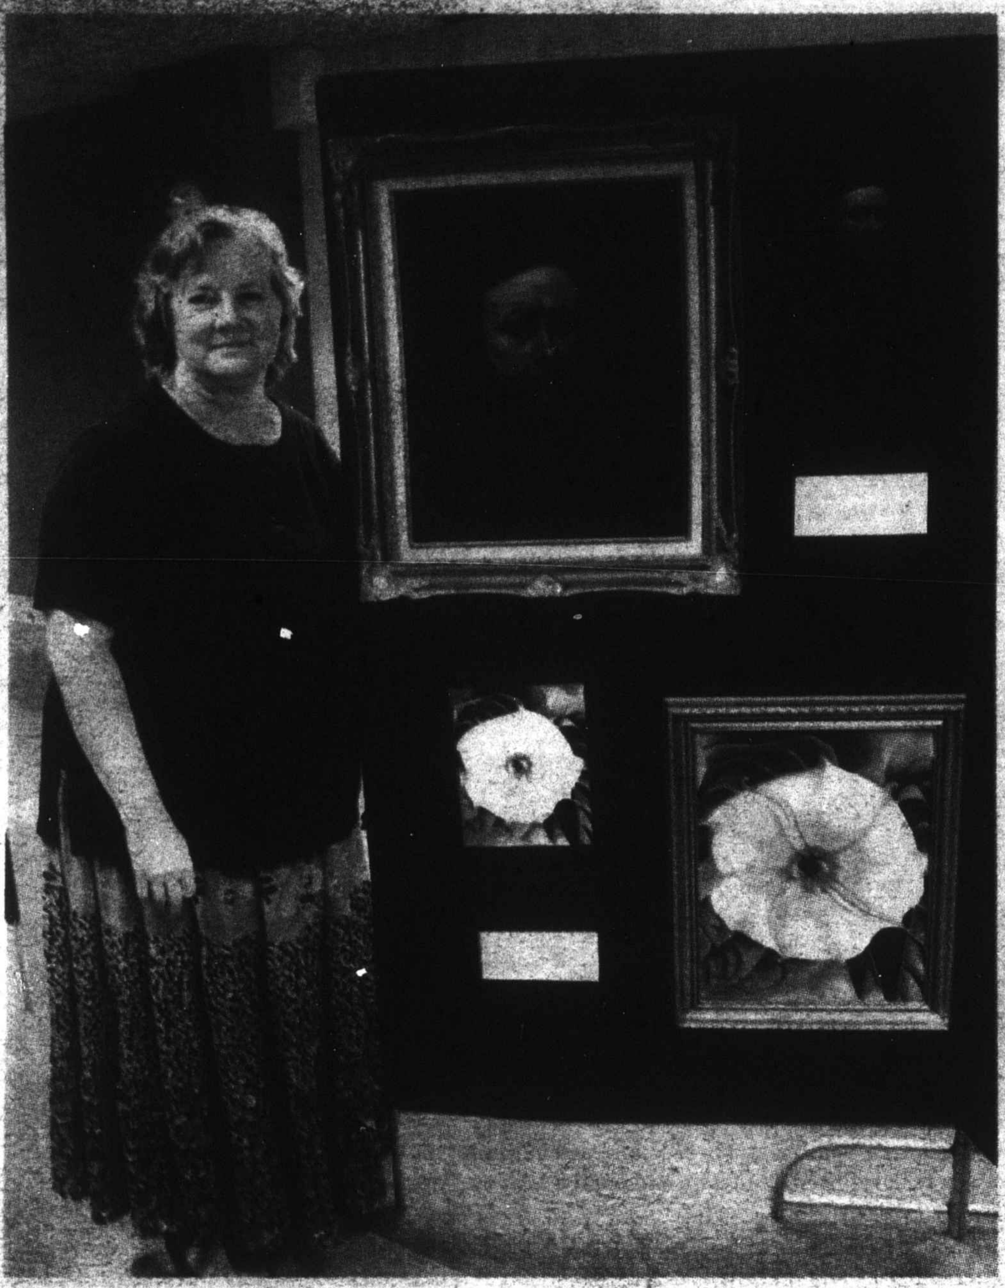


Sign up for SolarPerks Roofless Solar today and start saving on your electric bill!

Ready to Get Started?

Call us today: 857-301-7407
Sign up online: www.MySolarPerks.com

Powered by Clean Energy COLLECTIVE



A NEW CATEGORY featured at this year's Marina Bay Arts Affair was "fabulous fakes." Anong those entering artwork in this category was Evelyn Cunningham (left), a Quincy native. This exhibit invited artists to "pursue several forms of imitation; exact duplication or creative interpretation." The top image is titled "Homage to Rembrandt, Self Portrait, Agesi." The bottom image is titled "Homage to Georgia O'Keefe, Jimson Weed." The original painting was sold for $440.4 million. Both are oil paintings. Quincy Sun Photos/Ally Graf

SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

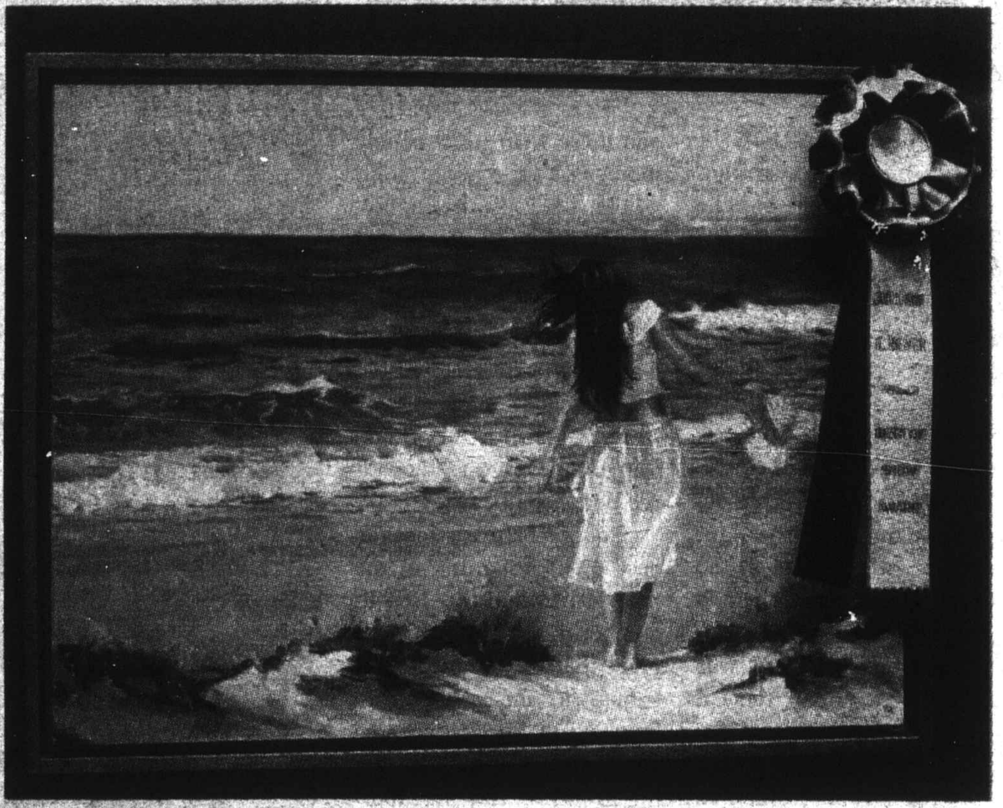
CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

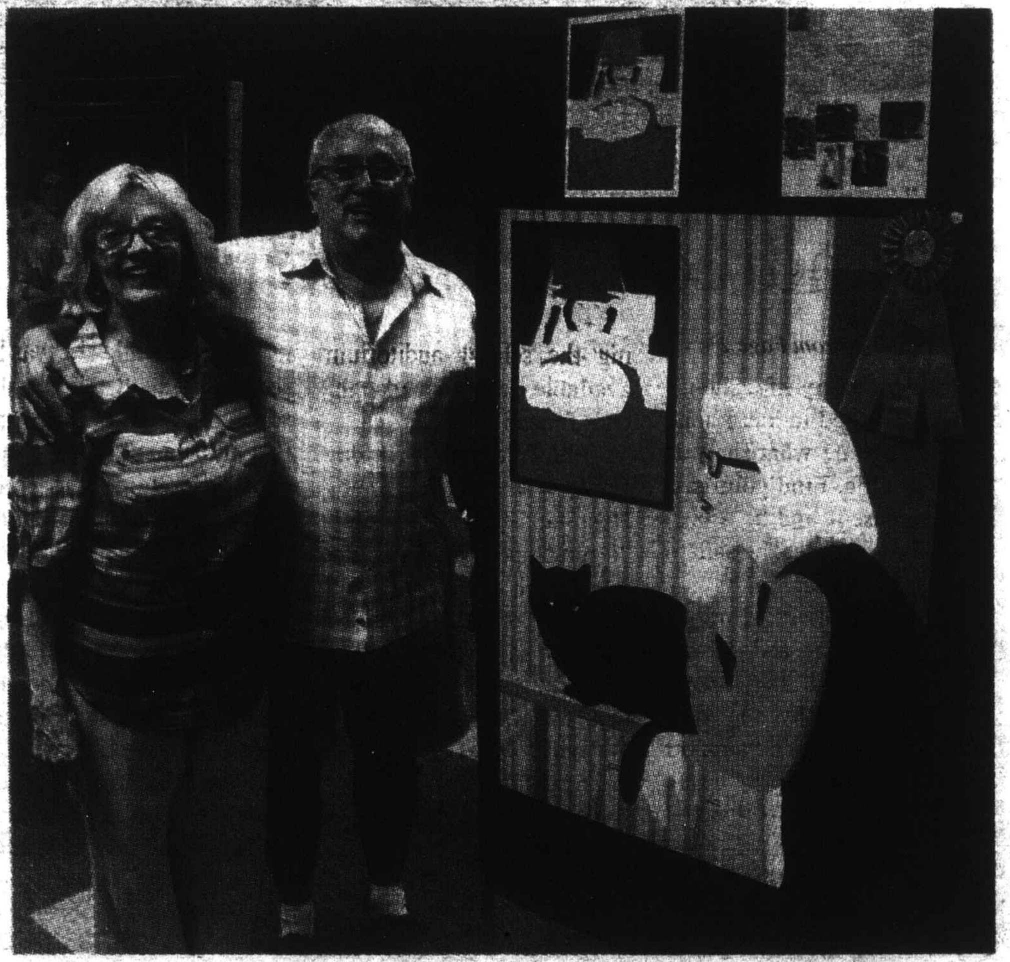
Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Welch
Healthcare and Retirement Group

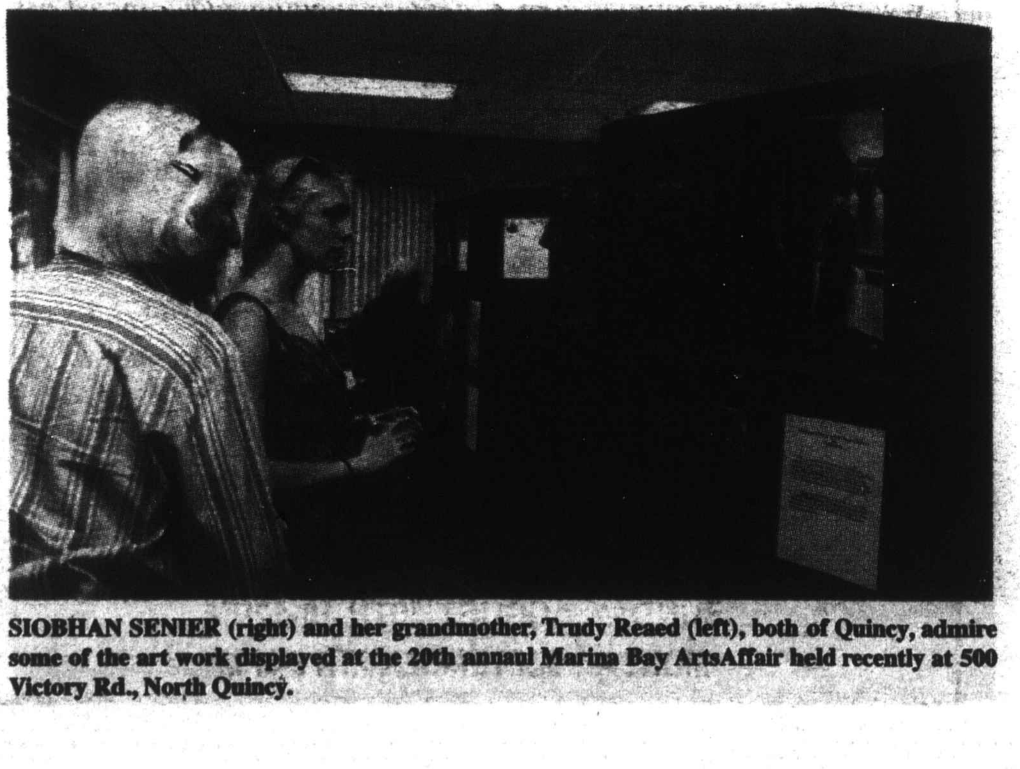
20th Annual Marina Bay ArtsAffair Draws Hundreds



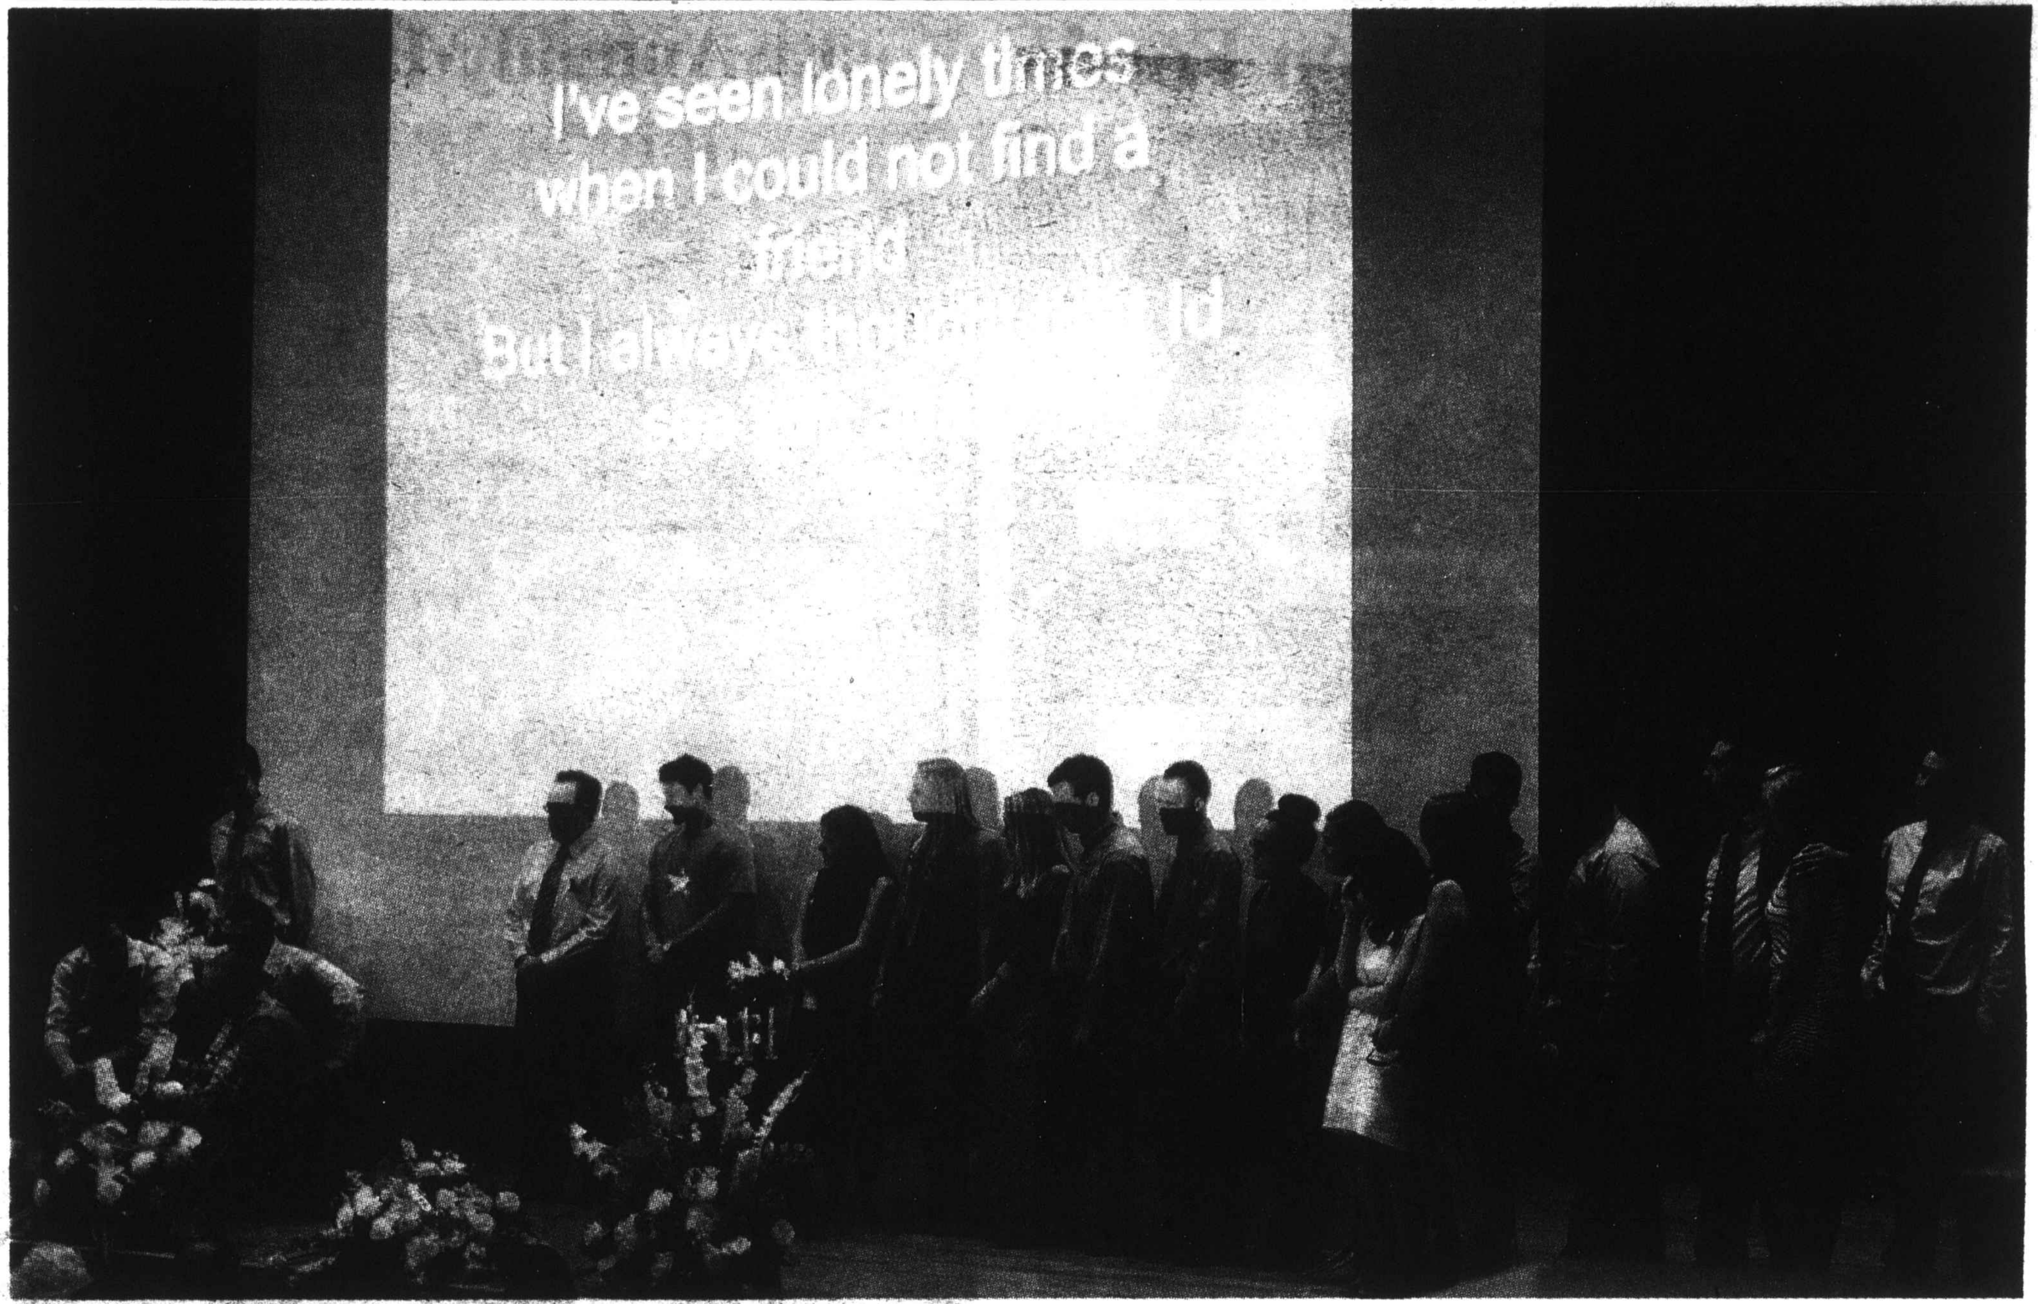
"CAN YOU IMAGINE" painting by Laura Lee Zanghetti won "William E. Beyer Best of Show" Award at the recent Marina Bay Arts Affair. The 20th annual art show featured works of art by Boston and South Shore art association members and independent artists. Mediums included oil and acrylics, watercolor, drawing, mixed media as well as photography and sculpture. The two-day show was held at 500 Victory Rd., Marina Bay, North Quincy.



PHYLLIS ANDRADE (left) with husband Tony Andrade (right), both Quincy residents. Tony's acrylic painting won first place in the new fabulous fakes category. Tony titled his piece "Woman Waiting with Woman Reading." The original was done by Will Barnet, an artist who wanted a universal feel, and harmony of the family instead of depicting people. His wife Phyllis posed for a picture which Tony then made into a painting. Tony wanted the whole piece to feel like one of Will Barnet's paintings. Tony said in his fabulous fake statement, "I wanted to place his image in my own composition and paint it as true to his style as possible. I used acrylic in this imitation but Barnet's original was in oil."



SIOBHAN SENIER (right) and her grandmother, Trudy Reaed (left), both of Quincy, admire some of the art work displayed at the 20th annaul Marina Bay ArtsAffair held recently at 500 Victory Rd., North Quincy.



EMILY ZARNOCH'S boyfriend, Stephen Cortez (far left) and other close friends of the Quincy school teacher gather onstage at Central Middle School to sing James Taylor's song "Fire and Rain." Lyrics to the song, including the line "But I Always thought that I'd see you again" were displayed on the projector screen. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth going on in my life, she always believed in me. I hope to incorporate what she was into my life. Find your passion, chase it and be a beacon for all to see," he said to cheers and applause.

Hundreds Celebrate The Life Of Teacher Emily Zarnoch

Cont'd From Page 2

In their remarks, Emily's parents, John and Gwen Zarnoch, said they were overwhelmed by the outpouring of love and support following Emily's tragic passing. They also thanked the mayor and the Quincy School Department for making the school auditorium available for their daughter's funeral service.

John recalled the day Emily was born at Quincy Hospital – July 23, 1991. "I remember shielding her eyes from the light after she was born. . . We are so happy to have these 24 years with Emily. Proud moments that we will never forget. We will forever hold her in our hearts."

Gwen said Emily had a gift of putting people at ease – from a very young age.

One day while she was in second grade at the Beechwood Knoll School, Emily noticed a young girl who was reluctant to enter the building. She had just moved to Quincy and it was her first school day here.

"Emily took her hand and led her into the school. She had an innate knowledge of helping people and putting people at ease. She had a big heart and let everyone in it."

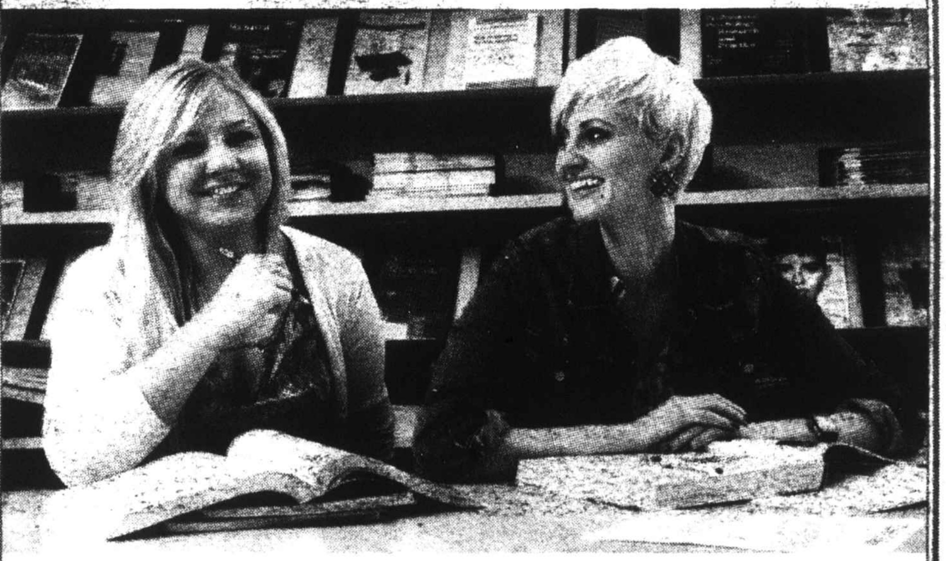
Her parents also said Em-

Cont'd On Page 30

Center Stage
PERFORMING ARTS STUDIO
507 Furnace Brook Pkwy., Quincy • 617-328-8669
www.centerstagequincy.com • centerstagequincy@comcast.net

C&C Design Studio
OPEN HOUSE DATES:
FRIDAY, AUGUST 21ST 4-7PM
SUNDAY, AUGUST 30TH 10-12PM
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7TH 5-8PM

SMART PLAN



PRE-FALL PREP QUINCY COLLEGE
Summer 2 Flex Classes, 10-Days Long = August 10-21
Learn More & Register summer.quincycollege.edu

PRE-FALL PREP @ QUINCY COLLEGE
Warm up for fall and earn three credits in 10-days. Our most popular courses of the summer are being offered in a focused format this August 10-21 as part of our Summer 2 Flex Semester series.

Pursue a creative interest, tackle your core degree requirements, or continue on a professional pathway.

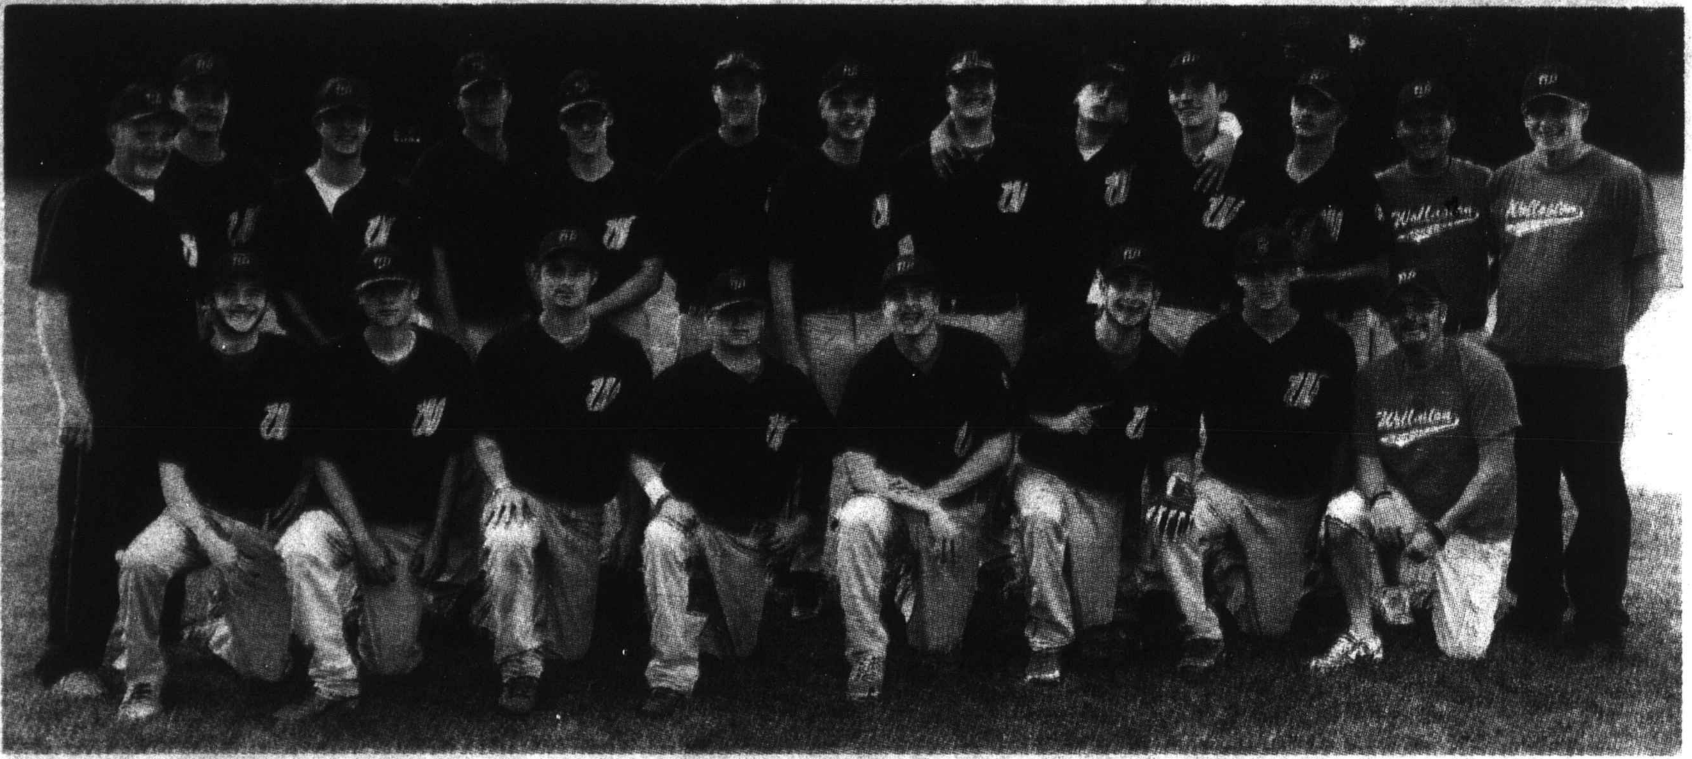
Your schedule is our schedule. Choose from morning classes, from 9am - 1pm, or evening classes, from 6pm - 10pm on our two convenient campus locations in Quincy & Plymouth. Classes begin August 10.

These courses have been hand-picked for you to seize the summer, and breeze into fall.

@QUINCY COLLEGE

LOSE THE WAIT. REGISTER ONLINE @ SUMMER.QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU

Outstanding Season For Wollaston Senior Babe Ruth



WOLLASTON SENIOR BABE RUTH team - (kneeling from left to right) John Norton, Brendan Ganno, Padraig Geaney, Ben Martin, Peter Saccoach, David Cooper, John Marsinelli and Coach Peter Delgardo. Standing (from left) Manager Steve Reardon, Coach Chris Pugsley, Michael Saccoach, Evan Fienberg, Anthony DeMers, Ben Regan, Phil Czajkowski, Nick Kelly, Alex Linskey, Sam Keane, Michael Pugsley, Coach Ross Stifler and Coach Bob Griffin.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

By BILL GRIFFIN

It was a wild and crazy ride in the playoffs for Wollaston's Senior Babe Ruth team. In the end, it was decided by a single run.

Norwood rallied for the winning run in the bottom of the fifth inning and then survived a bases-loaded scare in the seventh to edge Wollaston, 5-4 and earn a 2-0 sweep of the best-of-three Championship Series of the South Shore Senior Babe Ruth League last Thursday in Norwood.

In the opener at Adams Field, Brian Dittmieir fired a no-hitter and struck out 10 to lead Norwood to a 12-0 decision.

Wollaston finished second in the regular season and had a first-round bye. They rolled past Tri Town in the semifinals and were scheduled to face Dedham in the title series. Dedham won the opener, 1-0. However, it was discovered that Dedham used a player who had not played the required number of games during the season to qualify for a roster spot. Dedham forfeited the series.

Dedham had defeated Norwood and Milton in the playoffs. The league ruled Norwood and Milton would face in a one-game play-in contest to determine Wollaston's opponent. Norwood won, 4-0 and went on to defeat Wollaston for the title. Ironically, Wollaston swept the regular-season series from Norwood.

"I think if you judge a team by how it handled adversity, this team should be proud," said assistant coach Bob Griffin. "We started off 1-4 and we were not playing well. Nobody was even thinking about playoffs, let alone a championship.

"But the pitching clicked into gear, we got some timely hitting and our defense, especially turning the double play, was outstanding."

Wollaston (13-8) jumped to a 3-0 lead in the second inning in the final game against Norwood. Ben Regan was hit by a pitch and Phil Czajkowski sacrificed him to second. Mike Pugsley singled for a run. Pugsley stole second, and scored on Johnny Marsinelli's single for a 2-0 lead.

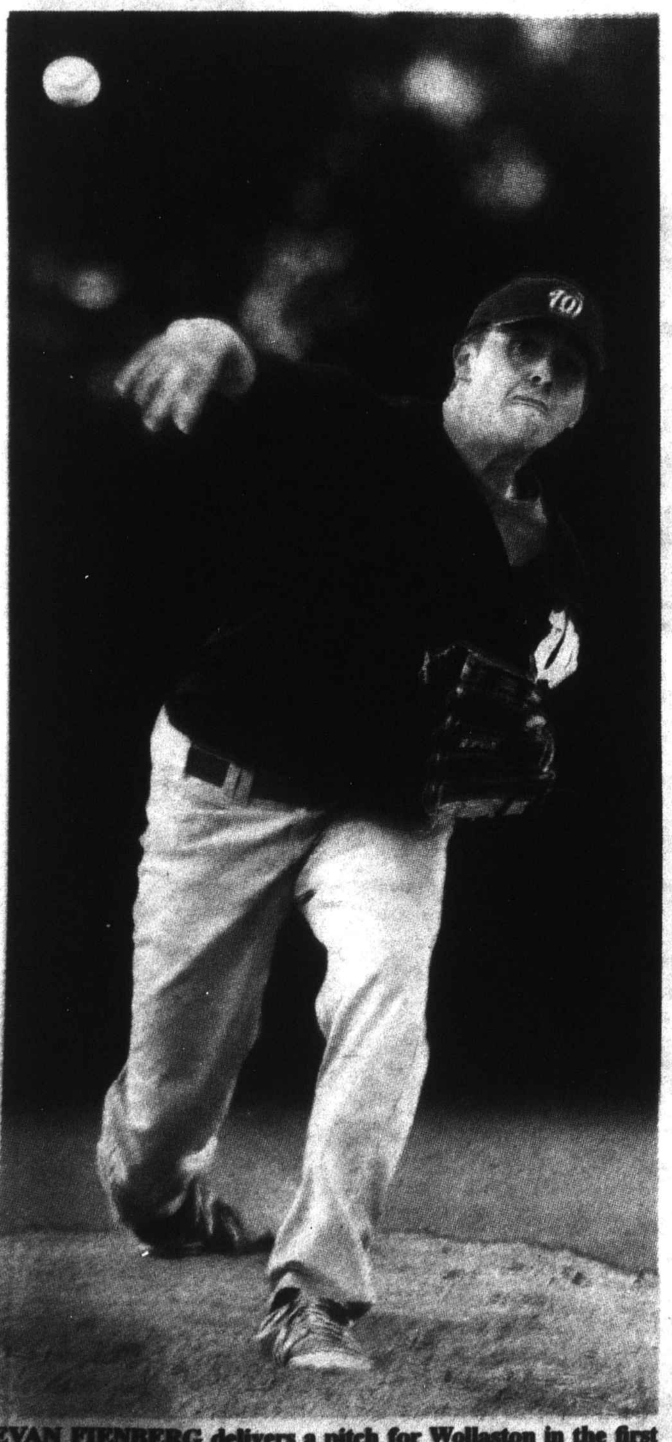
Marsinelli, who had two hits in the game, stole second and scored on a single by pitcher Ben Martin.

Norwood went up 4-3 on four unearned runs in the fourth, but Wollaston tied it in the fifth. David Cooper doubled, stole second and scored on a fielder's choice by Padraig Geaney.

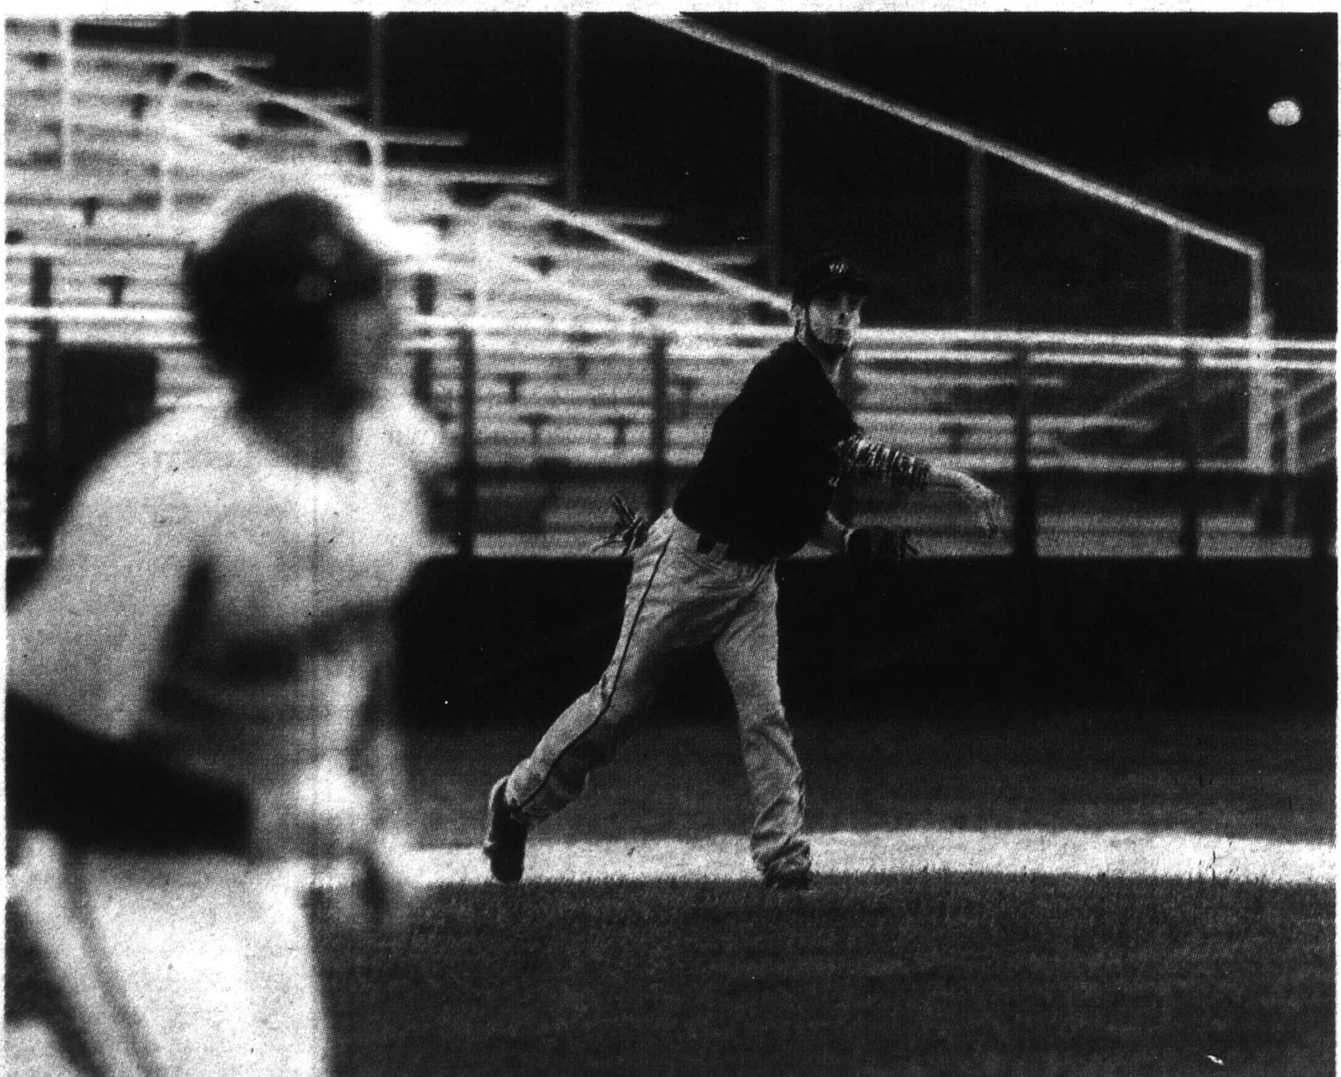
Norwood bunched together three singles for a 5-4 lead in the fifth. Wol-

Cont'd On Page 20

WOLLASTON CATCHER John Marsinelli takes the throw from the outfield as a Norwood baserunner slides head-first at home to score one of Norwood's 12 runs in the first game of the Senior Babe Ruth League championship series at Adams Field.



EVAN FIENBERG delivers a pitch for Wollaston in the first game of the Senior Babe Ruth League championship series against Norwood at Adams Field Aug. 5.



WOLLASTON'S DAVID COOPER makes nice play on a grounder to third base and throws to first to retire a Norwood batter.

3-Sport Athlete Kayla Free Plays For Love Of The Games

Varsity Soccer, Basketball, Softball At Daniel Webster College

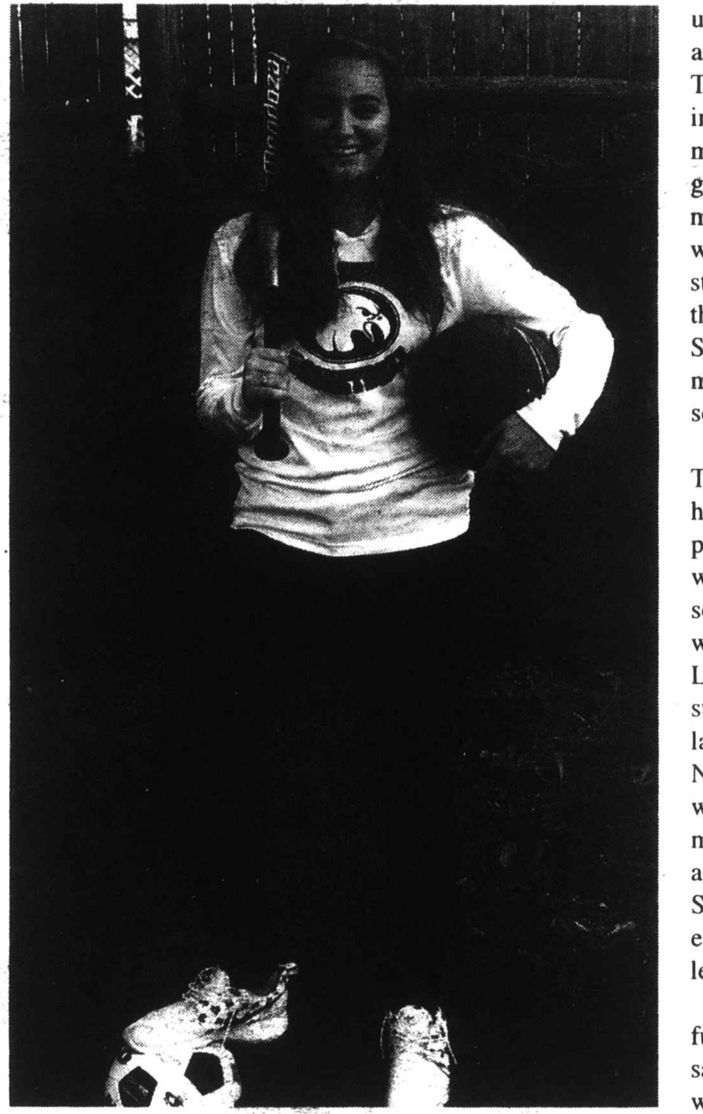
By BILL GRIFFIN

For the love of the games.

The three-sport athlete is more rare than the rotary telephone. Players pick one sport and lock onto it. They play it indoors and out, they play it winter, spring, summer and fall. The joy of discovering and re-discovering a new game as the seasons change is a relic from a time when dinosaurs roamed the earth.

If the three-sport athlete in high school is a memory which grows faded and distant, then, in college, it is surely lost and gone forever. Not so much. Quincy's Kayla Free started in soccer, basketball, and softball as a sophomore for Daniel Webster College in the New England Collegiate Conference. One year, one player, three sports.

That is only where the story begins. Free not only played three varsity sports in college. Free played three varsity sports for the first time in college. Before she went out for soccer as a freshman, she had never competitively played the sport. Before she went out for softball as a sophomore, she had last played in youth leagues.



QUINCY'S KAYLA FREE is a rare varsity college athlete. She plays three sports at Daniel Webster College: soccer, basketball and softball. Photo Courtesy Kayla Free

"There aren't a lot of girls at my school. I had friends who played soccer. The coach saw me play basketball and she asked me to come out," said Free who played on the state championship basketball team at Archbishop Williams in 2013. "I played soccer and basketball as a freshman. I liked it and I thought I'd give softball a try this year."

She didn't merely play three sports. She was good. In basketball, Free was named to the second-team NECC all-conference team as a forward. She averaged 15 points and almost seven rebounds per game. She scored over 20 points seven times with a career-high of of 29 against Southern Vermont. She was in double figures in 23 of 26 games and had three double-doubles in scoring and rebounding.

In softball, she moved between center field and first base. After not playing the sport for over 10 years, she batted .330 hitting out of the 3-4-5 spots in the lineup. She finished her season in style with six hits, nine RBI and eight runs scored in her last four games. In soccer, she started and played solid defense out of the left backer spot on the fullback line. She is an athlete.

"I had to learn the fundamentals and the rules of soccer, but I liked the running and the pace of the game. Softball came back to me pretty quickly from when I was younger," said Free.

The part of the three-sport life she enjoyed most was the joy of being a teammate.

"I have a lot friends on the softball and soccer teams, and it gave me a chance to spend more time with them and play a sport together. When you're on a team with friends, it's fun and it brings you closer," said Free. "I like to stay busy and it certainly kept me busy."

The most difficult part was missing that sweet, idle time of college, those lazy days when time moves easy and slow, when students talk, laugh, daydream, solve the problems of the world and do, well, nothing.

"I did get weary at times. I missed the chance to relax and hang out with my friends. It always seemed like there was something I should be doing," said Free.

Many athletes struggle balancing academics and with one sport. Free did it with three. She went to class until 2 p.m. Practice began at 3 p.m. There was dinner. There was homework late into the night. Classes were missed because of road games. There was work to make up, there was homework on the bus, there were studies after the game and the ride back to her school. She did this not for three months, but for an entire school year.

Seasons overlapped. There were days when she had soccer and basketball practice. There were days when she was weary and sore. But she always did her work. She was a Presidents List student at Daniel Webster with a major in homeland security. She made the NECC All Academic Team which requires a student to maintain a grade point average of between 3.4 and 4.0. She was a living, breathing example of the student-athlete.

"You had to be careful with your time," she said. "I wasn't the only one who did it. A lot of us did our homework on the bus, and we all had to make up classes we missed. I chose homeland security because law enforcement has always interested me. It's a broad major and it gives me a lot of choices for what I want to do after I graduate."

Basketball has always been her first love. It wasn't until her sophomore year in college that she discovered the charm of playing three sports, the feel of changing games with the season, the beauty of playing soccer as the leaves turn yellow and red, and playing softball when the sun grows warm and the cold leaves the ground.

"I've always played basketball in a gym," said Free. "Playing soccer and softball gave me a chance to get outdoors more. It gave me the chance to experience playing sports outside at different times of the year. I'm happy that I did it."

For the love of the games.

City Boasts Successful Baseball Teams

By BILL GRIFFIN

There are few better baseball cities than Quincy.

Each summer teams from the 9-year-old travel team to senior Morrisette legion dot city fields with their excellence. One of the best this season was the 13-year-old AAU team which staged an exciting run to capture the New England Championship.

The club finished the season with a 27-3-1 record. They were the No. 1 seed out of the AAU Open League. They lost a game in the districts and advanced to the New England Championship Tournament in Paxton as the No. 2 seed.

As the second seed, Quincy had to win three straight games to take the title. There was no room for mistakes, no margin of error. One loss and they were out. They dropped Worcester, 7-4, rolled past New Bedford, 12-0 and edged Providence, 4-3 in the championship game.

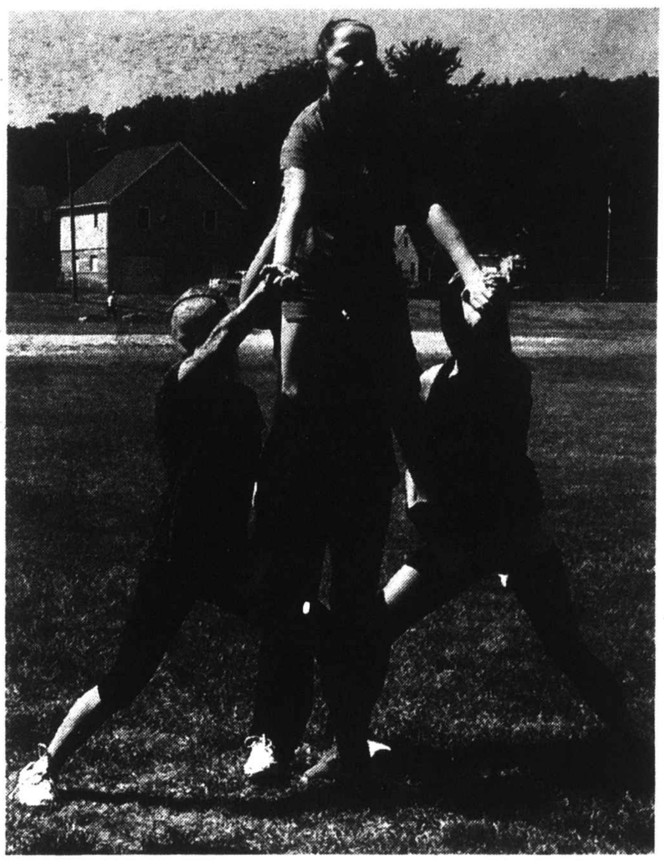
"The reason we won was hard work," said coach Kyle Ainsley. "We worked indoors once a week all winter. We had our first outdoor practice in a parking lot because the fields were still covered with snow. We must have practiced outside 20 times along with the 31 games we played. It paid off for us."

Lefty Doug Concannon was a key player in the New Englands. He came in relief to finish both the Worcester and Providence games. David Ryan pitched the first six against Worcester which was a sweet win for Quincy because it avenged its loss in the districts.

In the championship game against Providence, Sean Gaudey had a three-

Cont'd On Page 21

WQ Elks Cheerleading Camp



WEST QUINCY ELKS cheerleaders held an internal cheerleading camp to kick off their 2015 season. All levels varsity, junior varsity and freshman were in attendance. Professional cheerleaders delivered a program that included proper stretching, stunting, cheers, safety, dance routine and much more. This year the WQ Elks cheerleading coaching staff will include new and seasoned coaches. The staff includes former QYFL cheer coordinator and board member Nancy Peduzzi McNulty, returning Varsity coach Valerie Doherty and newcomers JV Coach Irene Yalch and Freshman Coach Wendy Lampa. Photo Courtesy Nancy Peduzzi McNulty

Quincycles Skills Workshop, Easy Rider Ride

Quincycles will hold a Safe Cycling Skills Workshop at Anderson Bicycle, 380 Washington St., on Friday, Aug. 14 at 6:30 p.m.

The presentation will cover strategies for safer cycling and provide tips on how to avoid the most common hazards for cyclists. Bring a helmet and bike for some skills practice outside.

On Satuday, Aug. 15 at 9 a.m., Quincycles will host an Easy Rider Ride in the Houghs Neck neighborhood. These monthly third Saturday rides are designed for bicyclists who prefer shorter distance, relaxed pace recreational rides.

Participants are invited to meet prior to the start time at the Adams Shore Library, 519 Sea St. The ride is free and open to all interested bicyclists.

Quincycles is a group of Quincy residents advocating for bicycle infrastructure on our city streets and promoting responsible bicycling as a means of transportation, recreation, and exercise in Quincy. More information about the group can be found on their website at www.Quincycles.org or by email quincycles@gmail.com.

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

AVOIDING REPEAT ANKLE SPRAINS

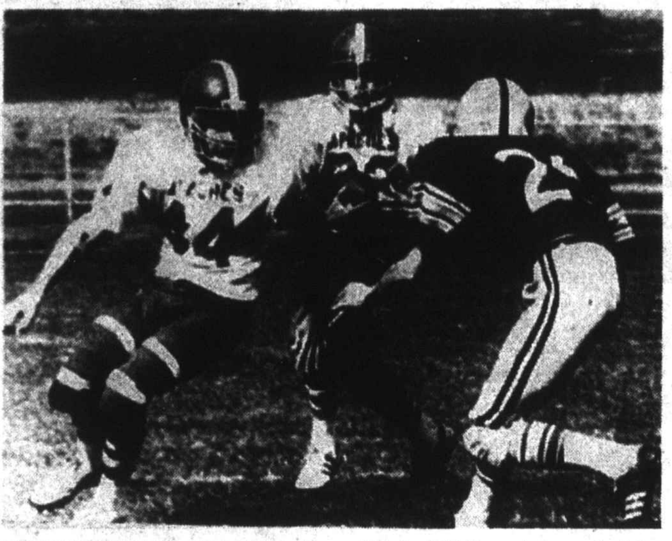
Ankle sprains are the number one injury reported by athletes who play basketball, football, volleyball, soccer, and a number of other sports. To make matters worse, four out of ten ankle inversion sprain injuries, which occur on the outside of the ankle, result in chronic ankle instability. This means that athletes suffering this most common form of ankle sprain must be particularly diligent about rehabilitating their ankles through the use of specific exercises. Research involving athletes with inversion sprains between the ages of 18 and 45 also shows that combining chiropractic treatment (high-velocity, low-amplitude, thrust-style manipulations) with regular rehabilitation exercises improves patients' pain and disability more than rehabilitation alone. Chiropractic treatment can also help prevent joint injuries from recurring.

Ankle sprains most often involve tears of one or more of the ligaments along the outside of the ankle. At FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC, our approach to better health is to locate and remove spinal dysfunction and nerve interference, returning the body to its natural state of health and wellness. Please call 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy. We are able to adjust patients sitting, standing, or lying down to accommodate any level of discomfort.

P.S. Those with a "hindfoot varus" (a posture of the heels that is slightly turned toward the inside) are predisposed to ankle sprains because it is easier to turn on the ankle.

www.freedmanchiro.com

North Quincy Apaches Name Ryan Craig Head Coach



HOMEGROWN APACHE, Ryan Craig (#44) seen here in his playing days, blocking for RB Kieth Gott (#32) on the 1984 QYFL Champion, North Quincy Apaches. Craig was recently name head football Coach of the Apaches. The photo was featured in the Oct. 4, 1984 edition of The Quincy Sun.

NEW HEAD COACH Ryan Craig leads his young football players at a recent practice at Cavanagh stadium in North Quincy. Photo Courtesy Sean Halpin

The 2015 North Quincy Apaches will have a new look this season but will feature some familiar faces.

New Apaches President Sean Halpin promoted his longtime colleague Ted Arnott from head coach to vice president and director of Football Operations. Arnott has coached the Apaches for the past 12 seasons taking over as head football coach in 2011. He will now oversee both the Flag Football and Tackle Football programs.

Arnott also serves as the USA football "Heads Up" training coordinator for Quincy Youth Football

Halpin and Arnott didn't have to look far to find a replacement when they named Ryan Craig head football coach back in June. Craig will head up the Varsity Football program and help oversee the coaching staffs on the freshman and Junior Varsity levels.

Craig is a former player for the Apaches. He was the star running back and linebacker on the 1983 and 1984 Apaches squads for legendary coach Tom Carter. Craig went on to play football at North Quincy High School from 1985-1988. He graduated in 1989 as the Red Raiders all-time leading rusher. He went on to play college football at the University of New Haven and then nine years of Minor League football for the Randolph Oilers and Quincy Granite Football clubs.

Craig entered the coaching ranks in 1995 at his alma mater, North Quincy High School. He coached the Red Raiders for seven seasons under Head Coaches Ken McPhee and later Peter Crisholm Jr. He climbed up through program's ranks from freshman coach to varsity defensive coordinator. Craig left coaching after the 2001 season to marry his wife Meredith and start their family.

Craig made a return to the coaching fraternity in 2012 when he became the North Quincy Apaches Flag Football coach for his son Matthew's team. In 2013 he moved on to become the Freshman Head coach for in the Apaches tackle football program.

Coach Craig has three children who all participate in the Apaches program. His son Matt is a 6th grader on the JV football team; his daughter Katelyn is a 5th grader on the JV cheerleading squad and son Brady is a 2nd grader in the Flag Football program.

Coach Craig has some lofty goals for the successful Apaches Program. He hopes to bring the program back to the successful time that he experienced when he wore the Apache #44 jersey. Craig played in the middle of the most successful run in the Apaches 65-year history. From 1979 to 1986, the Apaches saw record turnout of players and won 7 QYFL championships in 8 seasons under Coach Tom Carter and Franchise Holder Joseph Desmond.

Apaches Franchise Holder Sean Halpin said, "Apache Nation is very lucky to have Ryan Craig leading the staff. He has a football experience rarely found at the youth level. He is committed, and like coach Arnott before him, he puts teaching the game and player development above winning football games."

Coach Craig remarked, "The biggest mistake you can make when coaching kids is to make winning the top priority. If we run a successful program, develop our players' fundamentals and every child walks away with a positive experience, then we have done our job. Winning will be a byproduct of that philosophy," Craig said.

The Apaches Program is still accepting new players and cheerleaders. Practices are held at Cavanagh field in North Quincy every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Sign up in person at any practice or online at www.NorthQuincyApaches.com.

For more information, contact, Sean Halpin at (617)980-2674 or email: NQApaches@comcast.net

Outstanding Season For Wollaston Senior Babe Ruth

Cont'd From Page 18

laston loaded the bases on two walks and a hit batsman in the seventh, but couldn't push across the tying run.

Martin, who was one one of the main reasons for Wollaston's strong closing run, gave seven hits, one earned run and struck out four. The hard-throwing lefty allowed just three earned runs in his last seven starts, a span in which he threw four shutouts.

"Ben was just superb for us," said Griffin.

Righty Sammy Keane also pitched well for Wollaston in the final half of the season and in the playoffs. He threw a three-hitter and fanned 12 in the clinching 6-0 win over Tri Town.

In the opener against Norwood, Alex Linskey and Martin had two hard-hit balls off Dittmieir. Third baseman Derek Depo went well to his left to field a smoking grounder by Linskey in the third. In the fourth, Depo picked a line drive from Martin off his shoetops.

"That was one of the best pitched games against us I've ever seen," said coach Steve Reardon.

The highlight of the season was a 1-0 win over Norwood. Martin threw a three-hitter at a strong offensive club. Geaney was terrific in center, tracking down three deep drives.

"Mike Saccoach made a daring head-first slide for the winning run. It was an excellent game," said Griffin.

Wollaston returns 13 veterans next year, but loses five key players: Martin, Marsinelli, Pugsley, Geaney and Saccoach. Marsinelli grew up behind the plate in his years with Wollaston. His throwing was a problem at the beginning, but this year he nailed over 60 percent of base-stealers. Pugsley was a fine shortstop and a perfect hitter out of the No. 2 spot behind Marsinelli.

Geaney was a clutch hitter who beat Braintree in extra innings with a single. He also had impressive range in center field.

"Ben Martin played for us for six years. He started when he was 14," said Griffin. "Johnny was the heart and soul of the team. He handled the pitchers, and he was a leader. He was also the offensive sparkplug out of the leadoff spot.

"Pugsley hit well after he found his eye at mid-season. He was also a underrated pitcher for us. Mike Saccoach was one of the hardest throwers we had, but he had shoulder problems. He was valuable pinch runner."

After the last out of the last game, Wollaston played out a team tradition which touched fans from both sides. Nick Pugsley is Mike's younger brother and one of Wollaston's most devoted fans. Nick stood at home plate and gave the ball a good wallop. He ran around the bases for his home run, an event which was a feature after most Wollaston games.

"The Norwood fans and players enjoyed it and applauded it as well. It brought the two sides together after the championship was won. It was a nice touch," said Griffin.

Junior Leaguers Advance To Regional Final Four

By BILL GRIFFIN

The 14-year-old team from Quincy, who won the state Babe Ruth and the State Junior League championships within a span of five days, staged a magical run to the Final Four of the Eastern Regional Junior League Championships in Freehold, New Jersey.

Quincy rolled off three consecutive one-run decisions which were not decided until the final inning. After losing the opener to the host team, Quincy had to win all three to stay alive in the double-elimination tourney.

Monday, Quincy made three terrific plays in the final three innings and Aidan O'Sullivan walked with the bases loaded in the seventh to give Quincy a 4-3 win over Maryland.

With Maryland runners on first and third and one out in the fifth, Jack Free snared a hard grounder at first, stepped on the bag and threw to shortstop Martin McCormack for the 3-6 DP. Third baseman Owen McGrath made a diving stab of a hot shot down the line to save two runs with runners on second and third in the sixth. In the seventh, Quincy escaped a bases-loaded jam when Free and McCormack rattled off a 3-6-3 double play.

Quincy's defense was brilliant. Take away one inning, and they played errorless ball over the first four games.

McGrath had a double and Curtis Frazier added a single in a three-run first for Quincy. Maryland tied it at 3-3 in the fourth. Connor McDonald and Free had singles in the winning rally in the seventh.

Sunday, lefty Alex Kiley threw 6 2/3 innings of three-hit baseball and Frazier singled in the winning run in the seventh for a 4-3 win over Maine.

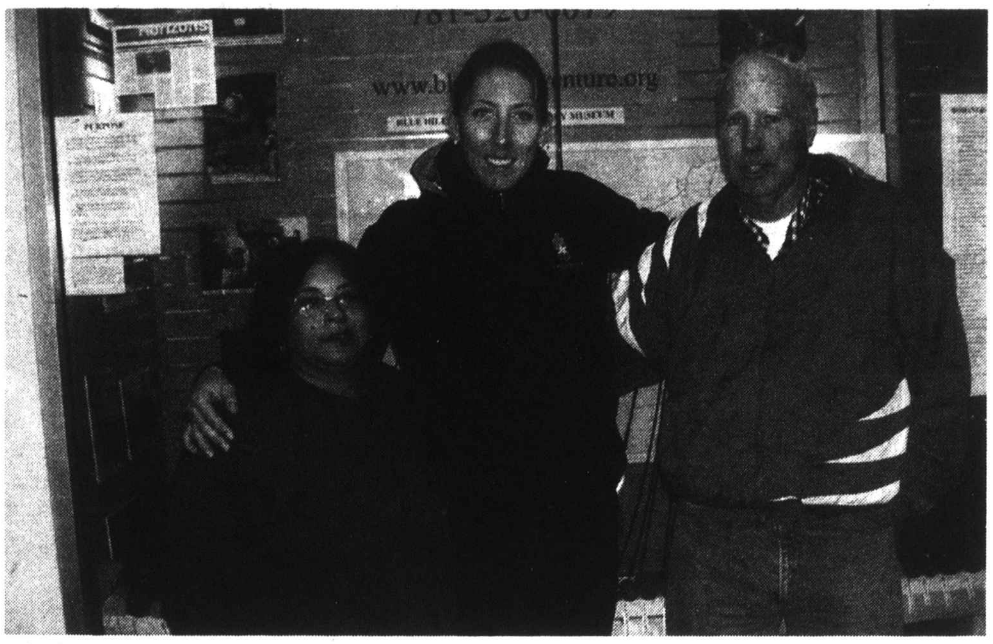
Maine jumped to a 2-0 lead in the second. O'Sullivan singled and stole second and third to set up a Quincy run in the third. Owen Carberry doubled and scored the tying run in the sixth. Pinch runner Andrew Airosus stole second and scored on Frazier's winning hit.

Saturday, McCormack drove in the winning run in the seventh and Tommy Kelly pitched clutch ball in relief to gain a 4-3 win for Quincy over Rhode Island.

Quincy fell behind 2-0 in the second. In the fifth, McGrath slugged a bases-loaded double for a 3-2 lead. Vicker DiGravio had a double in the rally.

After Rhode Island tied it in the top of the seventh, DiGravio singled, stole second and scored on McCormack's single for the game-winner.

Quincy, Pennsylvania, Ridgewood, New Jersey, and the host team Freehold advanced to the Final Four. Quincy faced Pennsylvania and its powerful offense Tuesday.



BOARD MEMBER Kumu Gupta (left) of Quincy recently received a Certification of Appreciation from the National Ski Patrol System, in recognition of her nine years of work with Blue Hill Adventure & Quarry Museum. Blue Hill Adventure & Quarry Museum was founded by David Hodgdon (right), who took part in all Winter Olympics from Lake Placid to Vancouver 2010, as part of the Nordic Ski Patrol. Gupta is the director of Marketing and Special Events and has organized special appearances of U.S. Olympians like Michelle Gurrette (center), Beijing 2008 Summer Olympics Rowing Silver Medalist in Quincy. As Director of Marketing Kumu was also able to get words of appreciation on the Museum's Canoe Program, from Chad Pregracke, 2013 CNN Hero of the Year of Living Lands and Waters (seen on www.bluehilladventure-quarry-museum.webstarts.com, website which Kumu developed). Kumu was nominated for the 2015 Preservation Award of Massachusetts Historic Commission, Office of MA Secretary Francis Galvin, in "Education and Outreach" Category for all her efforts.

Manet Celebrates Nat'l Health Care Week

Manet Community Health Center is celebrating National Health Center Week this week with appreciation events at each of its five sites, and a seaside community health fair.

The events dispersed at locations throughout the week and open to the public will be part Manet's annual celebration of America's Health Centers. The theme for the 2015 National Health Center Week is "America's Health Centers: Celebrating Our Legacy, Shaping Our Future."

During National Health Center Week, sponsored by Carney Hospital, A Steward Family Hospital, Manet will help raise local awareness about the role of the health center program that was created in 1965 as a pilot project during President Lyndon Johnson's administration. The National Health Center Program is the largest and most successful system of primary health care in the United States.

"We welcome the community to join us as we faithfully dedicate to the observance of National Health Center Week that will mark the 50th anniversary of this transformative program. Health Centers like Manet play a critical role in ensuring health access and parity; maintaining the highest levels of quality and patient satisfaction while producing $24 billion in annual health system savings," said Joseph M. Reardon, President of the Manet Board of Directors.

"Every day in our mission we see firsthand the value of offering a patient-centered health care home," says Cynthia Sierra, Manet's Acting Chief Executive Officer. "When individuals and families of all ages have a place to turn for health care, they can become and stay healthier. We provide a wide range of on-site services, including primary care, health benefits counseling, wellness programs, and a new on-site pharmacy and vision center." National Health Center Week guests can tour the sites, register as a new patient, get back-to-school readiness information, schedule back-to-school physicals, sign up for health coverage and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), and meet Manet wellness professionals. Also available will be health screenings, smoking cessation information, raffles, and healthy snack options.

Open houses and appreciation celebrations are open to the public and were scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the following locations:

- Wednesday, Aug. 12 – Manet, Snug Harbor, 9 Bicknell St., Quincy
- Thursday, Aug. 13 – Manet, Taunton One Washington St., Suite 900, Taunton.

Friday, Aug. 14 – Community Health Fair, Hull, Mary Jeanette Murray Bath House, 204 Nantasket Ave.

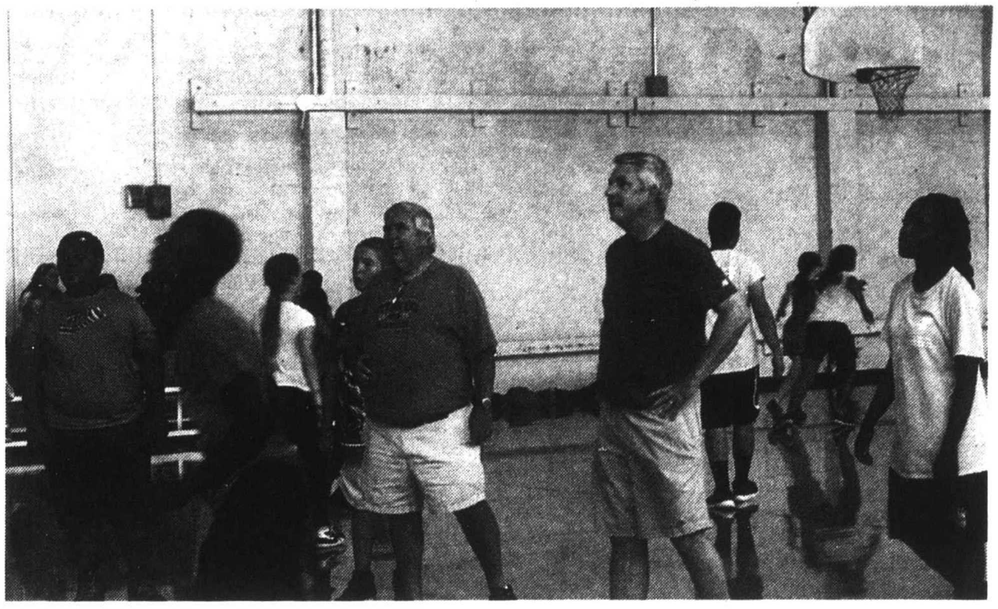
Community Farm Produce At Stop & Shop Stores

This summer, Stop & Shop is bringing a variety of local produce from over 50 New England farms to all of its stores.

While customers can find many local products in Stop & Shop stores throughout the year, the summer months bring an abundance of "in season" fruits and vegetables from community farms. Among the local items currently in season and available at Stop & Shop are tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, beans, peppers and a variety of squash.

"Our customers receive the freshest, highest quality of fruits and vegetables right from their local farm," said Jack Keane, director of Produce for Stop & Shop New England. "We believe selling locally grown produce strengthens our community and supports the local economy. Community farmers and our customers benefit greatly from our continued commitment to this wonderful program."

For more information, visit www.stopandshop.com.



SEN. JOHN KEENAN, center right, joined Norfolk Dist. Atty. Michael Morrissey, center left, in a game of knockout, then spoke to the participants at the DA's summer basketball camp held recently at the Broad Meadows Middle School. Photo Courtesy Dist. Atty. Morrissey's Office

Lessons For On And Off Court At DA Morrissey's Basketball Camp

The recent heat didn't deter 40 city kids, grades 3 through 8, from working hard and having fun at District Attorney Michael W. Morrissey's summer basketball camp.

"This has been a great group," Morrissey said, after Sen. John Keenan joined him and some of the week's 40 campers in a game of "knockout" in the gym at Broad Meadows Middle School. "They've worked hard in their drills, but they've also been attentive as we've tried to explore some constructive ideas with them during the week."

Those messages were straightforward: Everyone in the gym has the ability to be a leader in their group of friends – even growing up in a world with ample opportunity for trouble.

"If I see a friend doing the wrong thing, getting involved in drugs or the wrong crowd, what kind of friend wouldn't say something? Say: 'Hey, you shouldn't be doing that,'" Morrissey said. "Doing the right thing and saying the right thing is important. And it is contagious."

The biggest danger facing the campers in the coming years is from drugs and other substances, Keenan and Morrissey told the group. The greatest causes of harm, crime and death in Norfolk County are opiate overdoses and motor vehicle crashes – many of which involve impaired driving.

Sen. Keenan dispelled the myth that things like Percocet, Vicodin, or OxyContin are safe because they may have originated at a pharmacy. "Do the right thing for your friends," Keenan said. For a friend headed to trouble, "if you're a real friend, you'll go to that person. Try to move that friend … back in the right direction."

Local fitness and wellness expert Dr. Wayne Westcott, members of the Quincy Police Department and Troopers Tom Janeczak and Gary Berlo from the State Police K-9 Unit – plus their dogs Tank and Mako – came through to talk to the campers.

"Most of the adults who took part donated their time, and we used money forfeited in drug prosecutions to defray the remaining costs so that we could offer the camp free for these children," Morrissey said. "I still enjoy taking money that was being used to harm our communities and redirecting it to building community and helping our citizens."

City Boasts Successful Baseball Teams

Cont'd From Page 19

run double. Cam Munchbach gave Quincy a quality start before Concannon finished up and protected the one-run lead.

"Concannon came up big for us," said Ainsely. "But our strength all year was our balance. The second half of our order was usually better than our opponents. We had a good, deep pitching staff as well."

The 13-year-old team was not the only success story in the city this summer:

- The nine-year old team won the New England Championship and the 11-year old club made it to the New England finals.
- All travel teams in the youth leagues nine-years-old and older at least made the state tournament.
- The 14-year-old team won the state Babe Ruth and the state Junior League championships. They advanced the to Junior League Regionals in New Jersey.
- The junior legion team went 16-2 in the regular season, won its zone, won its district playoff championship, and advanced to the semifinals of the states before falling to Greenfield.
- The senior legion team went 17-3-1 and finished a point behind Braintree in the Zone 6A pennant chase.
- Wollaston's Senior Babe Ruth advanced to the finals of its league playoffs.

If you care about baseball, Quincy is the place to be. Ainsley is enjoying the view.

"There's great baseball being played all over Quincy, and it's fun to see," he said. "The credit has to go to the coaches on the younger levels. This is my fourth year with the 13-year-old team. The difference between the caliber of player I'm seeing from when I started is like night and day.

"The fundamentals are solid and I try to build on them. The pitching mechanics the kids have been taught are excellent. We don't walk many batters."

The coaches not only teach skills, they foster an enthusiasm and love of the game in their players which carries over to the teenage years.

"When I first started, I had batting practice at the cages at Adams Field on Friday afternoons," said Ainsley. "There were some Fridays when nobody came. This year, I had 60 kids from four teams waiting to hit on one Friday."

The 13-year-old team was led by a balanced pitching staff which featured hard throwers. Ryan, Concannon and Tommy Lee were effective from the left side. Munchbach and Mike Fonte were power right-handers. Brendon Donovan and Neil Sanders split the catching duties.

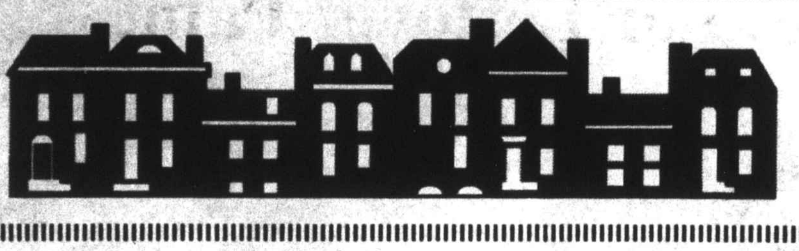
"The catching defense was excellent. You don't go anywhere without good catching," said Ainsley.

Ryan and Concannon saw action at first. Coleman Flaherty and C.J. Jaehnig split time at second. Munchbach and Brandon Sullivan were solid at short. Fonte and Mike Levine played third for Quincy.

"Flaherty and Jaehnig did all the little things well. If you needed a a sacrifice or a squeeze, they would get it down," said Ainsley. "Munchbach and Sullivan played good defense. Munchbach was also a middle-of-the-order hitter. Fonte and Levine fielded well and were big-time hitters for us."

Gaudey and Bobby Foley played left. Zack Hatfield batted leadoff and brought speed and range to center. Lee and Aidan Murphy played good defense in right. Lee provided power at the plate while Murphy was a dependable line-drive hitter.

"Gaudey and Foley gave us defense, speed and hitting," said Ainsely. "Hatfield is one of the rare players who combine speed and power."



Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Aug. 3 - Aug. 7

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Craig S. Hutchison	Eugenio F. Ventosa	$393,000.00	69 Dale Avenue
Cindy A. Fennell	Lind Street Realty Trust	$210,000.00	71 Lind Street
68 Union Place LLC	Hao P. Mei & Min Y. Wu	$775,000.00	68 Union Street
Linda M. & Arthur J. DeMaggio	Zhe S. Chen & Liqing Huang	$395,000.00	11 Albertina Street
Joseph P. & Natalie Sullivan	Xing H. Zhang	$478,000.00	18 Buckingham Road
Peter Nota	Andrew Nota	$120,000.00	3 Willow Street
Federal National Mortgage Association	Anne M. Sullivan	$199,000.00	86 East Howard Street Unit 404
David M. Keefer & Allison H. Smith	Zhen Q. & Shupei Zheng, Yu Y. Yu	$430,000.00	24 Janet Road
Sarbjit Singh & Veenu Gill	Malkit S. & Jaswinder K. Thind	$200,000.00	165 Quincy Shore Drive Unit C41
Judith C. Weisenberger	Jerome P. MacDonald	$349,000.00	166 Quincy Shore Drive Unit 124
John F. Ryan	Robert J. Ryan	$365,000.00	10 Braintree Avenue
Ly T. Phan & Nhi Y. Vo	Junghuan Li & Weiya Wang	$397,000.00	221 South Central Avenue
Robert & Kathy MacVarish	Stephen E. & Jennifer Billard	$520,000.00	299 Elmwood Avenue
Tewfik Ghattas	Willilam T. Davison & William F. Powell	$650,000.00	136 Winthrop Avenue
Jeffrey R. & Mary J. Zynda	Andrea & Daniel Eldredge	$584,000.00	309 Highland Avenue
Annmarie Grant	Keith R. & Laura N. Austin	$398,000.00	81 Wallace Road
Maureen C. Reid	Raymond Ekwujuru	$400,000.00	104 Wesson Avenue
Reggiannini Nominee Trust	Romina V. Almario	$466,500.00	76 Bartlett Street
Philip W. & Theresa S. Wilkinson	Yue C. Xu	$435,000.00	262 Belmont Street
Ralph C. & Annette C. Radzevich	Jeffrey R. & Mary J. Zynda	$771,500.00	18 Sturtevant Road
Norman & Stephanie Greenstein	Chinese Christian Herald Crusades Inc.	$439,000.00	440 Hancock Street Units 7 & 8
Brian G. Sandberg	Dmitriy Medvedev & Olga Torubara	$281,000.00	200 Cove Way Unit 109-II
Bryan H. Nguyen	Richard R. Li	$220,000.00	459 Willard Street Unit 302
William J. O'Keefe Living Trust	Man Kai Yeung & Yuk Yuen Lan	$336,500.00	60 Essex Street
John F. Pennini	Charlene S. Lin & Weinian Zhen	$442,000.00	119 Hamilton Avenue
Kathleen D. Spring	Stephen T. Spring	$386,000.00	40 Richfield Street
Steven & Gordon O. Schultz	Paulette L. Chevalier	$500,000.00	153 Bayside Road
Nancy E. DiMauro	Richard & Maureen P. Bolger	$830,000.00	86 Harbourside Road Unit 69

MA Presidential Primary March 1

The 2016 Massachusetts Presidential Primary election will be held Tuesday, March 1.

Massachusetts is among 12 states that will be holding primaries and caucuses on March 1. The primary will occur three weeks after New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary set for Tuesday, Feb. 9.

Those wishing to register to vote in the March 1 primary have until Feb. 10, 2016 to do so. Those who register to vote in this fall's municipal election will remain registered for the March 1 presidential primary.

Secretary of State William Galvin will assemble a list of generally recognized candidates to go on the March 1 ballot. Chairpersons for the state Democratic and Republican committee will also submit lists by the end of the year.

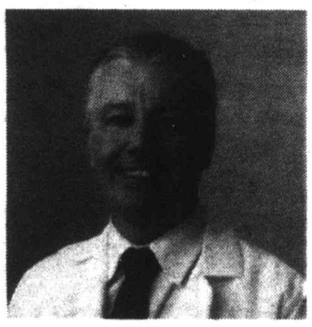
In addition, a presidential candidate can get on the March 1 ballot with 2,500 signatures. Those signatures have to be filed with registrars of voters for certification by Dec. 21 and filed with the Secretary's office by Jan. 4.

With the March 1 ballot, voters will also elect members of party state committees and party and ward town committees. Nominations for state committee require 50 signatures; ward and town nominations require five. These must be submitted to registrars of voters by Nov. 6 and to the Secretary's office by Nov. 17.

Dr. Stephen Tarpy Joins BID HealthCare-Crown Colony

Stephen Tarpy, MD, has joined Beth Israel Deaconess HealthCare-Crown Colony.

Board-certified in Internal Medicine, Dr. Tarpy provides primary care with clinical interests in Pulmonary diseases such as asthma and chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) as well as Sleep Disorders.



DR. STEPHEN TARPY

Dr. Tarpy received his medical degree from the Boston University School of Medicine, Boston. He completed his residency at the Boston VA Medical Center and a Pulmonary Fellowship at Boston University.

Dr. Tarpy's office is located at 700 Congress St., Suite 103, in Quincy.

FLAVIN
FLAVIN REALTY
Complete Real Estate Service Since 1925
Free Opinion of Value
~
Committed to Property Ownership
~
Offering Seller & Buyer Representation
SOLD
a century of connecting people with homes
Flavin & Flavin
1085 Hancock St Quincy Center
Visit www.flavinandflavin.com
617-479-1000

Century 21
Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

Ask Barbara Graceffa:
Secretary Of The Interior

Dear Secretary of the Interior,

My kitchen desperately needs a facelift. What do I need to know to paint the cabinets? Can I paint countertops and appliances, too? Charles

Note: This response continues from last week's issue and wraps up next week.

In response to your second question, you can paint laminate countertops (and backsplashes).

In recent years, Rustoleum© has come out with a Countertop Transformation DIY system for a few hundred dollars per kit, but I have not worked with it. The reviews on Amazon.com are rather favorable, though. However, in general, I do not recommend painting countertops because the finish will not be as durable or hard as the original. (If you are truly handy, laminate countertops starts at only $68 for a six-foot length.)

If you want to give it a go, again, the proper prep work and paints are imperative.

First, use a laminate adhesive to tack down any loose pieces and wet- or dry-sand the countertop until it is no longer glossy. Then consult the paint manager for the right bonding primer (you should use two coats), finish paint (another two coats are required), and sealer (which will take two-three weeks to fully cure).

Use a roller because you do not want to see brush strokes. During the curing stage, take note to avoid abrasive cleaners; instead, use a damp soft cloth.

Painting good-working kitchen appliances is also a cost saver compared to replacing your microwave, refrigerator, stove, or washer and dryer. Ideally, you should take them to an automotive paint shop for painting. Otherwise, unplug your appliance(s) and use a spray–on appliance paint to add three to four light coats for proper coverage (adding in dry time between each coat, of course.)

It can be a long process but an easy do-it-yourself task. Have some fun with color like a red stove, but be sure you can live with the color for a long time (or at least until you can afford a replacement!).

Do you have a decorating problem needing a professional solution? Send your questions to Secretary of the Interior at barbara@sec-interior.com.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy.

For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

Continued Improvement Seen In Norfolk County Real Estate Market

Increase In Real Estate Sales, Mortgage Financing In July

Pointing to statistics that showed both increases in real estate sales and mortgage financing for the past month of July, Norfolk County Register of Deeds William O'Donnell reports the Norfolk County real estate market is continuing to move in the right direction.

"For the month of July, the total number of deeds recorded increased 9 percent compared to July of 2014," O'Donnell said. "I believe these results stem from an improved economy and buyers eager to invest in Norfolk County real estate. The total dollar volume of residential and commercial real estate sales increased by 13 percent to $1.08 billion and the average sale price of property increased a modest 3 percent to $752,941."

Other positive Norfolk County real estate trends that continued in July 2015, as compared to the previous July, was the performance of the mortgage market, as 2,948 mortgages were recorded, a 13 percent increase, along with a 25 percent rise in mortgage financing.

"Homeowners continue to take advantage of improved equity in their properties along with low interest rates to obtain financing for home improvements, family educational expenses and other critical needs," O'Donnell said.

One continuing cause for concern, however, in Norfolk County, was foreclosures. A total of 22 foreclosure deeds were filed during July, a 38 percent increase from July, 2014.

"This increase was the result of lending institutions continuing to work through a backlog of foreclosures resulting from the economic downturn of 2008. Another sobering figure was the 65 notices to foreclose filed in July, 2015 compared to 50 recorded in the previous July. Notice to Foreclose Mortgage is the first step in the foreclosure process. These numbers remind us that some of our neighbors continue to face financial challenges," O'Donnell said.

The Registry continues to partner with Quincy Community Action Programs at (617) 479-8181 x-376 and Neighbor Works Southern Mass at (508) 598-0950 to help anyone who has received a Notice of Foreclosure from a lender. Another option for homeowners is to call the Massachusetts Attorney General's HomeCorps program at (617) 573-5333.

On the consumer front, homestead recording activity increased 11 percent in July compared to one year ago. Homestead recording provides for limited protection against the forced sale of an individual's primary residence to satisfy unsecured debt up to $500,000.

"There's no question July, 2015 was a solid month for real estate activity in Norfolk County. An improved economy, eager buyers and low interest rates were all key components that drove the market.

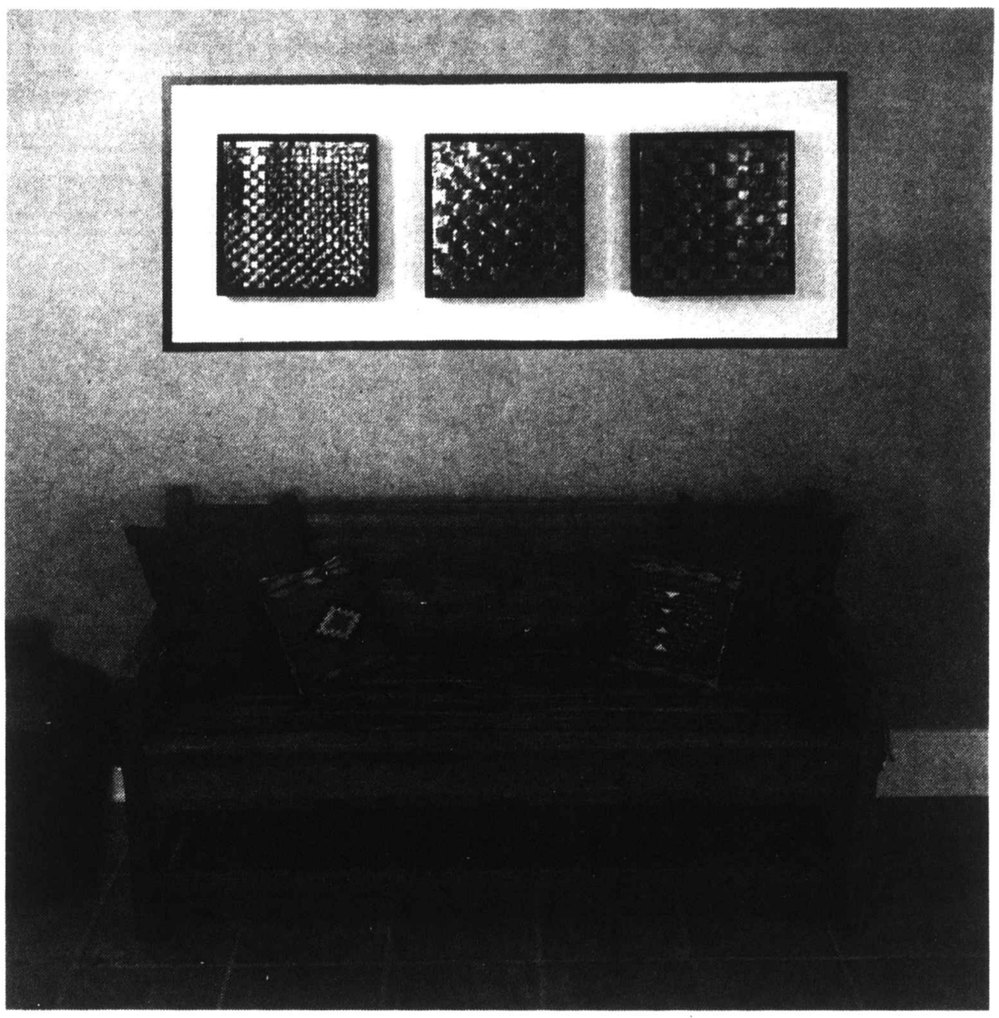
However, two points of caution: I agree with industry observers who have stated the need for increased housing inventory to sustain real estate growth and I also continue to be concerned about the potential negative impact on real estate activity of the Federal Reserve increasing interest rates."

To learn more about these and other Registry of Deeds events and initiatives, like us at facebook.com/NorfolkDeeds or follow us on twitter.com/NorfolkDeeds.

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High St., Dedham is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information.

Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Department via telephone at (781) 461-6101, or on the web at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

10 Fun Uses For Leftover Paint



If you're sitting on a stash of leftover latex paint, you have a gold mine when it comes to home decorating. With a little imagination and creative flair, you can use paint leftovers to give your home extra appeal, and have lots of fun in the process.

Want to give it a go? Here are 10 great ideas, courtesy of the Paint Quality Institute. Try one, try all, or better yet, try something that's yours alone. Regardless, you'll be surprised at the way forgotten paint can infuse new life into your home interior.

1. Make kitchen items kitschy. It takes only a little leftover paint to impart canisters, coasters, or the handles of wooden spoons and spatulas with bright, fun color that can make cooking more joyful.

2. Colorize some flowerpots. In the same way, planters and flowerpots can be decorated with paint color -- the more, the merrier. Paint them one solid color, or embellish them with pattern for more panache!

3. Dress up a dresser. Have an old dresser that's tired-looking? Spice it up with paint. Use different colors on different parts for added visual interest. Do the same with an old stool, table, or cabinet.

4. Rejuvenate "junk" furniture. Check out your attic or your neighbors' discards. You might find hidden treasure in the form of a unique piece just pining for a fresh coat of paint.

5. Put a stamp on your walls. Add pizzazz to painted walls with a handcrafted patterned border. Fashion a "stamp" out of an old sponge in the pattern of your choice, then dip it in the leftover paint and dab new color onto the walls. Voila! Custom design.

6. Speak with an accent. Express your home's individuality by adding accent color to a door, doorway, or an entire wall. The unexpected color will make your interior something special.

7. Beautify a built-in. Embellish built-in bookcases, cabinets, or a mantelpiece with leftover paint to create striking elements in your décor.

8. Stencil something. Using a homemade or commercial stencil, apply paint to just about anything – a piece of furniture, a wall, or even the floor. It can render the ordinary, extraordinary.

9. Make like an artist. Why buy art supplies, when you already have a hand-picked palette of colors you like? Use them as is, or mix them as needed to create murals or fine art.

10. Frame your artwork. Repaint the frames on your prints, paintings, and drawings to give them a fresh appearance. Or, paint a simulated "frame" right on the wall to draw attention to favorite objects or sculpture.

Most of these projects take just a small amount of paint, but they can make a big difference in your home décor.

For how-to information on these and other paint projects, visit the Paint Quality Institute blog at blog.paintquality.com.

Memorial, Honor Flags For Vets Island

The Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294, Morrisette Post, is accepting donations for memorial flags and honor flags to be placed at Flags for Veterans Island, School and Pleasant Streets, Quincy.

The one-time donation to place a flag at the Island is $30. Donated flags can be purchased in memory of a veteran who was killed in action or has passed away. Honor flags are placed for those who are currently serving in the military or who have served their country and are still living.

To purchase a memorial or honor flag, contact Paul Moody, coordinator of Flags for Veterans Island and the commander of the Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294. He can be reached by calling 617-472-5952.

25
CELEBRATING 25 YEARS
1990 - 2015
SUCCESS!
REAL ESTATE

27 Ferriter Street
Move in ready – one floor living
Gorgeous kitchen
Newer gas heating system
Central Air Conditioning
Fireplace and Gleaming Hardwood Floors
In-ground pool
Quiet, country-like setting
Close to highways and public transportation

Offered at $479,000

Deborah Riley
Realtor®
SUCCESS! Real Estate
968 Hancock Street, Quincy, MA 02170

Phone: (617) 773-7676
Cell Phone: (617) 447-3591
Fax: (888) 371-6027
Email: deborah.riley09@gmail.com

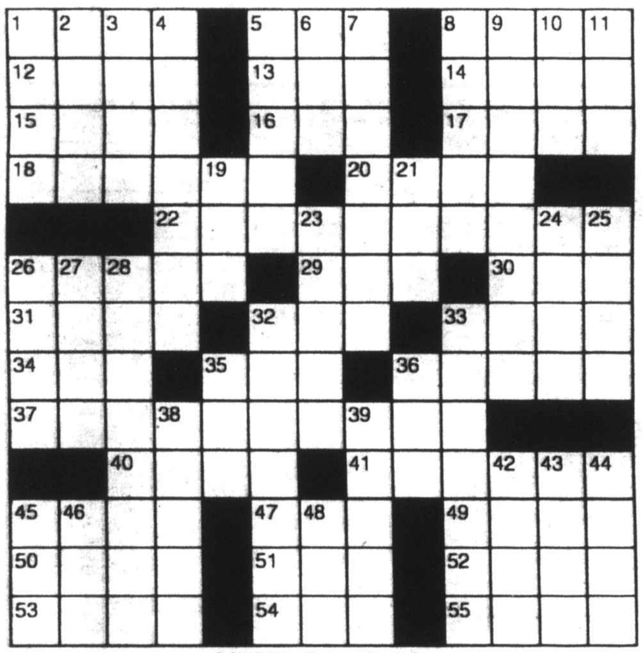
Dedicated and Uncompromised Loyalty – Exclusive Buyer or seller representation

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 Campus mil. program
5 Stein or Stiller
8 Carpet style
12 Vicinity
13 George's brother
14 Mimicking bird
15 Tide type
16 Cookie holder
17 Leave out
18 Singer Fats
20 Snatch
22 Orange-flowered impatiens
26 Shade
29 Meadow
30 Biblical verb suffix
31 Hebrew month
32 Carton
33 Destiny
34 Veto
35 Piglet's mama
36 Metallic mixture
37 Unpredictable
40 Sunbeams
41 Royal attendant
45 Clone
47 Heavy weight
49 Queen of Carthage
50 Molt
51 Away from WSW
52 Cupid's alias
53 Bouquet
54 Two, in Tijuana
55 Medicinal amount

DOWN
1 McNally's partner
2 Sandwich treat
3 Squad
4 Domed landmark
5 Delicate ornament
6 Historic time
7 Access to a nave
8 Fire sign?
9 Wedding-related
10 Blackbird
11 "Roscoe"
19 Neither partner
21 "I — Camera"
23 Emmett Kelly, for one
24 "Beetle Bailey" dog
25 Yon folks
26 Minimal change
27 Hodgepodge
28 Nonessential comforts
32 Bragged
33 Inundated
35 Bashful
36 Candle count
38 Halloween bagful
39 Units of force
42 Muralist Joan
43 Commotions
44 Schnozz
45 Recipe meas.
46 Personal question?
48 Lennon's lady



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● —LINE : SPORTS

J X U T R P M J G D A X V S Q
E C I V R E S T R A I N I N G
N K I F D U S A X V T Q E O M
J H F C D A O A Y W U R S P N
L J H E Y L F C B D B Z A X V
W O R H T E E R F T T E B R Q
O M K I H N L I H L S F D D B
Z Y W V T D T L F C A R R I R
Q O N E U L B U A D U H I L S
K I R H F D C O A O I O H F Z
X W V U S R Q F O N G M T M K

Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Alley
Blue Center
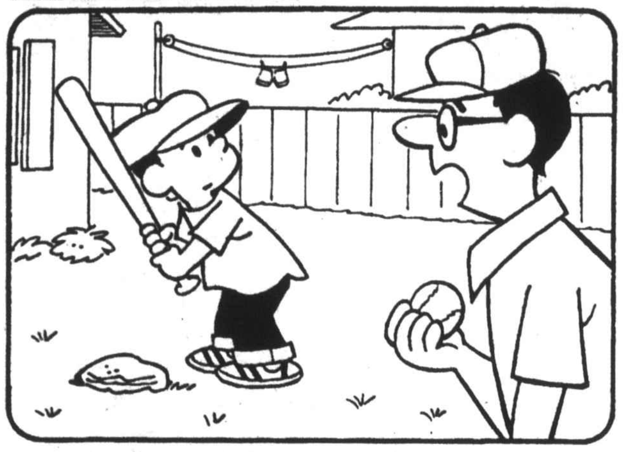
End
First-base
Foul
Free-throw
Goal
Half-court
Midfield
Restraining
Service
Side
Third-base
Touch

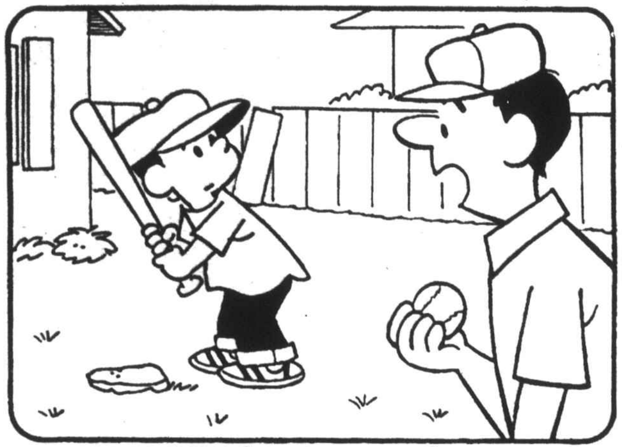
©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.



©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Bat is shorter. 2. Home plate is different. 3. Fence board is moved. 4. Clothesline is missing. 5. Glasses are missing. 6. Collar is smaller.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. MEASUREMENTS: A quindecennial refers to what period of time?
2. CARTOONS: Who was the voice of Nigel in the animated series "The Wild Thornberrys"?
3. GEOGRAPHY: In what U.S. state did the Battle of Kennesaw Mountain take place during the Civil War?
4. ASTRONOMY: What shape is the Milky Way galaxy?
5. LANGUAGE: What is the meaning of the Latin phrase, "Cogito ergo sum"?
6. MOVIES: What was the name of Meg Ryan's bookstore in "You've Got Mail"?
7. LITERATURE: What is the name of the bookstore in Diagon Alley in the "Harry Potter" series?
8. EXPLORERS: Which European explorer discovered a sea route to India?
9. HISTORY: During what war did the Battle of Trafalgar take place?
10. MATH: What is the decimal equivalent of the fraction 1/5?

Answers
1. 15 years
2. Actor Tim Curry
3. Georgia
4. Spiral
5. "I think, therefore I am"
6. The Shop Around the Corner
7. Flourish and Blotts
8. Vasco da Gama
9. Napoleonic Wars
10. 0.2

(c) 2015 king Features Synd., Inc.

Wishing Well®

4	5	6	3	7	4	7	5	2	8	5	3	2
L	E	W	J	L	O	E	V	C	D	E	O	H
4	6	4	8	5	8	6	5	4	6	7	3	4
V	A	E	Y	N	N	N	T	E	T	A	Y	X
5	8	4	5	6	4	2	5	6	7	2	8	6
U	A	T	A	N	E	E	L	O	R	E	M	M
8	3	6	5	6	7	8	6	2	7	2	5	2
I	I	O	S	R	N	C	E	R	N	U	U	P
3	7	8	7	5	2	5	8	2	8	7	2	5
S	E	T	W	C	Y	C	H	O	O	S	U	E
7	3	4	8	2	7	8	2	7	4	7	5	8
K	Y	N	U	R	I	G	S	L	D	L	S	H
5	4	7	4	3	8	2	3	2	8	2	3	3
S	E	S	D	O	T	E	U	L	S	F	R	S

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A relaxed mood early in the week could give way to high-temperature disputes. The Aries Lamb should resist being pulled into heated quarrels that could really singe your wool.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Satisfy that practical obligation first, then you can feel free to indulge in your creative endeavors. Also, check for hidden or overlooked areas where repairs might be long overdue.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Home is still the Twins' major focus this week. But outside matters begin to take on added importance, especially those involving possible career moves. Stay alert for signs of change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A travel plan might need to undergo some considerable adjustment because of unexpected changes. Keep an open mind and let the facts guide you on how you want to handle this.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Playing cat and mouse with a matter you don't really want to tackle wastes time, energy and, most important, an opportunity. Ask someone with experience to help you get started.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A shift in policy might not please you, but before you put up a "no go" wall of resistance, examine the circumstances. You might be quite pleasantly surprised by what you find.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Yesterday's critiques about your methods might have already evolved into today's praise for your achievements. Good for you. Now go on and continue to build on your credibility.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) An occasional temperamental flare-up might occur as you continue to help get things back to normal. Stay with it. You should soon get some idea of where to take things next.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A negative reaction to what you believe was a well-deserved request might mean that you need to reconsider your position and make changes accordingly.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) There's always room for someone new at the Sea Goat's table. And the someone new this week could bring a message you've been waiting a long time to hear.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A pile-on of personal matters this week might seem too overwhelming to deal with. But handling them on a one-by-one basis could have you out from under it by the weekend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A friend might need your good advice regarding a matter. Be supportive. But unless you can be absolutely sure you have all the facts, be careful about any suggestions you might be asked to offer.

BORN THIS WEEK: Few things make you happier than bringing people together and helping to forge new friendships.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: W equals L

YNJCJSY, PXCHPWXHY JBL
WJLRSEOY JCH SHNKQXBO
FXWLWR AKAEWJC. X FKEWL
NJWW XV SHHVWHQJBXJ.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —
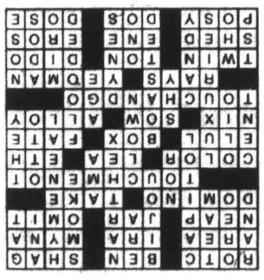
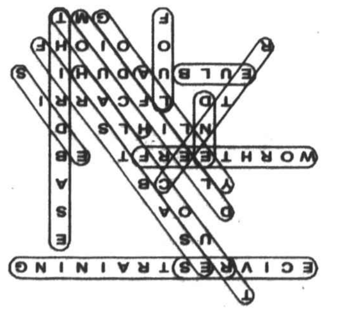
Answers
Solution time: 25 mins.



Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

Scarabs, fireflies and ladybugs are becoming wildly popular. I would call it beetlemania.

RELIGION

Beth Shalom Of Blue Hills To Hold Two Open Houses

Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills, formerly Temples Shalom of Milton and Beth El of Quincy, will hold two Open Houses this summer for prospective members as well as anyone interested in the synagogue and its activities.

The first will be on Sunday, Aug. 30, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the gazebo at Milton Town Hall, 525 Canton Ave. Visitors are welcome to learn about the new synagogue building, see up-to-the-minute photos of the work-in-progress, sign up for tours of the building site, obtain High Holiday service information, and enjoy activities for the kids.

The second Open House will be Sunday, Sept. 13, 10 a.m. to noon at Pierce Middle School, 451 Central Ave. in Milton. Visitors will be able to get synagogue information and join with the Religious School for High Holiday Family Activity Day.

All interested families in the South Shore and Greater Boston area are invited to attend either or both Open Houses. Meet Rabbi Alfred Benjamin and Education Director Nancy Mollitor, learn about the congregation's programs and activities, and find out about our Special First Year Membership and Religious School rates. First time attendees to either Open House will receive a complimentary ticket for one High Holiday or Family service.

Congregation Beth Shalom is also accepting registrations to its Rabbi Jerome Weistrop Religious School, which meets on Sunday mornings and Tuesday afternoons. Under the leadership of Nancy Mollitor, the school has small class sizes and a very active and innovative curriculum, including unique holiday celebrations, monthly pre-school-age Story Hour, Family Learner's Services, field trips, Bar/Bat Mitzvah classes, teenage discussion groups with Rabbi Benjamin, Jewish film appreciation, and Holiday Family Activity days. The school is also a partner in the Passport to Israel Program, which helps fund teen trips to Israel. For religious school information, call the synagogue office at 617-698-3394.

Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills is an egalitarian congregation which welcomes inter-married families. Its worship services currently are at the Johnson Great Hall Sanctuary in the First Congregational Church, 495 Canton Ave., Milton. For information about membership or programs, call the synagogue office at 617-698-3394, Email office@BethShalomBlueHills.org or visit www.BethShalomBlueHills.org.

Houghs Neck Congregational

The Sunday morning service of worship at the Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave. starts at 10 a.m.

Pastor Felix Carrion will lead the service and deliver the sermon "The Mind of Christ." Nancy Jacobs will be liturgist for the day calling to worship and reading the scripture lesson.

Shirley Pearson and Joseph Giggey will serve for the Diaconate. Music minister Steve Reed will play hymns on the organ and piano.

The church is air-conditioned, has a ramp and cushioned pew seats.

Following the service a fellowship coffee hour is hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs. Everyone is welcome.

Things are gearing up for the fall with the transition, stewardship, and Holiday Fair committees planning meetings this month. Members on these committees will be notified of dates for meetings.

Quincy Point Congregational

Guest preacher Carl McDonald will lead Sunday worship on Aug. 16th at 10 a.m. in the air-conditioned sanctuary of Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

McDonald is a United Church of Christ Minister, former Quincy Point Congregational Church Youth director and director of the Boston Urban Outreach Program of the City Mission Society. He is also a resident of Quincy who received his Masters of Divinity from the Andover Newton Theological School.

McDonald will be preaching a sermon entitled, "A Special Diet." Chris Mendez will be the deacon of the day. After worship, there will be punch and light refreshments in the Social Hall. Sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, August 16, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "What Do We Do?" Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

The church office is open from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 - 3 p.m. Please visit us at our Web Page: www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Thanks to the Video Ministry, if you're unable to attend worship service on Sundays, the Service is broadcast on QATV at 6 p.m. on Thursdays and 10 a.m. on Sundays on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service on Sundays. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Bill Roberts Memorial Bike Ride Oct. 24

Pastor John C. Swanson, Union Congregational Church, announces that the second annual Bill Roberts Memorial Bike Ride will be held Saturday, Oct. 24th at 7:30 a.m.

The ride will be a beach ride following the Quincy coastline from Wollaston to Squantum via Germantown, Houghs Neck and Adams Shore.

Bill Roberts was a lifetime member of Union Congregational Church serving on virtually every board and was a close friend and mentor to the Pastor. Mr. Roberts was also an educator and a fixture in the community especially in the Quincy Election Department and Quincy youth activities. Bill passed away in 2013.

For more information on this event contact the Pastor of the Church at 617-479-6661 or visit the Church's website www.unioncongregational.org

Sunday service at Union Church is at 10 a.m.

Quincy Religion Directory

SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic

St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 8:00AM and 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 11:00AM and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic

Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible &
Handicapped parking, side entrance
air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational

HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning
Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach
"The Mind Of Christ"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship
Service at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding
will conduct the service
and preach the sermon
"What Do We Do?"
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

Congregational

Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617) 479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

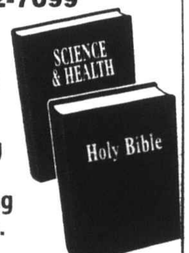
QUINCY POINT
CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St . • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist

United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099



Sunday Services
and Sunday School
10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening
Meetings – where testimonies of healing
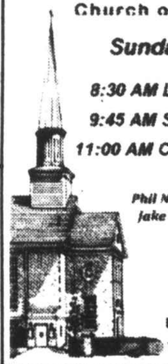
are shared 7:30 p.m.
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene

Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene



Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

Methodist

QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist

THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

PEACE

OBITUARIES

Helen E. Coughlin

A funeral Mass for Helen E. (Joyce) Coughlin of Attleboro, formerly of Quincy, was celebrated Tuesday in St. John's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Coughlin died Aug. 5 surrounded by her loving family.

She was a social womaßn who enjoyed spending time with anyone she met. In her earlier years, she cherished her time traveling with friends. She had a passion for animals especially her own.

Mrs. Coughlin's main love in life was spending time with her family. She will be sadly missed.

HELEN E. COUGHLIN

Predeceased by her loving husband Rae Coughlin. Loving mother of Edward Coughlin and his wife Cindy of Mansfield, Joan Grady and her husband Paul of Attleboro, Theresa Coughlin and Ellen Godsoe both of Providence, RI. Beloved grandmother of 8 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren. Beloved daughter of the late Edward Joyce and Katherine Bruno and her husband Arthur. Caring sister of Mary McCabe of CT and the late Joan Joyce. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Jean M. Alberti

Jean M. (Leavens) Alberti of Quincy died Aug. 5 with her loving family by her side.

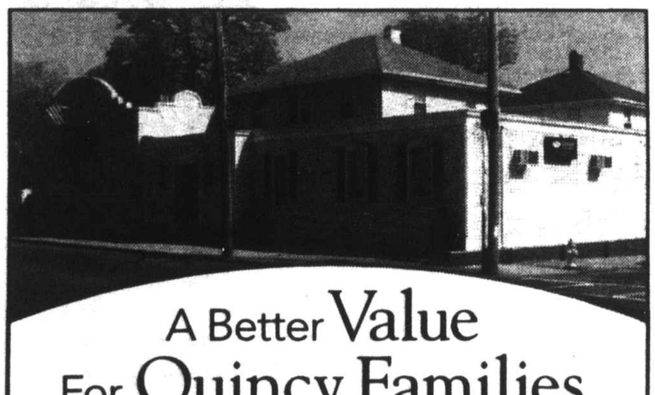
Born in Boston, Mrs. Alberti was a graduate of North Quincy High School and Newton/Wellesley School of Nursing. She was employed as a nurse in the Quincy Schools, at the Long Island Hospital and as a private nurse. She was an avid skater and a member of the Boston Skating Club and the Golden Blades.

She was the beloved wife of the late Joseph G. and the devoted mother of Jonathan L. and his wife Susan of Quincy and the late Joshua Alberti. Loving grandmother of Jen, Ian, Emily, Alisha, Joshua, and Thomas and one great-grandson, Zachary Joseph. Mother–in- law of Mary Alberti. Sister of Katherine Connor of St. Petersburg, FL.

Burial was private.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Alfred D. Thomas Funeral Home, Milton.

Memorial donations may be made to Old Colony Hospice, One Credit Union Way, Randolph , MA 02368.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit
www.dewarefuneralhome.com

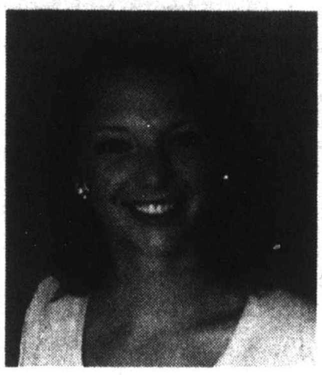
Emily A. Zarnoch, 24

A funeral service for Emily Alicia Zarnoch, 24, of Quincy, was held Monday in Central Middle School, 875 Hancock St., Quincy.

Miss Zarnoch died suddenly Aug. 4.

She was a lifelong resident of Quincy. She graduated from North Quincy High School in 2009 and from Framingham State University in 2014.

Miss Zarnoch was a school teacher for Quincy Public Schools, and was excited about starting a new teaching position at Central Middle School in September. She could light up a room with her smile and was well known for her enthusiasm and positive attitude. She was an avid runner and a longtime member of the Quincy Track Club.



EMILY A. ZARNOCH

Miss Zarnoch enjoyed reading, paddle boarding and dancing. She was a member of the Framingham State Dance Team. Most of all she loved her friends and family who were the cornerstone of her life. She will be missed by all who had the pleasure to have known and loved her.

Beloved daughter of John and Gwen Zarnoch of Quincy. Loving sister of Kyle Zarnoch of Quincy. Cherished granddaughter of Eric and Margaret Rothchild of Seattle and Bertha Zarnoch of South Boston and the late Chester Zarnoch. Devoted girlfriend of Stephen Cortez of Pepperell. Emily is also lovingly survived by many aunts, uncles and cousins.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Emily Zarnoch Scholarship Fund, C/O Colonial Federal Savings Bank, 15 Beach St., Quincy, MA 02170.

Catherine A. Grubb, 86

A funeral Mass for Catherine A. (McCann) Grubb, 86, of Quincy, was celebrated Aug. 7 at Sacred Heart Church, North Quincy.

Mrs. Grubb died Aug. 1.

Originally from South Boston, she worked in the insurance industry until her retirement 20 years ago.

CATHERINE A. GRUBB

The beloved wife of the late Robert E. Grubb, she was the loving mother of Janice K. Crowell of Weymouth, Deborah A. Lavalley and her husband Malcolm of Pembroke, Linda S. Grubb of Quincy, Robert T. Grubb of Charlestown, Steven M. Grubb of Quincy and the late Pamela J. Grubb; dear sister of George McCann and his wife Mary of Hanson and the late Thomas McCann, Mary O'Brien, Dorothy Marquis and Robert S. McCann; and is also survived by her sister-in-law, Doris McCann of Braintree, her much loved grandchildren, great-grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Pine Hill Cemetery, West Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy Center.

Memorial donations may be made to VNA Hospice Care, 100 Trade Center Suite G-500, Woburn, MA 01801.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Honor Your Loved One's Memory With Flowers

clifffords.com
1.800.441.8884

William R. MacDonald, Jr., 90

Funeral services for William R. MacDonald, Jr., "The Old Red Fox," age 90, of Weymouth and formerly Pembroke and Quincy were held yesterday (Wednesday) at Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy.

Mr. MacDonald died peacefully Aug. 8 at home surrounded by his loving family.

He was born in Quincy, raised and educated in Quincy schools. He was a graduate of Quincy High School and later attended the Massachusetts College of Art. He had lived in Weymouth for 30 years and previously in Pembroke for 24 years.

Mr. MacDonald was employed as an investigator for the city of Quincy Veterans Services for 24 years. Previously, he had worked for the U.S. Postal Service for 25 years. He was also a longtime volunteer for FEMA.

Mr. MacDonald was a World War II veteran having served in the U.S. Army in Africa, Sicily and Italy where he received the Bronze Star. In 2011, he was proud to have attended, with his grandson Adam, an Honor Flight to visit the World War II Memorial in Washington, DC. He was a member of the DAV.

He was a lifelong devoted and active member of the Bethany Congregational Church in Quincy. Over the years, Mr. MacDonald had served as a deacon, moderator, head usher and president of the Bethany Church Men's Club. He was a charter and founding member and past president of the Adams Heights Men's Club of Quincy. He was a model train enthusiast, stamp collector, accomplished artist and avid New England sports fan. He also enjoyed singing and playing the piano. Mr. MacDonald was devoted to his family, especially to his grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

WILLIAM R. MACDONALD, JR.

Beloved husband for 30 years of Constance M. "Connie" (Drown) Sullivan-Hill-MacDonald and the late Mary V. (Myatt) MacDonald. Devoted father of Dianne Elizabeth Ellis and her husband Kenneth of Carver, MaryAnne C. Brown of Carver and the late Sharon H. Brodeur-Sloman. Father-in-law of Richard C. Brodeur of Fairhaven. Stepfather of James S. Sullivan and his wife Donna of Watertown. Loving grandfather of Matthew R. Brodeur, Jesse, Adam, Corey and Amy Ellis, Courtney M. Brown and Cassidy A. Brown. Cherished great-grandfather of Logan and Malorie Ellis. Dear brother of Carolyn E. Jensen and her late husband John of Mashpee, the late Roy K. "Kenny" MacDonald, Captain, Quincy Fire Department, Retired and his wife Mildred of Martha's Vineyard. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Pastor, the Rev. William C. Harding III officiated the service.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment with Military Honors at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to Bethany Congregational Church, 16 Spear St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Evelyn Harrington, 69

A funeral service for Evelyn (Capossela) Harrington, 69, of Quincy and formerly the North End was held Tuesday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. Harrington died Aug. 8, surrounded by her loving family.

She was devoted to her family and cared for all those she loved, especially her grandchildren. She will be sadly missed by all those who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Beloved mother of Stephanie Richardson and her husband Ralph of Quincy, Marlo Samproni and her wife Jennifer of Braintree, Camie Fulton and her husband Scott of Braintree, Francette Kelley and her husband Brian of CA and Daniel Harrington of Quincy. Devoted Mema of Thomas, Michael, Van, Christopher, Joseph, James and Megan. Caring sister of Marguerite Buonopane of the North End, Josephine Amatucci of NH and Domenic Capossela of the North End. Also survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

Memorial donations may be made to the National Kidney Foundation, Finance Department, 30 East 33rd St., New York, NY 10016 or to the Wounded Warrior Project, P.O. Box 758517, Topeka, KS 66675.

Frances D. Britt Mulligan, 90

FRANCES D.
BRITT MULLIGAN

A funeral Mass for Frances D. (Stefanik) Britt Mulligan, 90, of Quincy was held yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Britt Mulligan died Aug. 5.

Born in Uniontown, Pa., where she was raised and educated, she lived in Quincy since 1948 and worked as a waitress and hostess at various South Shore restaurants.

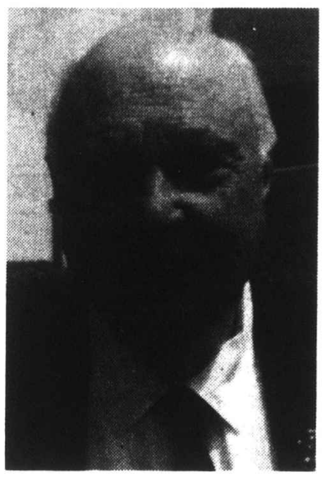
The beloved wife of Gerard P. Britt and the late John F. Mulligan, Jr., QPD Ret., she was the loving mother of Gerard D. Britt, MSP Ret., of Quincy, Thomas E. Britt of Quincy and Richard D. Britt of FL, dear grandmother of 10 and great-grandmother of nine.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the St. Joseph's Building Fund, 550 Washington St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Gordon E. Parry, 87



GORDON E. PARRY

Funeral services for Gordon E. Parry, 87, Lieutenant, Quincy Police Department, Retired, a lifelong resident of Quincy, were held Aug. 8 at Fort Square Presbyterian Church, 16 Pleasant St., Quincy.

Mr. Parry died peacefully Aug. 3 at his home, surrounded by his loving family.

Born, raised and educated in Quincy, he graduated from Quincy High School, Class of 1946, and Northeastern University.

Mr. Parry was a Lieutenant in the Quincy Police Department with 32 years of service. He retired in 1983. He was also the owner of Emerald Realty.

He served in the United States Navy during World War II. Mr. Parry was a lifelong and active member of the Fort Square Presbyterian Church of Quincy. He also belonged to the Cyril P. Morrisette American Legion Post #294 in Quincy.

He was an avid traveler and enjoyed his many trips to Walt Disney World in Florida during the winter and to Prince Edward Island, Canada during the summer.

Mr. Parry was dedicated to his family, especially to his cherished grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Beloved husband for 48 years to his bride Irene (Nicholson) Parry.

Devoted father of Melinda J. Downes of Florida, Bonnie L. Bertinelli and her husband Peter of Florida, Gordon E. Parry, Jr. of Boston, Deborah L. Meade and her husband John of Weymouth, Donna I. Guay and her husband Mark of Plymouth, Diane M. Bulman and her husband Paul of Braintree, Darlene C. Parry of Quincy and Dale K. Noun and her husband Paul of Braintree.

Loving grandfather of Kelly, Kate and Casey, Shane, Myka and Bron, Brianna, Patrick and Katelyn, Caleb, Kieleigh, Reagan and Shay, and Evan and Noah.

Loving great-grandfather of Cooper, Olivia, Grayson, Ashton, Marion, Kately and Melinda.

Dear brother of Audrey V. Borst of Stoughton, Richard Parry and his wife Marsha of Nebraska, Shirley MacLeod and her husband Earle of Quincy and Lorna Torressen of Braintree.

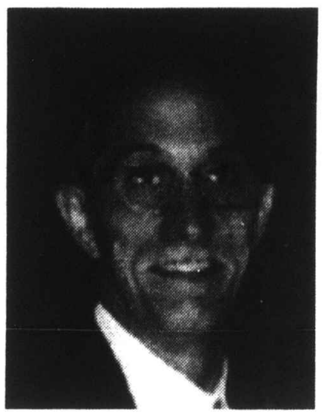
He was also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Interment with military honors was at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Fort Square Presbyterian Church, 16 Pleasant St., Quincy, MA 02169.

Michael E. Staiti, 67



MICHAEL E. STAITI

A funeral for Michael E. Staiti, 67, a longtime resident of Quincy, was held yesterday (Wednesday) in Hamel, Wickens & Troupe Funeral Home, 26 Adams St., Quincy.

Mr. Staiti died peacefully at his home surrounded by the love, care and comfort of his family on Aug. 7.

Beloved husband of Norma (Cardillo) Staiti of Quincy. Loving father of Michael R. Staiti and his wife Amanda of Abington and Scott Staiti and his fiancée Lauren Osborne, also of Abington. Cherished grandfather of Tyler, Carrington and Jackson Staiti. He also leaves behind his many siblings: Ethel Danna of Plymouth, Helen Munafo and her husband Ronald of Randolph, James Staiti and his wife Diane of GA, Ernest Staiti and his wife Kathleen of Brockton, Benedetta Healey of Weymouth, Maria Staiti and her fiancé Paul Picariello of Weymouth, Kathleen Staiti of Weymouth and Giovanna Staiti of SC. Also survived by many cousins, nieces, nephews and friends. He was predeceased in death by his parents Ernesto and Ethel Staiti and his sister Sarina Staiti.

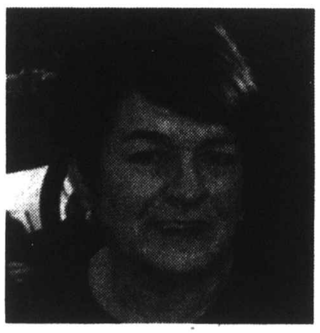
Mr. Staiti was born in Boston and raised in Roxbury and Dorchester. He joined the Army in 1966 and served in the Vietnam War. He was admired for his great work ethic, which he passed down to his two sons. He worked his entire life in retail, most recently being employed with BJ's Wholesale Club as a produce manager in Weymouth and Quincy for the past 20 years.

He enjoyed many things such as watching the Red Sox and New England Patriots and annually vacationing with Norma and many of their friends and family in Aruba, but most of all he loved his family, and was often referred to as everyone's rock.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the National Parkinson's Foundation, 200 SE 1st St., Suite 800, Miami, FL 33131.

Lynn M. Michaud



LYNN M. MICHAUD

A funeral Mass for Lynn M. (Cappola) Michaud of Weymouth, formerly of Braintree, will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 11:30 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Michaud died Aug. 9 in her home surrounded by her loving family.

Born in Quincy, she was a 1965 graduate of Quincy High School. She was a hairdresser for many years and was also a former real estate agent. Lynn enjoyed golfing, playing cards, reading, and gardening.

Mrs. Michaud always enjoyed being a special Nana to her grandkids and loved spending time with them. She will be dearly missed by all those who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Beloved wife of William P. "Bill" Michaud. Loving mother of Peter W. Michaud and his wife Carol of Whitman, and Michael J. Michaud and his wife Lisa of Holbrook. Daughter of Peggy (Holmes) Fitzgerald of FL and the late Gaetano Cappola. Sister of Debbie Cappola, Guy Cappola, and William Cappola and his wife Meena, all of FL, and Nancie O'Connell of West Bridgewater. Cherished Nana to Emily, Peter Jr., Carly, and Myah. Aunt of Richard King of FL, Christopher O'Connell of West Bridgewater and the late Melinda Jones.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) in McDonald Keohane Funeral Home, South Weymouth. Gathering at the funeral home at 10:15 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Norwell VNA and Hospice, 120 Longwater Dr., Norwell, MA 02061.

Rosalie M. Johnson, 77

Funeral services for Rosalie M. (Greeley) Johnson, 77, a longtime resident of Quincy, are private.

Mrs. Johnson died Aug. 7 at South Shore Hospital after a brief illness.

Born in Boston on March 3, 1938, a daughter of the late James and Rose (McKenna) Greeley, she was raised in Boston and was a graduate of the Boston Public Schools. A devoted mother, she worked as a live-in caretaker for the elderly for a number of years.

Mother of Carl G. Johnson of Easton, Merilyn Sandberg of OR, Bernadette Mooney of OR, Kevin Johnson of Quincy and the late Rosalie Ann Zella; also survived by her brother, David Greeley of Boston, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. She was the sister of the late Caroline, Nancy, Robert, James, and Arthur.

Arrangements by Kane Funeral Home & Cremation Services, Easton.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Cancer Society, 30 Speen St., Framingham, MA. 01701.

Please Recycle This Paper

Sheila M. Gustafson, 90

SHEILA M. GUSTAFSON

Graveside services for Sheila M. Gustafson, 90, of Weymouth will be held at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Mrs. Gustafson died Aug. 7.

She was a graduate of North Quincy High School and worked for many years for the Norfolk County TB and Health Associates, as well as serving as a receptionist for Park Street Church. Mrs. Gustafson was a longtime member of Park Street Church in Boston, where she met and married her beloved husband of 54 years, Wesley C. Gustafson, and became his "Princess."

Her family and her devotion to Jesus were everything to her. She will be dearly missed by all those who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Loving mother of Karen F. Lloyd and her husband Pat of TX, Carl L. Gustafson and his wife Cherri of IL and Erik W. Gustafson of Weymouth. Sister of the late Herbert Williams and the late Vivienne Riddell. Aunt of Jean Sigourney of Nahant. Cherished grandmother of Erica A. Kraft and her husband Sam, David W. Gustafson and Cara J. Gustafson.

A memorial service will be held at 11:30 a.m. today in South Shore Baptist Church, Hingham.

Arrangements by McDonald Keohane Funeral Home, Weymouth.

Memorial donations may be made to South Shore Baptist Church Missions Fund, 578 Main St., Hingham, MA 02043.

Francis J. Penison, 36

FRANCIS J. PENISON

A funeral Mass for Francis J. "Frankie" Penison, Jr., 36, of Quincy will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. in St. John the Baptist Church, Quincy.

Mr. Penison died Aug. 5 at his home.

He was born in Boston, raised and educated in Dorchester and Quincy schools. He graduated from Quincy High School, Class of 1996, and had lived most of his life in Quincy.

Mr. Penison was employed as an ironworker for many years and was a member of Iron Workers Union Local 7. He was devoted to his family and especially to his cherished daughter.

Devoted father of Isabella A. Penison and her mother Kaitlyn A. Ferrara. Beloved son of Francis J. "Duke" and Irene M. (Keough) Penison of Quincy. Loving brother of Joshua M. Penison of Quincy. Also survived by many aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Visiting hours were 5-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy. Funeral from the funeral home at 9 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice.

Eva Losiewicz

A private graveside service for Eva (Gacicia) Losiewicz, 94, of Quincy was held Aug. 6 at Mount Wollaston Cemetery.

Mrs. Losiewicz died July 29 at the John Adams Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Quincy.

She was the beloved wife of the late Henry Barsella and Chester Losiewicz.

Born in Quincy on April 30, 1921, she was the loving daughter of the late Peter and Anna (Rinella) Gacicia.

Mrs. Losiewicz was a graduate of Quincy High School and former owner of Fran-Marieve Hair Salon in Quincy for 35 years.

She was the loving mother of Stephanie Snow and her husband Tom of Braintree and Henry Barsella of Weymouth. Arrangements made by the Bolea-Buonfiglio Funeral Home, 116 Franklin St., Quincy.

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-044

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Boston Scientific Corporation for a Variance/Finding to seek relief from the required setback and that the alteration of the structure due to the subdivision is not substantially more detrimental in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1.1 (conformance) and Chapter 3.4.3 (alter nonconforming) on the premises numbered 500 COMMANDER SHEA BOULEVARD, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-045

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Welby Builders, LLC, Donald Gillespie, Manager, for a finding and dimensional variances to construct a five unit, three story residential development in the Residence B zoning district in violation of Title 17, Sections 4.1 (dimensional regulations) and 3.4 (nonconforming uses and structures).

The parcel of land is located at 113 Elm Street, and is shown as Lot 20 on Assessors' plan no. 2036

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-046

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Oranmore Enterprises, LLC for a Variance/Finding to construct a new four story, 18-unit residential building in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming structures) and Chapter 4.1.1 (conformance) on the premises numbered 143 & 147 NEWBURY AVENUE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-047

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Douglas Okun for a Variance to except the existing nonconforming conditions and the new construction attaching to the existing nonconforming building to enclose egress stairs in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.1.1 (conformance) on the premises numbered 29 PACKARDS LANE, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com TF

FOR SALE

ABOVE GROUND
ESTHER WILLIAMS
OVAL, EXTRUDED ALUMINUM POOL
WITH DECK AND NEW LINER.
IN GREAT CONDITION
617-773-0679
8/13

BIANCHI JULIETTE STYLE LACE
CAPPED WITH TULLE FINGERTIP
LENGTH WEDDING VEIL
$60.00/NEGOTIABLE
508-572-8209
8/13

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-048

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 25, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Chris Gundersen for a Variance/Finding to remove deteriorating garage and construct a new attached garage with a game room above in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) and Chapter 3.4.3 (nonconforming use) on the premises numbered 16 RODMAN STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/6/15, 8/13/15

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE
PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO15P1391EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Michael A. King
Also Known As:
Michael King
Date of Death:
March 28, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of Petitioner Judith Condon of Quincy, MA. Judith Condon of Quincy, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

8/13/15

We need
you.

WE'RE FIGHTING
FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association
Learn and Live

8/13

LEGAL NOTICE

INFORMAL PROBATE
PUBLICATION NOTICE
Docket No: NO15P1638EA
Commonwealth of
Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Division
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Estate of:
Demetrios Athanasios
Maninos
Also Known As:
Jimmy Maninos
Date of Death:
May 13, 2015

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, by Petition of Petitioner Eva Maninos of Braintree, MA. Eva Maninos of Braintree, MA has been informally appointed as the Personal Representative of the estate to serve Without Surety on the bond.

The estate is being administered under informal procedure by the Personal Representative under the Massachuetts Uniform Probate Code without supervision by the Court. Inventory and accounts are not required to be filed with the Court, but interested parties are entitled to notice regarding the administration from the Personal Representative and can petition the Court in any matter relating to the estate, including distribution of assets and expenses of administration. Interested parties are entitled to petition the Court to institute formal proceedings and to obtain orders terminating or restricting the powers of Personal Representatives appointed under informal procedure. A copy of the Petition and Will, if any, can be obtained from the Petitioner.

8/13/15

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642
8/20

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE
LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings TF

PERSONAL

Prayer to St. Theresa

Oh Glorious St. Theresa
Whom almighty God has raised up to aid and counsel mankind. I invite your miraculous intercession. So powerful are you obtaining every need of body and soul, our Holy Mother Church proclaims you a "Prodigy of Miracles." Now fervently I beseech you to answer my petition (mention here) and carry out your promise of doing good upon earth of letting fall from heaven a shower of roses. Henceforth, Dear little flower, I will fulfill your plea to be made known everywhere and I will never cease to lead others to Jesus through you. Amen

(Say prayer everyday for 9 days. By 4th day, ask for a sign. If prayers are to be answered between 4th and 9th day, you will see a rose in a Magazine, TV picture or receive Roses. You can also get strong scent of roses in home even if no roses are present. Must promise publication. Thank you.) M.A.
8/13

Thank you,
St. Jude
M.V.G.
8/13

REPORT
POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

PERSONAL

Happy Birthday
Candi!
Love, Mom, Dad,
Tracee & Abigail
8/13

Prayer to The Blessed Virgin
(Never Known to Fail)

O, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendour of Heaven. Blessed mother of the son of God, Immaculate Virgin assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech thee from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Thank you for your mercy to me and mine. Amen. This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted. The prayer must be published. P.O.'D.
8/13

IN MEMORY OF SCOTT WHITNEY
10/4/61-8/13/86
TO THOSE WHO HAVE A SON -
TREASURE HIM WITH CARE -
WE LOVE YOU AND MISS YOU
MA - DUKE - JOAN
8/13

Hey Mom -
91 Years Coming Up -
Love You -
Paula Diane
8/13

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER

56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call
ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE CATS

TRUMAN: 9, male, buff.
LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
PRINCESS: 4, female, black & white.
KITTY: 5, female, gray & white.
COOKIE & CHARLIE: 7 & 5, males.
BAABAA: 6, male, black.
BELLA & BABY GIRL: 8, females.
PADDY: 4, male, black.
LC: 5, female, gray tabby.
TEXEY: 2, male, black & white.
MAYNARD: 8, female, black.
LOUIE: 1, male, gray & white.
SAL: 4, male, black & white.
SCAMP & SUMO: males, 5 mos., tabby.

CLASSIFIEDS

MISCELLANEOUS

HELP WANTED

NOW HIRING
Work and Travel
6 Openings Now $20+Per HOUR
Full-time Travel, Paid Training,
Transportation Provided, Ages 18+
BBB accredited apply online www.needajob1.com
Call toll-free 1-866-751-9114

LAND

CANADA'S EAST COAST-P.E.I.'S fastest growing year round FAMILY beachfront community with 19 Homes Completed. offering reduced 2015 Lot pricing starting at $39,000. TOLL-FREE 1-866-636-7155. www.sunsetdunespei.com

LAND FOR SALE

SO.MAINE LAKEFRONT. 13+ Acres with over 372' Waterfront. This prime lakefront parcel is situated on 13+ acres and has over 372' frontage on one of Maine's premier lakes. Only 3 hrs from Boston. New to the market. Gorgeous views with lots of privacy. New survey. Only $399,900. L&S Realty @ 207-846-3294

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

WANT TO BUY

CASH FOR DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Up to $35/Box! Sealed & Unexpired. Payment Made SAME DAY. Highest Prices Paid!! Call Jenni Today! 800-413-3479 www.CashForYourTest-Strips.com

SERVICES

SERVICES

IMAGE LANDSCAPING

We are committed to your property

We clean IT
Trim IT
Remove IT

QUALITY WORKMANSHIP
617-471-0044 11/26
FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE

- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates

CLEAN-UPS

617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES 11/26

FORMICA BRAND CENTER

Countertops
Kitchens
Residential & Commercial
Granite Countertops

C K M CABINETS

Custom Cabinets
Cabinet Refacing
STEVE & CHARLES MIKAITIS
Licensed & Insured

Quincy, MA 02169
Call: 617-471-6805
Fax: 617-479-4233
mikaitis@yahoo.com 8/13

Landscape, Construction & Masonry

- Patios
- Walkways
- Retaining Walls
- Front Stairs
- Drainage Solutions
- Excavating/Demolition
- Plantings
- Seed/Sod Lawn Installation

C.McGue Landscape
617-778-8775
www.cmcguelandscape.com 10/29

BOOTS ON THE GROUND MOVING CO.

-NO MOVE IS TOO BIG OR TOO SMALL-

- IN-TOWN MOVES
- OUT OF TOWN MOVES
-IN HOUSE SERVICE
- JUNK REMOVAL
- FREE ESTIMATES
- FULLY INSURED 8/20

Quincy, MA (781)366-0255
BOGMOVING@gmail.com
Facebook.com/BootsOnTheGroundMoving

Come and join
101 Health & Fitness
for quality strength training and conditioning. Also try our Ju-Jitsu and Boxing programs.
1452 Hancock St., Quincy MA 02169
617-328-2000 8/20

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

After School Staff Tutors/Teachers

SEPTEMBER OPENINGS IN NORTH QUINCY

If you're a good kid wrangler with a flair for teaching and tutoring, we have rewarding work for you.

- Local program seeking a part-time people afternoons to help school-age children in a classroom setting with homework, math and reading in our afternoon classes.
- Prefer someone to work 18-20 hours per week, 2:30-5:30 pm MWThF and 12-5:30 pm Tuesdays. Would consider fewer hours.
- Some experience with school age children required; experience with foreign language students is helpful but not necessary.
- Pay from $10 to $14 per hour depending on experience.
- Must be high school graduate.
- All applicants must undergo a background check and meet other requirements.

Typical applicants might be college students, retired teachers, etc., but we are open to any responsible, caring people who love children.

Located near subway.
Please email with specifics about your background, send your resume if you have one to:
ivyschoolquincy@gmail.com

8/20

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING

Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

T & M Landscape Co.

- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~ 9/3

McGue EXCAVATING

- Sewer Line Repair/Installation
- Water Line Repair/Installation
- Additions & Foundations
- Drainage Solutions
- House/Garage Demolition
- Stump Removal 10/29

617-872-8779
Bonded - Fully Insured - Licensed

SERVICES

SAVE

Budget Fuel

Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References 10/1

J.F. ROOFING CO.

QUINCY, MA

- Shingles
- Rubber
- Slate
- Copper
- Vinyl Replacement Windows

(617)471-8216 12/31

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE
Average Room - walls $150 Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out. Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479 9/24

SERVICES

HTA

Hancock T.V. & Appliance

Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD

PLUMBING, HEATING & AC

Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255 10/29

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
☐ Services
☐ For Sale
☐ Autos
☐ Boats
☐ For Rent
☐ Wanted
☐ Help Wanted
☐ Work Wanted
☐ Pets
☐ Lost & Found
☐ Real Estate
☐ Antiques
☐ Flea Markets
☐ Yard Sales
☐ Instruction
☐ Day Care
☐ Personal
☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

☐ Enclosed is $ ___________ for the following ad to run ___________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________
____
____
____
____
____
____
____
____

Hundreds Celebrate The Life Of Teacher Emily Zarnoch

FAMILY OF EMILY Zarnoch - her mother, Gwen, brother Kyle and father John - hold a family photo taken at Emily's graduation from Framingham State University in 2014. The 2009 graduate of North Quincy High School earned a bachelor of arts degree in English with a concentration in Secondary Education. The 24-year-old lifelong Quincy resident was set to begin teaching full-time as a 7th grade reading instructor – her "dream job" – at Central Middle School next month.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Cont'd From Page 17

ily could be a little stubborn but in an amusing way.

"If there were red flags (no swimming) posted at the beach, she'd say 'no problem – less people.'"

Or how she had plans to settle in Quincy and buy a home here. "Steve (her boyfriend) doesn't know it yet but he's going to be living in Quincy," her mother said quoting Emily. That comment also brought cheers and applause inside the auditorium.

Emily's boyfriend, Stephen Cortez later spoke and said, "She will always be the driving force in my life. I know she is still with me. I can't thank her enough for having that kind of impact on my life."

Central School Principal Rick DeCristofaro said Emily was passionate about teaching. She arrived early on every school day, ready to take on any assignment.

That dedication, DeCristofaro said, stretched far beyond the classroom.

"She showed her dedication not just by teaching in the classroom but also attending the students' after-school activities. She was simply a student magnet.

"As we begin plans for our new school year, we will always hold a special place in our hearts for Emily."

Emily's friends sang her praises showering her with accolades for her devotion and zest for life.

One said, "Every person who is here has a part of Emily with them. Her beauty and smile could capture everyone's attention walking into a room and if you didn't see her beauty or smile you would certainly notice her laughter."

Another friend, Angela Baglione, met Emily when they were just two years old. "Emily was my first and very best friend. She is the best person I've ever known. She was able to relate to anyone at any age at any time.

"She had room in her heart for every friend and made it abundantly clear. We've been friends for so long, I don't have any memories before her, and I never thought I'd have to prepare for life without her.

"I'll always remember her smile, her laugh, her blue eyes and living life with great enthusiasm."

Another friend, Mary Schwartz, said Emily touched every person she met.

"Everything she did she did 110 percent. She loved her students. I hope all of you will always remember her."

School Committeewoman Barbara Isola and her husband, Tim, are close friends of the Zarnoch family. "Emily was blessed to have such wonderful and loving parents. We are truly privileged to have been a part of her life."

Geoff Hennessy, the head track and cross country coach at the high schools and director of the Quincy Track Club, looked back at when Emily joined the club with her brother Kyle.

"Emily was 10 years old. I just remember her as a little blonde girl with glasses. As you know, we have many kids in the club, it's huge. The next time I saw Emily she was trying wrestling in the middle school program.

"That may tip you off as to the kind of girl she was. Not afraid of anything."

In high school, Hennessy said Emily became a member of the staff of the Quincy Track Club. "One day she engaged the children in a game of duck duck goose. Someone questioned why she would do that. Shouldn't she be teaching track events?

"Her answer was that the kids suggested it and involved running and it was one of her favorites. I never questioned her again," he said as a chorus of laughter erupted.

Emily, said Hennessy, connected with everyone. In high school, Emily made it to the states every year in cross country. "She always did her best and always cheered on the others. We had a group of young people who enjoyed each other's company and made practices enjoyable."

Hennessy also relayed a funny story about Emily and pole vaulting. She was recently certified as an instructor after attending a pole vaulting clinic at Tufts University.

"It was our dream that she would begin teaching and coaching pole vaulting to high schoolers from both high schools with our new pole vault complex. When I texted her about how the new track would have a pole vault complex, her answer was 'I must master it.'"

That exchange drew even more laughter.

In a serious vein, Hennessy also likened Emily's spirit to a flame.

"Emily always brought light to any situation. A candle knows nothing but to burn as bright as it can. Emily was like that. A candle's flame can be shared, spreading to other candles.

"Emily was like that, too. We have a little of Emily's flame in all of us. We must now share that with others.

"Darkness hates light. Spread the light. Chase away the darkness, as Emily would want."

The moving tribute to Emily concluded with a slide-show presentation and moment of reflection. Photos of Emily were selected by Emily's brother, Kyle. Regardless of the scene or setting – skiing, at the beach, Halloween, or her graduation from FSU and many others – there was one constant: Emily Zarnoch is smiling.

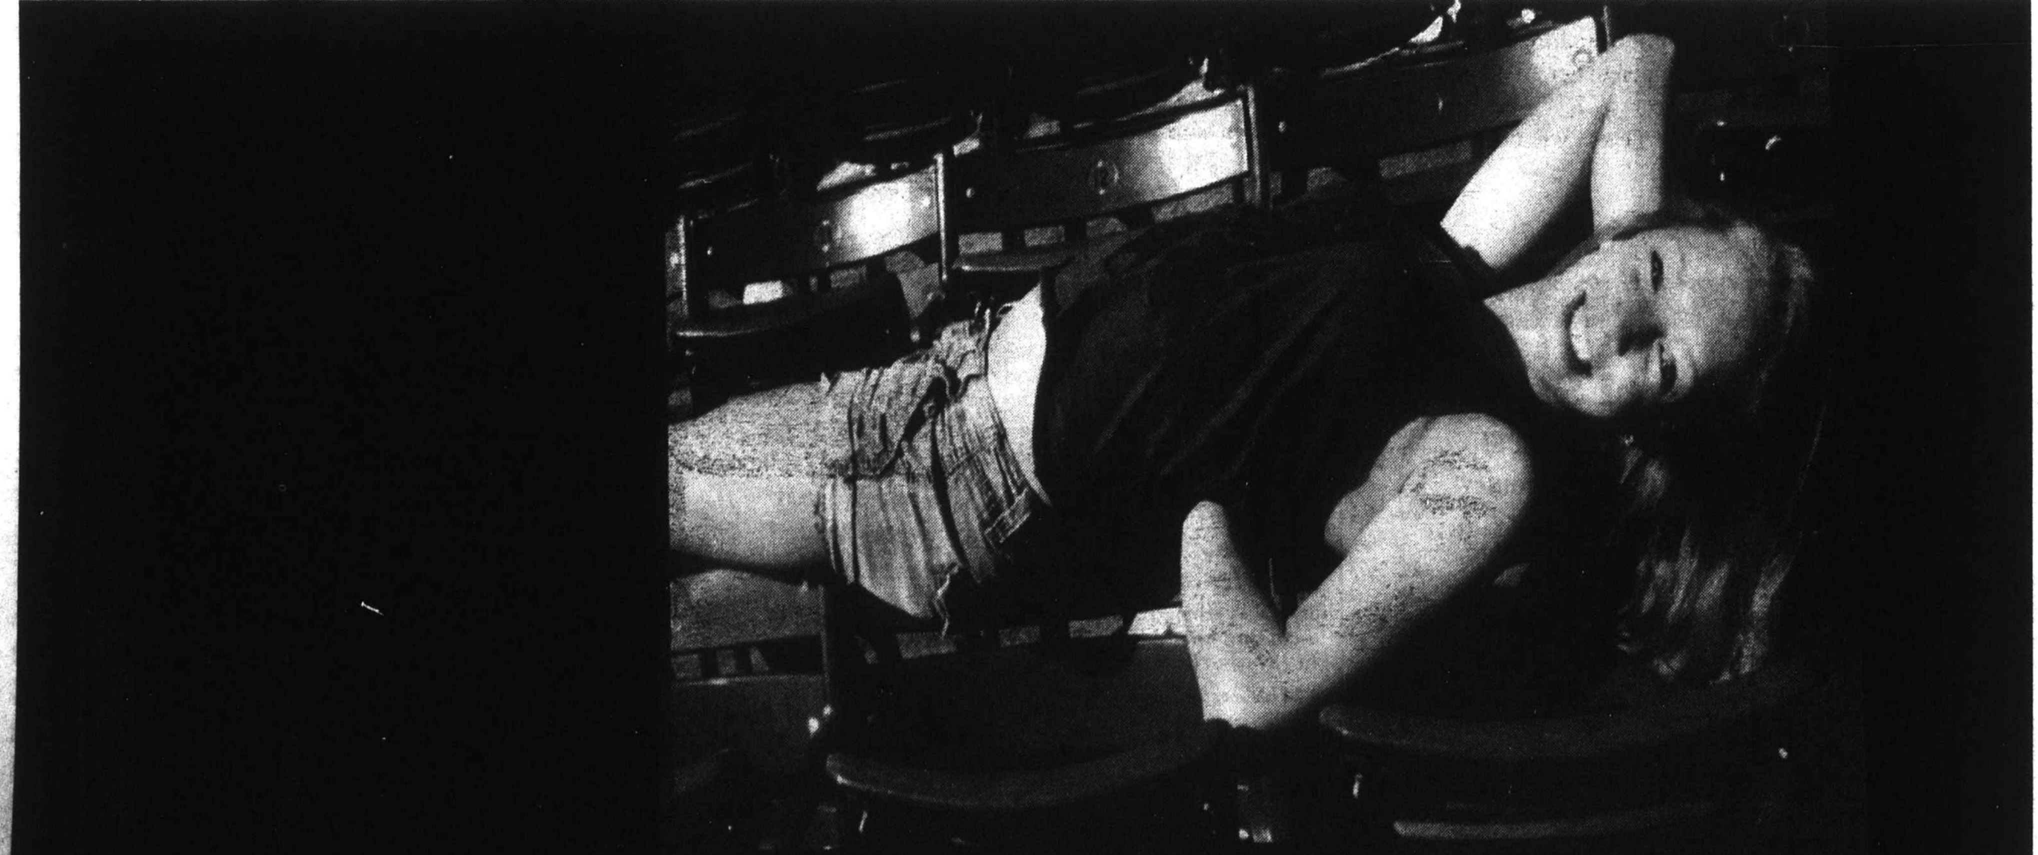
That is how everyone she touched will remember her.

Scholarship Fund Established In Memory Of Emily Zarnoch

The family of Emily Zarnoch has set up a scholarship fund in her memory.

Donations may be made to the Emily Zarnoch Scholarship Fund, C/O Colonial Federal Savings Bank, 15 Beach St. Quincy, MA 02170.

The fund will help local high school students further their education.



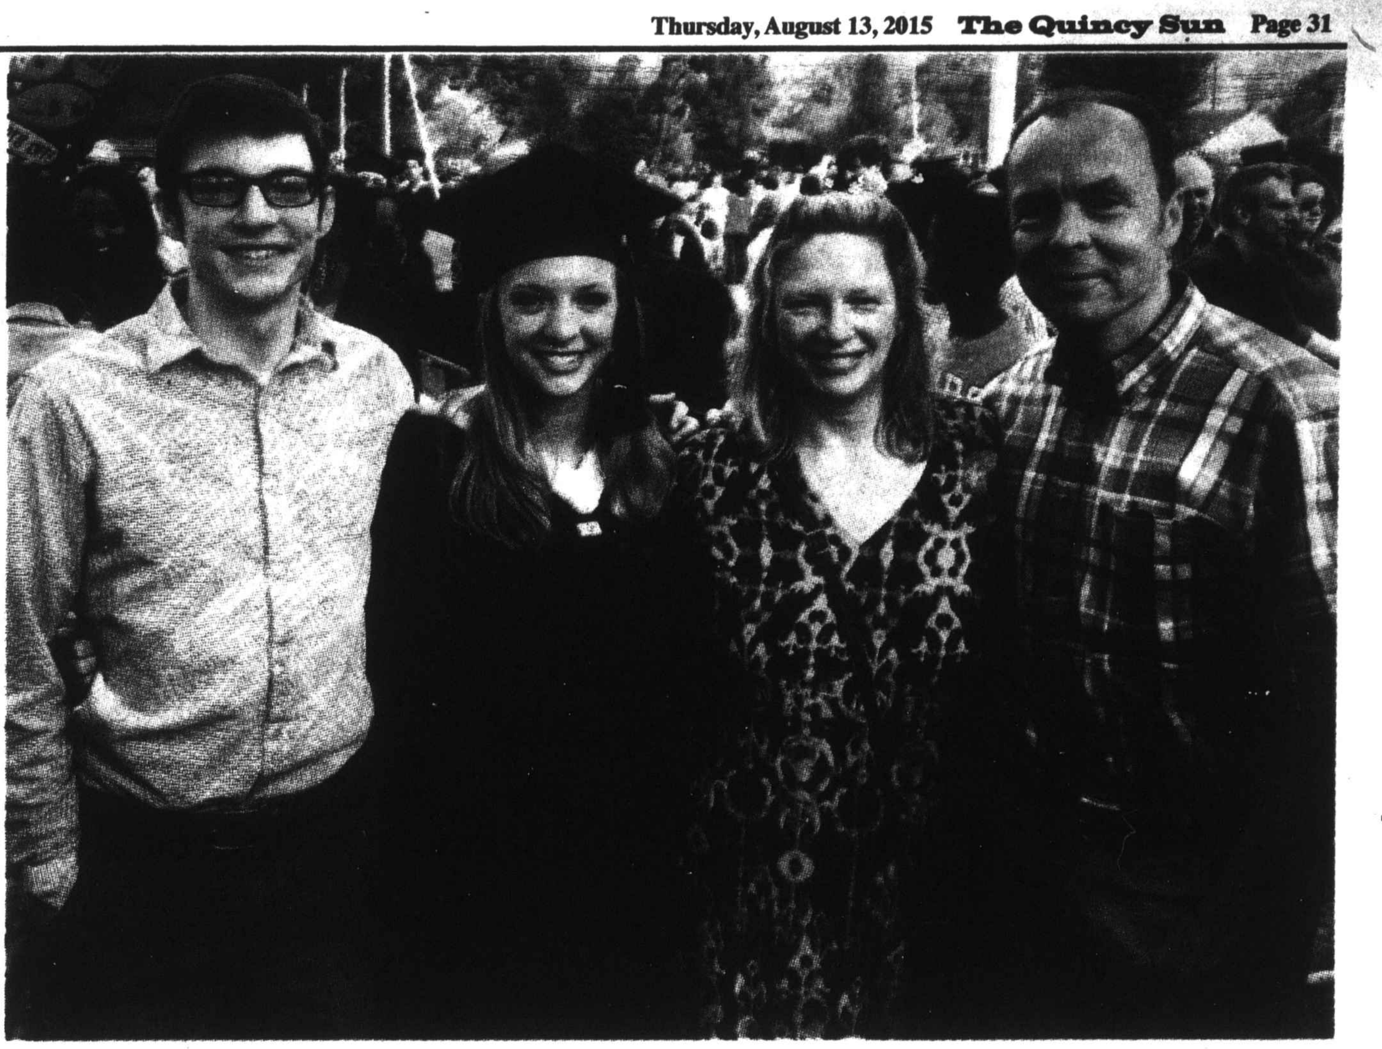
SLIDE SHOW and moment of reflection in memory of Emily Zarnoch at her funeral service Monday featured an array of photos of the young Quincy School teacher known for her positive and happy attitude. The final photo showed a relaxed and smiling Emily – a loyal fan of the Boston Red Sox – stretched out on some seats at Fenway Park.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Remembering Emily

Cont'd From Page 4

BEFORE BECOMING a Quincy school teacher, Emily Zarnoch was a certified swim instructor and lifeguard for the Quincy Recreation Department for a number of years.



A PROUD DAY – Emily Zarnoch graduated from Framingham State University in 2014 with a B.A. in English with a concentration in Secondary Education. Sharing in her milestone (from left) are her brother, Kyle, mother Gwen and father John. Emily realized her dream job of becoming a Quincy school teacher last year working as a substitute at Central Middle School. She was set to begin teaching full-time at the school next month.

Photo Courtesy Zarnoch family

Away from school, Emily enjoyed traveling and had recently spent some time in New York with her boyfriend. She wanted to someday visit relatives in England and to go to Paris.

Last April, Emily and boyfriend Stephen Cortez along with her parents drove to Myrtle Beach during school vacation week. They also stopped in Washington, D.C. to visit some of the monuments including the Lincoln, Jefferson and World War II Memorials.

"We had a great trip. We had a lot of fun. Looking back now it was especially important that we did that," John says.

Emily and her boyfriend also took in a Washington Capitals playoff game one evening. "That's Emily. She always had something going on. If there was some down time she'd find a way to fill it," Gwen said.

In her all-too-brief teaching career, Emily certainly made an impression on her students. One summer she got a job teaching English as a Second Language through her mother, a teacher at the English Language Center in Boston. The students are mostly young 20-year-olds who are trying to improve their English proficiency so they can attend college here.

Those lessons also showed Emily's vibrant and humorous side.

"She would teach them things about Boston because they chose Boston over Chicago and LA," Gwen remembers. "Emily taught them about baseball and the Red Sox. How to order a beer at a bar, and don't forget to tip your bartender. They loved her because she was the All-American girl.

"Emily also taught them slang and how to talk with a Boston accent," John adds as he and his wife break into some light laughter. "They would have a lot of fun with her. She also played soccer with them even though she wasn't that good.

"She was fun and full of life," says Gwen. "She was always enjoying herself and smiling."

The Zarnochs hope the tragic circumstances surrounding Emily's passing will serve as a lesson for young adults about the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

"Emily was a big advocate or not driving while intoxicated," John says. "If she knew she would be going out for drinks with friends she always planned for it. She knew she could call home anytime she wanted with no questions asked. Or she'd insist on taking taxis, the T, walking or even Uber to get home.

"So many of her friends have said they can't believe this tragedy happened because Emily was so careful about it and that this would happen to her, of all people," Gwen said.

"This is what can happen when people drink and drive and you can prevent that. That's the sad part of all of this. Knowing she was so anti drunk-driving that she would be claimed by someone who was drunk driving," John added.

Emily knew first-hand the dangers of drunk-driving. During her junior year at Framingham State University, one her classmates was operating under the influence and rammed her car into a tree just outside Emily's apartment on Route 9. Emily was the first or second person to arrive on the scene.

The classmate was killed. Two other passengers were severely injured.

"That was pretty much when she swore off drinking and driving," Gwen said.

The Zarnochs have established a scholarship fund in Emily's memory. The money will help local high school students continue their education. To contribute, send a donation to Emily Zarnoch Scholarship Fund, C/O Colonial Federal Savings Bank, 15 Beach St., Quincy, MA 02170.

Emily's parents also hope that their daughter can be viewed as a role model for some young students here in Quincy.

"I hope they look at her as a bit of a role model and some of the things that she felt strongly about," John says. "There are a lot of things about Emily that were wonderful. She was such a caring person. She was an educator. She went out of her way to befriend people and make them feel comfortable

"She was social and engaging. She was willing to try and do almost anything."

The backyard is small behind the Zarnoch family home. You can almost feel Emily's presence and imagine a young girl playing on the green grass.

Colorful flowers like blue hydrangeas and yellow Black-Eyed Susans growing on the side of the house sway in a gentle breeze.

Emily's parents are asked if there is anything they want to emphasize about their daughter's life.

"Emily was a good kid, not a selfish kid," John says. "She was working towards a fabulous career – working to help kids. I can't think of a better way for her to have lived her life.

"We're just so sorry that we can't see her progress and where she would have taken that.

"We had 24 great years and we're sad we don't get to see the next chapters in her life. We are very proud of who and what she was in her 24 years here.

"And I hope she inspired some other young kids to do some great things."

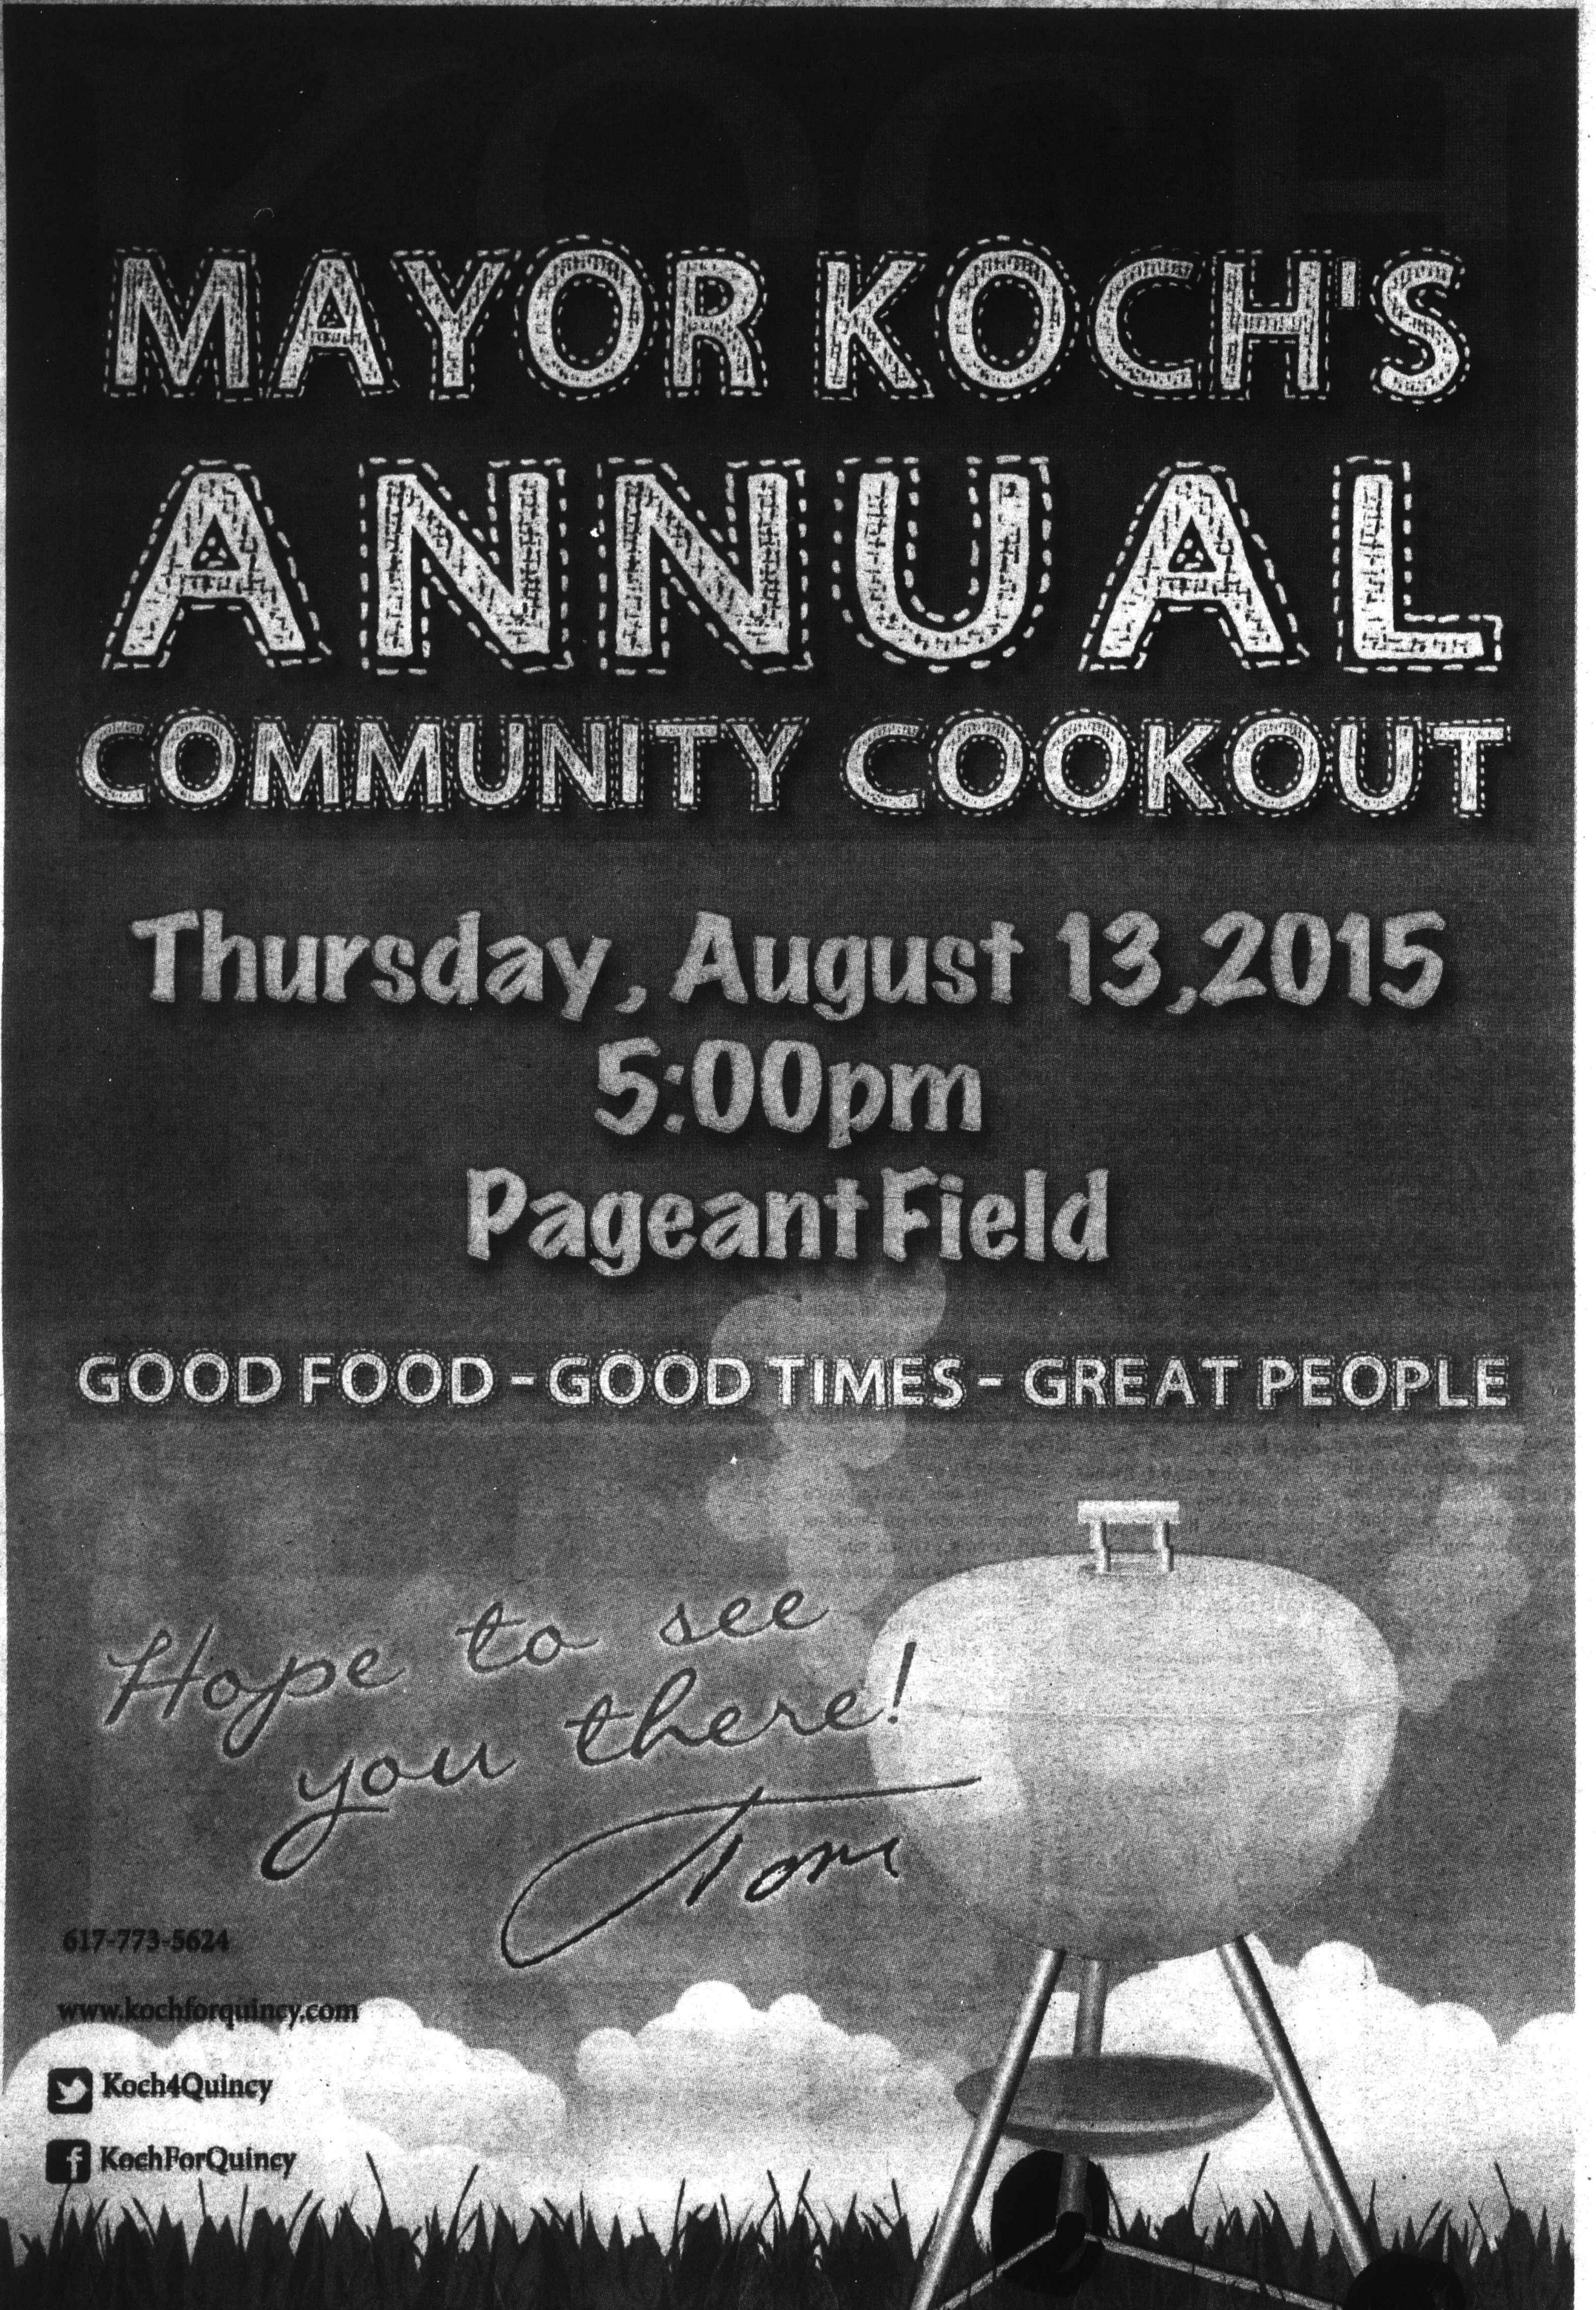
BESIDES TEACHING, family was also important to Emily. In April, Emily and her boyfriend, Stephen Cortez, and her parents John and Gwen vacationed at Myrtle Beach and also stopped in Washington, D.C. to view some of the monuments, including the Jefferson Memorial (background.

Photo Courtesy Zarnoch family

EMILY ALSO POSSESSED a playful passion for life. Here she hugs the statue of Al Simone, former president of Rochester Institute of Technology, on the RIT campus in Rochester, NY. Emily's brother, Kyle, graduated from the school this spring.

Photo Courtesy Zarnoch family

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT



MAYOR KOCH'S ANNUAL COMMUNITY COOKOUT

Thursday, August 13, 2015
5:00pm
Pageant Field

GOOD FOOD - GOOD TIMES - GREAT PEOPLE

Hope to see you there!

Tom

617-773-5624

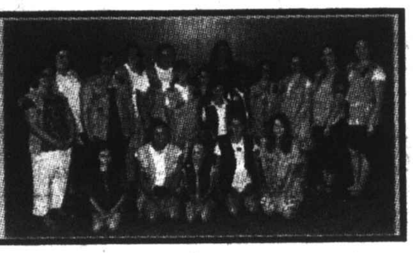
www.kochforquincy.com

Koch4Quincy

KochForQuincy

MUSIC - GAMES - MOONWALK FOR THE KIDS

Solar Panel Program Deadline Extended
- Page 2 -
State Treasurer Visits Quincy Girl Scouts
- Page 16



2
CAR-RT LOT*04
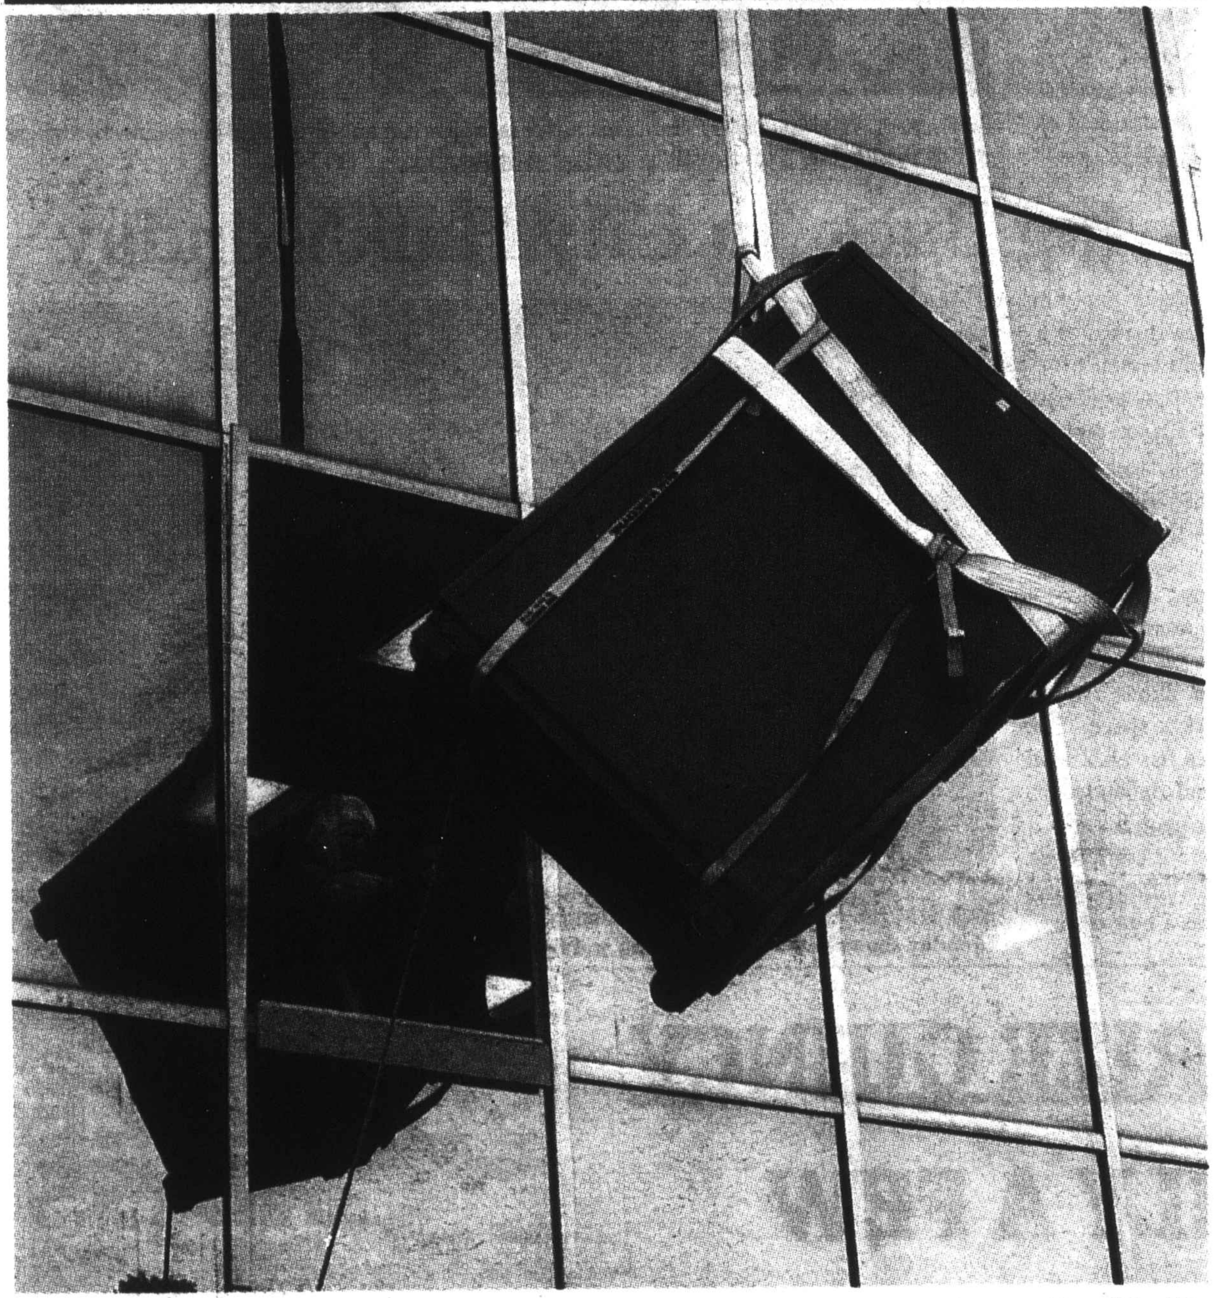
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

The Quincy Sun
Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968
VOL. 47 No. 48 Thursday, August 20, 2015 75¢



SAFE AT SECOND – Workers using a large crane lift and guide a 4,500-pound safe into the new office of the City Clerk through a second-story window at the glass annex building of City Hall, 1305 Hancock St., Tuesday morning. The clerk's office safe is used to store daily receipts, election results and old city records. The City Clerk's office is moving from its current location at 1259 Hancock St. (first floor of the Monroe Building) to the second floor of the City Hall glass building as of Monday. Other photos on Page 18. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Clerk's Office Moving Back To City Hall Monday

By SCOTT JACKSON

Four years after being forced out of Old City Hall because of concerns over the building's integrity, City Clerk Joseph Shea is preparing his staff to move into newly created office space in the City Hall annex and expects to be finished with the move by the end of the weekend.

The city clerk's office was relocated in 2011 to leased space in the Monroe Building across McIntyre Hall from the City Hall complex after inspections revealed numerous problems inside Old City Hall.

Starting Friday, Shea and the nine employees who report to him will begin moving into new space in the all-glass annex building that sits behind the historic Old City Hall. The clerk's safe was moved into the annex Tuesday morning and other items will be moved later this week. The move should be completed by the start of business on Monday, Aug. 24.

"We expect to be open Mon-

Cont'd On Page 2

Mayoral Contenders Clash On Taxes, Development

By SCOTT JACKSON

Questions regarding property taxes and new development in the city took center stage at the first public event featuring all four candidates vying to serve as Quincy's chief executive in this fall's municipal election.

Incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch and the three challengers aiming to unseat him – Councillor Doug Gutro, School Committee member Anne Mahoney and former Mayor William Phelan – appeared at a candidates night Aug. 11 at the Best Western Adams Inn hosted by the Quincy Republican City Committee, with a crowd of more than 100 in attendance. Each candidate was allowed a one-minute opening statement, 30-second responses to two questions posed to each candidate, and a two-minute closing statement. Christine Cedrone, chairman of the GOP committee, served as moderator.

The three challengers criticized Koch's administration and argued the city needs a new leader, while the incumbent touted investments in infrastructure and new schools

Cont'd On Page 12

Residents Urged To Sign Up For New 'Smart 911' Program

Mayor Thomas Koch announces registration is open for the innovative new "Smart 911" service by Brewster Ambulance that will provide first-responders valuable and time-saving information when responding to emergency calls.

"Smart 911" is part of the City's new EMS contract with Brewster Ambulance, and allows residents to create a free and secure personal profile listing medical conditions, home characteristics and even if there are pets inside a home. Registered profiles will automatically appear for 911 dispatchers, providing critical information to firefighters, paramedics and police in an emergency.

"This is a great innovative resource for our first responders and a great tool for our residents. In an emergency, the more information our first responders have the better equipped they'll be to make those split-second decisions that matter so much in an emergency," said Mayor Koch, who signed the new contract with Brewster Ambulance in June.

Residents can visit www.smart911.com to create a profile.

Brewster was the first EMS

Cont'd On Page 11

Police Self Defense Program Sept. 14, 15

Quincy Police Self Defense Program will be offered Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 14 and 15 from 5:45 to 8 p.m. at Merrymount Park (area of the water fountain and World War II statue).

Rain date is Wednesday, Sept. 16. The free program is open to females 18 and over; 16 with a parent/guardian. Attendance is required both nights because this is a progressive learning program.

There is no exam and no one is required to do anything that they do not feel comfortable with. The first night involves learning strikes, blocks and blows and the second night provides an opportunity to test your skills against an "attacker."

To sign up or for more information, contact Police Lt. Dan Minton at 617-745-5719 or at dminton@quincyma.gov.

Candidates Bow From School, Ward 5 Races - Page 3
Police Receive Naloxone Injector Devices - Page 11
Thousands Celebrate August Moon - Pages 18, 31

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

GREAT BLUE HERON takes flight at Black's Creek on a recent summer day. Photo Courtesy Karen Walker

Solarize Panels Appearing On Rooftops

Local Nonprofit To Benefit

Quincy roofs have been sprouting solar arrays since early June thanks to Solarize Quincy, a state- and city-sponsored program that provides discounted solar panels for city residents and business owners.

The nine solar panels at the Furnace Brook Parkway colonial owned by Donald Shaw were installed in early June and are already generating power. "They're working great," Shaw said. "I ex-

Cont'd On Page 13

SOLAR FLAIR, Solarize Quincy's exclusive installer, will have installed 11 systems by the end of this month, and a total of 30 by the end of September.

City Clerk's Office Moving Back To City Hall Monday

Cont'd From Page 1

day morning at 8:30," Shea said.

The clerk's office will remain open for business at the Monroe Building through the end of the business day Friday at 4:30 p.m., Shea added.

The new space for the clerk's office is located on the second floor of the annex. The new office stretches from the front to the back of the building's northern half. The conference room used as a temporary City Council chamber for the past four years and the space previously occupied by the Municipal Finance Department have both been subsumed into the new clerk's office.

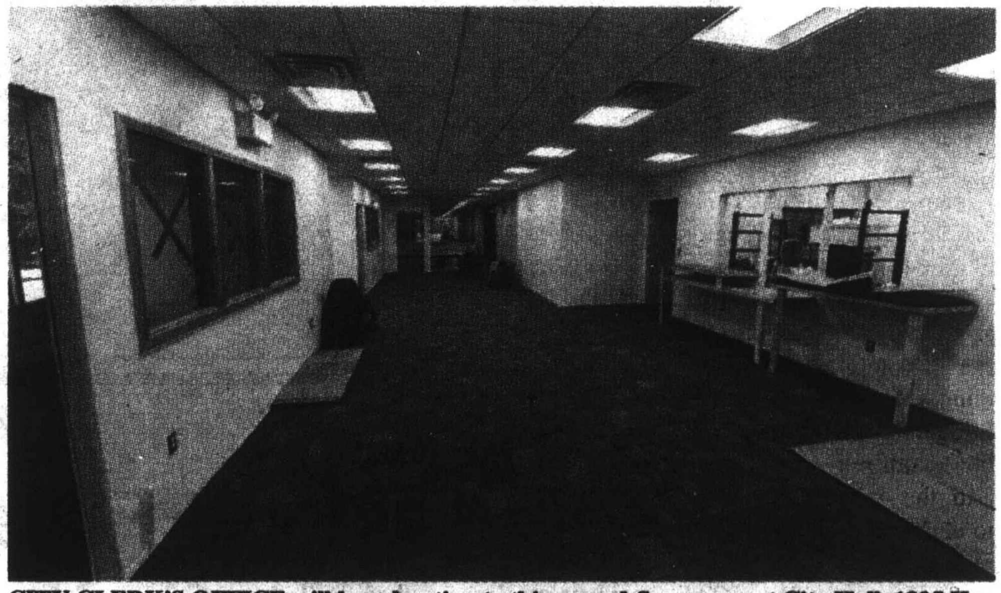
The Elections Department, which also falls under the clerk's purview, is located on the opposite side of the hallway that divides the second floor of the annex. That space was previously used by the IT Department.

The Municipal Finance Department relocated to the third floor of the annex earlier this summer. The IT Department moved to the Coddington Building a year ago.

The new clerk's office in the annex includes a waiting area for residents applying for various certificates or licenses and individual offices for Shea, Assistant City Clerk Nicole Crispo and the License Board.

"It looks exciting," Shea said. "I think they've done a good job."

Purchasing Department and City Council office will both remain on the second floor of the annex, opposite the clerk's space. The council office has also been renovated and expanded as part of the project; the office will now have a conference room and Auditor Susan O'Connor has a new office.



CITY CLERK'S OFFICE will be relocating to this second-floor space at City Hall, 1305 Hancock St., glass annex building, as of Monday. The office is nearing completion. This photo taken Monday shows new walls, carpeting and light fuxtures.

SOLARIZE QUINCY

Limited Time Only!

ONLY A FEW WEEKS LEFT!

SOLARIZE MASS
QUINCY

solarflair
CLEAN ENERGY SOLUTIONS

You have until August 31st to take advantage of Solarize Quincy's lowest pricing. If you have a proposal, sign up today!

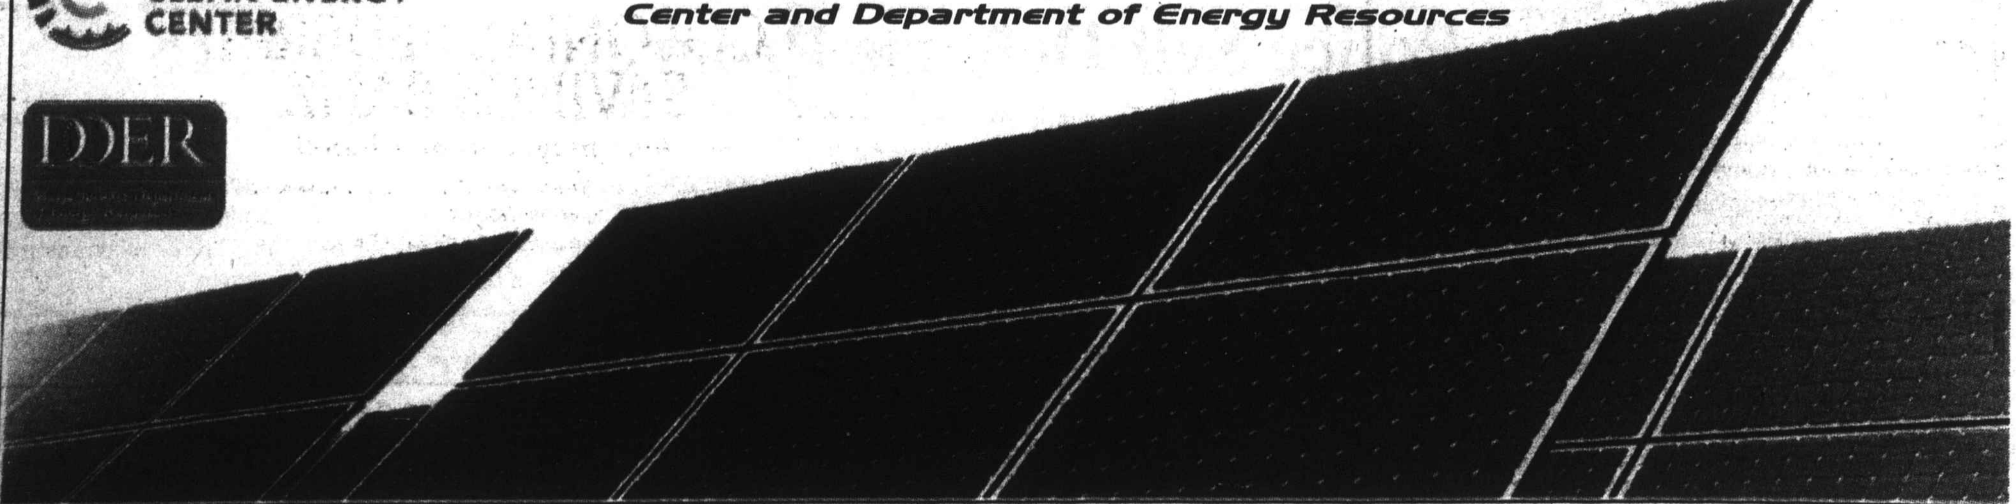
Solarizequincy.weebly.com

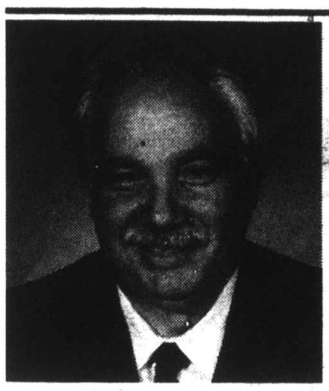
Solarizequincy@solarflair.com or 508-808-0350

MASSACHUSETTS CLEAN ENERGY CENTER

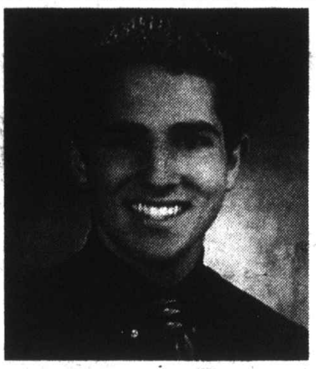
Solarize Quincy is an initiative of the MA Clean Energy Center and Department of Energy Resources

DOER





FRANK SANTORO



JAMES DeAMICIS

Santoro Bows Out Of School Race; DeAmicis Seen Youngest Elected

Decision Leaves Three Official Candidates For Three Seats

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Veteran educator Frank Santoro – who had filed nomination papers to seek one of the three school committee seats in this fall's municipal election – bowed out of the race last Friday citing personal reasons.

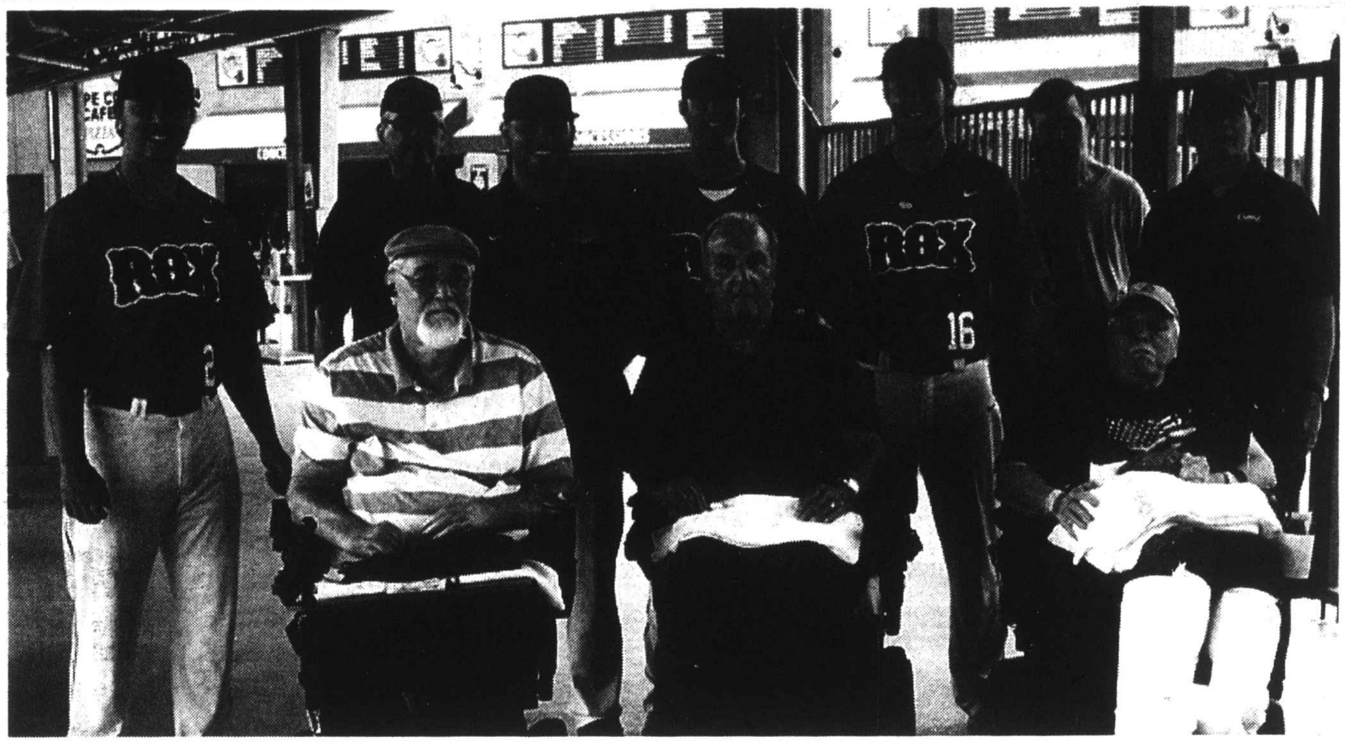
"At this time running (for school committee) is something I don't want to do. It's for personal reasons – but not health related," Santoro told the Sun. He declined to elaborate on his personal reasons.

Santoro notified City Clerk Joseph Shea that he was withdrawing from the race. The retired Quincy High School and Central Middle School principal – who served two terms on the Quincy School Committee in the 1980s during a 42-year career in education – contacted the clerk and later submitted an email in writing declaring his withdrawal from the race.

Last Friday – Aug. 14 - was the last day candidates could notify the clerk of withdrawing from any race and not have their name listed on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Santoro's decision to withdraw means only three candidates will be listed on the ballot for the three school seats. It also means that – minus a successful write-in campaign by someone not on the ballot – a 2015 graduate of QHS will become the youngest elected city office

Cont'd On Page 4



DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS, Chapter #79, of Quincy recently treated 25 patients from the Brockton VA Hospital to the Rox Baseball Game and lunch. Standing with the Rox baseball players and patients are Commander Dan Tinney, Member Paul O'Neill, and Past Commander Bob LaFleur.

No Ward 5 Council Preliminary Election

DeCambra Exits Race; Contest Now Between Hughes, Ostis

The preliminary election for the Ward 5 city council seat has been called off because one of the three candidates withdrew from the race Monday.

Gordon G. DeCambra, 64 Dickens St., notified City Clerk Joseph Shea that he was bowing out from the race. That leaves two candidates seeking the Ward 5 seat: incumbent Councillor Kirsten Hughes of 116 Willow Ave. and political newcomer Gina Ostis, 57 Estabrook Rd.

Three or more candidates for a ward council seat necessitates a preliminary election which would narrow the field down to two candidates. The race in Ward 5 does not require a preliminary because there are only two candidates now: Hughes and Ostis.

Cont'd On Page 23

REGGIE'S OIL CO., INC.
Heating & Air Conditioning Service

Joseph P. Reggiannini
92-94 (Rear) Franklin St.
Quincy, MA 02169

Office Hours:
M-F 7:30 am - 5:00 pm

(617) 471-2095
(24 Hour Emergency Service)
www.reggiesoil.com

We are a local, family-owned & operated oil company located right here in Quincy. We've been providing a quality product & superior service to our customers here in Quincy & throughout Southeastern MA for more than 50 years....and we always will!

Ask the GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

THIS DIAMOND HAS IT ALL

Those who have purchased diamonds probably know about the "4 Cs" by which diamond quality is gauged: Cut, Color, Clarity, and Carat Weight. Unless one is a millionaire with a no-compromise attitude, most of us make some concessions to diamond grade in accordance with our budgets so that we get the diamond that makes us happy. Some lucky individuals, however, don't have to make compromises. Such was the case recently when a flawless, 100-carat, white, emerald-cut diamond was recently sold. Not only was this diamond one of the biggest in the world, but it was also the largest cut of its clarity ever to be sold at auction. This gem of an investment sold for $22.1 million in three minutes.

The diamond collection at Rogers Jewelry contains virtually any shape and size imaginable. We maintain, along with three other jewelers, a permanent presence in the diamond centers of the world. This established relationship affords us the ability to bring you all the qualities, sizes, and shapes at value prices. If we don't have it in stock we will get it, usually within 72 hours with no obligation on the customer's part. For more information, please call 617-773-3636. We are located at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry
www.rogersjewelry.com

Finally ... you get to do what you want to do

The question now – what's the best way to pay for it? Maybe you're simplifying your life. Maybe you're complicating it. Either way, you're at the point where some new doors are opening. You have resources. You have options. What you want is a lender you can talk with, to help make the financing happen intelligently. At Colonial Federal, you deal directly with lenders who actually like coming up with good ways to make things happen. Including sometimes being able to make customized loans. Sound interesting? Like to talk? Call Angela Blanchard, VP/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750 or apply online at colonialfed.com.

15-YEAR FIXED
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR
NO POINTS!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776
ONLINE: www.colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 08/12/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Sept. 6, 1522, the Vittoria, one of Ferdinand Magellan's five ships, arrives in Spain, thus completing the first circumnavigation of the world. The Vittoria was commanded by Juan Sebastian de Elcano, who took charge after the murder of Magellan in the Philippines.

• On Sept. 2, 1666, the Great Fire of London breaks out in the house of King Charles II's baker. When the fire was finally extinguished four days later, more than four-fifths of London was destroyed.

• On Sept. 4, 1886, Geronimo, the wiliest and most dangerous Apache warrior of his time, finally surrenders in Arizona. A brilliant strategist, Geronimo never learned to use a gun, yet he armed his men with the best modern rifles he could obtain.

• On Aug. 31, 1955, William G. Cobb of the General Motors Corp. demonstrates his 15-inch-long "Sunmobile," the world's first solar-powered automobile. When sunlight hit 12 photoelectric cells made of selenium, an electric current was produced that powered a tiny motor.

• On Sept. 5, 1969, Lt. William Calley is charged with six specifications of premeditated murder in the death of 109 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in March 1968. Reportedly, the massacre was stopped only when a pilot landed his helicopter between Calley's troops and the fleeing South Vietnamese.

• On Sept. 3, 1977, Sadaharu Oh of Japan's Yomiuri Giants hits the 756th home run of his career, breaking Hank Aaron's record for career home runs. Oh retired in 1980 with 868 home runs, still a professional record.

• On Sept. 1, 1985, a joint U.S.-French expedition locates the wreck of the RMS Titanic, 73 years after it sank after being struck by an iceberg in the North Atlantic. An experimental, unmanned submersible found the ocean liner at a depth of 13,000 feet.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Brewster Ambulance Seminar

On July 1st, Brewster Ambulance began providing services to the residents of Quincy.

Christopher DiBona and other representatives from Brewster Ambulance will be at the Kennedy Center today (Thursday) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to explain the various programs Brewster Ambulance offers including but not limited to Smart911. Representatives will answer questions and assist members with registration for the Smart911 system.

For more information call (617) 376-1506.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

History In The Making

History will be made in this year's school committee election.

But what history exactly?

SANTORO

Frank Santoro's decision last week to withdraw from the School Committee race leaves three candidates on the ballot for three seats – a virtual walk-in for the trio. Those candidates are incumbents Paul Bregoli, Kathryn Hubley and political newcomer James DeAmicis.

DeAMICIS

D'AMICO

DeAmicis, who turns 19 on Oct. 14 – three weeks before the Nov. 3 election – stands to become the youngest Quincy resident elected to a city office. The 2015 graduate of Quincy High School would eclipse Michael D'Amico as the youngest ever elected. D'Amico was 20 when he unseated incumbent Thomas Fabrizio for the Ward 4 city council seat in 1995. Two years earlier – as an 18 year-old – D'Amico came within 277 votes of defeating Fabrizio in 1993.

BURGIN

Until D'Amico's win in 1995, Thomas Burgin had held the mark as the youngest resident elected to office in Quincy for more than 70 years.

At the age of 22 in 1924, Burgin began his prominent political career when he was elected to the Ward 1 council seat. In all, Burgin won 11 city elections (Ward 1 three times, councillor at-large four times and mayor four times) and lost none. That 11-0 mark is the best election record for city elections (seven or more elections), according to former mayor and political historian Frank McCauley.

Burgin's not the only Quincy elected official with a perfect record on Election Day.

Four other office holders also have winning percentages of 1.000 at the ballot box (seven or more elections). They are: former School Committeewoman and Councillor at-Large Pat Toland (8 wins, 0 losses), former Ward 1 Councillor and Councillor at-Large Michael Cheney (7-0), former Ward 5 Councillor and current Councillor at-Large Doug Gutro (7-0) and former School Committeeman and current Councillor at-Large Michael McFarland (7-0.) Gutro, who is running for mayor this year, and McFarland, who is seeking re-election at-large, are both putting their winning streaks on the line this fall.

With Santoro's departure, the school committee race is now technically uncontested because there are only three official candidates for three seats. Thus DeAmicis would not only be the youngest elected to office but unlike Burgin and D'Amico his history-making political feat involves a city-wide seat – not a ward seat.

Santoro's decision to opt out of the race – and DeAmicis's apparent "free ride" to a school seat – is not sitting well with some political observers. After posting the story on our website and shared among the Sun's Facebook friends, some suggested the uncontested school race could trigger a sticker or write-in campaign to challenge DeAmicis for that third seat.

That's because any new challengers cannot have their name officially added to the ballot. The deadline to qualify for the ballot passed Aug. 4 when nomination papers had to be filed with the city election department. That means no one can petition or submit papers to get their name on the fall ballot for any office, including school committee.

Santoro's entrance in the school race - like his decision to withdraw - certainty impacted the campaign.

The retired QHS principal who had served two terms on the School Committee probably deterred some potential candidates from getting into the school race at all when he jumped in earlier this year. Santoro announced his candidacy in January shortly after School Committeeman Dave McCarthy decided he would vacate his school seat to run for councillor at-large instead this fall.

Open seats generally attract a host of candidates.

But not always. Jay Davis ran unopposed for the Ward 4 council seat when it was open in 2003.

In terms of this year's School Committee race, many political observers conceded two of the three seats to incumbents Bregoli and Hubley. Both are seeking second four-term terms this fall.

And Santoro - with all his credentials (42 years in education) and city-wide name recognition (two terms on the School Committee from 1986-1993) was pencilled in as winning the third seat.

Many believe Santoro's candidacy undoubtedly kept some potential school committee candidates out of the race.

But not DeAmicis.

Give him credit for getting in the race and doing the work to get on the ballot. It's not his fault that he's probably going to walk into a city-wide seat two years before he's old enough to legally drink.

Anyone else could have taken out nomination papers, gotten at least 50 signatures from registered Quincy voters, and submitted them to the election department to get on the ballot.

Any write-in candidates face a formidable task. The city has never elected a write-in or sticker candidate.

That's not to say it can't happen.

It just hasn't happened here.

And you know what?

Theoretically it is possibly that the school committee race could be historic on two fronts.

That is if DeAmicis wins one of the seats and if a write-in candidate successfully wins one of the other two seats, too.

Now that would be history.

We will wait to see if anyone wages a sticker campaign for school committee.

❑

WONDERING WHO is the youngest resident to serve as mayor?

That distinction belongs to the late Russell Sears who was 27 years old when he was elected to serve a one-year term in 1898.

Santoro Bows Out Of School Race; DeAmicis Seen Youngest Elected

Cont'd From Page 3

holder in Quincy history.

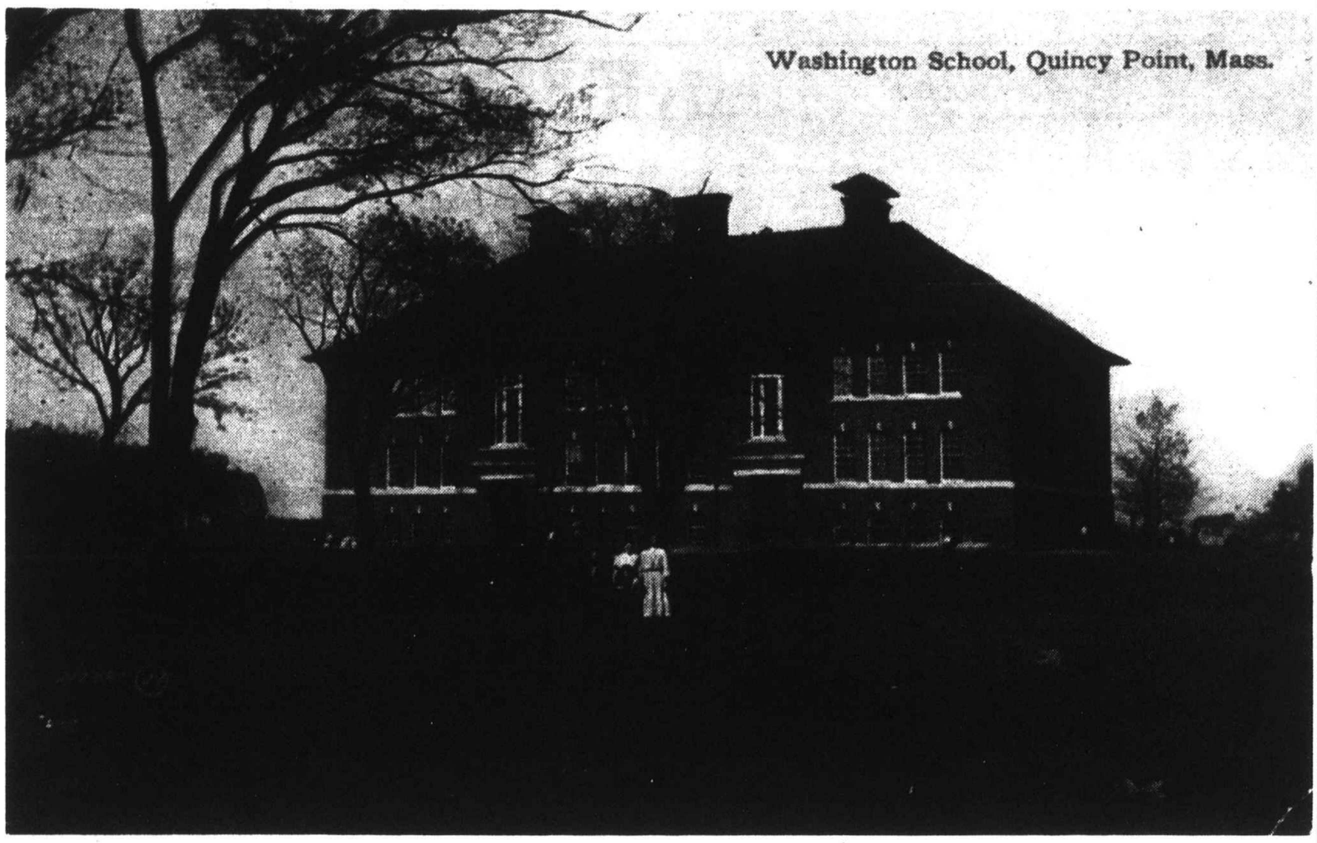
James V. DeAmicis, who graduated from QHS in June, is one of three candidates running for the three seats on this year's school committee ballot. The others are incumbents Paul Bregoli and Kathryn Hubley. Bregoli and Hubley are seeking second four-year terms.

DeAmicis, who is 18, will turn 19 on Oct. 14 – 20 days before the Nov. 3rd election. If elected – almost a certainty because there are only three names for three seats on the ballot – he would become the youngest resident elected to office here in Quincy.

That distinction is currently held by former Ward 4 councillor Michael D'Amico who was elected to the council in 1995 at the age of 20.

The filing deadline to qualify for the fall ballot passed on Aug. 4. No other names can officially be added to the ballot. Those who are not on the ballot may choose to run a sticker or write-in campaign.

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1915 postcard view of the old Washington School in Quincy Point. Designed by a young Quincy architect, Albert H. Wright, this building was erected in 1903 on a large lot diagonally across from the fire station on Washington Street. The red brick building was demolished in the late 1960s and the site is now home to the Constanzo Pagnano Towers Senior Citizens housing complex. The lot was originally used for one of Quincy's first public schools and later in the 1880s it was owned by John R. Graham, the wealthy Quincy Point boot manufacturer. He owned a thoroughbred horse farm in Kentucky and used this Quincy Point lot for a race track and training facility. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

Quincy Firefighters Take Part In Alternative Fuel Vehicle Safety Training

Firefighters from Quincy recently joined colleagues from several other area departments in a safety training exercise involving alternative fuel vehicles including propane-powered school buses.

The exercise, hosted by the Boston Fire Department, took place at the BFD's training facility on Moon Island in Quincy. The National Fire Protection Association's "Train the Trainer" Alternative Fuel Vehicle Safety Vehicle Program included local firefighters as well as departments from a number of neighboring communities including Braintree, Brockton, Cambridge, Lynn, Malden, Marshfield, and Somerville, as well as the Massachusetts State Police.

"Training our firefighters on the latest hazards they face responding to vehicle fires and accidents keeps everyone safe. This needed program from the NFPA will allow Boston Fire to educate our members first on the scene about alternative fueled vehicles and how best to mitigate incidents involving an AFV," said Boston Fire Commissioner Chief Joseph Finn.

The training was timely as Boston Public Schools recently purchased 86 Blue Bird Propane Vision school buses and NFPA has updated their Emergency Field Guide to include these propane-powered buses. One of the propane-powered buses was available at Moon Island during the walk-around portion of the training.

In addition, MassDOT approved a contract for 325 hybrid and compressed natural gas (CNG) buses to replace a current fleet of MBTA buses, with delivery expected in July 2016 and all buses in service by June 2017. The NFPA training featured a CNG passenger vehicle too, as well as a Chevrolet Volt, Ford Escape and Nissan Leaf (courtesy of Quirk Nissan).

Participants were taught how to identify AFVs as well as how to handle fire events that may arise.

"NFPA AFV training is important to all responders in Boston and in the Boston area not only because of the alternatively fueled passenger vehicles our citizens are driving today, but now with such large vehicles being added to our local roadways, there is an increased risks of our first responders encountering these vehicles in accidents," Andrew Klock, NFPA Public Fire Protection senior project manager said.

Broad Meadows Marsh Guided Tour Monday

The Park Department's Environmental Treasures program is featuring a free tour of the recently restored Broad Meadows Marsh with Lawrence Oliver of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Participants should meet at 6 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 24 in the parking lot behind Broad Meadows Middle School on Calvin Road. Bring water, bug repellent, sunscreen and a sunhat.

The Marsh was largely destroyed when dredged material from the Town River Federal navigation project was dumped in the Marsh in 1938 and 1956. The area became overrun with phragmites. Over the last several years major work has been done to restore the marsh and to create a park on the upland area.

Oliver will share his over 30 years of experience in environmental work and salt marsh restoration as he describes how the salt marsh was restored and why this ecosystem is so important.

Many of the trails contain large pieces of gravel which may be challenging for people with stability problems.

There will be an optional pay your own way dinner at a local restaurant after the tour. No registration is required.

For more information and rain date rescheduling, call 617-472-0799.

SUBSCRIPTION FORM

FILL OUT THIS SUBSCRIPTION BLANK AND MAIL TO

The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

1372 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

NAME ______________________________

STREET ______________________________

CITY __________________ STATE ________ ZIP __________

CHECK ONE BOX IN EACH COLUMN

[ ] 1 YEAR IN QUINCY $27.00

[ ] 1 YEAR OUTSIDE QUINCY $32.00 [ ] CHECK ENCLOSED

[ ] 1 YEAR OUT OF STATE $40.00

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1961
54 Years Ago

Planning Director Defends Sea Street Incinerator Site

The position of the Quincy Planning Board in favoring a Sea Street location over Hardwick's Quarry as the site for the proposed municipal incinerator was defended by Planning Director James E. Lee in a letter to the mayor and the city council.

The Planning Board recently indicated its opposition to the Quarry Street location after a recent public hearing.

One of the chief objections of the Planning Board was that an incinerator at the Hardwick site would jeopardize "the future development of Quarry Hill."

BOY RESCUED AFTER FALL DOWN AIRSHAFT

Three-year old Richard Gregor of 160 Main St., Quincy Point, was quickly rescued unharmed after he plunged from the second story to the first floor in a furnace airshaft. Within minutes after police and firemen arrived, a wall was ripped out and the aluminum duct in which he was trapped, was opened.

The child emerged bewildered as he saw a living room full of firemen and policemen. He managed a grin for the photographer.

Acting Lt. Lester Hazlett was in charge of the fire detail while Capt. William F. McIntyre headed the police detail.

EUROPE ALARMED AT BERLIN GATE CLOSING

Anger, resentment and foreboding rumbled across Western Europe at the slamming of the Berlin Border gates to stop the flow of westward bound East Germans. (Editor's note: This action led to the construction of the Berlin Wall between the Eastern and Western sections of Berlin. The wall would not come down until 1989.)

QUINCYISMS

The Shop N' Save, 26 Independence Ave. South Quincy, was offering, "Chicken Legs for 39 cents a pound and Chicken Breasts for 49 cents a pound"... Thomas F. Gorman, Jr., William Marsters, John C. Murphy and Warren O. Sines, all of Quincy, were among 837 men who passed the civil service examination for firefighter... Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Will, 56 Sycamore Rd., Squantum, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at a party given by their son, Dr. James Will... Anthony Losordo, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Losordo, 150 Monroe Rd., Quincy, was scheduled to begin his studies in architectural Engineering Technology at Wentworth University in the fall... Cornelius J. Duggan of 61 Quincy Shore Blvd., was promoted to corporal in the Massachusetts State Police. Duggan has been a member of the state police for 11 years... The Rev. Bedros Baharian, pastor of the Quincy Point Congregational Church, was the guest minister at the United Church in Cabot, Vermont... Eagle Scout Winston Davis, assistant scoutmaster of the Atlantic Methodist Church, received the God and Country Award in recognition of his activities in the church... Quincy Coal and Oil was advertising "1961 Winkler Low Pressure Oil Heat Units, promising fuel savings of as much as 50%"... Quincy born actress Lee Remick started filming "Operation Terror" along with co-star Glenn Ford... The A & P Supermarkets weekly special was "Fried Scallops, 59 cents a pound"... Bernard C. Stewart, 57 Viden Rd., South Quincy, was assigned to work in New York with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company... The Bargain Center, Quincy Center, notified its Quincy South Shore area customers that its 24th Fall and Winter Anniversary Sale would start Aug. 24... The Committee to Re-elect James S. McCormack Ward Three Councillor met to plan events for the upcoming fall election. Raymond Lotti and George Morgan were committee co-chairmen.

KEEPING UP WITH THE RED SOX

The Boston Red Sox were in sixth place in the 10 team American League with a 56-64 record, 23 games behind the first-place New York Yankees.

Rookie Red Sox pitcher Don Schwall was among the leading pitchers in the American League with a 13-2 record.

FIONA POWERS-OZYURT, a 10th grader at The Woodward School in Quincy, is among student artists selected to display artwork at Massachustts Institute of Technology. The exhibit is located at MIT's Rotch Library of Architecture and Design through Sept. 4. Woodward School Photo

Woodward School Student's Art Featured At MIT Exhibit

The artwork of Fiona Powers-Ozyurt, a 10th grader at The Woodward School in Quincy, will be on display at MIT through Sept. 4.

The exhibit, "Shapes in Visual Design: Cultivating Aesthetic Experience with Shape Grammars" is part of a research study and exhibit funded by a Director's Grant from the Council for the Arts at MIT. The exhibit is based on the doctoral research of Asli Arpak at MIT's Design and Computation Group, School of Architecture and Planning, under the supervision of George Stiny, Ph.D., Professor of Design and Computation at MIT.

Powers-Ozyurt, a Dedham resident, studied under Asli Arpak at MIT in the summer of 2014 and continued working with Dr. Arpak during the following school year, creating her own artwork/design-shape renditions applying Stiny's shape grammar for this study and exhibit.

A talented photography student and active member of Woodward's National Art Honor Society, Fiona has achieved accolades at the school in English, world history, mathematics, biology, French, theater arts and outstanding service to the community. She is also an accomplished equestrian, sailor, and champion level Irish step dancer.

Fiona has spent this summer in an environmental internship with the Buzzards Bay Coalition in Woods Hole, as a docent in the Discovery Center and as a guide in the Bay Explorers Program, which is a six-week, grant funded field education program for children.

GENNARO'S
EATERY

Bundle Meals $35.99
Take-Out Only • Feeds 4-5

Pick One Entree
Chicken, Ziti & Broccoli
Chicken Marsala
Chicken Saltimbocca
Chicken Cacciatore
Chicken Parmigiana
Chicken Piccata
Chicken Gennaro

Pick One Pasta
Penne or Linguini

Pick One Salad
Garden or Caesar

Includes
Loaf of Bread

Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials 617-499-6929
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

Arts & Entertainment

Children's Activities At Library

By JULIE RINES
Thomas Crane
Public Library

The Thomas Crane Public Library has scheduled the following events and activities for children.

Movies stories and More at the Library

As summer winds down join us for a movie, a story or build something cool with Starwbees or blocks. Programs are offered for children of all ages stop by, borrow some books and join us for a program. Details for all summer programs are on our website thomascranelibrary.org.

❑

Storytelling at the Farmers Market (weather permitting)

Join us Friday, Aug. 21st and 28th at noon at the Farmer's Market for some stories and rhymes weather permitting. The market is set up in the Courthouse Parking lot. Look for us in a shady spot near the vendor tents.

❑

Art-to-go a nine-week series of drop in art activities that travel throughout Quincy.

Projects are open ended to accommodate a wide age range. They are easy enough for toddlers and preschoolers to do with an adult's help and free form enough for school age children to add their own personal touch.

Children up to age 8 are invited to drop in any time between 2 and 4 p.m. to make this week's craft.

The weekly craft will be at the Main Library on Mondays, Adams Shore on Tuesdays, Wollaston on Wednesdays and North Quincy on Thursdays. Craft for the week of Aug. 24th – Bookmarks.

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy— The Incredibles

On Monday, Aug. 24th at 2 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch join us for a showing of The Incredibles.

Mr. Incredible is a superhero; or he used to be, until a surge of lawsuits against superheroes submitted by the people they've saved forced the government to hide them in witness protection programs so they could lead normal, anonymous lives.

Now known exclusively by his secret identity, Bob Parr, he lives with his wife Helen, formerly Elastigirl, and their three children Violet, Dash, and Jack Jack. He works as an insurance claims specialist, and he's fed up with his pushy boss and his immoral profession, but his wife's worked too hard to build a normal life for her family to abide his nostalgia for heroism.

When Mr. Incredible is offered the chance to play the role of hero again by a mysterious informant, he jumps at the opportunity, but when it turns out to be a trap set by an old nemesis he had a hand in corrupting, the whole family must reveal themselves to save Mr. Incredible and countless innocents. This movie is rated PG and runs for 115 minutes.

❑

Teddy Bear Storytime @ North Quincy

On Tuesday, Aug. 25th at 6:30 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch Library join Children's librarian Cathy deVeer and Quinn Z. Bear at the North Quincy Branch for stories and songs for children ages 2-5 accompanied by an adult.

Feel free to wear your comfy jammies and bring along your favorite stuffed friend, as we explore the night sky.

❑

8th Annual Summer Talent Show

Do you sing, dance, play an instrument or have another talent you would like to demonstrate? Join us on Wednesday, Aug. 26th at 6:30 p.m. in the Main Library Large Meeting Room to demonstrate your talent.

All ages welcome to watch the show but you must be ages 4 – 13 to perform.

If you would like to perform you must sign up in advance and space is limited so that each person will have enough time to perform. Stop by or call the children's room at 617-376-2411 to register. Audience members of all ages are welcome.

❑

Children's Movie @ Adams Shore— Big Hero 6

On Thursday, Aug. 27th at 2 p.m. at the Adams Shore Branch join us for a showing of Big Hero 6.

When a criminal plot threatens the hi-tech metropolis of San Fransokyo, brilliant young robotics whiz Hiro Hamada leaps into action with his tech-savvy friends, and his robot companion Baymax in Disney Animation's adaptation of the popular Marvel Comics series. This movie is rated PG and runs for 102 minutes.

❑

Construction Zone

Children of all ages are invited to stop by the main library large meeting room any time between 2 and 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 28th and try their hand at some construction.

Check out our newest construction toy Strawbees! Using just Strawbee connectors and straws you can build all kinds of things. Wondering what Strawbees are? Watch the video on our website to see how they work.

Strawbees work best for school age children and teens, for our youngest engineers we will have wooden blocks and other simple building toys.

❑

Children's Movie @ North Quincy— Toy Story 3

Finish up summer vacation on Monday, Aug. 31st at 2 p.m. at the North Quincy Branch with Woody, Buzz and all their friends in Toy Story 3.

Toy Story 3 welcomes back Woody, Buzz and the whole gang back to the big screen as Andy prepares to depart for college and his loyal toys find themselves in …daycare! These untamed tots with their sticky little fingers do not play nice, so it's all for one and one for all as plans for the Great Escape get underway.

A few new faces join the adventure, including Barbie's counterpart Ken, a thespian hedgehog named Mr. Pricklepants and a pink strawberry-scented teddy bear called Lots-o-Huggin' Bear.

The movie is rated G and runs for 103 minutes.

Sounds Of The Greatest Generation

Quincy Council on Aging presents an evening of big band music and patriotic sounds of the greatest generation at a special evening event on Friday, Sept. 11 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Quincy Sons of Italy Hall, 120 Quarry St.

Music will be provided by the Olde Kids Swing Band that frequently visits the Kennedy Center. Light refreshments will be available as well as a cash bar.

Tickets are $15 per person and can be purchased at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy. For more information, call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

Find us on Facebook
Highlights of Local Programming found on QATV
Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, August 20
6pm: Social Studies Showdown
8pm: QRD's 2015 TV Workshop

Friday, August 21
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
11pm: Penny Dreadful's Shilling Shockers

Saturday, August 22
12pm: Quincy Republican Committee Candidates Night

Sunday, August 23
7:30pm: Quincy Republican Committee Candidates Night

Monday, August 24
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:30pm: QHS vs. Silver Lake Football (2014)

Tuesday, August 25
6pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
7pm: Taiwan Programming

Wednesday, August 26
9:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
10pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, August 20
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus
8:30pm: At Your Library: August Happenings

Friday, August 21
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
7:00pm: Crime Watch: Scams Revisited Pt. 2
7:30pm: In the Spotlight: Jim Boyd

Saturday/Sunday, August 22/23
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
10:30am: FYI: QHD: Water Intoxication
2:00pm: Health Links: Beach Water Safety
2:30pm: Studio Sessions: Episode 6
5:00pm: Quincy in Focus

Monday, August 24
6:00pm: Crime Watch: Scenarios
8:00pm: NCPC: Basketball Camps

Tuesday, August 25
6:00pm: Health Links with Ruth Jones
8:00pm: Flag Day Parade & Ceremonies

Wednesday, August 26
8:00pm: Studio Sesions: Episode 5
8:30pm: QFD: FP&Y: Fire Ops 101

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Social

Registration Underway For Quincy ArtsFest

The Quincy Art Association announces the call for entries for the 18th annual Quincy ArtsFest set for Sept. 19 and 20 at Adams Field.

Media categories are oil and acrylic, drawing and pastel, watercolor, mixed media-collage, printmaking, sculpture, clay and new this year digital printing.

Photography categories are color, black and white and special effects.

The "Best of Quincy" category includes art or photography.

Color photographs are judged as photos with a minimum of adjustments to basic contrast, color, sharpening, etc.

Black and white photos are judged similarly as in color but should only be black and white. A slight color shift to sepia-styled printing is acceptable.

The new digital printing (non-photographic) category is for those who are patining using an iPad or similar tablet. Digital painting is a method of creating an image by directly using the computer/tablet.

Registration fees are $12 for Quincy Art Association memberws and $14 for non-members.

Registration is underway. Deadline for registration is Aug. 28.

Download entry form at www.quincyartma.org or call 617-770-2482 to receive an entry form.

Forms are also available at The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Center.

Mail registration form with registration fee to:

Quincy Art Association,
26 High School Ave., Quincy MA 02169.

Dick Flavin Book Reading, Signing Aug. 27

Popular local television personality, announcer, ambassador, and poet laureate for Fenway Park, Dick Flavin, will be reading from and signing copies of his new book, Red Sox Rhymes: Verses and Curses, Thursday, Aug. 27 at 7 p.m., at Barnes & Noble, 150 Granite St., Braintree.

Flavin has entertained audiences with his poetic talent and abiding love for the Red Sox before countless home games for more than 20 years. Flavin's poems are gathered together for the first time in his new book.

Illustrated with more than 50 photos from the official Red Sox archives, Red Sox Rhymes honors all of Red Sox fandom and is an essential memento for every BoSox fan.

As a beloved Red Sox insider, Flavin has been privileged to watch history in the making, from the team's 2004 World Series victory that finally broke its nearly century-long "curse," to road-tripping with Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky, to witnessing Ted Williams final appearance at the plate. His pithy and comedic verses-including such gems as "The Beards of Summer," "Long Live Fenway Park," and his best known, "Teddy at the Bat"- pay homage to the American pastime, New England's favorite team and players (and the curses and legends that have followed it), and the passionate Nation that has remained faithful through victory and defeat.

The event is free and open to the public.

NQHS Class Of 1960 Reunion

North Quincy High School Class of 1960 will hold its 55th reunion Saturday, Sept. 12 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Best Western Adams Inn, Constitution Room, North Quincy.

Cost is $55 per person. There will be a cash bar.

A blockout of rooms is available for attendees. Call 800-368-4012 or 617-328-1500. Shuttle from Logan Airport to the hotel is also available.

For reservations to the reunion, call Dottie and Jim McCabe, 617-680-2766 or email Jmccabe130@aol.com.

YOUNGSTERS FROM Quincy's Germantown Neighborhood Center and Quincy Asian Resources, Inc. recently visited the Boston Harbor Islands National Park as part of Save the Harbor/Save the Bay's free All Access Boston Harbor program. More than 5,000 youth and teens have taken part in the free program so far this summer, which brings area youth groups to Spectacle, Peddocks, and Georges Island for a fun filled day of environmental exploration and healthy outdoor activities, including fishing, crabbing, swimming and art on the shore. All Access Boston Harbor trips begin at the Blue Hills Bank Pavilion where groups learn the history of Boston Harbor and the Boston Harbor cleanup from Save the Harbor's maritime historian David Coffin. The groups then walk to the World Trade Center and board Bay State Cruise Company's Provincetown II for their trip. On the island they enjoy a picnic lunch and then head off to explore. Photo Courtesy Save The Harbor/Save The Bay

ENC Symphonic Winds Ensemble Open Rehearsals

Eastern Nazarene College's Symphonic Winds ensemble invites area musicians to join the group at its open rehearsals.

Rehearsals are scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 9 and Wednesday, Sept. 16 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Cove Fine Arts Center (second floor), located on Wendell Avenue in Quincy.

Prof. Stephen Bell, the ensemble's director, said any adult or qualified high school instrumental player is invited to join the open rehearsals.

Openings are available in all musical sections, but the ensemble currently has a particular need for trombone players.

"Community players supplement the college students, bringing the ensemble to nearly 45 players," Bell said. "High school players are welcomed, but must have a letter of recommendation from either a private instructor or school band director."

There is no fee associated with participating in the ensemble.

For more information or to sign up to attend a rehearsal, e-mail your name, contact information and the instrument you play to scbell1@comcast.net or call the ENC Music office at 617-745-3715.

Memorial, Honor Flags For Vets Island

The Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294, Morrisette Post, is accepting donations for memorial flags and honor flags to be placed at Flags for Veterans Island, School and Pleasant Streets, Quincy.

The one-time donation to place a flag at the Island is $30. Donated flags can be purchased in memory of a veteran who was killed in action or has passed away. Honor flags are placed for those who are currently serving in the military or who have served their country and are still living.

To purchase a memorial or honor flag, contact Paul Moody, coordinator of Flags for Veterans Island and the commander of the Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294. He can be reached by calling 617-472-5952.

Cause 4 Paws Oct. 18 To Benefit Animal Shelter

Quincy Animal Shelter will hold its seventh annual Cause 4 Paws 5K Run and One Mile Walk Sunday, Oct. 18 at DCR Squantum Point Park, Marina Bay, North Quincy.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. with the 5K Run at 10 a.m. and the 1 Mile Walk at 10:15 a.m.

For more information including sponsorships, contact the Quincy Animal Shelter at 973-960-4206.

All of the event's proceeds directly support the shelter's dogs and cats.

The Quincy Animal Shelter is a volunteer-run, no-kill shelter.

First Baptist Church Craft Fair, Apple Festival

Vendors are still being accepted for the Craft Fair and Apple Festival on Saturday, Sept. 12th at First Baptist Church of Wollaston, 81 Prospect Ave. from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

There will be a variety of hand crafted items, cards, and jewelry, a baked goods table specializing in apple items and a snack bar.

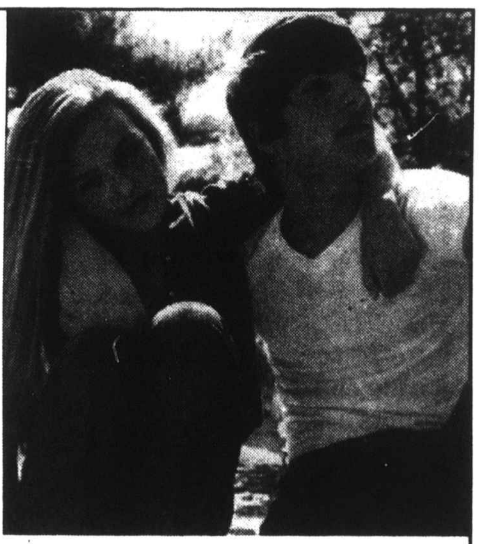
For further information/registration application contact Ellen Leonard at scrappy 02120@yahoo.com.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-781-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

✓ Notebooks
✓ Backpack
✓ Pencils
✓ Folders
__ Haircut



Come in today for your back to school hairstyle
HAIRPLACE ONE
85 QUINCY AVENUE
Call for Appt. 617-472-1060
www.hairplaceone.com

QUINT'S
House
of Flowers
Family Owned & Operated
Since 1919
761 Southern Artery
QUINCY
617-773-7620

Get Local!
QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

WHAT'S COOKING with Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Marsala Meatballs & Sauce

By MARIE

Although I enjoy meatballs made with a tomato sauce, I found one made with a marsala wine sauce-so different and delicious.

In addition to making the meatballs with the marsala wine, a sauce is also delicious that goes with them.

MARSALA MEATBALLS

1 pound ground turkey
1/4 cup Marsala wine (the kind you can drink)
1/4 cup seasoned bread crumbs
1 egg
salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon parsley (fresh if possible)
1/4 cup grated Romano cheese

Mix all of the ingredients together, and roll the meatballs the size you prefer. Bake on a slightly greased or parchment paper cookie sheet in a 350-degree oven for about 10-15 minutes. Remove and set aside. (They will finish cooking in the sauce.)

FOR THE SAUCE

2 tablespoons olive oil
1 package sliced mushrooms
1 small red onion (chopped)
1/4 cup Marsala wine
Smidgen of flour for thickening
salt and pepper
1 cup of chicken stock

In the hot oil, sauté the onion. Add the mushrooms and cook until tender. Add the chicken stock and flour until you like the thickness of the sauce.

Add the meatballs, and cook until done. Enjoy!

Peach Radicchio, Quinoa Salad

Salads can get boring after a while, but they really are a delicious and easy way to take in a healthy meal in the summer. This can be made ahead of time and quinoa (pronounced KEENWA) is considered a complete protein because it contains the proper amino acid profile.

Great for vegetarians, but you certainly do not have to be a vegetarian to enjoy quinoa. It is super easy to digest, and for culinary purposes is considered a grain, but it actually is a seed.

This salad is packed with nutrition and is considered a "nutrient dense" meal. Meaning, there is a lot of nutrition packed into every bite.

Radicchio and parsley are loaded with important vitamins and minerals, walnuts contain the very important essential fatty acid for brain and heart health, and peaches are a delicious in season fruit containing fiber and also packed with important vitamins and phytonutrients.

Extra virgin olive oil is a healthy monounsaturated fat that has been linked across the board to better all around health, not to mention beautiful skin and hair.

PEACH RADICCHIO AND QUINOA SALAD

3 Tbsp extra virgin olive oil

2 tablespoons sherry vinegar (or apple cider vinegar or lemon juice)

1 teaspoon dijon mustard

sea salt and pepper to taste

2 large FIRM peaches, diced (keep the skin on for extra fiber and nutrients)

1 head of radicchio, coarsely chopped

1 c packed fresh flat leaf parsley (Italian)

1/4 cup walnuts, chopped

2 cups cooked quinoa COOLED (follow package directions. I always cook mine in broth for extra flavor! you should too!)

Just mix all together and serve, drizzling with some extra olive oil before serving. ENJOY!

Hash Brown Sliders

By MARIE

If you are like most of us, you usually eat a burger on some kind of a bun or wrap or even a lettuce leaf.

But did you ever have a hash brown slider? I never did until I found this great recipe for one.

I've made hash browns for years and this recipe is like having your burger with fries-but different.

HASH BROWNS
POTATO PANCAKES

3 large potatoes (shredded)
salt and pepper
3 tablespoons vegetable oil

This is a very easy way to fry up the potatoes – some like to use an egg – but I make them with just salt and pepper - so crispy especially for the burger.

Form the potatoes in a patty-the size you want them and sauté them in the hot oil turning until they are nice and crispy. Drain on paper towel and keep warm while you make the burger.

After the hamburgers are done-cheeseburgers if you like, then fix them any way you like-with tomato and lettuce or whatever.

Place them in between those crispy potatoes and what a treat.

SALES, SERVICE, INSTALLATION

LOCKSMITH SERVICES
GRANITE LOCK CO. INC.
www.granitelock.com
617-472-2177
617-479-3341(Fax)
MA Sys. Con. Lic. 7025-C

•COMMERCIAL•
- Access Control
- Wireless Locks
- Electric Strikes
- Exit Hardware
- Door Openers/Closers
- Commercial Mailboxes
- High Security Key Systems
- Master Key Systems
- Handicap Access Hardware

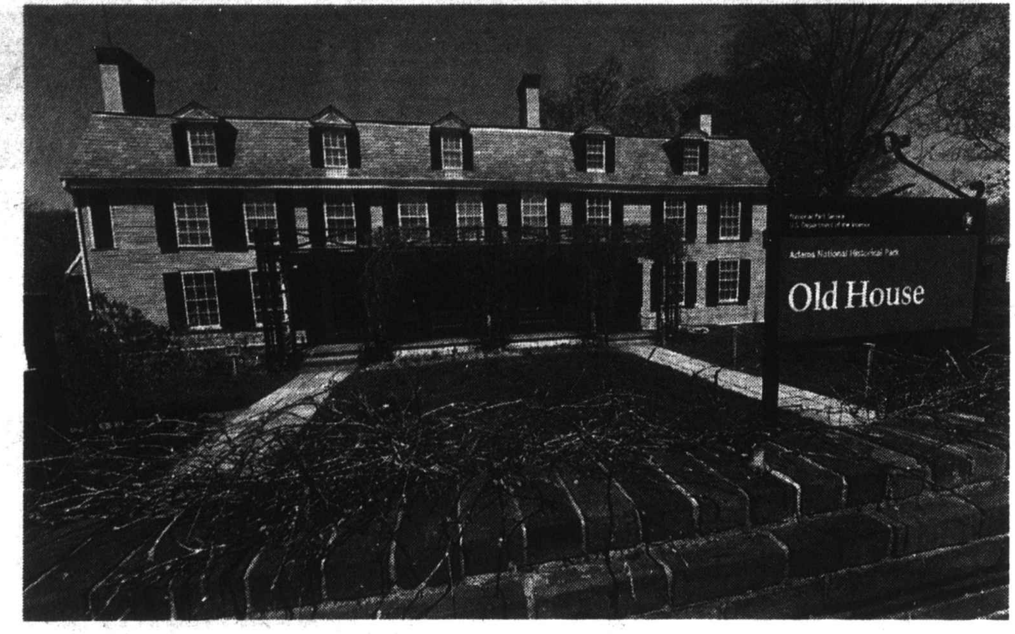
•AUTOMOTIVE•
- Fit Keys to Autos/Rekeying
- Lockouts/Repairs
- Cloned/Transponder Keys

•SAFES•
- Sales/Repairs/Installations
- Combinations Changed
- Fire & Burglary Resistant Safes

•RESIDENTIAL•
- Deadbolts Installed
- Baldwin/Emtek Hardware
- Rekeying/Lockouts

755 Southern Artery, Rte. 3A Quincy, MA 02169

"Rock Solid Security"



ADAMS NATIONAL HISTORICAL Park, 135 Adams St., Quincy, will mark the 99th anniversary of the National Park Service with free admission and special activities Tuesday, Aug. 25.
Quincy Sun File Photo/Robert Bosworth

Adams National Historical Park To Mark 99th Year Of Park Service

Free Admission, Special Events Aug. 25

The Adams National Historical Park, 135 Adams St., Quincy, will mark the 99th anniversary of the National Park Service with free admission and special activities Tuesday, Aug. 25.

The park will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. All visitors are encouraged to begin their tour at the Visitor Center located at 1250 Hancock St., Quincy Center.

The usual entrance fee of $10 will be waived for all visitors on Aug. 25. Come to the park and tour the presidential homes, view an award-winning movie on four generations of the Adams family, stroll the grounds, or ride the trolley.

In preparation for next year's big centennial celebration, the National Park Service is inviting everyone to Find Your Park. To encourage people to discover everything a park experience can be, there is a fun list of 99 ways to Find Your Park.

Adams National Historical Park is a great place to try #11 – Go on a ranger-led tour, #18 – Get inspired by a First Lady, #23 – Try something new, #61 – Discover history around you, #76 – Renew your spirit, or #85 – Plan the best trip ever. Visitors can also share their park experience with others by posting on social media with the hashtag #FindYourPark.

On Aug. 25, 1916, President Woodrow Wilson signed legislation to create the National Park Service. Today, there are 408 national parks throughout the country and each one tells an important part of the American story. Some commemorate notable people and achievements, others conserve magnificent landscapes and natural wonders, and all provide a place to have fun and learn.

Next Tuesday (Aug. 25) all national parks will offer free entrance for everyone.

Adams National Historical Park was established in 1946 to preserve and protect the grounds, homes, and personal property of four generations of the Adams family and use these resources to interpret the history they represent and to educate and inspire current and future generations. Last year, more than 178,000 park visitors enjoyed the site and added $10,000 to the local economy and supported 150 area jobs.

The mission of the National Park Service also extends beyond park boundaries. Community partnerships help preserve local history and create close-to-home recreational opportunities. To see what is happening in Massachusetts, go to www.nps.gov/MA.

Sons Of Italy Golf Tournamen Friday

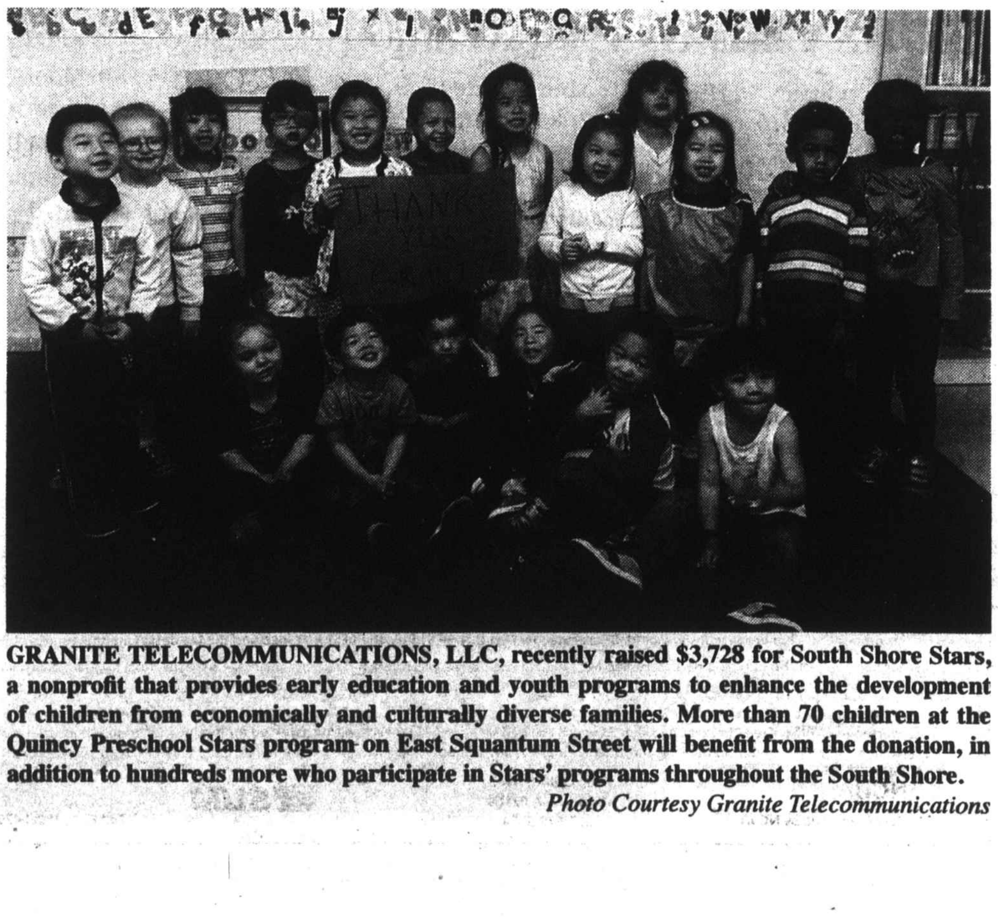
The Quincy Sons of Italy will hold its annual Golf Tournament Friday, Aug. 21 at Presidents Golf Course, Quincy.

The tournament will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The fundraiser features golf, prizes, dinner and raffles as well as a special Hole in One challenge.

Cost to golf is $110 per person or $440 for a foursome. Sponsor a hole for $100.

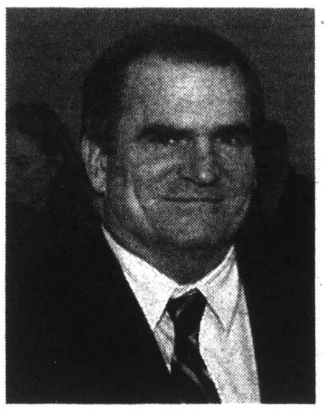
Proceeds are used to support local charities in the community.



GRANITE TELECOMMUNICATIONS, LLC, recently raised $3,728 for South Shore Stars, a nonprofit that provides early education and youth programs to enhance the development of children from economically and culturally diverse families. More than 70 children at the Quincy Preschool Stars program on East Squantum Street will benefit from the donation, in addition to hundreds more who participate in Stars' programs throughout the South Shore.
Photo Courtesy Granite Telecommunications

Councillor At-Large Candidates Offer Views At Forum

By SCOTT JACKSON



JOSEPH FINN

MICHAEL McFARLAND

NOEL DiBONA

NINA LIANG

DAVID McCARTHY

The five residents aspiring to fill the three at-large seats on the City Council in the November election had the opportunity to make their case to voters during a recent candidates night.

The five candidates participated in the Aug. 11 candidates night hosted by the Quincy Republican City Committee at the Best Western Adams Inn. More than 100 residents attended that night's event.

The field for councillor-at-large includes two incumbents, Joseph Finn and Michael McFarland; the third incumbent, Doug Gutro, is running for mayor. The three challengers include two members of the School Committee, Noel DiBona and David McCarthy, and political newcomer Nina Liang.

Voters will elect three of the candidates to a two-year term on Nov. 3. No preliminary election is being held for the at-large race.

DiBona, who is midway through his first four-year term on the school board, highlighted his service in the community during his opening statement.

"I call myself a field rep. I'm a person who is out there everyday. I'm in my fifth year of the Quincy Point Panthers youth football team. I've mentored and coached seventh and eighth graders...I was out there before I got here today. I know it's important to educate our youth, help them, mentor them. They're the future generation of our city," DiBona said.

"I also help out with the Sons of the American Legion Morrisette Post. I'm the junior vice commander there. I help out with the Flags for Veterans Island."

Finn, who was first elected to an at-large seat in 2001, focused on his accomplishments during his tenure, framing himself as a problem solver.

"My work with policy and governance has always been focused on problem solving and good management," Finn said.

"Whether it was reducing the number of estimates on water and sewer bills that resulted in erratic and costly billing. Whether it was working with the Department of Public Works to develop the technology around a paveway management system, fighting to preserve and protect the city auditor's position, and most recently developing the management information system in the City Council office."

Liang – the officer manager for the JP Fuji Group, which was founded by her cousin Jimmy Liang – said everyone in Quincy should have the same opportunities in life that she has had.

"I want to make a difference in the communities that taught me the value of hard work, help other working families of Quincy and together make our city an even greater place to live, to work and to raise a family," she said.

"We put local people to work, generate more taxes for the city and provide our neighbors a good meal. Quincy has meant a lot for me and for my family. I know that it's the start we have gotten here that has allowed my amazing opportunities in life and want everyone across Quincy to have these same opportunities."

McCarthy, who is finishing his third four-year term on the School Committee and is vacating his seat to run for the council, touted his experience on the school board and elsewhere in the community.

"Over the last 12 years on the School Committee, I've chaired almost every committee that we have there...I think my proudest moment has been the chair of the facilities building committee that spearheaded not only Quincy High, Central and now we're moving towards Sterling," McCarthy said.

"I've been a Park and Recreation Board member for a few years, a past member. I've coached baseball – Babe Ruth – in the city and work with the kids a lot. I currently sit on the board of directors for South Shore Mental Health and the board of trustees at Carroll School for the Blind."

McFarland was late for the forum because of a scheduling conflict and did not make an opening statement. He was first elected to an at-large seat on the council in 2005 and previously served on the School Committee.

The candidates then responded to a question from Christine Cedrone, chairman of the Quincy GOP committee, asking them what project or program they would implement to benefit the city but would not be able to do so because of fiscal concerns.

DiBona said more needs to be done to address the opiate epidemic affecting Quincy and many other communities statewide.

"I think the opiate epidemic is the biggest thing – besides the downtown development – that we definitely need to take care of. I walk around the streets everyday, knock on every door in every part of the city and I will tell you the opiate epidemic is something we have to take care of, each and every one of us," DiBona said. "It's in every single community and it's killing people every single day."

Finn said the city's streets are in need of repaving and a system is needed to determine which should be prioritized.

"We have over 200 miles of paveway in the city of Quincy. I don't have to tell you what deterioration some of that is in. Quite honestly if we could get that done with the resources in one fell swoop, which by the way we don't have, that would be it," Finn said. "But what is critically important is that we begin to get back to a paveway management system that was started earlier that makes best choices about the best use of those resources."

Liang said more funding for the schools could be used to help eliminate the disconnect between residents who have lived in the city for many years and new immigrant families.

"Should we have more funding, I know what we can do to bring the community together. It's focusing on the children in the schools. We all, regardless of where you come from, want to see our kids succeed. If we have more funding, we can engage the community more regardless of what language you speak, engage with the teachers more and work on bringing children up together," Liang said. "That's a good start on getting the community together."

McCarthy said education would be his top priority, adding that more needs to be done in regards to the substance abuse problems.

"We've seen what we can do with the schools and our school system as our budget increases. Our superintendent uses the money correctly. Our staff is an excellent staff here in Quincy," McCarthy said. "That leads to what Noel said about drug addiction. We added a couple of health intervention teachers in there, but it has to grow and it can't just be programs that come out, you have to go to the source. But that's a big, big thing in Quincy, the drug problem."

McFarland pointed to the success of a school building task force he served on while on the School Committee and said more money for schools will be needed as the city grows.

"We gave you a new high school, Quincy High. We gave you a new Central. We have Sterling coming along the line now. We built a new elementary school in Quincy Point. We took an old elementary school – the Daniel

Cont'd On Page 30

You'll love your account at QCU

Really, why? What's so great about QCU?

Open a Student Advantage Checking Account and VISA® Debit Card and receive a $10 Best Buy® Gift Card. Better hurry, the offer ends 9/30/2015!

Awesome! Thanks!

Visit qcu.org for details

*This promotion is not produced, sponsored, or executed by Best Buy. BEST BUY, the BEST BUY logo and the tag design are trademarks of Best Buy and its affiliated companies. © 2015 Best Buy. All rights reserved.

While supplies last. No purchase necessary. See Member Service for complete details. Student Advantage Account Holder and parent/guardian will both receive a $10 Best Buy Gift Card when a new Student Advantage Checking Account and Debit Card are established. Both the parent/guardian and Student Advantage Member must be present and Members of QCU to obtain gift cards. Limit one card per person. Not redeemable for cash. Some restrictions may apply. Cannot be combined with other offers. Offer expires 9/30/2015.

Student Advantage Accounts are for Members ages 15-25. QCU will not charge Student Advantage Account Holders for ATM use; however, the ATM owner may impose a fee if you use an ATM not in the SUM network. At age 26, Student Advantage Totally Free Checking Account will be converted to a Totally Free Checking Account. At which time, ATM fees of $1.00 each will be assessed for foreign ATM transactions over 8 per month. Quincy Credit Union is not responsible for text or data charges you incur from your wireless provider while using Mobile Banking. Some services require Q-Net Internet Banking and/or checking account. Membership eligibility requirements apply. $5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership. VISA is a registered trademark of VISA International.

NCUA
Federally Insured by NCUA

100 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558

SUM

Toll Free: (866) 479-5558 • www.qcu.org

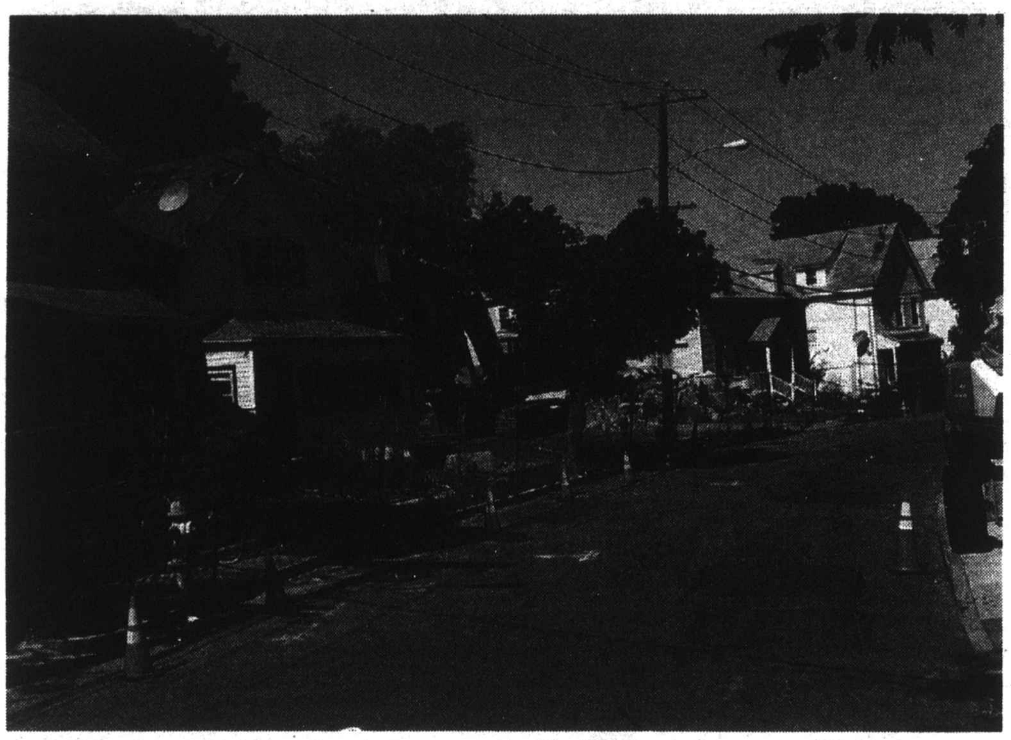
VISA

519 Columbian St.
Weymouth, MA 02190
781.340.7117

MSIE

City: Field Project Won't Disrupt NQHS Activities

Demolition Of Homes On Hunt Street Underway



DEMOLITION OF NINE North Quincy homes and related work to create a new parking lot and renovated athletics field won't disrupt activities at the nearby high school, according to city officials.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

By SCOTT JACKSON

The demolition of nine North Quincy homes and related work to create a new parking lot and renovated athletics field won't disrupt activities at the nearby high school, city officials say.

The demolition of nine homes – eight on Hunt Street and one on Newbury Avenue – began earlier this month. Mayoral spokesman Chris Walker on Tuesday the demolition work should be completed by the time classes begin at North Quincy High School on Sept. 9.

The subsequent construction of a new, 139-car parking lot on Hunt Street and renovations to Teel Field won't impact the school, Walker added.

The city paid $4.8 million for the nine homes, including both the cost of the properties themselves and relocation fees paid to the former homeowners. City Solicitor Jim Timmins in July said the city has an agreement in place to purchase an additional 11,000 square feet of land for $130,000 from a developer who has proposed a new condominium building at 143 and 147 Newbury Ave. That project was scheduled for a second Planning Board hearing on Aug. 12, but the hearing was postponed until Sept. 9.

The total cost of the project – including the acquisition of the nine homes and the 11,000 square foot parcel, construction of the parking lot and renovations at Teel Field – is $12 million, which the City Council approved borrowing in June 2014.

Work on Teel Field began this spring. A contractor began preloading the field, a process that involves compressing the earth under tons of dirt to help settle the ground and drive any water out. The preload will stay on the field for a total of four to six months and is necessary before renovation work on the field can begin; the city also used a preload before constructing the new track at Faxon Field on Southern Artery.

Mayor Thomas Koch in July said the field renovations should be completed in time for North Quincy High's fall 2016 athletics season.

The renovation project includes the addition of new grandstands with seating for up to 600. Teel Field's grass playing surface will be replaced with more durable, synthetic turf. A new sound system, lighting, restrooms and concessions will also be added.

Once the renovations are completed, the field will be able to host North Quincy High's soccer and lacrosse games; the school's junior varsity football team may play there as well. Youth leagues would also have a chance to use Teel Field, alleviating the burden on other fields in the city.

The new parking lot will serve both the high school and the field.

Old Colony Ave. Apartment Building Gets Go-Ahead

By SCOTT JACKSON

The Planning Board approved a new apartment building for Old Colony Avenue in Wollaston, after the developers agreed to reduce the size of the project in response to concerns raised by neighbors at a prior meeting.

The board on Aug. 12 approved the proposal by Philip Boncaldo and Alyse Baker-Boncaldo to tear down a one-story office building and two two-story, multi-family homes at 118 Old Colony Avenue and 54 and 60 Warren Avenue and replacing them with the new building, which will include 40 one-bedroom apartments.

Four of the 40 units will be designated for affordable housing; those units would be rented to residents who earn less than 80 percent of the median income for the area.

The Boncaldo's initial proposal for the building included 52 one-bedroom apartments and an overall building size of 38,525 square feet. Several neighbors objected to the size of the building during a Planning Board hearing on July 15; James White of H.W. Moore Associates, a peer reviewer for the project, also raised questions about the building's size. In response to those concerns, the developers agreed to eliminate 12 apartments and reduce the size of the building to 28,640 square feet; setbacks around the building have also increased.

"It's been substantially changed – significantly changed – since the last time you saw it," Christopher Harrington, the attorney representing the Boncaldos, said. "We listened very carefully to all of you, the peer review engineer as well as the neighbors and we decided to make some significant changes and really a complete redesign of the building."

The number of parking spaces was also reduced, from 43 to 36; Harrington noted the building will now have 0.9 spaces per unit compared to 0.8 spaces per unit as originally proposed. The parking will also be larger in the new plan to address an additional concern peer reviewers previously identified.

The project site is located about one-third of a mile from the Wollaston MBTA station. Harrington said the new building would attract tenants who plan to utilize public transportation.

"We believe this is an excellent location for a transit-oriented development. We think, with its proximity to the Wollaston train station and the fact that it's all one-bedroom units that we will attract people to this building, many who won't own cars or if they do may only own one car," Harrington said. "We think a lot of people who live here will walk to the Wollaston train station."

Harrington also reiterated that the project is in line with recommendations made by the Metropolitan Area Planning Council in its 2013 "Re-Envisioning Wollaston" plan. Those included reduced minimum lot sizes, smaller setbacks, and reducing the number of parking units required per unit.

Ward 5 Councillor Kirsten Hughes supported the project in a letter to the board, citing the Boncaldo family's lengthy history of working and living in the city.

"The Boncaldo family has lived and worked in Wollaston/Quincy for 55 years and are thrilled that Quincy is still one of the best places to live and work in Massachusetts. As long standing investors in Quincy, they intend to continue to improve their properties and to remain in the city in the future," Hughes wrote. "I support this project and respectively ask that the Planning Board does as well."

Berlin Street resident Jim Flaherty also spoke in favor of the proposal.

"I've known the Boncaldos a number of years. I completely support the project. I'm familiar with the other buildings they own – Greenleaf, Bridge Street," Flaherty said. "They are very active in the Wollaston Community where I live and work. I like the project. I think it's great for Wollaston."

Ann Yeomans, a resident of Winthrop Avenue, expressed concern over the loss of the existing homes on site.

"I'm strongly concerned about the loss of existing, affordable housing as development goes on, not just in this case. This I think is possibly a pretty good one," Yeomans said.

The project still requires approval from the Zoning Board of Appeals; the board on Aug. 11 voted to continue its hearing on the matter to Aug. 25. The project requires a variance from the ZBA because its setbacks don't comply with the zoning code and because a portion of the site is in an industrial B zoning district.

August's Flavor of the Month is a perfect blend of nuts, caramel, nougat and chocolate...

try our
Snickers Parfait
COFFEE
today!

coffee Break
CAFE

12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420

77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888

247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090

buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

PAUL'S AUTO BODY
384 Centre St., Quincy 617-471-6280
Open Mon-Fri 8AM - 5PM
(Walking distance from Quincy Adams T Station)

$25.00 OFF
ANY DETAILING
SERVICE OVER $100.00
Cannot be combined with other offers
One coupon per visit

Expert Repairs on
All Makes & Models
Insurance Estimates
Auto Glass Installed
Complete Auto Detailing & Reconditioning

Expert Color Matching
Licensed Dealer
Pre-Owned Vehicles
Insurance Rentals Available

Police To Receive Naloxone Auto-Injector Devices

In the midst of an opioid addiction crisis, communities across Massachusetts have expanded their use of naloxone, a drug that can temporarily reverse the effects of an opioid or heroin overdose.

The Quincy Police Department has gained national recognition as one of the first to carry naloxone, and the program has saved over 400 lives since 2010.

As more agencies adopt the use of naloxone, state officials are taking steps to mitigate the associated costs on municipal budgets. Working with a national manufacturer, Quincy's state delegation – state Sen. John Keenan and Reps. Ronald Mariano, Tackey Chan, Bruce Ayers and Daniel Hunt – has secured a donation of naloxone auto-injector devices to be delivered in the coming weeks.

Quincy Police will receive 200 of the devices, each of which carries a dose of naloxone that can be safely administered with minimal training.

"Naloxone is a life-saver and a critical element of our collective efforts to stem the epidemic of opioid abuse in Quincy and statewide. Our Quincy legislative delegation is the leader on Beacon Hill in this fight, and I am truly grateful for all of their work," said Mayor Thomas Koch "While I'm proud of the lives our first responders have saved in Quincy by innovating the use of naloxone, I know we all look forward to the day when it's no longer necessary."

"We are pleased to be making this donation as a part of our commitment to widen access to naloxone," said Mark A. Herzog, Vice President of Corporate Affairs at kaléo. "Even people who take their opioid pain medications as prescribed can be at risk for an opioid emergency, such as an overdose. On average, 44 people die each day from prescription opioid overdose alone, and more than 80 percent of those are unintentional. We are honored to support the outstanding efforts of the first responder community to help save the lives of those who are experiencing an opioid emergency."

Sharp spikes in the price of naloxone have prompted several steps to help cities and towns maintain their supplies of the product. In addition to these donations, the State Legislature this summer created a bulk purchasing fund to offset costs and to negotiate price discounts through aggregated purchasing power. Officials hope that the approval of new delivery methods, such as the auto-injector devices being donated, will also help curb costs as more manufacturers enter the market.

Sen. Keenan says this is only one of several steps the Legislature has taken against opioid addiction and overdose deaths.

"Our first responders are life savers," Keenan said, "but when they administer this product it is really a last resort. It means we've let a person fall so far into addiction that they are literally on the brink of death."

Rep. Chan called the naloxone donations "invaluable to continue the work on addressing the opiate abuse crisis."

In recent sessions the Legislature has created a sober homes accreditation program, required educational materials to be distributed with each opioid prescription, established a drug formulary commission to enforce the use of abuse-deterrent pills whenever available, set a minimum requirement for insurers to cover addiction treatment when ordered by a health care provider, and tripled funding to the Prescription Monitoring Program to improve data sharing across state lines – but none of these changes have yet been brought into effect. Most will take effect this fall, and Keenan says he looks forward to working with Gov. Baker and his staff as they develop the new programs.

Residents Urged To Sign Up For New 'Smart 911' Program

Cont'd From Page 1

provider to offer the "Smart 911" program to communities where it serves, and the system has been up and running to a positive response in neighboring Braintree for more than a year.

"We're proud to be providing the City of Quincy the very latest in technology and the best possible emergency response services. Smart 911 is certainly an important part of that," said Mark Brewster, president of Brewster Ambulance.

Smart 911 is one of a series of additions to the City's EMS contract with Brewster, which most notably includes the doubling of the size of the full-time ambulance fleet. The new contract, which started on July 1, increased the number of ambulances dedicated to the City from 3 to 7, which include 5 Advanced Life Support ambulances.

Brewster also boasts upgraded technology in ambulances, communications, training for City first responders, and translation services.

Parkinson's Support Group

The Quincy Parkinson's Support Group will meet Wednesday, Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. in the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave.

Topics include research opportunities, clinical trials and complementary\alternative medicine as well as future guests and activities.

For more information call 617-770-2090.

Adree wants to know "Hough Many Scoops?"

Join Adree Delvecchio for the first annual 'Adree Day for Children's Hospital'

Adree is a 12 year-old girl who is giving back to all those who gave to her.

Join Adree from 11am-10pm on Monday, August 31st at Hough Many Scoops-- 1094 Sea St in Houghs Neck

Can't be there in person?
Like Hough Many Scoops on Facebook and donate there!

Hough Many Scoops

For any additional questions, please email loriddelvecchio@yahoo.com

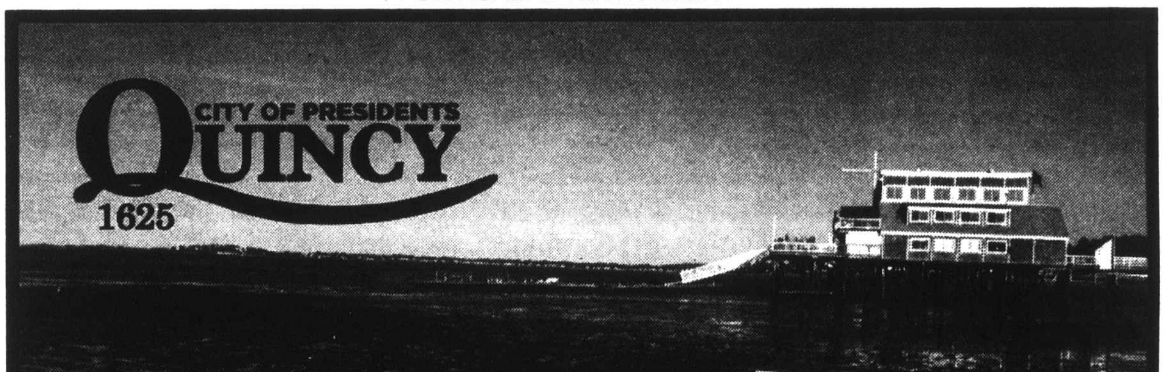
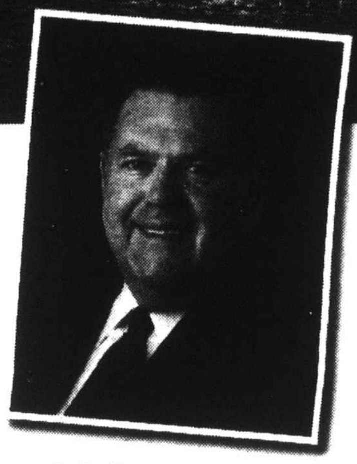
POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT





The Committee to Elect
Brian McNamee
cordially invites you to a Campaign Kick-off at Marina Bay

Wednesday, August 26th

5:30 to 8:00 pm

Blue
307 Victory Road

Suggested Contribution $50.00

Regardless of contribution, all are invited to attend.
Brian wants you to stop by so he can personally thank you for your friendship and support.

If you are unable to attend, but would like to send a check, your contribution can be mailed to:

CTE Brian McNamee
75 Faxon Lane
Quincy, MA 02169

Paid for by the Committee to Elect Brian McNamee
617-770-0678 | Michael Wright, Treasurer

Please visit www.brianmcnamee.com to...

Subscribe to the Ward 6 Matters Newsletter

Contribute by Credit card

Mayoral Contenders Clash On Taxes, Development

CY REP
CITY COMM

FOUR MAYORAL CONTENDERS – (from left) Councillor Doug Gutro, former Mayor William Phelan, incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch and School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney – debated issues including property taxes and development at their first candidates' forum held Aug. 11 at the Best Western Adams Inn. The forum was sponsored by the Quincy Repubican City Committee.

Quincy Sun Photo/Scott Jackson

Cont'd From Page 1

among other accomplishments.

In his opening statement, Gutro, who was first elected Ward 5 councillor in 2001 then at-large councillor 10 years later, said the city has moved off track in the last year-and-a-half.

"Why am I running? I like Tom Koch, but over the last 18 months clearly, in my opinion, the city has moved off track. On his watch we've seen the collapse of the downtown. We've seen the loss of our community hospital. We've seen the loss of our ferry service. We've seen failures to disclose or appeal the federal flood maps and we've seen a lack of emergency planning and absurd spending on snow that will have financial consequences on every taxpayer in this city – not just this year, but in years to come," Gutro said.

"As for development, we have development backwards here in the city of Quincy. It's not happening in downtown, but it's happening through a steady stream of variances for sore thumb projects that erode… every neighborhood."

Koch, who was first elected mayor in 2007, said he brought the city through the recession that began in 2008 and highlighted investments being made in the city by both developers and the state and federal governments.

"We came out of this recession stronger. Our bond rating has been increased. This year alone we're seeing $600 million in private investment and we've seen over the last couple of years some $400 million of public investment – that's federal and state tax dollars, your dollars, being brought back here to Quincy," Koch said.

"We have many challenges as an old city, largely infrastructure challenges. Whether it's school buildings – 20 school buildings – and 53 city buildings. We have hundreds of miles of streets, sidewalk and pipe we're dealing with. We're doing intersections across the city. East Howard and Quincy Avenue, 100 percent cost paid for by the state. Seventy-five percent of cost down the street – East and West Squantum Streets and Hancock Street – 75 percent of it paid for by the state."

Mahoney – midway through her third four-year term on the School Committee and who unsuccessfully challenged Koch in 2011– said her work in the private sectors sets her apart from her rivals.

"I'm here to tell you why I think we need a new direction in the city of Quincy. We have holes in our downtown, we have holes in our budget and we've had a whole lot of taxes and we're not getting a lot in return," Mahoney said.

"The difference between me and the other candidates here: I work in the private sector. I have a degree in finance. I use it every single day. I do large, multi-million dollar project management for companies. I have to show a return on their investment. We need to have that here in the city of Quincy. I also ran a small business for 15 years; some of those years were here in the city of Quincy. We need small business to be here and we need to be partners with those small businesses."

Phelan – who was first elected mayor in 2001 then re-elected twice before being unseated by Koch in 2007 and losing a 2009 rematch – said the city is spending recklessly.

"I love the city. One thing that hasn't changed is my passion for the city and I'm just going to say it like it is: We're spending money recklessly. We're wasting taxpayers' dollars on things that we don't need and on the things that we do need we're not managing properly," Phelan said.

"We're letting developers control the destiny of our city instead of sitting across the table from them and having responsible development and making sure that our city can sustain it. The developers are getting the green light. We're getting stuck in red lights all over the city. And we're not investing in our school system. When I was the mayor, we increased the school budget on average 4.4 percent a year. This administration, 2.4 percent."

Cedrone then asked the candidates how they would help residents who are overburdened with property taxes.

Gutro said he already has, having proposed the local adoption of the state's circuit breaker exemption for seniors. He also said the city lacks a financial plan and five-year capital management plan.

"First thing is, I already have," Gutro responded. "There was an exemption under the state circuit breaker that we did not take advantage of that would elevate the exemption for senior citizens. I proposed that and the City Council adopted that. Number two, the SWAP (Senior Worker's Abatement Program) program for senior citizens is another option that we are not fully allowing seniors to participate in.

"Number three, we have no financial plan. We have no five-year capital management plan. The decisions on capital budgets are episodic. We need some transparency in the financial management in the city of Quincy. There are cities and towns that are doing it, like Arlington, that let you know every dollar that's spent and what department it goes to."

Koch said the city does not tax the maximum amount allowed under state law. New growth, he added, will help offset the need to increase taxes going forward.

"The city of Quincy does not tax at the levy limit. Every community around us taxes fully at the levy limit. We just saw Weymouth turn down a Proposition 2 ½ override just to sustain services. We're providing outstanding services in the city. You get great value for dollars here; we are not taxing at the max," Koch said.

"We are going to continue to see responsible, sustained growth. That new growth helps offset the need to increase the property tax. But the reality is that state aid over the last 10 years has not kept pace where it used to provide additional funding to cities and towns so there is further burden on the property tax."

Mahoney responded by saying taxes have increased by more than 25 percent since Koch took office.

"I'm glad we brought up taxes. Like I said, I work in the private sector so I know how hard it is to earn that money and how hard it is to give it back to the city when it's not managed," Mahoney said.

"The mayor just mentioned excise levy tax and we're not taxing to the limit. That's rather insulting as we stand here today because they are taxing and we are being taxed 25 to 30 percent higher since this mayor has taken office and we have seen not a return on that investment. We have seen money wasted, projects mismanaged and we have not had the opportunity to fulfill the dreams that this mayor and other administrations have had."

Phelan said the solution is to lower taxes and pointed to his record of keeping down the residential property tax rate when he was in office.

"What do you do for the overburdened taxpayer? You lower taxes, ladies and gentlemen. I did it two out of my six years in office. In fact, we had the lowest increase of any city in the state with two exceptions for my total six years in office - .84 percent. This mayor came into office, it's gone up almost three times that," Phelan said.

"Don't let anyone tell you you can't cut taxes. The taxes are the result of reckless spending on things we don't need. We can cut back. With your help, I can do it again. It's proven leadership this city needs in the next four years."

Cedrone's second question asked the candidate for their opinion on new development seen throughout the city.

Gutro said the new developments are causing neighborhoods to lose their character and a more holistic approach is needed.

"We're eroding the character in the neighborhoods. If you go to every part of the city – whether it's North Quincy, West Quincy, South Quincy, Houghs Neck, Squantum – you're seeing 10-, 20-, 30-unit apartment buildings being sandwiched in and going to the zoning board," Gutro said.

"This isn't planning. This isn't sustainable growth. The one place we want to grow and prosper – in our downtown – we don't have a plan for downtown development. We as a city need to look more holistically, more inclusively with more public input and get your voice in, protect our neighborhoods, and have a credible economic development plan and I'll bring that."

Koch in response said the city abides by the zoning code, which the City Council sets, and there is a plan for Quincy Center with one project underway and three others in the pipeline.

"We have a zoning code. The City Council approves that zoning code. We abide by that zoning code. We do have a plan and we have a great plan for Quincy Center. The plan hasn't changed, the partners and the players have. We have four new developers at the table. If you've been on Hancock Street, you would see the steel coming out of the ground creating new construction jobs and going to transform our center," Koch said.

"We're the first administration to stick our necks out and take the steps necessary to move our city forward and I'm proud of the progress we're making."

Mahoney said the city needs more commercial development and noted her opponents each had a part in Street-Works' failed plan to redevelop Quincy Center.

"Bill brought Street-Works to us, Tom enacted it and Doug approved it. This plan is not a plan anymore. It's dead and now we have to redevelop once again," Mahoney said.

"We need a mayor who knows how to bring business into the city of Quincy, who knows how to go out and bring it in. I won't sit in my office waiting for businesses to come for us. I will go out and I will recruit. I will market the city of Quincy and I will make it happen. I've been waiting 21 years, waiting and believing in the leadership that we've had – and we've had none."

Phelan said development is not bad, but needs to be managed.

"Development is not bad. We need to grow as a city. It is a desirable city. It's part of our future. But we need to manage developers. We need to be able to sit across the table from developers and be at the same level. The mayor references partners. Developers are a lot of things, but they are not your partners and this mayor found that out with Street-Works," Phelan said, adding that the Street-Works' agreement was a mistake.

"What happened? Eight years later monumental mistake in our city's history and we don't have a downtown that we can even walk down in safely."

A second candidates night was scheduled for Tuesday night, after The Sun went to press for the week. Tuesday's event was hosted by the Quincy LGBT community.

QATV, The Quincy Sun and The Patriot Ledger are also organizing a TV debate. Date and format to be determined and announced in the near future.

The four mayoral candidates will face off in a preliminary election on Thursday, Sept. 24. The top-two vote getters will square off in the final election on Tuesday, Nov. 3. The candidate who wins will serve the first four-year mayoral term in Quincy's history; voters approved a four-year term for the mayor in 2013.

Ward 1 Neighborhood Meeting Aug. 24 On Proposed Apartments

Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest will host a neighborhood meeting Monday, Aug. 24 at 7 p.m. at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington St. regarding a proposal to build a residential apartment building in the area of Johnson Avenue and Gilson Road.

Currently a four-family building occupies the site at 18 Johnson Ave. The property is a neighborhood eyesore, Laforest said, with blight conditions. The property has been abandoned for several years.

"I was shocked to see the conditions of 18 Johnson Ave. when asked to do a site visit with the new owners, David and Peter Murphy and their attorney Bill Keener," Laforest said. "This building, located behind Hancock Street between Whitney Road and Greenleaf Street, is one of the worst blights I have ever seen and is a detriment to the neighborhood in its current conditions."

The Murphyss have also acquired the abutting two-family home at 32 Gilson Rd. They intend to demolish both properties and construct a residential apartment building with 21-24 rental units which will be all two bedroom with approximately 1,200 square feet per unit. There will be parking underneath as well as some outside parking on the Gilson Road parcel.

Neighbors are encouraged to speak on the proposal and review the proposal at the neighborhood meeting next Monday.

The project will require the approval of the City's Planning Board; meeting date to be determined.

Immediate abutters will receive notification from the applicant prior to the Planning Board meeting. Anyone can attend the Planning Board meeting to express support or opposition to this proposed project.

Those unable to attend the meeting can send a letter to the Planning Director, Dennis Harrington at 34 Coddington St., Quincy, MA 02169 or by email dharrington@quincyma.gov.

Project documents will be on file and available for public viewing in the Planning Department, 34 Coddington St., third floor Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

BLIGHTED PROPERTY at 18 Johnson Ave. is one of two properties that would be demolished and replaced with a residential apartment building that is being proposed for the site. Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest will host a neighborhood meeting on the proposal on Monday, Aug. 24 at 7 p.m. at Coddington Hall, 34 Coddington St.

Solarize Panels Appearing On Rooftops; Program Ends Aug. 31

Cont'd From Page 2

pect to recover my costs in five years."

Shaw, who first heard about Solarize Quincy from an article in a local paper, said he went with Solarize for the "value and environmental benefit."

Si Wong of Vassall St., whose 3.57 kilowatt array went in on Aug. 4 and 5, told a similar story.

"The number one factor was savings on our electric bill," Wong said. "Number two was a chance to help out the environment. The third factor was timing.

"A raccoon took out a big chunk of our porch roof last year, and we decided to replace the main roof as well, so that raccoon put us in a good position to have solar installed," said Wong, who first learned about Solarize from a notice on the city website.

"We decided to go through Solarize Quincy because the pricing structure means that everyone in the city will benefit if more people sign up," Wong added. "And finding a good contractor is always difficult… so it was also great that the Mass Clean Energy Center and Solarize volunteers had already performed the due diligence for us and were able to negotiate a good price."

Both homeowners said the installation of their panels went off without significant problems.

Shaw called the work "skilled and professional" and said his panels were installed in less than a day. According to Wong, an engineer by profession, "SolarFlair installers came at 8 a.m. the first day and started work immediately. That day, they screwed metal rails onto the roof and installed half the modules. They also installed electrical conduit to feed the power into the home. The only issue I had during the entire process was that they installed the conduit on the front of the house and it looked out of place, so I asked if they could move it to the side. They were very accommodating, and moved the conduit the next day."

According to Matt Murphy, residential operations manager for SolarFlair, Solarize Quincy's exclusive installer, the program will have installed 11 systems by the end of this month, and a total of 30 by the end of September.

"We are currently on pace to install all 77 signed contracts by the end of the year," said Murphy. "The projects have been going great. There's a tremendous amount of enthusiasm from homeowners around town. The building department and inspectors have also been very helpful and a pleasure to work with."

Both Shaw and Wong encouraged others to check out Solarize Quincy.

"Anyone with a south-facing roof should look into this," said Shaw. "Financing is available at favorable rates, making for a five-year payback. When you look at the bottom line, it's a zero expenditure proposition."

Solarize Quincy inked its 76th contract with a city resident last week. This system contributes to over 400kW of solar that is contracted to be installed in Quincy under the program. Reaching this milestone insured that SolarFlair, Solarize Quincy's exclusive installer, will donate a free 5 kW solar installation to a Quincy nonprofit.

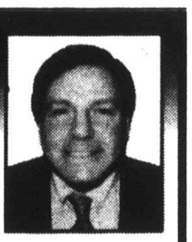
To qualify, nonprofits must own their own facility in Quincy and have a good location for solar power.

"We will accept nonprofit nominations until midnight on Aug. 31. In September we will perform site assessments on the nonprofits to determine which sites are good candidates for solar panels. The winner of the free solar array will be announced in late September," said Dan Barnett, residential sales manager for SolarFlair.

In mid-July Mayor Thomas Koch sent a letter to nonprofits in the city encouraging them to sign up for a chance at winning the free panels. So far nine nonprofits have signed up or been nominated, said Rebecca McWilliams, lead volunteer for Solarize Quincy. To nominate a nonprofit, go to solarizequincy.weebly.com and click on "tier 6" in the upper right hand corner of the page.

Hitting the 400 kW mark is a tribute to the hard work of members of the Quincy Climate Action Network and other volunteers, McWilliams said. Volunteers will continue gathering names of residents who'd like to find out if their house will work for solar. Residents and businesses can also sign up for a solar assessment of their property at the Solarize Quincy website.

Originally scheduled to end in June, Solarize Quincy has been extended to Aug. 31. "There's almost a month left, and we aren't slowing down," said Barnett.



DENTISTRY for the 21st Century

by Steven A. Brustin, D.M.D.

A SMILE'S POSITIVE EFFECTS

If you feel so self-conscious about your teeth that you stifle your smile, you owe it to yourself to visit the dentist. Not only does necessary remedial dental care make you more attractive to others, it can also actually make you happier. Recent research into the mind-body connection has led to the discovery that the simple act of smiling sends a message to the brain that lets it know that you are happy. In response, the brain releases "endorphins," which are chemicals that produce feelings of euphoria. So strong is this cause and effect that merely imitating the act of smiling (by clenching a pencil between the teeth) produces the same positive effect as smiling itself.

Let us help you to achieve a brilliant smile. Our dental team is in the forefront in promoting good oral hygiene, eliminating periodontal (gum) disease and scheduling regular professional cleanings are essential to excellent dental health. Please call us at 617 479-6220 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 44 Greenleaf Street, where you will receive a professional dental exam to detect and address any existing or imminent oral health problems. We offer the services of anesthesiology with a fully trained and qualified anesthesiologist. .

P.S. According to the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry, 96 percent of American adults believe an attractive smile makes a person more appealing to members of the opposite sex.

As of Monday, Aug. 24

The City Clerk's Office has MOVED

back to

1305 Hancock St.
City Hall
2nd Floor
Glass Annex Building

Legislators Visit Snug Harbor Summer Food Site

Quincy legislators Sen. John Keenan and Rep. Tackey Chan recently visited the Snug Harbor Elementary School Summer Food Site.

The visit was part of Cong. Jim McGovern's second annual Summer Food Rocks Tour to help raise awareness about the USDA's Summer Food Service Program (SFSP).

The Summer Food Service Program is a federally funded nutrition program that provides free meals to children ages 18 and under when school is not in session. In Massachusetts the program is administered by the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (ESE) with support from the Child Nutrition Outreach Program (CNOP) at Project Bread.

Summer meal sites are vital resources for the more than 400,000 children across Massachusetts that qualify for free or low-cost school meals during the school year. While children and families can rely on free or low cost school meals to ensure their child has adequate nutrition, the summer months pose unique challenges.

Children and families lose access to these nutritious meals and frequently find it difficult to absorb the additional meal costs. This puts students at risk for hunger, malnutrition, and increased summer learning loss. The SFSP fills this meal gap by providing nutritious meals in a safe environment. Summer meal sites exist in a wide range of eligible settings. They operate in schools, parks, public pools and neighborhood centers; and they serve children taking part in summer programs, staying home over the summer, staying in homeless shelters or hotels, etc.

"The Summer Food Rocks Tour shows how communities across our state are successfully feeding kids in their community by meeting them where they are in the summer—in the park, at the pool, and at camps," said Ellen Parker, executive director at Project Bread.

In Quincy, more than 50 percent of students enrolled in Quincy Public Schools qualify for free and reduce price school meals. This summer there are five sites throughout Quincy where any kid 18 and under can go for a free meal.

Sites are located at the Snug Harbor School, 333 Palmer St.; Lincoln Hancock School, 300 Granite St.; Parker School, 148 Billings Rd.; Montclair School, 8 Belmont St. and the Ward 2 Community Center, 16 Nevada Rd.

The free summer lunch program continues daily through Aug. 21 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"The Summer Food Service Program is a valuable resource for children and families in our community," Keenan said. "Providing nutritious meals alongside engaging programming ensures that all children can spend their summers enjoying time with friends and family—and not worrying about being hungry."

The Quincy visit was part of a larger effort lead by Cong. McGovern's office to raise awareness about the SFSP. Numerous federal, regional, state, and local officials visited summer meal sites throughout the state.

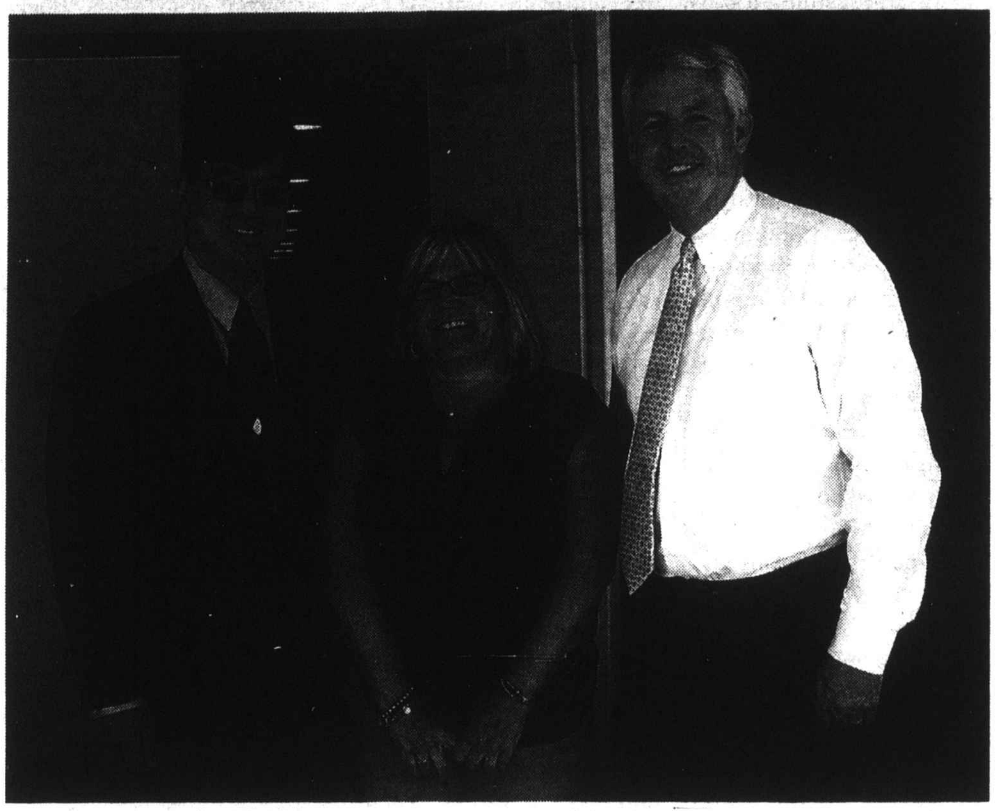
"The state wide tour brought together federal, state, and local officials and is testament to the Commonwealth's commitment to ensuring every child access healthy, nutritious food year-round," said Robert Leshin, Acting Executive Director at the Office for Nutrition, Health, and Safety at the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

This summer more than 60,000 children will enjoy a free, healthy breakfast, lunch, snack or dinner at one of more than 900 Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) sites across Massachusetts. Across the nation, the USDA plans to serve more than 200 million free meals to children 18 years and under at approved SFSP sites.

"Summer food service programs are an investment in the future of our community," Chan said. "Kids who eat healthy during the summer return to school ready to learn. As a community we can all help raise awareness that this free program exists for children and families in our community."

Parents, guardians, and children can get a complete list of programs across the state by calling Project Bread's FoodSource Hotline at 1-800-645-8333 or by going to www.meals4kids.org/summer-meals.

BACK TO SCHOOL



LOCAL LEGISLATORS Rep. Tackey Chan (left) and Sen. John Keenan (right) with Kathleen Reardon, a Special Education teacher at Quincy High School.

Sterling Middle School Run, Walk Sept. 26

The Sterling Middle School annual 5K Fun Run/Walk will be held Saturday, Sept. 26 at 9 a.m.

Rain date is Oct. 3.

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. behind the school, 444 Granite St., Quincy.

Cost is $10 for adults, $5 for children under age 18. Family maximum is $25.

Proceeds will benefit Sterling Middle School's Education Fund.

For more information, call 617-984-8729.

Chronic Health Program Workshop

The Quincy Weymouth Wellness Initiative invites the public to participate in a six-week program for those living with or caring for someone with a chronic health condition.

The free program, entitled "My Life, My Health – Self-Management Program" will begin Wednesday, Sept. 2 at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

The workshop will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. and continue on Wednesdays through Oct. 7.

The program, developed by Stanford University Medical Center, is designed to help people set and meet personal goals, increase energy levels, handle stress, learn to relax, eat healthy, improve quality of life and more.

To register, call 617-376-1506.

GREATER QUINCY
CHILD CARE CENTER
859 Willard St., One Adams Pl., Quincy
(1/2 mile from the So. Shore Plaza)

- Infants: 8 weeks to 15 months
- Toddlers: 15 months to 2.9 years
- Preschool: 2.9 to 5 years
- Kindergarten: We only close 12 holidays
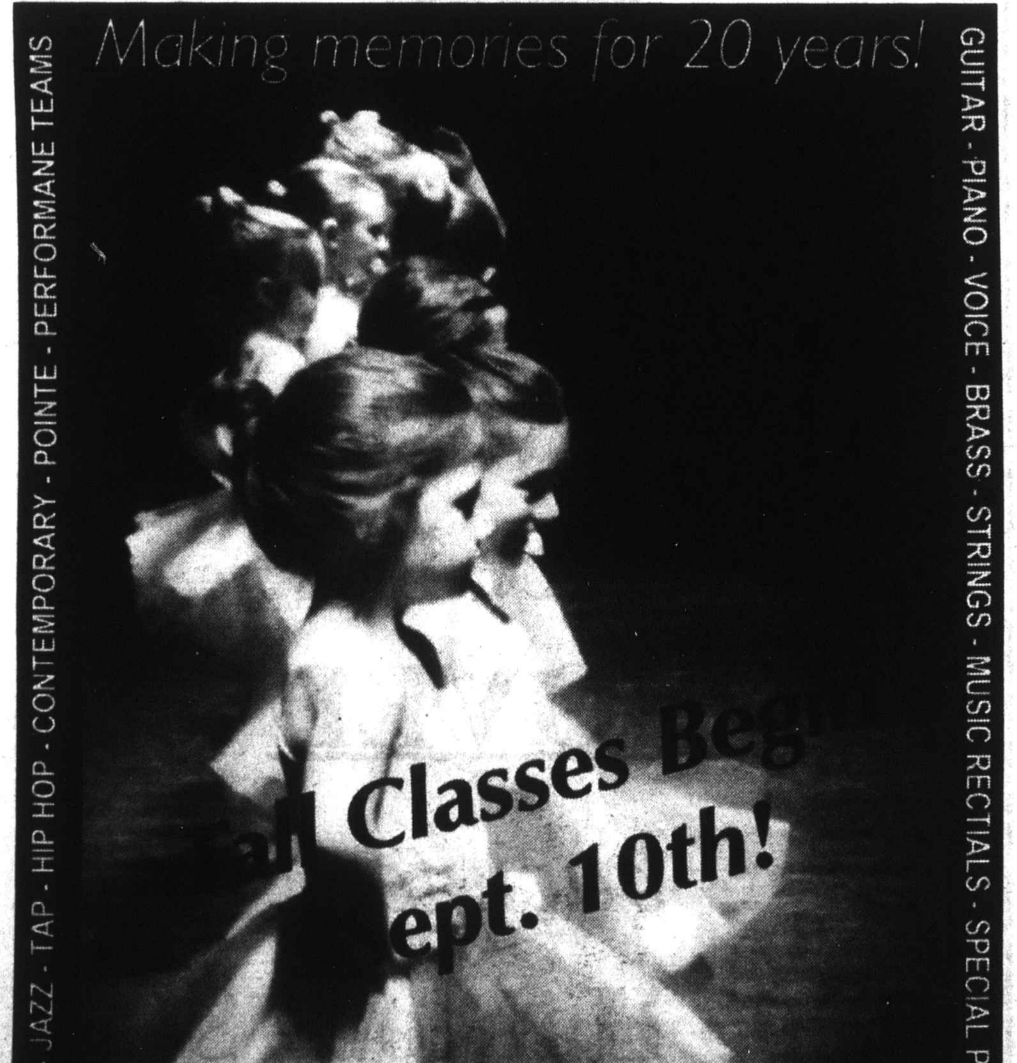
- Hours: 7:30 am to 6 pm • Developmental Curriculum
- Full or Part Week • Hot Lunch • State-of-the-art Center
- Music & Large Motor Enrichment Programs
- Small Teacher/Student Ratios * High-tech Security System

FALL 2015 KINDERGARTEN
Year Round • Full Day (7:30 am to 6 pm)
We only close for 12 holidays • Call to schedule a tour!
Age Req. - 5 years old by Oct. 31, 2015 - 12/1 Ratio

We are celebrating 30+ years of quality care and education.
617-773-8386 • gqccc@aol.com
www.greaterquincychildcare.com
Accredited by the NAEYC Academy for Early Childhood Program Accreditation

JOAN'S OLYMPIC GYM
Gymnastics & Dance School
est.1983 • Voted #1 On The South Shore
OPEN HOUSE
Sat., Aug. 29th • 10 a.m.- 4 p.m.
Meet Minnie Mouse · FREE Demonstrations
NOW ACCEPTING FALL REGISTRATIONS
Classes Start Sept. 8, 2015
Ages 2 years thru Teens
CALL NOW 781-843-9624 TO ENROLL
197 Quincy Avenue, Braintree, MA
An Excellent Education Environment For Your Child • www.joansolympicgym.com



Making memories for 20 years!
MOM & ME - BALLET - JAZZ - TAP - HIP HOP - CONTEMPORARY - POINTE - PERFORMANE TEAMS
GUITAR - PIANO - VOICE - BRASS - STRINGS - MUSIC RECTIALS - SPECIAL PRESCHOOL RECITALS
all Classes Beg
ept. 10th!
617-328
Adam

Tips For A Safe, Healthy School Year

By DR. JACK CORNWELL

Summer is winding down and as September approaches, children everywhere are preparing to head back to school.

Despite all the excitement that a new school year can bring, there are a number of health concerns for parents when it comes to sending their children back into the classroom. The good news is that most of these concerns can be put at ease if the proper precautions are taken.

The following are a few tips to ensure a safe and healthy school year for kids and parents.

Get Up To Date On Immunizations

No one likes to get shots, but they are a mandatory part of any back to school routine. In most cases, children without the proper vaccinations are prohibited from returning to school. It can be difficult to keep up with all the required shots, as there are more vaccinations now than ever before. Some of the most common include chickenpox, hepatitis B and a recent tetanus shot. Some school systems also strongly recommend other immunizations, like flu shots.

Before sending your child back to school, check with your local school district and pediatrician to make sure your child's immunizations are up to date.

Teach Germ Prevention

Schools are a breeding ground for germs and the number one place where children catch the germs that make them sick. Why? Children often have germy habits, like sticking fingers in their mouths and forgetting to wash their hands. Plus, their immune systems are less mature than adults', making them more susceptible to germs. When hundreds of children are put in close contact with each other, sharing the same supplies and desk space, it's easy for germs to spread.

Most of the illnesses that your child is likely to catch at school are avoidable. The best way to prevent the spread of germs is with frequent and detailed hand-washing. Parents should remind their children to always wash their hands. Make sure they know to use soap and warm water, and to scrub everywhere, for at least 20 to 30 seconds.

Depending on your child's age and school policy, sending them to school with an alcohol-based sanitizing gel or wipe may also be a good alternative.

Don't Break Your Back

DR. JACK CORNWELL

As practical as they may be, backpacks can strain muscles and cause back pain if they are too heavy or used incorrectly. In 2013 alone, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission cited 5,415 backpack-related injuries treated at emergency rooms.

While some doctors are still debating whether heavy backpacks lead to chronic back pain, the potential for risk is there, so parents should work with their children to make sure they pick the right bag and use it correctly. This means investing in a high quality backpack with a lot of structure. Backpacks with wide, padded straps, as well as a padded back and plastic frame sheet, will help increase stability, comfort and ultimately safety.

Perhaps even more important, is proper use. Don't overstuff the backpack. Keep the weight of the backpack under 10 to 15 percent of the child's body weight. Parents should remind their children to always wear two straps, make sure weight is distributed evenly and keep it snug, so it fits right against the back.

Conquer The Long Days

School days are long days. When you add in afterschool activities and homework, the days can seem packed, especially after a relaxing summer. This change in pace can be particularly difficult for children to handle, which can lead to added stress and anxiety.

Help your child get into the school year swing by implementing an easy to follow routine, including an appropriate school night bedtime, about four to five days before school begins. This will give your child plenty of time to get acclimated to the new schedule. Parents should also help their children pack a well-balanced, healthy lunch that will give them enough energy to get them through the day.

Most importantly, parents need to do their homework when it comes to their child's health. When in doubt, never hesitate to ask questions. Your child's pediatrician or local urgent care center can give you the necessary advice to help you and your child have a healthy and happy school year.

Dr. Jack Cornwell is the Medical Director of Care-Well Urgent Care.

City Of Presidents Run/Walk

Registration for the second annual City of Presidents 5K Run/Walk is now open.

Participants may learn more about the race and register online by visiting: www.cityofpresidents5k.racewire.com

The race will be held Sunday, Sept. 27th at 10 a.m. beginning and ending in Merrymount Park. The 3.1 mile course spans the perimeter of the park with views of the Wollaston Beach Reservation and Black's Creek.

Proceeds from the event will benefit Quincy Public Schools' health and wellness programs. Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts has signed on as the lead sponsor for the second consecutive year, donating $10,000 toward the cause.

In addition to the adult categories for the 5K run and walk there is a separate category for students entering grades 5-12 to participate at a discounted rate of $10. The adult registration fee is $25.

Registrants entered before Sept. 18th will receive a free t-shirt as part of their registration fee.

Following the race, the Quincy Public Schools culinary students will cater a cookout for participants, volunteers and their families at Adams Field. Awards ceremony, games, DJ, bouncy houses and giveaways are all part of the post-race festivities at the field.

QUINCY CENTER
PHYSICAL THERAPY
Sports Injuries • General Injuries
Post Surgery
Most Private Insurance Accepted
Medicare, Workers Comp & MVA
101 Adams Street, Suite 26 • Quincy, MA 02169
Phone (617)770-5900 • Fax (617)770-5905

Back-To-School Transition For Students And Parents

A Message From The Quincy Health Department

HEALTH LINKS

By RUTH JONES
BSN, RN, BC, CP-FS

Whether their summer was packed with fun activities or filled with moans of boredom, kids and parents often have a difficult time transitioning back to school.

It's important for parents to talk to kids about what worries them and to offer reassurance. Remind them that everyone feels a little nervous about the first day of school, and eventually it will become an everyday routine. Emphasize the positive aspects about going back to school, like seeing old friends, meeting new classmates, getting involved in sports and other activities and showing off all the new clothes and accessories.

To help ease back into the routine, make sure your child gets enough sleep. Establishing a reasonable bedtime is important so they will be well-rested and ready to learn. Make sure your child has a healthy breakfast; this will help them to be more alert and do better in class.

Have your child organize and set out what they need the night before, like books, backpacks and clothing. Personal planners are a helpful accessory so your child can write down important information such as room and locker numbers, and details such as assignments and homework.

Parents can also have the first day jitters. To help make going to school a little easier on everyone consider these tips. Know in advance what your child needs to wear, bring and eat. Make sure your kids have a safe, lightweight backpack with wide padded shoulder straps. Backpacks when filled should never be heavier than 20% of your child's body weight. Be certain that your child has had all the necessary physical exams, eye exams and immunizations.

RUTH JONES

Make sure all forms such as emergency contact cards and health information forms have been filled out and returned to the school. It is important that the school nurse and teachers are aware of any medications, medical conditions or learning issues that may affect your child. Plan ahead for transportation and go over traffic safety points such as the importance of using crosswalks and understanding traffic signals. Figure out in advance, what your child will be doing afterschool, especially if both parents are working. To keep kids entertained and safe, look into an afterschool program. If kids are home alone it is vital to establish clear rules to ensure they are secure and that know what to do in an emergency.

Last but not least, homework is a very important part of school. To help your child get back into the scholastic swing of things, make sure there is a quiet, distraction free area to do their homework. Consider turning off TV's and cellphones, and limiting time on social media, texting should be kept to a minimum to avoid frequent interruptions.

To make sure you and your kids get the most out of the school experience, maintain an open channel of communication with your child and their teachers. Let your kids know that your there to listen and support them through the upcoming year.

Joyce & Gendreau
Jewelers
Fine Jewelry at Honest Values
Home of the "You want it when? No problem and done right!" service!
52 Billings Road No. Quincy
617.328.0084
www.joycejlrs.com

Center Stage
PERFORMING ARTS STUDIO
507 Furnace Brook Pkwy., Quincy • 617-328-8669
www.centerstagequincy.com • centerstagequincy@comcast.net

C&C Design Studio

OPEN HOUSE DATES:
FRIDAY, AUGUST 21ST 4-7PM
SUNDAY, AUGUST 30TH 10-12PM
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7TH 5-8PM

QUINCY GIRL SCOUTS Amanda Powers (left) and Brianna Joyce (right) were the top two sellers of Girl Scout cookies in Quincy selling a combined 3,325 boxes of cookies this past selling season. Brianna was one of the top 15 sellers in Eastern Massachusetts and was the top seller in Quincy at 2,040 boxes. Amanda sold 1,285 boxes. Here the Girl Scouts receive congratulations from state Treasurer Deborah Goldberg and Patricia A. Parcellin, executive oficer, Girl Scouts of Eastern Mass.

Quincy Sun PhotosRobert Bosworth

State Treasurer Stresses Financial Empowerment To Quincy Girl Scouts

Selling Cookies Provides Important Lessons

By SCOTT JACKSON

Selling cookies is more than just a fun way for Girl Scouts to raise funds to support their local troop – it's a way for girls to learn valuable lessons they can use later in life, including those needed for jobs in STEM and the financial sector, according to state Treasurer Deb Goldberg.

Goldberg, who was sworn in as the state's treasurer in January, met with some two-dozen Girl Scouts from Quincy Aug. 12 at the Thomas Crane Public Library. It was one of several stops she has made around the Bay State in recent weeks as part of her economic empowerment tour.

The Quincy Girl Scouts present during that day sold a total 9,429 boxes of cookies this year including 2,040 boxes sold by Brianna Joyce, one of the top 15 sellers in Eastern Massachusetts. In total, 212 Quincy Girl Scouts sold 40,300 boxes of cookies this past selling season.

Goldberg said the scouts learned valuable lessons by selling the tasty treats.

"Your program in selling your cookies and learning how to make change, and learning how to keep track and learning how to do it online, is the beginning of you doing work in finance," she said. "What you're learning is you can do it and that no one should tell you, you can't."

Goldberg, whose family founded Stop & Shop, credited her mother for serving as a mentor to her and countless other businesswomen in the state. One of her most important lessons: You have to stay with it.

"What she taught me – and what I hope to teach you by learning financial skills, by having self-confidence to find what you love and go after it – is that you have got to stay with it. You can't let people get in your way. You need to learn the skills that empower you that give you the strength to keep on going, no matter what," Goldberg said.

"No one should tell you girls don't do this or that girls should go and do the dance club instead of robotics club – including your girl friends – because that's what happens. We get to high school and we love math and we love engineering, but we were shown the robotics club and it's all boys and you're friends are off doing tap dance or Irish step dance and we end up moving over there and leaving them the opportunity to get those good paying jobs and you start to not be able to pursue your passion."

On her first day in office as treasurer, Goldberg launched the Office of Economic Empowerment. Among other objectives, the office was established to help promote wage equality.

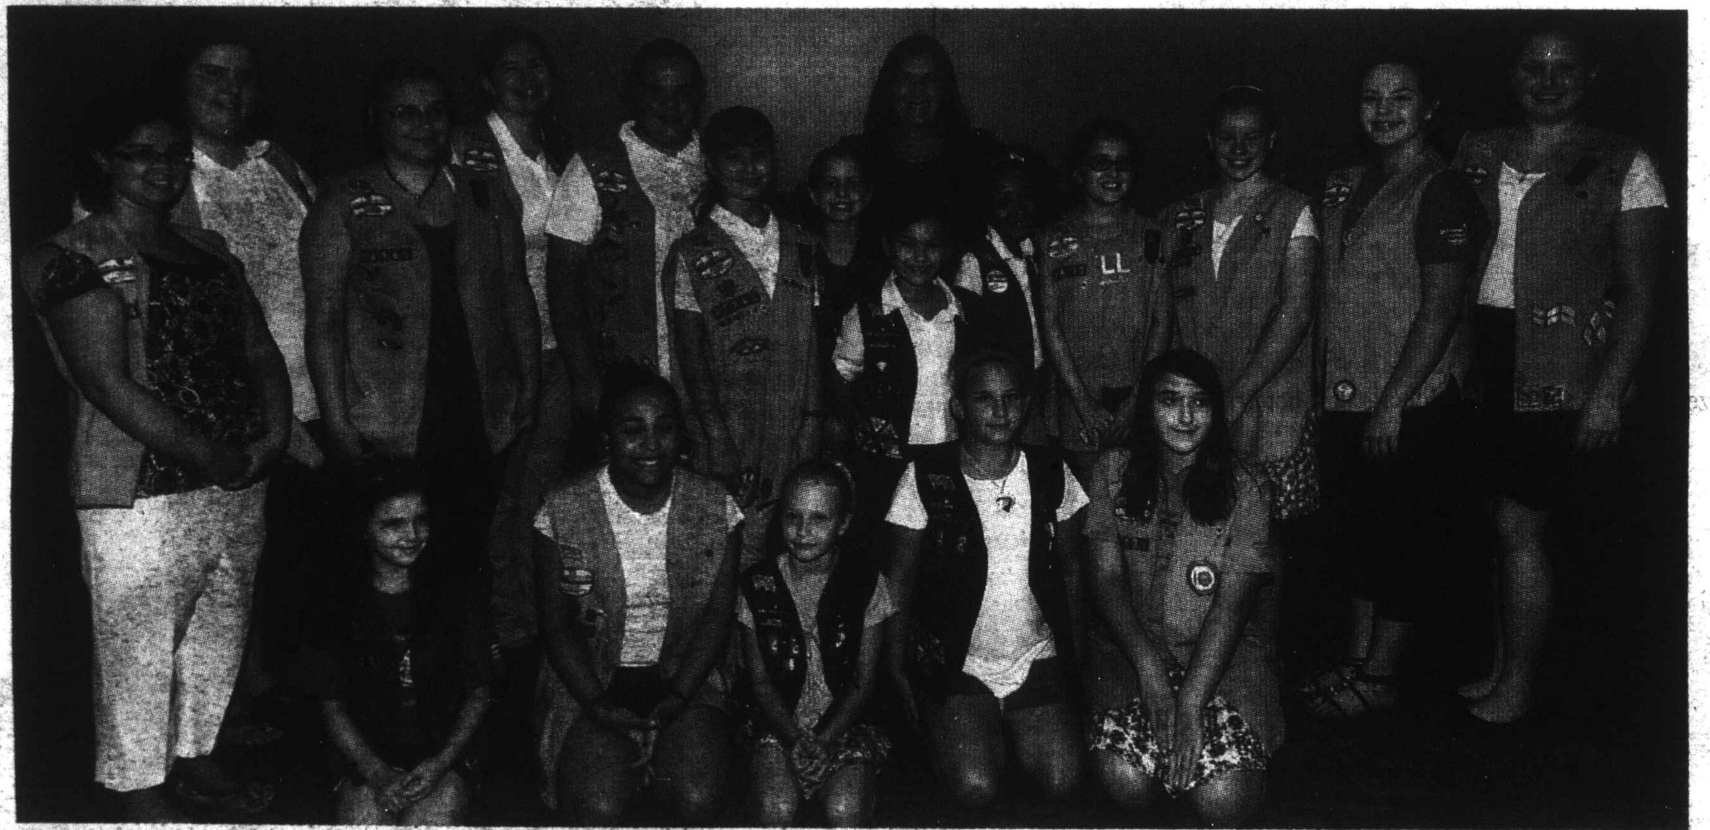
"We are creating programs to break down barriers in order to achieve equality and equity, not because it's a good social goal, but because it's economic goal for every community and the whole state," Goldberg said.

Other objectives include improving financial literacy statewide for everyone from schoolchildren to senior citizens and making college more affordable.

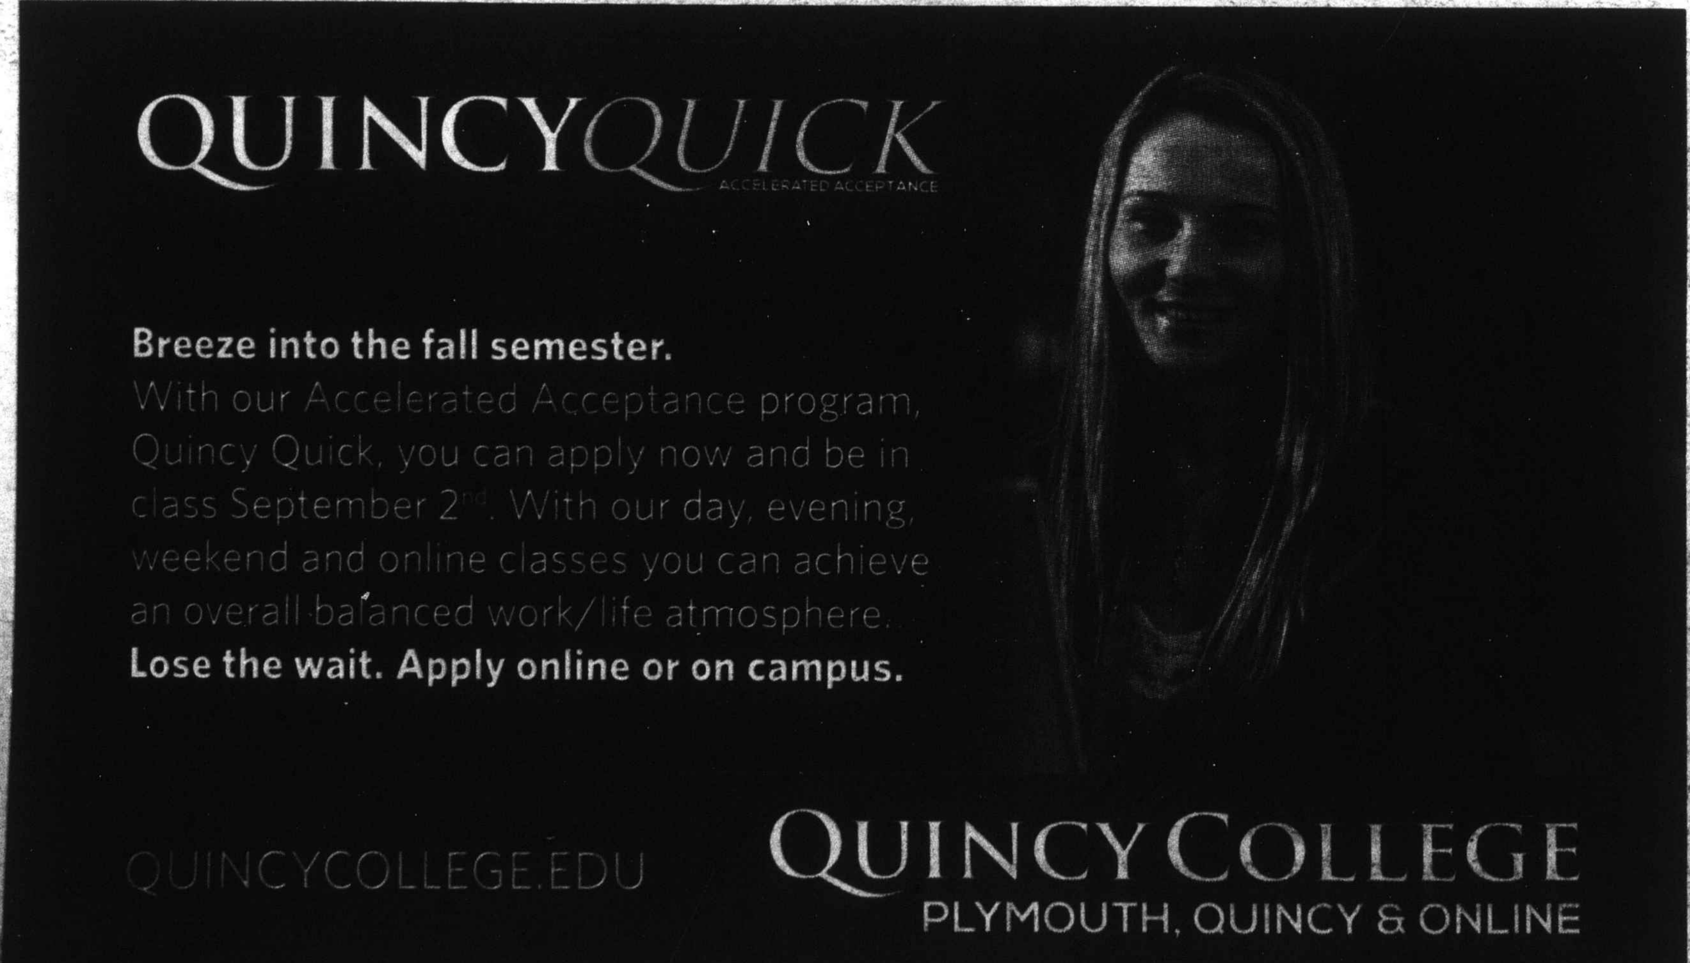
Joyce, the top cookie seller in the city the past two years, said the first time she sold cookies, she only did so for one hour outside a Stop & Shop. Now she sells every weekend, even in freezing temperatures.

"Part of Girl Scouts is about being with your friends and learning new skills through various experiences we may not otherwise encounter in our day-to-day life. Nothing in life comes for free. My troop

Cont'd On Page 17



QUINCY GIRL SCOUTS with state Treasurer Deborah Goldberg (back row) at a visit to the Crane Public Library Aug. 12. Goldberg spoke the Girl Scouts about personal perservance and congratulated the girls on their success selling Girl Scout cookies. The girl scouts shown with the treasurer sold 9,429 boxes of cookies during their most recent sales drive. In all, 212 Quincy Girl Scouts sold 40,300 boxes of cookies. Kneeling (from left to right): Samantha Davis, Stephanya Mendes, Kaija Pakkala, Zara Valencius and Alana Mc Dermott. Standing (from left) Elizabeth Chiasson, Kelsey Rose, Holly McKeon, Meg Powers, Brianna Cristiani, Brianna Joyce, Ciara Golden, Hannah Spratt, Mya Mooney,Isabelle Assaf, Amanda Powers,Hannah Davis and Amy Trillcott.



QUINCYQUICK
ACCELERATED ACCEPTANCE

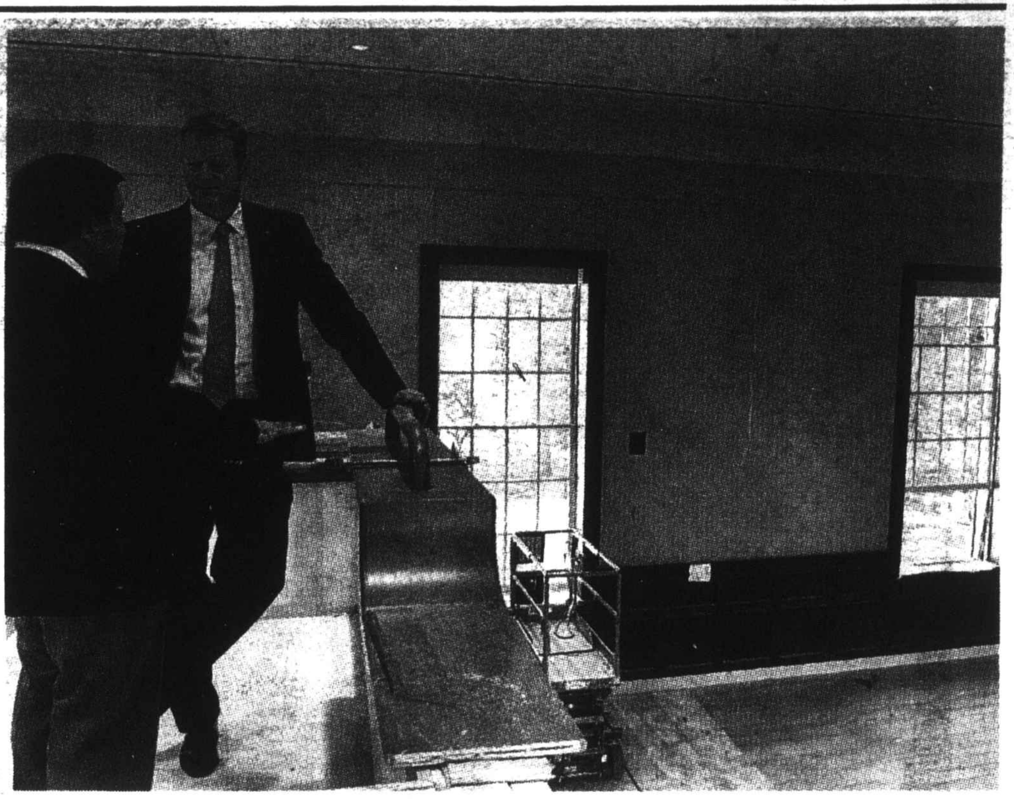
Breeze into the fall semester.
With our Accelerated Acceptance program, Quincy Quick, you can apply now and be in class September 2nd. With our day, evening, weekend and online classes you can achieve an overall balanced work/life atmosphere.
Lose the wait. Apply online or on campus.

QUINCYCOLLEGE.EDU

QUINCY COLLEGE
PLYMOUTH, QUINCY & ONLINE

STATE TREASURER Deborah Goldberg (left) met with Quincy Girl Scouts Aug. 12 at the Thomas Crane Public Library. The treasurer discussed money management and the Girl Scouts' cookie sales efforts. Some 212 local Girl Scouts sold a combined 40,300 boxes of cookies during their most recent sale initiative. Here the state treasurer joins Girl Scouts Meg Powers (middle) and Brianna Cristiani (right) who hold a display board with photos highlighting their troop's recent trip to California. Five girls and two adults mde the trip that was completely paid for from cookies sale profits. They planned and saved for the trip for several years.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth



GOV. CHARLIE BAKER (right) recently toured the James R. McIntyre Government Center - Old City Hall - with Thomas Thomas Koch (left) during a visit to Quincy last week. Koch showed Baker the renovation progress to the historic building. Here they are shown standing in what will be the gallery of the Great Hall of the City Council Chamber. The walls of the Great Hall are painted in Georgian Green with cherry wood accents and window framing. Once completed the 2,450 square-foot hall will have fixed seating for 181 occupants. Another 40 seats will be available in the 600 square-foot gallery.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

State Treasurer Stresses Financial Empowerment To Quincy Girl Scouts

Cont'd From Page 16

works hard each cookie season to earn individual prizes but also to fund our trips and experiences," Joyce said.

"I know the skills I've learned around money while in Girl Scouts will not only benefit me now, but will also come back around to assist me when I'm a working adult."

Girl Scout Brianna Cristiani showed Goldberg a poster of her troop's trip to California – a $9,000 trip for seven funded through four years of cookie sales. Those cookie sales also paid for a weekend trip to New York City for the troop, which cost $3,500. The scouts in the troop budgeted for both trips, including looking for hotel rooms and setting an itinerary.

"I'm very grateful that I got the chance to experience amazing trips with my troop," Cristiani said. "I'm very proud of us for making all of it happen on our own."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

★★★★★

You are Cordially invited to Join Us for a reception in Support of James M. Connors elect JAMES M. CONNORS

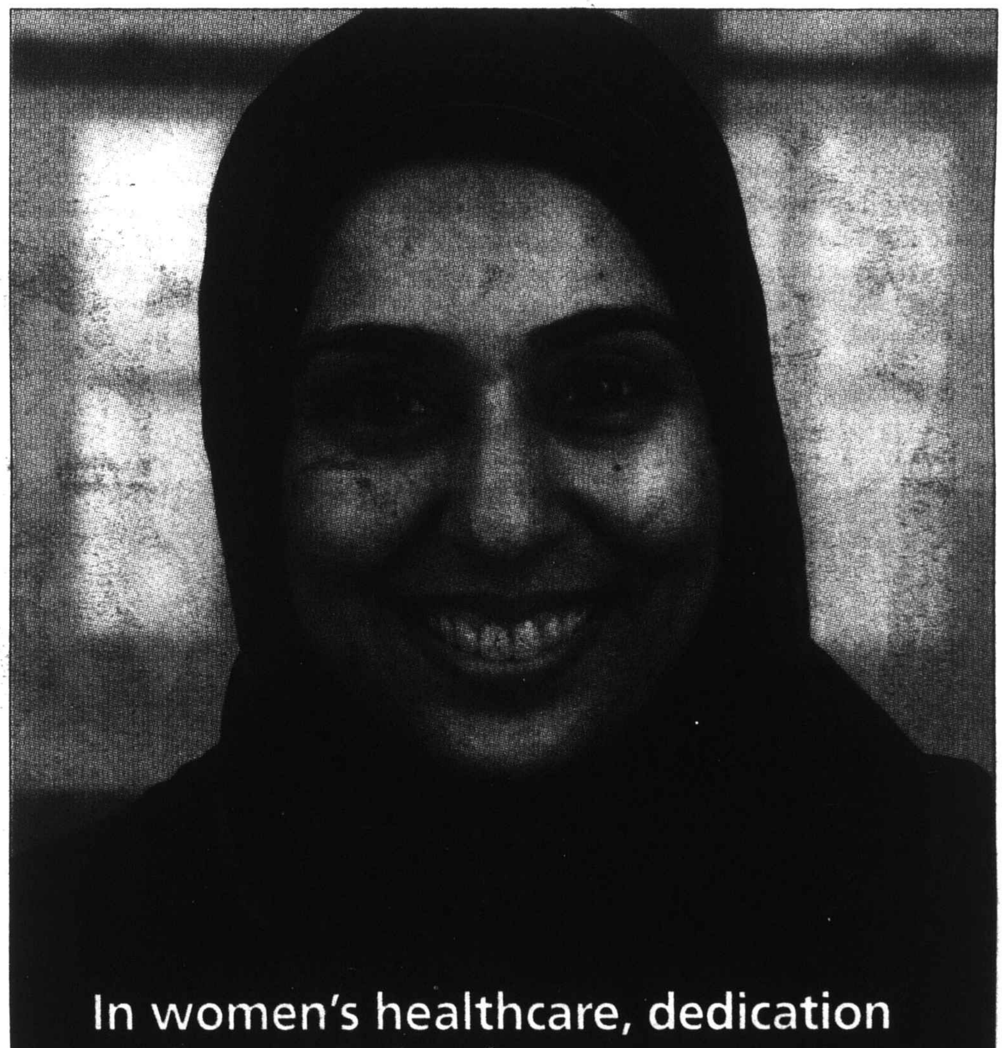
Ward 2 CITY COUNCIL

CANDIDATE FOR QUINCY CITY COUNCIL WARD 2

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25TH 6-8PM
The Inn at Baypointe
64 Washington Ct
Quincy MA 02169

Suggested Contribution $25, $50, $100, $250, $500
(Contribution is not required to attend)
To RSVP or for more information, please contact
Leslie St. Cyr at Leslie@connorsforquincy.com
Please make checks payable to "The Committee to Elect James Connors"
124 Martensen St. Quincy MA 02169

facebook.com/connorsforquincy?fref=ts twitter.com/connors4quincy Connorsforquincy.com



In women's healthcare, dedication and compassion have a name.

Huma Farid, MD

Dedication to women's health. That's why Dr. Huma Farid is joining Dr. Alice Shin's practice in Milton. She offers a full range of OB/GYN expertise, from prenatal care to menopause. A Harvard Medical Faculty Physician at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, and on the medical staff of Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital–Milton, Dr. Farid is offering women a uniquely personalized approach to care.

For an appointment with Dr. Farid, call 617-754-0500.

Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital
Milton
A Member of
Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL TEACHING HOSPITAL
bidmilton.org

OBSTETRICS/GYNECOLOGY

TAE KWAN DO student shows good form breaking a board with her foot during a martial arts demonstration at Sunday's 28th annual Quincy August Moon Festival in Quincy Center. Several thousand people turned out to celebrate the event that also featured song and dance performances as well as activities for kids. The celebration was organized by Quincy Asian Resources, Inc. More photos on Page 31 and online: www.TheQuincySun.com (click galleries).

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Safford Park Reopening Aug. 31

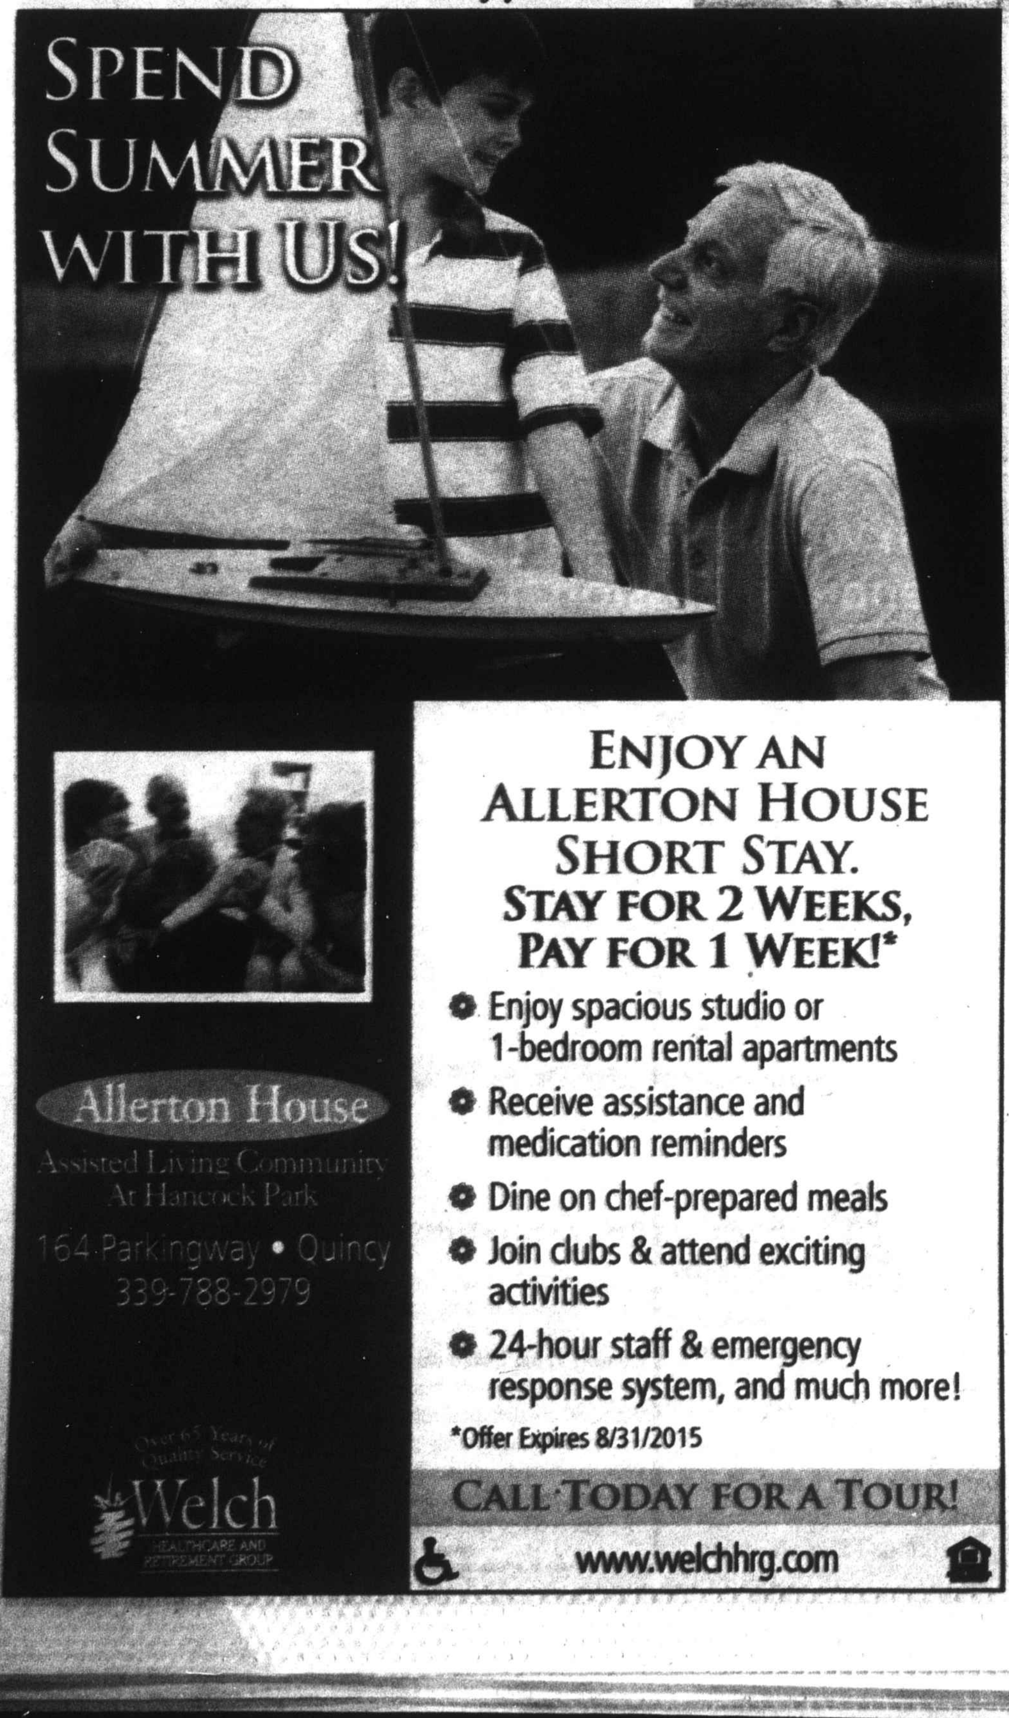
Mayor Thomas P. Koch, the Quincy Park Department, and the Wollaston Hill Neighborhood Association announce the ceremonial opening of the newly renovated Safford Park on Monday, Aug. 31st, at 7:30 pm.

The Wollaston Hill Neighborhood Association was awarded funds through the Community Preservation Act to restore Safford Park, which is located on Beale Street. The park was graded and reseeded and tree clearing and pruning was performed to open up the park.

Electricity was added to support community events and the annual Christmas Tree lighting. New walkways and granite stairways were constructed and four granite benches were donated by neighbors in order to sit and enjoy the aesthetic beauty of the park. Finally, the existing granite wall was re-pointed to strengthen the foundation.

After the ceremonial ribbon cutting, an outdoor movie night will be hosted in the park. The movie, "Big Hero 6", is schedule to begin at 8 p.m.

For more information contact the Park Department at 617-376-1251.



SPEND SUMMER WITH US!

Allerton House
Assisted Living Community
At Hancock Park
164 Parkingway • Quincy
339-788-2979

Over 65 Years of Quality Service
Welch
HEALTHCARE AND RETIREMENT GROUP

ENJOY AN ALLERTON HOUSE SHORT STAY.
STAY FOR 2 WEEKS, PAY FOR 1 WEEK!*

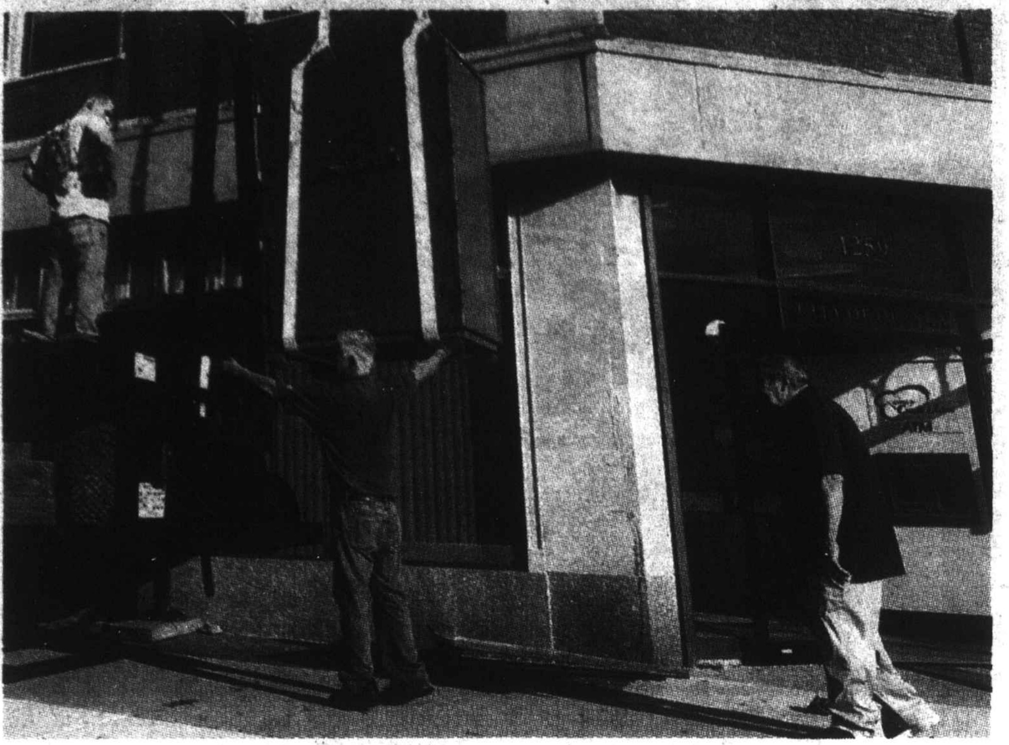
- Enjoy spacious studio or 1-bedroom rental apartments
- Receive assistance and medication reminders
- Dine on chef-prepared meals
- Join clubs & attend exciting activities
- 24-hour staff & emergency response system, and much more!

*Offer Expires 8/31/2015

CALL TODAY FOR A TOUR!

www.welchhrg.com

Crane, Workers Move Safe To New City Clerk's Office



MOVING DAY – Workers using a crane lifted and moved the 4,500-pound safe Tuesday morning from the City Clerk's office at 1259 Hancock St. (first floor of the Monroe Building) to the clerk's new office on the second floor of the glass annex building of City Hall, 1305 Hancock St. The photos below show the safe being carefully guided through a second-story window at City Hall. The new City Clerk's office will be open as of Monday, Aug. 24.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

14-Year-Olds Belong With City's Best Baseball Teams

QUINCY BASEBALL
2015
JUNIOR LEAGUE
MASSACHUSETTS
CHAMPIONS

JUNIOR LEAGUE BASEBALL team from Quincy captured the state championship and advanced to the Final Four of the Eastern Regionals Tournament last week in Freehold, N.J. Front Row (from left) Coach Mark Jaehnig and Aidan O'Sullivan. Second row (holding banner from left) Tom Kelly, Jack Free, Alex Kiley, Curtis Frazier and Owen Carberry. Third row (left to right) Connor McDonald, Vicker DiGravio, Patrick Nazzaro, JP Kelley, Martin McCormack, Anthony Rizzitano, Andrew Airosus, Colin McGrath and Coach Mark Free. Missing from photo: Coach Tom Nazzaro. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

By BILL GRIFFIN

When baseball people from Quincy debate the finest teams to ever grace the city, the 2015 14-year-old Babe Ruth and Junior League clubs will surely belong in the discussion.

"I've coached and I've been around a lot of teams in a lot of leagues. I think this group is the best youth baseball team Quincy has ever produced," said coach Mark Jaehnig.

The resume is most impressive. They won two state titles in a span of five days. They played 27 tournament games and won 24 of them. They made a dramatic run to the Final Four of the regionals. They went to the Cal Ripken World Series as 12-year-olds and won five state titles in the last six years.

After dropping the opener in the Eastern Junior League Regionals last week in Freehold, New Jersey, they won three elimination games by one run which were all decided in the final inning. They were eliminated in an epic 6-4, 10-inning loss to Pennsylvania after leading by four runs entering the sixth inning and by one entering the seventh.

"The 1975 Morrisette legion team which went to the nationals was a great club, but no Quincy club has ever won two state titles in one year. No one has come close," said Jaehnig. "Add that to what they did in the regionals where they performed under almost unbelievable pressure. All 14 players, every one of them, made a real contribution in at least one of the five games in the regionals."

There is clearly talent here, but there is much more. There is a closeness, a bond between players and families forged from six years of playing brilliant baseball in high-stakes games against the best in the state, New England, the East Coast and the country.

"The way the kids bonded and pulled for each other was just incredible. I've never heard so much noise and encouragement coming from the bench," said Jaehnig. "The way they pulled for each other says a lot about them. They are a special group."

The final game against Pennsylvania proved that truth is indeed stranger than fiction. The game took almost six hours to play. There was a lightning delay of 2 ½ hours. Quincy jumped ahead 4-0. Quincy was within two outs of victory in the seventh. After Pennsylvania rallied to tie it, Quincy had runners in scoring position in the seventh, eighth, and

Cont'd On Page 20

Credit Baseball Parents Too For Team's Success

By BILL GRIFFIN

Don't forget the parents.

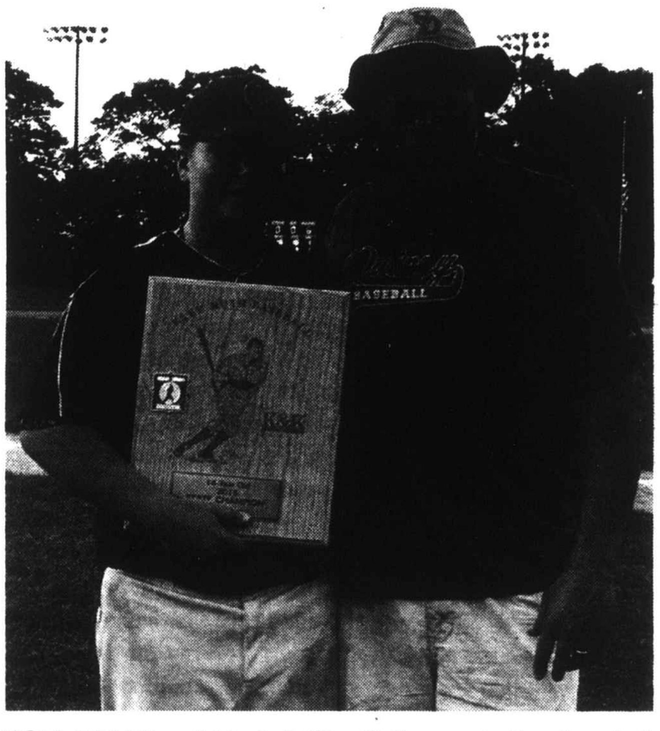
Whenever a team enjoys a run to two state titles and the Final Four of the Eastern Junior League Regionals as Quincy's 14-year-olds did this summer, there is fine praise and great note taken of the players and the coaches. That is as it should be. But there is one part of the story which is often untold.

The parents.

None of this happens without the parents. Vacations are postponed, meals are missed, meals are eaten while running out the back door, family time dwindles. There are endless rides to endless games and endless practices. The short rides during the regular season turn into caravans in the tournament, caravans which reach parts of the state known only to Google Earth.

Nothing is free. There are entry fees for the tourney. There is a trip hundreds of miles down the East Coast and seven days of hotel rooms, amusement parks and restaurants in New Jersey. The parents give money and time and effort and caring and emotion. What do they receive? They receive that which is priceless, something that almost goes beyond value.

Tim Kelly's son, Tommy, played for the junior league team. Tommy pitched 3 2/3 innings of terrific relief and gave his team a chance to win its final game against Pennsylvania. Against Maryland when Quincy needed a player to lead them, the players chose Tommy to coach third base, help with strategy and relay the signals. How did his father feel about all this?



TOM KELLY and his dad, Tim Kelly - part of a close-knit parent-coach-player baseball family. Photo Courtesy Tim Kelly

That is an easy question to answer.

"I'd do everything again. I wouldn't change a thing," said Kelly. "I coached these kids when they were seven. The last couple of years I stepped away as a coach because I wanted my son to spread his wings and find his own way.

"To see him grow up before my eyes under that kind of pressure was one of the best feelings I've ever had. I could almost see him change from kid into a young man. Mark (Jaehnig) had enough confidence in him to load the bases with intentional walks in a tie game in the bottom of the seventh against Pennsylvania. Tommy ended the inning with a strikeout. That's a special feeling for a father."

Kelly and all the parents rode a twister of high emotion with rises like the Maryland win and dips like the loss to Pennsylvania. There was also a sense of finality to it all. This could well be the last game all of these kids play together. They will scatter to different high schools. Many will play for Morrisette, but summer baseball can be a fickle thing with many teams in many leagues trying to attract players.

"The Maryland win was such a sweet one for the kids that it made the Pennsylvania game difficult to deal with," said Kelly. "A lot of these kids have been playing together for nine years. This might have been the last time all of them played together. I think that's why I saw more emotion from them than I've ever seen before."

As the players grew close, so did the families. When Mark Free was talking about his 2013 team that went to the Cal Ripken World Series, one of things he mentioned first was what a wonderful group of parents he had. After the regionals, one parent sent an Email to all the families expressing his thoughts of the experience in Freehold. He signed the Email simply: Love you guys.

"We call it our baseball family," said Kelly. "Everyone got along, everyone liked each other. We did everything together. We ate together, we went to the games together, we went to Six Flags and Asbury Park together. We're already planning on rotating houses for dinner in the off-season to stay close."

Tommy Kelly played for the junior league team, the junior legion team, and the Babe Ruth team. At the same time. In the same season.

"We pretty much had games Monday though Friday. There weren't a lot of sit-down dinners for the Kelly family. We'd get home and it would be chicken and burgers on the grill," smiled Kelly.

In one rather full weekend, Tommy played in playoff games for all three teams. On Sunday, he played most of the day and night at Adams. He left the field at 11:00 p.m. He was back the next morning for a game against Norwood at 10:00. That same evening he traveled to Lynn and played in a 4-3 thriller in the Babe Ruth semifinals. The next night he played in the championship game at Adams.

It gets even a bit more, well, busy. In one week,

Cont'd On Page 20

VOICE FOR HEALTH
by Dr. Gabrielle Freedman
Chiropractor

SPINAL ANSWER

Based on DNA analysis showing that humans exhibit a genetic difference of only about 1.2% with chimpanzees, researchers recently undertook a study of the spines of each. Their hope was to gain more insight as to why humans are so susceptible to back problems compared with nonhuman primates. They found that humans with a common form of vertical slipped disc (known as "Schmorl's nodes") had vertebrae shaped more like those of chimpanzees. Researchers speculate that humans' predisposition toward bad backs may partly have been the result of learning to run before we could walk. Further research may help ascertain physiological differences that can help identify people with vertebral characteristics that make them more vulnerable to slipped discs and back pain.

Millions of people lead healthier and happier lives, free from chronic pain, simply because they have discovered chiropractic care. At FAMILY PRACTICE OF CHIROPRACTIC, we believe a proper chiropractic spinal analysis and spinal adjustment are essential to your good health. For drug-free chiropractic care, we invite you to call us at 617.472.4220 to schedule an appointment. We're located at 112 McGrath Hwy., Quincy, where we're currently accepting new patients. If your problem is a chiropractic condition we offer you exceptional service.

P.S. When the cushioning pads of cartilage between vertebrae (known as "discs") split and release a gel-like substance, pressure is placed on spinal nerves that can cause pain.

www.freedmanchiro.com

14-Year-Olds Belong With City's Best Baseball Teams

Cont'd From Page 19

ninth innings. So close.

"It came down to inches. You could make a movie out of it, but no one would believe it," said Jaehnig.

In the middle of all the madness was Pat Nazzaro. All Quincy asked of him was to make his pitching debut against the best offensive team in the tournament, a team which had scored 27 runs in its last three games and had four batters hitting over .400 at the top of lineup.

Nazzaro pitched 1 1/3 innings. Then came the lightning. He sat for 2 ½ hours. He came back out. A major league pitcher would have gone home. Quincy had nobody else. His plan was simple. He threw strikes. He struck out three, walked one, gave six hits and not a run in five innings against a powerhouse of a team. It was great stuff.

"We hadn't used Pat that much. He had the long wait and he still gave us five great innings," said Jaehnig.

Quincy went up 2-0 in the second. Owen Carberry, who was a strong on the mound in the 4-3 win over Maryland, walked, stole a base and scored. Andrew Airosous later scored on a single by Anthony Rizzitano. Airosous had four stolen bases and scored four runs in the tournament.

In the fourth, Quincy made it 4-0. McGrath (four RBI for the tourney) had a single. Airosous and Jack Free scored runs. Aidan O'Sullivan reached on a ground ball to keep the rally alive. Alex Kiley, who had a fine start in the win against Maine, had a sacrifice bunt in the rally. O'Sullivan led Quincy in hitting for the tourney with a .429 average.

"We were in good shape, but I thought one more run would be great," said Jaehnig.

Pennsylvania put up three in the sixth and one in the seventh to tie. In the sixth J.P. Kelley and O'Sullivan narrowly missed acrobatic outfield catches which would have shut off the rally.

Tommy Kelly entered and pitched 3 2/3 innings of clutch relief to give his team a chance to win. He stranded two in the sixth and ended a bases-loaded threat in the seventh with a strikeout.

Quincy had its chances. In the seventh, Vicker DiGravio, who led his team with six hits and seven stolen bases for the tourney, singled, moved along on a wild pitch, stole third, but Quincy couldn't bring him home.

In the eighth Carberry, walked and stole second. Free lined a shot right at the shortstop for the third out. In the ninth, Connor McDonald (.323 average for the tourney) reached on an error. O'Sullivan ran for him. Kelly sacrificed him along, but O'Sullivan was caught stealing third on a perfect throw to end the threat.

Pennsylvania scored two in the 10th to win it and end a long day's journey into night for both clubs. "Inches. We were inches away. It's something I will turn over and over in my mind for a long time. We were that close," said Jaehnig

To find the reason for Quincy's great run, look to its defense. They put down nine sacrifice bunts and stole 19 bases, but only hit .198 as a team. They walked 20 batters and 10 scored. But they made all the plays. They turned five double plays and only made five errors in five games. They picked off two runners in the final game against Pennsylvania.

Infielders are usually most vulnerable to errors. Quincy's infield was exceptional. Martin McCormack (shortstop) and Carberry (second base) played errorless ball. McGrath (third) and Free (first) were steady and sure at the corners. The infield only made two errors in five tournament games.

Free, McCormack and McGrath all made big-time defensive plays in the late innings to preserve the win over Maryland. Kelley was excellent in center. Curtis Frazier (three RBI for the tourney) had four assists moving between catcher and right field.

"Our whole defense was excellent. It was the reason we competed so well in the tournament," said Jaehnig.

Assistant coach Mark Free has coached these players since they were eight years old. He brought them to the Cal Ripken World Series in 2013. He developed not only skilled baseball players, but kids who care about each other. In appreciation, his team presented him the game ball after the thrilling win over Maryland.

"This is Mark Free's team. All credit should go to him," said Jaehnig. "Our relationship this year was excellent. We blended and worked well together. Mark is a hard worker. We talked about everything we wanted to do and we were on the same page."

In the end, it was not the destination that mattered most, but the great journey these kids took through a summer they will long remember.

"No matter who I coach, what sport I coach or where I go, I will never forget this team," said Jaehnig.

Credit Baseball Parents Too For Team's Success

Cont'd From Page 19

Tim Kelly drove to Lynn for the semifinals, to Auburn for the junior league, to Greenfield for the junior legion, and to Westfield for the opening ceremonies of the New England Babe Ruth Tourney. There are Amtrak conductors who cover fewer miles.

"We spent a lot of money on gas and we saw a lot of places we had never seen before," Kelly smiled.

The reward came in what one parent said would make a great movie: Seven Days in Freehold. One story tells it well.

"After we lost to Pennsylvania, my son was crying like the other kids," said Kelly. "He walked over to Mark (Jaehnig) and told Mark he was the best coach he had ever had. Mark gave him a half hug and then Mark broke down as well. It was something to see."

Militia Boast Gridiron Talent; Off To 3-2 Record

By JOE REARDON

Quincy Militia's Jamel Wilson was calm and relaxed warming up on the grass turf field of Veterans Memorial Stadium 45 minutes before the start of Saturday night's huge Eastern Football League showdown against the Taunton Gladiators.

And why shouldn't the enormously talented defensive back feel at ease and content? The Quincy resident, via Lincoln-Sudbury and Newbury College, feels right at home between the lines on the gridiron as a member of the Militia. Wilson has played shutdown defense in the secondary in his fourth season on the team and is a big reason the 3-2 Militia is on a three-game roll after missing the first two games of the season.

The much-anticipated matchup against Taunton would have to wait until late September because of lightning in the area, but Wilson and the rest of the Militia just rolled with the cancellation and began to put their focus on next Saturday's road game against the Middleboro Cobras at Battis Field.

It was Wilson who set the tone for the Militia in its must-win game against the Eastern Mass Seminoles on Aug. 1. The speedy back disrupted the Seminoles' offense with a monster game, stepping in front of a pair of passes for interceptions and running them back for touchdowns.

The satisfying win gave the Militia a huge boost in the middle of a three-game winning streak. Wilson wasn't surprised the squad has bounced back so decisively after the losses early in the season. "The season started off a little rocky but we've got the ship going again and we've produced three wins back to back," said the soft spoken and articulate defender. "We've been grinding all year. This year we have a bunch of new guys and everyone's buying into what we want to do. We want to be a tough team and regardles of the outcome we want teams to know they have to play hard against us."

Save for Militia head coach Vaughn Driscoll, there is no other person connected with the team who knows Wilson's full talent than defensive coordinator Peter Kane. Kane, who retired after 10 years in the league, has done a great job with the Militia defense this season and had high praise for Wilson.

"He could easily be considered the MVP of the season on defense," said Kane, who played on the Gladiators' championship team of 2013. "Jamel's played great. He's the guy who covers the number one receiver and he's been incredible."

Wilson's greatness has shown up in the stats this summer, or rather the lack of. "I don't get a lot of opportunities (for interceptions) in a game," Wilson explained. "They really don't throw my way. It's good because our other cornerback on the other side (Sherod Haywood) has benefitted. He's had about four good ones so far this year. We're still getting them and as long as we're getting them that's good."

Wilson has also worked hard at mentally releasing the true football "rage" he has within to make himself an even more noticebale force on the field. Wilson may have a laidback demeanor off the gridiron, but he is all business between the lines.

"I've taken more control of being the monster that I am inside me and letting that out," he said. "I really want to make a name for myself and dominate. If you produce, you get a name in this league. If you don't really do anything people don't know you. You don't play for no reason."

One of the aspects of playing for the Militia that Wilson savors the most is the chance for his 6-year-old daughter Jalaya to see him do what he loves to do on the field. Memories like that, Wilson believes, are the best of all. Wilson's teammates and the Militia owners go out of their way to be nice and make his daughter feel special and that hasn't been lost on him.

"It's nice to give her some memories of seeing me play," said Wilson. "She enjoys it very much. She comes to some of the practices and we have great owners and they love her."

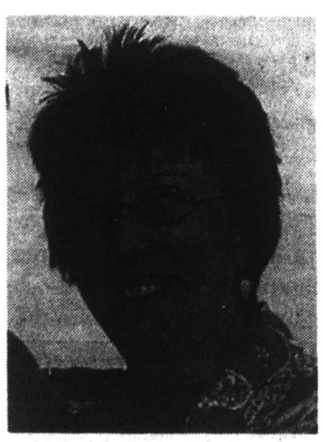
At 28, Wilson doesn't know how long he'll be on the Militia roster, but he does know he has no intention of giving up the game any time soon as long as he feels strong and healthy. He feels privilege as well to be playing in a league that showcases as much talent as the EFL. "I would love to keep playing," he said. "My body feels great right now. That's basically what it is, just staying in shape. Until you come check out a game or you're on the field you don't know how good these guys really are. These guys go out and play really hard and are really good. It's a good show."

The Militia obviously wants to keep its winning streak alive and they'll get that chance against the Cobras on Saturday. The team then takes on the Worcester Mass Fury at home on Aug. 29. The squad then travels down Route 3 on Sept. 12 for a game at Plymouth North High School against the Plymouth Rocks. They then take on the Boston Colts on Sept. 19, leading up to the battle against the Gladiator squad.

Kane expected a hard-hitting agressive contest last Saturday and surely believes that will be the case once agains in late September.

"They're very good - always one of the best teams in the league," said Kane. "They're big. I played a year with guys and they're a very talented team. It's a good matchup. We'll all be hurting tomorrow."

Ask Barbara Graceffa: Secretary Of The Interior



BARBARA GRACEFFA

My kitchen desperately needs a facelift. What do I need to know to paint the cabinets? Can I paint counter tops and appliances, too? Charles

This is the final installment to answer this question.

Charles, although you did not inquire about the tiles and floors, let me "paint" a complete picture of your kitchen facelift.

There are two ways to paint glazed tile. Look in the Yellow Pages or on-line for a company that reglazes bathtubs because they also spray paint tiles. From personal experience reglazing tiles in my parent's bathroom, it is a quick, effective, durable, and attractive method to change the color of tub or backsplash tiles that are otherwise in great shape.

Should you want to do it yourself for glazed tiles or laminate backsplashes, you can. Again preparation and consultation are key. Sand the tiles or wet-or dry-sand the laminate to create a surface to which the paint will better adhere. Next, ask the paint manager for advice on purchasing a roller, bonding primer, hard durable paint, and sealer/top coat. It's easier to keep the grout lines the same color as the tiles, unless you are very confident you can paint on straight lines using an artist's brush and tape.

Want to paint the floor? Ok, but only if it is bare wood. Sand the floor, thoroughly vacuum up all the dust (or scrape glue residue if you have removed another floor surface previously on top of the wood), then make your final trip to the paint store. Discuss the pros and cons of water-based vs. oil-based paints, floor and deck enamels, satin industrial

Cont'd On Page 21

Real Estate

Quincy Real Estate Transactions Aug. 10 - Aug. 14

Seller	Buyer	Amount	Address
Constance E. & Thomas S. Puddister	Awijit Sudan & Narinder Kaur	$335,000.00	919 Sea Street
William C. Potter	Jennifer A. King	$234,900.00	10 Weston Avenue, Unit 125
Iolanda Sala Trust	Michael T. Cappellano & Julie Chu	$565,000.00	58 Quincy Street
Susan S. Hunter	Estela Simaku	$225,000.00	230 Willard Street, Unit 504
Brien Hollingsworth	Joseph J. Marsh	$185,000.00	133 Commander Shea Boulevard, Unit 107
Kevin R. & Erin McGarry	Rosemary O'Sullivan	$400,000.00	10 Ricciuti Drive, Unit 3
Mary L. McCleary	Yaroslav Reshetnyuk	$250,000.00	677 Quincy Shore Drive, Unit 204
Cui Y. Li & Ling Y. Chen	Ling Q. Chen	$350,000.00	16 Montclair Avenue
NQ-II LLC	Arnold & Roberta E. Greenbaum	$436,000.00	39 Fayette Street, Unit 406
Anh Nguyen Irrevocable Trust	Lijia Zheng & Mei H. Mei	$399,000.00	75 Walnut Street
Neil D., Elaine R. & Gina L. Higgins	Shiyi Li	$315,000.00	154 Quincy Shore Drive, Unit 36
David & Susan P. Hale	Danielle M. Pillion	$351,000.00	150 Manet Avenue
Sara T. Singler	Town River Realty Trust	$365,000.00	129 Sumner Street
Richard T. Wright	Nora M. Butler	$243,500.00	230 Willard Street, Unit 809
McNulty Investment Trust	Wu Jin & Xia L. Zheng	$474,075.00	187 Wilson Avenue
Ly Phan	Zi P. & Jenny Z. Deng	$510,000.00	10 Alden Street
Michael F. Russo	Daniel A. Marcantonio	$155,000.00	46 Bird Street
Lisa M. McCann	Thomas M.& Christina L. Pasquale	$326,500.00	53 River Street
Yongjian Liu & Wanzhen Xu	Tsai S. Wong & David J. Chen	$249,900.00	115 West Squantum Street, Unit 517
David T. Nguyen	Susan Winkler	$405,100.00	120 Holmes Street Unit 313E
Albert F. & Caroline A. Histen	Yong J. Liu & Wan Z. Xu	$440,000.00	56 Oakland Avenue
Linda S. Sheridan & Paul R. Merrill	Ai Z. Gao	$365,000.00	204 Billings Street
Mark E. Gutierrez Living Trust & George V. Herrgott Living Trust	Agnieszka Walkowiak	$590,000.00	49 Verchild Street
Noreen O'Connell & Frank T. Guest	Jia H. Hu	$243,000.00	245 Sea Street, Unit 33
Song & Shirui Lin	Yi X. Xue & Hui B. Lin	$645,000.00	30-32 Grandview Avenue
Holly H. Knight	Benjamin Lam	$421,000.00	104-110 Washington Street, Unit 41
Alexander P. Ilyinskii & Shelia M. Thompson	Willard Condo Trust	$236,000.00	230 Willard Street, Unit 807
Anthony & Judith A. Venuto	David R.P. Lin & Yan H. Liang	$480,000.00	127 Quincy Street
Paula M. Kavanagh	Jenny Q. Hoang	$212,500.00	802 Willard Street, Unit E-11
Narendra B. & Venkata R. Maganti	Premal & Sweta Bhatt	$344,900.00	25 West Howard Street, Unit D-3
Norma Lynch	Daniel J. & Summer C. Cosgrove	$443,500.00	29 South Bayfield Road
Peggy C. Carleton	Michael T. & Bonnie C. Marcel	$335,000.00	12 Livesey Road
Howard H. & Barbara S. Kay	James T. & Barbara L. Mooney	$510,000.00	41 Whaler Lane, Unit 92
Rosemary O'Sullivan	Young Kevin & Yan Ye Xia	$296,000.00	90 Quincy Shore Drive, Unit 214
Paul L. & Stephanie L. Monteagudo	Brian & Arthur LaPorte	$520,000.00	57 Middlesex Street

Ask Barbara Graceffa:

Secretary Of The Interior

Cont'd From Page 20

enamels, and flat, low, or high-gloss finishes. Consider issues such as durability, ease of cleaning and hiding the dirt; and drying time.

For more info, check out the book in the Expert Paint series: Painting Kitchens: How to Choose and Use the Right Paint for Your Kitchen Walls, Ceilings, Floors, Cabinets, Countertops, and Appliances, from which I drew much of my response in these last few columns.

Do you have a decorating problem needing a professional solution? Send your questions to Secretary of the Interior at barbara@sec-interior.com.

Barbara Graceffa is president and CEO of Secretary of the Interior, an interior decorating company in Quincy.

For more information, visit www.sec-interior.com.

Registry Land Records Available Online

Norfolk County Register of Deeds William P. O'Donnell reminds residents that the Registry's land records are available for viewing online via the Registry's internet-based document research system at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

"Consumers can see up to 5,000,000 scanned land document images dating back to the founding of Norfolk County in 1793. These documents are available via our internet-based document research system.

"Providing secure, accurate and accessible land record information, coupled with our on-site customer service center, is critical to our success at the Norfolk County Registry of Deed," O'Donnell said.

Elaborating on the Registry's research capabilities, O'Donnell said, "Land record information can be researched by multiple options, including the name of the property owner and property address, Consumers can access our internet-based document research system for many endeavors, to determine property

Cont'd On Page 23

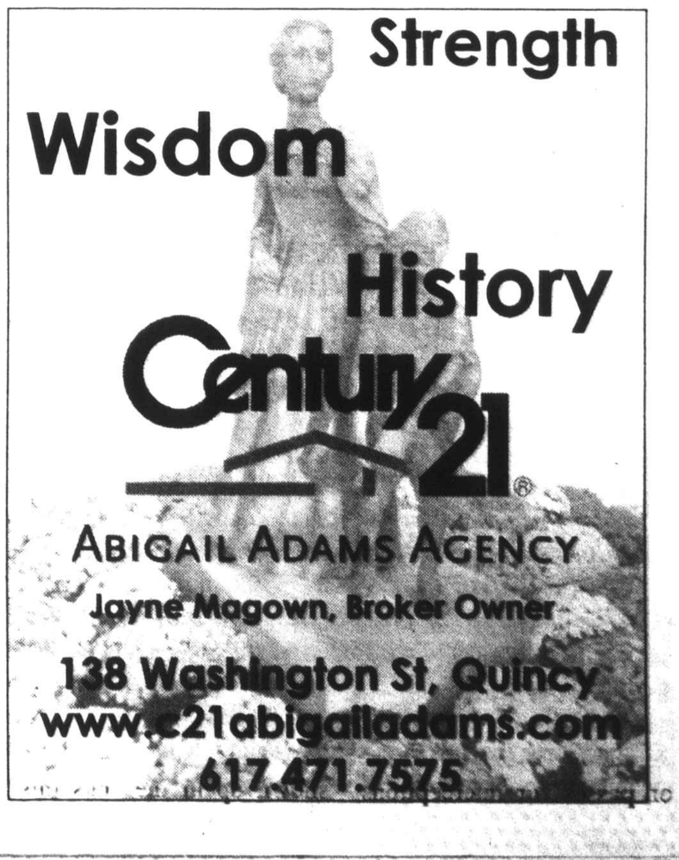
RE/MAX Realty Pros
Buying, Selling or Investing?
Call Tom McFarland
For All Your
Real Estate Answers
QUINCY - (617) 328-3200
On the Web visit McFarlandproperties.com

Century 21 Annex Realty, Inc.
49 Beale St., Quincy, MA 02170
617-472-4330
www.c21annex.com
Over 70 Seller and Buyer Agents specializing in Residential, Commercial Real Estate, Bank Owned Properties, Short Sales and Rentals
ANNEX REAL ESTATE SCHOOL
Offering Salesperson's, Broker's and Continuing Ed. classes
"STILL NUMBER ONE"

QUINCY
www.
stamosandstamosrealtors
.com
Stamos & Stamos Realtors
747 East Suantum St.
Squantum, MA 02171
617.328.9400

FLAVIN Insurance Agency
Complete Insurance Service Since 1925
Auto • Home • Condos • Apartments
Travel Trailers • Umbrellas • Flood • Business
Boats • Commercial Auto
Offering great rates and discounts
Call or drop in for Premium Quote
Flavin & Flavin
617-479-1000

If you want your home
SOLD
Call Red Door
Red Door Real Estate
222 Sea Street,
Quincy, MA
617-553-1880 • RedDoor-RE.com



Strength
Wisdom
History
Century 21
ABIGAIL ADAMS AGENCY
Jayne Magown, Broker Owner
138 Washington St, Quincy
www.c21abigailadams.com
617.471.7575

A Job Well Done

By QUINCY POLICE LT. DAN MINTON

On Saturday, August 8, 2015, at approximately 11:00 p.m., Officers Bruce Tait, Paul Foley and Steven Kelly) were dispatched to the Stop & Shop Supermarket on Southern Artery in reference to a shoplifting in progress. On arrival, Officer Tait parked his cruiser by the entrance.

As he stepped out of his cruiser, he saw a Stop & Shop employee running out of the store, frantically talking into a small portable radio. This employee pointed towards the walkway that connects the store parking lot to Brackett Street, yelling that the store manager was there.

Officer Tait ran to this area and heard a male voice yelling, "Get off me a@@#$%^&!" from the side of the store. As the Officer turned the corner, he observed the store Manager and another store employee struggling with a male on the ground. Officer Tait told the suspect that he was under arrest and then secured the suspect's left wrist with handcuffs, followed by instructions to place his right hand behind his back. The suspect refused and struggled as he set off a tirade of profanities.

At his point, Officer Kelly arrived and he too instructed the suspect to place his hands behind his back. The suspect continued to try to break free and struggled violently. After a verbal warning, Officer Kelly used his pepper spray on the suspect, which distracted the suspect long enough to get both handcuffs on. Officers Foley and Tara Waters arrived on scene and an ambulance was called for pepper spray decontamination. The suspect, still on the ground, started up again, thrashing on the ground, screaming that his eyes were on fire, and began spitting and kicking, striking Officer Waters with his right foot.

Brewster Ambulance arrived on-scene and flushed out the suspect's eyes and also placed a "spit guard" over his mouth, as he continued to spit in all directions. After the suspect's eyes were flushed out, he was brought to his feet and escorted to an awaiting cruiser.

Once at the station, the suspect continued to be belligerent and uncooperative, so his property was removed and he was placed in a cell until he calmed down enough to comply with the booking process. Meanwhile, Officer Foley interviewed the store Manager, who said that the suspect entered the store and appeared intoxicated, so he kept him under watch. The Manager observed the suspect take a bag of frozen shrimp and go past the final purchase point without paying for it. He then went outside and placed it on a bicycle before re-entering the store. The Manager took the bag of shrimp back and had it brought back into the store. When the suspect came back out and noticed the bag of shrimp missing, he confronted the store Manager, who told him that since he didn't pay for it, he couldn't have it.

LT. DAN MINTON

The suspect then re-entered the store with a shopping cart, went directly to the fish aisle and loaded it with bags of shrimp, again going past the final purchase point without paying. At this point, the Manager called the Police and then confronted the suspect outside the store. The suspect immediately became hostile and aggressive, which led to him throwing a punch at the Manager that missed. He then shoved the Manager and fled with the Manager and the other employee giving chase. They apprehended him and this was where Officer Tait entered the picture.

The value of the shrimp stolen was $280.34. The suspect, after being searched at the station, had a small amount of pills on him, believed to be Adderall. While Officer Tait was writing his report, a female came into the police station to report that she was accosted and groped by a male at Stop and Shop. She described this male as white, 40's, wearing khaki shorts, a blue striped button-down shirt, and had sandy hair, which fit the description of this suspect perfectly. She stated that the male came over to her and her friend, attempting to get them to have a "threesome" encounter. When they refused, the male grabbed her buttocks and breast areas. The female victim described this male as being very drunk, saying, "You could smell the booze." She also stated that while groping her, the male removed two $20 bills from her back shorts pocket. A check of the suspect's property bag showed that he had two $20 bills in his possession at booking, which were seized and logged into evidence.

The suspect, a 49 year old South Boston resident, was charged with "Larceny over $250.00, Assault and Battery with a Dangerous Weapon, Assault and Battery and Indecent Assault and Battery on a Person."

Nice Work!

❑

ANOTHER JOB WELL DONE – A LETTER FROM THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT: On August 3, 2015 at approximately 3:00 p.m., Officer Chris Klier responded to a request to meet the Quincy Health Department at a home on Sea Street on a complaint of a 75 year old male in need of services. Upon entrance into the home, it was noted that an elderly disabled male was sitting in a hospital bed, unable to ambulate and in unsanitary conditions. The elder's wife/ caretaker was not present when the Officer and Health Department arrived. The elder was questioned by Health Department officials and it was determined that there could be possible abuse/neglect case. The Health Department made the decision to transport the elder to hospital. Before the ambulance could transport the elder, his wife returned home and after being told the reason why her husband was being hospitalized, she became angry and uncooperative. Officer Klier was instrumental in defusing the situation and protecting all the parties involved. He was able to calm the wife and expedite the transport of the elder to a medical facility for treatment. Officer Klier stayed well past his assigned shift to ensure the safety of all involved. (Nice Work!)

❑

PARKING TIP: With so many car accidents involving a driver backing up, why not pull through a parking space at a mall or store so that when you drive off you won't have to back up.

DRIVING TIP: Put your directional on well before you brake. Drivers behind you will know of your intention to turn and that you will be braking to make the turn. This reduces the chances of rear end accidents and of drivers following too closely.

QUINCY POLICE CRIME PREVENTION JOURNAL

Quincy Police Statistics
Aug. 7 – 14
ARRESTS: 24
TOTAL CALLS: 1,165
STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: 1

FRIDAY, AUG. 7

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 4:18 a.m., Ricciuti Dr. Tires slashed. Looking to file report and have vehicle towed to Quirk.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 11:38 a.m., 1515 Hancock St. Employee from address above found rocks that have been thrown through two separate windows. No suspects.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:58 p.m., Quincy Shore Dr. Appears to have occurred yesterday and today. She believes it is an individual that used to live at the residence. Warrant request filed.

LARCENY, 6:31 p.m., CVS Pharmacy, 321 Quincy Shore Dr. Two black males driving gray Mazda, may be heading towards highway. Unsure what items were taken.

SATURDAY, AUG. 8

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:37 p.m., Kent St. Caller states former tenants of her apartment stole from her.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:57 p.m., Taffrail Rd. Past attempt at door last night around midnight. Appears to be old damage.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:51 p.m., Ricciuti Dr. Bartender at Tavern at Quarry Hills found car window broken. Parked on the service road.

SUNDAY, AUG. 9

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 10:53 a.m., Furnace Brook Pkwy. Came out to car to see window was broken overnight.

LARCENY, 3:04 p.m., Copeland St. Caller says her friend stole her medication.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:12 p.m., Town Brook House, 45 Brackett St. Apartment door was damaged. Advised; no sign of an attempted break. Signs were chipped paint and old marks on door.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 5:51 p.m., 16 Mechanic St. Was broken into.

MONDAY, AUG. 10

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 1:22 a.m., Airport Rd. Party reports he was assaulted. Has a bloody lip. Patient refusal. Parties are going to work issue out among themselves.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:09 a.m., Avalon Bay Construction, 127 Quarry St. Caller states work vehicle windshield was broken sometime over the weekend. Would like to speak to an officer.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 9:50 a.m., Hayden St. Caller states two females just egged vehicle, headed up West St. Unable to locate owner/victim of car. Cas was tagged and case number left on car. No suspect info for vandalism.

LARCENY, 10:29 a.m., 200 block Water St. Diamond ring.

LARCENY, 10:37 a.m., Snug Harbor Ct. Debit card. Advised; no crime in Quincy.

LARCENY, 2:48 p.m., 296 Copeland St. Has suspect info.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 5:09 p.m., Granite Links, 100 Quarry Hills Dr. Rear window smashed sometime on Saturday night.

LARCENY, 5:15 p.m., Town Hill St. Caller reports a package was taken.

TUESDAY, AUG. 11

BREAKING AND ENTERING IN PROGRESS, 1:44 a.m., Germain Ave. Caller states someone was taking a picture or video of her through the window. Victim only saw the suspect's hands, which were darker in color. At first, saw one hand take picture with white iPhone. Then, when she came back into the room, noticed both hands on window sill. Wellesley PD notified for tracking K-9. Unable to locate suspect.

LARCENY, 11:01 a.m., Lawn Ave. Caller misplaced meds.

ATTEMPTED BREAKING AND ENTERING, 2:37 p.m., Bartlett St. Caller claims just went down to cellar door, noticed door was kicked in. Possibly happened Saturday; appears it occurred a few days ago. House cleared. Unable to start track.

BREAKING AND ENTERING, 3:02 p.m., Miller Stile Rd. Backdoor was open when caller got home at 2 p.m. today from hospital. Caller had been in hospital since July 21. Took $100 bill and gold coin.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:45 p.m., Hancock House, 45 School St. Caller's 2012 Dodge has damage to right rear fender and bumper. Watched suspect in his building cause this damage. Caller not home at this time, will call back when he gets home at 9 p.m. Party never called back.

LARCENY, 9:18 p.m., Stop & Shop, 65 Newport Ave. Backpack.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 9:54 p.m., Bishop Playground, 108 Holbrook Rd. Reports an Asian male put his friend in a head lock while he was at the above.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 12

LARCENY, 7:38 a.m., Ellis St. Caller put handicap walker out on sidewalk to wait for bus and it was taken by unknown person. Has some type of duffle bag on it and has a seat. In the past few minutes. Unable to locate walker.

LARCENY, 4:55 p.m., Kent St. Medication. Caller claims having work done on house. Workers possibly took them. Only a couple pills missing. Caller just wanted case number for doctor.

THURSDAY, AUG. 13

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 6:33 p.m., Neponset Landing, 2 Hancock St. Found her vehicle had a large dent in the roof from what appears to have been a vase thrown from one of the apartments.

VANDALISM/PROPERTY, 7:08 p.m., Monmouth St. Right side backup lamp and windshield chipped on NH registered vehicle. Side loading door also keyed. No suspects.

LARCENY, 9:38 p.m., Burgin Pkwy. Suboxone taken.

FRIDAY, AUG. 14

MOTOR VEHICLE LARCENY, 1:39 a.m., Elmwood Pk. Two males in green pickup truck observed putting her maroon 2008 Yamaha motorcycle into back of truck and driving off. All cars notified.

If anyone has more information about any of the aforementioned incidents or would like more information, contact Crime Prevention Lieutenant Dan Minton at 617 745 5719

STOLEN MOTOR VEHICLES: Elmwood Park.

❑

CAR BREAKS: Hilma Street (arrest made), Nightingale Road, 1495 Hancock Street, 600 block of Southern Artery, Quarry Hills Drive.

❑

BREAKS AND ATTEMPTED BREAKS: 400 block of Quincy Shore Drive, 73 Bicknell Road, Mechanic Street, Miller Stile Road, Kent Street.

If you have information on the above crimes, drug activity or any crime, please call the Quincy Police Detective Bureau at 617-745-5764 or log onto the following website: http://tinyurl.com/ytf6td.

To report suspicious drug activity, call the Drug Hot-Line at 617-745-5730. You will not be required to identify yourself, but it could help. To make an appointment to view the Registered Sex Offenders book, call Detective James Dentremont at 617-745-5755.

To contact the Crime Prevention Officer for tips or comments, my direct line is 617-745-5719. My e-mail address is dminton@ci.quincy.ma.us -- Lt. Dan Minton

Entries in the Quincy Police Hot Spots are compiled and submitted by the Quincy Police Department.

They are published by The Quincy Sun as a public service to make local residents more aware of any crime activity in their neighborhood. Questions concerning the Hot Spots list should be directed to Crime Prevention Officer Lt. Dan Minton, 617-745-5719.

IUPAT District Council #35 Endorses Phelan

Quincy Mayor candidate Bill Phelan has received the endorsement of the International Union of Painters & Allied Trades (IUPAT), District Council #35.

"I've been proud to support working families for my entire career in public service. My own father was a postal worker, and he and my mother taught me the value of education and hard work, and the importance of giving back to the community, which drives me today," said Phelan. "I'm honored to receive the support of IUPAT and their membership, and would be honored to continue to be an ally to labor in Quincy as the next Mayor."

"We're proud to support Bill Phelan as the next Mayor of Quincy, and we know that his long record of success and strong leadership is exactly what Quincy needs to get back on track," said Roger Brunelle, Political Director of IUPAT District Council #35. "The current plan for Quincy's future seems highly in doubt, lacking vision and a long-term plan for financial security to the detriment of it's people. Quincy can do better, and Bill Phelan is the proven leader we need."

IUPAT District Council #35 is an organization of approximately 4000 members in Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Rhode Island. Members include:

- Construction industry painters, wallcoverers, glaziers, and drywall finishers
- Residential painters, drywall finishers, glaziers, and wall coverers
- Glassworkers
- Sign painters and sign erectors
- Institutional maintenance trades workers
- Public employees

The mission of District Council #35 is to represent our members for purposes of collective bargaining, to organize workers in a variety of occupations, and to advocate for workers and their families.

No Ward 5 Council Preliminary Election

Cont'd From Page 3

There will be three preliminary elections on Thursday, Sept. 24.

The main draw will be the mayor's race that features four candidates seeking two nominations. They are: incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch, Councillor Doug Gutro, School Committeewoman Anne Mahoney and former Mayor William Phelan.

Voters in Wards 2 and 3 will also cast ballots Thursday, Sept. 24 to narrow down the field for council seats in those two wards.

Running for Ward 2 councillor are incumbent Brad Croall, 65 Gay St., and challengers James M. Connors, 124 Martensen St. and Gulistan M. Malik, 109 Curtis Ave.

Seeking the open Ward 3 council seat are Ian Cain, 192 South Central Ave.; Karl Roos, 8 Park St.; and Sandy Verhault, 183 Highland Ave.

The top-two vote-getters in the mayor's race and ward council contests will be nominated and advance to the final election Nov. 3.

A drawing for ballot position for those candidates in the Sept. 24 preliminary will take place tomorrow (Friday) at the City Clerk's office.

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Registry Land Records Available Online

Cont'd From Page 21

ownership, to research land titles, to review land plans (not plot plans which are not recorded at the Registry) and finally to confirm that documents affecting a person's property- such as a mortgage discharges - have been duly recorded."

The Registry's website also provides information on how to obtain copies of land documents. The Registry copy charges are $1 per page plus an additional $1 per document for cost of postage.

"Providing first-class customer service is a core objective of the Registry," O'Donnell said. "Norfolk County residents and businesses deserve a Registry of Deeds that provides them with access to land record information in an easily accessible and consumer friendly manner. The Registry website www.norfolkdeeds.org can do just that."

The Norfolk County Registry of Deeds, located at 649 High S., Dedham is the principal office for real property in Norfolk County. The Registry is a resource for homeowners, title examiners, mortgage lenders, municipalities and others with a need for secure, accurate, accessible land record information.

Residents in need of assistance can contact the Registry of Deeds Customer Service Department via telephone at (781) 461-6101, or on the web at www.norfolkdeeds.org.

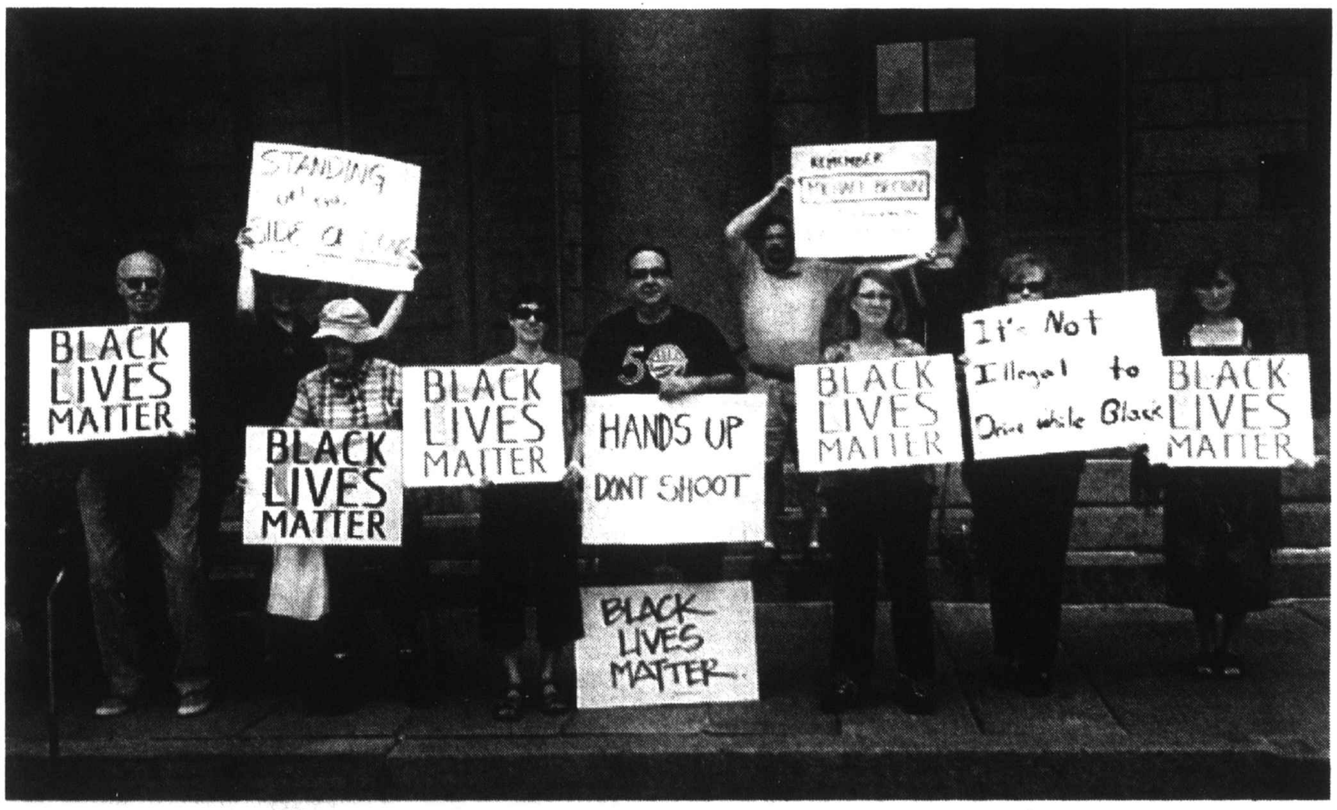
First-Time Homebuyer Workshop Sept. 8, 10

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. to offer first-time homebuyer workshop in Quincy

NeighborWorks Southern Mass. will offer a two-part workshop for first-time homebuyers, to be held from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Sep. 8 and Thursday, Sep. 10 at the Winter Gardens apartment complex (lower level community room), located at 45 Winter St. in Quincy.

The workshop will give participants an opportunity to meet and hear from real estate brokers, insurance agents, attorneys and loan originators. Attendees also will have an opportunity to learn about NeighborWorks' down payment assistance programs and speak to a lender about different mortgage options.

The registration fee for the workshops is $20 per person. To register and pay online, visit www.nwsoma.org or call (617) 770-2227 x34 for more information.



SILENT VIGIL – The discussion topic at the Chalice Circle on Sunday, Aug. 9, at United First Parish Church was about "white privilege." Some members of the congregation then moved to the front of the church and held a silent vigil to commemorate the one year anniversary of the murder of Michael Brown in Ferguson, MO. From left to right: Brooks White, Ann Marie Willer, Ginny McDermott, Lee Forest, John Reed, Jamie Grassmann, Rev. Michelle Walsh, Sharon Gamache and Marie Louise Jackson Miller.

Photo Courtesy Brenda Reed

'Friends Of Mark Messina' Fundraiser Sept. 13

"Friends of Mark Messina" will hold a fundraiser Sunday, Sept. 13 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Granite Links Pavilion Tent, Quincy.

Tickets are $25 and the event will feature music, karaoke, hors d'oeuvres, raffles and an aution.

Proceeds from the event will benefit Mark Messina, a North Quincy native who was severely injured in a tractor trailer accident last Labor Day, Sept. 1, 2014.

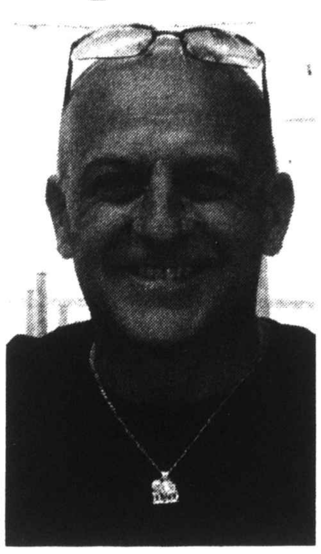
During an over the road trip through Hattiesburg, MS for UPS, Messina was resting in the tractor's sleeper berth while his team member was driving. When the driver swerved to avoid deer crossing the road he hit the soft shoulder, lost control and crashed the tractor into the trees.

The driver escaped with minor injuries. Mark was not so fortunate. He was thrown from the sleeper berth and ended up pinned beneath the dashboard. He suffered a broken spine, three broken ribs and a punctured lung. Mark was rushed to Forest General Hospital and had emergency reconstructive surgery.

The original prognosis was positive. He was told it may take 6-8 weeks before he regained feeling in his legs. At the time Mark had feeling from the waist up. Four days after the accident, Mark developed complications and required additional invasive surgery. He would need to be stabilized before being transported to the Shepherd Center in Atlanta, GA.

After two weeks in Mississippi, Mark was airlifted to Atlanta for intensive therapy. Upon arrival, it was discovered that Mark had suffered a setback.

He had lost feeling from the waist up to his chest. A condition called SPAM (Sub-acute Progressive Ascending Myelopathy) had set in. This condition affects approximately 1% of spinal cord injury patients. Research of this condition showed that the feeling lost at onset may return, slowly and painfully, but feeling below the original point of injury may not. Mark's uphill fight turned into a mountain.



MARK MESSINA

Mark spent a couple of months at the Shepherd Center while struggling through therapy and rehabilitation. It was now time to come home to face the challenges of a new lifestyle. Mark and Jacinta's home in Nashua, NH needed to be renovated to become handicap accessible. During this time, and currently, they reside in a handicap accessible hotel room at the Marriott Residence Inn in Nashua. While experiencing lengthy delays in the beginning of this work, they also had to deal with the insurance company on the purchase of a handicap van.

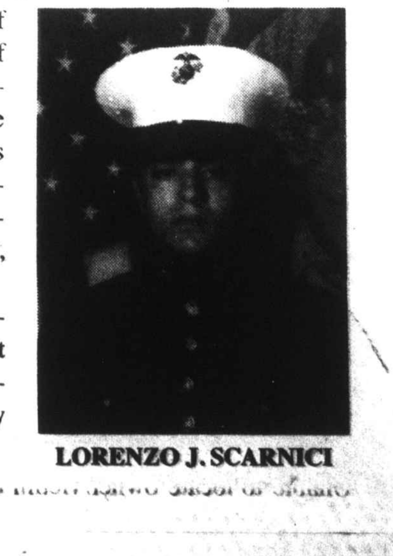
It was determined that even after modifications to their home it would still be unsafe and their new living conditions would be difficult. It was decided that they would sell their home in Nashua and have a new home built in Seabrook, NH. Adding to their financial constraints, according to Workers' Compensation guidelines, Mark and his family will soon lose all group health benefits. Medical expenses, for Mark only, directly related to his accident will be covered. All other family health benefits will be lost. To help offset these costs, and to address future expenses as they adapt to their new reality, we ask for help.

For ticket information call Paul Messina at 617-312-5091. To donate online visit "FriendsofMarkMessina.org"

Lorenzo Scarnici Graduates Marine Corps Bootcamp

Lorenzo J. Scarnici of Quincy, a 2014 graduate of Quincy High School, recently graduated with the rank Private First Class from Marine Corps bootcamp at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina.

Scarnici is currently attending infantry school at Camp Geiger, North Carolina. He is the son of Larry and Nancy Scarnici.



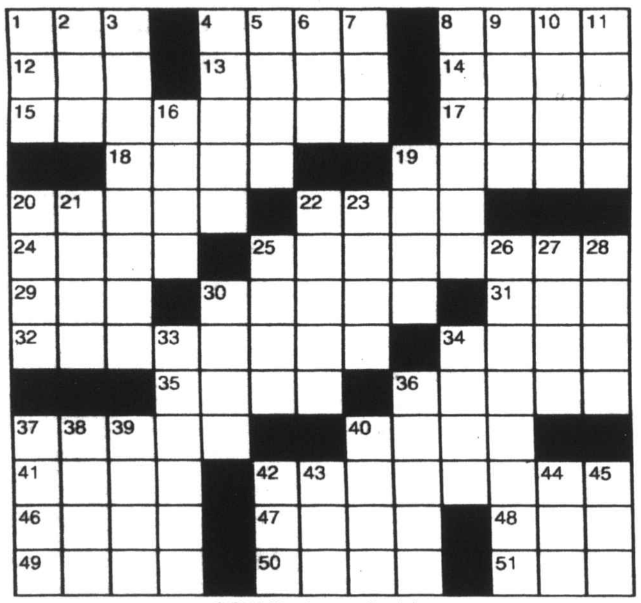
LORENZO J. SCARNICI

SUN FUN PAGE

King Crossword

ACROSS
1 CNBC's Cramer
4 Oxen's burden
8 Links warning
12 Oklahoma city
13 State with certainty
14 Egyptian wading bird
15 Observing
17 Goes up and down
18 Lummox
19 Not just plump
20 "Yippee!"
22 Classic Welles role
24 Settled down
25 Strong
29 Director Howard
30 Customs
31 Compass dir.
32 Brought into disrepute
34 Elevator name
35 "Born Free" lioness
36 Treaties
37 Boston Marathon month
40 Eve's third son
41 Reddish mount
42 Nolan Ryan's job
46 Capri, e.g.
47 Neighborhood
48 TV's "Science Guy" Bill
49 Landlord's paper
50 Rhett's last word
51 Wrigley product

DOWN
1 Mandible
2 Mrs. McKinley
3 In harmony
4 "Gulliver's Travels" brute
5 "Metamorphoses" writer
6 Barbie's companion
7 Work unit
8 Untruthful one
9 Reed instrument
10 Cage components
11 Being, to Brutus
16 Coagulate
19 Individuals
20 Hospital section
21 Lotion additive
22 "M*A*S*H" locale
23 Dumbstruck
25 Spacecraft compartments
26 Attractive
27 Monad
28 Not so much
30 Shopping center
33 — in (restricted)
34 Inauguration recitation
36 Pie nut
37 Sahara-like
38 Sit for a photo
39 Bronchial sound
40 Goblet feature
42 Tablet
43 Glass of NPR
44 Big Apple sch.
45 Jewel



© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

MAGIC MAZE ● WILDFIRES

S V S E M A L F T Q C O M J H
F C T A Y W U R P O N L J H F
R D R B Z G X V N T R Q O M K
E I U N C O N T R O L L E D T
T H C F D B A I Z Y W P S H W
A V T T D I R Q N E U R G S T
R B U R N A R E A W E U S U S
D O R M I N L T O K O S K R E
A I E H W F H L N R A R D B R
N N S C A E B A D R Z X C W O
T V U S R E T H G I F E R I F

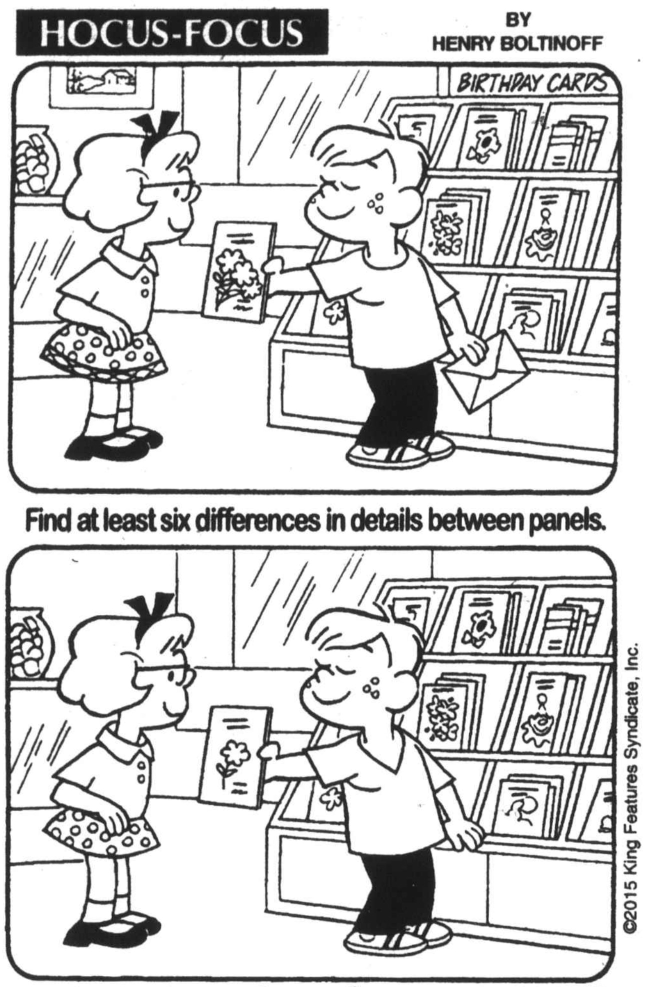
Find the listed words in the diagram. They run in all directions forward, backward, up, down and diagonally

Blow-up
Brush
Burn area
Containment
Crowning
Drought
Firefighters
Flames
Forest
Grass
Structures
Tankers
Uncontrolled
Weather
Wind

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

HOCUS-FOCUS

BY HENRY BOLTINOFF



Find at least six differences in details between panels.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Differences: 1. Picture is missing. 2. Skirt is different. 3. Card is different. 4. Neckline is different. 5. Card sign is missing. 6. Envelope is missing.

Find Puzzles Galore! • Order at: rbmamall.com or Call: (800) 708-7311 x250

Trivia test

by Fifi Rodriguez

1. HISTORY: What country once was known by the Latin name of Caledonia?
2. ANIMAL ADJECTIVES: What is a group of dragons called?
3. ANATOMY: Where is the retina located?
4. TELEVISION: Who played the character Latka Gravas on "Taxi"?
5. U.S. PRESIDENTS: How old was Bill Clinton when he was inaugurated as president?
6. MYTHOLOGY: The Greek god Aeolus commanded domain over what area?
7. GEOGRAPHY: The Catskill Mountains are located largely in which U.S. state?
8. FOOD & DRINK: What kind of plant does saffron come from?
9. MOVIES: Who directed the movie "The Lost Weekend"?
10. U.S. STATES: What is the only letter of the alphabet that does not appear in the name of any U.S. state?

Answers
1. Scotland
2. A weyr or flight
3. The eye
4. Andy Kaufman
5. 46
6. Ruler of the winds
7. New York
8. Crocus flower
9. Billy Wilder
10. The letter "Q"

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Wishing Well®

5	3	6	3	8	2	4	5	2	6	4	7	4
A	L	T	E	E	A	K	N	P	U	N	V	O
3	6	4	3	6	5	3	2	6	8	3	8	3
I	R	W	S	N	E	U	E	O	N	R	E	E
4	6	3	2	4	6	2	7	2	3	8	3	8
Y	N	T	R	O	C	F	A	E	I	R	M	G
2	6	3	2	3	4	3	2	5	7	4	3	5
C	H	E	T	A	U	H	U	W	R	R	E	F
6	3	7	3	8	2	8	4	7	5	4	2	4
A	A	I	D	Y	N	I	S	E	R	E	I	L
7	4	7	8	2	7	8	2	7	6	5	8	6
T	F	Y	S	O	I	R	N	S	R	I	E	M
7	5	7	8	7	8	7	8	5	7	5	8	8
Y	E	O	N	U	E	R	W	N	S	D	E	D

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

©2015 King Features Syndicate, Inc. All rights reserved.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) This could be the time to try soothing whatever bad feelings might be lingering 'twixt and among colleagues, friends or family members. But be sure you do so without favoring any side.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) An idea is only an idea until you put that clever Bovine mind to work to develop it from concept to substance. This could lead to something rewarding, both emotionally and monetarily.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) The early part of the week could have some disconcerting moments, but approaching them with a calm, unruffled attitude goes a long way toward helping to get things nicely settled down.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Getting used to change continues to mark much of the week. But accepting what you have to do makes adapting that much easier. A welcome visitor could turn up sooner than expected.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Learning how to live with a decision is a challenge, but one you Leos and Leonas could really enjoy. You'll also be pleased to see your social life take that upsurge you've been hoping for.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Use your perceptive Virgo instinct to help you see the positive aspects of what, at first, appears to be a disappointment. You could find that it proves to be quite the contrary.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your ability to maintain a balance between sense and sentiment once again helps you sort through apparently conflicting choices and ultimately arrive at the right decision.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Before you seek the advice of colleagues about a potential career move, you might be better off getting counsel from someone who won't be affected by the choices you make.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) It can be a challenging week for some relationships if the normal give-and-take flow changes with one side doing most of the giving and the other the taking.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A new opportunity could bring with it much anticipation along with some anxiety. Take time to sort out your options as well as your emotional considerations.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Are you sure you have all the facts you need to let that matter move to another level? Don't be rushed into a decision unless and until you feel it's the right thing to do.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Pace yourself as you prepare to take on that more demanding project. Be careful not to let your energy reserves drain away. Take time to relax with people close to you.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have the ability to see both sides of a situation. You would do well as a counselor or a judge.

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

CryptoQuip

This is a simple substitution cipher in which each letter used stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Solution is accomplished by trial and error.

Clue: W equals Y

PT WTI UETR ROW GOJ VXGTK
VXGIVZZW AKTUJ OCN TRE VKL?
CG NJJLN OJ RVEGJP GT AJ CE
GOJ XVNG.

© 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

— King Crossword —
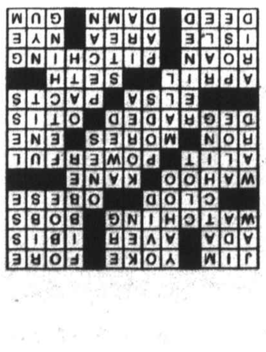
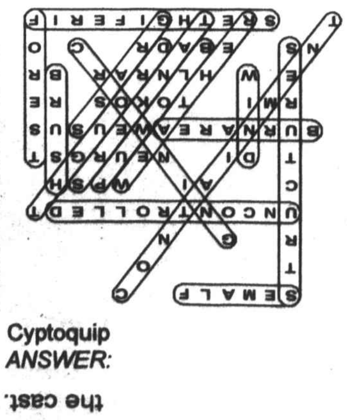
Answers
Solution time: 27 mins.



Magic Maze
ANSWERS:



Cyptoquip
ANSWER:

Do you know why the actor actually broke his own arm? It seems he wanted to be in the cast.

Beth Shalom Of Blue Hills To Hold Two Open Houses

Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills, formerly Temples Shalom of Milton and Beth El of Quincy, will hold two Open Houses for prospective members as well as anyone interested in the synagogue and its activities.

The first will be on Sunday, Aug. 30, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the gazebo at Milton Town Hall, 525 Canton Ave. Visitors are welcome to learn about the new synagogue building, see up-to-the-minute photos of the work-in-progress, sign up for tours of the building site, obtain High Holiday service information, and enjoy kids activities.

The second Open House will be Sunday, Sept. 13, 10 a.m. to noon at Pierce Middle School, 451 Central Ave. in Milton. Visitors will be able to get synagogue information and join with the Religious School for High Holiday Family Activity Day.

All interested families in the South Shore and Greater Boston area are invited to attend either or both Open Houses. Meet Rabbi Alfred Benjamin and Education Director Nancy Mollitor, learn about the congregation's programs and activities, and find out about our Special First Year Membership and Religious School rates. First time attendees to either Open House will receive a complimentary ticket for one High Holiday or Family service.

Congregation Beth Shalom is also accepting registrations to its Rabbi Jerome Weistrop Religious School, which meets on Sunday mornings and Tuesday afternoons. Under the leadership of Nancy Mollitor, the school has small class sizes and a very active and innovative curriculum, including unique holiday celebrations, monthly pre-school-age Story Hour, Family Learner's Services, field trips, Bar/Bat Mitzvah classes, teenage discussion groups with Rabbi Benjamin, Jewish film appreciation, and Holiday Family Activity days. The school is also a partner in the Passport to Israel Program, which helps fund teen trips to Israel. For religious school information, call the synagogue office at 617-698-3394.

Congregation Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills is an egalitarian congregation which welcomes inter-married families. Its worship services currently are at the Johnson Great Hall Sanctuary in the First Congregational Church, 495 Canton Ave., Milton. For information, call the synagogue office at 617-698-3394; office@BethShalomBlueHills.org or visit www.BethShalomBlue Hills.org.

RELIGION

Bethany Congregational

On Sunday, August 23, Bethany Congregational Church, Quincy Center will have Worship Service at 10:00 a.m. The Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon entitled "Who's Timetable, God's or Ours?" Fellowship with light refreshments will follow the worship service.

All are welcome to attend Bethany Church Worship Services and its numerous group activities. Bethany has an active Youth Group, and a Missions and Growth Committee doing various charity works.

Please visit us at www.bethanychurch.tk for updates and activities. Sunday Service is broadcast on QATV Thursdays at 6 p.m. and Sundays at 10 a.m. on Channel 8.

Childcare will be available for infants and toddlers during worship service. The church is wheelchair accessible.

Quincy Point Congregational

Guest preacher Rev. Ann Rearick will lead Sunday worship Aug. 23 at 10 a.m. in the air-conditioned sanctuary of Quincy Point Congregational Church, 444 Washington St.

Deacon of the day will be Jane Raymond. After worship, there will be light refreshments in Social Hall. Sign the thinking of you and birthday cards.

On Aug. 30th guest preacher will be Daniel Baker. Baker grew up in Abington and lives there with his wife Stacy and four children. He is a lifelong member of the UCC beginning in the UCC in Abington. His current home church is the First Congregational Church in Randolph.

Baker is a recent graduate of the Masters of Divinity program at Andover Newton Theological School and is a Member in Discernment in the Pilgrim Association of the Massachusetts Conference USS and is working toward ordination within the UCC.

Houghs Neck Congregational

"Our Mission Today" is the sermon Pastor Felix Carrion will preach at the 10 a.m. morning worship Sunday at Houghs Neck Congregational Church, 310 Manet Ave.

Calling to worship and reading the scripture lesson is liturgist for the day, Gayle Mackay. Serving for the diaconate are Molly and Christian Jacobs. Minister of music is Steve Reed.

Following the service a fellowship coffee hour is hosted by Nancy and Molly Jacobs. The church is air-conditioned.

OBITUARY

Edna Tobin, 93

A funeral Mass for Edna (MacKinnon) Tobin, 93, of Quincy will be celebrated today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church, Quincy.

Mrs. Tobin died Monday.

She was born in Prince Edward Island, Canada. Throughout her life, Mrs. Tobin was passionate about caring for others. She devoted her childhood to caring for her siblings and after starting her own family was the most loving mother to her own five children. She enjoyed her time as a visiting nurse, providing genuine care to all those she encountered.

In her spare time Mrs. Tobin could be found cooking delicious meals for her home full of people or playing cards or bingo. She will be sadly missed by all those who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Predeceased by her beloved husband Lawrence V. Tobin. Loving mother of Michael Tobin and Rhonda Dowling of PEI, Lawrence Tobin, Jr. of Quincy, Margaret Tobin and Jim Peluso of Quincy and the late Charles and Leo Tobin. Devoted grandmother of Bailey, Beverly, Jake and Olivia. Caring sister of Harold MacKinnon and his wife Mary, Sara MacKinnon, Celia MacInnis and the late Victor, Joe, Kenny, Paddy and D.F. MacKinnon. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were 4-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy. A celebration of life service will be held there at 9:45 a.m. today, prior to the Mass.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

New Sunday Mass At Sacred Heart

The Quincy Catholic Collaborative of St. Mary – Sacred Heart – St. Ann Parishes announces a new weekly Sunday 6 p.m. Mass will be scheduled at Sacred Heart Parish, 386 Hancock St., North Quincy.

This new Mass will be celebrated from September through May, beginning Sunday, Sept. 13.

For information on the entire collaborative Mass schedule, visit www.qcc14.org.

Quincy Religion Directory
SERVICES & ACTIVITIES

Catholic
St. Mary's Church
95 Crescent St., Quincy • 617-773-0120
Masses
Saturday, 4pm, Sunday 8 & 10:30am
Tuesday/Thursday 9am
Handicapped Accessible
New Members Welcome!

ST. AGATHA CHURCH
MILTON-QUINCY
432 Adams Street
Milton, MA 02186 • 617-698-2439
Schedule of Masses:
Saturday: 8:00AM and 4:30PM
Sunday: 7:30AM, 9:00AM, 11:00AM and 5:00PM
Weekday Masses: 7:00 & 9:00AM
Reconciliation 3:45PM-4:15pm on Saturdays, other times by appointment
Handicapped Accessible, handicapped parking, elevator to Upper/Lower Churches ~ Air-Conditioned

St. John The Baptist
ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH
44 School St., Quincy
617-773-1021
Weekend Mass Schedule
Saturday, 4:00 PM
Sunday 7:30, 9:00, 11:00 AM
Sunday night 5:30 PM
Weekday Masses
Monday - Saturday 8:00 AM
Latin Mass
1st & 3rd Wednesdays
(Lower Chapel) 7:00 AM
Confessions
Wed. 8:30 – 9:00 AM
Sat. 2:30 – 3:30 PM
Handicapped Accessible

Catholic
Sacred Heart Church
"A Roman Catholic Community walking together in Faith, Worship, Education and Service"
386 Hancock St., North Quincy, MA 02171
(617) 328-8666
Sunday Masses
4 pm (Saturday)
7:30 am and 10:00 am
Weekday Masses
Monday - Friday 7 am
Monday & Saturday 9 am
Handicapped Accessible
Confessions
Sat. 3-3:45pm in Saint Joseph Oratory

St. Joseph's Church
550 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-472-6321
SUNDAY MASSES:
4 p.m. (On Saturday)
8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.
Weekday Masses 9am
CONFESSIONS: Saturday, 3:00-3:30 pm
Handicapped accessible & Handicapped parking, side entrance
air conditioned

Saint Ann's Church
757 Hancock St., Wollaston
617-479-5400
Mass Schedule:
Sat. 4:00 PM / Sun. 9, 11 AM
Daily Mass:
Wednesday and Friday, 9 AM
Confessions: Saturday 3-3:30PM
Handicapped Accessible via Elevator

Congregational
HOUGH'S NECK CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
310 Manet Avenue
617-479-8778
www.hncong.org
Sunday Morning
Service of Worship 10 a.m.
Pastor Felix Carrion will preach
"Our Mission Today"
All are welcome to attend
FELLOWSHIP COFFEE HOUR FOLLOWING SERVICE

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Spear & Coddington Streets
Quincy Center, 617-479-7300
www.bethanychurch.tk
Sunday Worship Service at 10AM
Rev. William C. Harding will conduct the service and preach the sermon "Whose Timetable, God's or Ours?"
Child Care Available
For Infants And Toddlers
ALL ARE WELCOME!
Fellowship Time following Service
The church is wheelchair accessible

PEACE

Congregational
Wollaston
Congregational Church
United Church of Christ
48 Winthrop Avenue
Quincy, Massachusetts
Worship and Sunday School at 10 a.m.
Fred Hayes
Interim Pastor
617-773-7432
www.wollastonucc.com

UNION CONGREGATIONAL
Beach St. & Rawson Rd., Wollaston
(617) 479-6661
Rev. John Swanson, Pastor
Sunday Worship Service 10 AM

QUINCY POINT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
444 Washington St. • 617-773-6424
Worship and Church School 10 am
Rev. Ann Suzedell, Pastor
email: office@quincypointcong.org

Unitarian Universalist
United First Parish Church
A theologically liberal congregation, encouraging people to seek their own spiritual path. All are welcome.
Chalice Circle Discussion Group
Sundays at 10:30 AM
Followed by Fellowship & Refreshments
Rev. Rebecca Froom
1306 Hancock St., Quincy
www.ufpc.org

Christian Science
First Church of Christ, Scientist
1460 Hancock Street, Quincy
617-472-7099
Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Wednesday Evening Meetings – where testimonies of healing are shared 7:30 p.m.
SCIENCE & HEALTH
Holy Bible
ALL ARE WELCOME!

Nazarene
Wollaston
Church of the Nazarene
Sunday Worship
8:30 AM Liturgical Worship
9:45 AM Sunday School
11:00 AM Celebration Worship
Kevin C. Dunlop, Lead Pastor
Phil Nase, Youth & Small Groups Pastor
Jake Chastain, Music & Campus Pastor
Bev Keuther, Children's Pastor
Don Reed, Visitation Pastor
37 E. Elm Ave., Wollaston
617.472.5669
E-mail: office@wconaz.org
www.wollastonnazarene.org

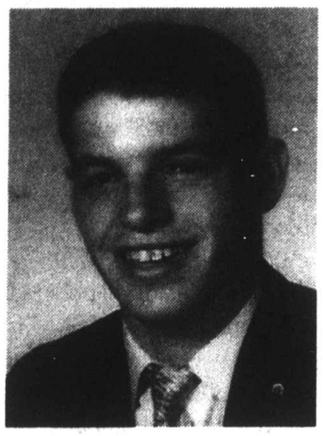
Methodist
QUINCY COMMUNITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
40 Beale St., Wollaston
617-773-3319
10:30 AM Sunday Worship
Rev. Dr. Susan Jarek-Glidden, Pastor

Salvationist
THE SALVATION ARMY
6 Baxter St., Quincy • 617-472-2345
9:45 CHRISTIAN EDUCATION
11AM WORSHIP SERVICE
BRASS BAND MUSIC
7PM TUES. WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP
6:45PM WEDS. BIBLE STUDY

To Advertise in this Directory, Call 617-471-3100

OBITUARIES

Dennis R. Delorey



DENNIS R. DELOREY

A funeral service for Dennis R. "Denny" Delorey of Quincy will be held at today (Thursday) at 10:30 a.m. in Lydon Chapel for Funerals, 644 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Delorey died Monday after a long illness.

Cherished son of the late John A. and Mary Delorey. Beloved brother of John and Kevin Delorey, both of Quincy, and Jimmy Delorey of Weymouth. Treasured uncle of Christine, Patrice and Matthew as well as a great-uncle to Jacquelin, Samantha and Jack. He also leaves behind many aunts, uncles and cousins.

Mr. Delorey worked for the city of Quincy School Department at Central Middle School as a custodian. He also worked at Wollaston Theater for many years right up until the day it closed in 2003. He was a graduate of North Quincy High Class of 1969.

Mr. Delorey was an avid sports fan; back in the day he enjoyed going to the Celtic games as a season ticket holder. His kindness and friendliness touched many lives and he had an incredible loving bond with many who know and loved him. He never complained and always took everything in stride.

Visiting hours were 5-8 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at the funeral home.

Interment at Pine Hill Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the American Diabetes Association, 1701 North Beauregard St., Alexandria, VA 22311.

Evelyn A. Snowling, 82

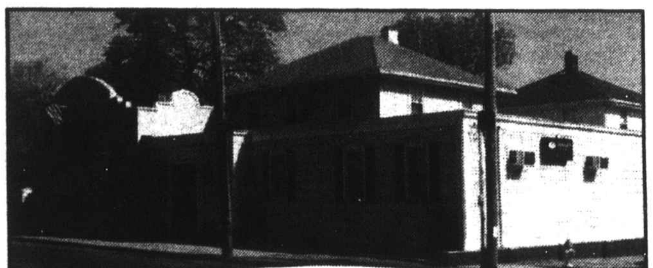
A funeral service for Evelyn A. Snowling, 82, of Quincy was held yesterday (Wednesday) at Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Ms. Snowling died Aug. 14.

A lifelong Quincy resident, she served in the Air Force in the late 1950s and retired from UMass Boston where she was a computer operator.

The daughter of the late William and Anna Snowling, Ms. Snowling was the loving sister of Alice M. Grazioso of Quincy, George "Buddy" Snowling of CA and the late Louise Whalen and is also survived by many nieces, nephews, great-nieces and nephews and great-great nieces and nephews, as well as her dear friends of many years, Grace, Marilyn and Genevieve.

Interment with Military Honors at Massachusetts National Cemetery, Bourne.



A Better Value For Quincy Families

At Deware Funeral Home, we are proud to offer more value and superior service to Quincy families. A full service traditional funeral is $5,995* with no hidden costs. The price includes:

Funeral Ceremony • Visitation • Casket

At Deware Funeral Home, we put the needs of our customer first. We also offer a Simple Burial Plan for $3,395.

With Deware Funeral Home, you can trust us to provide the compassionate care you expect at an exceptional value, backed by a 100% service guarantee.

Exclusive provider of Dignity Memorial® benefits.

Deware Funeral Home

576 Hancock Street | Quincy, MA 02170 | 617-472-1137

Dignity

For more information visit

www.dewarefuneralhome.com

*$5,995 plan includes basic services of funeral director and staff, embalming and preparation, visitation, funeral ceremony, transportation to place of disposition, 20-gauge metal casket, website announcement, and memorial stationary package (a register book, 100 thank you cards, 100 prayer cards).

A Service Family Affiliate of AFFS and Service Corporation International, 206 Winter Street, Fall River, MA 02720 (508) 676-2454.

Edward M. McDonough

EDWARD M. McDONOUGH

Visiting hours for Edward Michael "Eddie" McDonough of Quincy were held Aug. 13 in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. McDonough died Aug. 8.

He graduated from Archbishop Williams High School in 1982 and went on to receive his bachelor's degree at Suffolk University. He worked as a supervisor for the U.S. Post Office.

Mr. McDonough was a social man who had many friends and loved to travel, especially to Hawaii. Most of all, he loved his family. His sons were his pride and joy; he was very involved in all of their sports events and a very proud father. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Son of the late Edward T. and Margaret (Horahan). Former husband and best friend of Karen McDonough of Quincy. Loving and proud father of Edward Paul and Kevin Patrick McDonough, both of Quincy. Brother of the late James McDonough.

Peggy Cates Carleton

A funeral service for Peggy Cates Carleton, a longtime Quincy resident in her 89th year, was held yesterday (Wednesday) at the First Church of Squantum.

Mrs. Carleton died peacefully Aug. 14.

Beloved wife of the late Harry V. Carleton, who predeceased her in 2001. Devoted mother of Nancy Duane and her husband Jack of NH and Bonnie Marcel and her husband Michael of Quincy. Cherished "Nai-nai" of Christina Duane of NH, Juliana Jones and her husband Andre of ME and Harry Marcel of Quincy. Proud great-grandmother of Emmitt, Brigitte and Holden Jones. Loving sister of the late David Cates and Howard Cates.

She was a graduate of the Gould Academy in Bethel, Maine, and later earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Maine. Mrs. Carleton was a past president of the Squantum School PTA. Always an active and valued member of her congregation, she served as a deacon, Sunday School teacher and Sunday School superintendent at the First Church of Squantum in Quincy.

She was an avid skier, skater and sports enthusiast who loved to watch tennis, baseball and hockey. She was a dedicated crew for her husband Harry Carleton, and together the won numerous Hustler Class National Championships and other sailing regattas.

Funeral arrangements were made by Deware Funeral Home, 576 Hancock St., Quincy.

Private interment at Friends Cemetery in Vassalboro, Maine.

Memorial donations may be made to the First Church of Squantum, 164 Bellevue Rd., Quincy, MA 02171.

DOLAN

FUNERAL SERVICES

"Caring for your life's journey"

◆ Funerals
◆ Cremations
◆ Pre-Arrangements

Service times and directions at:

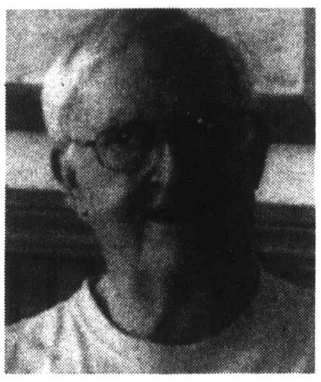
www.dolanfuneral.com

THE DOLAN FAMILY
W. Craig
Paul F.
Frederick J.
Courtney

1140 WASHINGTON STREET
DORCHESTER, MA 02124
(617) 298-8011

460 GRANITE AVENUE
MILTON, MA 02186
(617) 698-6264

Peter J. Wallace



PETER J. WALLACE

A funeral service for Peter J. Wallace of Quincy was held Monday in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mr. Wallace died Aug. 12.

He proudly served his country in the U.S. Navy in the COMSUBLANT submarine force aboard the USS Bushnell during the Korean War. Mr. Wallace worked at New England Telephone and Telegraph as a 1st and 2nd line repairman with the TAG group. He also worked at AT&T and managed the technical training facility in Cambridge. He retired after 37 years. His career with the telephone companies spanned the change in technology from the use of operator switchboards through the invention and use of mobile phones.

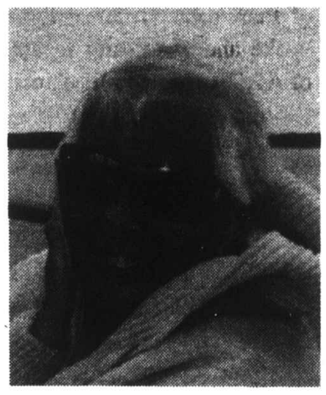
In 1971, Mr. Wallace was the recipient of the Vail Medal and the Carnegie Hero Medal. He, an avid sailor, was a member of the Squantum Yacht Club and was an instructor through the Power Squadron Group. He participated for 20 years in the Swim with a Special Child Program. His pride and joy was his sailboat, the Lady Jane, and his family. Mr. Wallace was a hard-working, thoughtful and generous man who will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Beloved husband of Jane (Bernasconi) Wallace of Quincy. Loving father of Daniel Wallace of Quincy and Dianne Handrahan and her husband Thomas of East Bridgewater. Cherished grandfather of James Handrahan. Brother of the late Francis X. Wallace. Also survived by nieces and nephews. Now reunited with his dearest friends, the late William Burke, Jack Walsh, John Wallace and Paul Colombo.

Interment at Blue Hill Cemetery, Braintree.

Memorial donations may be made to the Swim with a Special Child Program, 47 Gilbert Rd., Weymouth, MA 02189.

Rita Bullard



RITA BULLARD

A funeral Mass for Rita (Morton) Bullard of Quincy, formerly of Brookline and Roxbury, was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) at St. Mary of the Assumption Church, Brookline.

Mrs. Bullard died Aug. 14.

She retired from the U.S. Postal Service Police Force at the GMF in Boston where she made many good and longtime friends. While stationed in Boston, she wrote a traffic citation to former Mayor White for using a restricted roadway in a non-emergency vehicle.

Mrs. Bullard was a longtime volunteer of the Quincy Public Library Adams Shore Branch in the Reading Roundup program.

Former wife of the late Joseph W. Bullard, Sr. Loving mother of Joseph W. Bullard, Jr. and wife Bonnie of Brookline, Jean Suther of NC and her late husband Max, Carol Costello of NV and her late husband Tommy, Joyce Fanning and husband Jerry of Rockland, Eileen Quinn and husband Bob of Roslindale. Cherished grandmother of Joseph W. Bullard III and wife Vanessa of Bedford, Christine Bullard and fiancé Matt Stellar of Dorchester, Amy Fanning Haynes and husband Paul of Bridgewater, Patrick Fanning of Rockland, Rebecca, Robert, and Bridget Quinn of Roslindale. She was the adoring "GG" to her three great-grandchildren, Amelia, Jocelyn and Luke Bullard of Bedford. Dear sister of Eileen Morton of Quincy, and the late David Morton, Evelyn Eifler and husband Frank. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Bell-O'Dea Funeral Home, Brookline.

Interment at Walnut Hills Cemetery, Brookline.

Memorial donations made to the Thomas Crane Public Library, 40 Washington St., Quincy, MA. 02169.

More Obituaries Online at www.thequincysun.com

Roberta Johndrow, 88

A gathering to celebrate the life of Roberta Johndrow, 88, of Pembroke and formerly Quincy was held Monday at Shepherd Funeral Home, Pembroke.

Mrs. Johndrow died Aug. 9 peacefully and comforted with family at her side.

She lived a full, busy life with experiences such as hitch hiking to California, and back as a teenager, taking drum lessons from famous big band great, Barron Hugo, and riding Indian Motorcycles with her late husband Peter Johndrow. Mrs. Johndrow was an active and accomplished member of the Pussy Foot Rollers, a roller skating team in her youth. She also excelled at dancing, was a welder on large Navy ships in World War II and became a Navy veteran. She enjoyed a great camaraderie with her grandson Web Beveridge.

Her late sisters were Barbara Hutchinson and Dorothy Ditullio. She is survived by her daughters: Alana (Ginger) Nash of AZ, Dorothy Beveridge and her fiancé Kevin (Boomer) Kennedy of Plymouth, Cindy Johndrow and her boyfriend Rob Barrett of Pembroke, and sons Peter Johndrow and his wife Nancy of North Brookfield, Kevin Johndrow and his wife Laura of Halifax, and David Johndrow and his wife Janet of Hanover. She also leaves her grandson Web Beveridge and his wife Alegria of Boston as well as many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Memorial donations may be made to a local no kill animal shelter or the MSPCA.

Virginia M. Golden, 71

A funeral Mass for Virginia M. "Ginny" Golden, 71, a longtime resident of Pembroke and formerly of Quincy, was celebrated Monday in St. Thecla's Church, Pembroke.

Mrs. Golden died peacefully surrounded by her family at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston on Aug. 9.

Born in Boston to Alice and Robert LeBlanc. Beloved wife of Gerard "Gerry" Golden of Pembroke. Devoted mother of Paul and Lisa of Halifax, Bob and Kristin of Pembroke, Brian of Pembroke and Mark and Denise of AZ. Loving Mimi of Josh, Hailey, Zach, Gia and Ryan. Sister to Cathy Hughes and husband Ron of TX and Marie Martucci and husband Ray of Hanover. Aunt to many nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Golden was a graduate of North Quincy High School and a longtime employee of the town of Duxbury. She had many passions in life; however spending time with her family, especially her grandchildren, brought her the most joy. She also enjoyed traveling with her friends and relatives.

Funeral arrangements were made by Shepherd Funeral Home, Pembroke.

Interment at Center Cemetery, Pembroke.

Memorial donations may be made to the Pembroke Food Pantry.

Alice P. Maloney, 59

A funeral Mass for Alice P. "Lisa" Maloney, 59, a lifelong Quincy resident, was celebrated Monday in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Ms. Maloney died peacefully Aug 12 at home surrounded by her loving family.

She was born and raised in Quincy. Ms. Maloney was a graduate of Thayer Academy, Class of 1975, and Simmons College, Class of 1979. She also enjoyed her family's summer home in West Yarmouth.

Ms. Maloney had been employed as treasurer for the Maloney Seafood Corporation of Quincy, formerly of Boston, for more than 35 years. She enjoyed gardening, the outdoors and sailing.

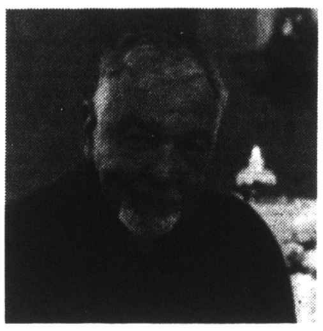
Beloved daughter of the late Thomas M. and Alice (Cassidy) Maloney, Sr. Devoted sister of Thomas M. Maloney, Jr. and his wife Marie, Francis C. Maloney and Donna Ciampoli, and Joseph P. Maloney, all of Quincy. She was predeceased by Richard G. Maloney, Mary Maloney, and Adele Maloney. Loving aunt of Thomas M. Maloney III and his wife Christina, Therese H. Maloney and Patrick P. Maloney all of Quincy. She is also survived by many cousins and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to the Boston Health Care for the Homeless Program, 780 Albany Street, Boston, MA 02118.

William J. Adams Jr.



WILLIAM J. ADAMS JR.

A funeral Mass for William J. "Smoky" Adams Jr. of Quincy was celebrated yesterday (Wednesday) in St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Adams died Aug. 14.

He proudly served his country in the U.S. Navy. He was a member of the Elks, American Legion – Morrisette Post, South Quincy Social Club, and a summer resident at the Pinewood Lodge Campground in Plymouth. He enjoyed camping, fishing, tinkering, cribbage, and morning gin games with friends.

Most of all, Mr. Adams loved his family. He adored them, especially his grandchildren. Mr. Adams will be remembered for his great sense of humor and always being a kind and generous man. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Beloved husband of Ann (Fleming) Adams and the late Marlene (Buzzell) Adams. Devoted father of Melissa Shaw and her husband Keith of Millbury and Josh Adams and his wife Kerry of Braintree. Loving brother of Carole Cirillo of Scituate, Jon Adams and his wife Stephanie of Weymouth, and the late Bruce Adams and his surviving wife Marilyn of Quincy. Cherished grandfather of Jake and Matty Adams and Marley, William, and Clare Shaw. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral arrangements were made by Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Private interment at a later date.

Memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice.

Rita J. Cappellano, 63

RITA J. CAPPELLANO

A funeral Mass for Rita J. (Southerland) Cappellano, 63, of Sandwich was celebrated Aug. 14 at Corpus Christi Parish in Sandwich.

Mrs. Cappellano died Aug. 9 surrounded by her loved ones after a long battle with cancer.

She was a longtime resident of the Hough Neck neighborhood of Quincy and recently moved to Cape Cod, which was a longtime dream of hers.

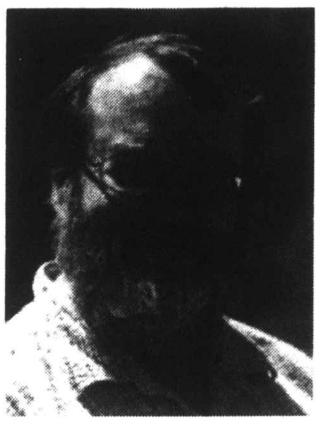
Beloved daughter of the late John and Jeannette Southerland, she is survived by her husband of 42 years, Robert Cappellano of Sandwich, her daughter Andrea Olsen and her husband Josh of Carver, her daughter Alicia Picard and her husband Andrew of Hanover, her son John Cappellano of Sandwich, her son Robert Cappellano Jr. of South Korea, and her granddaughter Brielle Olsen. She is also survived by her late brother John "Jack" Southerland and wife Lynda of Quincy, brother Robert Southerland and wife Harriet "Wendy" of Falmouth, brother Paul Southerland and wife Kathy of Plymouth, and brother David Southerland of Carver. She is also survived by many nieces, nephews, and her beloved extended family and friends.

Funeral arrangements were made by Nickerson-Bourne Funeral Home, Sandwich.

Private interment.

Memorial donations may be made to Dana-Farber Community Cancer Care Fund. Checks may be made payable to Dana-Farber Cancer Institute Division of Development and Jimmy Fund and mailed to Elizabeth K. Patterson, 10 Brookline Place West, 6th Floor, Brookline, MA 02445.

Peter Stenberg



PETER STENBERG

A memorial service for Peter Stenberg will be held Oct. 28 at 9 a.m. at St. Ann's Church, Quincy.

Mr. Stenberg died Aug. 9 at home.

He was born in Boston on Nov. 19, 1949, to Peter Stenberg and Sabina Mary Kavanaugh. He attended Boston area parochial schools as a child and graduated high school from Cardinal Cushing Academy. He then went on to graduate from University of Massachusetts, Amherst, with a BS in sociology and psychology in 1974, masters in education from Boston State College, and a masters in social work from West Virginia University in 1980.

Mr. Stenberg worked as a social worker at CMMC before establishing Lisbon Counseling, a child and family counseling service in which he practiced for 30 years. He married Janet Blair in 1973 and they spent their honeymoon traveling by car to Alaska and the following summer they backpacked across Europe. They were young and optimistic about their lives together and what could be accomplished in the world, a belief and joy they always held onto. They were best friends.

His best Christmas present ever was the birth of his first son, Sheamus. Together they enjoyed boy scouts, camping and traveling. Mr. Stenberg and his son Liam had a tradition, starting when Liam was 7 years old, to go traveling for a month in the summer. Together they went to Newfoundland, across the U.S. and Canada, Alaska, England, Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Germany, the Netherlands and at least ten other countries. They were extremely close and Mr. Stenberg often referred to Liam as his "traveling buddy" or "navigator" because of his grasp on geography. Liam loved to learn and Mr. Stenberg loved to teach his son. Their bond was unique and unbreakable. He loved to discuss history, educate those around him, and he loved to talk to people.

Once as a social worker in the hospital, Mr. Stenberg came across a patient who recognized him when he was a teenager and Mr. Stenberg was working in a neighborhood sheltered workshop. The patient thanked Mr. Stenberg for talking with him at that difficult time and told him what a difference he had made in his life. Mr. Stenberg had an ability to encourage even the narrowest of minds to look at the bigger picture from other's point of view as well as to think creatively.

Throughout his life Mr. Stenberg always made it a point to find truth and help others. He is and always will be profoundly missed by his family.

He is survived by his mother, Sabina Kavanaugh Stenberg of Massachusetts, his wife Janet, sons Sheamus and Liam, his sister Margaret and niece Lauren and nephew Garrett.

A Celebration of Life was held Sunday at Crosman Funeral Home in Lisbon Falls, Maine.

Honor Your Loved One's Memory
With Flowers
cliffords.com
1.800.441.8884

HAMEL FUNERAL CARE
& CREMATION SERVICES
OF MASSACHUSETTS
Honored Providers of:
Veterans
Funeral Care™
BBB
PHONE TOLL FREE
(800) 696-5887
26 Adams Street, Quincy, Ma 02169
www.HamelFuneralCare.com

Over 60 Years
Of Personalized Service
SWEENEY BROTHERS
Home for Funerals, Inc.
RICHARD T. SWEENEY, JR.
FRANCIS M. SWEENEY • RICHARD T. SWEENEY III
1 INDEPENDENCE AVENUE
QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS 02169
(617) 472-6344 • www.thesweeneybrothers.com

CLASSIFIEDS

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-049

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, September 15, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Michael Szczepowski for a Variance to construct a 2-story addition in violation of Title 17 as amended Chapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 52 AMESBURY STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/20/15, 8/27/15

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
City of Quincy
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CASE NO. 15-050

Pursuant to the provisions of TITLE 17 of the QUINCY MUNICIPAL CODE as amended, the Quincy Zoning Board of Appeals will hold an Open Public Hearing on Tuesday, September 15, 2015 at 7:15 pm at Coddington Hall, 1st Floor, 34 Coddington Street, Quincy, MA 02169, on the application of Mai Phung, Phung/Porzio Inc., for a Variance to modify the existing Variance by adding a bay window in violation of Title 17 as amended CHapter 4.0 (dimensional requirements) on the premises numbered 383 WATER STREET, QUINCY.

Plans and Specifications are on file at the Inspectional Service Department located at 55 Sea Street, Quincy, MA 02169 and may be reviewed during regular business hours.

Martin Aikens, Chairman

8/20/15, 8/27/15

Want to pick up a copy of The Quincy Sun?

Here are stores in Quincy that sell it on their newsstands:

Quincy Market
Corner of Temple
& Washington St.

Goodie's Store
1250 Hancock St.,
Presidents Place

New Store on the Block
1183 Hancock St.,
Quincy Ctr. T Station

Hancock Tobacco
1500 Hancock St.

Mignosa's Fruit Basket
138 Granite St.

Rite-Aid
132 Granite St.

Coffee Break Café
77 Parkingway

Hancock Park Lobby Shop
164 Parkingway

Franklin St. BP
60 Franklin St.

7-11
78 Franklin St.

CVS
178 Washington St.
Braintree

Shop N Save Liquors
20 Independence Ave.

Donut + Donuts
33 Scammell St.

Presidential Liquors
25 Scammell St.

Tedeschi's
85 Quincy Ave.

Daily Mart
291 Quincy Ave.

Roche Brothers
The Falls

Walgreens
418 Quincy Ave.

Artery Grocery
1000 Southern Artery

Tedeschi's
495 Washington St.

Dairy Farm
330 Washington St.

Tedeschi's
230 Washington St.

Stop & Shop
Southern Artery

CVS
Southern Artery

Baxter's Pharmacy
385 Washington St.

Tedeschi's
650 Adams St.

7-11
Adams St.

Village Comm. Market
100 Willard St.

Copeland Liquors
273 Copeland St.

Granite Mart
308 Willard St.

7-11
Copeland St.

Joe's Place
260 Centre St.

Corner Food Market
1060 Hancock St.

200 Food Mart
200 Sea St.

Adams Shore Supermarket
494 Sea St.

Palmer Street Market
231 Palmer St.

Bernie's General Store
1147 Sea St.

West Elm Variety
139 W. Elm Ave.

7-11
721 Hancock St.

Beale St. Smoke Shop
17 Beale St.

CVS
42 Beale St.

Coffee Break Café
12 Old Colony Ave.

Supreme Liquors
615 Hancock St.

Hannaford Brothers
475 Hancock St.

Rite-Aid
475 Hancock St.

Mullaney's Variety
205 W. Squantum St.

Stop & Shop
65 Newport Ave.

7-11
363 Hancock St.

Walgreens
324 Hancock St.

Red Apple Food Shop
48 Billings Rd.

Sam's Variety
125 Billings Rd.

Dave's General Store
66 Newbury Ave.

Atlantic Market & Liquors
247 Atlantic Ave.

CVS
321 Quincy Shore Dr.

Carmine's Café
69 Huckins Ave.

Tedeschi's
751 E. Squantum St.

Lucky Shamrock
265 Beale St.

Andre's Store
20 Brook St.

LEGAL NOTICE

TRUST CITATION
Docket No: NO15P2115PO
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and
Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 830-1200
Natalie P. Johnson
Investment Trust
dated April 11, 1996
In the matter of:

To all interested persons:

A Petition has been filed by Michael T Cody of Quincy, MA requesting Natalie P. Johnson Investment Trust under Declaration of Trust dated April 11, 1996, approve proposed final distributions to trust beneficiaries for reasons more fully stated in said petition.

You have the right to obtain a copy of the Petition from the Petitioner or at the Court. You have a right to object to this proceeding. To do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance and objection at this Court before: 10:00 A.M. on 09/02/2015. This is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline by which you must file a written appearance and objection if you object to this proceeding. If you fail to file a timely written appearance and objection followed by an Affidavit of Objections within thirty (30) days of the return date, action may be taken without further notice to you.

WITNESS, Hon. John D Casey, First Justice of this Court.

Date: July 30, 2015
PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

8/20/15

REPORT POTHOLES

Potholes are a year-round problem and should be reported to the Department of Public Works.

617-376-1914

We need you.

WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

American Heart Association
Learn and Live

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE AND ORDER:
Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of Guardianship of a Minor
Docket No: NO14P0539GD
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court
Norfolk Probate and Family Court
35 Shawmut Road
Canton, MA 02021

In the interests of Lianna M Carrasquillo of Quincy, MA Minor

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED PARTIES

1. Hearing Date/Time: A hearing on a Petition to Resign as Guardian of a Minor or Petition for Removal of Guardian of a Minor filed by Larrissa A. Carrasquillo and Peter Carrasquillo on 7/1/2015 will be held 10/27/2015 9:00 AM Guardianship of Minor Hearing Located Canton.

2. Response to Petition: You may respond by filing a written response to the Petition or by appearing in person at the hearing. If you choose to file a written response, you need to:

File the original with the Court; and
Mail a copy to all interested parties at least five (5) business days before the hearing.

3: Counsel for the Minor: the Minor (or an adult on behalf of the minor) has the right to request that counsel be appointed for the minor.

4. Presence of the Minor at Hearing: A minor over age 14 has the right to be present at any hearing, unless the Court finds that it is not in the minor's best interests.

ORDER TO PETITIONER(S)

IT IS ORDERED THAT copies of this Notice and the Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of a Guardian of a Minor be served in hand on the minor, (if 14 or more years of age and not the petitioner), the guardian, the parents of the minor (unless they are the petitioner), and any other person if ordered by the Court, at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing date listed above.

If Service in hand cannot be accomplished on any interested party, IT IS ORDERED that copies of this Notice and the Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of Guardian of a Minor be served on the interested party by leaving at and mailing by regular first class mail to last and usual place of residence of the interested party at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date of hearing listed above.

If the identity or whereabouts of an interested party is not known, IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that copies of this Notice and Petition for Resignation or Petition for Removal of Guardian of a Minor be served on all interested persons at least fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing date by publishing a copy of the Order and Notice once in Quincy Sun, Quincy, publication to be at least Seven (7) days prior to the hearing date.

If required, service on the United States Veteran Administration and the Department of Children and Families may be accomplished by regular first class mail at least Seven (7) days prior to the hearing.

THIS IS A LEGAL NOTICE: An important court proceeding that may affect your rights has been scheduled. If you do not understand this notice or other court papers, please contact an attorney for legal advice.

Date: August 11, 2015

PATRICK W. McDERMOTT
Register of Probate

8/20/15

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

HELP WANTED HELP WANTED

After School Staff Tutors/Teachers

SEPTEMBER OPENINGS IN NORTH QUINCY

If you're a good kid wrangler with a flair for teaching and tutoring, we have rewarding work for you.

- Local program seeking a part-time people afternoons to help school-age children in a classroom setting with homework, math and reading in our afternoon classes.
- Prefer someone to work 18-20 hours per week, 2:30-5:30 pm MWThF and 12-5:30 pm Tuesdays. Would consider fewer hours.
- Some experience with school age children required; experience with foreign language students is helpful but not necessary.
- Pay from $10 to $14 per hour depending on experience.
- Must be high school graduate.
- All applicants must undergo a background check and meet other requirements.

Typical applicants might be college students, retired teachers, etc., but we are open to any responsible, caring people who love children.

Located near subway.

Please email with specifics about your background, send your resume if you have one to:
ivyschoolquincy@gmail.com

8/20

PERSONAL

Please consider
William Harris
on November 3rd for Ward 6 Councilor
Also a huge thank you to my supporters
(617)921-1134

8/20

FOR RENT

HOUSING FOR RENT
CLEAN SOBER HOUSE
CENTRAL AIR, PRIVATE BATH, BASIC CABLE, HEAT AND HOT WATER INCLUDED, WASHER/DRYER, PRIVATE DRIVEWAY, DOGS OK UNDER 10 LBS, FENCED IN YARD W/ EXIT ENT FOR DOG
MUST BE: NEAT/GAINFULLY EMPLOYED, REF. FROM CURRENT LANDLORD, POSITIVE ID
IMO SEC IMO DEP
(781)817-5190

8/20

FOR SALE

32" BLUE MENS
COASTER BIKE
BARELY USED
$75 OR B/O
CALL 617-479-6177

8/20

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

WANTED

OLD HAND TOOLS & BOOKS WANTED

Planes, chisels, adzes, shaves, machinist, and sheetmetal tools, calipers, clamps, anvils, vises.

USEFUL TOOLS, ALL TRADES.

New England history books
Collections: old postcards, toys, military, fishing & old auto items

LIBERTY TOOL CO.
888-405-2007
Davistownmuseum.org
www.jonesport-wood.com

TF

DRIVERS WANTED

Drivers: $2,000.00 Sign-On Bonus! Local-Home Nightly! Bridgewater Flatbed! Great Pay, Benefits! CDL-A, 1yr. Exp. Req. Estenson Logistics
Apply: www.goelc.com
1-866-336-9642

8/20

HALLS FOR RENT

MORRISETTE
LEGION POST
81-83 Liberty St., Quincy
Function Hall Available
Call for Details 617-770-4876
Internet Capable • Weddings • Showers • Christenings • Meetings After Funeral Gatherings

TF

Save Gas & Money, Shop Locally

CLASSIFIEDS

SERVICES

BOOTS ON THE GROUND MOVING CO.
-NO MOVE IS TOO BIG OR TOO SMALL-
- IN-TOWN MOVES
- OUT OF TOWN MOVES
-IN HOUSE SERVICE
- JUNK REMOVAL
- FREE ESTIMATES
- FULLY INSURED
8/20
Quincy, MA (781)366-0255
BOGMOVING@gmail.com
Facebook.com/BootsOnTheGroundMoving

MISCELLANEOUS

AUCTION/REAL ESTATE/ MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA, MA

Lender Ordered; Harborfront Mansion & Carriage House with Ownership of Harbor Side Dock; For details & terms, visit www.tranzon.com/AP15058; Tranzon Auction Properties; 866-503-1212;
Thomas W.Saturley; MA#AU2216; MA RE Lic. #150561

HELP WANTED-SALES

EARN $500 A DAY: Insurance Agents Needed - Leads, No Cold Calls- Commissions Paid Daily- Lifetime Renewals- Complete Training- Health & Dental Insurance- Life License Required. Call 1-888-713-6020

LAND

CANADA'S EAST COAST- P.E.I.'S fastest growing year round FAMILY beachfront community with 19 Homes Completed. offering reduced 2015 Lot pricing starting at $39,000. TOLL-FREE 1-866-636-7155. www.sunsetdunespei.com

LAND FOR SALE

SO.MAINE LAKEFRONT. 13+ Acres with over 372' Waterfront. This prime lakefront parcel is situated on 13+ acres and has over 372' frontage on one of Maine's premier lakes. Only 3 hrs from Boston. New to the market. Gorgeous views with lots of privacy. New survey. Only $399,900. L&S Realty @ 207-846-3294

MISCELLANEOUS

SAWMILLS from only $4397.00-MAKE & SAVE MONEY with your own bandmill-Cut lumber any dimension. In stock ready to ship! FREE Info/DVD: www.NorwoodSawmills.com 1-800-578-1363 Ext.300N

WANT TO BUY

CASH FOR DIABETIC TEST STRIPS Up to $35/ Box! Sealed & Unexpired. Payment Made SAME DAY. Highest Prices Paid!! Call Jenni Today! 800-413-3479 www.CashForYourTestStrips.com

SERVICES

SERVICES

IMAGE LANDSCAPING
We are committed to your property
We clean IT
Trim IT
Remove IT
QUALITY WORKMANSHIP
617-471-0044
11/26
FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED

DG'S YARD MAINTENANCE
- LAWN MOWING
- Small Tree Removal
- Overseeding/Sod
- FULLY INSURED
- Mulching, Weeding & Edging
- Hedge & Shrub
- Trimming or Removal
- Rototilling & Dethatching

Serious about Service... Reasonable Rates
CLEAN-UPS
617-786-9558...FREE ESTIMATES
11/26

JIM'S LAWN CARE
GENERAL YARD CARE, SPRING AND FALL CLEAN UPS, BUSH AND SHRUB TRIMMING, MULCHING AND PLANTING ALSO FREE ESTIMATES FULLY INSURED
(617)733-4105 8/20

Come and join 101 Health & Fitness
for quality strength training and conditioning. Also try our Ju-Jitsu and Boxing programs.
1452 Hancock St., Quincy MA 02169
617-328-2000
8/20

Landscape, Construction & Masonry
- Patios
- Walkways
- Retaining Walls
- Front Stairs
- Drainage Solutions
- Excavating/Demolition
- Plantings
- Seed/Sod Lawn Installation

C.McGue Landscape
617-778-8775
www.cmcguelandscape.com
10/29

QUINCY ANIMAL SHELTER
56 Broad Street, Quincy • 617-376-1349
quincyanimalshelter.org

IN-SHELTER ADOPTION HOURS
TUESDAY and THURSDAYS 6:00 to 8:00 pm
SATURDAYS 10 am - 4 pm

Adoption fees include initial vaccinations and Spay/Neuter as needed. 100% volunteer run, new volunteers always needed.

FOR LOST or FOUND ANIMALS call ANIMAL CONTROL at 617-376-1364

AVAILABLE DOGS

CHARLIE: 12, male, small.

AVAILABLE CATS

LANG: 2, female, black & white.
WILLOW: 2, female, gray.
WINNIE: 13, female, Ragdoll.
KITTY: 5, female, gray & white.
BAABAA: 6, male, black.
BELLA & BABY GIRL: 8, females.
PADDY: 4, male, black.
LC: 5, female, gray tabby.
TEXEY: 2, male, black & white.
MAYNARD: 8, female, black.
SCAMP & SUMO: males, 5 mos., tabby.
CHLOE & JOEY: 6, female & male, tabbies.
NOLA: 4, female, orange.

SERVICES

POWER PLUMBING
Plumbing, Heating, Gas Fitting
Repairs • New Installations
Dave 617-328-3007
Emergencies
617-792-4054
Master Lic # 13749 TF

T & M Landscape Co.
- Spring & Fall Cleanups
- Power Washing
- Lawn Mowing Services
- Yard Mulching
- Bushes & Trees Trimmed

Free Estimates
617-733-4554
~ AFFORDABLE RATES ~ 9/3

McGue EXCAVATING
- Sewer Line Repair/Installation
- Water Line Repair/Installation
- Additions & Foundations
- Drainage Solutions
- House/Garage Demolition
- Stump Removal

10/29
617-872-8779
Bonded - Fully Insured - Licensed

SERVICES

SAVE
Budget Fuel
Fuel Assistance
Senior Discount
Full Service
617-328-4063 TF

THOMAS C. SWEENEY
Smaller Jobs a Specialty
51 Years Experience
Carpentry, Siding, Painting, Porches
Viny/Windows, Doors
Roofing, Decking, Steps
License #1373 Free Estimates
Reliable 617-825-1210 References
10/1

J.F. ROOFING Co.
QUINCY, MA
·Shingles
·Rubber
·Slate
·Copper
·Vinyl Replacement Windows
(617)471-8216
12/31

LOCAL PAINTER
CLIP & SAVE
Average Room - walls $150 Ceilings $75. Also windows, doors, trim, etc. Inside or out. Prompt, clean service.
Kevin 617-302-5136
Cell 617-774-7479
9/24

SERVICES

HTA
Hancock T.V. & Appliance
Sales, Service, Parts & Installation
Since 1945
(617) 472-1710
115 Franklin Street, Quincy, MA
hancocktvandappliance.com

S.G. HAROLD
PLUMBING, HEATING & AC
Specializing in Viessman Boiler
Unico Air Conditioning
Home heating repairs & service
Radiant Floor heating
QUINCY
617-471-0914
Unprecedented Service Tailored to You
MA Lic. #10589 TF

PAINTING BY PROFESSIONAL
Interior & Exterior
Powerwashing & Carpentry
All Types of House Repairs
Reasonable Price
Small Jobs Welcome TF
Leave Message 617-773-4761

100% FREE Removal
of Appliances & all types of metal
Commercial & Residential
Junk Removed
Garages · Basements · Attic
Call John anytime 617-653-6255
10/29

The Quincy Sun

CLASSIFIED AD FORM

MAIL TO: THE QUINCY SUN, 1372 HANCOCK STREET,
QUINCY, MA 02169
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE. Payment must accompany order.

INDEX
- ☐ Services
- ☐ For Sale
- ☐ Autos
- ☐ Boats
- ☐ For Rent
- ☐ Wanted
- ☐ Help Wanted
- ☐ Work Wanted
- ☐ Pets
- ☐ Lost & Found
- ☐ Real Estate
- ☐ Antiques
- ☐ Flea Markets
- ☐ Yard Sales
- ☐ Instruction
- ☐ Day Care
- ☐ Personal
- ☐ Miscellaneous

NO REFUND WILL BE MADE AT THIS CONTRACT RATE IN THE EVENT OF CANCELLATION. DEADLINE: FRIDAY AT 4PM. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER IN AD.

RATES

1 WEEK	☐ $9.00 for one insertion, up to 20 words, 10¢ for each additional word.
2-4 WEEKS	☐ $8.00 per insertion up to 20 words for 2-4 insertions of the same ad, 10¢ each additional word.
5-10 WEEKS	☐ $7.50 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 5-10 insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.
11 WEEKS OR MORE	☐ $7.00 per insertion, up to 20 words, for 11 or more insertions of the same ad 10¢ for each additional word.

☐ Enclosed is $ ___________ for the following ad to run ___________ weeks in The Quincy Sun.

COPY: ______________________________
____
____
____
____
____
____
____
____

OBITUARIES

William Stevenson, 92

WILLIAM STEVENSON

Funeral services for William "Buddy" Stevenson, 92, of Quincy will be held today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. at Sweeney Brothers Home for Funerals, 1 Independence Ave., Quincy.

Mr. Stevenson died peacefully Sunday at his home, surrounded by his loving family.

He was born, raised and educated in Tewksbury. Mr. Stevenson had lived in Quincy for 50 years, previously living in Charlestown for many years. He served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War and received the Korean Service Medal with two battle stars.

Mr. Stevenson worked for the city of Quincy in the Water Department for 20 years. He earlier worked as a press operator for 20 years. Mr. Stevenson was a member of the Cyril P. Morrisette American Legion Post #294 in Quincy.

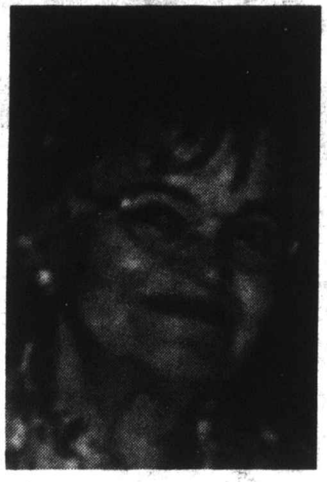
Beloved husband for 64 years of Catherine T. (Mento) Stevenson. Devoted father of William C. Stevenson of Quincy and Samuel A. Stevenson and his wife Kimberly A. of Plymouth. Loving grandfather of Christa L. Girard of MO, Leah J. Lorenzetti, Adam M. Lorenzetti, Kyle T. Stevenson, all of Plymouth, Kayla Stevenson of FL and the late Anthony G. Stevenson. Loving great-grandfather of Cameron, Samantha, Mya, Natalie and Jacob. Also survived by many nieces, nephews and friends. Dear friend of Veronica J. Mormino of Quincy.

Visiting hours were 4-7 p.m. yesterday (Wednesday) at the funeral home.

Interment with Military Honors at Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton.

Memorial donations may be made to the Wounded Warrior Project, 150 Cambridge Park Dr., Suite 202, Cambridge, MA 02140.

Virginia Del Gizzi, 91



VIRGINIA DEL GIZZI

A funeral Mass for Virginia Del Gizzi, 91, was celebrated Tuesday in St. Joseph's Church, Quincy.

Ms. Del Gizzi died peacefully in her home Aug. 11.

She was born and raised in Quincy, graduated from Quincy High School and was employed for many years as a secretary at Bethlehem Steel Co. and General Dynamics of Quincy. She retired from Haemonetics of Braintree.

After her retirement, Ms. Del Gizzi gave all her attention to caring for her mother. She loved social gatherings and enjoyed spending time with her family and friends, exchanging news, listening to and sharing stories. She was always referred to as the family historian. She liked to stay up to date on current events and was an avid sports fan, particularly the New England Patriots.

Devoted daughter of Anthony and Nicolina Del Gizzi of Quincy. Survived by her brother Daniel Del Gizzi of Braintree, several nieces and nephews and many grand- and great-nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her parents and brothers Louis J., Henry and A. Charles Del Gizzi.

Funeral arrangements were made by Dennis Sweeney Funeral Home, 74 Elm St., Quincy.

Interment at Mount Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

Memorial donations may be made to VNA Hospice Care, 100 Trade Center Ste-500, Woburn, MA 01801.

Alice T. LaCorte

ALICE T. LACORTE

A funeral home service for Alice T. (Dunn) LaCorte of Quincy will be held tomorrow (Friday) at 10 a.m. in Keohane Funeral Home, 785 Hancock St., Quincy.

Mrs. LaCorte died suddenly Aug. 15.

She was a fun-loving, full of life woman. She cared for people and would always put others before herself and drew strangers in just with her presence. Mrs. LaCorte enjoyed reading astrology books, cooking for holiday dinners with family, especially Christmas, and spending time with her children and grandchildren. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Beloved wife of the late Frederick LaCorte Sr. Cherished mother of Frederick LaCorte Jr. and his wife Donna, David LaCorte and his wife Jessica, Angela Baker and her husband Scott, special nephew Daniel Dunn, all of Quincy, and the late Dennis LaCorte. Loving sister of Arleen Burns and her husband Robert of Quincy, Billy Dunn and his wife Janice of Quincy, and the late Charles and Patricia Dunn. Devoted grandmother of Matthew, Taylor, Shane, Deena, Brandon, Brody, the late Christopher, and step-grandmother of Brendan. Also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours are 4-8 p.m. today (Thursday) in the funeral home.

Interment at St. Michael's Cemetery, Boston.

Memorial donations may be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital , 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

Bill Roberts Memorial Bike Ride Oct. 24

Pastor John C. Swanson, Union Congregational Church, announces that the 2nd Annual Bill Roberts Memorial Bike Ride is on Saturday, Oct. 24th at 7:30 a.m.

The ride along the beach follows the Quincy coastline from Wollaston to Squantum via Germantown, Houghs Neck and Adams Shore.

Mr. Roberts was a lifetime member of Union Congregational serving on virtually every board and was a close friend and mentor to the Pastor. He was also an educator and a fixture in the community especially in the Quincy Election Department and Quincy youth activities. Bill passed away in 2013.

For more information on this event contact the Pastor of the Church at 617-479-6661 or visit the Church's website www.unioncongregational.org

At-Large Candidates Offer Views At Forum

Cont'd From Page 9

Webster [School] – and we made a Quincy Point middle school out of it," McFarland said.

"With limited dollars we took state grants and we leveraged them. Now, as we continue to go forward and attract new citizens to the city of Quincy and keep the ones that we have, we have to go forward with our education. And there will never be enough money around to do all that we have to do, but that is very, very important."

Each candidate chose to use part of his or her two-minute closing statement to address the redevelopment of Quincy Center.

McCarthy said the downtown and substance abuse are the two main issues facing the city.

"Like it or not, we have to fix that downtown. I don't think anybody in this room has said to their spouse, their girlfriend, their partner 'let's go up to Quincy Square tonight,' and we've got to get that back…That's the number one thing," McCarthy said. "The number two thing is the drug addiction. It's not just in Quincy…it happens everywhere and it's a major problem. I've gone to too many wakes and funerals for kids that are 25 and younger, kids that come from tough families and have issues or great families and have issues."

Liang said more transparency is needed around the downtown project so residents can understand exactly what is going on.

"As I go and speak to our neighbors, the overwhelming question is what is actually going on with the downtown development. Who really knows? As your city councillor at-large, I want to be that person that you can go to for real answers," Liang said. "From working with my family's restaurant group, I've come to understand the importance of things like cost projections, timelines, knowing who your vendors and contractors are and as residents of this city you deserve to have a better grasp of this information."

Finn said he was optimistic about the plan to redevelop Quincy Center.

"I'm actually very hopeful regarding the downtown development," Finn said. "After plans sat on the shelves for 45 years we finally had two mayors who were willing to move it forward. It's not easy, but there isn't a single place where municipal development has occurred in the Commonwealth where it has been easy. I think we need to continue to move that forward, not just for the downtown but for all those spots in Quincy, because it's only that that will maintain the unique character of your neighborhoods."

DiBona said his experience owning a landscaping company gives him the skills needed to entice new businesses to come to Quincy Center.

"I can bring my skills as a 19-year business owner. We need to attract businesses, [a] commercial base to the city. It's going to take the pressure off of the taxpayers and we will be able to trim down the trees that are overgrowing, do our sidewalks, do our streets and the infrastructure," DiBona said, adding "I have a connection to every single ward councillor, a connection to the mayor. I'm willing to work with anyone in there. That's what this is about – working together to solve issues and problems across the city."

McFarland promised the crowd the city would be able to deliver something they will be proud of.

"For 40 or 50 years [Quincy Center] kept going down and down and down and people stuck their head in the sand like an ostrich. Not this group of city councillors and the last few mayors that we've had. It's going to take time, it's going to take money, but at the end of the day we will give you something of value and something you will be very, very proud of," McFarland said. "We would love a few fresh faces but there is no substitute for experience."

INVITATION TO BID INVITATION TO BID

INVITATION TO BID

CITY OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS
1305 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, MA 02169

The Department of Public Works for the City of Quincy, Massachusetts will receive sealed bids for Sidewalk Repairs-2015 Phase 2 until 12:00 PM local time Thursday, September 3, 2015, in the offices of The Purchasing Agent, City Hall, 2nd Floor, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts 02169. At which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

The work under this contract consists of improvement of the sidewalks and for the safety of the pedestrian traffic.

All work under this contract shall be completed within one hundred twenty (120) calendar days.

Funding source will be Chapter 90, (Mass. Highway Certification is required) and DPW Contract Budget.

Detailed specifications are available on-line at the City of Quincy's website, www.quincyma.gov and also available at the Office of the Purchasing Agent, Quincy City Hall, 1305 Hancock Street, Quincy, Massachusetts, 02169, between the hours of 8:30 AM and 4:30 PM. Specifications will be available March 25, 2015.

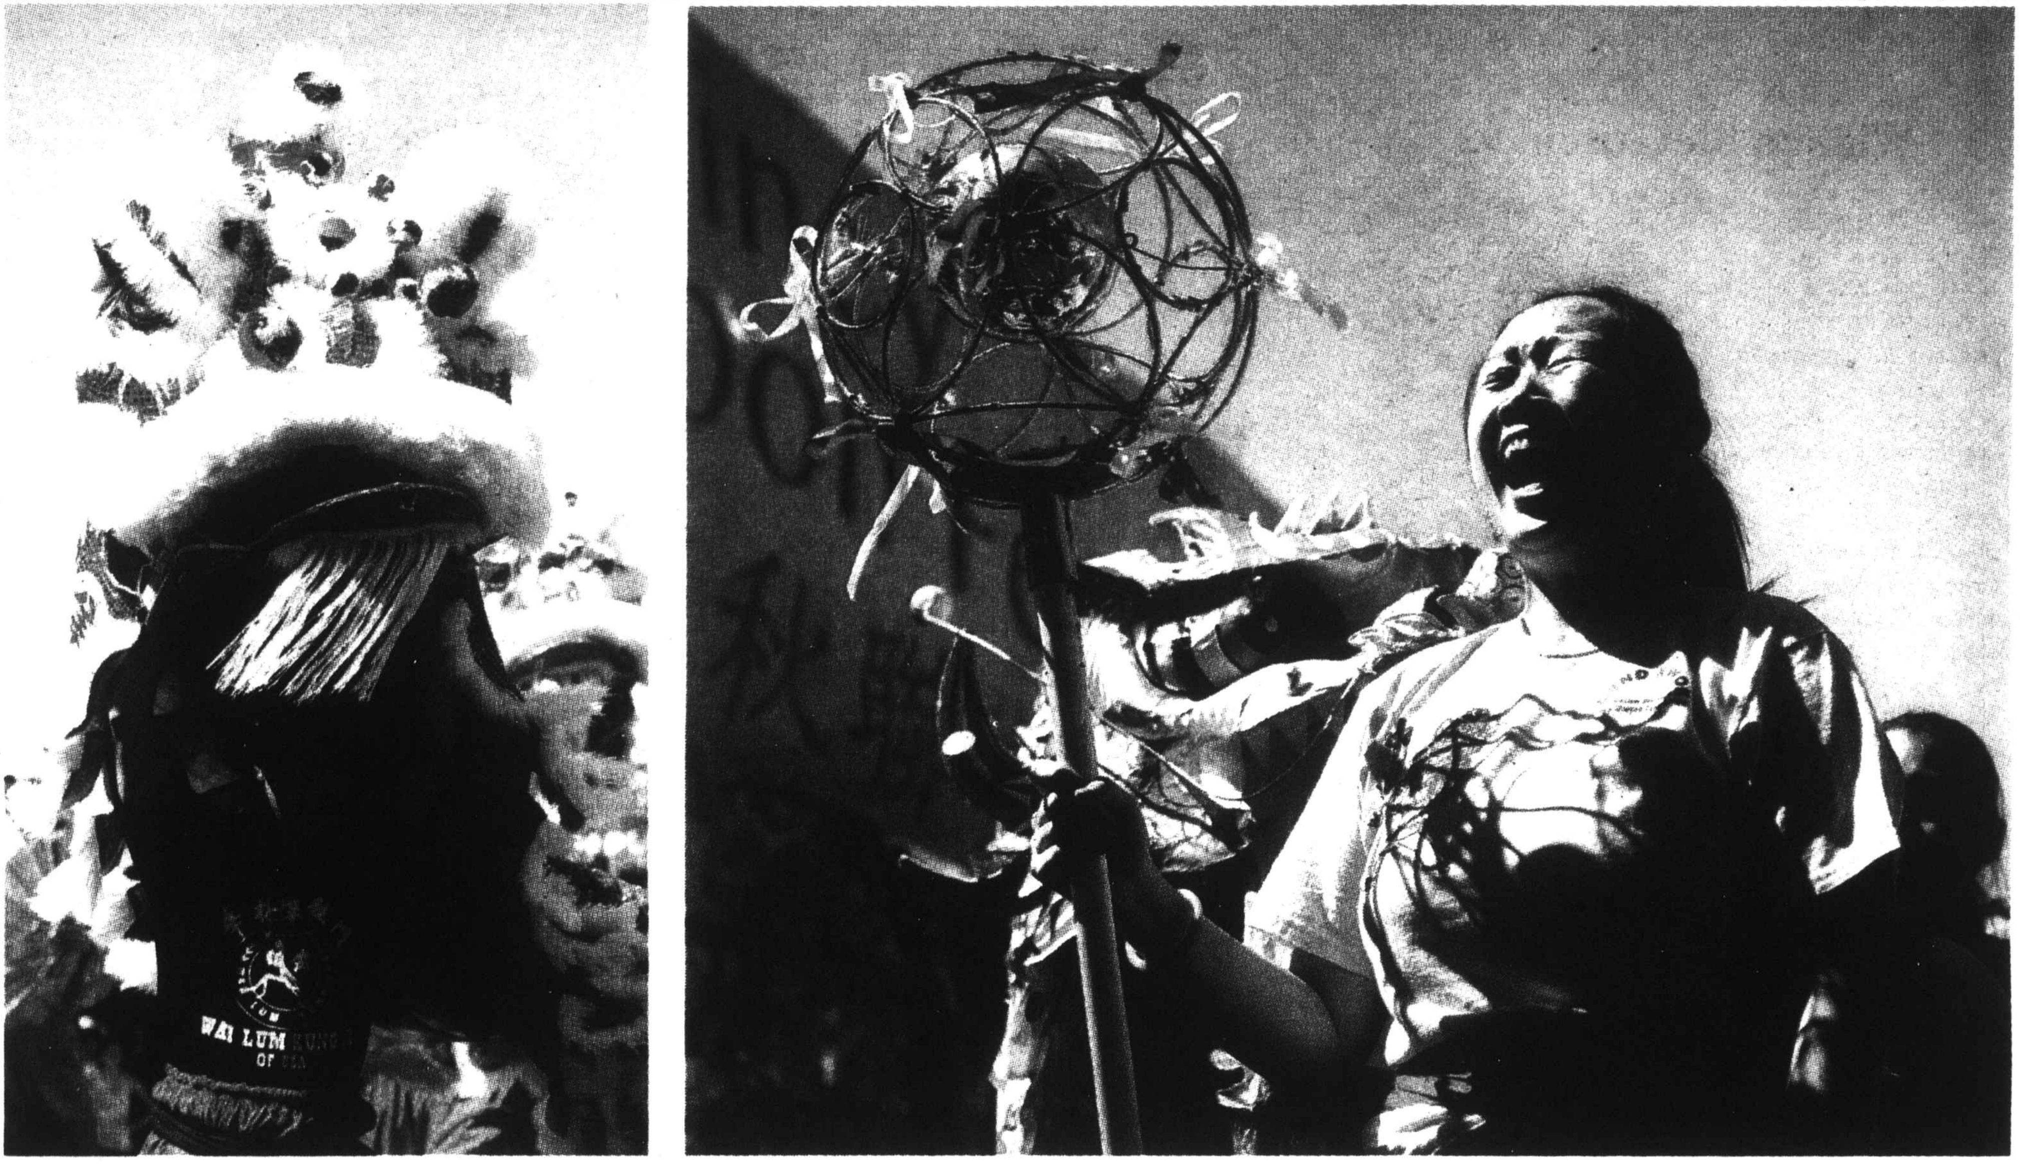
Each bid shall be accompanied by a bid security in the amount of five percent (5%) of the total value of the bid in the form of a bid bond or certified/treasurer's check.

The bidding and award of this contract shall be in full compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 30, Section 39M, as last revised. All applicable Federal, State and City of Quincy regulations in relation to and subject to the minimum wage rates set under the Massachusetts Prevailing Wage Law Chapter 149, §26. The City reserves the right to waive any informality in or to reject any or all bids when such an action is deemed in the best interests of the City.

Non-responsive and/or unbalanced bids may be rejected.

Thomas P. Koch, MAYOR
Daniel G. Raymondi, Commisioner of Public Works

8/20/15

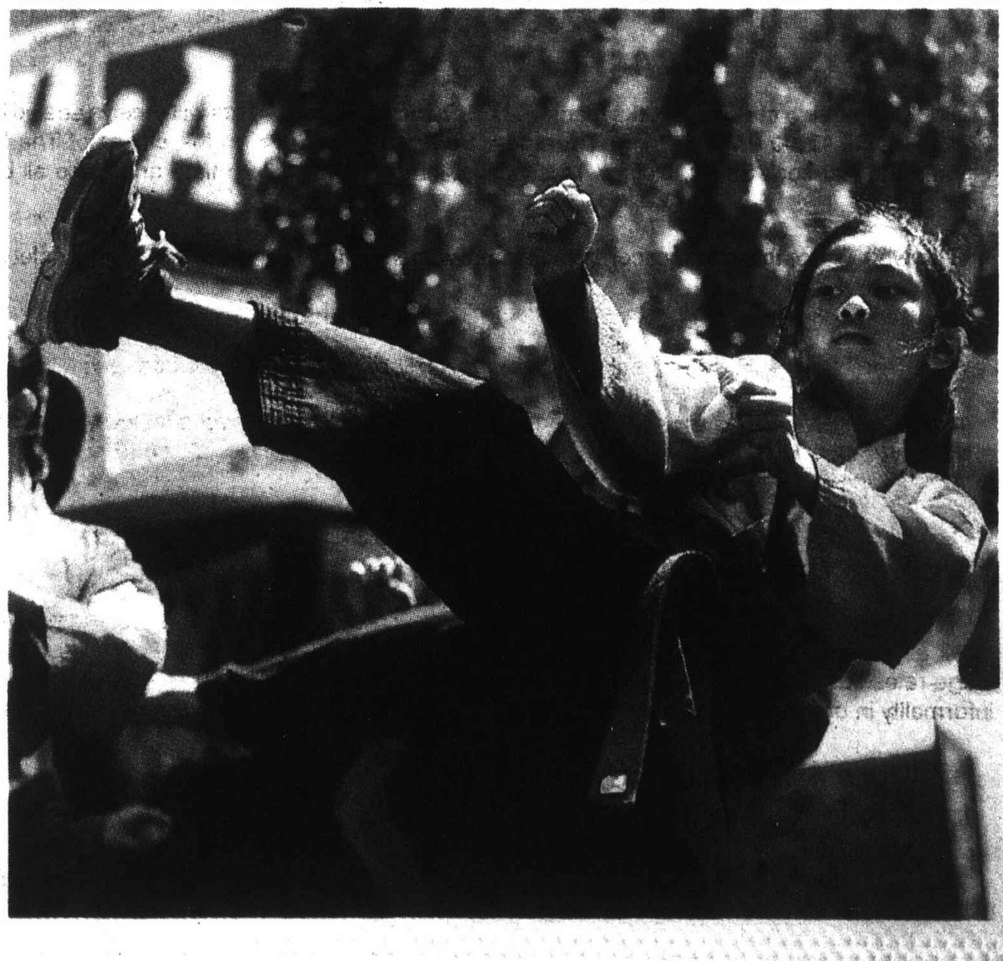


THE TRADITIONAL Lion Dance (left) performed by the Wah Lum Kung Fu & Tai Chi Academy and Dragon Dance performed by members of the Gund Kwok Asian Women Dance Troupe (right) kicked off the 28th annual Quincy August Moon Festival Sunday in Quincy Center. Several thousand people turned out to celebrate the event that also featured martial arts demonstrations, song and dance performances. The celebration was organized by Quincy Asian Resources, Inc.

Quincy Sun Photos/Robert Bosworth

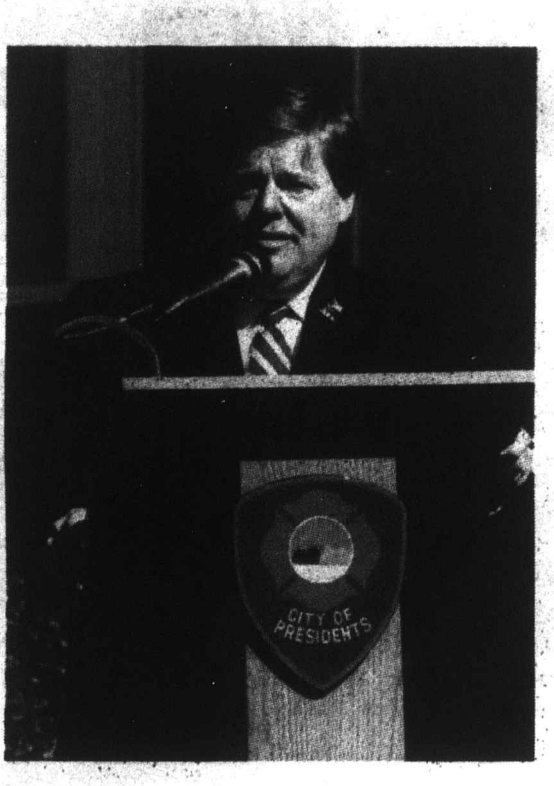
Thousands Celebrate August Moon Festival

More Photos Online: www.thequincysun.com (click galleries)



POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

MAYOR KOCH LEADING THE REBIRTH OF DOWNTOWN QUINCY



If revitalizing Quincy Center were going to be easy, it would've been done 40 years ago. It took the bold leadership, vision, and guts of Mayor Tom Koch to get us moving forward. The result: Construction is now underway on the first major development in Quincy Center, with hundreds of millions in private development to follow...That's leadership.

What's happening now?

- $60 million apartment and retail complex under construction.
- More than $30 million of vital infrastructure improvements completed or underway

What's next?

- 15-story luxury apartment building
- New luxury condos already in permitting process
- Hotel and ground-floor commercial space
- New 500-700 space parking garage

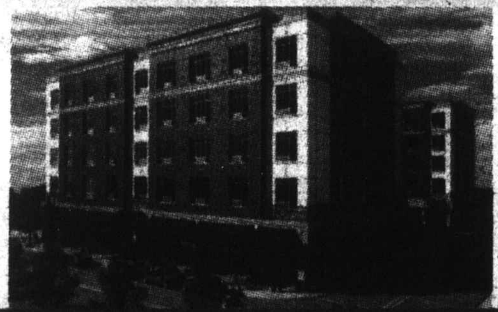
What's it cost?

- Mayor Koch has been clear from day one: the downtown pays for itself.
- Public improvements funded with state and federal grant money or new revenue from private investment—recently more than $200 million.
- No property taxes from outside Quincy Center used.
- No impact on the City's operating budget.

LEADERSHIP WE TRUST

VOTE

SEPTEMBER 24



KOCH
FOR QUINCY

WWW.KOCHFORQUINCY.COM 617-773-KOCH (5624)

Paid for by Committee To Re-Elect Tom Koch, 400 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02171

Sept. 24 Preliminary Ballot Positions Drawn

- Page 2 -

Nora Canavan's Inspiring Cross-Country Ride

- Page 16

2 *CAR-RT LOTC-004
THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
40 WASHINGTON ST
QUINCY MA 02169-5304

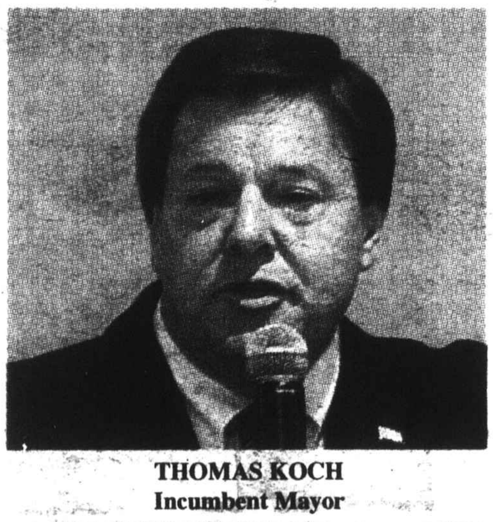
The Quincy Sun

Historic Quincy's Hometown Weekly Newspaper Since 1968

VOL. 47 No. 49 Thursday, August 27, 2015 75¢

Stumping On The Campaign Trail

Mayoral, Council Candidates Offer Views At Forums: Pages 9, 11, 12, 13



THOMAS KOCH
Incumbent Mayor

DOUG GUTRO
Mayoral Candidate

ANNE MAHONEY
Mayoral Candidate

WILLIAM PHELAN
Mayoral Candidate

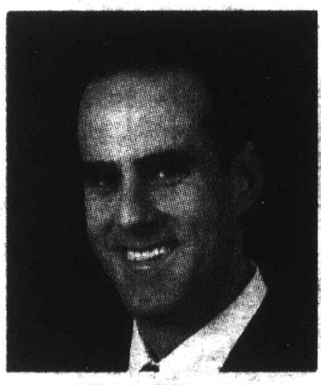
JOSEPH FINN
Incumbent Councillor at-Large

MICHAEL McFARLAND
Incumbent Councillor at-Large
File Photo

NOEL DiBONA
Councillor at-Large Candidate

NINA LIANG
Councillor at-Large Candidate

DAVID McCARTHY
Councillor at-Large Candidate



BRAD CROALL
Incumbent Ward 2
Councillor File Photo

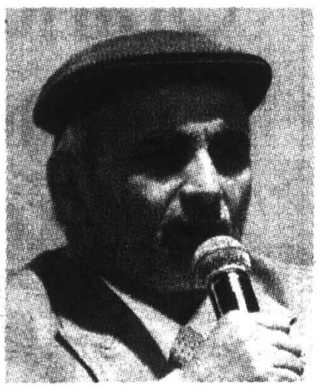
JAMES CONNORS
Ward 2 Candidate



GULISTAN MALIK
Ward 2 Candidate

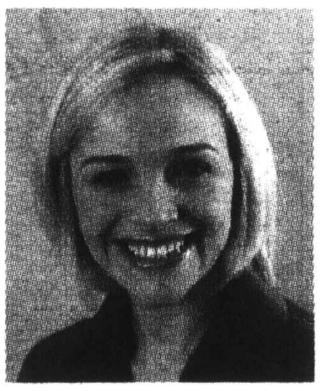
IAN CAIN
Ward 3 Candidate

KARL ROOS
Ward 3 Candidate

SANDY VERHAULT
Ward 3 Candidate

MARGARET LAFOREST
Incumbent Ward 1
Councillor

JOHN McCONE
Ward 1 Candidate



KIRSTEN HUGHES
Incumbent Ward 5
Councillor File Photo

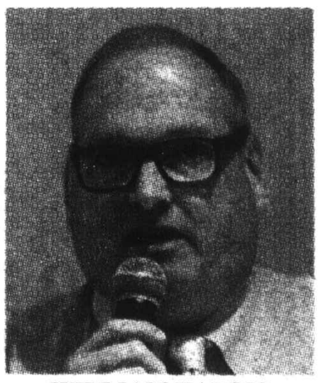
GINA OSTIS
Ward 5 Candidate

BRIAN McNAMEE
Incumbent Ward 6
Councillor



WILLIAM HARRIS
Ward 6 Candidate

Candidate Forum Photos By Robert Bosworth/The Quincy Sun

Koch Defends Harrington Reassignment - Page 3
Pros, Cons Of Probiotics - Page 18
Football Hall Of Fame Nominations Open - Page 19

For more Quincy news, visit:
The Quincy Sun.com

Phelan, Connors, Roos Top Spots On Sept. 24th Ballot

Lots Drawn For Position On Preliminary Election Ballot

By SCOTT JACKSON

The order of names appearing on ballots for the Sept. 24 preliminary election has been determined.

Lots were drawn Aug. 21 to determine the order of candidates in the mayoral, Ward 2 and Ward 3 preliminary races. City Clerk Joseph Shea presided over the drawing of lots. Each candidate was invited to draw his or her own lot, Shea said. Only incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch was present to do so. Assistant City Clerk Nicole Crispo and Voter Registrar William Grindlay drew lots for the other candidates.

Former Mayor William Phelan got the top spot in the mayoral preliminary. Councillor Doug Gutro's name will appear second, followed by School Committee member Anne Mahoney. Koch drew the fourth spot.

In the Ward 2 race, James Connor's name will appear first, followed by incumbent Brad Croall and Gulistan Malik.

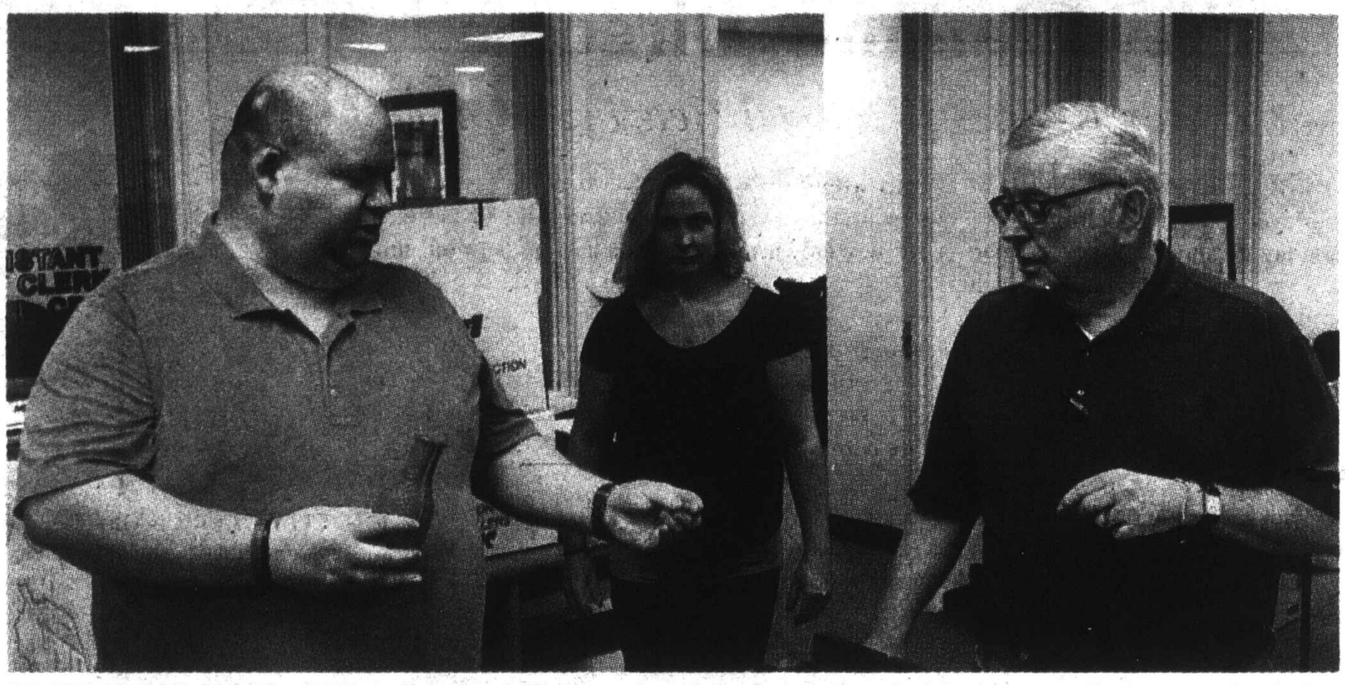
In the race for the open Ward 3 seat, Karl Roos's name will top the list. Sandy Verhault will be second and Ian Cain third.

The candidates will be listed with their home address on the ballot. Past and present office holders are allowed to have up to eight words after their name and address on the ballot – veterans can also be listed as such. To do so, the candidate must fill out a portion of his or her nomination papers asking for a listing of offices held.

Phelan will be identified as "Former Mayor" on the Sept. 24 ballot, Gutro as "Councillor-at-Large, Ward 5 Councillor," and Koch as "Candidate for Re-Nomination." Mahoney and Croall did not fill out the necessary section to have their current offices listed on the ballot.

The Sept. 24 preliminary election – being on a Thursday this year because Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur fall on consecutive Tuesdays in September – is the first preliminary municipal election in Quincy since 2011. Voters in Ward 2 and Ward 6 went to the polls that year.

The last citywide municipal preliminary election was in 2009, when voters cast ballots in mayoral and School Committee races.



DRAWING FOR SPOTS – William Grindlay (left), a member of the Quincy Board of Registrars, pulls out a number in last Friday's drawing for position on the Sept. 24th preliminary election. Numbers corresponded with candidates running for mayor, Ward 2 councillor and Ward 3 councillor who are on the ballot Sept. 24. Assisting in the draw are Assistant City Clerk Nicole Crispo (center) and City Clerk Joseph Shea. The drawing was conducted at the clerk's office at the Monroe Building, 1259 Hancock St. before the end of the day last Friday. The clerk's office has since moved and is open for business on the second floor of the glass annex building of City Hall, 1305 Hancock St.

Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

6-Story, 32-Unit Condo Project Eyed On Granite St.

By SCOTT JACKSON

A developer is seeking permission from the city to construct a six-story, 32-unit condominium building at 151 Granite St. – a project that would require the removal of a portion of the rock ledge on site.

The Planning Board held a hearing on Aug. 12 on the proposal by Anton Cela of Boston to raze the multi-family home on site and replace it with the new, 48,988-square-foot building. The board did not vote on the plan that night and continued the public hearing until its next meeting Sept. 9.

Cela's original proposal for the site included 52 condos, according to attorney Christopher Harrington. It was scaled down twice – first to 40 units and then to 32 – because the removal of a large rock ledge on site would have been cost prohibitive.

Some rock removal would still be required under the revised plan. Harrington said the developer is deciding between one of two methods to remove the rock– traditional dynamite with a heavy steel mesh on top to prevent the rock from flying all around and Ecobust, a special type of grout that is poured into holes in the rock and expands as it dries, breaking the rock. The latter method is being considered because of concerns raised by nearby residents regarding the potential use of dynamite.

Both methods require crews to drill into the rock before the dynamite or Ecobust could be placed. The developer has ruled out using hoe rams to remove the

Cont'd On Page 22

As of Monday, Aug. 24

The City Clerk's Office has MOVED

back to

1305 Hancock St.
City Hall
2nd Floor
Glass Annex Building

Quincy
Farmers
Market

We're
Mooo
-ving

September 4th
To Pageant Field
1 Merrymount Parkway

Koch Defends Reassigning City Planning Director

Harrington Requests Council Hearing Sept. 8

By SCOTT JACKSON

Mayor Thomas Koch on Monday defended his decision to reassign longtime Planning Director Dennis Harrington to another position within the Planning Department and replace him with a key mayoral aide, a move Harrington referred to as "unlawful" in a written response to the mayor.

Koch notified Harrington of the reassignment in a letter dated Aug. 18, citing Harrington's Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) request in June to work on a reduced, 15 hours per week schedule. Harrington was reassigned to the position of director of transportation planning, a post left vacant by the January departure of Kristina Johnson; Koch said Harrington's compensation and benefits would not be affected by the move, nor would the terms granted in response to the FMLA request.

In Harrington's place, Koch appointed longtime mayoral chief of staff James Fatseas as interim planning director. Fatseas has served under Koch since 2008 and in April, the mayor told The Sun Fatseas would serve as the administration's point person for downtown redevelopment going forward. The budgeted salaries for the planning director and mayoral chief of staff (listed as executive secretary in the budget) are both $108,831.

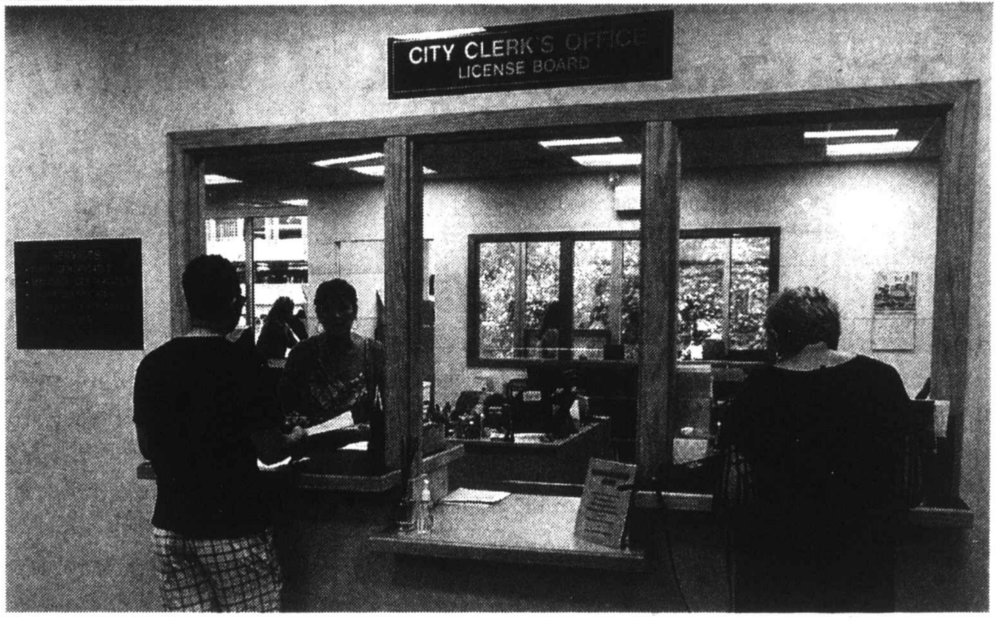
The mayor defended his reassignment of Harrington during a forum for candidates organized by the Merrymount Association Monday evening. He said the city needs a full time director to lead the Planning Department.

"I don't like to talk too much about personnel matters publicly, but the planning director [Harrington] requested a leave and wanted to work part time. In a city of our size with all we have going on economically – not only in downtown but across the city – we need a full time planning director. Accommodations were made for that person; he doesn't like those accommodations," Koch told the nearly 100 residents who attended.

"My job is to do the best job we can, being efficient and accountable for you. In order to do that, you need managers and department heads that are here full-time and that's the crux of that issue."

Harrington, who then-Mayor William Phelan appointed planning director in 2004, responded to the decision on Aug. 19 in a letter to Koch. In it, he cited the 1973 state law that established the Quincy Planning Department. The law says the mayor is responsible for

Cont'd On Page 18



CITY CLERK'S OFFICE opened for business Monday morning in new office space on the second floor of the glass annex City Hall building, 1305 Hancock St. after moving from leased space at 1259 Hancock St. (Monroe Building). Offices and services include the City Clerk, License Board, birth certificates, marriage certificates, death certificates and dog licenses. Across the hallway on the same floor are offices for the Election Department, Board of Registrars, Voter Registration, Census and Notary Public. Quincy Sun Photo/Robert Bosworth

Farmers Market Moving To Pageant Field

By SCOTT JACKSON

Friday will mark the final day for the Quincy Farmers Market at the Hancock Lot before it moves to Pageant Field on Sept. 4.

Chris Cassani, executive director of the Quincy Park Department, said he and the organizers of the farmers market wanted to incorporate the farmers market with the Quincy ArtsFest, which is set for Sept. 19 and 20 at Adams Field. It wouldn't have made sense, Cassani explained, to move the farmers market to Pageant Field for one week and then have it move back to the Hancock Lot for the rest of the season.

"You can't move it for one week," he said. "It confuses people."

Because of that, and because development is anticipated on the Hancock Lot as early as next year, the decision was made to relocate the farmers market to Pageant Field beginning Sept. 4.

"The thought process is that if you move it midseason it would give people time to become familiar with the new location," Cassani said.

A cookout and other family-friendly activities are scheduled for Sept. 4 when the Quincy Farmers Market moves to its new space at Pageant Field, located at the top of Vietnam Veterans Drive off Merrymount Parkway (Southern Artery).

Quincy Shore Drive Lane Closures Due To Repaving Project

Starting Wednesday, Aug. 26, through Monday, Aug. 31, the Department of Conservation and Recreation (DCR) will be instituting lane closures located along Quincy Shore Drive between Sea Street and Furnace Brook Parkway from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. on weeknights only to facilitate repaving.

Work is expected to begin on Wednesday or Thursday evening and proceed for three nights. There will be single lane closures in both directions the first two nights to facilitate milling.

All lanes will be closed in both directions during the third night of work to facilitate paving. Traffic patterns and detours will be clearly marked.

Ask the
GEMOLOGIST
BY JEFFREY M. BERTMAN
GRADUATE GEMOLOGIST

DO YOU LOVE PINK?

As the popularity of pink gemstones continues to increase, morganite has emerged as a clear favorite. This peachy-pink variety of beryl is a cousin of both aquamarine and emerald. Aside from having those fabulous relatives in its family tree, morganite (named after John Pierpont Morgan, an avid financier and gemstone collector) has some very significant attributes of its own. To begin with, morganite is typically free of inclusions (internal imperfections) and rates quite high on the Mohs hardness scale (7.5-8), which means that this pink beauty is as clear as it is durable. Morganite is also the ideal choice to complement all skin tones, which adds to the attractiveness of this decidedly feminine gemstone.

Some morganites are decidedly pink, while others are more lilac or violet. The color always emanates charm, liveliness and a touch of tenderness. For the latest trends in jewelry, stop by our store at 1402 Hancock St. in Quincy Center. We are a full service jewelry store and are happy to handle custom orders. Our prices have always been more than competitive with no fake markups in order to offer huge discounts. For more information, please call 617-773-3636.

Don't Forget: We pay cash for Gold - Platinum - Diamonds... highest prices paid.

Rogers Diamonds...Watches...Jewelry
www.rogersjewelry.com

Homeowners with equity:
Roll all your debt into one new loan

You have a mortgage. And a decent amount of equity. You also have high-rate credit card debt, maybe an equity loan payment, auto loan, student loans or other debts you'd love to combine into one loan at today's still low rates. That's what you get with a 15-Year Mortgage from Colonial Federal Savings Bank. Some people like this idea because it makes life simple and streamlined. For others, it's a fresh start and a real weight off their back. Is it right for you? Come see us or call Angela Blanchard, Vice President/Retail Lending, at 617-471-0750. Or apply online at colonialfed.com. Have another loan or term in mind? Call us. We may be able to help.

15-YEAR FIXED
3.25% RATE
3.39% APR
NO POINTS!

COLONIAL FEDERAL SAVINGS BANK
"Your neighborhood bank!"

QUINCY: 15 Beach Street 617-471-0750 • 1000 Southern Artery (Residents only) 617-479-1430
HOLBROOK: 802 South Franklin Street 781-767-1776
EAST WEYMOUTH: Middle & Washington Streets 781-331-1776

ONLINE: colonialfed.com

Some additional facts: Rate/Annual Percentage Rate (APR) effective as of 08/05/15 and may change. Applies to 1-4 family owner-occupied homes. Assumes a maximum 80% loan-to-value and first mortgage position. Subject to credit approval. A 15-Year Loan would be repaid in 180 equal monthly principal plus interest payments of $7.03 per $1000 borrowed, which do not include taxes or insurance premiums, if applicable. So your actual monthly payment will be greater.

LENDER
Insured FDIC

The Quincy Sun

(USPS 453-060)
Published Weekly on Thursday by
The Quincy Sun Publishing Co., Inc.
1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

Robert H. Bosworth
Publisher and Editor

Henry W. Bosworth, Jr.
Founder
1968 - 2009

75¢ per copy newsstand • $27 per year by mail in Quincy
$32 per year by mail outside Quincy • $40 out-of-state

Telephone: 617-471-3100 Fax: 617-472-3963

online at: www.thequincysun.com

email address: thequincysun@verizon.net

rbosworth@thequincysun.com

Periodicals postage paid at Boston, MA
Postmaster Send address change to:
The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169

The Quincy Sun assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Sept. 10, 1608, English adventurer John Smith is elected council president of Jamestown, Virginia -- the first permanent English settlement in North America. Smith had won popularity in the colony because of his organizational abilities and effectiveness in dealing with local Native American groups.
- On Sept. 7, 1813, the United States gets its nickname, Uncle Sam. The name is linked to Samuel Wilson, a New York meat packer who supplied barrels of beef to the Army during the War of 1812. Wilson stamped the barrels with "U.S." for United States, but soldiers began referring to the grub as "Uncle Sam's."
- On Sept. 9, 1939, audiences at the Fox Theater in Riverside, California, get a surprise showing of "Gone With the Wind" as a second feature. Producer David O. Selznick sat in the back and observed the audience reaction to his highly anticipated film.
- On Sept. 12, 1940, near Montignac, France, a collection of prehistoric cave paintings is discovered by four teenagers. The roughly 16,000-year-old paintings, mostly of animals, are among the finest examples of art from the Upper Paleolithic period.
- On Sept. 11, 1965, the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) begins to arrive in South Vietnam, bringing U.S. troop strength to more than 125,000. The unit was the first full U.S. Army division deployed to Vietnam.
- On Sept. 8, 1974, in a controversial executive action, President Gerald Ford pardons his disgraced predecessor Richard Nixon for crimes committed while in office involving the Watergate scandal.
- On Sept. 13, 1990, the drama series "Law & Order" premieres on NBC. It would go on to become one of the longest-running prime-time dramas in TV history -- 20 seasons. The "Law & Order" franchise was created by Dick Wolf, who began his TV career as a writer for "Miami Vice."

(c) 2015 King Features Synd., Inc.

Memorial, Honor Flags For Veterans Island

The Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294, Morrisette Post, is accepting donations for memorial flags and honor flags to be placed at Flags for Veterans Island, School and Pleasant Streets, Quincy.

The one-time donation to place a flag at the Island is $30. Donated flags can be purchased in memory of a veteran who was killed in action or has passed away. Honor flags are placed for those who are currently serving in the military or who have served their country and are still living.

To purchase a memorial or honor flag, contact Paul Moody, coordinator of Flags for Veterans Island and the commander of the Sons of the American Legion, Squadron 294. He can be reached by calling 617-472-5952.

Son Beams

By ROBERT BOSWORTH

Nora's Inspiring Cross-Country Ride

If you need any inspiration for overcoming life's challenges, look no further than Nora Canavan.

The 24-year-old lifelong Quincy resident recently cycled cross-country raising nearly $10,000 for adults impacted by cancer.

There are plenty of numbers that quantify her remarkable achievement. The most impressive: cycling 3,300 miles over 60 days.

But the numbers don't tell the whole story.

This ride – this feat – was about people.

Loved ones and cancer victims whom she dedicated each ride day.

Teammates who bonded as trusted friends ready to take on unfamiliar roads with resolve and determination.

Friendly folks she met along the way like the host families who opened their hearts and homes.

And others who saw the riders passing through town and wanted to share their stories of overcoming cancer and thank them for their efforts.

This was an odyssey Nora will never forget.

It was all for the Ulman Cancer Fund for Young Adults, a non-profit organization dedicated to empowering young adults in the fight against cancer. Through the generous support of many friends and donors, Nora raised $9,255 – an amount that far exceeded her expectations.

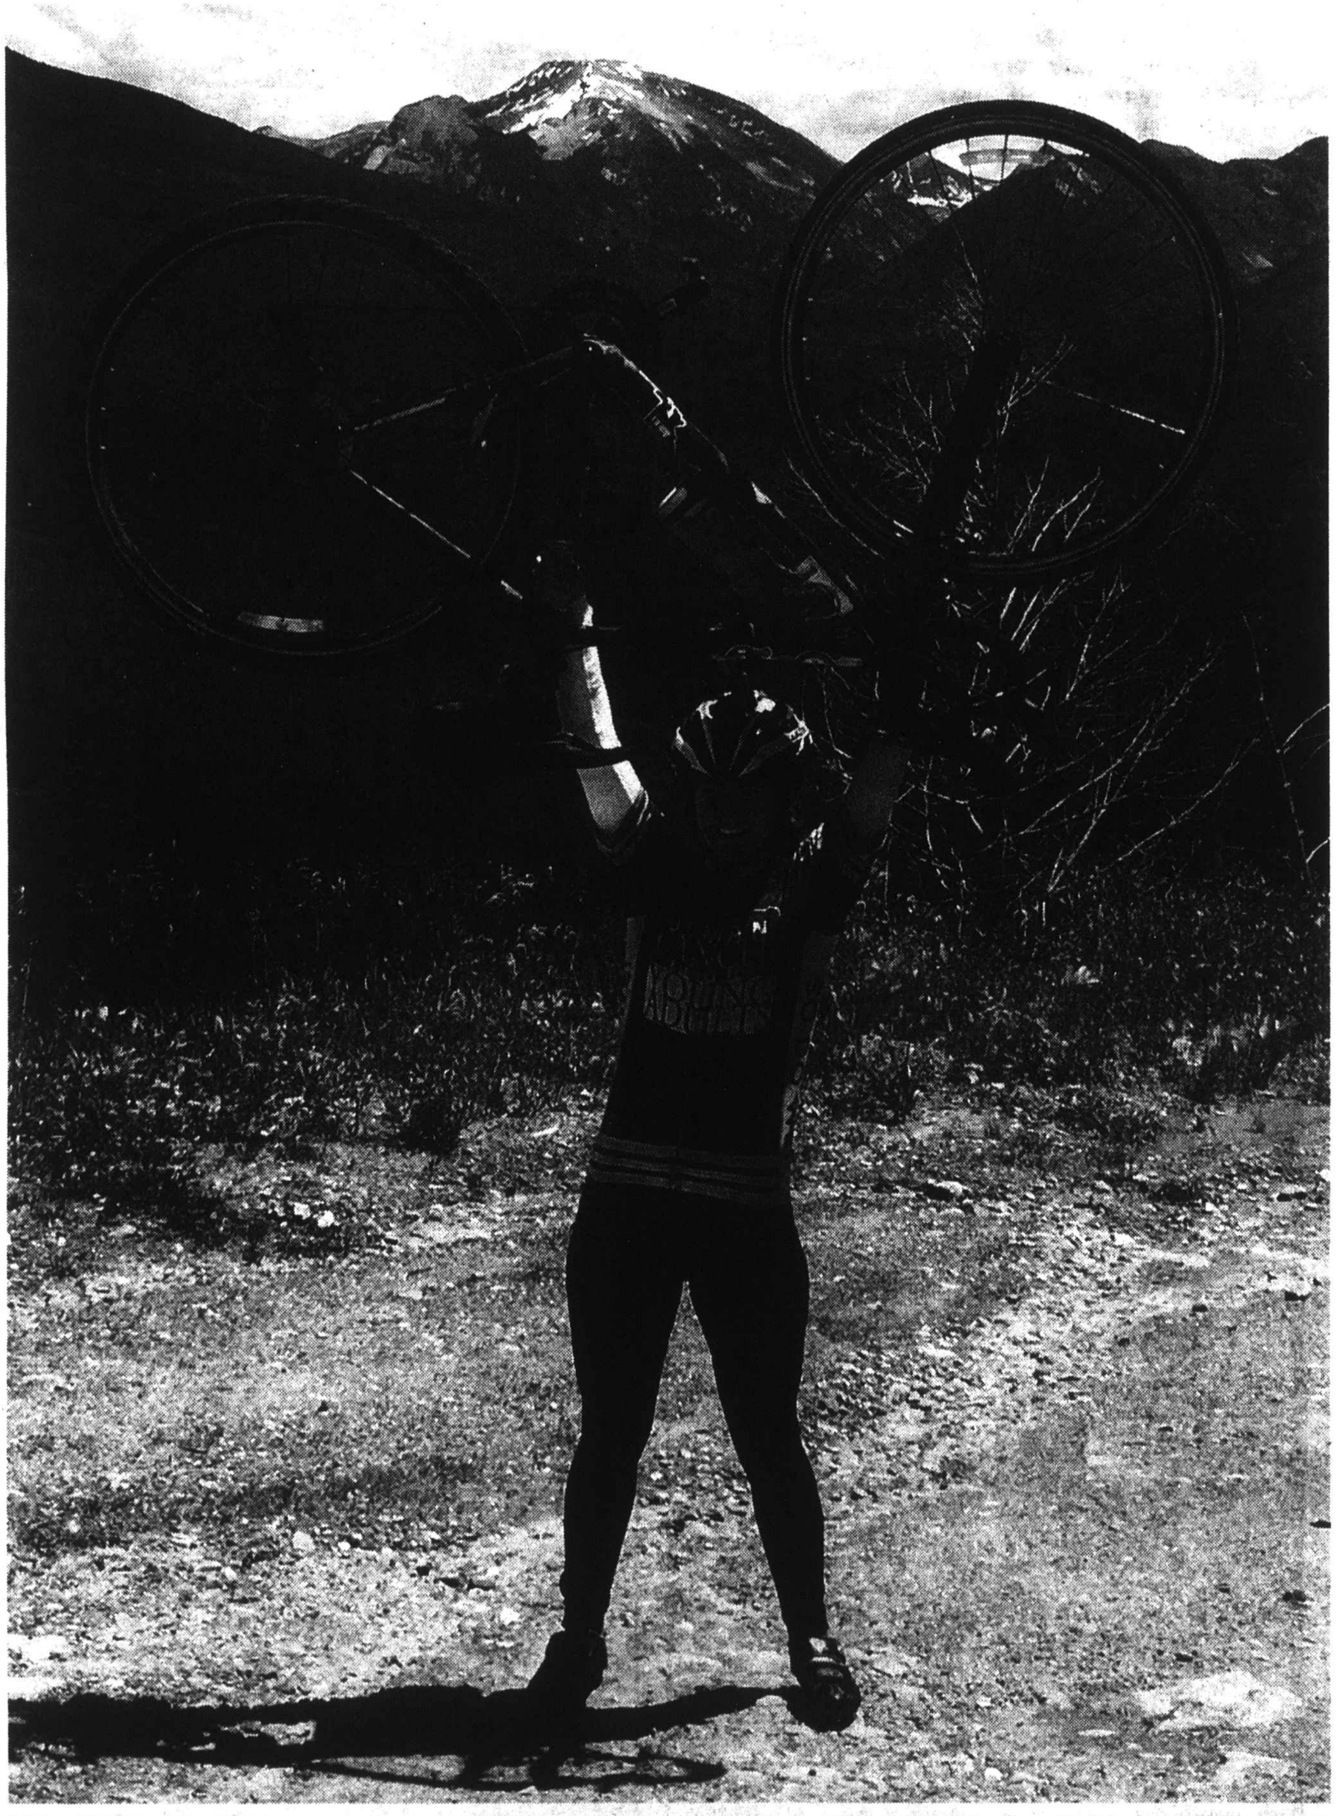
"I was hoping to raise $5,000 and anything else was great to get because you were helping the organization," Nora said a short time after arriving back home from the West Coast.

"I was so appreciative of everyone's support. They kept me riding every day."

Nora and her team of 25 riders departed Baltimore, MD on May 31 before a throng of well-wishers including family and friends. They passed through 11 states before completing their trip Aug. 8 at Mission Beach in San Diego.

They were on the road for 70 days – 60 riding and

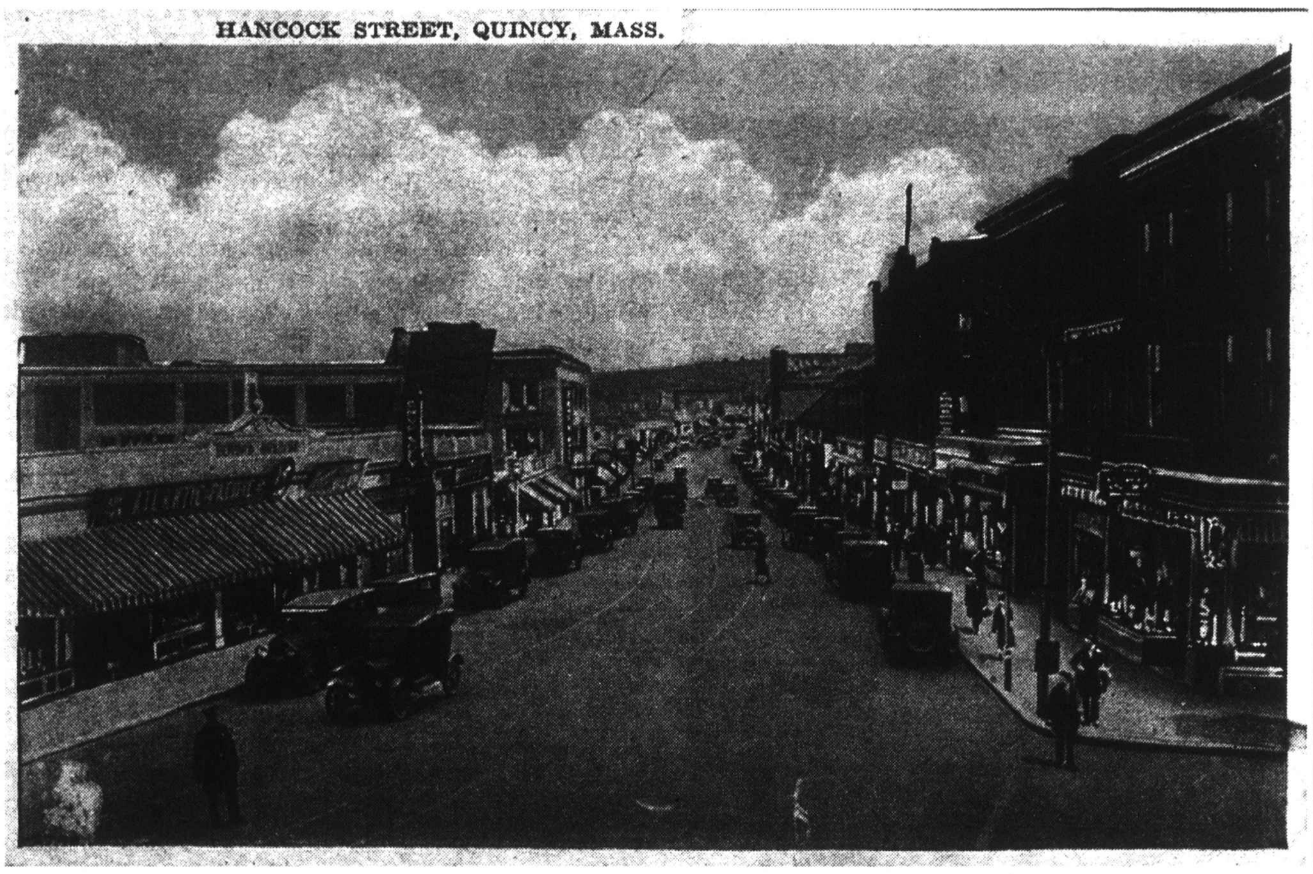
Cont'd On Page 16



NORA CANAVAN of Quincy recently completed a cross-country cycling trek riding 3,300 miles from Baltimore, MD to San Diego, CA. Here Nora holds her bike high at McClure Pass in Colorado's Rocky Mountains. On this day she cycled from Glenwood Springs, CO to Hotchkiss, CO. The temperature throughout the Rockies stayed in the low 40s all day and was often raining. She raised nearly $10,000 for adults impacted by cancer. More photos from her ride appear on Pages 16, 17 and 31.

Photo Courtesy Nora Canavan

Scenes From Yesterday



THIS IS A 1929 postcard view of Quincy Center looking south from Granite Street. On the right is the Greenleaf Building and further down is the large Kincaide Furniture building whose old faded painted sign is still visible on the brick wall. On the left was the A&P grocery store and the King Fong Low Chinese Restaurant which had the vertical Chop Suey sign. It had been in business in the square for over 10 years when it closed shortly after this picture was taken. Soon after, Yee Han Eng, who lived on Revere Road, opened a new Chinese restaurant he named King Joy's China Restaurant on Chestnut Street to the left of Sully's. Later located on Cottage Avenue it was in business for over 25 years. Most of the single-story buildings on the left have been demolished to make way for the new West of Chestnut complex. To contact Tom Galvin, e-mail tmgalvin@verizon.net.

From the Collection of City Historian Tom Galvin

READERS FORUM

Praises New Quincy Police Website

Kudos to the Quincy Police Department for its revised website.

When I visited the website recently, I felt like Dorothy when the film went from black and white to color. Previously, the website was minimalist with limited contact information. Now, the website is one of the most impressive and expansive I have ever encountered. www.quincypolice.org.

Some of the features are:

FORMS AND LINKS: Click here to see common forms and useful links. The Quincy Police offers multiple forms to the public.

CRIME REPORTS: We have partnered with CrimeReports to bring you accurate, official, and up-to-date crime information for the areas you care about most

CALENDAR OF EVENTS: Learn more about the Quincy Police events. Our events are listed here for the coming months. You can search events.

PHONE LIST: If you are looking for important internal phone numbers for the Quincy Police you can find those here

SUBMIT A DRUG TIP: Concerned there may be ongoing drug activity? Report it to our Drug Unit

FAQ: Have a question? Check our FAQs for answers to the most commonly asked questions. If you don't find an answers you can email us.

Peter Gleba
Hancock Street

DeAmicis Will Be A Fresh Face On School Committee

I was pleased to read in The Quincy Sun that now that Frank Santoro has dropped his school committee bid, there will be only three candidates for three spots meaning all the candidates running have already de facto won their races.

Of the three candidates running, I have been impressed by James DeAmicis, a recent 18-year old Quincy High School 2015 graduate. As an often substitute teacher at Quincy High I had a chance to talk with him often whether it was in the classes I subbed in or just in the school corridors.

He is a very political kid. He has a clearly deep passion for politics and expressed his desire often to run for office. I was glad to see that he made ballot status and now even more glad that he is about to make history when he gets elected this coming November at the age of 19 and makes history as the youngest elected candidate in Quincy's political history.

Back in 1995 I ran for Quincy School Committee against a crowded field of good candidates. I was unsuccessful but learned from the experience of running.

It is always a good thing when a young candidate decides to run for office for the good of his or her community. I wish DeAmicis well and look forward to watching him as a school committee member. He will be a fresh face and new voice and hopefully will continue in public service because we need him and other candidates young or old running for public office.

I loved running for office and I will never forget that campaign 20 years ago but now I have settled for doing retail politics for many candidates over the past two decades. I've won some and lost some but learned much about government and politics along the way.

Sal Giarratani
East Boston

Farmers' Market Move Another Loss For Ward 5

I have been going to the Farmers' Market in the Hancock Lot since it first started a good number of years ago. Not only is it great for buying fresh farm produce, etc, but it has been a local meeting place of old friends and neighbors for years.

It won't be the same at Pageant Field. We are losing another neighborhood tradition.

The reason for the move in September, before the completion of this season, I hear is, "Pending Development."

What exactly is the reason for the move?

As far as I know, none of the prospective projects have the official OK yet from local officials who must approve how a Public Parking Lot can be used by several different private developers whether through a sale or lease of public land owned by the taxpayers.

This is another loss for Ward 5, I feel, with no or very little communication about the change. I hope to see you this week for the last Farmer's Market in the Hancock Lot.

I do wish the Farmers' Market success at Pageant Field for the rest of the season and hope the Farmers' Market can be a part of the Hancock Lot Neighborhood again next season.

Arline Goodman
Revere Road

Quincy's Yesterdays

This Week
1977
38 Years Ago

LaRaia Master Plan: Raze, Rebuild Half Of Downtown Area

Mayor Joseph LaRaia will unveil a comprehensive downtown Master Plan in six phases that calls for the eventual demolition of virtually half of Quincy Center from Cottage Avenue to Elm and School Streets.

It will include a new highway through the very center of downtown Quincy from Granite Street across the old Soda Hut through the site of the Kincaide's building, to join a reconstructed McGrath Highway on the other side of Hancock Street.

It will also feature an international merchandise mart over the Hancock Parking area, a high-rise motel topped by a restaurant at the site of Napoli Pizza and a high-rise office building on the site of the Colman's parking lot.

The plan, designed by Planning Director L. Norman Lundin and T. Owen Trainor Associates, Inc., architects, is to be officially presented to businessmen and city officials Aug. 26 at the Quincy High School Method Center.

LaRAIA SEES UNDER $5 TAX HIKE

Mayor LaRaia says he expects that the assessors will be prepared by the end of August, to set the tax rate for 1978 and it will show an increase of less than $5 over the $194.80 rate of last year.

He said the state Department of Corporations and Taxation will probably approve the rate a day or two later if the City Council resolves pending financial matters at its upcoming special meeting.

QUINCYISMS

Mayor LaRaia presented a commendation to Mrs. Angelo Pinto of 601 Quincy Shore Drive for her rescue of a drowning 52-year-old man Aug. 8... Jason's Music and Luggage Shop, 1514 Hancock St., Quincy Center, was advertising a "Back to School Sale, all items sold at discounts between 20% and 50%"... Kathleen B. Foley, 80 Graham St., Quincy Point, a Cadette Girl Scout, received the First Class A Award in Scouting, which is similar to the Eagle Scout Award for boys. The award was presented at ceremonies in the Quincy Point Congregational Church... Mark L. Nankin, D.D.S. announced the opening of his office for the practice of General Dentistry. The office is located at 215 Parkingway, Quincy Center... Three young ladies from Quincy were honored for their service to the community, to the Camp Fire Girls and to the ideals of work. Members of the Horizon Club, they were Ann Marie Nunnari, Kathleen Cogliano and Marianne Spring... The Open Pantry Food Mart, 318 Furnace Brook Parkway, Quincy, "Grand Opening Specials included Schlitz Beer, $5.99 a case, Large Eggs, $.69 a dozen and Roast Beef, $.99 a half pound"... City Councillor Paul Harold gave a slide presentation on Israel at a recent meeting of the Sacred Heart Silver Citizens Club... Joan Picard, Director of the Let's Have Fun Nursery School, 867 Hancock St., Wollaston, announced that applications were being accepted for September pre-school education programs... Roland "Pop" Josselyn, a long active member of the Houghs Neck community, died at the age of 93... Richard J. Koch, general chairman of the 1977 Quincy Center Crusade Drive, announced that as of Aug. 18, a total of $20,480 had been received in all categories. This figure represents almost 80% of the Drive's goal of $25,750... Coast Guard Commander Ernest Bizzozero, son of Marion Bizzozero of Quincy, has reported for duty at the U.S. Coast Guard First District Office, Boston... Kim Scigliano, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scigliano, 45 Nightingale Ave., South Quincy, was selected Miss Quincy Junior for 1977. The contest was sponsored by the Quincy Recreation Department... Quincy Typewriter Service, 5 Maple St., Quincy Center, was advertising "Smith-Corona Electric Typewriters for only $219"... Past State Department Commander John P. Comer, 45 Lancaster St., Quincy Point, was attending the 59th National Convention of the American Legion in Denver, Colorado... Norfolk County Sheriff Clifford H. Marshall was appointed state director of the National Sheriff's Association for 1977. Sheriff Marshall was also president of the Massachusetts Sheriff's Associations... Phase II Jewelry, 1361 Hancock St., was offering "14KT Gold Serpentine Bracelets, Regular price $29 for $16.75"... Four Quincy residents were welcomed into the freshman class at Regis College in Weston. They included Elizabeth A. Donovan, 116 Russell St., Jayna E. Lee, 48 Prospect St., Charlotte A. O'Malley, 78 Andrews Rd., and Kathleen B. Rogers, 27 Flynt St.

Arts & Entertainment

LOCAL SENIORS recently participated in a painting program at the Kennedy Center. The program was taught by Janet Harrold of West Roxbury. This particular program called for seniors to paint black and white daisies. "Painting is for all ages, and all abilities," Harrold said. Among those taking part were (front row from left) Carolyn Marks of Quincy, William Corbett of Quincy and Marge Mayall of Milton. Back row (from left) Shirley Pearson (Quincy), Christine Mcbain (Quincy), Janet Harrold (West Roxbury), and Ellen Costello (Quincy).

Quincy Sun Photos/Ally Graf

PAINTING DAISES at a recent program at the Kennedy Center are Quincy seniors Shirley Pearson (left) and Christine McBain (right).

Find us on Facebook

Highlights of Local Programming found on . . . QATV

Quincy Access Television
88 Washington Street
Quincy, MA 02169
617-376-1440

Public Access Channel 8

Thursday, August 27
6:30pm: Quincy Republican Committee Candidates Night

Friday, August 28
6:00am: LIVE: AM Quincy (audio only)
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy

Saturday, August 29
1:00pm: QHS vs. Silver Lake Football (2014)
7:30pm: QRD Cheerleading Clinic

Sunday, August 30
12:00pm: Quincy Republican Committee Candidates Night

Monday, August 31
11:30am: LIVE: Currently in Quincy
7:30pm: NQHS vs. Boston Latin Football (2014)

Tuesday, September 1
6:00pm: Eye on Quincy (replay)
8:00pm: Quincy in Focus

Wednesday, September 2
9:30pm: Sound Advice with Tom Williams
10:00pm: The Constitution: Then & Now

Government Access Channel 11

Thursday, August 27
5:30pm: Quincy in Focus
8:30pm: At Your Library: September

Friday, August 28
6:00pm: City View with Mayor Koch
6:30pm: FYI: QHD: Back to School
8:00pm: Quincy Rec Dept: Cheerleading
8:20pm: Rec. Dept. Playground Projects

Saturday/Sunday, August 29/30
9:00am: City View with Mayor Koch
10:00am: Health Links: Emergency Services
1:00pm: Quincy Rec Dept: Cheerleading
1:20pm: Rec. Dept. Playground Projects
5:30pm: NCPC: Basketball Camps

Monday, August 31
8:00pm: Social Studies Showdown

Tuesday, September 1
6:00pm: Health Links: Beach Water Safety
8:00pm: At Your Library: September

Wednesday, September 2
8:00pm: Quincy Rec Dept: Cheerleading
8:20pm: Rec. Dept. Playground Projects

Programming is subject to change. For a complete list of programs, please consult our website at www.qatv.org

Acrylic Painting Kennedy Center Sept. 11

Artist Janet Harrold will be back at the Kennedy Center on Friday, Sept. 11th at 10 a.m. for a fun and relaxing "Paint in the Moment" session.

No set up or clean up.

Participants will leave with a beautiful acrylic painting to show off to loved ones.

No experience necessary.

Coffee and danish will be provided.

Cost of the class is $15 per person. Prior registration is required.

To register or for more information about the class, call the Kennedy Center at (617- 376-1506).

'Bible Women's Project' Encore Performance

Sept. 11, 12 At ENC

In February, the Eastern Nazarene College Theatre Department presented the premiere of Back by popular demand, "The Bible Women's Project," an original play that explored the women of the Old and New Testaments as seen through the eyes and personal stories of female ENC students, will return for an encore performance Sept. 11 and 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Cove Fine Arts Center on the ENC campus.

Comprised of dramatic scenes, monologues, dance and song, "The Bible Women's Project" compares contemporary women's stories with those of women in the Bible.

"All the contemporary stories in the play are true and all of the dances and songs are completely original," said writer/director Tara Brooke Watkins. "The final product has become a story about today's young Christian women learning about the women from the Bible."

To create the play, Watkins used a "story circle" format whereby female students met twice a week for four hours at a time to share and discuss stories of women from the Bible. Each woman would read a story, then ask the group questions.

"The woman presenting the Bible story each week shared what she got out of the story personally and what questions it raised for her," Watkins said. "After the stories were shared, theatre activities were performed as a way to respond to the work, and scenes and sketches were created."

Drawing on the collaborative nature of the story circle format, the encore presentation will feature some new scenes based on audience feedback to the original production.

"In this presentation, we'll talk more about racial tension between women based on scripture and about cruelty between women," said Watkins, who plans to submit the show's script to local theater festivals to encourage others to present the play.

"I have also had several requests to do story circle training," she said, "so this revival will help us raise awareness of training opportunities."

Eastern Nazarene College is located at 23 E. Elm Ave. in Quincy. Tickets for The Bible Women's Project are $10 general admission, $8 students and seniors.

For tickets or more information, call the ENC box office at 617-745-3715 or visit www.brownpapertickets.com.

Registration Underway For Quincy ArtsFest

The Quincy Art Association announces the call for entries for the 18th annual Quincy ArtsFest set for Sept. 19 and 20 at Adams Field.

Media categories are oil and acrylic, drawing and pastel, watercolor, mixed media-collage, printmaking, sculpture, clay and new this year digital printing.

Photography categories are color, black and white and special effects.

The "Best of Quincy" category includes art or photography.

Color photographs are judged as photos with a minimum of adjustments to basic contrast, color, sharpening, etc.

Black and white photos are judged similarly as in color but should only be black and white. A slight color shift to sepia-styled printing is acceptable.

The new digital printing (non-photographic) category is for those who are patining using an iPad or similar tablet. Digital painting is a method of creating an image by directly using the computer/tablet.

Registration fees are $12 for Quincy Art Association memberws and $14 for nonmembers.

Registration is underway. Deadline for registration is Aug. 28.

Download entry form at www.quincyartma.org or call 617-770-2482 to receive an entry form.

Forms are also available at The Quincy Sun, 1372 Hancock St., Quincy Center.

Mail registration form with registration fee to:

Quincy Art Association,
26 High School Ave., Quincy MA 02169.

QHS Class Of 1955 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1955 will hold its 60th year reunion on Thursday, Sept. 17th at the Quincy Neighborhood Club, 27 Glendale Rd., Quincy from noon to 4 p.m.

For more information contact Jim Sandonato at 1-781-337-0047 or e-mail jim_sandonato@msn.com.

Social

11th Annual Houghs Neck 'ChowdaFest' Sept. 12

The 11th annual Houghs Neck "ChowdaFest" will be held Saturday, Sept. 12 from 2 to 6 p.m. at the Maritime Center, 137 Bay View Ave.

The event will feature at least two dozen recipes from local restaurants and individual contestants.

Admission is $5 and includes a taste of each chowder, live entertainment by the Danny Gallagher Band as well as a cash bar serving beer from Burke Distributors mobil keg trailer.

A selection of cold drinks and food will be sold by the Boy Scouts.

The Houghs Neck Congregational Church will have their bake sale with all proceeds going to McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Program. For more details or to donate baked goods email Gayle gaylemackay@comcast.net.

During the event the annual "Mayor of Houghs Neck" Award will be presented. All proceeds raised will support local youth and family programs of the Houghs Neck Community Council.

Individuals and restaurants interested in entering a chowder should contact Jim McCarthy at (617) 285-8405 or HoughsNeckQuincy@gmail.com for the individuals category contact Eileen Timcoe at 617-479-4107 or 617-481-9153 etimcoe@yahoo.com

This is a great day to reconnect with friends and neighbors, past and present, in a beautiful location. More than 1,500 people attended last year's event.

Dick Flavin Book Reading, Signing Tonight

Popular local television personality, announcer, ambassador, and poet laureate for Fenway Park, Dick Flavin, will be reading from and signing copies of his new book, Red Sox Rhymes: Verses and Curses, tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m., at Barnes & Noble, 150 Granite St., Braintree.

Flavin has entertained audiences with his poetic talent and abiding love for the Red Sox before countless home games for more than 20 years. Flavin's poems are gathered together for the first time in his new book.

Illustrated with more than 50 photos from the official Red Sox archives, Red Sox Rhymes honors all of Red Sox fandom and is an essential memento for every BoSox fan.

As a beloved Red Sox insider, Flavin has been privileged to watch history in the making, from the team's 2004 World Series victory that finally broke its nearly century-long "curse," to road-tripping with Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky, to witnessing Ted Williams final appearance at the plate. His pithy and comedic verses-including such gems as "The Beards of Summer," "Long Live Fenway Park," and his best known, "Teddy at the Bat"- pay homage to the American pastime, New England's favorite team and players (and the curses and legends that have followed it), and the passionate Nation that has remained faithful through victory and defeat.

The event is free and open to the public.

QHS Class Of 1953 Reunion

The Quincy High School Class of 1953 will hold a reunion Friday, Sept. 25 at noon at The Inn at Bay Point in Quincy.

Committee members planning this event includes Carmine Antonellis, chairman, assisted by his wife, Sandra. Other committee members include Corrine Fasano, Frances Ricci, Catherine Stone, Dave Shepherd, Mike Barba and Janet Donovan.

Tickets for the luncheon are $40 and classmates seeking further information and to make late reservations can contact the chairman by email: antonellis.c@comcast.net.

Get Local!
QuincyFarmersMarket.com
Fridays 11:30-5:30
Hancock Parking Lot

Safford Park Opening, Movie Monday Night

A ceremony and movie will mark the opening of the newly renovated Safford Park Monday, Aug. 31st, at 7:30 p.m.

The park was spruced up after the Wollaston Hill Neighborhood Association was awarded funds through the Community Preservation Act to restore the open space located on Beale Street.

The park was graded and reseeded and tree clearing and pruning was performed to open up the park. Electricity was added to support community events and the annual Christmas Tree lighting.

New walkways and granite stairways were constructed and four granite benches were donated by neighbors in order to sit and enjoy the aesthetic beauty of the park. Finally, the existing granite wall was re-pointed to strengthen the foundation.

Walter Hubley, president of the Wollaston Hill Neighborhood Association, said neighbors are "thrilled" with the completed project.

"The city and the association took great care in collecting feedback from neighbors on the project, which preserved the passive nature of the park while improving its usefulness. It's a great open space for kids to play, families to spend time, and for community events just like the movie night," Hubley said.

After the ceremonial ribbon cutting, an outdoor movie night will be hosted in the park. The movie, "Big Hero 6", is schedule to begin at 8 p.m. Come join friends and family as we celebrate this great event.

For more information, contact the Park Department at 617-376-1251.

Street Magic Acapella Alzheimer's Benefit Oct. 7

The Quincy Council on Aging will host Street Magic Acapella at a special evening event at the Squantum Yacht Club on Wednesday, Oct. 7th at 7 p.m.

Light refreshments and cash bar will be provided.

All proceeds will benefit the Alzheimer's Association.

Admission is $20. Tickets are available at the Kennedy Center, 440 East Squantum St., Quincy.

Tickets will not be available at the door.

For more information please call the Kennedy Center at (617) 376-1506.

NQHS Class Of 1960 Reunion

North Quincy High School Class of 1960 will hold its 55th reunion Saturday, Sept. 12 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Best Western Adams Inn, Constitution Room, North Quincy.

Cost is $55 per person. There will be a cash bar.

A blockout of rooms is available for attendees. Call 800-368-4012 or 617-328-1500. Shuttle from Logan Airport to the hotel is also available.

For reservations to the reunion, call Dottie and Jim McCabe, 617-680-2766 or email Jmccabe130@aol.com.

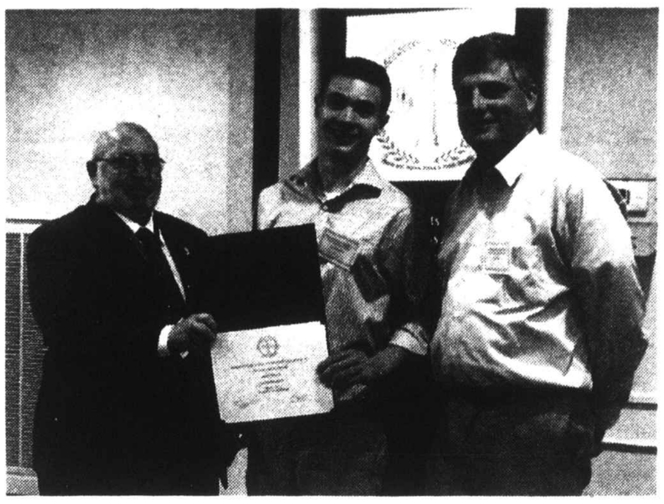
Parkinson's Support Group

The Quincy Parkinson's Support Group will meet Wednesday, Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. in the Ward 4 Community Room, 100 Brooks Ave.

Topics include research opportunities, clinical trials and complementary\alternative medicine as well as future guests and activities.

For more information call 617-770-2090.

QUINCY, CANTON
RANDOLPH
BOSTON
Cong. Beth Shalom of the Blue Hills
"Building Now and for the Future"
Two Open Houses
Sun., Aug.30, 10:00-11:30 a.m.
Milton Town Hall Gazebo, 525 Canton Ave.
Sun., Sept. 21, 10:00 a.m.-Noon
Pierce Middle School, 451 Central Ave., Milton
(Includes High Holiday Family Activity Day)
First time attendees receive complimentary seats for one High Holiday* or Family Service
*No charge for Childcare and/or Children's Services!
✡Meet Rabbi Benjamin & Ed. Dir. Nancy Mollitor
✡Find out about Special First Year Membership & Religious School rates. ✡See progress of our New Building!
For more information:
Call 617-698-3394 or email:
office@BethShalomBlueHills.org
DORCHESTER
BRAINTREE
HYDE PARK, MILTON



ZACHARY ROOS of Quincy was recently awarded a scholarship from the Massachusetts Justices of the Peace Association. MJPA President Nelson Goldin (left) presents the scholarship as Zachary's father, Karl Roos, looks on.

Zachary Roos Receives MJPA Scholarship

Zachary Roos of Quincy has been awarded a scholarship from the Massachusetts Justices of the Peace Association.

Roos, a 2015 graduate of Quincy High School, will attend Bridgewater State College this fall. He was sponsored for the award by his father, Karl Roos, a Justice of the Peace.

The MJPA awards scholarships annually to provide financial assistance for the children, grandchildren, and legal wards of members to offset the rising costs of higher education and to acknowledge the academic achievement, citizenship and leadership, extracurricular participation, and service to others of those students selected to receive the scholarship.

Funding of the scholarships is made through donations by its members. The number and amount of scholarships granted each year depends upon the funds available.

Cause 4 Paws Oct. 18 To Benefit Animal Shelter

Quincy Animal Shelter will hold its seventh annual Cause 4 Paws 5K Run and One Mile Walk Sunday, Oct. 18 at DCR Squantum Point Park, Marina Bay, North Quincy.

Registration begins at 8 a.m. with the 5K Run at 10 a.m. and the 1 Mile Walk at 10:15 a.m.

For more information including sponsorships, contact the Quincy Animal Shelter at 973-960-4206.

All of the event's proceeds directly support the shelter's dogs and cats.

The Quincy Animal Shelter is a volunteer-run, no-kill shelter.

GENNARO'S EATERY
Summer Deal
Dine-In & Take-Out
Large Round Cheese Pizza $8.99
Tuesdays All Day & Night
Homemade
Pizza Dough & Sauce
Call 617-773-1500
Daily Specials
617-499-6929
Deal ends August 31, 2015
We now have Wi-Fi • www.gennaroseatery.com
12 Blanchard Rd., Quincy MA

WHAT'S COOKING
with
Marie & Suzie

By MARIE D'OLIMPIO and SUZIE FALCO

Zucchini Yogurt Muffins

By MARIE

If you enjoy eating zucchini, I think you will like today's recipe for a zucchini yogurt muffin.

It only uses one small zucchini, but the flavor along with the yogurt is wonderful.

ZUCCHINI YOGURT MUFFIN

1 3/4 cups flour
3/4 cups sugar
1 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1/3 cup Greek yogurt
1/4 cup milk
1 zucchini (1 cup) squeezed dry

For The Top

2 ounces cream cheese (at room temperature)
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
Smigen of cinnamon

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Line muffin tins with cupcake liners, or coat with cooking spray.

Mix together the first 7 ingredients. In a bowl, mix the eggs, yogurt and milk. Stir in the zucchini, then the flour mixture until well blended.

Place in muffin cups, and bake for 20-25 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean. Cool an then stir together the cream cheese, powdered sugar and vanilla until smooth. Spread over muffins. Sprinkle top with cinnamon if desired.

Caribbean Marinade

By SUZIE

It is easy to make your own marinades.

Since barbecue season is finally here, things taste so great on the grill! Meat and chicken of course, but don't forget your vegetables.

Eating a salad with dinner is always a good thing, but adding some cooked ones from the grill doubles your intake of vegetables.

Using marinades makes everything taste better but the kind that you buy are mostly loaded with sugar, salt, and also preservatives. You can "customize" your very own personalized versions as well by changing up the herbs.

For the quickest do it yourself recipe, start by measuring out 1/2 cup of olive oil, then whisk in two tablespoons of any type of acid (vinegars, lemon juice, lime juice, orange juice, pineapple juice)

Taste the mixture for balance because you may like more of the acid. Now add a handful of your favorite herbs (like mint, sage, basil, parsley, cilantro) Do not add salt to the marinade, use the salt on the food before or after it is grilled for best flavor. Cover your vegetables or meats with the marinade for up to 3 hours if marinating vegetables, 1 hour for seafood, and up to 12 hours for meat and chicken.

Here is a Caribbean marinade from the Taste for Life kitchen that is delicious. Loaded with healthy oil, vinegars, spices and pineapple juice as the acid, you are getting a fresh and healthy marinade that makes about 3/4 cup.

CARIBBEAN MARINADE

2/3 cup pineapple juice
3 cloves garlic
4 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons white vinegar
2 tsp turmeric
1 tsp coriander
3/4 tsp cardamom
1/4 tsp cayenne pepper
1/2 tsp ground cumin

This is great with chicken or shrimp! (1 hour for the shrimp and 12 hours for the chicken)

Enjoy!

Mushroom-Bacon-Swiss Quiche

By MARIE

While at the Cape recently my daughter Rita made a delicious mushroom-bacon quiche which can be enjoyed hot or cold. It added so much to our menu.

It can be heated in the microwave also.

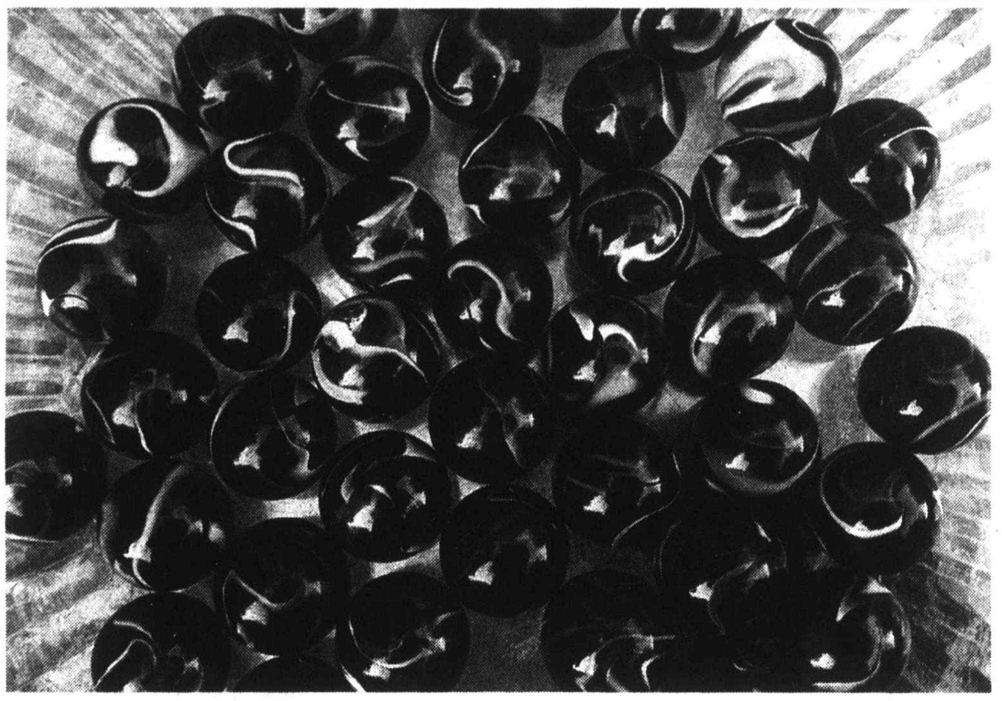
MUSHROOM-BACON QUICHE

7 slices bacon (cooked) she used uncured
1/2 pound sliced mushrooms
3 eggs
1 pint half & half
1/2 pound sliced swiss cheese
1 pie crust
2 tablespoons butter

First bake the pie crust in a 350 degree oven for 15 minutes.

Saute the mushrooms in the butter until tender, and set aside. Mix the egg and the half and half together.

Assemble the quiche by placing the swiss cheese on the bottom, then the mushrooms, chopped bacon and then the egg mixture. Bake in a 350-degree oven for one hour.



FRIENDS OF WOLLASTON KidsFest Sept. 3 features a promotion for Jet Blue Airlines. Those finding marbles at Wollaston Beach (like the ones pictured here) are eligible to win two Jet Blue Airline tickets.

Wollaston Beach KidsFest Sept. 3

The Friends of Wollaston Beach need help finding the Jet Blue Marbles that were spread along Wollaston Beach.

The marbles are part of Jet Blue's sponsorship of Save The Harbor/ Save The Bay's Better Beaches Program. Anyone who finds a marble will qualify for a chance to win Jet Blue airline tickets. Marbles have been spread at all MA Department of Conservation Boston Harbor Beaches.

Those who find a marble should take a picture with it at the beach and send it to Save The Harbor via their Facebook page or via their email – Info@SaveTheHarbor.Org. The contest runs through Columbus Day Weekend.

FWB President Neil McCole guarantees multiple marbles will be found at the upcoming KidsFest set for Thursday, Sept. 3 from 5 p.m. to sundown at Wollaston Beach.

"We are very happy to be hosting the 9th Annual KidsFest. This is the longest running consecutive annual event on the sands of Wollaston Beach," McCole said.

The event features inflatable obstacle courses, beach games, and a glow in the dark dance party with DJ Mark McGillicuddy at sundown.

"There will be plenty of prizes for the kids at the Back to School – Beach Bash," McCole said, noting KidsFest is a free event made possible by annual grants that fund the entire party.

"Save The Harbor/Save The Bay and Copeland Foundation are our fellow non-profits who back us with matching $2,500 grant," McCole said. "The Better Beaches program has also been long supported by both the MA DCR and the City of Quincy."

Over the years the corporate sponsorships have varied, but McCole added, "Jet Blue and New York Life have been our corporate sponsors for the past few years and their generosity and commitment cannot go unrecognized."

McCole, a Financial Planner with NY Life, said that "a National Digital Child ID program will be available free of charge to families attending the event. The program is part of their long standing commitment to helping protect families across the country/"

McCole went on to say that he and the Friends of Wollaston Beach are extremely grateful to the McGettrick family for all of their support of FWB over the past 10 years.

"I had to ask Jimmy to host a Pumpkin Fest at The Beachcomber one year because the KidsFest had been rained out three times. He didn't flinch and The McGettrick's donated pizza for about 1,000 people that day."

McCole also pointed out that The Clam Box and Tony's Clam Shop have also been strong supporters of FWB and encourages everyone to frequent the seasonal businesses along the beach.

ENC Symphonic Winds Ensemble Open Rehearsals

Eastern Nazarene College's Symphonic Winds ensemble invites area musicians to join the group at its open rehearsals.

Rehearsals are scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 9 and Wednesday, Sept. 16 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the Cove Fine Arts Center (second floor), located on Wendell Avenue in Quincy.

Prof. Stephen Bell, the ensemble's director, said any adult or qualified high school instrumental player is invited to join the open rehearsals.

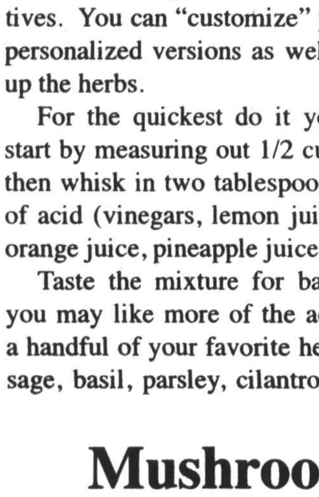
Openings are available in all musical sections, but the ensemble currently has a particular need for trombone players.

"Community players supplement the college students, bringing the ensemble to nearly 45 players," Bell said. "High school players are welcomed, but must have a letter of recommendation from either a private instructor or school band director."

There is no fee associated with participating in the ensemble.

For more information or to sign up to attend a rehearsal, e-mail your name, contact information and the instrument you play to scbell1@comcast.net or call the ENC Music office at 617-745-3715.

QUINCY HEARING AID
EST. 1971
Quincy's Neighborhood Hearing Center
Celebrating 45 Years of Service
Doctoral-level expertise and state-of-the-art equipment to accurately diagnose and treat your hearing loss.
Access to the latest hearing aids from the leading manufacturers.
Caring and knowledgeable staff -- we take the time to find the right match for your hearing loss, budget, and lifestyle.
Conveniently located in the heart of Quincy Center:
1515 Hancock St., Quincy, MA 02169,
across from the Gentle Dental
Dr. Janice Powis, AuD
Doctor of Audiology
CALL NOW FOR YOUR FREE CONSULTATION
(617)934-8155



Enjoy Your Summer At
VILIA Rosa
Restaurant & Lounge
705 Adams St., Quincy
617-773-0095
www.villarosaquincy.com
Sunday's Summer Special
Boiled Lobster Dinner
Served with French Fries & Cole Slaw
$18.99

Mayoral Candidates Discuss Diversity At 2nd Forum

THOMAS KOCH
Incumbent Mayor

DOUG GUTRO
Mayoral Candidate

ANNE MAHONEY
Mayoral Candidate

WILLIAM PHELAN
Mayoral Candidate

★ On The Campaign Trail ★

By SCOTT JACKSON

Questions regarding diversity and inclusiveness took center stage at the second forum featuring the four candidates vying to serve as Quincy's chief executive.

The four candidates – incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch, former Mayor William Phelan, School Committee member Anne Mahoney and Councillor Doug Gutro – appeared at the Aug. 18 candidates night at the Sons of Italy Hall, which was organized by the Quincy LGBT community. More than 150 residents attended the event, the second in as many weeks to feature the four candidates. A Sept. 24 primary will whittle the field of candidates down to two, who will go head-to-head in the Nov. 3 final election.

James Hahn, an optometrist who resides in Wollaston with his husband, said he loves living and working in Quincy but sometimes does not feel he is completely part of the community because there are no gay clubs and no "No Place for Hate" signage on restaurants and other venues, for example. He asked the candidates what they would do to integrate the gay community.

Phelan, in his response, said diversity is what makes the city great and that members of the LGBT community would be part of the future of the city.

"Your community is the same as my community. Everybody is welcomed in Quincy. Should we have gay clubs in Quincy? Sure, if somebody is going to open up a gay club. Everybody is the same here. Diversity is what makes our city so great," Phelan said.

"When I grew up in Quincy, we had a community that was basically Irish and Italian. My kids went to school with people from all around the world. We started a cultural fair in Quincy when I was the mayor as well.

"Any event or any group in Quincy that wants to strive in Quincy and do better in Quincy and make our community better – we're all in it together. What I'm most concerned about in Quincy is our future and that's part of our future – you're part of our future and you were under my administration and you will be in the future."

Mahoney said the city needs to be more inclusive and promised her administration would represent the LGBT community.

"We need to be inclusive in our city. When the rainbow flag was stolen four times from the Church of the Presidents, it was ignored and it was not treated like a hate crime. It was hateful and it was our city that should have stood up – our mayor and our City Council should have stood up for this community. It still frightens me to this day because it was not that long ago," Mahoney said.

"Today, we stand united as a country because we accept marriage equality and I want you to know I stood on the right side of history with you for that and I want to stand on the right side of history again with you as your mayor.

"My new day for Quincy is inclusive. My whole run for office has people who are working on this race that include the gay and lesbian and transgender community. When I am your mayor, our office will represent that same community and I look forward to that day."

Koch suggested members of the LGBT community could form a task force in the city to address those issues. All residents, he added, want the same things in the city.

"Our city has a number of boards and commissions and committees and task forces. I'm proud we have an Asian American advisory committee that has been terrific with guiding me with some of those issues…If there is a group that wants to step up and come up and see us we'd be glad to meet with you and talk about some of those issues. I'm certainly open to that," Koch said.

"The city of Quincy – people are moving here for a reason. I don't care whether you're black or whether you're Asian, whether

Cont'd On Page 30

Downtown Issues Dominate 3rd Mayoral Forum

By SCOTT JACKSON

The four candidates running for mayor in this fall's election all touched on issues relating to the redevelopment of Quincy Center during a meet the candidates night hosted by the Merrymount Association Monday evening.

Nearly 100 residents attended the event, which was held on Merrymount Beach overlooking Quincy Bay. It was the third time this month the four candidates – incumbent Mayor Thomas Koch, Councillor Doug Gutro, School Committee member Anne Mahoney and former Mayor William Phelan – have appeared together at a public forum. The candidates at Monday's event were allowed to speak for 25 minutes – a 15-minute speech followed by 10 minutes of questions and answers.

Gutro, who has served on the City Council for 14 years, was the first to speak Monday. He said development is underway across the city, often to the detriment of neighborhoods, but development is not happening in Quincy Center. Moving forward, Gutro explained, the city should keep items such as open space and affordable housing former master developer StreetWorks planned to incorporate in its plans.

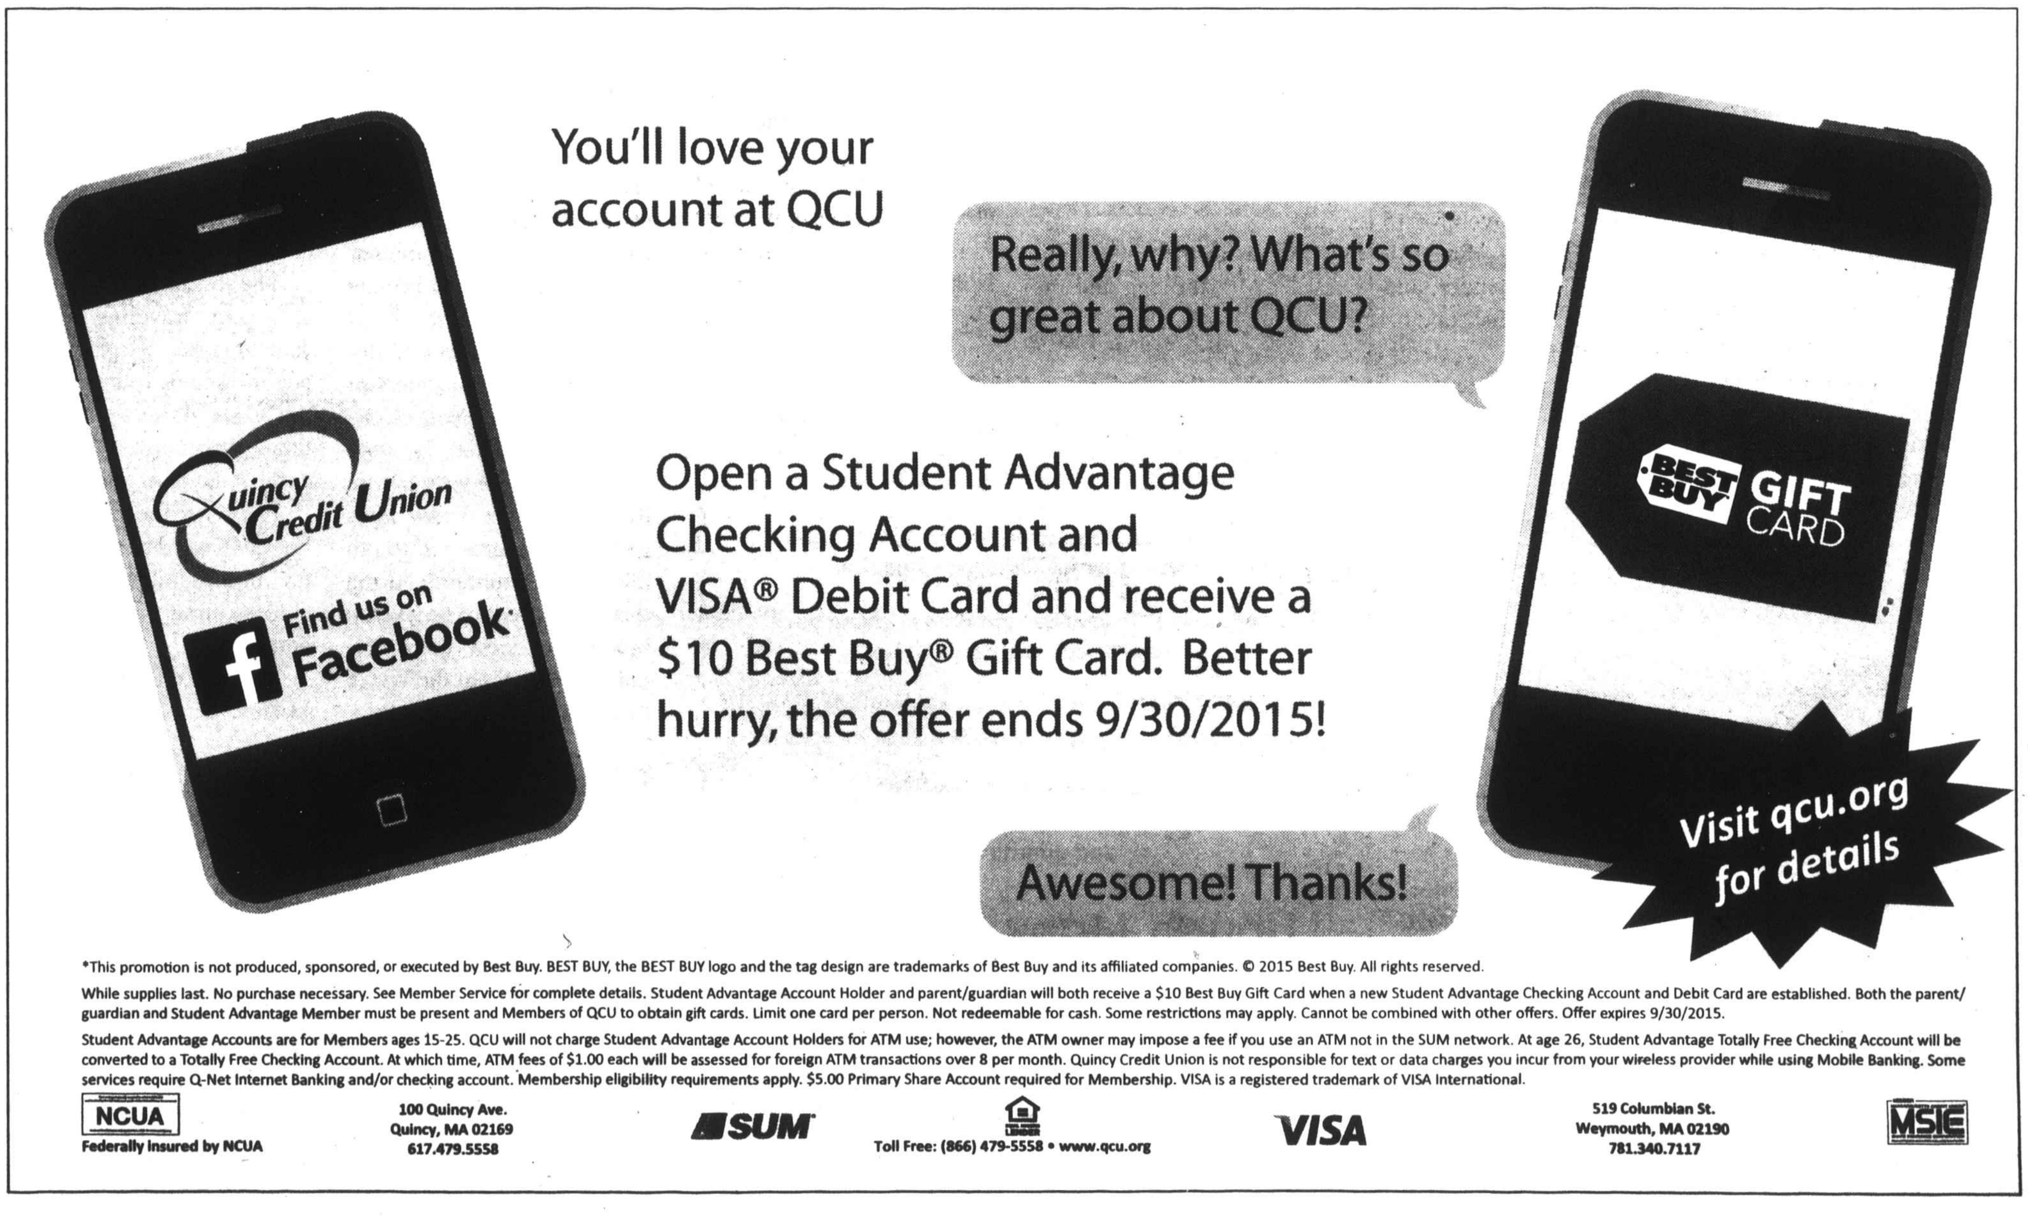
"You're not seeing [development] in the very place we want it, in our downtown. Great downtowns are about great places. This one opportunity in our lifetime to get it right downtown – you only get one bite at the apple to get it right. Salem, Somerville, Cambridge, Watertown, Waltham – great downtowns. Great downtowns. Why not us?" Gutro said.

"We have an opportunity to do it. My belief is that we need to stop leading with the city's checkbook. We should still look at the original vision that we shopped around the city with more than 20 public meetings – 20 public meetings to build a vision around what StreetWorks suggested. That included green space, public space, public art and affordable housing. To date, with the reset in the downtown, we're not doing that."

Gutro also said he is weary of taking a building-by-building approach.

"Where do you go to shop? You go to Derby Street. You go to Legacy Place. You go down perhaps to the Hingham Shipyard,"

Cont'd On Page 23



You'll love your account at QCU

Really, why? What's so great about QCU?

Open a Student Advantage Checking Account and VISA® Debit Card and receive a $10 Best Buy® Gift Card. Better hurry, the offer ends 9/30/2015!

Awesome! Thanks!

Visit qcu.org for details

*This promotion is not produced, sponsored, or executed by Best Buy. BEST BUY, the BEST BUY logo and the tag design are trademarks of Best Buy and its affiliated companies. © 2015 Best Buy. All rights reserved.

While supplies last. No purchase necessary. See Member Service for complete details. Student Advantage Account Holder and parent/guardian will both receive a $10 Best Buy Gift Card when a new Student Advantage Checking Account and Debit Card are established. Both the parent/guardian and Student Advantage Member must be present and Members of QCU to obtain gift cards. Limit one card per person. Not redeemable for cash. Some restrictions may apply. Cannot be combined with other offers. Offer expires 9/30/2015.

Student Advantage Accounts are for Members ages 15-25. QCU will not charge Student Advantage Account Holders for ATM use; however, the ATM owner may impose a fee if you use an ATM not in the SUM network. At age 26, Student Advantage Totally Free Checking Account will be converted to a Totally Free Checking Account. At which time, ATM fees of $1.00 each will be assessed for foreign ATM transactions over 8 per month. Quincy Credit Union is not responsible for text or data charges you incur from your wireless provider while using Mobile Banking. Some services require Q-Net Internet Banking and/or checking account. Membership eligibility requirements apply. $5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership. VISA is a registered trademark of VISA International.

NCUA
Federally Insured by NCUA

100 Quincy Ave.
Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558

SUM

Toll Free: (866) 479-5558 • www.qcu.org

VISA

519 Columbian St.
Weymouth, MA 02190
781.340.7117

MSIE

LAST YEAR over eight-hundred local volunteers provided 23,990 hours of service assisting South Shore residents though Interfaith Social Services various programs. Pictured are some of the volunteers who were inducted into Interfaith's Matti Lang Volunteer Hall of Fame at this year's annual Volunteer Appreciation Dinner. Awardees from left to right: Aggie White of Quincy, Dorothy Newell of Weymouth, Margaret Wielhower of Bridgewater, Cristiana Amara of Quincy, Daniele Serafini of Hingham, Paula Daniels of Norton, Christina Ferrera of Milton, Joanne Fisher of Milton, Rhonda Callahan of Weymouth, Mary Parker of Quincy, Michel Auda of Milford, Margaret Donaher of Quincy, Martha Lewandowski of Braintree and Judy Howlett of Quincy.

Interfaith Social Services Recognizes Volunteers

One hundred volunteers attended Interfaith Social Services recent Volunteer Appreciation Night.

The focal point of the event's festivities was the induction of 42 volunteers into Interfaith's Matti Lang Volunteer Hall of Fame. The Hall is named is named after one of the organization's most dedicated volunteers who gave decades of his life selflessly serving Interfaith's clients. The honor of being inducted into the Hall of Fame is bestowed upon those volunteers who have been serving within the organization regularly for at least one year.

Among those inducted were 12 volunteers from Quincy. They are: Cristiana Amara, Gabriel Arato, Margaret Donaher, Judy Howlett, Catherine Lane, Dolores MacMillan, Charlene Manning, Mary McLaughlin, Sheila Montgomery, Mary Parker, Barbara Pyne and Aggie White.

"Interfaith Social Services is blessed to have so many wonderful volunteers who work tirelessly to help thousands of our neighbors in need," said volunteer coordinator Paula Daniels. "We are all united in our mission to improve the quality of life for families in our community."

Anyone interested in volunteering with Interfaith Social Services can contact volunteer coordinator Paula Daniels at 617-773-6203 ext. 28.

City Tennis Tournament Applications Available

Applications for the 45th Annual City of Quincy Tennis Tournament Championship are available at the Quincy Recreation Department, the Quincy Credit Union, City Hall, and the city tennis courts and online at www.QuincyRec.com.

Quincy Credit Union is again the principal sponsor of this traditional family tennis event.

This year's event will begin on Sept. 16th.

Last day to submit applications for the tournament is Sept. 11.

The fee is $ 20 which includes all events plus a commemorative T-shirt or $10 for children who are only entering the Boys and Girls 16 and under event.

The Tournament is open to all residents of Quincy and will have 11 divisions of play for boys, girls, and men and women.

The draw will be posted at the Quincy High School Tennis Courts on Russell Park between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 16th and Thursday, Sept. 17th.

Matches will begin on Friday, Sept. 18th.

All entries must be in by Friday, Sept. 11th at 4 p.m. to the Quincy Recreation Department, One Merrymount Parkway.

For more information call the Quincy Recreation Department at 617-376-1394 or visiting www.QuincyRec.com.

Yard Sale Sept. 19 To Benefit Jimmy Fund

A yard sale to benefit The Jimmy Fund and Dana-Farber Cancer Institute will be held Saturday, Sept. 19 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Beechwood Knoll School, 225 Fenno St.

To sell products ($40 a space) or to donate items email sarah.jfyardsale@gmail.com.

The community yard sale is in partnership with the Quincy Police Department.

Blood Drive At Kennedy Center

The American Red Cross will hold a Blood Drive at the Kennedy Center on Friday, Sept. 4th from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The Red Cross is facing a looming shortage of the most needed blood types. There is an urgent need for eligible donors to prevent an emergency situation.

Quincy Access TV Open House Sept. 12

Quincy Access Television will host its annual Open House Saturday, Sept. 12 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Quincy residents are invited to visit with the staff, tour the facility, enjoy some refreshments and have fun participating in a QATV version of a popular game show.

Visitors may also become a panelist on a talk show or perhaps watch a program in production and decide they would like to become a member of the crew.

For those interested in learning how to produce their own program "Orientation to Community Television" will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 16th and Thursday, Sept. 17.

Classes will commence the week of Sept. 21st.

QATV offers the following classes:

Basic Studio Production, Field Production, Advanced Field Production, Interview Skills, Audio Extras, Documentary Video Techniques and more.

The QATV studio is located at 88 Washington St., Quincy.

In Sync Open House, Sample Classes Saturday

In Sync Center of the Arts, 550 Adams St., Quincy, is holding two events this Saturday morning.

In Sync Center of the Arts collaborates with another Quincy business to bring "Ballerinas and Books" to Coffee Break Café!

An In Sync ballerina will be at both Coffee Break locations reading books about ballet and taking pictures at the Coffee Break Wollaston location from 9 to 10 a.m. and Coffee Break Café Quincy Center from 10:15 to 11:15 a.m.

In Sync will also host an open house featuring free sample classes Saturday.

Open House free class schedule:
10-10:20 a.m.: Dance Kids (ages 3-6)
10-10:20 a.m.: Kids Yoga (ages 5+)
10:20-10:40 a.m.: Family Fitness
10:20-10:40 a.m.: Dance Kids (ages 3-6)
10:40-11 a.m.: Kids Yoga (ages 5+)
10:40-11 a.m.: Family Fitness
11-11:20 a.m.: Contemporary (ages 8+)
11-11:20 a.m.: Jazz (ages 6+)
11:20-11:40 a.m.: Hip Hop (ages 6+)
11:20-11:40 a.m.: Contemporary (ages 8+)
11:40 a.m.-noon: Jazz (ages 6+)
11:40 a.m.-noon: Hip Hop (ages 6+)

No registration required. There will also be free giveaways and raffles.

For more information visit www.insyncarts.com or call 617-328-5678.

Historical Society Foliage Trip Oct. 1

The Quincy Historical Society is coordinating a foliage trip to the Mount Washington Valley and North Conway, NH on Thursday, Oct. 1.

Trip participants will depart the Adams Academy at 7:30 a.m. and in North Conway board a historic-vintage train on the Conway Scenic Railroad for a 1 3/4 hour round-trip journey through the White Mountains. Along the way there will be a sgtop in Glen to view the cider-making process at the White Mountain Cider Company.

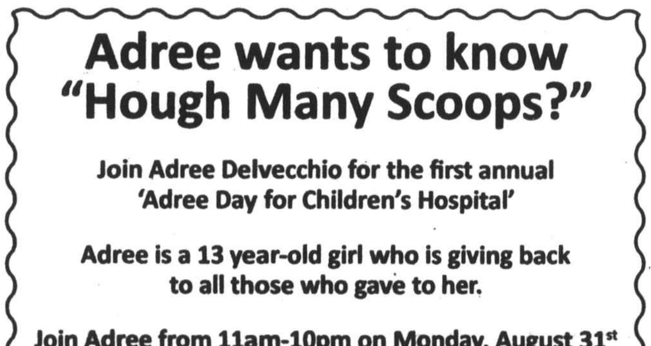
Back in North Conway, participants will have lunch at the White Mountain Hotel at 1:30 p.m.

The journey home begins at 3 p.m. traveling on the Kancamagus Highway, a historic scenic route through the White Mountains. Return time approximately 6 p.m. at the Adams Academy.

Price for the trip is $85 for QHS members and $90 for non-members and includes round-trip bus transportation.

To register, call 617-773-1144.

August's Flavor of the Month is
a perfect blend of nuts, caramel, nougat and chocolate...
try our Snickers Parfait COFFEE today!
Coffee Break CAFE
12 Old Colony Avenue
Quincy: 617-773-9420
77 Parkingway
Quincy: 617-786-8888
247 Atlantic Street
Quincy: 617-328-8090
buy online:
www.coffeebreakcafe.net



Adree wants to know "Hough Many Scoops?"
Join Adree Delvecchio for the first annual 'Adree Day for Children's Hospital'
Adree is a 13 year-old girl who is giving back to all those who gave to her.
Join Adree from 11am-10pm on Monday, August 31st at Hough Many Scoops-- 1094 Sea St in Houghs Neck
Can't be there in person? Like Hough Many Scoops on Facebook and donate there!
Hough Many Scoops
For any additional questions, please email loriddelvecchio@yahoo.com benefiting Boston Children's Hospital Until every child is well

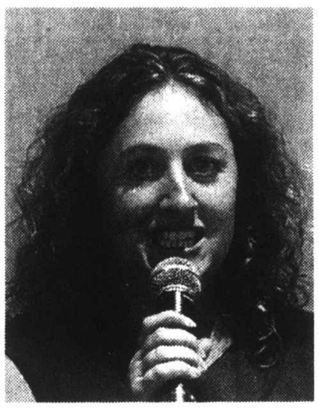
TIME OUT PIZZA & GRILL
2 LARGE $15.99* CHEESE PIZZAS
TOPPINGS EXTRA
*Must present Coupon at time of Order
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
$2.00 OFF* ANY ORDER OF $18 OR MORE CASH ONLY
*Cannot Be Combined With Any Other Coupon or Offer
*Must Mention Coupon When Ordering
OPEN: 7 Days
525 Sea St., Quincy
617-479-2300

LaForest, McCone Debate Ward 1 Issues

By SCOTT JACKSON



MARGARET LAFOREST
Incumbent Ward 1 Councillor

JOHN McCONE
Ward 1 Candidate

The two candidates running to serve as the Ward 1 city councillor sounded off on several issues affecting their ward – including coastal infrastructure and the proposed purchase of a Sea Street parking lot – during a recent public forum.

Incumbent Ward 1 Councillor Margaret Laforest, who first elected and 2011, is facing challenger John McCone in the Nov. 3 election. Ward 1 encompasses Merrymount, Adams Shore, Houghs Neck, Germantown and portions of Quincy Point and Quincy Center.

The two candidates squared off at the Aug. 18 candidates night organized by the Quincy LGBT community.

McCone, who resides at 111 Darrow St., spoke first at the event. In his opening statement, he said he was encouraged to run by his friends and family and cited several community activities and events he has been involved in.

"For some time now, my friends and family have encouraged me to extend my longtime community service into public service," McCone said. "Over the past years I've been involved as a coordinator for First Night in Quincy, organized beach cleanups and food drives and taken on the opiate epidemic head-on by holding forums that included elected officials, public health officials and the clergy. Most of these efforts were started as a result of not seeing action from elected officials around issues that affected us all."

He also addressed infrastructure needs in the ward, saying roads, sidewalks and seawalls need to be fixed and the city should not wait to do so.

"The city infrastructure in our ward is crumbling – seawalls, roads and sidewalks as well. We seem to wait until things fail before we fix them. The effect on taxes by such behavior is enormous. It's like the brakes on your car; the longer you wait the more expensive it is to fix," McCone said. "How to solve these problems? We need to look at the existing infrastructure and assess its problems. We'd be wise to repair issues when first observed to avoid potential catastrophe later."

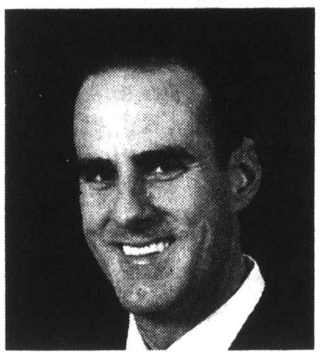
Laforest, a resident of 236 Rock Island Rd., touted public and private investments seen in the last several years in the portions of Ward 1 in the periphery of Quincy Center in her opening statement.

"We have seen significant public and private investment in the periphery of downtown in Ward 1," Laforest said. "The renovation of Coddington Hall, Quincy High, a new track, a $30 million YMCA, Quirk Ford spent over $1 million in exterior improvements, Squantum Auto built a new business on a previous overgrown blighted parcel, Wendy's tore down and rebuilt, a $30 million South Cove Manor on Washington Street, $5 million, 24-unit residential projects.

"That is just one side Ward 1 in downtown."

Cont'd On Page 13

★ ★ On The Campaign Trail ★ ★



BRAD CROALL
Incumbent
Ward 2 Councillor

JAMES CONNORS
Ward 2 Candidate

GULISTAN MALIK
Ward 2 Candidate

Croall, Connors, Malik Address Ward 2 Issues

By SCOTT JACKSON

Three candidates are in the running this fall to represent Ward 2 on the City Council for the next two years.

Incumbent Brad Croall has represented the ward, which includes most of Quincy Point as well as portions of South Quincy and Quincy Center, since winning an open seat in 2011. He is facing two challengers this fall – James Connors and Gulistan Malik.

Voters in Ward 2 will whittle the field of three candidates down to two in the preliminary election on Thursday, Sept. 24. The final election is set for Nov. 3.

Malik and Connors each spoke at the Aug. 18 candidates night at the Sons of Italy Hall organized by the Quincy LGBT community. Croall was unable to attend that night's event because of the birth of his child.

Malik, a resident of 109 Curtis Ave., highlighted his involvement in the community since moving to the city 25 years ago.

"I am a member in the civic association [for] Ward 2. I am a member of the Tide Mill. I have a membership in Quincy cable TV. I have my own show," Malik said. "I work for the [Cleaner, Greener] every year. Besides those things, I am a strong supporter of the seniors because I am a senior. I know very well they work their whole life. They need help."

Malik, who has four sons who attended Quincy High School, said one of them was injured at school and the family was forced to leave Quincy.

"Our family moved from Quincy to another town. That's not fair," Malik said. "We need safety precautions and not bullying in school."

Connors, who lives at 124 Martensen St., is a Quincy Public Schools custodian and said he would decline the $27,000 councillors receive in salary and travel allowance if elected. Connors was formerly the president

Cont'd On Page 12

Your Ears Need TLC!

There are many ways to care for your ears. The best thing you can do is have someone who will guide you and answer your questions without making you feel rushed.

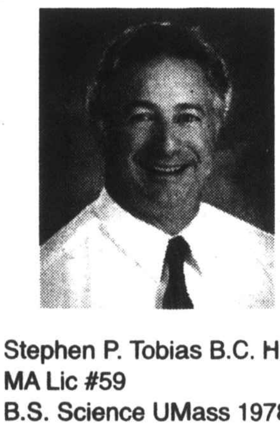
Let the Tobias family make you feel at home with people that care about you, not your wallet.

Don't let your doctor send you elsewhere! Exercise your right to experience a higher level of personalized care.

We are three generations dedicated to people's hearing issues in the Boston area since 1959!

CALL to schedule your free hearing test and consultation!
617 770-3395

Tobias Hearing Aids, Inc.
382 Quincy Ave, Quincy 02169
near Roche Bros and Walmart



Stephen P. Tobias B.C. HIS
MA Lic #59
B.S. Science UMass 1978

CITY OF QUINCY
Preliminary Election
Thursday, September 24, 2015
Last Day To Register To Vote
For The City Preliminary is
Friday, September 4, 2015
At Quincy City Clerk's Office
1305 Hancock Street
Second Floor, Glass Annex Building
From 8:30 AM to 8:00 PM

Voter Registration Is Also Weekdays at the City Clerk's Office
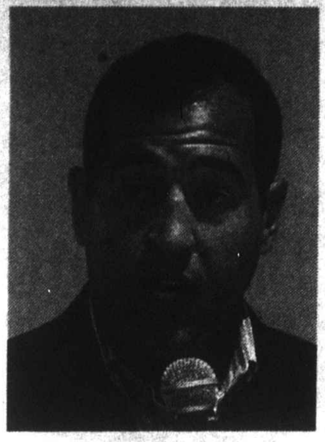
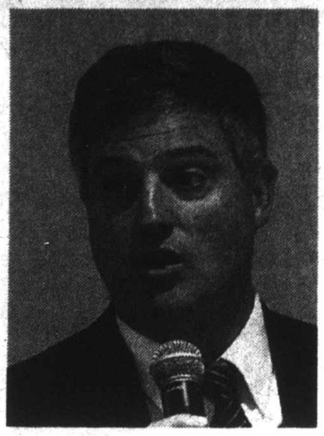
from 8:30 AM to 4:30 PM

Board of Registrars
Joseph P. Shea, City Clerk
Michael F. Grindlay
John Carl Swanson

★ ★ On The Campaign Trail ★ ★



IAN CAIN
Ward 3 Candidate



KARL ROOS
Ward 3 Candidate

SANDY VERHAULT
Ward 3 Candidate

Cain, Roos, Verhault Seek Open Ward 3 Seat

By SCOTT JACKSON

The residents running for the Ward 3 seat on the City Council – Sandy Verhault, Karl Roos and Ian Cain – said their responsiveness to residents' needs, experience in both the private and public sector, and global experience, respectively, makes them the right person to represent the ward for the next two years during a recent forum.

The three candidates will face each other in a preliminary election on Thursday, Sept. 24. One candidate will be eliminated after the preliminary election and the remaining two candidates will advance to the final election on Nov. 3.

Incumbent Ward 3 Councillor Kevin Coughlin opted not to run for re-election. He has represented the ward – a that district stretches from Montclair to Hospital Hill, including portions of North Quincy and Wollaston – since being elected to the council in 2001.

The three candidates appeared at a candidates night Aug. 18 organized by Quincy's LGBT community. More than 150 residents attended the event, which was held at the Sons of Italy Hall. Each candidate was allowed to make a three-minute statement. The candidates then answered two questions posed by residents.

Verhault, who resides at 183 Highland Ave., pledged to be responsive to the needs of her constituents. She told the crowd she helped a family she met on the campaign trail get a lingering gas leak repaired.

"As your councillor I promise to always be responsive to each and every person's needs. If you call me, I will always call you back," Verhault said.

"I met a family in Ward 3 walking the streets and door knocking, who had a very serious gas leak. This problem had been ongoing for the past two years with no resolve. I made a phone call Friday. By Monday morning at 7 a.m. National Grid was there. There were six leaks. It was finally fixed by Wednesday and let me tell you this family was very happy.

"I did this as a candidate – imagine what I could do as a ward councillor. I love getting things done and I'm good at and I'm proud of it."

Roos, a resident of 8 Park St., said his background sets him apart. He has taught at Norfolk Agricultural High School for three years after more than two decades in the private sector.

"The last three years I've been teaching high school. It was the best move I've ever made. I love getting up in the morning everyday. I love trying to help kids. I love trying to impact their lives a little bit. It's a great feeling," Roos said.

"Prior to that, I was in the private sector for 22 years. I understand what the business world is like. I understand what it means to have pressure and deadlines and I also understand what the public sector is like and what public service is like.

"On an educational level, I was fortunate enough to earn a scholarship a B.C. High, I have an MBA in finance and I'm currently completing a masters in education so I think I can understand and pick up things fairly quickly."

Cain, a resident of 192 South Central Ave., touted his work in the business world. He graduated from Boston College and worked in private equity before earning an MBA from Duke University. Cain now works for a technology company.

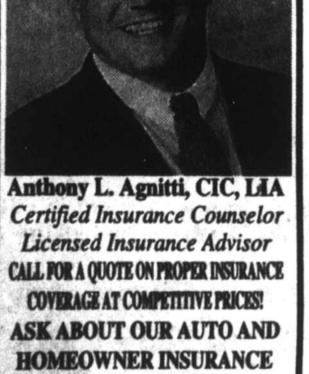
"I've seen the world, I've worked across industry and I'm now here to lend my global experience and perspective locally to the citizens of Quincy," Cain said.

"I love this city…there aren't many places you can live that have the ability to maintain the feel of a small town but have a population of 100,000 people. I understand Quincy's potential. I understand what's needed to bring us forward as part of the global economy. I also understand the role for which I'm applying. I know it's not going to be easy, but I've never sought easy or evaded a challenge.

"This job is about service – a concept I became very familiar with throughout my Jesuit education…I know and value a sense of community because I came from a great one and I can compare it to outside models."

The first question from a resident posed to the candidates asked if they had giv-

Cont'd On Page 30

AGNITTI
INSURANCE
HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS
LIFE • FINANCIAL


Anthony L. Agnitti, CIC, LIA
Certified Insurance Counselor
Licensed Insurance Advisor
CALL FOR A QUOTE ON PROPER INSURANCE COVERAGE AT COMPETITIVE PRICES!
ASK ABOUT OUR AUTO AND HOMEOWNER INSURANCE DISCOUNT PROGRAMS
24-Hour Emergency Access
770-0123
21 FRANKLIN ST., QUINCY

THE SPORTSMAN'S DEN
Bait & Tackle
Hunting & Fishing Licenses Sold
Guns & Ammo
Hunting Gear & Supplies
666 Southern Artery
Quincy, MA 02169
617-770-3884

Hughes, Ostis Talk Ward 5 Issues At Forums

By SCOTT JACKSON

KIRSTEN HUGHES
Incumbent Ward 5 Councillor

GINA OSTIS
Ward 5 Candidate

Both candidates running to represent Ward 5 on the City Council agree new flood maps and flood insurance as well as new development will be the challenges in the district moving forward.

Incumbent Kirsten Hughes and challenger Gina Ostis both appeared at the Aug. 11 candidates night organized by the Quincy Republican City Committee. A third resident, Gordon DeCambra, also appeared at the event but withdraw from the race Aug. 17, which means a preliminary election will not be held for the seat.

Hughes and Ostis will square off in the Nov. 3 election. Hughes has represented the ward, which includes parts of Wollaston and Quincy Center, since being elected in 2011.

At the Aug. 11 forum, moderator Christine Cedrone asked the candidates what they believed the next challenge for Ward 5 would be.

Hughes, who lives at 116 Willow Ave., identified the ratification of revised FEMA flood maps and ensuring residents receive relief once the updated maps take effect as one such issue. The second issue she named was transit-oriented development and new construction in the district.

"The FEMA maps are important. They are an issue that continues to face the ward and making sure those amended maps are ratified and that we get that relief – we were handed this terrible deal from FEMA and from our federal government and that we are able to respond in such a way that helps out the resident," Hughes said.

"Transit-oriented development and a lot of the things that are coming into the ward in terms of projects – that construction is something that will continue to face the ward as we move forward and something that is a real issue that I think folks are interested to talk about and learn more about."

Ostis, whose house at 57 Estabrook Rd. directly abuts a marsh, said she has felt the impact of rising flood insurance costs. Wollaston Center, she added, should be revitalized along with Quincy Center.

"I think we can all agree the flood situation is pretty atrocious. We sit right on the marsh. When we moved into our home 12 years ago we were paying $900 for flood insurance. We now pay $2,800, so that's a big hit – a nice punch to the gut. I agree that it's huge issue and a huge problem," Ostis said.

"I think there are a lot of issues we can talk about. I would love to see the revitalization of Wollaston Center along with Quincy Center. Just seeing some businesses come in, some eclectic businesses, some different types of restaurants."

Cedrone also asked Hughes and Ostis what sets them apart from each other.

Hughes cited the knowledge of local government she has gained during her two terms on the council. That knowledge, Hughes explained, means she can work within the system to get things done.

"I think one thing that sets me apart is that I've been a part of the government for three-and-half years now and knowing how government works and knowing how to use that in order to help the constituents at the local level," Hughes said.

"We all seemed to talk about Wollaston business and that district and making sure that the Planning Board and the City Council is putting in place zoning and other tools for the business community to use in order to revitalize that business district. Being a part of that government for the past three-and-a-half years, I know how that works and I know I can continue to work within that system to make sure things get done."

Ostis, a yoga instructor and substitute teacher who previously worked in the hospitality and healthcare fields, listed a number of qualities she has.

"One of the things that sets me apart is that I now have the time to give to my community. I'm honest, I have a lot of integrity and I would like to serve the community in the best way that I can. I'm a great listener; my degree is in psychology, which helps a lot, I think, in politics as well," Ostis said.

"I would just like to serve. I think service is kind of the rent that we pay for living on this planet; service to ourselves and service to one another. We're all in this together. We all want the same things. We want good education for our children, we want safe streets and we all want good health and love from family and friends."

Ward 2: Croall, Connors, Malik

Cont'd From Page 11

of Quincy School Custodian Local 1911.

"I was president of my local union for seven-and-half years. I advocated for my members. I negotiated three contracts," Connor said. "I think it shows I have some leadership qualities."

He added that he is concerned about the redevelopment of Quincy Center and wants developers to hire local workers.

"I'm concerned about the downtown development – I think everyone is. We want it to go the right way," Connors said. "I too would like to see us get some jobs out of this – Some local jobs for local people. Get these developers to give some of these jobs to local people that live here."

Croall, of 65 Gay St., did appear the Aug. 11 candidates night at the Best Western Adams Inn, hosted by the Quincy Republican City Committee; both challengers were present that night as well.

Croall said during the Aug. 11 event that his involvement in the Ward 2 Civic Association prepared him to be a councillor.

"I grew up in the ranks, grass roots working down in the civic association, literally cleaning tables," Croall said. "I say that because I believe that education from a ground level was so important to prepare me for the voyage running for and now serving as your city councillor."

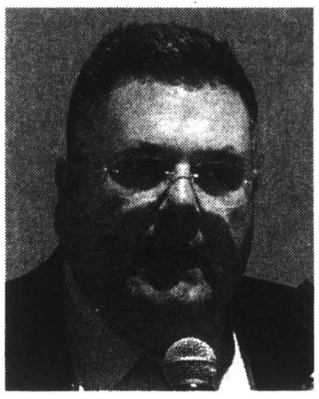
Croall added that he was running on results, pointing to improvements at Faxon Park and the East Howard Street/Quincy Avenue intersection.

"We've had a pretty successful year in the district in terms of revitalizing the park system as well as intersections and most importantly putting the constituents and the community in the center. It's my belief that government is just an extension of the people," Croall said.

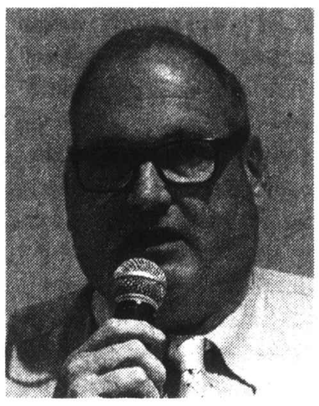
McNamee, Harris Competing In Ward 6

By SCOTT JACKSON

The two candidates competing for the Ward 6 City Council seat offered differing opinions on the city's purchase and demolition of nine homes in the district as part of the North Quincy High School campus improvement project when they took the stage at a recent candidates night.



BRIAN McNAMEE
Incumbent Ward 6 Councillor



WILLIAM HARRIS
Ward 6 Candidate

Incumbent Ward 6 Councillor Brian McNamee and challenger William Harris both spoke during the Aug. 18 forum hosted by the Quincy LGBT community. Voters in Ward 6, which includes Squantum and parts of North Quincy, will go to the polls Nov. 3 to decide between the two candidates.

A resident at the forum asked the two about the North Quincy High campus project. The City Council in June 2014 approved the $12 million plan to renovate Teel Field and construct a new parking lot for North Quincy High School; the city subsequently reached agreements with the homeowners to purchase the nine homes.

McNamee, a resident of 94 Newbury Ave. who was first elected to the Ward 6 seat 10 years ago, said the homeowners were able to negotiate fair market value for their properties and he would not have backed the use of eminent domain if agreements couldn't be reached. The project, he explained, will benefit the school and improve traffic flow in the vicinity.

"You had North Quincy High School that was a stepchild in terms of high schools in the city compared to the new high school in Quincy Center. We had to equalize the amenities. We're going to get a new athletic field here – a beautiful new athletic field for soccer," McNamee said.

"It's also going to have increased parking, which will allow for more after-school programing and utilization of the building. It's also going to make the traffic matter safer in North Quincy, especially with the new intersection widening there. I think there are a lot of favorable benefits coming from this."

Harris, who resides at 74 Ashworth Rd., said he disagreed with the decision.

"There were some tough decisions made. Unfortunately I don't agree with the decisions that were made," Harris said. "It isn't fair. You work your whole lives to get somewhere and to have something that you cherish. Unacceptable."

McNamee, in his opening statement, said he has fought for the interests of the ward during his tenure. Among the examples he provided were blocking the opening of proposed C-Mart supermarket on Hayward Street, stopping the Boston Public Health Commission's clients from using the North Quincy MBTA station to get to Long Island, and getting the size of a new development at Marina Bay reduced.

"I think any candidate for office has to be able to articulate their unique value proposition. If I were to articulate mine, I'd say that I've consistently fought for the interests of the varied neighborhoods of Ward 6," McNamee said.

"There are many important development issues still facing Ward 6 and I assure you that I'm going to fight for your interests."

In his opening statement, Harris promised to support a sound and coordinated approach to spending if elected.

"If I were elected I would support a sound and coordinated approach to spending and the careful use of our tax dollars. This would assure the highest quality of life for everyone – I repeat, everyone," Harris said. "Everyone deserves a right to live safely, from newborns and our seniors and everyone in between."

Harris also identified issues affecting the ward and the city as a whole that need to be addressed and said he would be a voice for all who reside in Ward 6.

"We have many serious issues that need to be addressed, which not only affect all the people in Ward 6 but affect all who live in Quincy – from fighting the drug epidemic and making our streets safer to responsible real estate development that ensures the quality of life for all neighborhoods," Harris said. "Eliminate the congested construction for the sake of outsiders' profits with minimum tax revenue in return.

"I will be the voice of Ward 6 in a way all people are heard and I will vote on issues the way people want. I am very much approachable. I know how to fix problems – you fix them before they happen."

Ward 1: LaForest, McCone

Cont'd From Page 11

She went on to say she understands the importance of protecting homes and municipal infrastructure, in particular the coastal infrastructure all around her ward.

"Whether working with individual homeowners to ensure they understand the specific impact of the FEMA flood maps to their property, project managing the repairs of the public landing and boat ramp at the Houghs Neck Maritime Center, the success of the $4.5 million spent for repairs for the Edgewater Drive seawall and outfall pipes, writing and managing grants for improvements to our marshes or working to improve our coastal economy," Laforest said, "as a lifelong waterfront resident I understand the importance of protecting homes and our municipal infrastructure and the economic value of an improved coastal area."

The candidates fielded two questions from residents at the forum. One resident asked the candidates for their opinion on a proposal for the city to purchase the parking lot at 1260 Sea St., owned by the restaurant Louis. A request to purchase the quarter-acre lot for $300,000 was submitted to the City Council in April and is pending in committee.

McCone said he did not support the proposal. Taxpayer money should not be used to prop up business, he stated, and the purchase would leave the city on the hook for maintenance of the parcel.

"I don't believe we should be using taxpayer money in order to prop up a business. It's up to the business to run on their own. If that parking lot were to be bought by the city, it would be in violation

Cont'd From Page 30

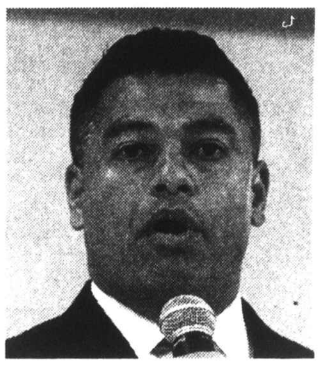
★ ★ On The Campaign Trail ★ ★

Four Councillor At-Large Candidates Respond To 'Rubber Stamp' Claim

By SCOTT JACKSON

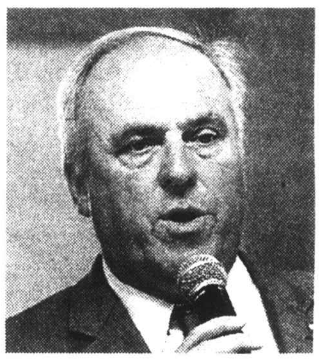
Four of the candidates aiming to fill the three at-large spots on the City Council responded to concerns the body has acted as a rubber stamp for Mayor Thomas Koch at a recent forum.

JOSEPH FINN
Incumbent Councillor at-Large



NOEL DiBONA
Councillor at-Large Candidate

NINA LIANG
Councillor at-Large Candidate



DAVID McCARTHY
Councillor at-Large Candidate

The four candidates – incumbent Councillor Joseph Finn, School Committee members Noel DiBona and David McCarthy, and political newcomer Nina Liang – appeared at the Aug. 18 candidates night, which was organized by the Quincy LGBT community. A second incumbent, Michael McFarland, did not attend the event while the third incumbent, Doug Gutro, is vacating his seat to run for mayor.

During the portion of the forum when audience members were invited to pose questions to the candidates, one resident claimed the council has "rubber stamped" everything that is brought before the body and gives the mayor whatever he wants.

Finn said that claim was untrue. As examples, he pointed out the council fought for outside counsel during negotiations with then-master developer Street-Works and is still in the process of reviewing a new development plan for Quincy Center.

"The idea that we have simply been a rubber stamp is not true at all in my opinion. The mayor hasn't gotten everything he's wanted all along. Everyone is familiar with the downtown development and the land disposition agreement. The mayor didn't want independent counsel for that project to begin with – we got that. He's currently waiting for an Urban Revitalization and Development Plan that he wanted back in March and April and May. He still doesn't have that; that very clearly needs to be vetted," Finn said.

"In campaigns what happens is things have a tendency sometimes to get oversimplified and the complexity of the matter is specifically lost. In terms of the budget for example, we had an 8 percent increase in the budget this year. Over two-thirds of that goes to things over which we have absolutely no choice as it relates to the education budget, pensions and health insurance costs that have risen. That's not a matter of a rubber stamp."

McCarthy said the council has not asked enough questions at times and said he has not been a rubber stamp during his tenure on the school board.

"I'm not going to rubber stamp anything if I get on the Quincy City Council, just like I didn't rubber stamp anything on the School Committee for the last 12 years. I see a lot of folks up there doing a lot of good work, but at times not enough questions are asked…If it is wrong I'm going to speak up and say it's wrong. Or I'm going to make a case to agree to disagree with whoever it is," McCarthy said.

"One of the things I pride myself on at the School Committee – and I'd look back and ask anybody who wants to grab me after that wants to ask me a question about why I did something the way I did it – is that I did my research and I don't get into an argument with you just because I don't like the way you look or I don't like your side of the city or I don't like this side of the city or I don't like where you went to school. I'm going to treat everyone fairly and sit down with everyone and make sure we get the right thing done."

DiBona also pointed to his experience on the committee and said he has not been a rubber stamp while serving on that board.

"I've been on the School Committee for a year-and-a-half and I've been on the backend of a 6-1 and a 5-2 vote a few times. If I didn't think it was right for the city and the kids and parents and the citizens of the city, I wasn't going to rubber stamp it. I agree with Dave McCarthy. I've already experienced it at the School Committee level and I'll do it at the council level," DiBona said.

"You look at me and you say 'you shouldn't be running.' Well there is so much going on in this city today and in the next two years I can't afford to stay on the School Committee another two years because I have to go on the council. It's a must. It has to happen because there is so much going to happen in the city. We're either going to flourish and prosper or we're going to hit the dirt. I'm not going to sit on the sidelines and let that happen."

Liang said she wants to engage community members for their input and so they can be better informed.

"As your city councillor at-large, what I want to do is engage community members into that conservation before a shovel hits the ground. I want to hear what everyone in the community has to say about what they want to see in their backyard in their neighborhood, how much is going to be spent," Liang said.

"We as residents need to know all this information so we can then go to the City Council and tell them what we want to see. Again, as your city councillor at-large that's what I'm looking to do. Be open, have open dialogue, engage more people in the community into the process and from there I think we can have a better development in Quincy."

Backpacks Filled For Snug Harbor Students

FOR THE 8TH straight year, 60 volunteers from Harvard Pilgrim HealthCare participated in an effort to fill 950 backpacks for distribution to the students at Snug Harbor Elementary School. The initiative includes donations from Cradles to Crayons. On hand for the project held at HPHC's Quincy headquarters were Cradles to Crayons Manager of Corporate Engagement, Angela Martano, HPHC Vice President Marketplace Inclusion Development Brenda Cole, School Supt. Dr. Richard DeCristofaro, Snug Harbor Principal Margaret MacNeill, and several faculty members. Photos Courtesy Quincy Public Schools

Making memories for 20 years!
MOM & ME · BALLET · JAZZ · TAP · HIP HOP · CONTEMPORARY · POINTE · PERFORMANE TEAMS
GUITAR · PIANO · VOICE · BRASS · STRINGS · MUSIC RECTIALS · SPECIAL PRESCHOOL RECITALS Classes Be
ept. 10th!
617-328-
Adams
In Sync Center of the Arts

Safety Tips For Motorists From AAA

School's Opening: Drive Carefully

As 55 million children across the country begin heading back to school, AAA urges motorists to slow down and stay alert in neighborhoods and school zones, and to be especially vigilant for pedestrians during before and after school hours.

The afternoon hours are particularly dangerous for walking children – over the last decade, nearly one-third of child pedestrian fatalities occurred between 3 and 7 p.m.

"AAA's annual School's Open – Drive Carefully awareness campaign is designed to curb a trend of unsafe driving behavior in school zones and neighborhoods that can result in children's injury and death," said John Paul, AAA Northeast Senior Manager of Traffic Safety. "We must remind motorists to slow down and stay alert as kids head back to school."

